1967 Council-- first meetings hire, appoint, direct, plan

Chesterville village council and the reeve took the oath of office last Wednesday. Reeve Carl Merkley led the ceremony followed by councillors Keith Graham, Allan Clement, Gordon Lannin and Lorne Trimble. Two new faces this year are those of Gordon Lannin, back to the chambers after several years' absence and Lorne Trimble, a young Pentecostal minister of Chesterville. Clerk Lorne Marcellus officiated at the oath taking. The first meeting was held in the clerk's office at 11 a.m., Jan. 4.

Village government is to receive the same per meeting rate as last year, $12 for all meetings. Reeve Carl Merkley will get an allowance of $50 for car use over and above the regular meeting rate. The clerk will receive $3 for each special meeting only.

Mrs B. W. Graafland was rehired as part-time clerk's assistant at the same rate as last year. She receives $30 per week.

One of the first directives issued by the new council had to do with the position of clerk-treasurer. Lorne Marcellus was rehired, but on a month to month basis. Council expressed the desire that the standard of work being done by the clerk be raised and ordered certain changes in procedure to that end. Mr Marcellus agreed to act to the best of his ability according to the wishes of council. His salary will be $133.33 per month.

The meeting was called again in the evening of Jan. 4. It continued until 12.30 a.m.

One of the valued employees of the town, Wm. McPhail was rehired at his usual rate of $1500 per year. Reeve Carl Merkley expressed the satisfaction of council with his application to his work.

The matter of garbage collection came in for a lot of discussion. Councillor Lorne Trimble expressed a feeling of dissatisfaction on the uncertain pickups he had experienced on his street. He felt a one-day pickup service might save the town some money. This opinion was greeted by older councillor members with something less than enthusiasm. The concensus was that the services rendered by Graham Heagle, the operator, were excellent; with the usual small directions against flying paper and such his contract was renewed at an increase of $20 per month. Mr Heagle pointed out he blew four tires and had no less than 105 punctures last year on the garbage truck, a lot of it in town service.

Fire chief John Hehir felt he needed a bit more money as bonus. When the horsetrading had died to a standstill he accepted a raise of $6 per month.

Police chief Leonard Shane was instructed to get about more on foot, try a bunch of doors and generally make himself seen in the daytime. The chief noted he was on the village beat on the average until 3 a.m. every night and found it difficult to be out early in the morning. But he promised to take the air a bit more on his hind legs and did not ask for a raise. Last year, he received a noble increase. His salary is $4500 and car allowance is $2400 per annum.

Harold Sharkey negotiated his present salary into a bit higher bracket. He asked for more than council felt equal to, felt no enthusiasm for council's counter offer and both settled for an increase of $30 per month. His total salary for village, hydro and water system will be $5860 per year. He was commended by council for an excellent job during the past year.

Councillors ran out of steam shortly after midnight and the reeve called the whole thing off until Monday of this week. Another session until midnight finished the 3-meeting start for the year.

Library board members were appointed for the following terms: Joe Pringle, 1967; Mrs B. W. Lapp, 67-68; Lorne Trimble, 67-68- 69. Councillor Keith Graham did not ask for re-appointment; he noted that 20 years on one board was long enough.

The representative on the district high school board, Ronald Lynih, was reappointed. Mr Lynch was a recent appointment to replace Sarsfield O'Connor, and as the reeve suggested, had hardly warmed up to the position.

Community Centre board appointments are Gordon Lannin and the reeve. The Recreation Committee coucil appointments are Allan Clement and Lorne Trimble.

Two town positions that call for attention and facilities will be ably filled by Earl Cross as sheep evaluator and Gerald "Mickey" McMillan as pound keeper. What with a rash of skidoos on the streets, wandering sheep are in danger of slaughter and dogs could be scared out of their normal patterns.

The main committees of the town are equally divided between the old and the new. Councillors Lannin and Trimble will manage the fire department and facilities, police department and such public services as garbage collection. Councillors Graham and Clement will endeavour to keep the roads in shape, the bridges safe and the finances adequate. Reeve Merkley is a member of all committees as well as welfare officer for the village.

It was decided to join the Association of Rural Municipalities

CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

We had a sudden trip to Montreal over the weekend. We spent a lot of time in that Latin city, years ago, what with indulging in a smattering of booklearning, trying to make a living and generally wasting a lot of time. We might better have stayed on the farm.

There was a time when a trip to Montreal was a planned affair. We would liven up the old Dodge sedan, run up 60 pounds of air in the tires by hand, pour in a gallon of fresh Havoline oil and take on 8 gallons of gas at Fulton's pump. Early in the morning, when the dew was still on, the family would be loaded, the hired man instructed to the last straw to be strewed and the caravan would head east.

The first stop for relief of pent-up kids would be at Long Sault rapids. Speed records would be in no danger getting there. The old Dodge was steady at 35 and 40. At a roaring 50 she scared mother and father received the word. We would make it to the long canal at Soulanges in time for an early dive into the food. Out would come standard ordinary picnic fare. Fried chicken that proved tne frying butter was fresh, a couple of loaves of fresh-made bread, pickles that snapped and potato salad that had body. The end was in sight when the apple pie appeared, especially that made from the first fall Duchesses.

Father would unscrew the radiator cap here, check the water level and add a pint of clear St. Lawrence juice. It was rumoured water was scarce in Montreal, even in tnose days. We would wind our way to the city. The road would end in a couple of toll gates over the Ottawa at Vaudreuil but then everybody had to pay to get into Quebec, even then. The bridge was narrow then and everything had to wait if a Mack truck rattled on. No room left for a passenger car. The track was clear from there to Montreal.

One only had to follow the road. It had been laid out by Indians some thousands of years ago as they walked from here to there keeping the lake in view. The twists and turns of that old road to Lachine were enough to make a snake bite its tail. The family would eventually end up in Westmount in time for supper. In those days, our Montreal relatives were still close enough to the farm to eat supper.

Last weekend we had Montreal in view in one and one half hours. We eased into the traffic on Hy. 43, sneaked into Gene Macdonald's Alexandria and down Hy. 34, then went into high gear on 401 heading east with the wind in the right quarter. Lo and behold! Mr Johnson had opened the new connection with 401 and everything was "go." We missed the bridge at Vaudreuil with hardly a sigh, snuck up on the Metropolitan Autoroute with fenders intact and suddenly looked St. Joseph's Shrine right in the eye. We arrived at our appointment just one full hour too early and paid for our sins by watching the women head for the stores.

We sometimes worry about the way things are done or are not being done in la belle provence. But the roads will all lead to Expo and they will be good, new and fast. Within the city, even the noted Montreal traffic is fairly reasonable. For the first time in 40 years the traffic on Sherbrooke Street seems to be going somewhere, not just sitting there. And St. Catherines has turned into a side street now that the Metro has burrowed underneath.

It is just five months since we were in Montreal last. The old place is changing by the minute and getting better and better. We plan on closing down the Castle come Expo time and stake out a room in the Habitation.

Stormont 4-H girls hold Achievement Day

The Stormont 4-H Homemaking Club Achievement Day for the project "Working with Wool" was held Saturday, January 7, 1967, in the Ingleside United Church hall.

Seventy members completed the project by making a wool skirt or jumper and record book during the meeting which have been held from October until December.

Highlight of the program was the presentation of special awards. Four girls were awarded County Honours on the completion of these projects. They were Brenda Shaver, Ingleside; Beverley Clark, Cornwall Centre; Cathy Price and Cheryl Warner, Newington.

Provincial Honours marking the completion of 12 4-H Homemaking club projects were awarded to Heather Dawson, Ingleside; Gail Laporte, Lunenburg; Sandra Vance and Carol Esdale, Cornwall Centre 2. The presentations were made by Mrs L. Steele, president, Stormont District W. I.

Two scholarships were also presented at the Achievement Day. The Dorothy Futcher Federated Women's Institute of Ontario Scholarship was presetned to Miss Jill Robertson former member of Cornwall Centre club. This scholarship is awarded on alternate years to one member in Eastern Ontario who is advancing her education. The Ottawa Citizen Award for further education was presented to Miss Carolyn Clark, former member of Cornwall Centre club.

The afternoon program was presented especially with the interests of visitors in mind. Sandra Vance of Cornwall Centre 1 commented on her club's exhibit "A wool skirt and its companions". Judy Bilmer commented for the Northfield club on the exhibit "A variety of wool fabrics". Anne Shaver of Osnabruck commented on her club's exhibit "Pattern alterations".

"How and why of pressing wool' was the topic of demonstrations by Kathleen Snetsinger, Cheryl Warner, Marlis Presley and Geraldine Waldroff of Newington and Gail Laporte, Jane Campbell and Sandra McPhail of Lunenburg 2.

Mary Dixon and Peggy Hunter of Ingleside 1 demonstrated "New life for the old skirt.' The same topic was also presented by the members of Cornwall Centre 2.

"Wool, the fibre and the fabric" was the topic of Ingleside 2 presentation by Brenda Shaver, Donna Dawson and Linda Hall. All the memebrs of the Lunenburg 1 club presented the same topic.

A colourful part of the afternoon was the Fashion parade of skirts and jumpers made during the project. A member of each club provided a commentary.

The Achievement Day was conducted by the County Home Economist, Mrs Alison Murray and visiting Home Economist, Mrs Michelle Tardiff and the club leaders.

The spring project "A world of Food in Canada" will commence with a training school for leaders on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 24th and 25th, 1967 at Newington United Church hall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Town to get lit for week starting Jan. 20

A big program of decorative lighting will get underway beginning the week of Jan. 20. Centennial Committee people have been working on the project and have enlisted the aid of specialists from Ontario Hydro and supply houses.

It is planned to make temporary displays with floods of Community Hall, St. Mary's Church, Trinity United Church and at least three private homes. The displays will include stand lights and outside floods that will be available through Chesterville Hydro to home owners. It is hoped that a large number of homes and public buildings will be lighted for the full Centennial season.

Taxes accepted now at Clerk's office for advanced payment

A new feature of tax collections in Chesterville has swung into full stride. A pre-payment system of taxes is in effect and many property owners of the village are taking advantage of the generous discounts offered.

The month of January is the highest discount month. Payments against an estimated tax bite will be allowed a premium of 5½%. The property owner need only decide how much he wishes to pay and the clerk will issue an official tax credit, good for the time when the tax bills are issued.

It is suggested that one means of estimating approximate taxes for 1967 is to check last year's bills. That would be close to the figures that will be issued in June.

Discounts will be offered in lessening amounts on tax payments until September. A circular was issued to all tax payers of the village in November. If the slip has been mislaid, more are available at the clerk's office in Community Hall.

Wmsbg. Twp. Council holds inaugural

The initial meeting of the 1967 council of the Township of Williamsburg was held January 7 in the IOOF Hall, Williamsburg. Taking the oath of office were Reeve J. C. Whitteker, Deputy Reeve Hugh A. McMillan and Councillors D. H. Kyle, Hubert Casselman and Edward Hanson. Rev D. L. Gordon of Williamsburg United Church conducted the invocation.

Mr Whitteker and treasurer K. Schell were authorized to sign all township cheques and documents for the year 1967. Under the authority of By-law 1 (1967) the reeve and clerk were authorized to borrow up to $150,000.00 to meet current expenditures.

Under authority of By-law 2 (1967) the following officials were appointed: Solicitor, G. Wm. Gorrell; auditors, John L Lewars and Co.; clerk-treas., Keith Schell; road superintendent, L. A. Whitteker; relief and truant officer, Auldon Ennis.

Council approved of the sale of residential land in Lot 25, Con. 1, bq the township to Seaway Chemicals Ltd. Council approved of the sale of residential land in Lot 30, Con. 2, by Alex English.

The clerk was instructed to join the Association of Rural Municipalities and the Ontario Good Roads Association. The township engineer was instructed to examine and report on the construction of the Summers Drain.

Maxville Millionaires trim Cardinal 10-5

St. Lawrence Junior B hockey was played at Cardinal Monday night, with Maxville Millionaires whipping Cardinal 10-5.

Scoring for Maxville were Ron Beausoleil, Bryce Benton, Mel Thompson and Don Tylion with two goals each, with singles going to Don Blaney and ob Latreille.

Bob Baldwin scored three times for Cardinal, with Jim Loughrdige and John Arnott picking up singles. There were six penalties in the game, with Maxville picking up four.

Jake Leonard has officially taken over Maxville coaching duties for the remainder of the season as John Shaver has decided to step out and take the position as director of personnel.

Nor. Stor. H. L. double bill delights last Friday's fans

The menu as dished out by the four North Stormont Hockey League teams in the double bill at Finch Community Centre on Friday night must surely have appealed to even the most avid hockey fan. The program had Finch meeting Avonmore and Chesterville going against Lunenburg and the arrangement provided entertainment which would whet the appetite of any cash customer.

In the opening round Chesterville drew first blood after one minute of the first period as Pat Burnside whisked the puck past the startled Lunenburg netminder. Bob Henderson earned the assist on this quickie. Larry Prieur tallied at the ten minute mark on a relay from Geo. Raymond and Lynden Wells for a 1-1 showing as the session ended.

With the middle frame less than one minute old, Wells sailed close in to beat Fred Labre after picking up a pass from McGregor and Warner to place Lunenburg in front. Ray Imrie scored for Chesterville after four minutes from Reg. Hutt and repeated at the ten-minute spot from Fred Harper to put Black Hawks ahead 3 to 2. This one-goal margin held up until Wells netted his second of the evening for a 3-all score as the period ended.

The final frame featured thrill after thrill as the play moved from end to end and the credit for the fact that there was no score in this period must go to Fred Labre and H. Lalonde. Both goalies came up with sensational saves time after time.

Lunenburg will play the next game without Keith McGregor who was suspended for one game following a slashing and fighting episode in the third period. Lunenburg collected seven penalties and Chesterville settled for five.

In the final game Avonmore opened the scoring as Brian Robillard tipped one in on a pass

Ontario farmers must become more educated

An increased world population to be fed and a drastic land shortage will make Ontario farmers more important by 1976, the Eastern Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Associations' annual meeting was told Wednesday at Kemptville.

Everett Biggs, provincial deputy minister of agriculture and food, said the conference theme "More Money from the Same Acres" basically describes what must happen in Eastern Ontario agriculture — in fact world agriculture—during not only the next 10 years but indefinitely.

Speaking on "What's in the Next 10 Years" Mr. Biggs said land will become a more scarce and expensive resource.

To produce more milk and meat per acre, he said, a farmer must grow three and even four blades of grass in 1976 where one was produced in 1966.

To achieve this goal, he warned a farmer must have a better education, know more about his land, through farm management study, soil analysis and fertilizer requirements. He must keep better farm records and operate a bigger farm — even if he has to lease extra land.

There are almost one million acres of poorly drained soils in the South Nation watershed alone, that have a high farming capability, if drained, he said.

Tomorrow's farmer must know more about which crops to plant to get the best results. He must know more about financing, in order to compete with other industries in obtaining capital to expand his operation. Farm machinery will be more sophisticated and will help a farmer meet the trend toward more spe-

Various events planned by Centennial Committee

The Centennial Committee of Finch will sponsor a Grand Centennial Dance for all ages on January 28 in Finch Community Hall at 8.30 p.m. The theme will be "Dancing Through the Years" and some of the oldtife dances will be demonstrated, then everyone will be asked to join in. The Centennial Queen will be judged and crowned. Although it is not essential, it is hoped that everyone will wear Centennial costumes.

The teenagers of Finch Township will hold a meeting in Finch Community Hall on Sunday, January 15, at 2 p.m. to form their committee and to plan their project.

The executive of the Centennial Committee will meet January 23 to discuss proposals from the Teenage Committee, whom they sponsor, and to complete plans for the dance.

Quebec's modern expressways welcomed by all motorists

Of main interest to district motorists in the recent opening of new expressways in Quebec is the route linking up with the Macdonald - Cartier (401) highway at the border, some 28 miles east of Cornwall. Another to the Ontario border joins Metropolitan Boulevard with Highway 17 en route to Ottawa.

Both of these four-lane highway stretches have been awaited a long time, states the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder. Nevertheless their opening makes driving to Montreal a pleasure. After they arrive, motorists are on their own insofar as traffic movement is concerned. Driving in downtown Montreal and other sections of the metropolis is wild, simply wild, what with the numerous steep hills, inconsiderate drivers, one-way streets, number of cars using the streets, etc.

The expressway joining Highway 401 will cut the driving time to Montreal substantially. This will enable commercial vehicles to profit and also ease the strain on pleasure drivers. What a difference from the conditions when motorists had to use old No. 2 Highway, travel along the dangerous, 13-mile Soulanges stretch and then turn at Dorion to reach Montreal.

Quebec also opened other four-lane highways, one running south from Montreal to Rouse's Point to connect with a U.S. interstate highway. Another goes from Montreal island's east end to St. Hilaire, Que., but this won't be open to traffic until March.

The main thing, however, is that Quebec has paved (no pun intended) the way for easy access from the west to the province for those driving to Montreal to visit Expo '67 and other purposes. Completion of these four expressways gives Quebec a road network comparable to the best in any province.

Remote control farm tractors due

Farm mechanization has advanced to the point where one who tills the soil can't get along without modern equipment required to operate a farm successfully. Now comes word that by 1970 — only three years away — a farmer may be able to sit back on his front porch while his tractor operates without him at the helm.

A recent Canadian Press news item discloses that a model of a driverless tractor, operated by magnetic tape fed into a special computer, has been constructed by Dr F. V. MacHardy, head of the University of Alberta's agricultural engineering department. The report says that thanks to the computer, the tractor not only knows where to go, but automatically puts itself back on course when it hits a stone or other obstacle.

Aiding the computer keep the tractor from getting out of line are two heat-sensitive devices installed at corners of the field which home on the tractor's hot exhaust pipe and report any deviations from its prescribed path of corrective action.

The farmer, however, won't exactly be able to relax on his verandah and read newsapers and similar pursuits. He'll have to get off his chair to handle a few special problems such as when the tractor gets stuck in the mud. However, Dr MacHardy doesn't see any reason why one operator can't handle at least half a dozen of the machines. And he expects the cost won't be prohibitive — say $4,000, or so, and up. The control circuits employed to operate his model cost that amount. But between now and 1980 this figure could zoom upwards.

Already there is considerable farm automation. The remote control tractor will add to the supply. How many will be in the position to use them is something else again. However, they appear destined to take over from the ordinary tractor and this is good. There have been far too many farm tractor accidents, both in farm fields and on highways, frequently with tragic results.

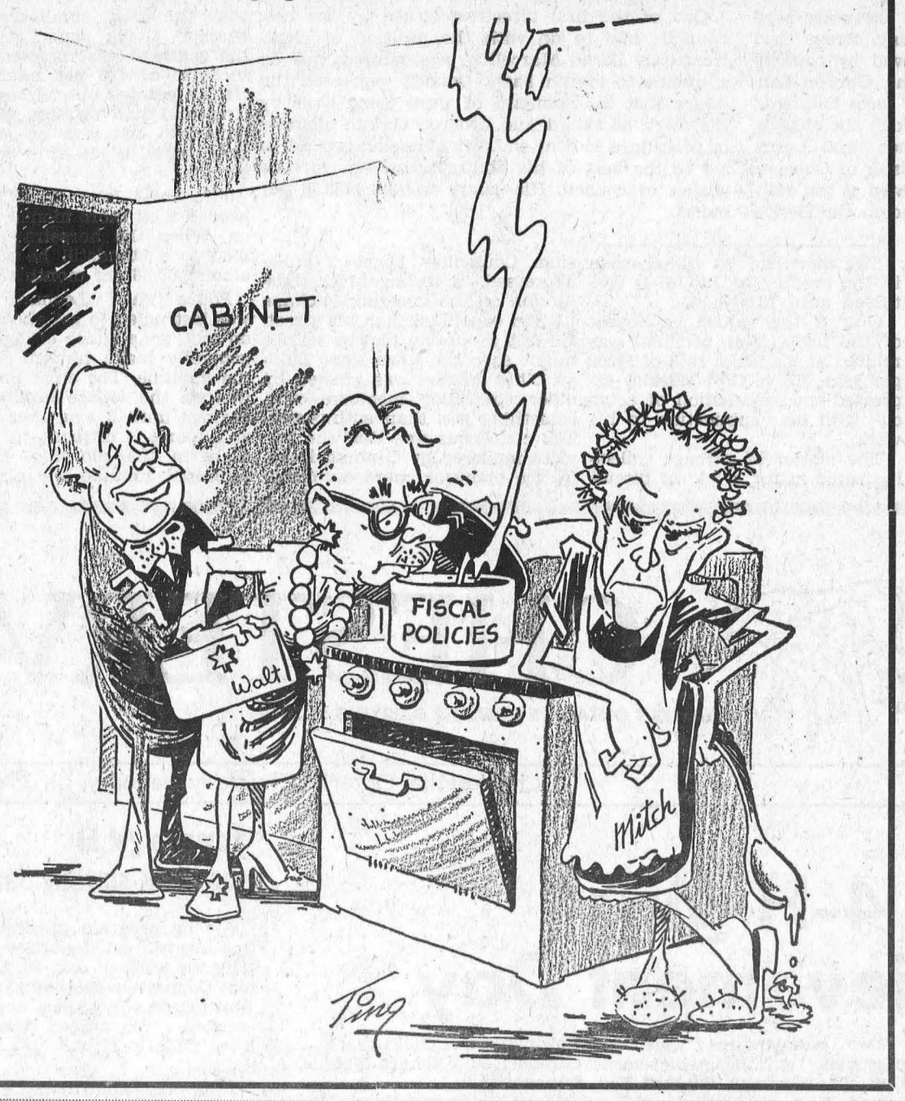
Bringing the Ex-Wife Home for Dinner



Letter to the Editor

Winchester, Ont.,
January 10, 1967.

The Editor,
The Chesterville Record,
Chesterville, Ont.

Dear Sir:

You may be aware of the fact, that Winchester District Memorial Hospital has been making efforts to obtain a certificate of accreditation, as issued by the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation.

This council sets standards, which, if the hospital meets them, are a very good indication, that a good quality of patient care is being provided to the patients in the accreditated hospital.

The Council obtains the information as to whether or not a hospital has complied with the Standards by means of surveys, conducted by its field staff representatives.

The first such survey was held on October 12, 1965, with the result that this hospital was awarded "Provisional Accreditation Status".

A number of recommendations were made at the time, to be implemented by the hospital within 12 months, or before the next survey, to be held within a year of date of first survey.

The second survey was held on November 7, 1966 and this hospital received word from the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation by letter, dated December 12, 1966, that "Full Accreditation Status" has now been awarded by Council to this hospital.

Very gratifying news for the Board of Directors and the Staff of this hospital indeed and of sufficient importance to warrant conveying this information to your excellent paper.

May I ask therefore, that the information as contained in this letter be used by your paper in its reporting of the "District News," which, as you undoubtedly know, will be of great help to this hospital in its efforts to keep the Citizens of the hospital's designated area informed about their hospital.

Your Kind help in this regard will be appreciated.

Yours truly,
Winchester District Memorial Hospital,
H. P. Stel,
Administrator

THE BIBLE TODAY . .

The Bible Centre is a diocesan service of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Montreal. Founded in 1950, it publishes a weekly leaflet outlining daily Bible Studies for its readers.

Originally in French, the English editions were started three years ago. In keeping with the latest scholarship in scriptural studies, this pamphlet, entitled "I Discover the Bible," is addressed to adults on a popular level.

This past year the English leaflet was sent to all five continents, to a subscription list of about 7,500 persons. The French edition, now in its ninth year, has gone through the printing of the one millionth copy some weeks ago.

Begun and maintained as a means for people to love and better understand the Word of God, the Bible Centre in Montreal serves not only the Archdiocese, but reaches out into all the world. The Centre is at the service of all Christians.

Grateful for the interest so many people have taken in the Centre, Sister Joanne of Christ, the Assistant Director, says that she "would be happy to have our organization and publication better known." The Centre is located at 2000 Sherbrooke St., West, Montreal 25.

Marrs – O'Shaughnessy

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Church manse, Williamsburg, on Dec. 17, at 2 o'closk, when Beverley Lynn O'Shaughnessy, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs Merton O'Shaughnessy, became the bride of Winston Marrs, son of Mr and Mrs William Marrs, Chesterville. Rev. D. L. Gordon performed the ceremony.

The bride looked lovely in a street-length white wool dress with shoulder-length veil and corsage of yellow roses.

Miss Linda Hummel was her only attendant. Mr John Marrs was groomsman for his brother.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs Carl Beckstead.

Guests attended from Montreal, Cornwall, Ingleside, Morewood, Chesterville and Williamsburg.

OIL SPRINGS UP

Amateur gardener David Clewes has struck oil at the bottom of his garden in Birmingham and the erperts don't know where it has come from.

Oil began seeping through holes he dug for plants, ruining the rest of the garden. The "gusher" yields about a barrel a day. "It wouldn't be so bad if we had oil-fired central heating," said his wife Joan, "but we use gas."

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers—I used to look forward to reading the Sunday papers but now I just get mad. The reason — those frightful looking brides in the society section. Pick up any Sunday paper in the United States or Canada and you will see what I mean.

I realize that styles change, but my grandmother's wedding picture is still beautiful and so is my mother's. You can at least see their faces. Why do so many brides today wear bangs that hang down into their eyes? Or side-drape hair-do's reminiscent of an old Veronica Lake movie? And those boyish haircuts under wedding crowns are the ugliest thing yet. My biggest gripe, however, is the bride who poses in glasses. If a girl is so dumb that she doesn't know glasses ruin a picture why doesn't the photo-protographer tell her?

Please Ann, inform all brides everywhere to avoid far-out fads. Tell them to stay with the simple hair-do's and to please leave the horned-rimmed, kookie glasses off. Ten years from now they will be glad they did.—Mrs. C. H. R.

Dear C. H. R.—The brides in the Sunday papers are the same girls you see in high schools, colleges and shops. That's the way they look — and apparently at least one young man liked the look well enough to marry the girl.

I do agree, however, that the wise bride avoids a far-out hair-do and kookie glasses. Remember, girl, simplicity never goes out of style.

Dear Ann Landers—The holiday season is over, so it's too late to do anything about sucker list junk this year, but here's some information that might help your readers NEXT YEAR.

I was so annoyed with unsolicited "gifts" sent to me through the mail during December that I called the Post Office for advice. I was told to cross out my name and "Return to Sender—Unsoliictied" and drop it in a mailbox.

The sender must then pay the return postage and chances are excellent that you will be taken off the fish list — smarter now.

Dear Now—Thanks for making us all smarter. Today is the day you gave Ann Landers some good advice.

Dear Ann Landers—I just read another letter in your column from a grandmother complaining about sitting with her daughter's children. It's time someone spoke up for the other side.

These modern grandmothers make me sick. They are all too busy with club work, bridge parties, ball games, dancing lessons, beauty shop appointments and trying to keep up with Grandpa who is a swinger.

If you think I'm a sour-puss who has it in for her in-laws let me assure you that my parents are just as bad. They also refuse to put themselves out so my husband and I can have an evening away from the children.

When our folks are 80 years old and complain that they are lonely and wish that their grandchildren would come to see them, I'll suggest that they go find a bridge game or take some more bambo lessons.—One For The Other Side.

Dear One—Is your nose out of joint because the grandparents ignore your children or because they don't offer to sit with them? If it's the first complaint I feel sorry for the grandparents. If it's the second complaint, I say you have no right to expect strictly voluntary — and if they don't offer, you shouldn't ask.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits, the boy or girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Teenage Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a lon, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

OLD CANADIAN FARM KITCHENS WERE SMALL FACTORIES

The agenda of a day in the life of a Canadian farm woman in the 19th century provides some idea of how the settlers got their reputation for hard work.

It is also an indication of how much a housewife had to know or learn. If she needed a pair of socks or a candle she probably began with a sheep.

Dorothy Duncan, technical assistant at Black Creek Pioneer Village in Toronto, says some of the skills needed to survive were acquired the hard way. Most settlers came to Canada from more sophisticated surroundings where textiles, for instance, were easily available in stores and were not customarily made at home.

Even when goods had begun to be available in Canada, transportation difficulties were formidable, costs often high.

Women's days began with ashes and fires and enormous breakfasts.

"After breakfast you might get bread set to bake. You would do the first mixing and set it aside to rise.

"If you planned to do a washing, you would begin to heat kettles over the fireplace or on the stove, if you were lucky enough to have one.

"If the cream was on the turn —ready to turn sour—you would churn that day. You would begin by pouring boiling water into the churn. Heat speeds up churning.

"We've made butter at the village with 12 to 15 minutes churning. We've also churned for two hours and haven't got it. You have to know when the cream is just right. Normally 10 minutes to half an hour's churning would give you about two gallons of butter. This was a job children could do if you had children the right age."

Servants were scarce, but Mrs. Duncan says there were more family members to be pressed into service, including children, grandparents and unmarried sisters.

"About two hours before the final kneading of your bread, you would light the bake oven. You put in kindling anl hardwood, lit it, let it burn and kept stoking it. When you were ready to put the bread in you cleaned out the ashes.

"There were several tests for heat. You could put your hand in and if you could hold it there to ,say, the count of seven, the oven was the right temperature.

"You could put flour on the peel (the board bread was baked on) or the oven shovel and see how quickly it browned. Some women used a feather to see how quickly it scorched.

"When the wash water was hot enough, you put it in a wooden wash tub and scrubbed the clothes on a scrub board that was often wooden. To dry them you hung them on the fence or spread them on the grass. In cold weather you hung them near the ifre.

"While you were doing these things you also got two big meals for the men, probably using just food from your own farm and the area. Salt pork was the commonest meat, but the forests yielded more than we think about now in the way of meat and fruit."

In the fall when the slaughtering was done, most of the year's supply of candles had to be made from tallow rendered down from animal fat. It was another chore children helped with.

"You might spend a day spinning and weaving. You can spin about three ounces of wool in a day. Remember in these homes you just couldn't sit down and spin. You were always getting wood or making meals."

It takes about four ounces of modern wool to make a pair of men's socks.

Last thing at night the fire was still on everyone's mind. Bed warmers filled with hot coals were applied to the sheets and fires were banked.

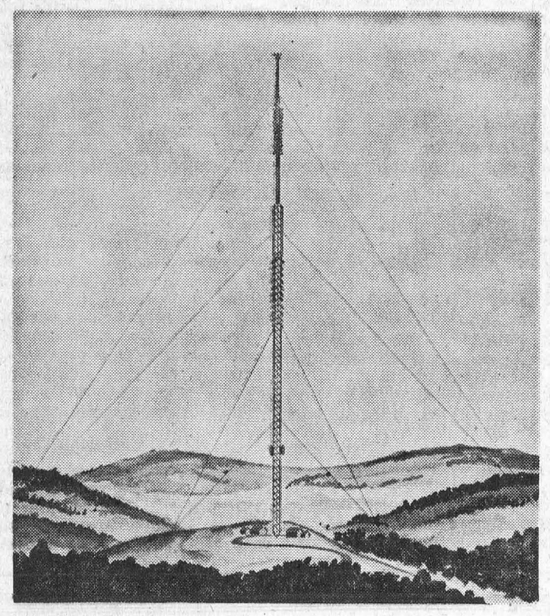
"In small houses it was quite common to have a child sleep on a settle bed near a fire to keep it going during the night."

PLASTIC PLANKS

A home handyman can eliminate a costly redecorating problem by covering the wall with plastic surfaced hardboard planks which are applied right to the old surface with special metal clips and wallboard adhesive. They never need refinishing, and can be kept clean with a damp cloth.

750-ft. Ryan Tower in Gatineau to bring unsurpassed transmission

A unique broadcasting tower, soaring 750 feet above the highest elevation in the Gatineau Parkway will bring unsurpassed colour and black and white TV transmission as well as greatly improved FM transmission to the whole Ottawa area. Recent headlines have reported that applications have been made by three Ottawa TV stations and three FM stations to go to higher transmission towers. Details showed that applications had gone to the Board of Broadcast Governors by CBC for CBOT; CBOFT; CBO-FM and possibly a CBC-FM French statinn; Bushnell TV Co. Limited for CJOH and Radio Station CFRA Limited for CFMO. The BBG will hear these applications at its Ottawa meeting January 31st. "These are not separate towers, but many stations on one enormous mast" said Mrs. Frank Ryan, President of CFRA Broadcasting Limited. All TV and FM stations in Ottawa will transmit from this new tower to be called "The Ryan Tower" and erected by CFRA Broadcasting Limited at the CFMO site at Camp Fortune. The Camp Fortune site is reported to be the best available for broadcast purposes in the Ottawa area. Furthermore, the transmitting complex will be comprised of some of the most modern and up to date apparatus available today in the electronics industry. No other tower in the Western Hemisphere will combine the features of the Ryan composite transmission tower.



Several towers have been built jointly by TV companies without provision for future TV or FM stations but this 750-foot structure at an elevation of 1186 feet will accommodate an Ultra High Frequency channel as well as Channels 4 and 9 for the CBC, Channel 13 for CJOH; FM transmission facilities for CFMO, CBO-FM, a proposed FM station for the CBC, and one FM channel for which CKCH is making application for a French FM station. In addition, many organizations wanting to use shortwave radio can be accommodated on the Ryan Tower.

The site on Skyline Ridge was boguht by the late Frank Ryan as a TV broadcasting site and then used for CFMO's powerful station, the transmitter house and tower having been placed in position by helicopter after being flown from the original CFRA site on Woodroffe Avenue. Construction this time will be over an improved road from Camp Fortune up the side of the mountain.

CFMO which now broadcasts in stereo, will add 'verti-power' to bring Ottawa area the finest known FM signal with the newest technological development. Verti-power overcomes fading and distortion in FM broadcasting such as occurs when FM receivers are distributed as in car radios. As the Ottawa area ranks third in Canada in the number of FM radios, this improvement will be apreciated by these discriminating listeners.

Engineering for The Ryan Tower is well under way and construction of the 750 foot mast will commence in April so that all the TV stations in Ottawa will be able to go into full colour TV transmission in 1967 and reach a much larger audience.

Engineers point out that the site will provide splendid coverage for up the Ottawa Valley and in those parts in Ottawa and Hull where TV reception is now limited. Every new high rise building in Ottawa creates TV problems and since colour TV requires more precise transmission than black and white, all the Ottawa TV stations have been searching for improved locations for the new TV colour transmitters. The CFMO site is considered to be of extraordinary value because of its elevation far above the area, providing enormeos coverage to the horizons and blanketing Ottawa and the Valley.

All the new users of The Ryan Tower will construct their own transmitter buildings. CFMO has its transmitter and generator building. The UHF space provided for on this mast is for channel 30 of other UHF channnels and these facilities will be offered to both Ontario and Quebec governments by CFRA Broadcasting Limited for Educational Television.

Recommend increase in teachers salaries

A maximum 10 per cent. annual salary increase for Ontario teachers is recommended in a circular by the Ontario School Trustees' Council.

The circular, distributed to Ontario school boards, suggests a maximum salary of $10,300 for top secondary school teachers and starting salaries of between $3,600 and $4,300 for graduates of teachers' colleges.

In support of its recommendation, the council says average executive salaries increased 5.5 per cent. in 1965 and 7.7 per cent. in 1966 and that manufacturing salaries went up four per cent. in 1965 and six to nine per cent. in 1966.

The 10 per cent. increase suggested, the council says, compares favorably with industry.

But secondary school teachers in Toronto are already on record as asking for a 25 per cent. increase in the coming year—and are prepared to strike to support the demand.

Robert Brooks, second vice president of the Toronto district of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, disagreed with the council's salary suggestion$s.

In an interview he said:

"A ten per cent. increase will only serve to aggravate an already acute situation and will not enable us to attract the 4,000 additional teachers we need next year.

He said the suggested increase "will still leave us five per cent behind industrial salaries, assuming they don't increase this year."

The council memoranduf also said it had polled about 700 elementary school boards in the province and found that 23 per cent. of them had kept automatic increases to 200 in 1966.

With this in mind the council suggests that such automatic annual increases be kept under $300 by school boards.

The memorandum also suggests a ceiling of $9,500 for teachers with degrees in elementary school and $6,000 for teachers with college certificates.

LIVE BOMB HANGOVER AT HITLER'S ATOM LAB

Hitler's efforts to produce a Nazi atomic bomb in the dying days of the Second World War have left a legacy of 300 unexploded bombs to endanger the lives of thousands of East Germans in Oranienburg.

People in the small town north of Berlin go about their daily business with occasional uneasy glances in the direction of a compound surrounded by a mile-long 20-foot-high wall.

Inside, police explosives experts are working over every inch of ground looking for the bombs.

The danger lies not in any nuclear material but in the remains of the massive Allied attack launched in March 1945 to smash Hitler's atomic potential at the Oranienburg research centre.

More than 600 U.S. Flying Fortress bombers rained some 3,000 new heavy demolition bombs on the centre, destroying it.

Because they had delayed time fuses, the bombs continued to explode for days.

East Germany's Communist authorities did not begin clearing the massive piles of rubble from the site until last year. Then the first unexploded bomb was found.

Explosives experts estifated that 300 of the 2,000-pound blockbusters did not explode in the 1945 raid and could go off at any time in the next 100 years.

The immediate area on the outskirts of Oranienburg was evacuated permanently, and the high blast wall was built around the site.

Some of the bombs were believed to lie 60 feet deep in the ground. Experts say it will take until 1969 to detect and disarm all the bombs.

Inter-faith service held at Finch

A community Inter-Faith Worship Service sponsored by the Finch Centennial Committee, was held in the Community Hall on January 1.

The Call to Worship was given by Mr Douglas Dunn, student minister of Chalmer's United Church. Rev William Craig, of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, read the Old Testament Lesson and led in the reading of the Litany. Rev Elzear Danis of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic Church read the New Testament Lesson and introduced the guest speaker, Rev Stewart McMillan of Harrison's Corners.

Father McMillan spoke of several aspects of the Ecumenical Movement and of his high school days in Finch.

The choir, composed of members of the three churches, sang as an anthem "All Through the Year," accompanied by Mrs Murray Doyle.

Rev Mr Craig pronounced the Benediction.

ENDS MESS

Self-liquidating confetti, the answer to a sextons prayer, is the invention of Bill Hale, an Essex barber.

Made from edible gum, food preserver and vegetable colouring, it dissolves in water or rain, eliminating the chore of sweeping up after weddings.

Finch W.I. holds January meeting at MacLean home

The January meeting of the Finch Women's' Institute was held at the home of Mrs Duart MacLean on Thursday evening. The president, Mrs Edward Moran presided assisted by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs Stuart Duff.

The meeting opened with the W. I. Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer. The roll call was answered by "naming something we owe our pioneers." Many thankyou cards were read by the secretary. A Christmas card was received from the girl Wong Laithar in school in Hong Kong, whom the Finch Branch has sponsored for the past few years.

The treasurer reported $121.51 on hand. The card secretary Miss Mary Cameron reported she had over $5.00 on hand. A discussion was held on the 4-H Home making club which will be called "A World of Food in Canada." Mrs Ernest Montgomery was appointed leader and Mrs Duart MacLean as assistant. The leader's course will be held on January 24th and 25th in Newington.

The convenor for the program, Mrs Donald Casselman, presented the program. Master Norman MacLean gave a reading on Sir John A. MacDonald. Miss Margaret MacLean and her brother Peter MacLean played a piano duet, Margaret also played several numbers on the piano. Mrs Casselman presented two films "Dressing Up Meals" and "Father gets the meal".

The meeting closed with the "Queen" and refreshments were served by Mrs Edgar MacLean and Miss Marguerite MacLean.

Osnabruck Centre W.I. meets at home of Mrs Delbert Flintoff

The Osnabruck Centre Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs Delbert Flintoff for their January meeting and an all-day Quilting bee followed by a potluck dinner. In the afternoon Mrs Jake Grandaw, president, opened the first 1967 business meeting with a New Year poem and was assisted by the secretary Mrs Jennie Flegg. The customary Opening Ode, the recital of the Mary Stewart Collect and the Lord's Prayer preceded the reading and approval of the minutes of the December meeting.

A total of 17 members and one visitor answered the roll call by naming a "Style that I Should not Wear", the majority condemning miniskirts.

A letter was read from the Canadian Save the Childrtn Fund acknowledging the receipt of the W. I. donation and enclosing the case history and photo of the little Chinese girl in Hong Kong, who will be sponsored by the Osnabruck Centre W. I. Another letter described the W. I. Centennial gate signs which will be ordered for the members.

Several thank-you letters were included in the correspondence. The 4-H Club Training School in Newington United Church Hall on January 24 and 25 "The World of Food in Canada" will be attended by Mrs Flintoff and Mrs Arthur, the prospective leaders. Greetings from the District president, Mrs L. Steele, were read.

The motto "Money - spend some, give some, save some" was ably developed by Mrs Arthur. The final plans for the January euchre were made, as well as the plans for renovation of tables in the Township hall. The meeting was closed by the singing of 'God Save the Queen." A centennial contest was conducted by Mrs Lyman Ault and won by Eva Baker.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assited by Mrs Clifford Collins who were thanked on behalf of the W.I. by Mrs Glenn Hollister.

Mr and Mrs Hector Carruthers of Cannamore, celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary on Saturday evening, January 7, at the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr and Mrs Ford Carruthers, Finch.

All members of the immediate family were present including Mr and Mrs Cecil Carruthers, a nephew from Manitoba.

Mr and Mrs Carruthers are enjoying good health and are able to attend church regularly and take a keen interest in community affairs.

Mrs Carruthers is 83 and Mr Carruthers is 84.

The best wishes of the community is extended to them.

Stanley O. Dillabough

Stanley Orlan Dillabough, Hummell St., Chesterville, passed away January 6, following a lengthy illness. A retired farmer, Mr Dillabough was in his 79th year at time of death.

Born at Chesterville on April 21, 1888, he was the son of the late Daniel Dillabough and his wife, Mary Fyke. He married Mary Cassidy at Winchester in 1939.

Surviving relatives include his wife; a stepson, Keith Bryce; five sisters, Mrs Wilburn Morrell (Effie), Mrs Fred Shay (Chloe), Mrs Allan Swerdfeger (Rose), Mrs Colin Shay (Edna), Mrs Harry Smith (Florence); four grandchildren and a number of nephews and nieces.

Mr Dillabough was a member of the United Church.

The funeral service, conducted by Rev L. M. Ferguson, was held at Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville, on Monday, January 9, with interment at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Lyle Marcellus, Harold Nottell, George Crawford, Derling Simpson, Hilton Reid and Henry Parker.

Roy McMillan

Following a short illness, Roy McMillan, King St., Chesterville, died January 6. Mr McMillan, a lifetime resident of the Chesterville district, was in his 77th year.

Born at Dunbar December 28, 1910, he was a son of the late George McMillan and his wife, Florence Barkley. He was predeceased by his wife, Myrtle Barkley, whom he married at Dunbar on December 28, 1910.

Educated in district schools, Mr McMillan was a member of the United Church.

Surviving relatives include a daughter, Mrs Stanley Black (Beatrice), of Winchester; two sons, Carl and Leon, of Chesterville; one brother, Cecil, Dunbar; two sisters, Mrs Nathan Casselman Eva), and Mrs Viola Elliott, both of Chesterville; 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Rev L. M. Ferguson conducted the funeral service at Trinity United Church, Chesterville, on Monday, January 9, at 2 p.m. Interment followed in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Lorne Taylor, Floyd Young, E. B. McMillan, Allan Moran, George Laflamme and Stuart Allan.

Mrs George Richer

An entire community and large circle of friends and relatives were shocked and saddened by the sudden death of Mrs George Richer which occured in the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall, Dec. 24th.

Mrs Richer was about her household duties as usual and became ill a few hours prior to her death.

She was in her 52nd year, a daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Patrick O'Donohue.

In July, 1937 she married Geo. Richer and has since resided west of Berwick.

Mrs Richer will be sadly missed being an active worker in all church activities. She was organist of St. Bernard's Parish for many years and a faithful worker in the C.W.L. She was on the executive since 1946, serving a term as president and at the time of her death was secretary of the organization.

Left to mourn are her husband, two sons, Patrick of Ottawa, Neil of Cornwall; two daughters, Mrs Mesman (Ardele), Hamilton and Betty Ann at home. She is also survived by one brother Leonard O'Donohue.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Brownlee Funeral Home to St. Bernard's Church, Finch, for requiem high mass, chanted by Rev. Fr. Danis assisted by Rev. M. J. O'Brien.

Mgr. Baugie and Rev. Stewart McMillan were in the sanctuary.

The body was placed in the vault. Interment will be in Crysler cemetery.

Pall bearers were Dan McMahon, Peter Manley, Russell Servage, Gerald Rady, Joseph Manley and Stanley Murphy.

The many floral and spiritual offerings, messages of sympathy received by the family, testified to the high esteem in which Mrs Richer was held.

Friends attended the funeral from Ottawa, Cornwall, Hamilton, Windsor, Casselman, Alexandria, Montreal, Vermont and surrounding district.

Going away? Stand your potted plants on bricks covered with water in the bathtub. The bricks absorb moisture. By so doing, they will keep the plants moist.

Mrs R. Cooper hosts Dixon W.I. meeting

Mrs Russell Cooper was hostess to the Dixon W. I. for their January meeting. The president, Mrs H. Loynachan opened the meeting with a reading "New Year's' Thoughts" followed by the Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer.

The minutes were read and approved.

The roll call was answered by 10 members and one visitor. The treasurer's report was given.

Mrs H. Loynachan along with other Institute members visited Mr and Mrs J. H. Hume and presented them with a gift on there 50th Wedding Anniversary.

A number of boxes of candy were delivered to shut-ins. Recipes for the Centennial Cook Book are to be sent in to the district secretary before January 10th.

An all-day quilting bee will be held at the home of Mrs Milan Ouderkirk on January 10th.

As this was a safety meeting the following readings were given:"New Course on Modern Driving' 'by Mrs Fred Rupert; "You Can Outwit old Man Winter" by Mrs Rae Shaver and "Safety Tips" by Mrs Russell Cooper.

The meeting was closed by singing "God Save the Queen."

Trinity U.C.W. meets at Ingleside

The annual reports for the year ending 1966 were given by the secretary of each department at the January meeting, Wednesday evening of the U.C.W. of Trinity United Church, Ingleside.

Rev. H. Giffin installed the officers for 1967, the slate of officers being the same as for 1966 as all officers of the U.C.W. serve a two year term.

A short worship service under the direction of Mrs Lucy Bockus and Mrs Marjorie Heagle was followed by a very interesting program with Unit 2 in charge. The theme was "Religious Leaders who had served the Lord from the Reformation down to the present." Clues were read and from these the members recognized the person meant. Some of these were Martin Luther, John Wesley, John Calvin, General Booth, Dr. Ryerson, Dr. Sidney Gilchrist and Martin Luther King.

Mrs Giffin's part in the program was called a relay race, three groups were formed, a map was mounted and when a question was asked, one from each group had to come forward and locate the place on the map. The first one finding the place on the map scored a point for her team.

Mrs Margaret Markell closed the program with the Missionary prayer, specifically for Miss Phyllis Mayhew, a former teacher at the Osnabruck District High School and now in Africa.

The business part of the meeting opened with the reading of the minutes, followed by the treasurer's report. Reports were given by the standing committees.

The annual business meeting of Trinity United Church will be held on Jan. 26 with a pot luck supper preceding the meeting.

The allocation of $900 for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund was accepted by the U.C.W.

Flowers are to be placed in the church for January by Unit 3.

Mrs Laura Brassard closed the meeting with prayer.

Oysters open and close their shells with the tides of their home waters, even when taken out of the sea.

MILK BAGS

They are experimenting with plastic bags for holding milk in Britain. They would be used when snow and blizzards close roads to milk pick-up tankers.

Made of tough polythene, the container can be placed on the farm vehicle, if it can get through where tankers can't, and filled directly from the farmer's bulk tank. Tankers are fitted up to collect the milk from the contain' ers.

If roads are impassable the bags can be used to store extra milk on the farm. They will handle from 150 to 300 gallons.

Reduce your speed when another car aproaches at night, the Ontario Safety League recommends. As it gets nearer, your vision will drop from about 275 feet to about 150 feet. As it passes your vision is limited to about 90 feet, even when you don't directly look at the oncoming headlights, the glare will blind you for more than three seconds. At 60 mph this will result in your driving "blind" for the length of a football field.

Buying a bride

Up in the rugged hills of the North-West frontier a rich landlord sold his daughter for 50,000 rupees (about $11,500) not long back.

When the news got around, nobody thought ill of him. If anything, his prestige was enhanced, because usually brides do not fetch such a high price.

There is nothing on record to show how the girl felt about it, probably she was proud and happy because she would have something to boast about for the rest of her life.

A bride-price of that size could only confirm what she had long suspected: that her beauty and charms were without parallel, in her own district at least, and that her father's social standing was high.

Bride-selling in the North-West Frontier region is a custom as old as the hills themselves and the people are proud of it, not the least the girls. At any rate, this is what recent evidence indicates. A team of social researchers headed by Khalid Ashraf, which carried out a survey in the area, reported customs which appear to have arisen in the dim mist of pre-history and are still flourishing.

As the report has it, no sooner does a girl reach the age of 15 than she is ripe for the "marriage market." How much she will fetch depends on a number of factors. Beauty and charm are important but she also has to be energetic and capable of a hard grind. She will have to help her husband out in the fields and few can afford to have any adornment in their huts beyond the bare necessities.

Another factor determining the price is the law of supply and demand. If the girls are in short supply—that is, if the proportion of women to men in a particular valley is low—the girl will fetch as much as 500 rupees (about $115). This is for ordinary girls. A chief's daughter, or somebody of high social standing, would fetch much more. The price goes up in direct proportion to how much folk around think of her father.

In some regions there are just too many pretty girls around and too few boys to marry them. In that case girls are sold for less than 200 rupees (aobut $46).

As often as not cattle are used as an exchange commodity. The girls are not ashamed to be exchanged for cows and buffaloes, because money is scarce in many of these areas.

Then there are occasions when tribesmen will strike another sort of bargain: "Your daughter for my son and my daughter for your son." Generally, a young tribesman would consider himself lucky if he is able to get away with a bride-for-bride exchange of this sort. More usually he has to work like the devil to scrape together the price of a bride.

These customs do not prevail in the better administered areas of the Frontier and the Punjab where it is considered degrading for a bride to be sold. She would never live it down all her life. At least her in-laws would never let her.

But back in the remoter valleys, ancient customs have survived time's march because the men are of a fiercely independent spirit.

OVERTIME WORK BAN IN TROUBLE

After working two days, Premier W. A. C. Bennett's ban on overtime in British Columbia ran into knotty problems and strenuous opposition.

The ban deterred nearly half the workers from returning after New Year's to the mammoth $700,000,000 Peace River power project in central B. C., an undertaking of the Crown-owned B. C. Hydro and Power Authority.

E. R. Peck, general manager of Peace Power Constructors Consortium, said: "The overtime ban apparently discouraged a a large segment of our labor force implied the project could not be maintained if the overtime ban was to be enforced. They said completion schedules would be impossible to meet because project bids were made on an overtime basis.

Peace River project contractors found that only 57 per cent. of their work force was on hand at the project following the Christmas-New Year's holiday. They had expected 2,945 workers on the site but were short 1,239 men.

On the Peace River project 160 miles north of Prince George and 60 miles from Fort St. John, the nearest large settlement, a laborer could make $1,000 a month or more before the overtime ban. B. C. Hydro figures showed skilled operators earned up to $1,200 a month and a few general foremen $2,100.

Many workers said that without overtime, the job was just too far out of town.

B. C. Hydro reacted by asking the government for overtime permits allowing six eight-hour days a week—not as much overtime as paid previously, but still an incentive. The government agreed.

Almost immediately, the construction industry, throguh Brig. J. W. Bishop, executive director o fthe Amalgamated Construction Association, complained.

"The report that the board of industrial relations has given a permit for the Peace project is extremely disturbing," he said.

"This news . . . appears to indicate a tendency on the part of the government to give more favorable treatment to its own projects than those of industry."

Some construction officials now expect a deluge of overtime appplications and inquiries from other construction companies to flood the board's offices.

FEWER WHOOPING CRANES

The whooping crane population lost ground slightly in 1966, says the Fish and Wildlife Service.

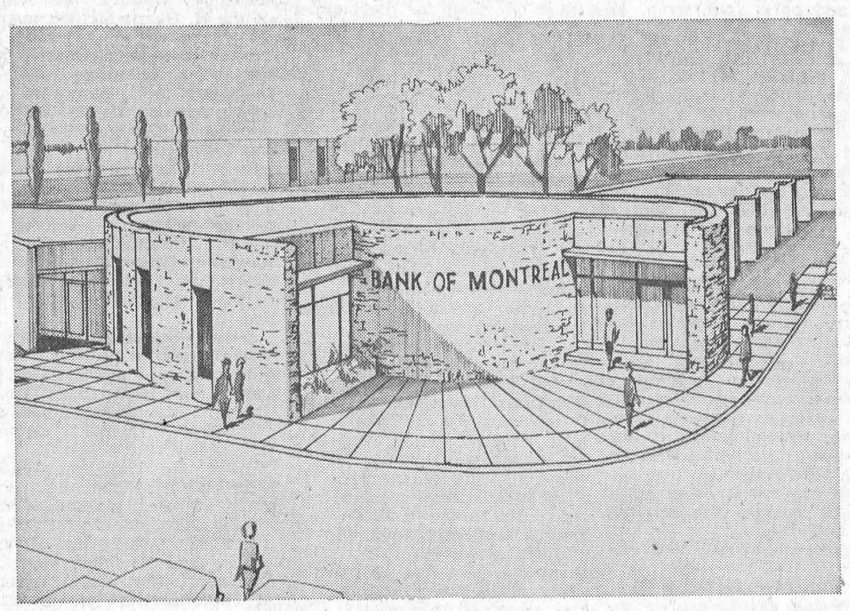
Thirty-eight adults and five young whoopers arrived at their wintering home at Arkansas, Texas, compared with the 36 adults and eight young that set out last spring for the nesting grounds in Wood Buffalo National Park ,straddling the Alberta-Northwest Territories boundary.

That means five of the young hatched last summer survived the long flight south. The wild-flock total now is 43 against 44 a year ago.

Whooper population in captivity fell to six in 1966 with the death of Josephine in a New Orleans zoo. She had hatched three living progeny.

In 1938 the total whooping cane population was believed to be only 10.

Canada is a world leader in asbestos, newsprint, platinum and radium.



New building for the Bank of Montreal's branch at Bramalea, Ont., now under construction, is believed to be the first circular banking building in Caanda. It will be the hub of a new shopping centre, with stores in two arms stretching from the bank. Completion is scheduled for June, 1967.

MISS WORLD CAUSES POLITICAL BATTLE

A 23-year-old Roman Catholic girl has become a major election issue in India.

She is Reita Faria, a Bombay medical student who was recently crowned Miss World at an international beauty contest in London.

Slogans attacking her and some in favour have been plastered on the walls of Indian cities as the pre-election fever mounts.

India's fourth general election since independence in 1947 is scheduled for February.

Her trip to U.S. bases in South Vietnam and Thailand with the Bob Hope troupe entertaining American servicemen during the Christmas holiday has started a major pollitical controversy.

The Indian Communist party wants her to be "punished suitably" for "betraying the New Delhi government's policy of non-alignment and non-involvement in the American imperialistic war."

The Communists are planning to make maximum political capital out of what they call Foreign Minister Mohamedali Chagla's failure to prevent Miss Faria from going to the United States and from there to South Vietnam.

Bhupesh Gupta, Communist member of Parilament, wants the government to impound the queen's passport the moment she returns to India.

The Communists are also planning a big protest demonstration in front of her Bombay home. Meanwhile, Communist dominated youth and student organizations have been asked to mount an anti-Faria campaign in colleges and schools.

There is speculation whether Miss Faria will choose to return to India as long as the controversy lasts.

SOME BIRD!

Earl Pitcher, 68, of Oxnard, Calif., soldered, sanded and sawed to produce his version of the world's wildest scarecrow. It's made of washing machine parts, an old record player and lots of solenoids, and can swing its arms, buzz and flash its bright-red nose. Pitcher says it intimidates sparorws and keeps them off his lettuce patch.

PORK FOR YOUR FREEZER

WHEN BUYING PORK for your freezer, have your meatman cut and trim it especially for you. This way, chops and steaks will be of uniform thickness and roasts will be just the right size for your family. Save freezer space by having roasts boned and rolled.

Plan to package and quick freeze all pork cuts the day you buy them. Package pork chops, steaks and tenderloin in meal-size portions with a double thickness of paper between layers of meat. Package pork roasts individually.

To wrap meat for freezing, first pad bones to prevent puncturing. Then, wrap the meat securely in a single layer of freezer paper using the "drugstore wrap" or place it in a freezer bag. Exclude as much air as possible and fasten securely with freezer taps. Label each package with the date, cut of pork, and weight or number of servings.

Quick freeze, a few packages at a time, as directed by freezer manufacturer. Keep frozen at zero degrees or less until ready to use.

Smoked and cured pork such as hams, cottage rolls and slab bacon can be wrapped and frozen as fresh pork. However, storage time is limited because freezing tends to intensify the flavour of salt and other seasonings.

For best results, use frozen pork within the times recommended in the chart given below. Longer storage will result in drying and loss of flavour. As a general rule, the larger the cut, the longer it can be kept without loss of quality.

Storage Times for Pork
(Zero degrees or less)

Roasts .....4 to 5 months
Chops and Steaks, 3 to 4 months
Tenderloin .....2 to 3 months
Minced Lean Pork....1 to 2 months
Picnic Shoulders....1 to 2 months
Cottage Rolls .....1 to 2 months
Slab Bacon .....1 to 2 months
Sausages .....2 to 3 weeks

When ready to use, thaw frozen pork cuts in original wrappings, either in the refrigerator or at room temperature. If times does not permit thawing before use, increase the cooking time by about one-half.

Fruited Pork Chops

6 well trimmed loin or rib pork chops, 1-inch thick.
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 (15-ounce) can mandarin orange sections, drained.
2 tablespoons of well-drained sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons soya sauce
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon sugar

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Coat pork chops with a mixture of flour, salt and paprika. Melt butter or margarine in a frying pan and brown chops well on both sides. Arrange in shallow casserole.

Combine undrained pineapple tidbits, mandarin orange sections, relish, soya sauce, corn starch and sugar; mix and pour over chops. Cover with foil and crimp securely to edge of casserole. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven until meat is fork-tender, 1 to 1¼ hours. Serve plain or with hot seasonsed rice, as desired.

Makes 6 servings.

Sausage "N" Sweet Potato Casserole

4 medium sized sweet potatoes
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Salt and pepper
1 pound fresh pork sausages
6 slices canned pineapple, halved
1-3 cup brown sugar
Few grains nutmeg or cinnamon
1-3 cup syrup from canned pineapple.

Cook sweet potatoes in boiling salted water until just tender. Drain; cool slightly; peel and slice. Arrange these slices in a buttered 8x12 inch baking dish. Brush them with the melted butter or margarine and season with salt and pepper.

Meanwhile, place sausages in a cold, lightly greased frying pan. Cook over moderate heat, turning frequently, until almost cooked and lightly but uniformly browned. Drain the partially cooked sausages on absorbent paper.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Drain all but about 1 tablespoon of fat from the frying pan. Add the halved pineapple slices and saute for 2 or 3 minutes or until lightly browned.

Now, place partially cooked sausages over the sweet potato slices. Arrange sauteed pineapple around the sausages. Sprinkle with brown sugar and nutmeg or syrup.

Bake in preheated 350 degrees oven for 20 to 25 minutes or until sausages are well done.

Makes about 4 servings.

The recipes and other information comes from the Home Economist with the Ontario Hog Producers Association.

IN MEMORIAM

ARBUTHNOT—In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Audrey B. Stewart, who went to be with the Lord January 9, 1962.

Five years have passed since that sad day
When God called the one we loved away.
Forget her, no, we never will,
For in our hearts she liveth still.

Ever remembered by Mother, Sisters and Brothers. 17

IN MEMORIAM

ARBUTHNOT—In loving memory of a dear sister, Audrey Arbuthnot (nee Stewart), who passed away January 9, 1962.

Take up thy cross and follow Him;
Nor think to lay it down
For only he who bears the cross
May hope to wear the crown.
In that eternal city
Where no tear dims the eye;
In the home of many mansions
We will meet her bye and bye.

Ever remembered by sister Bertha and family. 17

IN MEMORIAM

McDONALD—In loving memory of my dear husband, J. Harold McDonald, who was called so suddenly to his eternal rest on Sunday, February 7, 1965.

Ever remembered by wife Maye. 17-1

Rideau - St. Lawrence Science Fair Committee to award winners

It was decided after the December meeting of the Sixth Annual Rideau-St. Lawrence Science Fair Committee that a top prize of $100 be given to the exhibit judged "Best-of-Fair". Other winners will be given cash prizes and tickets to Expo '67.

High School students attending school in the following areas are eligible to submit exhibits: Gananoque, Brockville, Perth, Smiths Falls, Athens, Elgin, Prescott, Iroquois, Kemptville, Morrisburg, Chesterville, Ingleside and S. Mountain.

The fair will be held in Brockville on the 22nd of April, 1967, and the winners of the "Best-of-Fair" and "Runner-up, Best of Fair" awards will attend the Canada Wide Science Fair in Quebec City on May 10 - 12, 1967.

CHESTERVILLE COUNCIL—

and make an allowance of $100 for each visiting councillor at the annual smash in Toronto.

Township of Winchester officials waited on council. Reeve Cecil MacNabb headed a delegation of councillors Garfield Baker and John Barrett concerning township fire protection. A resolution, followed by an amendment set the rates for the year. They will be $55 per hour, minimum one hour for the pumper; $6.25 for the first hour for the crewmen and $3.25 per hour for each following hour. There will be no limitation to the number of crewmen sent out.

An innovation this year will find a standby crew ready in Chesterville with the small pumper when the big rig leaves town. Fire chief John Hehir has expressed his fears that the town was being unprotected in the event of a township fire. The new system will prevent this. The standby crew will be paid at the same rate as the other firemen by the township.

A letter from the attorney-general of Ontario was read and digested with more than a little heartburn. It was pointed out the powers that be in Toronto had now decided to do away with one - man police forces and let the OPP lads do the job. The letter stated they would be patrolling the town and district on a 24-hour basis and would provide adequate police protection. The comments of this particular phase of the new operation were less than complimentary. The reeve was instructed to dash off a letter to Toronto and find out who was going to pay for the OPP service, and what would be done with a trained policeman who has equal or much better police education than the average OPP officer.

An appointment was ordered made with J. L. Richards and Associates for a review of the proposed partial sewage system. The cost is rated at $117,000 for a system to service part of the north side of the village.

Chesterville hydro hired the secretary-treasurer on a monthly basis. Mr Marcellus gets $133.33 for this position and also $100 per month as clerk of the water system.

All bills were ordered paid.

from brother Doug at the one-minute spot. Finch counteracted this with three goals—the first by Ken Dingwall from Osborne Shaver, the second by Shaver from Brownlee and the third by Shaver from Dingwall.

In the middle frame Finch failed to register while Avonmore went in front 4 to 3 on goals by Doug Robillard with two and by Bob Grant, all three tallies being unassisted.

In the final period both teams scored twice for a final score of Avonmore 6 and Finch 5. Avonmore goals came from Doug Robillard, on a pass by Robertson, and from Ron Buchanan unassisted. For Finch Shaver had his third consecutive goal on a pass from Brownlee. Brownlee netted the final goal of the evening as the clock showed 18 minutes on a hand-off from Dingwall.

Finch suffered most from penalties—picking up eight, while Avonmore had two. Finch team appeared sporting new sweaters but failed to break them in with a victory. As in the previous game, bndles of orchids should go to Rocky Martin and Garry Villeneuve for their excellent performance in the nets.

Lunenburg and Chesterville are tied with five points, Chesterville having played one more game. Avonmore has four points for four games and Finch follows with zero points for three games.

ONTARIO FARMERS—

cialization in farming. It means he will follow industry's lead in using capital to replace labor.

"Specialized partnerships between farmers, with their many production advantages," Mr. Biggs said, "allow for a better use of labor. Why should 10 farmers each milk 25 cows seven days a week, when three men working five days a week, on eight-hour shifts, could do this milking?"

Marketing of farm products, he said, will become increasingly more important. Food retailing dominated by larger and fewer firms. The major food chains will control the producer-consumer chain.

"To counteract this powerful force," he said, "I would anticipate the formation of rather powerful farm marketing organizations. A central selling desk might possibly be a common feature of commodity marketing agencies or boards, as they are now known."

In 1976, he said, Ontario farms could supply an increasing domestic and exoprt demand of about 20 per cent.

"However," he observed, "Ontario farmers will only produce these extra quantities if they are adequately compensated for doing so. Otherwise, resources now used in agriculture will be more profitably emlpoyed in other endeavors. Either way, people now farming will be better off."

Lloyd MsRae, of Bainsville, in Glengarry County, was winner of the H. Harris McNish memorial award, given yearly to the farmer in Eastern Ontario who has given outstanding leadership to agriculture. The award was presented by the association's president, George Suffel, of Mountain.

More than 450 delegates and others attended Tuesday's session, and 350 were at the Wednesday meeting — 250 in the main auditorium and the rest watching proceedings on two closed circuit television monitors in the mechanical room at the rear.

Alfred Beaudette, of Northfield Station, in Stormont County, was elected president of the associations. He succeeds George Suffel of Mountain. Named vice presndent is Harold Lannin of Winchester.

Three new directors at large named to the inter-county committee are: Sam McLeod, of Martin, for Glengarry County; Hugh Blaine, of Hallville, for Dundas County ,and Raymond Kemp of Ramsayville for Carleton County. There are now six directors at large in the organization.

Charles A. Burd

Charles A. Burd, a resident of Finch Township, passed away suddenly at his residence in Crysler on Dec. 28th in his 67th year.

Born at Cambridge, April 3rd, 1900. He was the eldest son of Elizabeth Burd and the late Arthur Burd.

Mr Burd served on Township Council before taking over the duties of Road Superintendent, which he has held for the past 23 years.

Surviving relatives are his wife Elsie; one son, Reginald; two grandchildren, Steven and Loree; four sisters, (Ella) Mrs Millen Ouderkirk, Northfield, (Aggie) Mrs H. Gallinger, Finch, (Anna Bell), Mrs Cecil Baker, Finch, (Naomi) of Ottawa. Two brothers also survive, Walter of Finch and Carl, Niagara Falls.

A sister predeceased him in December, 1964.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. W. W. Craig from the Brownlee Funeral home, Finch. Mrs Debra Begg sang "Beyond The Sunset" with Mrs S. L. Begg at the console.

Pall bearers were Bert Rady, Arnott Empey, Leo Hunt, Elmer McDonald, Kenzie MacGillivray and Darwin Ouderkirk.

Mainly About People

Mr and Mrs Jack Van der Veen of Morewood arrived home from a holiday trip to California and Salt Lake City.

Mrs Duncan McElheran left Tuesday to spend a couple of weeks with her brother, Arthur Hutt, Mrs Hutt and family, of Rochester, N.Y.

Millionaires dominate St. Lawrence Jr. B League

Maxville Millionaires continue to dominate the St. Lawrence Junior B Hockey League; they lead second - place Prescott by 10 points. Basil Dawley, convener of the league, has things well under control.

Standings are: Maxville, 18 pts.; Prescott, 10; Spencerville, 8; Russell, 6; Cardinal 2. The general feeling around Maxville is that they can take the Ottawa district this year.

Cardinal goes to Maxville for a game on January 15th at 2.30 p.m.
