Suspected H1N1 cases in schools

by Matthew Uhrig and Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Upper Canada District School Board has reported that there are three cases of suspected H1N1 flu at local public schools.

Winchester Public School (WPS), Nationview Public School (NPS), and North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) might have one case each, according to Mark Calder, a communications assistant with the board.

Calder explained that "suspected H1N1" basically means a doctor has diagnosed a student with having contracted the flu strain, but the board is waiting for confirmation from test results through the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

Calder said that for privacy reasons, the school board won't clarify whether students or staff members were sick.

The health unit has also requested that schools report if more than 10 per cent of its population is off sick with flu symptoms.

"We're following the advice of the health unit," said Calder.

He said that so far, the public schools that have met or exceeded the 10 per cent absenteeism benchmark include WPS, NPS, and NDDHS, according to the latest information provided to the school board. He added that schools that meet the 10 per cent mark will receive extra-rigorous cleaning and sanitizing.

"We become a little more vigilant," said Calder.

The Winchester Press was not able to access the same information for local Catholic schools by press time.

These reports come on the heels of a Cornwall child's death, which was linked to H1N1, at an Ottawa hospital last weekend.

Because the epidemic has hit local schools the hardest, the Eastern Ontario Health Unit (EOHU) has moved children to the front of the line to get the H1N1 vaccine.

Remembering Hill 70

MOUNTAIN — After their annual battle fitness testing march, the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) Highlanders will make an appearance at Mountain Memorial Park on Sat., Oct. 31 at 2 pm to dedicate the Hill 70 Memorial.

Hill 70 was a First World War battle fought by the Canadian Corps on the Western Front in August 1917. Little known in comparison to the famous battles of Vimy Ridge and Passchendaele, the Battle of Hill 70 is significant because it was the first battle of the Canadian Corps that was fought under Canadian — not British — command. More than 8,600 Canadian soldiers were killed, wounded, or missing in the battle.

Since its inauguration in 1925, the Mountain Memorial Park has a grassy mound with the large letters Hill 70 in the turf and a memorial stone with the date 1922.

Bleak stats for Dundas County Food Bank

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Donna Quesnel knew it was getting bad when she could see the walls behind the dwindling stacks of canned food.

The administrator of the Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB) said the organization has, for the first time, exhausted its yearly food budget.

"This has never happened before," said Quesnel. "Now we're going to rely on food donations."

Like many food banks in Ontario, the DCFB is watching demand for its services swell. Compared to this point in 2008, the total number of emergency visits has jumped from 75 to 118. The number of monthly visits, meanwhile, has increased from 445 to 606.

According to the Ontario Association of Food Banks, the sluggish economy has hit struggling families hard this year. The association said Ontario has lost about 227,700 full-time jobs since August 2008. That's why 93 per cent of Ontario food banks reported an increase in the number of clients who recently lost their jobs. On average, client numbers are up 20 per cent over this time last year.

The DCFB isn't the only food bank that's short on cash. Average monthly food expenditures at provincial food banks have increased by 84 per cent compared to 2008. An estimated 54 per cent of food banks will exceed their projections for food purchases in 2009.

Quesnel said it's particularly alarming that, according to provincial statistics, one in four food banks has been forced to reduce their average hamper sizes in order to share the food supply.

Quesnel said the DCFB probably won't find itself in that boat this year, thanks to some substantial community donations. During recent food drives, North Dundas District High School and St. Mary Catholic School in Chesterville collected a combined 2,000 pounds of non-perishable food items. Quesnel said the DCFB likely won't reduce hamper sizes.

"We're not at that point," said Quesnel. "It may not be as desperate as it seemed to be."

Healthy lifestyles

On Wed., Oct. 21, the staff at Winchester's Ontario Early Years Centre issued a challenge to parents and their children within North Dundas. Residents were invited to gather at the centre's St. Lawrence Street location at 9:30 am, and from there embark on a walk, jog, run, or bike ride to the Winchester Lions Club Pavilion at the 100 Club Park. At the park, an interactive presentation was administered by the Academy of Expressive Dance. Following the performance, the guests were treated to a healthy snack.

Right: Jonah Shank did his best to jump over the sponge during the interactive session.

POLICE BLOTTER

OPP not at fault: SIU

MORRISBURG — The Special Investigations Unit (SIU) has concluded that there are no reasonable grounds to believe that an officer with the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP committed a criminal offence in connection with the injuries sustained by a 28-year-old woman in August.

The SIU said it assigned three investigators and two forensic investigators to probe the circumstances surrounding an incident that occurred near Morrisburg.

The SIU investigation determined that on Thurs., Aug. 6, the subject officer was operating radar for westbound traffic on Highway 401. At approximately 2:30 am, the officer clocked a vehicle traveling at 142 kilometres per hour. The officer pursued the car with his emergency equipment activated. The SIU said that during the pursuit, the driver of the vehicle increased his speed to 200 kilometres per hour and exited the highway at a gas station ramp. The driver then struck a cement barrier on the right side of the ramp, causing one of his passengers, Jennifer Cianflone, to suffer multiple fractures.

Neighbour dispute

WILLIAMSBURG — On Tues., Oct. 20 around 8 pm, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a neighbour dispute on Locke Lane.

Police said a female and her 27-year-old neighbour — Richard Gauthier — were involved in a verbal altercation that resulted in Gauthier allegedly threatening the female.

He was arrested and faces charges of uttering a threat to damage property, uttering a threat to cause death or bodily harm, and trespassing/prowling near a dwelling.

He is scheduled to appear on Tues., Dec. 1 in Morrisburg court.

Renewing the Hill 70 memory

There's also a First World War vintage German machine gun. The Township of North Dundas has replaced a missing lantern, which will be re-lit at the rededication ceremony.

To renew the memory of the major Canadian victory at Hill 70, the SD&G Highlanders, also known as the "Glens," will conclude their annual battle fitness testing (which includes a march of 13 kilometres in full battle equipment) by halting at the Hill 70 Memorial. The mayor and deputy-mayor of the Township of North Dundas — Alvin Runnalls and Estella Rose — along with the honourary colonel of the Glens, Bill Shearing of Morrisburg, will preside over the rededication ceremony.

Vaccine clinics at schools

Dr. Paul Roumeliotis, medical officer at the EOHU, announced the inclusion of every student from preschool to Grade 12 in the clinics set to begin on Friday (Oct. 30), and which will continue through the weekend at six high schools in Cornwall, Alexandria, Hawkesbury, Chesterville, Casselman, and Rockland.

The H1N1 vaccine will be offered locally to anyone fitting the criteria on Fri., Oct. 30 from 4 pm to 8 pm and Sat., Oct. 31 from 9:30 am to 3:30 pm.

For more information, check out the H1N1 advertisements on pages 18 and 34.

The Stewart Racing Team would like to thank all our sponsors for helping us to have a very successful racing season. It would not have been possible without your help. We finished 4th in the points in the Sportman Division at Brockville Ontario Speedway. We were the only team that finished every feature in the top 10. We also finished 3rd in the points in the Lucas Oil Challenge – a great accomplishment, because there was a very competitive field with 25 to 30 cars competing every night.

We would also like to thank the pit crew: Chris Stewart, Jamie Roderick, Bobby Skuce and Daryl Stewart. They were there 24/7 to do anything that had to be done to get us out racing week after week. Last but not least, we want to thank our driver, Chris Herbison from Brockville, who with his expertise and guidance, led us to our first victory, and hopefully, many more to come.

Thanks again to everyone. See you all next year.

KDH Auxiliary celebrates 50 years

17 Eastern Ontario hospital auxiliaries attend regional symposium

KEMPTVILLE — On Wed., Oct. 21, 158 representatives of 17 Eastern Ontario hospital auxiliaries participated in a one-day regional conference at the University of Guelph — Kemptville Campus, hosted by the Kemptville District Hospital (KDH) Auxiliary.

The conference theme was "Volunteers — 50 Golden Years," to mark the KDH Auxiliary's 50th anniversary.

The KDH Auxiliary was founded in 1959, and was very instrumental in raising the funds required to open the Kemptville District Hospital in 1960. The founding president was Helen Patterson of Oxford Mills. She described the auxiliary as the tie that binds the community to the hospital. To date, the KDH Auxiliary has donated more than $775,000 to KDH, in addition to leading an active volunteer program to support patient care.

KDH Auxiliary conference committee chair John Legate described how the activities of hospital auxiliaries have changed throughout the years. For example, when KDH opened, auxiliary members were responsible for providing and maintaining all drapes and linens in the hospital, and providing jams and preserves for the hospital kitchen.

Conference attendees gave special recognition to two founding members of the KDH Auxiliary — Eleanor O'Neill and Rena Goldberg — and to nine past presidents of the organization who were able to attend.

A highlight of the conference was a talk by Dr. Greg Leonard, KDH's chief of staff, who eloquently outlined current medical advice on how to prevent coronary heart disease.

KDH CEO Colin Goodfellow discussed how small hospitals can remain viable within the new regional health networks, and ways in which they can collaborate to provide ongoing excellent care to their communities.

Jennifer North, a founder of Ottawa-based charity Sole Responsibility, described her organization's success in sending 20,000 used (but still useful) running shoes throughout the past four years to refugees and displaced people in African countries. Conference participants brought dozens of pairs of running shoes to give to Jennifer for next year's shipment.

The conference was chaired by Melba Jarvis, Region 9 chair of the Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario (HAAO). Also representing the HAAO was Joan Farlinger of Winchester, who in November becomes provincial president of the organization.

KDH Auxiliary is a 50-year member of the HAAO, whose 157 member auxiliaries contributed nearly three million volunteer hours to Ontario hospitals in 2008, and raised a total of more than $47 million dollars.

Council notes from South Dundas

TOWNSHIP OF SOUTH DUNDAS

What's a member of council worth?

WILLIAMSBURG — In an effort to obtain the most qualified candidates for the next election in 2010, Township of South Dundas CAO Stephen McDonald would like to see an adjustment to the compensation of councillors.

At the regular township council meeting on Tues., Oct. 20, McDonald submitted a report to the members of council asking for approval to have the consulting firm MacCrimmon and Associates perform a council compensation study, which will cost $4,600.

"[I have] to encourage council to consider an increase to honouriums," said McDonald, noting that the rates should be improved to current market value.

McDonald said that previous councils "have not deemed it appropriate to make adjustments."

Deputy-Mayor Steven Byvelds said he agreed a change was needed, and "it's important to be fair to whoever gets elected."

Byvelds said he was concerned about compensation methods.

"It needs to be fair about the amount of hours [paid for]," said Byvelds.

The politicians agreed with McDonald's proposal.

Any recommended changes will be effective Dec., 1, 2010, and will be part of that year's township budget.

Auditing services locked down

Council accepted treasurer Shannon Geraghty's proposal asking to approve the use of the accounting firm Craig Keen Despatie Markell LLP for auditing service over the next three years.

Money made from surplus trucks

Three surplus work trucks owned by the Township of South Dundas public works department were sold at Winchester's Rideau Auctions on Sat., Oct. 17.

Manager of Public Works Hugh Garlough told the members of council that an approximate $12,000 profit was made from the sale of the three trucks.

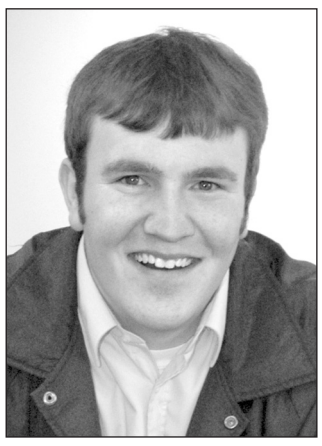
Councillor Duncan explains municipal matters to students

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

MAPLE RIDGE — There's more to municipal government than meets the eye, Eric Duncan told North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) students last week.

The Township of North Dundas' youngest councillor was back at his alma mater on Thurs., Oct. 22 to deliver a special presentation in honour of Local Government Week.



Eric Duncan

From Sat., Oct. 18 to Sun., Oct. 24, Ontario municipal officials like Duncan were encouraged to venture into schools to explain what a municipality does and how it works.

Duncan returned to visit teacher Kevin Bell's Grade 10 civics class and started by explaining the different responsibilities held by federal, provincial, and local governments. He also explained how elections work and gave the students a bit of career advice.

Most of the services provided by the township, Duncan explained, are things the average person doesn't necessarily consider every day — such as where the water in their tap comes from.

Municipalities deal with planning and zoning issues, recreation, public works, fire services, waste management, and water and sewer management.

Duncan brought up a slide to show how the City of Ottawa's budget dwarfs North Dundas'. While the local township has an annual budget of roughly $24 million, the City of Ottawa's is in the neighbourhood of $1.5 billion. The debate over the best way to spend that huge amount of taxpayer money, said Duncan, results in many headaches for city politicians.

"I'm thankful I'm not involved with that council," Duncan said with a grin.

He explained to the students that local municipal councillors are part-time employees who typically hold other jobs. For example, Deputy-Mayor Estella Rose farms and has a hairdressing business on the side, while Mayor Alvin Runnalls is a farmer and former teacher. Councillor John Thompson is an electrician, while Councillor Al Armstrong drives truck. Meanwhile, Duncan is a student. He's also an assistant to Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon and federal caucus chair co-ordinator at Parliament Hill.

Duncan explained that part-time, rural municipal politicians are everyday people you encounter in town.

"It's your parents, it's your neighbours, it's people in your community," Duncan said. "These are people you run into in the grocery store."

Duncan said that municipal politicians learn quickly to grow a thick skin. No matter how much you might want to please everyone, he said, that's next to impossible to do.

"You're going to make decisions that aren't going to make people very happy," he said.

However, Duncan said he truly enjoys seeing projects move along.

"Seeing the 'before' and 'after' of things is really rewarding," said Duncan.

He added that students should try to get involved in extracurricular activities to discover their talents. Duncan said he was quite shy back in Grade 9, but joining extracurricular activities, such as being the prime minister of student council, truly brought him out of his shell.

"Really consider getting involved," said Duncan. "There's only so much you can learn from a textbook."

Cooking up success

The Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (OSAID) members at North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) served up a hot meal to about 185 students, teachers, and community members on Wed., Oct. 21. The students are raising money to bring speakers to the school to talk about the dangers of impaired driving. The group is also saving up to send students to the upcoming provincial OSAID conference. In a recent fundraiser, the club collected $400 in change outside Andy's Foodland, and another day made $1,200 outside Tim Hortons. Their breakfast sponsors included Mike Dean's Super Food Store, Andy's Foodland, B&H Foodliner IGA, Food Basics, and Greg's Quality Meats. The meal raised about $980. Picking a bone over osteoporosis

Why isn't Winchester known for osteoporosis awareness?

It would be a perfect cause for our village to take under its wing.

As a dairy industry "hub," we're known for our milk, a calcium-rich substance you can consume early in life to ward off the bone-thinning disease that affects about two million Canadians.

With the Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) here in town, the village is also known as a medical centre, and the community continues to proudly support our local health-care institution. In fact, in 2008, WDMH introduced bone mineral density testing, a procedure that can determine if you have osteoporosis and analyze your risk of developing the disease in the future.

The Winchester area also has a high population of seniors, who are more at risk of developing osteoporosis or suffering from serious fractures after a fall.

Our village and the surrounding community are big-time supporters of other health causes, namely breast cancer awareness. Last June, the Winchester Hospital Heelers raised $150,000 for the annual Weekend to End Breast Cancer, and 75 per cent of that cash was earmarked for WDMH's cancer programs.

If we can co-ordinate a local fight against breast cancer, why not osteoporosis?

November is Osteoporosis Awareness Month. Wouldn't it be great if, a year from now, a full-fledged war on osteoporosis was underway, involving not only fundraisers but an awareness campaign to promote exercise, the importance of getting enough calcium and vitamin D, and bone density scanning?

According to Osteoporosis Canada, osteoporosis is a condition that causes bones to become thin and porous, decreasing bone strength and leading to an increased risk of breaking a bone. About one in four women and one in eight men over the age of 50 will have the disease, although it can strike at any age.

Osteoporosis has been called a pediatric disease with geriatric consequences. That's because how much milk we drink as children and adolescents has a major effect on our bone density later on in life. It's also important to get enough vitamin D, which is available through sunlight and, again, enough milk consumption. According to the Canada Food Guide, children aged two to eight should consume about two servings of dairy or dairy alternatives per day. Between the ages of nine and 18, they should start pouring themselves an extra glass of milk or two, because the food guide recommends kids in that age bracket consume three to four servings of dairy or dairy alternatives per day. That's why having access to milk at school is so important, and existing dairy promotion programs are a great start.

It's also important to continue drinking milk as you get older. The Canada Food Guide recommends both women and men aged 19 to 50 consume two dairy servings per day. After your 51st birthday, the recommended amount jumps back to adolescent levels at three servings per day.

If you don't get enough calcium, the consequences can be serious.

If osteoporosis sets in, a small tumble can result in seriously damaged bones that can have an awful impact on quality of life, or even result in death. At least 80 per cent of fractures in people aged 60 or older are related to osteoporosis. Each hip fracture costs the health system $21,285 in the first year after hospitalization, and $44,156 if the patient is institutionalized, according to Osteoporosis Canada. The organization says osteoporosis-related fractures and treatment costs the Canadian health care system about $1.9 billion annually. (Wow! That even beats the eHealth Ontario scandal.)

Although drinking enough milk doesn't guarantee you'll be osteoporosis-free later in life, prevention does play a major role.

Winchester would be the perfect place to promote osteoporosis awareness. We should ensure our residents not only stay healthy for longer, but also strive to reduce hospital costs.

Remember when...

1939

Former Ontario premier Howard Ferguson spoke up this week in 1939, saying that he was in favour of immediate universal conscription of manpower and wealth for Canada. Ferguson argued that Canadians were more vitally concerned about the outcome of war than almost any other people because "we are not only wealthy, but vulnerable."

1949

The new Winchester Bowling Alley, built by H. L. Flora as an annex to his "modern lunchroom," was officially opened this week. The alley had four lanes of the "most modern type."

During the 1969 Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Rummage Sale, Winchester's Jennifer Bolton found a plush stuffed elephant to take home with her.

1959

It was announced this week that another link of Highway 401 would be ready for use in November 1959. The minister of highways made the announcement and said a ribbon cutting ceremony would be staged to open the link between Brockville and Prescott. The 19-kilometre stretch had been under construction throughout the summer.

1969

Local police appealed to potential Halloween pranksters to limit their activities to those of the harmless variety. The OPP mentioned that in past years, logs and rolls of wire had been used to block roads, and that had resulted in several accidents. The OPP singled out the removal of road signs as a particularly dangerous stunt.

1979

Prescott-Russell residents had an "ultra-modern" van presented to them this week, which was equipped to eliminate all travelling problems for the disabled. Capable of carrying a total of six wheelchairs, the vehicle was also fitted with a hydraulic lift that could be operated by wheelchair occupants.

1989

Grade 12 student Chris Van Bridger, 17, was elected head boy of North Dundas District High School this week. Van Bridger defeated five candidates in a four-day campaign. His immediate duties were running a blood donor clinic and carrying a wreath at a Remembrance Day ceremony.

1999

Influenza vaccinations were being given early throughout Ontario in response to recent outbreaks at nursing homes in Toronto and Hamilton. Winchester's Dr. David Flowers began providing inoculations as soon as the vaccine was available.

Park issue sparks more debate

The Editor:
I would like to comment on the article titled "Controversial park issue deferred to budget" from the Wed., Sept. 30 edition of the Winchester Press.

I would like to clear up a paraphrase that appeared in that article.

It stated that: Lisa Downes — who is in favour of installing a playground — demanded council provide a clear definition of an active versus passive park.

This paraphrase is incorrect. Mrs. Downes asked Deputy-Mayor Estella Rose to show her legal documentation that shows this area is designated to be passive.

The Forestwood Heights Residents Association and the Cloverdale Residents Association has found two legal documents that are registered on this piece of land with the township. One was from 1983, which states this five acres of property is to be parkland. The second document is dated Jan. 31, 2000 also shows the five acres to be parkland.

The issue of this piece of property has been ongoing since 1990. If this park was truly to be designated as passive it would have been stipulated in the document from 2000.

One resident, who is opposed, said that the residents do want a park, but not near their properties.

The residents who oppose the park are more than willing to have a park installed elsewhere, as long as it is not close to their residences.

This is a five acre piece of property that was designated as parkland. The children's park will take approximately one to two acres at most and the rest of the designated land can be left as passive.

This seems to be a fair compromise and everyone gets what they want.

Gary Curtis
Secretary and Treasurer,
Forestwood Heights Residence Association

Editor's note: I respectfully acknowledge it's possible I misheard Lisa Downes at the meeting — and apologize if the paraphrase was unfair or too general. However, Downes spoke frequently at the meeting, and according to my own memory (and reporting notes) she did ask for definitions, which was separate from the above-mentioned incident where she addressed Estella Rose.

In addition, the current council has decided to honour a July 27, 1992 council decision to allow a pathway and trees (which makes the park fall into the informal category of "passive" — i.e., without equipment like swings or slides).

Council has decided to stick with that 1992 plan to respect the fact that some homeowners purchased their properties believing only a pathway and trees would be maintained in the parkland. A.S.M.

Disgruntled fan angry with the Press

The Editor:
I was greatly disappointed last Wednesday morning, when I stopped in anticipation of buying two copies of the Wed., Oct. 21 edition of the Winchester Press — one for myself, and the other to take into my workplace in Ottawa to present to the staff of our mailroom, who have an Ottawa Senators shrine set up.

I fully expected to see Matt Carkner's picture splattered all over the front page, celebrating his first goal as a Senator on Thurs., Oct. 8 against the New York Islanders.

When I picked the paper up, I was momentarily surprised that there was no picture of Matt, but then, I thought to myself, "Okay, it's in the sports section."

Flipping through, I was dismayed — not even a write up!

One of the other weekly papers at least had a story about Matt's first career National Hockey League (NHL) goal, although it was on the third page.

I realize that the NHL is not normally covered by the Press, but it is a local story — one that should have been celebrated, in my honest opinion.

By the way, I did not purchase the Press last week.

I might never again.

It takes a village to raise a child

The Editor:
Many years ago, 15 to be exact, my oldest daughter was only 2. I was a single working mother who relied on a mishmash of child care which included grandma, grandpa, auntie, and a wonderful neighbour.

I remember someone telling me it takes a village to raise a child.

That comment really resonated with me probably because of my situation and the need to rely on the "village" so often.

Alyssa is now a strong, confident, happy, and successful 17 year old, and when people say to me, "what a great job you did," referring to Alyssa, I always say thanks, but that I didn't do it alone; I had the "village," and I truly mean that.

It was the love, support, and variety of input from that village of people that made her feel safe and connected; it helped create a world for her instead of an island.

Wed., Oct. 21, 2009 was Child Care Worker & Early Childhood Educator Appreciation Day.

It made me think about how important these people are to our children as my mother, father, aunt and neighbour were to my oldest daughter.

Daycare providers and early childhood educators — thank you!

You are not just educators, not just care givers; you are integral members of the village fabric that help our children feel connected.

With connection comes inclusion and support by which we find happiness, and I couldn't want anything more for my children.

Local constituent angry with Lauzon

The Editor:
Even if I am not a big fan of our MP Guy Lauzon, the day I received his big blue sheet "Getting Things Done for SD&SG," I ran over to my neighbour, who's not interested in politics, to show him how rich and what a good person our MP is by giving his own money to the people that need it like seniors groups ($60,000) or the Canadian Colleges Athletic Association ($80,000).

You are so naive, he said to me. It is not his money. Guy Lauzon is not rich. He's paid by you and me, and all the other taxpayers, to represent us in Ottawa. He's lying to us because it's not his money, it's the government's money, so it's your money.

According to my neighbour, Guy did an illegal act because only the Receiver General of Canada can legally sign most government-issued cheques.

I was astonished. My neighbour must be wrong. My MP would never lie to me, because he represents us, because he seems to be an honest guy and he has good values, and because he promised to be transparent and to work for us.

He would never do something illegal just for partisan propaganda purposes. My neighbour also told me that Guy Lauzon is not even a real Conservative because the real Conservatives — the red Tories — have values and work for the people, not only for the party.

He told me that Guy Lauzon is a former Canadian Alliance Party candidate, inspired by the American Republicans.

More than this, my neighbour showed me the title "Lauzon Provides $6 million per year for Gas Tax Transfer," and told me that this is also a lie because it is a program that was put in place by the Liberals before the election of the so-called Conservative Party, and Guy had nothing to do with this. The money is sent automatically each year under the agreement signed before 2006.

Finally, my neighbour showed me that the translation from English to French is so bad that it's an insult to the French-speaking people who live in Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry.

Since this day, I have hoped that Guy Lauzon would explain that my neighbour was wrong and that he never misleads "naive" people like me.

I would like to see him say that it was a mistake and that in the future he will represent us, and not his party.

But each time I think about it, I also remember that my neighbour told me that Guy is not a Conservative but an American Republican and I am afraid for our future.

'Apple of our Eye' baby wall at WDMH

Artist Jerry Wallace

WINCHESTER — One of the goals of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH)'s strategic plan is to increase the numbers of babies born at WDMH.

Since March 1 of this year, 280 babies have been born in the new birth suites, according to the hospital. To honour new families, and to raise funds for WDMH, a large mural was painted on the wall facing the nursing station in the maternal/child centre.

Mementos returned on first birthday

The mural depicts a large apple tree representing the foundation logo — and people are encouraged to make a donation to the foundation in exchange for a shiny red apple with the baby's picture, name and date of birth on it to hang on the wall. On the anniversary of the baby's birth, the apple will be returned to the donor or the parents as a memento of this special occasion, making room for the new "crop" of apples.

This fundraising project will support the equipment needs of the Obstetric department, as well as other areas of the hospital, and will provide a much-needed continuous revenue stream to meet those needs.

The mural was painted by local artist Jerry Wallace. The base of the tree, the wooden pegs, and apples were provided by volunteer Bob Crummy from Hallville.

Back to basics

South Nation Conservation (SNC) has partnered with the Dundas Environmental Awareness Group to not only produce The Healthy Home Guidebook, but run a trade show on Sun., Oct. 25 based on the publication. Businesses with eco-friendly products and other organizations set up displays at the Healthy Home Show in Morrisburg so the public could learn more about how the average person can lead a more "green" lifestyle by making small adjustments at their houses to yield substantial long-term results. Students like Alyson Vandrish (top photo, left), Lindsey Levasseur, and Ashley Akins volunteered to help co-ordinate the event as part of the 40 hours of community service students must complete in order to graduate from high school. The young people packed up bags with information or did face-painting to keep the younger participants entertained. Meanwhile, Michelle Scheerder (above, right), an SNC species at risk assistant, made special "balloon turtles" as part of a display. Press Photos — Smith-Millar

How would you feel about coming across an open grave?

Lucky 13th year for Creepy Creek Camp

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

MOUNTAIN — For the 13th year in a row, the spooky creatures are roaming once again at Creepy Creek Camp on Van Camp Road east of Mountain.

The 20-minute venture through two-and-a-half acres of Paul Allan's property is known as the Haunt Walk, and promises to provide a fright-filled time.

Allan credits his volunteer staff of local high school students who help to make the walk a success year after year.

"They love it," he said, noting that any work they do goes toward their required volunteer hours. "They come here [and work], and then tell their friends, and they tell their friends."

Allan also has more than 25 sponsors that help bring his creation to life each year around Halloween.

However, he said the weather is always the determining factor of the walk's overall success.

"It's all up to mother nature," said Allan, noting that the weather affected his numbers last year, when only 600 people visited.

All in all, Allan has no plans of slowing down his production anytime soon. He continues to begin his creation earlier each year in order to garner the highest level of success.

The Haunt Walk opened for the season on Fri., Oct. 23 and will operate until Sun., Nov. 1. The evening begins at 5:30 pm and is open until 9:30 pm. Admission is $5 per person.

Devils sink Spartans

Rookie Olivia Wouters swished a game-high 19 points and led the North Dundas District High School Senior Devils to a 41-16 SD&G girls high school basketball victory over the Seaway Spartans last week (Oct. 23). Alyson Erwin (8), Kirsten Milne (6), Emily Hilborn (4) and Rebecca de Paiva (3) drained points for the Devils who improved to 3-2-0 with the win. Sloane Jarvis led the Spartans offence with six points. Spartan defender Cassidy Tupper (left) couldn't contain Devils' Rebecca de Paiva on this play.

Hitesman, Hawks blank Brockville

Win string stretched to five

BROCKVILLE — Veteran goaltender Michael Hitesman took his turn in the spotlight and he shone backing the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks in their 4-0 whitewashing of the host Brockville Tikis.

It was the second goose egg for Hitesman in eight games. It was also the third zero in the last five games and fourth in 12 games recorded by a Winchester goaltender this season. Hawks' rookie Ryan Hay has registered the other two perfect results registered by the Hawks (8-4-0) who hold down first-place in the St. Lawrence Division, two points up on the Casselman Vikings (6-3-1).

The Hawks outscored the visiting Gananoque Islanders (5-7-0) 9-6 in Winchester on Friday (Oct. 23) and extended their current winning string to five games by blanking the Tikis 4-0 in Brockville on Sunday (Oct. 25) afternoon.

Hitesman (4-4-0) now sports a 3.45 GAA in 470 minutes of work. Hay (4-0-0) owns the best GAA in the Rideau - St. Lawrence Conference — 0.96 in 249 minutes.

Hawks 4 - Tikis 0

Graham Loyst (6) used a pass provided by rookie Ben Brayman to give the Hawks their winning goal three seconds into Sunday's matinee in Brockville.

Tyler Sutherland (3) scored from James Kirkwood and Taylor Davies at 1:06, of period two to make it 2-0. Brandon Buma (3) connected after taking a feed from Shane Ramsay and Brayman on a Winchester power play at 11:16 and opened up a 3-0 lead. Brayman (5) finished the scoring nailing home another PPG. Kirkwood and Ramsay drew the assists.

Brockville outshot the Hawks 33-18 — 15-8 in the third period.

Hawks 9 - Islanders 6

Veteran Adam Schofield was the scoring ace in Friday's 9-6 win over Gananoque in Winchester. Schofield ripped in three goals (leads the team with seven) including two in the third period.

Gananoque led 2-1 after 20 minutes. The Hawks led 5-4 after two periods.

Rookie Chris Embury registered his first goal in the opening frame. Parker Davies (3), Schofield (5), Buma (2) and Loyst (5) dented twine in period two. Kirkwood (3), Schofield (6 and 7) and Taylor Davis (2) slapped in the third-period tallies.

Assists went to Loyst (3), Kirkwood (2), Alex Krumins (2), Devon Simons (2), Ryan Workman (2), Justin Comeau,

A dream come true

Carkner signs contract extension with Senators

Matt Carkner

OTTAWA — Last year at this time, Matt Carkner was patrolling the blue line for the American Hockey League's Binghamton Senators and riding the bus to one of the circuit's exotic destinations, perhaps Syracuse or Milwaukee.

This week the 29-year-old Morewood native is in the sunny state of Florida where he and the NHL's Ottawa Senators will play games against the Florida Panthers today (Wed., Oct. 28) and Tampa Bay Lightning tomorrow (Thurs., Oct. 29).

It has been a busy month for the former Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks defenceman. Carkner, who attended North Dundas District High School and excelled in throwing the javelin for the Devils, skated with his home town Hawks in 1996-97, played 29 games and collected 18 points (1-18-19).

On Sept. 30, while taking part in the Senators training camp he was informed that he had cracked the Senators' line up and top prospect Brian Lee had been demoted to Binghamton.

The highlight reel continued to fill up for the 6'4', 231-pound blueliner. While playing in the Senators home opener on Thurs., Oct. 8 against the New York Islanders, a 3-2 overtime win, Carkner netted his first NHL goal and drew an assist.

The goal, Carkner said, was definitely a highlight he will remember forever.

"I was nervous, he said. "We celebrated the goal, but then they went upstairs for the Game on

The official face off opened 2009 the Guildcrest Homes - North Dundas Minor Hockey Association Rep "B" Tournament on Saturday morning (Oct. 24). North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons captain Mason Durant (left), tournament director Dawna Whitehead, minor hockey president Hans Hutten and Metcalfe-Russell River Rat captain Owen MacLellan took part. The River Rats skated to a 4-1 win over the Demons. Metcalfe defeated the Kanata Blazers 3-2 in the "A" final. The Athens Aeros took the "B" title taming the Kemptville Panthers 5-2, and the Smiths Falls Bears doubled north Dundas 2-1 in the "C" showdown.

North Dundas Midgets take Mega tourney 'B' titles

Not this time

Arnprior Packer goaltender Michael Cheslock turned back North Dundas Major Midget "B" Demons' forward Pete Klein-Swormink on this play during the second round of the 2009 Guildcrest Homes - North Dundas Minor Hockey Association Tournament game. North Dundas won Sunday's tilt by a 5-2 count. Brandon DeJong pegged a pair of goals for the winners. Press Photo — Van Bridger

WINCHESTER — Both the North Dundas Major and Minor Midget Demons teams captured "B" championships competing in the 2009 Guildcrest Homes - North Dundas Minor Hockey Association Rep "B" Tournament.

The Major "B" Demons, coached by Gary Klein-Swormink, caged the Embrun Panthers 3-1 in Sunday's (Oct. 25) "B" showdown in Winchester. The same afternoon in Chesterville Dale Murdoch's Minor "B" Demons whitewashed the Ottawa Sting 3-0 in their consolation encounter.

Trevor Havekes turned a feed from captain Alex Hendsbee into a 1-0 lead with 4:23 left in the first period of the major "B" title match. Pete Klein-Swormink opened up a 2-0 lead finishing a play started by Dustin Tinkler and Josh Stubbings with 8:34 left in period two. Tinkler then scored from Klein-Swormink with 16 seconds to go in the same frame to make it 3-0.

Goaltender Thomas Giles lost his shutout when Embrun's Eric Martel beat him 5:11 before the final buzzer.

The Panthers nipped North Dundas 2-1 in the opening game. Brandan Oosterhof (from Havekes and Brent Simms) counted the Demons' goal at 6:34 of period two. Shawn Ratte, who counted both goals, fired in Embrun's winning tally with 2:37 left in the game.

The Demons bounced back pounding the Arnprior Packers 5-3 in their second match. Brandon DeJong cracked in two goals, including the tying marker, while Adrian Lee, Hendsbee (GWG) and Tinkler sniped singles. North Dundas trailed 1-0 and 2-0, tied it up in the second and put the win away with three third-period markers. Will Fawcett (2), Lee (2), Dylan Fawcett, Matt Jarvis and DeJong drew assists.

The South Stormont Selects defeated the Kemptville Panthers 3-2 in the "A" final. Arnprior nipped the Loyalist Jets 2-1 in the "C" game.

Minor midgets

Josh Freake popped in a pair of goals and Patrick Speagle buried the single in the Minor "B" Midgets 3-0 victory over the Ottawa Sting in their battle for the "B" title. Matt Picano registered the shutout in Sunday's finale in Chesterville.

North Dundas was outscored in both qualifying games losing 1-0 to the Orleans Blues and 2-1 to the Ottawa Sting. Ryan Romans (from Evan Durant and Francis Lebrun) counted the Demons' goal.

Kanata Blazers took the "A" title beating Orleans 3-0. Char-Lan Rebels doubled Petawawa Patriots 6-3 for the "B" trophy.

Jeff Picco, Karl Henike, Brayman, Schofield and Davis. The Hawks outshot the Islanders 37-31.

This week

The Hawks are slated to play a home-and-home series with the Char-Lan Rebels (3-4-2) this weekend. The Rebels will be in Winchester on Friday (Oct. 30) at 8:15 pm and the Hawks will be in Williamstown on Saturday (Oct. 31) for a 7:45 pm start.

Paper work

Hawks general manager Craig "JB" Smith shuffled some paper recently dealing the playing rights of two former Hawks in exchange for the very popular future considerations. Overage goaltender Devon Armitage went to the South Grenville Rangers and forward Storm Carisse's playing rights were sent to the Almonte Thunder.

Atom Demons win two

MORRISBURG — Brandon Van Bruinessen's unassisted tally, recorded with 4:18 left in the third period, was the difference in the North Dundas Atom House "B" Demons 4-3 win over the South Dundas Lions.

South Dundas led the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game, played in Morrisburg on Saturday (Oct. 24), 1-0 after a period. North Dundas took over in the second and carried a 3-2 lead into period three.

Avery Holmes, Curtis Barkley, Justin Shay and Van Bruinessen booked the goals. Van Bruinessen also picked up an assist.

North Dundas played its 2009-2010 opening game in Morrisburg against the No. 2 Lions last week (Wed., Oct. 21) and skated to a 4-1 victory.

North Dundas goaltender Bayden Carr missed the shutout by a goal, which the Lions scored in the second stanza.

Van Bruinessen (unassisted) cracked in the Demons' first goal in period one. Holmes potted a pair and Shay a single in the second frame. Van Bruinessen and Kyle Findlay collected helper points.

review. It was a long wait to see if it would count or not. I was pretty relieved when the referee signalled it was a goal."

Carkner's brightest highlight — he called it a dream come true — in an exciting month came on Tues., Oct 20 when Senators general manger Bryan Murray announced he had signed Carkner to a two-year, $1.4 million (US) ($700,000 per year - up from $500,00) contract extension.

After living in a hotel for a month with wife Kary and his children Chase (4) and Corbin (2), the Carkner family is looking to purchase a home in Ottawa.

The second-round draft choice (58th) overall of the Montreal Canadiens in 1999 said it feels good to know he has a future in Ottawa for the next two years.

Valcour marker holds up, Maulers edge Flyers 7-6

WINCHESTER — Chad Valcour bagged back-to-back goals late in the second half as Morozuk's Maulers nipped the McLean Flyers 7-6 in Winchester Town Hockey League action.

Winchester Town League

The Maulers-Flyers encounter opened the Tuesday night (Oct. 20) twin bill and the victory improved the Maulers' first-place record to 3-1-1. The Flyers' mark dropped to 1-2-1.

Valcour also drew a pair of assists and finished the game with four points. Dean Byvelds (1-2-3), Phil Duncan (1-1-2), Trevor Morozuk (1-1-2), Derek Vingerhoeds (1-0-1), Scott Baldwin (1-0-1), Scott Reaney (0-2-2), Spencer Dawson (0-1-1), and Mitch Scott (0-1-1) collected points. Chad Kennedy was the winning 'tender.

Trevor Gilmer and Dana Schofield were the Flyers' best shooters, sniping two goals apiece. Matt VanDelst and Nik Paas supplied the singles. Dean Moore, Travis Armstrong, Josh "Champ" McLean, Jon Nadobny, James Gilmer, and Trevor Gilmer earned helper points. Jon Thornton guarded the Flyers' hanger.

Howlers 3 - Rockets 3

Robyn Sadler scored all three goals for Heuff's Howlers (1-2-1) as they battled Sherrer's Rockets (1-1-2) to a 3-3 draw in the second half of the double dip.

Howler captain Justin Heuff drew assists on two of Sadler's tallies. Bill McRoberts also helped out, and one of the markers was unassisted. Jesse Whyte blocked the shots.

Travis Froats, Jeff Wilson and captain Aron Sherrer were the Rocket marksmen. Rob Thurler (2), Justin Morozuk and Sherrer provided passes. Colin Ion tended the nets.

Dog Days

Despite the rainy weather, golfers like Paul Hutt participated in the annual Rufus 2-Person Scramble at Cedar Glen Golf Course in Williamsburg on Saturday (Oct. 24). Jeff Whitteker and Dennis Hutt shot a low gross 65 to win the event. Darrell Shelp and Terry Barkley finished two shots off the pace at 67. The team of Goaler Whitteker and Peter Schoenfeld posted the low net score of 51.5.

Demons outshine Stars 7-1

Mark McRae fires in four, Bantam 'B' squad remain undefeated

WINCHESTER — Mark McRae snapped in the first four North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons goals and set up Patrick Gibson's short-handed marker as his team extended its undefeated string to four games.

Win number four for Tom Kirkwood's squad was a 7-1 decision registered against the visiting Westport-based North Leeds Stars last week (Wed., Oct. 21).

The undefeated Demons (4-0-0) have outscored their Upper Canada District Hockey League opponents by a 29-4 margin.

McRae's five-point game included a power play goal (PPG) and a pair of short handed goals (SHG), and pushed his production totals to 11 goals, five assists, and 16 points in four games. His first two goals against North Leeds were booked in the first period. Mitchell Kirkwood and Patrick Gibson engineered the PPG at 4:10, while Nick Fleury and Dayton Kelly helped him make it 2-0 with 2:15 left in the same frame.

The Chesterville sniper gave his team a 3-0 lead on an unassisted, short handed play at 11:53 of period two. Kirkwood and Aaron Burns created the opportunity for McRae, who cracked in his second consecutive SHG at 8:47. North Dundas pulled into a 5-0 lead with 4:06 left in the same frame when Gibson netted his team's third SHG of the period.

Third-period goals by Kirkwood (from Kelly and Kirk Henike at 11:52) and Henike (from Gibson and Dylan Comeau at 5:22) drove the count to 7-0. North Dundas 'tender Colin Giberson's perfect game vanished when the Stars scored 4:37 before the final buzzer.

Royal LePage OVCA Women's Fall Classic

Lillico to face '07 champ in opener

KEMPTVILLE — The Royal LePage OVCA Women's Fall Classic has attracted another strong field. The 24-team event will be held at the North Grenville Curling Club in Kemptville next week (Nov. 6 - 8).

Jim Dolan, the Fall Classic public relations officer, reports the United States 2010 Olympic team skipped by Debbie McCormick and the 2007 Fall Classic champion Jenn Hanna will compete for the $4,500 winner's portion of the $13,000 purse. Dolan said those rinks would have to be considered as two of the favourites to hoist the Fall Classic Championship trophy.

Winchester Curling Club's Crystal Lillico and her teammates Amber Moulton, Kara Ruiter and Christine Lillico will get first crack at upsetting Jenn Hanna when they meet in their opening game at 1:30 pm on Friday afternoon. While Lillico, who has also curled successfully with the North Dundas District High School Devils, might be considered the overwhelming underdog in the game, Crystal came within a whisker of beating Ontario champion Sherry Middaugh in their opening match last year.

North Grenville also has a team skipped by Jamie Temple entered this year. The Temple rink opens against Laura Payne at 11 am on opening day.

The bonspiel opens on Fri., Nov. 6 at 11 am. Draws run through the day and finish on Saturday. Playoff action will begin on Sunday at 9 am. The semi-finals and the consolation games get underway at 12:30 pm. The championship game will be played at 4 pm. A complete list of teams and all the draw times are available at The Fall Classic website at classic.ovca.com.

Admission is $5 per day with a weekend pass available for $10.

Junior 'spiel

The Lillico rink will also be competing in the JSI OVCA Junior Superspiel which runs from Fri., Oct. 30 to Sun., Nov. 1. Games will be played at various clubs throughout the city of Ottawa. Lillico plays her first game against Brooklyn Lemon from Saskatchewan at 9 am on Friday. Seven provinces have women's teams competing in the Superspiel. For more information, visit the OVCA website.

Collins nets tying goal nine seconds before buzzer

LONG SAULT — Brody Collins saved the day for the North Dundas Bantam House "B" Demons when he cracked a pass provided by Devon Byers and Chelsey Romans into the back of South Stormont Selects' net with just nine seconds left on the clock.

Bantam House 'B' Demons

The Collins marker enabled the Demons to salvage a 5-5 tie with the Selects and extend their Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to 0-1-4. Sunday's (Oct. 25) draw in Long Sault was the fourth consecutive tie for Ken Byers' squad.

North Dundas and South Stormont were knotted 1-1 after a period. The Selects carried a 3-1 lead into the final frame and were enjoying a 5-2 advantage in the final frame when Frisco Macmillan fired in two goals with 2:49 and 1:48 left on the clock to get his team close at 5-4 and set the stage for Collins to tie it up.

MacMillan (2), Patrick Lebrun, Chelsey Romans and Collins pegged the goals. Andrew Findlay (2), Devin Simzer (2), Byers, Romans, Lebrun and MacMillan collected assists. Cam Hedge worked the nets.

Demons 2 - Rangers 2

Lebrun fired in the tying tally with 2:02 left in the game, as the Demons battled the visiting South Grenville No. 1 Rangers to a 2-2 in Chesterville last week (Tues., Oct. 20).

Findlay and Byers set up Lebrun's goal. Simzer cashed in a feed from Joseph Fingler to give North Dundas a 1-0 lead with 49 seconds left in the first period.

Demons 3 - Aeros 3

Chelsey Romans tucked in the deciding goal at 11:09 of the final frame and gave the Demons a 3-3 tie with the host Athens Aeros on Sun., Oct. 18. Findlay and Collins counted the first two markers. MacMillan earned the lone assist. North Dundas led 1-0 after a period and trailed 3-2 after two.

Holmes scores winner

Novice House 'C' Demons tie Rangers 5-5

SPENCERVILLE — Chase Holmes took a pass from Justin Schoenfeld and scored the deciding goal with just 25 seconds left on the clock. It was the second goal of the game for Holmes and gave the North Dundas Novice House "C2" Demons a 5-5 tie with the South Grenville "C2" Rangers.

The Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game was played in Spencerville last week (Wed., Oct. 21). The host Rangers led 2-1 after a period and 4-3 after two sessions. They were holding a 5-3 led when the Demons rallied with a pair of late goals and salvaged a point in the 5-5 tie.

Elyssa McLeod turned a play started by Kaitlyn Minish into the Demons' four goal (5-4) with 3:15 on the clock. That marker set the stage for Holmes to crack in the tying goal 25 seconds before the final buzzer.

Emily Eikelboom (from Curtis Bell at 9:07) netted the first North Dundas tally. Holmes (from Nicholas Brugmans at 9:50) and McLeod (from Bell at 8:57) pegged the two second-period markers.

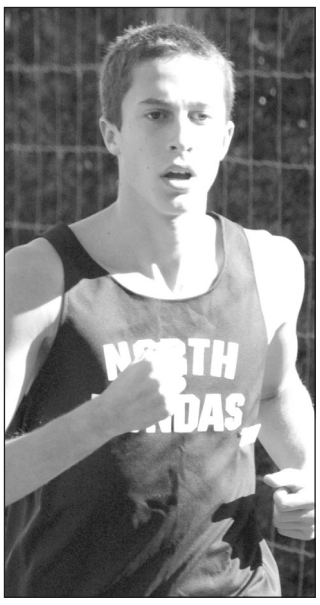
NDDHS claims two team titles at SD&G cross-country meet

CORNWALL — Nine members of the North Dundas District High School Devils cross country team earned top 10 points running in the 2009 SD&G championship meet.



Jon Corkery led the NDDHS senior boys squad, finishing 11th.

Junior Victor Delage posted the best finish by a Devil, placing third in a time of 21:45. Senior Paige Warren finished fourth in 20:44 and was followed across the finish line by her senior teammates — Madison Koekkoek, who was fifth (21:25), Tasha Vanderveen, who finished sixth (21:37), and Christina O'Connor placed ninth (24:12).

Three members of the junior girls squad also gained a top 10 ranking — Rebecca dePaiva — finished sixth (19:54), Jessica VanWinden — ninth (20:38) and Bailey Milne — crossed the line in 10th (21:22) place.

North Dundas also captured two team championships in the competition held last week (Tues., Oct. 20) at Gray's Creek Conservation Area, east of Cornwall.

The North Dundas junior girls claimed their division title collecting 37 points on dePaiva's sixth, Van Winden's ninth, Milne's 10th and Isabel Schmidt's 12th-place finishes (6, 9, 10, 12 = 37 points). Tagwi placed second with 51 points.

North Dundas also grabbed the senior girls' gold, registering 24 points on Warren's fourth, Koekkoek's fifth, Vanderveen's sixth and O'Connor's ninth (4, 5, 6, 9 = 24 points). CCVS was next best with a total of 50 points.

The Char-Lan Crusaders led the parade to the trophy table collecting the Overall Boys and Overall Girls trophies. The Crusaders also won the midget girls championship.

The boys divisional winners were: St. Joe's Panthers - midget boys; Holy Trinity Falcons - junior boys; CCVS Raiders - senior boys. Char-Lan was runner up in all three brackets.

Usually just the top three runners in each division would move on to EOSSAA Friday (Oct. 30) in Renfrew, but because there is room for all runners in cross country, every athlete who crossed the finish line at SD&G is allowed to compete at EOSSAA.

The Devils dues

A team of 18 athletes represented the NDDHS Devils at the 2009 SD&G championships.

Midget girls: Amber Moke - 17th and Jodie Hall - 18th.

Devils end boys' volleyball season with wins over Rothwell-Osnabruck

MAPLE RIDGE — Both the North Dundas District High School Junior and Senior Devils finished the 2009 SD&G boys high school volleyball season with winning records.

Coach Cheryl Williams and the Senior Devils played their final matches on their home hardwood on Monday (Oct. 26) and finished the afternoon with a 4-2 record and eight points. The Devils lost 2-1 to the first-place Holy Trinity Falcons (25-17, 21-25, 16-25) and swept the Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers 3-0 (25-12, 25-23, 25-14).

"We had some great hits and blocks against Holy Trinity's very, very strong hitters," said Williams. "We shut them down up the middle with awesome blocks but lost momentum in the second set and were unable to get the hits in the court."

The Devils took on the Tagwi Warriors (Mon., Oct. 19) in Avonmore in their previous match and blanked their hosts 3-0 (25-14, 25-15, 25-18).

Williams explained that the playoffs are set for Tues., Nov. 10 but she won't know if North Dundas will host their semi-final game until the standings are finalized later this week. The Devils were ranked second behind Holy Trinity before the final standings were tallied.

North Dundas completed the regular season with a 27-6 record.

Junior Devils

Ian Wilson's Junior Devils also played out the regular schedule at home on Monday losing 2-1 (25-19, 13-25, 17-25) to Holy Trinity and defeating Rothwell-Osnabruck 2-1 (26-24, 25-21, 24-26).

A week earlier (Mon., Oct. 19) the Devils were at Tagwi where they knocked off the St. Lawrence Saints 2-1 (25-12, 25-9, 23-25) and the host Warriors 2-1 (25-14, 25-18, 21-25).

Overall the juniors, ranked in the top three, put together a 27-12 mark. The junior playoffs are also slated for Tues., Nov. 10.

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM THE H1N1 FLU VIRUS

The H1N1 flu virus is different from regular seasonal flu. This is a new strain of influenza and humans have little to no natural immunity to it. The H1N1 flu virus has spread quickly around the world and in June 2009, the World Health Organization declared it a pandemic.

Plan ahead

- Learn how to recognize the flu symptoms and when you need to see a health care provider.
- Get the H1N1 flu vaccine when it becomes available.
- Speak to your family and friends about how you can help each other during the flu season.
- Stock up on essentials such as pain and fever medications, and easy meals.

Winchester Home Hardware recently donated a Bush Bear ATV to North Dundas District High School. Tech students in teacher Andrew Whitton's auto class will be working to service and upgrade the older vehicle, which would have retailed for about $1,800. Whitton plans to teach the students how to service brakes using the donation. The ATV will later be sold at a school fundraising auction. Who are better drivers — men or women?

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

Ask this controversial question — "Which gender is worse at driving?" — and you're bound to ignite an intense discussion.

Google the issue, and you'll come up with countless posts from people who are more than willing to volunteer their opinions (some of which are so sexist they can't be printed here).

Unsurprisingly, most comments are directed at ladies.

There are gag pictures of women applying makeup using their rear-view mirrors while swerving on four-lane highways.

There are comments like the one left by a Debate.org commentator, who wrote that women are "typically preoccupied with thoughts of things like shopping and flowers which means they do not concentrate their minds on their driving, which leads to accidents."

There's the often repeated and wildly inappropriate joke: "Question: Why couldn't Helen Keller drive? Answer: Because she was a woman."

Common knowledge seems to suggest that women are clueless and spatially challenged, always one distraction away from totalling their husbands' vehicles.

But what do statistics suggest?

Multiple studies have concluded that men are overwhelmingly more dangerous behind the wheel. In 2007, Carnegie Mellon University researchers found that men are 77 per cent more likely than women to die in a car crash, based on miles driven. Back in 1992, research published in Accident Analysis and Prevention found that men have literally double the number of crashes per 1,000 drivers compared to women. A 2001 analysis found men not only get into more accidents on average, but have their first crash earlier in their driving careers and are more likely than women to be at fault.

"Levels of deviant (rule-breaking) behaviour are significantly higher in men than in women," summarized a 2004 paper prepared by the Social Issues Research Centre in Oxford, England called Sex Differences in Driving and Insurance Risk. "This manifests itself in a greater frequency of violation of traffic regulations, including speed limits, traffic controls, [drunk] driving, etc."

But if it's the men who are more dangerous on the road, where did the clueless woman driver stereotype come from?

One Queen Mary, University of London study — which is a popular search item on the Internet — suggested gay men and women are more likely to be worse drivers. The study, however, involved computer simulation, not driving tests. In the Morris Water Maze test, participants were in a virtual pool and needed to escape as quickly as possible using spatial clues to find a hidden platform. The study found that gay men, straight women, and lesbians performed the task more slowly than heterosexual men.

Did the findings imply that gay men and women have a tough time navigating in an unfamiliar environment because they rely on familiar landmarks, the researchers wondered?

Meanwhile, in a 2002 publication, Cradle Attitudes – Grave Consequences: The development of gender differences in risky attitudes and behaviour in road use, researchers found that ladies and men tend to get into different kinds of accidents. Men are more likely to crash on bends or in the dark, and they are more likely to be in accidents involving overtaking. Meanwhile, ladies are more likely to crash at junctions.

Could it be that women drivers tend to be less spatially aware, but the aggressive tendencies of men mean they're involved in a substantially greater number of serious crashes?

Membership boom in 2009 for Hwy. 43 Car Club

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

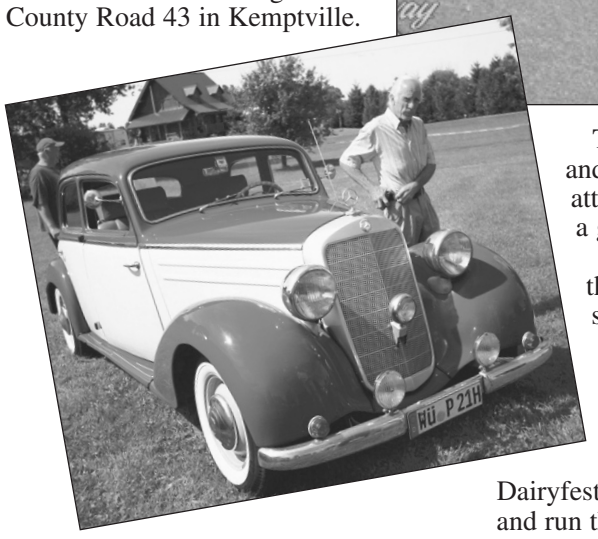
It's been a busy year for the Highway 43 Car Club — and if the substantial rise in membership is any indication, the automotive hobby is here to stay.

"It's just growing and growing in leaps and bounds," said club founder Rod Rafter, who runs the organization with the help of many participants.

The club has grown from about 30 members to 80 in this year alone.

The group has members from Kemptville, Winchester, Chesterville, Merrickville, and all across the Ottawa region.

The club's main function is running a weekly cruise night. It takes place every Friday night at the Food Basics along County Road 43 in Kemptville.



There is no shortage of unique and interesting cars, often attracting 80 or more vehicles on a good night.

"The friends and the people that you meet are just great," said Rafter.

The club has wrapped up activities for the year, which has been a busy one. Besides running a cruise night, the club brought a car show to Dairyfest in Winchester, helped organize and run the Merrickville Car Show, and threw a Canada Day party at Bill Osborne Chevrolet in Kemptville.

They also raised money for Children's Wish Foundation of Canada through draws and raffles, which are supported by donations from local businesses.

Rafter said next year, the club aims to attract even more members from the County Road 43 region and beyond.

"We want to keep expanding down the road in both directions," said Rafter.

For more information, visit the website at www.Hwy43CarClub.com or call Rafter at 613-258-7567.

GET ROAD-READY FOR WINTER

We'll get you off to a great start with our money-saving seasonal vehicle maintenance specials!

IS YOUR VEHICLE READY?

Face it, sooner or later we will see snow, freezing rain, cold weather and poor road conditions. We all think that everything is looked after. We all think we are ready, but here are a few things we might have forgotten.

1) Has your battery been tested?
2) Are your wiper blades in good condition?
3) Does your key lock and unlock the doors? Do not just depend on the keyfob.
4) Lubricate your door rubbers. This helps to prevent them from freezing to the vehicle body and prevents some frustration in the morning or when leaving after work.
5) Have a snowbrush in your vehicle.
6) For the do-it-yourself person, check your anti-freeze strength.
7) Remember, the 4-wheel-drive vehicles must have all tires measuring the same circumference in order to prevent transfer case problems.
8) When was your ignition system last checked? Damaged plug wires do not work hand-in-hand with blowing snow.
9) Keep at least a half-full tank of fuel to prevent condensation.

NOW ARE YOU READY?

1) Ladies! The high-heel shoes look great and go good with your outfit, but are not worth a darn when you slide off the road. Keep winter boots in the vehicle.
2) Do you have some type of blanket in case you are stranded?
3) Have a winter coat and some type of cap in case of an emergency.
4) Flashlight: the crank style is the best, no batteries to go dead.
5) Winter hand protection: dress gloves are usually not that warm for a long period of time.
6) Remember, it is best to stay with your vehicle until help comes.
7) Remember, 4-wheel drive vehicles can also slide off the road.

Ban on cell phone use while driving in effect

New law makes it illegal to talk, text, or dial while behind the wheel

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

On Mon., Oct. 26, a new provincial law came into effect, which bans the use of hand-held electronic devices while operating a motor vehicle.

However, the Ontario Ministry of Transportation said drivers will be granted a three-month "education period."

Also banned will be the use of communication and entertainment devices, such as iPods and GPS systems that are not firmly mounted to vehicle dashboards.

"It's about keeping our roads safe and limiting distractions that can be dangerous for the driver," said Nicole Lippa-Gasparro, a spokeswoman for the Ministry of Transportation.

It is the expectation that police officers will be more lenient during the phase in period, emphasizing education about the new law, which arrives under the Ontario government's new Countering Distractive Driving and Promoting Green Transportation Act.

"It's going to take a lot of contacts [with drivers]," said Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP Inspector Dave Springer, noting that many drivers have a heavy dependency on their cell phones and other electronic devices.

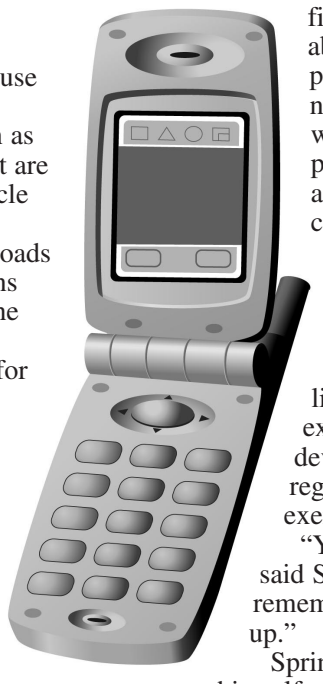
A recent study by the Virginia Tech Transportation Institute found that drivers (truckers, transportation drivers, and other motorists) who were texting while driving were almost 23 times mores likely to have an accident or near miss, compared to non-distracted drivers.

The study showed that texting drivers often look down from the road for 4.6 seconds over a six-second interval.

"This equates to a driver travelling the length of a football field at 55 miles per hour [88.5 kilometres per hour] without looking at the roadway," wrote the authors of the study.

Police are expected to actually begin issuing tickets on Feb. 1, 2010 after fines have been set in stone.

At that time, penalties of up to $500 will be issued to drivers caught using a prohibited hand-held device. However, those convicted of the offence will not be issued demerit points.



Police, paramedics, and firefighters will continue to be able to use the devices while performing their duties under new regulations, and all drivers will still be allowed to use cell phones to call 911. Drivers can also avoid the fine by using a cell phone headset or voice dialing.

Springer said the new law is being brought in to make highways safer for all travellers, and officers in the line of duty will still be expected to use hand-held devices in a "safe manner," regardless of whether they're exempt from the law or not.

"You can't just text and drive," said Springer. "[People] often don't remember the last time they looked up."

Springer even went as far as to use himself as an example, noting that he has a tendency to frequently use his cell phone and other electronic devices while driving.

"I'll certainly be weaning myself off," he said.

With the new legislation, Ontario joins Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and Labrador, and Quebec, as well as multiple countries around the world.

In the United States, six states have passed outright bans, while the move is being debated in several others.

The Ministry of Transportation has also said that two-way radios used by those in the transport industry, including taxi cabs and school buses, will be phased out in the next three years.

A few basic safety tips:

- Avoid unnecessary calls and always make the driving task your top priority.
- Keep both hands on the wheel and keep your eyes on the road.
- Learn how to operate your hands-free device without looking at it.
- Program numbers for easy hands-free dialing.
- Don't get so wrapped up in a conversation that you drift into the other lane. Pull off the road if it's safe and legal to do so. This is critical if it's an important or heated conversation.
- Keep conversations brief. That way you can concentrate on your driving.
- Drive defensively; watch out for other motorists who are not paying attention.

Parcoll Products Limited hits the big 4-0 with NAPA

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

After three generations of operation, it's still business as usual at Winchester's Parcoll Products Limited.

It has been 56 years since the company's founder, William C. Collins, began manufacturing aluminum-based products at the old Melvin Automotive building on St. Lawrence Street — currently where the library, fire hall, and Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP detachment building now stands.

Eventually the company outgrew its original location and moved across town to the current Winchester Print building. An addition was built in 1974, but before long, it was time to move again.

"We simply outgrew the old store," said Bill Collins, William's grandson, who currently operates the business with his sister, Kathy Shay. They took over in 2004.

During the 1950s, aluminum was seen as the "metal of the future," because it was strong and lightweight, offering unlimited potential. William C. Collins took advantage of its possibilities.

However, what began as only the aluminum products manufacturing plant soon blossomed into a chain of auto parts stores serving a large portion of rural eastern Ontario.

In 1969, Parcoll began selling products in the United Auto Parts chain, which was taken over by the National Auto Parts Association (NAPA) in 1992.

The company is now located between its former building and the LCBO on Main Street.

With that move, it was time to head in a new direction with the look of the storefront.

"It was meant as a way to build a more retail [oriented] concept," said the younger Collins. "To give it a futuristic look."

The change was ahead of its time for the auto parts sales industry. At that time, the sales desk was typically located at the front of the store, with the products on shelves behind it.

However, when Parcoll made its changes, the sales desk was moved to the back of the store in order to display the parts more prominently.

The switch to NAPA has also paid off exponentially for the business, said Collins.

"The parts proliferation is a challenge," said Collins. "Our inventory has grown a lot."

Collins also said that the introduction of computers in 1989 helped to increase the availability of certain "obscure" products that can't be found in most stores.

"The electronic catalogue is amazing," said Collins, noting the hundreds of thousands of products ready to purchase at any time.

Collins also credits some of the company's success to the lack of turnover with its employees, including Clarence Watson, who has been with the auto parts wholesaler since the inception in 1969.

"You can't replace all that knowledge," said Collins.

For Watson, after all those years, it's getting time for him to wind down soon, but the work isn't over yet.

"I'll be here full-time until the end of the year," said Watson, at which point he said they will all decide what course to take from there.

"You can't put your feet up yet," said Collins to a laughing Watson.

For now, Collins said he expects the company will continue moving forward.

"Every day is an adventure, and every day is a challenge," said Collins. "But I'll continue to get up in the morning and come to work."

Collins and his sister both have families of their own, but it's not clear yet whether or not a fourth generation will be taking over the business operations.

Parcoll also operates stores in Kemptville, Morrisburg, and Prescott, with 25 staff collectively between the four locations.

What you should know about the demerit point system

Drivers convicted of certain driving-related offences have demerit points recorded on their driving records. It is a common misconception that drivers "lose" points due to convictions for certain traffic offences. In fact, a driver begins with zero demerit points and accumulates points for various convictions.

Demerit points stay on a driver's record for two years from the offence date. If enough points are collected, the licence can be suspended.

Below is a list outlining the demerit point penalties for driving offences.

Seven points:

Failing to remain at the scene of a collision, or failing to stop when signalled/requested by a police officer.

Six points:

Careless driving, racing, exceeding the speed limit by 50 kilometres/hour or more, or failing to stop for a school bus.

Five points:

Driver of a bus failing to stop at an unprotected railway crossing.

Four points:

Exceeding the speed limit by 30 to 49 kilometres/hour, or following too closely.

Three points:

Exceeding the speed limit by 16 to 29 kilometres/hour; driving through, around, or under a railway crossing barrier; failing to yield the right-of-way; failing to obey a stop sign, traffic control stop/slow sign, traffic light, or railway crossing signal; failing to obey the directions of a police officer; driving the wrong way on a divided road; failing to report a collision to a police officer; improper driving when the road is divided into lanes; crowding the driver's seat; going the wrong way on a one-way road; driving or operating a vehicle on a closed road; crossing a divided road where no proper crossing is provided; failing to slow and carefully pass a stopped emergency vehicle; failing to move, where possible, into another lane when passing a stopped emergency vehicle; improper passing; or improper use of high occupancy vehicle lane.

Two points:

Improper opening of a vehicle door; prohibited turns; towing people on toboggans, bicycles, skis, etc.; failing to obey signs; failing to stop at a pedestrian crossing; failing to share the road; improper right turn; improper left turn; failing to signal; unnecessary slow driving; reversing on a divided high-speed road; driver failing to wear a seat belt; driver failing to ensure that a passenger less than 23 kilograms is properly secured; driver failing to ensure that a passenger under 16 years is wearing a seat belt; failing to lower headlight beams; backing on a highway; driver failing to ensure infant/child passenger is properly secured in an appropriate child restraint system or booster seat.

R/T Auto moves to a new home

Winchester's R/T Auto Center recently relocated to a new address at 12034 County Road 3 (Main Street), and marked the occasion with a customer appreciation day on Sat., Oct. 3. The auto center previously spent nine years at its former St. Lawrence Street location, before owner Todd Kirkwood and his family moved the business to its new (and much bigger) home. The structure features a larger and brighter working area, equipped with four hydraulic hoists. There is also an expanded front yard, which allows for the sale of more automobiles, along with tire sales and general vehicle maintenance. Here, an R/T mechanic works below a Hydro One truck as it sits on one of the new hoists.

How to get the most mileage out of every tank of fuel this winter

Follow these fuel-efficient driving tips from Natural Resources Canada (NRCan) and make fewer trips to the gas station this winter:

• Avoid aggressive driving behaviours, such as quick starts and hard stops – this can increase your fuel consumption by up to 39 per cent;

• Drive at the posted speed limit – decreasing your cruising speed from 120 km/h to 100 km/h will decrease fuel consumption by approximately 20 per cent;

• Don't idle – idling for more than 60 seconds uses more fuel and produces more CO2 compared to restarting your engine;

• Use cruise control – on dry, flat, wide-open highways, use cruise control to help improve fuel efficiency by maintaining an even and steady speed;

• Take the most fuel-efficient route – routes with fewer stop lights and less traffic may use less fuel than shorter routes with more stop lights and heavy traffic;

• Maintain your vehicle properly – a poorly maintained vehicle consumes more fuel, produces higher levels of emissions, requires expensive repairs, and has a lower resale value;

• Measure your tire pressure once a month – a single tire under-inflated by just 56 kilopascals (eight pounds per square inch) can increase your vehicle's fuel consumption by four per cent;

• Calculate your mileage – set your odometer every time you fill up and challenge yourself to get better and better readings. NRCan has a handy online fuel calculator on their website at www.vehicles.nrcan.gc.ca.

Inflate your tires properly this winter to stay safe and save money

Make sure you practice proper tire inflation techniques before the snow flies or you could find yourself needing a tow truck, or worse, an ambulance.

Since the air pressure in tires supports the weight of your car, it is absolutely vital that you inflate your tires to just the right degree. This is especially important in winter when tires lose their pressure faster in colder weather. Under-inflating or over-inflating your tires increases your fuel consumption and therefore your expenditures, pumps out unnecessary harmful emissions and increases the risk of damage and injury to you, your passengers, and your vehicle.

Here are a few tips from Transport Canada to maintain proper winter tire inflation:

• Measure your tire inflation at least once a month;

• Measure the pressure when the tires are cold (after two hours of non-use or less than two kilometres of driving). Tires lose pressure when the air temperature gets colder (about seven kilopascals, or one pound per square inch, for every 5°C drop in temperature). Tires may also lose a certain amount of pressure due to their permeability (about 14 kilopascals or two pounds per square inch per month);

• Inflate your tires to the recommended pressures printed on the label inside your car or in your owner's manual;

• Use a high quality gauge such as those sold at automotive supply stores;

• Under-inflation increases rolling resistance, which reduces tread life and increases fuel consumption. It can also lead to sudden tire failure. Without enough air, the sides of a tire bend and flex too much. This builds up heat, which can cause serious damage. Operating a vehicle with just one tire underinflated by 56 kilopascals (eight pounds per square inch) can reduce the life of the tire by 15,000 kilometres and can increase the vehicle's fuel consumption by four per cent;

• Over-inflation can be a problem, too. An over-inflated tire rides on just the centre portion of the tread. The smaller contact area means reduced grip on the road. This can lead to a harsh ride, handling issues (such as steering and stopping problems) and increased wear on tires and suspension components.

Transport Canada has posted these and other tire maintenance tips on its website: http://www.tc.gc.ca/roadsafety/tp/tp2823/inflating.htm.

It's time to change your winter tires

Ron Wattie (front), service manager with WJL Boyd and Sons Ltd. in Winchester, along with autobody technician Steve Knapp switched a convertible's summer tires to winter ones last week on Thurs., Oct. 22. Experts recommend drivers change their tires before the first snowfall of the year — not after.

Tips for safe winter driving

1. Get your vehicle ready for winter in the fall.
2. Install four matching winter tires.
3. Pack an emergency kit.
4. Learn and practice winter driving techniques before you need them.
5. Plan your trip, check road and weather conditions.
6. Remove all snow from your vehicle before each trip.
7. Give yourself extra travel time in bad weather by getting an earlier start.
8. Avoid using overdrive and cruise control on slippery roads.
9. Travel with a fully charged cell phone and full gas tank.
10. Slow down and wear your seatbelt.

Transport Canada expands on each of these winter driving tips on its website at http://www.tc.gc.ca/roadsafety/safevehicles/safetyfeatures/WinterDriving/tips.htm.

In Memoriam

CLARK – In loving memory of my Mother, Bessie.
You sacrificed so much for us
And did it willingly,
You gave us love and soothed our pains
And worried endlessly.
You washed our clothes and cleaned our home
And did the shopping too,
You never loved us any less
For what we put you through.
We were always first to you
We never had a doubt,
If there was something that we needed
You would go without.
You gave so freely of yourself
So we could be our best,
That's something many never know
And why I feel so blessed.
I never thought I'd feel such pain
So many tears I've cried,
But you still live within my heart
You never really died.
– Love you and miss you dearly, Joan

33

RUDOWSKI – In loving memory of my dear son Kevin Roger Joseph.
October 11, 1984 - October 31, 2000
– Missing you so very much, Mom

Cookies, anyone?

It's that time of year again! Brownie Madison Hart and her fellow Girl Guides of Canada participants started selling their famous chocolate-and-mint cookies last week. Proceeds are reinvested in the program to allow the Girl Guides organization to continue offering its programs.

Happy news

The SD&G Community Futures Development Corporation presented a $10,000 grant to Happy Face Nursery School on Thurs., Oct. 22. That same day, Happy Face handed over the amount to the Township of North Dundas (with the assistance of students). The township temporarily covered renovation costs to upgrade Happy Face's Chesterville site, so the nursery school could double as a daycare. Front row: Carter Chambers (left); Logan Lynn; Alex Cormier; and Chloe Lynn. Back row: Tara Herfkens, a Happy Face staff member, holding Angelina Wubs; Terry Besner, Community Futures representative; Sheila McDonald, a Happy Face volunteer, with her children, Zander and Sadie McDonald; Eric Duncan, councillor for the Township of North Dundas; and Samantha Pemberton, a Happy Face staff member, holding Tessa Wubs.

Missionary society learns about new beginnings in Hungary

by Donna Wilson

SPENCERVILLE — It was a beautiful autumn day when the Brockville Presbyterial Women's Missionary Society met at the St. Andrew's-Knox Presbyterian Church in Spencerville on Tues., Oct. 20. They welcomed a special guest — Mary Gorombey, a Canadian of Hungarian descent on furlough from Hungary.

President Margaret Reynolds introduced the guest, who has helped many refugees in Hungary. In Budapest, she was sent out by the Presbyterian Church in Canada in partnership with the Reformed Church in Hungary to complete charitable work.

Hungary spends much of its money on strengthening three external borders and on its responsibilities that go with being part of the European Union. The reformed mission centre meets the needs of addicts, the blind, and the homeless, and is a family and marriage therapy centre. Gorombey works in the schools set up for refugees. Preschool teachers' aids are trained, and youth under 18 are prepared for integration into the school system by learning the Hungarian language. A housing integration program is set up with apartments and utilities free for a year. Skills are taught for coping with life in a different culture. Most refugees are women and children under 18 who are victims of persecution in their native land and seek sanctuary.

Gorombey tutors students, gives an allowance for attendance, monitors behaviour, and oversees the supplying of money for transit, school supplies, and clothing. She also gives social support, counselling, and encouragement. She works one-on-one with her students, teachers, headmasters, and social workers. She credits the co-workers in Canada and Hungary with helping create success stories of graduates who are grateful for a new beginning.

Donna Wilson thanked Gorombey for her dedication to the displaced. She also thanked the hostesses who served dessert, as well as those from Brockville First Church Women's Missionary Society who lead the group to consider acting positively when opportunity knocks, as directed by the Bible.

The group was reminded about future meetings on Thurs., Jan. 28 at Knox Presbyterian Church in Morrisburg, and Fri., April 23 and Sat., April 24 for the synodical at St. Paul's in Kemptville.

Healthy turnout for three-night cabaret

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Dundas County Players (DCP) theatre troupe has wrapped up another successful cabaret fundraiser for the season to help pay for props, costumes, and other future production expenses.

The Coffee House Cabaret took place on the evenings of Fri., Oct. 23 and Sat., Oct. 24, as well as a final matinee performance on Sun., Oct. 25. The production featured songs, skits, dancing and one-act plays. There was also the Coffee CAKE House Band (named after its members: Colleen Howard, Arlene Nesbitt, Kathy Spruit, and Elizabeth Barton).

The DCP is still counting proceeds from the run. However, Barton — who co-directed the play with Tony Glen — said sales and attendance were good for the cabaret, considering the troupe ran three shows.

"We usually just do the cabaret for one night," she explained.

One of the highlights was the play Worth It by local writer Moira Law. The production is scheduled to compete at the Eastern Ontario Drama League 2009 One-Act Festival in Perth in November.

Barton pointed out that Howard directed the music and put together special musical arrangements.

"It was nice to have a full band," she added.

The players' next full-length seasonal production will be Ethan Claymore, a comedy by Norm Foster directed by Bill Steele. It's scheduled to run the weekend of Fri., Nov. 20 to Sun., Nov. 22 and Fri., Nov. 27 to Sun., Nov. 29. For more information, call 613-448-3534.

Badior played a bitter elderly lady reflecting on her dubious love life choices in the one-act play, Worth It.

At left:
Ventrella (left) and Glen sang a comedy song about a customer who desperately wants a plain old cup of coffee — and an enthusiastic waiter who wants to offer him everything fancy on the menu.

RAPA's A Few Good Men starts Nov. 4

RUSSELL — Rehearsals and preparations are underway for the Russell Association for the Performing Arts (RAPA) inaugural theatrical production in the theatre group's new venue.

A Few Good Men will appear on the new stage of Russell High School (RHS)'s cafetorium from Wed., Nov. 4 to Sat., Nov. 7. There will also be a gala evening on Thurs., Nov. 5 to mark the occasion.

RAPA has had a busy year securing funding for sound and lighting equipment (including an Ontario Trillium Foundation grant) to further enhance the theatrical experience for audiences. The equipment has been recently installed in RHS and will be used for the first time during this run.

There is ample excitement in the development of the upcoming play. Actors said they are thrilled to be rehearsing on a "real" stage, making movement and blocking much easier. There will also be a "green room" and the technical crew is working with new equipment. The set design team is looking forward to decorating the stage in an interesting, adaptable way. Costume and make-up teams will have space to properly set up and attend to the actors.

A Few Good Men was a Broadway hit, written by Aaron Sorkin, before it was adapted for the screen in a 1992 film starring Tom Cruise, Jack Nicholson and Demi Moore.

All plays will take place at 7:30 pm. Opening night is Wed., Nov. 4, and while it's a special performance for seniors, anyone can attend. Other dates include the gala night (invitation only) on Thurs., Nov. 5; and two dates for the general public on Fri., Nov. 6 and Sat., Nov. 7. Please note that language may not be suitable for all ages.

Tickets are $15 for adults or $12 for seniors and students. Tickets can be purchased in Russell at Pronto, Foodland or Angles Hair Salon.

Visit the troupe's website http://rapa.ncf.ca/ for more information.
