Charter In The Solicitor's Hands For Glengarry Memorial Hospital

An important step in the plans for a hospital here was completed early this week when the charter for the "Glengarry Memorial Hospital" was received by S. E. Fennell, Q.C., Cornwall, solicitor for the steering committee.

The interim directors are 12 in number, all seven municipalities being represented. They are: Mayor Geo. Simon, Reeve Lloyd McHugh, Roy MacMillan, Lochiel; D. A. Gray, Dunvegan; Gerard Brunet, St. Raphael; Alex MacNaughton, Bainsville; J. N. Fitzgerald, Maxville; T. Scott Fraser, Lancaster; Laurent Sicard, Elie David, G. G. Aubry and Bruno Massie, all of Alexandria.

Mr. Fennell must now prepare a constitution and it is probable the directors will be called to meet immediately after Easter to approve the constitution and make further plans.

Winning Bands At Glengarry Games To Be Canadian Champions

For the first time, this year Canadian pipe band championships will be decided. And the honors will go to the pipe bands winning at the Glengarry Highland Games in the various classes.

The move to name Canadian champion bands has been initiated by the Glengarry Highland Games committee in collaboration with the Pipers' Society. Prize money for bands is to be increased by $800 this year at the Glengarry Games and it is expected this will attract more good bands to Maxville.

"Glengarry Games' prize money will be the highest in North America," reports John Jamieson, secretary-manager.

Mr. Jamieson received a message last weekend from Dame Flora MacLeod of MacLeod accepting the invitation extended by the Games' committee to the MacLeod Clan Chieftain to open the 1961 Games. It will be Clan MacLeod Day and the Glengarry branch has purchased a block of 500 tickets.

Though the Scottish classic is still many months away, interest is already high.

Mr. Jamieson reports he has received a letter from a woman in Winnipeg who wishes to enter her daughter in the dancing competitions and from a man at Mooseonee who asked about getting tickets. Mooseonee is in Ontario's far north.

Iona Students Present Program

Students of Iona Academy, St. Raphael, with six Sisters of the Holy Cross teaching staff accompanying them, presented a St. Patrick's concert for residents of Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge. Sister Superior Mary Claire was in charge of the group of 50 girls and two boys. Sister Mary George acted as accompanist and Sister Stella Maria directed the choir.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Alphonse Legault, included songs and dances in keeping with the Irish theme, with violin, drum, accordion and bugle instrumental music. The students were dressed in appropriate white and green costumes and St. Patrick decorations added color to the entertainment.

Mrs. Chester Kyer, president of Glen-Stor-Dun Auxiliary, thanked the pupils and Sisters, and arranged for treats for the students and refreshments served to the Sisters.

On behalf of Lodge residents and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Bert Renfrew thanked the entertainers for the program, which was enjoyed by all.

Counties' Seed Fair At Maxville To Emphasize Forage Crop Exhibits

Plans have been completed for the "S.D. & G. Seed Fair" to be held in the Maxville Community Hall, March 27th and 28th. Prize lists are available from seed cleaning plants and the Department of Agriculture, Alexandria.

Special emphasis is being placed on forage crop exhibits and classes have been provided for hay, grass ensilage and corn ensilage. The following programs, open to the public have been arranged by the Crop Improvement Associations of Glengarry, Stormont and Dundas counties.

The Monday evening program, which will begin at 8 p.m., is being sponsored by the Land Use and Tree Farm committees and will feature land use and woodlot management. The guest speakers will include Ken Murphy of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, and J. D. Coats of the Ontario Forestry Association, who will deal with the subject of "Woodlot Management". Another feature of the program will be a panel discussion on "How to get the most out of your Woodlot".

The Tuesday afternoon program will begin at 1:30 p.m. Douglas Parks of the Kemptville Agricultural School, will discuss the "New Canada Seeds Act" and of which major changes relative to the production and marketing of seed crops will be enforced beginning July 1st, 1961. It is expected that this new Act will provide greater protection to farmer buyers and result in some major changes in the grades of seed offered for sale. Mr. Parks will also deal with some of the advantages and disadvantages of new varieties of cereal and forage crops being introduced.

John Dalrymple, of the Kemptville Agricultural School, will also address the meeting on the subject of "Quality Hay" and its importance to dairy farmers.

The Seed Fair is this year featuring forage crops and high quality hay, and Mr. Dalrymple's remarks will be in keeping with this aspect of crop production. The afternoon will conclude with the Auction of all ten bushel lots of seed on exhibit.

Sister Christine Said "Improving" In Nigeria

"Sister Christine is improving," was the welcome word received Monday by her mother, Mrs. D. D. McIntosh, Alexandria. A member of Our Lady's Missionaries serving in Nigeria, the former Penny McIntosh had been reported critically ill last week and further word had been that she was suffering from a brain hemorrhage at the base of the brain.

Reassuring to Mrs. McIntosh was a message from Mother Mary Simon, Superior of the Order, who is presently visiting the mission in Tokoja, Nigeria. "As soon as Sister Christine is well enough she will be sent to the Mother House in Toronto to convalesce," Mother Simon wrote.

Mrs. McIntosh has received several letters from members of the Order in Tokoja and they tell of groups of natives waiting and praying outside the hospital operated by Our Lady's Missionaries. Sister Christine was Superior of the hospital and also taught a course in midwifery to the native girls.

The draw was made after the final games of the week-long Maxville bonspiel which saw Pete McKay's Cornwall rink win top honors.

The Alexandria rink of Fred Throsby, Pete Bonnevillie, Roger Roy and Paul Roy took fourth place in the finals.

Skated At The Forum At 70

A former Alexandrian, Mrs. Ella Perlard, donned her skates on Sunday to enjoy a skating party in the Montreal Forum, organized by the CNR Hockey Club of Montreal.

Mrs. Perlard, who reached her 70th birthday in December, was a special guest and she found no difficulty in keeping up with the younger crowd.

Although she admits it's great to skate at the Forum, "the good old days of skating on the Mill Pond by moonlight could not be beat".

Rural Winners In Regional Concours Both From Alexandria Inspectorate

Sixteen winners representing four bilingual inspectorates took part in the regional competitions of the Concours Francoise, held last Friday, and the two rural winners were both from the inspectorate of Alexandre Deschamps, which includes most of Glengarry.

Top boy in the rural class was Marc Lalonde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lalonde, Glen Robertson. He follows in the footsteps of his brother, Michel, who won the same honor in last year's Concours.

Diane Pilon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philippe Pilon, St. Eugene, topped the rural girls.

Winners in urban competition were Claude Lalonde, of Cornwall, and Nicole Cyr, also of Cornwall. The latter is a daughter of Herve Cyr, inspector of East Cornwall schools.

These four go to Windsor during Easter week to compete for provincial honors.

Area competitions were held here the previous Saturday with 39 bilingual students competing for urban and rural honors. Results were announced the following day at a gathering in Sacred Heart hall when trophies and prizes were presented.

Retires After 40 Years' Business In Drumheller

Alex P. Hanley, a native of Balfour, has retired after 40 years in the hardware store business in Drumheller, Alberta. The local paper, The Drumheller Mail, commented editorially in a recent issue on Mr. Hanley's retirement.

"The story of Drumheller would be a lesser thing than what it is, if it lacked that part that A. P. Hanley has contributed to it. His sights were set for change and through all the violent ups and downs that have beset Drumheller the business of A. P. Hanley has gone steadily along, an anchor for some, a steady influence for many and a trusted business for all.

"After 40 years in the city and now 76 years of age he feels that the time has come when the direction of the business must be entrusted to other hands."

The editorial looks back on the many changes that have taken place in that city since Mr. Hanley started in business and gives him generous credit for the part he played in its growth.

A brother of Robert Hanley, of Cornwall, and Mrs. Kenneth Bellamy, of Ottawa, Mr. Hanley left Glengarry some 50 years ago for the West.

Cups were also presented to the first-place winners in the various subjects: Composition—Collette Lallier. Literature—Annette Dubeau, Alexandria. Spelling—Collette Legros, Bainsville. Public Speaking—Collette Legros. Recitation—Irene Richer. Reading—Collette Legros. Writing—Lise Lafrance.

No Line-Ups This Year, Here As Deadline For Plates Passes

Retires From Department Of Indian Affairs

The man responsible for the registration of Indians in Canada, Malcolm (Mac) McCrimmon, retired in early February after 42 years in the Civil Service.

A native of the McCrimmon area, Mr. McCrimmon is a brother of Fred McCrimmon, now of Cornwall; Rod, Jim, John F. and John D. McCrimmon, all in the McCrimmon area, and Mrs. Sadie McDonald, of Vankleek Hill.

Col. H. M. Jones, Director of Indian Affairs, made a presentation to the 65-year-old supernummate on his retirement.

Mr. McCrimmon joined the Soldiers' Settlement branch in 1919, transferring to Indian Affairs 39 years ago. He says the Indian population is increasing rapidly in Canada, due to the great strides taken in medical treatment.

When he was "paying treaty" in the Northwest Territories many years ago, Mr. McCrimmon recalls epidemics of simple diseases like measles killing off the Indians like flies. Improved diet and advances in medical science have worked wonders, he says.

This is a good thing for the Indian, but not so good for the taxpayer. The Indian goes free of income tax while on the reservation. Any money he earns off it, however, is taxable.

Unlike other years, when the line-ups for license plates were long, yesterday saw little delay as some 300 area drivers got their 1961 plates on the last day of grace.

"Business was steady," reported a tired Steve O'Connor, last night, "but we never had more than eight or ten in line at any one time and there were no long waits."

Since Monday morning the local office has issued some 750 plates; 3,900 since January 1st, and that is about 250 more than had gone out at the deadline last year. Mr. O'Connor estimates sales of plates in the year will be about 5,150.

Next Tuesday will see the first visit to the local issuer's office of a driver examiner from the new centre opened in Cornwall, yesterday.

As of April 1, all applicants for drivers' permits will have to take a written test on rules of the road. This will apply to persons who have allowed their licence to expire for a year, as well as to those getting licences for the first time.

However, those who already have a permit are not required to try examinations for yearly renewal unless they are more than 80 years old.

An examiner from the Cornwall office will visit Alexandria every Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Red Cross Meeting Next Thursday

Postponed because of poor road conditions, the annual meeting of Glengarry County Branch, Red Cross, will be held next Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Armoures, Alexandria.

WILL OPEN THE GAMES — Dame Flora MacLeod of MacLeod, chieftain of her clan, will be in Maxville, August 5th, to open the Glengarry Highland Games. This year's Games will be Clan MacLeod day and Glengarry Clan MacLeod already has reserved 500 tickets for clansmen from near and far. A personal letter from Dame Flora, at Dunvegan Castle, reached John Jamieson, Games' secretary, late last week, replying to the invitation extended her. The above picture of Dame Flora and her two grandsons was taken on the occasion of her first visit to her Glengarry clansmen a decade ago.

— ITS OUR OPINION —

Highway 401 Just A Year Away?

Completion of a four-lane Highway 401 in this end of the province apparently is only a year away. Hon. Fred M. Cass, minister of highways, promises an all-out effort this summer to complete the south lane between Cornwall and Lancaster and to provide the grading, culverts and bridges on the north lane to Lancaster, as well as on the four lanes easterly, almost to the Quebec border.

This is an ambitious project which should provide plenty of job opportunities for area men. Completion of the Glengarry stretch of province-wide 401 is also something we have been promised for a decade. If Highway Minister Cass can get it done in 1962 he will be looked on as something of a miracle worker by a lot of Glengarry motorists.

Crooked, curvy Highway 2 between

Lancaster and Cornwall will be relegated to the role of a scenic route for those who prefer to loaf along and enjoy the occasional sight of the St. Lawrence. The giant transports will be barreling down the new 401 which will also provide quick passage to Cornwall and points west.

The greasy accident-prone surface of Highway 2 east of Lancaster, with its narrow bridges, will become but a bad memory. Accidents will still happen, no doubt; but surely not so often.

For years on end, election-time after election-time, we have been hearing of the wonderful 401 that was to replace repulsive No. 2. Now, it seems, it is within a year of reality. If Highway Minister Cass manages to swing it by 1962 he will have made many friends who can influence a lot of people.

Still Seeking A Retrial

An editorial from this paper was quoted almost in its entirety in the Ontario Legislature two weeks ago. It concerned Gerald Rowe, of Riceville, who for seven years has been trying to have the courts redress what he sees as a lapse of justice.

We need not review the case history here; most area farmers are familiar with the conviction, wherein Mr. Rowe was found guilty under The Livestock Pedigrees Act with listing the wrong parents for a calf he registered with the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

Mr. Rowe paid a $500 fine and costs of $560. And through the past seven years he has spent thousands of additional dollars trying in vain to clear himself of a conviction he feels was unjust. He has appealed to the Prime Minister and Premier Frost for a retrial; he has approached the Minister of Justice at Ottawa and Ontario's

Attorney-General, in vain. The Law Society of Ontario has done nothing to dispel his belief that the lawyers who have taken his retainers have been restrained from taking steps to help him get a new trial.

Mr. Rowe's latest step was to outline his predicament in a letter which went to every member of the Commons and to our representatives in the Ontario Legislature.

It may be significant that the only Members to display interest were representatives of the New Party; Hazen Argue, CCF leader in the House, and Donald C. MacDonald, Ontario leader of the CCF, who quoted our editorial of last August.

They may be wooing the farm vote in espousing Mr. Rowe's cause. Their purpose may or may not be selfish. They at least are playing the part of defenders of individual rights.

Help For The Crippled Child

Among the many demands on your charity few can be more worthy of generous support than the Easter Seals campaign in aid of crippled children.

Certainly the purpose is worthy; the help provided to handicapped children in the way of needed braces, special boots and other equipment beyond the ability of the crippled child's parents to obtain. The fund is used, too, to provide transportation for special treatment and to give these crippled children a holiday at a summer camp designed especially for the handicapped.

Especially worthy of your support is this fund, too, because of the fact your dollars are being spent here in Glengarry to help our own crippled children. The committee of the Lions Club which sponsors Easter seals in co-operation with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, has had to call on the parent body in recent years for more money than was raised in the local seals' drive.

He's Taxing Our Patience

We had plenty of warning it was coming, this provincial sales tax that will be imposed on the people of Ontario. But somehow we hoped some other way would be found by Premier Frost to help balance his books.

Already we are adding 11 percent on every item of job printing that leaves our shop. As it is, we are forced into the role of unpaid tax collector for the federal government. We have to collect and remit that tax money to Ottawa, and often we get the idea we haven't entirely convinced the customer that this extra 11 percent we tack on is going into the coffers of government. More than once in awhile we get the impression the customer figures he's being taken for an extra 11 percent ride, by us.

Now our troubles are to be compounded by an additional three percent provincial sales tax. We are going to have another set of forms to make out each month, a lot more red tape to unsnarl, a whole new bunch of bureaucrats to keep happy in the odd moments we can spare from keeping our business rolling.

It all adds up to almost more than the average small business can bear. Too much government interference in his efforts simply to make a living is robbing the small businessman of any incentive to stay in business. At the other extreme we find an excess of government give-away robbing the worker of any incentive to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow.

We, the people, demanded the Hospital Plan, was the excuse of Premier Frost for foisting it upon us two years ago. We, the people, want these extravagant welfare benefits that are sapping our potential to produce, the politician contends each time he is framing an election platform.

But when the plans have to be paid for, they are cunning in the manner in which they sugar-coat the pill. This provincial sales tax will not be imposed on food purchases, up to a point; farmers will not be charged the extra impost on innumerable pieces of equipment they normally need; no extra tax on draft beer should keep plenty of city pub-dwellers happy.

But this three percent sales tax is designed to raise an additional 150 million dollars for the provincial treasury in a full year. And who is going to provide that tidy sum but you and we, the consumers, the people, who must shop every week of the year for shoe laces, window shades and a thousand other items that are now to cost us three cents more on the dollar?

This new sales tax, Mr. Frost must feel, the provincial treasury needs if it is to meet its commitments. Undoubtedly the Hospital Plan is unbalancing his budget to such a degree that some way has to be found to raise additional revenue. But is not this another case of the tail wagging the dog?

If the Hospital Plan had not been dreamed up to win an election, would it be necessary now to impose an extra tax? If governments budgeted on their expected revenue, rather than on what they decided to spend, there could be an end to added taxes; the party in power might essay reelection without more give-aways; the drift to a socialist state might be halted.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

GIN AND TONIC

St. Raphael, Ont., Mar. 10, 1961

The Editor, Glengarry News.

Dear Sir:

There is another old account book in this district which I have seen, and which dates back more than one hundred years. It is an account book of the Le Claire store at North Lancaster, and it also has entries in pounds, shillings and pence. I was interested to find my grandfather's account, and an entry on the day my mother was born, July 3rd, 1865. On that day, among other things were bought one bottle of gin and one bottle of castor oil—the gin, no doubt for the new father and the castor oil for the mother.

This, needless to say, before the days of equal rights for women!

Sincerely,

WILLA McDONALD.

We Disagree With Daily Star

(Wingham Advance-Times)

In a brief to the Federal Government the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association suggested a change in the method of assessing unemployment insurance rates.

Briefly, the CWNA suggestion was that contributions should be higher for those industries whose employees collect the most benefits.

The Toronto Daily Star ridicules this idea and says:

"We would, in effect, be back to the condition that brought the system into effect."

"A general policy of relating premiums to risks of unemployment would virtually wipe out the protection the fund now offers to those who need it most."

The editors of the Daily Star must be rather naive — their attitude seems to indicate they are in league with the ever growing army who are using the unemployment insurance fund as a regular subsidy.

To cite one example: We know a building contractor who offered his men winter work. The men said, "No thanks, we're going on the pokey." This example could be multiplied ten thousand times every winter. The real problem of unemployment is being aggravated by this situation.

Largely as a result of abuse the Unemployment Insurance Fund is in danger of going bankrupt.

Fortunately, there is an alternative. The Province of Ontario has a splendid system of insurance known as Workmen's Compensation. Rates are higher for those industries whose employees collect the most benefits.

As a result of this system, various industries take pride in their low accident rate. A moral influence is exerted on employers and employees who might otherwise be careless.

There is no such moral influence among employers and employees with regard to unemployment insurance. On the contrary, the use of the unemployment insurance fund is becoming more and more immoral.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

The editor's been panning CNR service lately, especially as it has to do with the mails from Ottawa. That morning mail is still liable to be late; but it is not of brickbats we would write.

Rather is it a bouquet we tender Donald Gordon and his cohorts. That fast passenger service between Ottawa and Montreal, now provided, is calculated to win friends and influence people to travel by train rather than go by car, or by air.

Saturday's morning train winged us to Ottawa in just about an hour, including stops at Maxville and Casselman. And that non-stop flight on the 4.30 train deposited us back in town in 50 minutes or less. We seemed to be flying; either that or the roadbed on this division is in darned good shape. That train must have hit Montreal less than two hours after it left Ottawa. That's good time.

The trains weren't exactly packed; but passenger travel appears to have picked up. If that's what the CNR is after, it seems to be on the right track.

It's easy to meet expenses these days; you meet them everywhere.

NUMBER, PLEASE!

Good thing it wasn't a real emergency one day last week when the siren sounded and the fire truck went the wrong way.

As we hear it the brigade was summoned to "the McDonald house near Morris", and they might understandably head in the wrong direction. There are four homes of Morris in town and there are McDonalds living near all four of them.

Since we now have our houses numbered there could be less chance of error if residents learned to give street and number in an emergency. A chart in the Fire Hall could then tell the firemen exactly where they are needed.

Financial statistics prove that the best time to buy anything is a year ago.

NOT DISCARDED

Your Rambling Reporter played the part of a Peeping Tom on Saturday; and he's not apologizing. It was all in the cause of research.

We were rambling up to Ottawa to a meeting; but rambling isn't exactly the word for it when the CNR is speeding one there at more than a mile a minute. Let's say we were being hustled up to Ottawa when we stopped briefly at Maxville and a mother - daughter combination boarded our car, depositing themselves in the opposite seat.

We might have remained deep in our reading of Time had not something familiar caught our eye. You guessed it; mother was carrying the current copy of your favorite paper and there and then we were set to conduct research on the reading habits of at least one reader of the News.

Out of the corner of our eye we watched her over the period of some 25 minutes as she absorbed all the news that's fit to print. The front page was read first, then the classified columns on the back. Naturally enough, the Maxville News then drew her eyes; and from there she went to this editorial page.

One couldn't be certain which features she was reading there, but a satisfactory time was spent before this lady leafed through pages 4 and 5, then 6 and 7.

Every page of the paper had been perused; for that we were thankful, as our advertisers undoubtedly will be. But our biggest boost came when the conductor called "Ottawa next" and the lady carefully folded up her paper and placed it in her purse.

Possibly she meant to read more; could be there was someone in Ottawa to whom the News of Glengarry would be passed on. In any case, we liked that last gesture.

It couldn't happen to a daily paper. Almost invariably they're discarded, to be picked up and possibly re-sold by the newsie.

But not the News; not the weekly paper. It's taken along; it's passed on to someone else interested in the news from home. It's got readability.

Lady, whoever you may be, your Rambling Reporter salutes you. You've got good taste in reading.

Died at Age 7

Sadness was cast over this town and community when word was received of the death of little Carolyn Campbell, at the age of 7. She was the second youngest of the family of 10, of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Campbell. Carolyn, who spent many months in hospital in Cornwall, endeavored herself to all who knew her. After all that loving care and expert medical skill had been done to no avail, God claimed her for His own.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held to the United Church on Wednesday, March 8th. The Reverend D. C. Munro gave a comforting message to the bereaved family.

The High School grade 12 pupils and Principal, Mr. Munro, and two grades of the Public School and teachers, Mrs. Colbourne and Miss Clare Doth, were present at the service in respect to the pupils of the Campbell family.

To the bereaved family and relatives we extend sincere sympathy.

Mrs. George Greer sang a solo, "The Old Rugged Cross".

Mrs. Edward Hunter presented a chapter from the Study Book, entitled "The Vision Lost".

The business portion opened with the roll call, and minutes of the last meeting.

Billy Graham Film
Showing Here

Billy Graham's historic 17,000 mile "Safari for Souls" across Africa, is the theme of a new feature length motion picture, "Africa On the Bridge", which has its Alexandria premiere at the Pentecostal Church, March 20th, at 8 p.m.

Photographed in authentic sound and natural color in seventeen principal cities across Africa from Monrovia, Liberia to Cairo, Egypt, the document captures the spirit of Africa during these current crucial years. Frequently called "The Awakening Giant", Africa is depicted to be in a transition period—on a bridge—between ancient tribalism and the shining goal of independence from colonial rule. During this significant period, American Evangelist Billy Graham was accorded an unprecedented welcome by Africans ranging from Chiefs of State down to the general population of bush, desert, and jungle. A total of 500,000 persons attended outdoor mass meetings with nearly 35,000 inquirers remaining for further help and instruction.

"Africa On the Bridge" has great pictorial scope, ranging from sequences depicting primitive village life to scenes of modern city and industrial activity. Exciting and colorful pagan rites and ceremonies are featured, together with some of the most remarkable big-game footage ever filmed.

Climaxing the story of the spiritual thrust of the Billy Graham Team is a tribute to the missionaries, whose years of faithful labors were in a large measure responsible for the spiritual harvest experienced by the Evangelist. Missionary leaders and ministers joined with State and Civic officials to extend the invitation for Mr. Graham to visit the Continent.

Africa On the Bridge was directed by Dick Ross and produced by World Wide Pictures, the organization responsible for such well-known films as "The Heart Is A Rebel", "Souls In Conflict", "Oil-town, USA", "Mr. Texas", and many others, with newest dramatic color feature scheduled for October release, "Shadow Of the Boomerang", starring Georgia Lee and Dick Jones.—Advertisement.

Basketball Thriller Gives A.H.S. 1-Point Lead Over Williamstown

A last-minute shot from almost centre-floor, bagged by Tommie Mosher, gave the local High School basketballers a 53-52 win over the Char-Lan boys last night on the victor's floor.

It was the first game of a home-and-home total-point series for interscholastic honors and the teams will be tangling again on Friday night at Williamstown.

This was a hard-fought battle with the lead changing hands often, especially in the final quarter when that seconds-to-play long shot tipped the scales.

Alexandria scorers were: Tom Mosher, 16; Peter Kolada and John Clingen, 10 each; Jean-Guy Theoret, 9; Garth Macdonald, 5; John Tkaczko, 3.

Alan Reynolds of Char-Lan was top scorer with 17 points, and his team was helped by Brian Gilmour, 13; Bruce McDonald, 8; Clifford Garneau, 7; Rex Little, 4, and Lloyd Rozon, 3.

The line-ups:

Char-Lan—Alan Reynolds, Brian Gilmour, Bruce McDonald, Rex Little, Clifford Garneau, Lloyd Rozon, Roddie McDonald, Harold McDonald, Roger Nichol.

AHS—Tom Mosher, Peter Kolada, John Clingen, Garth Macdonald, Carl Cross, John Tkaczko, Jean-Guy Theoret, Guy Leger, Herb Flax, Maurice Sauve, Gilbert Titley.

Midgets Meet Cardinal Tonight

Alexandria Midgets travel to Cardinal tonight to meet Prescott in OCHA playdowns. The return game will be played in the Gardens at 8:30 Saturday night, following the all-day PeeWee tournament.

Club Gets Jos. Roy Trophy

Another handsome trophy has been added to the local curling club's collection, the Jos. Roy Memorial Trophy which has been donated by Mrs. Roy and her two sons for annual competition. Mr. Roy, who died last summer, had been one of the club's keenest and best curlers.

The 33" high golden trophy will be played for among the ladies this season and next year will be competed for by the men.

Mixed Bonspiel Now Underway

Local competition at the Curling Club is suspended this week as the curlers play host to some 30 outside rinks participating in the club's annual mixed bonspiel.

Despite adverse weather conditions all outside rinks have been able to keep their dates and the two ice lanes have been busy each night and Wednesday afternoon. The 8 top teams will enter the finals on Saturday.

While play was proceeding here several local rinks have been visiting other clubs. Two ladies' rinks played in a one-day spiel at Hawkesbury Tuesday and the Lancaster rink of Kay Throsby, Isabel McGillis, Daisy Pelley and Dorothy Grant, skip, won prizes in a Valleyfield spiel.

A mixed rink made up of Kay Throsby, Fred Throsby, Ruth Bonnevillie and Pete Bonnevillie returned to Howick on Saturday to play in the finals of that club's mixed bonspiel.

Broomball Honors Won By Atlantic

The Atlantic team copped the Carling's trophy last night taking the finals in three-straight over Bakery. Donald Alex McLean got 2 and Ronnie McCormick a single goal in the 3-0 win.

Following the game, John Wood, loop secretary, presented the trophy to Paul Decaire, captain and coach of the Atlantics.

Slight Earthquake Felt Here

Major Angus McDonald, Station, was among those reporting slight earth tremors about 6 o'clock Monday morning when a mild quake was recorded at Ottawa. Its centre was in the Kemptville area.

Major McDonald reports it rattled his windows and silverware, but was very mild.

Williamstown Eliminated From Playdowns By Dalhousie, Tuesday

A close 4-3 score spelled curtains for Williamstown, Tuesday night, when the Border League team ended up on the losing end to Dalhousie. It marked Dalhousie's third victory in four games and earned that team a place in league finals against either Lancaster or Vankleek Hill.

The Hill team is 2-1 in games over Lancaster and the issue could be settled tonight when these two teams tangle in Hawkesbury arena.

The final round will get underway next week, probably Tuesday night.

Big scorer in Tuesday's game in the Gardens was Gilles Joannette, who got three. Dick Leduc scored the other marker. Bill Ingram, R. Givogue and Bernie Larocque scored for the losers.

A total of 14 penalties were handed out in the game with 10 going to Dalhousie. Guy Cuerrier and J. Maville each picked up game misconduct penalties from Referees Gus Lebrun and Reni Henri.

Both players came in contact with the referees during scuffles over penalties and were banished from the game. Maville's came at 5:33 of the third period and Cuerrier at 9:30 of the last frame.

Vankleek Hill took a 2-1 lead in its series with Lancaster, winning 3-3 Saturday night in Glengarry Gardens.

On Sunday afternoon in the Gardens, Williamstown defeated Dalhousie 6-5 to stave off elimination. The Dalhousie boys had won the first two games of the best-of-five series.

Vankleek Hill's Ricky Duscheneau was the big scorer in Saturday night's fixture with three goals. Ruel Leduc had two and single counters went to Bob Thistlewaite, Tony Villeneuve and Norm McNabb. Jack Coleman scored two goals for the losers with the single tally going to John McDonald.

Four goals by Hugh McDonald were a big help in Williamstown's Sunday win in the Gardens before a large turnout of fans. He scored two in the last minute of the second period, only 37 seconds apart. His third goal of the game came at 19:17 and the fourth at 19:54. Bernie Kippen scored at 18:26 and the winners had three goals in less than a minute and a half. Bill Ingram scored the other Williamstown marker.

Mayville got two for the losers, singles going to Vaudette, Richer and Ledoux.

Couple Wed At Tillsonburg

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Tillsonburg, was the setting for the wedding of Earla Marguerite Vallee and Joseph Ronald McKay. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Vallee, Tillsonburg, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McKay, Peterborough. Rev. Fr. L. S. Horwath officiated at the ceremony. Assisting in the Nuptial Mass were William Vallee, Warren, Mich., and Glen McKay, brother of the groom. The bride chose a street-length gown of brocade fashioned with lily point sleeves and scalloped neckline. A tiara of sequins and pearls held her veil of tulle illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias, feathered carnations and stephanotis.

Maid-of-honor was Miss Lorraine Vallee, London, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid was Miss Barbara Vallee, also a sister of the bride. They wore street-length dresses of yellow brocade.

Terry Rosehart, Tillsonburg, was groomsman and ushers were Larry Clarke, Brownsville, Douglas Vallee, brother of the bride, and Gary McKay, Peterborough, brother of the groom.

For travelling in Michigan, the bride donned a beige suit with a flowered hat, green accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. The couple will live in Peterborough.

The groom is a grandson of Alex McKay, Glen Nevis.

Notes From The Church On The Hill

New carpeting in a tasteful shade has been laid on the church, pulpit and vestry floors. This, along with partial redecoration, has imparted a new beauty to the auditorium, and contributed to a worshipful atmosphere. It represents the completion of another step in a program of renovation in process of being carried out by the congregation.

Ladies and gentlemen from the church were glad again to co-operate with the Glengarry Gardens in organizing the carnival, and it was encouraging to see such a large number present, and such evident enjoyment with the program.

Books from Alexandria will shortly be found in Trinidad schools, thanks to the CGIT group, which is busily engaged in collecting and forwarding them. The United Church has a large mission in this West Indian country, which specializes in education. TGIT, Trinidad Girls-in-Training, groups will undoubtedly profit by this gift of reading material, which is destined for the high schools operated there.

The congregation sends its greetings, along with the greetings of the community and district, to its 'grand old lady', Mrs. D. D. MacMillan, 101 years old Sunday.

A book, 'Growth in Understanding', added to the church library, as of special interest to the congregation, dealing as it does with the work being done at their respective headquarters to pave the way for the union of Anglican and United Churches in Canada.

Ring Battles Of Today and Yesteryear

By ANGUS H. McDONELL

(This is not a report of the Johansson - Patterson fight)

You have already listened to and read the various accounts of this bout. Your correspondent, on Monday evening, sat in on the Closed Television Showing of the scrap at Lansdowne Park, and while waiting for the preliminary to get underway we thought back on the great changes that have taken place down through the years in reporting. First, the round-by-round results via telegraph; later, radio blow-by-blow; then television, and now the latest style called Closed Television. As time marched on there have been some unbelievable changes. The first time this writer knew that fights were staged, except to hear the older people tell of the bar room style that frequently took place in the local hotels, was the morning following the Jack Johnson belt being handed over to Jess Willard.

I was at Alexandria station to meet my late father, and after he stepped off the train I noted that he opened the Montreal Gazette and began to discuss the fight in detail with the late George Shephard, George Layland and a few more of the staff. From the telegraph wires the result of the bout was known immediately, especially to the old Grand Trunk staff; however, further details had to be read in the morning paper.

In subsequent years when we became interested in this phase of sport, and if we wanted to learn the results as quickly as possible, next morning we would wait for Frank Kerr to tack on the board the Montreal Gazette bulletin that would briefly announce the winner and the specific round. If you were keenly anxious and could not wait until the arrival of the morning mail the alternative was to go into Ostrom's and either Clarence or Ernest would give you the results, as they obtained same from the telephone switchboard.

Then came the advent of the radio, and in particular Station KDKA in Pittsburgh, which gave us major sporting events that were broadcast at that time. The present television system is called a "closed circuit", but I well recall one of the first "open radio circuit" broadcasts, and that was, if memory serves us correctly, the famous "long count" bout in Soldier's Field, Chicago, between Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey.

In any event, it was thrilling time, and Roddy Campbell from up Baltic's way, assisted by Hughie Stewart, Fisk's Corners, was operating one of John Grant's (Laggon) western type threshing units, and to keep this powerful mill in operation it took pretty near all the men in the Third Concession to provide the help. This particular afternoon it was agreed that threshing operations would cease an hour earlier, we would have supper, get the milking out of the way, and all those interested in the big Chicago fight would meet at Highland Chief and sit around the radio to listen to what was known as a blow-by-blow account. The crowd had assembled in the living-room and just before the opening bell there was a rattle of a steel-tired buggy and who should be a late arrival but one of Glengarry's most ardent boxing fans, my late uncle Joe Routhier, to swell the attendance by one more. That is a brief outline of the first open-radio circuit, and from that era we move on through more detailed radio broadcasting and eventually television that gave you a ring-side seat in your living-room.

Obviously, it is more profitable to eliminate the living-room fans and open the way to what is known today as a closed circuit. Readers of the News familiar with the Lansdowne Coliseum by exhibition visits can visualize a theatre screen near the entrance to the show ring. The size is about half that of a theatre. Rows of chairs face the screen, which is high enough to provide a clear vision.

Two preliminary bouts were on tele-cast, then an intermission. The final, starring another Durelle, preceded the main bout. The televising from ringside was excellent. There were two variations of the action; one close-up showing both men from trunks to head and little of the referee. The alternate gave you a view of the ring and referee.

Between rounds there was a split screen, showing each fighter's corner at the same time, with commentary. Following the decision, Patterson was interviewed and the last round was shown again to clear up any doubt as to how the final punches were thrown and where they landed.

This telecast or closed circuit must have been a financial success as well as entirely satisfactory from the spectator's viewpoint.

It is logical to assume that before too many more such fights are shown this way, the system will expand to Valley towns, and it might be wise for the Legion executive to keep an ear to the ground should this thought develop. Not only have Legion members provided an excellent hall, but you also had the courage to endure the hardships of battle so that the remainder of us might live a democratic life, and we suggest that if any group should benefit by telecasts, this writer's wish is that our veterans get in on the ground floor.

READING HABIT

The primary purpose of an elementary school is to teach children to read. . . . If we wait until the children are of high school age, it is, too often, too late for them to acquire the reading habit. — Campbellton (N.B.) Herald Tribune.

Don't Buy Imitation Maple Syrup

Ottawa, March 9. — Spring is just around the corner and so too is the season for maple syrup — one of the most delectable treats Canada can offer from its natural resources. Unfortunately, the maple season regularly means the appearance of the fraudulent peddler. He brings a good imitation to your door and asks you to buy it at a price ranging from $3.75 to $5.50 per gallon. You can buy that kind from the stores at less than $2 a gallon.

"Be on the lookout for this lad", warns F. R. Armstrong of the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Canada Department of Agriculture. "Don't be an easy mark."

"Before buying, insist that he show you his ownership and driver's licences and take down the numbers of both, as well as his name and address. Look carefully at the label on his syrup; it must be labelled according to law. If the product offered you is maple syrup, it should be labelled 'Maple Syrup' (or, in French, 'Sirop d'érable') and it should also show a declaration of net weight and the name and complete address of the packer."

The peddler of pure maple syrup will gladly identify himself, know-
