

Mr, Mrs Edward C. Harris Roxborough Township mark 60th anniversary

Messages from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and Prime Minister L. B. Pearson were among those received by Mr and Mrs Edward C. Harris, of the First Concession of Roxborough, on the occasion of their Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary, observed quietly at their home.

Mr and Mrs Harris, life long residents of the Avonmore district were married on April 23, 1906, at the Methodist Church Manse, Newington, by the Rev. Mr Gladstone. Their married years have been spent in the 1st and 2nd concessions of Roxborough.

Mr Harris, in his 79th year, is a son of the late Mr and Mrs Alvin Harris, his mother's maiden name being Alice Alguire. Mrs Harris is the former Margaret Stephenson, a daughter of John Stephenson and his wife, the former Catherine Salmon. Mr Harris was 75 years of age last Nov. 13th.

Mr and Mrs Harris have three daughters: Mrs Charles Legue (Cassie), Harrison's Corners; Mrs Ralph Swerdfeger (Flossie), and Mrs John Bilmer (May), both of Prescott; four sons, Hillard, Morrisburg; Enis and Floyd, Sudbury, and Lawrence, at home. There are 35 grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

Two children, William and Kathleen, have passed away in recent years.

Mr Harris has a brother, Joseph, residing in Moose Jaw, Sask. A family reunion is planned for early July when Mr and Mrs Harris will be appropriately honored.

A beautiful floral arrangement from a friend in Maxville added to the good wishes of their many neighbours and friends made the 60th anniversary of their marriage a memorable occasion for Mr and Mrs Harris.

St. James United Church, Avonmore, U.C.W. staged an oldtime affair Wednesday last. They held a pre-Centennial tea and featured as speaker Mrs Frank Ryan. Mrs Donald Pipe is shown here

Fair Board planning building program

Chesterville Fair directors are planning a new building program. They are awaiting plans from Kemptville Agricultural School to begin an extension of the present fair house. The new addition will be about 36 x 72 feet in dimension and be an eastern extension of the present building. The old building will be expanded to meet the new unit dimensions.

A meeting of the fair board was held last week. Plans were discussed for the new season and it was decided to hold a ladies' night banquet in Chesterville on Wednesday, June 8 at the Legion Hall Dr. Grant Carmen, Expo 67's Agricultural expert has been secured for the occasion as speaker and tickets will be available from the directors and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs Mac Moffat.

The directors hope to be able to stage a junior fair on the first day, as well as the pony show that was so popular last year.

Fair dates are Aug. 30 and 31.

Service of sacred music to be featured at Colquhoun United

A service, largely musical, featuring well-loved Gospel hymns will be held in Trinity United Church, Colquhoun, on Sunday, May 15th at 8 p.m.

The pastor, Rev. D. L. Gordon, will preside. The choir, under the direction of the organist Mrs K. Hummell, will be assisted by talent from Chesterville, Elma, Morewood and Mountain.

Dun. Fed. of Agriculture appoints new secretary

Continuing their efforts to improve the work of the Federation of Agriculture and get young farmers interested in its role in agriculture, the executive named Scott Robertson as its secretary. Scott is the son of Don Robertson of Iroquois, one of the original founders of the Federation in 1941 who served as president and secretary.

Eric Casselman will continue as his assistant for the rest of the year. His experience and association with the organization will give the new secretary leadership and guidance in his new role as Eric was the first president of the Federation and continued for 10 years and has served as secretary for fifteen years.

The directorate was brought up to date with the appointment of directors from the newly formed County Milk Committee.

Douglas Irvine from the Federation and George Suffell from the Soil and Crop Improvement Association were named the representatives on the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry ARDA Committee.

Leo Loughlin of Hallville was the recipient of the Federation's C. I. A. bursary of $100 to the first year student at Kemptville Agricultural School. The bursary is offered again for the coming year and applicants are invited to enrol.

The Federation renewed its membership in the Rural Learning Association, an organization replacing the former Farm Radio Forum.

The executive praised the work of the Dundas Safety Council in their efforts to make farm folk more accident - conscious and although it is difficult to assess the actual results, it was felt that loss of life, man hours and property damage has been reduced due to the safety program.

The new Farm Labour Training Plan was reviewed. The Department has initiated a 'pilot project' type of training program through the Kemptville Agricultural School. The object is to select several boys 17 to 20 years who are interested in farm work but have little or no farm work training. These boys will enroll at K.A.S. May 16th for two weeks of training and will then be placed on farms until the end of December. They will then return to Dundas for more technical training and then back to the farm till the end of May 1967. Trainees will be paid $150 per month with the Department paying half. Interested prospects should apply to the Agricultural Representative.

We have spent a fair amount of time this week watching the firemen go through their spring training. The Ontario Fire Marshal School is being staged here in the village. Visiting firemen from the Counties are on hand to get a fresh look at fire fighting.

Water has been spraying, ladders have been rattling and smoke has been billowing. For a while, it looked as if we would have to look for a new fire chief. When the instructors let John down on the end of that rope with only three-quarters of an inch of string holding his humpty dumpty from falling thirty feet, we started to frame a help wanted ad. But both he and Freddie made it safely. The lightweights that followed hadn't a care.

Over on Mary Street on Tuesday night small troubles plagued the crews. Gasoline refused to burn, the brand new pumper of the fire college took second place to the village rig when it came to pressure, but finally Maurice Roussy got the flames hot up. The high pressure fog nozzles made instant work of the fire. It flamed out of control, it seemed, one minute; the next, only steam and a rolling cloud of black smoke remained.

The local brigade has five men taking the course. Along with the fire chief are assistant chief Greenville Fyke, Lloyd Fyke, Joey Cass and Fred Labre. The Fire Marshal of Ontario, Martin S. Hurst, was on hand Monday morning to help get the school underway. Firemen from the counties numbered nearly 40 the first day and the count has remained the same most of the week. Nearly all the departments of the counties are represented although no students are in view from a couple of our close neighbour villages.

We never worry about fire danger here at the Castle. Our cellars are damp and foul and only marsh gas flickers there. The walls of the main hall are hung with asbestos matting. We have been consigned to hotter climates so often, we finally got the word and invested in asbestos wallpaper. The west keep is lined with our old crying towels and they hardly ever get a chance to dry. All in all, we are safe, damp and reasonably secure from any conflagration.

have the man who sold him the feed sign the appropriate number of coupons.

4. The purchaser must then complete claim forms available at the Agricultural Representative's office in Winchester.

5. The final step is to submit the completed claim forms, signed receipt or statement and signed coupons to the Agricultural Representative's office.

6. The claim will then be forwarded to Toronto for final processing and the Assistance Claim will be sent directly to the farmer.

Feeds eligible are: Oats, barley, shelled corn, wheat, ear corn, balanced dairy or beef ration, shorts, bran, molasses and hay.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr and Mrs Anton Sanders, Berwick, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Geertje (Judy) to Mr John Charles Beeher, son of Mr and Mrs Walter Beeher, Chrysler. Marriage to take place June 4, 1966, at St. Mary's Church, Chesterville, at 11 a.m.

Chesterville village has played host all week to visiting firemen. The Ontario Fire Marshal's School is in progress here. Students from all over the Counties are learning first hand the latest fire fighting tactics. Ontario Fire Marshal Martin S. Hurst was on hand to open the school. Shown here are fire chief John Hehr, Mr Hurst, Cornwall fire chief Lou Carriere, and village committee men Keith Graham and Allan Clement.—Record Staff Photo.

Linda McLaughlin to have "Adventure in Citizenship"

How is the Nation's Capital preparing for the celebration of Canada's 100th Birthday? 246 adventurers in Citizenship last year to begin an extension of the present fair house. The new addition will be about 36 x 72 feet in dimension and be an eastern extension of the present building. The old building will be expanded to meet the new unit dimensions.

Linda McLaughlin, Chesterville, Ont., a Grade Twelve student at North Dundas District High School will be attending. The Rotary Club of Chesterville as the sponsoring Club, has been co-ordinating the arrangements for Linda's trip to Ottawa. Linda is in the four-year business and commercial course. She is business manager of the school year book, and for the past 6 years in 4-H club activities. She will receive Provincial Honors for completing 12 Club projects.

The young adventurers will see Ottawa on the brink of a new era. To make way for Centennial celebrations in the Capital the face of old Bytown has been changing. The ornate Victorian style railway station which has been the scene of many ceremonies for the Heads of State and other famous figures is about to be demolished. Near the old station is the foundation of the new National Centre for the Performing Arts, it won't be ready for a couple of years, but the work which is now underway fascinates the sidewalk superintendents (Continued on Page 10)

Mrs Kathleen Ryan guest speaker at Avonmore pre-centennial tea

Speaking to over 200 ladies at a pre-Centennial tea and bazaar in St. James United Church last Wednesday afternoon Mrs Kathleen Whitton Ryan, regional chairman, Women's Activities Committee for Centennial Planning in Ont., Ottawa, encouraged her hearers to get onto the Centennial band wagon by adopting suitable community projects designed to make their communities better places in which to live and to work.

Mrs Ryan introduced by Mrs Donald W. Pipe, cited many examples of projects that are being undertaken by communities in the Ottawa Valley. In many areas the burden of project planning has been borne by ladies' groups who have had the foresight to see the needs and to plan remedial programs to meet them.

The guest speaker was thanked by Mrs Wesley Meldrum.

Sharing with Mrs Ryan the Centennial spotlight on Wednesday afternoon was Mrs Kenneth Sinclair, also of Ottawa, who has brought fame to herself in the creation of her beautiful 10 ft. by 14 ft. Centennial hooked rug. Mrs Sinclair in displaying the masterpiece, now valued at more than $10,000, explained something of the rug's design which she has created. Dominating the scene is a replica of Parliament Hill with Queen Victoria and Canada's first prime minister, Sir John A. MacDonald, surveying the scene. Eight panels on Canadian life, past and contemporary, tell the country's story in detail.

Rev. Donald Pipe introduced Mrs Sinclair and thanked by Mrs Elmer Park.

Prior to the addresses Rev Pipe conducted a brief worship service, featuring such hymns as "Land of Our Birth, We Pledge Thee" and "Lord of the Lands". Mrs Colin Kinnear presided at the console.

In the lower church hall the setting was that one might experience 100 years ago. Illumination was that of lamp light — lamps of all sizes and design. The waitresses for the tea — the members of the U.C.W. of St. James' Church, 25 or more in number — were dressed in period costume. The menu for the tea was typical of the period, scones, tea biscuits, jam and tea.

The tea was in charge of Mrs Rupert Pollock and Mrs Clair Markell as convenors.

An interesting display of antiques was very favorably received. The sale of home cooking was another feature of the afternoon's program.

OPINIONS . . . OURS AND OTHERS

Heads, hearts, hands . . . in the service of others

More than one million persons will be admitted to Ontario's active-treatment hospitals this year. To many, this might seem a staggering number for a province of about seven million people. To others more closely associated with the hospital picture in Ontario, it only mirrors the heavy burdens our hospital people meet with efficiency, day in, day out, as they care for the sick in this province.

This year in Ontario, some 84,000 hospital employees, plus another 16,000 part-time employees, will be combining their time, their talents and their training in more than 220 public hospitals, with almost 48,000 hospital beds. By the year's end, 14,200,000 total days of hospital care will have been provided for both adults and children.

National Hospital Day, May 12, is a special opportunity for all of us to reflect on the fine work being done by our hospitals and the people who serve in them. It is also appropriate to remember those who serve so diligently in our interests without pay: the 3,800 trustees, who guide and govern the affairs of our community hospitals, and the 70,000 women of the hospital auxiliaries, who have become such an integral part of the modern hospital.

The theme of this year's National Hospital Day—"Heads, Hearts and Hands—In the Service of Others," acknowledges the role being played by all these people. They, as the guardians of community health, are ensuring that the hospital patient in this province is receiving the best medical care possible.

It is perhaps too much a truism to say that in the past 100 years we have seen tremendous changes in medical research and knowledge. Just recently a revolutionary surgical operation in the United States left a man functioning with an artificial heart. Other sweeping changes in modern medical technology in recent years have perhaps obscured what is still the paramount truth: that the individual remains the key to the quality of our hospital care.

It is no coincidence that on May 12 we also commemorate the birth of Florence Nightingale, the uncompromising "Lady with the Lamp," who, more than 100 years ago, established vigilance and devotion to duty as the same transcendent qualities we find today in the professional hospital worker.

From the doctor who visits the patient in the ward, to the kitchen worker who helps prepare his meals; from the trustee who ensures high hospital standards to the community volunteer who works and serves to make these standards higher, we can justly be proud of our hospitals and our hospital people. Truly, here are close to 200,000 heads, hearts and pairs of hands in Ontario, all engaged as a "team" in the service of others—you, and me, and our families. Ontario residents should spare a moment on May 12 to salute them—they're a winning team.

Red Cross Youth Week

This is Red Cross Youth Week in Canada and this newspaper is proud to salute the young people of this community who are members of this worldwide organization.

Our boys and girls are among the more than a million and a half young people who are members of Red Cross Youth in Canada. They are directed by a dedicated group of 50,000 teachers who serve as Red Cross volunteers and carry on a project that has been active in our schools for 44 years.

Our children are joined by more than 71 million other youngsters in the Junior Red Cross in 91 nations. It is the world's largest youth-organization and is embraced by youth of many races, many creeds and a variety of political beliefs.

The prime interest of Red Cross Youth is to guide our children in the principles of good health, service to others and the furtherance of international friendship and understanding. Basically, they are interested in people, particularly the young people of Canada and the world who are less fortunate.

A long list of statistics records the achievements of these youngsters of ours. The figures tell of the thousands of crippled and handicapped children in Canada who are helped in many ways every year. One also learns that assistance for youth in other lands every year represents an expenditure of about $140,000. This amount provides help for thousands of children in some 37 countries.

All of this is accomplished through fund-raising efforts. All funds raised by Red Cross Youth are spent by Red Cross Youth. Their administrative costs are the responsibility of the Canadian Red Cross Society. Therefore, we, as fathers and mothers can share in the accomplishments of these energetic youngsters who do so much under the symbol of the Red Cross, to be the good citizens we expect them to be.

The wheel has turned

It is a political fact of life that for survival a candidate must have his picture taken on a farm—preferably with dirty boots. Traditionally this was to appeal to the "yokel" vote.

Nowadays this is nonsense, says the Hamilton Spectator.

The "yokel" of our childhood has moved out of the country. Farm children in 1966 have the same educational opportunities available as the city bred, they drive cars (and sometimes aircraft), they look at television and usually are as smartly dressed as the urban lad.

The farm yokel has been replaced by the city yokel. The long-haired youth in high-heeled boots who's dropped out of school and finds his entertainment and education on the big city street corner is the real yokel.

The wheel has turned.

Your Federal Report

Mrs. Jean Wadds, M.P.

Amendment to the Supply Motion this week was made by Gordon Fairweather, Member for Royal and former Attorney General of New Brunswick.

Gordon is a big, bluff, friendly fellow, well educated, son of a judge, extremely well read, eager and intelligent. He has always participated in Parliamentary activities; has travelled with Government Committees and is working hard at extra curricular French lessons.

Gordon has a famous sense of humour and is one of those who enlivens most gatherings with some droll comment.

He spoke forcefully on Capital Punishment, in favour of abolition of the death penalty, although many of his close friends in Parliament were voting and speaking otherwise.

There's never any doubt of Gordon Fairweather's courage and honesty. The Amendment was made more effective by the fact that he presented it. He said: "The engines of smear, once started, are hard to stop. The habit of scandal is hard to break. These are days when we should be asking whether there is in fact a decline in the integrity of public life. . . . It is in this context, Mr. Speaker, that I deplore what we have been about. Because I am one who believes that talk should be followed by some action, I propose, seconded by the Hon. Member for Brandon - Souris (Mr. Dinsdale), amending the motion that is before Your Honour as follows:

"That all the words after 'that' be deleted and the following substituted therefor:

Marketing Board warehouse in Winchester.

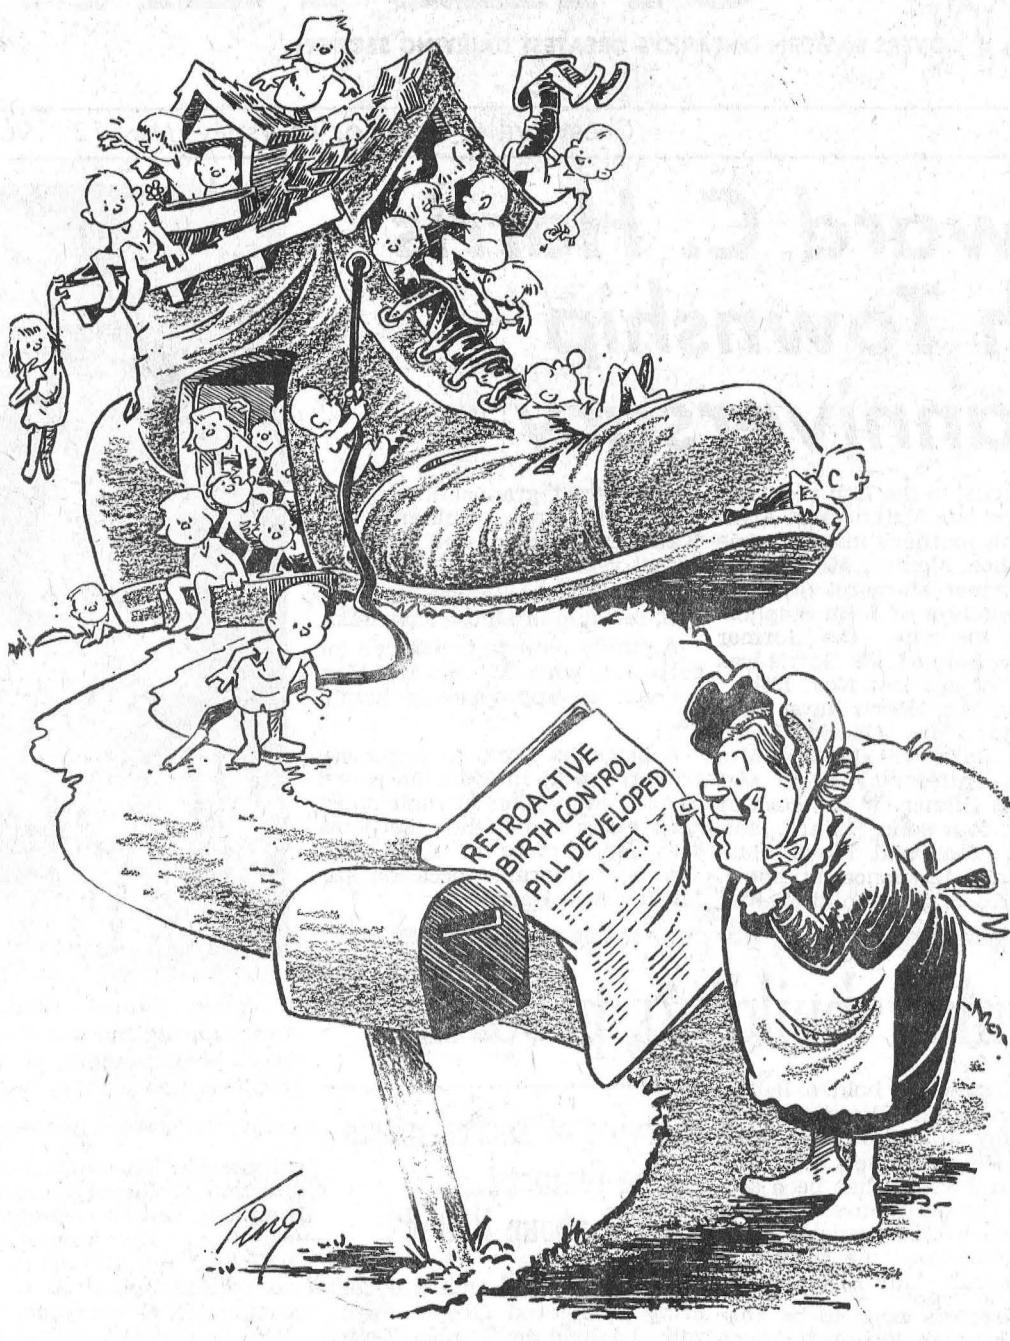

Mr. William F. Droppo is today celebrating his 91st birthday. He will be honoured this evening at a dinner at the home of his son, Harold.

Mrs. Claude Riley and daughter, Mrs. Claudia Grogan, Toronto, and Mrs. Pat Flynn, Montreal, spent the weekend with Mrs. Thos. McCloskey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morris, Robin and Debbie of Prescott were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Dillabough.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Cass and Mrs. Eldon Turner and girls spent Tuesday with friends in Brockville.

HOW Retroactive?

"This House strongly deplores and condemns this Government's actions in having the R.C.M. Police provide information to the Government as to the past conduct of all Members of the Parliament generally, a course of action which would destroy the independence of all Members and undermine the institution of Parliament."

The vote was a heavy one and the Prime Minister was upheld by the determined loyalty of his Party and the hypocrisy of some of the splinter party members who talked one way and voted another for their own political reasons.

Whatever his reasons for not recording his vote, one of the most effective speeches in support of Mr. Fairweather's motion was made by Andrew Brewin, N.D.P. from Greenwood, Toronto. Mr. Brewin said: "In November, 1964, the present administration was under bitter attack. The Prime Minister was naturally hurt by revelations of this sort affecting people he trusted. Under these circumstances, for him to ask the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for reports on his own colleagues was both natural and proper. But, Mr. Speaker, when he went further and asked for files and information on other Members of Parliament of all parties relating to any misconduct or scandalous matter over the past ten years, I suggest, if this is a fact—unfortunately we have no explanation of this matter at the moment—that the Prime Minister was yielding to the ugly mood of the moment, the mood of counter-attack by improper methods. If this was his purpose, and so it appears, in our submission he was demeaning the function of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to that of a political police force. . . . One of the principles of this House and over every parliamentary institution, I suggest, is that secret police reports shall not be used or threatened to be used against anybody. If anybody wants to make a charge let him make that charge in the courts and have it dealt with in that way."

The unusual divisions showed the serious doubts in the minds of Parliament. The Conservative motion on the vote was supported by 12 Members of the splinter parties, including such respected Members as Tommy Douglas and Stanley Knowles.

TIMELY TIPS ON PAINTING WINDOWS

Most people who like to paint like to paint walls. Very few people who like to paint like to paint windows because windows take time, are hard to paint and it's almost impossible not to get some paint on the window glass. You will find that windows are a lot easier to paint if you use the right kind of brush on them and the right brush is a sash brush which is a small brush especially designed for windows.

Even an experienced painter with a sash brush may find it difficult, however, not to get some paint on the window glass. One way to keep paint off the glass is to use a little tool called a "painter's friend." This is a small piece of thin metal or plastic which you can hold over the glass as you paint to keep the paint from getting on the glass. Another trick is to apply masking tape along the edges of the glass before you start to work.

Cut the strips of tape to the desired length and then stick them to the glass on all four edges. This takes time to do but actually you'll save time in the end because you won't have to be quite so careful about how you apply the paint.

Another way to keep the paint off the glass is to spray the glass with a special masking liquid. This liquid dries in a matter of seconds and when you have finished painting, it can be peeled off the glass taking any paint that might have got on it along with it.

You'll also find that painting windows is easier if you paint around the glass first and don't leave them to the last. Also, keep a rag dampened with turpentine handy to wipe off any paint that might get on the glass before it has a chance to harden.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My boyfriend is a junior in college. He has been considering quitting before he flunks out. If he quits, however, he may be drafted and the Army appeals to him even less than school. We want to get married pretty soon so I don't want to see him go into the service, either.

Last night he came up with an idea. He thinks he will chop off his index finger. I was horrified at first, but after we discussed it he made me see that it might not be such a bad idea. He says two years of his life is worth a finger any old day, and I agree that he has a point.

What we want to know from you is this: Will the Army take a man with nine fingers? No lectures, please, just the answer. Thank you.—Don't Want to Go.

Dear Don't Want: The Army has been known to take men with nine fingers so don't count on an insane act of self-mutilation as a sure out. The Army does not take idiots, however. Perhaps your boyfriend will be rejected on mental grounds. And I'm not kidding. He rates plenty subnormal with me—and so do you.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing about the woman who complained because her husband called her "The old lady." Some people don't know when they have it good.

My husband calls me "That Nut" and a few other names which are unprintable. In fact he has called me everything under the sun, except a lady. I've heard people talk better to their dogs.

My neighbour's husband used to talk to her the same way. She said it was because he was ignorant and didn't know any better. My husband does know better. He doesn't talk to anyone else the way he talks to me.

We've been married a long time and I'm sure he'll never change. I just want to know why he's like this.—Puzzled Me.

Dear You: Many people take out their feelings of anger and frustration on the handiest tar-

The House still was engaged for another week in debate on Health Department estimates and the Metropolitan Toronto Bill. After a great deal of newspaper discussion and debate in the House, the Metro Toronto Bill was amended by the Government with respect to representation of Toronto City on the Metropolitan Council and the rather controversial Bill now appears ready for acceptance.

A great deal of time and a flood of words were spent on the present scarcity of hospital beds for active treatment patients in Ontario. Undoubtedly there is a deficiency but the rise in the cost of construction and equipment of a hospital from some $5,000 per bed of a few years ago to around $25,000 or more per bed today with similar increases in daily operating costs has made it most expensive to provide additional beds. And judging from the opinions expressed on all sides of the House and the official statements by the Minister and O.H.S.C. officials this trend will continue upwards. So at present there does not seem to be any quick solution to this problem. Similar problems as well as lack of qualified staff beset our mental health institutions and when one looks at the tremendous financial demands for educational institutions, equipment and staff, it is easy to see why progress in other areas has perhaps been slower than could be wished by everyone.

Normal House Committee meetings, party caucus meetings and routine House legislative action, second reading of bills, discussion of them in Committee of the whole House and introduction of new legislation including amendments of The Registry Act, The Land Titles Act, The Police Act and many others, fully occupied the time of the House which is now sitting from 2 p.m. - 6 p.m. and Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

There is no justification for a mean mouth, but understanding what's behind it can make the indignities easier to bear.

Dear Ann: Our 16-year-old daughter Mary went with Art for a year. Art is from the wrong side of the tracks and he shows it. When they had a fight and broke up we were relieved. Then Mary began to hear lies he was circulating about her and she was furious. She never wanted to see him again.

For three months Mary dated others and seemed happy. Last week Art called her for a date. She accepted. I told her she couldn't go. She said she still likes him and she's going to see him even if she has to sneak out. What can be said with this headstrong brat?—Mississippi Mom.

Dear Mom: Your last sentence persuades me that your relationship is so poor you can't do anything with her.

You will probably ride the girl until she gets into trouble or runs off and marries the bum. I hope you will get some belated counseling and prove my prediction wrong.

EARLY-CUT FORAGES MEAN HIGH QUALITY

High quality hay can't be produced unless it's cut early according to Dr. D. N. Mowat of the Department of Crop Science, Ontario Agricultural College, University of Guelph.

Dr. Mowat explains that as forage matures, its digestibility will drop from approximately 80% to 45% for the late-cut crop. For example when alfalfa is cut at the recommended late bud stage, it contains about 65% TDN. Seasonal yields of any matter won't be affected when cut at this stage.

Next to harvesting, the most important factors affecting hay quality are rain damage and leaf loss. Leaves contain two to three times more protein than the stems and are generally much higher in TDN and carotene. Unfortunately legumes are particularly susceptible to leaf loss during handling. This loss can be minimized, however, by raking when the forage is still tough — that is, before the leaves have had a chance to dry out. An alternative, a windrower, while slowing down the rate of drying, eliminates these raking operations, also reducing leaf loss.

"Rain damage often presents a major problem particularly with the first cutting", Dr. Mowat continues. "However, modern hay-making equipment lessens the chances of rain damage by shortening time of field exposure. Conditions can increase the speed of drying up to 50% and are a sound investment. Wagon or barn dryers also reduce the chance of rain damage. Preservation of forage as silage also reduces time of exposure.

"Colour and odor are indirect indicators of quality. For example, moldiness indicates losses of nutrients due to storage at too high a moisture content while a leached appearance indicates rain damage. Early-cut hay with moderate rain damage is still better quality than late-cut hay with no weathering."

THREE FOLIAGE PLANTS ADD INTEREST TO DECOR

Foliage plants always add interest to any home, note horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Here are three interesting and varied plants that you might try.

The umbrella plant has long stems with long, narrow leaves at the top of the stems, thus forming the so-called umbrella effect.

Propagation is by division of the root or by leaf-stem cuttings. To make these cuttings, cut the stem just below the leaves, trim the leaves back to a length of four inches, and place in water so that the base of the leaves is covered. New, young plants develop in the axils of the leaves.

The umbrella plant is potted in a general soil mixture and requires plenty of water. Sometimes this plant is grown in a pool with the pot completely under water.

Notification of acceptance to be sent out shortly

People who have already enrolled in OMSIP need not apply a second time.

Dr. Dymond stated that their applications are now being processed, and their notification will arrive in the mail very soon.

OMSIP BENEFITS

OMSIP provides practically all physicians' services as benefits including:

- Doctor visits in the home, office or hospital.
- Diagnosis and treatment of illnesses and injuries.
- Diagnosis, pre-operation care and treatment, surgery and post-operation care.
- Obstetrical care, including pre-natal and post-natal care effective from the date of enrollment.
- Anaesthesia and X-rays for diagnostic, surgical and other procedures.
- Treatment of fractures and dislocations.
- Certified specialist services at established rates when you are referred to the specialist by your doctor.
- Certain dental surgical services performed in a hospital.

NOTE: OMSIP will not pay for the cost of hospitalization. OMSIP is an additional service, not a substitute for Ontario Hospital Insurance. You will still require coverage by Hospital Insurance.

OMSIP IS VOLUNTARY—APPLICATION IS NECESSARY

OMSIP is a voluntary plan and you can cancel your membership at any time.

The government, however, can only cancel memberships in the case of misrepresentation, misuse of services, non-payment of premiums, or 3 months after a member has ceased to be a resident of Ontario.

If you fill out this application and mail it now, you will be eligible for OMSIP coverage beginning July 1st. Otherwise you will have to wait a minimum of 3 months for your coverage to begin.

Since these applications have to be recorded with a micro-photo machine, please print carefully and plainly with a ball point pen only.

OMSIP enrollment period extended to May 16th

Ontario Health Minister Dr. M. B. Dymond has announced that residents of the Province may still receive full Ontario Medical Services Insurance Plan coverage and benefits by July 1st providing they enroll in the Plan before May 16th.

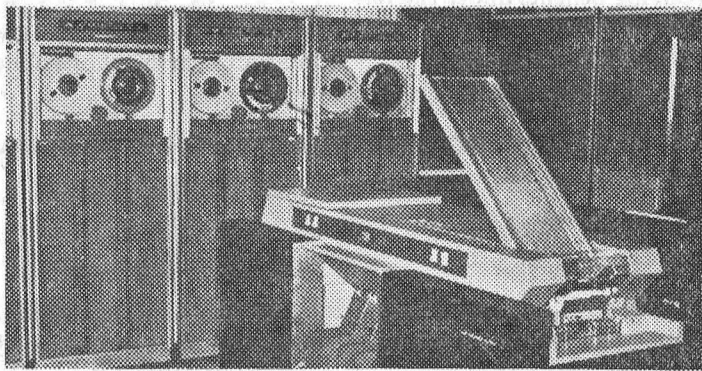

"The Plan is a success," declared the Minister. "The number of applications received already cover more than 1,100,000 of our citizens."

Dr. Dymond added, however, that a large number of residents had indicated they would join OMSIP but for a variety of reasons had been unable to send in their application in time. The OMSIP open enrollment period has therefore been extended by two weeks in order that these persons may qualify for coverage from the day the Plan goes into effect on July 1st.

"The May 16th deadline is final," added the minister. "This enrollment deadline cannot be extended any further because it takes time to process such a flood of applications even with the most modern equipment available."

The extension of the open enrollment period means that those residents who have already enrolled, and those who enroll before May 16th, will be protected by OMSIP, beginning July 1st.

Ontario residents who enroll after May 16th will have to undergo a minimum three month waiting period before they are entitled to OMSIP coverage and benefits, said Dr. Dymond.

OMSIP head office is located at 135 St. Clair West, Toronto. Applications are already being processed by modern micro-photo methods and computers.

OLD AGE PENSIONERS

Many old age pensioners have automatically been enrolled in OMSIP but most must fill in and submit an application.

Those who will get automatic coverage are pensioners who are presently receiving benefit under The Ontario Old Age Assistance Act, or those pensioners who have been declared eligible for coverage by the Ontario Department of Welfare. These pensioners have already received their OMSIP registration cards.

All other pensioners must complete and submit an application to receive OMSIP coverage.

If you have not received an OMSIP registration card, or have not already sent in an application form, you must apply before May 16th for coverage when the Plan starts on July 1st.

Special day created promoting child safety

A clergyman once said, "here is no panic, no fear so great as that which I see in the eyes of a parent whose child has been hurt. There is no emptiness so vast as that in the heart and soul of a parent whose child has been taken."

To focus the attention of all Canadians on their responsibility to the safety and welfare of all children, the National Safety League of Canada and the Canadian Highway Safety Council are proclaiming the first of May as National Child Safety Day. The Farm Safety Council of Ontario heartily endorses this action.

"While Child Safety Day lasts only 24 hours, the activities that surround it and the interest it produces may serve to strengthen all aspects of child safety throughout the entire year", explains Mr. H. E. Wright, Farm Safety Specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

According to Mr. Wright, there are two purposes for creating a National Child Safety Day. The first is to focus attention across the country on the tragic number of avoidable accidents involving children. The second purpose is to make adults more aware of the need for constant attention to the safety of children.

Education in safety is vital. While the duty of training children in safety lies with the parents, it is the responsibility of all Canadian adults to preserve and protect their lives.

If some stems become very shaggy or infested with mealybug, they may be removed without injury to the plant.

Wandering Jew or spidewort has green variegated or purplish leaves. Cuttings will root in water, and stems may be grown in water, for months. The plants thrive in a general soil mixture, with plenty of water, good light, and cool, moist air, but they may do fairly well in poor light, dry air, and a high temperature, the tips of the stems may be pinched to prevent long stems and to cause branching.

The wax plant or Hoya is a flowering vine with thick, leathery, waxy leaves. The flowers are flesh-colored, fragrant, and star-shaped. To propagate, root stem cuttings in sand. Since the root system is small, first use small pots and then report to a little larger size only when the root growth warrants it. This plant thrives in a warm, sunny place.

CLERGY LEND AID TO CHILD SAFETY

Clergy of all faiths in Canada are expected to participate strongly in the promotion of Child Safety Day, to be observed across the nation on Sunday, May 1. The National Safety League of Canada which, with the Canadian Highway Safety Council, is sponsoring the one-day drive, reports a clergyman as declaring, "There is no panic, no fear so great as that I see in the eyes of a parent whose child has been hurt. There is no emptiness so vast as that in the heart and soul of a parent whose child has been taken."

Child Safety Day is aimed at making adults keenly aware of their responsibilities in preventing child accidents as well as in training the child to make safety a lifelong habit, said the League.

Help is at hand

Foster Parents' Plan (P.O. Box 65, Station "B", Montreal) has announced that 10-year-old Nerida Cruzado, the first Peruvian girl enrolled at its recently opened office at Chimbote, has been financially "adopted" by Hon. Paul Martin, Secretary of State for External Affairs, and Mrs. Martin. Like over 7,200 other Canadians, the Martins pay $16 monthly toward their Foster Child's support, and will correspond regularly with the child, with translations both ways supplied by the Plan. Nerida lives with 3 relatives in a crowded hut of woven reeds with earthen floor. She is one of hundreds in this tragically neglected area for whom the Plan hopes to find Foster Parents.

0-20-20 or similar type analysis per acre.

2. Stands with about one-third legume — apply 200 lbs. of a 5-20-20 or similar type analysis per acre.
3. Grass stands with very little legume — apply 250 lbs. of ammonium nitrate or other high nitrogen fertilizer per acre.

In applying fertilizer to hay or pasture fields, it should be spread as a top-dressing as soon as equipment can get on the fields.

On legume stands it may be more desirable to apply the fertilizer in mid-August.

Will this fertilizer pay? Last Winter many were forced to buy hay at prices ranging from fifty cents to one dollar a bale. If we use a cost per ton of $80 for fertilizer, an application of 250 lbs. per acre would cost $10. At 50c per bale you would only have to show an increase of 20 bales per acre or ten bales per acre if the price is one dollar per bale.

It would seem from this comparison that perhaps more producers should be asking the question "What about fertilizer for my hay and pasture?"

MAY MOVE TOWN

Officials are considering moving the whole flood-prone city of Newton, Ga., to higher ground. The latest inundation put the centre of the community of 529 under five feet of water, causing $150,000 damage.

The oldest tree ever measured in Ontario was a hemlock with 988 annual rings.

Nine Young Farmer delegates from the United Kingdom arrived in Ontario last week for a ten-week tour of the province. Miss Jean Buchanan from Perthshire, Scotland, is presently the guest of the Dundas Junior Farmers. While in the County Miss Buchanan will stay at the home of Mr and Mrs Don Johnston, Winchester, and will study agriculture in this area.

The delegates are part of an annual exchange visit conducted by the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario and the Young Farmers' clubs of the United Kingdom.

The Ontario counterparts will leave Toronto International Airport May 13 on a ten-week visit to Britain.

Peter Holman, a New York ad man, says there were more than 600 phone calls in one day in response to newspaper ads offering $100 a day for a "model-type girl" to sit on and hatch chicken eggs.

A $1,000 bonus "on completion of the promotion" also was offered by the ads in the New York Times and the Herald Tribune.

Holman estimated it would take 18 to 21 days to hatch the eggs as a promotion stunt for a pet show in Brooklyn, where promoter Murray Zaret has 5,000 pets on display in a hall and charges admission.

The advertised pay would mean $2,800 to $3,100 for the girl who is chosen for the hatching job.

Holman said several other girls will be hired as relief hatchers, at lower fees.

Many of the phone calls, Holman says, were from men who said their wives were too shy to call.

Two trees three roses endorsed for Centennial planting

Plants which have been endorsed as Centennial plants include three roses and two trees.

The crabapple tree "Royalty" has been selected by the Ontario Horticultural Association and it will go on sale in the spring of 1967. It is an outstanding variety with glossy, reddish-purple foliage and wide-petalled purple flowers. The small fruit is deep red outside with dark red flesh and is oval in shape. It originated in Sutherland, Sask., where it was selected for its foliage color, outstanding flowers and resistance to disease.

The crabapple "Almey" is the selection of the Nursery Trades Association. It was introduced by Manitoba's Morden Experimental Station in 1945 and honors J. R. Timey, a well-known Manitoba horticulturist. The tree has large purplish flowers with a white marking at the base of each petal. Its deep red fruit is lantern-shaped and it sometimes stays on the tree over the winter months.

The Centennial Rose is sponsored by the Canadian Centennial Rose Foundation. It is a floribunda which produces masses of rich coral blooms throughout the season and it has a pleasing tea fragrance. The plant is a cross between Pinnocchio and Spartan.

Miss Canada, a hybrid tea rose, is sponsored by the Ontario Nursery Trades Association and the Canadian Rose Society. It blooms until frost and the blooms are deep pink on the face with silver-white on the back of the petals. Miss Canada is the result of a cross between Peace and Karl Herbst.

Confederation, a hybrid tea rose, was introduced by Ellesmere Nurseries for the Centennial. It has large double pink blooms and has a strong perfume. Its abundant foliage has a leathery texture. Confederation is a cross between Queen of the Lake and Serenade. It will not be available until the fall of 1966.

These shrubs and bushes may be ordered for Chesterville homes. Watch for the announcement.

clude those for tuberculosis, brucellosis, leucosis, leptospirosis, John's disease, and foot-and-mouth disease.

4. At Brest, the calves must undergo daily clinical examination as well as a further test for foot-and-mouth disease. If they are healthy at the end of this month-long quarantine, the cattle may be moved by boat to the Grosse Ile quarantine station.

5. A minimum quarantine period of three months is required at Grosse Ile. During this time, the cattle go through the same tests as on the farms of origin and they are also given a biological test for blue tongue disease. Grosse Ile facilities are provided free of charge but the importer must assume all costs of transportation, care, and feeding while the animals are in quarantine.

6. After release from Grosse Ile, the cattle must be quarantined for a further 90 days on the premises of their new owners. They will be inspected regularly during this period by CDA veterinarians.

The Grosse Ile site for the livestock quarantine station was chosen because of the seclusion offered by the island and because it already had most of the facilities needed, including dock, water supply, electric power, and staff quarters.

Dundas Tractor Club meets at Winchester

The first meeting of the Dundas 4-H Tractor Club was held April 25 at the office of the Department of Agriculture, Winchester.

Norman St. Clair and Bruce Garlough will be the leaders of the club with Lyman Holmes as president. Other officers are Dwight Bryan, vice-president; Dwight Garlough, secretary; and William Zandbergen, press reporter.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Ewart Carkner, Winchester.

Imported French Charolais cattle released after lengthy quarantine

The first French cattle to come to Canada in this century have been released from the Grosse Ile quarantine station, the Canadian Department of Agriculture announced recently.

The cattle, all of the Charolais beef breed, will be taken by boat to Quebec City, about 40 miles up the St. Lawrence River from the island. They will be displayed the following day at the city's Exhibition Grounds by the Canadian Charolais Association and then the cattle will be shipped to their new homes in Canada.

Of the 113 animals originally brought to Grosse Ile, 109 are being released. One died from natural causes (bowel torsion). Two failed to pass the T. B. test and will not be allowed into Canada. In the last series of tests for foot-and-mouth disease, one animal showed an atypical reaction for antibodies in one of the four different tests. Although there is no question of its freedom from infection, because of the stringency of the terms of the quarantine it technically could not be declared negative and is not being released.

The Charolais, imported by Canadian cattlemen last fall, will go to farms in six provinces. Four of them will go to British Columbia, 48 to Alberta, 27 to Saskatchewan, six to Manitoba, 13 to Ontario, and 11 to Quebec.

The first cattle to come to Canada from France in this century, their entry to this country has been made possible by greatly improved control of foot-and-mouth disease and other livestock diseases in France, newly perfected disease-testing procedures, and the establishment of a maximum security livestock quarantine station at Grosse Ile.

Cattle imported from France must meet stringent Canadian requirements and must undergo a multitude of tests. Regulations include:

1. The area from which the animals originate must have been free of foot-and-mouth disease for at least nine months.

2. Only calves under nine months of age that have not been vaccinated against foot-and-mouth disease are eligible.

3. Herds of origin must be examined by a CDA Health of Animals Branch veterinarian and the individual animals offered for export must undergo a series of tests before they are permitted to move to the French quarantine station at Brest. These tests in-

Osnabruck Centre W. I. May meeting well attended

The May meeting of Osnabruck Centre Women's Institute was held in the Township Hall on Thursday, May 6, with 20 members and five guests present. The president, Mrs. Jake Grandaw, presided and the minutes of the April meeting were read by the retiring secretary, Mrs. George Ferguson, and approved after the roll call was answered by a Mother's Day verse.

The monthly "Smile" was contributed by Mrs. Robillard and the motto, "The love of the soil lies deep in the heart of man," was ably developed by Mrs. Clifford Collins.

Three get-well cards were signed for the sick members. Mrs. Acil Beckstead and Mrs. Glenn Hollister were appointed to act as delegates at the district annual at Ingleside on May 25 with Mrs. Hael Tinkess and Mrs. Jake Grandaw.

Mrs. Lloyd Gallinger gave a report of the directors' meeting at Newington in April, and Mrs. Delbert Flintoff reported on the Osnabruck Township Centennial Committee's plan to start a campaign for funds by a euvre party in the Township Hall on May 14.

A letter was read from a Victoria member of the Country Women of Australia requesting a correspondent from the Osnabruck Centre W.I. and Mrs. Lloyd Gallinger volunteered to write her.

After the meeting was closed by singing God Save the Queen, a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Bob O'Neill and Mrs. G. Ware conducted a novel bingo contest and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. Collins, Mrs. Dave Rutley and Mrs. O. Cryderman.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Jake Grandaw and the lucky cup number by Mrs. Ruth Collins. Mrs. Acil Beckstead moved a vote of thanks to the hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sterling Warner.

Hon. James N. Allan G.M. of Ont. welcomed to Eastern Masonic District

On Saturday evening, May 7th, the auditorium of the North Dundas District High School was the scene of the largest gathering of Masons ever held in the district. The occasion was a banquet and reception for the Hon. James N. Allan, Grand Master of the Masonic Order in the Province of Ontario. The reception was sponsored by local Lodges of the Order under the guidance and direction of Fred M. Cass, MPP, the present Deputy of the Grand Master in this Eastern Ontario District and a past Master of Henderson Lodge of Winchester.

Previous to the banquet, the Grand Master, accompanied by many officers of the Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario, District Deputies from neighbouring districts and other distinguished Masons from all parts of Ontario, were received at Henderson Lodge and welcomed to the district in accordance with Masonic tradition. Noted in the assembly were fifteen of the twenty past Deputy Grand Masters who have represented the District since 1917, when F. T. Shaver of the then Ault Lodge at Aultville represented the district.

A reception followed the banquet and some sixteen Masters and eleven Senior Wardens, of the twenty lodges in Eastern District, were presented to the Grand Master; also nine Masters from other districts, each by the District Deputy of their respective Districts. The Grand Master was afforded a sincere welcome by Keith Dafoe of Farran - Ault Lodge and was introduced by F. M. Cass, District Deputy Grand Master. The Grand Master gave an inspirational address to the assembly and called upon all Masons to be ever mindful of their heritage and to exhibit the teachings of the Order through their lives and actions.

The thanks of those present was ably expressed by the Dean of Eastern's Past District Deputies, Frank T. Shaver. Haldane Durant, Past Master of Chesterville Lodge, read the text of a Scroll of Honour given to the Grand Master with a presentation to commemorate his visit to the district.

Visitors were cordially welcomed to the District by J. Edwin Boyd, Senior Warden of Henderson Lodge and the thanks of the visitors was ably expressed by Arthur M. Hewitt, District Deputy Grand Master of Prince Edward District and the Hon. Donald M. Fleming, members of the Masonic Board of General Purposes.

The committee on arrangements consisted of many officers and members of local Masonic Lodges under the chairmanship of Harry L. Flora, District Secretary of Henderson Lodge and H. Fay Shaver of Chesterville Lodge as vice-chairman. Catering for the banquet was under the convenorship of the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star from the Winchester and Finch Chapters.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the visits, cards and gifts I received while a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to the neighbours for their many acts of kindness, to Rev D. L. Gordon and Dr. Howard Justus and the nursing staff of the second floor. Winnifred Allison.

13-YEAR-OLD'S FORECASTS MORE ACCURATE?

A 13-year-old Halifax boy contends his mail-order weather-forecasting set is more accurate than the complex meteorological equipment of the Maritimes weather office at Halifax.

Richard Hand spends three quarters of an hour each evening making calculations from the readings on the dials of the tiny weather station, manufactured by a well-known toy maker.

He received the set as a Christmas gift two years ago, but he has "been in business for about four months." An anemometer (wind meter) and weather vane were erected outside his home last summer, giving Richard all the equipment he needs to make predictions, which he claims are 90-per-cent accurate.

The weather office claims only 75-per-cent accuracy and Richard says his friends who rely on his forecasts are lucky "because I'm right most of the time."

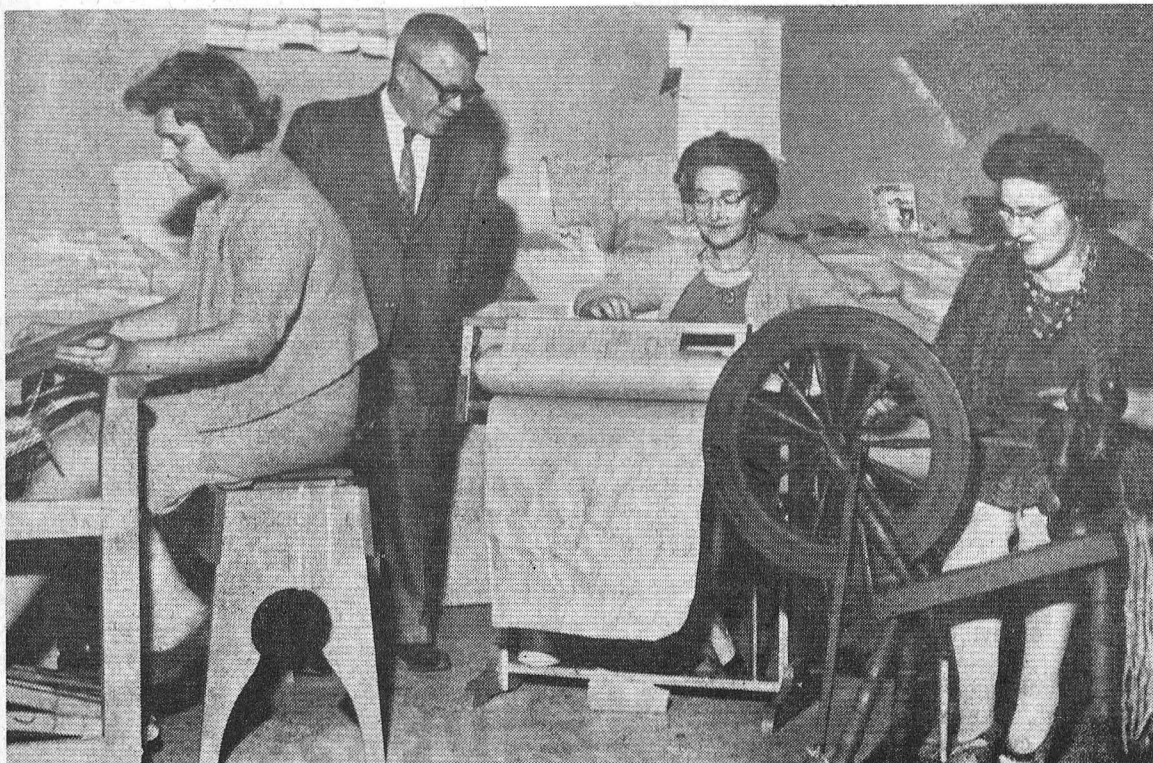

A typical victory was Richard's prediction for "overcast skies and snow flurries" while his large rival forecast the season's worst blizzard for the Atlantic area. The snowstorm never came.

So far, the youth's daily pronouncements on the weather are for the benefit of a few friends and his family, although it is difficult to keep everyone happy despite his accuracy.

His father, Dr. R. F. Hand, owns shares in a ski resort near Windsor, N.S., and "when I don't predict snow he gets mad."

FIND BOAT IN DESERT

Archaeologists have found a 4,000-year-old boat, 70 feet long and made of plaited reeds, in a vault beside the Great Pyramid of Gizeh, Egypt.

The annual exhibition and bazaar of Seaway Valley Handicrafts Association will be held at the Bob Turner Memorial Centre, Cornwall, May 12 to 14 inclusive. Groups participating in the upcoming exhibition are Cornwall Art Assoc. Ceramic Club, C.N.I.B. Section, Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge. Individual entries feature paintings, sketches, woodcarving, copper craft, woodwork, embroidery, weaving, Christmas decorations, dollies, flowers and many more. Pictured here, left to right, are: Mrs. Joan Christensen, Mayor Emard, Mrs. Hugh Gilmour and Mrs. Ross Casselman. Mrs. Roy Hart and Mrs. Mahlon Gow will be other local handicrafters participating in the exhibition.

GET MONEY'S WORTH WHEN BUYING PILLOWS

A few simple tests when you shop for bed pillows made of feathers will help you get your money's worth.

Featherweights are best, according to home economists. Of two pillows the same size and plumpness, the lighter pillow is superior.

Balance on your palm the pillow you're considering. It's well filled, the ends will stay straight without drooping. A skimpily filled pillow will droop.

To test resilience, lay the pillow on a flat surface and press down on it with both hands. When you take your hands away, the pillow should immediately spring back into its original shape.

Also, notice whether the pillow flattens more than half its original thickness. A pillow should buoy up your head, not pull up around it.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

Both churches and the nation have been alerted to the "Year of the Bible" proclamations throughout the U.S.A., since 1966 is the 150th anniversary of the American Bible Society. With the aim that all its citizens might "have a better knowledge and appreciation of the Holy Scriptures," the observances will have their peak in this month of May, the anniversary for the American Society.

A rally at New York's City Hall, scene of the founding of the American Bible Society, heads the May 11 to 13 celebrations. A commemorative service on May 11, the Annual Meeting on the next day with the Reverend Dr. Billy Graham as the guest speaker, and the Anniversary Dinner on May 13, when the Most Reverend F. Donald Coggan, the Archbishop of York, speaks as President of the United Bible Societies, are highlights of the month's observances.

A new edition of the Greek New Testament is to be issued by the American Bible Society in conjunction with the National Bible Society of Scotland and the Württemberg Bible Society of Germany as an Anniversary project.

The New Testament in Today's English Version (T.E.V.) is to be produced during this year as an additional Anniversary feature. Four books of the Bible in the J. B. Phillips translation are to be issued under the title, "The Inside Story," being the books of Luke, John, the Acts and Romans.

ROSES EASY TO GROW BY FOLLOWING RULES

Roses are the delight of many Canadian gardens, and they are easy to grow provided a few simple rules are followed, state horticulturists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. When selecting a location for these bushes remember they like a southern exposure and gently sloping land which provides good drainage and protection from strong winds.

Roses prefer a rich, deep soil that is well supplied with organic matter. Both heavy and light soils may be made more suitable for growing roses by digging in quantities of organic matter such as peat moss or well-rotted manure. If manure is not obtainable use leaf mold or a similar organic source. Most soils should receive a dressing of a well-balanced fertilizer such as 5-20-20. In average soils the rate of application should be about two pounds per one hundred square feet.

As soon as you buy your bushes, unpack them, soak them in water, and plant immediately. If the beds are not ready they may be heeled in by digging a trench, setting the plants close together, and covering with soil at least halfway up their stems. When the permanent beds are ready, dig a hole large enough to allow the roots to be well spread out. The swelled area of the stem just above the roots should be set about an inch below the soil surface. Form the soil around the roots to ensure good anchorage. The plants should be given a thorough watering to help them become established and to further aid in packing the soil around the roots.

Rose bushes planted in the spring should be cut back to three or four buds per stock, or about four inches from the ground level after planting is finished. This helps to produce a compact and well-balanced plant as well as aiding in larger growth.

PREDICT BIG YIELD IN BUTTERFAT

A fantastic dairying output of 625 pounds of butterfat to the acre is confidently forecast for the current season in an experimental herd of 80 cows testing a low-cost system of grassland farming at the Ruakura animal research centre in New Zealand.

Production already has eclipsed all known records with several months of the season yet to run.

Experts describe an output of 625 pounds of butterfat to the acre in dairying as the equal in merit to a mile run in three minutes and 50 seconds.

Phenomenal pasture growth has helped output, but much credit is given to the system employed. The herd is being grazed in rotation in 19 fields in an area of 45.8 acres, a stock level of 1 1/4 cows to the acre.

DENTAL CAREER KEEPS MOTHER BUSY

For Maret Truvert, each day's work ends in a choice between reading fairy tales for her children or dental journals for herself.

Dr Truvert, of Toronto, is a practising dentist who, when she turns off the drill, opens a door into her own living room where four children are waiting.

Dr Truvert left stria, where she was born, with her parents in 1944 to live in Stockholm. After graduation from high school she heeded her father's advice to get a good practical education and began dental studies.

It was a good choice. Income tax figures show the average income of dentists in Canada is about $12,500 a year. The Canadian Dental Association says the average income of its members is closer to $15,000.

"It's a bit of a struggle getting started in practice," Dr Truvert says. "You have to pay off the debts you build up when you are a student and if you haven't the money to start your own office you have to associate with another dentist for a while."

Married in Stockholm to Antoni Truvert, also Estonian born and now a department manager with Royal Trust Co. in Toronto, Dr Truvert had her first daughter, Piret, now 13, before

ONTARIO EGGS

DO YOU OFTEN WISH there was an all-around food? Well, eggs are not only nutritious but life-savers when it comes to planning supper menus. In fact, Ontario eggs can be served in many attractive ways any time, advise home economists at MacDonald Institute, Guelph.

6 slices bread
6 eggs
Butter
Salt and pepper
Cut day-old bread about 1/3 inch thick. Remove crusts if desired. With cookie cutter, cut 2 1/2-inch circle from the centre of slice. Melt butter in frying pan. Place bread in it and drop egg in centre. Season. Cook until underside is golden brown. Turn and cook on other side. Serve with creole sauce.

Creole Sauce
4 tbsps. chopped green pepper
4 tbsps. butter
4 tbsps. chopped onion
4 tbsps. flour
2 cups tomato puree
Salt
Pepper
Tobasco sauce
Cook pepper and onion in butter for five minutes. Blend in flour. Add liquid and seasonings. Stir until mixture thickens and cook three minutes.

Hot Devilled Eggs
6 hard cooked eggs
1/4 cup chopped ham
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Seasonings and mayonnaise
1 1/2 cups cream sauce
Buttered crumbs
Cut eggs in halves lengthwise, remove yolks. Mash yolks with fork and mix together with ham, Worcestershire sauce and seasonings. Pack mixture back into egg whites and place two halves together. Place in buttered casserole, add cream sauce. Cover well with buttered crumbs and brown in hot oven (450° F.).

Venetian Eggs
1 tbsp. butter
4 tbsps. onion, finely chopped
1 cup condensed tomato soup
3/4 cup thinly sliced Cheddar cheese
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. salt
1/16 tsp. pepper
Saute onion in butter until golden brown. Add remaining ingredients except eggs. Simmer until cheese melts, stirring constantly. Gradually stir in eggs, cook for two minutes longer. Serve hot on toast or heated wafers. Serves 6.

Fluffy Omelet
2 tbsps. minute tapioca
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/4 cup milk
1 tbsp. butter
4 egg whites
4 egg yolks
Combine tapioca, salt, pepper and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Add butter. Then remove from heat and cool slightly.

Meanwhile beat egg whites until stiff, and egg yolks until thick and lemon-coloured. Add tapioca mixture to egg yolks and mix well. Fold in egg whites. Pour into hot, buttered ten-inch skillet and cook over low heat three minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 minutes. Omelet is sufficiently cooked when a knife inserted comes out clean. Cut across at right angles to handle of pan. Do not cut all the way through. Fold carefully from handle to opposite side and slide onto hot platter. Serve at once. Makes four servings.

tors have to take their canoes over a series of tree trunks, or hurdles, fixed horizontally several inches above water level.

The feat is achieved by driving the bow of the canoe well up on to the obstacle, then moving carefully forward so as not to capsize the canoe, but to get weight far enough forward to bring the bow down on the far side of the hurdle.

Usually there are two competitors in each canoe and only long practice enables them to take their canoes over the course without mishap.

At the annual regatta this year at Ngaruawahia, an important Maori centre, there were more hurdle race entrants than for 20 years past.

Completed her studies at the University of Toronto in 1956. About seven years ago the Truverts bought their west-end home and adapted one wing as a dental office. Before her fourth child, Kaarel, 2 1/2, was born, Dr Truvert spent 12 hours a day on the office side of the connecting door.

ANCIENT SPORT REVIVED IN NEW ZEALAND

An ancient Maori sport which seemed on the way out has made a sudden revival, much to the delight of those interested in preserving the customs of New Zealand's native race.
