Ravaging Fire Causes $50,000 Damage At Russell

Estimated loss from Russell's devastating fire on Saturday has been set at $50,000, it was revealed earlier this week. Destroyed in the holocaust were a garage and body shop, an apartment, a school bus and equipment and personal belongings valued at several thousand dollars.

The fire, one of the worst to hit Russell village in recent years, broke out between 9 and 9.15 Saturday morning in a garage and body shop owned by Elwood Cochrane and rented by Bill Vanryswyk. Roger Perras, a helper, was draining gasoline from a school bus owned by Glen Harten when the garage suddenly filled with flames. Alone at the time, he tried to phone for help but was driven back by the fast spreading blaze. Quickly, Perras alerted a tenant, Mrs. Harold Sunstrum, in the apartment above the garage and together with her three children escaped with only the clothes they were wearing.

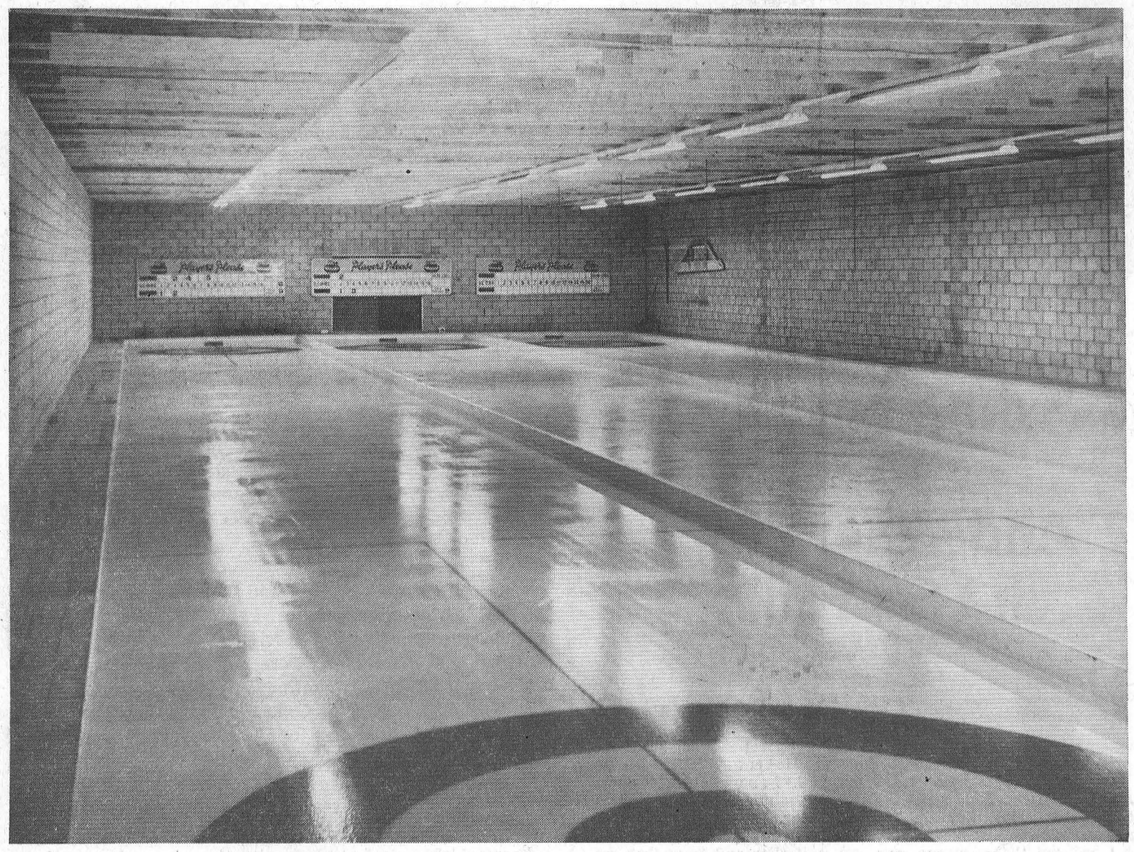
Mrs. Lorne Wade turned in the fire alarm and within minutes the well equipped Russell Fire Department was on the scene with 15 volunteers. But the fire had spread so quickly, flames were leaping ten feet through a broken plateglass window, and firemen were forced to "control" the blaze only with no hope of saving the building. Exploding oil and gasoline cans from the garage, intense heat and the danger of crumbling block walls hampered the firemen in their attempt to save the building from complete ruin.

Fire Chief Russ Phair said that firemen did prevent the blaze from spreading to two nearby 1000 gallon underground tanks used for supplying gas to the pumps. Firemen fought the blaze for close to three hours and poured close to 4,000 gallons of water on the raging inferno.

Perras later said he had no idea how the fire started and that it spread so fast there was no time to save anything. The fire marked the second time that the Sunstrum family had been burned out of their home without any possessions. It is understood that a drive for funds will be conducted to help this needy family.

Owner of the building Elwood Cochrane said the premises was only partially covered by insurance. It is understood that there was no insurance on the Sunstrum belongings. Mr. Sunstrum is a driver for Cochrane's Dairy.

By Monday another school bus had been secured by Glen Harten to transport the youngsters to school.



Anyone For Curling?

Winchester and District's new Curling Club is basically completed, frustrating delays with the ice-making unit have apparently been solved, and the "Roaring Game" is in full swing this week, much to the liking of many old and new curlers.

Open curling got underway last Saturday night and by Monday of this week all three sheets were ready for use when the first regular Mixed League play started. Curlers and others who have visited the attractive new premises have nothing but praise for the facilities, and ice conditions should be much improved by the week-end.

Men's first bonspiel dates have been set and games committees have been busy arranging schedules so that all curlers may take advantage of the extra facilities offered this year.

Board Concerned

PS Running Out Of Room Again

With a spanking new addition just nicely broken in, Winchester Public School is still confronted with growing pains. With this acute problem of accommodation in mind, School Board members Monday night studied the projected population forecast for next September and decided that now is the time to make plans.

To this end board members are arranging a meeting with School Inspector Harry Knapper when it is anticpated a better knowledge of costs, grants and necessary accommodations will be realized. At the present time Winchester Public School has 341 pupils taking up every bit of available space in both the old and new sections and even a temporary classroom in the one basement.

It is expected that first day enrolment next September will be at least 356 with a strong possibility of this figure being even more when the new school year starts. The new wing, completed for use two and one-half years ago, was built with future expansion in mind and is capable of carrying a second floor with the same physical size as the present building.

At Monday night's first meeting of the new year Raymond Annable was re-elected chairman of the board, and Ran. Wylie was re-appointed secretary-treasurer with an increase in salary. The board decided to join the Ontario School Trustees Council and to hold regular meetings on the second Monday of each month.

The Board was also in agreement on the purchase of seven clocks for the classrooms and a set of goal tender's equipment for use in school hockey.

Committees appointed were: Property, Ken. Summers, Ron Workman, Keith Carkner; Purchasing, Burt Hodgson, Mrs. Irene Byers, Ken. Summers.

G. H. LaRose was re-appointed the school's representative on the North Dundas District High School Board, and Constable Les. Whittaker was named attendance officer.

You See A What?

It's Tuesday, January 12, 1965, an average winter day—not too much snow, but cool. You walk out your front door for a breath of air. You take a look over at the bird feeder you have located conveniently in a nearby tree. You keep food in the bird feeder for those hungry little creatures—because you like birds. Feeding away at a scrumptuous meal under the hood of the feeder you see a robin . . . YOU SEE A WHAT?

Well, seeing is believing and Mrs. Ed. Armstrong of Vernon did see a robin on Tuesday of this week, eating in her bird feeder at her home. Two other people saw the robin too, Mrs. Armstrong said, as she excitedly related her story to The Press.

"The fat little fellow seemed healthy enough and didn't seem to be minding the cold one bit," Mrs. Armstrong said.

With the unusual weather this district has been experiencing, like 50 degrees one hour and zero the next, looks like the birds have got their seasons mixed up too.

Now for that day in June.

New Licence Plate Sales Slow

Ontario owners of passenger and dual purpose vehicles and motorcycles are lagging badly in their purchases of 1965 licence plates, Transport Minister Irwin Haskett warned today.

"Unless the pace picks up there will be long lineups late in February just before the old plates expire," Mr. Haskett said.

New plates went on sale December 1st. At the end of December, with one-third the total time gone, only one-tenth of these owners had obtained theirs.

This means that of the province"s 1,700,000 passenger cars, 1,500,000 still lacked the new plates as the year ended.

On and after March 1st drivers using 1964 plates will be liable to a fine of up to $50.00. There will be "absolutely no extension" beyond the February 28th deadline, said Mr. Haskett.

1965 plates for trucks and trailers go on sale March 1st.

STEERING COMMITTEE SAYS

"If We Want Help From ARDA . . . We Can Get It"

"If we want the facilities of ARDA we will have to ask for them and work for them." These are the words of a special Dundas Federation of Agriculture steering committee which met recently at the Country Kitchen Restaurant to determine the possible assistance available under the Agricultural Rehabilitation Development Act.

George Suffel, President of the Soil and Crop Improvement Association, presided at the special meeting which called in district editors Keith Graham of The Chesterville Record, Kenneth Kirkby of the Iroquois Post and Reg. Workman of The Winchester Press to discuss the various ways and means ARDA could assist in developing lands along the Nation River watershed.

Also present at the meeting were Ed. Pearson, Dundas Agricultural Representative; Eric Casselman, secretary, Federation of Agriculture; William McRoberts, president, Federation of Agriculture; Ray Guy, president of the Concentrated Milk Producers; Douglas Irvine, president, Dundas Soil and Crop Association, and Alex Mullin of the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder.

The informative meeting which came up with a resolution calling for action by the ARDA district committee to develop the natural resources, especially soil and water conservation of the Nation River watershed, was called by the Dundas FOA following a detailed brief which George Suffel had presented to the Ontario Minister of Agriculture before Christmas. The excellent brief dealt primarily with drainage and land usage and because these two aspects of farming are of prime importance to-day the Federation decided that action should be taken to see what may be done along the vulnerable Nation and tributaries.

Briefly, the facilities of ARDA were explained. Under the act a fair amount of subsidization is available for this type of work. But before benefits may be derived, the meeting pointed out, "we in this area must acquaint ourselves of the possibilities and we must work hard to get these facilities to work for us."

The committee's first step will be to present its resolution to the Federation and to continue publicizing the need for going after ARDA to help. The committee pointed out, through Mr. Suffel's brief, that this area was still a "depressed" area where the Agriculture industry is concerned, with many farm incomes ranging far below the average. Mr. Pearson pointed out that there were more cattle in the county of Dundas than ever with a reported 53,000 head last year. This figure will grow but at the same time, the committee explained, more productive farm lands were essential, for cash crops, for pastures, for every type of farming. Figures presented at the meeting showed that in practically every phase of farming the yield per acre in this area is noticeably lower than in Western Ontario where more and better methods of drainage and water conservation are used.

Township Council Appoints Officers

Winchester Township Council held its first meeting of the new year with Rev. G. A. Cawfield assisting in the opening ceremonies. Reeve Cecil McNabb presided with Deputy Reeve C. H. Smith and Councillors Garfield Baker, Willis Robinson and John Barrett in attendance.

Officers appointed for the year included: Lorne Bell, road superintendent; E. N. Holmes, assessor; W. B. Carlyle, tax collector; Glenn McGregor, clerk-treasurer; Fraser and Otton, auditors; F. M. Cass, solicitor; A. J. Graham, township engineer; John Barrett, Federation of Agriculture; Cecil MacNabb, Nation River Authority.

Membership was renewed in the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities, Good Roads Association, and Association of Assessing Officers. A motion was passed agreeing to assume the township's share of debentures required in the construction of the new Williamsburg Public School.

Clerk Glenn MacGregor was instructed to forward a copy of a motion regarding the proposed development road through Concessions 11 and 12 to the Department of Highways, the Councils of Russell and Osgoode, and to the Members of Provincial Parliament concerned.

A by-law, No. 2-65 was passed authorizing the council to borrow monies up to $60,000.

Accounts passed for payment were: Road Voucher No. 1, $3,126.00; Municipal Worlds, $55.00; Printing and Advertising, $28.50; Drainage, $2,111.00; Welfare, $317.00; Salaries, $281.00; P.V.S. Lighting, $201.50.

Canadian Farmers Use Pesticides Worth $30 Million

To protect their crops and livestock during 1964, Canadian farmers used about $30 million worth of pesticides, L. A. Miller, president of the Canadian Agricultural Chemicals Association, said to-day in a year-end statement.

Anothr $8.5 million worth was used by home owners to control weeds and insects and by industries and institutions to keep their premises sanitary and free of pests.

Total pesticide sales in Canada in 1963 were approximately $36.5 million, showing an increase of $2 million for the year just ended.

Miller said that sales of agricultural chemicals have doubled in the past nine years and have had an average annual growth rate of 8 per cent. He expects the industry will continue to grow at the same rate over the next few years.

Mac MacGregor Heads P.S. Board

Malcolm MacGregor was appointed chairman of the newly formed Winchester Township School Area Board at the first meeting held in Morewood Public School. Other members of the Board are William E. Stewart, Howard Kittle, Gordon Ennis and Arnold Sullivan.

A property committee composed of Arnold Sullivan and William Stewart was appointed. Other committees will be set up at a future meeting. Glen MacGregor was appointed secretary-treasurer of the board.

New Driver Education Course Starts At NDDHS

Statistics show that more young people in the age group 16 to 24 are involved in 27 per cent of all accidents. The statistics also show that only 19 per cent. of licensed drivers can be found in this age group. A possible reason for this high rate of accidents has been explained by experts in that youth have not been properly trained. They have learned bad driving habits from parents, relatives and friends, and have no experience to fall back upon in an emergency.

It is with these reasons in mind that the North Dundas District High School with the assistance of the Department of Transport and Education have set up a Driver Education course within the school. Through driver education courses in the secondary school students will learn proper methods and basic skills from competent qualified instructors.

As an extra-curricular activity the course will not interfere with regular studies. Each student in the class of instructors Ken Morrow and Ross McConnell will complete 25 hours of classroom instruction, six hours of practice driving with the Driver Education car and 18 hours as an observer while other students drive.

The first such course at N. D. D. H. S. is well underway with 11 classroom periods having been completed by 20 students. To begin actual driving the students obtain a 120 learner's permit from the Department of Transport. These permits will be issued to the students to-day, Thursday, when D.O.T. officers will be present to test the class. With this Temporary Permit in hand the student may proceed with actual in car training.

One important benefit of the course is evident in the fact that the successful candidate that obtains an Operator's or Chauffeur's Licence will receive a 10% decrease in insurance rates.

W. J. L. Boyd and Sons of Winchester, with the co-operation of Crysler Corporation, have made available to the schoool a 1965 model Plymouth car with an automatic transmission for the course. Boyds will service and maintain the car throughout the duration of the course and retain possession at its completion. Texaco distributor in this area, Jack McMillan, Chesterville, has made available for the course 200 gallons of gasoline at Slater's' Texaco in Winchester or McMillan's Texaco in Chesterville.

Our Highways and Our Traffic

More vehicles, more roads and more accidents seem to sum up our traffic situation to-day. Canada ranks near the top in number of cars per capita. It also has some of the best transportation arteries in the world. Unfortunately, its accident record is also one of the worst.

Commenting on our highways and our traffic the Royal Bank of Canada Monthly Letter says: "We have come to accept road traffic as a normal condition of our way of life, but we keep running into totally unexpected experiences with it every year.

"There are millions of complicated vehicles proceeding in all directions under the impulse of up to three hundred horsepower. They can travel at a hundred miles an hour, but are lucky if they average forty. They run on roads that are never adequate to accommodate them but which cost as much as waging a war.

"The car itself is a blessing, not an evil. It is among the most valuable tools of living that man has invented. It has proven itself an adaptable and efficient servant in the movement of goods and people. The highways on which the cars run are not unproductive. They have immediately increased the total stock of land in active use by bringing it within reach of people.

'Submissions to the Royal Commission on Canada's Economic Prospects estimated that by 1975 three out of every four Canadians will live in a city, that every second Canadian will drive a motor car, and that seventy per cent. of all travel will be on city streets. Even today, with six million motor vehicles registered in Canada, and a ratio of 4.1 persons per car, practically the only persons who walk any distance regularly are those who seek exercise.

"But, as Hon. Dr. F. W. Rowe said in his presidential review of the work of the Canadian Good Roads Association at the jubilee convention: "We may well have reached the point where the benevolence of the automobile is being nullified by its malevolence."

Help From ARDA

ARDA, Agricultural Rehabilitation Development Act, was passed in June 1961 to provide a means of developing national, provincial and local programs to meet the pressing need for action on a broad front—action to develop natural resources in rural areas, to diversify and develop agricultural and local industry, and to help rural people toward greater opportunities and satisfactions.

In January 1961 ARDA administration was formed and by October of the same year a general agreement between the federal government and each province had been reached.

It remains now for ARDA to prove itself and for the peoples of particular areas, our own included, to not only take advantage of the possibilities offered here but to work for these possibilities by creating plans that will help improve our natural resources like water and soil conservation.

Although ARDA covers a host of alternative uses it seems that the basic need or use of this administration in the area would be for the improvement of land usage in the Nation River watershed. Aside from a fair amount of research and an equally fair amount of talk, little has been done where the Nation watershed is concerned over the last 50 years. Accomplishment may well be made, however, but only with the ingenuity and desire of district farm organizations, councils, and, indeed, the local ARDA committee representatives of this area.

A few weeks ago well known farmer George Suffel of Inkerman, chairman of the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association, presented a detailed and intelligent brief to the Ontario Minister of Agriculture outlining the needs of this district. As a follow up to this presentation Dundas Federation of Agriculture appointed a steering committee to come up with suggestions and recommendations to be passed on immediately to the ARDA representatives.

The committee has met, and briefs are being prepared calling for immediate action on Soil and Water Conservation in the Nation River watershed. At a time when water levels are at a record low, when the need for more productive farm lands should be in the minds of every farmer, the ground work by the Federation of Agriculture should be received with enthusiasm by everyone residing in this section of the province.

It should be remembered that this is only a start. What will eventually materialize depends on the people, how willing they are to take an interest in what ARDA has to offer, and how willing they may be to offer their services to projects which could unfold.

The basic points to remember, by all farmers in particular, is the need for better drainage and more productive farm lands. This area is still a "depressed" area where the Agriculture industry is concerned. Farm incomes run below the average in many instances. ARDA can and will help. But before this can happen each of us must show interest and determination in going after facilities and monies which could be made available to help alleviate a situation which continues to worsen each year.

If farm people in particular stand to benefit directly from help derived through the facilities of ARDA, all of us will benefit. Before this help arrives it will take a co-operative effort, a loud cry for help to help ourselves. With facilities like this available we simply cannot afford to miss them because we failed to make the effort.

Meditations . . . BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Joshua 24:15—"But as for me and my house, we will serve Jehovah."

Resolutions are good when practiced, New Year's resolutions no less so. It is good that we make resolutions, that we resolve to change our ways and correct our lives. It is also good to resolve to continue in the life we are living, if that life is God-fearing.

The Bible also speaks of resolutions made by godly men. Joshua was such a man. He had served as leader of God's people. He had been used of God to lead his people into the land of Canaan. At the end of that notable career Joshua challenges the children of Israel. They must make a choice, a resolution, to serve either idols or the One True Living God. As for Joshua, as head of his household, he speaks out boldly and clearly his resolve to continue to serve Jehovah only.

That resolve is exemplary. All fathers should so resolve as heads of their respective families. Not one should resolve otherwise for this is the sole answer to our nation's present needs. Where godly homes are lacking there the foundation of society is wanting. It is still true today, "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people."—Prov. 14:34.

Let none of us be misled at this point. We are of necessity making a choice. We serve either God or the idol. Where the service of the true Living God is neglected there sin has sway, there transgressions abound. Here is the root of our modern problems with juvenile delinquency. Here is the fountain of evil that spells a sure ruin for our nation. The words of J. Edgar Hoover apply aptly today, "If there is to be peace and happiness in our home then we as a nation must return to God and to the practice of daily family altars."

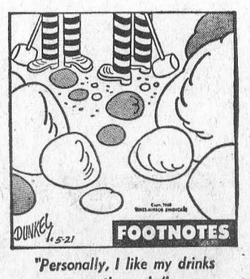
Each one of us must consider what impact we make on our environment as families and as individuals. Ungodly homes produce ungodly citizens and are a cancer to the well-being of a nation. Godly homes produce God-fearing citizens that are the very life and health and strength of a nation. A godly home is a blessed home and a blessing to the nation.

Besides being a blessing for the nation, a godly home is the place of peace and happiness. Concerning such a home we do well to consider the words of the poem which says:

"Happy the home when God is there,
And love fills every breast;
When one their wish, and one their prayer,
And one their heavenly rest.

Happy the home where prayer is heard,
And praise is wont to rise,
Where parents love the sacred Word,
That makes us truly wise.

Lord, let us in our homes agree,
This blessed peace to gain;
Unite our hearts in love to Thee,
And love to all will reign."



"Personally, I like my drinks on the rocks."

And Where Did It Get You?

by Bill Smiley

Well, here it is mid-January, and another year has slipped down the drain.

* * * *

It's rather depressing to look back over the 12 months and realize that neither civilization nor yourself has improved one iota, despite the frantic scrambling of the pair of you, throughout the year.

* * * *

Not that I'm admitting for a moment that 1964 was a complete failure. There were some things from which I derived a good deal of satisfaction. For one thing, I remained alive. With the traffic the way it is, and the tension cutting swaths through the ranks of chaps my age, just staying alive these days is quite a feat.

* * * *

In the second place, I hung onto my job. This may seem like a trivial boast. But what with computers, it's like staying alive. Ask the fellow who hasn't managed to do either. Or both. What it meant was that I was able to continue keeping in high style a woman I never met until I was 25, and two kids who think money grows on fathers.

* * * *

Keeping my job also meant that I was able to keep up my payments, no mean accomplishment in this age. In fact, I would be content to have my epitaph read: "He was a good man. He kept up his payments."

* * * *

As a matter of fact, I did a little better. Not only did I meet all my interest payments but I reduced the mortgage on my house by $28.64, leaving a mere balance due of $12,971.36. This was somewhat offset by the borrowing of a couple of G's from my friendly banker, in order to replace the family transportation, which was rotting on the vine, but you can't win them all.

* * * *

I'm not trying to brag. There were a lot of things in 1964 that I'd do differently another time. That is, if I'd ever got around to doing them. But since I didn't, they probably weren't worth doing in the first place. Figure that one out, if you can find an Irishman to help you.

* * * *

I have already drawn up a program for 1965 that is perhaps the most positive plan, in a negative sort of way, that I've ever come up with. It's composed of all things I'm NOT going to do this year.

* * * *

For one thing, I'm not going to worry so much. My reckoning shows that I spent 20 to 30 minutes worrying last year about trifling things, like my son running away from home, my daughter going out on her first date, and my wife reporting cancer in a new location weekly. That's enough to put a fellow in the hospital. I aim to cut that down to a maximum of ten minutes this year. And it'll be worry about something worthwhile, like my golf slice and trout that got away.

* * * *

Another thing I'm not going to do this year is lose so many arguments with the Old Battlaxe. Last year I must have lost about 97 per cent. of them. I don't know just how I'll go about it, but I'm determined to cut that figure to the bone — maybe right back to 95 per cent.

* * * *

Once again, I'm not going to buy my wife a mink coat; I'm not going to build that patio that I didn't build last summer; I'm neither going to start getting to bed early nor getting up early; I'm not going to stop smoking because it might kill me, nor drinking ditto; I'm not going to pay my income tax with anything milder than rage; I'm not going to pay any attention to all the silly people in the world who tell me what I'm not supposed to do.

* * * *

In short, the next year will be much like every other year. And good enough for me. But perhaps we could all join heartily in repeating a little slogan for the coming year. It goes:

"Let's stay alive
In '65."

Of Many Things

By AMBROSE HILLS

SOME GUESSES ABOUT CANADA IN 1965

1965 could be one of the most important years Canada has ever known. There are tremendous opportunities.

United States rejected the right-wing led by Barry Goldwater. He asked the people to sacrifice too much, and he scared many of them, for they were led to believe that he was quick on the trigger. However, it is likely that the victors will interpret the rejection of Goldwater as acceptance of Big Government. I believe they are wrong in that assessment. but nevertheless the United States is likely to move further left during 1965, and there will be a constant upward drift in prices.

England, not surprisingly, knocked out the Conservatives. It was a government grown old, rocked by terrible scandals, and trying to buy its way back into the good wishes of the people. Labor, however, will interpret its victory as acceptance of socialist ideas. I believe they are wrong — that it was a protest against a bumbling government—but just the same, the UK will move left during 1965. Productivity will decline and shortages and price increases will prevail.

If Canadians can keep their heads while all about them other nations allow their prices to escalade, they should be able to gain some pretty strong footholds in the market places. If Canadians sit tight, even for one year, and hold the line on costs, their opportunities are tremendous.

This does not mean that there cannot be increases in wages. It simply means that when wages are increased, productivity should be dropped. It does mean that we might well improve present schemes before launching new ones.

Even with very responsible government, sensible labor demands, and good management, prices are likely to go up. Already there are built in costs due to existing plans which increase in cost all the time. And living next to the USA, we will feel the effect of their inflated economy. In spite of this, Canadians, if they act moderately, can make some tremendous gains in 1965.

The Seventh Column

The weather is always good for a comment or two, and especially when an area has experienced unusual conditions which have existed around here thus far this winter. At time of writing, although it could be changed by now, there was not a flake of snow to be seen anywhere. Matter of fact, this marks the second consecutive year that the district has had next to no snow. Instead, we have had heavy rains, a most welcome situation by farmers, and weather varying from a high of 50 degrees last Saturday morning to zero this week.

Not many winter months in our day have been so "open" where snow is concerned. And, except for the youngsters, most people are keeping their fingers crossed that the good thing will last. Even at this date winter has been greatly shortened. The Community Centre has weathered the storm nicely and skating, again this year, remains a most popular sport. Saturday night's crowd was one of the biggest ever, and the enthusiasm continued over to Sunday afternoon. Over at the Curling Club the artificial ice plant problems have apparently been solved and the beautiful new club, with three sheets of ice, is operating in full swing this week. Open air rinks, according to the younger set, are not doing too well and only a week or so of below freezing weather will help.

"We are a great country and shall become one of the greatest in the universe if we preserve it. We shall sink into insignificance and adversity if we suffer it to be broken." No, these words were not spoken yesterday or last week or even last month. They were given to us by Sir John A. MacDonald, Canada's first prime minister, 100 years ago. And, they apply more today than ever.

Mike Dukelow, popular member of The Press staff who has been doing most of the news editing and photography these past several months, is in hospital this week convalescing from a serious and painful foot injury. Mike sustained the injury last Thursday while helping other Press members and others unload some of the new equipment which this office is currently installing. The two-ton piece in mention slipped from a holding bar and crushed the man's foot to the floor. Two toes were broken, one of them crushed. Doctor Bill Byers was on the scene within minutes and had Mike rushed to the District Memorial Hospital where the painful injury was treated. The foot is now in a cast and hospital authorities have informed us that everything will be okay given a little time to heal. The Press was also informed this week that a bed long enough to accommodate the patient has been found and that other hospital facilities will be put into operation with the assistance of two or more nurses to handle the really big newsman. In the meantime, Mike, all of us at the office miss you, your readers too, and wish you a speedy return to the news desk which we are trying with some difficulty to keep producing this week.

After last week's "fearless forecast" which appeared in this column a couple of readers asked us why we didn't predict who would win the Stanley Cup. That's a tough one. But because we are still die-hard Maple Leaf fans we'll call Toronto's so-called old men to come through again. They are currently in a five-game win streak and should be ready by play-off time.

Orvil Guy, well known Winchester dairy farmer and vice president of the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Association, provides the following little poem about a convenient cow every farmer would like to have in his milk production line:

A DAIRY FARMER'S WISH

I long for a cow of modern make
That milks five days for leisure's sake,
That sleeps on Saturday, snores on Sunday
And starts afresh again on Monday.

I wish for a herd that knows the way
To wash each other day by day,
That never bothers to excite us
With chills or fever or mastitis.

I sigh for a new and better breed
That takes less grooming and less feed,
That has the reason, wit and wisdom
To use the seat and flushing system.

I pray each week-end, long and clear,
Less work to do from year to year,
And cows that reach production's peak
All in a five-day working week.

—Author unknown.

It is hard to believe, but like most things new and good the District Memorial Hospital in its beginning had a fair amount of opposition. To-day, 16 years later, it is equally hard to believe how this entire hospital community would survive without it. A marvellous institution, seemingly well staffed, well managed and fulfilling an urgent need. As a visitor on the week-end, we not only saw the patient we intended to see, but we found out that there were quite a few other friends in the hospital whom we did not know were there. People like our long time ago school teacher Emma Gardner, Mrs. Bob Geggie and others. We said "hello" to all of them. One thing, as visitors, we should remember is not to overcrowd the rooms of patients. The hospital is fairly lenient this way, but while we were there Sunday evening an announcement came over the PA system advising that there should not be more than two visitors per patient per room. There is very good reason for this policy. And although hospital visitation is important to the patient, it can also be detrimental if abused.

Mrs. James Porteous returned home last week after having been a patient in the hospital at Winchester for several weeks.

Busy Auxiliary Buys More Hospital Equipment

Add two more important pieces of hospital equipment to the endless list of essentials purchased by the busy Winchester and District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. Announcement that a decision had been reached on a new type electrocardiograph machine was made at the first regular meeting of the new year held in the Hospital Board room. At the same time it was revealed that the hospital is now awaiting delivery of the blood bank refrigerator which has also been purchased by the Auxiliary.

President Mrs. G. Gilbert welcomed members to the meeting which was represented by seven units.

Members took part in a discussion concerning the tuck cart information folders. These folders will be given to incoming patients informing them of the tuck cart two days a week, of its many useful items which are for sale to patients, and of the popular showcase located in the hospital lobby. The new folders are expected to be distributad within the next month, it was announced.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring a raffle of two beautiful hand-made quilts, and tickets will be available after next month's meeting with the draw to be made sometime in April.

At the March meeting of the Auxiliary all past presidents will be presented with Hospital Auxiliary pins. To make final plans for this important evening, a meeting of all unit directors plus the present executive will be held following the February meeting.

At the close of last week's meeting members were delighted to be shown the Christmas tree favours made by Winchester C.G.I.T., and a very intricate Christmas decoration made of coat hangers used to decorate the board room for the staff party.

Reports indicated that Christmas at the hospital was made as enjoyble as possible for everyone.

Mrs. Earl Campbell, Mrs. Ralph Johnston and Mrs. Geo. Angus had charge of the devotions. Mrs. Geo. Angus read the Scripture lesson from Hebrew 11, and Mrs. Johnston gave the current events. Especially interesting was the growth of the Hector McMillan Fund and and the story of the church on the back of the two dollar bills.

Mrs. Campbell read several items from the new study book. Mrs. C. R. Robinson closed the meeting with prayer.

An exchange of Christmas gifts took place among the members. Miss Jean Wyatt gave a demonstration on doing up parcels. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Cawfield.

A ROUND-UP OF NEWS FROM THE DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOLS • OTHS • MDHS • NDDHS

N. D. D. H. S.

(By Joyce Bugden)

The High School is again humming with activity after what was an all-too-short Christmas holiday for both teachers and students.

The school had a minor change made during the vacation. The large glass doors formerly at the junction of the two main halls have been moved farther down the north wing and closer to the student exit. This was done to eliminate delays caused by the large number of students needing to pass through these doors during the three-minute break between classes. Lines can now move through these doors in place of only four. It is necessary by order of the fire marshal, however, to have these doors in the hallway.

The junior and senior teams for broomball — both girls' and boys — played an exhibition game on the school rink last Thursday. This is the first time the rink has been used. The hockey team played its first game last Monday in Morrisburg. Intramural basketball competitions have also begun.

During the next few months the Literary Society of the high school are presenting several films in the auditorium. These are to be held on Friday nights at 7.30 and it is hoped that many of the parents and members of the community will attend. These will be beneficial also to the students studying these novels and dramas in English classes. The first film, which will be shown this Friday, January 15, is to be "Great Expectations"— from the book by Charles Dickens.

M. D. H. S.

(By Gail Francis)

A new year and some new activities for Mountain District High School. Curling has been organized again this year with Donald VanBridger as President, Marilyn Hyndman as vice president and Theo Robinson as secretary-treasurer. Student curlers, thanks to the generosity of the Winchester Curling Club, expect to curl on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. One curling event of the curling season each year is the annual International Teen-Age Curling Bonspiel at Utica, N. Y. M.D.H.S. will again be represented by two mixed teams at Utica on the week-end of January 22nd. The curlers leave on Friday and will arrive back on Sunday evening. In all, there will be upwards of one hundred teams from various schools and colleges in Canada and U.S.A. A great time is anticipated by those who intend to make the trip to Utica.

On Monday afternoon our hockey team crushed the Finch team by a 7-3 score as our boys were led by Richard Gilmer, Richard Christie and Tommy Coleman who each scored two goals. Garth Workman got the other goal for the red and white Mountain team. The team will host the Morrisburg High School team at the South Mountain rink on Friday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Broomball has been organized as an after-school activity with two girls and three boys' teams playing in a schedule which will see broomball at the South Mountain rink three afternoons each week. The girls are looking for exhibition games with teams from the surrounding schools. Any girls' team interested in playing should contact Miss Thompson c/o the high school.

HERE AND THERE . . . .

Table tennis eliminations are nearly completed and it is expected that a winner in each division will be declared in the next week.

Our annual Skating Party was held Wednesday afternoon with all the students enjoying themselves.

It is expected that many of our girls will enter the South Mountain Carnival Queen Contest which is to be held January 20.

O .T. H. S.

(By Sharon Irven)

Things have returned to near-normal at O.T.H.S after the brief Christmas holiday. Teachers are piling on the home work and it is rumoured that reports will be given out the end of this month. This could call for some fast explaining.

Activity periods are being taken up with numerous activities. Mr. Rouleau is busy enlisting recruits for the Variety Night; many students are working at write-ups for the Year Book (and creating literary masterpieces for the contest, we hope); as well, the hockey team is practising for the Hockey Tournament, which is planned for February 13. Broomball leagues are being formed and free skating is being held Thursday afternoons.

Add to this the resolutions of many (?) students to work harder this term and you have the makings of a busy term ahead.

C. D. A. Statistics Reveal $16.5 Million Spent On Pesticides In 1964

A breakdown of 1964 pesticide sales shows that $16.5 million was used for agricultural and livestock dusts and sprays, $13.5 million for herbicides, $6.5 million for household and industrial pesticides, and the remainder for rodenticides and other unspecified products.

"According to recent Canada Department of Agriculture estimates," Miller said, "40 per cent. of cereal crops are treated annually with pesticides, 75 per cent. of corn, 85 per cent. of potatoes, 100 per cent. of tobacco, 80 per cent. of tomatoes and 97 per cent. of tree fruits."

These same CDA statistics reveal that all livestock receive some benefit of pesticide protection and at least one quarter of all seed planted is treated with a fungicide or insecticide. The crop area treated with herbicides is more than 26 million acres and, including forests and other areas, probably 40 million acres are being protected by some pesticide application during the year.

Air Canada Ready For EXPO 67

Announcing his company's participation in EXPO 67 this week, Air Canada President Gordon R. McGregor, centre, shows a model of the airline's DC-9 medium range jet to EXPO 67 Deputy Commissioner General R. F. Shaw, left, and EXPO General Manager Andrew Kniewasser. The twin engine jet will be in service in 1966—"in plenty of time for the world exhibition," Mr. McGregor said. Air Canada became the 15th private exhibitor to announce participation in the exhibition. The company will construct a pavilion on 22,000 square feet of land.

Mr. Shaw said that at least 30 other private exhibitors are expected to announce participation "in the very near future." He added that serious inquiries had been received from at least 100 other private companies and that negotiations with 55 exhibitors have now been concluded—28 countries, 15 private, the 10 Canadian provinces and the cities of Paris and Montreal.

One of the features at the show this year will be a Canadian hydrofoil known as the "Water Spider." Measuring 12 feet in length and 7 feet, four inches from foil tip to tip the "Spider" rides some 15 inches above the surface of the water.

by R. R. Pearson your telephone manager

Now that the festivities are over and the Winchester area is looking forward to a happy and prosperous 1965, I hope we won't forget those friends and acquaintances for whom the New Year has not started out so well.

I'm thinking in particular of "shut-ins" — people who can't get around easily and are therefore confined to the house. Day after day can get terribly monotonous for them (tragically so if they're alone)—and yet it's so easy to break that monotony and cheer them up a bit. A simple telephone call — even if you don't have anything special to say — can mean a great deal.

We sometimes forget people when we don't see them around as usual. But if the reason they're not around is that they're ill and confined to the house, then this is precisely the time we SHOULD be remembering them. So let's NOT forget! Let's make that simple call, and often!

About Time

On the morning of her fourth birthday, a miss named Nancy came into the house after playing in the yard. "Mommy," she asked, "did I get a phone call this morning?"

"No, dear," her mother said, a little surprised but equal to the occasion, "were you expecting a call?"

"Well," said Nancy, "I'm four years old now, so it's about time someone called me."

Would someone special like to hear from you? Someone special who's far away? Birthday or not, Long Distance calls go over big with friends — and they're pleasant for you, too!

"Our New Accounts"

As you already know, we have changed our telephone accounts to the new method of "Machine-Billing" which provides faster, accurate accounting and better service to our customers.

We'd like to give you just a friendly reminder that when paying your account by cheque and by mail, you should enclose the payment card to identify your payment. Or if you prefer to pay in person, please bring both the white copy and the card. This will help us to serve you better and quickly. If you're going to pay by cheque at our Agent's, the cheque should be made out to our Company and not to the Agent's name."

Lifelong Cannamore Resident Christena Jean Steven Dies

Surviving are two brothers, Orvis of Crysler, and James of Northfield Station, and three sisters, Mrs. Hugh Ross (Florence), of Finch; Mrs. Cecil Weaver (Rachael), of Williamsburg, and Mrs. Cecil Atwood (Jessie), of Vancouver.

Funeral service, conducted by Rev. D. L. Gordon, was from the Morewood United Church with P. G. Hewitt as organist, and soloist was J. F. Casselman. The remains were placed in the vault at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall-bearers were Dalton Baker, Archibald Carruthers, Earl Reveller, Thos. Reveller, Jacob Smirle and Ellis Thompson.

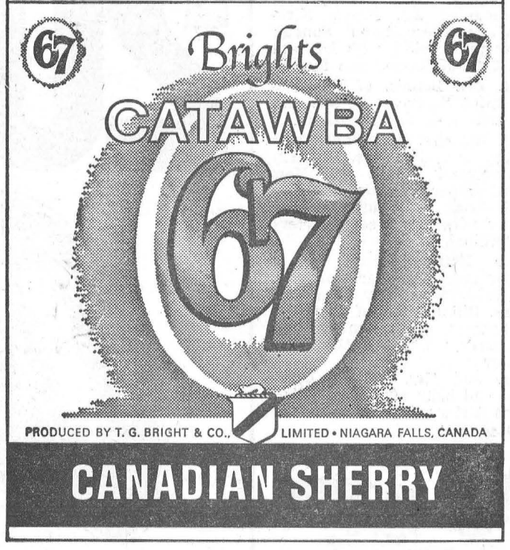
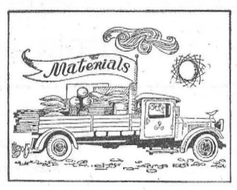
Next time, try . . .



Here are three important reasons why it will pay you to renovate and redecorate your home now!

1 SKILLED MEN ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! Although more and more building is being done each winter, exterior construction does slow down during the cold weather. As a result, home improvement contractors and skilled craftsmen seek out the smaller interior jobs that they are unable to handle during the summer. You benefit—with skilled workmanship by experienced tradesmen when it's most convenient to you!

2 DISCOUNTS AND LOANS ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! To create incentives that will balance their sales and keep their staff employed throughout the year, building supply dealers run winter sales. These special discounts help you renovate and redecorate at the lowest possible cost. You'll find your bank a good place to visit, too—for low-interest Home Improvement Loans under the National Housing Act: up to $4,000.00, with up to ten years to repay!



3 MATERIALS ARE AVAILABLE—NOW! When building slows down, materials become more readily available. Result: irritating delays in completing your job because of late delivery of supplies are eliminated!

There's no doubt about it. Winter is the very best time to spruce up your home (and your place of business)—quickly, efficiently, inexpensively!

A Hard Day's Day!

The Winchester Press' current expansion program is gradually nearing completion and it is expected a detailed announcement of changes and new process of printing will be made shortly. Actual operation of new equipment is not expected until the first part of February.

Last Thursday the cumbersome and, as it turned out, costly job of moving new equipment from a tractor trailer truck to the premises was accomplished. But not without the help of many willing hands.

One unit of the new Fairchilds News King press is shown in above picture being moved through the doors of the new section of the Press building. A few moments later another unit sitting on the Press floor slipped from a holding bar and crushed the foot of popular Press member Mike Dukelow. Mike was rushed to hospital and is currently convalescing from the painful injury which crushed three toes on his right foot.

In the above picture Mike, Erwin Duncan and Brian Raistrick, right, are shown putting the shoulder to one of the units as it slides rather awkwardly through the doors. All major equipment additions have now arrived and installation will start within the next few days.

The Press management is grateful for the assistance it received in unloading the heavier equipment on Thursday, about eight tons of it, with special thanks going to Len Cameron of Vernon, Erwin Duncan, Eldon Davidson, Smith Transport drivers, Harold Levere's Fina Station, Ault Milk Products Ltd., Roy Fawcett, John Fader, Arnold Dukelow, Bill Taylor of the Fairchilds Corporation from whom the press was purchased, and others.—Press Staff Photo.

New Ault Cheese Plant Example Of "Designated" Area Incentives

The new Federal Department of Industry has many designated areas across Canada. Cornwall area, incorporating the three United Counties, including the Winchester district, is one of these special areas.

HONOURABLE C. M. DRURY
Minister of Industry

As a labour surplus region the area is eligible for special incentives designed to attract industry and hold their interest. The incentive measure, among other things, includes a three-year tax holiday from federal income tax, special capital cost allowances on most new machinery and equipment, and special capital cost allowances on new buildings and significant extensions to existing buildings.

According to district industrial commissioners the incentive program, introduced in this designated area last year, is proving useful particularly in the immediate Cornwall area.

AULT CHEESE PLANT

One of the prime examples of how the incentives of a designated area may be of benefit is the new Ault Cheese plant in Winchester. This new industry, largest of its kind in Ontario, has been built under the legislation laid down for designated areas by the Department of Industry, and will share in the benefits as approved for designated areas. There is a good possibility that the plant would not have been built if such incentives and concessions had not been made available, the management said.

To qualify as a new manufacturing or processing business the following five basic conditions must be met: (1) It must be a new business. (2) The functions must be manufacturing or processing. (3) 95 per cent. of the plant and machinery must be located in the designated area. (4) 95 per cent. new machinery and equipment. (5) Attains commercial production within the prescribed time.

The designated area corresponds to National Employment Service local offices and qualifies as such an area if it has been classified by the Department of Labour: (a) as a labour surplus area for one-half or more of the summer months (May to October) during the past eight years; and it has experienced an employment increase of less than one-half the national average over the same period; (b) or been classified as a labour surplus area for one third or more of the summer months during the past eight years and has experienced an employment decrease over the same period; (c) or, been classified as a labour surplus area for one-half or more of the summer months during the past three years and experienced a decrease in employment each year.

The Hon. C. M. Drury is Minister of Industry and the Area Development officer is R. P. Vachon.

The above diagram shows municipalities included in and the boundaries of the Cornwall designated area.

Shell's Wonderful World Of Golf Returns Sunday

Regarded as Television's most popular golf show, "Shell's Wonderful World of Golf" returns to the air for its fourth season on Sunday, January 17, on the CBC network. The series will also be televised in the United States on the same day in colour on the ABC network.

Featured will be such outstanding golfers as Tony Lema, Juan Rodriguez, John Pott, all-time greats Ben Hogan and Sam Snead testing their skill on eleven of the world's most famous and challenging courses.

Of particular interest to Canadians is the seventh match of the series between Canada's two top touring professionals, George Knudson and Al Balding, played at the scenic and difficult layout of Cape Breton Highlands National Park Golf Links, Nova Scotia. This year the series will also feature two matches between top American women golfers and their European counterparts.

The show, starting this Sunday and running for 11 successive Sundays from January 17 through March 28, will be seen from 3.30 to 4.30 p.m. throughout Canada except in the Maritimes where it will be seen one hour later.

Filmed travelogues of the locale of each match, golf clinics and the unusual approach make the show especially interesting and high in audience rating.

First In World As Jet Plane Used Entirely For Cattle

A shipment of 55 pure bred Holsteins left Toronto January 4 for Milan, Italy. According to Pan-American Airways this is the first time in the world that an entire jet plane has been used for a shipment of cattle, although individual animals have been shipped by jet before as part of a mixed cargo.

Erik Anderson, of Cainsville, Ontario, assembled the animals for an Italian organization located at Cromona and known as CAFRI. CAFRI is composed of leading Italian Holstein breeders who have banded together to import outstanding animals for the individual members.

The shipment consisted of 13 bulls and 42 females, the latter largely bred heifers. Value of the 51 head was $100,000. Cost of the trip by jet is just over $500 per animal. The animals were crated for shipment so that there could be no shifting of the load at the high jet take-off speed.

Most of the animals were supplied from well known Holstein breeders in Western Ontario.

CURLING CAPSULES
By Ernie Richardson

Several questions were answered last week in the second Tournament of Champions bonspiel held at Maple Leafs Gardens, a four-day program that drew reasonably good crowds. We thought the attendance would be much better in Toronto, even though it turned out to be considerably more than the first year.

The new format of a seven-game round robin series for the eight rinks, then straight knockout of semi-finals and final for the top four finishers in the round robin added tremendous interest. This could be an idea for the Canadian Championhip Brier, but it is not likely to be adopted for awhile yet.

Although they tried their best, the Canadian Schoolboy championship team from Kirkland Lake skipped by likeable young Bob Ash proved that the competition is much too stiff for them. The young lads were very nervous and this had considerable effect on their shotmaking at times.

The excitement of this big competition also seemed to make them overanxious and the result was rather frequent bad judgement in sweeping, although they were vigorous sweepers when needed.

The showing of the Kirkland Lake rink proved the point made by the Dominion Curling Association when they declared Schoolboy rinks ineligible to compete in the Brier or provincial playdowns for Brier representation.

Competing against the country's most experienced players under tremendous pressure is far too much to expect from these young lads and a few setbacks could discourage their future curling plans.

The unexpected showing of Winnipeg's schoolboy entry skipped by Terry Braunstein in the 1958 Brier at Victoria is not likely to happen again. fact, the DCA has made sure of that.

The big prize payoff of $5,000. all in merchandise, for the winning rink in this year's Tournament of Champions added great tension to play throughout the entire bonspiel. And, with but a few exceptions provided some of the finest curling Ontario spectators have seen in a long time.

There were not the ice problems such as a year ago and the result was improved shotmaking as well as some highly interesting battles of strategy.

Unfortunately, we didn't win all of those battles and one in particular I wouldn't recommend you try under similar circumstances, especially in a major competition.

The point refered to is when I gambled on my last rock against Doug Campbell of Charlottetown and lost when I may have become a little too greedy and sure of myself. The try failed when my own shot stone, which would have tied the game and forced an extra end, was tapped out and left Cameron a winner 5 - 3.

There was a chance to make the shot but it was more difficult than we thought. Had the gamble worked and the shot come off as intended we would have counted the two shots necessary to pull out a win. I figured that having accepted the single shot to tie, Cameron would still have a big advantage of last rock on the extra end.

In my mind the gamble was worth taking at that stage of the round robin (it was in the third draw) but I am not sure it would happen again should a similar situation arise. We certainly would not advise it for the average curler.

Do you have a question on curling? Send them to Ernie Richardson, care of this newspaper.
