Retirement from post office honored

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - It was in the summer of 1935 that Jean Loughridge of Chesterville began to work for the village post office. She was still going to high school and took the job for the summer.

This past December Jean ended her 26 year attachment to the post office with retirement on her 65th birthday. In recognition of her work she was honored with a retirement dinner by her co-workers, and several presentations were given to her by the post office and the government of Canada.

In recognition of her 25 years of service in the public service she was presented with a plaque signed by both the Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, and Michael Warren, president of Canada Post. The plaque was accompanied by a 25 year pin.

Also from the post office she received a souvenir collection of stamps issued by the Canadian Post Office in 1982.

On the occasion of her retirement Jean received a framed certificate, again signed by Mr. Trudeau, thanking her on behalf of the government and the people of Canada for 26 years of loyal service.

The director of Eastern District, Ontario Postal region, Pierre Paulin, also sent a letter of personal thanks, along with the framed certificate.

It was in 1937 that Jean began to work for the post office on a regular basis. At that time she was under the employ of the post master, Wesley Fulton. He was post master until December 1950.

She worked full-time until 1947 when her daughter Sandra was born.

While her children were young she was still available to the post office on an "on call" basis. She recalls fondly, even taking her daughter with her to work.

In 1957 Jean was appointed part-time assistant. She's held that position until her birthday this past December 15. She quit working for the post working for the post office, now Canada Post, on her birthday.

She says, with a smile, that she knows most of the people in the community and there are only a few new ones that she must think of before she can place a name to them.

During the retirement party held at Louis' Restuarant on her birthday Chesterville post master Stuart Allen presented her with the honors on behalf of Canada Post.

Get green light from alert-If you drink, don't drive

(Staff) - Holiday merrymakers-be alert to the hazards of drinking and driving ; the Ontario Provincial Police are.

A portable breathalyzer known as an Alert device has been on the Chesterville-Winchester roads during the Christmas season and will be again during New Year celebrations.

Constable Howard Smith said yesterday the Winchester detachment will be co-operating with the police force's policy in their efforts to keep drinking drivers off the roads.

The Alert device which measures approximately three inches by six inches by one and a half inches is a hand-held machine with three lights similiar to a traffic signal light, described Constable Smith. The driver blows into it when the green light is on and continues until it goes out.

If the green light returns, the driver is free to go. If the amber light is on, the driver surrenders his licence for 12 hours and someone else (sober) in the car may drive. If the driver is alone, someone is called to pick him or her up. If the red light is lit, the driver is taken to the detachment for a full breathalyzer test, he added.

During the Christmas week the Alert was used in Chesterville, Winchester and South Mountain, he recalled and only three or four suspensions were issued along with a few warnings but no charges were laid. Drivers are aware of stepped up police efforts to rid the roads of drinking drivers and are acting accordingly, he speculated.

Tight money has helped in the campaign, he said. Food and gasoline have taken precedence over evenings out for most families, said the constable.

Last New Year's was very quiet, he said.

The temporary suspension law, under which the OPP operate the Alert machine and lift licenses for 12 hours, was enacted last year and has proved to be one of the most effective instruments the police have in conbating the drinking-driving problem according to Ontario Solicitor General George Taylor.

Mr. Taylor said the ministry and the OPP were co-operating with the PRIDE organization in getting their message to the public of the tragedies caused by drinking and driving. (PRIDE-People to Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere).

PRIDE is a volunteer organization dedicated to promoting public education about the damage impaired and drunk drivers do. Many of its members have lost relatives through accidents involving drinking drivers.

Cassette tapes with messages from PRIDE members have been distributed to radio stations in Ontario by community service officers.

Barn, 60 head destroyed in fire

MOREWOOD (Staff) - An early morning Boxing Day fire killed 60 head of cattle and destroyed the barn in which they were housed at the farm of Leo Paul Bourgeois west of here.

Roy Nurse, deputy-chief of the Winchester Township Fire Department, Morewood Branch, said the fire department received a call from the Bourgeois' at 6:14am Sunday morning.

The family had received a telephone call from someone informing them their barn was ablaze, said Mr. Nurse.

When the Morewood Fire Fighters reached the farm, located about two miles west of the hamlet of Morewood, three-quarters of the loft was engulfed in flames.

Because the building was covered with tin the fire was kept inside the structure, although flames were coming from the milk house and other areas.

The fire fighters were unable to save the cattle as one door was in flames and another was barred from the inside. They attempted to break down the barred door but the building was beginning to collapse from the inside and posed too great a danger to human life, said Mr. Nurse.

The 12 fire fighters stayed at the scene about 12 hours, or 100 man hours.

The wind was blowing from the west, said the deputy-chief keeping the fire away from the farm house (located north west of the barn).

Total cost of the fire was estimated at $150,000.

All the fire fighters could do was contain the fire, said Mr. Nurse. The fire had spread very quickly, eating away the dry hay in the loft.

Mr. Bourgeois did manage to open the milk house door and rescue one heifer.

The fire fighters left the scene at about 3pm.

Louis' Restaurant vandalized Monday

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Although the Village of Chesterville seemed quiet on Monday (Dec. 27) with most businesses closed, there was someone hard at work in Louis Restaurant between 3 and 8:30pm.

For the second time this year the restaurant, situated on one of the village's main intersections, was robbed.

Winchester OPP Constable Garry Imbeau, who is investigating the break, enter and theft, said the building was broken into while the owners, were away. The restaurant was closed, as usual, for the day.

When Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pavlounis and their two children returned home they found the restaurant had been entered, as had their apartment, located over top of the business.

The back door downstairs was broken into to gain entry to the restaurant and a 300 lb. safe was slid out of the building and carted away, said the police officer.

Two windows upstairs were smashed, one completely to gain entry to the apartment. The home was ransacked with just a small amount of cash taken.

The safe contained a small amount of money, and personal papers such as passports, he said.

Constable Imbeau said there were no suspects yet but finger prints were being taken to help find a lead.

He noted that there has been several safe jobs done in the Long Sault area in the last little while.

Charged with fraud

WINCHESTER (Staff) - Judith Kathleen Rodgers of Winchester Springs has been charged with fraud and will appear in Alexandria court January 6, 1983. Charges have also been laid by the Ottawa Police and OPP Lancaster.

Newsbriefs

Kraft to pay

(Staff) - Osnabruck Township council voted recently to hike Kraft Limited's garbage collection fees from $25 per trip to $35 and weekend collection from $40 to $50 to cover costs of fuel and wages. The increase means revenues of $9,100, a profit of $666 which can be used toward the replacement of an old truck used for collection.

Think snow!

(Staff) - Osnabruck Township council announced the dates for winter carnival recently. The festivities will take place January 26 to 30, 1983.

Rocky road

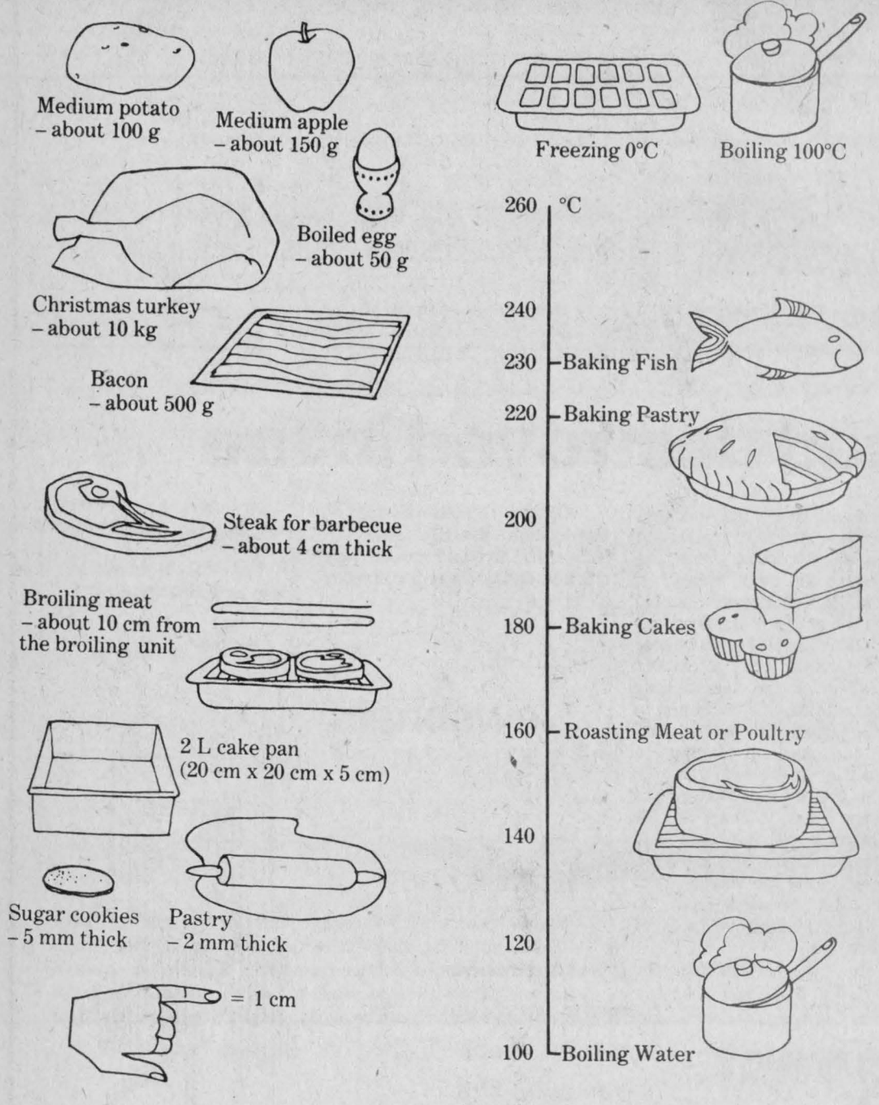
(Staff) - The Osnabruck Township roads spending will exceed the budget by approximately $40,000 this year, clerk-treasurer Tom Melesky told council last week. He noted the program is usually underbudgeted and consequently overspent. Also in the roads department finances, council declined to sell raw material from its quarries. Aside from the fact such sales would not be cost effective, the township may require stone in the future, said Mr. Melesky.

Farm management

(Staff) - A five-session (30 hour) short course on farm management is being offered by the Winchester office of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, January 12, 19, 26 and February 2 and 9. The course will deal with improving financial farm skills, having each participant understand the financial strengths and weaknesses of his business, to develop farm financial planning and to consider the implication of credit use. Application can be made to R. Humphries, at OMAF, 774-2313.

SNRCA commended

The South Nation River Conservation Authority was presented with an award recently for participating in the provincial Agreement Forest Program. Barry Warwick, left, the forest management superintendent of the Cornwall District for the Ministry of Natural Resources presents the award to the authority chairman Ernie Brisson. The award celebrates the 60th anniversary of the Agreement Forest Program. The authority joined the program in the late 1940s.



Metric measures for the kitchen are thoroughly covered in an Agriculture Canada publication Kitchen metrics. Among the graphics included are, clockwise from right, temperatures, length and mass. According to advice in the pamphlet, a dual set of measures is required, one for the old tried and true recipes in the cupboard and another for the metric recipes.

A tale of Dundas' mid-winter metrifiction

(Staff) - Dundas County is one of the last in the Ottawa District to be metrifacted...er metrified , or perhaps that's metrificated. At any rate, no one knows the exact date for the changeover any more than the verb for the action.

Chesterville food retailers make the switch sometime in the New Year. Zone OT4, the United Counties of Prescott and Russell, and of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, were originally slated to make the change December 1982 to January 1983 but none of three Chesterville grocers have been advised of an exact date.

According to Canada Metric literature, conversion in Canada will be complete by December 31, 1983 at which time dual advertising must end. There have been indications, however, that the government's schedule is running behind.

This metric miasma is evident in Chesterville where two out of three of the grocers have expressed a clear aversion to the little grams and the larger cousins, the kilograms.

Posters gaily hang from the Fulton Brothers meat department ceiling depicting 200g salmon steaks, 500g roasts and 100g 'grabbers' (hamburger) but Shirley Fulton of Fulton Brother's Ltd. has expressed an aversion to the system.

She said she is hoping the controversy has put off issuance of the final word as far as metrifying goes. (There is no verb for a changeover to metric in the dictionary, so perhaps any one will do.)

Mrs. Fulton said the posters are there for the convenience of the store's customers who should be made aware of the imminent metrifiction but she personally did not look forward to the change.

Too, she said, for the customers convenience, staff would always have to think in imperial measures to do conversions for those who might never catch on.

Earl and Audrey Cross of Earl's Meat's agree some shoppers may never catch onto the new system. "All our lives", said Mr. Cross, "we went to school in the old system, how can they expect us to change." Angry and upset, he asked his wife to contact the government to have someone visit their store with complete instructions on how to advertise in the new system.

Mrs. Cross noted her employees can be as honest as they want to, but will a consumer with no knowledge of metric realize that? Will the consumer have any idea whether the weight is true or the price fair?

A letter to Andre Ouellet protesting the institution of the metric system is posted in the store and opponents are invited to sign their names to it.

Mike Dean, however, proved the village's only bastion of support for the system. The owner of Mike Dean's Supermarket called it "Basically a good system" and said the problem entered in when the government didn't just get the change over with.

"Go all or nothing" he advised.

With all measures divided into tenths, he predicted the metric system would be much easier in the end and by forcing the weight of commodity in metric units has forced up to date equipment on retailers who might not otherwise keep up with the times.

He didn't think the system would cause any particular problems to his business since his scales will convert easily, with the flick of a switch and any other problems he would encounter would also be encountered by all other retailers, making, as he said, "all things equal".

In metric, of course, not Imperial.

Metri-cooking

Included in Agriculture Canada's Kitchen Metrics is a recipe for Lemon Loaf. For all the metri-philes out there, just longing to try out their new measuring sets, here it is.

LEMON LOAF

500 ml sifted all purpose flour
20 ml baking powder
3 ml salt
250 ml sugar
75 ml butter, melted
2 beaten eggs
250 ml milk
25 ml finely grated lemon rind
1 ml almond extract

GLAZE

25 ml sugar
25 ml lemon juice

Sift together dry ingredients. Combine butter, eggs, milk, lemon rind and extract. Add to dry ingredients, mixing just enough to moisten. Turn into a greased 2 L loaf pan. Bake at 1800 until skewer comes out clean (about one hour). Top with lemon glaze if desired.

Combine sugar and lemon juice and mix until sugar is almost dissolved. When loaf is almost cool, pour mixture over top.

Libraries receive $25,000

CORNWALL (Special) - Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Library has received a very welcome Christmas present in the form of a $25,000 cheque from Bruce McCaffrey, minister of Citizenship and Culture.

The grant originates with the Resources Enrichment Fund and is to be used for the purchase of special resources. In the case of the SD&G libraries, the money will be used mainly to strengthen the reference collections. Part of the grant will be applied to the purchase of large print books and French reading material.

This contribution to the resources of the county library comes at a very opportune moment, to alleviate some of the problems that have recently arisen. The system lost about $50,000 worth of books when arsonists set fire to the South Mountain Branch library. Service has been given since the fire from the basement of St. Daniel Church, where space was kindly made available free of charge, by the church officials.

Repairs to the South Mountain branch involved complete gutting of the building and replacing all insulation, interior finishing and electrical services. This work is now almost completed. It was carried out by James Alexander Building Services Limited of Mountain. Re-opening of the branch has been set for Tues., Jan. 4, during the regular hours from 7 till 9pm.

The Long Sault branch will be moved from the basement of Christ Church, where it has been located since its opening in 1972. The use of this branch has outgrown the available space and the board had been looking for a better location for some time, because of the steep, long set of concrete steps leading to the basement, which made access possible only for the able-bodied.

Thanks to the cooperation of Cornwall Township Council and a provincial grant obtained through the United Counties council, a modern new building has been erected, adjoining the fire hall. The new branch will have more than three times the floor area of the present location. It is on ground level and will be easily accessible to all users.

The finishing touches are now being put to this new library, which will be unofficially opened to the public on Monday night, Jan. 3, at 6:30pm. This building has been erected by Robert Bourgon Construction.

DON'T LET YOUR WEEKENDS - GO UP IN SMOKE!
Propane is a wonderfully convenient fuel for cottagers, campers and backyard barbecuers. It's clean, quick and efficient for cooking, refrigeration and lighting. But, like all flammable materials, propane must be used with care. Did you know, for instance, that:
- Propane barbecues should never be used in an enclosed area.
- Propane cylinders must be stored outdoors and checked for safety every 10 years.
- A propane cylinder should always be moved or stored in an upright position.
- Propane cylinders must be located outside recreational vehicles or in a compartment that is gas-tight to the vehicle interior and ventilated directly to the outdoors.
- It is strongly recommended that propane-fuelled refrigerators be cleaned and adjusted every year.

You'll find these safety facts and more in our free booklet. Mail the coupon today and get your copy. It's a great reference guide, and it will ensure that propane is always a helpmate rather than a hazard to you and your family.

Record Recipes

by Chris Brown

I know very well that out there are more than two or three people who are determined to do something about their weight as a New Year's Resolution.

Good intentions are there, but I wonder how many people hope to drop five to 10 lb. (notice I am not yet able to calculate the kilos we should lose!) in a week or two by a sudden change in eating habits.

As mentioned in a press release I received this week (one of several concerning diets and New Years!) beginning a diet usually means an end to that diet is in sight. That's a no-no.

A permanent change in eating patterns to include a sensible well-balanced and practical diet will be successful. For those of you who are just concerned with the two to three holiday lb. this isn't of concern; your eating habits are probably realistic if that's all you are overweight by.

The key is not in denying yourself all rich foods, just in being sensible about what and how much to eat. Cutting down quantities rather than denying foods offers a much better chance of staying with an eating plan. No doesn't mean never and yes doesn't mean always is a good watchword.

One way I maintain proper eating habits is to appetize foods I might not ordinarily eat. A tossed salad is the most drab, dreary item I can visualize if it is left bare or spritzed with vinegar.

Liven it up with a creamy garlic dressing or blue cheese and I dig right in. Although the dressing is somewhat high in calories I have filled up on salad rather than something potentially more harmful to the diet. As well, the greens are a nutritious part of the day's intake, as is this tasty and rich dressing.

BLUE CHEESE DRESSING

1 cup evaporated milk
½ cup salad oil
½ tsp. salt
¼ cup vinegar
½ cup crumbled blue cheese

Put all ingredients except the cheese into a blender or processor. If you have neither, put them into a high sided bowl and use the electric mixer or egg beater on high speed.

Add the crumbled blue cheese and beat to the desired consistency. I like small chunks throughout but those who are not fans of blue cheese can usually find the dressing palatable if it is well blended.

A word of welcome was extended by the evening's convenor Theresa van Kessel to guest ladies from Chesterville Anglican, Presbyterian and United Churches. Father Appelman opened the meeting with the League Prayer.

Minutes of the November meeting were read by Jean Ward and the treasurer's report was given by Evelyn Bedard.

Mrs. Eric Casselman thanked all the executives that had worked during 1982.

To open the worship service we were favoured by Mrs. Donald Cross. She played beautifully, O Holy Night with its variations. A carol, O Come all ye Faithful, followed this number. Mrs. Casselman then commented on the programme to be presented later. The worship service was shared by Mrs. Graham Smith and Mrs. Robert Bennett.

It was divided into four parts: "The Coming of Light", "The Coming of Joy", "The Coming of Freedom", and "The Coming of Peace". In each of these Mrs. Smith read the scripture and Mrs. Bennett read the meditation. Carols were sung after each part.

The offering was received by Mrs. Vera Smith and Mrs. Harold Merkley . A prayer by Mrs. Hilda Belcher, a carol and benediction by Rev. Ferguson closed the meeting.

WI auction

INGLESIDE (Special) -- Mrs. Clare (Mary) Nugent hosted the Christmas meeting of Ingleside Women's Institute (WI) and a supper was enjoyed by all members.

Many Christmas verses were read and Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Betty Hinds accompanying at the piano.

A monologue on a "Christmas Shopping Spree", was portrayed by Mrs. Muriel Dixon.

A prize for the member with a birthday nearest to Christmas was given by Mrs. Betty Hinds and a prize for the smallest shoe was won by Mrs. Violet Melrose.

An auction was conducted by Mrs. Kaye Flegg, dressed as Mrs. Santa Claus, and by Mrs. Mildred Rombough as one of Santa's elves. The proceeds were slated to support the adopted boy in Jamaica, with Mrs. Marion Green as correspondent.

The cheer boxes for our friends will be packed and delivered by members.

A request for recipes from each member, to be printed in a cookbook for Eastern Ontario Women's Institute, and an offer to own a cookbook at $5 a copy was explained and the recipes are to be gathered by January 15, 1983.

Osnabruck Township Winter Carnival will have Ingleside Women's Institute serving food and drinks at their variety night.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM
MacRAE — In loving memory of a dear grandfather Murdie MacRae who passed away Dec. 28, 1976.

I cannot bring the good times back,
Your hand I cannot touch.
But I still have sweet memories,
Of the one I loved so much.
What I would give to hold your hand,
Your happy face to see
To hear your voice and see your smile,
That meant so much to me.
What you suffered you told but few,
You didn't deserve what you went through
Tired and weary you made no fuss,
But tried so hard to stay with us.

They say that memories are golden,
And well, I guess that's true.
But I never wanted memories, Gramps,
I only wanted you.

1983 Chesterville carnival plans underway

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Plans for the 1983 Chesterville Winter Carnival are well underway even though the Christmas weather this year brings only thoughts of spring and summer to mind.

The carnival, with the 1983 theme of Klondike Days, will feature some new events, along with some tried and true favorites.

The Carnival Queen Contest, one of the highlights, has been changed a little this year. The contest will begin on the Thursday night of carnival, which runs Thurs., Feb. 10 to Sun., Feb. 13.

In previous years the contest began on Friday night, with the official opening.

Organizers this year say the public will have the opportunity to be introduced to the contest contestants on Thursday night at a local talent show. The show will feature any local person with talent willing to participate, and the carnival queen contestants will be asked to present a talent during the show.

The show will be held at the Community Hall as a social evening and refreshments will be served afterwards.

Anyone interested in participating in the talent show can contact Joyce McMahon at Al-Mor's Ladies Wear in Chesterville before January 15.

Girls between the ages of 16 and 19 interested in trying to become Carnival Queen are also asked to contact Mrs. McMahon before Feb. 3.

The winner of the Carnival Queen contest will be announced at the official opening of carnival on Friday night at the Chesterville arena.

There will be another announcement made during the opening ceremonies - Chesterville's 1983 Citizen of the Year. Last year the award was presented at the closing of carnival on the Sunday evening.

As last year anyone can nominate a person or group of people who had made an outstanding contribution to society, or has accomplishments worthy of note. Nominations for the Citizen of the Year, can be forwarded in care of The Chesterville Record, Box AS-368, Chesterville. The nomination should include the nominee's name or title, address and the reason(s) they are worthy of recognition. Nominations close Feb. 1, 1983.

Survival Techniques for Farm Women survives

(Staff) - Tireless farm women's organizer, bubbly, enthusiastic Dorothy Middleton thought maybe this year would be a good year to take a rest from the Survival Techniques for Farm Women course; even she gets in a rut.

The women who take the course had other ideas, she laughed. Then, girls, she said, you think up the topics.

They did; and the topics are super, she enthuses. It's so gratifying to have her philosophies coming back from these women who have grown through the survival courses.

Held on Wednesdays, the series begins January 12 with a morning devoted to what the new constitution will mean to women, presented by Jennifer Stoddart, director of research for the Canadian Advisory Council of Status of Women. Women's children's and property rights as well as education will be the focus of the morning session.

The afternoon will be in the care of Jean Riddell, an OMAF home economist will examine food additives and means of avoiding them.

January 19 a panel on marketing boards will be led by writer Tom Pollock who recently examined the topic in an issue of Harrowsmith. Jean Brissard of the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency, an unconfirmed speaker from the CBC and June Menzies of the National Farm Products Marketing Council will round out the panel. Ms. Menzies will play the devil's advocate, having been on both sides of the marketing fence, explained Mrs. Middleton. (Ms. Menzies is a former consumer advocate).

The afternoon session should prove the definitive answer to partnership, wills and rollover questions, predicted Mrs. Middleton. In the past, she explained, a lawyer or farm management specialist would speak at these days and when a question out of their area of expertise was asked, they would refer the enquirer to the other profession. By inviting both a lawyer and specialist to the seminar, said Mrs. Middleton, they will field all the questions on the spot.

(Speakers for the session are Cindy Martin-Hrycak, Finch lawyer and John MacDonald, farm management specialist.)

January 26 the program begins with a morning session led by Judy Davie, an Ontario Provincial Police constable and former farm girl, who will discuss theft, vandalism and trespassing in rural areas.

Susan Hamilton will lead a hands-on afternoon seminar which will deal with the growing, drying and use of herbs.

A full-day program February 2 will deal with diversified farming versus specialization in an economy regulated to a large extent by government. Dave Little, AgRep for Renfrew County will lead the discussion.

Behavioral problems and learning disabilities will be examined February 19 by a Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry board of education speaker. The focus will be on identifying these problems and help with the solution of the problems.

A natural second step for the afternoon session will feature a speaker from Kingston Penitentiary who will discuss why people end up in jail, said Mrs. Middleton.

Rather than argue with Farmers Week the February 16 session will piggyback the week, she said.

The programs for February 22 and March 2 will be divided into two groups of 20 women who will alternate a day class and cardio-pulmonary resuscitation course on the two days. The class day will see Dianne Harkin present an explanation of what the Advisory Council for the Status of Women is and what it does as well as introduce women's issues and lobbying. Two movies in the afternoon will be followed by a discussion period.

The course is limited to 40 participants by the CPR module, said Mrs. Middleton although the women are considering throwing certain sessions open to husbands as well. Marketing boards, diversification and specialization are topics that might be of particular interest she noted.

The course is given free of charge at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology as a part of the Manpower retraining program. It has proved so popular, said Mrs. Middleton, that enquiries have been received from groups as far away as Regina and Texas.

The media have not been accurate in their coverage of farmers and farming, Ontario Agriculture and Food Minister Dennis Timbrell said in September. The result has been some distorted images of the industry. Speaking to about 100 farmers at Tagwi Secondary School Mr. Timbrell said news reports have tended to create an image of an adversarial atmosphere between the farmer and the urban resident. Nation floods in Crysler

April

An April Fool's Day story in The Chesterville Record announced the imminent construction of a Volkswagen plant for which Winchester Township was a leading contender. Company spokesman Hermann Bugh was quoted as saying the site, west and south of Chesterville would enjoy an adequate water supply. The South Nation River was to be used for barging the finished Beetles to Montreal.

Residents of Crylser awoke April 1 to find the South Nation River on their doorsteps and in some cases, in their living rooms. Queen Street was submerged in water four to five feet deep in places. Two ice jams at the St. Albert bridge and near Highway 417 were blamed by Jim Windsor general manager of the South Nation River Conservation Authority. Classes from local schools came to see the site of flooding and two young people with a canoe were busy chauffering television cameramen from Ottawa stations. Floods and their havoc were not new to Crysler. A photograph from the collection of Ron MacIntyre, Finch portrayed the village during the 1907 flood.

Winchester District Memorial Hospital doctors staged a one-day walk-out and notified the public of their intention to go on strike if higher increases in doctor's fees were not made.

July

The Dundas Agricultural office celebrated two anniversaries in July of 1982. An open house was held in commemoration of the office's 20 years at the Main St., Winchester location (from 1907 to 1962 the office was located in Morrisburg) and the 75th anniversary of the Agricultural Extension Branch. Eleanor Reynolds of Chesterville was the valedictorian at the North Dundas District High School graduation ceremonies. Miss Reynolds, also co-gold medal winner and Ontario Scholar, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Reynolds.

Co-principal of Osnabruck High School in Ingleside, George Hickey, retired at the end of the school year in 1982. The 37-year veteran of the education system began his career at Aultsville Continuation School and ended it at Osnabruck High School.

Canadian Pacific (CP) workcrews were still cleaning up the debris from a train derailment which occured in South Mountain by July 14. The derailment, which occured Sat., July 10, blocked the Windsor to Toronto corridor after 250 ft. of track were ripped up by the train. Firemen from the South Mountain, Winchester and Kemptville fire departments fought the resulting fire. In total 26 cars derailed.

Chesterville Village council hired Water and Earth Science Ltd. to drill for new sources of drinking water in the village. At the time the firm was hired Chesterville had one well operating with a second well on standby. The first well had a severe iron bacteria problem, which required chlorination every few months. The second well had hydrogen sulphide and bacterial contamination problems.

The long weekend at the end of July provided lots of opportunity to visit and relive old memories as the first-ever Chesterville High School Reunion took place. The wildest expectations of the High School Reunion Committee were surpassed as hundreds travelled to Chesterville to renew old acquaintances. The organizing committee were able to relax on Sun., Aug. 1 as the event, which began on Fri., July 30 went off without a hitch.

August

In August 17-year-old Rachel Thurler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Thurler of RR1, South Mountain, was crowned the 1982-83 Dundas County Dairy Princess at the county's annual competition in Winchester. Five young women competed for the title including Rita Byvelds, Mary-Ann Koekoek, Jane Porteous and Sherry VanAllen.

After spending many hours last winter rebuilding an amphibious airplane local high school teacher Frank Brown was faced with more repairs, following an accident in the St. Lawrence River in early August.

Citing the economy as the main reason the owner of Carl-Don farm equipment confirmed the closing of the Chesterville Branch of the firm in August. The farm economy is down, noted Don Graham, making it more difficult to sell equipment. You can't blame farmers for not wanting the buy new equipment at today's prices with high interest rates, he said.

August was a big month for the Dingwall family of Berwick. Floyd and Muriel Dingwall's farm was the scene of a farmer's United Nations as more than 150 world travelling Jersey breeders gathered for lunch on a tour preceding the World Jersey Conference being held in Canada.

The Avonmore High School Reunion held the weekend of August 20th to 22nd in conjunction with the Avonmore Fair is now history but for the 540 or more who attended it was a time of precious memories that have been stored away for reflection in years to come. Former students came from Halifax, Victoria, Vancouver, Fredricton, Calgary, Toronto, Ottawa, Los Angeles and West Palm Beach.

Lise Ouellette of Berwick was crowned the 1982-83 Stormont County Dairy Princess at the competition held during the Avonmore Fair. Lise, the daughter of John and Mary Luykx of Berwick, was one of three contestants.

November

In November an additional $10-million allocated to hospitals province-wide provided Winchester District Memorial Hospital with $105,000 more than its original $5,680,326 1982-83 allocation. The additional money is allocated to provide for growth and as an adjustment to the hospital's funding base. Winchester Hospital had, when 1982-83 budgets were submitted, predicted an approximately $90,000 deficit, explained hospital administrator Bert Stel at a press conference.

The South Mountain branch of the Carl-Don International Harvester farm dealership was destroyed by fire in November. The large fire destroyed the showroom, parts department, and the office portion of the building.

Chesterville reeve Carl Ward and deputy-reeve Bert vanKessel both decided to run for the position of reeve in the municipality in the November municipal elections. Mr. Ward was elected with 62 per cent of the vote.

In other municipalities Winchester Township incumbent reeve Gerald Holmes defeated incumbent deputy-reeve Cecil MacNabb. Claude Cousineau defeated Ken Stewart for the position of deputy-reeve.

In the race for positions on the public school board in the November elections went to incumbent Lorne Thompson, for Winchester Township, Chesterville and Winchester Villages, Gerry Rosenquist for Morrisburg Village and Williamsburg Township, and William Fleming for Finch Township, Finch Village and Osnabruck Township.

In Osnabruck Township re-elected as reeve Stewart Hart, elected as deputy-reeve was Gordon Ross, and as councillors were Peter Zeran, Ross Alguire and Richard Waldroff.

Parents of North Dundas District High School students were given the opportunity to take part in the education process through a proposed school committee. The committee was formed and parent representatives elected.

Rita Byvelds was named the Ottawa Citizen Award winner in Winchester in November at the Dundas County 4-H Awards Night.

NDDHS students capture Corpuscle Cup

December

Canvassers for the Rose Marie Hauch Trust Fund began their door-to-door drive in December. Canvassers, composed of Chesterville Chamber of Commerce members and other volunteers, were part of an attempt to raise funds to support Miss Hauch, a young Chesterville-area athlete, while she trains in an effort to reach the 1984 Olympic Games. Miss Hauch won a bronze medal for shot-put at the 1982 Commonwealth Games in Brisbane, Australia.

Clive and Frances Marin, co-authors of the updated history of the United Counties, signed copies of the book around SD&G, including Chesterville, during December.

Trustees of the SD&G County Board of Education elected Chesterville's Sarsfield O'Connor as the new vice-chairman of the board. Mr. O'Connor, regional marketing manager for the Ontario Milk Marketing Board based in Winchester, was elected by fellow trustees at the organization meeting of the school board in Cornwall. The meeting is to elect trustees to various positions following the November municipal elections.

North Dundas District High School students bagged the Corpuscle Cup for a third time, defeating Seaway District High School's flow in December.

Gordon Garlough, a dairy farmer, from RR2, Williamsburg, was named Dundas County's Farmer of the Year in December at the annual meeting of the Dundas County Soil and Crop Improvement Association.

In a dramatic show of support for incumbents chairman, Sheila Tremblay and vice chairman Peter Van Moorsel, six separate school board trustees declined the two offices to re-elect the pair by acclamation in December. Ron Eamer, Pierre Landry, Jules Renaud and Mr. VanMoorsel all declined to challenge chairman Sheila Tremblay, who was appointed to fill a vacancy in the chair 15 months previous. Last December in an uprecedented move, the board waived an election, installing Mrs. Tremblay for her first complete term. Bernard Besner, Suzanne Charette of Crysler and Jules Renaud declined in favor of Mr. VanMoorsel for the vice chairman's chair.

The Farmer's Wife

by Wyn Thompson

Nobody asked me but...I like my Christmases sentimental.

I can recall a so-called joyful season when broke after the mortgage payment was made on December 1st, exhausted and clutching two young lads by the hand because I couldn't afford a baby-sitter, I stood in a general store and simply loathed Christmas.

The inexpensive gifts I'd contemplated were gone, sold out There was no joy in my heart - when number two son tugged at my coat. "Mom," he said seriously, "let's go home and make them some cookies and candy." Number one son heartily agreed.

And so we did. We plied our culinary art in a kitchen warmed with good intentions and fragrant with spices. I don't know, even now, what the recipients thought of those boxes of barely edible sweet treats. I only know the memory of we three discovering the real meaning of Christmas. And it comes to mind each year.

This, of course, is pure sentiment. So are all the things I like most about Christmas. Traditional family things. The same old ornaments dragged down from the attic each year, the real live Christmas tree shedding needles on the carpet. The fragrance of the forest filling the house. The friends who drop in for they saw a light on. The blinding blur of tears, more pronounced at this season for whatever reason...for there is loneliness in many hearts.

As the all too brief holiday season slips through our fingers, what do we recall? The mad rush of shopping? The frenzied pace of parties? Costly gifts we gave or received? I doubt it. The most treasured gifts are those that touched the heart.

An unemployed executive speaks of his plight. I was on my way to do volunteer work to fill in my time, but there was very little in me but disgust for a world gone wrong - until I passed a church. They were singing Silent Night..." He paused. "It sounds silly but I felt better and it restored my faith in myself. It is difficult to deal with being out of work and unwanted. The stress is magnified at Christmas time."

Who ever said Christmas was easy? Not Joseph. Not the overworked inn-keeper. Not the shepherds cold and tired from tending their flocks. Not the wise men exhausted from the looking.

Silly to feel Christmas? Say, if we must, it's sentimental - but why apoligize? This is the season for sentiment. Otherwise, why do we get together with good friends, draw the family circle close, wears ourselves out physically with the largesse of giving? Isn't that our awkward human way of showing we really care? Why is it so hard to simply say it?

"Don't be so Victorian!" a friend snaps at me. But who enjoyed Christmas more?When I hear the Victorians criticized for bad taste, I wonder what we got to be so smug about - with our Santas on every corner, plastic choristers giving forth the canned strains of Adeste Fideles from every department store.

Big business drips computerized sentiment while the true sentiment lies deep inside us. But in hundreds of quiet streets and on hundreds of concession roads there are Canadians keeping Christmas. Really keeping it. Reverently, in their hearts. And for every fur-clad personage buying solid gold neck chains for the Man Who Has Everything, there are a thousand women like me snapping up socks from the bargain counters for Men Down To Their Last Pair.

If you don't believe Christmas is being truly celebrated slip into a town church during the Christmas season and see for yourself. Worried executives, tired clerks, parcel-laden workers, boys in jogging suits, girls in leg warmers, citizens from every walk of life - all of them recharging batteries with essential meaning. I doubt that any generation before us has caught the message any clearer. It is our hope and prayer for the twenty-first century, as we struggle through the last few years of the twentieth.

Oh, I admit it's a battle against the gloom that, today, is as thick as blackstrap molasses around us. But as the day draws near, Christmas steals into us...the most of us, at any rate. Candles are lit, cards are re-read, and we reach out to tried and true friends with a deeper appreciation of what they mean.

Christmas is in the air. Call it corny if you want, but without the welling up of emotion, the season is meaningless. For Christmas' sake, let's be sentimental. Do with what you have! Look through other's windows and appreciate what you see there. Enjoy the winter season, the festival of lights the Christmas music.

Slip on a toque and sing carols outside with the neighbours, visit a nursing home or hospital, visit a greenhouse at this most colourful time of the year, settle in a church pew and listen to the story of old.

I like the season as sweet as chocolate candy, as homey as a log fire. I like apples and oranges and nuts on the table, stockings hung from the mantel and candy canes for the tree.

I lean heavily toward practical gifts with one little item of whimsy for each child. My favourite parties are those enjoyed within the circle of family and friends, where, when I take off my snow boots in the front porch I sniff the wonderful fragrance of evergreen, spice cakes, and bayberry candles.

I'm as rugged a traditionalist as a friend who reads Dickens' Christmas Carol to her grandchildren. "I have to!" she said. "They thought Tiny Tim belonged to the Easter Seal campaign."

As you may have gathered, I like my Christmases sentimental. So do most Canadians. If we didn't, there wouldn't be a Christmas. God Rest Us Merry, Gentlemen - as we enjoy Christmas each in our own way and according to our own resources.

Chesterville's Past

43 From the Record January 14, 1943

It is beyond the ken of the oldest inhabitant when a storm of equal destructiveness passed over this section leaving such a wake of ruin as that which commenced three days before the end of the year.

Tuesday before New Years day the weather turned comparatively mild and soft snow began falling. This later turned to rain and froze on wires and trees until a very heavy load was carried. During Tuesday afternoon the limbs of trees could not bear their burdens and snapped off and began falling to the ground.

The larger ones when breaking sent forth a report almost like a gunshot. Watchers stood indoors and saw the poor trees droop and crash all afternoon but it was not until the following morning that the telephone and power line could stand the burden no longer.

At about the break of day many telephone poles carrying many heavy wires and consequently heavier weights of ice began to topple into the dtich, whole stretches, as from the Doering Stock Farm to the Finch Road, all going over. These poles carried about thirty wires each and it is estimated that the thickness of ice on that number of wires would weigh in the neighborhood of two tons.

The north and south wires were more affected than the others and all such lines had a bad time. Telephone service in the village and some through connections have been restored but it is not unreasonable to think it will be spring before a normal service is restored throughout this district.

The power failed quite early in the forenoon of Wednesday December 30 and was only restored in the village one week ago tonight. The lack of power was probably felt more than the loss of telephone. Power pumping water for domestic use and for stock in the country was entirely cut off. Many had not made provisions with hand pumps and usable wells to supply the amount required. The supply of water for from 50 to 100 head of livestock became a problem.

Shutting off of blowers in furnaces left homes without adequate heating and in many cases cooking facilities. High schools using blowers had to suspend classes through the power stage.

Following the great ice storm and destruction of power and telephone lines The Record was given an unexpected holiday. For lack of power we could not operate our typesetting machine nor run our presses for 10 days although we were able to take care of short runs of job work by hand. This issue much of our news is as the broadcasters say on radio 'a delayed broadcast'. We have tried to include all the local news of the past two weeks and will start running up to date with the next issue.

Mr. Edgerton Barkley of Elma returned home on Tuesday from Cornwall General Hospital where he has been recovering from an operation for acute appendicitis. He was rushed to the hospital by Dr. Justus on Tuesday of the week of the ice rain storm.

53 From the Record January 1, 1953

An attempted robbery of a 1951 Chevrolet owned by Dr. H.G. Barton of Winchester backfired with the unexpected appearance of the owner.

Called at 3am on Christmas morning on a maternity case, Dr. Barton went to his garage and on opening the front door of his car saw an unknown man lying under the dash apparently trying to cross the ignition wires.

With the thought of robbery not entering his mind, the doctor was taken back when the culprit jumped up yelling, "Take it easy chum," and ran off in the direction of the Public School

Constable Gilbert Raistrick was summoned and an inspection of the car found a screwdriver lying on the floor. The identity of the would-be thief has not yet been discovered.

The IOOF Christmas party, held on December 17 for the members, their families and friends, was attended by many and enjoyed by all.

Santa Claus, in the person of Mr. Sam Barker, made his appearance and brought some filled bags and gifts for the children.

The program which consisted of sketches, dances, songs, etc. was very ably done by the young actors and actresses. Taking part in the program were Gerald and Lenny Faubert; Mayse LaPrade and Anne Kelly; Ann Crawford and Brenda Merkley; Carl Smith; Anna Marcellus; Linda Hutton and Ronnie Doering; Johnnie, Francis and Harold Ball and Graham and Ron Sullivan. The program was under the direction of N.G. Harold Greer.

After the program a substantial lunch was served.

St. John's Day was observed at the local Masonic Temple, when officers were installed in an impressive ceremony conducted by Haldane Durant, a past master of Chesterville Lodge, No. 320, AF and AM.

Bert Gillard was installed as the Worshipful Master during the ceremony and the other officers invested were S.W. Robinson; J.W. Marcellus; chaplain, Roy Fetterly; treasurer, Haldane Durant; secretary, A. Jarvis; SD, D. Durant and Tyler, Eric Casselman.

A joint meeting of the executives of the Stormont Federation of Agriculture, Stormont Cheese Producers and Stormont Hog Producers held at the Ontario Department of Agriculture office, at Cornwall, Saturday afternoon, resulted in three resolutions to be placed before the federal and provincial governments.

The various farm groups hope by this means to forestall sudden upsets as affected the cheese and pork industries last year.

The cheese men drafted a resolution to ask for continuance of the guarantee of cheese prices on the same basis as at present; that is, 24 cents guaranteed by the federal government with a further guarantee from the Ontario Marketing Board to borrow funds to buy and store cheese at a 30-cent price. It was pointed out that the governments have not yet been called upon to pay any money under the guarantee plan.

The Hog Producers called attention to the losses in the industry due to the large numbers of young pigs which must be brought to market weight on expensive feed and would not be ready for sale until after the three-cent drop in support price expected at the end of the year.

A march on City Hall shouldn't be the only time you get out for a walk.

A look back at 1982

It was a year of softball pennants, provincial awards, and a bronze medal at the Commonwealth Games

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The day following Rose Marie Hauch's bronze-medal winning performance at the Commonwealth Games in Brisbane, Australia, CTV's Canada AM sports reader Waly Macht told his listeners that Rose Marie Hawk of Chesterfield, Ontario, had won a bronze medal in the shot put competition.

It was a terrible mistake but the pronunciation of the athlete's name and her home town was close enough to stir feelings of pride. For a village whose population would fit handily into a dozen city blocks in Ottawa, national recognition was hardly a common occurence.

1982 was an exceptional year for athletes in the counties of Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry. Not only did hundreds of boys, girls, men and women continue to show the competitive spirit of past years in local leagues and sporting events but some extended their success beyond the county level to provincial, national, and international status.

February

Rose Marie Hauch of Chesterville is named top athlete at a track and field meet in Blackburg, West Virginia. Hauch, an All-American in 1981, set a new national inter-collegiate shot put record with a throw of 16.96 metres. The distance was Hauch's personal best. She was a senior at the University of Tennessee at the time of the competition.

Linda Van Der Wielen, a grade 11 student at Tagwi Secondary School, runs a time of 216.6 seconds to win the 800 metres race at the Ottawa Citizen Indoor Games. She also finishes the 400 metres race in 63 seconds, split seconds off the world record mark.

March

Lynda Marcell, a former resident of Chesterville, is selected to be a member of the Canadian All-Star team representing the country at the World Ladies Softball Championships to be held in Tokyo in June. Marcell, now living in Ottawa, is among 18 women to make the team after going through a tryout camp in Mexico.

Stuart Anderson, David Nelson, and Mike Nelson of Winchester and James Hicks of Russell, representing North Dundas District High School in curling competition, win the Gore Shield for their third place finish among 153 teams at the Ontario Schoolboy Curling Championships held in Whitby. It is the second year in a row that the team places in the top three in the provincial meet, coming in second in 1981.

The Morrisburg Atom As win their division and the ODHMA championship with an unbeaten record, the only team in the league to do so. Led by Greg Wells, who scores 59 goals and 29 assists in 24 regular season games, Morrisburg finishes the year with 28 wins and one tie.

The Winchester Hawks defeat the Metcalfe Jets 8-5 on March 24 to sweep their best of seven Junior B final series and win the Gill Cup as the Ottawa District Division champions. It is the last time the Hawks will see the Gill Cup as the team becomes part of the Alex English Division over the summer and Cardinal, and the cup, become part of another division.

April

The North Dundas District High School curling team of Stuart Anderson, David Nelson, Mike Nelson, and James Hicks wins a second provincial award in 1982. Playing in Ottawa at the Ontario Federation of Secondary Athletic Association (OFSSAA) curling championships, the team gets into a five-way tie for first place. After a mini-playoff, the boys lose to North York in the finals for a second place finish.

After a year's absence, Chesterville makes a bid to rejoin the Junior C Hockey League circuit. Backed by an executive of 10 local businessmen, the talk of a new franchise becomes official. The Chesterville Junior C Flyers are born, boosting the number of teams in the Eastern Ontario Division of the league to seven.

Green, after limping out of the regular season of the Chesterville Men's Hockey League in last place with a record of two wins in 18 games, surprises everyone with a Cinderella playoff performance. Green defeats Blue in four games to win the league championship.

North Dundas District High School hosts the 1982 eastern Ontario gymnastics championships and finished in second place among 11 schools. Leading the team is Karen Windsor who finishes second in the balance beam competition. It is her first year in gymnastics.

After winning the Gill Cup, the Winchester Junior B Hawks are blown out in four straight games by the Kemptville 73s losing their last game 10-7 on April 7.

The Cedar Glen Golf Course begins its 10th year, a time span in which owners Rex Whittaker, Ron Casselman and Dennis Casselman turned a farmer's field outside of Williamsburg into a nine hole golf course.

The Carleton-Dundas Minor Hockey League honors team and individual successes at an awards night on April 7. Morrisburg wins the Atom A pennant, Chesterville the Peewee and Midget, Winchester the Bantam pennant, and Metcalfe tops the Juvenile division. The Atom B title is taken by Morrisburg, the Peewee B by Winchester, the Bantam B title by Chesterville, and the Midget by Metcalfe.

May

Newington Public School is a double winner at the tri-county floor hockey championships held at Winchester Public School. The school's boys' team defeats Chesterville and Martintown for the championship and the girls' team edges Winchester in overtime for the title.

The North Glen-Stor Minor Hockey Association holds an awards night for its 14 team, 194 players league. The Finch Juniors, Peewees, and Seniors are playoff champions in the house league and the Finch Atoms are league champions on the travelling circuit.

June

A final coat of paint is put on as Chesterville opens its newest sports facility - tennis courts. The twin courts, lighted and fenced, have a price tag of $33,000.

July

Linda Van Der Wielen finishes fifth in the 800 metres and sixth in the 1500 metres at the Canada Junior Games in Winnipeg, Manitoba on the Canada Day weekend. The Tagwi Secondary School track star is modest about her success on the track, saying that one of the best things about running is "that is doesn't let me get fat."

Citing lack of organization and a "strongest man wins" attitude as the major reason Gartree Park owner John Milnes formally withdraws his motocrosstrackfrom the Eastern Ontario Motorcycle Association (EOM). Gartree Park continues as a member of the Canadian Motorcycle Association.

August

A driving rain and cool temperatures add to the mood as Maxville transforms itself into a small bit of Scotland during the Glengarry Highland Games. Canadian Highland Games champion Dave Harrington of Old Chelsea, Quebec makes a clean sweep in Maxville, winning the caber toss, the stone throw, and the sheaf toss. The caber toss of 21 feet wins Harrington the Canadian title.

Crysler Western Week is smaller in its ninth year because of organizational problems but still puts out a good show of horsemanship and riding skills. Organizers are hoping for the return of the rodeo in 1983 and promise a bigger and better show for the 10th anniversary.

The Hell Drivers, a stunt driving troupe based in Alberta, put on a show in Chesterville. Pete Groce,who holds the world's record for driving a car on two wheels (six miles) is only able to go half a lap on the rutted fair ground track.

The Finch Bantam girls, coached by Brad Lalonde and Ossie Shaver, continue their dynasty in the Osnabruck Minor Softball League as they win their third straight championship. The team has lost one game in three years of play.

September

Cedar Glen wins its fifth straight 4-Club title, winning all four rounds of golfing play against Iroquois, Morrisburg, and Kemptville.

The Osnabruck Minor Softball League holds its awards night on September 12. Winchester is the Squirt division champion, Chesterville takes the Peewee Girls title, Finch is awarded the Peewee Boys pennant and the Bantam girls pennant, and Winchester has the winning Bantam Boys team.

Gartree Park holds its first inter-provincial motocross competition, led by Winston Byblow of Windsor and Kenny Bland of Stroud, Ontario who continue their races despite injuries. Ontario ties Quebec in points and shares the overall trophy. All three major bike manufacturers, Honda, Kawasawki, and Yamaha, take part in sponsoring the riders, the first time in Canada that all three take part in the same competition. Mike Cummins of Morrisburg is third in the 125cc Junior event.

October

Chesterville's Rose Marie Hauch, who stated in an interview that shot put is a lonely sport without much recognition, changes all of that with a throw of 16.91 metres at the Commonwealth Games in Brisbane, Australia. The distance earns her a bronze medal. She says later that even she was surprised because a few weeks earlier she was only throwing 14 metres, a distance she was throwing in high school. The medal performance ranks her in the top 70 female shot putters in the world and number one in Canada.

November

Dale Whittaker of Williamsburg wins a gold medal at the 3rd Annaul Oh Jang's Tae Kwon Do championships in Montreal on November 6. Whittaker, 35, wins the medal in Poom Sae, a series of preorganized movements. Whittaker holds a Red Belt in Tae Kwon Do, a sport also known as "korean karate".

The Tagwi Secondary School junior girls basketball team, the Warriors, finishes the season with a perfect record of 10 wins, averaging 44 points a game. Sparking the offence are veterans Tracey Hollingdrake and Kelly Conroy who average 27 points a game.

December

Four Winchester Hawks players are named for the tryout list to represent eastern Ontario at the provincial Junior B All-Star game in Kitchener during the Christmas break. Darrell Shelp, Trevor McClatchie, Guy Primeau, and Pete Marriner are named to the list after the Alex English Division All-Stars hammer the Rideau-St. Lawrence Division 12-3 and the Ottawa Valley All-Stars 8-4.

Midget Flyers lose to Hawks in overtime tournament final

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - Mark Cross scored with just over a minute left in the second period of overtime to lift the Winchester Midget Hawks to a 3-2 victory over the Chesterville Flyers and win the A championship of a Midget B tournament held here on December 26.

In the consolation round, Pine Crest and North Glen-Stor were forced into a shoot out after Pine Crest tied the game at 4-4 with a pair of goals late in the third period. Determining the consolation title on the best goals total on three one-on-one situations, Pine Crest won the championship with Dave Ambridge's goal on the team's last try.

Eight teams took part in the day-long Boxing Day tournament.

Winchester moved to the final with an opening round 6-1 win over Pine Crest and a 3-1 victory over Cardinal while the Chesterville Flyers defeated Russell 3-1 and edged Leitrim 4-3.

The game went into overtime and then a second overtime period.

Mark Cross finally broke the deadlock with just over a minute left to give Winchester the championship.

Winchester goaltender Rob Baldwin and Chesterville left winger Jerrold Boulanger were chosen as the game MVPs.

In the consolation round, North Glen-Stor and Pine Crest were forced into a shoot out after Pine Crest scored two goals late in the third period to tie the game 4-4.

Scott McDonell, Kenneth McRae, and Bernard Grady took shots on Pine Crest goaltender Cliff Judd but failed to score.

Pine Crest also came up empty on the first two attempts by Courtney Kline and Ken Mitchell on Andrew Arkinistall but Dave Ambridge beat him on the third attempt for the winning goal.

The goal earned Mitchel the MVP award while Ken McRae was MVP for North Glen-Stor.

Caution, not quick reflexes way to avoid winter crashes

The secret of moving safely on slippery winter surfaces is to avoid abrupt changes in speed or direction, says the Ontario Safety League. Keep your eyes well ahead of your car so you can anticipate lane changes and turns and make them gradually.

Don't follow too closely - you need all the margin for error that you can get when roads are unpredictable. Slow down when approaching intersections or highway exits.

Be wary of warming trends. Ice is twice as slippery at minus 1 degree celsius as it is at minus 12 degrees. Ice patches in areas shaded by trees or underpasses can catch you by surprise. If you hit an icy spot - ease up on the gas, hold the wheel steady and roll through.

If you do start to slide, don't panic and don't hit the brakes. Take your foot off the gas and turn your wheels in the direction you want to go. When you feel the skid is corrected, straighten your wheels.

When slowing the car down on a slippery surface, squeeze the brakes by pushing down on them slowly until they begin to lock, then let up and repeat the process. The old method of pump braking can actually cause the newer disc brakes to lock because they do not release as quickly as the old drum brakes. Squeeze braking is not likely to lock up either kind of brake and also lets you feel what the car is doing and sense a lockup right away. The League advises drivers to practice the squeeze braking technique away from traffic to get a feel for how it affects your car.

Of course, the best advice for winter driving is to do everything more slowly.

Ontario Safety League warns shovelling can be dangerous

When mounds of snow begin piling up around your door, resist the impulse to grab the nearest shovel and start plowing energetically to the street. Snow shoveling is heavy work and requires the proper technique if you want to avoid straining your heart and back.

The Ontario Safety League offers the following shoveling tips:

Cover as much exposed skin as possible, especially when the wind chill factor is below -6 Celsius (20 degrees F). Use multiple layers of light-weight clothing for easy movement. Remove the top layer as you work to prevent overheating.

Use a sturdy, light-weight shovel to push snow out of the way. If you must lift it, take out small scoopfuls, and use your legs and entire body to help lift the load, not just your arms and back.

Smoking and drinking alcoholic beverage are out while shoveling. Cigarette smoking constricts your blood vessels, making your heart and lungs work that much harder. Drinking may give you a false sense of energy and lead you to over-exert yourself.

The best time to shovel is before eating, or at least one to two hours after eating.

If at any time you feel a pain or heaviness in your chest, or become dizzy, faint, or start sweating profusely, stop shoveling immediately and get medical attention. You may be having a heart attack.

You can't avoid the hazard you can't see. In winter drivers are faced with special visibility problems that require some advance work before getting on the road. So plan ahead for the drive ahead, urges the Ontario Safety League.

Allow at least 10 to 15 minutes before every trip for snow removal and general cold weather conditioning of your car to meet prevailing weather conditions.

Peewee C Flyers tie with last minute goal

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The Chesterville Peewee C Flyers picked up a pair of points in as many games as they tied North-Glen-Stor 3-3 in an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game played in Chesterville December 21 and tied Russell 3-3 in an exhibition game two days later.

The Flyers were leading North-Glen-Stor 2-0 early in the second period on goals by Steve Helmer and M. Desormeaux but North Glen Stor tied the game midway through the period with a pair of goals a minute apart and then went ahead with two seconds left in the period.

Chris Hart and Kevin McLeod set up the tying goal for Chesterville as J. Chaird scored with just over a minute left in the game.

D. Geertsma was in net for the Flyers.

The Flyers found Russell into catch-up hockey in exhibition play December 23 as they took 1-0, 2-1, and 3-2 leads on goals by M. Desormeaux and C. Droppo (two) but settled for a tie as Russell scored their third goal 37 seconds after Droppo had put the Flyers into a 3-2 lead.

D. Geertsma played net for the Flyers.

Cornwall wins fifth game as Glens held to one goal

ALEXANDRIA (Staff) - The Cornwall Township Flyers added Alexandria to their hit list as they defeated the Glens 6-1 on December 23 for their fifth victory of the season.

The Flyers have now beaten every team except the Maxville Highlanders in the eastern Ontario division of the Junior C Hockey League at least once.

With a record of five wins, six losses, and three ties Cornwall has now jumped from the basement position to fifth place in the standings.

Cornwall 6, Alexandria 1

The Flyers built up 2-0 and 4-1 period leads as the Glens hampered their own offensive drives with penalties.

Flyers' captain Chris MacDonald scored his thirteenth and fourteenth goals of the season and Rick Brownell added another pair to spark Cornwall's offence. Doug Wilkens and Mark Nadeau added singles.

Scoring for Alexandria was Mike MacDougal.

Todd Vollrath was in net for the Flyers while Denis Parette took the loss.

Donaldson hot as Midgets win two more

CHESTERVILLE (Staff) - The Chesterville Midget C Flyers, paced by the goaltending of Troy Donaldson, picked up their fourth and fifth victories of the season as they blanked Winchester 3-0 and edged Cardinal-Iroquois 2-1 in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League play last week.

The double win extends the team's unbeaten streak to five games.

The Flyers hosted the Winchester Hawks on December 14 and jumped into a quick 2-0 lead midway through the second period as Glenn Merkley beat Winchester's Robin Cumming with an unassisted goal at 8:15 and then tucked in a short-handed goal a minute later.

Flyers' captain Damian Laflamme finished the scoring in the third period on a play set up by Sean O'Connor and Mike van Kessel.

Chesterville continued their streak on the road December 18 as Sean O'Connor stole the puck late in their period with the Flyers playing short handed to break a 1-1 deadlock with Cardinal Iroquois.

Cardinal opened the scoring with the only goal of the first period but Darren Nurse, taking a pass from Donnie Imrie, tied the game at 12:20 of the second period.

The Flyers' record now stands at five wins, three losses, and two ties.

The senior boys volleyball team from Maple Ridge Public School won the Dundas County championship in a tournament held at Nationview Public School on December 14. Making up the winning team are, in the back row from left, Dalton Henry, J.D. Van Noy, [illegible] Krisjanis, Jamie Cheney and [illegible] Dale Whittaker. Winning streak ends as Panthers tie Finch

WINCHESTER (Staff) - It wasn't the end of Finch's season-long unbeaten streak but Blaine Symonds' goal with just over three minutes left in the game did snap Finch's string of victories at 11 games as the Dunbar Panthers tied the Winchester Broomball League leaders 2-2 on December 19.

The tie preserved the Panthers third place standing in the eight team league, two points behind Ormond and 10 behind Finch.

In other games, Morewood blanked Osnabruck 7-0, Newington edged Crysler 1-0, and Ormond defeated Toyes Hill 4-3.

Dunbar 2, Finch 2

Dunbar led 1-0 after one period on a goal by Larry Gallinger but Finch's Dave Dumoulin tied the game late in the second period and shot in the go ahead goal with four minutes left in the third, both goals being set up by Paul Petersen.

Blaine Symonds tying goal at 3:04 of the third period was scored on a pass by Lynn Whittaker.

Wayne Pitt was in net for the Panthers and Noel Lalonde played his twelfth straight game in net for Finch.

Morewood 7, Osnabruck 0

Pete Van Gurp scored three goals as Morewood opened up 3-0 and 6-0 first and second period leads on the way to a 7-0 victory.

Also scoring were Richard McMillan, Bill Moran, Frank Michaels, and Terry Spratt.

Glen Patterson picked up the shut out.

It was Osnabruck's eighth loss in 12 starts while Morewood evened its record at five wins, five losses, and two ties for a fifth place standing.

Newington 1, Crysler 0

Chris Lemey, taking a pass from Calvin Beaudette, beat Crysler goalie Dan St. Pierre with a shot midway through the second period to lift Newington to its third win over the season.

The pair of points moved Newington a point ahead of Crysler in sixth place.

Ron Whittaker was the winning goaltender.

Ormond 4, Toyes Hill 3

With the teams tied 2-2 after a period of play, John Koosen and Bill Robinson scoring for Ormond and Garth Hansma and John Templeton replying for Toyes Hill, Ormond moved ahead early in the third period on a goal by Dan McDiarmid.

McDiarmid set up the winning goal a minute later with Bill Robinson beating Toyes Hill's Wayne Hunter with the pass.

Bill Veley finished off the scoring for Toyes Hill with a goal on Ron Melonhorst with 45 seconds left in the game.
