Here He Comes!

Santa's pre-Christmas visit to Winchester this year is now nearly two weeks old, but in the minds of thousands of youngsters the memory lingers on. Again this year he arrived by helicopter at the High School campus. Here the helicopter with Santa and Mrs. Santa is shown as it gets set to land while thousand of excited youngsters wait eagerly to greet the man of the hour. In just nine short days he will return.—Photo by Smith.

Fire Chief Urges Care In Use Of Christmas Decorations

Communities such as ours in Ontario suffer their biggest fire loss during the winter season, Fire Chief Stuart Corry said this week. The reason? All heating systems are in constant use, and Christmas brings a flock of new fire hazards into every home.

The symbol of Christmas festivities, the Christmas tree, can turn from a glittering family delight to a dangerous inferno if we are careless of fire safety rules. This hazard grows with the size of the tree, the length of time it has been cut, where it is placed in the room, and how long we keep it after Christmas.

Chief Corry urged householders to observe a few simple rules of Christmas tree fire safety. "Always select a fresh, green tree that is not dropping needles," he said, "and keep it in a cool place until you are ready to set it up. Then, cut off the trunk at an angle about an inch and a half from the bottom and place it in water. Be sure to keep the water container full at all times. Inspect your strings of lights for breaks, frays or shorts and replace any defective strings with new ones. When purchasing new strings, be sure to look for the CSA mark of certification—your assurance that they are safe from fire and shock hazard. Choose a location in the room away from all sources of heat such as radiators, fireplaces and TV sets. Make sure, too, that the tree will not obstruct any exit from the room should it fall. An important point to remember is never to leave the house or go to bed and leave the tree lights burning."

Christmas parties or New Year's parties increase the problem of careless smoking which started nearly 10,000 fires in Ontario last year. The fire chief advised all hosts and hostesses to keep cigarettes and matches away from the tree and to check for carelessly discarded butts after a party. Christmas decorations and wrappings are another Christmas fire hazard. Wrappings should be disposed of in a metal garbage can immediately after the gifts have been opened. Special care should be exercised where open flame candles are used for mantle or table decoration but, the chief advises, it would be far safer not to use them at all.

Observance of a few simple rules of fire safety will ensure a merry, firesafe Christmas.

Citizens Alarmed

ROBBERY OUTBREAK IN AREA

Chesterville Business Places Latest Victims

A rash of brazen robberies in the district is causing much alarm among district citizens. Minor break-ins have been reported in neighbouring townships. Two weeks ago more than $3,500 in merchandise and cash were stolen from the Jo-Anne Shoppe in Winchester, and early Wednesday morning of this week The Chesterville Record and the adjacent Gilroy's Jewellery Shop at Chesterville became the latest victims.

The Chesterville robbery Wednesday morning saw thieves gain access to The Record Office where $500 in camera equipment was stolen and some damage caused to other parts of the building. Not content with their haul at the Record, the thieves broke through a wall which divides Gilroy's Jewellery Store and the newspaper office. The jewellery store was wiped clean of many valuables including Christmas gifts which had already been purchased, wrapped and laid away for customers to pick up.

Estimated loss is expected to run into hundreds of dollars although no official estimate had been set. It is understood the jewellery loss is not covered by insurance.

Constable Leonard Shane, of Chesterville, is investigating, and provincial police experts have also been called in. As yet no arrests have been made.

The outbreak in robberies is causing much alarm among citizens in the district who are calling for more police protection, particularly at night.

George Elliott, well known Winchester business man, is the new president of the Grenville-Dundas Liberal Association. Succeeding the late R. H. Armstrong of Morrisburg, he was elected to that office at the annual meeting of the Association held in the I.O.O.F. Hall at Williamsburg last Thursday evening. Vice presidents elected were George Beavers of Morrisburg and Mrs. Lillian Allison, of Chesterville. The secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Arthur Flynn, of Morrisburg.

Bruce Powe, Toronto, executive director and secretary of the Ontario Liberal Association, was the guest speaker. He told his audience of 75 that a lot of hard work and organization will be required prior to the next federal election. He said current conditions make a change in the administration at Ottawa necessary. He charged that Canada's defence and financial policies were inadequate. In addition, he said, "farm income is at an all time low." "The Progressive Conservative party has a mind incapable of adjusting itself to the dynamic conditons of to-day both at home and abroad."

At the meeting it was also decided to organize a young Liberal Association in the riding. Carlton McInnis of Morrisburg and Charles Tobin of Prescott were authorized to proceed with preliminaries leading to the establishment of such an association.

DIRECTORS

Directors elected were as follows:

Dundas — Mrs. Jean Notman, George Brown, Walter MacDonald, Keith Graham, Keith Schell, Clarke Smith and Mahlon Zeron.

Grenville—George R. Brown, John Hanes, Earl Boucher, Geo. Montgomery, Leon MacMahon and Melvin Weedmark.

Hospital Board Reveals Tenders

Reporting to the Board of Directors of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital at the December meeting Tuesday night Hospital Adminstrator John Davis said the finishing work on hospital expansion was now in its final stages. He intimated that the hospital may be clear of workers and contractors some time in January.

It was tender night for the Board of Directors with four tenders being awarded: Stan. Black, distributor of Shell products, was awarded the 1961 contract for No. 2 furnace oil at a price of 14.9 cents per gallon. Mr. Black's tender was the lowest of seven bidders. The hospital will very likely use more than 50,000 gallons of oil this year for heating purposes.

Three tenders were received for the 1961 bread contract and Gallas Bakery of Ottawa was awarded the contract at a price of 19.5 cents per loaf for No. 1 bread, less five per cent. The hospital expects to use about 500 loaves of bread each month in 1961.

Wincrest Dairy, owned by Basil Dawley, retained the milk contract with his low bid of 14½ cents per quart for pasteurized and homogenized milk. There were three tenders for the milk contract, and the hospital will use upwards of 1,000 quarts per month in 1961.

Cochrane's Dairy of Russell was awarded the butter contract for the year at a price of 66 cents per pound. There were two bidders. The hospital will use about 130 pounds of butter per month in 1961.

In reporting to the Board Reg. Workman, chairman of Management, said that H. P. Stel, of Brockville, had been hired as accountant at the hospital at a salary of $350.00 per month. Twenty-eight applications were reviewed for the position, Mr. Workman said. The financial report was given by treasurer John Hatcher who said that if all municipal obligations are met the hospital should "break even" on the $700,000 expansion program now coming to a close.

Director of Nurses Mrs. Grace Mulloy, in her report, said that admissions for the month of November totalled 250. She said there were 178 surgery cases. Mrs. Mulloy also thanked the Board for its co-operation and understanding during her office as director of nurses at the hospital.

W. J. L. Boyd, chairman of the board, presided at the meeting.

Expect 900 Long Distance Calls Christmas Day

A total of some 900 long distance telephone calls is expected to be placed by residents of Winchester over Christmas Day, according to Miss Alice Rice, Bell Telephone's chief operator here. This represents an increase of about 120 over the number of long distance calls recorded for the same day last year.

Miss Rice said telephone users probably will be busy again on New Year's Day. She estimated that about 1700 long distance calls will be placed during this two-day period, an increase of 250 over the number for the same days in 1959.

With Christmas Day and New Year's Day falling on consecutive Sundays this year, telephone users will have the advantage of the lower night and Sunday long distance rates on these days and on the Mondays following, as well as after 6 p.m. on both Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

Miss Rice does not anticipate that the lower calling rates will boost appreciably the volume of long distance calls. "More and more people are telephoning distant friends and relatives each holiday season, regardless of whether regular or Sunday rates are in effect," she said.

For persons intending to place long distance calls this holiday season, Miss Rice advised that "there's a much better chance of getting calls through quickly on the afternoons of Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve, rather

Hulbert Voters Set Example

Voters at the Hulbert poll in Matilda township are a fine example to all other Canadians. In the recent Matilda elections 87 people voted out of a possible 105 eligibles at the poll. This number represents just over 83 per cent. of the total vote.

Two of the keenest citizens in the area in the persons of Mrs. Margaret Casselman of Hulbert and Mrs. Eleanor Werte of Iroquois also voted, and Mrs. Casselman walked half a mile to mark her ballot. Both women are more than 90 years old.

SEASON TICKET HOLDERS

Sunday Afternoon Skating At Community Centre

Another first has been chalked up by the Winchester Community Centre Board which announced this week that Sunday afternoon skating would go on trial with the opening of the current season.

The proposal of Sunday afternoon skating was made at the Nomination meeting recently by Robert Vice, chairman of the Board. At that time the majority of ratepayers present favoured the idea. Since then the matter has come up for some study by board members, and a decision to allow Sunday skating was made at a meeting of the Board last week.

Skating on Sunday afternoons, however, will be limited to season ticket holders only. There will be no admission charge and there will be strict limitations enforced. The skating hours will be from two to four on Sunday afternoon and will be determined by the weather. In the event of mild weather on any particular week-end the Board reserves the right to cancel the skating on Sunday.

The Board has made the move towards free Sunday skating in an effort to provide some type of clean recreation for the town's younger citizens. The Board emphasized that the skating hours on Sunday would be open only to season ticket holders only.

At the meeting it was announced that Ross McConnell and Gene Boisvenue had been hired as caretakers for the new season. The Board also announced that season tickets were now on sale at the wicket and at the office of Harry L. Flora on Louise Street.

SKATING THIS SATURDAY

Flooding operations at Winchester Community Centre are underway and providing the cold weather holds, it is expected that there will be skating this Saturday night, December 17. A complete rink schedule will be published in the next issue of The Press.

Fire Department Needs Members

Dalton Kenney was re-elected president of the Winchester Fire Department and Brian Raistrick was also re-elected to the secretary's post at the annual meeting held recently.

Fire Chief Stuart Corry reported that the Department was still short of members and called on young men to fill the vacancies. The Brigade, to be at top strength, the chief said, should have four more firefighters.

The tabulation of monies owing members of the department was made ready for presentation to council.

King Clancy To Address 100 Club

Frank "King" Clancy, former Toronto Maple Leaf great of the National Hockey League and a former referee of the same league, will be the guest speaker at the December meeting of Winchester 100 Club, to be held at Hotel Restaurant this Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

Special guests of the club at this meeting will be members of the Winchester Junior Hockey Club. Plans call for the presentation of special awards won by the players last winter.

A full agenda of business has also been lined up, and President Frank Morgan calls on a full turnout of members to attend this pre-Christmas meeting.

Public Speaking Finalists

The eleven contestants in the Eastern Ontario Public Speaking Competition for elementary schools are shown with William Brownell, chairman of the regional finals held recently at Rothwell Public School, in Ingleside, and Harry Potter, Winchester Public School Principal and Secretary of the Eastern Ontario School Trustees and Ratepay-ers' Association. The contestants, representing every county in Eastern Ontario, are, front row, left to right: Harold Nixon, East Hawkesbury; Patricia Craig, of Ottawa; Greg McNally, Westport; Estelle Macdonell, Glengarry; Lyn Campbell, Arnprior. Second row: Sheryl Dool, Kemptville; Sylvia Gardner, Lyn; Brian Docksteader, Chesterville; Sharon Davidson, Lanark, first place winner. Back row: Nancy MacPherson, Russell, and Norma Tibbits, Cornwall.

Council Awards Snow Plowing Contract To Winchester Motors

Municipal Council has awarded the contract for the plowing of Winchester streets during the 1960-61 winter months to Winchester Motors. Contract price is $6.00 per hour for the man and big plow which has been used on the streets now for several years. Earl Garlough was awarded the snow loading contract at a price of $3.75 per hour.

Accounts passed for payment at the meeting included $17,357.59; Hydro, $4,441.10, and Water $5,511.10. The county levy rate of $20,418.18 was also paid for the year 1960.

Rudy Topolinsky of Ontario Hydro was given $20.00 expenses towards the Hydro float which appeared for Winchester Hydro System in the Santa Claus parade, and a donation of $5.00 was made to the Cubs for delivery work for the Hydro System. Roy Merkley was given $5.00 for his assistance in traffic direction on Santa Claus day.

Reeve Fader presided at the session, last regular meeting of the year, with Councillors Reynolds, MacDonald, Biccum and Elliott in attendance, in addition to the Clerk, C. R. Robinson.

Holstein Breeders Hold Annual

Annual meeting of the Dundas Holstein Breeders' Club was held in Winchester Town Hall last Wednesday afternoon.

George McLaughlin, well known Holstein breeder from Beaverton, Ontario, was guest speaker. Mr. McLaughlin recently returned from a tour of Great Britain where he represented dairy farmers on a committee investigating markets and marketing. He commended the farm marketing organizations of that country and particularly the qualities of their directors. These men were elected to serve on various boards, not because of personal popularity, but because of ability to get the job done efficiently. He suggested that Canadian farm organizations should elect directors to establish policy only and then be prepared to pay for top quality executive personnel to administer policy.

Numerous awards and certificates were issued to various members for achievements during the year. For the second year in succession Angus Smith, of Chesterville, received the award for high average production with over 20 records. On the basis of 40 records the Smith herd had a BCA of 128.5 and average records of 14,103 lbs. of milk and 507 lbs. fat.

For under 20 records the certificate went to J. S. Thompson, Brinston, with a BCA of 125 and average herd production of 13,695 lbs. milk and 518 lbs. fat.

Alas For The Christmas Fire

Very soon, people will be getting burned up over Christmas—literally, the way we Canadians do every year at this season. In each happy home, the whole family will soon eagerly get to work providing all the hazards necessary for a successful, sure-fire Christmas. Fire must have kindling, so we'll make sure there's a dried out tree in the living room, surrounded by plenty of tissue wrapped gifts, crepe paper decorations, and lots of worn-out electric tree lights, candles, and pennies in the fuse-box.

Of course Fire Departments. who are notorious for wanting to spoil everyone's fun, will issue warnings about putting your tree in water, keeping lights in good condition, and not overloading circuits. Stores will advertise fire-retardent gift wrapping and decorating paper along with the nice quick-burning kind, and offer for sale CST approved Christmas lights which discourage electrical fires. But don't worry, you can still have a fire this Christmas. Just ignore all these spoil-sports. If you want to eliminate the element of chance, use candles right on the tree instead of bulbs. You can also try using indoor lights outside, if you're aiming for the most spectacular fire in the neighbourhood Besides, this trick is doubly good because if it doesn't start a fire there's a good chance it can electrocute someone.

Speaking of electrocution, you may not have heard of the latest wet blanket in the field. A company has actually manufactured a safety plug lock to fasten your electrical cords securely to the outlet. Just think of the hundreds of fun-loving children who won't be able to pull the plug out of the wall and get shocks or burns any more. It does seem a shame.

Take it from the Ontario Safety League, a fire at Christmas must be carelessly planned in advance. So many safety devices are appearing on the market these days, we may live to see the sad day when Christmas fires have become obsolete.

Parent Or Juvenile Delinquency

With juvenile delinquency a common problem in all generations, there seems little doubt that there must be one single factor causing this state more than anything else. Recent surveys at Harvard University point out what we have always maintained — that juvenile delinquency gets its start in the home, that the original cause in most instances can be directly related to the parents or the home life of the individual.

The Harvard survey is interesting and certainly it is food for thought for all modern day parents:

"Six out of every ten juvenile delinquents have fathers who drink to excess; Many have mothers who drink to excess; three out of four are permitted by parents to come and go as they please, three out of five are from homes where there is discord between parents.

"Seven out of ten are from homes where there is no group or family recreation; four out of five delinquent boys say their mothers were indifferent to them; three out of five boys say their fathers were indifferent to them.

"A similar poll was conducted about the same time by George Gallup on the subject: "Why Teen-agers Get Out Of Hand." The conclusions of the pool were:

1. Parents are not strict enough.

2. Parents do not provide proper home life.

3. Parents have too many outside interests.

4. Parents are too indulgent; give children too much money.

5. Both parents work, even though the mother is needed at home.

Read these points over again carefully and note that each reason for our juvenile problems begins with the parents.

What is it — parent or juvenile delinquency?

New Party With Union Label

What about this new political party in Canada, this new party that affiliates with unions in a drive for the labour vote, this new party that apparently breeds nothing but ideas of socialism?

Well, Margaret Aitken, writing in the Toronto Telegram, has some rather sound food for thought concerning this newest party which already has elected a member to the House of Commons. Miss Aitken explains that the new political party plans to get its money, as indeed all political parties must have money to function, through collections among union members. What does this mean? It means, simply, that if you are a member of a union and you do not contribute to the party, ten chances to one you are a Conservative or a Liberal. You might also be a Communist, and if you belong to the brainless wonders you could be a Fascist.

But more important, it reveals a political identity which many people, for a variety of reasons, should have the right to conceal in a democracy if it is their wish.

This system of payroll paying, proposed by the new party, would also create extra and needless work for the employer who may not be sympathetic to the cause. Why, then, should an employer in this country have to deduct dues from a worker's cheque that will go towards the support of a political party. More important, as Miss Aitken says, "Why should an employer do the bookkeeping for a political party that plans, if victorious, to nationalize the employer's business."

The smell of this new party is strong, and the odour is not pleasant. Surely Canadians, even the most ardent union member, will agree that there is no place in our way of living for a party with strong socialistic tendencies. Government control means everyone pays, and pays a lot. Let us not fool ourselves, we are not going to get anything for nothing with this type of party in power, and history is the proof. A quick glance around the world tells us that Socialist parties are especially good in looks and promises, but what about results?

We hope that Canadians, even the lowly union member who more and more seems to be swayed so freely by the so-called union leaders, will hold on to their freedom of political faith. They have the choice.

OF MANY THINGS . . .

THE MAGAZINES

I was delighted to see that Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Times, saw fit to appear before the Royal Commission on Publications to say a word in favour of American magazines, defending both Time and Reader's Digest.

It is agreed that Canadian magazines are having a tough time. What is needed, however, is not some form of restriction against the fine American publications, but rather encouragement for the Canadian ones. I believe this will come about as a result of the Commission hearings—but not because of any laws that result from such hearings.

What is needed is simply more appreciation, by Canadians, of their own magazines. Every year, as Christmas gifts. I send as many subscriptions as I can afford to friends and relatives—subscriptions to Canadian magazines I feel have merit. If others who feel concerned about the welfare of Canadian magazines would do likewise, it would not be too long before they could total up fairly good balance sheets.

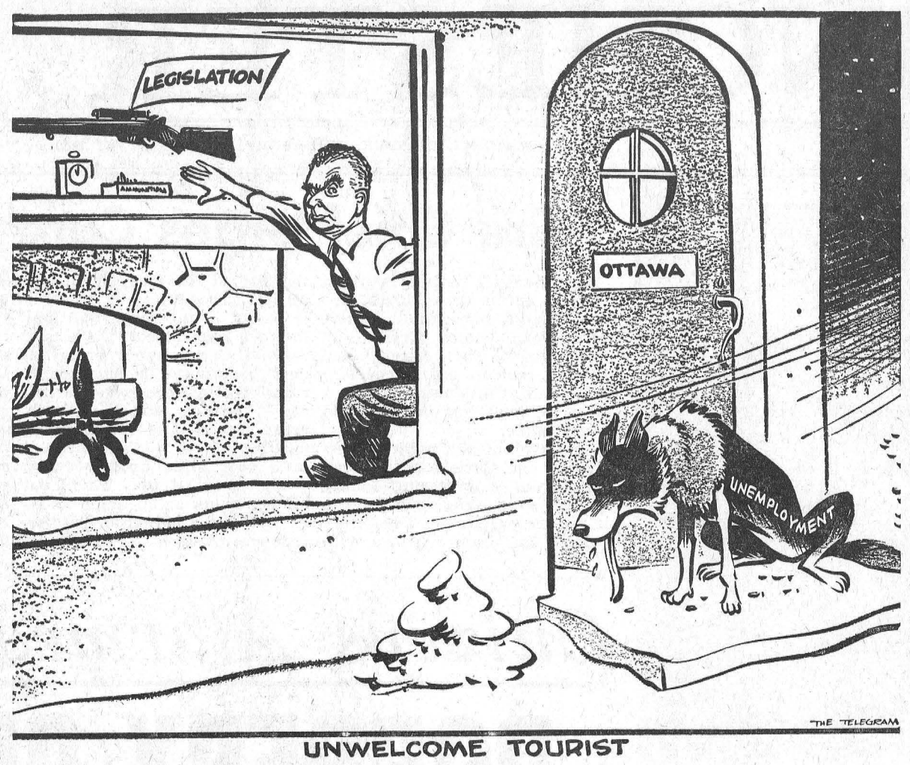
What Mr. Keate was worried about, no doubt, was the possibility that the O'Leary Commission, in an effort to help our own magazines, would exclude the American ones. We certainly don't want to appear to close the door to the culture of a friendly country which has produced so many literary greats—such as Emerson, Thoreau, Faulkner and Hemingway.

Certainly the American publishers have been most friendly to Canadian writers. Mr. Keate himself spoke as a Canadian who spent five years writing for Time, Inc., and who has submitted material to Reader's Digest on a free-lance basis.

I know, from personal experience, that American editors and broadcasters are most friendly and receptive to the Canadian writer.

Nevertheless, our own Canadian magazines are the best market for the Canadian writer who wants to deal almost exclusively with his own region and background. Editors at Chatelaine, Weekend, Maclean's, Liberty, Saturday Night, Toronto Star Weekly, etc., as well as those who run the so-called "little"' magazines, like Delta, do a great service for Canadian writers, giving them very special encouragement. Inasmuch as these magazines, or some of them, are having difficult times, it would seem reasonable that something be done to help them.

But do we need to damage American publications at the same time? I think not. Instead, let us promote our own and support our own. Surely Canadians would rally to that appeal without resort to legislation!



UNWELCOME TOURIST

the SEVENTH column

This is bone picking week so we trust our readers (both of them) will forgive us if we devote the Seventh Column to one or two local problems in need of attention.

* * * *

First bone is an old one, but still a juicy bit. It deals with the opening and closing of the main doors of the public school building. From where we sit, the P. S. doors are in full view and the usual scene each morning is a rather large group of children milling around the doors waiting to get in. Like a lot of other parents, we do not like to see these youngsters stand outside on mornings when the temperature is near the zero mark or below. For that matter, standing around any winter morning can be a chilling as well as a boring experience. A lot of parents claim that the doors should be open earlier in the morning to accommodate the youngsters. Our first thoughts were also along these lines. After talking with members of the school board and the school inspector, however, we have what we believe is a sensible approach to the matter. Yes, we still believe the kids should be allowed to enter the school before a quarter to nine BUT cooperation from both parents and teachers will be needed. In the first place, a lot of parents are at fault in allowing their youngsters to go to school too early. True, there are some instances when the kids have to be rushed off early or perhaps they are being driven to school on a cold morning because of a rather long walk. Generally, though, most pupils, providing their parents co-operate, may be sent to school in time to arrive sometime between quarter to and nine o'clock. In other words, most youngsters attending the public school would arrive in good time if they were not allowed to go to school until 8.30, or even a bit later.

But being human, kids and parents are not always going to abide by this suggestion and the result means some congestion at the front doors of the school. For nine months of the year we see no need for the doors to be open except in the case of inclement weather or emergency. Certainly on a wet day or during the cooler winter months (December, January and February at least) we feel teachers must use a lot of discretion in deciding when the doors are open. We are aware that the doors do not have to be opened until 8.45 and that the Board cannot insist that the teachers be at the school earlier than this hour—15 minutes before classes. However, this is not a case for the insistence of anything, rather a minor problem that can be ironed out by co-operation and understanding between Board, teachers and parents.

The teachers have a big job in handling 250 pupils each day of the week. The Board has an equally important job in seeing that all departments in school operation function efficiently, and the school inspector has the unique job of not only acting as liaison between schools and the Department of Education in the entire county but of instituting new ideas and generally promoting better methods of education. The job of the parents is also important. They pay the shot and provide the youngsters, and therefore are entitled to a say in what goes on.

We feel the staff at our public school takes a keen interest in the welfare of the pupils and most staff members arrive at the school well before 8.45. Therefore, we feel that they will not mind the suggestion that during the cold winter months at least a keen eye be kept on the alert to determine when the doors should open to allow the pupils to enter. If they do this we know that the doors will be open earlier. Not at 8.45 or 8.50 or 8.52 as it was this week during the cold snap, but closer to 8.30. At the same time we trust that parents will lend a little more co-operation by not allowing their children to leave home for school too early in the morning.

As we mentioned, co-operation from all parties will work this problem out to the benefit of everyone.

* * * *

We sincerely regret that it is necessary for us to comment on the actions of some of our younger citizens who have been taking coloured bulbs from Christmas trees and other decorations in the town. What a shame! The people doing this are certainly not aware that this is the season of merriment and joy created many years ago by the birth of our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Yes, there is a great deal of commercialization in our reasoning to-day but certainly the major thought for our celebration and decoration is still the birth of Jesus. Stealing these bulbs, and that is exactly what it is—stealing, is an unfortunate state of affairs and we take no pride in drawing this matter to the attention of all citizens. We hope the persons responsible will reconsider their actions, that instead of ignoring the true spirit of Christmas they will join in it.

TORONTO REPORT . . .

(By Hon. F. M. Cass, M.P.P.)

The Fall session at Toronto really got into full swing in its third week. Debate on the Speech from the Throne continued and during the week the debate on the so-called unemployment problem went into high gear. Many members made thoughtful suggestions which they hoped would help government and business meet the problem.

The organization of the House for the new Session having been completed, several House committees began their consideration of the business referred to them. This Session, as in the last, Wednesday each week has been set aside for Committee meetings with no sitting of the House. The Committees on Private Bills, Legal Bills, and Highways and Highway Safety all met and appeared to have agendas calculated to keep their members very busy for some weeks.

Although the Budget is not expected to be brought down until February, there have already been presented to the House for consideration, debate and approval, estimates for the coming year of several departments of government. This, for the Ontario Legislature where introduction of departmental estimates always followed the Budget, is an innovation. However, it seems to be working satisfactorily and will undoubtedly speed the business of the House.

During this week also Philip Hoffman, MPP for Temiskaming and the winner of the recent by-election there, was introduced to, and seated in, the House, bringing it up to its full complement of 98 members of whom no less than 71 are Frost government supporters.

Again and again during this Session Prime Minister Frost has demonstrated his mastery of the art of government and of House leadership. With an almost unbelievable knowledge of persons, departmental procedures and life generally in Ontario, he alone is a match for the opposition parties. Indeed the optimism, vision and accomplishments of Ontario's government reflects the genius of its leadership and its benefits we all share.

OTTAWA REPORT . . .

(By Jean Casselman, M.P.)

Interesting to observe the new personality of the Government this Session. Many elements go into the making of personality. One of the most obvious stimulants has been the changed face. New blood in the Cabinet has already shown results.

Walter Dinsdale, former Professor at Brandon College, Manitoba, practising Salvation Army leader, is highly respected and warmly liked. An honest and inveterate worker, Walter would be an asset on any job.

The super salesman George Hees, bouncing with energy and enthusiasm, gives the vital Trade and Commerce Department just what it needs.

George Hees' successful years on the athletic fields of Canada taught him the value of teamplay, the strength in all working together. It is typical of him that in introducing Canadian business men to Canada's Overseas Trade Commissioners, he did not leave the benefits to be obtained all on one side. With clear understandable directness he told them what he wanted and the rewards he would give. "I will be watching with interest during the months ahead the increase in sales which takes place in each of your areas. Such sales increases will have a direct bearing on your advancement in the future." George Hees' own life seems to prove his philosophy that rewards go to those who help themselves.

While too many people were crying the blues instead of thinking out a solution, Hees strode into Trade and Commerce without an ounce of pessimism. Lo and behold, almost simultaneously the Dominion Bureau of Statistics produce trade figures for the last ten months and they are the brightest since 1952. Last year's deficit of $427,400,000 for the same period has been whittled down to a neat $79,100,000. Even more encouraging is the diversification of trade which Prime Minister Diefenbaker promised. Last year's January to October surplus with the United Kingom was a saving feature to the extent of $152,000,000. Doubled too is Canada's surplus with all other Commonwealth countries, and the trend is still strong in the right direction. Latest month recorded, October 1960 surplus with all other Commonwealth countries, almost tripled that month in 1959. We have reason to be optimistic. Nothing succeeds like success.

Sugar and Spice

(By Bill Smiley)

"You're a failure, Smiley," he told me. He said it casually, but I must admit that I quailed before the cold, knowing stare he gave me. It didn't matter that he was baggy-eyed, unshaven, and scratched himself like an ape. I knew he could see right through me.

* * * *

"Yabbut . . ." I started to say. Whenever I'm put on the defensive, I find myself saying that "It's Old English or something for 'Yes, but . . .'" He brushed it aside: "Yabbut me no yabbuts. For years you've been trying to blame it on everybody but yourself. Face it. You're a failure and you know it."

* * * *

With a vestige of my customary dignity, I drew myself up about an inch and asked him where the heck he got that idea. After all, I told him, there's meat on the table every day, nobody has holes in his shoes, and we have furniture, a car, an electric dryer. We even have a kitten that may, or may not, be pregnant.

* * * *

He just looked at me and snorted. "You're such a failure you don't even know you're a failure," he continued in that disgusted way he affects. "Your furniture is junk, your car won't be paid for until 1962, and that's the cheapest dryer on the market." He went on: "What about the important things? Do you have a recreation room? No. Do you have a patio? No. You don't even have a television set! You're forty years old and you don't even have one lousy, little transistor radio."

* * * *

Everything he said was right, of course, but he didn't have to look at me with such distaste. I began to get a little sore. "Now, just hold on there, Buster," I retorted. "You may think these are the important things in life. But we're not all like you, thank goodness. What about the real values, the solid achievements?"

* * * *

"Yes?" he needled, hawking, spitting and scratching in a most disgusting fashion. I stood right up to him, and told him a thing or two: "How about that B.A. degree I earned? How about flying that fighter-bomber against the Germans? How about editing a newspaper for ten years? How about a wife and two children who are devoted to me? You think a fellow can do all those things and be a complete failure?"

* * * *

He rubbed his bristly chin, looked at me with the enthusiasm of a farmer about to clean out the stalls, and said flatly: "Yes. It took you ten years to get that B.A., and they were sympathetic to veterans, or you'd never have got it. You were a second-rate pilot, responsible for the loss of an $80,000 aircraft. You edited that paper with more complaining than a ruptured hen laying eggs. And I can show you even bigger failures than you, who have a wife and eight children devoted to them."

* * * *

"Maybe so," I shot back, "but I was snapped up pretty darn quick when I decided to become a teacher. Does that look like a failure? He bared his tobacco-stained teeth at me in a grimace of scorn. He opened his mouth for the crushing rejoinder. I braced myself for it. And just then, like the bugles of the cavalry arriving in the nick of time, a piercing feminine call came up the laundry-shoot: "Are you going to spend all day in there? Your eggs are hard and the tea's getting cold and it's 8.30."

* * * *

So I shut up, rubbed in the lather, took a suck on that first fag of the day, gagged over the toilet, and when I started to shave, he had disappeared. Self-confident, no longer a failure, I sped through the rest of the business and ran briskly down to breakfast, the picture of a well groomed, keen, dedicated teacher.

* * * *

A man spends most of his time trying to impress somebody. At work, it's the boss, fellow workers, and subordinates. At home, it's the wife and children. At any other time, it's whoever happens to be around. We get ulcers, heart attacks, divorces, and the odd punch in the eye, trying to impress somebody.

* * * *

But try as I might, I can't impress that hard old case who lives in behind the mirror in our bathroom. I know he'll be there again tomorrow morning, bleary-eyed, rumpled, scratching, disillusioned, and cynical. Tomorrow morning he'll probably try to convince me there is no Santa Claus.

Big Crowd Greets Santa

It was a big day in Winchester a few days ago when Santa made his annual pre-Christmas visit. Landing at the High School campus in a helicopter, he and Mrs. Santa were whisked away to a big float and later took part in one of the biggest parades ever held in the town. At the Community Centre they were greeted by a jam packed crowd. Above picture shows only a small portion of the big Community Centre crowd but gives some idea of the "sardine packed" conditions which existed as the young fry waited to see their hero.—Photo by Smith.

Federation Sees Need For Junior Farmers

Discussion centred chiefly on the need of a Junior Farmers' organization in the county, at the last executive meeting of the Dundas County Federation of Agriculture. When young farm girls and boys graduate from the 4-H clubs, there is no farm organization in which they might become interested. It is practically impossible for a young farmer to become a director of any of the numerous county organizations, and realizing this need, the Federation executive instructed the secretary to obtain information on Junior Farmer work in the hope that the young people will become interested and take steps to organize.

The loss of calfhood vaccination tags was again reviewed. One member of the executive stated that six of eighteen milking cows had lost their ear tags. Four of these were grades and therefore could not be sold as springers. Further action on this problem was planned.

Allan McRoberts, Winchester, was appointed a delegate to attend the Ontario Rural Leadership Course to be held in Niagara Falls during February.

Auction Dance Nets MDHS $700.

An overflow attendance of parents and friends, the generosity of local and out-of-town business firms and individuals, and the auctioneering skill of Harold Finnerty assure Mountain District High School its most successful Auction and Dance to date as $700.00 in profits was realized. This money has been deposited in the school Scholarship Fund at the local bank and it willl be used to provide scholarships and bursaries to those of the student body who attend institutes of higher learning upon graduating from the school. Any graduate of the school is eligible for one of the bursaries or scholarships.

The popular door prizes created a great deal of interest and the first prize, a six transistor radio, was won by Lorne Crowder of Mountain, while the second prize of two N.H.L. hockey tickets and expense money went to Brent Lapier of Brinston. The third prize, a large Panda Pyjama Doll, was presented to David McIntosh of Winchester Springs.

An undertaking such as this would not be possible without the assistance of many people. In addition to those who have contributed to the Auction Dance through their contributions and attendance, the school wishes to thank Harold Finnerty, Auctioneer, of Kemptville, who kindly donated his services; Gord. Cumming, who donated his public address system; Willis Riddell, Henry Wilson, Joel Kirkby, Lyle Sullivan and Lloyd Graham, and those students who solicited donations for the Auction, and all those who helped in any way.

The Scholarship Committee is composed of Mary Ann Butler, chairman, Louise Cameron and Richard Larocque.

Additional contributors to the Auction who have not been previously acknowledged are: Art Cader's Texaco Station, Simm's Garage, Mrs. Gord. Cumming, Karl Guy, St. Lawrence Welding, J. Quattrochi Wholesale, Joseph Hyndman, Gwen Allen, Gordon Hyndman, Dwight Gilmer, Stan. Coleman, Garnet Halpenny.

PRECIOUS PROMISES

"Give us this day our daily bread. Or our daily need.

Having first considered our Father, which is very important to Him and should always come before making known our needs, we ask Him for the necessities of life; He says that He will supply all our needs as we ask Him in the Name of His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ, but does not say that He will supply all our wants.

Many of the Bible characters lived on milk and honey.

The teachings of Jesus are often referred to as the sincere milk of the Word of God and good for us to digest—not by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God—if we live by the teachings of Jesus most of our problems will turn out to be blessings in disguise, so count your many blessings — not only count them, name them one by one, then you will have a better idea of that which the Lord has done for you; you have been bountifully supplied.

Honey is also found as a basic diet in a spiritual way. It is the the sweetness of things found by Almighty God in the work of His Son, Jesus Christ. Those who come to the Father through the atoning work of the Son by the guidance of the Holy Spirit, are as a sweet odour or sweet sacrifice and is pleasing to Him. There is no other way to approach your Father, He wants your words from your heart; other people's words are as vain babblings from your mouth, so ask of your Father which art in heaven through His Son and by His Spirit, and taste of the good things He has to offer YOU.

(By Mary Ronson)

'ROUND OUR SCHOOL . . . The students are burning the midnight oil now that they are in the midst of their Christmas examinations. Examinations finish on Tuesday, December 20, and the students are looking forward to their well-earned holidays. Our school term will be brought to a close with a Christmas party at the Hallville school on Wednesday evening, Dec. 21st, and a Christmas assembly on Thursday morning . . . If it is possible for our teachers to have the exams marked in time, report cards will go out on Thursday morning. If not, most of us will receive our marks before the holidays and the report cards will go home after the holidays . . . School crested Christmas cards have been made available to our school by the Winchester Press and many of these cards are being sent by the students . . . Our Award Committee, under the direction of Mr. Sheehan and Lynda Coughler, have started their plans for our Award System and they have informed us that detailed explanations will be published in the first edition of our school newspaper after Christmas . . . As usual, the Parent-Student Banquet will be held during the first week in June . . . Marie Hoy, Drenna Coleman and Gloria Blaine will represent our school at the first annual Ottawa-St. Lawrence Model General Assembly sponsored by the Carleton University United Nations Club on Saturday, February 4th, 1961.

Church News . . .

The celebration of Christmas began in the South Mountain and Mountain United Churches last Sunday with an Advent Sunday Service. Preaching about "The Eternal Light of Christmas," Rev. Gerald Fee urged the congregations to realize that the darkness of sin and death no longer held Christians in its grasp, but that now they were living in the Light that shines from heaven, and therefore should "walk as children of the light."—(Ephesians 5:8).

* * * *

The South Mountain Women's Missionary Society entertained the Mission Band and the Baby Band at a Christmas meeting and Party on Saturday afternoon. The Mission Band, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles MacDonald and Mrs. David Monteith, put on the program in which Doreen Farrell, Linda Berry, Wendy Kirkby, Barbara Fee, Betty Farrell, Lorna Sullivan, Bonnie Graham and Dora Farrell took part. Christmas games were played, and refreshments were served by members of the W. M. S.

United Church Groups Hold Annual Meetings

Mrs. Eldon Fennell opened the December meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary of the W. M. S. by reading an article, "W. M. S., Look and Listen." The minutes were read by Miss Ellice Smith. The members gratefully accepted an invitation to attend the meeting of the Evening Auxiliary to be held on the evening of Dec. 13th.

Mrs. Bower Potter, treasurer, reported that the sum of $512.85 had been raised for missions.

Mrs. H. O. McMillan read an article on "Merry Christmas." The Literature report was given by Mrs. Oscar Wallace, and on Associate Members by Mrs. William Lannin. Mrs. W. H. Angus received reports of 44 house calls and thirty visits to the hospital being made, and the sending of 41 cards during the month.

Mrs. Fennell, president, thanked all the members for their loyal support and co-operation in the work for the past four years of her office, and extended a warm welcome to all new members and visitors.

The Christmas programme was under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Freeland, and the story of the Nativity was related by Mrs. John Moffatt. The story of "America at Christmas Time" was given by Mrs. Ernest Steele, and a solo, "The Three Kings" was sung by Mrs. Percy Durant. After a Bible quiz, conducted by Mrs. John Moffat, Mrs. Ronald Freeland gave the "Legend of the Black Madonna."

The president vacated the chair and Mrs. P. S. Durant presided for the election of officers, the slate being presented by Mrs. W. H. Angus:

Past president, Mrs. Eldon Fennell; president, Mrs. Kenneth Carlyle; first vice president, Mrs. W. H. Angus; second vice president, Mrs. Paul Johansen; third vice president, Mrs. Stanley Rennick; recording secretary, Miss Ellice Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Bower Potter; Christian stewardship, Mrs. H. O. McMillan; Community friendship, Mrs. W. H. Angus; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sherman Christie; supply, Mrs. Howard Fetterly; Missionary Monthly, Mrs. John Moffat; literature, Mrs. Oscar Wallace; press secretary, Mrs. F. Erle Helmer; pianist, Mrs. Ernest Steele; temperance, Mrs. John Barrett; assistant, Mrs. Paul Johansen; associate members, Mrs. William Lannin.

The incoming president made a few fitting remarks. Mrs. Ernest Steele was the pianist throughout the entire meeting. A dainty lunch was served by the committee, assisted by Mrs. Fennell.

The vote of thanks to all who had made the meeting a success was given by Mrs. W. J. Cass.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

Winchester United Church Woman's Association held its annual meeting last Tuesday, with Mrs. J. E. Davidson's group having charge of the worship period. The theme was "The Christmas Story," and several Christmas hymns were sung. Mrs. Davidson was assisted by Mrs. M. Duval and Mrs. George Bell.

Mrs. Ross presided over the business part of the meeting. All committees and Circle leaders reported a very successful year. Mrs. Erle Helmer, corresponding secretary, read a letter of appreciation from Mac Stienburg, also a splendid report on cards sent to the bereaved, birthday greetings to senior members, get-well, anniversary and farewell cards and the numerous other letters and cards she writes.

The Couples' Club volunteered to decorate the church for Christmas. Mrs. H. Stoate and Mrs. Chas. Beedie were appointed auditors.

Mrs. Stoate, as chairman for the nominating committee, presented the new slate of officers for 1961:

Past president Mrs. A. C. Ross; president, Mrs. J. E. Davidson; 1st vice, Mrs. H. G. Barton; 2nd vice, Mrs. H. Clarke; 3rd vice, Mrs. Wm. Servage; recording secretary, Mrs. M. Duval; assistant, Mrs. Chas. Beedie; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. E. Helmer; assistant, Mrs. Harold Clarke; treasurer, Mrs. Chas. Anderson; pianist, Mrs. E. Steele; press reporter, Mrs. B. Potter; parsonage committee: Mrs. Jas. Crummy, Mrs. Howard Fetterly and Mrs. Robt. Holmes.

Rev. A. J. MacDonald presided for the installation of officers.

A social hour followed. "Happy Birthday" was sung for Mrs. Arthur Christie who was celebrating a birthday. A dainty lunch was served, and a vote of thanks was extended by Mrs. Eldon Fennell.

Continued Prosperity For Eastern Ontario

A special economic study released last week by the Ontario Department of Economics concludes that economic diversification and development will continue in Eastern Ontario and that a high level of prosperity will be enjoyed in the years ahead.

The comprehensive 125-page Survey, embracing the eleven counties of the Ottawa Valley and Upper St. Lawrence areas, indicates that the region's population has grown from 592,000 to 748,000 in the past nine years and may well climb to 850,000 by 1966. The area's labour force has expanded significantly during the post-war period, and personal income has climbed to close to 90 per cent since 1951.

On the basis of employment, the service industry, represented in considerable degree by the Federal Civil Service, is dominant. The diversity of skills and stability of employment in the Civil Service are among the region's greatest assets. Value of output shows the manufacturing industry to be of major importance. Factory shipments have increased sixfold in value from the levels of immediate pre-war years, while the entry of new industry and the expansion of established manufacturing enterprises, especially in the chemical and synthetic textile fields, are taking place at a record pace.

The operations of the region's pulp and paper mills are being expanded and broadened, markets for the area's agricultural output are growing, and the tourist industry is flourishing. Construction activity, judged by the value of building permits issued, has increased by more than 180 per cent. over the past decade. Two huge construction programs recently completed in Eastern Ontario, the St. Lawrence Seaway and the associated power project, created a considerable volume of activity through the demand for labour, construction materials and general supplies that could be provided locally. This gave added impetus to the long-term growth factors influencing the region's economy.

Current trends indicate a continuation of Eastern Ontario's economic development. The Survey notes that this will be fostered by the growing domestic requirements of the Toronto and Montreal areas and by the increasing needs of the huge adjacent markets of the northeastern states, the availability of ample hyro-electric energy and natural gas, a skilled and versatile labour force and the completion of new highways and structures—particularly the Ottawa and St. Lawrence River parkways as well as Highway No. 401—by the Ontario Government and other authorities.

The study of the Eastern Ontario Region is the fourth carried out by the Ontario Department of Economics on the ten economic regions of the province. Earlier publications have and the B of M way is sometimes the best way to say "Merry Christmas"

Sometimes money is the only logical gift for three or four of the more "difficult" names on your gift list . . . but to some of us cold cash and Christmas-giving just don't seem to go together. Well, the B of M has the way to take the chill off cold cash and make your gift of money a warm, personal one, fully in keeping with the spirit of the season.

Look over the B of M's three ways to make your gift of money arrive to the tune of "Jinglebells".

1. STUDENTS' AND BABIES' PASSBOOKS make a delightful extra for some youngsters on your list. Your gift of money is entered in a special passbook and enclosed in a Christmas cover guaranteed to make young eyes pop with glee.

2. MONEY ORDERS purchased for Christmas-giving come in gaily-decorated envelopes or folders that clearly spell out your Yuletide wish. Ideal for those "hard-to-buy-for" people on your out-of-town gift list.

3. SPECIAL CHRISTMAS CHEQUES are available in two colourful holiday designs — one for personal and one for business bonus-giving. They are "gift-wrapped" in a bright cover that glows with the spirit of the season.

See these special Christmas features at your neighbourhood branch of the B of M today (don't forget to bring your Christmas shopping list).

It is hoped that the report will prove helpful to the business and commercial community as well as the public generally in preparing for the opportunities of the future.
