Water Rates Go Up 10 Percent

An increase of approximately 10 percent in water costs is in the books for Alexandria consumers, according to an announcement by the Public Utilities Commission.

The rate will remain the same but the present 10 percent discount for prompt payment will be discontinued. Instead a 5 percent penalty for late payment will be levied.

The new rate will come into effect on all bills sent out after Dec. 31st, 1968.

Rising costs of operation demand the higher billings, according to the PUC, "if we are to meet our obligations".

The secretary of the Commission notes that at an earlier meeting a resolution was approved governing delegations to PUC meetings. Anyone wishing to address the Commission at any of its meetings must so advise in writing, at least 48 hours in advance, stating the reason for wishing to appear.

Being Readied For Opening

Last touches are being completed by the contractor on the interior of Maxville Manor and the local committee has its fingers crossed hoping everything will be in readiness for the official opening next Friday, Nov. 1st.

Furniture and furnishings are to be moved in early next week. Hon. John Yaremko, QC, minister of social and family services, will be here from Toronto to officiate and he, with other guests, will be entertained at a luncheon prior to the 2 o'clock opening ceremonies. It is hoped the weather will permit an outdoors gathering but if conditions are adverse the ceremonies will be held in the manor.

An Open House will follow, when the general public may tour the building and get some conception of its fine facilities and modern decor. The manor will also be open to the public on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Next Saturday, Nov. 2nd, is also the date of the Walkathon organized by the Lions Club and the Students' Council of Maxville High School. The route will be from Maxville to Moose Creek and return and the walkers are reported to have lined up many pledges toward the manor fund.

Occupancy of the manor will get underway within the next few weeks and there are still openings for elderly folk in the new building.

HOME-GROWN COWBOYS—Glengarry can't boast of a Stampede like Calgary puts on, but we have the cowboys to prevent one—or should they be called horse handlers? This was the scene on the Elgg road Sunday, as a group of local horsemen made like cowboys bringing home some of Pat Brunet's mares from their summer pasture in Lochiel. It was a skittish task at times keeping the remuda under control and coping with cars, but they were all returned safely to winter quarters. Horsemen in foreground are Larry Laroque, Marshall Brunet and Dick Sauve. Others in background included Ernest Etherington, Lionel Leger, Richard "Butch" Menard, John Hurtubise.

Roxborough Township Rejects Beer Parlors Votes For Liquor After 54 Year Drought

To Seek License At Moose Creek

Emery Brunet, proprietor of the Central Hotel at Moose Creek, plans to apply for a license following Monday's vote in Roxborough Township approving the sale of alcoholic beverages.

If his application is considered favorably it will be the first time in Mr. Brunet's 35-year career as hotel proprietor that he will be serving beverages. He remembers when his grandfather, Frank Brunet, last sold beer and liquor in his hotel at Moose Creek before the township went "dry" in 1914.

Name Delegates OFA Convention

Five delegates will represent the Glengarry Federation of Agriculture at the annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture which will be held in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, November 4 to 6th. Mr. and Mrs. George Kinloch, Martintown; Mrs. Raymond McDonnell, Dalhousie Station; Mrs. Neil Blair, Dalkeith and Mrs. Hugh MacPherson, Glen Sandfield, will compose the county delegation.

One farm organization in Ontario in 1969, is the theme of the OFA convention. The two major farm groups in Ontario the Federation and the Ontario Farmers' Union have been attempting to lay the ground work for one farm organization. Their efforts have the sanction of many individual farmers throughout the province. A six-man committee, three from the Federation and three from the Farmers' Union, have been working on the merger and the report of this committee will be heard at the convention.

On Tuesday, October 15th, the county federation of agriculture sponsored an information meeting in the Alexandria High School on the subject "Wills and Succession Duties. G. G. Aubry, QC, dealt with the topic in an interesting and humorous manner and the 75 persons present received some free legal advice.

Train Hit Horses

Two horses the property of Pat Brunet, Alexandria, were killed last Thursday night when they strayed from pasture and were struck by a CNR train. The horses were pastured in the Little Third Kenyon and three were reported struck by the eastbound passenger train about 9 p.m. One survived.

The body of one horse is reported to have struck the CNR shack at the west end of the Alexandria yard, damaging the shack and disrupting phone service at that point.

Opens New Shoppe

Mrs. Real Faubert has opened a wool and handcraft shoppe adjoining her home at 107 Lochiel St. West, the Island. She has an extensive stock of handcraft and crocheted clothing for infants, children and adults.

Roxborough Township rejected sale of beer to men only, Monday, but ended an official drought which set in way back in 1914 by approving the sale of liquor in licensed cocktail lounges and in dining lounges.

First reports were that all three questions had been approved, but revised figures by Returning Officer Victor Johnson indicate the vote for beer parlors for men fell four ballots short of the needed 60 percent. There were 669 "yes" votes as against 453 "no".

On the question of sale of liquor under a lounge license the vote was 714 yes, 405 no.

The third choice was for sale of liquor under a dining lounge license for consumption with meals and this was also favored by a 724-401 margin.

While serving of beer to men only in a beverage room has been rejected, beer may still flow in Roxborough. According to an LCBO official in Toronto the vote on liquor probably means a bar serving beer, wine and liquor can be set up. Under the Liquor Control Act all beverages containing alcohol are considered liquor so that beer and wine could be served under approval of questions 2 and 3.

There has been no decision yet on whether a judicial recount will be asked on the question of sale of beer.

The vote was heavy, according to Returning Officer Victor Johnson who compiled these unofficial results of the balloting on each question:

Half-Million In Building Permits Almost All For New Housing Units

Plan Meeting On Pipe Band's Trip To Scotland

The Glengarry Pipe Band Association has called a special meeting at the Maxville Hall, on Thursday evening, Nov. 7th, at 8:30 to discuss details of the Scottish tour, set for next August. All members are being notified and those who wish to join the trip are being warned to bring their cheque books along. Mr. Laing of the Laing Travel Bureau in Cornwall, will be present to answer any questions, and to help arrange special tours through the British Isles or Europe for those who would like personal tours.

Present plans call for the trip to start about Aug. 10th and return about Sept. 1st, giving three clear weeks in the UK. The Band intends to take in as many of the Games as possible during their stay in Scotland, and the Scottish Tourist Board is being most helpful in making preliminary arrangements.

The School of Piping and Drumming opened for its second year in September, as announced, and meets every Saturday, as last year. So far, there are 50 students, 35 in the piping classes and 15 taking drumming. The School and Band will miss three stalwart members for some months, as Allan Joseph MacDonald and Dave MacDougall have gone back to college, and David MacKillican is working in Ottawa. However, these boys have been very faithful when they get home, and they remain members in good standing.

The Band will show its wares at what is becoming its annual fall concert, to be held in Maxville on Nov. 16th.

Building permits issued in Alexandria so far this year are edging the half-million dollar mark reports Roch Boisvenue, building inspector. The total is now $499,450.

Almost all covers new housing, additions or repairs and the report indicates 36 new homes have been or are being built as well as 10 apartment units.

The new liquor store, at $34,000 is the only commercial start though there are six commercial repairs valued at $21,200. In the industrial field, the only permit is for $900 in repairs.

The half-million building program is way below the 1967 value of $2,292,973 which included the million and a half dollar high school addition as well as additions to the Carnation and Fashion Promotion plants.

| A breakdown of this year's permits shows: | |

Out Of Season

There have been several reports of a second crop of garden berries resulting from recent balmy weather and Garry McDonald, 3rd Kenyon, brought in the evidence yesterday. Huge berries they were, some rosy and ripe.

And if finding a four-leaf clover is lucky, Nelson Montgomery of Dunvegan, should win a sweepstake. He found not only four-leaves but several with five, six or second leaves. One freak had two sets of four leaves.

HOME FROM THE HUNT—This group of Alexandria and Apple Hill nimrods did alright up in the northern woods, on their annual safari after moose. Not only did they come home with more than a ton of moose meat but a wolf crossed their path, too. Mrs. William Oulmet went along as cook,

Tax Rates Are Important To Industry

News of another new industry being established in Charlottenburgh Township will be welcomed not only by residents of that municipality. In a day when commuting to work has been made easy by good roads, a plant at Summerstown could provide job openings for residents of other area municipalities. The added industrial assessment will also ease the load of tax levies for other residents of the United Counties.

Charlottenburgh appears to be headed for a new era of industrialization and township officials must be on their toes in this business of selling their locale to industrialists seeking a site. No doubt its proximity to Cornwall is an important factor. Plant management, when it must move, favors the larger centres where there is apt to be more choice in housing, schools and all the amenities our generation has come to expect.

Alexandria has much to offer new families but it also has a tax rate so high as possibly to scare away the industrialist who might find everything else to his liking here. If our citizens are at all anxious to lure new industry they soon will have the chance to nominate and elect to Council, Public Utilities Commission and school boards, people conscious of the need for responsible budgeting of public expenditures.

Our elected bodies in recent years have shown little, if any, interest in holding down public spending. And the electors have evidenced no concern for business-like administration when called to the polls.

Cost Of Education Affects Housing Starts

A federal committee looking into the shortage of housing has been told at Toronto that mounting school costs and the back-breaking taxes to pay for them are among the biggest factors discouraging new housing starts.

Briefs from builders, developers, municipalities and individuals suggested various ways in which the burden might be eased for property owners but they all added up to the fact that costs of education are a big part of the municipal tax bill.

A group of elected officials from Scarborough suggested the school tax burden be relieved by the province taking over 80 per cent of education costs, leaving 20 per cent to be financed from municipal taxes instead of up to 65 per cent now.

This could serve the purpose of shifting much of the education levy from real estate. It might encourage housing starts and it seems only fair that Queen's Park should meet the major costs of learning when its own Department of Education is fostering such luxurious school plants and costly programs.

The trouble with that line of reasoning

Oh, What A Fall My Countrymen!

People with a poetic turn of phrase must be in a frenzy trying to find words adequate to this autumn season we have been enjoying. Nature's artistry in the maples beggars description in an ordinary year, but this fall the tinting of the trees has been a long-lasting production and a summer sun has been directing the show, providing extra brilliance and shading even to the pale green and yellow poplar leaves, the rusty tamarack and dark green spruce.

The multi-colored maples have never flamed quite so awe-inspiringly, nor has October weather ever in memory allowed the show so long a run. Saturday's high wind and rain pulled down the curtain on a super-production and we shall wait many a year to see the equal of this autumn.

Tree limbs have lost their leaf-cover and are ready to ride out the winter winds and sleet. Summer time ends on Saturday, according to the clock, and the calendar warns that November is nigh and we should be batten down for a cold winter, even as the trees have done at last.

A New Look At Medicare

Prime Minister Trudeau has decided to review the national medicare plan in consultation with the provinces and this is a notable change in government policy. Mr. Trudeau had already refused a unanimous request by the provincial premiers, following their annual conference, that they be given an opportunity to discuss medicare with him. They were anxious over the effect of the government's plan on provincial finances but at the time Prime Minister Trudeau ruled the program would go ahead as scheduled.

His new attitude seems to have resulted from a study of the federal financial picture which indicates a steadily widening gulf between government spending and revenue. The Trudeau regime has made cuts in the budgets of practically all its departments but these made little impression on the spending results over a seven-months period.

The greater part of the unpredicted spending arises from welfare and other open end programs that Ottawa shares with the provinces. The medicare plan is adding still another, and one of the most costly, to these shared programs. While Minister of Finance, Hon. Mitchell Sharp predicted that medicare, fully operating for a year, would cost one billion dollars. He included himself among advocates of medicare at the time, but he expressed concern over its financing at a time when taxes had to be raised for other purposes.

At Calgary, earlier this month, Prime Minister Trudeau gave a hint of his reason for a new outlook on consultations with the provinces on medicare. He said, "The costs of many existing programs are now rising much faster than government revenues. For example, under present arrangements the cost of federal/provincial programs for health, welfare and post-secondary education, which are now running at $3½ billion a year, will more than double in the next four years. There is no prospect that government revenues will grow at this rate."

If this is the prospect for the existing federal/provincial programs, the addition of medicare could bring on financial chaos, not only at the federal level but with provincial administrations as well.

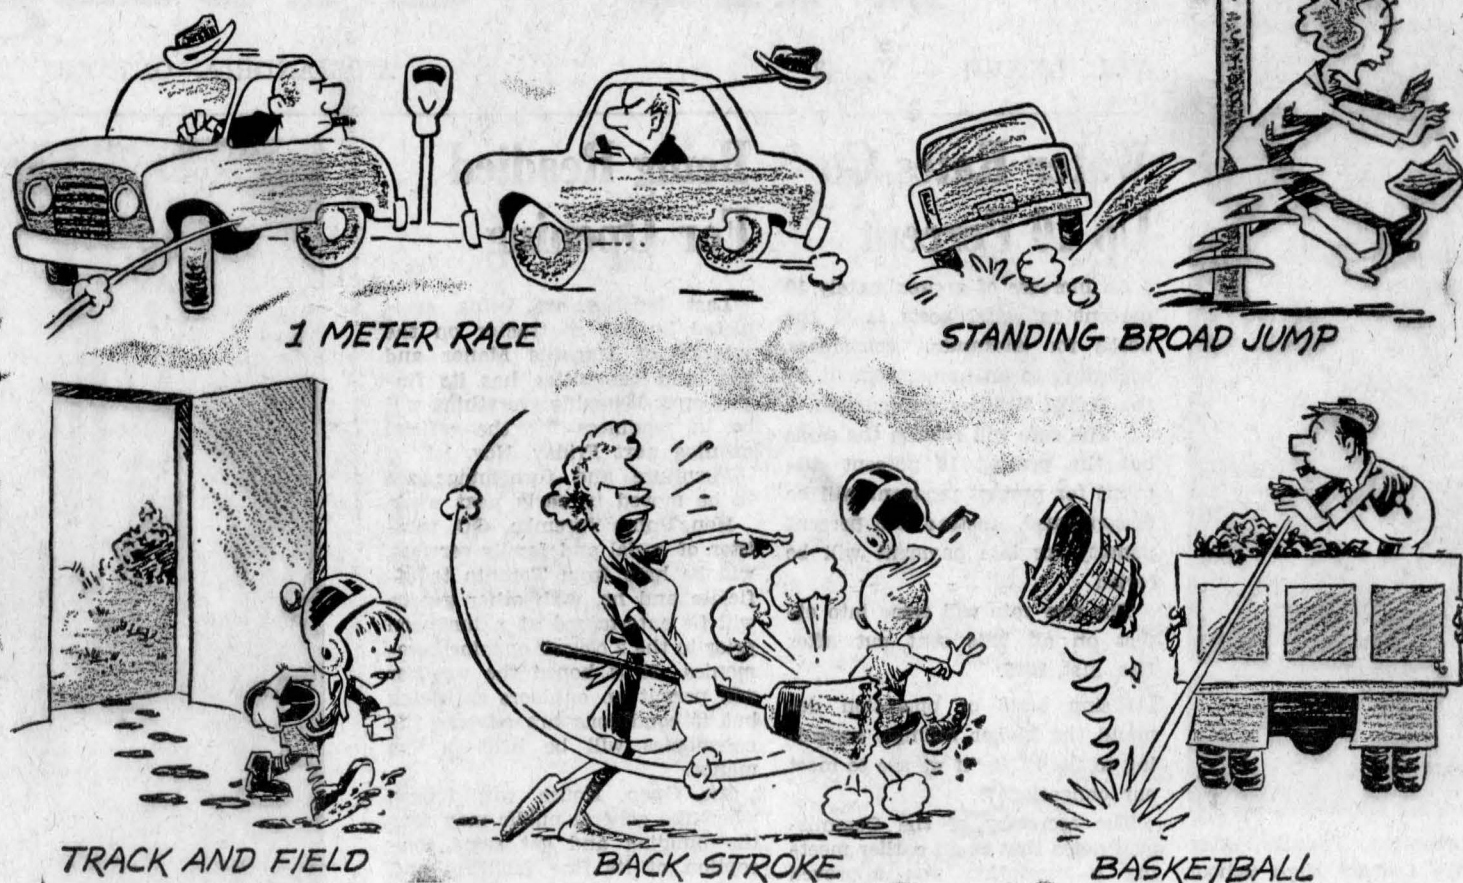

The question is not now whether medicare should be the last of the universal plans but whether there are not already too many programs making excessive demands on the public purse at all levels of government.

Mr. Trudeau is on the right track when he considers a new look at medicare. There are many other spending programs that may have to be reduced or at least limited — the pension plans, hospital and unemployment insurance schemes, baby bonuses, to name but a few — before some semblance of proper budgeting can be restored at the federal level. The approach should be an all-party one because politicians of all stripes have been too generous in the past in stumping for spending programs that now threaten the Canadian economy.

Prime Minister Trudeau will prove himself a statesman of no mean ability if he can convince his own Liberal party and the Opposition of the need for curtailment of the give-away government approach that threatens the country with bankruptcy.

If Prime Minister Trudeau can convince the Commons of the critical need for more responsibility in spending, Canada will be in a more healthy condition than any scheme for medicare might leave it.

Licensing

(The Renfrew Advance)

In the last 20 years or so, critics of the medical and dental associations have let loose pot shots every time refugees or immigrants have been refused immediate licenses to practice in this country.

The latest is the case of Czech dentists. The Royal College of Dental Surgeons licensing regulations require two or three years schooling for dentists with degrees from dental colleges or schools that are not approved.

And what does not approved mean? It usually means that the College (which is responsible for maintaining standards) questions the standard of training the applicant received for a degree. As a safeguard — for the patient — the College requires review training and assessment of the qualifications.

But the fact that the public is being protected is always discounted by the critics. The stock cry is that the rich dentists and doctors are operating a closed shop.

What the critics don't dwell on, is the fact that some untrained people can arrive in Canada with impressive degrees from unqualified schools.

One of the critics, The Ottawa Citizen, suggests that it is about time someone asked if it is in the best interests of the Canadian public to keep licensing power in such hands (dentists and doctors).

Well, who should license? The government? The Ottawa Citizen? The public?

Dentists and doctors are just as concerned about the shortage of professional men and women as everyone else. The day is coming when medical and dental technicians will be needed to work under supervision and help relieve the shortage. Until some better system comes along we think the public is better off with professional people deciding what standards must be maintained.

THEY MISSED THE SHOW

The maple bushes never were more colorful than we saw them last week. The editor has something to say on the subject and we wouldn't echo him except by special request.

The request came from a lady from Lochiel who ran into at church Sunday morning. "On my way home from town the other day," she recalled, "I passed a bush that was just blazing with color. It was the most gorgeous sight imaginable and I was so thrilled I wanted to share the picture with everyone I knew, wished that that kaleidoscope of color might somehow be preserved until I had summoned everyone to see it."

"As it happened", she continued, "just that day I had received my canvasser's kit for the CNIB and the realization struck home that there were people among us who were missing this wonderful show — the blind. Perhaps you could remind your readers how fortunate they are", she concluded, "and suggest that they give generously when the canvasser calls".

That we find easy to do for she's put the words to our pen and the cause is one we think is especially worthwhile. Those unfortunate enough to lose their sight miss not only the thrill of nature's fall production in this land of the maple. They are especially isolated, left to their own devices, in an era when television watching takes up almost every free moment of almost everyone, all day, all night.

The squawk box in every parlor has curtailed social visiting, cut conversation to the 60 seconds of the advertising break. The deaf may follow the action on the screen, welcome a recess from the strain of reading lips. For the sightless there is no football or hockey action to follow; not even a leg show or a miniskirt enravens the blind man's day. He can't escape the noise and he is unable to enjoy the show, especially that silent, brilliant one nature offered last week.

He can't see, but the CNIB enables him to do some limited reading by means of braille, the science of reading by touch. It offers other services to the blind but this new skill in communication must be especially consulting.

Braille couldn't bring to the blind, though, the technicolor show we can see enjoyed this month. It was priceless, and it didn't cost us a cent.

Give the CNIB a penny for every leaf that brought delight in its dying and we'd be bankrupt. How about a buck for each bush that we were thankful to see.

Everybody's asking how Jackie Kennedy could be drawn to that aging Onassis. It's Greek to us; but isn't he a shipping magnet?

SOUNDS BAD

Mr. Ethier is planning to change the name of our federal riding and perhaps it's only fair that the recent addition of part of Russell County should be recognized in the designation of the constituency.

Glengarry - Prescott - Russell doesn't look too bad in print, though it is much too large for headline writing. If this riding ever becomes newsworthy (and there's little evidence it will) we imagine the reporters will refer to it as "Glengarry"; and that'll be alright with your Rambling Reporter.

It's the sound of the thing, Mr. Ethier, that carries connotations that fill us with foreboding. Over the airwaves the newscaster may mention Glengarry-Prescott-Russell and the radio listener will, as usual, only half hear. To his ear and mind's eye may flash the message "Glengarry-Prescott rustles"; and then the rumors will fly.

We'll probably be tagged as a bunch of cow thieves down here in Glengarry and Prescott, and as the stories grow it may be said of us that we even shoot the bull. And all because Mr. Ethier didn't mull over the possible consequences before jumping in to solidify himself with his new constituents.

Maybe in that private bill he's sponsoring in the House he could go a bit further and change the name of Russell County, too. How about hustle, Viateur? Then the radio listener might get the impression Glengarry-Prescott rustles. Or bustle; perhaps tussle.

It wouldn't be cricket, though, to change Russell to Muscle. Any suggestion that Glengarry-Prescott carries weight in the Liberal caucus, or in the Commons, would hardly fit the fact.

MacKenzie King ran in Glengarry once, but even in those years we weren't too well represented at Ottawa.

One would suppose our Member would be the last to suggest it's time for a change.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

What a beautiful tribute Dr. Dolan of Alexandria paid to this historic old County of Glengarry in his closing remarks at the testimonial dinner tendered him in Alexandria when he said, if he were a young man with fifty years of medical practise ahead, he could think of no finer place to settle, than right here in Glengarry.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Stretch and young son of Montreal, spent the Thanksgiving weekend with Mrs. Stretch's mother Mrs. Wilfred Rolland.

Mrs. Peter Cameron returned to Maxville after spending several days with friends in Ottawa.

Rev. Duncan Ritchie returned to Vancouver, B.C. after spending the past month with his son-in-law and daughter, Rev. I. D. MacIver and Mrs. MacIver, St. Andrew's Manse.

Eric Kippen of North Bay, spent several days last week visiting his mother, Mrs. Peter Kippen.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrison and daughters, Margaret Ann and Lori, called on friends in Maxville on Saturday last.

The annual anniversary services, commemorating 142 years of Christian service of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will be observed on Sunday, October 27th, at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Rev. A. J. Morrison B.A., B.D. of Erskine Church, Ottawa, will be the guest preacher. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. MacKay of Montreal spent the weekend at St. Andrew's Manse.

Mrs. Harold Blaney presided for the Missionary program. Mrs. L. McNaughton gave a reading from the book "Towards Understanding China", giving an insight into why we should be concerned about learning more about China's 750 million people. Mrs. Howard McEwen introduced several new books in the UCW library relating to China.

Why should we study about China? As China is a powerful nation, we cannot afford to ignore her and must break the wall between China and the west. The Christian attitude should be one of understanding as China is part of God's world and was partly shaped by Christian Missionaries who worked in China for 60 years. The last missionary left in 1952. By reading we can learn so much more about this country.

Mrs. Blaney reviewed the study book—"The Church and the World" assisted by Mrs. McNaughton. Miss H. Cheeseman closed the meeting with prayer. A social hour was enjoyed by all.

UCW HAD MEETING

The Thanksgiving meeting of the Maxville United Church UCW was held in the Church Hall on October 8th. Mrs. Robert McIntosh conducted the worship service with a Thanksgiving theme, stressing that our thanks should be thoughtful, humble, appreciative and sincere.

Mrs. Howard McEwen led in prayer.

Miss Frith told of the work of the UCW of Chateaugay Valley and especially of a project called "Operation Produce" in which the ladies make use of all produce that is not sold on the market by donating applesauce, vegetables, etc., to the Men's Service Centre "McDonald House" and other church missions and schools in Montreal.

She showed a most interesting picture on Japan called "One Half of One Percent" which told of the education, religions, parliament, industry, agriculture and fishing etc. of Japan.

Mrs. L. McNaughton thanked Miss Frith for her informative and interesting evening.

Thurso Comes Here Sunday, Nov. 3 To Open Junior Hockey Season

Ten teams make up the Ottawa Valley Junior Hockey League in which Alexandria Glens are entered and the first home appearance of the Glens in league play will be Sunday, Nov. 3rd, when Thurso comes here.

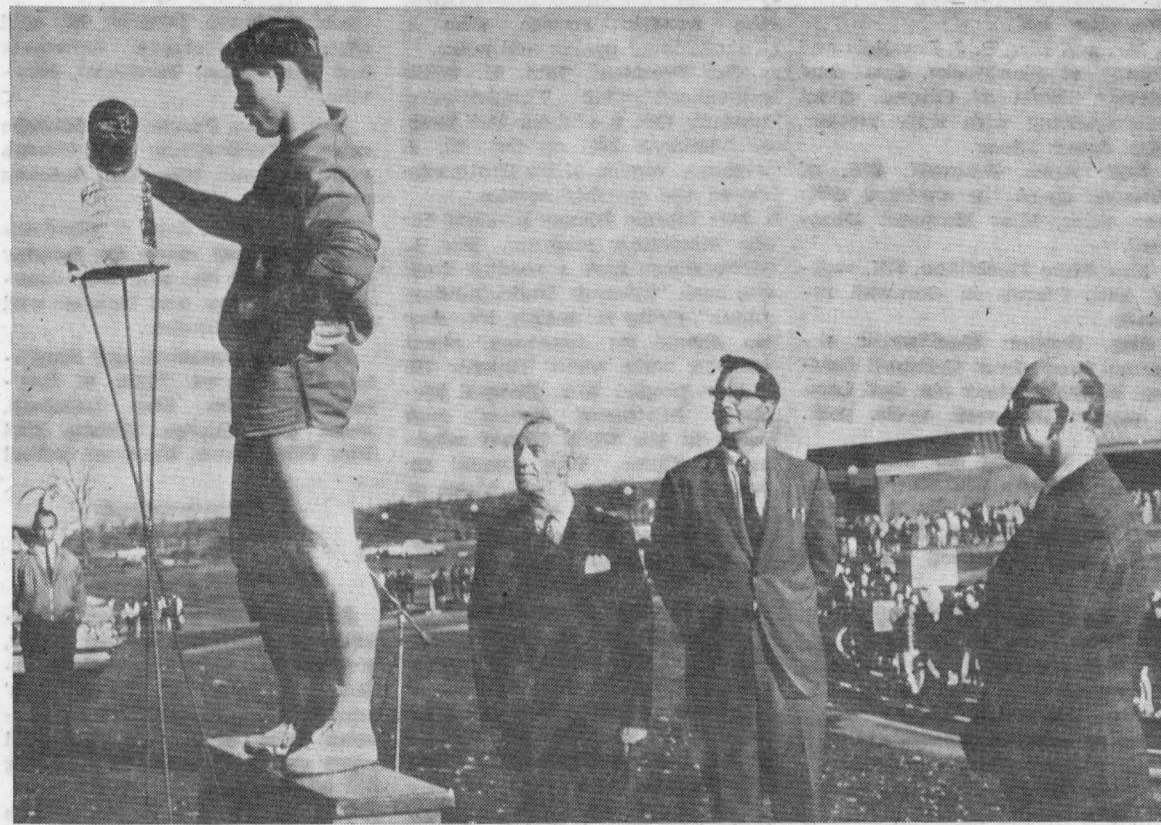

Meeting in Ottawa, Friday, league officials settled on a 10-team loop with entries from Alexandria, Hawkesbury, Thurso, Buckingham, Hull, Ottawa 67's, Nepean, Arnprior, Perth and Renfrew.

Coach Don Prentiss has cut aspirants for the local entry to 25 players who are now down to serious practise preparatory to opening of the season. Fans are welcome to drop down to the arena and see the players in action.

The Glens will have 13 home games through the regular schedule, seven of them on Friday nights and six on Sunday afternoons.

Hockey fans are being invited to buy booster season tickets selling at $10 for the 13 games. They can be secured from J. P. Touchette, Andre Menard, Guy Cholette, Gary Shepherd or Gerry Simpson.

LITTLE-OLYMPIC FLAME IS LIT—The fine new track and field facilities at Glengarry District High School were officially unveiled Tuesday as the annual school field day got underway. Peter McLeod is seen lighting the flame in the presence of officials and student body. Flanking Principal Lorne Lawson are Dr. Bernard Villeneuve, a trustee, and J. K. Munroe, secretary-treasurer of the board.

Weekend Wins Could See Both Seniors And Juniors In Play-Offs

by Angus H. McDonnell
GDHS senior and junior football teams each won their games against Char-Lan here last Friday and Saturday and moved closer to the coming school championship finals next week.

Michel Boisvenue, running out of his left fullback slot, scored three majors to lead the senior crew in a 31-0 win while the smart calling of junior quarterback Barry MacSweyn and the accurate toe of Lucien Lacombe, who was 4 for 4 in the convert tries, set back Williamstown juniors 29-7.

GDHS seniors are new, point wise, in the lead and must win over Maxville here tomorrow (Friday) to hold this mathematical edge. Allan O'Brien's juniors travel to Hawkesbury on Saturday and hope to handle the Hawks.

Just before half time Michel Boisvenue broke through from the Char-Lan 3 yard line to score his second major. Both were unconverted and the rest period had GDHS in the lead 12-0.

In the second half opener Neil Macdonald latched onto a short pass from MacGillivray and scampered all the way from about the visitors' 45 for another six-pointer.

Later in the same quarter Paul Poirier got in behind his check mate and reached for a long toss from MacGillivray and he was gone. Again GDHS failed on both convert tries and moving into the final quarter the home forces led 24-0.

In this final frame Peter MacLeod with some fine running moved GDHS to the visitors' 8-yard marker. From here Michel Boisvenue skirted through to tally his third major of the game. This time MacGillivray was true with the convert to make the final read 31-0.

In the junior fixture played on Saturday in the rain and a slippery turf Barry MacSweyn from his quarterback post early in the game sloshed around the end for the first TD and Lucien Lacombe added the convert single. A few minutes later Jeff Mosher skip-

Sandra Leger, a kindergarten pupil at Perpetual Help School, was the lucky winner of the bicycle drawn for by the local fire brigade as part of their Fire Prevention Week observance. Councilor Sam Brunet, chairman of the fire committee, drew Sandra's name from among 1,004 tickets handed out to the school pupils.

Set For Coons Trap Caught Wolf

A trap that had been set for coons turned up a 70-lb. timber wolf for Denny Van Loon on his 4th Kenyon farm one day last week. The trap had already caught seven coons.

Before half time fullback Rene Claude reversed to halfback Raymond "Peewee" Poirier who hit the open pasture on a 45 yard run into pay dirt. Again Lacombe split the uprights and GDHS was ahead 21-7 at the rest period.

In the third 15 Jeff Mosher got a GDHS scoring march on the way with a fine 45 yard run. MacSweyn then crossed up the Char-Lan defence by sending fullback Rene Claude off tackle for the game's final major. For the fourth time Lucien Lacombe boot-ed the wet soggy ball for another convert point and Barry MacSweyn late in the third punted a lofty 45-yarder that rounded out the final tally GDHS 29, Char-Lan 7.

In the last quarter both defence platoons were able to keep the offence from scoring.

SPORTS

in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

The weatherman wakened last Saturday with a hangover like one felt on a Sunday morning following the Highland Games. He was mixing coffee, bromos and eye openers with wind and rain but despite all this we saw in the murky clouds a silver lining that ached from the evergreens banking the west side of our new football field all the way to the state-ly poplars that fringe Lansdowne Park at the Rideau Canal, Ottawa.

This was the worst fall day of the season but football fans are fans and the inclement weather does not intervene. We finished our chores early then drove to GDHS to see Alexandria and Williamstown juniors slug it out in the mud.

Old warriors like Stuart Rayside and Tupper McDonald from the front, would not have been disappointed with what they saw had they been in attendance and neither would Ourlown's Jim McCaffrey or Father Duncan "Big Dunc" McDonald.

Williamstown was on the short end of a 29-7 score but by no means were they outclassed.

This writer saw further ample evidence that GDHS is heading to EOSSA "A" football. Reason number one is the overflowing supply of talent from student registration that so exceeds Williamstown and Maxville that we are edging towards an unfair and unequal league setup.

Here is a junior team being moulded by embryo coaches Allan O'Brien and Bill Lonergan. On their roster are youngsters from already well known athletic families here in the Glens. Jeff Mosher, who knows how to handle a puck and field a hard hit infield drive, breaks from a halfback spot with speed and authority. We saw Rene Claude in a fine backfield reverse with "Peewee" Poirier to set up a big league scoring play. Barry MacSweyn showed plenty of team handling ability as quarterback and Lucien Lacombe had a better day than either Don Sutherin (Riders) or Tommy Joe Coffey (Ticats) when he booted for 4 converts.

Those are the players of tomorrow and along with several more we have not mentioned you can tag them now for the senior league.

Some fans tell us the EOSSA "A" could be too rough, too demanding for practise hours. Others say too costly. We disagree with all rebuttals but respect the opinions.

Football is a rough game at any time so you either have it or you have not and heaven forbid that this writer lives to see the day a team from the Glens backs down.

As for costs can this not be supplemented by charging a token admission to students and adults who attend, let us say, a Brockville game here. The gate should balance bus fare for a return game.

Keep those sights at a lofty level. In addition to one of the finest schools in the province we have the player personnel, coaching staff and football field to become worthy contenders in EOSSA "A".

When we moved on from this junior game to the other end of the silver lining in Ottawa it was also pleasing to note that Riders played Ti-Cats in Hamilton's favorite setting of wind, rain and a soggy field, then won by a field goal.

We have five weeks to go but those Ottawa fans who did not give up three weeks ago could well be rewarded for their faithfulness.

And one such fan has to be that lumber magnate from Dalkeith, Ken MacLennan, who sits down in front of us about five rows.

HITHER AND YON

While in Montreal on a business chore on Wednesday we called on old friend Vern DeGeer who is in a Royal Victoria (Ross Pavilion) sick bay... we brought along our annual quota of apples from Apple Hill for friend Vern who wishes to say hello to his many friends in the Glens.

Another sport veteran Dr. J. A. "Pat" Sullivan also under the medical care...

Ernie (CFRA) Calcutt gave the Eastern Conference quite a verbal blast for their early season choosing of the Jeff Russell award winner and rookie of the year... The long fellow termed the method "bush league" and we agree... why not play out the schedule and then call in the votes?... which brings to mind that those valuable trophies donated to our Lions Club must be guarded carefully against any similar criticism... you may differ with the trustees' award, which is your right, but judging must be on a complete schedule.

Weekend football predictions—GDHS should win over Maxville and finish first... that will be a toughie in Williamstown and Char-Lan just might shoot down the Hawks. We are going along with Allan O'Brien and Bill Lonergan's junior GDHS to win in Hawkesbury and nail down a playoff spot... Riders over Als and we don't think Argos will skin the Ticats, with or without two seconds to go.

Things are looking up! The Saive Brothers, contractors, are completing new stretches of sidewalk on Main Street and Dalhousie Road; an expensive new skating rink will be in service for the kids this winter; the older people will commence dancing lessons to be given each Monday evening in the church hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Robinson of Cornwall, visited Miss Sadie Robinson and Bill Robinson last Sunday.

There's a new look at the Ottawa Winter Fair this year, and it is attracting more attention than at any time in its history. The evening performances will feature the Don Messer Jubilee Show every night during the horse show. Both these attractions will be presented in the Civic Centre with its 9,500 seating capacity.

His Excellency the Governor-General, escorted by outriders from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, will open the Fair at 8.30 p.m., Monday, October 28.

This is all carefully selected Red Brand Beef, so urge all your friends in the hotel, motel, restaurant and butcher trades to attend.

CALF CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP

Traditionally the pride of the Ottawa Winter Fair, all day Friday, 450 boys and girls from Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec will be exhibiting. Let's get a good ringside to encourage these youngsters.

HORSE SHOW

Most of our old friends are back—plus a good number of new ones. 391 horses are entered in the light and heavy classes. The Horse Show is always a great attraction and this year it will be in the Civic Centre with its bright and cheerful atmosphere and its comfortable seats. Help get across the idea that there is no "best" night;

every night there will be a well balanced show and, of course the Don Messer Show will be featured.

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how.

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.
