Thirty-four enumerators have been named in Glengarry to complete the taking of the census, according to the local commissioner, Ronald E. Macdonald. He will conduct a school of instruction next week in the Legion Hall preparatory to the actual taking of the census starting June 1st.

All these enumerators qualified in tests last week which were mandatory for this census. When the census taker calls on you in early June he will carry his credentials in the form of a small card issued by the Dominion Statistician. It states he or she is authorized by law to collect the required facts. In the portfolio carried are forms which the census taker will complete by asking questions. Each is under oath not to reveal a single item about individuals, under penalty of fine, imprisonment or both. On arrival in Ottawa the answers given are transferred to anonymous marks on magnetic tape. The census, in short, is for statistical purposes only.

Knights Of The Altar Receive Pins At Final Meeting St. Finnan's PTA

The Parent-Teacher Association of St. Finnan's Parish held their final meeting of the season in the Alexander Hall, Wednesday night, with a very good attendance of members.

Father McPhail opened the meeting with prayer and the president, Mrs. R. M. Mosher, spoke a few words of welcome, then introduced Sister Mary Vivian of Rome, who is in charge of the altar boys. A very impressive ceremony followed with Father McPhail presenting Page pins and Knights of the Altar pins to 34 boys. Brian Stephens was chairman and the youngest altar boy, Geoffrey Mosher, was tray-bearer.

Receiving pins were — Senior Knight pins: Stuart McDonald, John Libbos, Kevin Macdonald, Francis Cameron, Russell Dore, Ronnie Levert, Bruce MacLaren, Kenzie McDonald, Bruce McPherson and Alan O'Brien.

Knight pins: Bernard Morris, Kenneth Mosher, Donald Conway, Kevin Weir (absent), Roger Levert, Brian McDonnell, Burns McPherson, Larry Van Dyke, Ronnie MacMillan, Billy Morris, Lyall Ladouceur, Raymond Ladouceur, Glen Allan McPherson, William Villeneuve, Hubert Morris and George Sabourin.

Father McPhail then installed the new officers — Supreme Grand Knights, Stuart McDonald and Ronnie MacMillan; Vice-Supreme Grand Knights, John Libbos and Larry Pilon; secretaries, Kevin Macdonald and Hubert Morris; treasurers, Francis Cameron and Billy Morris.

Sister Mary Vivian of Rome was thanked by Father McPhail for her excellent training of the boys, and he then addressed a few words of appreciation and advice to the boys.

There followed a presentation of books to Miss Mary Villeneuve for Art, and Miss Donna Gormley for Penmanship.

The regular business of the meeting was conducted and an excellent report on the annual convention at Toronto was given by our delegate, Sister Mary Ambrose.

Annual reports were heard from the treasurer, Vincent Barker, the chairman of the various committees and the president briefly summed up the year's activities and accomplishments, commending the members for their attendance at meetings.

Father McPhail addressed the members, and the tape recording scheduled for this meeting was postponed to the June CWL meeting.

Gerald McDonald, chairman of the nominating committee, brought in the new slate of officers: past-president, Mrs. R. M. Mosher; president, Dr. Bernard Villeneuve; vice-president, Hugh Allan McDonald; treasurer, Mrs. Adrien Pilon; secretary, Mrs. Gerald McGillis; parent councillors, Howard Morris and Mrs. Henry Ladouceur; teacher councillors, Sister Mary Ambrose and Sister Mary Real; membership, Mrs. Henry Cameron; publicity, Eugene Macdonald; lunch, Mrs. James Graham.

New Area School Site Selected

The new Central Public School planned by Lancaster Township Public School Area Board, will be built in the 4th Concession, we hear. The Board is now negotiating for a corner lot on the south half 24, Concession 4, east of the North Lancaster sideroad.

Vacant Homes Entered In Glen Roy Area

Provincial Police at Lancaster are investigating a series of break-ins in which vacant homes in the Glen Roy area are the targets. Most appear to be the work of youths who are not after loot, and there is only one case of vandalism involved.

Three homes were entered during last Thursday night, those of J. Bohus and Mrs. Mary McMillan, both of whom reside in Montreal, coming to Glen Roy for the summer. The home of Sandy Neil McDonald was entered while they were visiting a neighbor.

One week earlier a house belonging to Bill St John, Cornwall, was entered and in this instance some furniture and dishes were broken. Earlier still the home of Dan McDonald on the 8th Concession road was entered and bed linen and other articles were taken. Mr. McDonald is now residing in St. Raphael.

occupy the home of Mrs. Mary Gauthier, Main street south. Donald Ed MacPhee will be in charge of the office and all book-keeping and records will be centred in the Alexandria office.

One of the veterinarians will be in the office every afternoon, states Dr. Abbey and that will give us an opportunity to provide more consultation service than was possible previously. "We also intend to give more time to small animal work than I could in the past", he observed.

Dr. Abbey will continue to reside in Lancaster and service his clientele in that area.

Turn On Street Lights Tonight In South Lancaster

South Lancaster will have its brand new street lighting system turned on tonight, according to Lancaster Township officials. Some 32 lights have been installed to provide the necessary illumination.

There will be no special ceremony at this time to mark the improvement.

Mrs. A. A. Hay Died Today

A lifelong and esteemed resident of the Fassifern area, Mrs. Angus A. Hay died this morning at her home. Aged 86, she had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Hay had been the valued correspondent of this paper from Bonnie Hill for some 50 years, and despite her advanced age had faithfully contributed her budgets of news until but a few months ago.

News of her passing was received with regret by a large circle of friends. Mrs. Hay was born in Lochiel Township, a daughter of John Robertson and his wife, Sarah Eaton.

Three years ago Mrs. Hay and her husband were privileged to celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary and on that occasion their 12 children and many grandchildren were able to be with them.

To mourn she leaves her husband; five sons, William, at home; Albert, James and Donald, at Waterloo, Ont.; John A. Hay, Alexandria; and seven daughters, Mrs. John Archie McDonald, Fassifern; Emma, Mrs. Donald McDonald, Myrtle, Mrs. Wm. Purdy, and Sadie, Mrs. James Anderson, all of Montreal; Greta, Mrs. A. S. Carter, and Dorothy, Mrs. Tom McBride, Toronto; Hazel, Mrs. Roy Coleman, Glen Walter.

The funeral will be held from the Marcoux & Morris Funeral Home, Saturday afternoon at 1:15 for the Church on the Hill. Interment will be in the United Church cemetery.

Reclaimed Swamplands In Moose Creek Area Will Produce 500 Acres Of Vegetables This Year

Agriculture on a scale little known in Eastern Ontario is under way at Moose Creek this year. The expanse of former swamp, drained and brought into cultivation by the Montreal agricultural expert and financier Gregory Zavitov, is being sown to a variety of crops.

The areas involved for this sort of thing are tremendous but standards of comparison are not available. Employees speak of five fields of carrots, of seven acres each; nine of onions, 72 acres in all; and seedlings of oats, barley, buckwheat and flax in different parts of the marsh.

There will be 500 acres of vegetables at Moose Creek this season, in a rough approximation.

Conditions for planting were described as "very good" and the ground is quite dry. The network of drainage has done its work of controlling the water table and the spreading acres of black soil appears to offer the best conceivable sort of seed bed in huge areas.

Machinery working on the flatlands seems partly lost to the casual onlooker. Tractors with the cultivators or seeders travel back and forth across the landscape, now almost out of sight at the far end of a narrow field, and then the next time one turns around, are surprisingly close by, so that the ground trembles under their weight and power.

The deep soil is completely free of the least suspicion of a stone or a weed in the areas meant for vegetable growing.

Other fields, not so far along the way to full production, still show some areas of green or ridges of rough ground where the big covering plows have been at work.

The process of turning one of Eastern Ontario's waste places into one of the world's richest garden spots is continuing.

The board agreed to list the arena with a real estate firm with a view to selling it. The management would prefer to have the building used as an arena, but any reasonable offer would be accepted, it was decided.

Lloyd McHugh will be vice-president, and Claude Lemay, secretary-treasurer. A manager will be appointed later.

Other members of the board are Dr. D. J. Dolan, Wilfrid Menard, Alex DaPrato and Louis Shepherd.

On Way Home From Congo

Cpl. Ronald Lefebvre of the Signal Corps, Canadian Army, is expected to arrive home this weekend from the Congo where he has been serving with the United Nations forces since last August. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lefebvre, Main street north, he is expected home Saturday.

Cpl. Lefebvre was seen on TV Sunday afternoon on the News-magazine program. Norman DePoe of CBC, had visited all the Canadian posts in the Congo to interview the men serving there. He was again seen on the CBC News Monday night, among the group of servicemen returning to Canada.

After enjoying a leave here, Cpl. Lefebvre will report to Kingston.

New Town House Restaurant Ready To Open

Last minute touches are readying Alexandria's newest restaurant for its opening this weekend. The Town House, under the aegis of Alex McDonald and his sister, Mrs. Julia Munro, will be serving free coffee to all comers Friday night and will be open for business Saturday morning.

The attractive interior features hardwood wall panelling, tile ceiling and floor and recessed lighting. Seating for 65 is provided at the long counter designed and built by the general contractor, Donat Boisvenue, and at the tables and attractive booths. A divider provides for privacy between counter section and booths.

The new kitchen area which was added is now fully equipped and ready to turn out anything from full course meals to light lunches and sandwiches.

The front of the new restaurant building now has a brandstone facing and the rest of the building is in light grey tone.

Donat Boisvenue had the general contract; Hugh Dan MacCuaig laid the blocks for the kitchen extension; Lauzon Bros. handled the plumbing, and Henry Ladouceur, the lighting.

100,000 Ton Stockpile Sank Into Soil At Lancaster

Department of Highways' engineers are re-testing the sub-soil at the Lancaster junction of new Highway 401 and No. 2 following Saturday's settling of a huge stockpile of crushed gravel.

The 50-foot high stockpile containing 100,000 tons of gravel, suddenly settled some 20 feet into the sub-soil at one point Sunday. An estimated 25,000 tons went down below ground level and the earth bordering the pile was forced up some 15 feet to compensate.

The unusual incident left a bizarre effect that drew many spectators over the weekend.

Two drivers with Menard Construction of Green Valley, George Renaud and Doug. McKinnon of Alexandria, were eating their lunches in their trucks atop the pile when the centre section went down. They heard a slight rumble but were not aware the pile had sunk until noticing the big bulldozer perched up top had disappeared from sight. Only the top exhaust was showing, they discovered.

The dozer was recovered during the afternoon and the trucks were able to drive down after a new road had been cleared.

Engineers figure the sub-soil was not strong enough to bear the 100,000-ton load in the area which is planned to carry the clover-leaf structures at the highway intersection.

Wilfrid Menard of Menard Construction, declares the loss of gravel could run to $10,000, but he does not believe his company will be liable in any way.

The stockpile is due to come down starting next Monday when Menard's begin graveling Highway 401 for an area of six miles on either side of Lancaster.

Weir Home Gutted By Fire

The interior of the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Weir, Main street south, was gutted by flame, smoke and water, Monday afternoon, with a heavy loss of furnishings and personal effects.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir were at work and their son Kevin was also away from home when the blaze was discovered by a neighbor, Mrs. Raymond Rochon. She saw smoke pouring from the rear of the house and within minutes a heavy pall of smoke blanketed Main Street as the flames were whipped by a stiff breeze out of the West.

Firemen had the flames conquered in less than an hour, but not before the interior had suffered heavily.

Origin of the blaze is not known but it apparently started under a shed at the rear, possibly from concentrated reflection of the sun's rays.

The house is owned by Raymond Rochon. Mr. and Mrs. Weir and Kevin are now staying with her brother, Lloyd Kennedy, 3rd of Kenyon.

To Have Own Air Strip At Maxville

One of Glengarry's amateur plane pilots, Bill McEwen of Maxville, is building a landing field for light aircraft on his farm, immediately north and east of the Maxville fairgrounds.

It will be a grass strip, some 2,000 feet in length, and some grading and filling is being done now preparatory to seeding with grass.

Alexandria's three light aircraft pilots, Jim Graham, Claude Lemay and Doug. Baxter, have temporarily given up the idea of building an air strip here and are assisting Mr. McEwen in his project. Harvey McEwen of Maxville, another amateur pilot, is also in on the deal.

The group now has four planes, one of them a Piper Cub.

Scores Of Suggestions Studied By Council Planning Centennial

Canada should end its "discriminatory" immigration regulations in time for its 1967 centenary celebrations, the Canadian Centenary Council was told at Ottawa, Friday.

This suggestion was one of scores laid before the council at a day-long conference in the Chateau Laurier, attended by 75 persons from many parts of Canada.

Among other things, the council was urged to work toward obtaining a distinctive national flag and national anthem.

But on these and other proposals the council made no immediate decision.

"We're not a group of wise men", explained Brig. C. M. Drury of Montreal, newly-elected president of the council.

"Our job is to get people together to pool all these ideas and weed them out."

To date 114 organizations are members of the council — scientific and cultural groups, business and professional bodies, chambers of commerce, religious groups and many more.

The council plans to open a national office in Ottawa with an executive director, yet to be appointed. Its expected annual budget of $50,000 will come from contributions by commerce, industry and private individuals.

Col. Hugh M. Wallis of Montreal, who earlier served as provisional chairman, viewed the council as a "clearing-house" for ideas and a co-ordinating centre for the efforts of many different bodies.

In such a role, he felt, the council could play an important part in furthering national unity.

Centenary proposals were discussed Friday under 11 main headings — legislation, physical development, communications, education and scholarships, historical plans, cultural expression, sports and recreation, travel, social, health and humanitarian measures, human and cultural relations, festivals and exhibitions.

Representing the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association, the editor of this paper sat in on the discussions having to do with promoting the centenary observance under the category of communications.

In opening the conference, Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker offered the suggestion of a "Freedom Train" that might visit every part of the nation in 1967 carrying the charters of Canadian, and, perhaps, Commonwealth freedom.

Brigadier C. M. (Bud) Drury of Montreal, a former deputy minister of national defense was elected president of the council.

Dr. Abbey Has New Associate In Opening Veterinary Office Here

Dr. H. K. Abbey of Lancaster, well-known veterinarian, is opening an office Monday in the News Office building, where he will be joined by a 1961 graduate of the Veterinary College at OAC, Guelph.

Dr. William McElheran, D.V.M., graduates on Friday at Commencement Exercises at OAC, and he will be associated with Dr. Abbey in opening the new Alexandria office on the second-floor of the News building. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McElheran of Moose Creek, the new veterinarian is married to the former Norma Beaudette of Northfield Station, and they will

IT'S OUR OPINION

Their's Is A Big Stake

Two sentences in a report of the annual meeting of the Glengarry Gardens' shareholders caught our attention. "They agreed to list the arena with a real estate firm with a view to selling it. The management would prefer to have the building used as an arena, but any reasonable offer would be accepted."

Listing of the Gardens with a real estate firm does not by any means indicate the arena directors have too much hope of selling it. Business men all, they know the market for ice palaces is anything but keen in this TV age.

But who of us would dare criticize these fellow citizens for trying to get rid of it; for trying to unload a white elephant that is tying up some ten thousand dollars of the capital of each. Who of us, in their places, would not hope for some way of putting that idle, unprofitable capital to work; especially at today's interest rates.

If our minor hockey association showed progress in developing hockey players, as it undoubtedly did; if our youngsters enjoyed healthful recreation at the Gardens, and if hockey fans saw some exciting games, it is thanks primarily to these seven men whose investment keeps the arena doors open.

This one stake in the community ranks them as good citizens to whom we should give thanks.

No Fireworks Worries Here

In many communities across the province this week councils are debating possible action to curb the use of firecrackers which usually make their appearance just prior to the Victoria Day holiday. And it is surprising to us how stoutly is defended in so many towns the right of the public to let off these fireworks indiscriminately.

Surprising, we find it, in view of the annual toll of injuries, the loss from fires ignited by these pyrotechnics.

The CPR freight shed at London, Ont., a block-long building erupted in flames last week. Damage to the building is estimated at $100,000; bonded merchandise lost in the blaze could bring the total loss to a quarter-million dollars. Six children, the oldest 11, later admitted setting off firecrackers shortly before the building erupted into flame and witnesses had seen firecrackers being pushed under a freight shed door.

In the United States it has been estimated more persons have been killed by fireworks during Independence Day celebrations than were killed during the war which brought about that independence. Among last year's accident cases in Canada were a four-year-old struck in the eye with a cap-propelled plastic fireworks toy. Doctors were unable to save the sight.

The hazard of firecrackers is something our town has been blessedly free of for several years, since their use or sale was made illegal. Other towns not so protected might well emulate Alexandria in this respect.

Planning Now For Canada's Centennial

The Canadian Centenary Council has already started planning for the nation-wide celebration of Canada's centenary in 1967.

Perhaps, then, it is not too early for residents of Glengarry to be donning their thinking caps too, and coming up with ideas for suitable local recognition in county, towns and villages of the first one hundred years of Confederation.

Widely representative of national and regional associations or organizations, the Canadian Centenary Council has as its principal goal the stimulating of interest in appropriate celebrations of the 1967 centennial. It hopes to establish principles and objectives and direct public attention to them, as well as encouraging the initiation of Centenary projects. It will act as a national clearing house and information centre and will co-operate with government at all levels to provide planning facilities and services.

At Ottawa last weekend, the editor sat in on a conference of the Centenary Council as representative of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. He came away not a little awed by the scope of the work the Council has set itself. Scores of suggestions as to suitable ways of recognizing Canada's centenary have already been received by the Council and these were individually considered as well as additional ones suggested by the conferees.

On the national scene there were the proposals that we obtain a distinctive Canadian flag and national anthem by 1967; that legislation at all levels of government be "tidied up" to complete Canada's full autonomy as a nation. Another possibility put forward by town planners was that a new model city or town be created to demonstrate the lack of proper planning in our cities and towns today.

The suggestions ranged over the fields of physical fitness, scholarship, cultural expression and many others. It was recommended that every community from coast to coast undertake some major civic project such as a library, slum clearance, a new park or other facility now lacking. Historical pageants and festivals on a community level were endorsed by the conference but it was suggested that while Canada's first one hundred years should be suitably recognized there should be emphasis too on what the next century holds for Canada. Goals for national and local improvement in the future should also be set.

On the local scene the same process might be in order. Suggestions might be sought now which in the course of time could be studied with a view to concentrating on one or two major projects which would be worthy recognition of our country's first one hundred years.

We would welcome any such proposals in the form of letters to the editor and we think our readers would also value them.

All Tipping Should Be Abolished

"Perhaps it is time hotels paid proper wages to their employees and put an end to tipping," writes the editor of the Wingham Times - Advance in discussing the current strike by employees of the Royal York Hotel in Toronto.

Recently he had been talking with one of the hotel's striking employees and after hearing of their wage scales this editor did not blame them too much for demanding higher pay. The old tipping system still prevails and many of the employees, he was told, receive only a nominal salary, as low as $30 a week in some instances. The balance of the take-home pay is made up by the gratuities received from the hotel's patrons.

Presumably if business is booming in the Empire's largest hotel and if the guests are feeling flush, the tips come rolling in and $30 a week in pay can be satisfactory. In a slowdown such as the cities know now it may be entirely inadequate.

The editor of the Wingham paper discounts the argument that hotels could not do away with tipping because the customers want to make these handouts. There may be a few of the ostentatious type who want to show that they have lots of cash; but he seriously doubts that the average person enjoys tipping.

We have our doubts, too; in fact we would say the average person might travel much more often if there was no such toll as tipping to eat into his expense budget.

Tipping is a relic of the Victorian era, and before; of the horse and buggy days, when only the rich went abroad or summered at the Springs and Spas. They had servants by the score and it was only natural for such to hand out a bit of their abundant wealth to these temporary servants they encountered in their travels. So tipping had its origin, we imagine.

But this is a different day; an era when everyone travels, at least on this continent; an age when the only servants to be found are civil servants. (And they are often more inclined to order, than obey). The custom that was tipping in days of old has progressed, too, from the horse and buggy days until most of us now consider it a racket.

But still it hangs on, not alone because of the advantage to the employers in the field of travel and many other services. The employee likes it, too, we fancy, because of the opportunity it provides to hide his or her actual take-home increment from the Income Tax department.

We would suggest that tipping should long ago have been totally abolished. And it amazes us the treasury department has not long ago used its influence in government to effect such a move, one that might mean millions of dollars more in income tax deductions.

POSTAL CANCELLATIONS FOR OUR MUSEUM

Editor, The Glengarry News:

As a philatelist, commonly known as a "stamp collector", I wonder if we could gather postal material of by-gone days, to tell the story of the early days of our Postal Department in our county. There should be some envelopes in attics and trunks that might be useful in the research of mail deliveries of long ago.

The writer is willing to study any material that might be useful to mount in frames for the museum. Any material not useful will be returned to the owners. There must be some postage cancellations of now extinct offices. Anyway, let us look and we might find some material to show the postal history of Glengarry to future generations in our museum.

The Weeklies Say

CANADA'S ROLE

The fact that Canada played an important role in drawing up the set of principles that prompted South Africa to get out, will increase the respect the non-white nations have for the older Commonwealth members. To the extent that the British Commonwealth can be a force for good in the world, its efforts may be stronger when promoted by a group of nations living in harmony. — Lachute (Que.) Watchman.

EASY DOES IT

The streets of a town were never meant to be racetracks and whipping along a quiet street in excess of speeding regulations, careening around corners with tires screaming a protest is neither smart nor conducive to retaining your driver's licence. Arriving at your destination a couple of minutes later than you figured because you drove carefully is not a tragedy. But it would be a tragedy if your recklessness should injure or kill some child. — Manitoulin (Ont.) Expositor.

Small Town Trade Can Flourish

(Uxbridge Times-Journal)

Will super-highways, aeroplanes, and still faster automobiles begin to sap the commercial activity of the county seats and other flourishing small centres of trade? Not necessarily so.

The local merchant holds many advantages over distant competitors. The local consumers will remain loyal if he thinks he knows he can find the variety he seeks at home. He will remain loyal if he realizes how much he will save in transportation and service costs by trading at home. He will remain loyal if local merchant demonstrates that the local store is progressive and up-to-date.

In short, every IF concerning the future of the small town merchant depends upon his use of advertising to keep the local consumer interested and informed on the ever-changing goods and services constantly being offered to the consumer by distant competitors.

REAL PRODUCER

With the advent of the new season we might remember that farming is perhaps the most manifold and complex of all arts. The farmer's occupation is unique in that it is the only occupation that is productive in the real sense of the word. The earth is made to yield and increase. . . . There are other extractive industries but this one is essentially originitive. — Fort Frances (Ont.) Times.

NO WORKERS

There are cries all over the country of great distress of the unemployed. There is bewilderment all over the country that workers cannot be found when there is work to be done. The reason is the moral impairment of some workers due to the fact that as soon as they have enough personal credit in the fund to get some unemployment pay, they lay themselves off. — Rose-town (Sask.) Eagle.

LONG ON THE SPORT SCENE

Lochiel and Greenfield kick off the season Friday as the Glengarry Football League goes into another year. Which anniversary this will be we're not sure, but it is undoubtedly true the soccer game is the most enduring sport on the local scene.

We can remember way back when Doc Markson, Frank McCormick, Willie Periard and their ilk were booting the ball on an Alexandria eleven. We recall the depression years when the late John Alex Macdonell was bearing the burden almost single-handed as the Glengarry Football League faltered, but kept going.

Teams have come and gone, have disappeared and reappeared, but the loop remains an important part of the Glengarry scene. A low overhead, and many a crowd-pleasing play-off series, have helped keep the Glengarry Football League going.

May this be a banner year, featured by satisfying gates.

HAVING A HEAT WAVE

Said Billy Rose to Sally Rand: Why don't you dance without your fan. Sally danced without her fan. Billy Rose, Sally Rand.

What brought that delightful couplet to mind, along about Sunday afternoon, was the fact we were writing without our fan. And it was equatorial heat we were writing in.

We were writing without our fan because darned if we could locate it. There was a vague recollection that the boss had loaned it to a friend last fall; but it was very vague, verifiable only by the fact a search of every nook and cranny of the shop failed to turn up that air churner.

So we wrote without our fan. And if Billy Rose had been here he'd have been the one to run—with sweat, or is it perspiration.

Quite a change in the weather, wasn't it? Could be we're having our first heat wave.

THE MALL'S A GOOD IDEA

Ottawa's pride and glory the Sparks Street mall isn't quite complete yet, but it was officially opened last Friday and your Rambling Reporter happened to be there that day to play the role of jaywalker in safety with a heck of a lot of other people.

The mall was thronged along about 5 p.m.; but that's quitting time in most offices and it's hard to say how many of the passersby were out to shop or were just there in passing. Certainly many of the stores were not too busy and not a few of the merchants appeared unhappy at the sight of so many potential customers giving them the go-by.

We like the mall for its absence of traffic hazards, noise and exhaust fumes. But it's not entirely free of these. Each cross-town intersection has its north-south traffic, the red and green lights, the "Walk" or "Don't Walk" lights. The pedestrian traffic piles up at these and it is enlightening to see to what degree the public obeys these commands.

If the "Don't Walk" light is on the people pile up impatiently on either side as long as the north-south traffic demands the right of way. But let there be a lull in the traffic and that caution "Don't Walk" no longer means a thing. From both sides of the mall the pedestrians surge forward as if that "Don't Walk" warning gives them the latitude to run. Peculiarly enough, when the light reads "Walk", most of them are content to walk with complete disdain for the piling up motorists.

This must be one of the attributes of the mall. It places the pedestrian on a more even footing with motor traffic than do the ordinary "Stop" lights of the city. These are geared to keeping the cars moving and often they can be frustrating to the mere pedestrian who is expected to stand and wait, even in sight of that bus he must catch.

NEW PIPE BAND MARCHED OUT SATURDAY

The newly organized Glengarry Highland Pipe Band is making steady progress, and like Glengarry's Highland Games, will probably play an important part in putting Glengarry, particularly the Village of Maxville, a little higher up on "the map of fame".

This new band of pipers and drummers won high praise on Saturday night last when it made its first public appearance in the village. It began its march from the Curling Club rooms, where it has been meeting for practise since last winter, and marched along Main street headed by the town's worthy policeman, John Brush.

It is hoped that all Glengarrymen will rally to an appeal for funds in order that these talented musicians will be arrayed in full highland dress of the Macdonald of Clan Ranald.

Let's support them wholeheartedly.

Next Saturday evening these pipers and drummers will assemble on the Kenyon Agricultural Society grounds for joint practise, in preparation for the local fair, to be held here on June 22nd, 23rd and 24th.

Mrs. R. McRae Heads W.I.

The April meeting of the Maxville Women's Institute was the annual meeting, and took the form of a pot luck supper. The president, Mrs. Kippen, welcomed guests and invited them to come to future meetings. She also paid tribute to the work done by the late Mrs. Robert Kershaw for the institutes in the area. Mrs. Kippen appealed for more help in the making of cancer dressings, also for odd balls of knitting yarn, for the making of afghan squares for the Unitarian Service Committee. The Home Economics Short Course programmes were distributed, and members were asked to study them before the next meeting.

The following members were appointed delegates to the district annual, which is to be held at Kirk Hill on May 24th, 1961:

BACK in 1911, 246 telephone people gathered in Boston for the first convention of The Telephone Pioneers of America. Today, 50 years later, the triangular emblem shown left is worn by some 202,000 men and women throughout North America who proudly call themselves Pioneers. There are 12,000 Pioneers in Canada and this month many of them will gather in Toronto for the 21st Convention of the Charles Fleetwood Sise Chapter—an all-Canadian chapter. Mrs. Hilda MacKinnon, of Alexandria, is typical of the 55 Pioneers in this district. All Pioneers here as elsewhere have one important thing in common—they must have completed 21 years of service in the telephone business. The word "service" is probably the key to the Pioneer movement. On the job the Pioneer like his fellow employees devotes his time to service—telephone service. How natural then for the Pioneer to spend his leisure time serving his fellow employees and his community. You'll find the Pioneer visiting the sick, helping his fellow Pioneers, promoting hobby interests and taking an active role in community projects. It's this SPIRIT OF SERVICE that has kept the Pioneer organization thriving over the years. It has made them a credit to the telephone industry, to their fellow employees and to their communities.

Like most parents in Alexandria, you have probably spent many anxious moments worrying about your youngsters when they are away from home for a good part of the day. If you could only hear from them and know they're alright, specially if they're late for a meal or are delayed on their way home. Well, there's one good way to set your mind at ease: encourage your youngsters to call you from a 'phone booth. There's nearly always a handy outdoor booth nearby—at stores, service stations on the streets and highways. Some parents make sure their youngsters have a dime with them at all times expressly for this purpose. You'll also find a 'phone booth a mighty welcome sight when you're in a hurry to make a 'phone call on the go—and so convenient, too, in bad weather or late at night. They're there for your convenience; we hope you and your family use them often.

The rainy season appears to be with us—Good for the carrots and the peas, but not so good for golfing, fishing, and gardening. However, the warm weather holidays will soon be with us. As we've mentioned many times before, your telephone can be particularly helpful to you at holiday-time. It's your means of letting folk know when to expect you, or of making advance reservations, if you're going away. Don't forget to use long distance.

AHS Athletes Captured Cup At Interscholastic Track & Field Meet

John Tkaczewski was named the outstanding boy athlete as his school, Alexandria High, swept to a decisive victory in Saturday's Interscholastic track and field meet held at Char-Lan, Williamstown.

The local school's athletes amassed a total of 248½ points, well above the 162 garnered by the host Char-Lan school, which had won the honors at the last interscholastic meet in 1959.

Hawkesbury High was third with 114 and trailing were two schools which had only a partial representation — Vankleek Hill, with 24, and Maxville, with eight.

Marjory McArthur of Char-Lan, and Dora Michel, AHS, tied for top points in girls' events with four firsts and one second-place apiece. Sharon Mitchell was another high point winner for AHS girls, as were Jean Yves Jeaurond, with 16 points in senior boys, and Gerald MacLeod, with 14 in the junior competition.

Brian Gilmour, of Char-Lan, was high point winner in intermediate boys with 17, and Terence McLaughlin, also of Char-Lan, led the juniors with 16 points.

School spirit around the local school must have been high on Monday for this was the first time AHS has won the top honors since 1941. The interscholastic has not been held regularly.

Company Magazine Pays Nice Tribute

"Entre-nous", the T. Eaton Company magazine in its current issue paid the following tribute to a veteran employee, the late Garrett Ryan, who died recently:

Many Eatonians were deeply saddened to hear of the passing of Garrett Ryan on March 21st, in the Montreal General Hospital. At the time of his death, Mr. Ryan was 67 years of age.

Mr. Ryan had worked for many years in the cloak room of the general office and then went to Merchandise Display as a general hand. With his ruddy complexion, bright and happy disposition and fluency in both French and English, Mr. Ryan was the logical choice for the store's Santa Claus. This was the part of his job he really enjoyed—and how he was loved by so many little ones for the last ten years.

Mr. Ryan's affection for children was perhaps equalled only by his love for animals—and this, too, was returned by the animals. Whenever a store display included animals of any size, shape or description, Garrett Ryan was always there, ready and willing to care for them, to come in at night and on Sundays to feed and tend them. After what was to be his final performance as Santa, last Christmas, Mr. Ryan operated the Express Elevators part of the day and helped out in Merchandise Display in the afternoons, until he entered hospital on January 30th, where he underwent a major operation. He later contracted pneumonia, which caused his death.

A grand man, Garrett Ryan will be sadly missed, not only by the Merchandise Display staff, but by his many friends throughout the store. To his wife, son and daughters we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

Couple Wed At St. Raphaels

DIGNARD - STURKENBOOM

Standards of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums formed the setting in St. Raphael's Church for the marriage of Alice Joanne Sturkenboom and Claude Yvon Dignard.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sturkenboom of St. Raphael West, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dignard.

Rev. D. A. Kerr officiated at the ceremony and Sister Mary of St. George, Sisters of the Holy Cross, was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length satin chiffon dress. A white pearl-studded crown headpiece held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Anne Vervoort, of Ottawa, who wore a yellow street-length dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother, Rosaire Dignard and Jacques Leroux, brother-in-law, and the usher was Gerrit Sturkenboom, brother of the bride, St. Raphael.

The mother of the bride chose a brown ensemble with beige and white accessories and the mother of the groom wore gray-blue with white and black accessories.

Following a reception at McDonnell's Inn, the couple left on a wedding trip to Quebec City. For travelling the bride chose a light green two-piece dress with matching purse and shoes with white gloves and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The couple will reside in Cornwall.

CGIT Entertained Their Mothers

Members of the CGIT of Alexandria's Church on the Hill, with their leaders, entertained their mothers and special guests at a Mother and Daughter banquet in the Sunday School of the church.

An almost perfect attendance was testimony to the interest shown in the welfare of this group.

and Mrs. W. Prill, Mr. and Mrs. E. Webster, all of Cherry Valley, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Roberts of Toronto, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. W. Donovan.

Following a reception at Victoria Hall, Westmount, the bridal couple left on a honeymoon trip, touring the United States. The bride travelled in a mauve suit and accessories and a white hat.

On their return they will spend a week with the bride's parents before leaving to take up residence in the U.S.A.

The girls, supervised by Miss Louise Pepper and Miss Elizabeth MacKinnon, assumed charge of the arrangements and service as well as the entertainment. Mothers were indeed impressed by this show of appreciation, stated Mrs. Grant Whitehead in her response to the toast to the mothers. Marjorie Fisher, who proposed the toast, paid tribute to a mother's importance to a girl.

The toast to the church was proposed by Miss MacKinnon, and Miss Pepper led in a sing-song of old favourites.

Miss Janet Gill presided and entertainment was provided by Linda Whitehead and Susan Parsons, piano solos; Beverly Bradley, recitation, and Patsy Bradley and Linda Stimson, piano duet.

Mrs. C. H. Dawes, guest speaker, brought greetings as Sunday School teacher, WMS president and Presbyterial vice-president. She spoke on her impressions of the talk given to CGIT girls at the recent Presbyterial at Ingleside by Dr. Ian MacLeod, missionary in Japan. Dr. MacLeod, she said, was the son of missionary parents and the fact that he chose the same vocation was proof that a dedicated Christian life was desirable to young people.

The meeting closed with "taps".

County Convention Of W.C.T.U. Held Recently At Kirk Hill

The annual county convention of the Stormont and Glengarry, Women's Christian Temperance Union, was held in Kirk Hill Presbyterian Church. There were two sessions — afternoon and evening. The theme, "Love, Faith and Hope".

The afternoon session opened with registration of delegates at 1.30. The county president, Mrs. Jas. McMillan, Cornwall, presided. She spoke briefly on the text, "This is My commandment, that ye love one another". The pledge was repeated, followed by the National Anthem.

The Lochiel Union was in charge of the worship service, under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. McKelvy. To prove that the scriptures endorse prohibition she quoted two verses — one from Proverbs, in the Old Testament, and the other from Ephesians, in the new, viz: "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder". From the New Testament — "And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess but be filled with the Spirit". The speaker went on to say that 70% of broken homes is drink caused; 70% of crime is also caused by drink and over 50% of fatal accidents. There are 250,000 alcoholics in Canada today; there are 6,000 new cases in Ontario in one year. It is the fourth greatest killer, exceeded only by cancer, heart disease and tuberculosis.

Next on the programme was the appointment of a courtesy committee. The minutes of the last convention were read by the recording secretary, Mrs. J. U. Tanner. Mrs. McMillan announced the provincial W.C.T.U. convention to be held in Galt on May 23rd, 24th and 25th.

Mrs. Graham of Grenville, Que., then favoured the audience with several humorous as well as inspirational recitations.

The memorial service was in charge of Mrs. Bob Black, Bainsville.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Wm. Usher, Grenville, Que. She stated that she had been a member of the W.C.T.U. for thirty years. These are some of the things the organization does: There are schools and camps for girls. Five thousand pupils take Scientific Temperance instruction. Thirteen thousand students write the National Temperance Study Course. It

More Pasture Pay-off with New

Pasture Ration

The New CO-OP Pasture Ration supplements the pasture feeding of dairy cows in production. Lush spring pasture provides bulk and protein but does not supply sufficient energy to maintain body weight and maximum production.

It's the extra energy in CO-OP Pasture Ration that enables you to get the most from your pasture and from your herd at the time when production is cheapest and later when pastures are drier.

The CO-OP can also use your grain to give you this ration. Discuss this Pasture Program with your local CO-OP.
