"Excerpts From Canadian Scenes" Program Highlights March Meeting Of W. I.

Thirty-five members met in the Library Tuesday night when the regular W. I. meeting convened at 8 p.m. In the absence of Mrs. Steven due to illness, Mrs. G. G. Merkley occupied the chair

Routine business was disposed of and treasurer's report showed the Fashion Show profit to be $100.00. Mrs. Hugh Smith, District Director, read a letter of thanks to all members for the splendid co-operation which is received at all times.

It was decided to create a fund which will be used to maintain the W.I. ward in the Memorial Hospital at Winchester.

In line with a request from the Department of Agriculture, W.I. Branch, members were asked to decided which had been the outstanding program. Historical Research, Grandmother's Day, achieved that merit. Presented in a dramatized form, and dealing with pioneer life, Mrs. B. Campbell, convener, obtained much material from Dr. R. L. Jones' book.

Miss Beverley Shaver played as a piano solo "Star of the Sea" and received great applause.

The program consisted of excerpts of Canadian Scenes, and presented as follows: Toronto, Mrs. J. F. Moriarty; Ottawa, Mrs. W York; Montreal, Mrs. M. Phillips; Halifax, Mrs. H. McCloskey; Quebec, Mrs. D. Docksteader. The story of Fife Wheat, Mrs. H. Smith; St. Lawrence River, Mrs. D. Hutton; Canada Geese, Mrs. R. Ouderkirk; Canadian Names, Mrs. B. Campbell.

A contest on general knowledge of Canadian interest was conducted by Mrs. B. Campbell and won by Mrs. C. A. Graham and Mrs. W. Fulton.

Tea was served by the committee in charge.

Donald Carr, Grantley Passes On Monday

Grantley suffered a loss in one of her well-known citizens on Monday when Donald Carr, 73, passed away after a lengthy illness. Mr. Carr was born in Grantley and farmed there all his life. He was a son of the late Alex and Mrs. Carr.

Surviving besides his widow are two sons, Claude at home and Elburn of Berwick, one sister, Mrs. Bertha Servage of Ogdensburg, and one brother, Will Carr of Bouck's Hill.

Rev. H. M. Beach conducted the funeral service on Wednesday afternoon in Grantley United Church. Interment was made in Grantley cemetery.

NEW RECEIVING ROOM OPEN AT NESTLES TOO SLOW FOR SOME PATRONS

Another new part of expanding Nestlé's plant opened for business this morning when the receiving room went into action. Some of the farmers are wearing a worried look about it. The new system has proven very slow and the rigs have to wait too long for the delivery of their milk to be comfortable, especially when the chores are waiting to be done at home. No doubt the service will speed up with practise and the bugs will be found and removed.

DISTRICT BOY INJURED IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

Murray D. Summers, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Summers, is a patient in the District Memorial Hospital, recovering from a compound fracture of the left leg between the knee and ankle, a crushed ankle, concussion and severe body bruises; injuries which he received about 9.30 o'clock on Sunday morning last, when the bicycle on which he was riding was in collision with a car, driven by Floyd Stoodley of 494 Preston Street, Ottawa.

The young lad was enroute to a local church service, when the accident happened on Highway 31, opposite Mr. Jay Quart's gate on the outskirts of the village.—Winchester Press.

ICE OUT, RATS RUNNING SPRING COMING

The river ice slipped its anchor and sailed down river on Sunday last. The usual watchers lined the old bridge to see the last of the stuff bow to the spring weather. The flood is not at all high this year. The water came within three feet of the top of the retaining wall at Mrs. Hughes' and that really wasn't anything to talk about. The only piece of news in the flood was the usual harebrained excursions by young boys out on the shifting ice. And one young character tried it the hard way and dropped off the centre of the bridge on to the ice.

Fair and Legion Committees Meet On Tuesday Discuss Community Centre

A meeting was held last Tuesday evening between the executives of the Legion and the Agricultural Society in an endeavour to find a practical means of raising money to either repair the Memorial Rink or rebuild it.

A proposal of the meeting that is looked upon with a great deal of favour is that of at some future date erecting a building on the Fair Grounds that will serve the community as a centre for varied activities and not alone as a rink in the winter. The meeting resolved to approach other civic bodies of the town and see if something of that nature can be worked out. In the meantime the combined committees of the Fair and the Legion are proceeding with plans to raise money through the sale of tickets on a new car.

LEGION BINGO HUGE SUCCESS

The largest crowd to date attended the bingo sponsored by Chesterville Branch No. 434 Canadian Legion, in the Community Hall on Friday night. Reeve Charles McMillan officiated at the drawing for the door prizes, Councillor Haldane Durant held the lucky ticket for the first prize and Mrs. B. Plantz received the second prize. Mrs. Wray Froats was the winner of the free game and Mr. William Faubert won the special game, the prize being a 26-piece set of silverware.

Miss Joan Hamilton won two games and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Merkley won one each. Other winners were Mrs. Clifford Kendrick, Mrs. Harold Loughridge, Mrs. Lloyd Froats, Rex McMillan, Leon McMillan, Mrs. Geo. Gillard, Hudson Johnston, Mrs. Teddy Hess, Mrs. Basil Rowe, Marion Morris, Ken. Harper, Mrs. Evelyn MacMillan, Ernest Wouters, Mrs. Edward Brady, Miss Helen Smith.

Mr. E. Johnston, assisted by Mr. Russell Servage acted as Master-of-Ceremonies; Legion President L. T. Moriarty was in charge of arranging the hall and Mr. John D. MacMillan assisted by Mr. D. C. Campbell were responsible for obtaining the prizes.

THE LATE W. A. SERVAGE

William Albert Servage died at his home in Winchester on Tuesday morning. He was in his 88th year and well-known throughout the district.

Mr. Servage farmed near here for many years before moving to Winchester, some years ago He was born in Chesterville, the son of the late Michael Servage and his wife the former Jane Ouderkirk. He married Emma Jane O'Shaughnessey of Williamsburg, who passed away a few years ago.

Surviving are three sons: Rev. Harvey M. Servage of Kingston, Milton M. and Albert of Winchester, and three daughters, Mrs. Clifford Shannette of Williamsburg, Mrs. Asa Shay of Chesterville and Mrs. Arnold Duncan of Winchester.

The funeral service was conducted at the Winchester United Church on Wednesday afternoon with Rev. N. J. Thomas officiating. Interment was made in the Williamsburg Cemetery.

RESEARCH FARM VISITED AT SUMMIT, MISSOURI

Douglas Durant, James Popham and Hilary Weatherdon recently returned from a visit to the Purina Research Farm at Gray Summit, Missouri, near St. Louis, where they saw practical feeding and management operations designed to help farmers produce more meat, milk and eggs from the poultry and livestock on their own farms.

On the Purina Research Farm of 738 acres, the newest rations and methods of feeding were explained to Douglas Durant, James Popham and Hilary Weatherdon and other visitors on the tour. A leader in the feed industry, Ralston Purina has discovered improvements in animal nutrition which have helped farmers obtain more meat, milk and egg production, through a program of good breeding, careful sanitation, sound management and good feeding.

HOW DO YOU RATE AS A CITIZEN ?

Someone has said that our town is like a man wearing a silk hat and an old suit of clothes. We have here the foundation for one of the most beautiful towns in Eastern Ontario. Our Nation River, our beautiful homes and churches, our industrial plant, our attractive stores and business places can challenge the proverbial silk hat at any time, but the old suit of clothes needs a terrific amount of cleaning.

Are you interested enough in your town to want to improve it? If so, give your support to the Horticultural Society. Use the membership certificate to be found elsewhere in this issue. We need interested members! We need active members! How do you rate as a citizen?

A meeting of the Society's members will be held in the Library on Friday, April 8th at 8.00 p.m.

FLOWERS FROM FASHION SHOW DONATED TO HOSPITAL

After last Wednesday's Fashion Show there were some daffodils, snapdragon and iris left. The W.I. President, Mrs. F Shaver, decided to have them sent to Winchester Hospital.

Accordingly, Doctor Justus kindly took them to Miss Marquis, who was asked to place some in the Women's Institute Ward, and the rest to be distributed at her discretion.

In the nominations from the floor of the meeting several names were proposed, among them being Hume Grisdale, Charles Marselis, Mrs. Frank Casselman who is president of the Eastern Ontario Women's Liberal Association, C. Allison Graham, Ed. Cornell and J. Frank Casselman. All other nominees except Mr. Cornell and Mr. Casselman withdrew their nominations and on the ballot Mr. Casselman got the majority.

Introduced by C. Allison Graham, the Honorable James G. Gardiner addressed the meeting, along with other speakers.

New Theatre Seats Promise Extra Comfort

In line with his policy of having only the best in entertainment and comfort in the Communiy Theatre, John Maxwell has shown the Record pictures of the new seats he is installing in the theatre as soon as he can get delivery. They are deeply upholstered push-back seats of the type found in the new Elgin Theatre in Ottawa. When a person wishes to pass down a row in front of seated people, the seated person need only to sit up straight and the seat slides out of the way of the passing person. John will install something over 200 of the new seats to replace the old style models now in the theatre.

This new installation will make the Community Theatre one of the best small theatres in the country regardless of age. In the past year Mr. Maxwell has spent and is spending something in the neighbourhood of $10,000 to bring his equipment in line with the best. The municipal council last year made some improvements by insulating the ceiling against noise from the Auditorium.

MANY CRIPPLED CHILDREN REMAIN UNDISCOVERED UNTIL TOO LATE

"The average crippled child in Ontario is doomed to inadequate care unless outside centres come to their aid. It takes more than an average income to provide care and comfort for a crippled child. And in many cases, even with a fair income parents cannot bear the extra expense."

"It is quite possible, within a few short years for a family to spend in excess of $5,000.00 on a child crippled with polio. This is more than a working man pays off as payment on a purchased home." This statement issued by the Easter Seal Campaign Committee of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children emphasizes fur-their statement that the aid and work arranged by them through almost 200 Ontario Service Clubs is not charity, but a must to alleviate crippling conditions.

Organized by Service Club members from all over Ontario, the Society is selling some 85 million Easter Seals in Ontario to help raise funds for such work. Travelling orthopaedic clinics, special transportation to treatment, surveys to discover afflicted children, supplying of appliances, special constructed and operated camps, orthopaedic nursing and physiotherapists and other aids are supported by Easter Seal Funds.

The Society records show that over 3,000 children received clinical attention through this organizational set-up last year. Not all the cases are charity. But unless these clinics were available many children would never have received this individualized and highly competent diagnosis and treatment of their afflictions. In all, over 50,000 children have received aid since the Society was first formed by the Clubs in 1922.

It is estimated that through these agencies medical men have supplied over six million dollars worth of services without fee As the years go by the work increases; children who may have never received aid are discovered through organized surveys. These services are operated through such Clubs as Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Kinsmen and others. Value of this work is proven when statistics show that certain types of crippling conditions such as rickets and tubercular bones have declined. The main concern is the discovery of crippled children who may not be known to authorities.

Hardly any case is beyond hope, and through the publicity created by the use af seals and the money they raise it is hoped to contact more crippled children who need attention.

If you know of a crippled child in your area, kindly contact your local Service Club or advise the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, who ask you to buy and use Easter Seals to aid this worthy cause for Ontario's crippled children during this Easter season.

SEED SAMPLING FOR LABORATORY TESTS

In order to sell seed for seeding purposes in Canada it is necessary to have a sample of the seed tested at a Canadian Government seed laboratory. So that the test and grade received from the seed laboratory may represent as truly as possible the lot of seed for sale, it is necessary that the sample sent to the laboratory by the farmer is representative of the total bulk of seed on the farm. Each sample of seed for testing and grading under the Seeds Act and Regulations, says G. A. Elliott of the Laboratory Services, should be taken in such a manner that the sample will truly represent the lot of seed sampled.

There are a number of points which should be considered when sampling any lot of seed. Probably the best way is to use an approved seed sampler. If one of these is not obtainable, then the lot of seed may be sampled by hand or otherwise to ensure that the sample is representative of the lot of seed. When there are ten bags or less, each bag should be sampled. When the number of bags is between ten and one hundred, then at least ten bags should be sampled.

If the lot of seed is in bulk it should be sampled in seven different widely distributed places. Care should be taken to see that seed at the bottom as well as at the top is sampled.

When the seed taken from different parts of one or more containers appears to be of the same general quality, the samples may be mixed into a composite sample. But if the seed appears to be of variable quality separate samples should be taken representing such variations in quality.

WILL MAKE REFORESTATION MORE POPULAR

In order to give the fullest on-the-spot publicity to their newly established Counties' Forestry projects, and to stimulate an ever-increasing interest in reforestation in the United Counties, members of the Counties' Forestry Committee are joining with other public spirited organizations in sponsoring two Forestry Field Days in the Counties of Dundas and Stormont early in May of this year.

On March 25th a meeting of the Forestry Committee was held in the Committee Room at the County Building, Cornwall. Also present were several members of the Cornwall Junior Chamber of Commerce, headed by Forestry Chairman A. L. Pomeroy, Counties' Forestry Chairman Lloyd C. Davis of Iroquois, and Mr. J. A. Halpenny, of the District Foresters' Staff at Kemptville, outlined the objective of the proposed Field Days and suggested the procedure to be followed. The Jay Cees' representatives expressed an enthusiastic desire to actively participate and assist any and all other Counties' organizations in making the events a success.

Secretary P. S. Boyd was requested to notify the various Junior Farmers' organizations in each of the two Counties, as well as the Agricultural Societies, Federations of Agriculture, Public School Inspectors, Agricultural Representatives and Boards of Trade, etc., all of whom are being invited to share in the sponsoring of the Field Days. A meeting of representatives of all these organizations will be held in the Counties' Building on Wednesday afternoon, April 6th, at which further detailed plans will be evolved.

Thus far in their reforestation activities Counties' Council have purchased two properties on which the work will be carried out, under direction and with the approval of the Provincial Department of Lands and Forests. One of these is located in Winchester Township and the other in Finch Township. Efforts are being made to secure an equally desirable property in Glengarry County, at which time all three counties will then be in a position more fully to develop their reforestation plans.

GRADE DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION . .

While speaking at the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeding Association Annual Meeting, Mr. W. P. Watson, Live Stock Commissioner of the Ontario Livestock Branch, stated that the Grade Holstein had been neglected too long. The Ontario Department has now made it possible to form Dairy Herd Improvement Associations in each County. The Department will furnish a technician to a group of 25 farmers who are anxious to improve their herds. The farmer agrees to weigh each cow's milk, under the technician's inspection, one day each month. Further details can be obtained from H. W. Graham, Agricultural Representative. If a sufficient number of farmers are interested we will be able to form such an organization in Dundas. We know of two farmers who sent their names in to the Morrisburg office during the first week in March. If this Association hasn't been formed before this article is read, and if you are interested, send your name to Mr. Graham at once.

Church News

MOREWOOD UNITED CHURCH

The services at Morewood United Church were conducted on Sunday by the minister, Rev. W. J. Copsey, B.A., "Sin and Redemption" was the theme of the morning sermon. The text Romans 3;23-24, "All have sinned and come short of the Glory of God. Being justified freely by His grace through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus." Sin is man's refusal to trust God and to do His will, and his following the evil devices and desires of his own heart. It is more than the breaking of a commandment. It is a turning of the back upon God. Man is a free agent; he is gifted with the power of personal choice. He can accept or reject God. This power man often uses to reject the overtures of Divine mercy and this rejection is sin. Such refusal to trust God brings upon men the Divine displeasure and condemnation, breaks their fellowship with one another, corrupts their nature and involves the world in moral confusion and distress. Sin is against God. The Psalmist says, "Against Thee, Thee only have I sinned and done this evil in thy sight that Thou mightest be justified when Thou speakest and be clear when Thou Judgest" Ps. 51;4. There is a great physician and there is a remedy for a soul diseased provided by the Eternal Father. God sent His Son Jesus Christ into the world to save us. The Son took our sin upon Him and bore it on the Cross, and God set His seal on Christ's work by raising Him from the dead and exalting Him as Lord of all Thus we are shown by the Cross of Christ how sinful and helpless we are how able and willing God is to forgive and so moves us to turn from sin and commit ourselves to Christ in the fellowship of His Church.

CALL FOR TENDERS ON SPENCERVILLE DAM BRINGS MANY INQUIRIES

To ensure against further flood damage to land bordering the South Nation River, the South Nation River Conservation Authority has called for tenders for the construction of a control dam at Spencerville.

While there are still more than two weeks before tenders close there have already been 14 firms requesting specifications.

This was taken as indicative of the great amount of interest being taken in the scheme, Alexander Roger, secretary of the authority, said.

The Spencerville project is one of three control dams along the river planned by the authority.

IN MEMORIAM

DURANT—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Minnie E. Durant, who passed away March 3, 1946.

A dearer mother never lived
Nor one more fine and true;
Nor was a mother ever loved
More truly dear, than you.
And we who loved you, sadly miss you
As it dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of you are ever near.

Pheasants' Utopia

By J. S. Dorland

Much has been spoken, written and photographed in favour of conservation of our Wildlife. So well have the teachings of conservation been carried out throughout the Province, that in many spots, where some years ago the poacher reigned supreme, today he has practically disappeared. It is one of these spots I wish to tell you about.

Some forty odd miles north of Toronto, in the county of Simcoe, is the small town of Beeton. Folks living here are the same ordinary people you find in most any small municipality Honest, hard-working, God-fearing folks. At one time, in the fields and woods around this town, game was abundant. Many herds of deer roamed the fields, and the thickets and marshes were filled with grouse and pheasants. As civilization advanced, the game birds and animals were gradually killed off or forced to retreat further north. The pheasant especially became nearly extinct. Last year, Mr. Howard Galbraith, C.N.R. agent at Beeton, who takes considerable interest in conservation, found time from his duties to raise twenty-five English Ring-Necked Pheasants. Mr. Galbraith took charge of the birds in early September when they were about twenty weeks old, keeping them in an old chicken cage at the rear of the station. After feeding the birds a few days he gradually released them, figuring that shortly they would disperse to the near-by fields and thickets and the last would be seen of them. However, the pheasants had other ideas. Knowing they had a friend in Mr. Galbraith, they decided to winter around the station. Here Mr. Galbraith fed and watered the birds throughout the heavy snows. The pheasants would wander to the near-by thickets, the town park, the grain elevator and people's back yards Usually they congregate to meet the incoming and return by nightfall and roost would in the evergreens bordering the tion. In the mornings they would outgoing trains. They seemed to take great enjoyment out of riding on top of the cars while they shunted about in front of the station. As many as ten have been seen swiping free rides on the C.N.R. at one time. The birds became great pets and were continually being fed corn and grain by the trainmen and the local people. Their protection from the hunter was assured by the entire community.

This spring, they gradually wandered farther afield, leaving only one beautiful cock bird, who can be seen to-day strutting and crowing around the station grounds, having only the agent's little dog, whom he puts in his place occasionally, as his playmate.

Although his birds have left, Mr. Galbraith claims he has followed their trails and can account for twenty, that have taken up residence around Beeton. With this type of conservation and sportsmanship, Mr. Galbraith and the people of Beeton are to be congratulated. We who work for conservation certainly appreciate this type of co-operation and hope that other municipalities will follow in their steps.

Tells of Night Spent In Shack of Murdered Man

BROCKVILLE, March 28—Preliminary hearing opened here of a murder charge against 17-year-old Leo Parent, of Cornwall, Ont., arising from the death of Michael Skelton from wounds suffered in a beating February 26.

Skelton died five hours after he had staggered, his head battered and bleeding, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dean. He allegedly then told a story of having been beaten and locked in his shack on the outskirts of town.

Thomas Dixon of Cornwall, testified that he, Parent and Nicholas Terriah of nearby Elizabethtown township had spent the night of February 25 in Skelton's shack where the 72-year-old man lived alone.

Dixon said Skelton told them: "The boy can sleep with me. You two can sleep on the floor." It looked funny to me.

Terriah, Dixon's cousin, said he had known Skelton about 15 years ago. Both Dixon and Terriah were detained as material witnesses after Skelton's death. Later they were charged with vagrancy.

Terriah said there had been no drinking in the shack. He and Dixon had gone there for supper Friday night. When Parent arrived later, Skelton answered his knock with: "Come in, hobo", Terriah said.

Dixon and Terriah said they left Skelton's shack at 8.45 a.m.

Mrs. Dean said that Skelton arrived at her home about 11.45 a.m. with an ax in his left hand, blood streaming down his face. He wore overalls and an undershirt "saturated with blood", she said, adding, "Mike did not name his attacker."

William Dean described Skelton as the type of person who "lied" so much "you couldn't take stock of anything he said". Skelton, the witness said, sat in the kitchen by the stove, blood streaming down his arms and dripping to the floor.

Under cross-examination, Dean said he had not been fond of Skelton. "Several times I kicked him out and told him not to come back," he said.

Chief Const. Wilmot F. Young testified that Dixon and Terriah had picked out Parent from a police line-up as the youth who had spent the night with them in Skelton's shack.

The hearing is continuing.

HATCH YOUR CHICKS EARLY FOR PROFIT

Progressive poultrymen favour the brooding of early hatched chicks for sound economic reasons. Chief among these is the obvious fact that early hatched pullets will be the late summer and fall producers of market eggs which to the commercial egg producer means more profit since this is the period of low supply and higher prices. The same reasoning applies to the rearing of early cockerels which can be marketed while the demand is keen and prices high, says H. J. West, Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alta.

Such a plan is also economical in the use of labour since it comes during the somewhat slack period before spring work and gardening claim attention. As a result, better care is taken of these chicks than would be the case for those hatched later in the season. Coupled with this is the general observation that more efficient and effective operation of brooder stoves is possible during cold weather, particularly if the brooder house is well insulated.

Brooder equipment may be more economically used if two groups of chicks, one in February and one in May, are reared. Many of those who rear early hatched pullets follow the practice of purchasing turkey poults or cockerels in May when the early chicks are on range. This considerably extends the length of time the brooder equipment is in use and thus minimizes the cost per bird for this portion of the overhead expenses.

Heavy losses from coccidiosis are less likely to occur in early hatched chicks since cold weather has an inhibiting effect on the development of coccidia oocysts.

Rearing chicks in cold weather calls for a higher degree of efficiency than would the rearing of late chicks. The extra expense is justified and soon returned in the form of greater net profits. However, proper use and care of equipment must be taken if the best results are to be expected. The chief abuse in this respect is over-crowding of the brooder house. A building 10 feet by 12 feet should not be expected to accommodate more than 240 chicks up to 8 weeks of age and half this number for the full growing period.

Speaking of Love Messages

It seems that an Indian in New Mexico was smoke signalling love messages to his Indjun Sweetie Pie a few miles away. Right in the middle of it, the atom bomb test went off, covering the sky with smoke for miles.

"Gosh," cried the Indian enviously. "I wish I'd said that!"

A NEW USE FOR PEAT

The vast peat bogs of Scotland may soon become a great new reservoir of power for industry and transport. Research now indicates that peat may prove an ideal fuel for gas turbines engines. This discovery also brings other important developments in its train. The removal of large quantities of peat for fuel may enable wide stretches of hitherto unproductive ground to be transformed into good farming land.

Saying It In Verse

Come to think of it, this might be as good a time as any to work in a little Spring poem, (cribbed from the Home Book of Quotations), to round out a message we feel altogether too languorous to complete:

Gentle Spring, in sunshine clad,
Well dost thou thy power display.
For Winter maketh the light heart sad.
And thou dost make the sad heart gay

Unique Churches of New York

By
AMELIA McMILLAN LAMBKIN

During the next several weeks we hope to publish discriptions of a number of New York Churches written for her friends by Mrs. Amelia McMillan Lambkin. They will appear each week as space permits.

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST

In the old Connecticut City of New Haven, known the wide world around because of its famous Yale University, which has turned out so many fine scholars, there stands a church visited by thousands of tourists each year. This is "The First Church of Christ" commonly called "Center Church". It's great attraction is a most unique one, in that it is built directly over a cemetery. In the construction, not a grave was disturbed, nor a monument moved.

When with the years, the city grew up around them and their congregation grew, they found they must enlarge their church. Property now was expensive, so since the cemetery covered a large area, they decided to build over it. This would solve their problem. It was done in a masterly manner. The steel girders supporting the church were placed here and there where they would not interfere with the monuments and when completed, it stood a strong and beautiful edifice, while in its basement rested those who had worshipped there centuries before. Truly they could not have asked for a more peaceful sanctuary in which to rest. As you go down the steps your attention is arrested by a placard bearing an inscription in old English lettering which reads:

"Speak softly, tread gently,
You are in the presence of the dead".

At the foot of the stair and just before you enter the cemetery there is a table where a large book awaits your signature and another placard invites you to sign your name. If you scan its pages you will find the names of peoples from all lands who have visited here.

I am indebted to the present pastor of the church, The Rev. David Nelson Beach, for the following detailed and accurate account of this very historical and interesting place.

"The First Church of Christ here in New Haven (commonly called Center Church) was coeval with the founding of New Haven. The first religious service held here by the colonists was a joint one with the Colony of Milford, near by, on what we now call Sunday, April 25, 1638.

Both churches were formerly organized in 1639.

For a century this was the only church in New Haven. Following the Saybrook Platform of 1708, churches of the Established Order were organized into "Consociations", which were in fact presbyteries by another name.

Dr. Leonard Bacon who had a distinguished pastorate of more than 50 years beginning in 1820, was a representative of the Consociation in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. It is my understanding that the "Old Light" forced the withdrawal of New England's representative to the Assembly.

The present meeting house, the one which was built over the cemetery on the New Haven Green, was dedicated on December 27th, 1814. It is the fourth meetinghouse. Captain Isaac Damon of Northampton and Itchiel Town of New Haven were responsible for the edifice.

No bodies were disinterred from the Community Burying Ground here. The other headstones were taken to the new Grove Street Cemetery and are on display there against the outside wall of that cemetery.

During the history of the Church, there have been fourteen ministers. I began my pastorate in 1943. You were three Beach brothers in the first may be interested to know that there generation of the Colony, probably at least as early as 1640; and that I am a descendant from one of those brothers. My family, however, moved to New Jersey about 1680, so that no kin of mine in direct succession were in the Church for a period of 200 or 250 years".

"SALADA" TEA

THE LIMITED

By Covington Ami Hall

I heard afar a whistle's wail,
A humming murmur down the rail;
And then I saw a spear of light
Piercing thru the shrouding night;
And then—a rush, a hurtling roar,
And silence swamped the Earth once more.
The Limited had come and gone,
Arrow-like into the dawn.

The lonely station on the plain
Seemed lonelier than e'er again.
The key ticked on; the fog closed in,
And yet the air felt cold and thin;
Between us and the world outside,
The distance seemed more void and wide.
The Limited had come and gone,
Arrow-like into the dawn.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Food stored in the freezing locker gives one a great feeling of security. About this time of year you have probably used most of your frozen fruits and vegetables and consequently find yourself paying for empty space. Since meat is a good buy at this season, it would be wise to buy a quarter of beef, a rack of lamb or a side of pork for your locker space. The meat should be cut by experienced meat cutters at the locker plant or the operator could direct you to one Boning meat has become popular during the last few years because less storage space is required and the danger of bones puncturing the wrapping is eliminated.

The quality of frozen meat is determined by the selection of wrapping for meat and the method of wrapping. It is not wise to attempt to economize on wrapping paper. Regular butcher paper, ordinary waxed paper or grocery store type paper bags will not do a satisfactory job as meat will dry out and "freezer-burn" results. We suggest that you wrap meat in heavy cellophane, seal it; then wrap with aluminum foil or heavy oil butcher paper and seal it with strong sized tape. Tape should be strong to resist handling and moisture, also capable of receiving china pencil marks for labeling—and inexpensive. Acetate locker tape is the best, if available.

One piece of laminated paper or a piece of aluminum foil placed between chops, steaks or patties to be wrapped together, will permit separation when ready to use without thawing the entire package.

In general, each bundle should contain only enough for one meal, but if the portions are separated as described, one or more chops can be removed and the package resealed and placed back in the freezer.

Ground meat must be cokked immediately after thawing. Thawed meat should never be refrozen, therefore ground meat for meat loaf should be packaged in the right amount needed for the recipe if waste is to be avoided. Be sure to label the package according to the recipe for which meat was prepared; for example: Favourite stew, Mary's meat loaf, Joe's hamburgs, etc.

TAKE A TIP

1. The paper must be pulled tightly around the meat and smoothed to drive out all possible air and eliminate air pockets. The package should be smooth and firmly packed to conserve storage space.
2. Do not twist or fold ends of tape. String is not adequate for packaging unless waxed.
3. Place the meat in a large basket and store in a cool place until it is transported to locker plant. Be sure packages are taken to freezer within 24 hours.
4. Poultry is one of the best frozen foods if it is prepared ready for the roast pan—with or without dressing. If they are stuffed, the dressing should be lightly seasoned with herbs. Freezing seems to create a stronger flavor of the herbs.
5. Fish which has been cleaned and washed in salty water may be left whole or in fillets. These, too, must be wrapped securely
6. Eggs, especially fresh ones, are convenient to store if broken into small glass jars, sealed and frozen. In fact we have quite a number of cracked ones from the farm and find it useful to store a small jar of ten egg whites in one container - the yolks in another. These are then taken out for custards or an angel cake.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. B. T. asks:
If we buy a half or a side of pig, how much would we get and what pieces could be put in the freezer?
Answer:
An average side of hog will weigh 70 lbs. dressed. If you take it to a locker plant where there is a butcher, the following may be obtained:

From the head (8 lbs.) you can make 5 or 6 lbs. headcheese. From shoulder (17 lbs.) you may ask for two (5 lb. roasts) and or 10 chops. From loin (15 lbs.) two (4 lb. end roasts) and 20 to 25 loin chops. From the side (12 lbs.) you will have 2 strips of spare ribs and 10 lbs. of bacon which cut about 20 slices per lb. on machine. From the ham (15 lbs.) you may request 2 roasts, fresh cured or smoke cured. From the hocks and tail you will have servings for four. From the trimmings (12 to 14 lbs.) you may render out 7 or 8 lbs. lard. Pieces from shoulder, loin, side and hams could be put into locker, also prepared headcheese and parboiled hocks.

Teen Town News

March 24th meeting of Teen Town saw a small attendance as members were studying for exams. A boys' ping-pong tournament won by Tommy Moran. Supervisors were Mrs. G. Merkley Helen Smith, Mr. Potvin and Mr. P. J. Gilroy.

Last night's meeting with an average attendance was supervised by Mrs. R Ouderkirk, Mrs. G. Merkley and Helen Smith.

Much inconvenience is caused by removal from the hall of supports of ping-pong tables.

The young people are grateful to Dave Johnson, who is always willing to fetch and carry.

A business meeting will preceed the regular Teen Town meeting next week, April 6th. It is hoped there wil' be a full attendance of Teen Town members and all interested persons.
