Deputy-Reeve Marcel Ranger, Reeve Bruno Massie, Town Engineer G. E. Seguin of Hawkesbury, Clerk-Treasurer D. O. Collin and four new councillors, Arthur Laporte, Andy Menard, Laurier Lefebvre and Jacques Joly.

Town Council Asks Approval For $60,000 Spending On Resurfacing Side Streets

Plans for resurfacing several streets this summer at a cost of $60,000 are included in the road maintenance by-law passed by town council at Tuesday's meeting. The total road maintenance costs are estimated at $113,100 and must be approved by the Highways Department.

Streets which it is proposed to resurface with hot mix over a solid gravel bed:

- Albert Street, leading to LaPorte Gardens from Main.
- Clement Street.
- Dominion Street from William to St. James.
- Macdonald Blvd. (Glencoe) from St. George to Kincardine.
- Kincardine Street, from Main to Macdonald.
- Park Street, from Lochiel to Derby.
- Peel Street, from the East boundary to Bishop.
- Margaret Street.
- St. Paul Street, from Bishop to East boundary.

The plan also calls for good patching with hot mix of Dominion Street, from Kenyon north to McDougall Ave.

Council was informed the annual meeting of the Counties Mutual Aid Association will be held in the K of C hall, here, Monday, Feb. 15th, with the local fire brigade playing hosts.

The resignation of Lucien Ravary from the brigade, for reasons of health, was regrettably accepted. New applications of Donald Binette and Douglas Turton as firemen were referred to the department for placing on the vacancies list.

A delegation from the Youth Drop-In Centre was present to discuss future arrangements. The Centre has been closed since the resignation of Norman Laperle and council feels reorganization is in order with the young people providing their own supervision. Council would provide the heated quarters in the basement of the former post office at $1 a year but would like to see the young people accepting more responsibility as to acceptable supervision and financing. Several accounts payable will be honored by council.

Answering a request by council, the Ontario Department of Transport has surveyed the local situation and indicates a full time driver examiner here is not needed. It will study the feasibility of sending an examiner here more frequently than once a week.

Chief of Police Cleroux reported no juvenile and family court has been held here for three months owing to the illness of Judge Cloutier. The Clerk was authorized to contact the Attorney-General's Department in the matter.

Mrs. Zoe Grant Is President Harmony Glen School Group

The annual meeting of the Glengarry Association for Retarded Children was held in the Harmony Glen School on January 13th. The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education recently approved the name for the Retarded School for Glengarry "Harmony Glen School". The building is the former Alexandria Public School.

The meeting expressed appreciation to the following: 1. The Lions Club for its generosity in dressing children who were in need of warm clothing.

2. Gill Caley and her associates in the Glengarry District High School for providing entertainment and gifts at Christmas time.

An effort was made last year to include instruction in physical education and music. The meeting decided to appeal again to the SD&G Board of Education for instructors.

Since some of the children have reached the age of eighteen, there will be the problem of providing adult training next year. A survey will be made to ascertain whether there is a sufficient number to warrant a workshop in Alexandria.

Authorization was given for the payment of premiums by the association for children not covered by insurance.

Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Zoe Grant; vice-pres., Hector Besner; recording secretary, Mrs. Edwin McDonald; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ewen McDonald; treasurer, Michael Barbara.

Directors: Laurier Deguire, Lancaster Township; John Sinclair, Maxville; Mrs. Alex MacMillan, Kenyon Township; Mrs. Archie McDonald, Charlottetown Township; Maurice Pynenburg, Finch area; Romuald Giroux, Green Valley. Publicity, Angus R. MacDonell; association representative to Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education, Mrs. Zoe Grant.

There was a good representation of parents of the Harmony Glen School Children at the meeting. At present there seems to be a lack of interest in the community for this worthwhile association. An increase in membership would be appreciated. Membership fees will be accepted at Barbara's Store Alexandria.

January Was Warmer Than Last

January was considerably colder than normal but less easy to credit is the fact the month was some four degrees warmer than was January 1970.

George Hamilton, weather observer at Dalhousie Mills, notes the mercury dropped to a low of 33 below on Jan. 13th and 26th. On seven occasions it hit 20 below or lower. The high was 40 above on Jan. 4th.

Snow fell on 13 days for a total of 22 inches, which is average for January. But rain was scarce at 24 inches. That was about three-quarters of an inch less than normal fall.

Afternoon Train To Stop Daily

Good news for CNR travellers from Montreal came on the weekend when the local agent, Chris Walton, was notified Train No. 37 will stop here daily at 6:42 p.m. No. 37 is a new daily train leaving Montreal at 5:35 p.m. and it was intimated last week that it would not stop in Alexandria. Later information is to the effect it will stop daily at Dorval and Alexandria.

This will be the only westbound evening train stopping here except on weekends.

38 Below Was Wednesday Reading

Tuesday night was a cold one and a record low for this winter was the 38 below reported in a 7 a.m. reading Wednesday by George Hambleton, Dalhousie Mills weather observer. By 9 a.m., he said, the mercury was up to 33 below and the sun was shining.

At Maxville, reports Mrs. Keith Franklin, the low was 36 Wednesday morning at 7:15. She reports it the lowest reading this winter but no record as the mercury dropped to 40 below in the late 1950's.

Five Charter Members Honored At Golden Date Glen Sandfield LOL

An event of local historical interest was held at Glen Sandfield on Friday, January 29, when Loyal Orange Lodge No. 2813 celebrated its fiftieth anniversary at a largely attended dinner in the Orange Hall. Representatives were present from Lodges at Vankleek Hill, Pine Grove, Maxville, Barb, Cassburn, Dunvegan and McCrimmon. Probably the visitor who came the farthest distance was Wyman Hay of Amherstburg whose father, Donald W. Hay, was a charter member of Glen Sandfield Lodge.

The sitting Master of the Lodge, Arnold McRae, who is also District Master of LOL was Master of Ceremonies. Greetings from Grand Lodge and from County Lodge were given by County Master Bill Connors. Rev. W. H. Baugh, minister of the Glen Sandfield United Church, also spoke briefly. The head table was piped in in true Glengarry style by Heather McPherson.

An outline of the Lodge's history of the past fifty years was given by Manel Hay. Particularly interesting were the minutes of the first meeting of the Lodge which was held on January 28, 1921 in what was known as the Katie Duncan house east of Brodie. This was the meeting place of the Lodge until 1923 when the present Orange Hall in the village of Glen Sandfield was built.

The first officers of the Lodge were:

Donald A. McDonald—Master.
D. M. McRae—Deputy Master.
Gilbert McRae—Recording Secretary.

Rev. Peter Mathieson—Chaplain.
John M. Hay—Financial Secretary.

D. H. McKenzie—Treasurer.
Donald W. Hay—Director of Ceremonies.

Mack McCuaig—Lecturer.
Murdie Dewar, Roddie McCuaig, Dan McKenzie—Committee.

One of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of 50 Year Jewels to the five living charter members. Four of these were present, namely Donald A. McDonald, D. M. McRae, Gilbert McRae and Angus McLennan. The fifth member, Kenneth McNeil, was unable to be present because of illness but he was represented by his sister, Mrs. Neil MacLachlan. The presentation of the

Child Died

Andree Menard, five-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denis Menard of Alexandria, died in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, on Tuesday afternoon following a few hours illness. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Menard of Green Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Laroque of the 9th Lancaster.

The funeral was held this morning from Morris Funeral Home to Sacred Heart Church with service at 10:30 a.m.

Cattle Saved When Barn Lost

A barn on the farm of Gerald Trotter, one mile west of Alexandria, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon. Twelve heifers, a pony and farm machinery were removed to safety before the barn was levelled by the flames.

Alexandria firemen were on the scene for some two hours but hampered by a shortage of water had to content themselves with saving the adjacent silo.

The fire is thought to have originated about 2 p.m. from a faulty electric heater. The barn had been renovated late last year and the loss is estimated at $5,000. No insurance was carried, it is reported.

Public Meetings Planned To Further New High School For Northern Stormont

Store Burgled

Some $50 in small change was taken during Thursday night of last week when the Menard Fairway Centre on Kenyon St. West was entered.

The thieves pried open a door lock. A similar means of entry was used the same night at Newington when the IGA store and the post office were burgled. Police believe the same thieves may have been involved.

Police also report a stereo tape recorder was removed from a parked car Tuesday night. It was the second such theft here in a week and they report this type of theft from cars is becoming common.

Mrs. T. S. Graham Died At Ottawa

The former Rita Bradley of Alexandria, Mrs. Tom S. Graham of Aylmer, Que., died in Ottawa Civic Hospital, Friday, Jan. 29th. Her death at the age of 50 followed a lengthy illness.

A daughter of Mrs. George A. Bradley and the late Mr. Bradley, she attended the local schools and had resided in Aylmer, Que., since her marriage.

To mourn she leaves her husband, her mother and four children: Cheryl, Mrs. Peter Mirsky of Ottawa; Judith, Mrs. John Jevack of Aylmer, Que.; Scott and Ruth, at home.

Two brothers and two sisters also survive: Earl Bradley of Lachute, Que.; Stanley and Ruth, Mrs. Harold Stinson, Alexandria; Lois, Mrs. G. C. Fisher of Ottawa.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon to the Presbyterian Church in Aylmer, Que. Burial was in Bellevue Cemetery in that town.

SNOW QUEEN FROM THE INDIES—A girl who grew up in the West Indies far from our snow belt, reigns as Snow Queen this week during carnival time at Iona Academy. tain further discussions concerning possible future plans for the development of more adequate services for these students as opportunities arise."

The Board of Education reconsidered its priorities and retained the Stormont High School as its first priority, followed closely by a fourth secondary school in the City of Cornwall.

At this point a number of concerned ratepayers in rural Stormont determined to do what they

Carnival Now On At Iona Academy

"If you want to learn a language, go and live where that language is spoken", advises Magaly Medrano, Snow Queen of the Iona Academy Winter Carnival being held this week at St. Raphael's.

She speaks from experience. Magaly (Ma-gal-y) an 18-year-old Spanish girl from Santo Domingo came to Iona Academy last year knowing only the Spanish language. Today she not only speaks English with fluency but is also picking up the French language. Runners-up in the contest were 14-year-old Kim Auld of Alexandria, and 18-year-old Carole Garand of Brockville. They will assist the Queen as first and second princesses, respectively.

The girls were chosen from six class representatives by a panel of judges on Monday evening.

A full program of events is taking place this week. Wednesday's schedule started off with Junior and Senior Volleyball with Char-Lan, followed by an evening skating party. A snow sculpture is Thursday's afternoon activity with a moonlight sleight ride following. Friday has a full calendar of events including soccer, football, broomball and tobogganing. The week will end with a Carnival Dance on Friday night in the Iona gym.

SNOW QUEEN AT LANCASTER—Nicole Charlebois, a student at Glengarry District High School here, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurier Charlebois, Bainsville, reigned as Snow Queen at the Lancaster area Snow Weekend. It was reported a grand success despite low temperatures and drifting snow. Crowned at a Friday night dance at Char-Lan High School in Williamstown, Nicole is flanked by Mrs. Fernand Samson and Mrs. John Petrie, both of Bainsville, who were in charge of the Queen competition.

EDITORIAL

IT'S OUR OPINION

A Mail Drop On Main

A notable improvement in the Catherine Street, sidewalk leading to the post-office suggests that the town maintenance staff is paying more attention to this hazardous, heavily-used stretch. We can vouch for the fact their work is appreciated by at least a handful of citizens who have expressed their satisfaction to us following a recent editorial reference to the condition of that walk.

Much less hazardous is that stretch of sidewalk most of the time but it remains a threat to many older citizens. From two separate sources last week came a suggestion we think has much merit.

Why, they ask, could there not be a letter drop installed on Main Street near the former post office which would eliminate that walk down Catherine Street for people intent only on mailing a letter? It could be emptied by a member of the post office staff before each mail departure and would prove particularly popular through the winter months.

In that connection we are reminded that removal of the outside letter drop has left a gaping hole in the front of the old post office building that could most practically be filled by restoration of the original mail drop. The building is now municipal property and we imagine town council would be more than willing to co-operate in providing this convenient postal service. A stamp vending machine might also be returned to a spot near the letter drop.

Postmaster Joly might have to cut through a lot of red tape before moving postal authorities in the matter. They might require convincing as to the need for a drop box little more than one hundred yards from the new post office. They can not be aware of the dread and dismay with which so many of our citizens approach that stretch of walk.

If mail drops can be provided in quantity in larger towns and cities, we see no reason Alexandria could not rate at least one. If enough of our citizens see sense in the suggestion a word to the postmaster just might bring results.

Winter Has Its Good Points Too

At last we've got rid of January and wasn't that a wicked week of wind and snow and cold we had to survive to get to February? Two-faced Janus must have been in a particularly foul mood as he tried to bar our entrance into the shortest month of the year. We've made it though, and isn't it a relief to realize how much closer we are to spring?

February has been known to carry a clout, too, and just in case we're due for more weeks of heavy going it might ease our way to dwell on the nice points of our Canadian winter. A columnist in the Renfrew Mercury-Advance, Margaret Hamilton was musing along those lines just last week.

Perhaps you can add to these good points she sees in winter:

First of all, no bugs. No flying, buzzing, biting, crawling, chewing, pestiferous insects. None at all.

No crashing thunderstorms with horribly livid lightning, waking one out of a sound sleep around 3:00 a.m.

No sweltering, sticky, breathless spells of heat and humidity, lasting day after day until you feel the whole world, with you in it, will be reduced to a puddle of grease.

No lawn grass growing like mad, nor weeds turning into tree-like monstrosities almost overnight.

Morning sunshine turning the whole countryside into a dazzling white wonderland spangled with diamonds.

Tree branches festooned with lacy filigree, like a dream picture from fairyland.

A round silver moon shining from a sky of dark blue velvet, showing nary a trace of an astronaut's boot. And a million scintillating stars, including a few sister planets.

The aurora borealis sweeping up from the north, a quivering dancing fantasy of indescribable beauty.

A glowing wood fire, fed with hefty chunks of hard maple and beech.

The delectable aroma of roast beef and baked potatoes, with oven-fresh apple pie and bubbling coffee.

Our favorite young folk stomping in with rosy-red cheeks and eyes like stars, from some exhilarating rendezvous with skates, skis, or snowmobile. Much more reassuring to their old-fashioned elders than if they had been lolling on some exotic beach clad in little more than a couple of fig leaves.

The chummy winter birds and the fun of supplying at least a small portion of their body-warming food. The summer birds independent critters that they are, couldn't care less about us and our hand-outs.

The morning and evening beginning to lengthen out a little more with each succeeding day, bringing hope that, after all, spring can't be all that far off.

And again, no bugs.

Margaret paints such a pleasant word picture of winter she almost has us in a mood to rue the approach of spring. Almost, but not quite.

Books That Need Reprinting

Books with a Glengarry theme are in demand but are almost unattainable, except possibly those of Ralph Connor that have been republished as paperbacks.

We were reminded of that unhappy circumstance last week when answering two requests for information on the writings of Alexandria's Dorothy Dumbrell. One correspondent wanted information on where she could purchase "Up And Down The Glens" or "Braggarts In My Step", for a friend in Vancouver. The other sought a list of the author's writings and their availability.

Such requests reach our desk periodically and we can only answer that these books by Dorothy Dumbrell are out of print and almost impossible to latch on to. Recently we heard of one copy of Up And Down The Glens selling at auction for more than $25 — a collector's item.

At a time when Alexandria is moving at last toward boasting its own public library it seems a shame that that library may not have on its shelves these works by Mrs. Smith, especially those of a historical nature. Book publishing is an expensive business involving risk the publishing companies hesitate to take unless they feel they have a best seller. When it is considered the demand may be limited they are wary even of reprinting a book that sold out its first edition.

In that category they probably class these books with a Glengarry background and so they are not being reprinted despite the demand for copies.

One hope remains that these books by Dorothy Dumbrell will find a place in our library. Ontario schools are putting more emphasis on local history and one result is that to our desk come requests for Glengarry's early history from students right across the province. There is no available thesis to fill that need and we understand the Department of Education is considering some method of encouraging the reproduction of selected books as aids to the teaching of the history of early Ontario.

Stepped in history Glengarry surely is. Any such educational project would almost certainly include the reprinting of books that dealt with the early days of Ontario's first county. We can hope some of the works of Dorothy Dumbrell will again be made available to fill a void.

The Rule Of St. Benedict

The best way to deal with campus unrest might involve restoration of the Rule of St. Benedict, suggests an editorial in the Chapel Hill Weekly of North Carolina. It reads:

Victor S. Bryant, the Durham attorney who is a member of the executive committee of the University of North Carolina Board of Trustees, offered the most cogent rationale we have encountered for the University's revised disruptions policy.

In presenting the case for the revised policy, Mr. Bryant cited the "Rule of St. Benedict," to wit:

"The Rule of St. Benedict perhaps bears some similarity between today's student in the University and the sixth-century pilgrim monk in the Benedictine monastery. With some liberties taken and recognizing some distinctions I give you in part St. Benedict's Rule.

"If a pilgrim monk come from a distant region and desire to dwell in the monastery as a guest, let him be received for as long a time as he wishes, provided that he is content with customs of the place as they are, and does not disturb the monastery by exorbitant wants, but is simply content with what he finds.

"Should he reasonably, modestly and charitably censure or remark upon any defect, let the abbot consider the matter prudently, lest perchance the Lord have sent him for this very end. . .

"But if he be found troublesome or vicious, not only should he not be made a member of the community but he should be told politely to depart, lest others be corrupted by his ill-doing.

"And if he does not then depart but continues in his contumacious way, let two stout monks, in the name of God, explain the matter to him."

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest MacPhail had their son Donald K. MacPhail, of Westfield, N.J., visit them for the weekend after his attendance at a conference in Montreal. Sunday visitors with Mrs. J. N. Fitzgerald were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Leroy, Danny and David, of St. Eugene.

Jack Hayman was the lucky winner of the Lions' Club draw this week.

There was a general meeting of the Manor Auxiliary last week and some changes were made in the schedule of coming events and meetings. Since there are several church meetings held on the first Tuesday of the month it was decided to hold the monthly euchre parties on the second Tuesdays. There will be a euchre at the Manor next Tuesday, February 9, at 8.00 p.m.

General meetings will be held from now on on the third Tuesday of the month in the evening—except for the next one which will be at the Manor at 2.15 p.m. Feb. 16. This exception is because of the annual Maxville Manor Corporation meeting scheduled for that night. The Auxiliary have a membership canvass underway, and are earnestly soliciting public support and new ideas for fund-raising projects in the coming year.

For those who enjoy seeing our local talent being recognized on television there is another program coming up. Steven Merritt, of Dunvegan, will be Max Ferguson's guest on the afternoon program "5 North Maple Street", CBC, 1.30 p.m. February 11.

Kenyon Agricultural Association were glad to welcome many friends and exhibitors to their annual meeting last Saturday. There was a particularly good representation of light horsemen, from Kars, Leithrim, Newington and Carleton Place, and a delegation from the Rodeo Group of Cornwall.

Maxville High School is planning a Winter Carnival for the 19th and 20th of February—more details next week.

UNITED CHURCH HELD
ANNUAL

The erection of an automatically lighted church sign was the major project reported by the Board of Stewards of Maxville United Church at the annual meeting of the congregation. A delicious pot-luck supper preceded this meeting, held on Monday, January 18th, in the church basement.

The treasurer's report was given by Mr. Harold Willis and showed that all financial commitments had been met. Representatives from all the church organizations showed in their reports that their organizations were functioning satisfactorily. Reporting for the session was Harold Crawford, Mrs. Gregor McEwen, leader; for the baby band, Mrs. Howard McEwen; for the choir, Mrs. Verna MacGregor, secretary; for the Sunday School, the Rev. W. E. Henderson and William Wilkinson, treasurer; for the U.C.W., Mrs. Gordon Winter; recording secretary, and Mrs. Donald C. McIntosh, treasurer; for the Board of Stewards, Mrs. Hubert Quart; for the Hi-C, Miss Gwen McIntosh, secretary; for the explorers, Mrs. Henderson, leader and for the Christian Education Committee, Mrs. Willis, treasurer.

New stewards appointed for the next three years were Keith McDougall, Douglas Nevin, D. Archie Campbell and a representative from the Hi-C.

A vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Henderson was extended for their work during the year. Mr. Henderson, who chaired the meeting, closed it with the benediction.

CLUB TO AFFILIATE

The weatherman has been most unkind to the "Young at Heart Club" Maxville's Over 50 group, and twice in January meetings have had to be cancelled. Even the young at heart are not going to battle sub zero temperatures and howling blizzards.

But it was not all disappointments in January. The club now owns a record player, made available to them at a price they could afford through the generosity of John Sinclair. They have bought four records, have had a donation of another one from the Jim McCartneys, and have started a fund to buy more.

They also now own their own bingo equipment. Previously they had to borrow from the Maxville Manor, courtesy of Archie Hughes.

Not a bad start for 1971, when one considers this group only started in September, 1970!

The weather has also delayed the start of craft room activities. Nevertheless, the ladies have a patchwork quilt in hand, and the men assembled the various card tables used by the group, many of which were definitely useful, and have given them a new lease in life.

The club's executive, weather permitting, hope to be able to arrange something a little special for Valentine's Day, which they will celebrate on February 17th.

A vote was taken of the members present at the January 20th meeting. It was decided that the "Young at Heart Club" senior citizen group, should join USCO, (United Senior Citizens of Ontario), which is the Provincial organization of senior citizens. By virtue of joining this, the "Young at Heart" group automatically becomes a member of the National group.

Mrs. Rod. MacDonald, Mechanic Street E., Maxville, and Mrs. Mac McEwen, Main Street S., are now the lucky owners of original oil paintings, of which we wish them much pleasure.

INCREASED GIVINGS
REPORTED AT CHURCH
ANNUAL

Reports submitted at the annual business meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Maxville, indicated that the year 1970 had been one of the most successful financial years in the history of the congregation.

The meeting was held in the school room of the Church on Monday evening, January 11th, following a pot luck supper served by the ladies of the congregation. The minister, Rev. Iver D. MacIver, presided, and Mrs. R. W. MacLennan acted as secretary for the meeting.

In the report of the Kirk Session, the clerk, John W. McEwen, reviewed the work of the past year noting that the major accomplishments of the Board of Managers had been the renovation and redecoration of the Church vestry, and the complete replacement of the front verandah on the manse with the enclosing of the upper balcony. In addition, the exterior woodwork and the roof of the manse had been newly painted during the summer. Mr. McEwen congratulated and commended the Ladies' Aid Society on having subscribed their full commitment of $1,000 to the Maxville Manor for the furnishing of a room which is designated by a plaque bearing the name of St. Andrew's Church.

The congregational treasurer, Mrs. R. W. MacLennan, reported that contributions to the General Fund had been considerably more than those of the previous year, and that, with all obligations met, a balance of $914.70 remained in the fund. She intimated also that the amount given to the General Assembly's Budget Fund was $2,097 which was $200 more than the congregation's allocation and exceeded the amount given in any former year. An additional amount of $713 had been given to the National Development Fund and Inter-Church Aid.

The treasurers of the Afternoon and Evening Auxiliaries of the Women's Missionary Society reported for their respective Auxiliaries showing that a total of $1,180.45 had been raised during the year, and the report of the Ladies' Aid Society showed that the year had been ended with a balance of $875.58 in its funds.

The officers for the year 1971 are as follows:

The Kirk Session—Rev. Iver D. MacIver, moderator; John W. McEwen, clerk; D. A. Cumming, J. H. MacKillican, A. N. MacLean, W. S. McLean, and A. C. Vallance.

The Board of Managers—For one year: N. D. Ferguson, James McCartney, J. W. McEwen. For two years, George Helmsma, G. T. Marriott, R. F. McRae. For three years, Edward Carter, J. W. Vallance, Hendrikus Veenstra.

Church School Superintendent—John W. McEwen.

Ushers—E. Cameron, D. A. Cumming, N. D. Ferguson, H. W. Graham, J. R. Kennedy, R. C. MacEwen, C. MacLeod, I. D. MacLeod, N. A. MacRae, R. F. McRae, D. F. Munro, J. W. Vallance.

Trustees—J. W. McEwen, J. H. MacKillican, W. S. McLean, R. J. MacLeod.

Congregational secretary-treasurer—Mrs. R. W. MacLennan.

Auditors—Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, W. S. McLean.

Organist and choir director—Mrs. I. D. MacIver. Assistant organists—Mrs. H. W. Graham, Mrs. W. S. McLean. Caretakers—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. MacDonald.

On behalf of the congregation, A. C. Vallance extended a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. MacIver for their leadership during the past year, and D. A. Cumming spoke in appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. MacDonald in their capacity as caretakers of the Church property.

Following the meeting of the congregation, the Board of Managers met briefly and elected James McCartney as its chairman for the year 1971.

WI HAD MEETING

The Maxville Women's Institute meeting, held on January 29th, covered a variety of subjects.

Mrs. Rod. McRae, branch president, chaired the meeting, with Mrs. Stanley Kippen, branch secretary, taking notes.

Mrs. L. J. McNaughton was hostess and took for her theme the day's motto, "Take off your hat to the past and your coat to the future". Mrs. McNaughton told of the simple beginnings of the Women's Institute, a desire on the part of Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless to help farm wives to better their living conditions. An idea that has blossomed and grown to the widespread, all embracing organization the Women's Institute is today. An organization which chose as its official motto "For Home and Country", and has inspired literally thousands of women to do their best for both. Definitely we should take off our hats to the past.

Arrangements were made for a birthday party to be given the Maxville Manor residents on February 22nd, Mrs. Olivia Doth was elected program convener, and Mrs. James McCartney for refreshments. Mrs. L. J. McNaughton will purchase the necessary gifts.

A delegate was appointed for the Women's Institute Officers' Conference to be held in Guelph the last week in April.

Notice was given of a two-day course in "Crewel Work" to be held in May. Maxville members will be joined by ladies from the Moose Creek branch for this instruction.

The convener for the planned pre-Easter handicraft and bake sale told the members she fully agreed with Mrs. McNaughton's admonition to "Take off your hat to the past". Now, she was asking them to complete the motto and "Take off their coats to the future", and work for the forthcoming sale.

Mrs. Gordon Munro and Mrs. Domina Carriere were named as committee members for the handicrafts, and Mrs. Olivia Doth as bake sale convener, to choose her help as necessary.

The sale convener then displayed samples of items, and material for making these and other arti-

That the members were indeed willing to "take off their coats—" was quickly realized from the way they chose their work materials and offered other donations of sale items.

Mrs. D. Carriere, Mrs. J. McCartney and Mrs. O. Doth all won prizes in the quiz game conducted by Mrs. R. McRae.

The next meeting will be held on February 26th, in Maxville Community Hall, with Mrs. Howard McEwen as hostess.

The afternoon concluded with tea and goodies, spiced with animated conversation between members.

Char-Lan Doctor's Committee Reports Snow Weekend A Success

(by Jane Allen)

Although pounded by high winds laden with snow, and very low temperatures the Snow Weekend in support of the Townships of Charlottenburgh and Lancaster and the Village of Lancaster Medical Center was a howling success.

Exhausted chairmen and their workers compared notes early this week, and came to the conclusion all the heartaches and headaches were well worth it.

With the exception of the Children's Carnival which was postponed, all events took place. Because of the blocked roads and severe cold the carnival will be staged on February 13. At this time it is hoped that all the children of the townships will be able to get to the Lancaster rink.

St. Andrew's Church and the Ladies of Lancaster were host to approximately 250. The home baked beans were delicious, and the assortment of pies was amazing. It was impossible not to find a favorite filling, and there were all kinds of seconds to be tasted.

Char-Lan High School was crowded with teens and adults for the choosing of the Snow Queen. Estimates ran at 150 adults, and 300 students. Pretty Miss Nicole Charlebois won the coveted crown, and was supported by Princesses Brenda McRae, Laurie Brown, Mary Lee Simonds and Nancy Lunan.

St. Joseph's Center entertained a packed house at the adult dance. Although the music of Johnny Brunet was excellent, it was the outstanding lunch of the ladies of Williamstown that made this party one of the best. Everyone present enjoyed themselves.

Toes froze and cheeks were rosened on Sunday as the sun shone to make it a magnificent Canadian winter's day. Seventeen teams left North Lancaster on the points rally. Some 80 to 90 snowmobiles packed the fields of Hugh James McCuaig. The bright colors of the machines and the gay outfits of the spectators made a pleasing picture. Thrills and spills, rides and visiting were enjoyed by everyone.

The ladies of Lancaster Township served approximately 600 people with tasty spaghetti and wonderful rolls. The trophies were presented and Rev. Sylvester Theoret thanked everyone on behalf of the Doctor's committee. But the community owes to Rev. Father Theoret a strong vote of thanks for it was he who originally came up with the Snow Weekend project, chaired the committees, planned and saw to it that all plans worked out. Now in the final analysis he is settling up the bills and can say definitely that the weekend was a financial success.

In the early evening groups of snowmobiles could be seen leaving for home. Although we now live in a motorized age, once again the fields of Glengarry and Charlottenburgh saw families crossing them on their way home after attending a community get-together. Maybe this weekend did more than just raise money for a community medical center. It brought together, in different places, families and neighbors who just don't have the time to visit each other any more.

On February 11th the Doctor's Committee will meet to learn the final details of the weekend. At this time a statement on the future plans of the committee will be prepared and made public. The situation at present has been similar to the "chicken and the egg". Who comes first... the doctor or the center. We have a part-time dentist, we will have a full-time doctor April 1, and we have definite proof now the community wants a Medical Center.

Public . . .

On November 18, 1970 a large number of ratepayers met with Board Trustees and Officials, along with Osie F. Villeneuve, MPP. Two positive forward steps were taken at that meeting. Arrangements were initiated for the formation of a "Committee for the Establishment of a Stormont High School", this committee to be made up of representatives of ratepayers from all portions of the affected area. Mr. Villeneuve assured the gathering that if enough students were available to warrant such a school, and if the idea had general support from the ratepayers, that he would attempt to arrange an interview for committee members with the Minister of Education.

The Stormont High School is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $3,200,000 to $3,600,000.

In terms of secondary school taxes across the three United Counties this means an increase of one mill in the tax rate over a twenty-year period. Costs of transportation are estimated to be very similar but it is anticipated that savings would accrue to the Board through the establishment of a somewhat higher teacher-student ratio in the larger school. Consequently, it is expected that the taxpayer will see little or no increase in taxes as a result of establishing the Stormont High School. About six percent of the cost of running a secondary school goes to the cost of the building itself while about 70% refers to salaries of the personnel in the schools.

OPTIONS FOR SECONDARY EDUCATION IN STORMONT COUNTY

In the first few months of the jurisdiction of the County Board of Education, Board Administrators reviewed the various opportunities for education existing at that time in these United Counties. Assessing the situation for Secondary School education in Cornwall, Pinch, Kenyon and Roxborough Townships, four options were considered:

1. Retain the Status Quo;
2. Expand Maxville High School and close North Stormont;
3. Close both Maxville and North Stormont and expand Glengarry District and North Dundas District High Schools;
4. Build a new High School for that area.

Following is a brief summary of the considerations of each option in turn.

1. Retain the Status Quo—North Stormont High School is simply too small to be able to offer economically a full program of its own. Consequently, all Vocational Education must be obtained from North Dundas and a very restricted program must be offered to the Academic students. Academic students are virtually unable to choose either Technical or Commercial options. French-speaking students must also go elsewhere to obtain a secondary education. If all students were to be brought back to North Stormont to provide a complete bilingual composite education a total of 380 students would be eligible to attend. In other words the school population would be less than half of the recommended minimum for a composite high school.

A similar situation would exist in Maxville High School with a total population of 335 students.

Both buildings are in need of considerable extension of facilities.

2. Expand Maxville High School and Close North Stormont—If all the secondary school students from Roxborough Township attended Maxville High School, the population of that school would be increased by 135 students making a total of 470 students but we would still be far short of the minimum recommend-

Similarly if all Roxborough Township students went to North Stormont, an increase of 180 students would accrue to that High School but the total population of 560 students would still leave us short of an economically viable unit of education.

3. Expansion of North Dundas and Glengarry District High Schools—

When consideration was given to the closing of both North Stormont and Maxville High Schools and their students sent to North Dundas and Glengarry District High Schools, the expected enrolment for North Dundas was increased to 1369 and for Glengarry District to 1338. Any significant population growth in either area would probably result in the need for another school and, in any case, the increase in population would result in extensive additions to either school.

At the same time students from Cornwall Township would have to continue attending schools in the City of Cornwall. Cornwall High Schools need more accommodation and provision would still have to be made for over 300 Cornwall Township students. School programs are naturally geared for the urban student and so the rural student misses out on many school activities, particularly those of an extra-curricular nature.

Whether they attended North Dundas or Glengarry District High School, students from Roxborough Township would have to spend an unreasonable amount of time travelling on school buses. No suitable arrangements could be made for French-speaking students from the Chrysler area, except to send them to schools outside of the three United Counties.

4. Build a new High School in Stormont County—From a study of the foregoing considerations the Board turned to the establishment of a new High School in Stormont to serve those students now in the North Stormont and Maxville High Schools plus those high school students residing in the Township of Cornwall. The Stormont High School would have a population well over the recommended minimum of 800 students and would thus be able to provide full and well-rounded programs of study designed to fulfill the requirements of the high school students of the area.

MAXVILLE SENIOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The North Stormont High School would not likely continue to function as a school but the Maxville High School would be converted to serve as a Senior Elementary School with a population in the neighborhood of 200 students. This Senior Elementary School would consist of one gymnasium, one Home Economics room, one Industrial Arts room, one Library Resource Centre, one Science laboratory, and six regular classrooms. The 1914 portion of the building, which is now sub-standard because of its wooden construction, would be either removed or converted to other uses. This Senior Elementary School, in addition to making better facilities and programs available to students in Grades Seven and Eight, would also relieve the anticipated heavy enrolments in the Maxville, Moose Creek, Monkland, and Roxmore Schools.

STORMONT OR CORNWALL

In December the County Board of Education was faced with a decision concerning the acceptance of the right to borrow over three million dollars from the Capital Aid Corporation for a fourth Secondary School in the City of Cornwall. The Board voted to reserve the money for the fourth City High School but Rural Trustees wanted to refrain from a final commitment lest such a move would weaken the chances of obtaining the Board's first priority, the Stormont High School. For this stand a local radio commentator referred to them later as "dogs in the manger." However, the feeling is general in the rural areas that, in fact, a prior approval of the fourth High School in the City would seal the doom of the Stormont High School. It is generally felt that the building of a Stormont High School would not preclude obtaining an approval of a fourth school in the city. That approval is virtually certain.

While most agree with Board officials that both schools are necessary, many rural ratepayers look at the facilities for Secondary School education in the proposed Stormont High School area and feel that their High School students do not share an "equivalent quality of educational opportunity."

Review Year At Martintown

A pot-luck supper preceded the annual meeting of St. Andrew's United Church, Martintown, which was held in the church hall recently. A representative congregation met at seven p.m. for supper and an hour of fellowship.

The meeting opened with a brief worship service, led by the minister, Rev. Douglas MacKay, who chose as his theme "They who wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

Mr. MacKay was chairman for the business period which followed. Kenneth McDermid recorded the proceedings in the absence of the congregational secretary, Gordon MacGregor.

The session reported that four new members had been added to the communion roll by profession of faith.

The congregation stood in a moment of silent remembrance of the six members who had passed away during the year: Miss Margaret (Gretta) Edith Robertson, Mrs. Mary Lillian MacMartin, Norman Bethune, Mrs. Emma Caroline Warner, George Ira Murray, John Peter MacMartin.

In spite of increased expenditure due to several factors, the church reported that all obligations had been met and that gifts to the Mission and service fund had been maintained.

Mrs. Marland Murray, president of the United Church Women, outlined the year's activities, stating that it was a year in which the group, though not as active as in some former years, had nevertheless held the line.

Mrs. Clinton Murray presented the UCW financial statement which was most satisfactory. The

During the year and under joint leadership of Rev. Kenneth McDermid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Leslie West, and with resource material available from Rev. Mr. MacKay a new group known as the "Joint Effort" had been formed. This is a group of young people, ages 12-16 from the Presbyterian and United Churches who have combined their efforts to promote a program of worship and recreation, meeting every fortnight. To date this has been a successful venture.

The Sunday School regrettably recorded the resignation of Wilbur MacArthur as its superintendent. Mr. MacArthur who had served in this important office for over twenty-five years, had throughout his life displayed much interest in the work with children and young people.

At the close of the church service on Sunday last Mr. MacArthur was presented with a token of appreciation, a copy of the book "The National Dream" by Pierre Berton.

During the year the session, suffered the loss of its senior member, John Peter MacMartin whose death occurred in December.

News from Here and There

McCRIMMON

Local news this week is a bit hard to come by. Due to the flu-bug and blocked roads, the best place to be is home!

Stanley MacGregor of Pointe Claire, died suddenly last weekend. His funeral was held at Montreal with interment at Dalhousie Mills in the spring. The late Mr. MacGregor was a stepson of Mrs. William MacGregor, sister of Mrs. Norman J. MacLeod. Mrs. MacGregor is a frequent visitor to this area.

Mrs. Alex Williams of Montreal, Mrs. Stanford MacCrimmon, and Mr. and Mrs. Duncan J. MacDonald, attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Coombs in Vankleek Hill on Tuesday. Mrs. Coombs was a long time resident of Breadalbane.

Mrs. Douglas MacGillivray, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. F. MacRae, Mr. Donald MacSweyn and Mr. Fergus Campbell motored to Ottawa on Sunday, to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. John Grant Mac-

Sweyn. The occasion was Mr. MacSweyn's birthday.

An interesting item of news to be mentioned, a pure white Arctic owl was seen by Mrs. Stanford MacCrimmon and Bud MacKinnon, circling in the neighborhood. It later flew off in a northerly direction.

We shall be hoping come February 2nd, the ground hog doesn't see his shadow. We have had more than our share of winter, already.

Mrs. Howard Greer, Smiths Falls, called on Mrs. Burns Ferguson and family and visited her brother, Mr. Ferguson, who was a patient in the Hotel Dieu, Cornwall.

WI HAD MEETING

Fourteen members attended the monthly meeting of Avonmore Women's Institute, held in the local fire hall. The meeting had as its theme "Love the giver, not the gift". In so far as weather conditions in December rendered the regularly scheduled meeting an impossibility, the January meeting featured an exchange of gifts.

Mrs. Alex Armour, the president, extended New Year's greetings to all. Mrs. E. L. Filion was acting secretary for the meeting in the absence of Mrs. L. S. MacRae. Correspondence included several "thank you" letters from those who received boxes of cheer at Christmas. A letter from Miss Carol Bennett, home furnishing consultant, confirmed the March 10th date for the short course on "Furniture Facts" to be held at the Fire Hall in Avonmore.

Mrs. Austin Zoller, president of the FWIO, in a message to the local branch commented on the need to know what we want and the need for having that ability to attain those goals. This, the president said, would be quite an accomplishment for WI members. "As citizens, we should be able to distinguish the proper dimensions and be able to ascertain the rights of individuals, government and industry", the president added.

The sum of five dollars was voted toward the expansion program of Macdonald College, Guelph.

Papers were given by the following standing committee conveners, Mrs. Glenn McIntyre, agriculture; Mrs. James Tinkess, citizenship; Miss B. J. Banfill, historical research; and Mrs. Clifford McElheran, health. Mrs. E. L. Filion and Mrs. Alex Armour also gave interesting papers.

The next regular meeting is set for Thursday, Feb. 18th, at 1:45 p.m. in the fire hall. Meeting motto will be "He is no fool who gives what he cannot keep". Members will answer the roll call by exhibiting something which is very old. Each member is urged to bring a friend or neighbor to the meeting. There will be auction of items, value of which is not to be in excess of one dollar. Mrs. James Tinkess will be the social convener. Hostesses will be Mrs. Mabel McElheran, Mrs. Grant Tinkess, Mrs. Orland Kyle, and Miss B. J. Banfill.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses. Winners of the lucky draws were Mrs. E. L. Filion, Mrs. Stanley Wert and Mrs. W. M. Campbell.

GOOD YEAR REVIEWED BY ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

Encouraging reports were heard at the annual meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore, held last Thursday evening in the Sunday School hall. The devotional part of the meeting was conducted by the minister, Rev. W. E. Sayers, who also acted as chairman for the business meeting which followed.

The year 1970 proved to be another successful one for the church although there was a decline in financial receipts during the year. All obligations were met and paid with the exception of the church's budget allocation, which was $215 short of the allocated amount of $2100 for the year. Total receipts for the budget were in the amount of $1887. In addition the sum of $405 was subscribed to the National Development Fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The church treasurer's report showed total receipts for the year of $12,378.78 with disbursements amounting to $11,490.03, leaving a surplus balance of $888.75.

The session's report, as presented by George D. McElheran, session clerk showed a decline in communicant membership of five; two by death and three by transfer of certificate, leaving a total membership at last year's end of 175.

The board of managers' report, presented by John A. Blair, secretary, showed improvements about the church. Aluminum outside windows were installed. New cement steps were added at the front of the church. Among new items for the church were a film-strip and slide projector, a 16mm film sound projector and a typewriter.

Gordon Robertson presented the report of the nominating committee, a report which was adopted unanimously. New members on the board of managers are Mr. Robertson and R. W. Dillabough who are replacing John A. Blair and Merton Robinson. Hector MacRae was appointed to the board of trustees. M. F. McRae was appointed as congregational secretary, replacing Clifford MacRae.

John E. Miller and Sterling Lang were appointed as auditors. Members of the nominating committee for 1972 are Mrs. James Tinkess, Howard MacMillan, Mrs. Neil Bush and Leonard McIntosh.

Rev. Mr. Sayers closed the meeting with prayer.

Lunch was served by the ladies of the congregation.

The Aims And Achievements Of Institute Women

(A history of the Women's Institute submitted by Mrs. Donald MacLachlan, Williamstown)

For Home And Country—This is the motto for Institute women around the world. This motto was chosen in 1902 by a committee of the Stoney Creek Women's Institute, on the suggestion of Laura Rose Stephens and approved by Mrs. Hoodless. "For Home And Country", four simple words with an infinitude of implications. In early days the needs of homemakers were simpler than today. Women, then, wanted to know better methods of child care, better methods of preparing and preserving food and more training in sewing which was so much a part of their life. Homemakers today want to learn efficient ways of handling money, modern ways of dealing with child problems and ways to cope with the flood of new products, home furnishings, synthetic fibres, modern appliances and so on. The educational part of the program of the Women's Institute is designed to serve these needs.

At present there are eight branches in Glengarry District with a membership of 196. The first branch to be organized was Maxville, in June 1909. The others followed: Martintown, July 1910; McCrimmon, December 1915; Picnic Grove, February 1916, Bainsville, January 1929; Dunvegan, April 1935; Summerstown, December 1946 and St. Lawrence, June 1951.

Glengarry held its first district meeting on June 20, 1916, and since then each branch takes its turn at being host for a district annual meeting. District annual time to a progressive branch means many things. It means the completion of another year of Institute effort and a comparison of that effort with other branches in the district. It means the time for program planning for a new year's activity and making decisions as to projects and courses of study. It means hearing the report of the Provincial Board Director containing decisions made by this Parliament of Women's Institute and guidance as to future action. It means hearing a report of the extension services from the district home economist. It means a friendly happy day, seeing old friends and making new ones.

All through the years Glengarry Institutes have been striving to improve and develop the conditions of community life. It is not possible to enumerate all that has been done as there is enormous diversity. Some of the highlights are donations of money to Cornwall General Hospital, St. Lawrence Sanatorium, Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge, Maxville Manor and Glengarry Memorial Hospital. In addition several branches have endeavored to brighten the lives of residents at Maxville Manor and Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge by sponsoring birthday parties. Many improvements have been made to community halls and museums. One branch petitioned their council to get street lights installed, another branch circulated a petition for the continuance of bookmobile service in their township, which helped the council decide to keep the service active.

Through the efforts of Institute women the need for a homemaker service was brought to the attention of authorities and has now been established. Two county fairs benefit from the efforts of Institute women. Almost all branches sponsor a 4-H Homemaking Club and to quote one home economics teacher who says she can always pick out girls with 4-H training makes one feel that their efforts are worthwhile. Not only do the girls have courses but the WI sponsors courses open to all women in the community. It could be in the form of a leader's training school, a sport course, a food forum, or a workshop. No one is forgotten in WI work as the children are often entertained at Easter, Christmas or Halloween parties. The sick and shut-ins are remembered in different ways and grandmothers too, have their special day. Some times gifts are sent to the Smiths Falls Regional Hospital and knitting and sewing have been done for "Save The Children Fund".

The year 1967, Canada's Centennial contained two highlights for Glengarry District—A centennial tea was held in Alexandria which was attended by members by all eight branches in the county, many of the ladies wearing centennial dresses. The other special event was the bus trip to Expo in Montreal which many of the members in the district enjoyed.

At present, Glengarry branches are proud to help in the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario 75th anniversary project, which is to donate $50,000 toward the expansion and development of MacDonald Institute at Guelph.

Another part of Institute work is compiling a District Tweedsmuir History. This work came about when Lady Tweedsmuir, who is a life member of the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario, was resident in Ottawa. At one of her visits to women's Institute she suggested that the members might enjoy compiling village books as do the women of England and Scotland. Since the idea originated with Lady Tweedsmuir she was asked to write a forward and the WI sought permission from Lady Tweedsmuir to honor her by calling the books Tweedsmuir Histories.

The Glengarry book is a real treasure with beautifully executed drawing, many pictures and excellent write-ups. The Department of Education considers the material in these books as authentic local history and suggests that they be used by teachers in teaching local history.

What benefits do the members derive from their meetings? They gain new assurance develop a broader outlook, are trained in leadership, and become more tolerant to other peoples' problems. Contrary to the belief that women always want to follow the same old pattern, Institute women today are studying such topics as "Women and the Law", Japanese culture, horticulture, safety education, pollution and drugs. It would be interesting to know how many women owe development of their abilities to participation in WI programs.

The structure of the WI is such that there is a limit to the time that officers can remain in office. This means that more members can participate in executive positions. By handling a small duty a woman gains confidence and a sense of achievement and becomes ready to go to more important tasks.

The district is the second level of Institute work, the next is area. Here again women are coping with changing times. For many years the area convention had been held in the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa. In 1969 thinking a change would give more women the opportunity to attend, the convention was held at the Parkway Motel in Cornwall. In 1970 it was held at the Skyline Hotel in Ottawa and in 1971 it will be held in Renfrew.

From area level Institute work moves on to a provincial status called the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario (FIO) with their office in Toronto. Two meetings are held each year for all provincial directors. Among other items of business, the resolutions that have got this far are now voted on and the sustained ones directed to the proper authorities. Some of our most important legislation regarding food, household items, safety, clothing and health grew out of these resolutions. Few people know that at provincial level many of the board directors are active delegates to many other organizations such as Food Council, Ontario Welfare Council Consumers' Association of Canada, United Nations and the Royal Winter Fair Board.

In order that the work in the provinces could be co-ordinated a national organization was formed known as the Federated Women's Institute of Canada (FWIC). The national office is in Ottawa but every three years a national convention is held with each province having its turn at being host. At these conventions women from coast to coast with common objectives and problems meet to discuss, plan and learn. In early days Canada was struggling to become a nation, but today we think of Canada and Canadian women having a profound influence on other nations. Adelaide Hoodless would never have thought of the Women's Institute having an influence on an Eskimo woman living near the Arctic Ocean or on the life of a woman in New Zealand. Yet these women are now a part of the Women's Institute.

And so the spreading continues until 1930 saw the beginning of an International organization known as the Associated Country Women of the World (ACWW). It is the only organization of its kind representing six million country women and homemakers belonging to 200 different societies and 56 different countries. Its common aim is to bring women of the world together and it has done more to bring about real friendship and co-operation among women of different nations than almost any other group. Isn't that what this modern world needs?

These are the different stages of Women's Institute work but this story would not be complete without mention of the Mary Stewart Collect, the prayer that is repeated by Institute women at the opening of every meeting.

The Mary Stewart Collect Keep us O Lord from pettiness, let us be large in thought, in word and deed.

Let us be done with fault finding and leave off self seeking. May we put away all pretence and meet each other face to face, without self-pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous. Let us take time for all things, make us grow calm, serene, gentle.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses straight forward and unafraid.

Grant that we may realize that it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things of life we are one.

And may we strive to touch and know the great human heart common to us all, and O Lord God let us not forget to be kind.

And so this distinctive organization working for the good of the individual in every family, and always on the alert for causes that need not charity but a friendly concern, grows and flourishes through the world.

New Slate For Kirk Hill UCW

The president, Mrs. Stanley Vogan, opened the Kirk Hill UCW meeting held in the manse with a poem "Friends who have sailed together".

The worship service theme "Great joy which shall be to all people", was led by Mrs. Lynus MacPherson and Mrs. Keith MacMillan. Mrs. MacMillan opened with a poem, explaining the life of children throughout the world. Mrs. A. K. MacPherson was organist, responsive reading was led
