New Butter Packaging Machine At Creamery Turns Out Patties Unique On Continent

The first of its type to be producing sealed-in butter patties on the North American continent, the big Form Fill Seal Machine at the Graham Creamery, here, is not in full production yet. When customers enough have been lined up, possibly this year, Doug Baxter expects the machine will be producing to its capacity of 320 patties a minute.

Made in Germany, and costing more than $100,000, the packaging machine reached Alexandria late last summer and started production in early October.

J. M. Schneider Co. of Kitchener, is in charge of marketing arrangements, reports Mr. Baxter, and sales pitches are being made to Air Canada and other volume users. The butter patties from Glengarry are already being used by the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa.

The Food & Drug division of the federal government has shown interest in the new product, reports Mr. Baxter. It likes the sanitary aspects and the better keeping qualities the new packaging provides.

Explaining the intricate functioning of the machine, Mr. Baxter points out butter is fed into it at the right, above, as is the polyvinyl chloride which forms the container. The plastic passes between two heated plates that soften it. Cups are formed in the next operation and filled with butter, 16 at a time. Parchment is cut out and pressed down on the butter inside the container to keep out heat and prevent an air space forming between butter and foil.

The foil is then fed in from a spool and heat-sealed at about 145 degrees centigrade.

The belts of patties are then automatically cut into individual ones and packaged in boxes of 192. Four such boxes go into a shipping container.

Quarter-ounce patties are now being turned out but the machine can produce any size from ¼ to ½ an ounce. Equipment will be added later to package any size from 4 to 8 ounces. In addition to butter, the machine can be adapted to packaging some forms of cheese, margarine or similar products.

Before investing in the new packaging machine Mr. Baxter made two trips to Frankfurt, Germany, where it is produced by the Hassco Co. His assistant, Frank Slipebeek, also went over to see the machine in operation and a company representative was sent here to set it up and instruct in its operation.

Members of the Lions Club sampled the new butter patties at a recent dinner meeting and it is only a matter of time, Mr. Baxter hopes, when the travelling public will be using the new butter patties from the Graham Creamery.

Two Newington Youths Killed When Truck Struck Rapido Train

Two Newington youths, one of them a son of former United Counties Warden James Zeran, met death Saturday afternoon when their compact truck crashed into the side of a fast-moving passenger train at a CNR crossing on County Road 18, west of Cornwall.

Dead are Daniel Zeran, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Zeran of RR2 Newington; and Brent Evans 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Evans of Main St., Newington.

Long Sault provincial police described Mr. Zeran as the driver of the Datsun truck. Police said the Lochiel's Reeve Gerard Massie was able to return home Saturday from Cornwall General Hospital where he had undergone treatment for a heart condition. He has orders to take it easy for a while but it is thought no heart damage occurred.

Reeve Massie was visiting a patient in the hospital Tuesday of last week when he suffered chest pains. Dr. A. E. R. MacPhee attended him.

The car was caught under the baggage car and dragged a mile before the train, known as the Rapido, was brought to a stop by engineer C. F. Hawley.

Officials estimated the speed of the train when impact occurred at 75 miles per hour.

The youths attended Osnaburk District High School where they were Grade 13 students.

Lochiel Man Dies After Long Illness

Clarence MacMillan, a lifelong and respected resident of Lochiel, died Saturday in Smith Clinic, Hawkesbury, following a lengthy illness. He was 68.

A son of the late Duncan Alex MacMillan and his wife, Margaret MacKenzie, Mr. MacMillan had farmed throughout his life on the home farm at Quigley's and had played an active part in farm and community organizations. A former member of Alexandria High School board of trustees, he had served on the cheese factory executive and was an elder of Kirk Hill United Church. A member of Glengarry Clan MacMillan, he had also been active in the Glengarry Historical Society and the museum at Dunvegan, of which he was a custodian.

To mourn he leaves his wife, the former Edna MacKinnon and two sons, Harold MacMillan of Hawkesbury and Dr. Ralph MacMillan, Mississauga.

Six grandchildren also survive as do one brother and two sisters: Keith MacMillan, Lochiel, Frances, Mrs. Jack Hutchinson, Kirkland Lake, and Annie, Mrs. Bill Kreinik of Hemet, California.

The funeral was held Monday to Kirk Hill United Church where Rev. Lloyd Hilton conducted the service. Present were Rev. William Scott of St. Columba Church, Rev. Mr. Carson, Vankleek Hill, and Rev. Mr. Ferron of Hawkesbury.

The pallbearers were: W. A. MacKinnon, Leslie MacNaughton, Ross MacMillan, Fred Sabourin, Martin Lacroix and D. A. MacPhee.

Among relatives present from a distance were Mrs. MacMillan's brothers, Stanley MacKinnon, Iroquois Falls, and Leslie MacKinnon, Schenectady, NY.

Interment will be in the spring.

Fourth Spot On Lancaster PUC

Lancaster Village boasts a third lady member on its municipal boards.

Mrs. Dorothy Fawthrop was given an acclamation, Friday night, to fill the vacancy on the Public Utilities Commission. She is the wife of Lloyd Fawthrop, a former village reeve.

Carl Mitchell was also nominated for the position at nominations held Friday night. He retired in favor of Mrs. Fawthrop.

At regular nominations in November, only three of the four seats on the PUC were filled, necessitating a second nomination meeting. Mrs. Fawthrop joins Bertyl White, Patrick Collette and Milton MacDonald on the PUC.

New members of the village council this year include Mrs. Dorothy Perrier and Mrs. Jackie Chenier.

Touchette Chairs Police Commission

Mayor Jean Paul Touchette was elected chairman of the Alexandria Police Commission for 1972 at the first meeting of the Commission this year.

Other members are retired Judge Austin O'Connor of Ottawa and Judge George A. Stiles of Cornwall. P. A. Charlebois, Alexandria is secretary.

Make Work For 26

Twenty-six men are now employed in Alexandria's winter works projects reports a spokesman at town hall. Painting of the PUC building and the police offices is nearing completion and a group of men are cutting brush and cleaning up the Garry watercourse west of town.

Reeve Not Giving Report On Counties

Reeve Bruno Massie told town council, at Tuesday night's meeting, that he had not missed a meeting of Counties Council during 1971, but he has no intention of making a report on activities at Cornwall.

His refusal followed a request by Councillor Laurie Lefebvre for a verbal report on the activities of counties' council for 1971 and that council's plans for 1972. Mr. Lefebvre congratulated the reeve on his assiduity in attending council sessions but felt that, in view of the fact this municipality contributed over $101,000 in counties rates last year, the ratepayers should be entitled to know how that money was spent.

Impressive Last Tribute To Soldier-Priest Msgr Ewen J Macdonald In Cathedral

Members of the hierarchy and diocesan priests celebrated the mass and Bishop Smith of Pembroke, paid a moving tribute at the funeral of Major Rt. Rev. Ewen J. Macdonald, PA, VG, MC, held Saturday afternoon in St. Finnan's Cathedral here.

The large congregation that filled almost every pew in the Cathedral included members of the local regiment, Legionnaires, representatives from many of the parishes of the diocese and friends from outside and area points.

Men of the SD&G Highlanders formed an honor guard and a representation from the unit pipe band headed the cortege to the cemetery where a lament was played. Fellow members of Bishop Macdonnell Assembly Fourth Degree K of C were also present in a body and the pallbearers were members of Alexandria Branch 423 of the Legion. Members of the diocesan clergy and other clerical friends of Father Ewen were also present in numbers.

Dean of the diocesan clergy and a well-loved soldier-priest who had served as a chaplain in both world wars, Father Ewen died Tuesday, January 11, in his 89th year. Prior to the funeral mass his body lay-in-state in the Cathedral for a period of 24 hours.

Concelebrating the mass with His Excellency Bishop Adolphe Proulx were Archbishop Aurele Plourde of Ottawa, and His Excellency William J. Smith, retired bishop of Pembroke, Msgr. James A. Wylie, VG, Msgr. Bernard Guin-

In his opening remarks Mr. Macdonnell called attention to the long service of L. C. Kennedy as clerk-treasurer for the past 23 years. He mentioned that Mr. Kennedy plans to retire at the end of August, and expressed satisfaction at being able to work with him for the first part of the year, and mentioned that he feels that the deputy clerk-treasurer Raymond Lapointe is fully qualified to fill the position.

Mr. Macdonnell introduced his wife, Isabel, two of his five children, his mother and father, Charles and Ethel Macdonnell of Matilda Township, his law partner Peter MacEwen, members of his staff and members of the council and staff of the village of Morrisburg.

A Year Away From Wardenship

Lochiel's Reeve Gerard Massie is only one year away from the office of Warden of United Counties Council, if the traditional manner of electing the top man at Counties Council is adhered to.

Reeve Massie has been elected chairman of the finance committee the traditional stepping stone to the wardenship.

If his health permits continued involvement in municipal politics, Reeve Massie of Lochiel could become the first French-Canadian member of council to don the warden's chain of office.

A FIRST EDITION—A new editor, Assistant Ag. Rep. Pat Killoran, looks over the first edition of his new paper as it rolls off the News' press. "The Glengarry Farmer", produced by the staff of the local Ag. Rep.'s office, went out to all farm families in the county this week. A modest two-page sheet, the new paper may be published quarterly and could gain in stature depending on its reception by readers and advertisers. don, VG, Msgr. D. A. Kerr, DP, Msgr. Henri Bougie, DP, Rev. John D. McPhail and Rev. Leo MacDonnell, rector of the Cathedral parish. Among dignitaries present were the Senior Roman Catholic Chaplain of the Canadian Armed Forces and the rector of St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, NS.

In his eulogy Bishop Smith recalled a humble, kindly priest who would not want a flowery oration. Father Ewen's had been a life of example, especially to his fellow clergy, and Bishop Smith spoke of the spirit of kindness and charity that had motivated the man and priest throughout his lifetime of service to God and his fellowman. He had warm memories of the companionship he had known while both he and Father Ewen resided at the bishop's house during the years, 1928 to 1940, when Father Ewen had served as rector in his native parish.

Speaking briefly at the conclusion of the mass, Bishop Proulx also recalled those fine priestly qualities and the unquestioning dedication to his vows that had been a part of Father Ewen's life of service in this diocese.

Bishop Proulx recited the prayers at the graveside.

Acting as pallbearers were Legionnaires D. A. MacPhee, D. O. Collin, Angus R. MacDonnell, Roddy McDougall, Cameron McCormick and Florian L'Ecuyer, while Jim Weir and Austin Kennedy carried the Legion colors.

Trial Of Suspended Police Chief Now Underway At Cornwall

Fraud, theft and breach of trust are among seven charges on which Sylvio Cleroux, suspended police chief of Alexandria, is being tried before petit jury in Cornwall this week.

Among those appearing as witnesses in the case are members of the local police force and of the staff at town hall.

The Grand Jury returned a true bill verdict Tuesday after hearing testimony on Mr. Cleroux's case. Mr. Cleroux was suspended from his duties March 19th. At a preliminary hearing July 13th he was committed for trial on five charges. Two charges were later added.

He is charged with stealing money, invoices and valuable securities valued at $160 from P. E. Rouette between July 9, 1967 and Sept. 12th of the same year.

Between July 1st, 1970 and March 1, 1971, Mr. Cleroux is charged with defrauding the Town of Alexandria of the value of certain pharmaceutical supplies used in efforts to tranquilize an animal belonging to D. S. MacDonald.

Mr. Cleroux is also charged with breach of trust by failing to account to the Town of Alexandria for $39.50 which he had received from Mr. MacDonald in payment for services rendered in efforts to tranquilize Mr. MacDonald's animal.

He is also charged with theft of $39.50 from Mr. MacDonald. Mr. Cleroux also faces a charge of unlawfully stealing $1,540.95, the property of the Town of Alexandria.

Mr. Cleroux served as Alexandria police chief from September 1966 until his suspension in March. He had served 12 years with the Ottawa police force before going to Alexandria.

Pat Rudden of Cornwall is defending Mr. Cleroux. The Crown is represented by W. G. Parker of Toronto. Judge is W. S. Lane of Picton.

IT'S OUR OPINION

That Shy, Engaging Smile

The death of Father Ewen Macdonald last week removed one of the last of that generation of priests of the diocese who were active in the days of our youth. In those impressionable years men of the cloth assume a stature that may diminish with time and adult cynicism. Not so Glengarry's soldier-priest, in our eyes. A half-century later, in his 89th year, Monsignor Ewen J. Macdonald, AP, VG, MC, retained all those appealing personal qualities that we had attributed to him so long ago.

Through an unusually active life that had known overseas service in two wars Father Ewen had seemed unchanging. Through decades of almost unceasing social change he walked with humility, steadfast in his dedication to the service of his God, content to serve his fellowman in whatever capacity was asked of him. That calm acceptance, Father Ewen's imperturbability, was a source of reassurance to more worldly men. His was a comforting presence.

The eulogies at his funeral reviewed his services as a priest of this diocese, as an Army chaplain. There were well-deserved tributes to his many fine qualities of heart and mind.

Those who had the privilege of knowing him through the years will continue to be warmed by the memory of that shy, engaging smile that signalled the fact Father Ewen was among friends. Many had gone before him but this soldier-priest of Glengarry is mourned by a younger generation who grew to admire him.

Our Cities Spawn Crime

Cities are not the healthiest places in which to live, both from the standpoint of pollution and crime. There were more than a million offences against the criminal code in Canada in 1970 and most of those were concentrated in the 12 largest metropolitan centres. The rate of offences in those cities averaged an increase of 9.1 per cent from the previous year, suggesting that the spiralling use of hard drugs is driving more and more people to crime.

That increase is noted from a survey conducted by Statistics Canada and a headline on that report in the Montreal Gazette—Crime Rate Here Lowest Of Most Major Cities—is a reminder that statistics do not always provide a true picture. Montreal had a crime rate less than half of Edmonton's per 100,000 inhabitants, according to these statistics, and one is left wondering if both cities were using the same basis in reporting crime.

If Montreal boasted the lowest rate among most major cities in 1970, it still reported more than 100,000 crimes and had more of a serious nature, including 38 murders, 69 attempted murders, 86 rapes and no less than 3,756 robberies. While Toronto reported a larger number of crimes, most were of a less serious nature than were Montreal's. Toronto knew 14 murders, 78 rapes, but only 1,288 robberies.

Residents of Montreal's suburbs who are facing stiff tax increases in order to pay police salaries on a scale with Toronto's, may not be too happy to learn that Quebec

Province had the worst crime solution rate, only 25.6 per cent, of all the provinces. The highest solution rate was Toronto's, with 43.7 per cent solved. Ottawa had the worst solution rate of all major cities with less than 20 per cent of its crimes cleared off the police blotters.

Whatever the comparative rate of increase in crime among the major cities, the overall picture across the country is a shocking one. While the number of crimes committed zooms by almost 10 per cent in one year, the number of cases solved in our cities drops to as low as one in every five. Police forces are finding themselves unable to cope as crime marches on, but their inadequacies do not extend to their bargaining position for better pay and working conditions. They do not hesitate to use the strike threat in winning ambitious pay increases.

Crime in our cities is clearly following the pattern established in most U.S. cities and it seems only a matter of time before crime in our streets will be the major problem now afflicting society in the U.S.

As our cities grow in population there is a corresponding increase in pollution of air and water; their slum sections spread to spawn still more criminals and law enforcement becomes increasingly unable to cope. Despite so grim a prospect, our planners in government can only promise to further depopulate rural Canada and concentrate most of its people in a few unmanageably huge cities. It doesn't make sense.

Success To The Glengarry Farmer

A new publication is reaching Glengarry farmers this week, one published exclusively for them and appropriately enough titled "The Glengarry Farmer". It is a production of the local staff of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food who are trying use of the printed word in the interests of better communication with the people they are here to serve.

This first modest effort is a two-page folder containing information on many facets of farming. Depending on its reception by farm folk and the willingness of farm-oriented advertisers to help finance its publication, The Glengarry Farmer will be issued quarterly. Its editor, Assistant Ag. Rep. Pat Killoran, hopes to be able to expand and improve it in subsequent issues.

We welcome this new publication which has been produced on our presses and we commend Ag. Rep. Jim Humphries and his staff on their initiative.

Success to The Glengarry Farmer and all Glengarry farmers.

Need A Fair Shake

Over the past few years a growing discontent has been evident throughout Leeds County and in fact all across Ontario among farmers. The discontent appears to have increased as the number of farmers leaving the land has increased, notes an editorial in The Gananoque Reporter.

Although the discontent has surfaced in many forms such as the Plum Hollow cheese-makers taking on the OMMB, the National Farmers Union picketing the Kraft plant near Cornwall, and the Ontario Federation of Agriculture stressing the unfair education taxes which are based on land and not on ability to pay, the common theme throughout is the same. Farmers are not receiving adequate returns on their products in order to make a decent living in the majority of cases. Faced with spiralling costs, and in this they are no different from anyone else, farmers are not enough in control of their products to set the price for which they will sell it. No matter which way they turn there always seems to be someone telling them what they will be paid for their work. This has to be exceedingly frustrating.

Over the past several years the prices of farm products have continued to rise on the consumer market, but it has largely been because of the middleman, the processor, looking after himself. Not that these increases haven't been necessary either, but the fact of the matter is that the farmers have not been able to increase their prices in order to keep up with rising costs.

A recent news release from Statistics Canada, sheds a great deal of light on the reasons for the present plight of the farmer. Since 1961 when agricultural commodities were rated at 100 the increase has steadily spiralled to 136.2 in 1971 for the same commodities essential for operating a farm.

This means that it is costing the Canadian farmer an average overall increase of 3% annually to operate his farm, but has been getting a yearly 3% increase for his products?

A lengthy breakdown is also provided by Statistics Canada. The cost of land and farm buildings has increased 57.1% for Eastern Canada farmers since 1961 and within this grouping mortgage credit increased 127.1%. Farm machinery and vehicles have gone up 32% with the price of tractors at 35%, combines at 40%, trucks at 29.6%, but the one thing which is not essential to a farm operation proper, the automobile, costs the farmer just 2.9% more than in 1961.

Farm labor has shown the biggest jump. It costs the farmer 55.3% more overall for hourly, daily, and monthly rated hired farm labor than in 1961. In contrast feed costs about 12.6% more and fertilizer is the only one of the 31 items compared which costs less in 1971 than in 1961, according to Statistics Canada.

Compare this with what has happened to the pork market or eggs in 1971, and it becomes very evident that changes will have to be made very rapidly if farmers are going to be able to make a success of their operations.

For most of 1971 the price a hog producer was given for pork was around 25¢ a pound. The break even price is 29¢. This means that if the hog producer ships eight 200 pound pigs a week he will lose about $4,000 in 1971 for being a hog producer. This is only one isolated case of thousands. And remember he has no control over the price tag placed on his product. No businessman can afford this kind of abuse and not become frustrated, yes, and even militant in desperation for a fair shake.

"I'M SORRY, THE PRIME MINISTER IS TIED UP"

WITH OUR

by Ed.

IT CAN BE DONE

Let's give credit where credit is due. The Post Office managed to deliver at least some of our city-bound papers with dispatch last week. Alan came home from Ottawa with the news The News had reached him on Friday. Kevin arrived from Montreal with the same pleasant word.

Usually, they don't see the paper till Monday or Tuesday and we're left hoping this wasn't a flash in the pan, that the postal people have turned over a new leaf and have come up with a more satisfactory approach to delivery of weekly newspapers in the cities.

Other weeklies have been experiencing the same late delivery problems through the city distribution points as has this paper. Other editors are just as unhappy with the postal service, as witness this vignette from the editorial column of The Smiths Falls Record-News: "The Post Office, bless its dilatory little soul, is going to penalize 272 letter carriers for last fall's illegal walkouts. (Walkout may be the wrong word here; it was their refusal to walk out with the mail that caused the fuss.) They are now to be suspended for their action, most of them for one day, 21 of them for five days."

"It may be futile to point out that this disciplinary measure also penalizes the public once again, since a suspended letter carrier cannot deliver letters. But there may be hope. The suspensions, and another 1,000 reprimands, are all being notified—wait for it—by letters from Ottawa. So there's a very good chance that the men will never get them, or get them so late that everybody will have forgotten what it was all about."

If the big city post offices quit damming our distribution we'll quit damming the mail service.

RELATIVELY DIFFICULT

The columnist in The Winchester Press suggests something to do some stormy night when television programs are lousy (as usual). Gather the family around and give some thought to the following questionnaire Reg has come up with.

In what relationship to yourself do the following persons stand:

1. Your father's uncle's brother's wife?
2. Your aunt's mother's father's wife?
3. Your mother's nephew's daughter's son?
4. Your brother's son's sister's mother?
5. Your sister-in-law's father-in-law's grandson?
6. Your sister's father's stepson's mother?
7. Your uncle's father's only granddaughter?
8. Your brother-in-law's wife's grandmother's husband?
9. Your father's father's daughter's daughter?
10. The granddaughter of the only son of your mother's mother-in-law?

If you've plowed your way through all ten your tired brain may be ready for another few weeks of hibernation.

Then there's that oldie. What's the relationship of the doorstep to the door—a step father?

WHAT A WEEK THAT WAS!

People who went south early last week were cheating themselves out of the finest January weather we can recall. That spell of shirt-sleeve weather probably was the January thaw but darned if we ever thawed through temperature readings in the first month of the year.

Lolling in the sun down there in Vero Beach, friend Angus H. will scarcely credit the fact the mercury must have been above the 60 mark on Thursday and the mild spell spread over several days as a warm front moved in on us. Can you believe, Angus, slush in mid-January, and bare sidewalks, yet? Who ever before heard the suggestion farmers should have been tapping their maples in January. That's the kind of days we were enjoying, Angus; more like the March lamb than mid-winter.

But don't pack your bags and come rushing home to soak in the sun, Angus. The weatherman got things back to normal by Saturday and that walk to church on Sunday morning was a fast one as we tried to keep up with a nose that was running.

The slush froze into icy footing and the wind added to the chill factor, but cold as it is once more we're warmed by the memory of that mild spell and the realization we'll be through January in an-

LETTERS to the EDITOR

SEEKS INFORMATION

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

May I make use of your columns once again to ask for help about times past in the area?

First of all I wonder if any reader of this column would be able to identify or perhaps know someone who would be able to identify "Chute Road". Not much to go on but because of the families involved, McKays, McQualls and others from the north of Lancaster or the South of Lochiel and at the east side of each. I would suspect that it would be located between the two rivers and east of The Military Road, though it might be north of the Ottawa. If the location of the address can be found we might be able to deduce the giver of an old book and so fill in a blank in a family tree.

Secondly I would appreciate getting in touch with or being given

SMOKERS POLLUTE, TOO

Alexandria, Ont.
The editor,
The Glengarry News,

I agree with your editorial of last week stating that the new provincial legislation against burning refuse is absurd. Surely our "environmental Protectionists" must have more sensible areas of attack. The pollution caused by bulldozers covering the garbage must at least equal the harm of smoke if this garbage were burned.

There are so many other ways in which we are defiling our planet, and almost everyone is too busy caught up in the race for health and social standing, that they don't stop to ponder the future. At the heart of the world's problem is the enormous rate at which our population is increasing. This snowballs when everyone clamors for "the good things in life" and so our natural resources are eaten up, while our waste matter multiplies.

One area of pollution which is personally disturbing is the thoughtfulness of cigarette smokers. The harm done—to their own

They're Long Overdue

(The Dutton Advance)

Every February, when the scramble to queue-up for motor vehicle licence plates is upon us, a question is asked from coast to coast (except for Quebec, British Columbia, Newfoundland and Manitoba): Why can't we have permanent plates?

This yearly howl has finally had its effect. The Ontario Government has announced that it will bring in "permanent" motor vehicle licence plates for 1973. The Government is having the new plates made of heavier metal which, it is hoped, will last for five years. Each year the car owner will buy a vinyl sticker to prove that he has renewed his fee.

In Britain, where truly permanent plates have been in existence for many years, there is no question of a plate which will last only five years. Licence plates may be bought from private manufacturers. They are all of the same general size and specifications but are produced in a variety of qualities. The plate stays with the car permanently. The Government never has to bother about reissuing plates under this system and it is a wonder that our provincial governments can't bring themselves to copy it.

However, the quasi-permanent plate to be introduced in Ontario next year is a great improvement and we welcome it, as we imagine most car-owners will.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM MAXVILLE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. John Denovan of Brantford, and son John of Esquimaux, BC, were recent visitors with Rev. and Mrs. Iver D. MacIver.

Mrs. Don Fosberg is back home again after a lengthy stay in hospital.

Miss Amy Adams of Madoc, spent some time visiting her sister Mrs. D. G. McNaughton.

Orville Doth is presently a patient in the Hotel Dieu, Cornwall.

The euchre parties sponsored by the Auxiliary at the Manor every second Wednesday evening are proving very popular this winter. There were 13 tables last time. The bridge club meets every second Monday, with six tables now.

Mrs. Archie Hughes spent a few days visiting Mrs. Carol Hay in Ottawa and brought grandson Aaron back with her for a visit.

There was a reception of new members at a service of confirmation in the Maxville United Church on January 14th. This service was conducted by the Rev. W. E. Henderson and the following were received into the church: Catherine Blaney, Noreen Henderson, Mavis McBain, Neil Blaney, John Morrow and Brian Swift.

Recent winners of the Lions' Club draw were George Sewell and L. Leroux.

The Maxville Old-Timers are busy in their hockey season. Last Monday night they played to a 5-5 draw against Vankleek Hill. The exhibition game this Monday will be against the district OPP team, and next Monday Vankleek Hill again. Plans are under way to have a Lions' Club team from Lachute come over on Feb. 12th. Proceeds to the Minor Hockey Fund.

Residents of the Manor who have occasion to wait in the front lobby are enjoying the use of chairs and a very fine drum table. This piece of furniture was made by Alex McRae of Vancouver, and donated to the Manor.

The Apple Hill branch of the Royal Canadian Legion held their regular meeting on Wednesday evening in the lounge of the Manor. This meeting was organized by Keith MacIntosh, and was attended by the seven veterans who are residents, as well as the Apple Hill members.

The Manor was fortunate enough to obtain two students from Project 500 — the Ontario Government's commitment to providing 500 jobs for high school or university students who have shown some interest in social work but are presently unemployed. The term of employment is until the end of April. Rhona MacDonell of Williamstown, is working with Mrs. Kowalski and Mrs. MacLean in adjuvant and crafts, and Barbara Loewen of Dunvegan, is now in the office, with Miss Vallee.

A euchre party will be held at the Manor on Wednesday, January 26th, at 8 p.m.

PROCEEDS OF RAFFLE GIFT TO THE MANOR

Paul Carpenter, who has recently retired from BOAC after 20 years' service and resides just outside Maxville, likes to paint. Just prior to leaving BOAC in Montreal he offered to staff, by means of a raffle, one of his modern, abstract oil paintings, carrying the title "Autumn Tints", covering a canvas approximately five feet by four feet. It was stated that all of the money collected would go to the Maxville Manor.

$100 was collected and handed to the BOAC staff winner, Mrs. Pat MacDougald, together with the painting, and she wrote out the cheque for that amount payable to Maxville Manor.

An interesting point about the winner is that her husband, J. Boyce MacDougald, comes from Glengarry. He was born in Glen Nevis and attended Alexandria High. At one time he worked for BOAC, but now has his own travel agency business, Bel-Air Travel, Montreal.

Mr. Carpenter presented the cheque to the administrator, Maxville Manor, on January 14th.

TO SHOW MOVIES

The afternoon meeting on January 12th, met with unqualified approval from Maxville's senior citizen group, the Young at Heart Club.

Bill Wilkinson has promised to show movies of interesting points of Scotland, England and Eastern Canada at the next meeting on January 26th, at 2 p.m. in the Maxville Community Hall.

Should circumstances prevent this showing, members will play euchre, canasta, etc.

TO HEAR TRAVEL TALK

East, West, North, South, Quebec to Vancouver, Alaska to Hawaii, Mrs. Robertson McRae has been there.

This well travelled and interesting member of the Maxville Women's Institute will speak at their next meeting, January 26th, on her experiences.

The afternoon should prove rewardingly informative, and visitors are most welcome.

Friday, January 26th, at 2 p.m. in the Maxville Community Hall.

New Butterfat Record For Young Ayrshire In Martintown Herd

Orchard Holm Polly, owned by Thomas Curran, Martintown, Ont., has broken the Canadian junior 4-year old butterfat record. She produced 20,780 lbs. milk, 856 lbs. fat, 4.12% in 353 days on twice daily milkings. This breaks the 844 lbs. fat record that has been held by Ubysey Admiral's Teresa since 1954. The milk record of Polly ranks second to the 21,277 lbs. milk produced by Alderwood Royal Brown Lass for J. G. Wilson, St. Valentin, Que., in 1962.

In 305 days, Orchard Holm Polly produced 19,263 lbs. milk, 788 lbs. fat, 4.09% with BCA's of 240 for milk and 239 for fat. Both her milk and butterfat records rank second among the Canadian Champion Producers to Alderwood Royal Brown Lass.

Orchard Holm Polly commenced her record breaking lactation on November 3, 1970. She is due to commence another lactation in mid-January.

During her Champion Record, Polly was fed and cared for similar to the other 40 cows in Tom Curran's Sunny Dale herd. During the winter months, she was housed in a stanchion and never received the benefit of a box stall. The forage used was corn silage throughout the year with grass in the summer months and good quality hay. The grain mixture is about 70% corn and cob meal with oil cake and soybean meal for the protein concentrate. A 18% protein mixture is fed and Tom Curran believes this is required due to the large amount of corn silage in the ration.

Tom Curran purchased Holm Polly as a bred heifer from Oscar Vaillancourt, St. Chrysostome, Que. She was bred by Frederick P. Miller, Malone, NY, and sold to Norman W. Cook, Burke, NY as a two-month old calf. In her first record as a 2 year old in the Curran herd, Polly produced 15,316 lbs. milk, 623 lbs. fat, 4.07% in 366 days.

Orchard Holm Polly is the Selwood Betty's Commander—Selwood Debonair cross. Her sire is the famous Selwood Betty's Commander the highest plus proven bull, with a large number of daughters, of all breeds in North America. Her dam, Orchard Holm Pauline is a daughter of Selwood Debonair. Both Debonair and Betty's Commander are sons of Selwood Cora's Burton.

Polly has one daughter by Oak Ridge Kestrel who is just over 2 years of age and due to freshen in late December. Orchard Holm Polly is type classified Very Good with a score of 87 points. Another young Ayrshire cow who has broken a Canadian record.

Grant Aids Manor

The Maxville Manor has qualified for financial assistance under the Local Initiatives Program of the Federal Department of Manpower and Immigration. Chairman Allan C. Vallance has announced that through the office of the member of the federal government funds have been made available for a considerable amount of work about the building and grounds. Total project funds is approximately $29,000, of which the Government share is $24,000, with the remaining $5,000 to be provided by the Manor Corporation.

The fund covers wages and materials for five months, from January till the end of May.

With Jack Hayman as foreman, nine men began work on Jan. 17, all of them from Maxville or the immediate area. Indoor winter work will include painting some rooms and refinishing some floors, changing fixtures and refitting furniture. By April up to twenty local men will be hired to do more extensive work outside on the grounds — clearing the woodlot, cleaning the stream, levelling and seeding lawns, and building small dams and a bridge to make an attractive series of falls along the pond bordering the grounds to the west side.

Oil Spilled In Highway 401 Mishap

An accident on Highway 401 Monday morning caused more than $5,000 damage to a tractor unit pulling two tank cars containing bunker oil.

Damages include loss of some 5,600 gallons of oil which spilled when the tractor-trailer jackknifed on the westbound lane one mile west of Fraser Rd. at 3:50 a.m. The two trailer units smashed into each other, breaking one oil tank open.

Lancaster provincial police said the accident occurred when a truck passed the tractor-trailer unit causing swirling snow to impair the driver's vision.

The transport is owned by Queensway Tank Lines of Ches-terville. Driver William Morrell of Prescott was not injured.

IS THIS A GOOD ADVERTISEMENT ?

"If your advertising could be printed in a special kind of invisible ink that became visible only between 5.00 and 5.01 Thursday, and then disappeared, the chances are You wouldn't think such an ad was worth much. You'd only reach a small fraction of the total Newspaper's audience — those who happened to be reading the newspaper Thursday afternoon at precisely the time your ad appeared, and who in fact happened to be turned to the page your ad was on at the precise moment.

"And yet this is what happens to advertising in media other than newspapers. A survey showed that 75 per cent of all shoppers check the newspaper ads before making their main shopping trip. To Make Home At Maxville

VILLENEUVE-CHENIER

A pretty winter wedding took place in Holy Cross Church, Cornwall, on Dec. 11th, 1971, at 10:30 a.m. when Sharon Shirley Chenier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chenier, Cornwall, became the bride of Robert Pierre Villeneuve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Villeneuve, Maxville. Father Dollard Desrosiers, Three Rivers, Que., officiated at the ceremony and Mr. R. Vachon was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a traditional floor-length wedding gown, fashioned on Empire lines in white velvet. The bodice of her gown featured a yoke effect of Alencon lace pulled through with delicate blue satin ribbon. Her full bishop sleeve featured a wide cuff with three buttons at the wrist, and a full flowing skirt fell to a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion was attached to a coronet of hand-fashioned flowers. She carried a cascade of blue tipped white carnations and ivy.

Her sister, Vivianne, was maid of honor and wore a pale lilac gown fashioned on Empire lines with deep mauve velvet ribbon on cuffs and bodice. She carried a cascade of white carnations tipped with mauve, with short lilac streamers.

Douglas MacGregor, Maxville, was best man.

The wedding reception was held at the Flamingo Motel where guests were present from Sudbury, Three Rivers, Montreal, Sturgeon Falls, Belleville, Massena, Bainsville and Maxville.

The bride wore a two-piece double knit suit in plum shade for the wedding trip to Rochester, NY and Niagara Falls.

Old Sandringham Store Building To House Print Shop At Upper Canada

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission is adding an early Canadian printing shop to Upper Canada Village and it will be housed in an old general store building from Sandringham. Built in 1860 and never renovated, the old store was moved last weekend from Sandringham, northwest of Maxville over the border of Roxborough Township, to the Village at Morrisburg.

At a total cost of $30,000 it will be set up in the Village, restored and furnished as an early Canadian printing shop. It fits all qualifications of an Upper Canada newspaper printing office according to Doug Hough, curator of buildings and machinery at the Village.

Although the store was purchased in November from A. J. Rochette, Mr. Hough has been gathering printing equipment for the past five years. Four early Canadian presses are ready for installation, including the press which belonged to the first King's Printer in Upper Canada, a Washington press of 1830, a cylinder press and an 1860 Gordon press. Mr. Hough said more wooden type must be located for the shop.

As a finished product, the shop will be run by a printer who will put out daily news pages during the Village season.

In the meantime, explained Mr. Hough, renovations to the store will be carried out as a demonstration of early Canadian construction techniques. The restoration is expected to be completed by the fall.

Teenagers Held Christmas Party For Their Foster Parents At Cornwall

Several days later and foster parents across the three counties were still talking about the Christmas Party held for them on Sunday evening, 12th December, at Trinity Church Hall, Cornwall.

Social workers, foster parents and directors of the Children's Aid Society have long been maintaining that, given half a chance, young people today can prove themselves in many different ways. There was ample evidence of this when approximately 200 foster parents were the invited guests of some 20 teenagers, under the able guidance of Derry Tenger and his fellow social workers.

The bountiful banquet and festive decorations — complete with Santa's sleigh loaded with gifts — were the result of diligent, conscientious hard work by these happy, robust young people. Mr. Tenger, acting as Master of Ceremonies, called on teenager, Jean Paul Duchene, to ask the grace.

At the close of the banquet, Robert Bergeron, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Children's Aid Society, expressed his appreciation to the young people for their invitation to himself and Mrs. Bergeron and thanked the foster parents for their part in the work of the Children's Aid Society.

Among the invited guests were Mrs. Hazel Baker, retired social worker of many years standing, as well as CJSS representative, Ger-gave her report.

Business included plans for a pot luck supper prior to the annual congregational meeting; a bakeless Bake Sale in February; and a spring tea in April.

At the December meeting Life Membership Pins were presented to Mrs. Lorne Harris, Mrs. Robert Johnston and Miss Bessie J. Ban-thanks and appreciation for the party on behalf of the foster parents.

This, indeed, was no small effort and it was obvious that it took the combined co-operation of many dedicated folk, working behind the scene, to make the evening such a tremendous success. The party was a great lesson to all present that, when given the necessary encouragement by interested adults, young people are only too willing to do their part.

The Big Mail-out has begun.

Tax reform legislation has been approved by Parliament and is now law.

What does tax reform mean to you? How will it affect you?

To answer these questions, the Department is conducting a massive national mailing program. Booklets are now being printed and mailed to all taxpayers as quickly as they come off the press.

The complete mailing will be finished in about four weeks.

All taxpayers will receive at least two booklets—

"Highlights for Individuals" and "Valuation Day". These should provide answers to most of your questions.

Some taxpayers will receive additional information, according to their specific needs.

Read your booklets. Afterwards, if you have questions, ask us. We'll be glad to help.

You will find that your booklets will make it easier to file your income tax return in 1973, because they will help you to prepare now.
