

Nominations to-night in Community hall

Reeve, 4 councillors, 3 P. S. board members open for annual nomination to-night

Thursday night is nomination night in Chesterville. At that time the reeve and councillors and three members of the public school board will be nominated for the 1967 term.

Last year's nominations found the council, reeve and school board members in by acclamation. Reeve Carl Merkley continued his record of never having to compete in an election for reeve; councillors were Keith Graham, Allan Clement, James Fyke and James Moran. School board members in for two years were Stuart Allan, Archie Black and Lorne Thompson.

This year school board members Leon McMillan, Jack Fulton and Grenville Fyke will be up for replacement or renomination and election.

The year past has been a busy one for the village government. The program of road reconstruction has continued. College Street received a facelifting for part of its length. Other major projects saw an extension of the water system to service the west side of the town above the fair grounds. A new sub division is coming into being there. The town also allowed the installation of natural gas mains under village streets. Most of the streets are now serviced. The remaining ones will be done as street rebuilding is continued, according to Lakeland Gas, the installing company.

The centennial swimming pool is partially completed and by Spring will be ready for use. Water was laid in to the Community Park rink at the same time as the pool was serviced.

Construction in the village has continued at a high level. The new Nestle addition is soon to be in operation and house building has added much to the village assessment. That figure now stands at over $1,800,000.

A new dam in the river east of the present Nestle structure is to be built next summer. All approvals are now in and South Nation Authority will be calling tenders in early Spring. The new dam will increase the pond level by one foot above the present level.

The village government overspent the budget by some $4000 this past year. Several items accounted for this including a rush job on the community hall to be ready for Centennial year. The renovations are not yet complete. A second pickup truck was purchased to assist the village maintenance crew. School costs for a wonder contributed little to the deficit. NDDHS was in good shape as was CPS and their demands were well within their budgets.

Acclaim council at Finch

There will be no election in Finch village as incumbent members of the village council will take office by acclamation.

The only prospective newcomer to the council table, Barry Brownlee, did not qualify for election when the statutory deadline ran out. Therefore the former councillors were declared re-elected.

At nomination meeting, incumbent reeve Lynden Hough was nominated and was unopposed, even by nominees. Nominees for council were Merrit Campbell, Lindsay Hutt, Ellery Ouderkerk, Keith MacMillan and Barry Brownlee; all but Mr. Brownlee being the incumbents in office.

Gordon MacIntyre will represent the village on the Public School Area Board, and was the only nominee for the post. Incumbent Hydro commissioners Roy Rupert and Carl Waldroff were reelected to their posts.

Linda Duvall elected president of Newington C.G.I.T.

The first meeting of Newington C.G.I.T. was held at the church hall. The year's activities were outlined and officers were elected as follows:

Grenville-Dundas Y.P.C. hold successful banquet

"Y.P.C.'s didn't down Mr. Dief, but the young at heart did," stated Dr. Jack Hewitt, chairman of the Eastern Ontario Y.P.C., in his address to the Grenville-Dundas Y.P.C.'s Wednesday evening at a Grenville Lodge banquet.

To substantiate his statement he cited that the Y.P.C.'s were responsible for about 10% of 120 of 1100 votes. He also commented that, "We did what the other parties didn't have the guts to do." Mrs. Waddis, M.P., endorsed Dr. Hewitt's statements, and admitted that she was happy and optimistic about the future of the party. She told those present that it was her purpose to see that a democratic vote by secret ballot be obtained. It was for this reason that she had served on the national executive, the resolutions committee, and took an active part in the recent three-day annual meeting in Ottawa.

Dr. Hewitt expressed, "That the Y.P.C. movement is not a take-over of the party, but is an arm." "It is the responsibility of this arm to assist in electing M.P.'s and M.P.P.'s in each riding, also to attract young people into the ranks, and to educate them in the field of politics. He pointed out that the Y.P.C.'s will not allow radicals, but will endeavour to assist in promoting the P.C. policy of bulwark against socialism.

Comments of appreciation and success were extended by Mrs. Jean Waddis, M.P., Mr. Fred Cass, M.P.P., and Mr. Boyd, senior association president. Mr. Cass disclosed that there has been no decision by The Department of Highways in conjunction with the Brockville - Prescott Highway 2 issue, as the situation is still under study.

In the business meeting that followed, the members accepted the following slate of officers presented by Bob Grey, spokesman for the nominating committee: president, Charles Farling; 1st vice-president, James Pur-

Chesterville Rotary hears guest speaker at Monday meeting

Monday evening's meeting of Chesterville Rotary Club opened with a one-minute meditation in memory of Dolton Henry, secretary of the club. President Lorne Thompson was in the chair. Rotary Ann's present were Adele Laflamme, Mary Hagan and Nora Moriarty. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cummerville and Louis David, past president of Chesterville Rotary Club.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. C. Donald Henry, of Cornwall, who is associated with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. He was introduced by George Laflamme.

The Ontario Society for Crippled Children was founded in 1922 by ten Rotary clubs in southwestern Ontario; subsequently service clubs such as Lions, Kiwanis, Kinsman and others became partners in the work of crippled children. It is a co-operative service with the object of finding and caring for every needy crippled child in Ontario.

Clubs are held at various points in the Province and in May, 1966, at Cornwall 87 children attended. As a result of these clinics decisions are made as to whether treatment can be provided locally. If treatment is required at a major Treatment Centre hospital arrangements are made.

Today more than 230 clubs care for more than 16,000 crippled children. Apart from providing for the physical needs of the child, the society through visits, hospital and treatment centre visits, guidance to parents in the care of their crippled child and arrangements for camp, Miss Dion, of Cornwall, with assistants, is the district nurse covering this area.

The first summer camp was built in 1937 and was named Blue Mountain, near the town of Collingwood. With the rapid growth of the Society's work and the number of children who needed camp experience, four additional camps came into being, Wooded, near London; Merrywood, between Perth and Smiths Falls; Northwood at Kirkland Lake and Lakewood, west of Port Colborne.

Stormont County farmers offered new deal for woodlot development

Stormont County farmers who have tracts of land that are not suitable for crop production may take advantage of a new program offered by the Department of Lands and Forests. Under the Woodlands Improvement Act, a farmer may enter into an agreement with the Lands and Forests Department and receive free assistance in planting trees and advice regarding other woodlot management practices.

To be eligible for this assistance, a landowner must own a minimum of 5 acres and the land to be planted in to trees must be such that it is unsuited for future agricultural production. What does a farmer do if he wishes to take advantage of this assistance? First of all, he contacts his District Forester at Kemptville and arranges for an inspection. During the inspection, advice will be given as to the steps to be taken and details of the program will be outlined. There is no fee for the inspection and if the farmer agrees with the terms of the agreement, he should be prepared to purchase the trees which are about ten to twelve dollars per thousand.

Department of Lands and Forests personnel will plant the trees and offer further service regarding good forestry management. The landowner must protect the woodlands by erecting a fence to avoid grazing and take certain measures for fire protection.

If a farmer wishes to plant the trees himself, he can do so and be reimbursed by the Department of Lands and Forests at prevailing rates of work done.

This is a good opportunity for area farmers to make use of their unproductive farm lands with very little capital outlay.

OPINIONS . . .

OURS AND OTHERS

Chesterville — 1966

The small snows of November bring along municipal elections. At least the time arrives when nominations are the order of the day. Chesterville is one of the few remaining municipalities to hold to the yearly election pattern.

Away back in February the village council ordered a survey taken with a view to considering a sewage system for the town. The latest reports have just come in this week and are not ready for publication; some word may be available by nomination night, this Thursday.

The village flourishes now with an additional source of fuel. A gas utility company, Lakeland, picked up their rights to install a system and this Summer they laid a couple of thousand feet of distribution lines throughout the village. The job was done with a minimum of muss and fuss and in spite of a few moans from the hydro people, the service is in operation. Village council has felt public demand must be answered even though the answer may be in direct competition to a publicly operated utility such as Chesterville Hydro.

Street repairs have gone along as usual with College Street getting a new grade and new drainage system. Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed to some members of council by South Street residents. On February 7th of this year a petition was received by council. It had been signed by all residents of the street asking that something be done about the open ditch on the north side. Council promised that the rebuilding of College Street would see some remedial action taken. Nothing was done.

Water users of the village system continue to grow in numbers. The quality and supply of the precious liquid remain excellent on both counts.

A slow project has been the building of the centennial swimming pool. One thing and another seemed to hinder the progress and for a time red tape threatened to choke off the whole project. Finally things cleared and the contractor was able to get his hole dug, the cement poured and the pond filled before the first frosts. It will be completed by Spring in time for the swimming season.

Community Hall was completely painted and repaired inside during the Summer. A new lighting arrangement was installed on the sidewalls and a fan opened up in the community kitchen. Unfortunately the painting was not completed on the exterior of the building. That will be done as soon as possible in the new year.

The clerk's office this year has been busy accepting taxes, water and hydro accounts. Village council found the system a good one last year and has continued it. The new year will also usher in a new prepayment system. Taxpayers will be able to prepay their taxes and receive generous discounts in doing so. When the tax bills finally come out in June, the prepaid amounts will be credited to the final figures. Payments will be received from the first of the year onwards.

Tax rates went down in 1966 but taxes rose. The cries of anguish were answered by a look at the assessment of real estate. Property assessments had been raised to bring them more in line with provincial patterns.

The village fleet of vehicles has risen by one this year. Another pick-up truck has been added and a rebuilt motor installed in the older truck. A fair amount of headshaking followed the acquisition of the second truck. On occasions this writer has invited complainers to get off their butts and ride for a day in any of the two vehicles. Council would then entertain any complaints of featherbedding if they could be proven. The village is a concern now worth over $1,867,520. It has better local streets than any Eastern Ontario village. The hydro system delivers power without interruption, maintains an adequate repair and replacement program. The water system does not run by itself, but again pressure is always up and the water is good. As we grow more in value, our systems and services demand more attention. Village council has been trying to provide these services at reasonable cost to the taxpayer.

Thursday night at Community Hall members of council and the Public School board will be on hand. Some will be up for re-election including the reeve. It is hoped a good number of citizens will be on hand to hear the annual reports.

Shinplasters

There was a time when the shinplaster — the 25-cent paper note — served a definite purpose, particularly where mailing was concerned. Today, however, a dotting aunt or uncle wouldn't dream of sticking one in a birthday or Christmas card, even if they were available. But that's creeping inflation for you, observes the Montreal Star.

Nevertheless, Finance Minister Sharp could do far worse than heed the suggestion of Frank Howard that the shinplaster be brought back in a fresh centennial year issue. Some of them might linger around and prove a bit of a nuisance commercially. Tens of thousands, however, would be snapped up and retired from circulation as souvenirs of Expo and the centennial year itself. It might be a very profitable operation.

In addition, two generations have grown up since the last shinplaster was issued, and relatively few of those generations have even seen the curiosities. Moreover it is just possible some practical use for the paper money might develop, though off-hand, for the moment, we really can't think of one.

Friendship

By Mrs. Ella York
Chesterville

Friendship, like a garden, grows in beauty year by year; We have to cultivate it, to make it seem more dear; There must be labour and loving deeds To reap the joy of friendship seeds.

If you walk as a friend you will find one, No matter where you may roam; You don't have to go very far For friendship starts at home.

We go through this life only once, So let us kindness show To all our fellow creatures We work with here below.

Don't put off till tomorrow What you can do today; If you go with truth and a friendly heart You'll find friends along the way.

Put love and hope in all you do, Help those in joy or pain; Just do the very best you can, You'll not pass this way again.

BLONDES HAVE MORE FUN:

Your Federal Report

Mrs. Jean Wadds, M.P.

Emotionalism, threats and bribes no longer rule the Conservative Party. What most of us wanted, voting by ballot, was not seriously opposed.

This was a direct development from the 1964 Conservative Convention when the proposal to use the secret ballot was howled down. The large number of responsible and honourable people who rose when a standing vote was called on the issue became, temporarily, black sheep.

Again, early in 1966, a National Executive Meeting was talked out of using the ballot, and that time a standing vote came within one vote of carrying. Many young Conservatives, and others, on the National Executive were shocked and disturbed by this denial of the democratic process. I, personally, have felt embarrassed that our Party, the champion of human rights, could ever take such a stand. I have felt that the sooner this denial of free personal expression was repudiated, the better.

We are fortunate in the Conservative Party to have many people of courage, whose purposes cannot under any circumstances be suspect.

Senator Gratton O'Leary spoke as one "who has grown old in the service of this Party, who now faces a westerling sun", and he said: "Of course we have our differences. But differences, dissent, are the privilege of free men, never a cause for hatred. We are not here as trained seals. We are not here as sheep. We are not here to be cowed by threats, no matter whence they come."

It was the avoidance of any suggestion of fear or favour, the long established means of avoiding violence and bitterness, that Elmer Bell recommended a secret ballot. Both the clear right of this suggestion and the personal integrity of Ontario Provincial President Elmer Bell made it very nearly unanimous. The vote on the leadership resolution showed the undeniable majority of 563 to 183.

It was a hard working meeting. Never have I seen such long hours of serious deliberation on how best to carry out democratic procedures. The young people and the old were superb in their unwavering determination for a free expression of opinion. President of the 3,000 plus Student Federation and most elderly of the Privy Counsellors, Hon. J. N. Macdonnell, joined forces in supporting vote by ballot. If there was some bitterness and unpleasantness, it came from the middle group who, because of position, or hoped for position, almost tipped over into the use of violence. Fortunately, the vast majority dismissed this means of settling the differences of opinion.

There's one thing sure, the Conservative Party has spirit and courage and recognizes the need to look ahead. It offers a wide-open door to all who wish to express themselves on policies and principles for the next decade.

and I were practicing some new dance steps last night and grandpa came in. He couldn't hear the music and didn't realize we were dancing. He told my boy friend to get out and stay out.

Grandpa then went to my mother and told her a wild story. My folks are unreasonable and will not listen to my side. Can you help?—Grounded.

Dear G.: Parents should understand that there's a whole new world out there since we were teen-agers. Dancing isn't what it used to be, but then what is? If our parents survived the Black Bottom and the Charleston and the Shag, we can live through the Monkey and the Jerk. I wonder what sort of dances your children will be doing?

Edward McRitchie's problem was that he just couldn't get going—but he didn't push the panic button.

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from the wife who complained about her "Sports Nut Husband" could have been written by me to a year ago. Today I am writing a different kind of letter.

Seven months ago my Bill was sent to Viet Nam. I've had plenty of time to sit around and think about what is important in a marriage. I know now that many things I made an issue of are not worth talking about.

I recall the times I chewed Bill out because he sat glued to a should have been home an hour Packer-Bear game, or the All-Star game, or the East-West game. The weekend he left me and the children to play in a golf tournament I really blew a gasket. I refused to talk to him for two days.

Right now I'd give anything if my "Sports Nut" was in the next room watching TV. But I'll have to wait five more months for that privilege. When I do get him back, with God's help I will be a mature, loving and understanding wife.—Miss Him.

Dear Miss: I've had many letters from wives whose "Sports Nut" husbands are in the service. They all expressed the same idea, but you said it best. Thanks for writing.

Pioneer Farming

Luke Coyne, a Chesterville native, now living in Manitoba, recalls the days of the early settlers.

We reprint the following article from The Dauphin (Man.) Herald:

Luke Coyne, one of Dauphin's fine seniors, was 90 years young on Thursday, October 6, and his family held a reception in his honour on Sunday, October 9. He was the recipient of congratulatory messages from Prime Minister Pearson, Governor-General Georges Vanier and Mrs. Vanier, Premier Duff Roblin, and from friends.

Cards and gifts from his relatives and many friends were received and a phone call from his eldest grandson, Cpl. Edward McGurran at Norfolk, Virginia, was one of the highlights of the day. Many of his friends from Dauphin and district paid a birthday visit.

The following is a biography of Mr. Coyne written for the Dauphin Herald by his daughter, Mrs. Jack McGurran:

Luke Coyne was born on October 6, 1876, at Chesterville, Ont., immigrating by boxcar to Manitoba in the fall of 1909, landing five miles east of Sifton. Here he rented a half-section of land, with the other members of his family joining him in January, 1910.

He farmed in the Sifton area until the fall of 1911 when his father purchased a quarter section of land east of Dauphin in the Dickson district and they moved there. After two crop failures they rented a half-section north of Dauphin for one year. In 1914 Luke bought a quarter-section from the CPR (NW 1/4 of 9-24-18) in the Banks district, where he farmed, and after a good number of years he bought the NE 1/4 5-24-18 where he lived until he retired from farming in the spring of 1946.

Luke Coyne married Bertha Maud Lawlor of Ochre River in February, 1917, having three children, one son and two daughters. Their son passed away when only two years old. His parents both died in 1930. His wife Bertha, passed away in July of 1945.

During his years in the Banks district he enjoyed the fellowship while belonging to the community's "one big family." He still enjoys the thoughts of friendship and confidence placed in him in the Banks district, where he was treasurer for the school district for 18 years.

This man of senior years remembers many stories of years back. Although Mr. Coyne felt he was fortunate in having horses with which to farm, he recalls farmers breaking the land and plowing by oxen. He recalls the days (a far cry from our modern ways of heating and cooking) when neighbours cut cordwood across Dauphin Lake, hauling it to Sifton, three days' work, and selling it in the village of Sifton for the meagre sum of sixty cents per cord in trade.

His memories too, include trips made to get wheat ground into flour. To get a load of wheat ground it entailed a five-day round trip, two going, one for the grinding and another two returning home with the precious commodity. The day in Sifton waiting for the grinding was spent camping outdoors. The price paid for the flour was one-third of the flour ground for each customer.

Farmers picked roots off newly broken land for thirty cents a day and boarded themselves. Mr. Coyne feels the younger generation today are living in luxury and hopes they won't forget to pray for the early settlers.

Luke Coyne retired from active farming in April, 1946, and has since been residing at 722 Mountain Road, where his garden is one of the colourful spots of Dauphin. This hobby replaces to some extent the one of his earlier days, horses, which were his pride and joy.

He married Mrs. Artibise in December, 1947, at Dauphin.

His daughters, Mrs. Jack McGurran (eBatrice), and Mrs. James Arnold (Nettie) reside in St. Boniface.

MANY ESKIMO MEN ARE BLIND

A three-year-old medical study by British physician Dr. Arnold Freedman has shown 90 per cent of Eskimo men in Labrador begin to go blind at the age of 40 because of a mysterious disease, the cause of which is unknown.

The Medical Post says Dr. Freedman, working under the sponsorship of the International Grenfell Association, the Newfoundland Health Department and the E. A. Baker Foundation, gathered his findings from headquarters set up in 1963 at Happy Valley, Labrador.

They show most Eskimo men contract the disease, except those who hold indoor jobs. It was first believed to be related to snowblindness, but this theory was later disproved.

Other ideas advanced in Dr. Freedman's report are that the intense cold of the north—50 degrees below zero at times—might be the cause, or that needle-like snow particles might be causing eye damage when driven against the eyes by high winds.

Known as Labrador keratopathy, the ailment causes a film at the edge of the eye and advances with age across the eye until the sufferer can only count the fingers on his hand by holding it up against a strong sun.

St. James U.C.W. holds meeting

Mrs. Ernest Jackson and Mrs. Sesel Wert had charge of the opening period of worship at the monthly meeting of the U.C.W. of St. James United Church held in the church hall.

Theme of the service was "The Ministry of the Laity". The speakers stressed the need for all to carry Christianity into the homes, business and activities outside the church.

Twenty members attended the meeting.

Mrs. Rupert Pollock reported on Improvements made at the Manse and the purchase of drapes.

Members of the visiting committee reported 23 visits to the sick and shut-ins. It was decided to take cake and cookies which will be packaged and distributed to the shut-ins during the Christmas season.

Mrs. Malwyn Watkins and Mrs. Elmer Park were named as a Nominating Committee to bring in a slate of officers at the next meeting.

An interesting filmstrip "Bread, Laughter and Dignity" was shown.

Lunch was served by the hostesses.

THE CARE OF FINE CHINA

Fine china is actually very durable. Makers say it is much stronger than earthenware.

Fine china merits the same special attention which you give to your finest crystal or silver.

Although you may be tempted at times to leave those dirty dishes, it's smarter to rinse them right away. Thus resistant food particles are dislodged and the next day's kitchen work is made a little easier. Constant scraping will scratch the surface of your china, no matter how fine it may be.

When you store china, it's best to place a soft material of some kind between each plate. If the plates scrape against each other, signs of rough treatment will eventually appear on the surface. The same principle applies to cups. If you can, spread the cups a bit, with no more than two in each stack.

Ouderkirk, and Ken McMillan who kept the how going, and all who worked behind the scenes.

A meeting of the Centennial Committee with all residents of the community invited will be held in the hall on Thursday evening. The purpose will be to develop centennial project ideas and it is hoped that all possible will attend.

FIGHT BACK

Cat-loving youngsters armed with red ribbons are sabotaging a bicycle-mounted sharpshooter hired by Vaxholm, Sweden, town council to exterminate stray cats because they are hunting pheasant and other valuable fowl.

He was told to shoot all cats—at $1 per cat—not wearing red ribbons. The children formed vigilante cat-saving bands and tied life-saving red ribbons on every cat they could find.

Norway made $60,000,000 from tourism in the first eight months of 1966, an increase of $4,800,000 over the previous year.

Finch Centennial Committee present successful Variety show

Finch Community Centennial Committee presented a spectacular variety show to capacity audiences in the Finch Community hall on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Douglas Dunn, co-chairman of the centennial committee and Mrs. Megan Ouderkirk, chairman of the entertainment committee, the show consisted of all local talent between the ages of 4 and 14. With one of two exceptions. The programme opened with "A Toy Shop at Midnight" and starred Skipper (Mrs. Dunn) as Fairy Queen, Heather Dunn as Fairy Doll, Nancy Bender as Scottish Doll and Toy Soldiers, John MacMillan, Chris Gannon, David Workman, Kevin Hough, Geoffrey Nugent, Luc Martin, Ian McIntyre, Don McMillan, "Jack-in-the-Box, Miss Go-Go, 1967," "Wedding of the Painted Doll," bride, Joanne Cheney; groom, Debbie McMillan; bridesmaids, Pamela and Sandra Beckstead; preacher, Leah Anne McMillan; Teddy Bear, Jacqueline Dunn; Raggedy Ann and Andy, Skipper and Meg.

Part two consisted of several numbers from the choir made up of nearly 30 children and featured duets, quartettes and novelty numbers.

Part three was an original talent scout show M.C'd by the inimitable Ken McMillan who also presided in this capacity for the entire show. This featured a performance by the Finch Finks, including Go-Go artists Miss Sherry Henderson and Miss Valerie St. Pierre and Mr. Richard Rowe, singing sensation Ian Dunn and his musicians, Doug Hughes, Tommy Hughes and Bobby Wright.

Charlie Hayseed (Clare Nugent) presented his half breed dancing pony, half English and half Welsh, Skipper and Meg and a rather reluctant ballet artist in the person of Mr. Douglas Dunn regaled the audience with his impressive performance from the Ballet "Limping Swan".

The Fairyland Fantasia starred Skipper as the Fairy Queen, ine Dunn, Heather Dunn, Nancy Bender; Flowers, Joanne Cheney, Pamela Beckstead, Dianna St. Pierre, Lori Shaver, Kathy Rupert, eKily Ouderkirk; Baby Fairies, Susan Shaver, Miriam Doyle, Debbie Cameron, Shirley Wright. This was an absolute picture as the children wore beautiful ballet costumes.

The Operetta "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", put on by a full cast of 50 professional performers from the Finch Community Junior Operetta Company, brought the evening to a close.

Guest soloists for the show were Miss Eileen Runions on Friday evening and Mrs. Lynden Hough on Saturday evening. Accompanist for the performances was Mrs. Murray Doyle.

A terrific amount of time and effort was expended in the preparation of the show and the people of Finch and district were loud in their praise of the efforts of all connected. It is only by combined community efforts such as this that small towns are going to be able to remain attractive to youth.

We hope to see more of this in centennial year. It is quite evident that there is an abundance of talent in our midst and it is up to us to make the most of it. Once again, out hats are off to Mrs. Douglas Dunn, Mrs. Megan

Two heavy cuttings in just 66 days with SHUR-GAIN

JUST 66 IN '66 — ON JUNE 29TH MR MONDOU TOOK OFF A 3½-TON FIRST CUT — ON SEPT. 3RD HIS MOWER WAS BACK IN THE SAME HAY FIELD KNOCKING DOWN A HEAVY SECOND CUTTING.

Mr Mondou's June cutting (3½ tons per acre) was almost double the Quebec average (1964 — 1.80 tons per acre) and with a good September cutting, you can be sure he's got a mow full of high quality, low cost, protein for winter feeding.

There's no secret about big hay crop production as far as Ronald Mondou is concerned. Sure — he uses Shur-Gain fertilizers — has for seven years — and has seen his production improve over each of these years. But first, he uses the Shur-Gain Soil Testing Service — to be sure that he applies the right amount of the right analysis of Shur-Gain.

See your local SHUR-GAIN Fertilizer dealer for SHUR-GAIN Soil Service and all your requirements of SHUR-GAIN Fertilizers.

Glengarry Men's Council hears guest speaker Roy A. Hamilton

Speaking to the members of the Men's Council of the Presbytery of Glengarry, Roy A. Hamilton, Toronto, national director of Presbyterian Men, outlined an unique Centennial project where-by committed men will seek to bring at least one other man into a vital relationship with Christ and His Church.

Mr Hamilton speaking to about 25 leaders gathered in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, said the Centennial project has been approved recently by the National Committee of Presbyterian Men. Detailed information about the project will be going out shortly to over 2000 men across Canada who are either registered leaders of men's groups or ones who have recently attended regional conferences.

The National Director said that his Committee was thrilled with the possibilities that such a Centennial project held for the Church.

Referring to the Presbyterian Men's movement, Mr Hamilton said that in all 40 Presbyteries across Canada there is at least some form of a men's program within the Church. The activity differs greatly but there is a general realization that the men of the Church must become involved in its life and witness and be prepared to carry its message beyond the Church.

An interesting sound film "The P.M. Story" was shown. The film prompted some interesting discussion.

Conducting the opening period of worship were Harvey Fickes and Harold Shaver, Ingleside.

Letters were read from the young men of Glengarry Presbytery who are studying at the present time in preparation for the Christian ministry. The Presbytery Men's Council had presented each of the seven students with bursaries of $40.

Plans were made for the next meeting on Monday, Dec. 12th, in St. Andrew's Church, Lancaster. Group leaders will be men from the Avonmore men's group. Devotions will be in charge of the Moose Creek men.

It was decided to hold a Ladies' Night fellowship in Avonmore in December.

OLD BLACK MAGIC

The Kenyan government has given a 22-year-old witchdoctor official authority to tour coastal areas and destroy evil spirits intimidating the local populace.

The witchdoctor, known as "Kajiwe," has been labelled King of all the Witchdoctors. In July he offered to purge the Kenyan coast of all other witchdoctors.

To prove his ability to carry out the offer he marched up to a rival witchdoctor, who promptly fell dead. Later it was announced the man died of a heart attack. But Kajiwe claimed "he died because of me."

He was tried with obstruction during the incident, but the charge was withdrawn on instructions from Kenya's attorney general, Charles Njonjo.

Now Kajiwe has been licensed to continue his witchhunt. He says his method is to "think out" harmful witchdoctors by walking in deep thought around a village. Approaching a man, Kajiwe says:

"You are a witchdoctor. You must hand over to me all your instruments of black magic and immediately remove any curses you have put on people. You will never again practise witchcraft. If you do not obey all these orders I will personally work my charms against you."

So far all the hundreds of alleged witchdoctors approached in this way have capitulated — except the one who died, according to Kajiwe.

Paul Borsuk, 44-year-old trucking contractor, fulfilled a lifelong dream when he bought a fully-equipped 1930 fire engine from the Vancouver fire department for $1,000.

He plans to paint it "an even brighter red" and add to his collection of vintage cars.

This summer the ring came back, with a carrot growing through the middle.

TO REMOVE WAX

Use a solvent to remove wood floor wax from your hands, and wash this off promptly with hot soapy water.

Clean the wax applicator or cloth by soaking it in a hot soap or detergent solution before the wax has a chance to get dried on.

Records show night traffic accidents are twice as likely to result in fatalities as those in daytime.

KEEP VEGETABLES FRESH IN PROPER WINTER STORAGE

Many vegetables can be stored and kept fresh for enjoyment throughout the winter. Specialists with the Horticulture Department, Ontario Agricultural College, University of Guelph, suggest ways you can lengthen the life of your garden produce. Different vegetables require different storage conditions, and now is the time to ensure that these requirements are provided.

Most home basements are fairly dry and maintain a temperature of 55 to 65 degrees. On-

A COURSE IN MODERN DRIVING... aimed at reducing traffic accidents by increasing drivers' knowledge of the law and improving their driving skills... has been introduced by the Ontario Department of Transport, with the co-operation of the Ontario Safety League and the Ontario Motor League. Looking over some of the course materials are: Hon. Irwin Haskett, Ontario's Minister of Transport on the left; Douglas G. Knox, President of the Ontario Motor League (Provincial Association) centre; and R. C. West, Secretary of the Ontario Safety League.

ly a few types of produce such as pumpkins, squash, and tomatoes will store well under these conditions. The pumpkins and squash to be stored should be fully mature and must be carefully handled to prevent bruising. Tomatoes in danger of frost in the garden will ripen well in the basement. Spread them out in shallow trays or on a table, and inspect them frequently. Discard any tomatoes which dry or rot. Beans, peas and popcorn require a cool, dry location. An attic, porch, or unheated room will provide satisfactory storage for these vegetables. The peas and beans should be kept in poly-ethylene bags or glass jars after shelling. Popcorn may either be left on the cob or shelled. Shelled corn should be kept in an airtight container to maintain moisture content.

A basement storage area, constructed to allow regulation of temperature and humidity, is suggested for storage of beets, carrots, parsnips, cabbage and onions. These vegetables require a storage temperature as near to 32 degrees as possible, and a high humidity level. Potatoes require a constant temperature of 40 degrees. If the temperature is any lower, spoilage will occur. The recommended specifications for a basement storage are contained in Publication 268, Home Storage of Vegetables, which may be obtained upon request from the Information Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 2, Ontario.

TOXIC CLEANER

Carbon tetrachloride is sometimes found in commercial spot removers and some people still attempt to use it for difficult cleaning jobs.

This is a most dangerous substance which should never be kept or used within the home. It is four times as poisonous as carbon monoxide, and when absorbed into the body by inhalation or absorption through the skin may cause permanent liver and kidney damage.

If a person is sensitive, or has absorbed alcohol, even a small quantity could kill.

New York department stores used more than 2,000 electric de-livery vans in 1915.

DON'T THROW AWAY THAT STALE SLICE OF BREAD

INDEED NOT! There are so many uses for stale bread that you do not need to waste a crumb of it. Use it for bread puddings, for on-toast dishes for supper, or let it dry completely in the oven, roll to make fine crumbs to use on top of casserole dishes and for breading chicken and croquettes for frying.

Bread and Butter Pudding

Easy and economical.

Butter slices of stale bread, mixture and bread stuffing made cut into strips or squares. Place as above. Shape hamburger patties into flat thin cakes allowing a layer of buttered bread in buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with seeded raisins. Alternate layers of bread and raisins until dish is 2/3 full. Pour in custard mixture; let stand 1/2 hour. Oven poach until custard is cooked. Serve cold with or without whip-ped cream.

Custard Mixture for Bread Pudding

1 egg
2 tbsps. sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
2 cups milk
Beat egg; add sugar. Add vanilla and milk. Blend well.

Buttered Crumbs for Scalloped Dishes

1 tbsps. butter or dripping
1 cup crumbs
Melt butter in frying pan. Add crumbs and stir until all crumbs are coated with butter.
Bread Stuffing for Fowl
1/2 cup onion, chopped
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup butter or other fat
5 cups bread crumbs made from day-old bread
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. sage
1 tsp. chopped parsley
2 tbsps. summer savory
Garlic salt
1/4 cup milk

Melt fat in frying pan; add onion and celery. Cook until golden brown. Add to other ingredients. Mix lightly. If desired a chopped unpeeled apple may be added to dressing.

If you have a food freezer you may store unused dressing until you next need it. It freezes well. Sometimes it is handy to prepare the crumbs ahead of time and freeze them until ready for use.

A FIRST FOR CANADA

Where there's smoke, there's fire, goes the old saying, but how do you find a fire when there's no smoke or flame visible?

The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests does it with an airborne infrared scanner system which, it predicts, will play an increasing role in forest fire control.

Department officers report the system scored a first for Canada when it spotted an invisible lightning fire smouldering in a dead tree west of Red Lake in Northwestern Ontario this summer.

A Turbo-Beaver aircraft with an odd-shaped pod—part of the detection system—attached to a wing was patrolling the area following lightning reports. The infrared system scanned the territory below while the observer watched a panel of lights in the cockpit. A light flashed indicating a heat source below.

No smoke could be seen but as the pilot swung over the area again the light flashed once more. An infra-red camera produced a film which, when developed, showed a minute white dot indicating a fire.

Another interesting development was Variety Village, a vocational training school for older boys, opened in 1949. There are now more than 200 graduates of this school earning an average of more than $2000 a year each.

Financing this very considerable undertaking is accomplished by a Government grant of between $6,000 and $12,000 annually, since 1928, and by the Easter Seal campaign. Total receipts in 1966 were $1,190,000. The 1967 campaign is expected to exceed $1,400,000 with 232 service club participating. The result of the local Easter Seal campaign was $2,345, averaging 59 cents per mailing. The Provincial average per mailing was 53 cents.

Mr eHenry concluded his remarks with the axiom "Na man stands so tall as the one who stoops to help a crippled child." The thanks of the guests and the club were tendered by Ron Lynch.
