Metcalfe Students Win W. H. S. Public Speaking Honours

By Beverley Hunt

The annual Public Speaking Competition for Winchester High School was held in the Winchester Town Hall on Friday evening, March 12th. Winner of the Alumni Cup in the Lower School Competition was Keith Brownell, of Metcalfe, who spoke on "Metcalfe." Miss Lois Carson, also of Metcalfe, who spoke on "Why Is Rural Teaching Unattractive?" won the McMaster Cup in the Middle and Upper School Competition.

The judges for the evening were, Mr. B. Higginson, B.A., Principal of the Finch High School; Miss Mabel Pacey, B.A., and Mr. J. Grant, B.A., also from Finch.

Mr. J. H. Willard, B.A., was chairman for the evening. Miss Kathleen Fennell was pianist for the National Anthem, following which Miss E. Runions, B.A., introduced the Lower School competitors.

The six contestants from Lower School who spoke in the following order, were: Ann Glenn, Buddy Coons, Mary Barkley, Ann Carkner, Keith Brownell and Helen Larocque.

There was an intermission midway during these speeches, when the audience was entertained by two musical numbers. The first number was "The Three Bells," performed by the Sextette, consisting of Carolyn Alford, Norma Bailey, Joan Clarke, Marilyn Dawson, Kathleen Fennell and Louise Summers, under the direction of Mr. J. Potvin, B. A., assisted by Miss E. Runions, B.A. The second number was "Crying In The Chapel," a solo by Buddy Coons. Pianist for the solo and for the sextette throughout the evening was Miss Phyllis Wynn.

While the judges retired to make their decision, Mr. J. Potvin led in community singing. The judges' report was brought in by Mr. B. Higginson, who announced Keith Brownell as winner, and Mary Barkley as runner-up. This concluded the Lower School portion of the evening.

Mr. O. Froggett, M.A., introduced the Middle and Upper School competitors. There were eight contestants in this group, who spoke in the following order: Shirley Arbuthnot, George Holmes, Irene Campbell, Kathleen Rawlings, Beverley Hunt, Murray Shane, Lois Carson and Donna Robertson.

Again there was an intermission midway through these speeches, while the sextette sang the popular number, "Heart Of My Heart." When the judges retired to come to a decision, the sextette again entertained the audience with a very beautiful rendition of "Blue Moon," with Miss Louise Summers taking the solo parts.

The judges selected Shirley Arbuthnot, Lois Carson and Murray Shane to give the three impromptu speeches. While these contestants were preparing their topics, Miss Kathleen Rawlings led in a community sing-song.

After the impromptu speeches, the judges announced they had selected Miss Lois Carson as winner, with Murray Shane as runner-up.

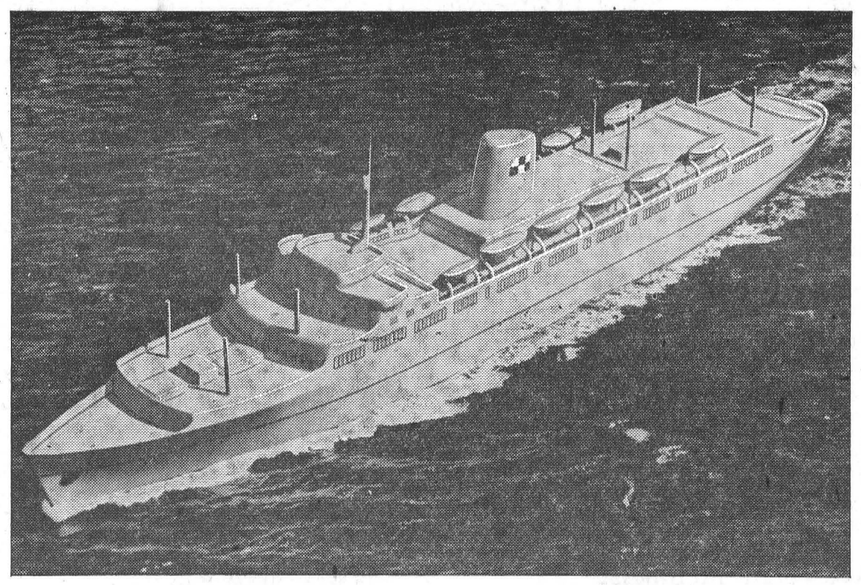
Mr. W. A. Servage, B.A., was called upon for the presentation of the Alumni Cup, following which Mr. Hugh McMaster presented the McMaster Cup.

Miss Estella Fawcett thanked the teachers for the inspiration and work which had gone into the public speaking competitions. Miss Eleanor Brown thanked the judges for their services. Miss Norma Bailey was pianist for "O Canada," which concluded a very worthwhile evening.

Mrs. E. Slingerland, Home Economics Classes and the committee served refreshments in the Legion Hall to over one hundred guests, including the teachers, judges, contestants, the contestants' parents, and the students responsible for the musical selections.

The Student Council extends sincerest congratulations to Lois and Keith, and to all who took part.

"New Look" For New C. P. R. Liner



A scale model of two new 23,000-ton streamlined ships now on order by the Canadian Pacific Steamships for transatlantic service is shown above making a realistic trial run in a British tank. The 21-knot liners with rakish lines and echelon decks will bring a "new look" to Canada's 1,000-mile inland portion of the transatlantic route when they go into service in 1956 and 1957. Contract for constructing the second ship was let in Great Britain recently by A. C. MacDonald, of Montreal, managing director of Canadian Pacific Steamships, to Vickers-Armstrongs Ltd., while the first, which will be named Empress of Britain, has been under construction since last Fall by Fairfields, Ltd. Specially designed for the Canada-United Kingdom service, the liners will have accommodation for 900 tourist passengers and 150 first class passengers, as well as 380,650 cu. ft. of cargo space. The sister ships will be 635 feet in length, 85 feet in breadth, and will draw 29 feet fully loaded. The name of the second ship has not yet been chosen.

Mr. Geo. T. VanBridger Becomes Manager of Bowmanville Hydro

Hydro and the name VanBridger, are now almost synonymous. Friends of George T. VanBridger were gratified to learn recently that he had been appointed Manager of Bowmanville Public Utilities Commission.

Associated with Hydro in various capacities since 1913, he succeeds George E. Chase who was Bowmanville P. U. C. Manager for 37 years. Mr. Chase was granted leave of absence during 1953 until January, 1954, when his retirement on pension became effective, at which time Mr. VanBridger assumed the full status of Manager.

Born and educated at Winchester, Ontario, Mr. VanBridger has been associated with Ontario Hydro and in the municipal utility field since 1929 when he started his career as a lineman. He later served as a meter shop superintendent and foreman with the Commission's Winchester and Lancaster Rural Operating Areas. Between 1941 and 1946 he was Manager and Secretary-Treasurer of the Iroquois Hydro Electric and Waterworks System. Prior to his recent appointment, Mr. VanBridger was, for seven years, Assistant Manager of the Bowmanville Commission.

His father, the late T. O. VanBridger, operated a steam electric plant and grist mill at Winchester from 1908 to 1913, at which time Winchester became part of the Hydro family and Mr. VanBridger became Manager of the Winchester R.P.D., latterly Winchester R.O.A., a position he held until his death three years ago, when he was succeeded by Mr. Al. Beardsall.

Local Juniors Drop Close Decision To Cornwall Team

Fate, and two cheap third-period penalties, contributed largely to Winchester Juniors elimination from further competition in the Jr. B hunt for the O.D.H.A. Citizen Shield Saturday night in Cornwall, as the St. Columban Youth Club from the Friendly City edged the locals in a last minute thriller 5-4 to win the third and deciding game in the best of three semi-final round. The win gave the Cornwall team the right to advance against Pembroke Juniors in the next to the last round for the coveted Citizen Shield. The game was a complete reversal from the first two free-scoring duels.

Breezing along with a 4-1 lead, the Juniors run headlong into a pile of referee trouble in the final twenty that resulted in four quick Cornwall tallies, and that was all it took.

Lloyd Bailey, probably one of the district's cleanest and best Junior hockey players, was chased by Referee Gus Lafontaine at the 1.17 mark of the final session for what was called high sticking. Less than three minutes later, Ross McMillan was sent to the sin-bin for another minor infraction, and the shortage in manpower started to show. In eight minutes the Columbans clicked for four goals, with Baker picking up what proved to be the winner at the 11.07 mark. With less than nine minutes remaining in the game, the kids from home turned on the power, but penalties to Earl Bleeks and a second one to Lloyd Bailey kept them shorthanded and unable to score.

Early in the last session Don. Duncan broke away from the rest of the pack and appeared to have the one that would have given the locals the game, but he hit the post, and Cornwall recovered long enough to clear the puck.

For almost fifty minutes Saturday night Winchester carried the play, with the blue and white gang checking their opponents into the ice. Lloyd Bailey opened the scoring midway through the opening stanza. St. John evened it up five minutes later for Cornwall.

Ross McMillan, hard driving utility man, who can play up front or defence equally well, was the hero in a losing cause. Set-up by Bailey and Duncan in the sandwich session, Ross blinked the light twice to give Winchester the lead. His play all through the series was topped on Saturday night by a tremendous performance. Gord. Kerr's marker at the 15.28 mark of the same session increased Winchester's lead to three goals, and going into the third it looked like only a matter of time for Cornwall.

Then the curtain fell! And before the home town puck squad could get re-organized, it was too late.

—Blue Notes—

The loss was a heart-breaker for Winchester, a team that played a lot of clean, hard-driving hockey, a team that deserved to win. The St. Columbans, however, proved to be the cleanest squad to come out of Cornwall in many a season — Earl Bleeks, who was eating up hockey at the end of the season, was a bulwark on defence — In this writer's opinion the refereeing in the third period Saturday night left much to be desired—some of the calls were definitely cheap, and there's no doubt that the four infractions suffered by the locals in the final stanza had a lot to do with their losing the contest — Bill Sherwood, youngest player on the ice, turned in one of his best efforts — Hugh Balkwill, who plays on the same line as Bill, missed the second game through sickness, but was back for the final, and turned in a heads-up game — Bruce Steinburg was home sick with tonsilitis — Only two rounds away from the Jr. B Crown, and that represents the furthest a Junior team from this town has gone in a long, long time — Eleven penalties were handed down, six of them going to Winchester and four of the six coming in that crucial third period — The Winchester Junior Hockey Club deserves a lot of credit this year, and to-morrow night they will be honoured by the 100 Club. The hockey season for the Juniors will officially wind up next month at the banquet and dance which is being planned by the Club.

Provincial Grants Benefit Smaller Municipalities

A new per capita grant for the year 1954-55 will bring Winchester $1801.50, it was learned this week. This represents an increase of almost 100 per cent. over the $948.42 received last year from the old Police, Fire or 1 Mill Grant to municipalities. Because of its inequality, the grant has been changed so that it will benefit the municipalities more in the way of reveuue.

The Dundas County grant for municipallities looks like this:

	1954 Per Capita Grant	1953 P. F. or 1-Mill Grant
Chesterville	$1641.00	$1055.47
Morrisburg	2787.00	1655.16
Iroquois	1629.00	1272.15
Winchester	1801.50	948.42
Matilda	4580.80	195.96
Mountain	3929.60	208.63
Williamsburg	4286.40	222.53
Winchester Tp.	4129.60	235.37

Note—The Grant to the Home for the Aged and Children's Aid will be paid over and above this grant.

Compared to their 1952 tax revenue, the percentage of grants townships, villages and towns will receive will be higher than that of cities, according to the New Per Capita Provincial Grants posting, as announced last week in the Legislature, when Premier Leslie Frost reviewed the Budget.

Following is a run-down of the amounts to the different municipalities and the percentage each total represents. The figures also show that in 1943 only $19,697,486 were forthcoming from the province.

Cities to receive, $95,304,000—6.56%.

Towns to receive, $18,901,000—6.91%.

Villages to receive, $5,268,000—6.87%.

WINCHESTER THEATRE NEWS

In the past year many have applauded Audie Murphy's acting as a cowboy. "Tumbleweed," named after Audie's horse, is a saga of the early south-west. Lorie Nelson and Chill Wills co-star with Audie to make this feature unusually good entertainment.

We would draw your attention to the new Saturday night starting time of 6.30 p.m. This earlier start should prove a great convenience to our patrons. The double bill programs will show both pcitures twice on Saturday nights.

—Show Starts—

Every night except Saturday at the usual 7.30 p.m. Saturday evening at 6.30 p.m. Saturday Matinee as before at 2.00 p.m.

"Walking My Baby Back Home," showing Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 22, 23 and 24, is another Musical and Dance "must see" for all who liked "By The Light Of The Silvery Moon," and "Cruising Down The River." The stars are Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh, Lori Nelson and Scat Man Crothus, the coloured musical wonder. There are thirteen hits sung and danced in this feature, such as "Walking My Baby Back Home," "Down In The South," "Honeysuckle Rose," "The Glow Worm," De Comptown Races," "Hi Lee, Hi Lo," and "The Muskrat Ramble."

HOSPITAL GETS NEW $10,200 GRANT FROM PROVINCE

At a time when the Winchester District Memorial Hospital is contemplating expansion, the new grant of $10,200 from the province comes as a pleasant surprise. Mr. A. P. Alford, hospital manager, said last week, on learning of the new grant.

Based on $300 per bed in service, the local hospital was credited with 34 beds, although the average number of patients per day is higher than that number. Mr. Alford said that the grant came at a time when some redecorating and replacement of equipment would be needed at the hospital. He also mentioned the Board's plan of erecting a nurses' residence.

Other United Counties' hospitals receiving the new grant were Cornwall General, $43,800, and Hotel Dieu, $40,200.

The grants were announced last Thursday by Premier Leslie M. Frost as he reviewed the 1954 budget before the Legislature.

ST. PATRICK'S WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

ADJUSTMENTS AND IMPROVEMENTS

In its lifetime the old Campbell Press that so well served the needs of this newspaper, printed well over 3,500,000 copies of the Press, and never a break-down. And so, it was with tear-dimmed eye last Wednesday that we reluctantly wrote "30" to the old job, thanked it for the loyal service, and welcomed in our newest addition, a Miehle No. 1 newspaper press, with automatic folder from Omaha. At the same time, we also installed a New Series Chandler & Price Job Press, which, we hope, will further improve the service to our customers.

Putting out an edition, tearing down one newspaper press, and unloading two new units is quite a job for one day, but it all happened here last week. At four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon dismantling operations of the old press got under way. Four hours and ten minutes later the newest additions were off the big float from Toronto, and setting on the shop floor of our office. By Monday, the Miehle was in operation, and we had survived the struggle, but not without considerable planning and much work.

Prior to installation of the new equipment. this weekly increased in page size last week from seven to eight columns, and tentative arrangements are being made for a further changeover in equipment at a later date. Such adjustments in a newspaper office are the direct result of an increased volume of business.

Increased business means a greater number of satisfied customers. To-day, the Press is just hedging the 2000-mark in circulation, and it is to these people, as well as our advertisers and job printing clients, that we are able to improve our service, which we sincerely hope will benefit everyone concerned.

TOO MUCH FUSS

External Affairs Minister L. B. "Mike" Pearson, quite a sports follower himself, says there has been too much fuss over the Canadian hockey team's defeat by the Russians. Speaking at a political meeting, Mr. Pearson said: "Instead of criticizing, we should congratulate the team which won all but the last game, and congratulate the team that won that one. And we should make sure that the next time we take part we send the best team we can get together. Then we will have no regrets, win or lose." And we agree!

The Russians, in eight short years, have won the World Hockey Championship in their first try. According to our standards of hockey, we know that the Russian team would be humiliated by any one of a number of Canadian teams which were unable to make the trip. Instead, the Toronto Lyndhursts were sent, as a third or fourth choice possibly. This team, undoubtedly, did its best. It lost only one game,and that's not a bad record. The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the Lyndhursts, we feel, have been unjustly criticized. True, the Association may have fallen down in not selecting a better team, but as the secretary-manager has so clearly stated, where was a higher calibre team to be found in this country that would go, or better still, that could afford to go? The way hockey is to-day, with all its professionalism and commercialization, it is doubtful if even the C.A.H.A. will be able to pick a good enough team, unless the necessary funds—and they are high—are made available. One thing is certain. Some worthwhile effort should be made now to make arrangements for the next round, because Canada, of all countries, should be represented.

And if the Russians win, then let's give credit where it is due. Banish the thought if our nation's representatives in International affairs were to have the same attitude as some of our so-called Canadian sports critics.

HIGHWAY EXPENDITURE LESS?

Of the $17,000,000 appropriation towards the improvement of Eastern Ontario Roads, The Ottawa Journal hopes that some of this money will be used for repairs to Highways 16 and 31.

A good thought, and one worth consideration by the Department of Highways. Further to the Highway picture in this area, The Journal states: "Both these roads—arteries leading to the Capital of the country—are dangerous, narrow, curving; have been neglected for years."

Of Highway 16, this is true, but not so where Highway 31 is concerned. The Ottawa-Morrisburg Highway in the last few years has received considerable attention, and at present is an excellent paved road for 32 of its 46 miles—or that portion of the road between Morrisburg and a point one mile north of the Metcalfe corner. From there to the city limits of the Capital the road is as The Journal has so vividly described. and more so. It needs attention this year—and so does Highway 16, another important link between Ottawa and Highway No. 2.

What we cannot understand is why the $124,000,000 that will be spent on Highways this year, is three million dollars less than the 1953 expenditure. Our roads aren't that good yet!

HEALTH INSURANCE

There is a remarkable story of progress in the booklet, "Financing Health Services in Canada," just issued by the Joint Committee on Health Insurance. Five and one-half million Canadians. it seems. have insured themselves against the burden of hospital costs; nearly four million have purchased surgical expense insurance; and about three million have paid for the newest form of protection —medical expense insurance.

In the six provinces where no government hospital plan is in operation, one out of two persons has voluntarily selected his own plan of hospital expense protection.

Another striking fact is that nearly all of the growth in these forms of coverage has taken place since the early 1940's. Moreover, the phenomenal expansion is continuing. and each year there is a significant increase in the number of Canadians with some form of health insurance.

Insurance companies, Blue Cross Plans, and medical care plans. sponsored by the medical profession, have been the leaders in providing Canadians with protection against the financial hazards of accident and sickness.

In addition to the freedom from worry and sense of security enjoyed by Canadians who have purchased this protection for themselves and their families. there has been no change in their traditional relationship with their doctors and hospitals.

YOU'D PROBABLY BE WRONG!

If you were to ask the average person participating in an opinion poll which he thought would be the higher: the profit made by industry, or the taxes taken by government, it is certain he would plump for profit. And if you were to ask what he thought the amount of profit was, his estimate would probably begin at 10 per cent.

On both counts he would be wrong.

The education committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has just completed a nation-wide survey. Mr. W. E. Weaver, the committee chairman, has released the figures which show that for every dollar of sales of Canadian manufactured goods in 1952, profit amounted to only five cents. Of that five cents, 2.2 cents went out in dividends, and 2.8 cents were ploughed back into the business.

And what about taxes?

Federal and provincial taxes on manufacturing income average out at 5.1 cents per sales dollar. Taxes thereby beat profits by one-tenth of a cent per $1 of sales.

This C .M. A. committee started making these surveys five years ago, to combat public misconceptions about the size of manufacturing profits. It is noteworthy that in 1948, profit was 6.2 cents. In 1950, when corporate taxes were lower, it jumped to 7.1 cents. In 1951, with taxes still rising, it dropped to 5.8 cents, and in 1952, with taxes still on the rise, it was five cents.—The Monetary Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES!

Sure, and we had our Irish up yesterday for good old St. Patrick's Day.

, The calibre of public speaking by students of Winchester High School continues to improve, as was evident at last Friday evening's annual Oratorical Contest. Much credit is due the intructors and students for their fine effort.

The fight to retain the National Film Board in Ottawa is virtually over, and it would seem that the Liberal administration has pulled another fast one, in spite of fervent opposition by one of its truest members, Mr. George McIlraith, Liberal M.P. for Ottawa West.

Just when it seemed the Winchester Junior Hockey team was destined for better things, along came fate—and to-day the hockey season in this town is over for another year. But the Juniors are to be commended for their fine calibre of hockey and their achievements up to the O.D.H.A. Citizen Shield semi-finals. Good work. boys!

Two or three weeks ago, after the mighty fall of snow, it looked as if the Spring thaw would bring the old Nation surging over its banks into the countryside. However, nature has taken a hand, and with the gradual disappearance of ice and snow due to the moderate weather we have been enjoying, it is doubtful if the annual Spring flood will be too harmful this year.

There were two brothers who spent all their youth fighting. Each was sent away to school, and one graduated from a Navy School and the other from a Religious College. The Navy lad became a famous Admiral and the other a Cardinal. The two, in full regalia, met in a railroad station where the Cardinal was heard to ask the Admiral: "My dear Doorman, where do I get a taxi?" Whereupon the Admiral was heard to reply: "Madam, I wouldn't know."

Taxpayers should get the first break in any defense costs, declares The Financial Post. Non-defense spending is going up. The increase may be justifiable, but if we are approaching, as we certainly hope, a day when the defense establishment may be smaller, aren't we facing the prospect in an odd way and starting off on the wrong foot? Increasing our ordinary spending to more than take up any reduction in defense gets us nowhere in economy of government. It's exactly like the housewife who, having saved seven dollars on the family's groceries, turns around and spends nine dollars on a hat she does not need or cannot afford.

"Listen For The Voice Of God"

"In many places we are chiefly interested in the form and expression of things, the subject is quite secondary. If we listen to a great orator, the subject is comparatively immaterial; the voice, the elocution, the rhetoric, the presentation of the subject is everything. So, in music, we are chiefly occupied with the style, composition, execution, giving hardly a thought to the theme. So, in painting, it is the drawing, colouring, grouping, which will monopolize attention. The aesthetical form, sound, colour, engage the attention in the music hall or chamber of arts. But not thus should it be in the temple. There the subject is everything, modes of presentation little indeed. Ceremonies, preachers, buildings, stay not with these; listen for the undertone of God, and however dull your senses, however dull the preacher, you will hear that still small whisper which is the light and life of all who hear it."—W. L. Watkinson.

STORE RULES

By Norman A. Dishes

THE clerk, newly moved from the second floor to the third floor of the Emporium, straightened his tie, coughed, and looked again at the elderly lady sitting on the sofa in the lounge section of the furniture department. She was small and neat with her hair gathered in a knot beneath her small hat. Finally the clerk decided to approach her:

"Pardon me madam, is there something I can do for you?"

"Why thank you, no," she replied.

"I thought perhaps you were waiting to see something."

"Oh no, I sit here every day. I come in the morning and just sit here until noon and then sometimes my friends have lunch with me. Then I sit here in the afternoon and visit with all sorts of people until the store closes and it's time to go home."

The clerk stared at her with that sort of "I wonder if this lady is quite alright?" look. The little lady recognized the look.

"No, I'm quite sane, it's just that I live all alone in a very small house and I get so lonely. I have no relatives. I came here one day to shop and I found this lounge on the third floor so I sat down to rest. I decided this was a nice place to meet people. See?"

"Does the management know about this?"

"Well, the young man that had this floor until yesterday just let me sit here as long as I wished. The other young man was very nice, did you know him?"

"Yes, but he was fired for disagreeing with the manager over some point. Say, how long have you been doing this?"

"I don't know," the clerk hesitated, "I'm sure it must be against the store rules. What's your name?"

"Martha Tillman."

"Well Martha, I'll have to speak to the manager about it; I don't want to get into trouble."

"Oh, I don't want to cause you any trouble," Martha assured him.

"I'll speak to Mr. Halley about it, he's in charge and he should know whether it's alright or not."

The clerk left and Martha wondered if she were going to have to stop coming to the store. It was so nice to be able to sit and talk to people. It was so lonely in her small house.

"Hello, hello Martha," a voice interrupted her thoughts.

"Why hello Johnny," Martha replied. Johnny was a tall, good looking boy. "I heard you lost your job, Johnny?"

"Yep, but I'm not worried. It was only because I disagreed with Mr. Halley about the arrangement of some displays. He hates to be contradicted by a clerk. Oh well, so it goes. Did you meet the new clerk?"

"Yes I did Johnny, but I don't think he likes me."

"I think he's frightened about keeping his job."

"Everyone is really decent Johnny, some people worry a lot, that's all." Martha looked at Johnny's face.

"Maybe so, but he must worry a lot. Well, I have to go. I have an appointment at Statewells. The Personnel Manager is a neighbor of mine and he offered me a job as manager of their furniture department."

"Why Johnny, that's fine. Do they have a rest lounge over there?"

"I think so; yes they do. Why?"

"Well, I was just thinking, if it wasn't against the rules, maybe I could just as well sit over there. I would meet a lot of new people." Martha's eyes sparkled.

"Why not, by gosh if I run the floor you can pitch a tent there if you want!" Johnny smiled at her.

The floor clerk was just returning as Martha and Johnny got up.

"If anyone should ask you about me, tell them I'll be over in the swank lounge in the furniture department of Statewells," she told him. Then she turned on her toes and marched off down the stairs hanging daintily on Johnny's arm.

LADY RODDICK

(A Tribute)

Her years have passed,
Like birds, in happy flight,
Cleaving the space
With swift and shining wing,
Bloom o'er the spray of cloud,
To endless day,
Where life remains
A fair, and shining thing . . .
As if her rose,
Had climbed a garden wall,
Her eager eyes,
In fadeless bloom, to greet,
And golden stars,
That were about her head,
Are now beneath her feet.

Sunday is the official date, according to the calendar, for the advent of Spring. A more realistic sign is when you see the young lads rolling marbles on the sidewalk on their way to school, and when dad starts spading the garden (for fishworms)—Spring is here for sure.

It's hats off to our Junior Hockey Team. The boys were eliminated by Cornwall in the third game of their series on Saturday evening by the close score of 5-4—and in the opinion of many who saw the game, the best team didn't win. Winchester had Cornwall 4-1 at one stage of the contest, but the breaks went against them in the final frame. A few cheap penalties meted out by the Cornwall referee didn't help the local cause, according to some members of the team and those present at the game. Just why neutral officials were not engaged for that series is something we can't figure out. But it's all over—the team did well all season, and went down fighting, so let's give the boys a big cheer for their efforts.

Installing a larger and more modern newspaper press, without missing an issue of the paper, is not an easy task, but that's what we at the Press Office did since our last issue. It's quite possible that this week's paper may be a little later than usual, also that it will not be as well printed due to insufficient time to get the new equipment properly adjusted as to impression, ink distribution, etc. This, however, will improve as we become more accustomed to the bigger and more complicated machine.

Cigarettes have been the cause of many fires, which in some cases resulted in the loss of life. One of the latest fires attributed to a cigarette butt is the one that gutted the 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific Lines, Empress of Canada, as she was moored to a dock at Liverpool, England, last January. The blame shouldn't really be placed on the cigarette, but on the careless handling of the fag.

The Annual Red Cross Appeal for funds is now in progress across Canada, and no doubt local citizens will be canvassed shortly. "The Work of Mercy Never Ends" is a good slogan to remember when making your donation. Give liberally.

Until the 5-day week is adopted by all branches of industry and business, large and small, in both city and rural areas, it will be regarded as an inconvenience and curse to this country. Especially is it more noticeable in express services. For example, an electrician, pressed for time to get a wiring job done, sends a telegram to a supplier on Friday to have an important switch expressed to him at once It is shipped out of Toronto on Friday and arrives in Smiths Falls early Saturday morning, but because the Express Company is on a 5-day week, it is held there until Monday, and the electrician is held up for a whole day. Trade unions, which have been responsible for bringing about the 5-day week, don't appear to care how it affects the service to the public, who in the long run provides the money to pay the workers their wages. Unfortunately, there is little we can do about it, but complain.

...e events of the day flashed ...ovie-like through his heat-tor-...nented brain—his escape from Folsom where he was awaiting execution for murder, his wild flight across the desert in a stolen car. At a Mojave service station, he had heard a radio blaring forth a report of his escape.

Then when the gas in the stolen car was exhausted, he had tricked the old prospector into giving him a lift in his dilapidated auto. He had rewarded the old man's generosity with a bullet.

When the old man's dented jaloppy had coughed and gone dead on a lonely stretch of the highway that spiralled away into the desert hills like a silver ribbon, McGowan had hobbled across the glaring white sands, heading, he believed, in the direction of Death Valley Scotty's mysterious castle. Through the dancing heat waves, he thought he could see its roof above a mound of sand.

Instead of Scotty's castle, it had been a cluster of tumble-down shacks, the weather-beaten remnants of a ghost town, now populated only by rats, horned toads and desert snakes.

He staggered to the cabin door and stood for a moment, peering out into the desert night. The moon, a great ball of yellow gold, was low in the east. Silhouetted against its bright oval were two dark shadowy figures. They seemed to move. McGowan stared at the approaching shadows, his heart pounding against his ribs. The black outlines resembled two men on horseback. They seemed to be coming toward him.

"It's the heat or the rattler's poison," he mumbled hoarsely to himself. "I'm seeing things."

Suddenly the rattle sounded again in the darkness of the cabin. It seemed nearer.

McGowan's tense, frayed, heat-maddened nerves gave way. With a wild scream of terror, he lunged out of the shack into the bright moonlight.

A deep voice shouted, "Halt," but McGowan raced madly across the sand.

Three shots shattered the desert stillness. McGowan stumbled and went down. He was dead when the two men, dismounting, turned him over and focused a flashlight on his red-sun-tortured face.

"Red McGowan all right," the taller man said. "That service station guy gave us the right tip. But why did he come bargin' out of that shack like a tribe of Comanches was after him?"

"I'll take a look inside," the other said.

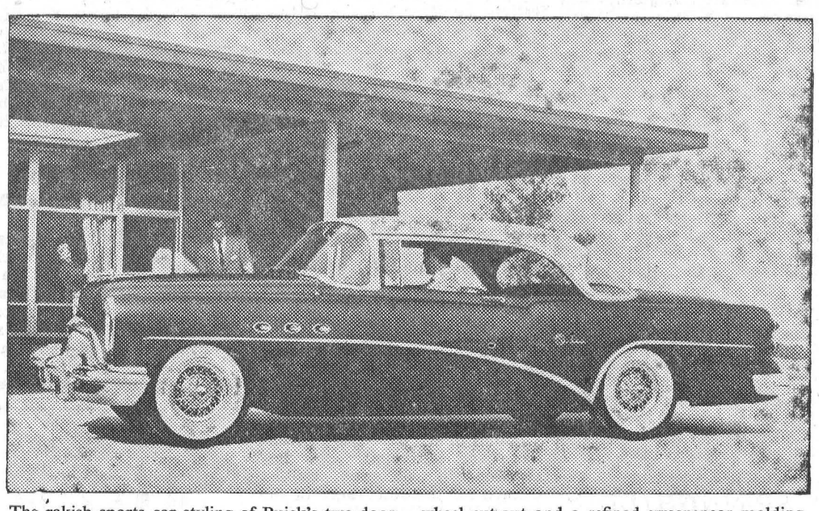
He came out a minute later, holding up a tiny object in one hand.

"What is it?" asked the tall one.

"A baby's rattle. Imagine finding that here. Some tourist must have left it. Only thing I could find in there except a few big ants."

"I sure can't figure out what made him act so loco," the tall man said, shaking his head.

New Buick Sports Model



The rakish sports car styling of Buick's two-door Super Riviera sedan makes it a sure-fire beauty winner for 1954. Modelled after Buick's famed Skylark sports car, it features the new panoramic windshield, a cut-down door belt line, full rear-wheel cut-out and a refined sweepspear molding. The Super Riviera is mounted on a 127-inch wheelbase and is powered by a 182-horsepower V-8 engine when equipped with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow. Wire wheels are optional.

CANADA'S health

FOOD FADDIST IN ACTION

One of the more embarrassing types of guest is the person who has too many dislikes in the way of food. Uusually, this is a carry-over from childhood, the result of poor training. Children who are encouraged to refuse various foods often miss many of the essentials of good diet. When served in a matter-of-fact manner, children usually learn to accept the various foods that are necessary to their good health. Variety in ways of serving will often make foods more tempting to both young and old members of the family.

OUR LOST CITIZENS

Every child killed in a traffic accident means the loss to Canada of another citizen who might have become an outstanding figure in the country's history. These accidents take an increasing toll every year—and they are not all the fault of the motorist. In many cases, children do not receive proper training in obeying traffic rules. Often, their elders set a bad example by crossing a street against the red light. If a youngster sees his parents ignor the traffic signal, he will do the same thing when he is alone, and his judgment of speed and distance is not reliable.

GERM CIRCULATION

Germs can be effectively distributed from one customer to another by means of cracked and chipped dishes in public eating places. It is difficult to cleanse such dishes thoroughly and the articles become a breeding place for disease germs. Any food served on cracked dishes or with soiled tableware should be rejected by the customer. A report to the local health department will always help to have insanitary conditions in restaurants cleaned up.

KEEP IT TO YOURSELF

The cold sufferer who insists upon going to work and letting his cold run its course is helping to spread the cold among his fellow workers and anyone else with whom he comes in contact. A cold should be checked by taking action in time, staying in bed possible and keeping warm, drinking plenty of fruit juices and avoiding drafts. A balanced diet and common sense in keeping out of drafts and away from others who have colds helps prevent colds in the first place.

UNSUSPECTED CASES

Many cases of diabetes exist in Canada, unknown to the victim. There are not always very definite signs of the presence of diabetes as far as the patient is concerned. Some of the symptoms are identifiable only by a doctor. Because of this, it is wise for all people over forty, especially those who are overweight, to have regular medical checkups. This will allow prompt treatment should the disease appear.

LIVING LONGER

Many more people live to a greater age now than at any previous time in our history, but old age, even if accompanied by good health, can be a very lonely time if the elderly person is deprived of the company of his contemporaries. He needs the contact of others of his own generation. In many communities, churches, clubs and associations provide social activities for the older citizen, which brings new interests and companionship to those who would otherwise feel useless and unwanted.

W. M. S. Afternoon Auxiliary Meeting

The March meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary of the W. M. S. was held on Thursday afternoon in the Sunday School Hall of the United Church, with the president, Mrs. T. N. Mitchell presiding, and Mrs. Ernest Steele at the piano.

The meeting opened with a few verses, "Short Meditation on the Lord's Return," by Mrs. Mitchell, followed by prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Eldon Fennell, and the supply secretary, Mrs. Thos. Edgerton, reported on making of a bed spread. Miss Bertha Coons gave a paper on "Lest Parents Forget." Mrs. Faye Scott reported 30 sick and hospital calls made, and 3 cards sent out. The president reported that the allocation for 1954 would be $1030.00.

A joint meeting of the Afternoon and Evening Auxiliaries will be held on April 7th at 7.30 p.m. in the Sunday School Hall. This will be the Thank-Offering meeting. Mrs. Howard McEwan, of Maxville, Secretary for Christian Citizenship of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference Branch, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Ronald Freeland, Mrs. John Moffat, Mrs. Geo. Dixon and Mrs. Ernest Steele are the committee in charge.

Mrs. Eldon Fennell was in charge of the devotional period. The theme was "Church in Their House." The Study Book, "Our Own Back Yard," was given by Mrs. Eldon Fennell and Mrs. Bert McMillan, representing the Canadian Religion, and Mrs. W. J. Cass and Mrs. T. Edgerton the U. S. A., which was very interesting. Mrs. McMillan and Mrs. T. Edgerton received the offering.

Diabetes

Diabetes has been known to medical science for thousands of years, but only since 1922 have doctors been able to treat it successfully. The tremendous advance was due to the discovery of insulin in Toronto by F. G. Barting in collaboration with J. J. R. McLeod and C. H. Best.

The diabetic, who once was doomed to certain early death, today can live as long—or longer—than the non-diabetic person. Insulin, a hormone that is extracted from the glands of slaughtered animals, is vital to the utilization of sugar by the body.

In diabetes the patient's body cannot produce sufficient quantities of this hormone, with the result that the whole bodily mechanism is thrown out of kilter. Injections of insulin correct this condition as long as they are continued.

Most cases of diabetes occur during later life—after the age of 40. One of the most serious complications of diabetes in elderly people is hardening of the arteries. This results in a reduced blood supply, especially to the legs and feet, and may pave the way for crippling infections. Recently an English doctor reported that terramycin was successful in treating 70 elderly diabetics suffering from various infections.

Of course, there are still advances that can be made and new preparations are worked on continuously. A new compound of insulin with zinc solution has recently been devised. This produces a high level of blood sugar during the day and a low level during the night and morning, timed to the needs of the patient.

Soup-Sandwich Meals Set Spring Mood

AS the first balmy days breeze into town, set your table in a spring mood with fresh soup and sandwich meals.

Delicate flavored soups put out a lure for appetites, whether skies turn sunny or stormy. Always complimentary to the soups are sturdy sandwiches — with fillings of your family's choice.

Take note also that a goodly number of the condensed soups are meatless. These offer a double advantage for Lenten menus—being both convenient and meatless. Included among these are the following:

MEATLESS SOUPS

Tomato	Green Pea
Cream of Celery	Clam Chowder
Cream of Asparagus	Vegetarian Vegetable

When you're planning soup meals for Lent, include a combination soup now and then. Several of the meatless soups can be mixed in twosomes that give savory results. Garnish with toppings of grated cheese or sieved egg yolk for added richness.

MEATLESS SOUP COMBINATIONS

Tomato-Clam Chowder
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed clam chowder
2 cans water

Mix soups. Add water. Simmer about 5 minutes. Serve into 4 bowls.

Celery Vegetable Soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of celery soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed vegetarian vegetable soup
1 can water

Gradually combine soups; stir in water. Heat well. Makes 4 servings.

Another happy feature of soup meals is that they can be low calorie. Most condensed soups, while giving good nourishment, average about 200 to 300 calories per can. You can see that they fit right into menus if you want to lose weight. Dine often on soup and a nourishing (but low-calorie) salad like cottage cheese or sliced egg salad. Such menus can help the overweight get in line for the Easter Parade.

SOUP SCOOPS

Serve Spaghetti-Cheese. Swirl for Lent: For a meal in a jiffy, that's meatless but rich, use cans of spaghetti in tomato sauce. Pour 2 cans of spaghetti (about 4 cups) into a shallow casserole. Over the top, arrange thin strips of cheese in a lattice pattern. Around edge, place thin short strips of green pepper. Bake at 400° F. for about 15 minutes or until spaghetti is hot through and cheese is melted. Makes 4 servings. Round out the menu with broccoli in lemon-butter sauce, peach pickles and toasted rye bread.

MR. ARCHIE GIBSON DIES AT MORRISBURG

Archibald William Gibson, an esteemed resident of Morrisburg for many years, passed away on Thursday of last week. Although not in the best of health for some time, he was able to be up and about till the day of his death.

Born at Farran's Point on October 13th, 1870, he was a son of the late William Gibson and his wife, the former McClave. He attended school at Farran's Point, and business college at Belleville. He spent most of his life in the Canadian West, where he was employed by the Saskatchewan and Alberta governments as superintendent of telephones at Calgary, Edmonton and Regina.

In 1925 he married Miss Hilda Knight, of Regina, who predeceased him in 1939. Following his wifes' death, he came to Morrisburg, and had resided here since, making a host of friends throughout the years, who will learn of his death with deep regret.

Surviving is one sister, Mrs. George E. Fraser (Luella) of Morrisburg. He was also a brother of the late John F. Gibson, of Winchester.

The body rested at the home of his niece, Mrs. John Notman, where service was conducted at 2 p.m. on Saturday by Rev. G. Oliver Davies, rector of St. James Anglican Church, a close friend of the deceased. The body was placed in the vault to await burial in the Spring at Woodlands Cemetery.—Morrisburg Leader.

Dundas-Grenville Presbytery Meets In Iroquois Church

The Dundas-Grenville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met in Iroquois United Church last week. Rev. Gordon F. Dangerfield, minister of the church, was chairman.

A. W. Batchelor welcomed the presbytery on behalf of the session of Iroquois United Church. Rev. John Hurst, the secretary of the presbytery, read the correspondence relating to the report of the conference special committee. The presbytery voted against any change in the method of electing the president of the conference or the tenure of his office.

The statistical report was given by Rev. John Hurst, which showed an increase in membership. The amount raised for missionary maintenance was $21,729, an increase of $1,739.

A memorial service was held for the late Rev. George Adamson and the late Rev. William Howitt, led by the chairman of presbytery and Rev. W. E. Wright.

Rev. A. I. Higgins, of Ottawa, gave an inspirational address on the Vocation of the Christian in Relation to Church and State.

Rev. A. Murray, D.D., immigration port chaplain, of Montreal, Quebec and Halifax, addressed the presbytery.

Rev. M. B. Jose, convener of the missionary and maintenance committee, reported reallocations for the year.

Rev. J. Maxwell Allan, convener of home missions, reported on church extension within the conference and the Dominion, and presbytery pledged itself to respond to the allocation set before it.

Rev. R. A. Mitchell, convener of Christian Education, gave the proposed plans for the summer activities of boys' and girls' and young people's camps to be held at Rideau Hill Camp. Sunday, May 31, is Camp Sunday within the presbytery, with financial appeals to churches and congregations, and Sunday, June 13, Camp Dedication Sunday.

The committee on evangelism reported on the special evangelistic service in March with Rev. C. Gardner Ward as missioner at Kemptville.

Tehran newspapers report that 75-year-old Abdollah Akhbzrzaden died of shock when his young wife gave birth to triplets in the tiny Iranian village of Tabbas. Two of the triplets failed to survive. At 75 a man is lucky to become a father at all, and it's little wonder that the news of the triplicate birth was more than old Abdollah could stand.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Icy Steps

Ice will not form on cement steps if they are washed with hot water in which a handful of salt is dissolved.

Oysters

Care should be taken that the oysters are not overcooked, as this has a tendency to make them indigestible.

Sticking Doors

If all the hinge screws are tightened, it will frequently take the sag out of doors that develop the annoying habit of sticking.

Fowl

When roasting chicken or turkey, place the breast side down in the roaster, and the juices will penetrate the breast, which is usually dry.

Tea Leaves

After making tea, take the tea leaves and place them around the potted plants. This will make an excellent fertilizer and will stimulate the growth of the plants.

Felt Hats

The dust and dirt can be removed from a felt hat, and it will have an almost new appearance, if the entire surface is rubbed with fine sandpaper.

Upholstered Furniture

Place a wet cloth over the furniture to be cleaned, and beat it. Change the cloth frequently. This beats out the dust which clings to the cloth.

Biscuits

The biscuits will be light if only enough liquid is added to make a soft dough. Mix it lightly and just enough to combine the flour and liquid. Any handling after that tends to toughen the biscuits.

NOTHING EVER HAPPENS

By Ona F. Lathrop

MATT MURPHY eyed the two fellows shuffling past the front window of his general store as he rearranged it for about the fifth time that week. They seemed to be looking at the jackets so he pushed them forward a little bit. It had been a warm fall and business was slow.

The two young fellows came in. They were strangers but a lot of tourists dropped by from the gas station next door. They selected new trousers, shirts and jackets. The bill came to $51. The big raw-boned one wrote out a check on the local bank for $75 and Matt gave him the change hesitantly. He'd hurry to the bank though and see that it was good, but nothing like that ever happened here.

"Pearl, watch the store while I run to the bank with this," he gloated. But the satisfaction left his face when the banker looked at the check long and hard.

"Those two fellows were just in here and made a deposit, but I asked them not to write any checks against the account for ten days until it cleared with the Indiana bank. Better let me telephone that bank and see if it is good."

Matt watched the street outside while he waited but saw no trace of the two men. Pearl certainly would think he was a sucker if he'd been taken in. It was as the banker feared. "There's no account there to cover this check, Matt. I'm sorry."

Matt thought fast. It would take the sheriff valuable time to round up his men. There must be a quicker way before they got a ride, if they were hitch-hiking. He jumped into his own car parked in the station and drove out the leading route. No sign of them. He tried other roads out of town. This was probably a wild-goose chase. He should have called the sheriff in the first place. There was one more chance—the highway south. He made for it.

Sure enough, about a mile south of town he saw his "customers." They had discarded their old clothing and were wearing the new outfits bought from him. They waggled practised thumbs. Matt drew up beside them. He pulled his hat low and motioned them to the rear door. He hated to have them behind him, but they might recognize him if they sat in front with him.

"Hop in, boys. Where are you bound?" he asked jovially.

"We'll ride as far as you go," they answered noncommittally.

He drove on toward the fork that led off to the right. If he could make the turn without them noticing, he was set. He knew a short-cut back to town from that fork. As they approached it he asked them to get a map out of the back pocket and look up the route. While they were doing so, he took the turning. They were still arguing about which fork to take.

But suddenly their sense of direction began to tick. "Seems to me we're going back to that last town," the dark, swarthy one said.

"Yeah, I forgot a customer in there. Don't worry, I'll get you where you are going later on. Just give me time." He drove faster as they grumbled a bit.

He was glad Policeman Barrett was on the beat for once instead of sitting in Mickey's restaurant waiting for something to happen. Matt pulled up beside him and squealed his brakes.

"Arrest these men," he told Barrett, and faced them at last. "Got a check here that the bank says is no good."

Pearl was still fixing the window when he got back. "Not a soul came in since you left. I wish we could think of something startling to pack them in. Nothing ever happens in this town, though," she told him.

"Yeah? Well, don't worry, baby. We'll have plenty of customers once the word gets around that I just caught a couple of bandits single-handed. The whole town will be flocking in to hear about it."

Pearl just stood there with her mouth open.

J. D. Thomas of Toronto, who was elected president of World Championship Ploughing Organization. He succeeds J. A. Carroll of Toronto, first president of the organization. The first world ploughing match organized by W.C.P.O. was held at Cobourg, early in October. Eleven countries competed. The second match will be held in Republic of Ireland next October.

LENTEN DISHES

Hello Homemakers! There should never be humdrum Lenten meals! To convince ourselves we made a list of main course dishes of fish, eggs, cheese and vegetables casseroles and were surprised at the variety, for both leisurely Sunday menus as well as busy day meals. It is also amazing how many inexpensive dishes can be good-eating, Lenten specials and family dishes for anytime-of-the-year.

Take A Tip

Main course dishes for Lent:

1. Lima Beans with Mushroom Sauce, Vegetarian Baked Beans, Kidney Beef Loaf with Syrup.

2. Welsh Rarebit, Cheese Fondue, Cheese Souffle, Baked Cheese and Tomatoes, Soup and Cheese Custard.

3. Spanish Rice, Curried Egg Rice, Mushroom Cream Rice, Creole Rice, Macaroni & Cheese, Spaghetti and Tomatoes, Noodles and Tuna.

4. Haddie Cornmeal Roll, Seafood Mousse, Codfish Souffle, Tuna Supreme, Devilled Crabmeat, Salmon Loaf, Sardines with Celery Sauce, Baked White Fish, Creamed Scallops, Fish Steaks, Scalloped Fish (Turbot, Pike, etc.)

5. Creamed sliced egg and shrimp, Scrambled eggs, Devilled eggs, Stuff eggs with Fish Paste and Yolks, Poached eggs, Shirred eggs, with Celery Soup, Omelets (with herbs, jelly, mushrooms or cheese).

Rice and Tomato Casserole

1 cup dry rice, 1 tbsp. fat, 1 tin canned tomatoes (2 cups), 1-2 tsp. salt, 1-2 cup grated cheese, 2 tbsp. chopped pimento, 4 slices bacon, cooked and chopped.

Boil the rice in salted water until tender. Combine with remaining ingredients. Pour into casserole and bake at 425 degrees until top is lightly browned about 12 minutes. To make best use of oven heat: Bake 2 pie plates of scones or tea biscuits alongside casserole.

Salmon Nest

2 cups mashed potatoes, 1-2 cup grated cheese, 1 egg yolk, 1 cup medium cream sauce, 1 lb. steamed salmon, 1-2 cup buttered crumbs.

Line greased casserole with fluffy mashed potatoes. Add cheese and egg yolk to cream sauce. Pour half of cream sauce over potatoes. Add boned salmon which has been steamed or boiled in cheesecloth. Top with more cream sauce and the buttered crumbs. Bake at 350 degs. in electric oven for 30 mins. or until lightly browned. To make the best use of oven heat: Bake Salmon Nest and Harvard Beets (from canned beets) on third shelf from bottom of oven. On shelf above bake cup-cakes for cottage pudding and oven-steam prunes.

Cheese Souffle

1-4 cup fat, 1-4 cup flour, 1 tsp. salt, 1 1-2 cups heated milk, 1 pkg. cream (nippy) cheese, paprika, 6 eggs, separated.

Make a cream sauce in double boiler by stirring the flour and seasonings into the melted fat and adding the milk, stirring constantly. When thick and smooth, add grated or sliced cheese and allow to melt. Pour over the beaten egg yolks. Mix well. Then pour slowly into beaten egg white, blending carefully until a very light fluffy mass is formed. Bake in a large casserole or a small roasting pan at 300 degrees in electric oven for 1 1-2 hours. Makes enough for six. Serve at once.

To make best use of oven heat: Bake souffle and sliced carrots in covered casserole (containing 1-2 inch water.) On shelf above bake apples.

THE QUESTION BOX

Miss M. P. asks: What is a simple, sure way to make Hollandaise sauce and is it served hot or cold?

Answer: Serve Hollandaise sauce hot with hot dishes and cold with chilled foods. The easy way to make this sauce is in a double boiler. Melt 3 tbsps. butter and blend in 2 tbsps. flour and 1-2 tsp. salt. Gradually stir in 3-4 cup milk (or equal parts of evaporated milk and water). Cook, stirring constantly for 8 minutes. Pour sauce over one slightly beaten egg, then return sauce to pan. Cook 2 minutes and beat in 1-4 cup mayonnaise and a pinch of cayenne. Serve immediately over Baked Fish.

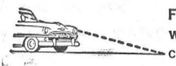
You'll discover a great difference from the moment you take the wheel



First, you'll discover new and wonderful visibility. You have a clear, close-in view of the road ahead over the lower Plymouth hood. Driving is safer and much more enjoyable.

Try how easily a Plymouth handles—there's an amazing difference. Drive it around curves and feel it actually cling to the road. No outward sway—no sense of strain of "holding" your car.

Then, the steering wheel is below eye-level. You look over the wheel—not through it. Plymouth Chair-High Seats let you sit up comfortably so you see all round. You don't get tired and cramped as in ordinary, lower seats.

The Plymouth Balanced Ride using Oriflow shock absorbers, has been widely accepted, but test the original. Feel how it eliminates pitch, roll and jounce . . . how it smooths out the roughest roads, makes pavements feel level as a table-top.

You've an extra value, too, in peace of mind. Plymouth Safety Rim Wheels, exclusive with Chrysler products, afford extra protection in case of sudden tire failure, because the Safety-Rim feature holds the deflated tire on the wheel while you make a straighter, safer stop.

You have the all-time protection of constant-speed Electric Windshield Wipers—they won't slow down when you climb a hill or accelerate to pass as you've seen vacuum-operated wipers do.

You have balanced braking. Plymouth has two brake cylinders in each front wheel brake where extra braking effort is required—not just one like most other cars. Cyclebond rivetless brake-linings last much longer—no rivets to score brake drums—greater surface contact area for more efficient braking effort.

If you like the extra ease of Power Steering*—remember, Plymouth's Full-Time Power Steering is on the job all the time, from the moment your engine starts.

Full-Time Power Steering is available on ALL 1954 Plymouths at reasonable cost.*

To these safety features add other Plymouth values . . . outstanding Plymouth styling . . . beautiful two-tone interiors and gem-bright baked enamel body colours . . . durable Chrysler engineering that saves you money.
