Volley for Cancer serves up a $40,000 donation to regional cancer centre

MORRISBURG – The effort and support of volunteers, sponsors, and community members, who involve themselves in the Volley for Cancer fundraiser, culminates annually in a big cheque presentation, and that big cheque was presented to the Ottawa Regional Cancer Centre Foundation Friday evening.

Members of the organizing committee, were joined by supporting members of the community at the McIntosh Inn Friday evening when the fundraising total for the 11th annual tournament was unveiled.

Volley for Cancer organizing committee president Kevin Spencer revealed that $40,000 was raised through the one day event. "It's not as large as in the past, but it's a pretty respectable amount," he said.

The amount was down only slightly from last year's 10th anniversary fundraising total of $44,000.

Volley for Cancer Hands Over $40,000

President of the Volley for Cancer Organizing Committee, Kevin Spencer proudly handed over a cheque for $40,000 to the Ottawa Regional Cancer Centre Foundation last Friday evening. Although the proceeds raised were slightly less than the year before Spencer was pleased with the event, and happy to hand over the money for the first time to the Ottawa Regional Cancer Centre, and looks forward to the next Volley for Cancer event. Pictured above Volley for Cancer Committee president Kevin Spencer (left) and vice president Cindy Brown (centre) present ORCCF executive director Linda Eagen with their donation.

The Volley for Cancer event, started by Carl and Ruby Van Allen, and handed over to an organizing committee, in 11 years has raised over $300,000 for the fight against cancer.

The event underwent a few changes this year, but the biggest change was the cheque presentation to the Ottawa Regional Cancer Centre Foundation. The move was made because 90 percent of cancer patients in this area are supported by the services of the ORCC.

Spencer introduced the Volley for Cancer organizing committee members, who played an essential role in the operation of the event, including Karen Thompson, Kelly Droppo, Cindy Brown, and Marilyn Spencer.

He thanked the business owners and service groups for their generosity towards the event from year to year, South Dundas council, and especially the South Dundas Recreation Department for their support and help, and the population of South Dundas and the surrounding area who make Volley for Cancer such a successful event.

Spencer made special mention of the South Dundas Snowmobile Club, Randy Chesbro, Brian Erratt, Jamie Thompson, Mike Vrab, Jamie McIntosh and Donnie Lewis.

Spencer also said that Volley for Cancer will remain a part of the South Dundas entertainment lineup for years to come.

CWL petitions feds to raise the age of sexual consent

MORRISBURG – The local Catholic Women's League last week presented MP Guy Lauzon with a "Ribbon of Signatures" petition to raise the age of sexual consent in Canada from the age of 14 to 18.

Canada has a low age of consent, which many people believe, makes it a haven for predators.

The Conservative government tabled a Bill to raise the age of sexual consent from the age of 14 to 16, in September, however, it was defeated.

"The Conservatives were the only party who voted for this (Bill). I was shocked," said Lauzon, outside his Morrisburg constituency office last Friday morning.

Catholic Women's League member Cathy Groves, was the instigator of the petition which was signed by over 200 people.

The signatures were gathered in a two week time span, from the Morrisburg, St. Mary, and Iroquois, St. Cecilia, Catholic Church congregations.

Lauzon said that 200 signatures is "remarkable."

Groves was pleased with Lauzon's willingness to accept the petition and to present it to the Minister of Justice Irwin Coulter.

On the issue of raising the age of sexual consent Groves said, "We are all upset that the government has not done this. We have to protect our kids."

Father Chisolm, who was also on hand for the petition presentation said, "It's a wonderful thing that they are considering raising the age of consent. It's about time we take care of young impressionable people who may be negatively influenced by movies etc."

Lauzon was impressed with the initiative of this group and their petition, and said that because of the internet the problem of sexual predators is rampant.

"When the Conservatives form the government, we will raise the age of consent," said Lauzon. "That is one of our first and foremost priorities."

All's quiet for Halloween

SD&G – Halloween, this year, was quiet across all of the three United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

SD&G OPP Community Services Officer Joel Doiron called it, "one of the quietest in years," with only a few minor mischief calls for the usual incidents of eggs thrown and pumpkins smashed.

Morrisburg man charged with fraud

SMITH'S FALLS – The Anti Rackets Section of the Ontario Provincial Police charged a Morrisburg man with fraud last week.

The charges of fraud over $5,000, obtain credit by fraud or false pretenses and uttering of forged or false documents contrary to the Criminal Code, were laid against Gordon Carvell on October 26.

The charges resulted from a year-long investigation which involved the sale of 14 townhouses in the Morrisburg area.

Carvell is scheduled to appear in Cornwall court, December 1, 2005.

Ward elimination decision stands

WILLIAMSBURG – The wheels were set in motion this past July to abolish the ward system in South Dundas, and now with all the deadlines passed and criteria fulfilled, it's clear sailing to the next municipal election in November 2006.

South Dundas council started the wheels in motion at their July meeting when council voted 3-2 in favour of preparing a bylaw to eliminate the ward system of voting in South Dundas for the next election.

The bylaw was prepared and tabled at the August 23, council meeting where council voted, again 3-2, in favour of getting rid of the wards.

From the time of the vote, members of the public wishing to appeal the decision had 45 days to file their objections, through the township, to the Ontario Municipal Board.

The 45 day appeal period expired last month, and no appeals were filed, so the decision to abolish the ward system stands.

Morrisburg Legion Branch 48 Honours Individuals for Service McNairn photo

Morrisburg Royal Canadian Legion Branch #48 honoured its members at the annual Service Banquet held at the Legion Friday night. A total of 47 individuals received pins for years of service to the Legion, ranging from five to 60 years at five year intervals. The years of service provided by those honoured totalled an impressive 835 years. In addition to these awards, six individuals received their five year pins for their service to the Ladies Auxiliary. Earning their 60 year service awards were Walt Cassell and Archdeacon P.S. Irwin, neither of whom attended the banquet. Pictured above, l-r are James McLeod who received his 40 year pin, John Rice who received his 45 year pin, and Robert Howald who received his 35 year pin. For a list of service award recipients see page 8.

Local quilt guild displays impressive talent

STAMPVILLE – Unlike the "Flying Geese" who are now on their journey south, local quilters and enthusiasts for local talent were heading to the Stampville Senior Centre Friday and Saturday for the bi-annual Flying Geese Quilt and Craft Show.

On display were 45 bed-sized quilts, 30 wall quilts and 10 pieces of wearing apparel, all of which highlighted the talent of local quilters with the Upper Canada Quilters Guilt which now boasts more than 60 members. The Guild's president is Diane Polak.

Sharon Shaver demonstrates the technique of braided rugs.

"There are still the traditional quilts, but a lot of people have branched out to art quilts," said past-president Cynthia Foss.

The Guild meets at the Stampville Centre on the second Tuesday of every month where they enjoy presentations and demonstrations from guest artists as well as from their own members. The highlight of the meetings are the show and tell periods, when members show what they are working on.

In addition to the quilt displays, the Flying Geese show and sale featured a vendors mall, demonstrations from guest artists and a tea room. Quilt appraisals were also available.

The event was organized by Guild treasurer Pat Lemaire who admitted it was a lot of work but said, "I have a great committee."

The was the third show for the Guild and the second one at the Stampville Centre. The first show was held at the United Church Hall in Morrisburg.

Member, Claire Delage was busy Friday afternoon working on fellow member, Sue Keeler's quilt.

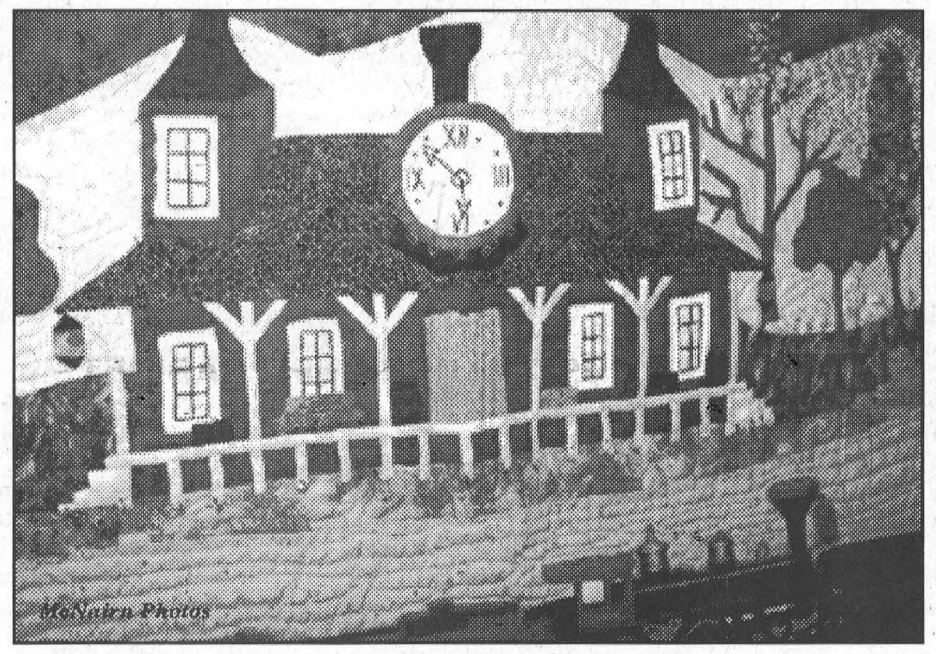
"It's nice to be able to do something you love to do," said Delage. "The work the members do is really something. You just don't really know how much talent there is in this area until you come to a show like this. Some of the pieces they bring in are absolutely awesome."

Delage has been quilting for about 15 years. "I used to sew when my girls were young. When I think of all the years, I wonder why wasn't I doing it all along. It's lots of fun."

The Stampville Centre, formerly a school, is an ideal home for the show with its many rooms. "We utilize the whole place," said Lemaire. "The Scouts have been wonderful helping us, and Donnie (Lewis) and I are best buddies now."

In year's past the Guild, for its rent, has quilted a quilt which is donated to the Seniors to be raffled. This year the Guild is producing quilted placemats for the Seniors' use.

Claire Delage adds a few stitches to Sue Keeler's quilt.



This beautiful quilt, "132 Pieces and Times" includes buildings, trains and landscaping. Machine quilted by Micheline Cayer.

Go for lunch, Diner's Club offers food and friendship

MORRISBURG – "Just taking the first steps through the door is the most difficult part, but once you are through the door you will feel welcome at the Diner's Club," says program coordinator Jyl Paas.

The Diner's Club is one of 14 community support programs offered by the Park Lane Seniors' Support Centre, and by all accounts at the lunch last Thursday, the gatherings are about more than having a great lunch.

Tom Duvall, who is a Diner's Club regular explains, that sometimes when you're a senior, you feel like you have no place to go. "Coming here is like coming home."

"You'll enjoy yourself," he says. "There's good companionship and terrific meals."

"There is always good food. Food for the tummy and food for the soul," says Betty Barkley.

She has been attending Diner's Club lunches in Morrisburg for about two years, and says, "This place should be packed."

Surprisingly, although Morrisburg is the biggest population centre in South Dundas, the Diner's Club lunches at the Morrisburg Legion are the least well-attended.

Paas says that they have about 20 people at the Morrisburg lunch, while 50 people regularly attended the lunches at the Iroquois Legion and the Stampville Centre. "That's quite a discrepancy."

Most people who attend the lunches are regulars, and Paas says that getting new people is rare.

Barkley, attends most of the area Diner's Clubs.

"You are only as lonely and bored as you want to be," says Barkley. "You've got to get out there and see what's going on," she adds.

Eldon and Jenny Baldwin, who are new to the area, say that enjoying Diner's Club lunches is a "nice way to meet people."

The Park Lane Seniors' Support Centre's Diner's Club lunches take place Thursdays at noon. The first and third Thursday of every month they are held at the Stampville Centre, the second Thursday of every month they are held at the Iroquois Legion and the fourth Thursday of every of month they are held at the Morrisburg Legion.

Diner's Club lunches are also available four times a week, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday at the Park Lane Seniors' Support Centre in Williamsburg.

The $5 lunches consist of soup, a full hot meal, dessert and coffee or tea. Seniors are welcome at any of the Diner's Club lunches, just call 535-2924 to book a seat.

In addition to meeting friends over lunch, attending a meal is also a great way to meet and talk to volunteers and staff at the centre and learn about all of the other community support services they offer.

Those services include Alzheimer/adult day programs, caregiver support and education, client intervention and assistance, foot care, home maintenance and repair, meal programs, home help, respite services, security checks, telephone reassurance and friendly visiting, social, recreational and inter-generational programs and transportation.

These services are designed to help seniors maintain their independence, and are made possible by dedicated staff and volunteers.

Christmas Exchange up and running

MORRISBURG – The countdown to Christmas has begun, and the South Dundas Christmas Exchange is once again making plans to provide a good, traditional Christmas Dinner to needy families in South Dundas.

Building on the success of last year, organizers are hoping the community support received in the past will be repeated this year.

Over the past 17 years it has been proven, time and time again, that South Dundas is indeed a caring community. Through the combined efforts of local churches, church groups, community organizations, businesses and countless caring individuals, the Christmas Exchange has been able to bring a bit of Christmas Cheer into the lives of needy families.

Last year, the Exchange returned to its original mandate, "to ensure that families in need are provided with the makings of a nice Christmas dinner with some of the traditional trimmings."

"With the coordinators of the Food Bank in South Dundas, a plan was formulated which appears to have been much more efficient in getting food donations to those in need," says Carol Richer, one of the directors of the program. "Arrangements to have singles contact the Food Bank directly certainly helped to make the program more manageable."

"Again this year, we will work closely with the Food Bank, to ensure that no person or family is left out," adds Richer.

The Hot Line will again be in operation from 1-4 p.m., Monday to Friday, from November 14-25. As this is a private line, donated by a local church, those registering are asked not to call other than the days and times specified.

The Hot Line number is 543-2005. For singles wishing to register with the Food Bank, the number there is 543-0065.

Again this year, singles are encouraged to register for the Apple Ministry Annual Christmas Dinner, which is held at the Morrisburg Legion. The number to call to register for this is 543-3904. There is no charge, but a free-will offering is appreciated if possible. Arrangements can also be made for delivery in cases where people cannot get out on their own. Again, register early!

Although the Christmas Exchange will be providing a well-stocked Christmas Dinner Basket, those requiring additional assistance can contact the Food Bank at 543-0065 to discuss their needs with the coordinator.

The Morrisburg Lions Club is again sponsoring Angel Trees, which will be located at the Bank of Nova Scotia and Bank of Montreal in Morrisburg, Your Credit Union in Williamsburg and at SDS Kerr/Beaver Dental.

In Iroquois, Sandra Johnston will be coordinating the Angel Tree at the Bank of Montreal.

The gifts and toys collected through the Angel Trees will be distributed through the Christmas Exchange, along with the Christmas Dinner Baskets.

Those wishing to make financial donations, for which tax receipts will be issued, may send cheques to: The South Dundas Christmas Exchange, c/o Carol Richer, PO Box 450, Morrisburg ON, K0C 1X0.

Financial donations enable organizers to purchase turkeys, ham and other perishable food items, and are critical to the success of the Christmas Exchange.

Volunteers are also needed, particularly people willing to take on organizational roles. Call Carol Richer, 543-3556, to discuss how to help.

Organizers are again counting on the support and assistance of everyone in South Dundas to make this another successful year by contributing to the various Food Drives, Angel Trees and other projects related to the Christmas Exchange.

Add some real Christmas Spirit to your Christmas plans, by helping those in need, right here in our own community.

It's a new way to vote

We are now about to head into the final year of our current municipal council's three year term, and when we next go to the polls every voter in the municipality of South Dundas will have the opportunity to vote for each member of council.

The current council put the wheels in motion to abolish the ward system back in the summer. The process is now complete, and the ward system is officially gone.

Since the ward system was established at the time of the restructuring and amalgamation of our four municipalities there have been voters in South Dundas who felt they should have the right to vote for all of the people who represent them and make the decisions dealing with the municipality.

Some fear that the loss of the ward system will mean the loss of representation for their particular ward at the council table. We hope that really what it means is that there will be not just one or two but an entire council that will represent each and every distinct area in the municipality.

Now it seems those who wish to run for municipal council will have to win the favour of people throughout South Dundas, not just those of a particular ward. They will have to prove they have the best interests of all of South Dundas at heart...something most councillors serving under the ward system have claimed to have had all along anyway and which we have noted most generally do.

Yes, it is a big area, and yes there are many distinguishing factors and different needs for the various areas and the people living in those areas. It may mean the businessman may have to learn a bit more about the farming concerns, and that the farmer may have to learn a bit more about the business concerns if either wants to get elected to council.

But the saying is a little knowledge goes a long ways...and the decision to elect our municipal government at large may simply have been the first step in the journey. BMc

Creating the Pumpkin of Their Imaginations at Iroquois Public School

Grade 3 students at Iroquois Public School had a ghouish time last Friday morning as they went to work to create a Halloween pumkin. There were a lot of pumpkins that ranged from the whimsical to the down right spooky, and all were judged by the I.P.S. student body in the categories of scariest, funniest and most creative. The pumpkins were kindly donated to Tammy Mudde's class by Eileen Lust who had grown them in her garden this summer.

Seen 'n Heard

Around the Township

We didn't see or for that matter, hear much on Halloween night. In fact, we had just 12 trick or treaters pay us a visit. Our visitors at the west end of town have been on a marked decline since our children left home. Back when they were at home and going to school we were ranging from 100 to 130 youngsters every Halloween night.

At any rate we didn't escape at least one trick and it took place Saturday night. Guess our girls feel bad that we don't have busy Halloweens anymore so they stopped by when we weren't home. They left with all of our family room furniture (couches, tables, chairs etc.) turned backwards...get this even the remotes were placed backwards to the television

This changing the clock stuff can be confusing. Just ask Wanda, here at The Leader office, who was totally confused when her football games didn't start at the correct time on Sunday afternoon...according to her clocks. Seems she got up Sunday morning and did the right thing...turned the clocks back. Then hubby, Tom, got up a little later and did the wrong thing...turned the clocks ahead. So if you need to know the time...absolutely, don't phone The Leader and ask Wanda.

The Leader Blast from the Past

Compiled from The Leader's files

The November 1 issue reported that Odonto Corporation president Nick Lee had been promoted to Executive Director of Oral Care North America by Johnson and Johnson. Lee was to remain in Morrisburg, but would commute regularly to Johnson and Johnson's Personal Product Company headquarters in Skillman, New Jersey. Odonto Corporation was owned by J&J and had been manufacturing toothbrushes in Morrisburg since 1917.

Becky Pena opened her new business "Esthetics by Becky". She started her business a month earlier, when Evelyn Wharry, an esthetician in Morrisburg for many years, left the area.

The Morrisburg Lions won their first game.

It was reported in the October 30 issue the first major step towards creating a centre for battered women would be taken within days. A month earlier a public meeting was held in Winchester to gauge public support for a resource centre that would offer both a 10-bed emergency shelter and counseling for battered women across Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

Osnabruck Township deputy-reeve Gordon Ross withdrew his name from the municipal election roster, leaving only present councillor Peter Zeran and incumbent reeve Stewart Hart to offer continuity on council. Councillors Rick Waldroff and Ross Alguire said they would not run again as they both found council duties too time consuming.

Strong goaltending from Darrin Mullen and a two-goal performance from midget affiliate Johnny Morrow highlighted an 8-5 Morrisburg win over the Athens Aeros.

Twenty eager students participated in the Curl Canada Clinic offered at the Morrisburg Curling Club.

1975

Pictured on the front page of the October 31 issue were Joe Brunet representing the Canadian Legion, Reeve Bill Dillabough, R.L. Griffin of the Morrisburg Horticultural Society and brothers Bill and Paul Sheldrick of the First Morrisburg Boy Scout Troop as they planted tulips propagated in Holland to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Royal Canadian Legion. Most of the local planting was done in the two newly-designed flower beds in front of the war memorial at the Morrisburg Civic Centre.

The Township of Matilda was offering a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the death of Mrs. Lillian Tousant, 82, whose body was recovered from the burned-out remains of her home near Iroquois.

Weather permitting, the ice was expected to be ready at the Morrisburg Curling Club this week.

The St. Lawrence Division of the Ottawa District Junior B Hockey League was now underway with seven teams operating this year.

1965

Headlines in the November 5 issue read Record Building Boom in Morrisburg This Year. Since the beginning of the year, Morrisburg had enjoyed an unprecedented more than a quarter of a million dollar boom in housing. It was the biggest increase on record except for the Seaway rehabilitation.

The hockey season was to open Friday, November 5 when the Hull Mustangs would be in town to take on the Morrisburg Combines. Coach Ralph Hurley was pleased with what he had seen from the team in two exhibition games. Newcomers to this year's team included Don Dexter, a bruising defenceman, fleet-footed Jim Forrest on wing, rugged left winger John Cahill, smooth-skating Johnnie Gove at centre ice and Don Grant, a colourful goaltender.

The November 4 issue reported the Ontario Fuel Board had agreed to a vote by Morrisburg taxpayers to decide whether or not a franchise should be granted to the Lakeland Natural Gas Company for distribution of natural gas. Reeve George E. Beavers, who attended the hearing, told the board the council of the village was in favor of granting the franchise, but felt it was undemocratic to do so without a vote of the people.

A front page story reported that one of Hollywood's all-time great pictures was being brought back to the Picadilly Theatre in Williamsburg. The showing was that of MGM's masterpiece reprint of "San Francisco" with Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy. It was first released in 1936.

M. Baker, president of the local Branch 48 of the Canadian Legion, appealed to all citizens to wear a poppy on Remembrance Day.

1945

The November 2 issue reported that before a large crowd of 500 spectators at the Intramural Track Meet at Queen's University, Bob Loucks of Science 47, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.R. Loucks of Williamsburg and a graduate of Morrisburg Collegiate, won individual honours for the second year, with a first in broad jump, seconds in the high jump and 100 yard dash and third in the 220 yard dash.

Air force headquarters announced the award of a Bar to the Distinguished Flying Cross to Squadron Leader Herbert Lindsay Coons, of Morrisburg, son of Mrs. M.A. Epplett of Kingston. The award was made for bravery and devotion to duty of the highest order. Born in Brinston, he had two brothers who also served in the RCAF, his youngest brother, Willis killed, in action.

Residents of the Hartford Retirement Centre in Morrisburg Monday afternoon were dressed up for the occasion. Students from Morrisburg Public School paraded in costume for the residents, some of whom had costumes of their own to show off. After the parade, the residents were treated to some entertainment and a witch's brew.

New Cornwall call centre

TORONTO – Last week, a leading Canadian call centre announced their plans to open a new 33,750 square foot facility in Cornwall by the end of this year.

The centre, which will lead to the creation of over 650 new jobs in the community, is the second centre that Teleperformance Canada has opened in the past 12 months to increase their call-handling capacity.

"Locating in Cornwall gives us access to a bilingual workforce with a strong reputation for quality work, which is essential in our business," said Erifili Morfidis, president and CEO of Teleperformance Canada.

"We are excited to be expanding again and the opening of this new centre is critical to support our continued dramatic growth."

Cornwall Mayor Phil Poirier was thrilled about the company's decision.

"This is going to mean a lot to our community," said Mayor Poirier. "Having a company of this magnitude here will create added wealth and jobs, and I'm sure that they will find our people make loyal and professional employees. It will be a good marriage."

Located in the north end of Cornwall, in what was formerly the Cornwall Bowling Palace, the centre will be Teleperformance's fourth call centre to open since they first began in 1995.

Later this month the company will mark its 10th anniversary and celebrates its growth in staff from 18 employees in 1995 to 2000 employees in 2005, and in size, from 11,000 square feet in 1995, to 115,000.

"The creation of new jobs in Cornwall by Teleperformance Canada is great news for an area that has seen lean times recently," said local MP Guy Lauzon.

Despite the weather, we can have hope

Perspectives

Rev. Janet Evans

I don't know about you - but I am getting a bit depressed over the fact that it seems to rain every, single day! I had to be out of town for a funeral last week and someone said to me, "I haven't seen the sun for 72 hours," I replied that I haven't seen the sun for three weeks!

Well - we can complain about the weather but there really isn't much we can do to control it. It is true, however, that on gloomy days and on bright days, in moments of joy and in times of sorrow, we can have hope, for there is One who will ever walk with us, One who will never leave us desolate. The Creator of the heavens and the earth loves us, supports us, guides us and holds us in the palm of His hand. We can place our trust in our gracious God.

A woman by the name of Betty Coulter once wrote a book entitled Today-Starting Point for the Future. One of the chapters in her book is called, "The Ultimate Trust". The definition of 'trust' is to commit to the care of another; to believe in the truth of another; to place confidence in another. One of the sad characteristics of our present generation is the realization that we cannot always trust others. There is a general slackness in moral integrity resulting in a lack of trust toward those in positions of authority, and especially in positions of power. And every misuse of trust, or every misplaced trust, costs us pain. We become more cautious about placing our trust - we don't allow ourselves to be too vulnerable because we are often disappointed.

There is One, however, who does not disappoint us - one in whom we can confide our dreams, rejections, concerns - one we can give thanks to for our many blessings. The ultimate and never misplaced trust is in God whose laws are immutable and whose promises are sure. By God's law we reap what we sow, and by His promise we receive if we ask. We can also receive power for living, if we believe.

Is it not wonderful to realize that our living Lord cherishes us, redeems us, forgives us and sustains us always. We can praise our God - for along life's journey and beyond, we are never alone. We can rejoice - for we are the beloved sons and daughters of the loving Christ. On this day and always, let us know that we are precious in God's eyes - and let us share of God's love with people far and wide.

Obituaries

Frederick Billard

Frederick Billard, of Morrisburg, passed away October 19, at Woodland Villa, Long Sault. He was 77 years old.

Born July 23, 1928, at Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, Fred was one of five children to Martin Eldridge Billard and Hazel Mary Hubert.

Fred left school in grade nine to help his father run his tire vulcanizing business. When the inner tube became popular, the days of the vulcanizing business were numbered, so he joined the army.

While in the Armed Forces, he and his family were posted in St. John, N.B., Hamer, Germany, Fredericton, N.B., Oromocto (Camp Gagetown), N.B., and Ottawa, Ontario. He reached the rank of Master Warrent Officer, and obtained his high school diploma while in the army.

Fred retired from the forces in his early 50s and then became a civil servant, who worked in Orleans and lived in Rockland. He was a Sergeant Major with the Department of National Defence.

Fred met his wife, Jessie Athelia (nee Caldwell) on a blind date, while she was in nurse's training at the old Glace Bay General Hospital. The two were married, at her aunt's home in Sydney Mines, N.S., November 23, 1951.

Fred thought the world of Jessie, and his family meant everything to him. His children feel that the greatest thing their father gave them was his legacy of love, life and laughter. He was a devoted family man, and often went to Cape Breton to visit relatives.

While living in Glace Bay, Fred was a member of the Oddfellows and in his later years he became a HAM operator.

Fred enjoyed the men's meetings at Park Lane Seniors' Support Centre. He also went to the CNIB support group as he had macular degeneration and only had peripheral vision, and was legally blind.

Fred and Jessie could often be seen walking around Morrisburg and visiting the various businesses.

Fred could fix anything, until he lost he eyesight. He loved to read westerns, and loved to watch western or war films. He never passed up the opportunity to tell a good joke. His sense of humour was known and appreciated. His motto throughout the years was, "If you've got it, flaunt it."

Fred battled cancer for four years, and the last time it came back more aggressively. Fred was certainly one of a kind and he was strong until the end.

Fred was the beloved husband of Jessie Billard, who survives, and dear father to Christine (Murray) Hains of Casselman, Thomas (Laura) of Mississauga, Esther (Tony Kuepferling) of Iroquois, and Tracy (Marc) Lajoie of Winnipeg, MB.

He is sadly missed by 10 grandchildren, his sister Kay (George) Clark of Glace Bay, N.S., and numerous nieces and nephews.

Fred was predeceased by sisters Dorothy McLean and Irene Wadden and a brother Martin, who was killed in action in France, 1944.

Friends called at Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg on October 21. Funeral service was held October 22, at the funeral home, with Rev. Malcolm Caldwell officiating. Inurnment followed at Iroquois Point Cemetery.

Memorial donations to Winchester Hospital or the Canadian Cancer Society would be gratefully acknowledged. Condolences or donations may be made at parkerfh@personainternet.com

Delmer Stanley Adams

After a courageous battle with Parkinson's, and with his loving family by his side, Delmer Stanley Adams passed away, October 29, at his Bayfield Manor Nursing Home, in Kemptville. He was 86 years old.

Formerly of Dixon's Corners, Delmer lived in Kemptville for the past four years.

Born July 14, 1919, at Mainsville, Ontario, Delmer was the son of Stanley and Anna Adams.

He was a farmer, and a man of many talents; an artist, a coach, a community leader, and a loving father, grandfather, great grandfather, uncle and friend.

Delmer was beloved father to Marlene and her husband Ken, Valerie and her husband Jeff, Miriam and her partner Laurie, Jim and his wife Marylin, Sharon and her husband Jim, and Don and his wife Andree, and brother to Irene Haldane.

He was a dear husband to Muriel Norton, who he married in March 1995.

Delmer was predeceased by his first wife Annie Adams, a brother Irwin, and a son-in-law Ken Roberts.

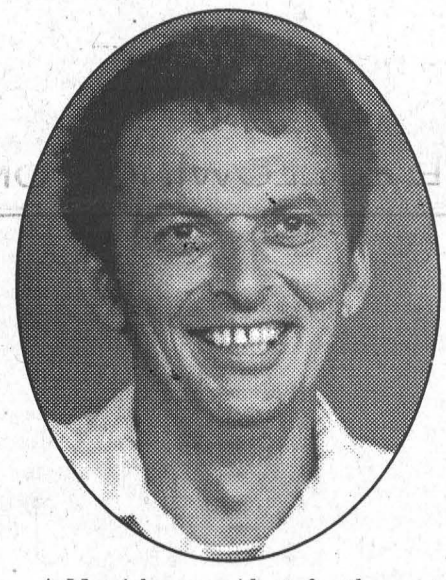
Friends called at Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home, Iroquois, on Sunday, October 30.

The funeral service was held Monday, October 31, at Brinston United Church with Rev. Yvonne Willis and Rev. Blair Patterson officiating.

Interment followed at Spruce Haven Cemetery, Brinston. Pallbearers were grandsons Brad Roberts, Jonathon Marus, Bryan Bell, Dan Adams, Gregory Bell and stepson Doug Gilmer. Lawrence Bell and Keith Adams were honourary pallbearers.

Memorial donations to Brinston United Church, the Parkinson's Association or the Diabetes Association are appreciated.

Lyle Stewart



A Morrisburg resident for the past 40 years, Lyle Stewart passed away suddenly at home on Tuesday, October 25, 2005. He was 63.

William Lyle Neil Stewart was born in Williamsburg on October 14, 1942, the eldest child of Wellington Stewart and Helen Hunter.

The Stewarts raised Lyle, his brother Clifford, and his sisters Norma and Marlene on the family dairy farm in the Melvin settlement near Morewood.

He attended a rural public school and then went to high school in Winchester. He was a member of the high school football team, which he enjoyed very much.

Lyle started out delivering groceries after school as a part-time job. He then worked for Mcfarlane Construction of Ottawa before going back to grocery work at Shopper's City, in east Ottawa.

Lyle started as a pack boy and eventually worked his way up to the position of grocery manager. He left Shopper's City approximately 1.5 years after his marriage to Edith Locke in 1964. The couple moved to Morrisburg where Lyle went to work for Seaway Chemicals, which later became known as Rhom and Haas.

Lyle and Edith were blessed with the birth of two children Michael in 1965 and Tracey in 1967.

Lyle was always ready to take Mike to hockey, no matter how early in the morning it was. He was equally excited teaching Tracey how to ride her first two-wheeler. Once, Lyle won a mini bike in a raffle and Mike and Tracey were always on that bike at the park, one street over from their home on Kyle Drive where the family lived until the marriage dissolved.

After leaving Seaway Chemicals, Lyle went back to the grocery business and worked as the grocery manager at the Dominion store in Morrisburg for more than 15 years. It was while working at Dominion that Lyle met Faye Henophy and they have been together since 1978.

Lyle and Faye bought the Riverside General Store which he ran for about six years before his painting and janitorial business became a full-time occupation.

Together, Lyle and Faye raised a blended family: Mike and Tracey, alongside Faye's son, Adam.

The couple surprised everyone on April 12, 1999 when they were married while visiting Las Vegas. Faye and Lyle spent the last few years as superintendents of the Lakeview Apartments.

Even though he'd been having great difficulty health wise during the past few months, Lyle kept active to the end.

"Hardworking" tops the list of phrases used to best describe Lyle and he took pride in his work too, even if it meant that he would go with Faye over to the St. Lawrence Medical Clinic to see that the job was getting done right when he was no longer able to do it himself.

Lyle loved people. He really enjoyed being around people, joking with the girls over at the clinic, and keeping them on their toes. Lyle not only enjoyed life he knew how to make life enjoyable for himself as well as others. He liked to visit and older people loved him. He had a great sense of humour and he possessed some famous "one-liners."

Lyle talked with his whole face. He was an animated communicator with his big smile and hand gestures which helped him express himself fully.

He loved camping, spending time with his buddies at the Legion, listening to country music and attending country and western jamborees.

Lyle is survived by his loving wife Faye, his children Michael (Tammy) Stewart of R.R.#1 Morrisburg, Tracey (Terry) Veinotte of Morrisburg, and Adam (Janice) Froats of Brinston, his grandchildren Tyler Stewart, Christyn and Cole Veinotte.

He was predeceased by his parents Wellington and Helen Stewart (nee Hunter), a brother Clifford and sisters Norma and Marlene. He is also survived by nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Marsden & McLaughlin Funeral Home, Williamsburg, on Thursday, October 27, from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Funeral service was be held at St. John's Lutheran Church, Riverside Heights, on Friday, October 28.

Pallbearers were Bo Gale, Danny Rice, Garry Black, and Lyndon Casselman. Honorary pallbearers were Allan McCoy and Elwin Woolsey.

Donations to St. John's Lutheran Church or the Ottawa Regional Cancer Centre would be gratefully acknowledged by the family.

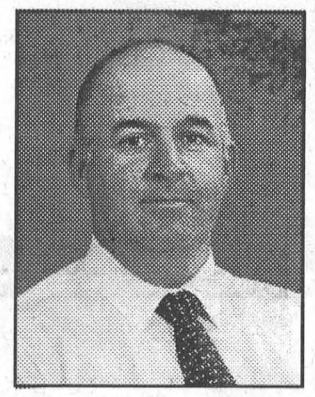
From the Detachment Commander's desk



SD&G – This time of year brings frost in the morning and evenings. We are all hesitant to admit winter is on the way and it is time to scrape our windows. Each day I see motorists taking off with obstructed windows and trying to peak out small clear areas of the windshield with absolutely no clear view of their surroundings. This is not only stupid looking, but extremely dangerous.

Take the time to start your car five minutes early and scrape the frost off your windows. Ensure you have emergency supplies in your vehicle including a good brush, shovel, and windshield washer. My wife always sets my clock ten minutes fast to make sure I get her car cleaned off before she leaves so perhaps you should do the same.

It is also a good time to be thinking of changing from regular gas to ethanol-based gas. You don't need gas line antifreeze, you're helping the environment and you're helping us to change from a limited fossil based fuel. We have many outlets in our area. I have used it for years and see no change in performance or higher maintenance fees for my vehicle.

Check your tires to make sure the tread is still good. There are a good many studies out there about whether winter tires are better than all season but I think it comes down to finances and your preference.

The best safety tip is to slow down and use caution. You can't expect to drive the same speed that you do in the summer time. Most collisions in the winter are due to driver error or speeding too fast for conditions. Save your life, or maybe someone else's, and slow down.

Home ice success for the Bantam B House Lions

PRESCOTT – After a great start to league play, the South Dundas Lions Bantam B House team came out flat, with an 8-1 loss at the hands of the home team, South Grenville Rangers, October 20.

The Lions lone goal of the game was scored by Eric Heldens. Kris Quirouette assisted.

Returning home October 22, the Lions came out strong, and thanks to a lot of offensive opportunities and great goaltending from Tyler Gallinger, scored at 2-0 win over Smith's Falls. Gallinger faced a record number of shots on goal, and turned them all away for a well-earned shutout.

Eric Heldens scored the Lions first goal of the game on a pass from Stephen Gellner, and that goal went unanswered. Jordan McCaslin scored an empty net goal, near game's end.

On the road in Brockville, October 25, the Lions played a solid but scrappy contest as a season high 22 penalty minutes were recorded by both teams, however, the Lions were handed a 4-2 loss by the Braves.

Scoring for the Lions were Joe Streit, assisted by Thomas Corden and Derek Hutt, and Skylar McManus, assisted by Stephen Gellner.

At home to North Dundas, October 29, the Lions came out flying in a well-matched, physical and fast-paced game, which ended in a 2-2 draw.

The first period ended scoreless. Jordan McCaslin put the Lions on the board early in the second, with Eric Heldens and Skylar McManus assisting. North Dundas answered back with two goals before the period ended.

Jordan McCaslin evened the game at two in the final period of the game. Kyle Saunders assisted.

The next Bantam B House home game is November 5, at 1 p.m. Everyone is invited to come and watch, and to try their luck at the 50/50 draw.

Bowlers strike for $1,000

CHESTERVILLE – Supporters of the Dundas County District Council of the Easter Seal Society gathered at the Chesterville Bowling Alley Sunday, to roll out their support for local youth.

The event was sponsored by Curves in Morrisburg, and raised approximately $1,000 to assist "kids with physical disabilities to succeed."

During the afternoon, Alexander Smellink, an Easter Seal child, presented a certificate of appreciation to Dave Bird, former owner of the bowling alley,who assisted with the first bowling fundraiser.

Top pledge winners for the day were Lyn Gilmour and Shaler Hill of Brinston and Darryl Britton of Morrisburg.

The Dundas County District Council of The Easter Seal Society was thankful to all those who helped make this, the second bowlerama fundraiser, a success including the bowlers, the owners of the alley, the sponsors and the businesses who supplied prizes.

Ian McLaughlin of Kemptville, regional chair for Easter Seals, attended the fundraiser to offer his encouragement.

The Week In Curling

MORRISBURG – Many members of the Morrisburg Curling Club volunteer their time in curling matters. Two of our members continue their responsibilities outside the club in new positions this year. Ian McGillis is now the head official for the Ontario Curling Associa-tion, and Alan Brunt takes over as the OCA's Second Vice President. Our congratulations and thanks to them both.

Closer to home, on Saturday we spotted some of our senior men at work replacing the carpet in front of the ice. Our appreciation to Bill Magee, Neil Williamson, Sam Casselman, Dave Salsman, and all others involved at various times through the day.

Our perennial volunteer Sydney Schnurr reports that she has 16 new little rockers and 18 returnees, with Jack Dikland, Nancy Skakum and two juniors asssisting with the coaching. There is no word yet of a volunteer coach for the bantam/junior curlers.

Have you heard of the Limestone Bonspiel? Bob Bedingfield, Peter Zeran, Raymond Benoit and Karl Duncan played last weekend in the 24-team event in the 185-year-old Royal Kingston Club. Bob's team dropped a close game to an Ottawa team, and then bowed to a foursome from the Ottawa Curling Club in the well-maintained old building. Raymond reports that it was a great day, with high-calibre competition, which included a team from Albany, where our men have curled before. We'll have other results next time.

MORRISBURG CURLING CLUB
LESSONS & LEAGUES FOR ALL AGES
NON-MEMBERS WELCOME

Locally, Bobby Jack Hart is organizing another two-person bonspiel at the club for Saturday, November 19th. The entry fee is $20 a team, which includes pizza, with games getting underway at 10 a.m. and finishing by 4 p.m. There are cash prizes in three divisions, and the sign-up sheet is posted in the lounge.

For those who have never attended the World Men's Curling Championship, why not book a trip to the 2006 site, Lowell, Massachusetts, April 1-6? The site is less than 30 miles from Boston, a city rich in history, having been designated one of the USA's National Parks.

By the way, the CCA has renegotiated its contract with the CBC for television coverage of major events. It looks as though Ray Turnbull, Linda Moore and Vic Rauter will handle TSN coverage through the week, with CBC's Don Whitman, Mike Harris and Joan McCusker taking over for the weekends. Sound familiar?

Keep an eye out for the 20 teams competing this fall to represent Canada in the Olympics as the men's and women's representatives. Some of note include Jennifer Jones, Sherry Middaugh, Jan Betker, Brad Gushue, Glenn Howard, Kevin Martin, Randy Ferbey and John Morris. Any favourites so far?

Finally, the Morrisburg Curling Club executive meets this Thursday, and we'll have the highlights next week. Good curling to all!

Lions stopped by Rideau Division

MORRISBURG–The Morrisburg Junior B Lions tangled with the top two teams of the Rideau Division on the weekend and came out a little worse for wear giving up a pair of losses.

The Lions were in Cardinal to take on the Rideau Division's second place South Grenville Rangers Saturday night losing that one 7-3.

Back home on Sunday, they were up against the first place Westport Rideaus, and again went down to defeat, this time by a 7-4 count.

Despite the two losses the Lions hold onto third place in the St. Lawrence Division standings. The second place Kemptville 73s lost both of their weekend games, so the two remain separated by just two points.

However the weekend results see Alexandria move more comfortably into first place and the Winchester Hawks now nipping at the Lions' heels, just one point back.

The Lions were slow off the mark Saturday night, dropping behind 2-0 in the first period. The Rangers stretched their advantage to 4-0 in the first half of the second period before the Lions got on board with back-to-back counters from Peter Barnett and James Kirkwood.

The Rangers continued their assault in the third going up 6-2 before the Lions got their third and final goal from Justin Elliott.

Vince Francica finished it off for the Rangers for the 7-3 win.

The second period was a rough and tumble affair culminating with the ejection of the Lions coach Ron Belmore with a game misconduct and a gross misconduct.

The Lions Jamie Gadway and Pat McLeod both drew misconducts and game misconducts.

The Rangers sat out 12 minor penalties and two misconducts.

Peter Veltkamp led the Rangers scoring with two goals and Francica, Adam Lawrence, Christian Long, Steve Leduc and Chris Clark supplied singles.

Back home on Sunday, the Lions held their penalties to eight minors, but the Rideaus took advantage of three of them for three consecutive first period power-play goals.

Peter Barnett scored the lone Lions goal in the first period assisted by Dylan Graveley.

In the second period the Lions caught up, when at 4:47 Chad Galipeau scored an unassisted power-play goal and at 5:44 Devin Brunet connected to tie the game 3-3.

The third period showdown fizzled into a third period romp for the Rideaus who pushed ahead 5-3 on goals from Abby Donaldson and Matt Steele.

The Lions cut it to 5-4 with a Cory Gove goal with 4:57 left in the game but that would be it as the Rideaus came back for two more for the 7-4 win.

Scoring for the Rideaus were Aaron Lynn, Abby Donaldson, Steve Biscaro, Matt Steele, Billy Donaldson, Scott Keppard and Scott Morrison.

The Rideaus sat out 11 minor penalties and a misconduct, while the Lions were assessed eight minor penalties.

Coming up this weekend the Lions have two home games. Friday night the Athens Aeros will be in town for an 8:15 p.m. start and on Sunday at 2:15 p.m. the Lions will host the Winchester Hawks.

Spartans heading down basketball home stretch

CORNWALL – The Seaway District High School junior girls continue to hold second place as they prepare for the final game of the regular season next Monday at North Dundas.

Monday the Junior Spartans posted a 36-27 win against Heritage in a game that coach Kevin Kennedy said was a tough one particularly in the second half when Heritage turned it on in a comeback effort.

"They gave us a bit of a scare in the second half," said coach Kennedy, pointing to a 15-point second half from Heritage while his Spartans came up with just 14 points.

The Spartans were solid in the first quarter building an 18-6 lead. Tracy Byker led the effort with eight points and Nicole Douma and Bailey Hollister hit for four points each. Stephenie Cochrane contributed two points.

In the second quarter, Courtney Thompson managed the lone Seaway point from the free throw line, while Heritage closed the gap with five points from Alexandra Knew.

Heading into the second half down seven points, Heritage began their comeback outscoring the Spartans 6-4 to trail 22-17. Knew accounted for the Heritage scoring while Courtney Thompson and Melissa Macleod had single baskets for Seaway.

In the final quarter Tracy Byker got back in form hitting for three Seaway baskets and Macleod sank four points. Heritage answered with five points from Chelsea Lefebvre and another four from Knew, and Seaway hung on for the 37-27 win.

Tracy Byker led the Spartans with a 14 points effort and Melissa Macleod contributed four points. Knew provided 20 of the 27 Heritage points.

"We are now in second place with one game left in the regular season," said Kennedy. Playoff action will take place the week of November 14-18 with the results of next week's encounter with North Dundas, determining who the Spartans will meet.

In senior basketball action on Monday, the Spartans were up against CCVS losing to the Triple A school 54-34.

The Spartans trailed 23-12 at the half and 31-22 at three-quarter time.

Holly Byker was the top Seaway shooter with 17 points and Melissa Groniger contributed 11.

South Dundas Midget House B Lions

Tied up in Chesterville but come home to win

CHESTERVILLE – Following last week's action, the South Dundas Midget House B Lions record now stands at two wins, one loss and one tie.

They put their first mark in the tie column, after a game against the North Dundas Demons, in Chesterville, that ended five all, and at home on the weekend, got their second win of the season, by beating the South Stormont Selects by one goal, 4-3.

In Chesterville, the Lions were strong against the Demons early, with three quick goals. The first period ended 3-1, in the Lions favour.

Jeremy Dimuzio scored the Lions' opening goal of the game, unassisted. Evan Harper teamed up with Randy Whitford to score the second goal, and then assisted on Dustin Gillard's spectacular goal.

By the midpoint of the game, the Demons had tied it 3-3, but before the second period ended Whitford, scored his second goal of the game, with Bryce Fournier assisting, to regain a 4-3 lead.

The action packed third period saw the lead change hands as a result of two goals by the Demons, who late in the period held a 5-4 lead.

With only two minutes remaining in the game Liam Mills came through to score the equalizer, and end the game 5-5.

At home to the South Stormont Selects, last Thursday, Jeremy Dimuzio, again got the Lions started, by scoring the first goal of the game. Evan Harper earned the assist.

In the final minute of the first period the Selects scored a goal of their own to even the game at one goal each.

The Selects then went on to take the 2-1 lead half way through the second period, but in a matter of a five minute span, the Lions scored three goals, two on the power play, to regain the lead.

Scoring for the Lions were Kurtis Corry from Dimuzio and Fournier, Fournier from Mills, and Nathan McDonell, who found the top corner, unassisted from the point.

Novice B Lions net a win and a tie in two exciting match ups

MORRISBURG – In what was a nail-biter until the very end, the South Dundas Novice B Lions scored a 4-3 win, here October 23, against the visiting Brockville Braves.

With 2:26 left in the opening period, Brockville scored the first goal of the game, but that would be the only time they held the game's lead.

The second period was marked by good scoring opportunities, including a couple of efforts that rang off the goal post, and by solid goal tending from Cody Smail.

The Lions first goal of the game was scored by Shane Woolsey, with about six minutes remaining in the period, tying it 1-1.

Before the second period was over, Woolsey scored his second goal of the game, this time on a breakaway.

Evan Mullin hit the corner of an open net to make it 3-1 at the end of the second period.

The Braves mounted a comeback in the third period, scoring a power play goal with eight minutes remaining in the game, and ten seconds later, at even strength tied the game at three.

Woolsey, immediately went on the attack for the Lions. Taking the puck to the Braves net, he was knocked down, and even though he was laying on his stomach managed to get a shot away that found its way into the net.

This goal was Woolsey's third of the game, making it two consecutive games that he netted himself a hat trick.

Once the Lions held the 4-3 lead, their defense went to work to shut down the Braves' efforts, and hang on for the win.

Ben Michels, Andrew Jarvis, Josh Black and Drew Dedekker were key defensive players.

Early Saturday morning, the Lions travelled to Williamstown for an exhibition game against the Char-Lan Rebels, which came down to a 6-6 tie in the final seconds of the game.

The Lions held a commanding 4-1 lead at the end of the first period. The goals were scored by Quinn Bennis, Shane Woolsey (2) and Spencer Heldens.

The Rebels came to life in the second period, and scored three quick goals to tie the game 4-4. But, before the period had ended, Woolsey scored his third goal of the game, for his third hat trick in as many games, to make it 5-4. Nash Nesbitt netted the Lions' sixth goal of the game.

Despite a number of great scoring opportunities, the Lions lost their two goal lead in the final period. Char-Lan scored a goal early in the period and then tied the game in the dying seconds.

Lions goal tender Cody Smail was credited with keeping his team in the game throughout with a number of great saves, especially in the final two periods of the game.

Bantam B Lions breeze by Selects

MORRISBURG – October 24, the South Dundas Bantam B Lions hosted the South Stormont Selects, and breezed to an 11-1 win, but in the next game they faced stiffer competition in the North Dundas Demons, and played to a 6-6 tie.

The Lions took the lead in the South Stormont game early, and continued to extend it throughout. Lions netminder Tyler Gallinger's shutout attempt was broken by the Selects who managed one goal in the third period.

Daniel Stevens had a four point night for the Lions, scoring a hat trick, and assisting on the first goal of the game.

David Toonders and Nick McCaslin both had three point games, each with two goals and an assist.

Nick Thomas and Michel Thurler also counted three point games, with one goal and two assists each.

Drew Morrow had one goal and one assist for the Lions while Patrick Chesbro had a single goal. Connor Hodgson and Tommy Keyes were each credited with an assist in the 11-1 win.

Facing off against North Dundas, October 26, the Lions were in for a tougher battle.

North Dundas took a 2-1 lead after the first period. The Lions goal was scored by Drew Hutt. Drew Morrow and Connor Hodgson assisted.

The teams traded goals in the second period, after which North Dundas still held the lead 3-2. The Lions goal was scored by Connor Hodgson, and assisted by Matt McNairn.

The Lions equalized the game in a wide open third period by scoring four goal to North Dundas' three.

Scoring for the Lions were Nick Thomas, assisted by Daniel Stevens, Daniel Stevens, assisted by Tommy Keyes, Nick McCaslin, unassisted and David Toonders, assisted by Connor Hodgson.

Police remind public that 9-1-1 is for emergency only

SD&G – The Ontario Provincial Police yesterday sent out a media release to advise the public that 9-1-1 is for emergencies only.

Do not call OPP Communication Centres or dial 9-1-1 for road conditions and closures. These calls tie up emergency lines and may cause a delay in responding to those who need help immediately.

Quickly approaching is the time of year when the weather directly affects driving and road conditions, resulting in a significantly larger volume of callers reporting motor vehicle collisions to the OPP Communication Centres.

At the same time, OPP Communication Centres are swamped with phone calls from people looking for general road condition information. OPP Communication Centre call takers have reported that some people are even dialing the 9-1-1 Emergency Only number for that purpose. The public is reminded that these phone numbers are not intended for that use.

9-1-1 is the emergency telephone number that connects you to Police, Fire or Ambulance in an emergency situation. Calling 9-1-1 helps you reach emergency services when you require immediate assistance.

An emergency is any situation when the safety of people or property is at risk and requires immediate assistance. Examples of 9-1-1 emergencies include: a crime in progress, a fire or a medical emergency or simply, whenever police, fire or ambulance assistance is required immediately.

Provincial Communications Centres have been experiencing a large number of non-emergency 9-1-1 and prank calls. During the course of four randomly reviewed weekends eight per cent of 9-1-1 calls were actual emergencies while 92 per cent were non-emergent or prank calls.

Prank 9-1-1 calls defer operators from answering real emergency calls. If 9-1-1 lines or responders are busy with prank or non-emergent calls, someone with a real emergency might not get the immediate help that they need. It is against the law to call 9-1-1 as a joke.

9-1-1 should also not be used for non-emergent type calls such as: reporting a hydro outage, to obtain government information, for directory assistance, for information about school closings, or for directions, to name a few.

For non-emergent calls for service to the OPP the following numbers may be used: 1-888-310-1122 - O.P.P. (24-hr toll-free) or your local detachment during regular business hours (numbers are listed in the phone book) 1-888-310-1133 - O.P.P., TDD/TTY telephone (24-hour toll-free) Cellular *OPP (*677).

Don't program 9-1-1 into your home or cellular phones. There is a greater potential for dialing error and no significant time saved as an autodial number.

Finally, lock your cell phone when not in use so it does not accidentally dial 911. A great deal of time and/or effort is wasted when this occurs.

The public can call the Ministry of Transportation province-wide toll-free inquiry line at 1-800-268-4686 to obtain information about road conditions and closures. You can also visit their website at www.mto.gov.on.ca.

The Ontario Provincial Police would like to thank the public for their cooperation in this matter.

Lauzon from Parliament Hill

MP Guy Lauzon

OTTAWA – There is always some resentment when governments tell Canadians what to do on their own land and in their own homes. This is especially the case in rural areas. Throughout Canada there is a divide between the people who live in the ivory towers of our capital cities and the people who live off the land.

Take the Liberal rifle registry for example. Not only is there no evidence or logic to suggest that it is effective in reducing crime, but it also forces people to pay fees in order to continue owning tools they have owned legally for generations. Moreover, if you're a law-abiding gun owner, you are subject to arbitrary search and seizure of your property without a warrant. However, if you are a known violent criminal who is forbidden to own firearms, the police need a warrant to search your property. This is a backwards approach to gun control.

To provide another example, a Liberal government decades ago took over 88 thousand acres of land to build the Mirabel airport, although only five thousand acres were used for the airport. The government forced 3,200 people to move off their land, although they knew long before the expropriation was complete that the airport wouldn't need all the land. The government kicked 1,700 people off their land just to avoid the embarrassment of reversing its decision.

Last year, the Conservative Party said the government should return the unused land to the former owners. The Liberal government voted against the Conservative motion, but it passed with the support of all opposition parties. Unfortunately, the Liberals have so far ignored Parliament's decision on this issue.

A bill now before Parliament is worrying agricultural stakeholders. Bill C-27 would increase the powers of the Canadian Food Inspection Agency (CFIA), although the lack of accountability in the way the CFIA exercises its powers is already controversial. Recently, Parliament's Agriculture Committee made seven concrete recommendations to make the CFIA more accountable, but none of those recommendations are addressed in Bill C-27.

There are no checks and balances against the powers of the CFIA. A CFIA inspector could secure a warrant over the phone from a Justice of the Peace who knows nothing about food safety, enter the premises and seize the assets of an agricultural producer or processor, and shut down the operation without laying charges for up to 2 years. Even if no charges are ever laid, the property owner receives no compensation.

Conservative Members of the Agriculture Committee successfully pressed the committee to delete clauses that would have forced innocent property owners whose property was seized to pay the costs of the CFIA. However, the Liberals voted down our amendments to create checks and balances against CFIA powers. The Conservative Party remains opposed to Bill C-27.

The broad issue is that Canadians have no entrenched protection against seizure or destruction of their private property by the government. Conservative M.P. Scott Reid has introduced a bill that would change that by entrenching property rights in the Canadian Bill of Rights of 1960, which still overrides all federal legislation that is not explicitly exempted. Scott's bill would guarantee full, just and timely compensation for Canadians deprived by the federal government of the use or enjoyment of their property.

Governments sometimes have to take measures effecting private property for the sake of public safety, the environment, or other purposes. However, the government should compensate citizens when this occurs. Failing to do so can even work against the intent of the law. For example, in what is called the "shoot, shovel and shut up" phenomenon, landowners who realize there is an endangered species on their property might shoot the poor creature and bury it, because they can't afford to lose the use of their land without compensation. Providing compensation in such cases would be a win-win solution, making government policy more effective.

Entrenching private property rights is a key principle of the Conservative Party. Our policy promises we will work with the provinces to amend the constitution to entrench private property rights and guarantee fair compensation for those whose property rights are infringed. In the meantime, we will guarantee property rights through legislation like that proposed by Scott Reid.

Women's Institute 91st Convention

RENFREW–The 91st annual convention of the Eastern Area Women's Institute was held October 15 at the Renfrew Armories.

Hosted by the Renfrew South District W.I., the convention was attended by 219 Women's Institute members from throughout the area.

The meeting started at 9 a.m. with the "flag ceremony", O' Canada, the Institute Ode and Mary Stewart Collect, and introductions and welcoming greetings.

Reports were read and participants learned that the "total volunteer hours" for this year in the Eastern W.I. area (including local branches) were an outstanding 82,771.

The Eastern Area proposed budget was presented and included an extra $1 payment per member per year to be collected at the branch level and forwarded to the area executive to cover convention expenses. The financial statement was also presented and approved.

The 2005, Eastern Area W.I. Scholarship Award was presented to Prescott District member, Amanda St. Denis of Subdivision 1, Sunshine Branch.

During a delicious noon meal, entertainment was provided by the "Ottawa Valley Fiddlers and Step Dancers and a skit was performed. Following lunch, everyone had the opportunity to learn about antiques and sharing our heritage from Janet Carlile who is the Museum Curator in Arnprior. Many members had brought items to be explained and valued.

Carlile told her audience that our heritage is being swept under the carpet because of the lack of money from our politicians. Local museums don't receive much funding anymore. The audience was encouraged to spread stories of "old family memories" to our descendants because it is important to create "a line of history". This may be the only way our "country's history and artifacts" will be preserved.

She explained and appraised a number of articles and advised antique owners to photograph their antiques for validation of existence and to keep in a safe place with a written brief note of their history.

A silent auction followed with the proceeds helping to offset the costs of the convention.

The 2006 "Bernice Noblitt Awards" were on display and it was noted that all items for the competition must be in before 9 a.m. at next year's convention. It was announced the 2006 provincial conference will be held at Fanshawe College in London and the theme will be "everyone can change more..."

A "Vision Statement for W.I." was presented: What is W.I.? Women Interested; Women informed; Women Involved. A women's organization working together to improve the lives of families, communities and the world.

In 2003, the Erland Lee was named a National Historic Site as it was the birthplace of the W.I. in 1897. Now the Women's Institute is active in 65 countries. In Ontario, there are 900 WI members in 74 branches and 11 districts.

Getting a Few Last Minute Signatures

The St. Mary - St. Cecilia Catholic Women's League last Friday morning presented Member of Parliament Guy Lauzon with a petition to raise the age of sexual consent from 14 to 18 years of age. The petition was instigated by CWL member Cathy Groves, and in about two weeks just over 200 people signed the petition. When they were getting ready to present the petition, they solicited a few last minute signatures from passersby. Pictured above, Lauzon and Groves look on as Margaret Carruthers adds her name to the petition.
