Money for water plant is finally in the bank

MORRISBURG – South Dundas council has long awaited the announcement of federal and provincial funding of the township's new water treatment facility, and on Tuesday morning, the wait was over.

Federal Minister of State Don Boudria, local member of parliament Bob Kilger, and provincial associate minister responsible for rural affairs Brian Coburn accompanied Mayor Johnny Whitteker, Chief Administrative Officer for South Dundas Bill Horner, members of council, and other dignitaries to the lawn of the Morrisburg water treatment plant to announce funding in the amount of $7,473,854.

"We're very pleased that this project is going ahead," said Whitteker, making clear the necessity of a new water treatment facility.

"We had here...a tragedy waiting to happen."

Through the Canada-Ontario Infrastructure program, the provincial and federal governments will invest two-thirds of the nearly $12 million required to build the new water plant; South Dundas will provide the remainder.

"This is one of the largest, if not the largest, infrastructure investment I've ever made," said Boudria.

The treatment facility will replace two existing plants in Iroquois and Morrisburg and employ a modern and effective filtration system to ensure the safety of drinking water for more than 1,800 households.

Under the auspices of the Ontario Small Town and Rural Development initiative, one of three provincial infrastructure investment programs, the application for funding made by the township was automatically eligible for a matching grant from the federal government.

"The municipality doesn't always have the resources for funding to undertake a project such as this," said Kilger. "It's a great day for South Dundas, and I am pleased we were able to fulfill their request."

The upgraded facility will finally bring the township in line with the standards set out in provincial legislation that regulates the quality of drinking water in Ontario.

"Ensuring safe drinking water in Ontario is a priority for our government," said Coburn. "This project will bring the system into compliance with Ontario's safe drinking water regulations."

Initially scheduled for completion next year, numerous delays in the approval of funding have left construction deadlines in question.

When finished, the new water plant, to be located at the site of the present facility in Morrisburg, will feature a membrane filtration system, carbon filtration system, and chlorine gas disinfection system and will require the construction of a new storage tank, booster station, and 12 kilometres of new trunk water mains.

Representatives from each of the three levels of government were on hand at the Morrisburg water plant on Tuesday morning to present a $7 million cheque to the township of South Dundas as an investment in the municipality's planned water treatment facility. Farlingers row into another first place Tubie finish

MORRISBURG – The large crowd waiting at the Morrisburg beach on Sunday afternoon wasn't at all surprised to see Robert Farlinger and his crew smoothly paddle their way into first place during this year's Tubie races.

The Farlingers proved once again to be unbeatable despite an impressive effort by the second place McCooeye team who finished only one minute and two seconds after the winning team.

Farlinger led his crew to his fourth consecutive win in a time of 32 minutes and 50 seconds, six minutes ahead of last year's winning time of 38.55.

This year's winning team consisted of Robert's brother Allen, and newcomers Kate Edwards and Heather Breen.

"Slow and steady wins the race," was a common theme at this year's Tubie celebrations.

Two teams used the classic tale of the tortoise and the hare to decorate their floats in the parade on Saturday afternoon, and Robert Farlinger credits his teams success to keeping it "slow and steady" during the race.

He explained that while the others teams are all burning themselves out, his crew keeps a steady pace.

The second place team was minutes ahead of the third place team so they were able to focus on trying to gain some time on the Farlingers.

The McCooeyes gave it their all but came up short, pulling into the Morrisburg beach with a time of 33.52, followed by Les Crawfords third place team with a time of 37.00.

The Mariatown Bay was filled with Tubie crafts at this year's races. There was a slight delay in the race but all 13 crafts were at the starting line when the siren went off.

Although 13 teams started the race, only 12 finished. Dave Anderson's team gave a concerted effort but never made it out of the bay.

Members of the second place McCooeye team included Joey McCooeye, Matt McCooeye, Amy McCooeye, Ashly Cooper, Andrew Vander Meulen, and Miriam Vander Meulen.

Les Crawford, Jamie Vanderspank, Stacey Shaver, Billy Vanderspank, Emily McDonnell, Brenda Ramsay, Shawn McMillan, Berniece Dingwall, and two visitors from Toronto rowed for the third place Crawford team.

According to Flamingos Fundraising Organization member Donald Black, "It was a very successful weekend."

"The weather was a major factor," said Black, who along with other members of the Flamingos has been running the Tubie events for the last five years.

"There was a good turnout at the dance. The younger people said it was an awesome time."

The first place winner for parade entries went to Gary Magee's Dragon Masters, Josh Laurin's Men In Black II-ubie was second, and Jason Byvelds Amazing Reproductive Race entry was third. Jeff Barclay's Tubie Fever was fourth and the Crawford's Nascar entry was fifth.

Approximately $5,000 was raised at this year's Tubie events. The money is being donated to the Winchester hospital and to other local organizations.

We all want what's best for kids needing heart surgery.

For decades, The Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario (CHEO) has been a centre of excellence for pediatric care and has done an outstanding job for children with serious heart problems. The recommendations of Dr. Keon and other pediatric health experts regarding consolidating children's heart surgery at Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children were made in response to a continuing decline in pediatric populations as well as the impact of new advances in medicine.

These trends indicate that in the upcoming years, CHEO will likely have too few cases to sustain their cardiac surgery program.

That's why medical professionals are recommending: 1) establishing a province-wide network for pediatric cardiac care – one that includes Ottawa; and 2) transferring cases to Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children, one of a select few centres of excellence for children's heart surgery in North America.

"My support...reflects the reality that the overall number of pediatric cardiac surgeries in the province is declining, with indications that this trend will continue for some time."

Dr. W.J. Keon
Director, Ottawa Heart Institute
"Independent Review of the Work of the SPSRC"
July 15, 2002

The Ontario government remains committed to CHEO, and to ensuring that kids receive the best possible care.

CHEO will continue to provide pre- and post-operative care for young cardiac patients. But for pediatric cardiac surgery – highly specialized operations – the priority has to be on providing children with the best possible care the province can offer.

The Ontario government is committed to acting on the recommendations of the Keon report.

These recommendations include ensuring that the Hospital for Sick Children is truly equipped to handle the additional patient load from CHEO, and is able to provide services in both official languages. Also addressed is the need for transportation of patients and their families.

Leader becomes inkjet depot in support of County Food Bank

MORRISBURG – With the numbers at the Morrisburg location of the Dundas County Food Bank continuing to increase, every donation and every project that will assist the Food Bank in providing food to those in need is appreciated says Marilyn Byers.

One of these projects is the *th*INK Food project sponsored nationally by Radio Shack and Petro-Canada. The project involves the collection and recycling of used inkjet cartridges, which are recycled and resold with proceeds coming back to the Food Bank.

"It's a win-win situation," says Byers, who co-ordinates the Food Bank location in Morrisburg. "It gets rid of the inkjets so they don't end up in landfill, and benefits the Food Bank."

And all anyone has to do to get involved is to drop off their used inkjets at any one of a number of collection points in South Dundas.

Coming on board this week, is the Morrisburg Leader where a collection box has been located just inside the front office. Leader co-owner Sam Laurin says, "getting involved in the project was a very simple thing to do, and a good way to support the community."

"We are a convenient location in the Morrisburg Shopping Plaza, (located in the small mall behind the pharmacy), and have the means to remind people on a regular basis to bring in their inkjet cartridges."

Drop-offs can also be made at Radio Shack in Morrisburg, the Chieftan office in Iroquois and the South Dundas municipal office in Williamsburg.

Traditionally donations to food banks are the most from October to December and again in April. As a result, food banks often face additional strain in the summer to make the food stretch. The inkjet collection project is aimed at helping to alleviate pressure year-round.

"Locally donations are really down this summer and numbers are up," says Byers. "Last year when we opened the Morrisburg location in September we had 132 families. We now have 182 which is an increase of 50 families."

Byers says the majority of the people using the local bank are low income families. Some have recently lost their jobs and waiting for employment insurance.

"We are operating in the red. There is a shortage of groceries and there is a shortage of money."

Providing valuable assistance to the Food Bank this summer are the Vacation Bible Schools in both Morrisburg and Iroquois.

"They have been wonderful," says Byers. "They literally filled a grocery cart, but it was gone in a week."

"We've had to cut back on the contents of our boxes," she adds. "We can't give it away if we don't have it."

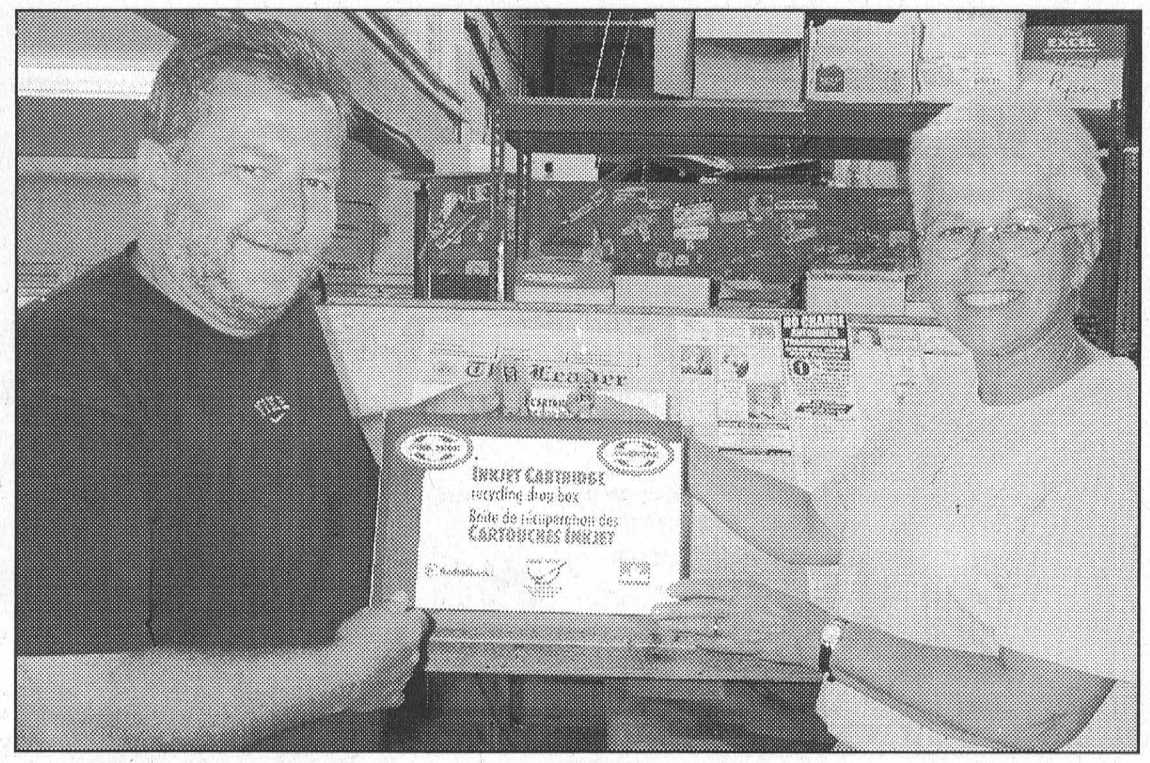
Byers wants to stress to local gardeners that all excess produce is welcome and can be dropped at the Food Bank during regular hours.

"We'll accept anything," she says. "Last week a local gardener dropped off zucchini and cucumbers. The families really appreciate it and are really thankful to get it."

"Last year we had surplus tomatoes dropped off so we froze them and our clients were able to use them for spaghetti sauces. Nothing goes to waste."

So, as a reminder regular grocery items can be donated at local grocery stores and in the churches, fresh produce can be dropped at the Food Bank location across from Morrisburg Public School...and those inkjet cartridges can be dropped right here at The Leader office.

Since January 1, 2002 the *th*INK FOOD project has diverted 13,986 printer cartridges from landfill sites and generated approximatley 12,115 pounds of food for food banks.



Leader Helps Out

The Morrisburg Leader has joined the *th*INK FOOD project as a drop off spot for used inkjet cartridges in support of the Dundas County Food Bank. The *th*INK FOOD project is a national project sponsored by Petro-Canada and Radio Shack, and involves the collection and recycling of used inkjet cartridges. The inkjets are recycled and resold and Food Banks benefit financially from the resale. Used inkjets can be dropped at The Leader office or Radio Shack in Morrisburg, as well as the Chieftan office in Iroquois and the South Dundas Municipal office. Pictured above The Leader's Sam Laurin accepts the collection box from Marilyn Byers who coordinates the Morrisburg location of the Dundas County Food Bank.

South Mountain Fair coming up

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – The South Mountain Fair is only two weeks away and it is gearing up to be an incredible weekend.

According to organizer Eric Duncan, the fair hasn't been very successful in past years due to an overall lack of activities and events for people of all ages.

This year, however, "There is something for everybody," says Duncan.

The weekend is set to kick off at 4 p.m., on Thursday, August 15 when the midway opens. Admission into the fair is only $2 and all-you-can-ride bracelets can be purchased for $8.

The midway will be open again all day Friday beginning at 11 a.m. Excitement is likely to build throughout the day as crowds gather for the main event of the night – the demolition derby.

The derby will begin at 7 p.m. and according to Duncan "There are probably 70 cars in it this year." Woody from CHEZ 106 will stop by the fair to emcee the derby from 8:30 p.m., until 11 p.m.

Also on Friday night there will be a dance in the tent featuring "Tycoons".

An entire day of activities is planned for Saturday, August 17, including many new activities.

More animal oriented events have been added to this year's schedule and include a llama and alpaca show and "Little Ray's Reptile Show".

Another new event at the 2002 South Mountain Fair is a parade. The parade will begin at noon with special guest Max Keeping acting as parade marshall.

Musical entertainment begins at 1 p.m. with D.W. James and will continue until 5 p.m.

Teenagers are invited to 'get jiggy with it' at a teen video dance from 8 p.m. to midnight.

A dance featuring Printer's Alley begins in the tent at 9 p.m. for the adults. There will be a $10 admission charge for the dance.

If you can only go to the fair for one day, make sure that it is Sunday, August 18.

At 10 a.m., the Exhibit Hall and the Kid's Mountain of Fun opens. At 11 a.m. a new team cattle penning event starts and is sure to be entertaining.

The midway opens at 11 a.m., and all-you-can-ride bracelets can be purchased for $13.

Monster truck rides, a lumberjack show, and a magician show are just some of the afternoon activities planned for Sunday afternoon.

Sunday entertainment begins at 1 p.m. with a lineup including Shania Twin, D.W. James, Gail Gavan and Fenced In.

"People can expect a lot more to do," says Duncan. "I am really looking forward to the fair this year."

Family passes are available for $25 at the fair office and kids under the age of six get in free all weekend.

2002 Tubie Parade Winners

The annual summer rite for young people...and even the not so young...Tubie Weekend was again a big success, attracting visitors and former residents back to the village for a weekend of fun and festivities.

No opinion is no excuse, the show must go on Holidays just have to be the most wonderful things to come about since someone invented work. Unfortunately, there are often too few, and those few are almost certainly too short. Such is the case as we return from a two week vacation, one of which was spent golfing in Prince Edward Island on two of the most beautiful (and challenging) courses we have ever played - Crowbush and Glasgow Highlands.

A holiday from the local news scene means avoiding absolutely every event we can...we don't think about taxes, relocating golf club houses, fixing roads, water funding announcements, antique festivals, roller hockey, tube races and on and on and on. In fact, the only real matters of concern for the past two weeks have been the weather and what we are going to eat.

And so to sit down at the computer and write an editorial, just freshly returned from holidays, is a task of enormous requirements. Since an editorial expresses the opinion of the writer, it is logical to conclude that one must have an opinion on something to write about it. And since, at this very moment, we have absolutely no opinion on anything except the extreme need for more holidays, we are toying with leaving the rest of this editorial space blank.

But we are now discovering we aren't doing a bad job at filling this hole (only six more lines to go) and if you, dear reader, are still with us then all is not lost. Either you are trying to find a point to this rambling, you favour this occasion when this scribe admits to having no opinion, or you are of the opinion there is a need for all workers to have more holidays. Seen 'n Heard Around the Town

Well here we are folks several days into August. We are on the home stretch and now we are asking ourselves...where has it gone? Although we are now turning our attention to getting the kids ready to go back to school, and sharpening up the ice skates, there are still some great summer events on our calendar.

We of course can't forget the annual Volley for Cancer set for Saturday, August 17, which is also the day for the first-ever annual Seaway Kids' Day at the Morrisburg Riverfront. Volley for Cancer is run by Carl and Ruby Van Allen (at their farm) and a volunteer board of directors and offers a lot of opportunities to the community to contribute to the local branch of the Canadian Cancer Society. Over the last few years, it has become the single, one-day, biggest fund raiser in South Dundas.

The Seaway Kids Initiative (SKI) is a partnership between the townships of South Dundas and South Stormont and is geared to the younger element of our areas to promote friendship, safety and awareness and pride in our communities.

Last week's question: In 1961 a local lad received his Queen Scout badge, the first for the Morrisburg troop and the first in the history of Morrisburg. Who was he? The lad was none other than little Billy Barclay.

This week's question: In July 1971 a large number of interested citizens met in the former library at the former Morrisburg Civic Centre to form an organization that is still going strong today. What organization is it that would have just recently celebrated its 30th anniversary.

Headlines in the August 5 issue read Cruickshanks retain Tubie crown. Steve Cruickshank and his crew captured their third consecutive Tubie crown setting a new record time of 23:56.

The Bank of Montreal in Morrisburg was receiving a modernizing facelift. Bank Manager, Tom Ayerst said the renovation tied in nicely with the Bank's 175th anniversary.

Wendy Laurin graduated from Ryerson University with a B.A.A. in Retail Management.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held for the $1.3 million revitalizing project for the Crysler Marina.

Wet cool weather was continuing in the area. In July there were 20 days of rain, double the average of 10. The temperature averaged 19C which was the coolest July since 1888.

Cedar Glen golfer Rick Barkley was busy opening a driving range at Bouck's Hill quarry. Barkley, who had been golfing for 15 years and was club champion at Cedar Glen eight times, would also be offering lessons.

In Iroquois a feasibility study was in the works by the Village of Iroquois and golf course officials to examine all angles of expanding the nine-hole golf course. In 1959 the course was designed by Ken Candy, landscape architect for Ontario Hydro, for the newly relocated town-site of Iroquois. The club started with a membership of about 100 men and 20 women.

The August 4 issue reported that for the third consecutive year Danny Cassell and Doug Hodgson were wearing the Kings of the River crowns after winning the 12th annual Tubie Race. The reigning lady champs, Laura Lynn Casselman and Louise Cassell, not only won their category, but claimed fourth place overall in the race. For the second year in a row, the junior category was won by Greg Whitteker and Steve Coligan.

Twelve-year-old Ian Blais produced the winning design for the Morrisburg Minor Hockey Association's logo in a contest that netted him $10.

Mrs. and Mrs. R.V.A. Roe of Carleton Place and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Casselman of Morrisburg announced the marriage of their children Mary Ellen Roe and Robert George Casselman on May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bennett of Brampton announced the forthcoming August 14 marriage of their daughter Rhonda Beverly to Arden Ralph Schneckenburger son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schneckenburger of Morrisburg.

Armed with a thermometer Leader general manager Bill Laurin and assistant editor Neil Cameron hit the road determined to find the coldest beer in Dundas County. They found prices for a pint ranged from $1.05 at the Legion to about $1.35. They never did determine where the coldest beer could be foundbut they had a good time looking for it.

The men's club championship at Iroquois Golf Club was won by Jim O'Brien.

Pictured on the front page of the August 11 issue were Bill and Ted Jarvis as they accepted the championship Tubie Trophy from its builder Ivan McNairn. Also shown on the page was 12-year-old Theresa Cassell who won the Tubies Powder Puff Race to become Miss Tubie of 1972. Tubie Weekend had gotten its start the year before when a small group of Morrisburg young people launched a previously unheard-of venture – a Tube Race. The first race was a success of a sort. A smallish crowd, who had been informed of the event, attended and had a ball. Building on the start the promoters prepared a three-day event for 1972 which attracted 40 craft. Right from the start of the race, three crafts broke away from the pack - Bill and Ted Jarvis on "The King of the River", Guy Hart's Black Lumber Company "Spitting Bertha" and Steve Casselman and Bill Dillabough's "The Houligan Ship".

After years of negotiation between village officials and Ontario Hydro, the Village took over all deeds and conveyances from Hydro for streets, park lands, water pumping facilities and distribution system, sidewalks and titles to a number of tracts of land.

1962

Friends in the area were saddened to learn of the death of Leslie Throop, OPP Staff Sergeant at Dundas Ontario. Sgt. Throop had been stationed for many years at Morrisburg.

Roberts Baker who was stationed at the Naval Training Base at Cornwallis, Nova Scotia was home visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. George Baker. When he returned to duty he was to be posted aboard the frigate Victoriaville, which accompanied the Queen Mother on her Canadian visit.

The Morrisburg Summer Theatre sponsored by the Morrisburg Chamber of Commerce was presenting its first season of summer play at The Pioneer Playhouse in the Civic Building.

1952

The International Joint Commission held open public hearings in Toronto, Ogdensburg and Cornwall, making it appear that the Seaway development could be closer than realized. The purpose of the hearings was to hear representations from interested parties to be affected by the proposal. In the agreement between the Federal Government and the Province of Ontario no provision had been made for the rights of the Counties nor the municipalities that would be adversely affected. A Morrisburg representation at Cornwall approved of the immediate start on the project but dealt with some problems facing the local municipality, especially the confusion arising by lack of information

1942

The National Selective Service registration of women to locate reserve pools of 'manpower' for war industries and the armed forces was to begin. Before the end of 1942, Canada would require 250,000 extra workers for essential industry and the armed forces, and a large percentage would have to be women. With the exception of a few cities, there was not yet a need to recruit married women with children.

Farmers in SD&G were being urged to meet the increased wartime demand of Canadian wool by increasing flocks or starting new flocks of sheep. Wool supplies were so short that a drastic reduction in clothing production was expected. There were only 1,122 sheep in all of Dundas County and the objective was a 25 percent increase.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board made it an offence to willfully destroy or throw away bottles or any other containers made of glass. All bottles and glass were to be disposed of through local salvage committees.

Peter Paquette, owner and operator of the Lock Master's House Tea Room in Iroquois, is pleased with the success he has had since opening his restaurant earlier this summer in the St. Lawrence Seaway Interpretive Centre at the former home of the Iroquois lock master.

Tea Room and Interpretive Centre doing great business

IROQUOIS – Combine the allure of the St. Lawrence River with fine cuisine and a bit of local history, and one has the recipe for a promising business venture.

Despite the novelty of their enterprise and the uncertainty each had about its potential, both Peter Paquette and Don Graham are pleasantly surprised by the enthusiasm with which their Lock Master's House Tea Room and St. Lawrence Seaway Interpretive Centre have been received.

"We've got a good combination going; we all work together very closely," said Paquette, of the relationship his tea room has with the interpretive centre, which is operated by a conservation group called DIAMONDS.

"It's going very well. We've been creating on the landscape and maritime side, and (Paquette) has been creating on the food side," says Graham, president of DIAMONDS. "With the two together, it's a good match."

The tea room and interpretive centre are quartered in the Tindall House, the former home of the Iroquois lock master, and have seen a steady stream of tourists and local visitors pass through.

"I thank the community because they've been the strongest supporters of the place," says Paquette, who has heard enough people ask that the establishment stay open longer that he and DIAMONDS have decided to extend their hours.

Both the tea room and interpretive centre will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. from Wednesday to Sunday for the remainder of the summer, and Paquette has decided that his clientele is large enough that he will experiment with staying open through the winter, despite that DIAMONDS will not staff the interpretive centre beyond September.

"In the evenings, it's got such a beautiful ambience. It makes for a very romantic place to come and enjoy a nice, peaceful evening," says Paquette, of the surrounds in which patrons partake of his unique and varied dinner menu.

A third generation restaurateur, Paquette grew enamored of the Seaway region during frequent visits to Iroquois and upon moving to the village, was eager to join DIAMONDS in its effort to preserve and enhance this small part of the Seaway trail.

Letters to the Editor

I have never written such a letter before, but I wanted to express my disgust for the display of poor sportsmanship during the A final baseball game on Sunday evening.

I have always thought that the festivities of Tubie Weekend are supposed to be all about fun. Don't get me wrong; all but one moment of the whole weekend was a blast. But, as a member of the team whose player was the cause of the scene, the fun went out of it very quickly (mostly from sheer embarrassment).

I think that this player (whom I don't think needs to be named) should remember a few things before he takes his temper tantrums.

First that this is a family event; there are a ton of kids around, and I don't think his lack of sportsmanship is a very good example for them.

Secondly, his own team does not share in his zealousness to win at all costs. There is no need for anyone to get hurt, especially a kid, because someone can't stand to be losing. It is blooperball...get over it!

Lastly, I would like to thank the organizers and the umpires who sweated it out all weekend to make this tournament a successful good time, because for the most part it was. I hope that history doesn't repeat itself when one person ruins it for the rest.

Perhaps next year the entry fees for such people who are known to cause the trouble should be declined.

Laura Lowson.

Telehealth available locally

WINCHESTER – Imagine. It's 3 a.m., and you are awakened by your child who is complaining of a sore throat and fever. What do you do?

Well, you do have options. One option is drive to emergency to see a doctor. The second is to call telehealth to discuss symptoms and receive advice.

Telehealth is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week and is manned by trained Registered Nurses to assist you with you decision as to whether or not a trip to emergency is necessary.

The telehealth system works for everyone. You receive immediate advice – without having to wait in a waiting room. And ultimately, it relieves some of the pressures of demand in the actual emergency department, allowing for shortened waiting periods for real emergencies.

Here is what you need and what will happen once you call. The telehealth number is 1-866-797-0000. It is not necessary to have the "patient's" OHIP number handy.

The nurse will ask for a description of the symptoms and will give you advice. Should you require emergency care, the telehealth nurse will ask you your preferred hospital and forward your information.

It is important to note, that this will not quicken your waiting period once you arrive at the hospital. The telehealth nurse may also suggest that you see your family doctor and take over the counter medication to assist you rather than an unnecessary trip to the emergency department.

The Winchester District Memorial Hospital supports this new program. It means our community has even greater access to quality health care whether at home or at the hospital.

If you need advice call the telehealth number (as opposed to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Emergency Department). For your convenience the automated message attendant at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital has been change to provide you with further information on contacting telehealth.

Wheeler is the South Stormont SKI captain and Gardner is her partner as the SKI captain for South Dundas.

Entertainment, crafts and interactive displays will be featured during the day and a concert lineup includes Junk Jam, a radical rhythmic ride of music which promises to dazzle youngsters with its interactive show.

As well, stories and songs from around the world will be presented by Salamander Theatre.

The Canadian Coast Guard and the OPP will be in attendance, and the historic Loyalist bateau, on loan from the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, will be featured. CJOH-TV anchor Max Keeping will also make an appearance.

"Thanks to sponsorship from both municipal councils, the Parks, and Ontario Power Generations," says Wheeler, "admission prices to the event are very reasonable at $4 per person or $15 per family for the day.

Classic Cuts hair cutters, in the East End Promenade in Morrisburg, took part in a contest sponsored by the Matrix line of hair colouring products, which had the names of every customer who received a hair colouring treatment entered into a draw for a new mountain bike. The winner in this area was Muriel Cossaboom of Winchester (centre). Contest winners from participating stores throughout the province will now be entered in a draw for a Caribbean trip for two, as will the hairstylist who applied the colouring treatment. The draw will take place later this month. Pictured with Cossaboom are (l-r) stylists Brenda Lafortune and Kathy Morrell.

Markell team wins Jr. B tournament

Blooper Ball Tournament Champs

Kevin Markell's team played against Ernie Beckstead's team in the final championship game on Sunday evening. The two teams played hard all weekend in the Morrisburg Junior B Lions mixed blooper ball tournament held in conjunction with the Tubie weekend festivities. The Becksteads gave it their all but in the end it was the Markells who took home the championship title when they won the final game 11-7. The Markell's took an early 5-0 lead in the first inning and held onto it throughout the duration of the game by putting home four more in the third and the last two in the fourth. Gary Donovan's team won the "B" championship against Jamie Barkley's team 10-4 and the Buter's beat the Barkley's 8-4 in the "C" finals. Pictured above is the winning Markell team. The team included Kevin Markell, Tyler Markell, Nathan Markell, Allen Markell, Randy Markell, Eli Markell, Kenny Markell, Sherry Markell, Brittany Markell, Jamie Roderick, Jason Roderick, Angie Merkley, and Christine Hartle. Below is Ernie Beckstead's runner up team. They include Ernie Beckstead, Wayne Garlough, Karen Irven, Steve Irven, Brad Pringle, Mike Prunner, Pete Lewis, Jennifer McNairn, Joey Dufresne, Laura Lowson, and Jamie Whitteker.

IN MEMORIAM

RICHMIRE–In loving memory of a dear husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, Darcey E., August 11, 1988.
God has called our father,
Away from a world of strife,
To shine among the angels,
In a fairer, brighter life.
Our hearts are full of sorrow,
And tears have dimmed our eyes,
But we shall meet him once again,
In the home beyond the skies.
–Sadly missed by wife Margaret Richmire and family 32p

McCOOEYE–In loving memory of a dear husband, father, grandfather and and father-in-law, Donald Gibson, who passed away August 6, 2000.
Your resting place we visit
And put flowers there with care
But no one knows the heartache
When we turn to leave them there.
Your memory is our keepsake
With which we will never part
God has you in his keeping
We have you in our hearts.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
To walk with us throughout out lives,
Until we meet again.
–Lovingly remembered, wife Rita and family 32p

NEWSLETTER

ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION
Seaway Branch #48
10 Legion Street
Morrisburg, Ontario
Tel: (613) 543-3091

Well it has been a while since the newsletter has appeared in the Leader so I will start with trying to bring you up to date on new projects that the branch has taken on. Of course the one that I am most interested in and I am way behind on is the Terry Fox Run on the 15th of September. This will be the 9th time the branch has sponsored the run and with the help of a few faithful supporters we raised over $5,000 last year. I have been ill so there is a delay in getting this year's run under way. The run will take place from the Legion parking lot beginning at 10:00 a.m. on Sunday, September 15th. We will be offering participants a choice of walking, running, rollerblading or cycling over a distance of 1 to ten kilometers, either through the park or along the waterfront towards Mariatown and points west. Pledge sheets will be available at the Legion beginning this Wednesday. It is hoped that the faithful runners who have participated in the past will be out again this year along with some new people.

Ways and Means and the Meat Draw are worthy of our support as the money they raise will go towards purchasing new tables for the James Fraser Hall. It is hoped that some volunteers will help with card tournaments and darts for the fall and winter season.

I know the ladies have been very busy catering and we have volunteers working the barbecues. All I can say is thank you and it was nice to see the Legion and comrades once more, especially the seniors who are tentatively planning our corn roast and hot dog summer party for Tuesday, August 13th. This is our highlight for the summer season so when you are called by your convenor please let her know if you can attend.

Coming Events:

- Every Thursday – Bingo at 7:30 p.m.
- Tuesday, August 13 – Corn Roast at 12:00 noon.
- Tuesday, August 20th – Diners Club at 12:00 noon.

Roller Hockey Results

MORRISBURG – The battle for second place continued in Men's Roller Hockey league action last Thursday night as the Orange Express claimed their share of the spot with a 9-6 win over the Blue Lights.

The Express win combined with the White Outs 15-6 loss to the league leading Black Attack sees the standings tighten once again with the Lights and Express tied for second with 13 points.

Black Attack holds onto a four point first place lead at 17 while the White Outs continue their hunt for their first win of the season.

In front of strong goaltending from Barry McShane, Rob Casselman and Steve Mattice went to work to produce five goals each for Black Attack. Russ Brown counted once and Mike Dawson, Randy McLeod and Andrew Carkner added singles.

Cycling tour for Diabetes stopping here

MORRISBURG – By the time Mark and Adam Winegarden make their way to Morrisburg, they will have completed just over half of their cross-Canada bicycle tour.

The father and son team is cycling and walking from Victoria, British Columbia, to Musgrave Harbour, in Newfoundland, to raise money for research into diabetes.

This Sunday, August 11, Mark and 13-year-old Adam will arrive at the Morrisburg information booth at about 7 p.m., where they will be met by area paramedics, members of the Morrisburg and District Lions Club, and, ideally, by a crowd of supportive Morrisburg residents who will cheer the Winegardens on to their next rest stop.

The Diabetes DMC Tour 2002 was conceived by Mark after he was diagnosed with Type 2 diabetes several years ago.

The Bradford, Ontario, paramedic lit upon the idea of a cross-country tour as a means of raising money for and awareness of a condition many know nothing about.

Originally, the tour was not planned to stop in Morrisburg, but efforts on the part of the local Lions club were successful in bringing the Winegardens to town.

The pair anticipates arriving in Newfoundland by September 15 and by then having raised one dollar for every Canadian. A large turnout in Morrisburg could help them along their way–to Newfoundland and to the $30 million.

Mad Scramble

OBITUARIES

John Wemerman passes in hospital

With his family by his side, Morrisburg resident John Wemerman passed away Tuesday, July 30, at the Ottawa General Hospital, following a brief battle with cancer. He was 59.

Born in Apeldoorn, Holland, on June 10, 1944, to Gerrit Wemerman and Johanna Testerink, both deceased, John immigrated to Canada as a young child.

He lived in Morewood and Chesterville and went to school in Toronto, where he earned a diploma in architectural design from Ryerson, after which he obtained his journeyman's designation in carpentry.

John is survived by his wife, Judy, whom he married in Galt, Ontario, on July 31, 1971.

He is sorely missed by his children Greta (Chris) of Stratford, Ingrid of Kingston, and Eric at home.

John was the dear brother of Hermina Harris of Cornwall and will be fondly remembered as well by mother and father-in-law Phyllis and Douglas Drury of Cambridge.

He is dearly missed also by many friends and relatives.

John was an avid golfer and particularly enjoyed the Thursday night get-togethers at the Morrisburg Golf Club and competing in tournaments.

In the winter months, John enjoyed bowling in a weekly men's league.

Cremation was followed by a private family gathering, and inurnment took place at Mount Pleasant Cemetery in Morrisburg on Saturday, August 3, at 11 a.m.

Arrangements were entrusted to Parker Funeral Home.

The family wishes to thank Dr. A. Thomas and Cindy Bennis, R.N., of Home Care, and appreciates any donations made in John's memory to the Canadian Cancer Society or a charity of choice.

John's son Eric composed the following poem as a tribute to his father:

You will always be in our hearts and minds
You were caring, well-liked and ever so kind.
Even though you left this earth in the prime of your life
You left fond memories with your family, friends and wife.
Carpentry was your passion, love and trade
It showed through all the positive remarks that were made.
Golf was your game, especially getting together with all your friends and peers
And afterwards sitting down and having a few beers.
You will be sadly missed by everyone who knew you
And will be remembered through our love each and everyday too
Your passing has made everyone so sad
But always remember that I love you Dad

Adriana P. 'Jane' Smits

Iroquois resident Adriana P. 'Jane' Smits passed away on Monday, July 29, at Winchester District Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness. She was 71.

Jane was born in Holland on April 1, 1931, to Martin Vloet and Gerarda (nee Logtens), both deceased, and came to Canada with her parents in 1951.

She is survived by her husband, Gerard Smits, whom she married May 26, 1956, at St. Bernard's Roman Catholic Church in Finch.

Together, Jane and Gerard operated a farm in the Lancaster area, where they raised their family. After retiring from farming in 1990, the couple moved to the Morrisburg area, where they had lived for the past 12 years.

Jane had been a certified teacher in Holland, though she never chose to take a teaching position in Canada, and her teaching skills were evident in everything she did, from being a farmer's wife and mother to being involved in leadership positions with organizations in the Cornwall and Lancaster areas.

Jane will be sadly missed by her children Donna (Robert) Pease of White Rock, B.C.; David (Dawn) of Summerstown; Alma (Kevin) Scully of Waterloo; Bonnie (Chris) McCall of Brantford; and Gerry of Owen Sound.

She is predeceased by brothers Anthony and Gerrit and will be sorely missed by siblings Trudy (Tony) Vandenberg of Ottawa, Dina Weren of Chesterville, Nellie Vanderhyden of Stratford, Joanne (Robin) Stanton of California, Mary (Peter) VanMoorsel of Mariatown, and Tina (Gary) Coulter of Gananoque.

Jane will be fondly remembered as well by many nieces and nephews and grandchildren Madeline, Nicholas, and Katherine Pease; Garret and Evan Smits; Keelin, Mairead, and Sjaan Scully; Adriana and Samuel McCall; and Jordan Smits.

Jane will be remembered for her devotion to family, wonderful sense of humour, courage and tenacity, intelligence, hard work, and leadership.

A member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Morrisburg and of the Catholic Women's League, Jane was involved in many church and community service groups such as the St. Joseph's Church Ladies Auxiliary in Lancaster, Shalom House in St. Raphael's, the Cursillo Movement in Cornwall, and the CPTA at Iona Academy.
