Alexandria Will Lose CNR Agent Under New Servocentre Plan Explained At Meeting

Alexandria will lose its CPR agent under a new Servocentre scheme which will see centralization of most services at Ottawa for an area extending from Barry's Bay to Glen Robertson.

CNR officials from Belleville and Ottawa were here last night to meet with town council and other interested citizens. They explained the new concept and assured them the Servocentre plan is designed to give industry and individual customers a better coordination of CN services.

Application is now being made to the Transport Board for permission to remove agents at Barry's Bay, Arnprior, Smiths Falls and Alexandria. Most of the other stations involved are already without agents and the CNR hopes to have its first Servocentre in operation at Ottawa in early February.

George Van de Water, manager of the Rideau Area, Belleville, was here with representatives of various departments and he explained that local express service would continue with an on-hand representative for pick-up and delivery. Tickets would be sold through a local travel agency and the local station would have to be maintained for use of passengers, clean, lighted and heated.

The local agent, Chris Walton, will be eligible to bid for another post according to his seniority.

Mr. Van de Water explained that meetings with community leaders, as well as with employees and the unions, were being held to smooth the way for the "Servocentre Age". Two films were shown depicting the Servocentre concept and a question and answer period was also held.

"The first Servocentre to be set-up", Mr. Van de Water said, "will be early in February at Ottawa". It will serve some 18 communities. The second centre scheduled for late April will be in the Brockville-Cornwall area while early in July a similar concept at Belleville will be implemented for some seven locations. All distant points will be able to telephone the Servocentres for service and information via a no-charge Zenith number.

Implementation of the Servocentre system, described as the most advanced of its kind in North America, has already started. "Upwards of 20 Servocentres are expected to be in operation across Canada by the end of 1971", Mr. Van de Water said. The first such centre, a pilot project, was opened at Quebec City last year. Its success and acceptance by the public paved the way for the introduction of others.

Education Tax Load On Property Debated At Federation Meeting

A discussion on taxes, one of the consequences of this life, dominated the annual meeting of the Glengarry Federation of Agriculture held in the High School here recently.

Two speakers, Osie Villeneuve, MPP, and Jack Hale, general manager and secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, had a mild confrontation and a slight difference of opinion on the whys and wherefores of the 20 million dollars of rebate to be paid before December 31st by the provincial government to farmers and old age pensioners.

Mr. Villeneuve spoke first and he stated that the rebate was paid because rural members of the governing Conservative party sold the proposition in caucus to the larger metropolitan group within the party. The total municipal and education tax in 1970 for farmers was $80 million of which 50 per cent goes for education i.e. 40 million. Mr. Villeneuve contended that with a rebate of 20 million the farmers would only pay another 20 million. The remainder of taxes in Ontario amounted to 815 million dollars. 45 per cent of this tax was paid by industry, the remainder by home owners and private individuals. Mr. Villeneuve also stressed the high cost of hospitalization and medicine, with beds in Toronto hospitals costing $65-$73 per diem.

Reference was made to medicare with the total cost of premiums paid by individuals amounting to 309 million. This is less than one third of the total cost of operating medicare. Two million people do not pay any premiums because of their low income and $70 million is needed to provide coverage for these persons. Mr. Villeneuve also touched on other governmental problems. It costs society $9,000 a year to keep a person in jail and a man, his wife and three children living on welfare in Toronto are $280 better off at the end of a year than a person with an income of $5,000.

Mr. Hale, the guest speaker, said the farmers received consideration in the education tax because a lot of noise was made across the province. He promised the meeting that the Federation of Agriculture would continue its fight to have this tax paid by people who benefit and who are able to pay. He said that the message of this farm organization is that property bears no relationship to the benefits of education. Taxes on property are inequitable to benefits from education and the former buyer for Canada Packers and trustee of the Metro Board of Education said the province founded community colleges and financed these centres of education without a levy on property. He believed that the answer was a 100 per cent unconditional grant on a per capita basis if government believes in equality of educational opportunity.

Mr. Hale stated the OFA with its 5,000 paid members is developing political clout, an organization that should have strength and a broad power base so that its approaches will be creditable. Farmers can not resist because they are not well disciplined or well organized. Canadian farmers are subsidized by an amount of $325 each, farmers in the United States by $1,300 each and farmers in the European common market by the sum of $450-$700 each.

Several interesting reports were given by representatives of various farm groups in the county. George Kinloch, Martintown, presided.

Auction Barns Threatened By Fire

The regular Wednesday sale at Alexandria Commission Auction went off on schedule yesterday, unaffected by a threatening fire Tuesday night, which might have destroyed the big barns on the Elgg Road.

The Alexandria brigade was called to the Auction barn about 8.30 p.m. Tuesday, when fire was discovered between the walls in the area of the office and restaurant. Firemen were able to get at the fire and control it despite heavy smoke which did not reach the many animals in the barn.

Employees had been thawing frozen pipes earlier and it is believed the fire originated at that time.

Omer Poirier reports damage was only minor.

Mrs. A. E. McRae Died At 42

Mr. and Mrs. John D. McRae, St. Raphael's and all the members of their family were among those attending the funeral of a daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. E. (Sandy) McRae, at Aylmer, Que., Dec. 7th.

The former Janet Kirkpatrick of Ottawa, Mrs. McRae died in Ottawa General Hospital Dec. 4th, after a lengthy illness. She was the daughter of Irwin Kirkpatrick and his wife Lizzie MacDonald of Ottawa. Mrs. Kirkpatrick is formerly of Glen Norman.

Since her marriage to Mr. McRae they had resided at Toronto and Edmonton until Mr. McRae's transfer to Ottawa, since which time they had resided at Aylmer, Que.

In addition to her husband and parents she leaves two sons and four daughters, Danny, John, Colleen, Mary, Shauna and April. One sister, Miss Kay Kirkpatrick also survives.

Rev. Allan B. McRae of Angus, Ont., offered the funeral mass, assisted by Father Walsh, pastor, in St. Mark's Church, Aylmer. Burial was in St. Mark's cemetery.

New Jackets For Majorettes

A set of 65 jackets for spring and fall wear by the majorette corps has been ordered and the cost will be met by the Lions Club out of proceeds of the October walkathon.

At Monday's meeting Doug Baxter, walkathon chairman, reported some $3,100 has already been turned in and he expects the final returns from the walk will increase that amount by possibly another hundred dollars.

Santa Claus dropped in on the meeting and made a special presentation to Lion Angus H. McDonnell, the oldest walker to complete the course. He also reminded of holiday activities including the Christmas concert last night, Sunday's party for members' kiddies and the New Year's Eve dance in Alexander Hall.

Deputy District Governor Mike Sargeant of Perth, spoke on Lionism and was welcomed by President Paul Roy who presided.

Board Will Take Money For New School And Decide Location Later

The United Counties Board of Education Tuesday night decided to accept a department of education offer of $3 million financing for a new school. But the decision on when or where it will be built will be delayed until a meeting is held with the minister of education.

A delegation of north Stormont taxpayers, along with board members, is seeking an interview with Hon. William Davis. Although the board had established the north Stormont school as the top priority some months ago, the department approved instead the construction of a fourth high school in Cornwall. The latter was second on the board's list of priorities.

Since that time, north Stormont ratepayers have been angry, trustees have been divided in their thinking and the administrative staff has been pressing the board to urge approval of both school projects.

The issue came up again at the December meeting of the board. The result was a number of motions and amendments which threatened to shelve the entire issue for six months under a rule of board business. But in the end a resolution was passed that the board accept available grants . . . and await clarification at the meeting with Mr. Davis.

Trustee Sam McLeod was one of the most outspoken of those opposing the construction of a fourth school in Cornwall.

"Somewhere we have failed badly. We have not convinced the department we need a north Stormont school," he said.

"It appears to me that the reason we are not getting a north Stormont school is because of cheap politics, and the minister doesn't have the guts to tell the people to their faces the real reason."

FROM PLANE TO CUTTER—Sunday's snowstorm prevented Santa Claus from being flown into town under escort of members of the Flying Club but he managed to reach the local airfield where he boarded a cutter for the last lap of his trip from the North Pole. He was welcomed at the airstrip by a group of kiddies and officers of the K of C whose guest he was for his stay in town. More than 700 youngsters gathered at the K of C Hall to greet the jolly gent and all received Christmas candy. Cyrille (Lill) Gagnier of the 4th Kenyon provided the horse transport. Santa returns Monday for a four-day stay in his snugery adjacent to this office.

Band Has Goal Of 50 Pipers This Year 100 May Be Ready For 1972 Games

Winner Of $1,000

Mrs. Guy Decoste, 3rd Kenyon, received a welcome Christmas present Saturday night when her ticket was pulled for the $1,000 prize in the K of C's 300-Club grand draw.

Many At Funeral Mrs. McDonnell

A large number of relatives, neighbors and friends were present for the funeral of Mrs. Hugh Finley McDonnell, which was held last Saturday from the Morris Funeral Home to St. Catherine's Church in Greenfield. Rev. J. H. Oulmet celebrated the funeral mass assisted by a friend of the family, Rev. Edward Lunny of Almonte.

Mrs. McDonnell had been a resident of the Greenfield area throughout her lifetime and her sudden passing on Wednesday, December 8th, was a shock to her family and many friends who knew her as a quiet and friendly personality.

Mrs. McDonnell was the former Annie Kennedy and leaves two sons and two daughters, Francis of Ottawa; Joseph, Greenfield; Mary, Mrs. Jack McDonnell of North Lancaster and Mary, Mrs. Howard Evans of Verdun. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Mary McLean of Syracuse and Miss Loretta Kennedy of Washago, Ont.

Funeralbearers were Dr. A. J. McLean, Cornwall, Allan Evans, a grandson, of Providence College, RI; and four nephews, Finley Kavanagh of Ottawa; Doug McDonnell of Toronto; Finley McDonnell of Montreal and Cecil McLean of Syracuse, NY.

The Glengarry Pipe Band held its annual meeting in the Maxville Community Hall on Saturday evening. Members and friends enjoyed a pot-luck supper, then were welcomed to the business meeting by President Morlin Campbell. A favorable financial report was given by treasurer MacLeod Atchison, showing that the band operates within its means and has, in addition, considerable capital investment in instruments and uniforms.

Major Grant MacGillivray reported on the surprisingly brisk sale of tickets for the "Breath of Scotland" concert which will be in March. A third of the tickets are already sold, and he attributed this in part to the novelty of the entire hall being reserved seats. He also outlined plans for the 1972 tour of Scotland. A concert party has been organized for this which will include 36 pipers, singers, dancers, and violinists. Present membership in the Association is 234, and most of these members have expressed interest in the trip.

Chairman Allan Vallance reported for the School of Piping and Drumming. Since its establishment in the fall of 1967 this school has enjoyed steady progress and contributed greatly to the improvement of the band. He expressed the appreciation of the musicians to the town council for the free use of community hall facilities. There are 53 pupils presently enrolled, using three rooms at the High School for piping, and the hall for drumming and combined practice. After January 1st there will be room for 6 or 7 new pupils in either piping or drumming and anyone interested is asked to contact one of the instructors. Mrs. Sybil MacPhee gave a financial report which showed that the school was almost self-supporting. The band is now providing each pupil with a chanter reed, at a cost of $3 each. In future, pupils may be asked to buy these themselves. It was noted that over a thousand dollars was collected in tuition and about the same amount paid out for instruction.

Reeve Wm. R. MacEwen expressed the appreciation of the village council for the splendid job of public relations that the band does for Maxville during the course of its tours and performances. Highland Games Secretary, John Jamieson pointed out that the appearance of the band during the pre-Games concerts is much to its credit.

This year the Clan MacMillan will be at the Games in force, as part of their big reunion. From the county the goal might be fifty pipers for Glengarry this summer, and one hundred by 1972. A confined class has been requested for the three Glengarry schools at the Games this summer.

Osie Villeneuve, MPP, congratulated the band on its success in keeping Scottish tradition alive, and in particular for the encouragement given to the young musicians. He felt the village very fortunate in its community spirit, and also because Pipe-Majors MacKenzie and Danskin have chosen to reside there. Reeve-elect Hubert Quatt added his congratulations and best wishes for continued success.

It was made very clear, in case there might be some misunderstanding on the part of the general public, that the Pipe Band and the School of Piping and Drumming, are two separate and distinct organizations. Interested in the same subject they do co-operate with each other, but have different officers. Pupils in the school are not obliged in any way to join the band when they graduate.

RECOGNIZED ON RETIREMENT—The oldest employee and the first member of the hospital staff to retire, John D. McRae was made a presentation at the annual staff Christmas party at Glengarry Memorial Hospital, held Saturday night at Green Valley Pavilion. Mr. McRae is also the longest serving on the staff, he having been supervisor of construction when the hospital was built. Administrator Jerry Adams made the presentation of a generous cheque from fellow staff members and board while Miss Ginette Leroux, right, presented a corsage to Mrs. McRae. Flanking Mr. Adams are Dr. D. J. Dolan and Laurent Major, chairman of the board.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Reflections On Trustee Elections

The first elections of school trustees since organization of the area boards two years ago have now been held and they were probably most notable for the apathy of ratepayers. Where municipal voting was being held simultaneously, as in Alexandria, a respectable number of ballots were cast for school trustees. But right across the province ratepayers evidenced only a minimal interest in going to the polls solely to support a trustee candidate.

In this area Maxville set an example when only seven of some 100 Separate School supporters bothered to cast a ballot. Kenyon's 95 vote total was probably an even worse showing in a lot of polls when it is considered one of the candidates was a resident of that township. Not one vote was cast in some Kenyon polls, we hear, and simple economics suggests it is a waste of public funds to schedule trustee elections apart from those for municipal office.

This was an off-year in Kenyon, as it was in Charlottetown and numerous other Ontario municipalities. Township council was spared the expense of preparing a voters' list but it will have to absorb costs of some $600 for manning the polls and otherwise organizing the trustee vote.

In the case of Kenyon, taxpayers are called on to pay more than six dollars for every vote cast in that election for trustee and most of this expenditure would not have to be duplicated if municipal voting was taking place simultaneously.

It seems only sensible that terms of municipal office should be set to coincide with the life of the area trustee boards and that all the elections should be held at the same time. If Queen's Park fails to legislate to that effect area municipal councils not now on the same wave-length as the trustee boards have the power to set their terms of office so as to eventually coincide one with the other.

Not only saving of the taxpayers' money is involved. The present lack of uniformity in municipal elections can work most unfairly for or against the candidates in school board voting.

Last week's election of a trustee in Charlottetown-Cornwall Township is a case in point. One of the three candidates was a resident of Cornwall Township where a spirited municipal election was in progress. He won by a margin of some 250 votes over two Charlottetown men who were poorly supported at the polls. It is no coincidence that this was an off-year in Charlottetown and as a result few people felt impelled to cast a ballot.

A heavy turnout of voters in one municipality and a very light one in the other half of the area undoubtedly stacked the cards in favor of one candidate and this must have happened right across the province given the present lack of co-ordinated voting.

We are not arguing the merits of Mr. Wheeler or his opponents. He probably is well qualified for the trustee post. It still is true that his candidacy was favored by the fact municipal voting brought out the ratepayers in his section of the area. It would have been fairer for all if Charlottetown had been electing a council, too.

In the interests of economy and equal opportunity for all candidates future school board elections and those for municipal office should coincide.

The heavier vote for trustees that would result would not necessarily evidence a wider interest in school board elections. Right across Ontario, as in this area, most members of school boards were unopposed and where elections were required the electorate showed itself almost totally indifferent.

There is voter apathy in municipal elections and in balloting for higher levels of government, too; but never has Ontario citizenry shown itself so uninterested in elections. There could be a lesson, here, for the Minister of Education and his departmental minions. Under the new area system the average ratepayer sees his representative on the area board little more than a figurehead. The important decisions are made at Toronto or by the board administrators and so it matters little who is his nominal representative at trustee meetings.

Educational planning and spending are completely beyond his control under this area set-up and the ratepayer indicated last week his feeling of isolation by staying clear of the voting booth.

Chilling Thoughts On Strikes

The mercury was down around zero Sunday and the nighttime air must have been uncomfortably cold even for snowmobile enthusiasts. Thanks to central heating our homes were comfortable havens, though. If the odd chill coursed down one's spine it must have been when the news reports on television were telling of the blackouts in Britain.

In that beleaguered land, once the centre of the greatest Empire the world has ever known, 125,000 workers in the government-run electricity industry are out on strike. Huge areas of the country are being hit by spasmodic blackouts that slow the wheels of industry, shorten the business work day and leave the candlelit home uncomfortably cold and without its customary warm meals.

Is it not a sad situation that sees any group of people permitted the power to keep an entire nation in thrall until it gains its own selfish ends? And have we not known the same form of national blackmail in less serious degree when the postmen went out, the railroad brotherhoods struck? To date we have escaped the full threat of a Hydro blackout; but are we not heading for the day when Ontario residents may know a cold Christmas because unions have not had their demands satisfied?

Is there not something very similar between a public service denied and an FIQ cell threatening life and liberty unless its demands are met?

Must we wait for the chaos Britain is knowing now, before we decide no segment of society should have the power to bring the nation to its knees by use of the strike weapon? There should be a better way to meet labor's demands.

History suggests, though, that it will be a frosty Friday morning before politicians have the guts to stand up to Organized Labor.

Taxing Policies Encourage The Chains

The Senate committee on the mass media has issued its report and Canada's daily newspapers, with few exceptions, are taken to task for a generally poor job of news reporting and editorial writing. Senator Davey and his committee would like to see the media govern themselves through formation of a Canada Press Council and the report asks some form of government control over group ownership of newspapers, radio and television.

We have yet to read the three-volume report of the commission but at least one of its criticisms of the daily press, radio and television we see as valid. A polling of public opinion indicates a large majority of the Canadian people feel the media too often play the role of "Peeping Tom" into the private lives of public personalities. Most people, it appears, feel newsmen have no business invading the privacy of anyone, whether he be Prime Minister or minor politician.

Count us among that majority. We have long felt the news media were lowering themselves to the level of common gossips in their coverage of the off-hour activities of personalities in the news. What Prime Minister Trudeau does for relaxation, whom he takes to dinner, where he spends a weekend unofficially, should be none of our business unless he is acting in a manner that might reflect on the country or could affect its security. The press and its photographers are too often intruding into the realm of personal privacy and an obvious example must be Jacqueline Kennedy, the widow of a murdered U.S. president, who found it impossible to enjoy life free from the probing reporter and cameraman. An impelling motive for her second marriage may have been the yacht and island on which she could know privacy from the press.

The news media now are often practising yellow journalism and the Davey Commission had every right to bring out this downgrading of journalistic standards.

A Little Plain Talk

(The Wingham Advance-Times)

In our books the Hon. Joe Green should get high marks for his outspoken demand that the United States clean up the "stinking mess" it has created in international waters. The federal cabinet minister was referring, of course, to American government reluctance to follow Canada's lead in taking immediate action to stop the flow of pollutants into the waters of the Great Lakes Basin.

The problems which face the two countries in this regard are different only in the matter of volume. The sources of pollution are similar. Industry is the major contributor and household wastes are a second and very important factor. In total, of course, the untreated chemicals are threatening the very existence of the lakes and rivers which form the international boundary.

Obviously the American government faces a colossal task in its efforts to stop the flow of pollutants, because the Great Lakes Basin contains a very high percentage of all industries in that country, as well as a concentration of population which contributes to the household pollutants. The Americans are not careless of the danger, but Mr. Greene believes that much more drastic legislation will be required and soon, if the lakes and rivers are to be saved.

Christmas is only a week away and if you're no farther advanced on your gift shopping than is your Rambling Reporter you'd better look over the ads in this issue and head for the stores. It's not exactly a case of procrastination with us. We just can't decide what who would like and our method of shopping doesn't leave time for scrounging around store displays.

We have to have an idea what we're going to buy before we go looking for it. With us the ideas come late, often out of sheer desperation and so our Christmas shopping is a frenzied thing that takes us right down to the wire.

That's doing it the hard way and we don't recommend it. The people we admire have been filling their gift lists since way back in November. Christmas is no sweat for them, but much as we admire their cool, calm and collected approach, darned if we can emulate them.

Now let's see, we've got tonight, Friday, Saturday and four days next week. Surely the ideas should start germinating soon. If not, Santa Claus will be sniggering next door all next week and maybe we can get some gift suggestions from him.

That fellow that claimed it's harder to be on the receiving end than the giving couldn't have been taking into account the fact you've got to go shopping for the gift.

Maybe that's why so many smart people keep on giving the perfect Christmas gift—a subscription to the finest paper printed in Gleggarry.

The man who has everything may have a woman who wants to be liberated.

SILLY LIQUOR LAWS

Just how mixed up are Ontario's liquor laws was again demonstrated at Maxville Monday of last week when both the liquor store and the hotel were open despite the fact a vote was being conducted to elect a Separate School trustee.

It seems the Liquor Control Act would have closed all outlets throughout the day if the vote had been for Public School trustees, but the Act does not cover Separate School elections so Maxville didn't have to go thirsty.

An amendment to the Act will plug that loophole. As of Jan. 1st Separate School elections will also be covered and if there is a trustee election two years hence outlets will be shut tight at Maxville. Doesn't that seem silly in view of the fact only seven votes were cast by Separate School supporters in the village.

Rather than make the LCA more strict we had been under the impression the Ontario Government was at last moving toward more liberal liquor control laws. Hotels are now permitted to open for business as soon as the polls close and we had thought the next step by the LCBO would be to permit lounges to stay open throughout election days. Instead they are going to be closed even for Separate School voting and that should prove particularly unpopular in sections of southwest Ontario where Separate School voters are in very short supply.

Not one vote for an SS trustee was cast in one entire township in last week's election, according to a news report. Presumably there were a few eligible voters but not one was interested enough to cast a ballot. If that township has hotel outlets they will have to close on election day even though nobody goes out to vote.

We wonder at the reasoning behind this restriction. Those who really want a drink can find it even when the legal outlets are closed. The candidates' stock enough to give arid voters a lift to the polls and for an after-election gathering. Surely the vote would be more responsible if electors were not so dependent for a shot on those running.

The Liquor Control Act has a new czar but that doesn't necessarily mean it is going to be brought up to date.

If a cluttered desk is a sign of a cluttered mind, perish the thought, one wonders what an empty desk indicates.

THE ABOMINABLE NO-MAN

The man who gave us Parkinson's Law has come up with another law which governs the conduct of bureaucracy in both business and government. The Law of Delay is what C. Northcote Parkinson, 61-year-old grey and balding Englishman calls his latest discovery.

One thing we have to watch out for at the management level, he says, is the abominable no-man, who says, is the abominable no-man, who bad, he says, is the procrastinator.

PLAN FOR NEW POST OFFICE BUILDING

Plans are complete now for the new Post Office building here. As announced previously the site is on a lot owned by the village, north of the present post office formerly used by the roads department.

The lot has been bought by W. R. MacEwen who will have the building erected then lease it to the government. Construction is expected to begin within two weeks.

The contract for about $50,000, is for a two-storey brick building facing west onto Marlborough Street. The post office will occupy the downstairs, and there will be two one-bedroom apartments above it. The building will be ready in about five months.

BUSY PROGRAM AT THE MANOR

This holiday season is a very busy time for the residents and staff of the Maxville Manor. Last Saturday Santa Claus himself paid a call, with his horse and sleigh. This must have been a native-born Santa, because he had a chat in Gaelic with Mrs. Mary MacCrimmon.

This month's birthday party was hosted by the CWL of Moose Creek, who had some lively dancing and singing, to the accompaniment of Mrs. Besner and Hughie Stewart, piano and violin. Celebrating their birthdays this month were Angus MacDonald, John Robinson, William Dockstader, John Cooper, Mrs. Eya Gareau and Mrs. Lucy Campeau.

A special treat was a visit from the North Dundas Ladies Orchestra, a group of ten ladies under the direction of Miss Casselman. There are three violins, three saxophones, and three clarinets, and they entertained with Christmas music and sing-songs. The orchestra was accompanied by Rev. Leonard Ferguson of Trinity United Church, Chesterville.

This week the Maxville Guides are coming to sing carols in the lounge, and many girls from the High School are paying a call to visit and chat with the residents. Tuesday morning the Grades 7 and 8 pupils from Moose Creek separate school are coming caroling, and that afternoon Mrs. Fitzsimmons is demonstrating her costume jewellery. Wednesday afternoon the children from Lagan Public School, under the direction of Mrs. J. Y. Humphries, will come to sing carols, and on Thursday the children from the Maxville Separate School are coming to see George Eppstadt's Hansel and Gretel house.

Thursday night is the big Old-Time Fiddlers' party for all the residents, and Friday night the Optimists' Club Junior Pipe Band from Cornwall is coming to put on a special performance. Saturday night will be the staff's turn — they are having their own dinner and Christmas party at the King George Hotel.

DUNVEGAN

White Gift Sunday was held in Kenyon Presbyterian Church on Sunday and the Service was conducted by Rev. Johnston of Montreal, from the Canadian Bible Society. Mrs. Johnston also was with her husband to attend this Service.

We are sorry to hear Mrs. Nelson Montgomery is a patient in Hotel Dieu, Cornwall, also Miss P. Anna MacCuaig. Hope they both will be home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Urquhart of Northfield Station spent Saturday evening with Mrs. K. K. MacLeod and Homer.

Christmas Service will be held on Sunday, Dec. 20, in Kenyon Presbyterian Church. Special carols will be conducted by the choir of the Church and by Rev. A. R. Campbell, organist. Rev. Donald N. MacMillan from the college in Montreal will conduct this Christmas Service at the morning Service at 11:00 a.m. Everyone welcome.

Christmas concert will be held in the Dunvegan Hall on Tuesday night, Dec. 22, at 8 p.m., sponsored by Kenyon Presbyterian Sunday School.

WI MEETINGS

October meeting of Dunvegan WI was held on the evening of October 22nd at the home of Mrs. Alcide Tallon with the President, Mrs. Leslie Clark, presiding.

Mrs. Lloyd M. MacLeod commented on the motto, "By the time people get to green pastures they are too old to climb the fence". Roll call was answered by 18 members bringing an heirloom and commenting on its history.

Mrs. J. W. Fraser presented a WI cook book to Mrs. Edwin Collins, a recent bride.

Mrs. Mack J. MacRae, delegate to the area convention in Ottawa, prepared her report and in her absence Mrs. Dan MacLeod read it.

Mrs. Charles MacLean and Mrs. Lloyd M. MacLeod leaders of the course "The Main Course makes the meal" gave their first lesson. A special meeting was held at the home of Mrs. N. M. MacLeod Skye and Summery Day is on February 3rd, 1971.

WI and LOL decided to hold euche parties again this winter.

Mrs. Neil D. MacRae, convener of Historical Research, gave a talk on the history of the settlement, known as the Indian Lands and Mrs. MacRae, curator, asked the members for any extra material to help in compiling the book, which she will display at a later date.

Mrs. Leslie Clark presided at the November meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Neil D. MacRae.

Miss Bertha Ferguson commented on the motto "we cultivate safety and harvest happiness", roll call, a press clipping of agricultural interest was answered by 20 members and two visitors.

Gifts were brought in to be sent to the Smiths Falls Hospital.

Several members accepted the invitation from Maxville WI by attending their regular meeting and the demonstration of hand-crafted dolls.

Mrs. Lloyd Nixon, convener of agriculture and Canadian industries, read a paper on the Canada geese migratory bird sanctuary at Upper Canada Village. Contests were held.

Our December meeting will be held December 28th at Mrs. Charles MacLean's home in Maxville.

Parkinson's Law, which was a best-selling book in England, America and other places, states that work expands so as to fill the time available for its completion and the number of people in any working group tends to increase regardless of the amount of work to be done.

Glens Dropped Fourth Straight
As Winchester Won 6-5 Here

Alexandria's Junior Glens suffered their third and fourth straight losses, Sunday, a 5-4 decision to Maxville Highlanders on Maxville ice, and here 6-5, to Winchester, Tuesday night.

The teams snared four goals in each of the first and third periods at Maxville, Sunday. A single by Gerry Blair in the middle canto provided the final edge for the homesters.

Dave Clark got two goals, Blair, Gilles Lalonde and Richard Scott providing singles for the host team. Jacques Cusick, Serge Vallancourt, Donnie Morris and Ray Poirier shared the Alexandria scoring.

Again Tuesday night the Glens found themselves on the losing end by a one goal margin as they lost to Winchester 6-5. Donnie Morris scored a hat trick for the homesters and Ray Poirier got the other two.

Glens have two home games this weekend. Maxville plays here Saturday night and Cardinal, top place team in the southern section of the league, provides the opposition Sunday afternoon.

MacEwen's took Lochiel 3-2 in the final game. Emile St. Denis, Rejean Menard and Bob Leroux scored for the winners, Frank Brodie and Rondo MacSweeney for Lochiel.

In play Dec. 7th, Sport Shop went on a scoring spurge to beat Upper Glens by a 9-0 count. Scoring two apiece were Harold MacRae, Gerald Flaro and Doug Dumouchel. Gerald McDonald, Gary Shepherd and Philip Dumouchel counted singles.

Lochiel and Dalhousie played to a 2-2 tie with Kent MacSweeney and ed that chanters are on order and some uniforms. He felt that funds must be raised for jackets. The band have their kilts and although jackets are not absolutely necessary they make a much better appearance and impression during public engagements. Pipe-Sergeant Charlie Bell spoke on the progress of his students. Although much progress has been made he felt very strongly that more encouragement and enthusiasm was needed on the part of their parents.

ODAF DATA

A report from your
Glengarry Agricultural Office

(by Lawrence Lee)

Farmers still drop into this office or other offices connected with agri-business and hear for the first time about the Capital Grants Program for Ontario Farmers. This is a program which began on April 1, 1967, and was designed to assist farmers with the following improvements: farm drainage, tile construction, renovation or enlargement of permanent farm structures, farm water supply, including ponds, wells and special cases of water supply, and field enlargement by fence row removal.

CAPITAL GRANT

For those of you who have not previously heard of these grants, I will outline them below.

If the improvement consisted of installing tile drainage or open ditches or if the improvement consisted of the erection, renovation or enlargement of permanent farm structures, including silos, stables, barns, milk houses etc., then the amount of assistance will be 33% of the cost of improvement up to a maximum of $1,000 per farmer.

If your improvement concerned wells, ponds or special cases of water supply, you are eligible for a grant of 50% of the approved costs up to $1,500, or if the improvement was one of field enlargement which must consist of removing fences or brush from two cultivated fields, then the grant is 40% of the approved cost up to $1,500.

SUMMARY OF ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE

- 1) Farm Drainage and Farm Structures $1000
- 2) Farm Water Supply, Wells and Ponds, Field Enlargement $1500

TOTAL CAPITAL GRANTS

In each of the two categories, the assistance ($1000 or $1500) may apply on one improvement or any combination of improvements in that category.

The grant is paid to the farmer when the improvements have been completed, inspected by a representative of the ODAF, and when two copies of the completed application have been sent to the office of the County Agricultural Representative.

The original receipt(s), dated, marked "Paid in Full" and signed by the contractor or supplier, and a proper invoice(s) showing the services rendered and/or materials supplied, must be attached to the application.

This program will continue until March 31, 1979. Application forms are available at this office.

AGRICULTURAL WORKERS COURSE - ARDA

Recently, an Agricultural Workers Course had been advertised in the Glengarry News for the rural people of Glengarry County. Applications were to be submitted to Camille St. Pierre, who is the Rural Development Counsellor with the ARDA Branch in Glengarry County. Mr. St. Pierre has accepted and submitted these applications to the course selection committee in Kemptville has recently received word from the chairman of that committee that the agricultural workers course will definitely be commencing on January 11, 1971. The number of applications accepted for this course varied from 12 to 15 plus several other applications being held on a reserve list. This reserve list was established due to the fact that if one of the applicants selected could not attend this course, his allocation would be taken up by the following name on the reserve list.

At the present, over 20 applications in the six eastern counties had been submitted for the Agricultural Workers Course.

The present application rate and present reserve list may indicate that another agricultural workers course could be commencing shortly after the completion of the 10 week January 11, 1971 course.

If the applications continue to present themselves at the present rate, greater consideration by the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture and Food, the Canada Manpower Centre and the Ontario Dept. of Education would be given for the establishment of a third course for the rural people of Eastern Ontario so as to create better employment opportunities.

REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT INCENTIVES

Recently, the Minister of Regional Economic Expansion, the Hon. Jean Marchand, presented to the House of Commons an amendment to the present regional incentive program. The amendment designated all the southwestern part of Quebec, including Montreal and Hull that is not designated now, plus the counties of Stormont, Glengarry and Prescott in southeastern Ontario to be included in the regional incentive program. As a long term matter, these areas were not stipulated as needing constant incentives but at the present, it was found that some incentives would have a direct effect upon the present unemployment situation of these designated slow-growth areas. Therefore, the new incentive of 10% of capital cost and $2000 per job, would be available in this new region and of course, the new system of loan guarantees would be available there, as it would be in all of the present designated regions. This incentive program is being introduced for the tri-county area of southeastern Ontario to stimulate greater activity in this region. It will have a great effect in stimulating the productivity of these areas by enhancing the initiatives of small manufacturing and processing industries that are presently established in these areas. The understood objective of this incentive program which is now in the House of Commons would be to aid these industries to become competitive and hopefully self-sufficient.

The Last Long Road

A Message From Your Ontario Provincial Police

The Christmas season is fast approaching. People are bustling about making the usual preparations for enjoyable festivities. The police officer and his family are also picked up by the spirit of Christmas, but for them things will be a little different—it has to be. The Christmas parties to which the office staff and bowling league have been looking forward to for the past month cause concern for the police officer. How many will enjoy the party and take the safe way home, or how many will take the last long road? Whose family will he have to visit and say, "Daddy won't be home for Christmas". This shouldn't bother the police officer because it happens year after year, but it does. If the officer is fortunate enough to be off duty Christmas day his thoughts may drift to a family not as happy as his own due to a senseless accident—an accident that shouldn't have happened.

Christmas is a time for giving—giving gifts, greeting cards, a warm handshake, a friendly smile; but all too often through carelessness and inattentive driving people give sorrow and heartache to the family of accident victims. They add a black note to the Christmas celebrations in the community.

You can give this Christmas—give your fellow drivers courteous, cautious and careful driving. Who knows, you may even save a life. Remember, "The Last Long Road only goes one way."

The Ontario Provincial Police in your area wish you a safe and happy holiday season.

Picnic Grove WI Toured Greenhouse

Christmas is in the air and there are many ways of enjoying it, but one of the most delightful ways is to travel to Mr. W. C. Hall's greenhouses at Curry Hill and walk slowly down the long aisles separating the benches of Christmas flowers. Fourteen ladies under the convenship of Mrs. Dennis Morgan of Picnic Grove Women's Institute spent Thursday afternoon doing this. On one side of the aisle were hundreds of pots of poinsettias in groups of different colors. On the other side were chrysanthemums in their beautiful colors of bronze, magenta and white. Trays of ever-blooming begonias had been started from seed and already some had been transplanted to larger pots. Besides these there were benches of cyclamen, azaleas, and a few orange trees. On the higher benches were the beautiful Kalanchoes with their dainty red flowers. And to complete the Christmas display was the old favorite Christmas cactus.

In another part of the greenhouse where the temperature is kept lower, we saw the mums used for cutting, both the double and single bloom variety and instead of a Christmas scene our thoughts turned to spring as we examined the small pots of shamrocks, just barely started but with good care they will be ready for St. Patrick's day. We looked at the many pots of tulips just peeping through the soil and the pots of hydrangeas with their branches all budded out, assuring us that Easter too is around the corner and they will be ready.

It was truly a gorgeous sight and a very educational afternoon as Mr. Hall and his assistant Dennis Morgan took time to explain their work.

After our tour of the greenhouses the group went to the Hall home for the business meeting. Mrs. Gordon Ferguson welcomed everyone. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Ken Allen, the minutes were read by Mrs. Alex McNaughton. Christmas cheer boxes were discussed and some suggestions given to the committee of Mrs. Hartley McCrimmon, Mrs. Neil Sangster and Mrs. Carl McLennan.

Purchase of a coffee urn was also discussed and Mrs. Gwen Swift and Mrs. McCrimmon volunteered to have information for the next meeting.

An invitation from Bainsville WI invited the Picnic Grove ladies to a meeting at Mrs. Lloyd McRae's home on January 6 when G. G. Aubry of Alexandria, will be guest speaker. All Picnic Grove members are encouraged to attend as Mr. Aubry's talk will follow along the lines of our study course.

Mrs. Ferguson read an article warning members to beware of phony charities collecting at this time of year for the so-called needy. Do not give until you check with someone who knows. A receipt for income tax purposes does not necessarily mean money goes where the canvasser says it does.

Mrs. Donald MacLachlan told the group of her meetings in Manotick and in Toronto and about some of her work as Provincial Board Director.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Ferguson thanked Mr. Hall for his

BAINSVILLE

The Bainsville WI held their Christmas meeting at the home of member Mrs. Don Simmons, Bainsville, on Dec. 2nd. Fourteen members and three guests answered the roll call "Something I did at a Christmas Concert". Mrs. Josh Fourny commented on the motto "Nothing is opened more often by mistake than the mouth."

Mrs. Adrienne Leroux was asked to invite a speaker to give an address in the Bainsville Hall in January, 1971. The WI is planning to invite the public. As hostesses for the district annual convention in May, 1971, the Bainsville WI will be given the use of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Hall in South Lancaster.

Mrs. C. Thomas Upton stated that none of the members are free to take the 4-H Club Course "Separates for Summer" for 1971.

The theme for the month was education and Mrs. Lloyd McRae read a bit from the press "The Dreadful School". Mrs. Ruth Carr, who was leader for the 5-minute discussion on Education, stressed the point that education was becoming too expensive in taxes and elsewhere. Several members stated their opinions. There was a display of "Save the Children Fund" knit goods. Members exchanged gifts as candy and cookies on sale were quickly picked up.

Mrs. C. Thomas Upton read a few Christmas poems and several Christmas carols were sung by all. After a social period convened by Mrs. Lloyd McRae prize winners for contests were Mrs. Mae Edgar and Mrs. Charles Rogers.

Tea and refreshments were served by hostesses, Mrs. Don Simmons, Mrs. Mae McEwen and in the absence of Mrs. Dunc. Thompson who is a patient in hospital, assisted by Mrs. Calvin Carr. Mrs. Lloyd McRae invited the members to hold the January 1971 meeting at her home, Wed. Jan. 6th.

hospitality and presented the Halls with a silver trillium coffee spoon. All drew a ticket on a beautiful poinsettia plant and the lucky winner was Miss Alice Cattanauch. Lunch was served by Mrs. John Welcher assisted by Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Ferguson.

DALKEITH

Miss Lucinda Scott is now home from Queen's University, Kingston, for the holidays with her parents, Rev. William and Mrs. Scott.

Spending the weekend at their parental homes were Miss Marion MacNaughton of the Civic Hospital, Ottawa, also James Denovan of Ottawa.

The skating rink in the village is well patronized. The cold weather is in its favor.

Beaver dams have been causing trouble on the Lanther Drain and further up the river, interfering with tile drains. The game warden made his third trip in last week blowing up the dams with dynamite. He took a number of beavers away alive.

Some people in the village are complaining of the noise. The snowmobiles are disturbing their sleep in the early morning hours.

McCRIMMON

WI MET

Remembrance was the motto for the McCrimmon Women's Institute and Mrs. Angus MacDonald commented on this. Mrs. Keith MacMillan was hostess for this meeting. The President, Mrs. Neil Blair, welcomed the visitors and a special welcome was tendered the grandmothers, as the answer to the roll call was "Bring a Grandmother".

The Sec.-Treas., Mrs. Penny Grant, read the minutes and gave the financial report. It was moved that supplies for the Senior Training course be paid. The collection for the CNIB was discussed and Mrs. Elmer MacDonald, Mrs. Mora MacLeod and Mrs. Albert LaSalle offered to do the collecting.

Mrs. Mora MacLeod gave a humorous reading on "Grandmothers". A prize was given to the grandmother travelling the most miles to the meeting. This proved to be Mrs. Stanford MacCrimmon. The grandmother having to travel the most miles to see her grandchild was Leonore MacMillan and she too was presented with a gift.

A letter was read from the Dept. of Home Economics, Toronto, stating that the course on Furniture Fact was not available just at present, owing to the great demand for this class. As soon as possible we would be notified as to its availability.

As we think of our annual meeting in April the conveners were asked to report on what they had done so far. In January, Resolutions, Agriculture and Canadian Industries. In February, Citizenship and Education and Historical research and current events. In March, Home Economics and Health and Safety. Mrs. Blair reported on the area convention held in Ottawa, whose theme was Together we work, together we achieve.

Mrs. Annie May Barton demonstrated how a beautiful Christmas wreath could be made from ID cards and showed the finished wreath. Mrs. J. D. MacDonald thanked Mrs. MacMillan for her hospitality and Mrs. Gordon MacMillan asked the blessing. The next meeting will be held at the

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

In this annual issue of your favorite weekly we are breaking with tradition. Near the end of a year it is the custom of sport writers to review the highlights of the past 12 months; however, due to the fact our 1970 coverage, apart from high school football, has been intermittent we couldn't honestly fulfill this assignment.

So instead of browsing through the News sport pages to refreshen our memory we dropped into the old Gardens where we discussed with keen interest the current hockey program in an informative manner with Centre manager Bill Upper.

Our first impression was of the congenial and co-operative atmosphere that prevailed. Before drawing up a chair with Bill at his desk we noted the businesslike manner in which he discussed the status of a minor player with Ernie Etherington and Cameron McCormick while Gerry Simpson was busy with statistic sheets.

An hour later we left fully convinced that the Alexandria and District Minor Hockey Association was enjoying another fine season. From one of the office cabinets Bill pulled out a couple of files that revealed in brief, that 311 players are registered and this accounts for 26 teams. A registration fee is charged to help defray administration costs but more important, we think, is the fact that every boy holds a CAHA playing certificate issued via the Ottawa and District Branch. One of the sure harbingers of spring, each year, is the annual rhuabarb over some player's card. This idea of registering all players from atoms up should be a step that will tend to avoid embarrassments and unpleasant playoff situations.

From the schedule we gleaned that that there is no letup from early Saturday until late evening and again Sunday morning to work in all minor play. This is quite a chore in itself as there are four teams in both the atoms and midget group. In the sprites, pee-wee and bantam sections there are six teams in each bracket.

Not only are team standings kept in big league fashion but every other detail as well. Although at the time of our visit all scores had not yet been tabulated the following is a reasonably close account. In the atom league Kieran (Bears) McCormick has hit the hemp for 10 goals while James (GTL) Villeneuve is right behind with nine. Paul (Crees) Depretto and Marc (Mohawks) Seguin are tied with seven tallies each with the sprites and in the pee-wee group Gilles Decoeur and Guy Lefebvre, both with Beavers, have tallied 10 and eight goals respectively.

Yvon Goulet appears to be the Phil Esposito of our local minors as he has blinked the light (and this is not the last count) 17 times for the Blues in the bantam league. Robert Cousineau, also of the Blues, has registered 12 counters.

Finally in the midget bracket Bruno Lauzon of the bantam All Stars has scored seven goals while Andre Boisvenue of Braves has counted three. You will question, how come a member of the Bantam All Stars, Bruno Lauzon heads the midget scorers? Answer. Last season a committee was formed to review the association's operations and present any suggestions to create improvement that would be beneficial and progressive. Among the recommendations was a move to have an All Star team picked from each group and this team play as a unit in an age bracket one step up the ladder during the schedule. These teams then would represent the local association in general and Alexandria in particular in district playdowns and tournaments. Hence you have Bruno Lauzon leading the midget scorers because his bantam team plays in that group. Not only the players were chosen but also the coaches. Thus we have Cameron McCormick handling the bantams while Alex MacCulloch is the pee-wee mentor and Richard Bellefeuille directs the sprites. The midgets' coaching is shared by Ourtown's police depending on the constable off duty.

Apart from the year end playoffs one of the most important tournaments will be the pee-wee invitational here in conjunction with the Richelieu Carnival. There will be entries in several other major tournaments that you will hear of later, including the Silver Stick playdowns. (My, my how times have changed, remember not so long ago when the All Star Glens were taboo and part of the timber to build the road block to Port Huron was the claim that Silver Stick was "outlaw").

The foregoing, folks, is just a brief rundown of a tremendous effort by so many helping hands, gratis, to insure the provision of one of the greatest body and character builders of our youth, hockey. We could spend another hour in Bill Upper's office picking up a great deal more data but we have neither the time nor space.

As Christmas draws near don't forget Brian Gilmour's hockey school at the Centre, another asset in favor of our youngsters. And on this note we wish to thank all who in any way helped this writer during the past year with sport tips. To our readers, too, a very pleasant Christmas and may Divine Providence bless you with happiness, health and at least some prosperity after the taxes are paid in 1971.

The Government of Ontario's Tax Assistance Plan is helping the elderly. Cheques have already been sent to more than 230,000 people: and many will soon receive additional assistance.

- Paying taxes is tough for everyone. But some people have a particularly difficult time. Like the elderly. They are hard-pressed by rising property taxes. To help lighten their load, the Government has introduced a new plan. It is called 1970 Tax Assistance for the Elderly. The plan will pay out up to $100 to help elderly people — those who receive the Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement — to help pay their property taxes, or rent. In all, more than 230,000 persons across Ontario will receive $17 million in benefits. 1970 Tax Assistance for the elderly is an immediate step to relieve the pressure of property taxes. And an important one.
