Absolutely No More Stopping Of Cars At Post Office Council Instructs Police

An absolute ban on stopping cars on the east side of Main in the Post Office area is now in effect and Town Council has instructed the police to enforce the new parking by-law firmly and without favor.

Already this week, we hear, several local residents have received tickets for stopping their cars in that area or at other points along the east side of Main at prohibited hours.

Police Chief Marius Dubeau discussed the problem with council at Tuesday's meeting following repeated traffic tie-ups caused by cars parked near the Post Office. He was instructed to make no exceptions.

A policeman will also be on traffic duty from 5 to 5.15 each afternoon at the intersection of Main and Kenyon Streets where the traffic rush tends to pile up.

Contracts were let for snow plowing of the streets to Wilfrid Lefebvre and for snow removal by blower to Paul Roy's garage.

In conjunction with the Board of Trade, council has submitted the name of Georges Lanthier for the EODA's industrial award of merit. It is to be presented later this month. The Lanthier Bakery has been in operation here for some 33 years and is among the largest payrolls in town.

Kenyon Reeve Norman M. MacLeod, Deputy-Reeve Albert Faubert and Road Foreman Peter Cameron approached council in relation to closing of the road at Cardinal's bridge during construction of the dam and spillway at Loch Garry. Their concern over interruption of traffic was alleviated by assurance that the road would be closed no longer than 14 days. They were told a new culvert would replace the present Cardinal bridge and that the road would be left in good condition.

Council has been advised by the Department of Agriculture that the Armouries will qualify for grants under the Community Centres Act. It offers 25 per cent of the cost of purchase and repairs, not to exceed $5,000.

Council will ask Osie F. Villeneuve MPP, to speed up approval of the Armouries purchase by the Municipal Board. It may be needed for institution of Program 5 educational training this winter.

Survivor, 4, Went Mile For Help

A four-year-old child whose grandfather was a one-time resident of Skye walked nearly a mile for help in a Sept. 14th traffic accident in Manitoba which killed her brother and seriously injured her mother.

Kathy MacLeod, 4, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John MacLeod of Kenville, Man., is a granddaughter of the late Robert D. MacLeod, formerly of Skye, who died one day prior to the accident that killed his grandson.

We reprint this report from a Manitoba paper:

A four-year-old Kenville, Man., girl walked nearly a mile for help Tuesday after surviving a two-car crash that killed her 14-year-old brother and a 40-year-old Kenville man. and injured her mother.

Kathy MacLeod walked to the nearest farm house after the 5 p.m. head-on collision on a rural road four miles west of Kenville killed her brother Malcolm John MacLeod, and Herbert Terhorst. The girl was uninjured.

Kathy's mother, Mrs. John MacLeod, 42, who was driving the MacLeod car, sustained extensive injuries. She was reported in fair condition in Swan River Valley Hospital, Swan River.

Police said the collision between the MacLeod and Terhorst cars occurred at the crest of a hill. Both cars were demolished. Mr. Terhorst was alone in his car.

Nominations Next Friday In Four Municipalities

Three Glengarry municipalities are having an off year in municipal elections — Alexandria, Lancaster Township and Maxville.

Nominations will be held next Friday afternoon in Kenyon, Charlottenburgh and Lochiel. Lancaster Village has its nomination meeting that night.

Lochiel and Charlottenburgh will hold referendums under the Liquor Licence Act at the same time as municipal elections, Dec. 6th. In Kenyon a vote on beer will be held Dec. 20th.

Hope To have Program 5 Course In Farm Mechanics

A winter course in Mechanics of Farming is a possibility here under the Department of Education's Program 5. Various aspects of farm practises would be covered and it is hoped to start the course in the Armouries December 1st, if the building is available.

It would be administered by the High School Board, with John D. Grant in charge of arrangements.

Want Beer Store Hours Extended

Town Council plans to request that Brewers' Warehousing arrange to have the local beer store remain open, with hours more synchronized to other store hours in town.

Council would like the Wednesday closing eliminated and hours from Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. with 9 p.m. closing on Fridays. The present practise of closing daily from 1 p.m. to 2.30 p.m., would also be done away with.

Liquor store hours are more in keeping with general practise here but council will ask the LCBO to abolish the present Wednesday all-day closing.

Plenty Of Deer Too Many Guns

Between 50 and 60 deer were killed in Glengarry during the four-day open season last week, reports Paul Endress of Alexandria, area supervisor for the Department of Forestry and Wildlife.

Twenty guns were seized in this county, he also reports, and there were probably double that number confiscated in his area, comprising Glengarry, Stormont and Prescott. The seizures were for various violations, use of rifles, Sunday hunting or otherwise out of season, carrying licences under false pretenses, etc.

The season here was a hunter success, reports Game Warden Endress, in that more deer were bagged than last year and fewer hunting licences were issued. Deer were surprisingly plentiful, he reports, and every hunter he has contacted at least saw game, even though out of range.

End of the shooting season saw a surplus of deer. Four were killed by cars on area roads this week.

Mr. Endress has had no reports of farm animals being used for target practise by thwarted hunters.

Family Here For Golden Date

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Costello of Alexandria, was celebrated last weekend when members of their family and friends gathered to mark the event. Mr. and Mrs. Costello have been esteemed residents of Alexandria for the past 10 years when they came here to join his son, Lyall Costello, following Mr. Costello's retirement from Ontario Hydro.

An anniversary mass was sung in St. Finnan's by Msgr. D. A. Kerr, Saturday evening, followed by a gathering of friends and relatives at the residence of their son, Lyall and Mrs. Costello. A family dinner followed on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Costello were married at Fallowfield, Ont., 50 years ago and lived at Fitzroy Harbor for most of their married life before moving to Arnprior. Mrs. Costello is the former Lillian Dourley.

They have four children, Patrick of London, Ont.; Dorothy (Mrs. Ambrose Mewett) Quebec City; Lois (Mrs. Barrie Yates) Ottawa, and Lyall of Alexandria. There are 10 grandchildren.

Going To Vaudreuil

Paul Emile Levert has been engaged to supervise the purification and filtration of water at the Institute of Technology at Vaudreuil, Que.

Mrs. Levert and family will remain in Alexandria until the end of the school term when they will take up residence in Vaudreuil.

Mr. Levert had been a member of the staff of the water filtration plant here and the PUC is now advertising for a replacement.

Other Car Hit

A report in last issue on a three-car crash in which three were injured was not quite according to the actual happening, we are informed.

The car driven by Jim MacMillan was struck in the rear by the Theoret car, he informs us. The Theoret car then veered off the highway and struck a parked car owned by Raymond Trottier.

Sir John Johnson Interviewed In Museum Interest

Reeve Archibald MacDonell and other officials of Charlottenburgh Township, representatives of the Township Public School Board and the Glengarry Historical Society, were in Cornwall, Monday, to interview Sir John Johnson of England, a direct lineal descendant of the UEL leader, Sir John Johnson, who founded Williamstown.

They were there in the interests of the township's centennial project which encompasses the organization of a Nor'Wester's museum and library in the former public school building.

The project is momentarily stalled due to the fact title to the land, given to the trustees for educational purposes by Sir John's forebears, cannot now be transferred for the centennial project. The delegation was in Cornwall to ask Sir John to allow certain changes in the memorial which conveyed the land.

Originally the document read that the land is made over to a group of trustees "for the superintendence and management of a Protestant school and their successors in the same office forever, in trust in the behoof and for the encouragement of the said school and for no other purpose whatever."

The old school was closed as a public school two years ago when the new school was opened. But it is proposed that the building be used as a 'Nor'Western Museum and library, as a centennial project for Charlottenburgh. However, the school board and the township desired to obtain the appropriate legal rights to the property in order to qualify for centennial and other grants.

Sir John assured the group that he believed the appropriate steps would be taken, but he wished to consult his solicitor before signing documents. Sir John and Lady Johnson expressed their satisfaction with plans for a museum in Williamstown and expressed regret at being unable to visit the site because of a close schedule that afternoon. They left Cornwall on the 5.50 train to board ship at Montreal.

Township officials had hoped to bring Sir John and Lady Johnson to Williamstown that day for a special "signing off" ceremony. That had to be called off but they are confident the necessary clearance of title will come through in time to proceed with plans for the museum.

Impressive Tribute At Double Funeral For Young Victims Of Weekend Crash

An impressive double funeral was held here Tuesday morning for two area young people killed early Sunday morning. They met death and three others were injured when their car left County Road 10, some two miles west of Glen Robertson, and struck a tree.

Lise Girard, 16, met death only one mile from her home on the Glen Robertson road. Marcel Ouimet, 22, of Lochiel, also a passenger in the car, was the second fatality.

Taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital here, were Hubert Girard, 21, driver of the car and brother of Lise; his wife, Mrs. Yvonne Girard, 18. Agathe was the fiancee of Marcel Ouimet who met death.

Lise Girard was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Girard, RR 2 Alexandria, while Marcel Ouimet was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herminie Ouimet, RR 1 Alexandria. Both died instantly.

The driver, Hubert Girard escaped with minor arm injuries and was released after treatment at the hospital. His wife and sister are reported making good recovery. Mrs. Girard suffered a lacerated forehead, fractured right elbow and right foot. Agathe Girard received lacerations to the forehead, face, right wrist and right knee.

Const. Robert Guay, of Ontario Provincial Police, Lancaster, said the 1957 auto was travelling west on County Road 10 at 1 a.m. Sunday when the driver, Hubert Girard, lost control.

The car left the road on the north side, striking the tree and tearing off one side of the car. The vehicle continued on for a short distance and ended up nudging a telephone pole. Both men were thrown from the car. The dashboard came in, crushing Lise Girard sitting on the right in the front seat.

Passing motorists stopped to aid the victims and Dr. Yvon Bourdeau of Alexandria treated them at the scene.

Marcel Ouimet was the son of Herminie Ouimet and his wife, the former Lucienne Taillon of Green Valley. A house finisher by trade, he had been employed in nearby cities while residing here.

Surviving, in addition to his parents are six brothers and one sister: Rejean and Gerald, in Cornwall; Gaetan, studying for the priesthood in Ottawa; Denis, Normand, Gilbert and Francine, all at home.

A student at Maria Goretti Academy here last year, Lise Girard had been planning on a business course. She was born in the 2nd Lochiel, a daughter of Raoul Girard and his wife, the former Gilberte Legault of McCormick's.

She leaves her parents, two brothers and three sisters: Hubert of Alexandria, Michel, Agathe, Diane and Rita, all at home.

A very large number of sympathizing relatives, friends and neighbors attended the double funeral held Tuesday morning from the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home to Sacred Heart Church and cemetery. Two hearses bore the remains side by side with two lines of mourners following.

The solemn mass of requiem was chanted by Msgr. Cyrille Contant assisted by Rev. Arcade Leblanc as deacon and Rev. Gaetan Ouimet, brother of one of the victims, as sub-deacon.

Pallbearers for Marcel Ouimet were: Fernand, Jean-Guy, Claude, Serge and Yvon Ouimet, and Euclid St. Denis.

Bearers for Miss Girard were: Ronald and Rene Jeaurond, Ronald McDonell, Jean Claude Cyr, Eugene Legault and Gerald Lajoie.

A wealth of Mass cards, floral pieces and messages evidenced wide regret in the tragedy.

James N. MacLeod Died At 51

The many relatives and friends of the late James Neil MacLeod were saddened on Sunday November 7th, 1965 to learn of his untimely passing in Cornwall General Hospital where he had been a patient for three weeks.

The late Mr. MacLeod, who was in his 52nd year was born at Skye, the devoted and youngest son of Mrs. Rory W. MacLeod (Margaret MacCrimmon) and the late Mr. MacLeod.

He spent his entire lifetime in the Skye area where he was interested in community activities. He was a member of Kenyon Presbyterian Church, Dunvegan and at the time of his death was a member of its trustee board.

On June 23rd, 1951, he married Mary C. Hartrick, who survives.

Besides his sorrowing wife and mother, he leaves two sisters and two brothers. Mrs. Rory MacGillivray (Penelope) of McCrimmon; Mrs. John D. MacLeod (Mary), Donald Norman and John Alex of Skye.

The largely attended funeral was held from Hoople's Funeral Home Maxville, to Kenyon Presbyterian Church, Dunvegan. The service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. Russell Ferguson, MA, who brought a comforting message to the bereaved and spoke of the christian qualities of the deceased.

The pallbearers were three cousins, Benton McCrimmon, John Hugh Morrison and Wallace MacIntosh; Archie MacRae, Norman M. MacLeod and Weldon McIntosh, neighbors.

Interment was in the adjoining cemetery.

Every Step Is A Beginning Maxville Students Reminded At Exercises

The Maxville and District High School held the annual Commencement in the Gymnasium on Friday evening at 8 o'clock when students, parents and friends assembled to hear the District Inspector of Secondary Schools in Eastern Ontario, Dr. J. O. Proulx of Eastview, and to see the presentation of awards to the winning students.

The Academic procession, lead by Piper Alex Munro included members of the High School Staff, former Principal Lorne Lawson, Dr. Proulx, members of the Board and senior students.

Rev. I. D. MacIver gave the Prayer of Invocation. Principal L. D. Gauley, chairman, welcomed all present and voiced congratulations to all successful students. He thanked all of those who returned for the evening to bid farewell to the Maxville High School, and expressed appreciation to former Principal Lawson for his presence. Board members were thanked for faith placed in him as principal of the school. His special message to the graduates was "To those of you who have left to continue your education or to work in the work-a-day world. If you put forth a reasonable amount of effort with the education you have received here you will succeed.'

Dr. Proulx with more than a quarter of a century's experience, in his address to the graduates emphasized the fact that every step is a beginning in striving as well as attaining and with it goes happiness. Life comes in bits and pieces to be put together into a solid unit. Do not allow yourselves to put off an endeavour which you think you can achieve. When confronted with a problem say "I'll find out". Ambition is the attitude of the mind. Do the best on the job that you have while preparing for the distant jobs. Do not be afraid to work after hours. Sir Winston Churchill despite his busy life took time for painting. Embark into adult life with determination to win.

Following Dr. Proulx's address diplomas were presented.

Gary MacGregor received the Bursary for University, the MacLennan Scholarship, $450, the A. J. Grant and Margaret Grant Bursary $800, the Marion Stewart McDonald Scholarship $100, the Chamber of Commerce Bursary $100, the Albert A. Urquhart Scholarship $50, and the O. F. Villeneuve award for highest standing in Grade 13. Gary is the son of Mrs. Verna MacGregor of Maxville. His sister, Sheryl, now a student at Queen's, won similar honors in 1963.

Attendance Down Remembrance Day

A record number of wreaths was laid at the Glengarry War Memorial, here, Thursday of last week as Alexandria Legion Branch conducted its Remembrance Day service of recollection.

Comrade Lorrain Aulenbach was parade marshall and the Glengarry Highlanders Pipe Band headed the parade of veterans from Mill Square to cenotaph. There Comrade Larry Sicard acted as MC for the ceremonies, including sounding of the Last Post by a Char-Lan bugler, a lament on the pipes and laying of the many wreaths.

Msgr. D. A. Kerr, Rev. L. S. Woolfrey and Mayor Raymond Periard spoke briefly on the Remembrance theme.

Attendance of the public was not in keeping with the promise that "we shall remember them".

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

How Much Power Must Toronto Have?

Even the experts were baffled by the extent of last week's power failure which blacked out 30 million people in Ontario and New England for varying periods of time. New York City felt its impact most as the lights went out during the five o'clock rush, trapping hundreds of thousands in the subway system for ten hours.

Sections of Southern Ontario escaped the blackout entirely and Glengarrians were lucky enough to have power restored within a half hour.

If the experts at Hydro are baffled, don't expect this writer to explain what went wrong or to suggest a way to prevent the same thing happening again. About the only thing we understand about electrcity is how to turn it on or off.

We had been perfectly content to let electrical engineers and other experts on things hydraulic do our worrying for us in the past. But last Tuesday's blackout was as effective as a mild stroke in warning that there is something seriously wrong here that must be paid attention.

The blackout was but a bothersome interruption of service here and it was not until news reports seeped in that we learned the enormity of the catastrophe. Until the lights went out we had not been aware how integrated our electrical supply was with that of our neighbors to the south.

Monday's news reports brought at least a partial explanation of the blackout's cause and pinpointed the blame on a preliminary relay failure at one of Hydro's Queenston plants. The relay break threw 1,600,000 kilowatts of power, being imported, back into U.S. lines. The frequency surge was too hot to handle and blacked out a wide area including New York.

The blackout may prove an eye-opener to Ontario users of Hydro who may be dismayed to learn that this province is so short of power it must import from the U.S. We had thought the shoe was on the other foot; that the U.S. was dependent on our power output.

Or is it only the Hamilton-Toronto area that needs New York power to supply the new industries other sections of the province are denied? Hydro and Queen's Park apparently have been keeping us in the dark on power distribution.

All Ontario's rivers must service that industrial heartland and even that is not enough to keep up with their demands for ever more power.

Could Fewer Forest Fires Mean Drought Here?

We're getting better at fighting forest fires, editorializes the Kingston Whig-Standard which notes that the total losses from forest fires both in Ontario and in Canada as a whole will be well down this year from last.

Across Canada, through the months of summer, fires damaged some 524,000 forest acres, a noteworthy drop from the 1,984,000 acres swept by fire in the same period last year. In Ontario 19,692 acres has been burned over this year as compared with 28,322 acres in 1964. The 10-year average for Ontario from 1951 to 1960 was 97,516 acres burned, which seems to back up the Kingston paper's conclusion that we're getting better at fighting fires in our forests.

Perhaps we are, though Ontario officials point out that fires were at a record low from August on because of frequent and general rainfalls.

We found it strange that the editorial made no mention of man-induced rain, cloud seeding, which is now extensively used by governments and the big paper corporations as a weapon against forest fires. There appears to be a policy of silence concerning the use of these rain makers which must have proven effective or they would not still be in use.

Might this curtain of secrecy have been rung down in the face of summer droughts which have been hitting Southern Ontario farmlands? Is it possible that there is a connection, not purely natural, between the more frequent rains over the forest reserves and the bone-dry summer Glengarry farmers suffered through?

All of us will be happy to know the loss of our country's forest wealth is being drastically reduced. But not if it is at the expense of our agricultural industry.

The Kind Of Government The People Want

One of the Quebec 'new-look' Liberals elected in last week's federal ballotting was Gerard Pelletier, a former editor who writes a newspaper column interpeting aspirations of modern Quebec for English-Canadian readers. Mr. Pelletier writes informatively and interestingly of Quebec in ferment. His assessment of the federal election has food for thought.

"This is the kind of government the people want," Mr. Pelletier writes "The result of this election should change something in the minds of all politicians. It should make us realize that we have been operating under an illusion over the last few years.

"It was generally believed in Canadian political circles that minority governments, the growing importance of third parties and all the consequences related to these facts were momentarily, exceptional phenomena.

"It was taken for granted that they were part of a mere episode of political life and that they would disappear shortly, allowing the parties to come back to "normal", that is to a majority govern ment with one party solidly in power.

"It should now be obvious to everyone that the absence of a clear majority was no freak consequence of a transitory state of mind among Canadians but the very expression of the voters' perplexity with regard to the parties' programs and the country's problems.

"Up to now, in spite of repeated elections which turned out the same results every time no one would accept the verdict of the people as a serious one.

"We all thought that an election would come that would finally put an end to the uncertainty. But we know now that we have to live with the kind of Parliament we've had since 1962, that no sudden reference to the people will change it."

The neat arrangements of the pre-1957 period are gone, maybe not forever but at least for a good many years, Mr. Pelletier believes. We used to pride ourselves on the stability and continuity of our governments. Recent experience should make us more humble and more realistic. Over the next few years Canada will have to be governed through some form of agreement or coalition.

His conclusion is that the only chance for any party eventually to obtain an overall majority again rests with that party's "ability to procure decent government for Canada in spite of the present distribution of seats."

We can agree with him that no Canadian party need hope for an overall majority until that party can "procure decent government". That verb "procure" might better read "guarantee". Such a guarantee will be requisite if the politicians of any party ever hope to regain the confidence of the Canadian people on a nationwide basis.

Over the last two decades we have seen the election results emphasizing but one thing — the distrust of the people for those who aspire to politics, no matter the party. If Ontario has had more than 20 years of Tory rule it is partly because the Liberals were entrenched in Ottawa most of those years. In almost every province the tendency has been to vote one way provincially depending on which party was in power federally.

This is where we differ with the reasoning of Mr. Pelletier. He infers that a minority government is the kind of government the people want but in his final analysis he strikes the true note when he concludes no Canadian party need hope for overall majority until it "procures" decent government.

Decent government at both the provincial and federal levels, let us include the municipal level, too, would be the cure for these minority governments the Canadian voters are sending to Ottawa. This is all the 'man in the street' asks; a new sense of decency and responsibility in the partisans of any political party, no matter its name. This he has been denied by the promising politicians in our deteriorating democracy through decades of elections. We are fed up to the teeth with indecent, unprincipled promises we see as part of the sport of winning re-election.

Give us a decent choice when it comes time to mark our ballots again and there will be such a flood of votes as to drown out the other factions whether old or new.

Men like Gerard Pelletier, new to the House of Commons, may be our last hope for decent government. They will have to exert a lot of influence, infuse a sense of individual responsibility in many Members who have heretofore appeared irresponsible, before we can hope to have the kind of government the people want.

We do not have it now, Mr. Pelletier.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

DON'T FENCE US IN

Nov. 9th, 1965

The Editor,
Glengarry News,
Dear Sir:

This is an open letter to the Town Council; which we the underdogs would appreciate you printing:

Dear Town Fathers,

We of the canine world have heard of the new by-law regarding our freedom, which we think, now, is quite drastic.

A general meeting was held, and after much yapping I have been delegated to write this letter to you on our behalf.

Firstly, I doubt if you are aware of the fact that we have been man's best friend for the last few thousand years, and we trust it has been vice-versa.

Secondly, I assume that because

THE PEN A SWORD

Almost every political pundit is suggesting in wake of the election that it's time for both Diefenbaker and Pearson to think about retirement from public life. After all, Honest John is 70 and thus is getting his monthly Old Age Pension cheque. Mike isn't far behind at 68 and both have been rejected in the recent election.

There's one bunch who'd hate to see them go, though. Cartoonists have had a field day with those faces and we doubt we'll ever see two Canadian political bosses whose facial features have so leant themselves to the critical eye and acid pen of these guys who make a living out of accenting the negative.

What they've done to poor Dief has often seemed downright cruel and we've wondered how he took it. Pearson has had his share too, and that pre-election cover of the Star Weekly by MacPherson should'n't happen to a dog. Both John and Mike were made to look so silly as to prove the adage that the pen is mightier than the sword. Mac might better have cut their throats.

Cartooning calls for special talents. It should have its ethics, too.

It's a thought. God made woman last because He didn't want any advice while creating man.

WIGS TO MATCH

This affluent society we know keeps spawning some awfully idiotic fashions and crazes. Today's hair cuts, or lack of cuts, are bad enough; some of the wigs being worn may be conservative enough to escape detection. But a real shocker, warns the Portland Oregonian, is word out of Chicago that a hair stylist there has come up with a matching wig for the pet dog.

It was such a hit he is said to be taking orders for others.

The horrible thought the Portland paper has is that husbands will be next. The be-wigged woman who fancies a matching topper for her dog is only one step short of wanting similar decoration for her husband when they step out together. Especially if his hair is shiny.

We shudder at the thought. Can you see poor baldy Bert in his dressing room getting spruced up for a night on the town. Whimpering at the thought of this final debasement he belts down another two fingers of bourbon before pattering to the boudoir to learn which scalp lock he's destined to don. If Mabel has a mind for pale pink to top her ensemble he may pale but it will just have to be a matching wig or maybe he'll be in the dog house and she'll decide to take her bewigged boxer instead.

Surely things will never get that sad in American society. If it does, men, we'll just have to start manning that undefended border and repel such evil influences.

Things 'n Stuff

By WALTER HENRY JACKSON

And maybe it's not too soon to revive this one . . .

Jock and Sandy had not seen each other for several weeks. On the day before Christmas they met on the street.

"What are you doin' Christmas Day, Jock?"

"Naethin' particular, Sandy. Why?"

"Suppose you drop in to my place any time durin' the day. We can hae a wee nip together for auld lang syne."

"Aye. I can do that Sandy. Any time at all?"

"Aye. Any time. An' by the way, ye dinna have to knock on the door. We hae one o' them new-fangled electric bells. An' the button for the bell is just the right height to ring wi' yer elbow."

"Ring wi' my elbow? Why can't I just ring it wi' my finger?"

"Weel, ye can suit yersel' aboot that, o' course. But I thocht ye might find it a trifle inconvenient wi' yer arms full o' Christmas gifts!"

Be seein' ya!

What's your stand on registering life insurance policies to claim increased income tax deductions?

Mr. Vincent
If it's possible, I'm all for it!

Interviewer
It is. You may request The Mutual Life to register with the government any Mutual Life policies, except Term insurance. This will enable you, under present Income Tax regulations, to deduct the savings portion of your premium, up to 20% of your earned income.

Mr. Vincent
It seems to me that everybody should know about this!

Interviewer
You're right! Particularly people who are building a pension for themselves. Even people now contributing to a company pension plan may qualify for further tax relief.

Mr. Vincent
Look, I'd like to check into this. Where can I get complete information?

Interviewer
Just call your nearest Mutual Life representative.

a few of our kind have been, shall we say, dirty dogs, you have taken upon yourselves to condemn all of us. I understand that even among you humans there is also an element of riff raff.

Thirdly, How would you like to be tied up all day? It sounds terrific, doesn't it?

Because of your new by-law, which I might add shows no justice, we are going to take action, by holding a non-violent protest march through our fair town, stopping of course at every second tree, to catch our breath and rest.

We have trusted you for many years and now we are being degraded. We ask you to reconsider the by-law and make proper amendments, otherwise, as the law now stands, it will undoubtedly wipe us out and, we will become extinct.

Can't you find room for all of us, we are sure that we can live happily together — please don't force us to bite the hand that feeds us— don't fence us in.

Signed,
Pepper

Valedictory address. In presenting Gary for his address Principal Gauley termed him a very fine type of young man with a great future, who following in his sister's footsteps brought the honors to the school, to his mother, his grandparents and the community. MHS was extremely proud of his achievements, he concluded.

Gary spoke on his five years in MHS from the time he entered feeling strange and insecure, gradually outgrowing this inferiority complex, spending four hours of homework nightly, enjoying the recreation to a degree, appreciating the teachers' work and the efforts of parents who prodded and encouraged him on and to all of whom he expressed deep gratitude. His closing message was "hard work will get you through. It is worth every minute of it when you get your letter from the Dept. of Education saying you have been successful."

O Canada was sung and a social hour followed.

In addition to the several awards to the valedictorian the following were awarded:

Dominion-Provincial bursaries — Francoise Bertrand, MacRae Kennedy.
Lions Club bursary — Francoise Bertrand.
High School Board bursary — Carol Hughes.
Teaching Staff bursary — Jerry Heinsma.
Calvin Smith prize in English—Carol Hughes.

(Owing to lack of space other award winners will be held over to next week).

MOVIES AVAILABLE FOR ALEXANDRIA CLUBS

I'd like to remind Alexandria church and social groups and other clubs and organizations that over 60 entertaining and educational films are available from the Bell, free of charge, for showings to your members. All are of course professionally done — many in colour — and there are bound to be several which will have particular interest for your group. One favourite is this year's main addition to the Company's film-lending library — a fascinating 20-minute film called "Communication". It shows how human beings have communicated with each other down through the ages — from the caves of pre-history through Egypt, Greece and Rome, right up to modern day Canada. The colour is beautiful, the technique avant garde, and the result is actually emotional. Incidentally, the film was produced in Canada, especially for the Bell, and certainly shows the tremendous talent this country has for the movie-making art.

A free film catalogue which describes the many films available from the Company can be had upon request. If your entertainment committee does not already have one, they need only call our Business Office at Zenith 60000 and we'll have one forwarded immediately.

FOR OVERSEAS CALLS AT CHRISTMAS

Reservations to make overseas calls during the extremely busy periods of December 24th to 26th, and December 31st to January 2nd, will be taken starting Monday, November 29th at 9.00 a.m. Reservations can be made by asking the Long Distance Operator to connect you with the Overseas Operator for the desired country. The Overseas Operator will arrange the details with you.

Because of the heavy volume of calls during the two peak periods mentioned, I would recommend that if at all possible your overseas calls be placed on other days (no reservations are required). Many Canadian families have soldier or airman sons in Europe and Asia, and a call at Christmas time is especially important for these boys.

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

The busiest man in the Glens nowadays, especially on Saturdays, is Raymond Ouellette. We dropped into the Gardens last Saturday morning and Raymond was like a downtown Montreal traffic cop at 5 o'clock.

Between servings of piping hot coffee and pop to the youngsters and directing minor players to vice-president Aubrey's quarters, Raymond found time to tell us that his venture in taking over command of the Gardens thus far has been satisfying. Prospects for a successful season are bright.

This works both ways. Business figures on the right side of the ledger and recreational facilities for enthusiastic and appreciative broomball, hockey (all levels) and skating fans.

Outside hockey teams from as far away as Dorval have been using the Gardens to practise. The once popular Border League has been reorganized and is headed by Maurice Lapierre of Lancaster. Six teams comprise the circuit: Lancaster, Williamstown, Alexandria Bar-B-Q's, and the Clement Killers, Laggan and Green Valley.

Sunday afternoon games will get under way on December 5. In the meantime four teams play on Monday nights and two on Thursdays.

Andy McNulty and his minor hockey assistants have been swamped with about 425 registrations from Sprites to Juveniles. All townships have boys playing minor hockey, as has Alexandria, under the supervision of Gilles Joanette.

Broomball is getting under way, so all in all this should be a banner winter at the Gardens.

A FINE GAME SPOILED

We thought Ottawa would win Sunday's game by a slim margin. We took into consideration the season's play, and after allowing for a fumble or two, plus the inevitable interception, a field goal plus a couple of singles would be the difference.

Without Bernie Faloney, Hamilton is not the team of last year. Ottawa has improved but is not the team many predicted in early season. So in straight football there isn't too much difference and that could be mostly home grounds and the crowd.

That was true of Sunday's meeting until the officials spoiled the game, and possibly the series.

Down through the years we have heard referees booed in many ball parks and NHL rinks, but never the equal of last Sunday, both in volume and continuance.

This was the first time we saw an Ottawa senior police officer (Bob Bayne), step in front of the officials' platoon with a next of police kin (Bobby Gelineau) close by, leading the striped shirt guys to their dressing room.

Not that there was evidence of violence; more a precaution by alert police to protect bush-league officiating.

What happens Saturday? No Eastern team and few in the West can spot Ti-Cats five points in Hamilton and hope to win. That is practical common sense. However, there is also the theory that Sunday's setback, something Hamilton didn't appreciate either as they don't need breaks from the officials, could fire up the Riders, plus the law of averages that Hamilton can't always win at home.

Until this week we have called Hamilton to be the East Club in the Grey Cup game. Now, and we are likely wrong, we have joined those who think Saturday is Ottawa's turn to get the breaks — Ottawa and Calgary on the 27th.

BILINGUAL DINNER

Last Saturday a.m. the head of the household inquired as to the writer's work schedule. "Clean out the eavestroughs, one business call, and drop into the Gardens on our weekend Sports' beat", was the reply. "Why?"

"Well", instructed the co-pilot, "I am preparing a special bilingual dinner, so with the football game (TV) at four, Jackie Gleason at seven, and NHL hockey at 8.30, I suggest we dine about 2 o'clock."

We agreed this was a fine suggestion.

Returning about 1.30, the aroma from the kitchen would make you drool. We drew up our chairs right on time.

My grandmother told me many years ago to always compliment my mother, and later my wife on their ability to table appetizing food expertly served.

Although the writer has occasionally committed dining faux pas, like the time in Lisbon when I used a crystal grape dip for a finger bowl, I have been faithful to grandmother's advice.

So, teeing up the proper time for the punch line, I commented, "Bea, those pigs' feet and cabbage sure are delicious."

Submerging a grin, the better half advised, "Now, that's your bilingual dinner; pates de cochon avec boulette, and vegetables."
