Deanna Dawson, Joan Wylie Win W. H. S. Public Speaking

Deanna Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Dawson, and Joan Wylie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ran Wylie, all of Winchester, were judged the best public speakers in Winchester High School at the annual Oratorical finals held Friday night at the Town Hall. The final round, which saw 14 speakers take part in the two competitions, was the climax to public speaking eliminations which had been held in the school during the past two weeks.

Miss Dawson, best speaker in Middle and Upper School, spoke on "Peace of Mind, followed by her impromptu, "Boredom." In winning the contest, Miss Dawson received the McMaster trophy, donated for annual competition by the late Hugh McMaster, and presented this year by M. N. Hutchison, public school inspector for Dundas County.

Runners-up in the Middle and Upper School competition were Nancy Willard who spoke on "Shakespearean Festival at Stratford," and Earl Barkley, "My First Summer At Camp Ipperwash."

Miss Wylie, in winning the Lower School competition, spoke on "Historical Sketches of Winchester," and was presented with the Alumni Cup by Elgin Bowman, member of the W. H. S. staff, and the replica by the donor, Brian Raistrick. Runner-up in the Lower School competition was Carol Patterson, who spoke on "The Union Jack."

A large crowd attended the event, with J. H. Willard, school principal, as chairman. The judges were Rev. Gerald Fee, South Mountain, and Mr. and Mrs. O. Nichol of Kemptville.

Miss Eileen Runions led in community singing, and others providing entertainment were: Jean Johnston, Alice Irven, Deanna Dawson, Mavis Duncan, Robert Barton, Peter Bussell, Leslie Dawley and Dwayne Holmes.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Other speakers in the Lower School competition were: Bill Pollock, "Development of Flight"; Judy Rastrick, "Nikita Khruschev"; Dorothy Willard, "Man's Best Friend, The Horse"; Jacob Leyenaar, "The St. Lawrence Seaway"; Maureen Fife, "Louis Sloton"; Linda Rice, "Success".

In the McMaster Cup finals the three other speakers were: Marianna McVey, "Physical Education"; Dale Allison, "Disarmament"; Neil Potter, "My Trip to the Maritimes."

Hon. Paul Martin To Address Liberal Banquet At Morrisburg

Plans were made at the March meeting of the Grenville-Dundas Liberal Women's Association for a dinner meeting to be held in Morrisburg on April 27. The guest speaker will be the Hon. Paul Martin. A committee was set up to complete arrangements for this meeting.

Meeting of the Liberal women was held in Chesterville Library with the president, Mrs. Harry Allison, presiding, assisted by the secretary, Mrs. Mack Curran.

The president reminded the ladies present of the Ontario Women's Liberal Convention in Toronto, and expressed her intentions of attending, as well as the Eastern Ontario Liberal Women's Convention in May to be held in Cornwall.

After the business of the meeting was completed, George Beavers, of Morrisburg, showed some very interesting slides of South American countries he had visited recently on a business tour. Mr. Beavers' comments were very instructive, and in no small way helped the ladies present to see the advantages and disadvantages of life in South America. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Beavers by Mrs. Alfred Jarvis.

Following adjournment, delicious refreshments were served by a committee of Chesterville ladies: Mrs. Howard Kittle, Mrs. Harold Merkley and Mrs. Edward J. Brady.

Mrs. G. Beavers, Morrisburg, expressed thanks to the Chesterville ladies for their hospitality.

Holstein Clubs To Sponsor Calf Sale Here

A sale of pure bred Holstein calves, jointly sponsored by the Stormont and Dundas Holstein Clubs, will be held April 16th at the Winchester Community Centre, commencing at 1.30 p.m.

The major objective of this sale is to provide calves of desirable quality that may be purchased by boys and girls as 4-H Club calves.

A total of 30 calves will be offered, the majority of them junior heifer calves. Most of the calves are from dams classifying Good Plus or better, and quite a number of these dams have good R.O.P. records. The club officers hope that the sale will serve a useful purpose.

C. P. R. Officials Say

LAST RUN FOR TRAINS APRIL 23

Budd Cars Ruled Out Transport Express

Canadian Pacific Railway will definitely discontinue two of its passenger trains running through Winchester and other neighbouring towns. Trains 35 and 36 are destined to become a thing of the past when they make their final run on Saturday, April 23. This was the final word given by CPR officials at a joint meeting of district communities held in Kemptville Town Hall last Wednesday night. The meting was sponsored by the Kemptville Board of Trade.

With ten municipalities represented by more than 30 delegates attending the important meeting, CPR officials said that the company had continued to lose money on the trains during the past few years. It is reported that CPR lost approximately $100,000 on the operation of these two trains during the past years.

NO BUDD CAR

Representing CPR were A. W. Harris, district manager, of Smiths Falls, and G. E. Begley, Express head from Toronto, as well as two other officials. They told the meeting that there was not much chance of a Budd car service when the present trains are taken off. They said such a service is provided when the discontinuing of trains eliminates passenger service. They regarded the taking away of trains 35 and 36 as a "reduction of service" only. Winchester and other communities will still be serviced by the midnight and early morning trains to Toronto and Montreal.

Express service will not be curtailed, the CPR officials said. They told the meeting that express service in the future will be handled by transport and should be "as good if not better" than the present system of distributing express.

The meeting passed a resolution by C. J. Marjerison and A. Cauncause of Apple Hill that "the Department of Transport investigate fully the problem before a final decision is made." However, it is generally felt that the Department of Transport Board of Commissioners will comply with the wish of CPR to discontinue the trains. W. O. Angus of the Department of Transport was also present at the meeting.

As a further step Kemptville Board of Trade has applied to the Board of Transport asking that Bedell be made a flag stop for the two remaining CPR passenger trains.

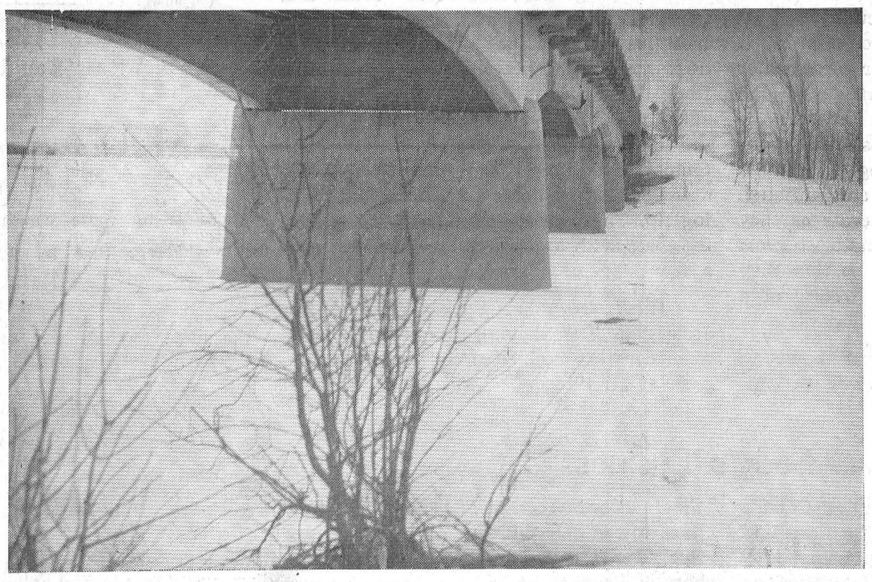
Hog Producers Want Assembly Point Here



Dundas County Hog Producers want the Ontario Hog Producers Marketing Board to open an assembly point at Winchester. This request was revealed at a meeting of the Dundas Board of Directors held Monday in Winchester Public Library.

With close to a full turnout of directors, indicating the interest farm people are taking in the current hog marketing situation, the local directors also went on record as being opposed to Bill 86. This bill, if passed, can take away from farm people the right of their elected directors to work in their best interest, the Board believes. It was felt by the Dundas directors that such action would be contrary to actions otherwise expected in a democracy.

Bill 86, an amendment of the Farm Products Marketing Act, if enforced, would probably stop farmers from co-operatively selling any product through their elected boards.

At the meeting Malcolm Graham of South Mountain was elected as press secretary for the Dundas Association. It was also decided that through the local press the Dundas association would keep all farmers in the county informed with periodic news releases.

So This Is Spring!

Sunday may have been the first official day of Spring, but in name only. With temperatures dropping as low as five above this week and with snow banks still piled high, few Winchester and district residents have yet to appreciate the fact that it is supposed to be Spring. At the Nation the ice is still hard and fast and it looks as though it will stay that way for another week or more unless the area is deluged with a warm rain. Above picture, looking across the Nation River below Cass Bridge, proves the point, and looks more like a mid-winter scene than one from the latter part of March.—Press Staff Photo.

MANAGER OF CFRA

Tom Foley's Death Stuns District

Tom Foley, the popular manager and sports director of Radio Station CFRA, was laid to rest in Notre Dame Cemetery on Monday following the funeral service and requiem High Mass at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, Alta Vista.

One of the nation's best known radio and television personalities Tom Foley was killed almost instantly in Toronto early last Thursday morning when the Airways limousine transporting him from Malton to downtown Toronto was struck head-on by another car.

A native of Milk River, Alberta, Tom was born 38 years ago, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Foley. In Ottawa he had lived at 2134 Alta Vista Drive with his four children. His wife, Christine, had died one year ago, March 19, 1959, of a cerebral hemmorhage.

BRILLIANT CAREER

Before the war Tom was the young sports editor of the Lethbridge Herald. Later he was a wartime member of the Canadian Army Public Relations staff in Ottawa. Following his discharge he became a sports writer for the Ottawa Journal and in 1947 he joined Radio Station CFRA when the station first went on the air. During the past 13 years he had become station manager, sports director and secretary-treasurer of CFRA.

TOM FOLEY

He attended Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, Alta Vista. He was a member of the Laurentian Club, a charter member of the West End Y.M.C.A., a member of the Rivermeade Golf Club and the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club.

He is survived by four young daughters, Kathy 13, Jill 12, Theresa 10, and Sheila 5.

Will Build $180,000 Community Centre At Morrisburg

Morrisburg Community Centre Committe has agreed on the location of the new building. It will be erected just west of the water tower off Highway No 2 and west of the intersection of Highways 31 and 2. Estimated cost of the proposed Community Centre for Morrisburg is $180,000 including the cost of an artificial ice plant.

It is understood the Community Centre fund now stands at more than $40,000. Government grants will help pay for the Centre which is expected to get started later this year.

Winter Fair Budgets For Loss

Ottawa Winter Fair directors have allotted $4,000 for their featurerd "attractions" at next Fall's show but announced that an RCMP jumpingshow or the famous "musical ride" will definitely not be included.

Budget estimates for the 1960 show from October 24 to 29 predict an estimated loss of $100. Last year the Winter Fair showed a $530 surplus.

The value of horse show prizes has been raised $2,600 with the additional revenue to come from a new scale of stall fees. Total prize money to be offered is $26,965.

Entry fees in certain horse classes have also been increased. The board of directors decided to lower prizes for swine competition rather than to raise stall fees "which might discourage the already limited number of entrants."

Higher staff salaries and an increase in the estimated cost of attractions are the principal items of expenditure on the proposed budget responsible for the predicted deficit.

Revenue from stall and pen fees will be $2,100. Last year the facilities were free.

Winchester Trojans End Fine Season

Metcalfe Postmistress Retires After 59 Years

Mrs. Ethel M. Rolston, postmistress at Metcalfe since 1953 and a postal employee since the rough and ready days of the stagecoach, is calling its quits.

On Wednesday, March 9th, Mrs. Rolston brought down the rubber stamp on her last money order. It also marked the eve of her 74th birthday and the last day on the job she's held for 59 years.

Mrs. Rolston began her post office career in her father's office in 1901 in her home town of Metcalfe. In those days her dad delivered the mail to Ottawa by stagecoach.

The retiring keeper of Metcalfe's post office remembers the days when the town was without a bank and the duties of the post office staff included handling the banking as well as the usual duties.

"It was one of the duties of the postmaster to see that all money addressed for deposit in Ottawa banks was taken to the Capital," she recalls.

When her father, James Simpson, retired, Ethel's brother, Orton Simpson, took over the duties of the postmaster and Ethel worked for her brother until he resigned in 1912. The late James L. Rolston became postmaster in 1912 and held the post until he died in 1916. In the meantime Ethel married James L. Rolston's son, Ernest H. Rolston, who succeeded his father as postmaster.

When her husband died in 1953 Ethel became the postmistress. Her retirement brings to an end a career which links the stage coach era with the modern post office of jet age.

She is being replaced by Mrs. Maybell Thompson, 46-year-old Metcalfe native, wife of Hilliard Thompson and mother of three children. The post office is at her residence on the south side of Kent Street, and all join in wishing her every success in her new work.

HONOURED

Last Sunday evening a number of ladies from Metcalfe attended a dinner party at the Green Valley Restaurant in honour of Mrs. Ethel Rolston. With her were her daughter, Mrs. Harold Boyd of Ottawa, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Keith Rolston, of Kemptville. After the dinner Mrs. Lyn Morrow read a short address and Mrs. Kenneth McMillan presented Mrs. Rolston with luggage, a gift from the residents of Metcalfe.

Mrs. Rolston, although taken completely by surprise, replied very fittingly, and all wished her many years of happy retirement.

Don't Be A Splasher This Spring

Driving hazards are with us twelve months of every year. Each season has its own special features in addition to the usual traps which confront the motorist whether it is in the middle of July or the third week in February.

With Spring just around the corner and with an abundance of snow to be melted driving in March and part of April may be particularly hazardous this year. Some of the hazards may be of a minor nature like the many water puddles which frequent all roads, particularly town streets and secondary thoroughfares. If you drive a car watch out for these water holes. Hitting them too fast may cause the vehicle to go out of control or stall the motor, and if a pedestrian is nearby the results are inevitable. Spring complaints generally come in this form and although some people may be inconsiderate as they walk along the street, the motorist must grit his teeth and slow down so that they will not be splashed by the waters of a muddy puddle.

Driving at this time of year, however, also has other adverse features. With traffic on the increase and road surfaces improving the motorist is apt not to notice the icy stretches that are often in evidence particularly in early morning and late afternoon when the temperatures go down to or below the freezing point. Hitting one of these stretches at an unsafe speed may be fatal. There are also steets full of deep ruts and pot holes which are excellent methods of breaking an axle or shock absorber if not treated with respect.

Later on there are "side" roads and laneways to contend with which, when the frost leaves, may look safe until the motorist has driven his vehicle on them and finds that he is mired axle deep in dirty, slimy mud. One other hazard in Spring is the foggy windshield. With the weather temperature almost too mild to use the defroster, windshields have a tendency to fog up. This can be eliminated by wiping the glass with a clean cloth which contains a few drops of glycerine.

There are other Spring driving hazards and like driving in other seasons care, courtesy and common sense must be used at all times.

Everybody's Business

In most communities across Canada taxpayers are often amazed to find that almost half of their municipal tax levy goes to their school boards. Yet education is big business and as school centralization continues to take place across the country the task of local school boards becomes increasingly important. Indeed, education in Canada is everybody's business, and each of us must become vitally concerned with the direction it takes.

Perhaps you are a taxpayer who is inclined to wince when you see your school assessment on your annual tax statement. You may not realize that you're likely spending more money each year on your car or on tobacco and alcoholic beverages. For example, in 1958 Canadians spent $2,074 million on cars. The same year we spent $1,424 million on tobacco and alcoholic beverages. Yet we only spent $1,070 million on education. That's not all. Between 1957 and 1958 we increased our spending on cars by $209 million, on tobacco and alcoholic beverages by $102 million and on education by only $50 million.

Education is not only last, but if statistics prove anything, it's falling even further behind each year.

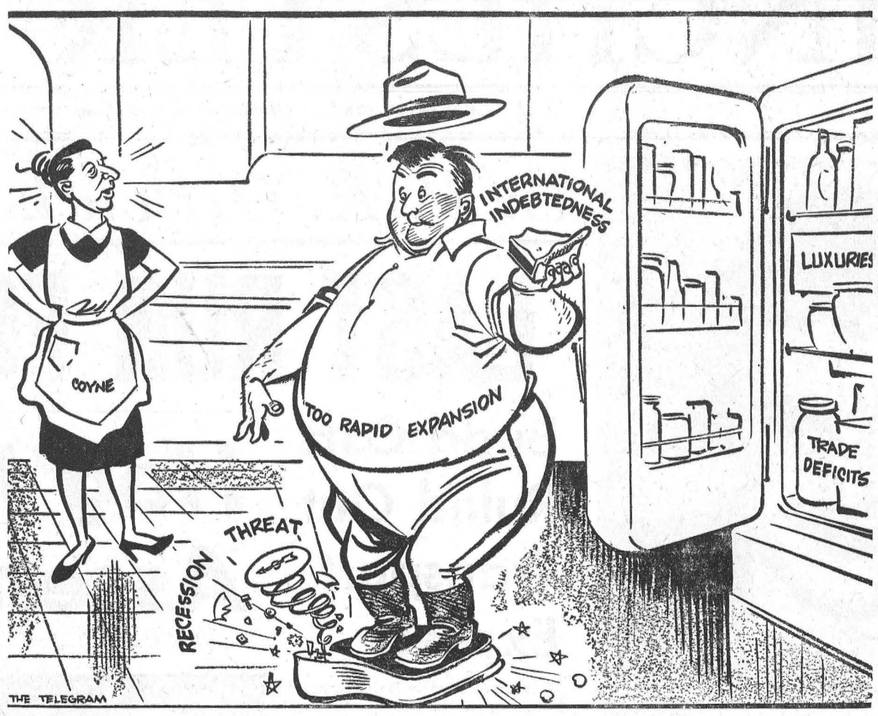
Canada's population explosion is having its effects on your local school board. They've often been accused of worrying too much about money and not enough about the direction of education. They worry about money because you elected them to their position and without your support their hands are tied. When you decide we need to spend more on educating our children you're giving them the encouragement they need to give your child the education he deserves.

There are two big problems facing school boards in our generation. Our cities, towns and villages are growing rapidly. That means accommodation has been short and new schools have grown around the fringes of almost every community. More and more capital has been flowing into more and more new schools. In most communities the day is gone when the school board accepted only the architect's advice on the kind of building required. To-day new schools are functional, meant to serve the varied needs of education and not to act as monument to the men who built them. That in itself is progress.

This new trend in school accommodation has also saved the taxpayer money, or on the other hand allowed the school board to buy more accommodation for less money. New schools today are seldom more than one storey high. Gone are the high brick towers and the fancy belfries.

There has been a big change too in the organization of our schools. Our entire school system is being regrouped. Today more and more boards are finding that grades one to six belong to the elementary school system, seven to nine go to a junior high or intermediate school, while high schools take the balance up to Grade 12 or 13. To-day's school boards are also talking about streaming. That means that a child will progress in direct relationship to his ability to learn. Gifted students will gain an enriched program, while average students will be given the basic course and slow learners can be given the extra help they need.

Yes, your school board is faced with some of the biggest challenges in its history. To overcome their many problems, which are of vital concern to the future of your child and the nation, they need your understanding and support.



"You'd better go on a diet, Buster, or else!"

SUGAR and SPICE

(By Bill Smiley)

There is no more constant critic of the Canadian "way of life," whatever that is, than yours truly. I am so attracted to the vast handsome visage of Canada that I cannot resist the temptation to try some rough surgery on any ugly wen that threatens to mar it.

* * * *

But there are two types of people who arouse in me a furious defence of my country and my fellow-countrymen, to the point where I get so carried away that I'm apt to declare flatly, with nothing but hot rage to back it up, that we are both well-nigh perfect.

* * * *

The first of these is the Canadian who affects to find nothing of value in this country or its people. These birds claim there is no culture this side of the Atlantic. They aver that Canadians are crude and crass. Other Canadians, that is.

* * * *

They are the people who read the book critics, not the books. They wax indignant because their fellow-Canadians would rather watch a first-class hockey game than a third-rate French movie. They have never been east of Kingston, Ontario, but compare Canadian manners and modes ruthlessly with those of Europe.

* * * *

With one breath they sneer that Canada has absolutely no culture. With the next they rhapsodize over some dog's-breakfast of a play the CBC has inflicted upon us.

* * * *

They live in the city, these characters, but come from small towns. They haunt the fringes of the arts, but have no talent. If they take you out to dinner, you'll eat in a quaint dump with a soiled tablecloth and get a bottle of cheap bingo with the inevitable spaghetti and meatballs.

* * * *

Their numbers are small, their opinions imbecille and their influence featherweight. They have sharp tongues and bad manners. Nevertheless, while irritating, they are harmless. Best thing to do is let them drive around among themselves, being all continental and cultured. Which I do, when I can control my temper in their presence. Which is seldom. Which is foolish.

* * * *

The other type that makes me a roaring Canadian nationalist, however, is a bird of a different plumage, and a more worthy foe. This is the disgruntled European, whose personal frustrations and bitterness spill out in stinging, clever diatribes against Canadians and their manner of living.

* * * *

Frequently, these are well-educated, intelligent and sensitive people, who simply cannot adjust to a new life. I have met them and fought them right down the line, but it's hopeless. Last one I encountered was a Czech who seemed to have a czip on his czoulder about all things Canadian.

* * * *

We ended up shouting at each other across the bar in his recreation room in his $25,000 home, him trying to tell me that all Canadians were interested in was money and cars, and me trying to tell him that our grandfathers were carving a new land out of the wilderness and building transcontinental railroads while his grandfathers were carving each other up and building international ill-will.

* * * *

That's the trouble with these discussions. They get out of hand. Some cynical European tells me, in that continental accent, that Canada has not the vestiges of a national culture. What I should do is calmly trot out Stephen Leacock, The Group of Seven, Karsh, the Stratford Festival, the Calgary Stampede, and Wayne and Shuster, lively monuments to our unique cultural development. Instead, I wind up hollering at him.

* * * *

The trouble with these sad dogs is that nobody is particularly impressed by them. The crude Canadians are too busy making money and helping with the dishes and building homes and meeting payments to be enthralled by glowing tales of the fabulous culture of Europe. That is the first shock to the ego of these Europeans who scorn us.

* * * *

Another thing is that many of them come from large cosmopolitan cities straight to Toronto. That is a traumatic experience in itself. Thus they see none of the grandeur of Canada, nothing of the simple nobility of us Canadians. No blushing now, chaps.

* * * *

Fortunately, these soured critics are only a tiny minority. Most Europeans who come here are realists. They find fault with some things in our Canadian mode of living, as we all do. But they are ready to adapt and adjust. They have cut the umbilical cord. They realize that if they are willing to give of themselves to this country, they will receive from it. Them we are glad to have.

TORONTO REPORT

(By Fred M. Cass, Q.C.)

The Ontario Parliament has now been in session two full months and debate and committee work seem never-ending. It appears that this First Session of the 26th Legislature will exceed by some weeks the length of the last session of the previous parliament. During the past week the Speaker entertained to dinner, as is the annual custom, the members and senior public servants and his dinner was graced by the presence of Lieuteant-Governor Mackay.

Agriculture and Labour had the predominant place on last week's Committee and House agendas. The Committee on Agriculture received delegations (as did the Cabinet) from the Ontario Federation of Agriculture and Ontario Farmers' Union with respect to farm marketing, and the estimates of the Department of Agriculture had a stormy passing in the House. The new Labour Bill received very careful attention from the Committee on Labour and appears to be a well thought out and reasonable law. The estimates of the Minister of Health, Minister of Reform Institutions and Provincial Secretary also were passed. The latter provided one of the longest sessions this year (2.00 p.m. to 1.00 a.m. Thursday) and one of the most acrimonious debates as the members of all parties engaged in a spirited exchange of views, epithets and solutions with respect to Ontario's present liquor laws. While everyone thought many things might be done to improve some aspects of our liquor laws, no one seems sure either how to begin or whether the "cure" would be worse than the "disease." Once again Premier Frost displayed his sagacity and leadership by having this rather bitter debate proceed to a reasonable conclusion with everyone happily holding on to his own view, and government policy, which really works very well in practice, firmly restated.

The budget debate has continued with more lengthy speeches by opposition members who seem disposed to talk in unending succession. Both the Minister of Highways and the Minister of Education seem to be receiving an unceasing flow of delegations—the former from those seeking development road aid, and the latter from those seeking explanation and increase of school grants. It would appear that the restricted budgets of these, as well as other departments will cause some heart searching and re-calculations by municipal bodies as they set their 1960 tax rate. And to add insult to injury, just as everyone thought winter was over and the Highways estimates were about to be brought down indicating less maintenance money in 1960-61, Ontario had another bad snow storm. Truly, all snow removal budgets this winter must have reached a new high and municipal officials, as well as provincial highway authities, have a rather difficult financial problem to face.

Last week also brought the deadline for use of 1959 motor vehicle licence plates and all over the province the tardy ones were finding that the price had gone up by the amount of a fine and costs. It always seems peculiar that so many of our people are willing to take the chance of this extra cost by ignoring the many, many warnings issued each year by the Department of Transport from January on. Of course, I am sure no one in Grenville-Dundas found themselves this year in such an awkward and expensive situation.

OTTAWA REPORT

(By Jean Casselman, M.P.)

It is always satisfying to read one's own opinion in print. The automatic reaction is to feel this is very clever and very true. Of course, this may or may not be so, as a great many worthless ideas get into print.

When the writer is none other than the Governor of the Bank of Canada, then admittedly there is room for close consideration whether one agrees with him or not.

This week, the Hon. Donald Fleming, Minister of Finance, tabled the report of James Coyne who has been Governor of the Bank of Canada for five years but who had never before been quite so clear and outspoken with his opinions. He told Canada that she has been spending too much in an attempt to expand too fast, and raise standards of living too high. He suggested that "we must in the end learn as a nation to live within our means and exhibit the strength and will to do so."

These are words all Canadians should observe and ponder. A country cannot go on borrowing forever without facing results, any more than an individual. There is no magic about it. The money must come from somewhere.

If the Government must, or wishes to spend, vast amounts on defence, pensions, subsidies, development of roads and resources and transportation facilities, then they must get the money either from taxes, from Canadian savings, or from other countries.

It is generally accepted that taxes are high enough so we look to Canadian savings. It is generally accepted that Canadians should have their own homes, cars, televisions, washing machines, telephones, so how can most families have savings. This means the only choice is to borrow, and we have a rich neighbour who is friendly to us and willing to loan to us.

Many speeches are made against our dependence on the United States and some bitterness expressed against this great nation. We can hardly blame the U. S. for accommodating us when we ask them to. We should take steps against further dependence rather than weekly complain about it.

I have been thinking, talking, and reading about this problem for many months. It seems to me that many other problems such as unemployment are secondary in that they stem from this.

It would be unlikely that a farmer could continue to buy more land, build bigger barns, buy more modern machinery and at the same time work fewer and fewer hours and sell less produce off his farm without having to borrow. There will come a time when he must decide whether to make do with the old barns, produce more off the land he already owns, or work longer and harder, or a combination of all these solutions. But obviously he must stop borrowing sometime or he will be unable to pay even the interest charges.

Last year Canada's deficit in non-merchandise such as administrative charges, foreign debt charges, advertising, insurance, etc., was one billion dollars. At the same time the results of our production of foreign sales left us 400 million in debt in trade. This trend began several years ago.

To me there is nothing more important than our trade situation. If we cannot sell our goods at the prices we ask, then we will have to offer them cheaper, either by longer hours, more efficiency, lower wages, but somehow this trend must be checked.

The Government cannot do the impossible. With industries and resources being developed in formerly non-productive countries, the competition for world markets is much more severe and will increase in difficulties. The size of our national debt has been growing for many years. To cope with this inherited problem, the present Government is attempting to hold the line, to aim towards balancing the budget. These are no idle political promises, but a necessity for our survival. I pray that Canadians will recognize these dangers and by sensible individual buying and selling, by fewer demands for government assistance, make an improvement at least possible. We may better take wise steps voluntarily because already Mr. Coyne warns "It must be recognized that in a capital hungry world we cannot in fact count on having ready access to foreign capital year after year on a large scale."

OF MANY THINGS . . .

ARE THINGS SO BAD?

(By Ambrose Hills)

A woman wrote to Victor Murray of the Winnipeg Tribune the other day with a comment I think worth repeating.

"I was sounding off," she wrote, "with a long face over some minor misdemeanor on the part of my small son. In the midst of my tirade he pointed out the window and said: "Look, mummy, see how nice the stars look!"

She went on to suggest that there ought to be more gaiety in life, particularly family life.

I was most impressed by her letter. I turned each page of the newspaper that day looking for the bright and amusing and gay and heartwarming things—and there were many. A Calgary millionaire wrist-wrestled brawny Peter Casson — with $30,000 at stake, to be donated to World Refugee Year. Winnipeg started a $10 million slum-clearance program. The Kitchener community was worrying because they'd have to go without a dog-catcher because "we can't find a man mean enough to take the job." A Russian writer paid tribute to the sportsmanship shown by Americans at the Winter Olympics in Squaw Valley. A survey of hunters showed that the vast majority of them wanted the law that calls for confiscation of equipment for violation of game laws kept on the book.

The world is by no means perfect. If you want to be a gloomygus you can find plenty of cause to complain; but taken all-in-all, are things really so bad?

I know a man—a rather solid business man—who makes a point of collecting quick little jokes. When he calls you on the phone he starts the conversation with one of his gems. It brightens the day and I think it probably makes it easier for him to wangle donations for his favorite charity too.

Family fun, of course, is the richest of all blessings. We have a number of family jokes at our home, and we never tire of them. One of them is a really ancient one I inherited from my Dad, and it seems to me to improve with age. When one of the kids comes late to the table, I can be counted on to say, while the rest of the family groans, that "we're waiting for you, as fast as we can!"

Are you having any fun?

The 7th Column

Most of us in this district will remember the 17th of March, 1960, as a sad St. Patrick's Day. The news that Tom Foley had met death in a traffic accident at Toronto came like a bolt out of the blue. We couldn't believe it, and there were others feeling exactly the same. Tom, the genial manager and sports director of Radio Station CFRA had attained a high point in his career. He was known to thousands of Canadian TV viewers for his between the periods interviews during NHL hockey. More particularly he was known and respected by a host of CFRA listeners for his style and for his most popular program, "Sports At Six." Indeed, Tom was particularly well known by residents of the Winchester area, for it was the Inkerman Rockets that gave Tom some of his first out-of-town hockey broadcasts —that was more than 10 years ago. As the voice of the Ottawa Rough Riders, Tom also had a popular following. Like CFRA, he was a good friend to Winchester, always ready to cooperate with the townspeople in the promotion of any event. Those of us who knew Tom personally admired him. He was a real friend—a man of much integrity, much ability and the capacity to make good friends. We shall remember Tom Foley for many years to come, and all our memories will be centred around pleasant events and fine entertainment.

No doubt you received your Easter Seals some time during the past week. If you did, please use them, and please send in your contribution to the Chesterville Rotary Club without delay. This is really a worthwhile cause and the small amount you give will bring big dividends in helping some youngster to walk again. Buy and Use Easter Seals.

We did not expect too many replies to our Capital Punishment questionnaire published in last week's Press. The reason—complacency. People, generally, do not seem to be too interested or if they are they have not or will not take the time to express their views. So, when the letters started to come in we were mildly surprised. Mind you, the replies haven't been an avalanche exactly, but they have come in slow and steady. In short, from the replies we will have a cross section of opinion of the district. At the moment there is an overwhelming vote in favour of Capital punishment. In another week or two we will give the report of the survey in these columns. In the meantime, why not take about two minutes of your time, an envelope and a two-cent stamp and send in your opinion this week.

We have had a letter or two from our readers (both of them) requesting a joke or two each week in the Seventh Column. Thus:

A young man telephoned the sorority house where his girl lived. Another young lady answered his call. "I'm sorry, Barbara's out," she said. "Would you like to leave your line?"

March 21st is generally regarded as the first official day of Spring, although this year the big day was jumped ahead one day because of Leap Year. For that matter it could have been delayed another couple of weeks. We are still having winter weather, although milder, and despite the efforts of Mr. Sun we still have a plentiful supply of snow. The Nation hasn't given a thought to "breaking up" as yet, as a picture elsewhere in this issue so well depicts. However, we did see a crow the other day and more than one fisherman has been in the office talking about the trout. But the surest sign of all that winter is on the way out are the pot holes which are quickly taking shape on Winchester streets. One thing is certain—we're going to have a rough, muddy Spring.

Ran across these finely defined words the other day:

Reno: city of otherly love.

Parents: people who bear infants, bore teen-agers and board newlyweds.

Proverb: a short sentence based on long experience.

Winchester On Television

Facing The TV Camera New Experience For Press

What is it like to do an "on the spot" TV film? Two Winchester business places found out last week when a crew from CBOT Ottawa came to Winchester to get material for a fifteen-minute show which will be shown some time in May.

Three Eastern Ontario towns, Renfrew, Alexandria and Winchester, all with prize winning newspapers, were chosen for the special promotion series.

The five-man television crew was headed by Edie Houzer, well known to women viewers especially for her afternoon show, and Dave Scrivens, announcer and newsman at CBOT. After invading the Press Office, setting up strong lights, and adjusting the cameras, the interview was ready. Top photo shows Edie Houzer and Reg. Workman of The Press during the actual interview. Dave Scrivens looks on. In the bottom picture Edie and Reg listen to a "play back" of the audio tape to determine how good or bad was the interview, while members of the crew prepare to move on.

Next on line was Gord. La Rose's Rexall Drug Store, and the same pattern of interview was followed.

Later in April the crew will return to Winchester and take several shots of film of the town's business district, churches, plants, etc., and all will be shown in the special 15-minute program devoted entirely to Winchester. Arrangements for the program were made through The Press. Announcement of the actual showing of the program will be made in this newspaper at a later date.

Next Week

S. D. & G. Seed Fair At Chesterville

The Third Annual Seed Fair for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry will be held this year in the Legion Hall, Chesterville, on March 28th and 29th. An excellent programme has been planned.

Exhibits will be judged on Monday afternoon March 28th, and the Hall will be open to the public that evening.

"Labour Saving in the Dairy Barn" will be the main program topic on Monday evening, commencing at 8.00 p.m. H. E. Wright, O.A.C., Guelph, is to be principle speaker on this timely subject and his talk will be followed by a panel discussion. Jim Humphries, Glengarry Agricultural Representative, will chair the panel, with George Suffel, Millard Grant, Wilfred Vallance, Larry Donoghue, Kemptville Agricultural School and Sam McLeod, V.L.A., as members. The aim of the program is to consider ways of getting chores done with less time, less work and at low cost.

The Tuesday program starts at 9.30 a.m. with the Junior Seed Judging Competition open to boys and girls under 23 years of age.

TUESDAY FEATURE

Featuring the Tuesday afternoon program will be an outstanding speaker, Dr Bill Tossell of the Field Husbandry Department, O.A.C., Guelph. His subject will be "Making the Most of Forage Crops." Also on the program will be Neil Stoskopf of Kemptville Agricultural School on "Crop Recommendations for 1960," and "The Seed Supply and Outlook."

Mr. John Russell, Canada Department of Agriculture, will judge and discuss seed classes, while J. W. MacRae, Kemptville, will judge the hay and silage entries.

The final event of the program is the auction sale of ten bushel lots of prize seed. This will be an excellent opportunity to buy first class seed.

The Seed Fair is sponsored by the Soil and Crop Improvement Associations of the three counties with E. K. Pearson, Agricultural Representative for Dundas as secretary-manager.

$50. BOOST FOR K.A.S.

A donation of $50.00 was received from the Ontario Milk Distributors Association for prizes for students in the Three Month Dairy Course at the Kemptville Agricultural School. The money will be used to provide three prizes for students obtaining high standings in the subject of Market Milk. These will be awarded at the closing dinner of the 1960 session of the course on March 31st.

Generous donations from other dairy and milk producers organizations will permit prizes to be awarded in cheesemaking, buttermaking, dairy science and other subjects. D. B. Goodwillie of the Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, will be the guest speaker at the diner.

Record Crowd Attends KAS Royal

Principal A. M. Barr reports a record crowd attended the presentation of K.A.S. Royal awards, proving its keen interest and appreciation of the exhibits and showmanship which had been supervised by J. A. Dalrymple, head of the animal husbandry division.

The coveted award for Grand Champion Livestock Showman was won by George Jackson, of Vars, Russell County, who received keen competition from the Reserve Champion, Owen Carr, R. R. 1, Codrington, Northumberland County. In competition for the same award was David Percy, Champion Sheep Showman, and Raymond McDonald, Champion Swine Showman. Ruby Scheel, R. R. 2, Arnprior, Renfrew County, won both the home economics award and Girl Champion Showman. Wayne Kerr, R. R. 2, Campbellford, Northumberland County, was declared Grand Champion Showman and Champion Field Husbandry Showman. Joan Laffin led the junior home economics class, and Maurice McArthur topped the advanced agricultural mechanics class. The educational exibit award was won by the field husbandry display.

The Award Night was handled by K.A.S. Royal President, Jim Sheedy, and Vice President Stan Vanden Bosch. The program was well arranged, including musical items by Doris Hamilton, Maurice McArthur and David Cornish, and a well presented skit by Bill Tomlinson, Michael Clitherow and Nicolaas Rab.

CANADA AND CHINA...

Canada has been a nation for not quite a hundred years. In that time Canadians have earned a way of life unequalled outside North America and not even approached by countries whose histories go back thousands of years . . . countries such as China.

Part of Canada's success comes from her ability to produce steel. Canada, with a population under 18,000,000, produced 660 pounds of steel per person last year. China, with a population of 600,000,000, turned out 25 pounds per person.

This higher productivity comes from the factories Canadians have built. For example, The Steel Company of Canada, Limited has inveseted more than $300,000,000 in its plants and equipment since 1940.

Canadians produce more mainly because Canadian companies are continually improving their plants and equipment.

AUXILIARY ANNOUNCES

Hospital Fair June 18 Memorial Fund Established

Sixty-three members representing 13 units attended the monthly meeting of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital last Thursday evening which was held in the Assembly Hall of the hospital, with Mrs. Locke in charge.

Receipts for the month of February reported by the treasurer, Miss Elliott, were donations from: Ormond, $75.00; Morewood, $42.75; Chesterville, $200; Williamsburg $64.17, and membership fees of $7.00. Expenses for linens were $207.25, leaving a balance of $1,288.45.

Mrs. Mulloy reported a busy month in all departments of the hospital, although they are short four beds, and voiced appreciation for the sewing done by the different units.

Summers and Cass Bridge unit announced they would hold a Bake Sale at the April meeting.

A very fine report of the Memorial Fund was given by Mrs. R. D. Ledgerwood. She said each unit would be expected to publicize this fund in their community. For this project to be successful the co-operation of the funeral directors in each community would be needed. Anyone wishing to contribute to the Memorial Fund would contact the funeral director. A key woman from each unit would contact the funeral director every month to receive the contributions. A Memorial Book would be left in the hospital and the deceased person's name for whom the donation was made would be written in the book. The Memorial Fund Committee are to carry on and purchase the necessary articles for the project to function.

It was decided that the Hospital Fair would be held on Saturday, June 18th, 1960.

Each Unit director is to notify Mrs. G. E. Brennan, Hotel Dieu Hospital Auxiliary, Cornwall, by March 20th, the number of members from their unit who will be attending the dinner at the Cornwallis Hotel on March 23rd.

A letter was read announcing that the Regional Auxiliaries' meeting No. 10 would be held at Smiths Falls Mental Hospital School on Wednesday, April 27.

Soft Spun Kids (dolls made of cotton yarn) a proposed project for the Hospital Fair, were circulated among the group. The secretary was instructed to write for samples of yarn and ask for the cost entailed in making the dolls.

After the meeting, Mrs. John Campbell, fieldwoman for the Carleton County Federation of Agriculture, showed pictures of their various events and activities. She was introduced by Mrs. Locke and thanked by Mrs. Roberts.

Kenmore W. I. March Meeting

The March meeting of Kenmore Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Maurice Ross, under the convenorship of the Current Events committee. The president, Mrs. McCormick, was in the chair, assisted by the secretary, Mrs. McNeill. Twelve members answered roll call: "A Current Event of recent interest to rural housewives." There were seven visitors present.

There will be no representative from the local branch attend the Guelph Conference this year. Mrs. Lorne Harrison and Mrs. Elwin Hill were named as the nominating committee.

The Branch will observe its 25th Anniversary on May 17th. All former members are to receive an invitation to be present at this gathering, with Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Ross the committee in charge.

The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $125.55. A donation of $50.00 was voted towards the District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary at Winchester.

Mrs. Elson gave a humorous reading, and Mrs. McKeown read a paper. A contest was won by Mrs. Dewar and Mrs McCormick. After an enjoyable social hour a vote of thanks was extended by Mrs. Wilson to Mrs. Ross and the committee, Mrs. McKeown, Mrs. Elson and Mrs. J. Warren.

They were accompanied by Mrs. G. E. Earle, who had spent the past six weeks in their home and is now visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. Droppo.

ELMA COUPLE HONOURED ON 45th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dillabough, of Elma, were honoured at a surprise dinner at their home recently to celebrate their 45th Wedding Anniversary.

The couple were taken by surprise when their family arrived, as the dinner had been planned and prepared by their daughter, Mrs. Arnold Shaver, and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald Dillaboughh.

They were the recipients of several lovely gifts, numerous cards, long distance telephone calls and letters of congratulations which included one from Hon. F. M. Cass and Mrs. Cass.

Those present for dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Dillabough, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Shaver, Donald and Marilyn, of South Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Don. Dillabough, Gary and Margaret, Mr. Claude Dillabough, Miss Jane Phifer of Ottawa, Miss Mary Louise Brown, Ventnor; Mrs. George C. Smith, Finch; Mrs. Flora Casselman, Cornwall, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swerdfeger of Peterborough.

Agnes Glassford Auxiliary Meets

Mrs. Charles Cross presided at the March meeting of the Agnes Glassford Auxiliary, held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Balkwill on Tuesday evening, and opened with a hymn and prayer. This was followed by a welcome to several visitors and new members.

Reports of the secretary revealed a good response from the "Hobo" teas being held. Members were asked for Christmas gifts to send to an Indian School in Manitoba.

It was announced that the Brockville Presbyterial will celebrate its 75th anniversary on Tuesday, May 3rd, and members of various societies are invited to attend.

The theme of the Study period was "Worship and Song," and the Scripture was taken from I Cor. 14:12-16. The history of six favourite hymns were given, and the meeting closed with the hymn "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind."

Lunch was served at the close by the convenor, Mrs. H. Balkwill, assisted by Mrs. A. Rice.

Mrs. Alex Davidson thanked Mrs. Balkwill for the use of her home, and a most interesting evening.

News Briefs

55 YEARS MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barkley, of South Mountain, celebrated their 55th Wedding Anniversary on March 15th at their home. About thirty friends and relatives were present to extend congratulations and best wishes.

85 YEARS OLD

87th BIRTHDAY

Mr. Thos. J. Mulloy quietly celebrated his 87th birthday on Wednesday, March 23rd, on the farm where he was born, one-half mile west of Inkerman village.

Still keenly interested in all phases of the farm's activities, Mr. Mulloy is enjoying excellent health.

30th ANNIVESARY

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Derby were pleasantly surprised on their 30th Wedding Anniversary when several members of the immediate families, as well as nieces and nephews, gathered at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Raymond Holmes, and Mr. Holmes, on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Derby were presented with a large basket of cut flowers and various other gifts as a remembrance of the happy occasion.

90 FLOWERS ON PLANT

When it comes to growing Christmas cactus plants Mrs. Margaret Robb of Williamsburg is an expert. At Christmas her Cactus boasted no less than 60 flowers. Not to be outdone, the Christmas cactus of Mrs. Robb has continued to bloom and this week the unusual plant has an amazing 90 flowers and buds. Mrs. Robb, in a letter to The Press, said it is so beautiful "I don't want to part with it yet." Can't blame her. Is this a record?

Rodney Oats—(No. 1 or Reg. No. 1). Strong straw, medium late maturing, heavy yield, large plump kernels—resistant to crown rust, stem rust and smut.

Garry Oats—(No. 1 or Cert'd. No. 1)

Medium maturing, high yield, strong straw, resistant to both kinds of rust and smut.

Shield Oats—(Commercial No. 1).

Very early maturing, strong straw, resistant to smut. Rust resistance or yield not equal to Rodney or Garry.

Glen Oats—

A new variety—lodging resistance and disease resistance not equal to Rodney or Garry—medium early maturing.

Brant Barley—(Commercial No. 1)

Smooth-awned, six rowed, mildew-resistant, high yielding variety.

York Barley—(Certified No. 1).

Smooth-awned, six rowed variety, strong straw—stands up well for combining. Yield similar to Brant.

Selkirk Wheat—

SEED GRAIN IN STOCK NOW

We have some excellent quality Rodney and Garry Oats in stock now.

To be sure of the best quality seed we suggest that delivery be taken out of present stock—save a bit in cost too. Later supplies are usually higher in price.

TREAT GRAIN FOR SMUT

Surveys show substantial loss in grain crops due to smut and other seed-borne diseases. In many cases the grower is not aware of the extent of the disease in the crop.

Prevent loss from these diseases by treating grain when it is cleaned. The cost amounts to only about 20 cents an acre.

Don't forget the Seed Fair at Chesterville, Monday and Tuesday, March 28th and 29th.

IN MEMORIAM

1939, and a dear husband and father, Clarence Thompson, who passed away March 26th, 1957.

Love's greatest gift—Remembrance.

—Mrs. Mabel Thompson and family. 45p

THOMPSON—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Clarence Thompson, who passed away March 26th, 1957.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.

—Evelyn, Carl and Brenda. 45p

'Round Our School

The students of Grade 12 will write their Canadian English test as part of the Grade 12 Departmental Test Programme on Wednesday. A Canadian Test in Chemistry is to be written in May . . . . The group going to New York City in May have received the itinerary from the New York Teachers' Association and it looks like an even more interesting trip than last year. The group will attend the Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady," which fits in very well at school. The group will also with their study of Pygmalion spend an afternoon at Coney Island which the other group were unable to do last year . . . A representative of the Co-Op Insurance Company in Ottawa will interview our typing students this week in relation to summer and permanent employment for our typists.

ACTIVITIES AT

M. D. H. S.

DRAMA NIGHT

The Drama Society will hold their Drama Nights at the Hallville School Audtiorium on Tuesday evening, March 29 and at the Odd Fellows' Hall in South Mountain on Wednesday evening, March 30. The programme will begin at 8 o'clock each evening and the admission will be 50c for adults and 25c for students and pre-school children.

The programme will consist of three one-act plays. "The Marriage Proposal," a humorous Russian play, will be presented by Kathy Beamish, Drenna Coleman and Marian Glaser on one evening and Nora Allen, Sharon Christie and Helen Hyndman the second evening. "The High School Daze," a teenage play, will have a cast consisting of Jean Allen, Marie Hoy, Gloria Blaine, Basil Gilmer, Mary Ann Butler, June Blaine, Bill McCargar, Roger Workman, Jim Shaw, Bruce Hough, Betty Ann Havlin and Audrey Billings. The junior department will present "Life of the Party," and the cast for the first presentation will consist of Robert Kerr, Gail Christie, Judy Coughler, June McCann, Gordon Hanson, Louise Porter, Gloria Crowder, Doris Hunter, Peter Yagminias, David Harris and Joe Blaine. The Drama Society will hold an advance sale of tickets under the direction of Mary Ronson.

CURLING NEWS

Two curling teams from our school had a most enjoyable afternoon of curling as guests of the Morrisburg High School curlers at the Morrisburg Curling Rink on Thursday afternoon. Although both our teams came out on the short end of the score they picked up many valuable pointers on curling. Supper was provided for the curlers and teachers of both schools by the Morrisburg ladies, and we would like to express our thanks for their wonderful hospitality. Examinations prevent us from having the Morrisburg curlers as our visitors, however, plans are being made for more active participation between the two schools in curling next year.

The Maxville High curlers will be our guests at the Winchester Curling Rink on Saturday, March 26.

C. A. S. Seeks Homes For Catholic Children In United Counties

Parish priests in all Catholic churches in the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarrry, announced on Sunday the Children's Aid Society's need for permanent adopting homes for twelve older Catholic children ranging in age from three to fifteen.

The priests called parishioners' attention to a notice in their church bulletin regarding the plight of these youngsters, whose main need is a sense of belonging in a home offering love, kindness, and understanding. To find the right home and the right parents for each child is the Society's chief aim.

From a financial standpoint all that is required is that the adopting parents have a steady income, sufficient to cover the family budget and to provide financial security for the child as he or she grows up.

Among the children whose plight is outlined in the bulletin, some are French speaking and some are bilingual. One group consists of three children, all of one family, who hope that some kindly couple will adopt them all so that they may continue to grow up together.

One child has been described by the agency as "very attractive, with red hair and blue eyes." Another is "blonde, bright and energetic, musically inclined." "One likes farm life."

While many of these children have particular needs, due in part to their history of insecurity, couples who have already adopted older children are quick to point out that all children have and present problems of one sort or another as they grow up. Adopted children are no different from natural children.

Any Catholic couple interested in learning more about these children is asked to apply directly to the United Counties Children's Aid Society office in Cornwall.

4-H CLUB AWARD

Ten Counties May Compete for Citizen Prize

...rs of 4-H Homemak- ... in each of 10 counties ... Ontario will be eli- ... new award this year. ...d, announced this ... e Ottawa Citizen. ... funds for the girl ... receives it to further her ... ucation at a university, teach- ...s' college, in nurses' training or courses in music, drama or art.

The sum of the award is $125, similar to the amount of The Ottawa Citizen 4-H Calf Club Award, also given annually.

Individual awards will be given each year in the counties of Carleton, Russell, Lanark, Renfrew, Prescott, Glengarry, Dundas, Grenville, Stormont and Leeds.

The Ottawa Citizen 4-H Homemaking Club Award will be open to girls in each county who are at least 15 years of age, who have completed successfully six or more Homemaking Club units and who, preferably, have completed Grade 12.

The girl should also have shown steady improvement and definite personal growth during her club work, have given leadership and carried on work of high quality.

The award will only be made to an active 4-H Homemaking Club member, that is one who has carried on club work in the year in which she has been selected. The awards will not be applicable to courses in High schools.

Selection of the 10 annual winners will be made by the County Home Economist in consultation with the local Department of Agricuture staff members.

It is hoped to make the presentation of the awards at the time of the Homemaking Club program at the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa during August.

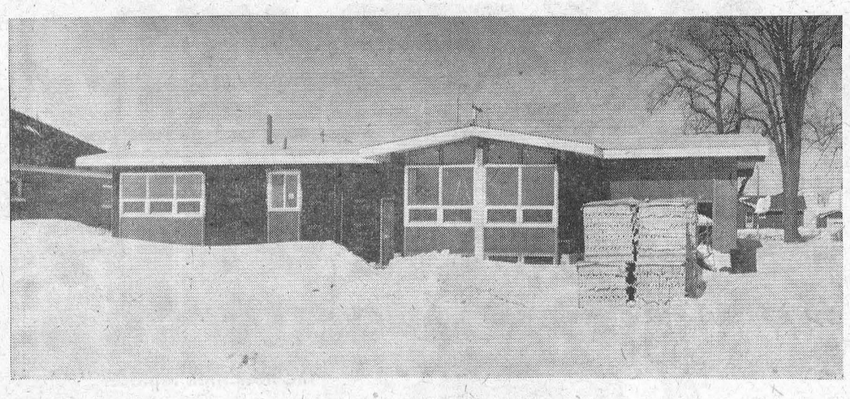
AT MORRISBURG

New Gold Medallion Home



First In Dundas County Open For Public Viewing This Friday and Saturday

The New-Home Design Award created by the Star Weekly, and awarded for the home plan suitable to most Canadians, has been reproduced in Morrisburg. It is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ing located on Park Avenue, and is being opened for public inspection this weekend March 25 and 26.

In addition to winning the design award, Mr. Ing's new home has been awarded a Gold Medallion — the Hallmark of Electrical Excellence, and the Triple Seal of Quality Award. The house introduces the newest and most modern form of heating, electric heat. The big job of installing the electrical wiring and special work for the heating system was done by Arthur Thom, electrical contractor of Williamsburg.

Built by Robert Geggie, a Winchester building contractor, the ranch-style home will be finished in yellow mottle brick. The attached garage will permit direct entry from the garage to the living area.

The home will be equipped with a number of modern features. The kitchen is designed for the utmost in convenience, a built-in electric wall oven, electric surface cooking elements, and an exhaust fan that will carry cooking odours away from the living area.

Modern lighting fixtures throughout the home will provide a pathway of light, and all switches will be silent operation.

To add to convenience, an electric washer and dryer is installed in the basement utility room. Next to the utility room is a beautiful recreation room which will be furnished in mohagany panels.

Highlight of the home, however, is electric heating. The home is equipped with two 100 ampere services to carry the electrical current used for normal day-to-day electrical use, and a second service devoted to the operation of the electric heating units.

Throughout the house, in each of the spacious rooms, visitors will notice the heating units along the baseboard. Styled to blend with any decor, each unit provides the heat for the specific room. For the utmost in convenience, each room is equipped with a thermostat which controls individual room temperature. This feature offers the advantage of permitting seldom-used rooms during the daytime to be kept cool while other parts of the house are set at comfortable temperatures. During the night, living rooms and kitchens may be allowed to stay cool, while bedrooms are set at sleeping temperatures.

Use of electric heat provides much additional space in the basement for recreation and utility rooms. There is no furnace to occupy floor space, and no duct work to use up ceiling area. The electrical usits are the individual heat produces. Electric heating is certainly one of the highlights of this well-planned home.

Mr. Ing's new home will be open for inspection Friday and Saturday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. An official opening will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Medallion Homes Sweep The Country

The newest feature in home-building and home-buying is a Medallion Home, and Medallion Homes have caught on in Ontario with amazing results during the past year. During 1959 more than 450 homes throughout Ontario were awarded Medallions, in either Bronze or Gold, to indicate a house built and equipped to meet the highest standards of electrical excellence.

The Gold Medallion home is one which is completely electric, including the newest inovation in modern living, electric heat. It is fully equipped with modern electrical appliances, many of which are built in to the decor of the home. In addition it is fully wired to permit full use of electrical appliances. and plenty of additional appliances in the future. A Gold Medallion home features light for living, with proper lighting at all points inside and outside of the home, an additional decorative lighting which adds to the beauty of the home fully highlighting the decor and design. These total-electric homes are truly the mark of electrical excellence.

Medallion homes have been opened for inspection to the public across the province during the past year. The increasing interest in homes well-appointed in electrical standing has amazed builders and realtors alike. During National Home Week 65 homes throuhout Ontario were opened for inspection. During the recent National Electrical Week, 20 others were opened in metropolitan areas for inspection, and during 1960 these figures will probably more than double.

The amazing progress by a new conception of modern living in just over a year indicates very strikingly the desire of the house-buying public for the greater comfort and convenience which only the use of electricity in the home can give. The leading electrical organizations across the country, your local Municipal Hydro System, your Provincial Hydro Commission, the manufacturers. the dealers, electrical contractors everyone in Canada's vast electrical industry is looking to the future to meet the demand for modern living from Canadians who Live Better Electrically.

Electric Heating New Feature Ontario Homes

"Turn on the heat" is a local saying which is aquiring a very literal meaning these days, especially in homes. schools, motels, and churches which are heated electrically.

For example, the pleasant warmth provide by various types of electric units in these living areas can be controlled in each room by simply turning small, unobtrusive thermostats. In other words, the temperature can be maintained at 50 degrees or lower in one room, and at 70 or higher in another, as desired, enabling both the "eskimos" and the "hot-house plant to be happy under the same roof.

Township Council Approves School Expenditure

Williamsburg Township Council at their March meeting held in the I.O.O.F. Hall at Williamsburg last week approved of a $650,000 expenditure for a new school in the North Dundas District High School Area.

At the meeting a motion by Deputy Reeve Whittaker and Councillor Pemberton instructed the clerk to request the township engineer to change the Thomas Merkley Award Ditch to a Municipal drain and to examine and make his report.

The mill rate for relief purposes for 1960 was set at one mill. The Clerk was also asked to advertise for tenders for the purchase of a township crusher and the 15-30 International tractor.

The following acounts were passed for payment: Roads and bridges, $2963.26; relief, $938.50; salaries, $398.66; drains, $302.40; supplies, $105.19; Convention expenses, $320.00; miscellaneous, $36.00.

LIVE BETTER ELECTRICALLY

Electric Heat

however, is but one of a number of "dream" features which are being built into most of the all-electric homes now under construction throughout Ontario. The latest of these being the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ing, Park Avenue, Morrisburg.

FIRELESS and SMOKLESS

Explaining the principles of electric heating, engineers point out that electricity flows through metal fins, tape or wire. The metals resist the passage of electrical energy. As a result, a fireless, smokeless, clean heat is created. Engineers also emphasize that this is an even heat, which warms directly and that it is highly efficient as every unit of electricity is converted into heat.

While there is a wide variety of electric heaters, the more popular types include baseboard, heating cable, glass panels, and fan-type units; and soon to be added to the list of forms is the heat pump which cools as well as heats.

Baseboard type units have been used throughout Mr. Ing's new home in Morrisburg. These have heating elements inside the hollow metal baseboard. Through openings at the top and bottom, cool air flows in and warm air flows out. Because they blend in with the decorative scheme of each room in which they are used, baseboards are inconspicuous and save space, making it possible to have any desired arrangement of furniture. These electric heating units range in length from two to eight feet, depending upon the area to be heated. Installation is simple, involving only a few screws and connection to electric wiring. It does not involve any major adjustments in the wood framework of a home, for only small holes have to be made to permit passage of the wiring.

INCREASED INTEREST

A third factor is the increasing public interest in electric heating, reflected in the mounting number of inquiries received by Ontario Hydro and local municipal hydro systems. These inquiries come not only from private citizens, but from companies, school boards, and various organizations seeking information about heating of homes, schools, farms, and other types of structures.

Since the early years of the century, Ontario Hydro has made an increasingly significant contribution to the march of industrial and economic proress and to the high standard of living in this province. The Commission's active identification with the growing trend towards electric heating is in keeping with its continuing policy to bring to the people increasing benefits and conveniences that will enable them to Live Better Electrically.

Winchester Jrs. Midgets End Great Season

Winchester Juniors and the Midget Trojans came to the end of the hockey trail in the past week after enjoying one of the best seasons in more than a decade.

The Juniors, after losing a close game to Hawkesbury-Ottawa in Winchester, journeyed to Hawkesbury last Wednesday night to absorb an 8-1 shellacking at the hands of the bigger, faster, better-coached crew of Ottawa hockey players. Bob Carkner, as usual, was brilliant in defeat. He stopped no fewer than 70 shots during the night and there were times when he didn't have time to even turn around. He should be a "natural" for the most valuable player award on the Winchester team, if such an award exists.

Prior to the game, Winchester was presented with the Ottawa and District Hockey Association trophy, awarded annually to the championship Junior hockey team in the Ottawa district.

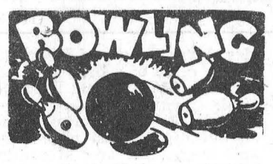
Crowds at the Junior games during the play-off part of the season resembled former Inkerman Rocket days. In the past two weeks average attendance at home games was more than 1000, going as high as 1500. It was a great year for the Juniors, and next year looks as good.

MIDGETS

About 50 fans journeyed to Smiths Falls Monday night to see Murray Martin's game Midget Trojans finally come to the end of the line. The Trojans, by the way, lost only two games all year and Monday night they lost in a big way with Leitrim Midgets (Ottawa) coming out on top of a 14-1 count. In the first game of what turned out to be a total points series, Winchester downed the Leitrim team 4-3.

Monday night's game was played under a storm of protests, mostly over the use of an Ottawa player by the Leitrim team. From what this writer can gather there is still much to be desired in the Minor hockey set-up in the Ottawa district. On more than one instance this year the locals apparently came out on the short end of the deal.

The Midgets this year enjoyed a tremendous system, best ever for a minor hockey team in Winchester.



Bob Woods topped the Fireside Group on Monday evening with singles of 231, 218 and 238 to cross 687. Andy Ross had 612-228, Howard Porteous 612-244.

In the Berwick Sports Club Edith Pollock was top with 278, 262 and 197 to cross 737. Carrie Manley had 470-188. Dorothy Meldrum had 455-188. Hill McCorriston had a 608 triple with 186, 181 and 241 singles. Floyd Dingwall had 535-195.

Myrna Quinn was top lady in the Community Bowling League with 197, 211 and 147 singles to cross 555. Donalda Byers had 525-190. Mel. Byers topped the men with 195, 285 and 241 for a 721 cross. Lorne Bvers had 689-271.

Bea. Geggie led the Wednesday night Happy Gang with 166, 198 and 178 singles for a 542 cross. Carrie Isaac had 535-212.

In the Glamour Girls on Thursday night Joan Meek was on top with 192, 156 and 297 for a 645 triple. Marge Chamberlain had 636-215, Betty Larmour 615-268, Phyllis Henderson 603-211.

Lorne Byers had a really big night with the Country Gentlemen with singles of 277, 303 and 266 for a big 846 cross. George Rupert had 792-278, Al Bosley 765-297, D. Kenney 714-244.

Shirley Ouderkirk led the Crysler Bowling League on Friday night with 178, 206 and 174 for a 558 cross. Glenda Begg had 516-201, Lillian Johnstone 499-225. Arnott Empey had nice singles of 285, 226 and 270 for a 781 cross. Delburn Baker had 760-313, Rheal Meilleur 631-239.

Town Affairs Main Topic At 100 Club

Winchester 100 Club opened its luncheon-meeting last Friday night at the Hotel Restaurant with a general discussion for the good of the town. The results proved an interesting half hour in which many sensible viewpoints were heard, as well as a warning or two to Winchester business people to do more promoting than in the past.

The discussion was sparked by Harold Lannin and the general theme of the informative session dealt with ways and means to bring both industry and people to Winchester.

During the business portion of the meeting Harry Flora explained that an excellent film, "Canada 1959," which includes the Grey Cup, would be shown at the April meeting. Because of Good Friday, this meeting will be held on April 22. Mr. Flora said that the 100 Club would also make a tour of the new hospital wing and that the film would be shown in the Hospital Board Room. The Club had originally planned to visit the hospital Friday night but the laying of concrete on some of the floors prevented the visit.

Roy Fawcett, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that he had interviewed Mahar shoe store executives about the possibility of locating in Winchester. Although interested, the Mahar people said it was their policy not to locate in towns with populations not less than 5,000. However, the matter of a shoe store is still being considered. Harold Lannin later pointed out that before we could get this type of store we must have increased population.

Members of the Club decided unanimously in favour of again sponsoring the Winchester-Chesterville 4-H Tractor Club.

Guests at the meeting included Robert Carkner, star Winchester Junior goalie, and William Crummy of the Bell Telephone Company, also of Winchester. One new member, Leroy Strader, was introduced by W. J. L. Boyd.

President Morgan announced that due to the recent move of Royal Bank Accountant Art Mills, a new treasurer for the Club would have to be named. Decision was left in the hands of the directors.

Robert Woods opened the meeting with Grace. The Creed was recited by Roy Fawcett, and roll call was answered by members giving their favourite song.

W. H. S. News

(By Pat Petersen)

Last week Miss Thom received the results of the typing competition which was held at Rideau High School. Sheila Fowler and Norma Stewart, representing Winchester High School, placed sixth and seventh respectively among 14 other competitors from various Ottawa High Schools, St. Lawrence High School in Cornwall and Mountain District High School.

This week got off to a bad start with three of our teachers absent. Mr. Williard, Mr. Prud 'Homme and Mr. Trip were all absent because of illness.

George N. Myers

George Nelson Myers, well known and highly respected citizen of the Winchester Springs' district, died at his home on Sunday, March 13th. He had been in failing health for several months prior to his sudden passing.

Born in Osnabruck Township, he was the son of the late William Myers and his wife, Mary Countryman. He was in his 81st year. On October 2nd, 1907, he married the former Lillian Nesbitt, who survives.

Since coming to the Sorings over 50 years ago he was engaged in farming, and known as a good friend and kindly neighbour who was keenly interested in community affairs.

He was a member of the United Church, and served on the Official Board for many years.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Grace; one sister, Mrs. Edward McIntosh, of Woodstock, and three brothers, Ralph and Walter, of Spencerville, and Myron of Inkerman.

Final tribute was paid his memory at the funeral service conducted by the Rev. E. B. Bugden from his late residence to Winchester Springs United Church last Wednesday afternoon. Entombment was made at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Ralph McIntosh, Dalton Robinson, Vincent Steele, Otha Thorpe, Donald Walker and Lee McIntosh.

Many beautiful floral tributes testifed to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Friends attended the funeral from Toronto, Ottawa, Lakefield, Stirling, Ogdensburg, Ingleside, Prescott and Brockville.

Community Centre Closes For Season

After enjoying one of its most successful seasons in recent years, Winchester Community Centre closed its doors on Saturday. Mild weather and the end of hockey were the main factors in the Board's decision to close for the season. Both hockey games and skating nights chalked up record attendance marks this winter and the Board, needless to add, is more than pleased with the winter operation of the rink.

K. A. S. CONFERENCE

Department of Agriculture officials at Kemptville announce that plans have been completed for the annual spring cheesemakers' conference. This will be held at the Dairy Building, Kemptville Agricultural School, on Thursday, April 7th, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Novel features on the program this year will include a cheese judging competition as well as an evening panel discussion, when composition standards for cheese will be dealt with. J. L. Baker, recently appointed as Director of Dairying in the Ontario Department of Agriculture, is one of the scheduled speakers. Recent research work done on cheese problems at the K.A.S. will be reported by O. R. Irvine and M. E. Beach. Frank Robinson of the Ontario Dairy Branch will be chairman for the meeting.
