Bits and Pieces

Linda Dingwall, 1971 Jersey Princess

Miss Linda Dingwall, Berwick, was crowned 1971 Jersey Princess at an interesting and keenly competitive contest in conjunction with the Eastern Jersey Youth Rally held at Russell, recently.

The annual event is sponsored by Jersey Breeders to promote interest among young people. Miss Dingwall succeeds Sharon Sharp, the 1970 princess.

They're still at it . . .

Multi-lane Highway 401 past Toronto always has left this Eastern Ontario native in awe. Believe it or not, more construction, in that area, is underway.

Highway repair crews decided to do some maintenance work last Thursday on a two-lane highway being used as an alternate route past the area under construction. You can just imagine the results as traffic was reduced to one lane past the repair crews. The traffic snarl was miles long.

Dairy Princess Competition

Winchester Community Park, on August 12, will be the setting for the crowning of the 1971 Dundas County Dairy Princess.

With interest at an all-time high it is assured the competition will be keen and lively.

The Winchester Lions and 100 Club have joined forces and are sponsoring a barbecue in conjuction with the affair.

For a most enjoyable evening be at Winchester Park next Thursday evening. Tickets are available from the local Milk Committee.

Has anyone else noticed?

We would voice one vote here that the powers that be in Ontario take a long look at the dilemma caused by swaying campers being towed along our highways with reckless abandon.

Either most cars are not capable or the trailers are not properly engineered to travel in a reasonably straight line, at highway speeds.

Did you ever try to pass a 15-odd-foot trailer, towed by a weak-suspended car in a brisk breeze while the driver applies his attention to adjusting his side mirror. We almost lost some paint.

New cattle ties for Fair Grounds

Last year we commented on the vast improvements made at the local fair grounds. That energetic, hard-working crew of Chesterville and District Agricultural Society are at it again.

This year's project, covered cattle ties, is just a small part of the long range plans for the local grounds.

The cattle ties at Chesterville Fair Grounds will take on a new look this year. Cattle will be shaded by a roof which will cover the cattle area. The work is being completed by volunteer help from the area. Muscle power and equipment were on the job on Monday to keep work progressing in order to have the task completed for the '71 fair. — Staff Photo.

NFU outlines policy at Ingleside meeting

Over 1,000 farmers converged on the small Seaway community of Ingleside Friday, to attend a meeting called by the National Farmers' Union. The meeting, held in a vacant parking lot directly opposite the Kraft Plant, attracted farmers from the Quebec border to Napanee.

Local representatives of the N.F.U. reviewed recent actions, including the picketing of the Kraft Plant on Thursday, July 29, which prevented the delivery of milk to the plant on that day. Several proposals for future action were presented should present policy fail to achieve the desired ends.

Farmers are seeking a basic minimum price of $5.74 per hundred for Industrial milk and a negotiating position which will enable them to maintain any increase they do achieve. A proposed increase of $1.15 per hundred has been offered, which would bring the price of Industrial milk to $5.14 from the present $3.99. However, this increase would be subject to monthly review.

Walter Miller, N.F.U. President, urged the farmers to continue their efforts until a collective bargaining position has been reached and threatened a nation-wide boycott if their demands were not met.

16,000 attend 24th annual Glengarry Highland Games in spite of unsettled weather termed "Scottish Mist"

An estimated 16,000 people converged on the Maxville Fair Grounds last Saturday as the 24th annual Glengarry Highland Games got underway.

Along with the overwhelming crowd a record number of 820 musicians comprising 41 bands participated in the days competition.

The Worcester Kilties from Mass., were the grand champions of the day winning the Gardiner Trophy in the Grade 1 class. The General Motors Pipe Band of Ajax, Ont., won top award in the Grade 2 category, while the Antigonish Pipe Band from Nova Scotia took first place honours in the Grade 3 bracket.

But it wasn't just a day of piping, as more than 60 young people took part in the highland lancing competitions. And a full slate of sports events, including the caber toss rounded off the day.

Guest of honor at the event was George MacMillan, eldest son of Sir Gordon MacMillan, chief of the Clan MacMillan from Scotland. Mr MacMillan is next in line to succeed his father as clan chief.

Also in the official party was his wife, Jane, and their three children. And accompanying them were Rev. Somerled MacMillan, clan bard and historian and his wife Janet.

The MacMillans arrived at the Games from Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., where a clan banquet was held last Fridy night. They are planning to spend a few more weeks in Canada.

Threatening skies throughout the afternoon did not stop an enthusiastic crowd. Master of ceremonies General Ken Grant of CFRA radio, Ottawa, termed the light showers at the opening of the day as "Scottish Mist".

Chairman of the Games Committee Angus H. McDonell, a true Glengarrian, was absolutely jubilant following the week-end event: "With a record number of bands and a remarkable crowd in spite of the weather, what more could you ask for".

The quarter century mark is coming up next year and Game officials guarantee that it will be an extra special event.

Ammunition on Your Lawn

Do you ever think when you're power mowing, that your lawn might be full of bullets . . . bullets that could zing out and hit you . . or your children. They're not real bullets, but they might as well be.

Actually, they're bits of wire, sticks or pebbles that get caught up in the spinning blades and shoot out, striking anyone or anything in their path.

Don't become one of the victims. Bar any and all ammunition from your lawn. According to the Ontario Safety League, all it takes is a preliminary check for sticks, stones and bits of glass and metal each time you mow your lawn.

Our Poisoned Air

Japan's planners are working on a project that would replace fueled ars in cities with computerized electric cars moving along elevated highways. Long-range plans in Japan envisage city travel in the future by using a combination of moving pedestrian footways, conveyor-belt capsules, unmanned computerized subway trains and the push-button electric cars.

The internal combustion engine that has polluted the air in most of the world's cities would face extinction — and of course the sooner the better. The air of our cities has been poisoned for long enough.

The Japanese, who must cope with the worst air pollution in Asia, are leading the field in regard to electric transportation. Planners say that in Japan the present automobile will be outlawed in the cities, but will be permitted to roam in the wide open spaces of the countryside.

The idea of electric cars moving along special highways is not entirely new. The minirail at Expo '67 showed Canadians what could be done. Canada should study the Japanese plans. The Soviet Union, for instance, already has developed its own electromobile.

We must fight not only polluted air but also poisoned water. In the United States, the environmental agency has announced that since 1960, about 145-million fish are known to have been killed by contaminated water. Polluted water now kills aout 50-million fish annually in U.S. rivers, lakes and streams. Every human being has a duty to fight pollution of the environment which is becoming a real threat to the health and progress of mankind.

Local NDDHS student enjoys ten-day holiday in Alberta

The following letter was received by Mr Howard Manchester, Principal of North Dundas District High School:

July 26, 1971

Mr. Manchester,

Now that I am back from my ten-day holiday in Alberta, I can well say that this experience was fantastic and wonderful. I was very proud to be priviliged to represent my school N.D.D.H.S. and the Communities of Chesterville and Winchester as a Jeune Voyageur.

I made many new and lasting friends with my fellow Voyageurs. We represented the area from Winchester to Rockland to Hawkesbury to North Lancaster. The people in Sylvan Lake, Alta., were very pleasant as well and made up feel right at home.

As a group we visited Calgary Stampede, Banff National Park and Lake Louise. Then many of us toured the country in various ways with our host families. On our first (July 12) and last (July 21) days, the Ontario Voyageurs had a guided tour of Montreal and Edmonton respectively.

I came to the conclusion that we have an outstanding country of which all Canadians should be proud of. Geographically, the landscape of Alberta is very different from ours and generally it impressed me very much. The land was either very flat with hardly any trees to obstruct the view or extremely hilly and mountainous. One of the highlights of my sightseeing was spectacular Lake Louise. The view was breath-taking.

I hope that this programme of the Jeunne Voyageurs will continue for a long time so that many more students will benefit from this great and gratifying adventure, as I did.

Sincerely, thank you.

Truly,

Annette Wouters (NDDHS)

EXCESSIVE PASTURING OF FARM WOODLOTS CONCERNS FORESTERS

In spite of continuing concern by foresters over the past few decades the practice of excessive grazing farm woodlots continues. No woodlot will remain in good conidtion when livestock are allowed to graze it.

Livestock grazing in a farm woodlot will brouse the hardwood seedling growth of caluable species such as, sugar maple, white ash and basswood, leaving species of little or no timber value such as , ironwood, blue beech and ribes plants to take over .

Heavy grazing livestock will trample an d break young sapling growth and their hooves will upset the delicate humus layer which serves to hold moisture.

The bark on older buttressed tree roots will be damaged exposing the wood in places to infection by wood rotting fungi.

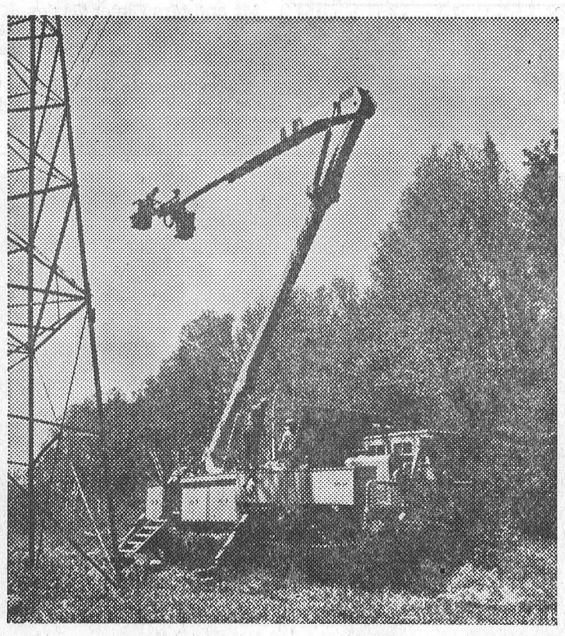
An overall decline in the health and vigour of the trees will be noticed over a decade or so. An absence of seedlings of valuable timber species will be noted. A compaction of the forest floor will occur as the humus and litter layers are disturbed. The main canopy layer of trees will gradually thin out as trees die thus exposing the forest floor to increased light. The increased light permits the establishment of grasses and a sod layer which largely prevents any further establishment of seedlings.

Continued heavy grazing causes dieback in the crowns of the once healthy trees. It also causes defective boles and trees blow down more often.

The food value of forage grown under shade is very small. Actually the only advantage of permitting livestock in the woodlot is protection from the sun. With that in mind, i t is advisable to fence the woodlot permitting the livestock to roam in an acre or less of woodlot to obtain shade.

Are the young trees in your woodlot mostly ironwoods? Do the trees look defective and unhealthy? Is the soil compacted? If so you will probably find your woodlot has a long history of grazing. The road to recovery of your woodlot will take many years, but you must start somewhere. Perhaps with a fence so the livestock can not get in next year.

Also call up your local forester and have him visit your woodlot to offer advice on the cutting that should be done to improve your woodlot.



Long Arm of the Foremost

Ontario Hydro's first "Foremost" makes life easier for linemen. The 29-ton, double-track vehicle lifts crews 75 feet in the air in insulated buckets, so they can work on live 230,000-volt lines without climbing towers. With this equipment much muscle work and fatigue is avoided, and senior linemen can work aloft with the younger members of the crew.

Motorists aren't likely to meet the Foremost on the highway — it's not a practical move for the 41-foot giant. While its plentiful track area rests lightly on a roadway's pavement (four pounds per square inch), at its maximum 12 miles an hour it indents the surface. So it rides from job to job on a companion 21-ton float.

Built in Calgary, the Foremost was originally designed to work in muskeg on the Alberta oil fields. Hydro added the insulated boom and buckets for line retensioning and other transmission applications. Ontario Hydro Photo.

Ann Landers . . .

Dear Ann Landers: You've laid it on the line insofar as the alcoholic and the compulsive eater are concerned. Now let's hear it for the nicotine addict. Those who are unsure of their status should take this test.

1. Do you, an otherwise polite and considerate person, feel it is your right to smoke whenever and whereever you feel like it?
2. Do you blame your smoker's cough and sinus trouble on an allergy, a cold, everything but the real cause.
3. Do you tell yourself you can quit smoking any time you want to?
4. Do you use as an excuse for not quitting the fact that you'll put on weight if you do?
5. Do you feel the need to light up a cigarette every time someone else does?
6. Do you feel betrayed and envious when a fellow smoker quits and tells you how much better he feels?
7. Do you try to hide from those close to you the true dimensions of your smoking habit,
8. Does your excessive smoking cause trouble between you and loved ones who want you to quit?
9. Have you ever run out of cigarettes and borrowed one from a person you didn't know very well — or, worse yet, a total stranger?
10. Do you reach for a cigarette when you are socially ill at ease or uptight?
11. Do you have a hate-love relationship with tobacco — one you'd really like to master if only you had the will power?
12. Were you reluctant to take this test, for fear of how you'd come out?

If you answer "yes" to ten out of twelve of these questions, you are hooked on tobacco and you'd better start thinking seriously about where it might lead you. — One Who Kicked It.

Dear One: Congratulations. The test is a good one — and so is your concluding suggestion. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann: I'm 14 and going with a guy who is 16. We broke up two weeks before Christmas but he can't seem to get it through his head that I am through with him.

He follows me all over, cries when I tell him to leave me alone and threatens to kill himself if I don't give him another chance.

My parents have made it plain that he is not welcome in our house so he hangs around the corner to see who I am going with. I feel as if I'm being spied on and I hate it.

This boy comes from a wealthy family and he is spoiled rotten. His folks have given him everythng he ever wanted and now that he has run up against something he can't have, it is driving him nuts. It is also driving me nuts because I feel so sorry for him. I also feel guilty because I let him get so hung up on me. If this boy kills himself I'll never be able to get it off my conscience.

Please tell me what to do. I'm — On Edge.

Dear Edge: This boy needs psychiatric treatment. If he doesn't quit hanging around and pestering you, I suggest that you telephone his parents and tell them that their son is very unhappy and in need of professional help. Good luck to you and please keep me posted.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen Age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Sends 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Inspect and protect your forest plantation

We have once again reached the time of year when young larvae of some defoliating insects are starting to emerge. These young larvae have healthy appetites and can quickly defoliate smaller trees. Therefore, anyone with a plantation should commence inspections to determine whether or not there are any insects present.

Insect populations usually build up slowly with only a few trees infected the first year. At this point, it is relatively easy to control the population. However, if this light attack is ignored, these larvae will mature, breed and spread. Therefore, in a period of 2 or 3 years the population could build up to epidemic proportions.

When the larvae (worms) first emerge they are small and may be difficult to see but they grow quickly to between 3-4 and 1 inch in length. It is during this period that control measures should be carried out by spraying with malathion or methoxychlor. The spray should be applied as soon as there is evidence that insects are present. Spray only affected trees. When using chemicals of any kind, always follow instructions on manufacturer's label.

If anyone has an insect problem and is not sure how to cope with it, contact your nearest office of the Department of Lands and Forests for advice.

Bogus American bills making appearance in Ont.

The Counterfeit and Forgery section of the Anti-Rackets Branch, Ontario Provincial Police, warn the public that counterfeit American currency is again being passed throughout Ontario.

Denominations of ten, twenty, fifty and one hundred dollars are being passed off on the unsuspecting public. The most popular, however, is a counterfeit ten which should be easy to tetect because of poor printing on the face of the note. It is described as a very poor facsimile. The Five most common serial numbers that have appeared on the tens to date are: A 30593-255 C, A 37954162 A, B 954683-55 A, A 94238850 A, A 29198289 B.

The public is advised that should they suspect they have received a counterfeit note the following steps be taken:

1. Do not return it to the passer — even if he offers to exchange it for a genuine note.
2. Delay the passer on any excuse if at all possilbe.
3. Call your police division or department.
4. Mentally obtain a good description of the passer.

If he runs out or leaves before the arrival of the police attempt to obtain his vehicle license number and write it down.

5. If you suspect you have a counterfeit note do not attempt to pass it off. The sentence for knowingly passing a counterfeit note is up to fourteen years.

Cardinal girl awarded George M. Moffett Scholarship

June Davy, daughter of Mr and Mrs Lawrence Davy, of Cardinal is the happy recipient of the George M. Moffett Scholarship awarded annually by the Whitehall Foundation to the sons or daughters of The Canada Starch Company Limited — a member company of CPC International Inc. June's father is a millright mechanic in the Machine Shop at the Cardinal Plant of The Canada Starch Company Limited.

June is a 1971 graduate of South Grenville D. H. S., Prescott, Ontario. She has been active in concerts and bands and has won honors in all subjects. She plans to use her scholarship at The University of Guelph.

Winners are chosen on the basis of scholastic ability, personality, participation in extra-curricular activities and other indications of character and capablity. There were 32 George M. Moffett Scholarships awarded to sons and daughters of CPC International who are secondary school seniors.

Ten Honorary Awards are given worldwide with primary emphasis upon the student's academic achievement, character, and future promise. These students have no financial need but have to keep the same high standards while working toward their degrees..

The scholarships are renewable for the regular four-year degree courses, if the students continue to meet the standards of the Scholarship Selection Committee. Scholarships for the college student applicants are for the balance of time required to attain a degree.

Since the Moffett Scholarship program started fourteen years ago, approximately 750 scholarships have been awarded. By the end of this year, the Whitehall Foundation will have paid over $1,600,000 to George M. Moffett scholarship participants; making this one of the nation's largest programs offering financial assistance for higher education to corporate employees and their children.

George M. Moffett was President of Corn Products from 1931 to 1945. The company today is a leading manufacturer and marketer of consumer and industrial products. CPC International Inc. has 44,000 employes operating at more than 115 plants and research facilities in the U.S. and 39 countries abroad.

Malcolm F. McRae

An impressive tribute to the memory of Malcolm F. McRae, one of the district's best known and most highly respected citizens, was paid at the funeral service, held last Friday afternoon in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore.

Mr McRae, who among his many positions was deputy-reeve of Roxborough Township, was found dead in his home late Tuesday afternoon, July 27th, the apparent victim of a heart seizure. The announcement of his death came as a great shock to members of his family and to a host of associates and friends throughout the area.

Born in the Sixth Concession of Roxborough Township 63 years ago last March 3rd, Mr McRae was the son of the late Farquhar McRae and his wife, Rachael Alguire. Educated locally Mr McRae continued to live on the home farm until he sold it and moved with his wife and family to the village of Avonmore seven years ago.

He was a village trustee in Avonmore for a number of years. Two years ago he was eleceed deputy - reeve of Roxborough Township, a position he filled with great distinction. As a valued member of Counties Council he has been chairman of the S. D. & G. Library Board and a member of the Glen-Stor-Dun Committee.

For 16 years, prior to the creation of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education, Mr McRae served as secretary - treaurer of the Roxborough Township School Area Board. During the last year of his tenure in office he worked diligently for the building of the new Roxmore Public School at Avonmore.

During the past 18 months Mr McRae's greatest involvement was perhaps in his role as chairman of the committee in Roxborough Township, charged with the responsibility for securing a doctor for the Township and in the establishment of a modern medical clinic. under Mr McRae's leadership both projects were crowned with success with Dr. Ian Taylor's acceptance of the Committee's invitation to set up his practice locally and the completion of the new medical clinic for Roxborough Township just east of the village of Avonmore.

For several years he has been secretary-treasurer of the Roxborough Agricultural Society, which annually sponsors the fall Fair in Avonmore. At the time of his death he was giving much time and effort into organizing this year's edition scheduled to be held later this month.

In the comunity he was secretary of the Avonmore and District Chamber of Commerce and president of the Avonmore Bowling League.

A devoted lodge member, Mr McRae was a past worshipful master of Avonmore Lodge, No. 452, A.F. & A.M. and for many years the Lodge's efficient secretary. He was a past First principal of the Glengarry Chapter of the Royal Arch. On two occasions he was worthy patron of the Finch Signet Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mr McRae's greatest devotion, outside his home, was his church. In 1947 he was ordained an elder on the Session of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and on occasion represented the local congregation at meetings of the Presbytery of Glengarry. He was chairman of the Board of Managers for a number of years. At the time of his death he was congregational secretary. He was a strong supporter and a former secretary - treasurer of the Avonmore Branch of the Canadian Bible Society.

In recent years Mr McRae was employed in Glenn B. McMillan's Insurance Agency in Avonmore.

On Dec. 2, 1942, he married Jessie McLean, of Moose Creek. In addition to his wife, he leaves to mourn his passing two daughters, Miss Katie McRae, on the teaching staff of Merivale High School, Ottawa; and Miss Nancy McRae, a recent graduate of Carleton University, Ottawa; and one sister, Mrs Duncan McMaster, (Bella), of Avonmore.

Thursday evening the brethren of the Masonic Order conducted a service of remembrance at the funeral home. Hundreds of friends paid their respects both at the Brownltee Funeral Home and at the service in St. Andrew's Church.

Members of the United Counties Council and the Kirk Session of St. Andrew's Church attended the funeral in a body.

Rev. W. E. Sayers, M.A., conducted the service and brought a comforting message. Hymns sung were "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "Take Comfort, Christians". Miss Brenda McIntyre presided at the console.

Pall bearers were Glenn B. McMillan, Gordon McLean, Ronald Buchanan, James McRae and Martin McElheran.

Interment was made in the family plot in the sixth concession of Roxborough Cemetery.

Relatives and friends attended the funeral from such distant points as Kitchener, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Cornwall, North Tonawanda, N.Y., Massena and Smiths Falls.

A wealth of beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket. The members of the sorrowing family received many messages of sympathy.

Hazel Pearl Tinkess

Mrs Hazel Pearl Tinkess, widow of the late Carl Tinkess, and a well-known resident of Long Sault, died June 30, 1971. She was 64.

Born on October 2, 1906, she was the daughter of the late Preston Eamer and his wife, the former Hettie Markell. The deceased, who lived at Osnabruck Centre for most of her adult life, was a native of the former village of Wales, an d had lived at her old home for the past five years.

Mrs Tinkess took training as a Nurses' Aide and worked at Cornwall General Hospital for seventeen years.

A special service was conducted by the Royal Canadian Legion on July 2, 1971.

IN MEMORIAM

CASSELMAN — In loving memory of J. Frank Casselman, who passed away on July 27, 1970.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought the end was near,
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
More each day we miss you, brother,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Recalls pro-hockey days--

Fred 'Cyclon' Taylor recent visitor to Upper Canada Village

Frederick Wellington "Cyclone" Taylor, one of hockey's great immortals and the oldest living professional hockey player, was a recent visitor to Upper Canada Village and other recreational facilities operated by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

Although advanced in years he was keenly interested in the recreational complex developed by the Commission and in a leisurely tour accompanied by Dr. J. A. Phillips, Commissioner, and G. W. Arthurs, Public Relations Officer, discussions on the history of Loyalist Settlement and hockey provided a delightful contrast.

While "Cyclone" was reluctant to talk about his personal fame and contribution to hockey he reminisced about those early days and the changes in the sport which have occurred over the years. Born at Tara, Ontario, he played his first hockey at Listowel and when about twenty years of age moved to Portage LaPrairie to play in the Manitoba Senior Amateur League in the United States, which was the fore-runner of Professional Hockey and at that time there were no ice markings whatever.

In December, 1907, Canadian Hockey promoters started teams in Ottawa, Toronto, Montreal, and Quebec and these four teams were the real beginning of Pro Hockey in Canada. In Ottawa "Cyclone" became one of the famous "Silver Seven" and stayed two years. Coahed by Pete Green, the "Silver Seven" — Percy Lesure at Goal, Harvey Pulford at the Point, "Cyclone" Taylor at Cover-point, Marty Walsh at Centre, Harry Westwick at Rover, Alf Smith at Right Wing and Tom Phillips at Left Wing — wrote a chapter in hockey that will live as long as the game is played.

As we strolled through the Village "Cyclone" recalled with a twinkle in his eye the famous occasion on March 17, St. Patrick's Day, 1910, when he skated backwards the length of the ice to score a legendary goal.

While playing hockey at Portage LaPrairie in Manitoba, Sports Writers nicknamed him "Tornado"". Later when playing in the U.S. Professional Hockey League he was called "Thunderbolt". After scoring four goals in a game at Ottawa, Sport Writer Malcolm T. Brice of the Ottawa Free Press christened him 'Cyclone" and this nickname has remained all through the years.

With some nostalgia 'Cylcone" recalled that when he went to play for the Renfrew Millionaires he was paid $5250 for one year which of course was an exceptional salary at that time.

During his hockey career he always played at the 'Coverpoint'. It was not until 1911 when the Patrick Brothers initiated the numbering of hockey sweaters that "Cyclone" wore the number Four and did so for the remainder of his hockey career. Up to this time hockey games were sixty minutes duration with no substitutions and again it was the Patrick Brothers who started the three twenty minute periods.

Taylor played on two Stanley Cup teams, in Ottawa in 1909 and Vancouver in 1915.

The son of a member of Parliament for Burrard, B.C., "Cyclone" was married in 1914 and has five children. He has had many honours. He was the first living hockey player to be elected to the Hall of Fame in 1948. He was awarded the OBE in the last war and was Citizen of the Year in Vancouver in 1966. He was appointed Commissioner of Immigration for British Columbia and the Yukon in 1924 and retired in 1950.

Today in the twilight of his years Fred "Cyclone" Taylor is quiet and unassuming with a rich sense of humour. In the annals of hockey it is recorded that during a game played in February 1913 between Vancouver and Victoria, Taylor scored seven goals. When asked about this feat his reply was a typically modest one that he just 'felt like skating.'

"Cyclone" Taylor's visit to Upper Canada Village was indeed a pleasant journey through history and we look forward to a return visit by this great Canadian Sports figure whose fame has enriched the sports scene for nearly seven decades.

DUNDAS FARM NEWS

Weed Control a Problem in Corn Fields

During a recent tour of corn fields in Dundas County, one problem stood out. Poor weed control. Although unfavorable weather can be partially blamed it was evident that many farmers are not sure of the weed problem they have. It is hindsight as far as doing anything for this year's crop, however, the problem should serve as a guide for a weed control program for next year.

What are the problems

The annual grasses, crabgrass, foxtail and barnyard grass are the main weeds missed by present weed control programs.

Crab grass is a late germinating annual grass that germinates over a prolonged period of time. As a result, crabgrass is not readily controlled by an ordinary oil-atrazine treatment. On the other hand foxtail and barnyard grass will be caught by the oil-atrazine treatment if sprayed at the two-leaf stage.

Three herbicides are on the market to specifically control annual grasses.

Sutan at a rate of 3 pounds active mixed with one pound active atrazine and worked into the soil before planting has given the best control of annual grasses and broadleafs.

Two pounds of Laso mixed with one pound active atrazine applied as a tank mix after the corn is planted but before the corn emerges is effective in controlling crab grass. However rainfall within a week after application is necessary for the herbicide to work effectively.

Bladex at rate of 2 pounds active plus a pound active atrazine has given similar results as Lasso. However there is a tendency for Bladex to miss barnyard grass so that farmers with a barnyard grass problem should consider another herbicide.

Another weed problem is the increasing amount of yellow nutsedge (nut grass) found in the Dundas county corn fields.

Nutsedge is a perennial weed that is reproduced by tubers. Because of the tubers the nutsedge cannot be eradicated from corn fields in one year but may take two, three years or longer. Herbicide programs that reduce top growth and weaken the tubers have been the most successful so far.

There are two herbicides available to be worked into the soil before the corn is planted.

Three pounds of Eptam mixed with a pound active atrazine and incorporated with 2 cultivations at right angles with heavy discs or a vibrating cultivator. Planting must be delayed 7 to 10 days before seeding and the treatment should not be used on coarse sandy soils.

Sutan and atrazine applied in the same manner and rates has provided similar control without restrictions to soil type or delay in planting.

A split application of Atrazine using 2 pounds active applied early in the spring and another 2 pounds applied in the early post emergence stages when the nutgrass is in the spike stage has given satisfactory control.

Farmers should check their fields now to see what their weed control program should be for next year.

KITCHEN CORNER

Summer Salads

Summertime is salad time and that is when cooked ham really comes into it's own. Plan for leftovers when you bake or boil ham or cook some just to have on hand for cold cuts, salads and sandwiches, or buy it canned or sliced and ready to use. It makes summer menu planning a breeze.

Ham and Egg Salad

1 pound baked or boiled ham
3 hard cooked eggs
4 green onions and tops, finely chopped
2 tsp. finely chopped capers
1/3-½ cup mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing
Salt and pepper
Paprika

Grind ham; mash eggs and add to ham along with green onions and capers. Blend in mayonnaise, adding just enough to moisten salad mixture. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Refrigerate for an hour to blend flavours, then spoon into lettuce cups and sprinkle with paprika.

Simply add potato chips, sliced tomatoes and cucumbers to the salad plates and serve with hot crusty rolls for an easy to fix family meal. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chef's Salad

8 cups crisp salad greens
1 pound baked or boiled ham, cut in thin strips
4 ounces Swiss cheese, cut in thin strips.
1 small cucumber, cut in chunks
6 green onions, sliced
6 radishes, sliced
Salt and pepper
½-¾ cup oil and vinegar dressing or French dressing
3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
3 tomatoes, cut in wedges

Place cold crisp salad greens in a large wooden salad bowl or in individual wooden bowls. Add two-thirds of the ham and cheese strips, plus the cucumber chunks, sliced green onions and radishes. Season with salt and pepper. Add dressing and toss lightly. Top with remaining ham and cheese strips, egg slices and tomatoe wedges. Arrange spoke fashion in alternate groups.

Serve immediately and pass additional dressing. Makes 6 to 8 meal size servings or 12 appetizer salads. Best with hot crusty bread or rolls.

Hot Potato Salad

6 medium-size potatoes
8 slices side bacon, diced
1 large onion, finely chopped
¼ cup cider vinegar
½ cup chicken stock
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 egg yolks
2 tbsp. water

Cook potatoes in boiling water until just tender, then drain. Cut hot potatoes into cubes and place in a heat-proof dish; keep hot.

Panfry bacon until almost crisp, then add onion and cook for 2 minutes. Add vinegar, chicken stock, salt and pepper; simmer 2 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in egg yolks which have been beaten with the water. Pour mixture over hot potatoes and combine gently.

Serve with sliced cold ham and perhaps some tomato and cucumber slices. Makes about 6 servings.

"It's the man about the wiring, ma'am."

It's true, living in any older home without up-to-date wiring just doesn't hold a candle to truly modern electrical living.

The changes that electrical modernization brings will brighten your life throughout every room in your home – for years to come. You'll have more outlets and switches where you want them, better performance from your appliances – and you can even add the year-round comfort of electric climate control.

And rewiring an older home needn't be complicated or expensive. The cost will probably be less than you imagine, and the Hydro Finance Plan makes it easy for you to budget.

REPORT From QUEEN'S PARK

by
F. M. Cass, Q.C., M.P.P,

The fourth and probably last Session of the Ontario Parliament finally adjourned on Wednesday, July 28th - after three late night sittings ending at 2 a.m., 3:15 a.m. and 4:30 a.m. respectively and with the House re-opening each following day at 10:00 a.m. Consequently the members and the House staff have welcomed the summer recess.

All Departmental estimates were completed and the Supply Bill to provide money for provincial govvernment services during the current year duly passed, although the debate on the budget was not completed. Prior to adjournment some 21 new bills were given Royal Assent to bring the total for this Session to some 125. Among this last group were several very important and rather controversial bills, such as that to initiate no-fault automobile insurance, to preserve the environment, to regulate pits and quarries, to enfranchise young people at age 18 and give legal liquor consuming rights to them (although the sections of the bill to convert young people into adults at law at age 18 with full contract and other similar rights and powers, will not be proclaimed in force for some time) and certain changes in the Election Act.

Whether or not this Legislature will meet again in late summer or early Fall remains, off course. in the sole discretion of Prime Minister Davis. There is important legislation which it seems the Government would wish to have enacted before a general election, but an early dissolution of this Parliament followed by an election in early September is quite a possibility.

Despite it's late opening, due to change in the Conservative Party and government leadership, the present 4th Session of the 28th Parliament of Ontario has recorded, as outlined above, an impressive list of legislation, much of it making changes in long standing laws but reflecting the changing attitude of our people - such as voting and drinking, environment preservation, more lenient laws concerning consumption of alcohol.

Should the Legislature be dissolved and the general election called without completing this Session just ended, this will, of course, be my last report to you, my constituents for so many years. I have appreciated the courtesy of the Editor in printing these short reports each week during the various Sessions; equally have I appreciated the many comments I have received from readers.

Olive joins me in wishing all a safe, restful and happy summer.

Beckstead family reunion held at Farran Park

The seventh annual Beckstead Reunion was held at Farran's Park on July 25. These reunions evolved from a large gathering of relatives in 1964, at the home of the late Chas. S. Beckstead. Over the years the crowds have varied from a hundred to nearly five hundred. Our greatest obstacle seems to be too many events on our summer week ends.

Most of this year's participants were related to Rev. I.N. Beckstead, Ottawa, Ontario, who is nearing his one hundredth birthday. Of special significance were tributes from Queen's University honouring him as their oldest living graduate, and for his many years of service to the Presbyterian and United Churches. A birthday card was signed by about ninety members of the Beckstead family. Maurice thanked his uncle for giving us the early history of our ancestors, local churches, schools, etc.

A minutes silence paid tribute to departed relatives. Of these the late Fred A. Beckstead is greatly missed. His musical contribution was well received and faithfully given each year. We hope others will be inspired to use such talents as they possess.

Mr and Mrs Jas. O. Beckstead flew from Winnipeg to Cobourg, and came with Mr and Mrs W.L. Christie. Jas. O. Beckstead, 88, retired High School principal after a long career of teaching, is still very active and interested in geneology.

This couple won the prize for the longest distance travelled, edging out the Harry Thomas family, Vermont, U.S.A. Other prizes were: oldest man present, Matthew B., 93; oldest woman, Mrs Allen B., 90; youngest member present, Danny Barkley, 16 months; largest family, Mr and Mrs David Watson and their six children, Brockville; shortest name, Mrs Mary Hess; birthday nearest February 29, Mrs Frank B., South Mountain.

A short program was conducted by Maurice Beckstead, giving the history of the early settlers of German descent, U.E.L. etc. Francis, Carl, and Mervyn Beckstead were in charge of races for the children.

The reunion proved a happy occasion for all present.
