Says Canada Has Priced Herself Right Out of British Food Market

Having recently returned from spending several months' holidays in the British Isles, Mr. Thos. Stobo, of Cloverdale, has been asked by several friends and acquaintances to give an account of his observations of life in Great Britain. With this idea in view, he has submitted the following article for publication in the Press, which he feels will be of interest to the readers of this paper. Here is what Mr. Stobo observed:

"As I have recently returned from a trip to Britain, I learned that the pattern of International travel is changing; for whereas in former years to travel was both difficult and expensive, it is now simple and relatively cheap. Wealth is no longer the necessary hall-mark of the traveller, a fact not yet fully realized by ordinary people. Britain is a country which, better than any other in the world, offers opportunities for a varied, an eventful and inexpensive holiday. There is a rich diversity of scenery, all of which is made readily accessible by a network of communications by road, by rail, by water, and for those so inclined, by air. The holiday-maker who travels to Britain can have a carefree holiday because it will cost him no more than he can afford, no more than he has planned, and when the holiday is over he will leave with only one regret—the regret that his holiday was not longer.

"While abroad I enjoyed reading the Press editor's comments on matters concerning effects on farmers and agriculture in Dundas County, and have been favourably impressed with his evident fairness on such matters. Britain's prosperity could be advanced with such fairness through better trade conditions between that country and this. After a tour of three months travelling abroad as a Canadian tourist, endeavouring to learn and observe the activities of the British people, their business men and their schools, wherever I went I found that Canadian soldiers who fought in two World Wars were highly respected. I visited dairy plants similar to Canadian plants, visited farms in England, Ireland and Scotland, talked with their occupants, heard their views on such matters as food costs, taxes and subsidies. About one in six were partly satisfied with their lot under circumstances which affected them personally. Good judgement, good management and good farming methods generally accounted for the success of the few. Due to war disabilities and other causes over which they have no control, many are fully aware that they have no hope of contributing their share towards the nation's ever increasing food and population problems. They are without hope for the future. To my question: "What of the next generation?" there seemed to be no answer. I was surprised at the tolerance and consideration shown by county councils and officials of farmers' unions to such individual cases. Democracy under conditions at present existing in Great Britain may convey a different meaning to what we are accustomed to in this highly favoured land. Judged by our standards of living, many of Britain's millions are merely existing.

"Milk production is the most important single branch of farming, and as much as one-third of the total value of the agricultural output of this country is attributed to the production of milk and milk products. The dairy industry is a major economic activity in which, I daresay, more than half a million persons are involved, in one way or another.

"I visited the Bovreal Milk Co. in Northern Ireland. This is a large dairy plant where you will observe a host of dairy expansions. Here, many of the products manufactured are the same as produced at the Ault Plant, in Winchester. The only difference is that this plant manufactures over 200 cheese daily with an average weight of 70 or 80 lbs. This plant also collects 25,000 gallons of milk per day. Patrons are paid by the gallon with a 3.5 butter fat test.

"Marketing and distribution of milk is supervised by the Milk Marketing Board, all branches of dairying receiving the same price per gallon. The Milk Marketing Board apparently has found a solution to the problem of giving to dairy farmers the benefits which can be derived from collective organization without interfering unduly with them.

"I was unable to purchase any Canadian food products while in Britain, and it appears as if Canada has priced herself right out of the British food market. The other Commonwealth nations within the sterling area are well in front with their wares. Canadian farmers and business will, sooner or later, learn that to trade you require anxious sellers but also willing buyers. Surely our experts can devise some type of international currency that can surmount the difficulties set up by the sterling dollars markets."

Local 100 Club Entertains Ladies

In addition to a sumptuous turkey dinner with all the trimmings, a program of vocal and instrumental music and an entertaining and educational address were features of the November meeting of the local 100 Club, when the Centurians entertained their wives and lady friends at the town hall on Friday evening last. The guests were welcomed by the president, Centurian Bob Woods, who presided throughout the evening.

Following Grace, which was said by Centurian Leroy Boyd, and the Creed, recited by Centurian Harvey MacIntosh, the president proposed a toast to The Queen, after which the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church proceeded with the serving of a delicious turkey dinner.

The sing-song was led by Centurian Chester Timmins, with Mrs. Wm. J. Hitsman presiding at the piano, after which Centurian Nelson Dixon conducted a prize boost for the ladies. The winners were Mrs. Wilfred McKercher and Mrs. Alex Davidson. As has been the usual custom, the prizes on this occasion were donated by Centurian and Mrs. Arnold Dukelow, of the Jo-Anne Shoppe. They were boosted by Centurian Roy Fawcett.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by Centurian O. Frogget, of the W. H. S. staff, and ably responded to by Mrs. Chester Robinson.

As a tribute of respect to Centurian W. A. Rowat, a Charter member of the Club, whose wife died suddenly, the president expressed the Club's regrets and extended sympathy to the bereaved family.

The evening's program was arranged by a committee composed of Centurians W. A. Rowat, chairman, David Melvin and Bill Doughty, and the president pointed to the interest and plans that Centurian Rowat had taken in the program prior to the passing of his wife. He congratulated Centurians Melvin and Doughty for completing the arrangements.

Highlighting the program were several delightful vocal numbers rendered by the W. H. S. Girls' Quartette, directed and accompanied by Mr. J. Potvin. Personnel of the quartette was Misses Louise Summers, Joan Clarke, Kathleen Fennell and Marilyn Serviss. Two well-executed trumpet solos by Mr. Warner Schmidt, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Summers, were also enjoyed.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. W. E. Bradley, B.A., a member of the High School teaching staff. He was introduced by Centurian Howard Willard, principal of the school.

Mr. Bradley, who spent a couple of years on military duty at Moosonee on James Bay, gave an interesting and educational talk on his experiences in the country of the Muskeg, Eskimo and Indian. He explained the mode of living adopted by the Cree Indians and Eskimos in that part of Canada, what was being done to educate them, and outlined his personal experiences as a school teacher at Moosonee. During his talk, he exhibited several articles of clothing made and worn by the Cree Indians, a beaver's tail, a polar bear's head and jawbones, and some of the writings done by his Indian pupils, all of which added to the interest and enjoyment of his address.

Centurian Eldon Davidson thanked the speaker on behalf of the club, while Centurian George Elliott expressed the club's appreciation to the evening's entertainers and the ladies who served the dinner.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Over $400.00 Collected In Bible Society Canvass

Mr. Raymond Summers, president of the Society, presided at the meeting, which was opened by the Rev. Wm. Reid, who conducted the devotional services. Mr. Summers thanked all the canvassers and committees who assisted in the successful canvass for funds. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Edgar Turner, and the offering was received by Messrs. Earl Gallaher and James Johnston.

Rev. B. V. McLean, of Ottawa, was the guest speaker and outlined the purpose of the British and Foreign Bible Society, explaining how the funds were used to the best advantage. In closing, he urged everyone to continue his support to the work of the Bible Society.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. Raymond Summers. The canvassers' report was given by the secretary, Mrs. Edgar Turner, and a film was shown on the life of Dr. Wm. Carey, an Indian Missionary. All officers were re-elected by acclamation, with Mr. Earl Gallaher being added to the executive committee.

The meeting was closed by the Rev. H. Kielty, who pronounced the Benediction.

FORMER WINCHESTER FAMILY IN THE NEWS

From Edmunston, New Brunswick, comes the word that Mr. Ronald Stevenson, a former Winchester High School student and a graduate of Dalhousie University, Halifax, has been admitted to the Bar at Fredericton, N. B. Although the report did not state as much, it is expected Mr. Stevenson will start his professional career in Fredericton.

Prior to Ron's Bar admittance, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Stevenson, former well-known residents of Winchester, where Mr. Stevenson was Manager of the Royal Bank Branch, were guests of honour at a surprise party at an Edmunston hotel. The occasion was the 25th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, which they observed on October 6th. The party was attended by over 100 friends of the couple, who presented Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson with several gifts.

A host of friends in Winchester join with the Press in extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, and to Mr. Ronald Stevenson on his recent achievement.

Parliamentary Scribe Pays Tribute To Hon. Geo. H. Challies

Under the caption, "Challies In Quiet Way Giving Fine Service," Don. O'Hearn, Queen's Park Special Correspondent for the Guelph Daily Mercury, pays tribute to the Hon. George H. Challies, 1st Vice Chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission. Here is what he wrote in a recent issue of The Mercury:

"Hon. George Challies was chairman of the cabinet council meeting last week, Premier Frost, Hon. Geo. Doucett and Attorney-General Dana Porter all being away.

"This was unusual prominence for Mr. Challies, who, for the most part, doesn't loom large in the news here any more. As vice-chairman of the Ontario hydro, he spends most of his time down the street on University avenue. And, of course, there he is under the shadow of chairman Bob Saunders, and in a publicity way that is a big shadow to be looming under.

"In his quiet way, however, Mr. Challies is rendering distinguished service to the province and adding further to a record which now ranks as the longest in the government in terms of service. He goes back to 1931 when he was provincial secretary in the Henry administration.

Seaway Connection

"When the first switches are turned on in the seaway power development it will probably be Mr. Challies that will officiate, and the honor will be one he deserves.

"He has had a long identity with the project now, not only through his connection with Hydro and the government but as one of the leading citizens of Eastern Ontario. And his knowledge probably is not exceeded by anyone.

Lucid Speaker

In our files are copies of speeches that have been made by Mr. Challies over the years on various aspects of the seaway proposal and they are the best reference material available on the project. All give a clear outline and well-reasoned explanation of the particular points being covered.

"The same fluency has marked his presentations in the legislature

where he has for years been the main defender of Hydro. And he has been an able champion. Even in the days of blackouts and dimouts the opposition made very little time against his defences.

Patient Approach

"Personally, the Hydro vice chairman is one of the finest gentlemen in the House.

"For years he stood up to the opposition with patience and tolerance and rebutted its accusations with skill. At the last session he did, on occasion, let Joe Salsberg get under his skin, but these were the only occasions we can recall that he let the House disturb his temper.

"One other point we have always respected in this veteran member has been his attitude towards the press. Even when news sources dried up here for a while he invariably followed the open-door policy and was completely free with newspapermen and leaned over backwards to make sure they had the material they needed."

George Challies, who still maintains a home at Morrisburg, is a native of Winchester, and his many friends here will be pleased to see the "Fourth Estate" paying a deserving tribute to him, for he has given many years of unstinted public service. As a member of the Ontario Legislature for Grenville-Dundas, he has done much for this riding.

CHESTERVILLE FIREMEN GET NEW PUMPER

The Chesterville Volunteer Fire Department has added to its equipment a new suburban and rural fire-fighter. The unit, which is mounted on a three-ton chassis, was built in a Toronto plant at a cost of $11,000.

The truck incorporates the latest methods used in fire-fighting, a 500-gallon tank being built in the unit to provide water for "fog", and two overhead reels containing 300 feet of hose to handle the high pressure generated by the pumper. It was delivered to the Chesterville Fire Department last week.

District Man Convicted Under Unemployment Insurance Act, Sec. 67

Convicted of making seven false statements in order to obtain Unemployment Insurance benefits, a young man from Chesterville appeared before Magistrate F. M. Cass in police court here last week. He was found guilty and fined $25.00 and costs of $4.50, and ordered to repay the $87.50 he had obtained from the Unemployment Commission, or spend 15 days in the Counties' Jail.

The young man was charged under Section 67 of the Unemployment Insurance Act, the complaint being made by Inspector C. G. Arcand, of the U. I. C. Regional Legal Branch, Ottawa.

In an interview with the Press, following last week's case, Mr. Arcand made it clear that the Commission was making every effort to crack down on those who, by fraudulent means, were collecting Unemployment Insurance. There have been several convictions, he said, and while it is impossible to apprehend everyone who makes false statements in order to collect Unemployment Insurance Benefits, efforts are being stepped up to bring the guilty parties to justice.

The case of the Chesterville individual, who was convicted and fined last week, should serve as a warning to others indulging in the same practice, or who may be tempted to do so in the future. It just isn't a paying proposition, if you are caught.

Anniversary Services At Vernon Baptist Church

On the occasion of its 114th Anniversary, special services were held in the Vernon Baptist Church on Sunday, November 22nd, at 11 a.m. and 8. p.m.

Large congregations were present at both services when the guest preacher was the Rev. Harold U. Trinier, of Toronto, and editor of the Canadian Baptist. In the morning the theme of Mr. Trinier's sermon was Prayer. He discussed the ways by which prayer may become a power in the lives of individual people. At the evening service the sermon subject was "The Victory of the Cross." Mr. Trinier said there was no occasion when the subject of the cross of Christ was inappropriate. He outlined seven aspects of the Victory of the Cross and concluded by saying it was a victory in which we all may share through accepting the salvation accomplished by the sufferings of Christ on the Cross and by living day by day in the spirit of the cross.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. S. MacConnell, with Mrs. Harrison MacDiarmid as pianist, rendered two anthems at each service. The morning anthems were "God's House," by Lynda Parker Loucks, and "The Lord Is My Light," by Walter A. Shawker. In the evening, the choir sang "Send Out Thy Light," by E. S. Lorenz, and a special arrangement of W. A. Ogden's familiar hymn, "Seeking The Lost." Solo parts were sung by Mrs. Harold Ferguson and Mrs. S. MacConnell.

Rev. J. W. Bee, pastor of the church, conducted both services, and at the evening service was assisted by Rev. James Taylor, of Kenmore Baptist Church, Rev. Wm. Black of Vernon Presbyterian Church, and Rev. W. G. Dickson of Osgoode United Church.

Former Minister Dies In Toronto At Age Of 83

Formerly of Winchester, where he was a minister of the Methodist Church, the Rev. John Kenneth Curtis, 83, of Ledbury Road, Toronto, passed away recently. Funeral services were conducted from the Morley S. Bedford Chapel, and burial was made in Delaware Cemetery, Delaware, Ontario. He had been in poor health for several years.

He was a minister for more than 50 years in many parts of Ontario and Newfoundland with the Methodist and United Churches.

Born in Black Head, Newfoundland, he graduated in theology from Mount Allison University, New Brunswick. He had charges at St. John and Twillingate, Newfoundland; Montreal, Winchester, Kingston, Sarnia, Ailsa Craig, Delaware and Windsor.

Rev. Mr. Curtis was a minister at his last charge at Windsor Central United Church for 11 years. He was superannuated in 1946, but continued preaching for ministers on vacation. He stood in for his nephew, Rev. Cyril Curtis, of Hope United Church, Toronto, last summer. He was a member of No. 403, Windsor Masonic Lodge.

Surviving besides his widow, the former Annie Isabel Robertson Simpson, are a son, Caryl J., of Detroit, and a daughter, Claire J. (Mrs. H. E. Corey), of Toronto.

Inkerman Rockets Quit Ont.-New York League

Coach Lloyd LaPorte and his Inkerman Rockets are out of business, and have withdrawn their entry in the New York-Ontario Sr. B. League.

Announcement to this effect was made Saturday night after the Rockets had dropped a 7-3 decision to the Clinton Comets in the U. S. town. It was the Rockets' sixth loss in eight starts in the young season. They had tied one and won a single game.

Up until last year the Rockets had held the distinction of being the strongest Junior A team in Ottawa and district. A lack of good Junior players this year, and other reasons, persuaded Coach LaPorte to try Senior B. hockey in the New York-Ontario League. The Rocket roster, for the most part, was made up of former Junior players.

In mentioning reasons for the Rockets' decision to withdraw, Coach LaPorte said that lack of fan support and strong competition were the major factors, which led to financial difficulties. "Before the situation got worse, we decided to drop out," Lloyd said.

Coach Lloyd LaPorte has no immediate plans in the way of hockey this year, and for the moment it looks as if the Inkerman Rocket era of hockey has temporarily come to an end.

The withdrawal of the Rockets reduces the league to five teams, and according to league officials, a new 48-game schedule will be drawn up immediately.

OSGOODE W. I. PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST

The Annual Public Speaking Contest, sponsored by the Osgoode Women's Institute, was held in the Public School there last Friday evening.

The contest drew several contestants from Osgoode Township schools, with Arthur Laronde winning the top honours. Beverley Black was tied for second place. These two students are pupils from S. S. No. 22, Osgoode. Mr. Stuart Holmes, of Winchester, is their teacher, and this marks the third consecutive year that Mr. Holmes' pupils have captured the W. I. Shield.

United Church Men Held Fine Meeting

More than one hundred men attended the first in a series of fellowship meetings for United Church Men in the Church Sunday School Hall last Thursday evening.

Chairman Ronald Freeland welcomed the large aggregation and also led in a lively hymn sing-song. The purpose of the meeting was explained by Mr. Eldon Fennell who told the gathering that the series of meetings planned is an effort to bring a closer understanding of church activities to the church members, to increase fellowship among them, and to make possible a place where new members of the church may be more warmly welcomed and subsequently better acquainted with the other men. Mr. Fennell also welcomed two groups from Kemptville and Chesterville, who were guests at the meeting. Members of these group were, in turn, introduced by Messrs. Fred Patterson and Haldane Durant, respectively.

Mr. Howard Biccum introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Ralph Young, National Secretary of the Committee of United Church Men, of Toronto. Mr. Young's address was in keeping with the fellowship of United Church men, and he told how such groups were being organized across the Dominion, with a similar purpose to that of the local organization. He strongly advocated the organization of men's groups in the church. Mr. John Barrett thanked the speaker.

During the evening a musical program was provided by the Rideau Hill Male Quartette, which is composed of Messrs. A. VanAllen, C. VanAllen, H. Biccum and T. Thompson; Mr. Bob Clifford with piano and vocal solos, and Messrs. A. VanAllen and Ron. Freeland, who led in the sing-songs. Mrs. A. Logan was accompanist for the quartette.

Following the serving of refreshments by several of the men, assisted by ladies of the Sunday School, Mr. W. J. L. Boyd, leader of the Bible Class, spoke briefly and outlined the remaining topics to be dealt with during the remainder of the year.

Thanks to the quartette and others who took part in the program was expressed by Mr. Eldon Fennell, who also voiced the appreciation of the men to the ladies who assisted in the serving of refreshments.

Rev. T. N. Mitchell spoke briefly and closed the meeting with the pronouncement of the Benediction.

IROQUOIS HUNTER BRINGS HOME DEER AND BEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robertson returned home on Sunday last from a two weeks' hunting trip in the Georgian Bay district. They brought home two deer and a large bear. Although Gordie is an old campaigner, this was Mrs. Robertson's first trip deer hunting, and she enjoyed it immensely, and incidentally she had her first airplane ride, as they flew in from Deer Lake to the hunting grounds.—Iroquois Post.

Mr. Harvey will also present 25-year buttons to local veterans at the all-Legion night.

Teachers' Federation Met At Iroquois On Tuesday

A joint meeting of the Men and Women Teachers' Federation of Dundas County was held in the Town Hall, Iroquois, on Tuesday evening, November 24th, at 6.30 p.m. It took the form of a banquet, served by the Womens' Institute, with the chairmen of the school boards and their wives as guests. Miss Kay Morgatroyd, president of the Women Teachers' Federation, presided. Mr. Herman Hamilton, an ex-teacher, of Iroquois, extended a hearty welcome to all. The Matilda teachers, with Mrs. Flora Mellon as convener, arranged the program. Several vocal duets were given by Mrs. A. Johnston and Mrs. C. Caldwell, accompanied by Miss M. Kaine. Mrs. F. Shaver extended a vote of thanks to these ladies as well as the Women's Institute for the bounteous supper.

Mr. W. J. Stewart, I.P.S., introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Carter Storr, M.A. Ph.D, Principal of Broadview Public School, who had been an exchange teacher to New Zealand, and had done educational research among the Eskimos. His subject, "Currently Speaking," which was interspersed with chalk sketches proved to be quite humorous as well as thought-provoking. He referred to the gradual change in the education of to-day, giving the weak points as well as the strong. He showed how it was becoming more democratic, encouraging the child of of a lower I.Q., as well as keeping the standard high for the above-average child. He brought his talk to a close by showing a film strip which he, himself, had drawn.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was given by Mrs. Kathleen McGinn, of Matilda Township. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

OBITUARY

THE LATE WILLIAM ROSS

Believed to be the last of the old stagecoach drivers in this district, Mr. William Ross passed away at his Winchester residence on Sunday, following a lengthy illness.

Born 85 years ago on June 12th, 1868, at Val Cartier, Que., he was a son of the late Robert Ross and his wife, Elizabeth Nielson. Mr. Ross had been a resident of this area for the past 67 years, and had resided in Chesterville for a period of 28 years. He had been living in Winchester since 1945.

In earlier life, the late Mr. Ross drove a stage between Winchester and Morrisburg, and later between Winchester nad Osgoode, and is believed to be the last of such type of driver in this district.

He married the former Luella Christie, who survives.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Main Street East on Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. William Reid conducting the service. Interment was made in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. George and Ross McConnell, Irvin Cross, McKinney Rodney, Albert Turner and Willis VanAllen.

It doesn't pay to act in a disorderly manner in a public place such as a theatre, rink, dance hall, etc. We have a few young chaps who like to "show off"" at the local arena during the winter months. They have the same type of "smart-alecs" in other places too, judging from the following two excerpts, clipped from our exchanges:

"Six juveniles have been barred from the Gananoque Community Centre for the year because of continued "rowdyism" during skating periods, Police Chief E. J. Lancaster reports."

"Four local youths each paid fines of $10 and costs of $3.50 in Police Court Monday morning for "acting in a disorderly manner by fast and dangerous skating" at the Memorial Community Centre on Nov. 3rd."

Although November is almost gone, there has been a surprising lack of predictions to date on the kind of Winter season that is in store for this section of the country. Usually, at this time of year there is no dearth of long-range forecasts by self-styled weather prognosticators. This year, however, there have been

OCTOBER WAS A GRIM MONTH FOR TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

According to statistics recently released by the Public Relations Services Limited, Toronto, October was the blackest month in Ontario's motor vehicle history. There were 149 people killed on our streets and highways, according to preliminary figures.

The previous high record for traffic fatalities came in October of last year, when 132 lives were lost.

Good weather throughout the month encouraged a high level of motor travel, especially on week-ends. Saturday proved to be the most dangerous day of the week, with the five Saturdays of the month accounting for 34 deaths; 18 of the victims were passengers, 8 were drivers and 8 pedestrians.

Of the victims, passengers were the hardest hit with 53 killed. The pedestrian toll was next with 47 killed. Fatalities amongst drivers totalled 43, and six cyclists were struck and killed. The type of accident which claimed the most lives was a collision with another motor vehicle. The lives of 65 drivers and passengers were lost in such accidents. Drivers who failed to negotiate curves, drove off the road or struck fixed objects such as bridge abutments, accounted for 21 lives lost, either the drivers themselves or their passengers. Ten fatalities were the result of collisions with railway trains.

In 1952, to the end of October, 813 people had lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents. This year, for the same period, 885 fatalities have been recorded.

JOHN BULL—WITH LAURELS

Statesman and man of letters, nobleman and commoner, prophet and bon vivant, Sir Winston Churchill is today perhaps the only true Elizabethan. Clad in the royal purple of his prose, he yet walks the earth in full-blooded enjoyment and lion-hearted fellowship with the people from whom he once demanded blood, sweat and tears.

And now the rubicund and cherubic face is crowned with a laurel wreath. It becomes him well.

Some may wish that instead of the Nobel Prize for Literature he had received the Nobel Peace Prize—in recognition of his heroic attempts this year to turn the course of the cold war, that struggle of giants which he himself was first to forecast at Fulton, Missouri, in 1946. But history will have to pass judgment on his hopes of moving toward peace through top-level conferences, while his achievement in letters is already writ large and bold for all to see.

Sir Winston stands as a living monument to the power of words. Perhaps no statesman in the English-speaking world since Lincoln—that lanky commoner so profoundly unlike him in most ways—has been able to clothe his thoughts in such imperishable words. Beveridge, in his memorable life of Lincoln, concluded that it was as a writer of English prose that the Great Emancipator's fame in future centuries was best assured, and perhaps the same may be said of Churchill.

For the prose of such men is more than a matter of "style," of ringing phrases, of words of marble and fire. The style is there all right, but it comes from the deeps of character, from thundering vitalities and Olympian disciplines beyond the scope of casual understanding. It speaks to the ear, the mind, the heart—and it speaks to great and noble purposes.—Christian Science Monitor.

SHORTER WORK WEEK

The present drive for a 30-hour week carries certain hidden implications which we feel ought to be brought to the light of day. If a man works thirty hours a week and spends ten and one-half hours a week travelling to and from his job, and sleeps fifty-six hours, he has left sixty-four hours per week to fill in.

Some enterprising individuals will, no doubt, take another job which will occupy another thirty hours, but, for the most part, people will look upon this time as leisure and look for ways and means of deadening the boredom which usually afflicts people with time on their hands. This will mean an increase in the demand for entertainment which, in turn, means an increase of those doing non-productive work. The old Biblical injunction of "earning your bread by the sweat of your face" seems o be going by the board. Canada is supposed to be a young and vigorous country on the threshold of development. Somewhere or other our principles seem to have jumped the rails—or perhaps we are just old-fashioned.

EDITORIAL NOTES

As yet we have not heard of any plans to have Santa Claus make his pre-Christmas visit to Winchester. Surely we are not going to deprive the kiddies of this annual event. How about it, Mr. Merchant?

Farm net income in 1953 will be about 12% below 1952, Government experts now forecast, reports The Financial Post. Includes income in kind as well as cash, but with farm costs deducted. Cash income from most products expected to be down too..

Just in case you have overlooked the date, may we remind you that the local Municipal Nomination Meeting is being held in the town hall, starting at 7 o'clock tomorrow (Friday) evening. As a citizen, interested in the welfare of Winchester, you should attend.

Members of the Municipal Council are to be commended for providing facilities and water to replenish the supply for dry cisterns in local homes. The prolonged dry spell created a serious water shortage, and the action taken by the Council was quite timely. It was a service all citizens appreciated, and one that showed that the town fathers were interested in the welfare of the public whom they were elected to serve.

"We have only been able to attend a couple of hockey games so far this season in the Community Centre, and must say that we were disappointed that the curtailed version of the National Anthem was used before the games were started. Last wintter the full-length record of the National Anthem was in effect, and we trust it will be this season. Frankly, we feel that the sovereign should be accorded more than a perfunctory acknowledgement than by just playing the first eight bars of the National Anthem.—Smiths Falls Record-News. The editor of our contemporary has a good point there. The restricted version of the National Anthem is used altogether too frequently.

MAN'S WORK

The old way had a glory to it. The man was called because this was a man's work and he came to the kitchen modestly, determined to try his best and being fairly certain of winning eventually. He took up the sealer carefully, gripping the bottom of it with one hand and the screw top with the other. He grimaced. That was part of the show for the helpless female. She watched anxious, humble and adoring. Possibly she had weakened the thing's grip with hot water, but being a woman and wise she wouldn't let on. The whitening of the man's knuckles was the climax. Well, he might have to try again, perhaps with a damp tea towel for traction, but after a while, when supper was getting overdone and dried-out in the oven, he would have the sealer open and man vindicated once again. It was man's work and it had a glory never to be matched by fiddling around with patented tops that are supposed to pry up. Progress is splendid and modern packaging methods are right up there, but ah! for the vanished moment of kitchen muscles and adoration, even if both were amusing make-believe.—The Printed Word.

The new farmer's help was awakened by the farmer at 4 a.m., who told him to get up, as they were going to cut oats.

"Are they wild oats?" asked the boy.

"No," said the farmer.

"Then why do we have to sneak up on them in the dark."

"Hold it boys, I've found a better way!"

relatively few reports of the customary signs and portents which indicate the type of winter which looms ahead. Thickness of onion skins, the activity (or lack of it) around a beaver dam, and the nut-storing proclivities of squirrels traditionally have been regarded as certain indications of a severely cold winter. But so far, we haven't seen news reports of these obviously important developments—a fact which may, or may not indicate that a relatively mild winter is due.

Two New York youths stabbed the girl they were supposed to have loved because she could not choose between them. Seems to be one queer way to help the girl make up her mind. "Sensible people cannot be opposed to recreation on a Sunday. . . . The trouble comes in an attempt to commercialize sports on a Sunday. In other words, a day that is intended as one of rest and peace, can be turned into just the ordinary day of the week."—Carleton Place Canadian. And, may we ask, is there such a thing as "uncommercialized" sport in this day and age?"

WHAT IS HAPPENING TO THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

Milk production has declined from the peak of the middle forties. Production and distribution costs have and are still climbing. There has been a tremendous shift to the production of more fluid milk and less butterfat. These and other problems have created temporary problems and many changes need to be made.

A better research program, more practical health requirements and grade standards, sharper promotion of dairy products and lower distribution cards are industry needs. The individual dairyman doesn't have much control over these problems, but there are many changes he can make that will mean more dairy profits.

Lower mik production costs can be brought about by:

1. Raising the average size of the herd. There is a rapid increase in efficiency of production as the herd size increases to about 50 high producing cows. More family operated 30 to 50 commercial dairy farms with fewer sidelines are needed..

2. Making full use of labor saving equipment.

3. Using home-grown replacement calves.

4. Providing adequate but not elaborate buildings.

5. Making maximum use of good pasture and forage.

6. Making greater use of commercial concentrate feeds.

If dairy farmers are to make satisfactory profits during the months ahead, every possible step towards economical production should be taken.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

No Tarnish

A few pieces of camphor put in the drawer where silver is kept will keep it from tarnishing.

Baby's Shoes

By sandpapering the soles of the toddler's shoes before they are worn, you can prevent a few slips and falls.

Stuck Stamps

If postage stamps have become stuck together, lay a thin paper over them and run a hot iron over them. The mucilage will not be hurt.

When Painting

Try gluing a paper picnic plate to the underside of a paint can. It will catch all the drippings and stay right with the can when it is moved.

Wet Books

If you have spilled some water on some of the pages of a book, slip a blotter on each side of the wet pages and press them with a medium-hot iron until they are dry. This will prevent the leaves from crinkling.

Linoleum

To revarnish linoleum, see that the surface is clean and dry, then apply a new coat over the old. To varnish linoleum that has a wax coating, remove all traces of the wax by going over the surface with turpentine.

MOUNTAINEERS FARM FORUM

The meeting of the Mountaineers Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. John Clark on Monday evening, November 16th, with a good attendance. After the broadcast, the topic on "The Challenge of Dairy Substitutes" was discussed, under the leadership of Mr. John McCargar. It was agreed that through the use of imitation dairy products, many branches of agriculture are affected, such as: lowering fertility of the soil, grain markets for the dairy farmer would eventually be lost, and beef prices would go below cost. The buying power of the farmer would be curtailed, and this would also affect the urban consumer. To meet the challenge of dairy substitutes the farmer should reduce production costs and increase advertising. If more soybeans were grown in Canada, and fifty per cent. were purchased for the manufacture of margarine, this product would cost as much as butter. It was suggested that the color disc should be omitted and that the manufacturers should use another color distinctive from butter color.

After the business period and adjournment, cards were enjoyed and a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. John Clark.

FEED NEWS

FEED COSTS DOWN FROM THIS TIME LAST YEAR

It is a good thing to take a look at costs once in a while and actually compare figures with those of a month back or six months, or a year ago.

Usually we notice an increase in cost more than a decrease.

Feed has been dropping in price in the last year or two but we wonder if most feeders realize just how much feed costs have come down.

We checked this week's retail prices with the same period one year ago and found that there has been a substantial drop in most feeds.

Western Oats are down $10.00 a ton in the year and $16.00 a ton in the past two years.

Western Barley is down about $18.00 a ton compared with this time last year.

Corn is off $12.00 a ton in the year and $20.00 in two years.

Bran is about $8.00 less than this time last year and $16.00 less per ton than this time two years ago.

Shorts has dropped the same amount as Bran.

Middlings are off $7.00 a ton compared with November last year, and another $8.00 from the year before.

Gluten Feed is $10.00 under last year's price.

Oilcake Meal $13.00 per ton cheaper than last year, and $20.00 less than the year before.

These are important items in production costs and it should be encouraging to have costs lowered that much.

BROWN—In loving memory of our darling baby, Steven Brown, who passed away so suddenly three years ago, November 30th, 1950.

We lived in hope, we prayed in vain
That God would make him well again,
But 'twas His will that we must part
And leave us with a broken heart.
For it was in the cold winter
We stood by an open grave,
And watched them lower our darling,
We would of given our lives to have saved.
But we knew our thoughts couldn't waken
The little soul in the cold clay,
So we laid down our hearts beside him
And sadly walked away.

—Sadly missed by Mommie, Daddy and Brenda. 28p

"Worry or Worship"

"Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanks—giving let your requests be made known to God."—Phil. 4:6.

Prayer is an acknowledgement of faith; worry is a denial of faith. Prayer is putting my hand in God's, trusting His loving guidance; worry is withdrawing my hand, and denying His power to lead me. Prayer leads through the door of faith into the presence of God; worry leads through the door of anxiety into the darkness of loneliness and discouragement. If prayer rules the life, victory results.—Alliance Weekly.

Kids Demand Realistic Motor Transport Toys

Toy makers report they cannot get by with faulty imitations of automobiles, trucks, tractors and trailers with the present generation of small fry.

As a result, manufacturers of these miniature units, popular as Christmas gifts, are going the limit in making their small models realistic, down to the last detail.

Shown here is a typical example. This youngster is getting a real thrill out of his replica of a modern tractor-truck and semi-trailer. The semi-trailer is an aluminum reproduction, to exact scale, of Fruehauf's latest model "Road-Star" which features light weight construction along airplane lines as well as extreme sturdiness. This same sturdiness, according to a leading manufacturer of playthings, will enable the model to withstand the rugged usage to which youngsters subject this type of plaything.

100 OTTAWA & DISTRICT BOYS GETTING FREE 5-DAY TRIP TO NEW YORK CITY

One hundred boys from Ottawa and district are going to have a five-day all expense paid trip to New York City during the Christmas holidays, and two of these boys will very likely be from the Williamsburg-Winchester-Vernon area.

The popular boy contest is being sponsored by IGA Food Stores, and in this district by Barclay's IGA, Williamsburg, and Porteous' IGA, Vernon. Particulars of the contest and the trip appeared in the last issue of this paper, and advertisements with similar information were distributed when the contest started on November 11h. It continues until Saturday, December 19th, when the votes for each boy will be totalled and the winners announced.

The winners will be taken on an event-packed five days to the world's second largest city. They will leave for New York on December 26 and return December 31 in a private railway car.

Highlights of the trip will be a National Hockey League game between New York Rangers and Boston Bruins, a visit to the Statue of Liberty, a performance at the world's largest theatre, Radio City Music Hall, and a day-long tour of New York City, including such sights as Harlem, Chinatown, the Bowery, and Greenwich Village.

The trip for the two boys in this district is being made possible through the courtesy of Barclay's IGA in Williamsburg and Porteous' IGA in Vernon.

THE MIXING BOWL

BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

SPICES AND HERBS

Hello Homemakers! During the housecleaning spree of the kitchen, we sorted out spices to relegate to the top shelf until next year's pickling sessions. Then, one by one, each bottle was brought back to a new shelf on a door of the cupboard. We have been using them more frequently, with magic results. Our discovery has been, that the unexpected bit of spice or pinch of herbs transforms mere food into a memorable cuisine.

If you enjoy adventures in flavour, clip this list of ideas for using spices and herbs. By the way, use sparingly until you decide on family favorites.

Bay Leaves

1. Add a bay leaf to cooking water for tongue, corned beef.
2. Cook a piece of bay leaf with tomato juice or tomatoes for soups and gravies.
3. Crush a small piece (size of a dime) very fine and add to six servings of soup or stew.

Turmeric

1. Add a dash to creamed corn.
2. Add 1-8 tsp. turmeric to dumplings for four.

Celery Seed

1. Add a pinch of celery seed to boiled cabbage.
2. Add a pinch of celery seed to mustard sauce for ham.
3. Add a 1-2 tsp. to drop tea biscuit mixture.

Celery Salt

1. Add 1-4 tsp. (for 6 servings) to vegetable soups or meat stews.
2. Flavor oyster stew or fish crowder.
3. Add a pinch to scalloped tomatoes.

Chili Powder

(pungent and nippy)

1. Add 1-8 tsp. to spaghetti sauce or stewed tomatoes.
2. Add 1 tsp. to chili sauce in place of fresh hot peppers.
3. Stir 1 pinch into sweet relish for hot dogs or hamburgs.

Curry Powder

(A combination of spices)

1. Stir 1 pinch into salad dressing for cubed meats.
2. Use 1-8 tsp. in cream sauce. Pour sauce over poached eggs or
3. Stir 1-4 tsp. into flour mixture cauliflower.
for dumplings.

Ground Cinnamon

1. Combine with sugar to sprinkle over apple sauce, baked rice puddings, custard and apple pies.
2. Add a dash of cinnamon to hot cocoa.
3. Sprinkle over plain icing for a spice cake.

Nutmeg

1. Sprinkle over apple sauce, baked rice puddings, custards, eggnogs.
2. Add a dash to mashed turnips or mashed sweet potatoes.
3. Add a 1-4 tsp. to 8 servings of pudding sauce.
4. Use in fruit cakes.

Mace

Similar to nutmeg but milder)

1. Use 1 tsp. in a pound cake batter.
2. Add a dash to pea soup.
3. Add 1-4 tsp. to 2 cups sauce for fish.

Onion Salt

Use in all dishes which are improved by a little onion flavor—meat loaves, stews, gravies, sandwich fillings and such.

Allspice

(A single spice sold either ground or as berries)

1. Use in combination with cinnamon and cloves in spice cakes, cookies and fruit cakes.
2. Put whole berries in pickling syrups or spaghetti sauce.

Ground Cloves

(A strong flavor)

1. Rub over ham before baking.
2. Use 1 tsp. in fruit gelatines or syrup for candy.
3. Combine with cinnamon and all-spice for spice cakes. Use exact level measurements in recipe.

Whole Cloves

1. Use for pickling beets or red cabbage.
2. Stick 5 or 6 whole cloves in ham.
3. Add 1 or 2 whole cloves to boiling onions.

Peppercorns

1. Add 2 or 3 to cooking water for tongue or corned beef or smoked fish.
2. Grind peppercorns as a substitute for pepper.
3. Add 2 or 3 to split pea soup.

Sage

(a strong aroma)

Use sparingly in meat ball mixture, meat loaves, bread stuffings or meat sandwich fillings.

Cardamon Seed

Use 1-8 tsp. in stews or dumpling batter.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. C. F. asks: Should we store Christmas cakes in the tins or foil when placing in freezer?

Answer: We do not advise freezing fruit cakes since they ripen and mellow better in a cool, dry place. Wrap in aluminum foil and store in a crock, tin or plastic container.

Mrs. T. S. asks: What makes silver tarnish in a dishwasher?

Answer: Silver will tarnish in districts where water contains a lot of sulphides, even in dishpans. Soften the water with a conditioner and select a can or box of part soap and part detergent or a syndet.

Mrs. K. D. asks: What makes the attractive glaze on baker's fruit tarts?

Answer: This is accomplished at home by adding a half-teaspoon of apple jelly on top of each filled tart before baking.

Transporting Wine — Then and Now

The antiquity of wine is shrouded in mystery. In the Metropolitan Museum of Art, paintings from the tomb of Rekh-Mi-Re of Thebes, dating back to the 15th Century B.C., show two slaves carrying a wine jar supported by a stick. See illustration.

Coming to a more up-to-date period we see the donkey common to many of the more mountainous regions in Europe performing a similar task of transporting wine in skins or jars contained in baskets.

In fact the transportation of wine in some form or other from all races and all ages is a fascinating topic.

Contrast all of this antiquity with the modern age. Here is one of the most expensive and highly refined pieces of trailer equipment on the road today. It is a 3,000 Imperial Gallon tandem axle trailer of stainless steel supplied by Fruehauf Trailer Company of Canada, Ltd. It is insulated with two inches of cork covered with a stainless steel outer jacket. This is mounted on the latest type of Fruehauf chassis with a tandem rear axle. It is used for transporting wine from the Jordan Wineries in the Niagara Peninsula Ontario to the company's bottling plant at New Toronto.

This transition from wine jar to goat skin to wooden cask and finally to stainless steel trailer spells a development carried onward through hundreds and hundred of generations reaching back into the most remote periods of antiquity.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Longer Life

Shoes subjected to hard wear will not look worn out on the toes if you give them a daily rub with petroleum jelly.

The Basement

Large lumps of unslacked lime placed in dark corners of the cellar will greatly purify the air and absorb the moisture.

Ants

If you are troubled with ants coming into the house, put the skin of a cucumber where they congregate and they will soon disappear.

Rust on Stove

If your kitchen range is rusted, go over the surface with a soft cloth dipped in vinegar. If necessary, go over it a second time.

Removes Paint

Equal parts of ammonia and turpentine will remove paint from white clothing. Let soak until the paint disappears, then wash in warm soap suds.

Re-Size Rugs

To re-size rugs, dissolve one pound granulated glue to one gallon boiling water. Put the rug on the floor face down, and apply the hot glue to the back with a whitwash brush.

A Good Crease

A crease that is the equal of a tailor's crease can be made in the truosers by placing a dampened newspaper over the garment and then a dry one on top of it, and pressing with an iron.

Prevent Tarnish

Brass can be prevented from tarnishing by rubbing once a week or oftener with a piece of flannel moistened with light sewing machine oil. The metal will gradually assume the color of fine bronze, a far more artistic finish than that of polished brass, and one that can be maintained by the application of oil alone, without polishing.

Paint Brushes

It is well to remember these points about cleaning paint brushes: One used with oil paint should be cleaned with turpentine, followed by soap and warm water. With varnish, it should be cleaned with benzine or turpentine, followed by soap and warm water. With varnish, it should be cleaned with benzine or turpentine. With stain, clean with denatured alcohol or diluted lacquer, clean with lacquer thinner. With shellac, clean ammonia, rinsed with water. With with denatured alcohol or diluted lacquer, clean with lacquer thinner.

A Correction!

In the report of a Hobo Party in the Ormond News last week, the Press erroneously stated that the proceeds from the party went to the Vernon Branch of the Hospital Auxiliary. This should have read the "Ormond Unit," as it was that unit responsible for the party.

Underwent Operation.

Mrs. Gordon Fader underwent an operation for appendicitis at the District Memorial Hospital last Thursday. She returned to her home yesterday, where she is making satisfactory progress. The operation was performed by Dr .Howard Justus, of Chesterville, assisted by Dr. Wm. Byers, of town.

Convalescing At Home.

We are pleased to report that Mr. William (Bill) Brown has been released from the District Memorial Hospital and is convalescing at his home in Winchester. Bill was taken to hospital two weeks ago, seriously ill. Since that time his condition has improved. The Press joins with his many friends in wishing him a speedy return to good health.

CHESTERVILLE CHURCH GETS NEW MEMORIAL ORGAN

The ten parishioners of St. Mary's Church in Chesterville, who died in two world wars, soon will have an organ dedicated to their memory. A two-manual electric organ has been installed in the 102-year-old church by a Montreal firm. A plaque, mounted on the side of the instrument, will carry the names of church members who were killed in action.

KIRK RIDGE FARM FORUM

The November 23rd meeting of the Kirk Ridge Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. Lyall Allen. The topic under discussion was "Urban and Rural Tensions." The first question was "Do you find that the people living in your nearby towns are unsympathetic to farmers and their problems?" Since our towns make their living almost directly from the farm buying and many retired farmers live in these towns, there is not a great problem in this area. The second question asked was "What ways can be taken to help reduce some of these misunderstandings?" The farmers are doing all they can to learn and adopt all reasonable new practices; a revolution in farming is taking place at present. Farm and city people could mix more at social gatherings arranged for that purpose. The farmer should place more publicity in the newspapers about his needs and desires. Perhaps farm speakers could speak to city groups.

Too much publicity is given to the high price of fancy cattle. City people think that these are the average prices of cattle. Also, they do not know the cost of production of milk and milk products. Fancy packages and small quantities make for higher prices in food.

After the discussion cards were played and a lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Beulah Allen.

W. H. S. NEWS NOTES

(By Beverley Hunt)

A Victory Dance was held in the Town Hall on November 18th, in honour of the Winchester High School rugby team, which won all the games in their own round. All who played on the team were admitted free, along with their partners for the evening.

There is much hurrying and scurrying throughout the school as the staff and pupils prepare for the Annual Commencement, to be held this Friday. The Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Potvin, has been practising some selections for the Commencement, quite regularly. On Thursday, November 19th, the club went to the Town Hall to sing. Here the singers could be properly arranged and would become accustomed to singing on a stage.

In the face of all this lovely Fall weather and summer-like temperatures, it is difficult to realize that Christmas is now less than a month away. However, Santa will not find the girls of the Winchester High Home Economics classes unprepared, for already plans are being made for Christmas parties within the classes. As far as we know, though, these parties are restricted to girls only. Too bad, fellows!

BOWMAN—BILOW

A quiet wedding of local interest was solemnized in Morrisburg United Church parsonage by the Rev. Maxwell Allen last Thursday when Miss Nina Bilow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bilow, became the bride of Mr. Earl Bowman, son of Mrs. Naomi Bowman, Winchester.

Following a short honeymoon, the couple will reside in Winchester.
