Newsbriefs

Good roads

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township will approach Roxborough about co-operatively repairing the boundary road between the municipalities.

"If we get a mile done between us every year, in five years we'll get it done," said Finch reeve Ralph MacKenzie at Monday's regular council meeting.

He suggested that Finch do the necessary work on the first mile this year, splitting the cost with neighboring Roxborough. Roxborough could then complete two miles from the southern end of the road over the next two years, sharing the expense with Finch.

"The first mile is the worst," said councillor Floyd Dingwall.

An estimate of the project's cost has not been determined.

Grants up

TORONTO (staff) - Ontario municipalities will soon be receiving news of a four per cent increase over last year under the Unconditional Grants Program. This means government will offer $782.6 million to municipalities. General, police and density per household grants rates will remain unchanged for 1986 and the resource equalization grant rate will be maintained at last year's level. In announcing the grants earlier than usual government agencies want to give the municipalities extra months for financing planning.

River mishap

(Staff) - A Chesterville teenager was left with a broken leg when a snowmobile collided with an inner tube on the South Nation River last week.

Rick Nelson, 17, was riding in an inner tube towed by an all-terrain vehicle on the ice Thursday. At about 9:30, a snowmobile driven by Douglas Kelly, 18, of Chesterville approached from the other direction and struck the inner tube about 15 metres east of the Main Street bridge.

Kevin Edgerton, 16, and Steven Conley, 15, both of Chesterville, were also riding in the tube and received minor injuries.

Mr. Kelly and Gregory Sullivan, 20, of R.R.1, Chesterville, the operator of the all-terrain vehicle, were charged with failture to report an accident.

Sgt. Robert Lyon of the Winchester OPP detachment said he can recall no other accident on the South Nation.

Halley's Comet

(Staff) - The best time of year to watch the spectacular Halley's Comet is right now, from January 5 to 25. During January the comet can best be seen in Ontario in the western sky after sunset. Another good time will be from March 6 to April in the southeastern sky before sunrise. For casual watchers the experts say binoculars are better than telescopes because of their low power and wide field of view.

Since the comet won't return to earth until the year 2061 this is the time to scan the sky for the legendary sight.

Last ships

IROQUOIS (Staff) - The last ship cleared the Seaway system December 31 when the waterway closed down for the season. Although the Seaway normally closes in mid December authorities decided to give an extra two weeks of grace this year as long as weather permitted to ease the backlog of ships still in the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes.

No arrests over holiday as local tavern business dips

(Staff) - In the week and a half following Christmas Eve, Winchester OPP conducted about 80 ALERT spotchecks for impaired drivers -- and found none.

"We didn't have anybody killed in car accidents either. It's working. That's the main thing," said Sgt. Robert Lyon.

Over the same period last year, he said the detachment conducted about as many checks but turned up three impaired drivers and issued six 12-hour suspensions (for drivers whose blood alcohol concentration exceeds 50 milligrams of alcohol per 100 millilitres of blood).

Of 172 checks between Dec. 23 and 30, Long Sault police found two impaired drivers and issued two 12-hour suspensions.

Sgt. Lyon credited the absence of drunken driving to growing public awareness of the consequences of drinking and driving, and stronger federal laws, which came into force early in December.

Under new Criminal Code provisions, a driver is liable for a minimum fine of $300 and a licence suspension for three months on first conviction for impaired driving (having a blood alcohol concentration exceeding 108 per cent).

A second conviction brings a jail sentence of at least two weeks and a six-month driving suspension. On third and later convictions, an impaired driver could spend three months in jail and be prohibited from driving for one year or more.

Sgt. Lyon said motorists pulled over by officers for spotchecks were generally supportive of efforts to keep impaired drivers off the road.

Unlike past years, he said cars soon disappeared from parking lots at 1am when parties ended. In the village of Winchester itself, he said he noticed people on the streets walking home from New Year's Eve festivities.

He said party-goers also chose sober transportation home. "There were lots of cars coming from parties with wives driving the cars or teenaged children driving. They'd come to pick their parents up."

Although stiffer laws are keeping impaired drivers off the road, some local hotel owners complain they're also keeping customers out of their establishments.

Dan McGann, owner of the Pioneer Hotel in Williamsburg, said his holiday receipts are half those of last year. "I've had to lay off a couple of waiters," he said, describing the last two weeks as "very quiet."

While he agreed stricter laws were necessary, he said the legislators "got a little carried awav".

Mr. McGann said drivers registering .2 per cent (200 milligrams of alcohol in 100 millilitres of blood) "deserve to lose their licence." His major complaint, he said, is that a driver only marginally over the legal limit is subject to the same penalty.

"There's got to be a better way," he said. "You can't call that fair."

He said the law should be more flexible and compared it to speeding, for which the amount of the fine and the number of points lost increase according to the severity of the offence.

Unlike taverns in larger communities, he said his business depends on drive-in customers and the new laws could turn hotels like the Pioneer into "a white elephant."

He said his day business suffered more than his evening crowds, as men who usually drank four pints of beer ordered only two.

He said customers pointed to the new penalties as the reason for their moderation. "That's the whole conversation," he said.

He blamed the media for overexaggerating the problem of drunk driving and said it sometimes appears all road deaths are caused by alcohol.

He said tavern owners in the Ottawa area have told him the system of designated drivers, in which one member of a party is served non-alcoholic beverages, doesn't work.

If the designated driver is a non-drinker, Mr. McGann said it won't bother him that others continue to drink. But if he usually consumes alcohol, then he too will probably drink.

Neither has he seen many instances of an intoxicated driver handing over the keys to someone more capable of driving home.

He's considered hiring a bus to pick up customers in Morrisburg, Winchester and Chesterville but found the cost of the service too high.

He said he can't predict whether the impact of the laws will continue -- "I'm just waiting to see how it goes in the long run."

The Chesterville Hotel's customers are also discussing the new laws. "They talk about it all the time," said manager Glen Orr.

But because an estimated 90 per cent of the hotel's business is from the village, he said it's largely unaffected by the stricter legislation affecting drinking drivers.

If the hotel experiences any loss of business, he said, "It'll take a little while for it to happen."

If any of the hotel's business is affected, he said it would probably be Monday nights, when visiting hockey teams are in town.

This year he noticed for the first time a couple of groups in which one person was the designated driver and didn't drink alcohol.

Although the initial impact of the new laws may wear off somewhat, he supported them. "It was time for it," he said.

Maurice Menard, owner of the Crysler Hotel, said drivers are "scared", proof that the message against drinking and driving is getting through.

He too has seen increasingly that one member of a group will not drink, although he said he may just be noticing it more now because of the publicity surrounding the issue.

Like the Chesterville Hotel, his business depends more on a local than driving crowd.

"Honestly speaking, business has been just as good as last year," he said.

First baby of the year

The area's first baby of the new year weighed in at a hefty eight pounds, five and a half ounces at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Proud parents are Megan and Jim Fawcett, Winchester. Gabrielle is the first baby for the couple and co-operated happily with the local media in her first interview and photograph session. She was born Friday, January 3 at 4:13pm.

Toll free calls being considered

(Staff) - Chesterville may have toll-free telephone service to Morrisburg, Cornwall and Ingleside -- but callers will have to pay.

On Nov. 4, Bell Canada applied to the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission to extend local service calling to non-adjacent exchanges within a 48-kilometre (30-mile) radius and where at least 50 per cent of telephone users are interested.

But Ray Jette, section manager for Bell's Cornwall and Ottawa offices, said the basic charge for local telephone service would increase to at least that of the newly available exchange if the CRTC approves Bell's proposal.

He said a majority of users must also approve of the rate increase before service is implemented.

Interest in extended service is indicated by the percentage of telephone users calling an exchange each month.

Chesterville now has toll-free service to only three exchanges, Winchester, Finch and Crysler.

Under Bell's present criteria, only contiguous (adjacent) exchanges within 30 miles can call with no additional charges. Sixty per cent of users must make a call to the neighboring exchange at least once a month.

Winchester is among several exchanges in west Quebec and the Ottawa valley that would qualify for extended service to Ottawa for an additional monthly charge.

"Your monthly rates would be equivalent to Ottawa's or maybe more," Mr. Jette said.

Although 52 per cent of Chesterville exchange users call Ottawa at least once a month, Ottawa is beyond the 30-mile radius permitted by Bell and therefore excluded from the village's potential call-free areas.

Mr. Jette noted Chesterville already has access to Ottawa at cheaper rates through Selectel. In place since late last fall, Selectel permits a user to apply for one-third off its bill for calls to Ottawa for a monthly fee of $3.65 ($8.60 for a business).

Monthly flat rates would continue to be determined by the number of users in an exchange. If the additional number of callers permitted by extended local service increases enough to push an exchange into a higher rate group, Mr. Jette said a majority of callers in both exchanges would have to approve the higher charge.

Therefore, Winchester would qualify for extended service to Ottawa because the latter is so large. But the permission of Cornwall would probably be needed if Chesterville were to apply for service there.

Mr. Jette said Bell proposed extended local service "because of demand. A lot of people are demanding free calling."

He said the CRTC will probably hand down its decision on Bell's proposal to revise its criteria for extended local service in February.

But whether it's implemented in all eligible exchanges depends on users' wishes.

Juice break for tobogganers

The temperatures dropped last weekend but the snow was great for tobogganing at Upper Canada Village. By the end of the afternoon, though, these area youngsters welcomed a glass of apple juice before the drive home. Garbage contract renewed

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township renewed the Hume family's contract to collect garbage in the villages of Berwick and Crysler at an increase of 4 per cent in 1986.

At the township's regular meeting Monday night, council approved the increase, which will raise the weekly rate from $225.75 to $234.78 next year, for a total sum of $12,208.56.

Jim Hume, who assumed garbage collection following the death of his father in September, said he wasn't familiar with the rate of annual increases the township had awarded his father. "It's sort of trial and error this time, coming to council," he said.

Reeve Ralph MacKenzie said the increases generally reflected the rate of inflation, now lower than that of several years ago.

Mr. Hume first suggested a three-year contract with annual increases of 4 per cent, for a total of $38,110.24.

Council then suggested he receive annual salaries of $12,678.12, an increase of 8 per cent over his current fee. Over three years, he would receive $38,034.78.

"He'd gain this year but then he'd lose in the third year," said deputy reeve Donald Shane to council.

"The thing is, you'll get it right off the bat," said councillor Archie Byers. "If that money was doing any work for you, you'll be that much farther ahead."

But Mr. Hume preferred a 4 per cent increase this year, to be renegotiated next year.

When he asked if council was pleased with his service, there were only two complaints.

Mr. Shane said irregular pick-up hours meant some garbage was missed each week when the truck came early.

"When your father used to come, you could set your clock by him," he said.

Mr. Hume explained he sometimes returned for garbage on routes he'd passed early in the morning.

The reeve asked whether Chesterville garbage was being dumped in the township's landfill.

Mr. Hume said some garbage remaining in his truck after his Chesterville collection is sometimes dumped in Finch with trash from Berwick and Crysler. But what's left after his Finch collections is also dumped with Chesterville garbage in Winchester Township dump.

He said it all "evens out. It's just a matter of logistics, actually."

But Mr. Hume also raised concerns about the township's dump and how people put out garbage for collection.

He said the dump isn't always plowed out enough to allow him to back as far into the site

Task Force kicks off

OTTAWA (Staff) - Area farmers will be given the opportunity to sound off about their views of Canadian agriculture in general and their own regional problems as well the last week in January.

From January 27 to January 31 the federal Liberal party is conducting a province-wide series of hearings into the agriculture industry. Called the Liberal Agriculture Task Force, the team will blitz the province listening to submissions from individuals and groups in 10 areas.

Leading off the venues will be the village of Finch where the task force will conduct hearings from 9:30am until noon at the Finch Senior Citizens' Hall, Monday, January 27.

Members of the federal Liberal caucus who will make up the Task Force include Maurice Foster, MP for Algoma, chairman; Charles Caccia, MP for Davenport; Raymond Carneau, MP for Laval des Rapides; Don Boudria, MP for Glengarry-Prescott-Russell; Len Hopkins, MP for Renfrew-Nipissing-Pembroke; and Senator Dan Hays, Alberta.

"Our Task Force held a series of very successful meetings in the four western provinces during November," said Dr. Foster, chairman of the group.

"The presentations made to the Task Force by approximately 100 witnesses will help our caucus members in the House of Commons as well as contributing valuable insight to our policy building process. We look forward to this series of very helpful meetings throughout Ontario."

Local persons interested in making a submission to the Finch hearing should call Ian Hunt at 987-5277.

Twp. may drop OHIP payments for workers in new salary policy

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Whether or not to pay township employees OHIP premiums has become a topic of debate in Winchester township. Council has appointed a salaries committee with a mandate to investigate the situation in neighboring municipalities regarding policy.

Told that some employees' spouses received total OHIP coverage at their places of work councillors queried whether the township should be paying out $715 to cover family rates.

Another aspect of the argument concerned family coverage versus the single rates applicable to employees without dependents. "We don't want to discriminate," said reeve Gerald Holmes.

"Maybe we should do it on a money basis and exclude OHIP payments."

A system based on extra remuneration would give township employees more money in their paychecks but they would assume the responsibility for paying OHIP premiums

Council was told the system in Chesterville village involved workers bringing in their OHIP bills to the town office and having them paid by the village.

"In Chesterville if they don't need it they don't get it," said Mr. Holmes, noting that if spouses were covered at work then Chesterville village did not have a policy of duplicating coverage.

A special meeting will be held by council in two weeks time to discuss salary policies. Any resulting benefits to workers will be retroactive.

Council is attempting to stay at about the five per cent mark in negotiating salary increases for the coming year. Some possibilities include implementing a sliding scale of increments so to allow workers to climb the seniority scale, understanding where they stand with regard to advancement financially.

"There's no place in our salary agreements for starting at the bottom and moving up," said councillor Dwayne Holmes."

Waste disposal

as he should. "If I go down, will the township pay to tow me out?"

On one occasion, he said his truck had a small leak. He feared it would ignite when he backed into the landfill, part of which was burning. "They're a little too quick to burn it down here," he said.

He also asked whether he was expected to pick up refrigerators and stoves, which the truck can't compact. Refrigerators also contain the chemical freon, which could damage the truck.

"It's the same thing with batteries, the acid will eat right through the truck," he added. "I just want to know what I have to take and what I don't have to take."

He said 45-gallon drums are difficult to empty, but they're becoming more popular.

"There's a bunch of them out and there's a bunch of them out in Berwick," he said. "If you just said people couldn't put them out, it'd be a lot better."

He said the large plastic drums are awkward to lift because there are no grips. And whether plastic or steel, they become filled with water and garbage freezes in the bottom.

The council suggested he ask the individuals using the drums to find another means of disposing of garbage.

New program underway

CORNWALL (Staff) - A new drug addiction program designed to serve the needs of the five counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell, is now underway. Sponsored by the Eastern Ontario Health Unit, the program has been implemented to help cope with both alcohol and drug abuse as well as dependency on prescription drugs.

The program consists of assessment referral and follow-up services for any person with an addiction problem; an information program for the health professionals and for those who are working in related fields; public information on drug abuse (including alcohol) will be available to the public in order to increase knowledge of this field.

Eventually, it is hoped a program of primary prevention for students and young adults as well as senior citizens can be implemented.

OMAF presents management seminar

WINCHESTER (Special) - The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food in Winchester is presenting a Computerized Farm Management course for farmers who have recently purchased or are anticipating the purchase of a computer.

The course will cover the introduction to computers, terminology used regarding computers and regarding financial management, hands-on experience on a computer each week, introduction to commerical financial programs, discussions with a farmer who currently uses a computer in his business, an accountants point of view of how a computer can be used effectively. Each participant will receive a computer disk of public domain software.

Seminars start January 16 and will be held each Thursday until March 6 in the Winchester and District Computer Den. Time is 12:30pm to 3:30pm each day. The cost is $5.00 per person with a limit of students. To register call the Winchester Agricultural office at 774-2313. Each student will have his-her own computer. A certificate will be presented to all participants with full attendance.

The demands of farming today require farmers to pay close attention to their farm records and to understand these records better. However, keeping records and analysing them is time consuming. Many farmers avoid using these records for anything except income tax because they feel the effort in time does not pay a return to their pocketbook.

With the advent of computers the task of preparing cash flow statements, income statements, balance sheets, statement of change in financial position reports, debt servicing calculations, etc. has become much easier. Reports can now be kept up-to-date and readily available when needed, for example, when applications for government programs or bank loans must be made. Farm advisors such as the Agricultural Representative or the accountant can be much more effective when current data is presented to them. Their advice will be more accurate and timely.

Pollution crackdown

By all accounts the Ontario government plans to crack down on the big four polluters in the province. Ontario Hydro, Inco, Falconbridge and Algoma Steel are now the focus of stringent emission contols.

Not surprisingly, though, Hydro won major concessions from the government -- the utility is being allowed to keep emissions higher over a five year period than first announced.

In making reductions in emissions it is important too that the companies act to control the proliferation of acid rain in Ontario. The public should be made aware of their plans to cut down this area of pollution of the lakes in Ontario.

In setting standards for controlling gas and coal generated pollution of the air and water the Liberal government has started out on the right track. But inspection has to take place on a systematic and regular basis and the results must be made known to the public.

Filtering out smokers

While the general population has condoned recent government legislation to tighten up the drinking-and-driving situation across the country others are undertaking a parallel effort to clean up their lives in a separate area.

Smokers are rapidly becoming the pariahs of the workplace and social venues where people gather like restaurants and shopping malls.

Such attitudinal reform has not arrived a moment too soon and currently almost everyone is aware of the very real danger to human health of the noxious weed. Everyone, we should add, except publicists for cigarette manufacturers and lobbyists representing the tobacco industry. These people continue to claim there is no scientific evidence that cigarette smoking is injurious to health. At best such proclamations are an insult to one's intelligence and at their worst they delude people into thinking their habit is harmless.

Smoking is anything but harmless, both to the perpetrator and to the non-smoker unfortunate enough to be breathing the same carcinogen-laden air.

Like many newspapers across the nation The Record's newsroom went smokeless a few months ago and smokers on staff are now relegated to the downstairs production area.

Now if we could just squeeze them out into the mailing room.....

Alvah Hanrahan

by Wyn Thompson

My first resolution is up the chimney. In spite of my determination to be happy as I dismantled the Christmas tree, I approach this first task of 1986 with a heavy heart and reluctant hand.

As I stare gloomily at the fading, drying Christmas tree, I know exactly how a kid feels when it rains on the day of a promised family outing, complete with picnic. I sit down in my favorite rocker to ponder the problem and to gather some enthusiasm for undecorating and taking down the tree.

Scamp stares glumly at the twinkle lights aglow for the last time while Irish and Lady doze close by.

But I cannot fool myself. Something that was so inspiring to create and a joy to behold is dull to undo. Is there anyone who really likes to take the Christmas tree down? I keep hoping someone will appear and say, "Go make a pot of coffee while I do this job." It is a daydream that will never be fulfilled.

I just know the ornaments multiply on the tree when I'm not looking. All the colored balls, tiny wreaths, miniature Santas, candy canes, snowflakes, and all the whimsies of past and present double during the Christmas season. Do not ask me how this happens; just ask anyone who finds it difficult to take the tree down, and they will support my findings, I am sure.

Why else do the ornament boxes never have sufficient spaces when it comes time to pack the ornaments away? And that is not all, for whole ornament boxes disappear.

Multiplying ornaments

Of course, anyone knows that ornament boxes sometimes join hands with the flat cardboard reels you need to rewind the tinsel garlands. And that tinsel... my how it multiplies and multiplies and...Then in the absence of the reels, the tinsel must be wrapped around your hand and then pushed untidily into its box. Since the tinsel is going to be in a snarl anyway, you don't have to be too careful removing it from the tree, a compensating factor. After all, there is a full year in which to consider how to separate it for next year's decorating adventure. Maybe I won't use tinsel next year or garlands or...

As you continue unloading the shedding tree, you will notice the task is a solitary one. When it's time to take the tree down, every living soul disappears. In town, at the woodpile, on skis, over at Auntie's or in Timbuctu. You are left with it.

Even the dogs are gone. Scamp, even in his venerable state, has already done his share of undecorating the tree. For all self-respecting cats can be relied upon to remove any low-hanging ornaments. They are particularly helpful with those very fragile whimsies of yesteryear, such as the porcelain clowns a rich friend sent me from Holland. They are also helpful at removing the little Yugoslavian eggs so richly crafted by an acquaintance of last year. I rescue them all just in time, for they are such dear treasures.

The Farmer scolds me for the positioning of such treasures. I chose a safer environment. The dogs have done their part by wagging their tails against the tree and sending sudden showers of dry needles to the floor. This will lighten my load as I drag the tree from the house.

Thoroughly depressed, I can only think of the itch the needles will give me, the frustration of untangling strands of twinkle lights, the boredom of picking off each ornament one at a time, the knowledge that I will still be vacuuming dried needles from the carpet next June. For something as full of wonder and joy as a Christmas tree, there has to be a better ending.

"How about a Christmas tree bonfire with the neighbors another year?" I query the Farmer when he appears after the deed is done. We might bribe them with hints of food and mulled cider, and the promise of a quiet evening. The Farmer didn't think so. He's ready to proceed into the new year, he says. The dogs and cat appear and lie down, not wishing for any more disruptions to their schedules.

So January, like its namesake Janus, is with us with its two faces. It is the month for reviewing the past before laying it on the memory shelf, and for looking forward to the new year ahead.

Along about the middle of January, when we have the house back in order, we take time to talk a bit about the days gone by and the days to come. It has been our practise to consider briefly all that has happened while sitting in our rockers by the fireplace. If there have been crises, it is a relief to know they are past and done with. It is a time to ponder over all that has come our way, if we have coped well or badly. If badly, we determine to take a more mature approach in the new year.

Resolutions

We consider, too, how we will deal with the days that lie ahead. The calendar is still fairly clean. How much fun, and personal growth we pack into our allotted time is up to us. On this cold, cloudless January evening, when it seems all the world is caught in a moonlit fantasy, it is easy to look to the future with hope. I hope for a goodly mix of work and play.

A nippy January night is a fine time for a bowl of potato soup over which to ponder such thoughts of the new year. "It is now the year of the tiger in Japan," I tell the Farmer.

"It will be the winter of the deep cold here," he forecasts as he pops another spoonful of soup into his mouth.

Anyone who visits our home in the cold of winter can warm by our fire and talk of the season's doings with a cup of soup and a cup of cheer. May we all have a year filled with blessings and good country pleasures.

Winchester Township council: Moved by Patrick Kirby, seconded by J.W. Bogart that this Council appoint George Quart clerk for the year 1906 at a salary of $150.00 -- Carried.

Moved by Patrick Kirby, seconded by J.W. Bogart, that James C. Casselman be appointed Treasurer for the Township of Winchester for the year 1906 at a salary of $100.00 -- Carried.

Moved by Patrick Kirby, seconded by Wm. Clark, that the prayers of the petition of Harvey Loughridge and others for rescinding the taxes on dogs for the year 1906 be granted. -- Carried.

Berwick: Miss Katie Meldrum has been engaged as teacher at Dyer for the coming year.

Durham Wells, Hoasic, has charge of his brother-in-law's stock until his return home.

Hackett L.O.L. held their regular meeting in their Lodge room on Dec. 26. After general routine business there was an interesting debate. J. Pollock and J.C. Merkley were appointed captains. J. Pollock won by five points to two, proving the pen has done more to civilize the world than the sword. At the next regular meeting, the debate will be on which is most profitable, an old cow or horse.

Bouck's Hill: The Rev. A.E. Runnels is conducting revival meetings at North Williamsburg this week.

Mr. Morley McPherson of Winchester Springs was threshing and sawing with his gasoline engine in this vicinity lat week.

We have no kicking about cold weather yet.

26 From the Record, Thurs., Jan. 14, 1926

The formal opening of the new Melvin School took place this week on Tuesday when Mr. V.K. Greer of Toronto, chief Inspector of Public and Separate schools for Ontario, performed the opening ceremonies...

The new Melvin school is a fine, roomy, modern structure, with a furnace in the basement, and a cloak and teacher's room at the rear. The group of that section were a long time making up their mind to build but they now have a building of which they may be justly proud.

"Finch Kalsomined". To grab off two games by the whitewashing process within a week was the stunt pulled last week by the Chesterville puck chasers. Not satisfied with doing the deed to the Russell bunch they tried the same thing on the Finch boys when they came to town last Friday night and held them scoreless while collecting a good pair for themselves.

As far as the stopping process is concerned John Cross had it all figured out, in fact the whole team had adopted the motto of the French when defending Verdun "They Shall Not Pass" and Finch had not much more chance of passing the line of defence than had the Germans.

A masquerade carnival is billed for Morewood rink for tomorrow night under the auspices of the United Young People's Union. All skaters must be in fancy dress. A good list of prizes is hung up.

Grinding will be done at Dunbar Tuesday and Saturday of each week. Ora L. Bouck.

46 From the Record, Thurs., Jan. 10, 1946

A tragedy was narrowly averted at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith, just west of the village on the Ridge Road, when one of their young daughters collapsed on going to the bathroom in the early hours of Sunday morning after becoming ill from coal gas fumes.

When the child collapsed, Mrs. Smith went to her assistance but was too weak to lift her and she was helped by her husband. Erva, aged nine, and the twin daughters, June and Jean, collapsed as they were taken out into the fresh air on the upstairs balcony and their young son Jack collapsed shortly afterwards.

John Elliott, an employee of Nestle's Milk Products (Can.) Ltd., in town, is a patient in the Civic Hospital, Ottawa, with multiple compound fractures of the right arm and several cuts and bruises after being thrown by a belt yesterday morning when starting a steam engine in the boiler room at the plant.

Elliott is reported to have been starting a steam engine supplying draft to the big boilers when he was caught in the belt and whirled around and thrown to the floor.

Some kind of a record was created when the Nation River ice went out at 3:20 Wednesday afternoon after the river rose to spring flood-levels in 12 hours as the very mild weather sent water pouring in from creeks and ditches. From a trickle Sunday morning, the river rose to the height of the dam abutments by evenings and the continued warm weather of Monday loosened the ice and "out she went"

One of the first works to be undertaken by the 1946 Municipal Council will be an inspection and necessary repairs to the fire hydrant system, and securing fittings for the new fire engine so that it can be used as a "booster" on the hydrants.

Little Glenn McKenzie's scream saved his two little sisters and their Elma home from burning. Mrs. McKenzie who was finishing drying some blankets had hung one near the room stove on a cotton line and had left the house only about 3 minutes to feed the hens, when the yells of Glenn attracted his father. Ross ran to the house and found the blanket blazing to the ceiling which was scorched badly in about five minutes and there would have been a very bad fire.

Letters

The Editor:

A popular issue - student drinking - is being discussed in local papers and throughout the community. Why doesn't someone take the time and ask students why they drink? For many, it is not because they enjoy drinking, but the fact that almost all social gatherings held in this vicinity make liquor available to teenagers.

Being from small towns and rural areas, the students in this region lack special gathering places, places where they can get together to talk and laugh and share ideas. Few restaurants or shop owners enjoy a group of ten or fifteen teenagers coming into their establishment for the sole purpose of buying a Coke and chatting idly.

How many dances in our area are designated for under age drinkers? Virtually none. School dances are one of the few places alcoholic beverages are not served, but just when everyone is having fun, the dance ends - and it is only eleven thirty.

Teenagers now look for something else to do until curfew hour rolls around; this often means going to a dance where liquor is served. Why not allow school dances to continue to twelve thirty or at least twelve o'clock? As long as students are under the supervision provided by numerous teachers and members of the local police force, they are not likely to be drinking or driving or creating havoc.

Why doesn't someone sponsor a dance where no alcohol is served, a dance designed especially for teenagers? The Booster Club dances in Winchester are a start, but there is still a long way to go. Why not give teenagers an environment they are comfortable in, one lacking the temptations of alcohol?

Yours truly,
Angie Holmes,

The Life of Riley

by Wayne Riley

The world's highest ferris wheel, a 55-metre high masterpiece right in the heart of Niagara Falls, is going to disappear because city developers say the wheel gives the honeymoon capital a "tacky look."

Are they kidding?

Even though the first wedding I ever attended was my own, I instinctively knew there had to be a place for tackiness in the proceedings, a frame of mind that made uncooked rice in the face and toilet paper flowers on the car seem funny and even appropriate.

The little plastic man and woman knee deep in the icing of the wedding cake, the man and woman who each had eyes and a mouth but no nose, looked formally elegant.

As I slipped the garter off my wife's leg in front of a crowd of slightly drunk and giddy men, the ceremony seemed as solemn as a knighting.

Later, as I scraped away wedding cake that had smashed and leaked from its plastic wrapping inside my suit pocket, I thought about my forefathers and what they wrapped their wedding cake in before the invention of Saran Wrap.

But I knew as I left the wedding hall with my wife, the sound of middle-aged feet hitting the dance floor to the music of Devo, that I was being short-changed in the tackiness department of the traditional Canadian wedding. My wife and I were not going to Niagara Falls.

I had always felt a great void in my life at missing the falls on my honeymoon. It was the kind of void I felt once as a kid as I watched cream soda trickle through shards of the 25-cent bottle of pop I had accidently dropped on the step.

Oh sure, the honeymoon was still okay without the falls. But who wants to look at slides of the Sleep-Eze Motel and Dining Lounge?

The falls in the fall

So in the fall of 1984, several years after our wedding and seven months into the development of our first child, my wife and I decided that the time had come for Niagara Falls. It was too late for the romance of new love, but there was still plenty of room for souvenir hunting.

I was more than a little excited as we turned off the 401 onto the QEW that October, more than a little excited as we turned away from Waterloo and my mother-in-law (oh, darn!) towards that great natural phenomenon.

And then we were there, standing at the side of the falls with the roar of the water in our ears. It was so noble, so savage, so natural. I plunked 25 cents into one of the silver telescopes along the sidewalk, fiddled with the broken focus and got an idea of what the falls looks like to the short-sighted.

Later, we took a ride below the falls on the Maid of the Mist and, standing at the bow in my black slicker, I made my wife laugh as I became a grizzled sea captain shouting out orders in an Atlantic storm.

We were on the suburbs of tacky then and the closeness of it all made my heart jump.

And then, as we slipped into the coffee shop to warm up, we were there. Genuine Indian peace pipes with blue and pink feathers and the words Niagara Falls printed on the sides hung from the walls. Below were stacked Niagara Falls ash trays, Niagara Falls pennants and lime green Niagara Falls pillows.

We had hit paydirt and we had hit it big. I fingered the genuine Indian scaled-down birch bark canoe with Niagara Falls printed on the side and imagined what it would look like floating in my bathtub. And then I saw something that made me drop the canoe and suck in my breath.

Tacky-land

I carefully picked up the half globe of plastic and turned it over in my hand. Inside the globe, a fierce snow storm had started as a little Maid of the Mist floated across. Wow, the genuine Niagara Falls souvenir. I was about to pull out money to buy it when I saw the made in Taiwan stamp. It made me mad. Imports when Canadian artists were out of work.

Leaving the coffee and souvenir shop, we drove up into the heart of the city. And there, on a street with four wax museums and a second-storey mini-golf course, I discovered what it really means to live in a society fuelled by capitalism.

In my wildest dreams I had never seen anything like it. Imagine seeing a $50,000 wax replica of King Kong and Art Linkletter's footprints in the sidewalk on the same street. And across the street a giant race car set and a studio where a photographer made it look like you had gone over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

It made me dizzy. I could hardly pull the admission fees from my wallet fast enough.

And then I saw it, the Matterhorn of amusement, rising above the buildings. I nearly fainted on the spot. It was the biggest ferris wheel I had ever seen. They were pushing the falls when they already had this baby? I couldn't believe it.

I grabbed my wife by the hand and pulled her towards Maple Leaf Village. Wow, rides everywhere. But wait, where were the people? I felt a sickening twinge in my stomach as I looked up at the silent, unmoving ferris wheel. A sign below confirmed the fear. The amsuement park had closed for the year.

And now they want to get rid of it. A city built on heart-shaped beds and plastic trinkets and neon lights and they want to get rid of the tacky element?

Well, take the wheel and take the heart out of Niagara Falls. Goodbye Niagara Falls, and goodbye to a good one-third of Canadian marriages.

Can you, fathers of Niagara Falls, live with that?

Theatrical hi-jinks at Maple Ridge

Maple Ridge Public School's annual Christmas concert drew a full house of parents and friends last week despite cold wintry weather. The audience was treated to several performances including music, recitation and a one-act play entitled "Hamelot". From left: Lance of France (Tom Lachapelle); Princess Amnesia (Inge Roosendaal); King Sire (Roddy Hoople); Lionel (Jimmy McCormick).

OPP receive one complaint about snowmobiles

(Staff) - Winchester police have received a complaint from a Chesterville resident of snowmobilers trespassing on private property.

But without the identification of the driver or vehicle registration number, Sgt. Robert Lyon of the Winchester OPP detachment said there is little police can do.

"If they get a licence number for the vehicle, we can lay charges," he said.

He explained a snowmobile is considered a vehicle similar to a motorcycle, and an operator has the same rights and responsibilities. Snowmobile drivers have the right to use the road; all that's excluded is private property.

Each winter, he said the detachment receives several complaints of machines running on private property and causing damage or annoyance. "It's not a big problem," he said, but added, "People don't complain so we assume there's no problem."

"I haven't received very many (complaints) personally nor has council that many over the years," said Chesterville reeve Carl Ward Monday.

"I suppose people have had some concerns about snowmobiles driving over private property," he said. "By and large, people run them out in the open country."

He said snowmobilers should exercise "good judgment" in their choice of routes and suggested that concerned property-owners first speak to the drivers before asking council to take any action.

The village has no by-law regulating the use of off-road vehicles like motorbikes and snowmobiles, although such a law was discussed last summer.

Councillors Shirley Coons, Mike McMahon and Roger Cole said no resident had raised the issue with them.

"This is an annual thing and I don't know whether you can do much," said Mrs. Coons, adding the problem is made more difficult by the inability to identify the helmeted, suited drivers.

In Memoriams

IN MEMORIAM

MERKLEY — In loving memory of a dear brother, James Henry Merkley who passed away Jan. 8, 1983.
Calm and peaceful he is sleeping
Sweetest rest that follows pain,
We who loved him sadly miss him,
But trust in God to meet again.

Sadly missed and always remembered by Brother Arthur 20

IN MEMORIAM

FLANAGAN — In loving memory of a dear brother and uncle Jim, who passed away January 7, 1980.
Those we love don't go away
They walk beside us everyday,
Unseen, unheard, and always near,
Still loved, still missed, still very dear.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered By Georgie and Bill 20-1

DILLABOUGH — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Lois Dillabough who passed away Dec. 27, 1983.
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe thy name;
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.

Wayne, Shirley, Jaime and Aimee

IN MEMORIAM

OUDERKIRK — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Johnson Ouderkirk who passed away January 15, 1982.
We did not see you close your eves.
Or hear your last faint sigh.
We only heard you were gone.
Too late to say goodbye.
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest so fair.
Someday we know not when
We will meet our loved one there.

Always remembered by, Myrna and George, Wayne and Alice, Reggie and Janetta Garry and Lynn, and Grandchildren

REALTOR

WHAT GOES WITH THE HOUSE?

Real estate is usually defined as the land and everything attached to it, such as: buildings, trees, shrubs, etc. The buyer normally gets all of the real estate, but none of the owner's personal property. The problem arises when personal property has become a part of the real estate. This is called a fixture and does pass with the real estate.

There are three usual tests which must be satisfied. Has the personal property been permanently annexed to the real estate? Is it intended to become part of the real estate? And finally, what is the local custom? Usual fixtures might include: shades, heaters, ranges, screens, storm windows, lighting fixtures, etc.

It is important that the seller spell out specifically in his sales agreement exactly what he intends to give to the buyer as part of the real estate. This will save misunderstanding at the closing and sometimes save a sale.

Vial of Life subject of CBI meeting

NEWINGTON (Special) - Twelve members of Cedar Brae Institute met at the home of Mrs. Russell Presley Dec. 18 for their Christmas meeting.

Prior to the meeting Willie Hassell, a ministry of health worker for the Cornwall Ambulance Service, gave an interesting talk and showed slides on the Vial of Life program.

President Mrs. Russell Presley opened the meeting with the Ode, Collect and Lords' prayer.

Roll call was answered by each member giving her favorite line of the Mary Stewart Collect and the reason why.

Minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary Mrs. John Simpson.

Business was quickly dispensed with so that cards could be written and boxes packed for shut-ins. A tray of fruit was arranged for the Newington Rest Home.

Mrs. Presley and Mrs. McLean read poems pertaining to Christmas.

First woman elected public school trustee for Morrisburg and Williamsburg enjoying job

by Alvah Hanrahan
Record News Editor

ELMA (Staff) - The first woman to be elected a county school board trustee in the Williamsburg township and Morrisburg village area has a firm resolution to serve the needs of children in her district. Susan Adams, a rookie among board members, was elected to office in November, has attended preliminary board meetings, has been appointed to three committees in which she has an interest, and is thriving in her new role.

Mrs. Adams, 30, and her husband Dale, a general contractor, are proprietors of Gerrylin Strawberry Farm, a familiar place in June and July when it's time to pick your own berries. In addition to the demands of an agricultural business she is the mother of three children, Joshua, 7, Noah, 6 and Micah 2.

She is a graduate of Carleton University in Ottawa and earned a B.A. degree in English and psychology.

With a vested interest in the education of her children, two of whom attend Elma Public School. Mrs. Adams noted, "I grew up around educational matters. My mother is a teacher and many people in the community are teachers with education often discussed."

"People probably elected me because they thought I would be concerned."

As a newcomer to municipal politics Mrs. Adams defeated longtime campaigner Mike McInnis, a Morrisburg lawyer, for the position of trustee for Williamsburg and township and Morrisburg village in the November 12 municipal election. Her brother-in-law said 'You should run' when nomination time came near and she said ever since that time the idea appealed strongly to her. "I knew I could do the job and I thought I could win the election," she sad.

"I would have hated to have gone in by acclamation. What was most gratifying was that the poll where I live -- Dunbar -- overwhelmingly supported me."

Trustees, in addition to their responsibilities to attend regular school board meetings twice a month, become members of at least three committees and Mrs. Adams was delighted to be appointed to those she was most interested in -- the Program Committee, which oversees individual programs in the schools; the Special Education Advisory, which is involved with implementing Bill 31, providing services for students with special needs; and the Affirmative Action Committee.

"I'm not sure what The Affirmative Action Committee really is supposed to do," she laughed. "I'm not a women's libber and I've never experienced any sort of discrimination myself."

Mrs. Adams said she has not formed any specific philosophy of education but stressed during the election she intended to serve the community.

"I don't have any one particular beef with the education system," she commented "But I don't think it's all it could be."

She added that as a parent she was concerned last year when the board was waffling with the music program in local schools, finally deciding to retain the services of a music teacher.

"Esthetics are a part of our lives that are constantly being eroded."

"I don't have any one particular beef with the education system, but I don't think it's all it could be."

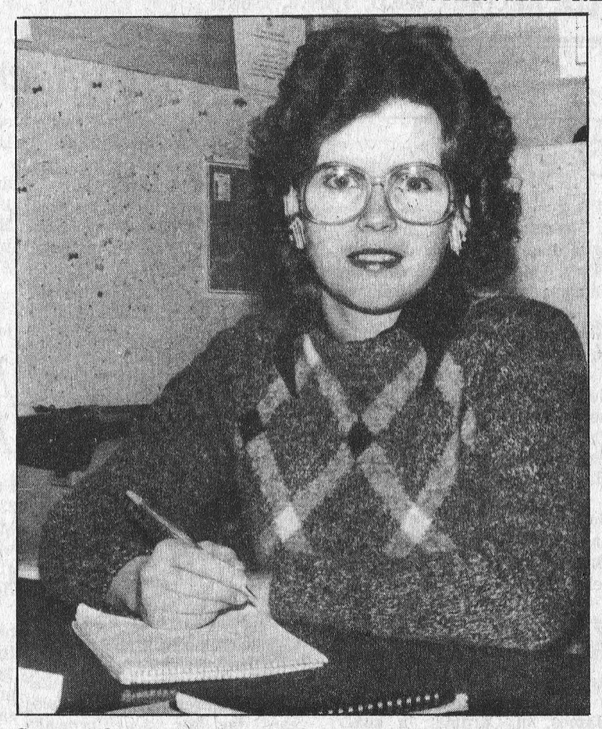
She said that when any major issues arise in the educational sphere she would be there to lend assistance because "the voters put me there."

Coming up in the future, she added, is the full-funding issue whereby separate schools in Ontario will be receiving funding through to the end of high school should the current court case find provincial legislation constitutional. Another matter of importance, she said, is the implementation of Bill 31 which provides for special education. The provincial education ministry regulations now extend to provision of enrichment programs for gifted students as well as for those who are mentally and physically handicapped.

School board trustees are paid an honorarium for attendance at meetings and for the considerable workload they undertake on behalf of the board. As well they are paid milage for travelling to meetings. Mrs. Adams said she plans to visit the schools in her jurisdiction and get a hands-on idea of what her job is about at the grass roots level.

"People probably elected me because they thought I would be concerned," she said.

Already a few people in the community have approached her to solve problems worrying them. There'll be many more during the next three years and she says she looks forward to it.



Susan Adams was elected as public school board trustee in the recent municipal election. She represents Williamsburg township and Morrisburg village. Mrs. Adams defeated Morrisburg lawyer Mike McInnis for the position. Her first foray into the political arena netted her a job she's interested in, especially as a mother of three young children.

Sparkling prize worth $500

Martha Genier (right) was the lucky recipient of the super draw Christmas Eve. The second annual diamond ring draw held by Al-Mor Ladies Wear and The Brookslyn made Martha the proud owner of a $500 diamond ring. She said she was thrilled when she heard she had won the draw. Christmas Eve must have been her lucky day because she won a $10 cash prize in a scratch and win contest, the only two times she has come in a winner. The ring was presented by Joyce McMahon-Sharkey, proprietor of Al-Mor. She said there was a large number of tickets in the draw, one for every $10 purchase at either store. Martha, who is employed at LaBelle's Hairstyling, had only one chance in the draw, a super lucky one.

Winter fun and recreation to be found in parks' programs

MORRISBURG (Special) - As soon as Mother Nature provides sufficient snow and ice, the winter recreation program, sponsored by The St. Lawrence Parks Commission, will get under way with new features.

Cross-country skiers can take advantage of one-hour waxing and skiing technique clinics to be held each Sunday in January from 1-3pm at the Crysler Park maple sugar bush shanty, located off the Upper Canada Road (Exit 758 off Highway No. 401), 9 km east of here.

For this first year, the clinics will be offered free-of-charge.

Weekend skaters on the Upper Canada Village canal will appreciate the warmth during the day of the bonfires on the shore and the hot cider and coffee available adjacent to the Village Store.

Skiers have five cross-country trails in Crysler Park from which to choose. Free parking is available at the entrance to the trails on the Upper Canada Golf Course are open to snowmobiles.

Snowmobilers can enjoy 11 km of wooded parkland at Crysler Park. Locations of trail entrances and free parking are the same as for skiers. All parklands other than the restricted areas of the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary and the Upper Canada Golf Course are open to snowmobiles.

There are hundreds of acres of Commission parkland for snowshoers. The Long Sault Parkway is an excellent site for tobogganers.

Upper Canada Village, will offer sleigh rides through the Village streets from 1pm to 3pm December 27 to December 31 and January 2 and 3 and each Saturday and Sunday thereafter (weather permitting). Tickets (1.35 for adults, $.75 for children 6-12 years of age and no charge for children 1-5 years of age) for the half-hour rides may be purchased at the Village Store.

Dale Roddick of Upper Canada Village was suitably togged out for the weather last weekend as he guided visitors through the snow-covered village lanes by sleigh. The fine pair of horses sets out for two hours every Saturday and Sunday for a half-hour jaunt through the village.

Parish skating party to be held

(Special) - A hilarious skit performed by Marion Lynch and Carol McLeod was the highlight of a beautiful evening organized by Teresa Van Kessel and Pat McLeod at St. Mary's CWL annual Christmas supper. Mass at 7pm was followed by a delicious pot-luck supper.

A short meeting was then held. Mary Wouters was thanked for all her work in organizing funeral lunches throughout the year. Plans were made for a raffle in the spring. Carol McLeod suggested having a parish skating party on the Nation River to be followed with hot chocolate in the hall. Donations were given to Rotary Club for Christmas baskets and also to St. Mary's school for the raffle prizes in the St. Patrick's tea and bake sale.

Father Appelman commented on the lack of any religious theme on this year's Christmas stamps and urged the CWL to write to the postmaster general recommending that this should not happen in the future. He also told of his correspondence with premier Peterson on abortion and pointed out that all our letters do count.

President Pat Bradley closed the formal part of the evening by wishing everyone a very happy and holy Christmas season. The next meeting will be a brunch at the end of January.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to carol singing with Edith Foley at the piano. Door prizes were awarded and a gift was presented to Father Appelman.

Survey of CWL study days sent to Bishop Eugene Laroque

FINCH (Special) - The Christmas meeting of St. Bernard's CWL was held at the home of Mary Grady with sixteen members present.

President Mary Luykx opened the meeting with the League prayer. Linda Holland, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Treasurer Betty Moran gave her report.

Kathleen MacNaughton, education convenor, gave her report on the meeting held at St. Francis De Sales. Eight CWL councils were represented. Each representative gave the results of study days held in her parish pertaining to the role of women in the church. The results were compiled and sent to Bishop Eugene Laroque.

Sister Dorothy, showed slides entitled "The Christmas Spirit."

It was decided to donate $50 to the palliative care unit at the Hotel Dieu in Cornwall.

A committee was named to meet at Mary Grady's to make up the Christmas baskets for shut-ins.

Junior Farmers learn secrets of public speaking

TORONTO (Staff) - Forty young people learned to overcome their tongue-tied state at a communications workshop sponsored by the Ontario Junior Farmers in December.

The three-day seminar was held Dec. 27 to 29 at Boyd Conservation Centre north of Toronto. The Ontario young people discussed preparing speeches, impromptu speaking and conversation skills.

"Goal-setting was a very valued session by all," said Barbara-Ann Glaude, president of Stormont Junior Farmers.

"Forty strangers were friends after the sessions, outdoor hikes and nighttime activity. There still are some red faces but the tongues aren't as tied," she said.

Nancy Graham, secretary of the county organization; John Maloney, chairperson of the travel and hospitality committee, and Frank Hakvoort, agriculture committee, chairperson, also attended the seminar.

Connaught sets record

CONNAUGHT (Staff) - A record was set recently when members of the Connaught Rod and Gun Club surpassed their previous rabbit and grouse total by five points.

December 28 results of the hunt awarded first prizes to Jake Geertsma. Other prizes were won by Pam Geertsma; Francis Barkley; Rick Barkley; Barry Elliott. A total of 16 rabbits and two grouse were copped in the event.

Christine's Cuisine

By Christine Must

Tired of turkey? Turn to ground beef for your next dinner. Many simple and fancy recipes call for ground beef. Here's a pizza recipe which features ground beef instead of pastry as the crust. It's quick and easy to prepare, a nice change from other more involved Italian dishes. Try it and give you and your family a break from those holiday season leftovers.

MEAT-ZA PIE

1 lb. ground beef (lean or medium)
10 oz. can sliced mushrooms
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg
½ tsp. oregano
mozzarella cheese
4 oz. tomato sauce
1 small onion, chopped
2 tbsp. green pepper, chopped

Combine ground beef, mushrooms with liquid, bread crumbs, egg and oregano. Press mixture on bottom and sides of a 9" pie pan to form a beef crust. Top with a slice of mozzarella cheese. Garnish with tomato sauce, onion, green pepper and mushrooms. Sprinkle with oregano. Bake at 180 degrees C (350 degrees F) for 55 minutes. Drain off excess fat. Top with a second layer of cheese. Bake 5 minutes or until cheese melts.

Aces hold NSIMHL lead

FINCH (Staff) - The Avonmore Aces are still holding strong in first place in the North Stormont Intermediate Hockey league but Newington's second place spot is getting a little shaky.

Although Newington was missing their regular goalie, Jim Hume, the Crysler Chiefs managed to get by the Newington defence for a 5-3 win here on Sunday night.

The first match on Sunday was played between Finch and Lakeside and resulted in a 6-6 tie.

Friday's game results went as predicted; Crysler lost to the first place Avonmore 5-2 and Lakeside dropped a 7-2 loss to Newington.

In Sunday's second match Crysler scored twice early in the first as Pierre Poirier connected for the first goal less than a minute into the match and Christien Brisson replied for the team's second goal at 17:14.

Crysler's 2-0 lead crumbled by the end of the first as Newington's Terry Gove scored at 10:32 and Dan Pommainville replied for a goal at 2:59 on a pass from Gove to tie the match 2-2.

Three unassisted goals in the second period, one into an open net, gave Crysler their 5-3 win.

Crysler's goal scorers were Bob Briere, Philip Benoit and Brent Ouderkirk.

Finch and Lakeside played a game of leapfrog in the first match on Sunday night but ended even 6-6.

Finch led off the match as Bill de Witt scored his first goal of the game at 18:46 in the first.

Lakeside scored six minutes later to tie the match 1-1 as Bill Kroeze scored on a pass from Brian Brown.

Bill de Witt scored once again for Finch at 3:23 in the first to give Finch a 2-1 lead over Lakeside.

Ed de Witt followed with a goal for Finch with 23 seconds left in the frame to give Finch a 3-1 lead over Lakeside.

Then at the start of the second period Lakeside regained control of the scoreboard with three goals before the 12-minute mark to give the team a 4-3 lead over Finch as Leo LaFortune, Clayton Ouderkirk and Jim Locey collected on the goals for Lakeside.

Finch rallied back with a goal at 11:21 scored by Hughie Coleman and another at 10:48 scored by Mike Kuhn to recapture the lead over Lakeside 5-4.

Lakeside had scored twice before the five-minute mark and was again in the lead 6-5 as Ouderkirk and Brown scored on Finch's Ricky Marleau.

A last minute goal scored by Finch's Ed de Witt put the finishing touches on the 6-6 match.

In Friday's game Crysler put up a strong battle at the first of the match but wore down after a two goal spurt in the first period.

Crysler was the first to score with a goal a little more than a minute into the game as Briere scored his first of two on a pass from Marcel Courville.

At 10:49 Avonmore's Rick Lalonde scored his first of three consecutive goals on a pass from Brent Theede to tie the match 1-1.

Three minutes later Briere scored again for Crysler to give the team a 2-1 lead over Avonmore as Albert Herfkens collected on the assist.

Briere's goal was quickly matched by Avonmore's Lalonde with a goal at 6:13 in the first to tie the match 2-2. Lalonde scored once more for the team a minute later in the frame to give Avonmore a 3-2 edge.

Crysler was kept off the board in the second period while Avonmore's Randy McRae and Blair Henderson added to Avonmore's lead to give the team their 5-2 win.

Friday's second match gave Newington an easy 7-2 win with two goals in the first and five in the second while Lakeside scored only one per frame.

Newington's scorers were Ed Gove with two goals, Terry Gove with a goal and three assists, Grant Simpson, Jim Pennock and Brad Shaver all scored once and assisted on a goal and Daryl Shelp scored a single.

Flyers stay out of the loss column

RUSSELL (Staff) - Even though the Chesterville Junior "C" Flyers are winning, one thing they have stopped doing is losing as they tied the Russell Lions 5-5 in Russell on Friday.

Russell scored three third period goals, including one with 43 seconds left on the clock, to come from behind and tie the Flyers.

Flyer's Terry Barkley scored twice early in the first as John and Mark Guy and Sam Gibson collected on the assists to give the Flyers a 2-0 lead over Russell.

Russell's Ron Oppertshauser scored at 5:19 in the first to narrow the Flyers lead to 2-1.

At 14:06 in the second frame Russell's Brian Johnston scored on Flyers' goalie Greg VanDellan to tie the match 2-2.

Jerrold Boulanger began the Flyers three-goal spurt at the four-minute mark in the second to give the Flyers their lead once again.

Mark Guy and Barkley set up the shot on net for John Guy's goal to give the Flyers a 4-2 lead over Russell.

Mark Guy answered for Chesterville's last goal of the match, scored at 2:22 in the second, to give the Flyers a 5-2 lead over Russell as Kevin Moore and Barkley set up the shot

Russell's Chris Lavoilette scored at the 10-minute mark in the third period to narrow in on the Flyers 5-3.

Four minutes later Russell scored again and trailed the Flyers by one goal as Paul Cochrane scored on net.

A goal scored with 47 seconds left on the clock in the third period scored by Russell's Lavoilette tied the match 5-5 between Russell and the Flyers.

"A point's a point," said Flyers coach Mike Armstrong. "I'm quite pleased especially after our start," referring to the fact that the Flyers have tied their last three matches.

Although the Flyers are keeping an above .500 record with 9 (wins) .8 (losses) and 4 (ties) Armstrong feels there is room for improvement in their powerplay.

"It's been weak and we'll have to work on it," said Armstrong. "The lines are pretty well set though, but we are still being affected by suspensions.

"I'm looking for more scoring ," said Armstrong, "although Boulanger has been scoring at least one goal a game."

Fitness highlights winter programs

(Staff) - Three winter programs being offered by the Chesterville village's parks and recreation should help those who decided to become fit for their New Year's resolution do so easily.

Three of the five programs offered are children's gymnastics, ladies' dancercise and basketball-volleyball and keep fit for teenagers and even a possible fourth fitness program for men in which universal gym equipment is on order and will be used.

Art for kids which was offered in the fall will be making a come-back along with a new program, microwave cooking classes.

The children's gymnastics program will be held on Wednesday evenings at North Dundas District High School starting February 5 for 10 consecutive weeks. Ages 4-7 will have classes from 6-7pm and 8-14 years-of-age will begin at 7pm and end at 8pm.

Registration for the classes can be done by either phoning the Chesterville Parks and Recreation office at 448-3285 (also for further information) or you can register on the first night. The price will be $15 for the first child and $10 for each additional child.

Pene Arnold will be heading up the ladies dancercise program once again in which a possibility of one or two classes per week will be offered. The cost for going once a week will be $15 and twice will be $30. Classes will begin on Monday, February 3 and Thursday, February 6 each at 8pm and will last for 10 weeks at the Chesterville Public School. Registration and information for the class can be handled by calling Pene Arnold at 448-2906.

Teenagers basketball and volleyball and keep fit basically is what it says.

The program combines a half-hour of fitness along with one hour of recreational basketball and volleyball.

The program is co-ed for ages 13-17 and will be held at the Chesterville Public School every Wednesday night for 10 weeks starting January 29.

Running shoes and non-restrictive clothing are suggested. The cost of the program is $10 per child and $5 for each additional child. Registration can be done by phoning the Chesterville Parks and Recreation office at 448-3285 or on the first night of classes. The maximum number of people allowed in the program is 20.

The microwave cooking classes will be held at the Nelson LaPrade Centre (Drop-in) on either Wednesday mornings or afternoons and will be instructed by Betty Milne. There will be two sessions that will last for six weeks with a maximum of eight persons per session with each being two hours long. The first session will begin February 5 and the second will start on March 19. The cost per person is $60 including materials and the use of the microwaves is being donated by Fulton's in Chesterville. Further information is available by calling Betty Milne at 989-5552 and registration can be done by calling the Chesterville Parks and Recreation office at 448-3285 or 448-2342.

Jane Hoople will be instructing the art for kids program to be held at the Chesterville park pavillion each Saturday starting February 1 for 10 weeks. Ages 4-6 will go from 10:30-12 noon and 7-10 years-of-age will begin at 12:30 and end at 2pm. Registration fees will be $30 (materials included) and can be done by phoning Chesterville Parks and Recreation at 448-2342 or 448-3285. The classes are for boys and girls and only a maximum of 10 will be able to enrol.

Embrun scored twice in the first period before Chesterville's Shawn Beckstead scored on a pass from John Mackler to narrow Embrun's lead to 2-1.

A goal in the first and second gave Embrun a larger lead of 4-1.

With 1:15 on the clock in the third John Moran and Mackler powered together for the assist on Danny Dubois' goal for Chesterville to trail behind Embrun 4-2.

Donny Marcellus' goal with 22 seconds left in the match was not enough as Embrun took a 4-3 win over Chesterville.

Dubois led the team's scoring with two goals. Picking up singles were Ricky Nelson, Daryl Thompson and Mackler.

Stittsville scored at 2:43 in the third to trail Chesterville 3-2 but Dubois' goal late in the third gave the team a 4-2 "B" division championship.

Chesterville's opener in the Williamstown tournament resulted in a 3-1 loss for the team to Orleans.

In the "B" semi-finals Chesterville met Smiths Falls and took an easy 5-2 win

After Renfrew put a 2-0 lead scare into Chesterville with two early first period goals Chesterville regained a tie and continued to add to win the "B" championship 6-2.

Four first period goals and two in the third gave Chesterville their easy win as Dubois again led his team to a win scoring two
