A dog, a trainer and enthralled students

'Butch' the police dog visits Chesterville P.S.

The students of Chesterville Public School spent an interesting afternoon last Tuesday, October 2nd, when "Butch", one of the eleven tracking dogs belonging to the OPP paid a visit to the school.

The canine from Kemptville was accompanied by Constable Walker of the Kemptville Detachment and constable Mille of Winchester Detachment.

Constable Walker, in a brief address, stressed the importance to the young audience of not straying away from family or friends while enjoying outdoor activities, such as camping or fishing.

Following the official introduction of "Butch", a series of slides were shown which included many of the cases the dog has worked on.

The students of the school were asked to withhold themselves from applauding as the Police Dog was also trained to control crowds and clapping would launch the animal into action.

The highlight of the visit came as a closing demonstration. Constable Miller donned thick arm protectors and "Butch" was ordered into action. It probably should be noted here that while "Butch" was putting on his demonstration discipline among the students was no problem.

April Countryman, meet "Butch". "Butch", the OPP tracking dog was a guest at Chesterville Public School last week. The others in the group standing well clear of the handsome beast are from the left, Kathleen Westbrook, teacher Phyllis Vollrath, squatting, Constable Walker, Kelly Locey and teacher Marjorie Thompson. The faces of the group in the rear certainly indicate that the dog held them spell-bound. — Staff Photo.

Snowmobile Drags slated for Oct. 21st

If during the next week and a half, you are awakened from an early nap by the sound of a roaring snowmobile, you're neither dreaming nor have you flipped your lid. Someone is merely making the final adjustments to his little "smoker" in preparation for the Snowmobile Drags coming up at the Chesterville Fair Grounds on Sunday, October 21.

1972 was the first year the drags had been held in Chesterville and if our memory serves us right it was plenty cold to snow but the weather did not serve to deter the good crowd which was in attendance.

Chesterville Chamber of Commerce officials have advised us that registration will take place from 10 a.m. to noon and the actual drags will get underway at 1:30 p.m.

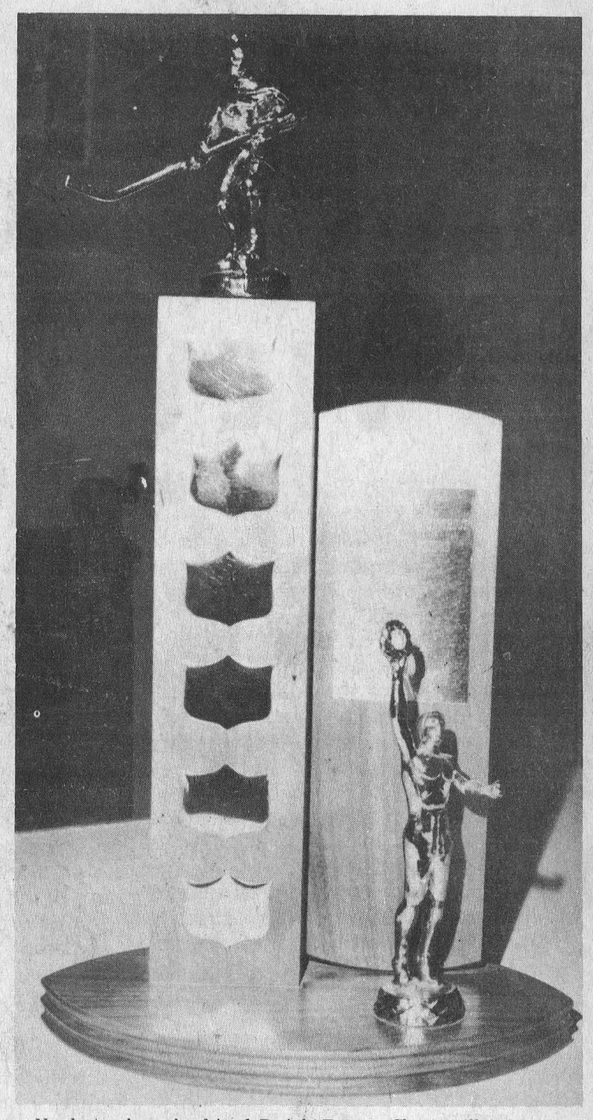
Twelve different classes will be set up and will feature stock, modified and free air. The ladies will get the opportunity to show their ability as there will be a "powder puff" class.

A total of $300 in prize money is being offered, which should entice a good entry of machines. Appropriate trophies will also be up for grabs.

A nominal fee of $5.00 has been set for dealers who wish to bring their lines of snowmobiles to the fair grounds.

If you are considering a new machine for this winter we suggest you take in the snowmobile drags. You may see something that will help you decide on what make to buy.

In case of inclement weather the Drags will be held on the following Sunday.



Need a trophy, ask a friend. Dwight Tupper, Chesterville's favorite auctioneer, heard where the trophy case in Chesterville arena was lacking a trophy for the Midget Hockey League. The handsome trophy shown here will come up for grabs this season and will be around for annual play. — Staff Photo.

Newington church to mark anniversary

The sixty-eighth Anniversary Services at the Emmanuel Baptist Church, Newington will feature the Reverend Gordon A. Walker, B.A., B.D. General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance in Canada. In this capacity Rev. Walker travels from coast to coast as Sunday observance is under the jurisdiction of each provincial legislature. A graduate of McMaster Divinity College, Mr Walker held pastorates in Caledonia and Barrie before he was called to the Convention Department of Canadian Missions where he had the responsibility of Evangelsim and Social Action.

In 1971, on the retirement of the Rev. Alvin McGrath who for many years had represented the Lord's Day Alliance, Mr Walker assumed the responsibilities of this important outreach of the Christian Church in Canada.

An able preacher, Mr Walker is well received wherever he speaks. During the evening hymn sing, Mr Walker will explain the new Sunday employment laws which are now before the Ontario Legislature.

The Junior Choir and Mrs Debbie MacIntyre will provide the special music during the morning service and at the hymn sing. A former pastor and his wife, Mr and Mrs David Smith of Brownsburg, Quebec, will sing several selections.

The services will be conducted by the Minister, Rev. Charles E. Burtch. The director of music is Jane Forsyth.

Finch Ladies' Recreation Association elect 1973-74 officers

The Finch Ladies Recreation Association finished their inaugural year showing a healthy bank balance and boasting a lengthy list of accomplishments. The organization was founded in August, 1972, to supplement the several male oriented groups presently at work and to provide assistance for all community activities with special emphasis on youth programmes.

Money was raised by catering to several weddings and from a fashion show. The new ktichen in the community centre was furnished in its entirety including dishes, flatware, cooking utensils and air conditioner. Drapes for the Centre and tables and chairs were purchased. A dance was sponsored to aid the N.S.H.S. Soccer team purchase jackets. Trophies and crests were given for Broomball and the Auxiliary sponsored the Girls' Broomball team and provided coaches for minor softball.

A visit from Santa Claus was arranged at Christmas for the youngsters under the very capable presidency of Mrs Phyllis Vollrath.

Officers for the Auxiliary for the coming year are: President, Mrs Gordon McIntyre; First Vice President, Mrs Dalton McMillan; Second Vice, Mrs Harold Holland; Secretary, Mrs Alan Neville; Treasurer, Mrs Lionel Baker; Social Action, Mrs Lynden Hough; Food Convener, Mrs Clayton Shaver.

Plans are being made now to provide a banquet for all those who participated in the local minor softball — approximately 150 boys and girls from the age of 6 years — on October 27.

The Auxiliary are grateful to all the public spirited citizens who have assisted in any way to help make their venture so successful.

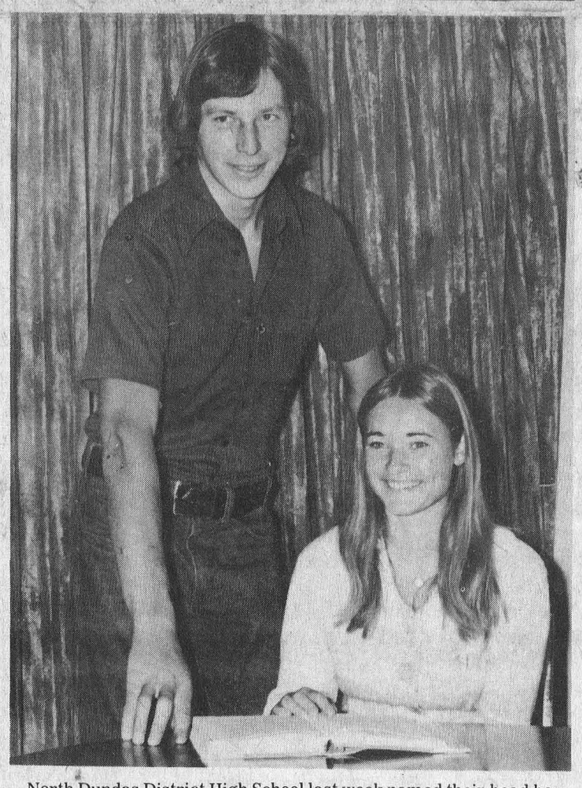
Fall fashions presented at Finch arena

A capacity crowd filled the Finch Community Centre on Wednesday evening to view fall and winter styles shown by the Sno-Drop Boutique of Winchester and sponosred by the Finch Ladies Recreation Auxiliary.

Mrs Frances MacMillan, vice president of the Recreation Auxiliary welcomed the ladies and introduced the commentator for the evening, Mrs Lynden Hough. Models showing the gowns were Misses Eileen Runions, Margaret McNaughton, Debbie MacMillan, Donna Moran, Cathy Sullivan, Mesdames Phyliss Vollrath, Gertrude Morris, Norma McIntyre, Kathleen McNaughton, Margaret Neville, Kay Hanna, and Betty Moran.

The fashions were many and varied — camel, black and navy being the fashionable colors with checks and plaids and tweeds being most popular. There were many beautiful prizes donated by local merchants.

A lovely lunch was served by the members and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the owners of the Sno-Drop Boutique, Mrs Len Steck, and Mrs Myrtle Freeland and their assistant, Mrs Gladys Gates for their work.



North Dundas District High School last week named their head boy and head girl. Grade 13 student Paul Jansen won the honour to represent the boys, Sandra Gray, a grade 12 student, will speak for the girls. Paul is the son of Mr and Mrs Herman Jansen of R.R.4, Osgoode, Sandra is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs Lawrence Gray, Winchester. — Staff Photo.

Bits & Pieces

It Sounds Like A Good Idea

Two local gals have taken things in their hands and are working on the idea of picking up paper and delivering it to a centre where it can be re-cycled. From our corner, where we see the cost of paper ever on the increase, it seems like a great idea. Recycling in the future will undoubtedly become a very familiar word as our raw products constantly diminish.

The New By-Pass

By living along an artery leading to the new by-pass, we notice where the new strip of road is being used considerably. We're not sure that we should be travelling along this strip, but at the moment there is an element of danger. We've witnessed cars going west on South Street, popping over the new road without any hesitation, only to have a vehicle pass by on the new road seconds later. If we were to have a fender-bending session at one of the intersections it could be difficult to straighten out.

Four-days — Forty-hours

Commissioner H. H. Graham of the Ontario Provincial Police recently announced that the Force will test the four-day, forty-hour work week, commencing on or about January 1, 1974. In accordance with the memorandum of understanding with the Ontario Provincial Police Association, four detachments of various sizes will be selected for their study. It is anticipated that the test will be for a period not exceeding six months. Following this the results will be evaluated as to the possible implementation throughout the force.

So Now We Know

Chesterville Rotary Club, in a letter to the editor, very emphatically informed us there is going to be a Walkathon. We feel the letter deserves a couple of notations — for the life of us we can't figure out what the Rotary Club is going to do with the strips they tore off our back. And secondly we feel an old saying seems appropriate: "You have to spend a dollar to make a dollar". We learned this lesson a long time ago.

Hon. Eugene Whelan guest farmers invited to meeting

If you are a farmer, or are interested in the future of Agriculture, there is a meeting coming up next week which should prove most interesting.

The Federations of Agriculture from Dundas, Grenville and Leeds Counties have organized a meeting to be held in the Nationview Public School at South Mountain on Wednesday, October 17 at 8 p.m. The panel discussion will take as its theme "Feed Grain" and Dairy Policy."

The list of dignitaries that have been booked to sit on the panel is impressive and they should be able to come up with some satisfactory answers. Panel members will include — The Honourable Eugene Whelan, Federal Minister of Agriculture; Hugh Blaine, Past Director of OFA; Jim McCullough, Area Co-ordinator, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture; Murray McPhail, President of the Food Dealers Association, Ontario.

George Price, CBC Farm Broadcaster, will serve as moderator, to keep things in line. Keith Matthie, Vice-President of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, will act as chairman for the evening.

A most cordial invitation is extended to area farmers to attend this most important meeting.

Raspberries in October — Archie (Pat) Black, Joseph Street, Chesterville, was out afield on Sunday looking over the duck hunting situation. Archie didn't say whether he spotted any good hunting spots but he sure had a feed of wild raspberries. The berries shown here were collected on the road west of the Ninth Community Centre. The balance of berries on the branches did not go to waste, we picked them clean before discarding them. — Staff Photo.

Chief asks for your help during Fire Prevention Week

October 7th to 13th is Fire Prevention Week across Canada and Chesterville Fire Department will be joining thousands of other brigades in spreading the word — It's Better To Be Safe Than Sorry.

Chief Grenville Fyke said he and his 18-man volunteer force have been called to fight three fires in Chesterville and vicinity since January 1st of this year. The Chief said this compares with 13 fires in the same period of time the previous year.

"In many cases" the Chief said, "fires could be prevented. A little care and precaution could save many wasted dollars and a lot of heartache."

Included in their prevention program this week were visits to both Chesterville Public and St. Mary's Separate Schools, North Dundas District High School and Maple Ridge Public School.

The fire fighters will be conducting fire drills and talking about ways and means of spotting a fire hazard before it becomes a disaster.

The local department is also asking for co-operation from home owners and business people. Chief Fyke and his men will be conducting spot investigations of several community establishments. Their goal is not to cause trouble but to assist in detecting danger areas.

Fire prevention is an important job of the department but preventing loss of life or injury is also a monumental task.

Area fire departments are urging every family to develop a plan which will get them up and out of a burning house as quickly and safely as possible.

The escape plan makes the home owner aware of the best means of leaving a burning building. It has been proven that most deaths in a fire are not caused by flames but by an odorless mushroom of searing air with temperatures up to 1500 degrees. This killer spreads through every room of the house within four minutes after the fire starts.

Chief Fyke suggested residents should contact a member of the fire department if they wish more information on an escape plan for their home.

By promoting both prevention and escape plans Chief Fyke hopes that no Chesterville or area resident will become one of the more than 125,000 people who have died in fires across Canada since 1962.

Although one week is devoted to Fire Prevention on a national basis, everyone should work at it fifty-two weeks a year.

Special services marking congregations 97th anniversary held at Avonmore

AVONMORE — Special services, marking the congregation's 97th Anniversary, were held Sunday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Guest speaker at both services was Rev. John Mackechnie, LL.B., Minister of Kenyon Church, Dunvegan.

At the morning service Miss Wendy Lang was the soloist with special numbers by the choir, directed by Mrs Neil Bush. Guest soloist in the evening was Mrs Wayne Murdock of Cornwall.

A fellowship hour followed the evening service. Lunch was served by the ladies.

VIEWS...

I'm Alright Jack"

Apathy towards the incidence of fire is a major deterrent to the progress of Fire Prevention education programs.

The public at large may be well aware of the dangers from fire but they don't believe it will strike at their home or their family.

This "I'm alright Jack" attitude is reflected in a number of ways but the most pointed is in fire statistics. With an average of approximately 1000 residential fires a week and two thirds of conflagrations occuring in the home, it becomes obvious something is wrong.

Of course something is wrong. The low level of public awareness that fire can be their personal enemy is at the root of the problem.

Over a fifteen year period the Joint Fire Prevention Publicity Committee, an organization jointly sponsored by the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals and Fire Commissioners and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs has developed national educational programs on an ever increasing scale. Millions of pieces of literature carrying warnings of fire hazards, precautionary advices etc. have been distributed by fire fighters and other interested groups. The media have supported the programs in a major way with messages to the homes. National poster and essay contests have been run in the elementary and high schools with entries on occasion approaching the 30,000 level. Still the incidence of home fires and loss of lives and property continues to rise.

This rise is due in some extent to normal population increases, and to a degree the increased density of urban living but mainly is the result of the impersonal attitude that fire won't happen to them or their family.

This year a new theme is being introduced into the Joint Committee's program. It asks a question the public must individually answer. "FIRE. DO YOU REALLY THINK IT CAN'T HAPPEN TO YOU?"

Thought provoking, it directs the responsibility for fire prevention and family preservation where it belongs, in a personalized way. it should contribute much to offsetting the apathetic mood of many people who continue to ignore reasonable precautions. Hopefully it will jar their "I'm alright Jack" philosophy.

About Being Business-Like

The term "BUSINESS-LIKE" is one of the most expressive in general use. It is a compliment when applied to manufacturing, trade and commerce, to the administration of our social institutions, and to an individual's handling of family and personal affairs. It includes many attributes such as reliability, integrity, efficiency and a sense of values.

Business is the supplying of things that have utility, that meet the needs of people. It is the art of production and exchange which through the ages has contributed to human comfort.

Business may consist of making goods and selling them, purchasing goods and selling them, or providing services for which the users pay. The goals of people in business include profit and growth. Business is of advantage to seller and buyer, to producer and distributor and to the consumer. It provides employment and contributes to social welfare.

The word "business" implies a financial statement in which the two most important words are "profit" and "loss". If it is to attract investment capital the enterprise must be capable of making profit. Earning profit is more than an incident indicating successful management: it is an essential condition of success.

Every business has an option: to be routine or to be special. The excellence that makes a business stand out from others is derived from clear judgment, applied experience, superior capability and a touch of artistry.

Success is not to be measured soley by the gross amount of income. The limitations of environment must be taken into account. It has been pointed out that the business of a city merchant may expand by a million dollars a year and yet he may be properly regarded as less successful than a small town merchant whose business is increasing at the rate of ten thousand dollars a year. The merchants are to be judged by the use they make of the opportunities that exist in the territory they operate.

Ann Landers...

Dear Ann Landers: You have printed many letters in your column about pets and whether or not they are worth "all the trouble and money" people spend on them. One man wrote that when he comes home from work at night his dog gives him a warm welcome and brings his slippers. His wife barks at him. That letter explained plenty.

I ran across something in a magazine called "U.S. Catholic." I hope you feel it's worth passing on to your readers.

A writer named John Mahoney insists it is immoral to waste time and money on pets when millions of people are starving. About 64 percent of the readers questioned disagreed with him. Nearly the same number claim the great American rat race makes it mandatory that we permit ourselves some whimsical indulgences in order to preserve our health and sanity. One woman wrote, "If my neighbour was worthy of help, I'd help him, but he isn't." Another said, "I believe I should be free to choose what I want to give up to help my neighbour. My dog would be the last on the list of things to go."

A New Jersey woman fumed, "I'm getting sick and tired of carrying a load of unearned guilt." Another reader sniffed, "If Mahoney needs a cause, let him go after the drinkers and smokers and leave our pets alone. I hope St. Francis gives him nightmares."

Interesting, Ann? — Back Bay Mackerel Snapper

Dear Mac: Indeed. So interesting that I picked up the magazine and noted that Mr Mahoney's wrath was not limited to animal lovers. He also had a few poison darts for skiers, yachtsmen, golfers, gamblers, gourmet cooks, camera buffs and stereo nuts. The only segment of society he missed were the little old ladies who crochet doilies.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are both too upset to think clearly. If we are wrong, will you please tell us?

Our daughter is getting married in October. We planned a nice wedding and reception in our home for about 100 people. Everything was fine until last week when our daughter informed us they would prefer to have the reception at the home of the groom's parents. My husband and I refused, so they decided on a much smaller wedding with NO reception.

Today we were told that the groom's family will give a large reception at a swanky club following the services. Of course we are hurt.

Were we wrong in saying no to their request that the in-laws have the reception at their home? Is it right that the in-laws are giving the reception now? — Route Twenty-Three

Dear Route: There are a few unknown considerations, such as the comparative size of the homes, number of guests, etc. Based on the facts as stated, I'd say you should have agreed to let the in-laws give the reception at their home. (Most parents of the bride would have welcomed such an offer.)-

In view of your refusal to go along, you have no legitimate complaint at this time. So kiss and make up or you might ruin the spirit of the day and that would be very unfortunate for all concerned.

Don't flunk your chemistry test. Love is more than one set of glands calling to another. If you have trouble making a distinction you need Ann's Booklet, "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request and 35c in coin to this newspaper.

Letter to the Editor

Chesterville, Ontario,
October 8, 1973.

The Editor,
Chesterville Record Ltd.,
Chesterville, Ontario.

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to comment on the cute bit of sarcasm that disgraced the front page of your paper last week. Perhaps if you were to do a little introspection into your own operation you would have the answer to your question as to why YOU may not have heard much about the upcoming Walkathon.

Firstly last year after the walk your editorial page mocked the walkathon as an outmoded and rather ridiculous way for a service club to raise its money — that something new should be tried.

We would like to state that this outmoded form of fund raising realized some $1,500.00 which was promptly turned over the the arena fund.

The adult members of our community had their opportunity through the door to door canvass to share in the arena building project. The Walkathon, in our humble judgement, offered the younger members of the community an opportunity to do their bit for the project. It is easy for you to say we should do something different, but then, suggest another project whereby we can realize such a high return and in which the young kids can participate. If you have good suggestions, perhaps you would like to join the service club and bring them along.

Secondly, your article indirectly was asking why hasn't the service club sponsoring the project advertised it in our paper. Perhaps the answer in part is because the service club has given away all its money it cannot afford to place ads. If your paper was prepared to give service clubs a special rate for advertising projects for fund raising, they might be more ready to place such ads. But unless your policy has changed recently, service clubs must pay the same rates as commercial operations. We think you may be assuming a bit too much by implying that the public will not support a project unless it has been publicized in your paper.

Those people, namely the young, who make this project successful have been adequately informed. The local schools were given sponsor sheets and maps last week.

It would be appreciated by many people in the community if you could be a little more positive in your comments and support our project rather than indulge in sarcasm and self pity. You state that you pride yourself in reporting news. Perhaps you might make it your policy to gather some on your own.

Furthermore, if you were to read your own paper you would know who is sponsoring the Walkathon. Two weeks ago in your write-up of council business you printed that council was going ahead with ordering a new P.A. system for the arena on the basis of the returns for the Rotary Walkathon offsetting most of the cost. It is the intention of the Club to use the proceeds from the Walkathon toward the purchase of a new sound system for the arena.

Yours Truly
Bill Giles, President
Rotary Club of Chesterville.

Man's Pedigree

GEORGE

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree
Discussing things as they're said to be
Said one to the others
"Now listen you two
There's certain rumor that can't be true
That man descended from our noble race
The very idea is sure a disgrace

No monkey has ever deserted his wife
Starved her babies and ruined her life
And you've never known another monk
To leave her babies with another to bunk
Or pass them on from one to another
Till they hardly know which one is their mother

And another thing you will never see
A monk build a fence round a coconut tree
And let the coconut waste
Forbidding all other monks to taste
Why, if I put a fence around this tree
Starvation would force you to steal from me

And here's something else a monk won't do
Go out at night and get in a "stew"
Or use a gun or a club or knife
To take some other poor monkey's life
Yes, man descended—the ornery cuss–
But, brother, he didn't descend from us!"

Mr. and Mrs. B. MacLean honoured on 40th anniversary

A very enjoyable evening was spent in the S.S. Hall of Chalmers United Church on Friday, September 29, when Mr and Mrs Bernard MacLean were honoured on their 40th Wedding Anniversary.

A delicious dinner was served by Chalmers U.C.W. to the immediate family. Mr MacLean's mother, Mrs Loran MacLean, had celebrated her 92nd birthday recently. Also present were Mrs George MacLean, Mr Jack MacLean and Mr and Mrs Harold Moore (Marion).

Mr Ford Carruthers said Grace after which a toast to the couple was proposed by Mr Edgar MacLean.

An address was read by Mrs Wesley Meldrum after which their granddaughters Donna MacLean and Erma Moore presented Mr and Mrs MacLean with a hassock and large mirror and a pole lamp. There were also many other gifts from friends.

Mr MacLean thanked everyone for coming, for their gifts and a special vote of thanks was extended to the ladies for the lovely dinner.

During the evening Mr and Mrs MacLean received the good wishes of many, many friends and neighbours who called to wish them well.

Mr and Mrs MacLean were married by the Rev. John Maxwell in the manse at Finch on September 27, 1933 and have resided in the Finch area since.

Trinity Messengers hold Thanksgiving program

Sandra Price opened the October Messenger meeting by leading the fourteen members present in the motto and prayer. The theme of the program was the celebrating of Thanksgiving.

Rhonda York read the poem "What Pennies Cannot Buy". The group then answered the roll call by "What are you thankful for?"

Angus Craig read a prayer after Patti Levere received the offering. Mrs Jordan told the story "Thanksgiving Everday."

Everyone joined in a hymnsing and birthday greetings for October were sung to Scott Mitchell.

After a game and craft period, Kelly Mitchell closed the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. Leaders were Mrs Sharron Jordan and Mrs Ruth Mitchell.

IN MEMORIAM

IRVING — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Herbie Anderson Irving, who was accidentally killed October 6, 1945.

I cannot have the old days back,
When we were both together,
But secret tears and loving thoughts
Will be with me forever.
Within my heart I'll always keep
A special place for you
And try to do my best
To live as you would want me to.
To some you are forgotten
To others part of the past,
But to we who loved you dearly
Your memory will always last.

Always remembered by wife and daughters, Beatrice, Audrey, Lila, Beulah, Phyllis snowmobile buyer's guide

When you're out looking for a high performance snowmobile, don't be taken in by size.

Most people think high performance snowmobiles are big. Simply because most of them are. But with the SS, we took a different approach. We made it compact.

There are certain advantages inherent in a compact snowmobile. First of all, it's easier to handle on a tight trail. But more important, it's light. And lightness is essential when you're after performance.

Imagine a Volkswagen with a Ferrari engine

The Elan SS weighs in at a compact 330 lbs. But, instead of powering it with an appropriately compact engine, we gave it a super-tuned 293.5 cc Rotax twin. So SS moves out like a Volkswagen with a Ferrari engine. Just how hot can you get?

Less than 1/3 of a pound per square inch

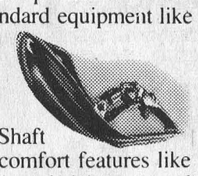
But the lightness of the SS is good for a lot more than an excellent power-to-weight ratio. It also allows for an incredible ground pressure ratio.

Because, although Elan SS is shorter than a full-size snowmobile, its track is a full-size snowmobile track. So, as well as being light on its feet on hard-packed snow, SS has the flotation you need to hustle you through the deep stuff. And do it safely and surely with a wide 25-1/2" ski stance and a responsive ground leveller slide suspension.

SS gives you the guts of a high performance machine. But it also gives you all the trimmings.

Extra performance features

Add in extra performance features that are standard equipment like shock absorbers, ice-gripping carbide ski runners, our new positive response Square Shaft clutch and extra comfort features like our 3-layer foam sandwich seat, and extra value features like our full one-year warranty, and you've got a complete high performance snowmobile that just happens to be a little smaller than the big ones. And a lot less expensive.



You don't have to go big to go great

So if you're looking for a high performance snowmobile, just remember one thing:

You don't have to go big to go great. See Elan SS at your Ski-Doo dealer's.

Duck hunters - stay away from the "Golden"

By Wayne Mutton

No, we're not referring to the brew, but Goleneye ducks.

Early regulations concerning waterfowl seasons this year have now been changed and Goldeneyes are off the list of fair game for hunters.

Indeed Goldeneyes are off limits for hunters all over North America this year because surveys indicate their population is declining because of heavy hunting pressure and the decline of habitat. The ducks tended to take up residence in the old nests of Pileated Woodpeckers. Because the Pileated Woodpecker populations have declined drastically all over the continent, the ducks were left without protected nesting sites.

Regulations regarding daily bag and possession limits should now be revised to not mention Goldeneyes and to read "except that on and after October 13 two additional scaup may be taken daily" and "except that after October 13 four additional scaup may be possessed."

Watch where you sit down near Kaladar

The Eastern Ontario countryside does not call forth visions of cowboys, dry gulches, mavericks, longhorns, and sheriff's posses. But would you believe cactus? There's a pleasant spot not far from Kaladar where a sharp projection piercing the seat of a picnicker's trousers could come from a small, prostrate form of cactus.

Back in 1934 a Queen's University biologist sent a cactus fragment from "Scanty soil in crevices of granite rock," from Lennox and Addington County to the Gray Herbarium of Harvard University. He grew a specimen in the Queen's University greenhouse for several years. The cactus remained in relative obscurity until 1967 when the late Dr. R. E. Beschel of Queen's led a field trip of the Canadian Botanical Association to the site in 1967.

Ontario has one cactus occurrence on Point Pelee, a nearly spineless variety. The Kaladar cactus is distinctly spined. The nearest known occurrence of the same species is in Wisconsin and Illinois, at least 600 miles further west. Whence came the Kaladar cactus?

The plant could have immigrated thousands of years ago during a warm and dry period which followed the retreat of the continental glaciers, and become isolated together with group of southern plants which grow with it. It could also have been brought in the blanket of an Indian or a voyageur during the last century or two. This species of cactus breads up very easily, and its spine joints will adhere to clothing and even leather boots. Each single joint can grow readily into a new plant if it falls in a suitable place.

The Kaladar cactus grows on rounded coarse granite knob, rich in feldspar and poor in quartz. Most of the surrounding rock has a higher quartz composition. The knob has cactus growing in numerous places among mosses and lichens. Similar rock outcroppings, which have had no forest cover for centuries, are common in that area.

So if you should sit on something sharp on an outing in the Kaladar area, or elsewhere in the great south east, take a careful look. If its a cactus, your nearest office of the Ministry of Natural Resources would like to hear about it.

IN MEMORIAM
SWERDFEGER — In loving memory of our dear mother Mrs Beth Swerdfeger, who passed away October 10, 1971.
The dearest mother, the kindest friend,
Loving and kind in all her ways
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As we treasure the memory of you,
That meant so much to us.
Daughter Margaret, Son Ken

CARDS OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my relatives, neighbours and friends, for their many cards, flowers, gifts and best wishes, while I was a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital and special thanks to Dr. G. Slowey and staff on the second floor. Also special thanks to Dr. Leahy and staff on the third floor of the Ottawa Civic Hospital. Your many acts of kindness will always be remembered.
Mrs Mary Robinson, Finch 5-1

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to extend my sincere thanks to my friends and family who visited and sent cards and gifts while I was a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. D. W. Justus and nurses on the first floor.
Esther M. Johnston 5

CARD OF THANKS
Many thanks to friends and neighbours for good wishes, visits and gifts that helped to make our 40th anniversary an occasion to be so long remembered.
Bernard and Georgina McLean 5

CARD OF THANKS
"To have friends you must be a friend." Lyle was a friend. To those who in so many ways remembered him while he was in W.D.M.H. and after when he passed away, we say "Thank you". Also to Drs. Howard and Duane Justus who gave so freely of their medical skill trying to help him get well again and to the kind nurses and all staff on 1st floor. We will always remember how kind you were.
Anna and his sister Wyda 5

CARD OF THANKS
MELLROSS — The family of the late Jessie Mellross wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends, relatives and neighbours for the beautiful floral tributes, donations to the Ontario Heart Foundation, and Canadian Bible Society, and for the many cards of sympathy sent us. A special thanks to Rev. H. Giffin, Dr. Slowey, the nursing staff of Winchester Memorial Hospital and Brownlee Funeral Home. These acts of kindness will ever be remembered. 5-1

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our sincere thanks to all who attended our mixed stag and wedding reception. Special thanks to those who organized and helped in any way to make these events the success that they were.
Edmond and Ann Chabot 5-1

CARD OF THANKS
We would like to thank our friends, neighbours and relatives for the cards and gifts we received while we were patients in the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital.
Bertha and Shona Sullivan 5-1

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank my neighbours, friends, and relatives who remembered me with cards, gifts and personal calls while I was a patient in Winchester and Ottawa Civic Hospital.
Thos. Reveler 5

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to extend my sincere thanks to neighbours, friends, and relatives for cards and visits while I was a patient in the Cornwall General Hospital. Thanks also to the doctors and nurses at the Corwall General. Special thanks and appreciation to the community for funds received on account of my recent loss of my barn as a result of fire. Thanks also to the Newington, Monkland, and Ingleside volunteer fire brigade for their efficiency at the time of the fire.
James S. Ferguson, R.R.2, Newington, Ontario 5-1

CARD OF THANKS
A sincere thank you to our relatives, neighbours and friends for beautiful floral tributes, memoriams to the Heart Foundations, cards, and special thanks for the baking that people sent as in this time of deep sorrow in our family in the loss of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Howard E. Watson. We shall never forget the kindnesses extended to us.
Lucielle Watson and Family 5

Mainly About People

Mr and Mrs Carl Smith spent Thanksgiving weekend with Mrs Charles Crump on their way home to Kearney, Ontario from a trip to Nova Scotia.

Avonmore W.I. hold Oct. meeting

At the monthly meeting of the Avonmore Women's Institute, held in the local Fire Hall Association Room, members responded to the roll call by showing some handiwork, such as embroidery, tatting or homemade jewelry.

Correspondence inlcuded a letter from the members of the Ingleside Fire Departme n t thanking the Avonmore W.I and the ladies of the Avonmore community for the refreshments that were served at the time of the recent fire in Avonmore.

Members accepted an invitation from the Newington Branch to attend their Grandmothers meeting. With regret the members were unable to accept an invitation to attend a senior training school on quilts.

Mrs Oland A. Kyle was named as delegate to the Area Convention, to be held at the New Parkway Hotel, Cornwall, October 18 and 19.

Mrs E. L. Filion gave a paper "Food for Thought", suggestions for avoiding food poisoning in the warm weather.

Several papers were given as follows: "The Spray Generation", Mrs Ernest Poapst; "How Parliament Spends Our Money," Miss B. J. Banfill; "History of South Australian Country Women's Association," Mrs Alex Armour; "Safety on the Tractor", Mrs Clifford McElheran; and "Members of Parliament Polls," Mrs Glenn McIntyre.

Mrs J. A. Cameron was the winner of a contest conducted by Mrs James Tinkess.

Acknowledged was the gift of a bingo game from Mrs Armour to the local Branch; and an electric clock donated by the local W.I. Branch to the Firemen's Association for use in their Association Room.

It was agreed that meetings for the next few months will be held in the afternoons.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Royal Anthem. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs McIntyre, Mrs Filion and Mrs Campbell.

Missionary from Rhodesia to speak in Newington Church

A Special Missionary Service will be held at the Newington Wesleyan Church on Wednesday, October 17, at 8 p.m.

Rev. Gene Hudson, a Missionary of the Wesleyan Church to Rhodesia will be the guest speaker and will show slides.

Mr Hudson attended Bethany Bible College in Sussex, New Brunswick, and Teachers College in Fredericton. He holds a Bachelor of Religion Degree. Soon after ordination by his home conference in 1962, the Hudson family went to Rhodesia. Here he has served as Superintendent of Bethesda District. Three terms of service have been completed.

Rev. Hudson will tell about the field where he has served, the people and the missionary work being done there.

The Wesleyan Church has missionary work in 31 foreign countries. While the major emphasis is placed on gospel evangelism, an extensive medical and educational program has been carried on by the denomination in several areas of this world-wide missionary enterprise.

A welcome is extended to all to attend this missionary service.

Mainly About People

Mr and Mrs Douglas Hall of Aylmer, Quebec, spent Thanksgiving weekend at the home of Mr and Mrs Edward Servage, Chesterville.

Mrs Bertha Ouderkirk spent Thanksgiving at North Augusta visiting her neice, Mrs Ivan Dixon, Mr Dixon and family, and called on relatives at the Brockville General Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Leo Coyne and family of Chesterville had Thanksgiving dinner on Sunday with Mr and Mrs Clifford Coyne, Ottawa.

The Reverend E. Earle Eaton was in Montrealon Saturday and Monday attending the Annual P.Y.P.S. Thanksgiving Weekend Conference of Quebec and Eastern Ontario Synod. Mr Eaton called last week on friends at Avonmore and Williamsburg, and paid hospital calls in Cornwall. He was a dinner guest of Mr and Mrs Ernest Fling of Williamsburg. On Wednesday he was at Prescott for a meeting of Brockville Presbytery, and in the evening participated in a rehearsal of the Seaway Singers at Morrisburg.

IN MEMORIAM

FYKE — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Lloyd, who passed away October 17, 1972.
Time rolls on and we are reminded,
Of the day our hearts were crushed,
When God took you, oh so quickly
And we all in gloom were thrust.
In your prime of manhood days,
In the bloom of life, death claimed you,
In your prime of manhood days
But we hope someday to meet you,
And to be with you always.

Avonmore U.C.W. hold Thanksgiving Program

A meeting of St. Jame's United Church Women was held in the dining hall on October 2. the president, Mrs R. MacIntyre, opened the Thanksgiving program with a poem entitled "Give Thanks, Whatever Happens," by Wilbur K. Howard.

The Devotional Period was prepared by Mrs H. Funge and given by Mrs C. Markell and Mrs A. Armour. The theme was "Giving Thanks". Two records, "Joy Bread" and "We Thank Thee" opened the Worship Service.

Mrs A. Armour read the Scripture and Mrs C. Markell gave the meditation "The Thanksgiving Spirit."

The Monkland group under the leadership of Mrs J. Begg, and Mrs C. Helps presented the program. Centred on women in India, the life of the Brahma farm wife and that of a Moslem woman were clearly depicted by means of an interview with each.

The business period followed. There were thirty visits to sick and shut-ins. A Social Assistance report was given by Mrs F. Barkley. Arrangements were made for lunch following Anniversary Services October 28. The Christmas Tea will be held in November.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs R. MacIntyre. A Social hour followed.

AN OPTICAL ILLUSION

Look closely at this picture. What do you see? An old hag or a pretty young woman with her head turned away? Keep looking and you should eventually be able to see both without too much trouble, but don't worry if it takes you a long time.

Get the jump on planting this spring, with 'land storage' of

CO-OP®
Fertilizer this fall.

Anything you can do this fall to speed up spring operations is going to pay off in higher yields. Earlier planting can mean extra bushels of corn particularly in some of the lower heat unit ranges.

Land storage of CO-OP* fertilizer this fall can give you the needed nutrients in the soil for early spring plants. Your plant food is right where it's needed, when it's needed to assure that good start for your crop. And you won't have to go over wet fields with a heavy load.

Talk to your Co-operative or CO-OP Crop Products specialists about plowing down a suitable analysis of CO-OP fertilizer now, and get the jump on spring.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

OCTOBER 7-13, 1973

FIGHT FIRE - SAVE LIVES

1 If a fire breaks out in your home, get out fast — with your family. Fire can spread faster than you can run.

2 If you find smoke in an open stairway or open hall, use another preplanned way out. Teach your children how to use the phone to report a fire.

3 Make sure children can open doors, windows and screens to escape routes.

4 Make sure your family knows the quickest and safest ways to escape from every room in the house.

5 DON'T fight a fire yourself.

6 If you are trapped in a smoke-filled room, stay near the floor, where the air is better.

7 DON'T jump. Many people have jumped and died — without realizing rescue was just a few minutes away.

FIRE IS SO FINAL

THAT'S NO EMPTY SLOGAN . . .

Just how final depends on how much you value human life.

In one year 620 persons died in fires, burned or suffocated by smoke. The victims included 316 men, 125 women and 179 children. More than 2,500 others were injured or scarred for life.

Possessions, a home can be replaced. Insurance can help you to take care of your loss.

In one year, nearly 45,000 homes were damaged or destroyed by fire.

Almost all these fires were caused by somebody's negligence.

Smokter's carelessness, mis-use of electricity, faulty stoves and furnaces, children playing with matches, kitchen deep-fat flareups were among the leading causes of these fires.

Fire is deadly.

"It happened in a flash . . . And to my dying day I will never forget their screams in the smoke."

Think of a loved one. Could you part forever with that someone?

"We left the children alone for only a few minutes."

All the compassion of one's world, one's friends, one's neighbours is poor comfort in utter tragedy, when you know, deep down, that it's part of your making.

"FIRE IS SO FINAL". That's the message by Fire Fighters to 21,000,000 Canadians . . .

And we add: FIRE CAN BREAK YOUR HEART.

KITCHEN CORNER

AUTUMN SANDWICH SUPPER

Pot Roast on Buns
Cheese Scalloped Corn
Dill Pickles Celery
Forzen Pumpkin Ice Cream Pie

Instead of serving Pot Roast sliced, with a bowl or boat of gravy, shred the meat, add it to the gravy and serve it between or on heated split buns. Cheese scalloped corn is a fast-fix dish; it bakes in only 35 minutes. Arrange relishes on a tray to display their colour. The dessert is one of those that you can put in the freezer days ahead.

Pot Roast on Bun

- 4 to 5 lb. chuck or rump pot roast
- 3 tbsp. fat
- 2 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- ½ cup water
- 1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce
- 3 medium onions, thinly sliced
- 2 coves garlic, minced
- 2 tbsp. brown sugar
- ½ tsp. dry mustard
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ¼ cup vinegar
- ¼ cup catsup
- 1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce

Brown roast well in heavy pan or Dutch oven. Add salt and pepper, water, tomato sauce, onions and garlic. Cover tightly and simmer over low heat about 1½ hours. Combine brown sugar, mustard, lemon juice, vinegar, ketchup and Worcestershire sauce and pour over meat. Cover and continue cooking until meat is tender, about 1½ hours.

Remove meat to warm platter, make gravy. Serve roast shredded and mixed with the gravy on warm buns.

Cheese Scalloped Corn

- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 (1 lb.) cans creamed style corn
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup cracker crumbs
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- 1 cup grated cheese
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper

Beat eggs in large mixing bowl, stir in remaining ingredients. Spoon into greased casserole. Bake, uncovered in moderate oven (350 degrees), until set, about 35 minutes. Serves 8 to 10.

Pumpkin Ice Cream Pie

- 1 9-inch pastry shell, baked
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream
- 1 tbsp. finely chopped candied ginger
- 1 cup cooked pumpkin
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. ground ginger
- ¼ tsp. nutmeg
- 1½ cups miniature marshmallows
- 1 cup cream, whipped

Stir ice cream just to soften, quickly fold in the candied ginger; spread in pastry shell; freeze. Mix pumpkin with sugar, slat, ground ginger, nutmeg, and chopped marshmallows; fold in whipped cream. Spread over ice cream layer. Return to freezer for several hours or overnight.

Follow label directions use organic acids safely

Ontario farmers have found that by using grain preservatives for high moisture corn they have simplified storage and reduced labor costs. One of the keys to success with organic acid preservatives is their safe application, says Don Brown, coordinator of Public Relations, for the Farm Safety Association.

"These organic acid preservatives are safe and easy to use. Generally a farmer does not come into direct contact with the preservatives. But, it makes sense to take safety precautions just in case," he points out.

Manufacturers' instructions on proper clothing should be observed carefully. Organic acids will burn skin on contact and can damage your eyes. Operators should wear rubber gloves and boots and long-sleeved clothing. For eye protection goggles should be worn. If you are splashed with the preservative, wash off immediately with plenty of cool water and consult your doctor.

Breathing fumes from treated grain may be dangerous. Wear a respirator if it is necessary to enter the storage bin.

Read the label carefully before you apply organic acid preservatives. You could prevent a potentially hazardous situation.

Rines - Chambers

St. Mary's Church, Chesterville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Saturday, August 25, 1973 at 3 p.m., when Linda Marie Chambers, daughter of Mr and Mrs Basil Chambers, Chesterville, and Carl Maynard Rines, son of the late Clifford Rines and Mrs Lois Rines, Kingston, were joined in marriage.

Rev. Father J. L. Lamarche and Rev. Father M. J. O'Brien officiated at the double ring ceremony assisted by two altar boys, Darren Chambers, brother of the bride, and Mark Filion, nephew of the groom. The readings at the mass, chosen by the groom, were read by Bruce MacDonnell from the bible which was a gift of the bride's parents. The organist was Mrs William MacNaughton and Mr William MacNaughton, the soloist, sang "Ave Maria", "Spirit of God", "O Perfect Love", and "Thank You, Lord."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of imported lace over peau de charme. The dress was made on princess lines with Queen Anne neckline and peau de charme trim at the empire waist. The long bishop sleeves had deep cuffs with tiny self-covered buttons. A sweeping train of the same imported lace fell from the shoulder. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a pill box halo of lace over peau de charme. Her only jewellry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of red and white baby roses.

The maid of honour, Miss Lorraine Chambers, cousin of the bride, wore a floor length gown of mauve crepe bodice with a floral sheer skirt of mauve and turquoise. She carried a colonial bouquet of mauve tinted daisies and white mums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Lee Rines, sister of the groom, and Miss Debora Chambers, sister of the bride, were dressed alike in floor length gowns of turquoise crepe bodices with mauve and turquoise floral sheer skirts. They both carried bouquets of turquoise tinted daisies and white mums.

The flower girl, Charlene Chambers, sister of the bride, was beautiful in her floor length gown of deep mauve crepe. She carried a colonial bouquet of mauve tinted daisies and white mums. The dresses were all made along the same lines as the bride.

The groom was attended by Mr Wallace MacDonnell as best man The ushers were Mr Patrick Chambers, brother of the bride, and Mr Clifford Rines, brother of the groom. they were all dressed like the groom in tuxedos; white jackets, black trousers, mauve skirts and black ties. They all wore white carnations tipped with mauve.

Mrs Chambers, mother of the bride, was attired in a floor length sleeveless gown of shell pink crimp featuring empire lines over which she wore a matching coat of imported lace with mandarin collar and button closing at the neckline. Navy blue accessories highlighted her ensemble. Her corsage was of pink tipped baby roses.

Mrs Rines, mother of the groom, was wearing a floor length gown of pale blue sheer with a three-quarter length A-line sleeve. The fitted bodice had a V neckline with an A-line skirt. The dress was trimmed with tiny white daisies and she wore white accessories. Her corsage was yellow baby roses.

Following the wedding, a dinner was served by the Chesterville Women's Institute in the community Hall to about 140 guests. Several toasts were proposed to the happy couple with Mr Owen Manley, brother-in-law of the groom, as master of ceremonies. The bridal party went to the home of the bride for a few hours after which they all returned to the hall for a reception. Doug Mumford and his Land O' Lake Cruisers from Marlbank, Ontario, provided music for dancing.

The happy couple left on a honeymoon to Northern Ontario. For travelling, the bride wore a beige flecked pant suit with brown accessories and a corsage of orange baby roses.

On their return they will reside at St. Raphaels where the groom is on the teaching staff at Iona Academy.

Prior to her wedding, the bride was honoured at two showers, one in Chesterville and one in Kingston, at which she was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Guests were present from St. Raphaels, Finch, Berwick, Crysler, Morewood, Wincheste r, Cornwall, Osgoode, Kingston, Richmond Hill, Enterprise, Toronto, Michigan, U.S.A., Chesterville and the area.
