The Cause Of It All

CAR SEVERS TWO POLES

Seven Hour Power Failure Affects 5,000 Area Homes

A car swerved out of control on St. Lawrence Street early Sunday morning, and as a result Winchester and area residents were without electrical power for some seven hours.

At approximately three a.m. a 1963 Plymouth, driven by Edson Skuce, of Winchester, proceeding north, vereed off the road and cut down two Hydro poles. The accident occurred near the Winchester Hydro sub station.

Although the car was almost a total wreck, the driver fortunately was uninjured. However, the resulting damage and inconvenience was felt throughout the entire district. It was estimated that over 5,000 homes were left without power until repairs had been made, and this was not until almost ten in the morning.

At the time of the mishap temperatures were well below the zero reading, and sharp winds from the north created a wind factor of over 40 degrees below. Little wonder that most residents complained of the cold by morning.

There are no reports of damage to any private homes, but N.D.D.H.S. was forced to close on Monday as the heat and water pipes had frozen. Extensive damage was also caused in the Greenhouse at the school.

Several churches were forced to cancel their services.

Winchester residents, on being interviewed, smiled and called the interruption a slight inconvenience, and expressed admiration for the sturdy workmen who were forced to spend the night in the sub-zero weather making repairs.

Some reported having found the house a bit chilly and simply evacuated and found refuge in the warmth of their cars with the heaters operating smoothly.

Another Milestone Reached

. . . New Hospital Wing Now In Operation

On Monday, January 29th, 1968, another milestone was reached in the history of Winchester District Memorial Hospital with the taking into service of its new 16-bed Pediatric and 35-bed unit for the chronically ill.

Arrangements for the "Official Opening" and Open House ceremonies are now in the planning stage and are expected to be held in late Spring or early summer, rather than in the middle of winter.

The beds in the new wing will bring the total number of rated beds of this hospital to 128, distributed over the following services: Medical 31, Surgical 36, Obstetrical 10, Pediatric 16, and Chronic 35.

Many changes will be noted by visitors, but all are clearly marked, and new attractive signs indicate entrances.

The hospital is especially proud of some of the special features incorporated in the new building, such as a new fire alarm system, a beautiful playroom (with TV) in the Pediatric unit, an up-patient dining room area and day area (also with TV) in the Chronic unit, isolation rooms in both new departments, and a number of examination and conference rooms.

H. P. Stel, hospital Administrator, has arranged to have R. Alan Hay, Executive Director of the Ontario Hospital Association, address the Annual Meeting on March 5th. Mr. Hay is widely known in the hospital field and his presence and speech should cause the evening to be a very interesting and stimulating event.

The Administrator had this to say concerning this newspaper: "The Winchester Press has always given this hospital excellent press coverage and the hospital would like to take this opportunity to thank the Editor and all the other Press workers for their untiring efforts in this regard."

Two More OPP Officers Here

. . . Transferred From Morrisburg

Two more constables have been added to the Winchester Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, bringing the strength up to four. Both men, Constable W. W. V. Wilson and Constable D. White, have been transferred from the Morrisburg detachment.

Constable Vern Wilson is a native of Forrester's Falls, and received his public school education in that village. He graduated from the Cobden High School ,and prior to his appointment to the O.P.P. he was employed at the Bank of Montreal in Pembroke.

Following a three week orientation course at Provincial Police College in Toronto, he was posted to Morrisburg. In June 1966 he successfully completed a 12-week recruit course at Ontario Police College in Aylmer, Ontario.

Constable Wilson is very popular with the younger people in the area. In addition to coaching a midget ball team, numerous minor hockey teams, and playing on a local team himself, he was instrumental in the organization of a Boy's Athletic Association in Morrisburg.

CONSTABLE DOUG WHITE

CONSTABLE VERN WILSON

Constable Doug White was born and educated in Stephenville, Newfoundland. After leaving High School he came to Ontario and took employment with "Air Canada" at Malton. Following a brief period with the airlines, Doug became a member of the civilian staff of the O.P.P. as radio operator at No. 5 District Headquarters, Downsview, Ontario.

This furthered his interest in police work, and after making application to become a member of the O.P.P., he received his appointment in April 1965. Constable White then attended a course at the Provincial Police College in Toronto and was posted to Morrisburg.

Both men were transferred to Winchester Detachment, effective Feb. 1st, 1968, and will be moving to the village. Not only will they be an asset to the Detachment but also to all community endeavours.

Constable Wilson's wife is the former Ida Hunter of Morrisburg.

The Morrisburg Detachment warns that Winchester residents may be in for some "tall tales" as Constable White is a dedicated fisherman.

100 Club Meets

Gerry Fluke, of the Department of Transport, will be guest speaker at the February meeting of the 100 Club, at Henderson Hall, to-night, Feb. 15th. All Centurians are urged to attend.

Winchester Troop Will Observe Boy Scout Week

February 18 to 25 is Boy Scout Week in Canada, a time when Cubs, Scouts, Venturers and Rovers carry out a wide variety of activties aimed at telling people what Scouting is all about, and what it is doing for young people everywhere.

This special week will be observed by Winchester Cubs, Scouts and Venturers, who will hold their annual Church Parade Sunday, February 18th. All Scouts and Venturers will assemble at the Public School at 10 a.m. and parade to the United Church for service at 10.30.

Although not taking place during Boy Scouts Week, a Father and Son Night will be another important activity in the near future. Sometimes fathers need plenty of advance notice of something of this nature as this enables them to be very sure nothing else is scheduled for that particular night With this in mind, those in charge of the Scout movement in Winchester have set aside Saturday evening, March 2nd, for this big event.

A banquet will be held in Henderson Hall and every father will want to be there with his boy or boys.

On The Allan Cup Trail

Morrisburg Combines are again on the Allan Cup trail, and will be in Morrisburg for their remaining home games. On Sunday, February 25th, the opposition will be the Renfrew North Stars, and on Sunday March 3rd, Shawville Pontiacs will play this strong Morrisburg club.

Combines are slated for a three out of five series with Moncton again this year. Two of the games will be played in Moncton, and the remaining three in Morrisburg. Should they win the Moncton series, they will then travel to Newfoundland for the next round.

Many local fans will be anxious to see this team in action again back home, and capacity crowds are expected for all games.

Hugh C. Stewart Receives Bank Appointment

Hugh C. Stewart, formerly of Winchester, and a graduate of Winchester High School, has been appointed Employment Supervisor with the Royal Bank of Canada.

In his new position Mr. Stewart will be responsible for policies and procedures with regard to selection and recruiting of new employees.

Winter Carnivals Prove Popular, Judges Select Pretty Queens

A new "Miss Winchester" was crowned on Saturday night—Janice Crummy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crummy, won out over all contestants and earned the right to compete in the "Queen of Queens" Carnival in March.

First runner-up was Janie Casselman of Chesterville, and second runner-up was Janice Casselman, Winchester Springs. Janie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Casselman, while Janice's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Graham Casselman.

100 Club officials were pleased with the results and termed the event one of the most successful ever. Weather conditions were ideal and the ice surface in perfect condition.

Although the Minto Skaters always present a very pleasing performance, and Chuckwagon Races are a real crowd-pleaser the highlight of any rural carnival has to be the little ones in their amusing array of costumes and it's always a treat to see the enthusiasm displayed by youngsters taking part in the races.

COSTUMES

Winners in the costume events were as follows:

Under 8, Kim Boyd and Julie Fisher; 9 to 11, Linda Pemberton and Heather Lannin; 12 to 15, Ronald Morin; over 15, Emerson Ingrim and Florence Helmer.

Since on many occasions in the past a Winchester Carnival Queen has been crowned "Queen of Queens" at Metcalfe and District Lions Club Annual Carnival, residents will be watching closely and hoping to see history repeat itself once more.

Speaker Of The Provincial House

Provincal parliament is in session this week, a session which Premier John P. Robarts says could last until mid-summer because of the volume of legislation confronting the house.

Although the Progressive Conservatves are still firmly entrenched, the provincial house will take on a new look this session with many new faces, new appointments and a much stronger opposition from both the Liberals and the New Democratic party.

Of particular significance to this area is the appointment of the Hon. Fred M. Cass to the speaker's chair. A veteran provincial parliamentarian, Mr. Cass was previously invited by Mr. Robarts to accept this important position. It was not until this week, however, that the appointment became official with all parties designating their approval.

And why not? Mr. Cass brings to the speaker's chair a wealth of experience. He has previously served as Minister of Highways, Minister of Municipal Affairs and the Attorney General. In each portfolio he introduced and carried out an efficient, well planned administration. And the departments, in each instance, were greatly improved by his presence and his direction.

He has now been asked to rule the day to day procedures of provincial parliament. The very characteristics of Mr. Cass will make him well suited for the position. The people of the province may rest assured that the business of the day will be conducted in a fair and thorough way, and all parties will have to smarten up their presentations in the House. In the end, the workings of government in Ontario should be vastly improved during this session as a result of Mr. Cass' appointment.

Congratulations, Fred!

Crazy Classifieds !

Sometimes it does not matter how you say it or how you write it, it still comes out wrong. Take the classified pages of this or any newspaper. They probably have as high a readership, if not the highest, of any page in this or any newspaper. The reason if easy to explain. The classifieds are a low cost way of selling a variety of items, of finding help, of advertising services. And people are interested.

Once in awhile, though, a line gets twisted, the good intensions of the writer are misinterpreted or the proof reader missed the point. The Classified then becomes entertaining as well as useful. Take for example the plight of a small United States daily which was in all sorts of trouble recently trying to sell a used sewing machine. The classified advertisement first appeared on a Monday:

FOR SALE: R. D. Jones has one sewing machine for sale. Phone 958 after 7 p.m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him cheap.

On Tuesday this ad. appeared: NOTICE: We regret having erred in R. D. Jones' ad. yesterday. It should have read: One sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone 958 and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him after 7 p.m.

And on Wednesday this: R. D. Jones has informed us that he has received several annoying telephone calls because of the error we made in his classified ad. yesterday. His ad. stands corrected as follows: FOR SALE: R. D. Jones has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. Phone 958 after 7 p.m., and ask for Mrs. Kelly who loves with him.

And finally, on Thursday, frustration reached its peak. NOTICE—I, R. D. Jones, have no sewing machine for sale. I smashed it. Don't call 958 as the telephone has been taken out. I have not been carrying on with Mrs. Kelly. Until yesterday she was my housekeeper, but she quit.

Perhaps the moral of this story is: Don't advertise your sewing machine for sale you may get needled the wrong way.

Six Years And Two Days Ago

February 13th, 1962, was an eventful day in the lives of Winchester residents. Fire damage, estimated at over a quarter of a million dollars, completely destroyed the High School, and emergency meetings that night saw Principal Howard Willard capably directing the process of finding facilities and setting up temporary classrooms.

Winchester High School had served faithfully and at the time the loss seemed irreparable. As has happened many times before, out of the ruins and chaos resulting from disaster grew a new and greater institution of learning unsurpassed by any community of this size in the province.

The Press has these historic events carefully recorded in its picture file, and a glance at these reproductions will recall to mind the apparent disaster.

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

Dr. Smiley's Remedy

Well, the old 'flu bug, or something equally virulent, hit me on the weekend. This column comes to you via gobs of asprin, hot toddies and sheer will-power.

Sunday morning, I woke up feeling like a mackerel. Not just out of the sea, fresh and quivering. No. One of those that have been gutted, packaged, frozen and then cooked over a hot fire and re-frozen and re-cooked.

My wife had several theories, as usual. First, I had a hangover, plain and simple. There's no such thing, but I reminded her that we'd spent the previous evening quietly watching television and fighting as usual. Proof positive came when she offered me a hair of the dog and I recoiled in horror.

Next, she decided I was going through the change of life, with those hot and cold flushes. I pointed out that my breasts hadn't grown, and that I wasn't growing any more hair on head, face or legs, which have always been like an Airedale's. She was discombobulated.

Finally, she proclaimed it was food poisoning, because Kim and I are always thawing fish and stuff and then refreezing it, for some reason. Obviously I'd had bad fish. Turned out we'd had steak, all fresh.

Couldn't convince her that I might have the 'flu, which has been knocking people on their keisters for weeks at a time around here, all winter. That's because I never get sick. Or rather, I'm half-sick all the time, but never take a day off.

When I do, about every three years, she panics and starts demanding to know where the insurance policies are. I never have a clue, so I just groan and say, "Leemee-lone!" Which increases her anxiety problems, which are already Grade A.

Whatever it was, I take back all my public and private utterances about people who've had the 'flu this winter. In public, "Pampering yourself. Take some whiskey and an aspirin." Or, to myself, "What a slacker. Do anything for a few days off work."

I didn't have a headache. I wasn't sick at the stomach. I didn't have a sore throat or the snuffles or the sneezes. But I haven't felt like that since October, 1944, when five burly Germans set about me with fists, boots and rifle-butts, for some trifling crime which I can't even recall.

And I took the same escape this time that I did that time. I read. That time, after they cooled off, the Germans brought me a couple of books.

But I lay there, in a box-car, on a siding in the Utrecht station-yard in Holland, and read Upton Sinclair. Since I was a dangerous criminal, my wrists were wired together, as were my ankles. There were no handcuffs. It took some physical manoeuvring, and I could see out of only one eye, but I read. And the pain floated away.

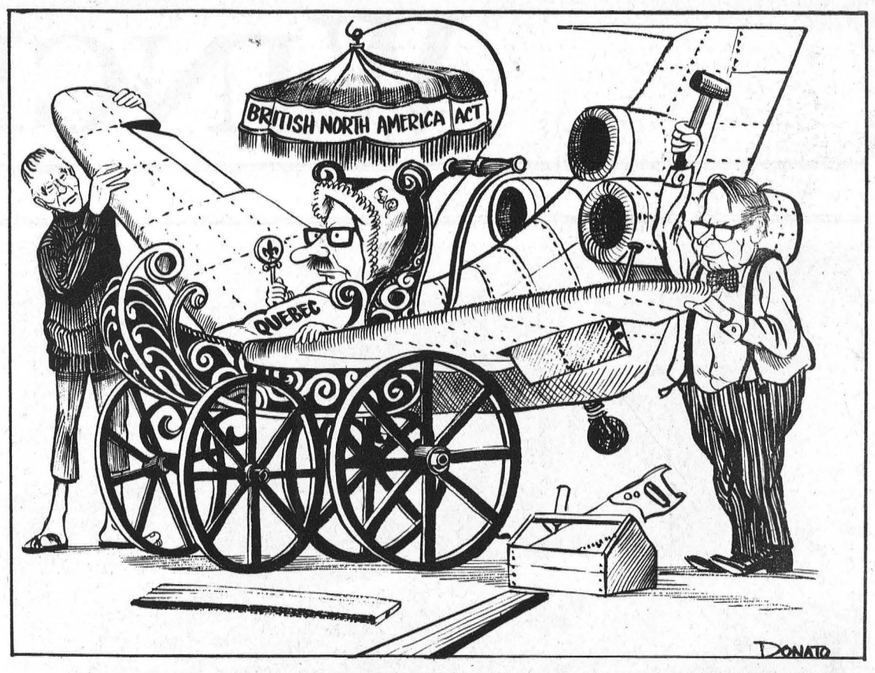
About the third night, the Feldwebel in charge actually brought me a tin of poisonous coffee and we talked, in a garble of English, German, French. We had only the most rudimentary idea of what the other chap was talking about, but it bucked me up. I think he felt better, too.

It was about the same last weekend. I read. I could read for only about ten minutes at a shot, without half-fainting. But amidst the fever and the cups of coffee proffered by my personal, local Feldwebel, I re-read "The Last Enemy" by Richard Hillary, and the new "And Now Here's Max", by Max Ferguson, CBC and free-lance radio comedian.

Hillary was a young Englishman, Oxford, upper-class, egotistical, self-centred, who realized through his own suffering (he was shot down and terribly burned) man's inhumanity to man, the universality of suffering. It was his only book. He was killed later in a night-fighter. It took me back into a world of training and night-flying and Spitfires that was like re-living an epoch.

Ferguson's book is consciously funny, but it is funny. And both writer's are individualists who offer some hope to all the rest of us, who fear we are being ground between the upper and nether millstones of the twentieth century.

Get the 'flu. Read. Simple.



Meditations . . .

by Rev. Cecil W. Tuininga

Revelation 14:7—"Fear God, and give glory to Him: for the hour of his judgment is come."

The book of Revelation is a book of prophecy and comfort. Its prophecy is its comfort. The reason God shows "unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass."—Rev. 1:1" is to give them patience and hope in a world full of afflictions and persecutions. God does not promise His Church on earth an easy road, but He does promise victory over and through trials.

God has charged His Church on earth to preach the Gospel, and through it to make disciples of all men. As God's ambassador on earth the Church must proclaim the good news throughout every corner and land of this globe. In this way alone it can fulfill its calling to be a Candlestick and Lampstand in this world.

In fulfilling that great calling the Church is also a judgment in this world. That is so because God's Word brings judgment on men. By means of the preaching of the Gospel men are brought to repentence and faith and life eternal. But by means of that preaching men are also hardened. Scripture speaks of it this way, "So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it."—Isa. 55:11. For that reason the apostle Paul, as proclaimer of God's Word can say "To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life.—2 Cor. 2:16. Because of this Scripture speaks of the Gospel message as the very standard of the Judgment Day. The apostle Paul declares concerning this, "In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel."—Romans 2:16.

The urgency in the words "Fear God" becomes evident. No man can escape God's' judgment. It is impossible to escape either the judgment of His Word or of the final Judgment Day. We must face Him Who is the Judge of heaven and earth! How can we face Him? Only in Christ Jesus, the Saviour Whom God has judged in our stead. In Him, Who bore divine judgment and wrath on Calvary's cross, can we be saved from wrath, and through Him can we give glory to God. Then we will not longer fear "the hour of his judgment" but look forward to that time when God will judge the secrets of men.

How can one give God glory because He is about to judge men? One can only glory in it because through it God's justice is vindicated, His Name glorified, and all in Christ rewarded with the eternal rewards of his grace. But also, there is a glorying in the fact that finally God"s bitter enemies receive their just reward. for "the everlasting gospel" is for all men, and all are judged by it. That is why the Gospel message is so urgent, and why the Church must press on with the good news of redemption in Christ. The Judgment of God is coming! Who can stand in that dread Day? All who believe in Christ Jesus. But all unbelievers shall perish eternally.

The Winchester Press,
Dear Sir:

Last Sunday while visiting my daughter Elaine Griffith, who lives in Metcalfe, I read again the latest edition of The Press. On occasion I have seen copies of it at the homes of residents of the Osgoode and Winchester areas, and even on the paper racks of long-time city dwellers. Last summer I had occasion to buy the issue carrying the Metcalfe Centennial coverage. At that time I decided to subcribe to The Press, but neglected to do so. But when I saw obituaries of old acquaintances, news of births in a new generation, activities of long-ago school-mates, and the beautiful winter scene on the Editoral page, I decided to make a New Year's resolution near the last of January and keep it right away.

So . . . here is a cheque for four dollars for a year's subscription to The Winchester Press.

I shall be looking forward to the next Press with the good feeling of having a copy of my very own.

Thank you very much — and Happy New Year.

Yours truly,
RUTH E. SCHARFE

Play-off time — when the top teams battle for the "silver mug" and the honour it exemplifies. In our time it was "shinny" on the open pond and "survival of the fittest." Remember things we didn't have like — managers, coaches, lights, coloured lines, nets, referees, helmets, skate-guards, and surprisingly enough from these wind-swept ponds emerged some superb hockey talent.

Fortunately changes have been made, and this year at play-off time there'll be Squirts, Pee Wees, Midgets, Bantams, Juveniles, Juniors, Intermediates and Seniors — all carefully classified, playing in snug arenas with qualified coaches and skilful referees. Oh, well, some of us were born too soon.

This might be termed the season of frustration, when often after weeks of planning and hard work, winter events fall victim to the whims of the weatherman. It is hoped such problems will soon be history in Winchester, and committees can plan newer and better programs in a new proposed Community Centre.

Ever wondered when the first Valentine was sent? Well, the first Valentine was sent many, many years ago, in the third century A.D. to be exact, and the sender was a young Roman named Valentinus. Valentinus, who was imprisoned by Emperor Claudius II for giving aid to Christian martyrs, according to legend, befriended the blind daughter of his jailer while awaiting execution, and restored her sight. On the night before he died, Valentinus penned a farewell message to the girl who had meant so much to him and signed it "from your Valentine." Valentinus was put to death on the 14th of February and was buried in what is today the Church of Praxedes in Rome. Near his grave a pink almond tree, a symbol of abiding love, is said to have blossomed. Thus the name Valentinus has come down through the centuries as the word which stands for affection among friends and love among sweethearts.

A Chamber of Commerce is a valuable asset to any community, and Winchester is fortunate in having an active, far-sighted, willing membership. When businessmen can work together for the betterment of their community, the result is always the same — a prosperous and happy way of life—Winchester's Santa Claus Parade is a striking example of joint promotion by dedicated men. Twelve months of the year your Chamber of Commerce shoulders the responsibility of attracting new business, new industries, town planning and many other community projects. Complete success can only be enjoyed if every member is doing his part. Are you pulling your share of the load?

To err is human, and in most cases a humble apology is graciously accepted. Another human trait is a feeling of frustration for having dialed a "wrong number," and the tendency to slam down the phone in disgust. Ever think of the inconvenience caused at the other end of the line in such cases? Possibly a hasty exit from a hot bath or some equally awkward circumstance, and to have some phone banged down can ruin what looked like a great day to be alive. You wouldn't think of slamming your door on the face of a stranger, so why the phone? Consideration of the feelings of others comes cheap and pays big dividends.

A former resident of our community, who lost his sight while only a boy, is spearheading the drive for funds for a new C.N.I.B. headquarters in Ottawa. Wesley Stanley has already addressed meetings in the district, renewed old frendships, and been assured of assistance from many quarters. There is an urgent need for such new headquarters for the C.N.I.B., as the old building presently in use on O'Connor Street is in a sad state of disrepair. More important even than the condition of the building is the startling fact that blind folk, whose average age is 68, are forced to climb three flights of winding cement stairs. The objective is $600,000 by the end of March. A very worthy campaign that warrants the support of all.

Janice Was Their Choice

The faces may have been strange to many, but the voices were very familiar. Two CFRA personalities, Joel Thompson and Bob Durant, with their wives, journeyed to Winchester last Friday night to look after judging chores. Judging is always a difficult task, but with a bevy of pretty girls parading out on the ice, the job becomes even more exacting. 100 Club Carnival Committee members met the two pretty young wives and were convinced they had selected the right man to judge a Queen contest. Holstein Annual At Toronto

"Of particular concern to the Committee has been the continuing downward trend of our shows both in numbers of animals and exhibitors. Nothing can quite replace the showring in providing an opportunity for the individual breeder to compare his cattle with the best others have to offer, nor in acting as a show window for the breed. We urge every breeder to give support to the shows."

These were the words of Curtis Clark, Carstairs, Alta. Chairman of the Extension Service Committee of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, in his address to Holstein breeders at their Annual Meeting in Toronto on February 14.

Mr. Clark went on to say that 1967 surpassed all previous years for Selective Registration with 39,525 head classified, a gain of 14 per cent. over 1966. which was the highest previous year, and a total of 3,670 herds received service, an increase of 11 per cent.

"Undoubtedly," he said, "classification ranks with production testing as one of the two most important steps a breeder can take to improve his herd and it is gratifying to see that more and more of our breeders realize its importance."

Referring to production testing, Mr. Clark continued: "The picture is not quite as rosy for Record of Performance testing with only a modest overall gain of 185 in the number of Holstein herds for a total of 3,182 The 346 new herds were counter-balanced by 161 that dropped out."

A memorial service was conducted at St. James' Anglican Church, on Monday, February 12th.

OPP WEEKLY REPORT

As a result of the enforcement on highways in Dundas County last week only two minor accidents were reported, one of these occurred on private property. No one suffered injury. In that same period OPP officers patrolled 13,323 miles of highway and laid 105 traffic charges, 133 warnings under the Highway Traffic Act were issued. Traffic accidents so far this year are down almost 20 per cent. from the same date last year. This should prove that strict enforcement does affect the accident rate.

Officers also investigated six incidents involving liquor which resulted in six charges being preferred under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

Seventeen other occurrences were investigated including one disturbance and 4 minor thefts. One person was charged with failing to produce proof that the vehicle he was driving was insured.

A total of 22 hours was spent in the courts with 27 convictions being registered.

A Tip to Read and Heed:

When you are making a turn to the left or right,
Always activate your signal light;
It's law, and it's fair to the fellow behind,
Remember, no one can read your mind.

Although the weather was extremely cold, a large crowd was in attendance, and the judges had difficulty picking winners from the many interesting costumes. Races were staged for children of all ages, and a feature of the night was a hockey game between the Peewees from Russell and the home team, with Russell winning by a score of 1 to 0.

Miss Scharf will now compete in the "Queen of Queens" Carnival in March when all the winning Queens in the district will compete for the title.

Metcalfe, by virtue of two week-end wins over Prescott remain in top position in the league with 27 points. Metcalfe, however, has only two scheduled games left. Maxville, on the other hand, has 25 points with four games left. Prescott is in third with 23 points and two games to play, while Cardinal has 22 points with four games remaining.

Three Metcalfe players earned new hats in the exchange of games with Prescott. At Prescott on Friday night Don Honey fired home three in the first period to lead the boys to a 6-5 victory. Back on home ice on Sunday afternoon, Gaye Ford and Larry Robinson each scored three times as Metcalfe trounced Prescott by an 8 to 3 score. Other Sunday marksmen were Alan Duncan and John Kelly. B. Bussie picked up two and G. Robinson one for Prescott in a losing cause.

Calling the acts a shame on Africa, James Johns, presiding minister for the Kemptville congregation, said eyewitness reports showed many have been beaten ,robbed, some killed and their homes burned, and in many cases the women were molested.

Mr. Johns pointed out that there is little or no action on the part of the police to stem this tide of vicious persecution. and expressed the hope that people who love justice and freedom will write to the government of Malawi to protest this cruel treatment of harmless Christians.

Vernon Carnival Saturday

Vernon folk will be hoping for co-operation from the weatherman this Saturday night for their annual Winter Carnival. Sponsored by Club 31, this Carnival may be handicapped by having only the facilities of an open-air rink, but the enthusiasm and community spirt generated by the sportsminded people of the village more than compensate for the slight inconvenience of having the "roof missing."

A complete program has been carefully planned, and activities will wind up with a Bean Supper at Club 31 headquarters.

Make plans now to be in Vernon on Saturday night.

ASK YOUR CHIROPRACTOR

Question: My back aches constantly. Can I get any help on this. Mr. J. B.

J. A. Laquerre, D.C.
Alta Vista
Chiropractic Centre
Near Bank & Heron Rd., Ottawa South

Answer:

When a person complains of pain in the back, it is generally situated below the dorso-lumbar junction. With the pain there may be a dragging feeling in the lower back, which may be worse after walking or standing, but may be present only when sitting and is relieved by walking about. There may be tenderness extending from the sacro-iliac joints all the way to the shoulder blades and the back of the neck. The pain may extend down the back of the thighs, and into the legs along the course of the sciatic nerve.

It has been established in clinical examinations that backache is the result of mechanical defects in the bony framework of the body and in posture. Such defects may occur from a variety of causes. When they do, the individual affected is no longer carrying his weight on his bones, but on his muscles and ligaments. Mechanical defects in the bony framework force the individual into poor posture. He fails to maintain translated into pain.

The Chiropractor is trained to study the engineering features of the human framework. He locates any mechanical defects which exist sometimes with the aid of X-ray examinations, which give a blueprint of the inside construction of the body. Once he has located the source of the difficulty, he utilizes techniques of adjustment which restore mechanical stability. This is the reason thousands of chiropractic case histories show a large percentage of successful treatment of cases of lower back pain.

Kim Shaver Chosen South Mountain Queen

Sixteen year old Kimberly Shaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Shaver, was crowned Carnival Queen at the South Mountain Carnival last Saturday night. Her princesses were Betty Farrell, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farrell, and Heather Duncan, 15, daughter of Mr. Edwin Duncan, Brinston.

In all there were seven contestants and each received a beautiful gift. Miss Shaver will now compete with other Queens for the district title in March.

In spite of cold weather, a large crowd was at the open air rink and enjoyed a fine program presented by the Carnival Committee under the co-chairmanship of Lynn Boyd and Greig Fowler. Master of ceremonies was Bill MacDonald.

Judges for the Queen contest were Mrs. Shirley Black, Mrs. Gerald Simser and George Ash.

There was hockey, costumes, races and fun for everyone. Complete results follow:

COSTUMES

Girls, 9 and under—Lorri Boyd, Dianne Skelly, Kina Woods; 10 to 14—Mary Ellen VanBridger, Mary Jean Halpenny, Sharon Berry:

Boys, 9 and under, Barry Hyndman, Albert Hoekkoek, Randy Gates; 10 to 14, Gerry Boyce, Garry Gates, Patty Woods.

RACES

Girls, 6 and under, Anita Gilmer and Evelyn Gates (tied) Kim Woods; 7 to 9, Lorri Boyce, Lorri Boyd, Holly Beamish; 10 to 12, Nancy Berry, Peggy Scott, Margaret Ann Hyndman; 13 to 15, Donna Workman, Gail Woods.

Boys, 6 and under, Douglas Graham, Paul Dillabough; 7 to 9, Randy Gates, Larry Erwin, Garry MacDonald; 10 to 12 Randy MacDonald, George Bryan, Henry Haveks; 13 to 14, Robert McLintock, Garry Gates, Johnny Koekkoek; 15 to 16, Allan Gates, Tony Koekkoek.

Other races were: Ladies, 16 and over, Mrs. Ewart Simms, Mary Lennox. Gentlemen, 17 to 25, Rodney Gilmer, Jim Shaw; over 25, Jack Nelson, Ewart Simms.

Best Couple in costume, Mary Jean Halpenny and Sharon Berry. A special Comic Costume prize was divided among Barry Hyndman, Albert Koekkoek and Evelyn Gates.

OTHER PRIZES

The draw for the $25.00 door prize, made by the 1967 Queen, Lana Adams, was won by Jack Nelson, of South Mountain. A Lamp, donated by Armstrong Furniture Store, was won by Mrs. Mary Hoy of Hallville. Allan Gates received $5.00 for selling the most tickets.

The Carnival ended with a broomball game between Winchester All Stars and South Mountain which resulted in a 0-0 score.

Council Calls Drain Tenders

All members were present at the Mountain Township Council Meeting held in the Agricultural Grandstand Office on Monday, February 5th.

The Beggs-Workman drain and the Arbuthnot drain were both passed and ready for tender. The land where the former rink was located is up for sale.

It was also decided that some of the members are to attend the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities meeting at Toronto on Feb. 12 and 13, and others will attend the Good Roads Conventoin in Toronto the following week.

South Mountain W.M.S. Meeting

South Mountain W. M. S. held its February meeting in the Presbyterian Fellowship Hall with the president, Mrs. Muriel Cumming, presiding.

Mrs. Don Scott and Mrs. Gordon Blow were in charge of the meeting. A panel discussion led by Rev. J. J. Hibbs was taken from the new study book, "Christ and the Faith of Men." Mrs. Gordon Blow read "Mary Smith, The Oriental."

It was decided to extend an invitation to Mrs. Lorne Kinkaid to attend their June meeting. A donation will be sent to the Armagh Home.

Tops In The Costume Classes

Crisp winter air under clear cold skies heralded Carnival week-end in several valley towns and wierd and funny creatures glided over the skating rinks. Wherever people gather for enjoyment a Press camera is always there, and such was the setting over the last week. The man behind the shutter, however, saw so many strange faces through the tiny lens that he became confused and lost his way. This photo may have come from South Mountain, or Williamsburg, or Metcalfe, or Winchester. It portrays, however, the true Carnival atmosphere.

Wins Three But Looses Chance At Provincial

Local curlers will be interested to note that Jim Ball, former Morrisburg curler, and now stationed with the RCMP at Cornerbrook, Nfld., has not forgotten how to play the game.

In a recent two-day RCMP Bonspiel Jim, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Ball, won his first three games by fantastic margins: 18-7, 20-0 and 12-10.

Jim may have overdone it in those first three games as he dropped the next one 10 to 7 to a fellow RCMP rink. The team that won over the Morrisburg curler is now at St. Johns for a crack at the provincial title.

From Parliament Hill — Jean Wadds Reports

Two Sides To Every Story

It is regrettable that the Federal Government did not interrupt its sittings so that all members of Parliament could concentrate on the Constitutional Conference being held on Parliament Hill this week.

This has long been anticipated as the most important gathering in Canada's history as a federal state, in other words since 1867. What happens here this week will at least influence if not determine the pattern this country will follow for the next hundred years. To those of us representing federal ridings, active in political competition and critical of the present federal government, it seems vital that we know first hand what was said. I find myself reacting very differently than some of the journalists writing about it. They have stressed different personalities and quotations and by-passed some that seemed most important to me. It was a wise decision, made by the Hon. Lester Pearson, to open the Conference to the television cameras. Canadians can see for themselves, form their own opinions, rid themselves of preconceptions and prejudices.

I have been one of those not unduly impressed by the unorthodox Minister of Justice, the Hon. Pierre Elliott Trudeau. I am the last person to demand dressing to the teeth, in fact generally quite the opposite. However, it did seem that the new member in a worn tweed coat, ascot scarf or open-necked shirt, pale and sandal shod, was not likely to stay long in the formal rather dreary House of Commons. It was hard to tell whether he was completely relaxed or completely bored. It was harder still to imagine him putting in long hours of campaigning, or his acceptability in many parts of Canada.

Gradually rumour turned to fact and Mr. Trudeau was becoming the favourite son of many prominent Canadians. Premier Bennett of British Columbia, Premier Joey Smallwood of Newfoundland both gave him glowing testimonials. His complete bilingualism, in fact biculturalism, gave him poise and authority in the famous two solitudes. Here it seemed was a young man with a brilliant scholastic background who completely understood both the French heritage and the British heritage. People pointed to his middle name "Elliott" and to the fact that he is a graduate of the University of Montreal, Harvard University, the University of Paris and the London School of Economics.

Knowing of the young man's longstanding friendship with Rene Levesque, the alleged support of him for the Liberal Leadership by the nationalistic Minister of Manpower and Immigration, Jean Marchand, his conduct at the Constitutional Conference was awaited with curiosity and interest.

It can only be said that he rose to the occasion. Gone were the sloppy, informal clothes. In a dark suit, white shirt and black tie he looked suddenly elegant. He sat erect, even Buddha like, and his former nonchalance now appeared as tight, alert concentration.

He quickly, expertly stated the case for a stronger, not weaker, federal government. He asked simply and effectively why French-speaking Canadians would want to be members of a federal government if they were only figure heads. If Quebec were given the special status she demanded, in the Quebec Parliament would be the action the power and the challenge.

Mr. Trudeau is too sphinx-like and too sophisticated to show much surprise, but he obviously was very surprised to find that many of the other Premiers showed a willingness to give all to Quebec, more than he as a French Cabinet Minister would expect.

To me, as an English Canadian, it was the most startling moment of the whole debate on national unity when this French Minister said: "If the other provinces allow Quebec to have her cake and eat it — with icing and candles, then why should I as a Quebec resident, a French Canadian, be the one to object!"

Mr. Trudeau expressed concern, a concern I feel, as to what the Province of Quebec really means by equality.

Mr. Pearson's jocular style may serve well in some diplomatic struggles but his timing was bad when he said "ten and one make two." That's the new mathematics." It appeared that even his Minister of Justice does not agree that 10 and 1 make 2.

Eligibility Of Two Players Questioned

According to latest reports from the executive of the St. Lawrence Junior B Hockey League, two players now with Cornwall Royals of the Central A League are ineligible.

The two players involved in the controversy are Barry Graham, who was released from the Metcalfe team, and "Rocky" Martin from Maxville. In both cases a monetary agreement was made and the Junior B officials feel Cornwall has failed to live up to their part of the agreement. As a result, Basil Dawley, President of the Junior B league, forwarded the following telegram to two top hockey officials this week.

E. Noonan, President of the Central A League, and Alf Taylor, Secretary of O.D.H.A., both received the following telegram:

"Please be advised that confirmed agreements re Martin and Graham between St. Lawrence Junior B League and the O.D.H.A. required $100.00 on Dec. 30, 1967, or players not to be released. No money has been received by Keith Carkner Treasurer, on that date. Therefore above mentioned players are not released to Cornwall Royals of Central Junior A League. Please cancel registration to Royals and register Martin with Maxville and Graham with Metcalfe. Signed, Basil Dawley, President, St. Lawrence Junior B League."

Broder Cup Winners

Two "Curling Kathys" from Winchester proved themselves best in the district at the Annual Broder Trophy Bonspiel held at Morrisburg last week. This bonspiel is considered the feature event of the year in ladies' curling circles, with Metcalfe, Russell, Morrisburg and Winchester sending two of their top rinks to compete for district supremacy.

When the final stage was reached in the evening only two rinks had survived the strenuous day and remained unbeaten, both Winchester entries, Kathy Keys and Kathy Fluke.

In the big final, the Keys' rink took an early lead and never looked back, going on to win by a comfortable score. Members of winning rink were Joan Fisher, Phyllis Workman, Marg Anderson and Kathy Keys, skip. Runners-up: Olive Summers, Stella McGregor, Sybil Curtis and Kathy Fluke, skip.

In consolation play, Marilyn Sullivan of Russell defeated Audrey Graham of Metcalfe. Personnel of Sullivan rink: Beth Cochrane, Marion Cochrane, Joyce Boyd and Marilyn Sullivan. Metcalfe rink made up of Julia Cummings, Elaine Cooke, Greta McKeown and Audrey Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broder presented their trophy to the winning rink, and referee Lorne Kinkaid complimented the girls on their curling ability.

Picture

"Best curling I've seen in 20 years of refereeing," said veteran Morrisburg Skip Lorne Kinkaid in complimenting the girls at the completion of the Broder Cup Bonspiel in Morrisburg last week. Regardless of the calibre of the curling, one team has to prove just a little superior to all the rest, and this is exactly what the Winchester girls did, and for their efforts brought the famous trophy back to Winchester. Tired but happy are, left to right Joan Fisher, lead; Phyllis Workman, second; Cathy Keys, skip and Marg. Anderson, third.
