GARDNER PEST CONTROL LTD.
BURL MILLER PROP.

James Dean, shortly before his fatal car crash, smiles into the camera and advises young people to drive safely because, "The life you save may be mine."

Fattie McDaniel, the first black Oscar winner, tells the audience at the 1939 Academy Awards, "I hope I've been a credit to my race." And Humphrey Bogart, who died of cancer, apologizes to a film crew for burning himself with a cigarette during a scene.

These little bits of irony are from a beautiful mishmash of snippets and sundry scenes in a film premiering this week

Pay T.V.
Blake Fowler

(May 8), on First Choice-Superchannel. Hollywood Outtakes And Rare Footage is not to be confused with the sad bloopers and out-takes tv show hosted by Dick Clark and Ed McMahon. This film is a rare gem.

Only released in Canada in January, the movie set house records when it premiered in New York two years ago. It is the work of film buffs Richard Schwarz and Bruce Goldstein. In many cases the 16 mm outtakes were discovered by accident. In one instance, a retired movie house projectionist found an old clip of Joan Crawford, appearing with her daughter in a public-service message. "Goodnight, Mommie Dearest", says the daughter who later turned those words into a best-seller.

It includes scenes cut from movies, screen tests, award ceremonies and even home movies from that wonderful time when America was the envy of the world. It also provides a provocative behind-the-scenes look at Hollywood's most glamorous era.

While the film follows no logical progression it has a sense of good-natured spontaneity and offbeat wackiness that adds to its charm.

This week's other highlight is a fun piece with Richard Pryor and John Candy which runs May 4, 6 and 9. Brewster's Millions is the fourth re-make of the 1921 Fatty Arbuckle classic, but the first with a black man as the protagonist.

Pryor is Monty Brewster, a semi-pro ballplayer who must spend $30 million in 30 days (up from one million in the 1921 version), to earn an inheritance of $300 million. Should be easy, right? Well, if it was, there wouldn't have been five versions of this movie.

Speaking of baseball, I love those trips the Blue Jays take to the west coast because they provide such a great alternative to old movies on the late show. This week, Wednesday and Thursday, the Jays are in California to face the Angels. Both games start at 10:30 on TSN.

Incidentally, TSN says it signed up 29,000 new subscribers in February, largely because of interest in those Blue Jays. TSN's current subscriber base is now approaching one million, far in excess of their projections when they took to the air in the Fall of '84. .

QUALITY COMES STANDARD.

Ariens YT1138

What's "special" on many other lawn tractors is standard on an Ariens YT1138. Such as:
•Flex-N-Float mower deck
•automotive-style steering
•key electric start.

And with over 50 years of Ariens know-how built in, a standard Ariens is going to last a lot longer than any "special".
