History In The Making At All Candidates Meeting To-Night

History will be in the making at Winchester Public School Auditorium tonight when an All candidates meeting will be held. It marks the first time in recent memory and one of the few times ever that a meeting of this nature has been held in Winchester.

Unlike the old style nomination meetings the All candidates meeting tonight will feature all candidates running for office in the forthcoming December elections in a straight forward question and answer period.

Former Reeve George Elliott will be moderator of the important meeting and, as it stands now, each candidate will be alloted an initial time to tell his story to what should be a large crowd of interested ratepayers. Following the opening salvos by the candidates the public will be invited to field all reasonable questions and the candidates, as well as the three councillors who have been elected by acclamation, will be afforded the opportunity to reply.

Three well known men are seeking the office of Reeve and two other equally well known men are running for Deputy Reeve. Each has a program to offer in which views will be expressed as to where this municipality is going in the next two years, and how it will get there.

Important feature of the meeting, of course, is the opportunity for all citizens to take part if they so wish. The meeting offers an excellent time for persons interested in the welfare of Winchester, and in their own welfare, to field pertinent questions and to express their views of what they would like to see Council accomplish in the days ahead.

It is a vitally important meeting and a cordial invitation is extended to all citizens to meet the candidates and to take part in the discussions. The meeting gets underway at eight o'clock tonight in the public school auditorium.

Unless 60 volunteers come forward to assist the delivery program the 'Meals-On-Wheels' project will not be able to begin services in Winchester on January 6th as planned.

For those offering to help the task is relatively simple. All that is required will be for a driver and his helper to spend approximately 1½ hours each month delivering meals.

Surely there are many who can spare that much time; and if so, they are requested to contact driver co-ordinator Ken Ault at 774-2040 as soon as possible.

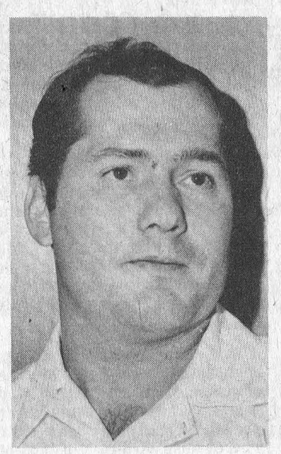
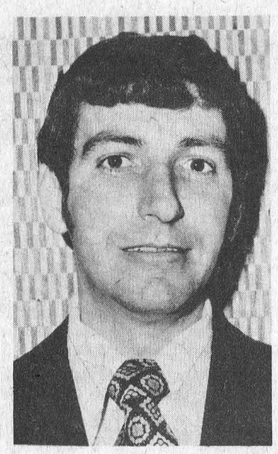
WINCHESTER ELECTION

Five Candidates Bidding For Reeve, Deputy Reeve Posts



Robert Carkner



Joel Steele

George Armstrong

Winchester voters will go to the polls on Monday, December 2nd to elect a new Reeve and Deputy Reeve. All three council seats have been filled by acclamation.

When nominations closed on Tuesday November 12th it appeared all seats would be contested with three having been nominated for Reeve; four for Deputy-Reeve and five for the three council seats. However those nominated had till 5:00 p.m. the next day to qualify and some who had been nominated for more than one office declared their intentions while others decided to withdraw.

Following the 5:00 p.m. deadline there was no change in contest for the top position with incumbent Reeve Walter Shadbolt being opposed by Deputy Reeve Lawrence Gray and a former village councillor Basil Dawley.

There were noticeable changes, however, where the office of Deputy Reeve was concerned. Melvin Vice, Keith Marquette, Frank Morgan and Reg Fetterly had all been nominated but both Mr. Morgan and Mr. Fetterly withdrew from the race leaving only two candidates and both Mr. Vice and Mr. Marquette, a present councillor, qualified.

NO ELECTION FOR COUNCIL

Five men had been nominated for the three council seats but only three qualified. Councillor Keith Marquette, who had been nominated for two positions chose to contest the Deputy-Reeveship, and Frank Morgan, who had also been nominated for two positions, chose to withdraw completely. As a result only three candidates were left and were acclaimed as the new council.

Bob Carkner, a present councillor will be joined by two newcomers, George Armstrong and Joel Steele.

Winchester Township Returns MacNabb

Reeve Cecil MacNabb will serve Winchester Township for another term. Mr. MacNabb remains unopposed and his acclamation was announced following the close of nominations last week.

There will, however, be an election in the township with two candidates contesting the Deputy Reeve's chair and four competing for the three council seats.

Incumbent Deputy Reeve Delbert Link is being opposed by Joe Marquette and one newcomer is in the race for council. Jim Sullivan, Gerald Holmes and Roland Cayer are all seeking re-election and are being opposed by newcomer Albert St. Pierre.

No Contests In Mountain, Williamsburg

Although it appeared when nominations had closed that an election might be necessary in Mountain Township the withdrawal of two candidates resulted in having all seats filled by acclamation. Although both Reeve Ewart Simms and Deputy Reeve Keith Fawcett were unopposed, five were nominated for the three council seats. The withdrawal of Don Irwin and Don Guy left only three and as a result all seats were filled by acclamation. The new council members are incumbents Herman Jansen and Elwood Coons, and newcomer Arnold Holmes.

In Williamsburg Township all offices were filled by acclamation. Reeve John Whitteker; Deputy Reeve Ed Hanson; and Councillors Graham Hess, Donald Kyle and Glen Cunningham will be in the administrative chairs for the coming term.

At Morrisburg And Chesterville

Two candidates will compete for the Reeve's seat. Robert Bright and William Dillabough, both members of council are seeking the office vacated by retiring Reeve Earl Barkley.

Deputy Reeve Edwin Jones was acclaimed and only three were nominated for the three council seats - Albert Belanger, Fred Hill and C.F. McInnis.

Chesterville Reeve Keith Graham will serve another term of office. Mr. Graham was unopposed when nominations closed.

Five candidates, however, are in the running for the four seats on council. Incumbents Stuart Allan, Archie Black and Fred Coons are being opposed by newcomers Garnet Droppo and Nelson LaPrade.

Acclamation For Council

Three members of the next Winchester Village Council will assume office without having had to undergo the nerve-wracking pressures of election day.

One council seat was vacated when Councillor Howard Manchester moved from the area; councillor Keith Marquette elected to contest the Deputy-Reeveship and this left only Bob Carkner of the old council. Mr. Carkner is an employee of Ault Foods Ltd.

The withdrawal of Frank Morgan reduced the number to the required three who will take office with the newly-elected Reeve and Deputy-Reeve.

The two newcomers, George Armstrong and Joel Steele are both well known and highly respected businessmen. Mr. Armstrong operates the Fina Station on St. Lawrence Street and Mr. Steele is the owner-manager of 'The Country Boy' clothing store on Main Street.

Both men have been active in community work and are looking forward to being of service to the municipality from an administrative level.

Popular Osgoode Township Reeve Dr. W.A. Taylor Goes Unopposed

When Dr. W.A. Taylor begins his newest term of office in 1975 he will be heading the Osgoode Township council for his 19th year.

The popular Veterinarian was first elected Reeve in 1950, and with the exception of a few years when he was forced to the sidelines by ill health, he has remained in office continuously since that time.

The municipality no longer is qualified to have a Deputy Reeve but four councillors are elected to complete the administrative slate. Six candidates were nominated, all six qualified, and voters on election day will elect four to office.

Present councillors Philip McEvoy and Albert McKeown will be opposed by newcomers Fred Alexander, Albert Bouwers, Mrs. Mary Cooper and Marty Rowan.

Mr. McEvoy is a contractor by trade and a resident of Greely, while Mr. McKeown is a farmer in the Edwards area.

Mr. Alexander, seeking office for the first time, farms in the Dalmeny district; Mrs. Cooper resides near Metcalfe Village; Mr. Bouwers and Mr. Rowan are both residents of Metcalfe. Mr. Bouwers a real estate agent associated with the John DeVries firm, and Mr. Rowan is associated with Cruickshank Construction, Morrisburg.

ALL CANDIDATES MEETING

An all-candidates meeting has been arranged and ratepayers will have an opportunity to hear the various platforms and become more familiar with those seeking office.

The meeting will be at Metcalfe Community Centre on Wednesday, November 27th commencing at 8:00 p.m.

MAYNARD MCDIARMID NOT SEEKING RE-ELECTION

Maynard McDiarmid, a man who has served Osgoode Township for many years as councillor is not seeking re-election this time.

Mr. McDiarmid, when interviewed, said he felt he was no longer able to offer active representation.

"I'm not as young as I used to be", he said, "and I believe the job requires younger and more active legs."

Discouraging Response To Questionnaire

Winchester Village Council will continue its study of the proposed Day Care Centre to serve the area despite a discouraging response to a recent questionnaire.

2,200 questionnaires were mailed to area residents and, at press time, only 47 has bothered to answer. Noteable however was the fact that of the 47 who answered 66 percent favoured the proposal.

Those conducting the survey are hopeful that many more questionnaires will be returned very soon and meanwhile work will continue in the hope a 'Centre' serving the district will become a reality.

Need Volunteers

Mrs. Evelyn Macartney President of Winchester District Memorial Women's Auxiliary has announced a need for Volunteers to serve 5 areas.

According to Mrs. Rosella Beeman co-ordinator of Volunteers, there are several specific areas where volunteers are needed. Volunteers may assist in patient areas, medical areas, as well as crafts.

Please call R. Beeman 774-3209.

Lumley Announces $382,000 In LIP Grants For Stormont-Dundas

Stormont-Dundas M.P. Ed Lumley last week released information that his riding will share a total of $382,000 in L.I.P. grants.

"This", said Mr. Lumley, "represents approximately 130 jobs for a total of 2,774 man-weeks."

The newly-elected Member also noted that his riding is receiving much larger grants than previously.. "Last year", he pointed out Stormont-Dundas received only $135,000.

Mr. Lumley visited the area last Friday and met with local Press representatives to explain exactly how the various grants had been alotted.

"Applications", he said, "are first sent to Queen's Park where they are subject to scrutiny by Municipal Affairs officials. From Queen's Park they are directed to the Constituency Advisory Group (CAG) and it is this group that studies the applications very carefully and makes recommendations to Federal officials.

Area members of CAG include: Keith Graham, Chesterville; Melvin Vice, Winchester; Bill Dillabough, Morrisburg and Marcel Legault, Moose Creek. Cornwall has six representatives on the board.

$15,070.00 FOR WINCHESTER

Although the application from Winchester Village was not filed on time, the municipality will nevertheless receive $15,070.00 through sharing the $32,575.00 Winchester Township grant.

L.I.P. grants must be used entirely for labour costs and the money alotted to the Village will be used for improvements at the Community Park.

Following is a breakdown of the riding grant structure.

Morrisburg - Renovations and repairs to Lakeshore United Church $14,706.00; Chamber of Commerce for construction of bandshell and other park work $8,310.00.

St. Andrews - Renovations to parish centre $10,960.00.

Cornwall - Renovations to St. Joseph's Villa $13,400.00.

Finch - Arena improvements $8,220.00.

Cornwall - St. Regis Band Council - housing for needy $24,934.00.

Finch Township - Restoration of abandoned cemeteries and work on township buildings $15,122.00.

Winchester Township - Cemetery improvements at Ormond Baptist, Morewood Presbyterian, Morewood United, Chesterville Roman Catholic and Maple Ridge Cemeteries $17,505.00. Work at Community Park in Village of Winchester $15,070.00.

Cornwall - Renovations and improvements at park and equipment $52,770.00.

Cornwall - Establishment of Art Gallery $8,220.00.

Cornwall - Craft centre for physically handicapped and disabled $10,686.00.

Snow Trails - Grant to Seaway Valley Snowmobile Association for trail work in three united counties $8,220.00.

Osnabruck Township - Grant to prepare site for proposed community centre $10,686.00.

Cornwall Township - Renovations of municipal facilities, arena and township buildings $21,372.00.

Apple Hill - Renovations to Zion United Church $8,220.00.

Charlottenburg Township - Finishing new community centre at Williamstown $20,346.00.

Mr. Lumley noted that two grants will go into Charlottenburg Township but he told press representatives this is in keeping with his policy to work closely with neighbouring ridings when such action benefits both.

He also thought it noteworthy that over 50 per cent of the total grant money is being alotted outside the City of Cornwall despite the fact two-thirds of the committee members reside in the city.

When questioned concerning the criteria used by CAG board members and Federal officials in determining allotment of grants, Mr. Lumley named four areas given very serious consideration:

1. Project creating most jobs.
2. Project most beneficial to most people.
3. Care that previously-funded projects do not receive a second grant.
4. Care that project funded does not replace some volunteer organization.

"It is always very important", he said, "that we keep volunteer organizations operational since their efforts in their respective communities is invaluable."

To Install Executive

The theme of St. Paul's W.M.S. November meeting was remembrance. After welcoming members and visitors Mrs. McKercher quoted a few lines from a poem written by Lawrence Binyan entitled "We Will Remember Them". This was followed by prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Thanks was extended to those who attended the sectional in Morrisburg and to those who filled the offices.

Members decided to have a luncheon meeting on December 4 at noon in the Sunday School rooms where the new executive will be installed. The offering was taken and dedicated. A moment of silence was observed in memory of a departed member Mrs. Katie Gallinger.

Mrs. Margaret Johnston and her committee then took charge of the program. They opened with a hymn, Mrs. Cooper read Psalm 46, and Mrs. Johnston gave the commentary followed by prayer by Mrs. Cinnamon. Mrs. Johnston gave a reading on the war cemetery in Holland telling how it is still well cared for by Dutch people and how visitors to the cemetery are always made welcome.

Mrs. Ella MacIntosh a nursing sister who served in the First World War gave a very interesting talk about the war and she was thanked by Margaret Johnston.

The meeting closed with the singing of "If I have Wounded Any Soul To-day".

Senior Citizens Remember

A large crowd from Vernon and the surrounding area assembled in the Historical Hall in Vernon to observe Remembrance Day.

Rev. Father Minvielle of St. Catherine's Parish, Metcalfe, was guest speaker. Father Minvielle, who was a chaplain in the last world war, gave a very inspiring talk on ecumenism.

Miss Jessie Robertson, whose brother was wounded in the war laid a wreath. Esbon Rice laid a wreath for the veterans and Ken Cameron read the names of those who served in both wars.

"The Soldiers Prayer", was ready by Harry Anderson and "In Flanders Fields" by Lawrence Brunton.

Two numbers were presented by the newly formed choir of the Gay Nineties Senior Citizens Club.The pianist for the occasion was Mrs. Doreen Acres. The programme was arranged by the president, Mrs. Daisy Robinson.

Sheriff Opens Bazaar

The Sheriff was called to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at Winchester last Saturday, but it was one of those all too rare occasions when his duties were extremely pleasant.

For Sheriff Mel Scott of Cornwall and his lovely wife it was a home-coming occasion when they found themselves being welcomed by a host of old friends at the annual Christmas Tea and Bazaar.

A former Winchester resident, Mr. Scott is very well known having worked for many years in the Village, as well as having been a prominent figure on the sports front. Rated, in his younger days, as one of the top hockey referees in the district he was a familiar figure on arenas in all parts of Eastern Ontario.

Officially opening the gala event he thanked the ladies for giving him the opportunity to reminisce with his friends in such a pleasant and colourfully decorated setting.

He praised the ladies who each year promote the fund-raising pre-Christmas bazaar and noted that the event has become as much a part of Christmas in Winchester as the appearance of Santa himself.

Mrs. Ralph Johnston, in conversation with the Press on Monday morning, reported the Tea and Bazaar had proved the most successful to date. "We realized in excess of $900.00", she said, "and because some articles were not sold, we're still doing business."

The entire bazaar area was beautifully decorated for the occasion with soft lights and genuine Christmas atmosphere prevailing in the tea room where Miss Arleen Nesbitt of Winchester Springs provided appropriate background music during the afternoon.

In the photo Mr. and Mrs. Scott are seen accepting a gift from one of the workers, and Mr. Scott is also shown chatting with an old friend.

Spectacular Night Blaze

Metcalfe fire fighters were summoned to the scene of a barn fire last Thursday, and although they arrived on the scene in record time, the blaze was well out of control when they arrived.

The building, located three miles North and West of Metcalfe belonged to Joe Amyot of New York and had been used for many years by Mr. Amyot's brother Romeo.

It is understood the building was slated for demolition and steps were being taken to remove a large quantity of hay during the day but cause of the fire remains a mystery.

Mr. Amyot said the contents of the building were covered by insurance but the building itself was not covered.

The spectacular blaze lit the night sky and visible for miles attracting many to the scene.

The accompanying photo was taken only seconds before the roof collapsed.

Roy's catch measured 45 inches and weighed 35 lb. on his parents' bathroom scales. The weight promptly dropped 10 lb. on a local butcher shop scales.

Maskinonge season ends Nov. 30 in eastern Ontario.

But you didn't go alone
For part of me went with you
The day God called you home.

CRAIG—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Eldon, who passed away November 19, 1973.
Oh Father dear we miss you so
The ache in our hearts no one could know
We miss your smile, but your guidance and love
We still can sense from up above.
Dear Grandpa, why were you called away?
You guided us in our work and play
You loved and cuddled us everyone
Just being with you was so much fun
Our family chain is broken now
They say time will heal but we don't know how
Or when this healing will take place
How we long to see your smiling face.

If You've Been Thinking Of Buying A Home...

DON'T PUT IT OFF!

Here's Why!

It has been estimated that a delay of one year will add $3,424 to the 30,000 homes based on current increases in land, labour and material cost. On the other hand a one percent drop in interest rates would save a mere $225.00 annually. It all adds up to a sensible reason to start planning now and don't put it off.

Guaranteed Prices 'Till Dec. 31 On The Following

1. Seven houses for immediate occupancy from $36,900.
2. Fourteen lots for your new custom or modular home.
3. Homes from $21,500 for your lot and foundation.
4. Homes from the ground up on your lot from $27,500.00.
5. Information on - Home Owner grants and home mortgages.

No Sign Of Winter — Yet!

Many times in other years, Winchester Public School childen were romping in the snow by mid-November - - but not this year.

The accompanying photo taken this week, shows the girls and boys still utilizing summer recreation equipment. Leaves drifting across the school grounds propelled by stiff breezes are a sure sign that old man winter is lurking just around that proverbial corner, but for the present it's fun on an exceptionally mild late November day.

Hawks Down Jets Friday Larry Moore Stars In Win

(By Al VanBridger)

Almost 500 fans were on hand here Friday night to see Larry Moore score 3 goals in the Hawks exciting 6 to 4 win over the Metcalfe Jets. It was a solid team effort on the part of the Hawks which collected them their first two points in the standings.

The games three stars were well deserved, and very instrumental in the Hawks big win. Number one star was Larry Moore who scored three goals with alot of second effort and great desire, to lead the Hawks to their first win. Glen Taylor for the third time in a row received a star, this time it was second star for his outstanding defensive work. Goalie Mike Prubant was sensational in goal as he picked up the games third star.

The Hawks led 2-0 after one period of play on goals by young Mike Armstrong and Larry Moore. Len McLean and Tom Kirkwood set up Armstrong's goal while Lloyd Fawcett and Tom Kirkwood picked up assists on Moore's first goal.

It was 4-2 in the Hawks favour after two period of play. Metcalfe's Jim Redmond opened the period's scoring. But four minutes later Larry Jackson put one past the Jets Cochrane when he was set up by Randy Drew and Jeff O'Neil. Larry Moore collected his second goal on a beautiful play set up by his linemates Mike Armstrong and Len McLean. Before the period ended the Jets Larry Clarke beat Prubant after he was set up by Marty Kelly.

The third period was wide opened and featured some great rushes from end to end and some good solid hitting on the part of both the Hawks and the Jets. Doug Harvey of Metcalfe scored the periods' first goal to draw the Jets to within 1 goal of the Hawks.

The Jets were then starting to really press when Lloyd Fawcett blasted one past Jets net minder Bryan Cochrane to one again open up a two goal margin. The Hawks were then penalized for holding and things were looking bad but Larry Moore stole the puck from a Jet defenseman and walked in to score the Hawks sixth goal and his third of the game. It was just a great effort on Moore's part and an entire team effort which made the game so exciting to watch. Doug Harten scored the Jets 4th and last goal at the 5:48 mark to round out the scoring.

The Hawks dominated the shots on goal by a 38 to 29 count.

METCALFE 4 — HAWKS 2

On Sunday Winchester paid a return visit to Metcalfe and after leading in most of the game lost by a close 4 to 2 score.

Tom Kirkwood scored six minutes into the first period after Keith McRoberts and Glen Taylor set up the play.

Tom's goal stood on the strength the Hawks Mike Prubant's excellent goal tending until Metcalfe scored with just two minutes left in the second period. It was the Jets Chris Ealer who notched the tying goal.

Just after two minutes into the third period Tom Kirkwood fired home a Karl McRoberts rebound to put the Hawks up by a two to 1 score. But the Jets bent on avenging their 6-4 loss to the Hawks struck for three more goals to end the game with a 4-2 score. Hugh Doyle, Shane Jordan and Doug Harvey were the Jets who scored to spoil the Hawks bid to win their second straight.

Both games over the weekend were good sound team efforts on the part of the Hawks and on Sunday if they had hit the net on a few more of their splendid chances they may have won two straight.

The Hawks are starting to show signs of a winning team and after their thrilling 6-4 win here at home fans should be in for an exciting game on Friday Nov. 22, when the Prescott Saints will be here to supply the opposition.

Keith Seuyle was the lucky winner of Friday's 50-50 draw when he pocketed $103.00.

Stewart Johnson won $53.25 in the draw at Metcalfe on Sunday.

CountryBoy Bantams Win League Opener

The hockey season is well into another long winter of early weekend mornings, and hot dog breakfasts. This past weekend was the start of the regular schedule, for the Winchester Bantam travelling team. The league opener was played at Morrisburg on Friday evening, prior to the Hawks game.

It was an evening that all coaches would enjoy, as every line proved their worth, by adding to the total score. With strong defensive play and good fore-checking, the 'Country Boy Bantams' went home, with a 5 to 1 score in their favor.

Sunday morning the scene was Metcalfe Arena, to play the Greely Bantams. It is Greely's first year in the league, and Winchester's experience in the league showed through. Fly - In Fishermen And Hunters Checked

A few years ago you could charter an aircraft, on floats of course, fly off into the wilderness and be reasonably assured that you would be the only party in the area. As well, your chances of actually being checked by a conservation officer would be about one in a hundred. But that is not the way it is today.

In Northwestern Ontario, the ministry of natural resources employs a full time conservation officer and charters a private aircraft to deliberately check fly-in anglers and hunters who search for fish and game in out of the way places.

Aircraft enforcement officer, Bob McGillivray, states in his latest report that "Traffic in fly-in fishing and hunting continues to increase."

Last year, Bob checked 1,641 anglers and hunters (including 983 non-resident fishermen) who had flown in to fish or hunt. Violations usually run higher for fly-in fishermen and hunters than they do for others using more conventional means of travel such as automobiles or boats. Seventy-nine charges were laid altogether and 70 warnings issued for minor infractions. Overlimits of fish (23) and loaded firearms in power boats (25) were the main offences. Fines totalled $4,649.00 and averaged about $58.00 per charge.

Since the program started three years ago, charges are actually down from a high of 100 in 1972 when fewer fly-in fishermen and hunters were checked (1,280). More important, the violation frequency is down from 7.8 to 4.0 per cent; a decrease of about 50 per cent.

The ministry intends to maintain and improve this type of surveillance.

It's A Gay Mad Whirl

Let's see. Where am I? I know I was going to make a pointed, telling attack this week on one of the great evils of our society. But I can't remember what it was.

Maybe that's because I have three exams to set, eleventy-four essays to mark, my bricks are falling out, along with my fillings, and my wife, who has just given me a thrilling account of how she couldn't get the car started, is going to the hospital tomorrow.

Ah, well, c'est la vie, as the Chinese say. You can't have everything running like clockwork in a world in which the most sensible creatures seem to be cockroaches.

I also have forty-four letters to answer, six vital telephone calls to make, a speech to write, and a grandbabby to bring up.

Then there are about seven thousand pounds of oak leaves to rake and bag. I think I'll send them to Bangla-Desh. Surely somebody there knows how to make oak leaf and acorn soup. Don't think I'm being hard and cynical. There's a lot of protein in those acorns. And I have 28 squirrels, not counting children, in my attic to prove it.

Maybe you think this is just the whining of a middleaged man, who can't cope with life. Well, you're right.

My bricks are falling out. Or they are being sucked out, by the gentle vines of this old Georgian house, which are about as gentle as a giant squid. The roofer said, "Geez, Bill, your bricks are loose." It sounds sort of obscene, like, "You have rocks in your head." But it's not. They're falling out. (Or being knocked out by the clumsy roofers and painters. Sh-h-h-h.)

And my filling are falling out as fast as I can, or my dentist can, put them in. He's a nice guy, and the most painless dentist I have ever had, for which I will cling to him until teeth do us depart, but you can't build pine trees out of stumps.

And then there's my grandbabby. You'd think I would not worry about him when he's a hundred miles away. But I do.

How do I know those young sillies in the daycare centre are teaching him the right things. Do they know how to ride him on a jigging foot to the tune of, "Did You Ever Go Into An Irishman's Shanty, Where Money Is Scarce and Whiskey Is Plenty?"?

Do they know how to let him chew their thumb while at the same time whistling in his belly and waving his bare foot in the air to the tune of "Knees Up, Moter Brown"?

Well, maybe the young sillies aren't doing too badly, as long as there are three of them to one of him. At least they're not trying to unteach him the good things he's learned from his gramps.

Had a call from his mother last Sunday. She made it from a phone booth, as Mother Bell has not smiled on them yet. Asked her where the baby was. She responded coolly that he was on her knee, tearing pages out of the telephone directory.

He loves tearing up books, especially those of sacred institutes, like the Bell. I started him off with the inane coloured sections of the Saturday papers. He seemed to thrive on it, ripping them apart with gusto, relish, and any ketchup that happened to be around.

I thought it wise to move him up to telephone books, police reports, politicans' speeches, beer labels and such examples of Canadian culture. Turns out he's a boy after my own heart.

Go to it, Pokey. His real name is Nicov Chen, but I tacked Pokey on him, and it has stuck. He pokes into everything that is moving, or still. If it's moving he stops it; if it's still, he makes it move, grinning fiendishly all the time.

I tell you, it's a gay, made whirl around here. Just now I was interrupted by two pretty girls at the front door, rakes in hand. I'd forgotten about them. They'd come to rake my leaves. For money, of course. Couldn't get any boys.

In the past week I have also dealt with sixteen students who are obvious flunkers, one irate parent, several disgruntled teachers, and one invitation to judge a beauty contest.

To top it off, in today's mail came an election flyer, from Ray Argyle, who syndicates this column, announcing his run for school trustee. He must be out of his nut.

Everybody seems to be going a bit mad these days, but I'll lay odds that I get there before the rest of you.

Early Fall Morning

Agriculture Viewpoint

Honourable Donald R. Irvine
M.P.P. Grenville-Dundas
Minister of Housing
Room 1324, Whitney BLock
Queen's Park

In this column, I would like to present a few thoughts on some significant developments which have been made in the area of agriculture.

One project which has attracted considerable attention from all parts of the province is the land leasing programme. In areas where the Ontario government has acquired sizeable portions of land which are not immediately required for development, the land will be made available to qualifying farmers on a lease basis.

I would like at this time to clear up some misunderstandings surrounding this project. The land is not available to agricultural college graduates only. The project is designed for any farmer who has the necessary qualifications.

The land leasing programme is an undertaking of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food in co-operation with the other ministries of the Ontario Government. By leasing from the province, farmers will be able to put money toward equipment which they will be able to take with them, and can also save for their own farms.

The programme offers many advantages to farmers faced with the heavy financial commitments of establishing a farm.

As the world's population continues to expand, the demands for greater food supply also increase. Since the second World War, farmers have turned to a greater use of fertilizers and mechanization in order to boost agriculutrual output. Since 1945, the use of nitrogen in U.S. corn production has increased from 7 lbs. per acre to 112 lbs per acre in 1970. The situation here in Ontario is precisely the same. This demand for nitrogen-based fertilizers has resulted in increased costs and declining availability.

Most nitrogen fertilizers are bi-products of natural gas. Because we are faced with the prospect of natural gas shortages in the future, new methods must be found to use fertilizer more efficiently.

The Ontario Agricultural Institute of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food offers a soil testing service to all farmers. If a farmer sends in specific soil samples of fields which have been consistently fertilized over the years, the research scientists can discover the type and amount of fertilizer necessary to produce high quality crops. By means of this service, all types of fertilizers can be distributed to benefit not only our agricultural industry but also other parts of the world.

Last April, the Land Speculation Tax was introduced in the Ontario Legislature. The Tax was not designed to raise revenue, but rather to discourage speculative activity which was responsible for artifically driving up the price of land but adding nothing to its value.

At the time of the introduction of the Land Speculation Tax, the government made it quite clear that some unforeseen problems would inevitably arise which would require correction. Since that time, there have been continuous amendments and refinements to the Tax to ensure that any inequities in application would be resolved.

An example of refinement in the Tax was seen in the exemption provided for homeowners renting out one or more rooms. This exemption is retroactive to April 9th. The Tax still applies, however, to self-contained apartments in a building even if the owner lives there, and rooms in buildings which are not occupied by their owner.

Further changes in the Tax are outlined in the Act to amend the Land Speculation Tax Act, 1974 which is currently been considered in the Legislature.

Investment property reduction has been extended to include farm property. In this way, any farm which has been in a family for 10 years or more prior to its sale is completely exempt from the tax if it is then sold outside the family. If a farm has been operational for less than 10 years, then the farmer can reduce any potential tax by a straight 10 per cent cumulatively. Additional reductions are provided for based on maintenance costs incurred on a farm.

I am confident that the changes which have been outlined in this new Act to amend the Land Speculation Tax Act, 1974 will eliminate any misunderstanding or confusion felt by farmers about the effect of the tax on them.

Jr. Farmers Represent Dundas On Tour

This is one of the many questions ninety-four young farmers from across Ontario were asking during this year's JUNIOR FARMER LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT TOUR last week.

John Douma, Chesterville; Frank Casselman, Chesterville; and Doug Blaine, Mountain, were the delegates from Dundas County.

The "farm visits" portion of the tour program was concentrated in southwestern Ontario in the counties of Kent, Elgin, Middlesex, Lambton and Oxford. Here participants had an opportunity to learn how beef, dairy, swine and sheep operators are managing their enterprises in the seventies. Livestock husbandry, farm business agreements and stock selection were the main topics considered during the week.

On Thursday the delegates participated in the Inter-County Livestock Evaluation Competition at Shur-Gain Farms, Elmlea Hereford Farms and the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. Friday morning, the group visited livestock marketing facilities in the Toronto area, including Canada Packers and the Ontario Public Stock Yards. That evening the group were guests of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair at the Horse Show.

Guest speaker for the concluding banquet was the Hon. Wm. A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food.

Williamsburg W.I. Meets

The November meeting of the Williamsburg Women's Institute was chaired by Mrs. Lyal Kehoe, vice-president. Seventeen members answered the roll call "How I try to prevent pollution", four guests were present. A report was read concerning progress of the branch's foster child in the Phillipines and it was voted to carry on the adoption plan for another year.

Members were reminded about the exchange gifts for the Christmas program and also the roll call to be answered by a gift for a resident of the Glen-Stor-Dun-Lodge in Cornwall.

Mrs. Donald Hess was convener of the program "Men and Nature". Bernice Whittaker and Laurie Schell sang a Harvest Song. Mrs. Doris McMullen from the Pollution Probe Program, Ottawa showed a film and gave many enlightening factors about pollution. Literature and a book on "Ecology Shopping" was given out by Mrs. McMullen. Mrs. Clair Algire expressed a vote of thanks to those taking part in the program.

With the singing of "God Save The Queen" the meeting was adjourned and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Lyal Kehoe and Mrs. Ferneley Johnston.

Amy Holmes' Rink Captures Challenge Pins

The annual day-long bonspiel for the coveted Delia Robinson Challenge Pins was played last week at Winchester Curling Club. A total of six rinks entered the competition and a rink skipped by Amy Holmes emerged victorious.

Skip Holmes had Bea Eadie playing third; Shirley Reid, second and Ruby Dawley, lead.

Marg Boyd skipped the runner-up rink with Norma Wylie throwing third; Marg Graves, second and Dorothy Hatcher, lead.

A pot-luck supper was enjoyed and the winning skip threw out a challenge to 'all comers' to meet her rink 'any time' for the beautiful pins.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Leyenaar of Perth spent Armistice day with the formers parents Mr. and Mrs. K. Leyenaar and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R.S. Allison spent the weekend in Toronto and attended the winter fair. Misses Clara and Ella Deeks accompanied them to Brockville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Casselman and Kim of Morrisburg and Mrs. Aden Casselman had dinner on Sunday night at Winchester.

Aid Bangladesh Victims

Moving to offset developing famine in Bangladesh, CARE last week authorized the purchase of 1,000 tons of wheat to be used in immediate feeding programs in mother-child feeding centres. The international feeding and developing agency said that an additional 3,700 tons of rolled oats were being programmed through CARE by UNICEF for immediate use in the emergency programs.

"Starvation in Bangladesh deepens by the hour," Thomas Kines, National Director of CARE Canada, said. "As always in such cases, the very old and the very young are dying in large numbers. Unless immediate action is taken, an enormous human tragedy is in the making."

Mr. Kines said that the 1,000 tons of wheat were valued at $300,000 and their purchase would place a heavy strain on CARE's resources in view of the growing need for similar emergency programs in other parts of the world."

"We must save every single human being that we can in Bangladesh," Mr. Kines said. "CARE, as always, must do everything that contributions permit. Our staff in Bangladesh has had long experience in feeding millions."

CARE has had programs in Bangladesh since 1961. Contributions may be sent to BANGLADESH FAMINE FUND, CARE Canada Dept. 4, 63 Sparks, Ottawa K1P 5A6.

Call For Inquiry Of Housing Corporation

This afternoon, Margaret Campbell, Liberal M.P.P. for St. George, called upon the Provincial Government to initiate a full public inquiry into the activities of the Ontario Housing Corporation.

"The Ontario Housing Corporation must be investigated fully, and the activities of officials at every level, including the Board of Directors, must be scrutinized very carefully", said Mrs. Campbell.

"A full official inquiry is imperative, and all records, including the Corporation's books and the Minutes of the Board of Directors' meetings, must be available for scrutiny. In the past, when we have requested that these documents be made available to Members of the Legislature, we have been refused. If necessary, the power to subpoena should be exercised by those conducting the inquiry.

"Information has reached my office which indicates very clearly that the affairs of the Corporation have, to a very great extent, been conducted against a background of socializing, and the donation of gifts by developers and others interested in transacting business with the Corporation.

"At the present time, there are cases involving the Ontario Housing Corporation before the Courts, but in my opinion these only relate to a comparatively small proportion of the widespread practice of 'influence pedalling' which has been prevalent for some years. Senior officials have been involved in these activities and have therefore not been in a position to give any moral leadership.

"A public inquiry is long over-due and should be initiated without delay."

Energy Minister Compares Christmas Light Energy

Many are already considering the installation of Christmas lights and some may be wondering if stringing the long lines of attractive bulbs is a useless waste of energy.

THIRTY-TON PIPE

A 30-ton section of intake pipe arrives at Ontario Hydro's Bruce Nuclear Power Development on Lake Huron. The 21-foot diameter pipe is part of the cooling water intake for Bruce heavy water plant"B", now under construction. Eventually to extend 2700 feet out under the lake, the intake is made up of 52-foot sections such as this one. A special cradle was designed for the 40-foot trailer to transport the sections. Intake construction began July 23, 1974, and is expected to be completed early in the summer of 1976.

Following are some facts recently released following word that both Federal Energy Minister Donald Macdonald and Premier William Davis had both given the go-ahead for traditional Christmas lighting this season: 15 outdoor Christmas lights consume less energy than two 75-watt household bulbs; 15 outdoor Christmas lights illuminated six hours a day for 15 days use one-twentieth of the energy needed to cook a 20-pound Christmas turkey for six hours in a self-cleaning oven at 350 degrees; 15 outdoor Christmas lights, illuminated for six hours a day use less than one-half of the energy consumed by a colour television during the same period; A 15-bulb string of Christmas light illuminated six hours a day for 15 days, consume one-quarter of the energy used by a 14-pound clothes dryer in one hour; Hydro Quebec's water turbines furnish 99.6 per cent of Quebec's total electrical energy needs. Hydro electric energy is a constantly-renewable resource; None of Ontario's dependable capacity of 14.4 million kilowatts is produced through the use of oil, while less than 0.06 per cent of the electical energy generated in Ontario is used for Chrismtas lighting.

Former Winchester Resident Miss Margaret Holmes Dies

Following a lengthy illness, Miss Margaret Holmes, formerly of Winchester, Ontario, died in Toronto on November 9, 1974. She was in her 90th year.

Rose Apple Cider Something New!

A tree developed more than 40 years ago at Agriculture Canada's Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, as an ornamental crabapple never gained much popularity.

The tree, named Geneva, is attractive in appearance with almost plum-colored leaves, but it bears rather large, deep-red and slightly bitter apples which tend to mess the garden each fall.

Because they had some resistance to apple scab disease, two of the original trees have remained on the experimental farm here, being paid little attention.

That was until a group of cider producers from Quebec heard about them and visited the orchard to see the deep-red fruit.

The apples were just what they were looking for as an additive to cider to give it a rose hue. Attempts at using ordinary, small crabapples had proved impractical.

The fruit of the ornamental crabapple is the size of an ordinary eating apple, but the red color penetrates an inch beneath the skin.

Cider has become a popular drink in Quebec, with an appearance and bubble similar to that of expensive imported wines. The manufacture of a rose variety was a natural progression for the producers.

Prescott Gets $5,000 Housing Study Grant

The Honourable Donald R. Irvine, M.P.P., - Grenville-Dundas, Minister of Housing, is pleased to announce that approval has been given for the Town of Prescott to receive a Municipal Housing Policy Study Grant in the amount of $5,000.00 to assist in the preparation of a housing policy statement, in order to ensure that local housing targets are integrated with Provincial housing objectives.

These grants, ranging from $5,000.00 to $30,000.00, depending upon the municipality's population, are made available to councils to encourage them to prepare and submit a housing policy statement outlining the municipality's general housing aims.

The Ministry of Housing is recommending to municipalities that receive housing study grants, a two-phase procedure. For phase one, municipal councils are being requested to submit a policy statement containing council's general housing goals and targets for each of the next three years, with emphasis on housing for low and moderate-income households and reference to which specific housing programs would be used to meet these goals.

Council's phase two document would be more detailed about targets by type of housing, price range, income groups to be served and the availability of serviced residential land for each of the next three years.

The grants, and the municipal policy statements, are designed to encourage active municipal participation in the achievement of the Province's housing goals.

Balloon Sequel:

Ross Receives Full Report

Several weeks ago Ontario Hydro employee Ross Reaney reported finding a small balloon on a lonely road somewhere near Vars, Ontario. Mr. Reaney (many readers will remember) reported his finding to the Press and answered the tiny note fastened securely to the small craft.

Last week he received a 'Thank You' letter from the school in New Brighton, Mn. where the balloon originated.

A.H. Beers, Science Instructor at the school sent along the information that his pupils had released a total of 400 'dime-store balloons filled with helium', and to date 66 have been returned. Following is an interesting paragraph from the letter sent to Mr. Reaney by the Science Instructor:

"It was very exciting to hear the stories of our balloons. They were fished out of rivers and lakes, found on bushes and trees, tangled around auto antennas and landed on balconies. They were found by housewives, farmers, children, hunters, workers and others. Returns were received from 52 towns and cities scattered across 5 states and Canada. The distance record is held by the balloon which travelled to Vars, Ontario, Canada, a journey in excess of 900 miles. It travelled the distance in 22 hours.

There's a humorous touch to the tale also. The brief note attached to the balloon when Mr. Reaney found it was signed 'Linda Burmeister Beers'. This week Mr. Reaney also received a letter from the little girl. Here it is:

Dear Mr. Reaney:

I'm a 8th grade student at Edgewood. I received your letter and card four days after you sent it. On your newspaper article it said my name ended in 'Beers'. That's not my last name, that's my Science teacher's name. I probably forgot the comma. I'm so glad my balloon was found. Thank you.

Linda Burmeister.

Mary Cooper Nominated For Osgoode Twp. Council

A woman candidate has been nominated for Council in Osgoode Township, in the Municipal Elections to be held December 2nd. She is Mary Cooper of R.R. 2 Metcalfe.

Mrs. Cooper is the wife of Paul Cooper and they have five children all attending Metcalfe schools. They have lived and farmed 1½ miles north of Metcalfe village for nearly 14 years.

Keenly interested in municipal affairs, Mary has attended most Township Council and Planning Board meetings over the past year, and as well has attended Regional Planning Committee meetings in Ottawa, and Ontario Municipal Board hearings. She is a charter member of the North Metcalfe Community Group, now incorporated into the Metcalfe and District Citizens Association, which she serves as secretary.

The main issue upon which she will seek support is better communication between the Council of Osgoode Township and the citizens. Mary Cooper says: "Vital decisions affecting our future are going to be made by Council in the coming year. The people should especially be made aware of the important choices available to us under the Regional Plan and given every opportunity to state their views to their elected representatives. We want more open Council meetings and I will promote the idea of open forums in various Township centres throughout the year, where citizens can exchange views with their elected officials."

Funds Aid Physically Disabled

Service Clubs Organize "Seals" Campaign

The future of more than 1600 physically handicapped youngsters in Eastern Ontario could well be affected by the first annual regional meeting of thirty-two Easter Seal service clubs on Saturday, November 16, at the Ottawa Crippled Children's Treatment Centre on Symth Road.

Board and staff members of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children met with representatives of both the Easter Seal and the Crippled Children's committees of the member service clubs of the Society to review plans for next year's Easter Seal campaign and to acquaint members with the Society's future plans for improved services and facilities for handicapped youngsters in their region.

In attendance were volunteers from the following clubs: Belleville, Brockville, Chesterville, Eganville, Gananoque, Hawkesbury, Kemptville, Kingston, Napanee, Ottawa, Perth, Picton, Prescott, Renfrew, Smiths Falls, Stirling and Trenton Rotary; Alexandria, Almonte, Arnprior, Bancroft, Finch, Iroquois, Madawaska, Metcalfe, Morrisburg, Russell and Sharbot Lake Lions; Cornwall, Madoc and Pembroke Kiwanis and Carleton Place '100'.

Special emphasis was placed in the need for greater community involvement in establishing or expanding local recreation programs for the handicapped. Among the new or proposed programs discussed was short-term residential care of children to give parents needed relief. The effect of recent changes in the Day Nurseries Act was considered and an outline of future plans for new treatment centres in those regions where facilities are at present inadequate or non-existant.

Local members of the Society's board of directors and the Society's district nurses Miss Colton, Miss Tait and Mrs. Tanner from the Ottawa office, Mrs. Wiskin from Kingston, Miss Edwards from Cornwall and Mr. Grant Young from Belleville also attended the all-day gathering. Throughout the day, service club volunteer workers had an opportunity of discussing their work with handicapped children in their own areas with the visiting Society Staff and volunteer workers from other service clubs.

The Ontario Society for Crippled Children is an association of 234 Easter Seal service clubs - Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Kinsmen and others - committed to the service of physically handicapped children and young people.

The Society has offices in 21 locations across Ontario.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

You can tell from the expression that Dick is an imp. At nine he is lively and mischievous — and most engaging.

Anglo-Saxon in background, Dick is a husky youngster with brown hair and hazel eyes. His health is excellent. He is somewhat shy on meeting strangers but soon becomes his uninhibited self. With people he knows, he is lovable and affectionate.

Because he is hyperactive and excitable, school has been hard for Dick, as it is for any child who finds it difficult to stay put. He is in Grade Four.

Dick loves the outdoors. His foster family camps regularly and Dick has become an enthusiast. He likes any kind of energetic game, especially hockey but is fond of music and has started to play the guitar.

Dick needs young, energetic parents who will enjoy his liveliness and give him love, stimulation and control.

To inquire about adopting Dick, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your local Children's Aid Society.

North Dundas District News

The date was Thursday, November 14, 1974 at the Secondary School of North Dundas, a visiting Junior team from Cornwall Collegiate was soundly defeated on the court. West of this action, more suspense was being created at Tagwi, as the team in white from North Dundas struggled to beat Tagwi's "two-man" team in the final game of a two-game total point series. Amidst the total confusion of how many seconds were left in the final quarter, and the shouts of elation and despair coming from the small number of North Dundas supporters allowed in the gym, the buzzer finally announced that Tagwi had succeeded in winning the match with a total score of 74 to 68. This was to be the one and only game that the Senior girls lost all season. The Junior Team, with a perfect winning record, will travel on November 21, to Kingston for a one-day tournament, representing this league at E.O.S.S.A. What an honour. But, then again, what a team!

When this issue of the paper is read by the public the fund-raising campaign will be finished for another year. The money raised will be in big demand, for many clubs suffered financial loss when the office vault of North Dundas was robbed. With little money available for inter-school sports from physical-education budgets, the onus has been put on the Athletic Association to come up with the "dough". But it's hard to do with robberies setting you back. It is hoped that it can be reported that the fund raising has been a success, and that North Dundas' student council is financially stable. We know for a certainty that it is in all other areas.

Mid-term reports came out last week, along with parent teacher interviews. Worried eyes, jodes about low marks and faces full of confidence accompanied the events. For some, it meant just the beginning of a long year. For Level 5 students, it signified the completion of half a term, and hopefully, half a credit. The semester system is working well at the schools, and most students are happy with it.

House league will be centering on basket ball, in the near future, and we know that the interest shown will make it a success, for, especially this year, N.D.D.H.S. has become a basketball oriented high school. We wish the best of luck to the Juniors, and hope they skunk any opposing teams.

It can be sprinkled on or mixed with hot or cold cereal or mixed one part with two or three parts of regular flour for home baking.

Q. ARE CANNED VEGETABLES GOOD SOURCES OF VITAMINS?

A. Yes. There is a small loss of vitamins in the heating during the canning process but the maximum value can be obtained if the vegetable juice is also used in soups or gravy.

Q. WHAT IS THE BEST, MOST ECONOMICAL FORM OF MILK TO SERVE CHILDREN?

A. The cheapest form of milk is skim milk powder which can be quite acceptable if mixed ahead and served very cold. Another alternative would be to mix reconstituted powdered milk half and half with fluid milk for a more acceptable flavour. Also in baking and cooking where mixtures of ingredients are used, powdered skim milk can be used to advantage.

Q. WHAT WOULD BE SOME SAMPLE SNACKS FOR MY PRE-SCHOOL CHILD?

A. Snacks supplying nutritional value as well as energy are best, such as small pieces of fruit, cut-up raw vegetables, cheese cubes, crackers spread with cheese or peanut butter.

Q. MY DAUGHTER WON'T EAT EGGS. WHAT ELSE CAN I PREPARE FOR HER BREAKFAST?

A. There is no reason why eggs must be used for breakfast. Breakfast foods should supply energy from a balance of protein fat and carbohydrates. These nutrients will maintain your daughter's vitality throughout the morning. A whole grain or enriched cereal with ½ cup of milk does provide protein, carbohydrate, some fat calcium and "B" vitamins. For a change, why not try a toasted cheese sandwich, or yogurt, sausages or cold meat or peanut butter with muffins.

Most Snowmobile Deaths Occur By Drowning

The Ontario Safety League's recent report on 1973-74 Snowmobile Fatalities reveals that the biggest single factor leading to death while operating a snowmobile is drowning.

It is natural for devotees of the sport to be impetuous about getting started. Even though there may be little snow covering snowmobile trails at this early date in the season, the first ice on rivers, lakes and inlets offers a tempting surface on which to run a machine. Resist the temptation.

The Ontario Safety League suggests the best safety practice for snowmobilers at this time of year is to test the ice. Chop a hole fifty feet from shore to verify ice thickness. Check with local residents, sportsmen, forest rangers and fish hut owners on how long the water has been iced. The same people can give you advice on how to avoid water curents that thin the ice in narrow channels between lakes, near points of land, close to islands and where two streams meet.

Here are a few things to do while waiting for substantial snowfalls:

- Join a snowmobile club
- Check your machine for safe operating efficiency
- Equip your tool box with belts, tools, parts and plugs
- Get gear in shape: repair boots and clothing
- Plan a "safari" and organize safari equipment.

Christmas Seals Campaign Objective Set At $25,000

At the management meeting of the Eastern Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association held at the New Parkway Hotel on November 12, the Christmas Seal Campaign Target was set at $25,000. To date there has been a favourable response in returns.

While it's a common belief that more Canadians smoke than do not smoke, surveys indicate that 56.4 percent of persons over fifteen years of age do not smoke. Christmas Seals are used to carry out non-smoking programs. There is a long way to go warns the Association.

At the November management meeting, tentative plans were made for a National Education Week on Non Smoking to be held January 11-17. The Association feels that prevention of Respiratory Diseases is a valuable service to the community.

Present at the meeting was Mr. Archibald Les McDonald Program Consultant for the Ontario Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Mr. McDonald expressed that he felt that the Eastern Counties Association was doing well in its efforts to be an active service to the community.

Submitted by the Eastern Counties Tuberculosis & Respiratory Disease Association 932-4999.

Traffic Deaths On Increase

Ontario traffic collision statistics for 1973 have now been released, according to the Ontario Safety League. Ministry of Transportation and Communications figures show a slight increase in almost every category. Although the number of vehicles registered in the province rose by 5.8 per cent and the estimated miles travelled by 8.3 percent, highway fatalities increased by only 1.3 percent. 1,959 men, women and children were killed on the province's roads and highways in 1973, with 97,900 persons injured.

The growing popularity of bicycles and motorcycles is reflected in major increases in fatalities among these two groups. Injuries among motorcycle drivers rose from 66 to 1972 in 84 last year - an increase of over 27 percent. Forty-three of the motorcyclists killed were between 15 and 19 years of age. The number of bicyclists killed went from 62 in 1972 to 69 in 1973 - an increase of over 11 percent. More than half the victims were under 15 years of age.

Alcohol impairment has increased significantly, the Ontario Safety League stated, as a major factor in collisions involving the young driver. 846 drivers between the ages of 16 and 19 years were impaired when involved in collisions in 1973. This compares with 504 drivers in that age group in 1971 - the last full year before the drinking age was lowered. Drunk driving in the 20 to 24 year age group has also increased; from 1,260 impaired drivers involved in collisons in 1971, to 1,613 in 1973.

The To-night Show

Television's Johnny Carson will not be at this "To-night" show. As a matter of fact it is not really intended to be a show, although it could be more than entertaining. One thing is certain, it is tonight, Thursday.

We refer, of course, to the All candidates' meeting slated for Winchester Public School auditorium at eight o'clock this evening. All candidates' meetings are not necessarily new. They have been held in a number of municipalities over the years. But not in Winchester. This is not to confuse the meeting this evening with the old style nomination meetings which were once held and, except on rare occasions, not very well attended.

The All candidates' meeting to-night will be an open forum type meeting where the candidates running for the offices of Reeve and Deputy Reeve will be allowed equal time to air their views. Following that the meeting will be wide open to questions from the electorate.

This particular meeting provides an opportunity for all voters to meet the candidates face to face and to field their questions which they believe to be pertinent to the over-all interest of the town. Meetings of this kind are of particular importance to the newer citizens. However, all persons with any interest in the welfare of Winchester and in the people whom they would like to see form our next municipal government should make an attempt to attend.

It would be a shame to have only a handful of people turn up. And, yet, that could happen if the air of complacency towards municipal elections continues. It is this newspaper's hope that to-night's meeting will dispel, at least in part, the feeling that no one really cares. For the sake of a better town we urge all voters, young and old, to attend the All Candidates' meeting at Winchester Public School this evening.

More Seats For Fewer Fans?

Ottawa Rough Riders owner David Loeb replied to critics in a well written column on the editorial page of The Ottawa Citizen a few days ago. Owner Loeb, in no way bitter or vindictive, simply expressed the facts blended in with a few worthwhile opinions which we think Ottawa sports fans should consider if they wish to continue attending professional football games in Ottawa in the years ahead.

Although he did not say it in so many words there is no question that Loeb will either sell the team, if he can, or pull out of the Canadian Football League if the city and district are not ready to support the Rough Riders with better fan support. Without getting in to a mess of detail the district is more than doing its share. And without district support the situation would be even more desperate. The problem lies, primarily, within the confines of greater Ottawa.

Loeb, a successful and wealthy businessman, is not interested in losing money year after year just to satisfy a whim and to provide himself with a hobby. And he realizes that even with sell-out crowds the profit picture is not overwhelming at to-day's costs. But he will stay, it would seem, and professional football will continue in Ottawa if the fans come out to the games in larger numbers.

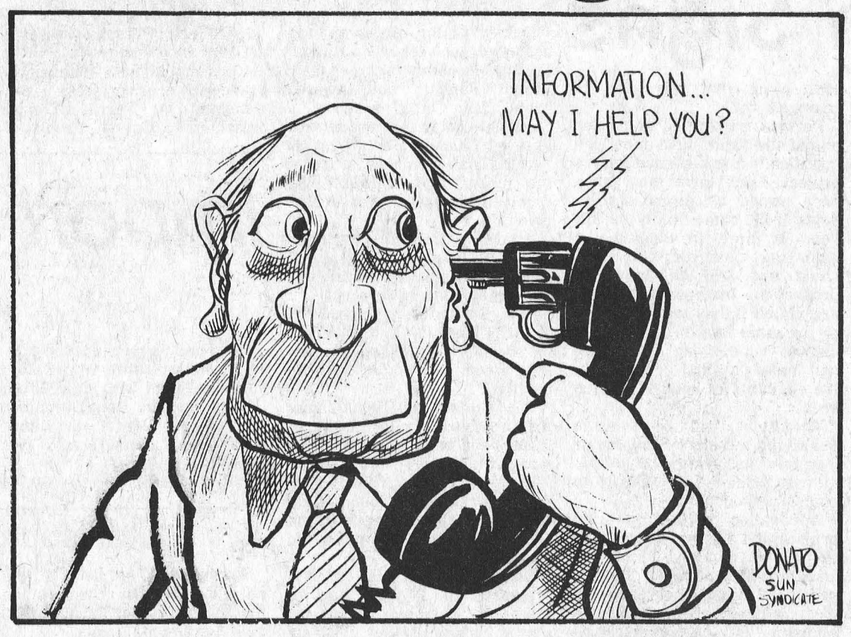
With this in mind, no doubt, the Ontario municipal board has approved of the city's application to add 7500 more seats to the south side stands between the goal lines. We agree. Yet Lansdowne Park where the Roughies play their home games is as good a stadium to view a game as there is in the entire country, end zones included. And across the border where they fill 100,000 seat stadiums with little difficulty the end zones are almost as precious as the 50-yard line because of the demand.

Let's be totally honest. Ottawa's dwindling crowds are not just because of the scarcity of between the goal line seats. Football fans will get out to the games regardless of the seats or the weather. And, therein, is the problem. Ottawa is not known as one of the better cities in the land when it comes to professional sport. Over the years it has managed to rid itself of semi professional hockey, professional hockey and professional baseball. Even at this stage crowds at Junior A hockey games are falling off, just as the crowds at Rough Rider games are dwindling. Yet Ottawa Football clubs over the past years have been consistent winners. Indeed, the team this year is the defending Grey Cup champion. But, at its semi-final game against Hamilton it drew less than 15,000 people.

So the problem is not necessarily more and better seats. The problem is not because Ottawa teams are losers. They have proven otherwise. The problem is not always weather, because the weather is not always bad. The problem is not poor publicity and public relations because most people are aware that there is a football club, that there is a football game and they know how to get to Lansdowne Park. The problem is not a hike in the price of admission because as any reasonable person will acknowledge it costs more to operate each year. Nor is the problem related, necessarily, to a dozen and one other excuses offered by a host of would be experts.

The problem is FANS, real sports fans who appreciate good, professional sport, win or lose. Indeed, the stadium currently accommodates between 15 and 20,000 seats between the goal lines, maybe more, yet the Rough Riders could not sell 12,000 season tickets this year, nor could they play to a sell-out crowd at any game.

As it stands now even the addition of 7500 more attractive seats may prove to be a costly exercise in futility if there is not a major change in attitude towards professional sports by the people of Ottawa.



GORDON SMYTH WRITES

On Winning Life's Race

In Morris West's novel, "The Shoes of the Fisherman", the chief character is a Roman Catholic Pope. One night, shortly after his coronation, the Pope goes out for a walk and soon wanders into one of the poorer sections of Rome. He is dressed in a simple cassock and so passes unrecognized by the people he meets.

As he is walking along, a door of an apartment house opens. A man rushes out, runs into the Pope and almost knocks him down. The man mutters an apology and then, as he catches sight of the cassock, says curtly, "There's a man dying up there. Maybe you can do more for him than I can."

"Who are you?" asks the Pope. "A doctor," the man replies. The Pope goes into the house. He is met by a young woman who is nursing the man. The Pope tries to talk to him but is unable to get any response. The Pope pronounces the absolution and kneels to pray. Soon the man is dead.

The woman says, "We should go, Father. Neither of us will be welcome now." "I would like to help the family," says the Pontiff. "We should go," the woman says again. Then she adds, "They can cope with death. It's only living that defeats them."

I wonder if that statement haunts you as it has haunted me. The race in which we are entered is long. There are times when we grow weary and feel like quitting. Sometimes even the young, as they view the hard race ahead, are ready to quit before they've even begun to run.

Maybe we are now ready for what Hebrews 12:1--2 has to say to us. There is in it a frank acknowledgment of life's difficulty. But it also suggests resources to enable us to run and cross the finish line.

"Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a crowd of witnesses....let us run with perseverance the race that is set before us....." We have to read the previous chapter to learn who some of the biblical heroes are.

But surely we can add to the number from other history books and from memory of brave souls whom we have personally known. Isn't this an inspiring resource?

There is One greater and more inspiring still. "Let us run with perseverance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus the pioneer and perfecter of our faith....."

His earthly life was uniquely spent in serving others. He was nailed to a cross for his trouble. Yet, through it all, Jesus' confidence in his Father's goodness and love was never lost. Not even on Calvary, when he uttered that cry of abandonment, for he was talking to God and not just to himself.

From the sidelines of eternity, eyes that care and know we can more than cope with living are looking our way.

Letter To The Editor

Winchester, Ont.
November 18, 1974

The Editor,
The Winchester Press
Winchester, Ontario

Sir:

High time for a bouquet to the loyal Hawk fans from Winchester and district who come to the arena in droves for each and every home game to cheer on the local worthies.

As a comparatively new resident in the town, albeit a life long hockey enthusiast, I attended Friday night's game, and I ask you, what other community in the area would fill the rink to capacity after their team had dropped the first five games of the season?

Some hockey town, this Winchester! Your support of your team should be an example and lesson to those communities whose so-called fans stay at home in great numbers unless they have a winner, and while we're at it, a bouquet to the Hawks, who never stop trying, and if Friday's game, the best I've seen locally in a long time, is an indication, the boys will win a good share of their games.

Before the season is over - - Go, Hawks!

Signed,
"An Avid Fan".

The Seventh Column

Could be we've been watching too much television. Whatever the reason we were sure in for some kind of surprise last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Johnston had called to request camera coverage of the annual Christmas Tea and Bazaar sponsored by St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. "Our big event", she said, "will be officially opened by the Sheriff". Always having wanted to see a real 'flesh and blood' Sheriff we posted ourselves at the church well in advance, selecting what we thought would be a most logical place to tether a horse. Envisioning a great hulk of a man in buck-skins with six-guns slung low on his hips and wearing a battered, weather-beaten sombrero, we waited with patient anticipation. Letting imagination run at random we saw ourselves shooting pictures of a lanky, tanned, law-man awkwardly fumbling with his great hat as lovely ladies gathered around in mute admiration. Well . . . imagine our let-down when the 'Sheriff' turned out to be none other than that dapper, silver-haired, former hockey law-man, Mel Scott . . . . without a horse.

City Hall [that's Winchester Town Hall to we Winchesterites], may well be where big decisions are made . . . but big ideas are hatched in the brilliant minds of businessmen who gather daily and exchange scholarly knowledge over a Noon lunch. Matter of fact the 'High Noon Executive' seldom wastes time on trivialities, but instead zeros in on such world-shattering issues as 'pollution'; 'golf'; 'planning'; 'football'; 'Zoning'; 'hockey'; 'environment'; and yes, even street names. Now only last week, Chairman-for-the-day Harry Keyes posed a thought-provoking question regarding an issue of grave concern to all Village residents - and visitors as well. "Who in H. . . . ", thundered the Chairman-for-the-day, "ever dreamed up Caleb as a name for my street, and why, at a certain point does Ottawa Street suddenly become Albert Street"? Vice-Chairman-for-the-day Al Scott suggested setting up a commission [on a cost plus basis] to conduct an "in-depth" study of the perplexing issue. Yessir, newly-elected municipal officials would find it mighty educational to eat at the Noon-hour executive table.

Used to be Osgoode Township residents, as well as others, seeking advice pertaining to municipal affairs were always advised to 'see Taylor'. Although the veteran politician has been acclaimed Reeve for another term (beginning his 19th year) simply referring people to 'see Taylor' will no longer be enough. Now there are two Taylors deeply concerned with the welfare of the township. Osgoode is part of the East Carleton riding where voters elected Liberal Paul Taylor to represent them at Queen's Park. Residents of the township admire the dedication, and respect the judgement, of their long-time Reeve, and hope the new 'Taylor' will prove as worthy as good old 'Doc'.

We humans are a strange lot. While a man lives his contribution to society is seldom mentioned, but the moment he or she dies everything is suddenly remembered - - and said. This fact came vividly to the forefront recently following the death of our good friend Gar Hall. It seems now almost every old-timer recalls human interest tales of early days in the life of the great drummer. Here at Winchester the very mention of Gar's name seems to unleash a torrent of pent-up memories. For instance only last week we were asked if we remembered other great local musicians who shared the spot-light of area stages through the years. Names mentioned included: Spark Dukelow, Fern Workman, Cliff Wilkes, Keith Summers, Russ Hay and Eldred Duquette. Yes . . . we remember them . . . and many more, including promoter Bill Lannin whose efforts helped people forget the agonies of the 'hungry thirties' as they danced at such centres as 'Iroquois', 'Luna Park', 'The Light House', 'The Drill Hall', and right here in Winchester at Lannin's Hall. Guess it's the same old story that has been repeated so many times, but never heeded - - - better a single rose to-day than a car-load when I'm dead.

A businessman we know has told us many times how edgy he gets when making an important telephone call and some cute-sounding little secretary asked "May I tell Mr. X who's calling?" Friend, we think we've come across the answer to your problem. Here's how one business tycoon handled just such a situation. Making an early-morning call he heard the familiar - - - "This is 987-6453". Hesitating only momentarily the caller requested, "May I speak to Mr. Smith please?" Right back came the expected, "May I tell him who's calling?" With fiendish glee he snapped, "yes, it's 789-6352."

Four members of Winchester Lions Club paid a visit to their neighbouring club last week and one rather chubby fellow was complaining about having overdone his dieting program. "I think", he said, "I've lost too much weight. Last week, preparing snowmobile regalia, I tried on my winter underwear, and fell through the flap."

Renewed Interest In Century Farm Signs

"Century Farm", a centennial sign project initiated by the Junior Farmers' Association in 1967, identifies farms in Ontario that have been owned by descendants of the same family for 100 years or more. With considerable renewed interest in the project by owner families now eligible, as well as the need for replacement of original signs, the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario is undertaking the project again as one of its current activities.

The new signs — 16 by 19 inches and pre-drilled for hanging — are constructed of high quality, satin coat steel. They are printed on both sides, with the only difference from those distributed in 1967 being that the year is removed.

Persons wishing to apply for one of the signs must meet the qualifications established for the project. Each farm must have been owned by direct descendents of the same family for 100 years or more. In addition, the farm must have someone living on it and still be in active production. Incorporated farms are eligible if they are still owned by the same family. A county or district supervising committee will make the final decisions on the eligibility of a farm in each area.

The signs will be sold to qualifying owners by the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario at cost price — $7, subject to change without notice.

Application forms for the project and further information should be obtained from the county or district Junior Farmer provincial director or from the local offices of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Weather Metric

Weather forecasters on radio and television may have inadvertently been sending listeners out in our normal October climate bundled in furs and mitts.

Is it really one degree below? In familiar fahrenheit temperatures - no, it's about 30 degrees - normal morning temperatures for this time of the year. On the metric scale, it is "minus" degrees celsius - also normal for this time of year. Both mean the same thing - it's cool, but you're not about to get frostbite, yet.

Radio and television newsrooms, and newspapers across the country are urged by consumers' association of Canada to pave the way for metric conversion by giving temperatures in celsius degrees as well as fahrenheit. But when giving celsius temperatures, remember to say "minus" one, not one "below".

Import Permits

Cattle Application Deadline December 31

Requests for permits for 1975-76 European cattle importation should be filed with Agriculture Canada no later than December 31, 1974, the federal agriculture department announced this week.

These requests for the 1975-76 importation should be directed to the Veterinary Director General, Agriculture Canada, Ottawa, K1A 0C5, from whom application forms may be obtained. Applicants should indicate the number, breed, and country of origin of the cattle desired.

Prospective importers will be asked to support their request for a permit by completing a questionnaire outlining their proposed breeding program and cattle inventory.

Arrangements for the importation of cattle from Holland, Denmark and Belgium have been satisfactorily completed so that the Department is now prepared to accept applications for the importation of cattle from these countries in addition to France, Switzerland, West Germany, Austria, and Italy, with which arrangements have been in effect for some time.

The cattle will undergo tests and quarantine either at Grosse Ile, Quebec, or on the French Island of St. Pierre.

Provided favorable health condition continue, the 1975-76 importations will be scheduled for the first shipment to arrive at Grosse Ile in October, 1975. The second is expected to arrive at St. Pierre in November, 1975, and the third at St. Pierre in May, 1976.

Who Needs Good Weather?

Greenbelt Farm Makes Technical Advances

The days of farmers gazing skyward every morning during the annual haying season may be numbered.

If initial expectations of a research project being conducted by Agriculture Canada's Animal Research Institute hold out, the sound of tractors droning around fields under cloudy, moisture-laden skies will become common.

Dr. Raymond Lessard, a nutritionist and forage conservation specialist, foresees the day when haying as a means of providing livestock with winter feed, will be little used on large farms.

Silage, in its many forms, will supersede the hay crop as research continues, he says.

Technology is not yet sufficiently advanced to have mastered the matter.

But the aim of the research project led by Dr. Lessard is to provide low-cost feed with high protein content and little regard for weather conditions.

Tower silos are commonly used for storing forage, but they have had their shortcomings. The main one is that the forage must be wilted - - containing not more than 70 per cent moisture - - when it is stored.

Higher water content causes not only an evil-smelling and less nutritious feed, but also corrodes the concrete walls of the silo.

The Agriculture Canada project involved studying horizontal - - or bunker - - silos.

"They aren't particularly new," Dr. Lessard says. "But no one has really studied them to determine their value to the farmer."

In addition to the six existing tower silos -- each of which measures 30 feet in diameter and 80 feet in height - - at Agriculture Canada's Greenbelt Farm, Ottawa, two concrete bunker silos have recently been constructed.

Each measures 130 feet long, 35 feet wide and 16 feet high, and is built entirely of concrete with easily replaceable sections in the event of corrosion. Each has a capacity for 500 tons of dry matter - - the equivalent of the yield from two harvests from 125 acres of pure-stand alfalfa.

The bunker silos are being filled with corn silage, at 70 per cent moisture, and tests will continue through the winter to determine the condition of the silage and the extent of nutrient losses.

The corn silage in one bunker silo is being compacted with a tractor, while that in the second is being left to settle and compact naturally. Tests have already revealed that 20 per cent more silage will be contained in the packed silo.

A third silo, a tower, has been filled with corn silage, and similar studies will be conducted on that feed for comparison purposes.

"The main advantage of the bunker silos, in addition to lower construction costs, is that the moisture content of the forage can be quite high - - as much as 80 to 85 per cent," says Dr. Lessard.

"This means that forage can be harvested and blown straight into the silo," says the researcher.

"There's no delay. The farmer doesn't have to wait for the wilting process to reduce the moisture content. The protein content will also be higher.

"In addition, the farmer will need less manpower during harvest time, which is itself greatly reduced. The weather doesn't affect the operation either. As long as it isn't raining too hard, the forage can be cut and immediately stored."

The problem with haying and conventional forage harvesting is the delay caused by the need for a lower moisture content. In addition, valuable nutrients can be lost from a forage crop - - including hay - - by leaching during rainfall when it's laying in the field.

In future tests at the Greenbelt Farm, pure alfalfa will be stored in the bunker silos, with formic acid being added as a preservative. Corn silage without additives will be stored in the tower silos. The acid is applied to alfalfa as it is blown into the silo.

"This assures the lowering of the pH level in the alfalfa silage, making it more acid. This circumvents the need for fermentation to effect the lowering by the action of bacteria. The production of acid by bacteria is always an unknown quantity."

Dr. Lessard says protein content will average about eight per cent for the corn silage during feeding time, and he hopes for as high as 20 per cent for alfalfa in future tests.

The nutritionist says a combination of corn silage and alfalfa silage would be a near-ideal complementary feed for dairy cows.

A mechanical gathering and loading system is used in the bunker silos for moving feed to livestock areas.

Tower silos have a push-button emptying and distribution system.

"We will undoubtedly encounter unexpected problems with the bunker silos, but we think that these silos should be used more for feed storage. Our research means that the farmer doesn't have to do the experimental work himself," says the Agriculture Canada scientist.

Baker Pursues Whelan On Brucellosis

Walter Baker, Deputy Opposition House Leader and Member of Parliament for Grenville-Carleton, raised once again the problem of the increase in brucellosis among dairy herds in Canada.

On October 31st, 1974 under the provisions of Standing Order 43, Mr. Baker said:

"Mr. Speaker, in view of the increasing incidents of brucellosis among dairy herds in Canada, particularly in eastern Ontario, which has resulted in the withdrawal of farmers from needed milk production, I rise to seek leave of the House to propose a motion under the terms of Standing Order 43 on this matter of urgent and pressing necessity. I therefore move, seconded by the Honourable Member for Elgin (Mr. Wise):

"That the Minister of Agriculture be instructed to improve immediately vaccination and inspection procedures to deal with the serious outbreaks of brucellosis throughout Canada and particularly in eastern Ontario, that he give serious consideration to increasing compensation for herds already affected by the disease and further that the minister's programs with respect thereto be referred to the Standing Committee on Agriculture for reassessment and review."

Mr. Baker had the support of the Opposition with respect to this matter but some Members of the Government side refused to give the unanimous consent that the Motion could be put to the House under the rules.

Mr. Baker said outside the House, "I regret very much that the supporters of the Government have taken such a narrow view on an important question not just in Eastern Ontario but to many other parts of Ontario.

However, Mr. Baker would not let the matter rest and during the Question Period on the same day, confronted the Minister of Agriculture and asked the following question:

"Question: A question to the Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Speaker. In view of the fact that the growing incidence of brucellosis is driving milk producers out of business, is the Minister prepared to review his program for control? In particular, is he prepared to consider increasing the amount of compensation which is now paid? Knowing the Minister's opinion that it is already generous, is he prepared to increase it further?

Answer: Hon. E.F. Whelan (Minister of Agriculture): First, I should make it clear that we are reviewing the control program - stepping up the number of inspections and so on. I am sure the Honourable Member is aware of this. I am sure he is aware, too, that we have raised levels of compensation twice already this year. At the present time we are reviewing these levels to determine whether they provide enough compensation to enable farmers who suffer losses to restock their herds when the time comes."

"I am not satisfied with that answer and I do not accept it and it is my intention to debate the answer shortly with the Minister and to have the matter raised in the House again when the Animal Contagious Disease Act is considered, hopefully before Christmas".

Mr. Baker was asked whether he could see any results from the line of questions that he had pursued in the 29th Parliament and now in the 30th Parliament and he said, "I am not discouraged and I believe that the continual picking away at the Minister that has gone on has contributed at least to raising the compensation and I hope it will go further and lead to a review and possibly a change in the procedures".

MEMBER OF MOUNTAIN TRAIL BLAZERS

Valerie Madden To Chair OFSC Snowmobile Convention

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs and the local snowmobile clubs was held recently in the Kemptville and District Community Centre. The director for eastern Ontario, Valierie Madden of Mountain, was appointed Convention Chairwoman for the annual convention which will be held at the Chateau Laurier Hotel in Ottawa next April 18-20.

The three day convention will attract about a 1,000 snowmobilers from member clubs all across Ontario. This will be the first time the convention has been held in eastern Ontario since its formation in 1967. Besides a business meeting, speakers from governments and the snowmobile industry, the weekend convention will give the snowmobilers a good opportunity to make new friends, discuss current legislation, compare and exchange ideas with snowmobile clubs all over Ontario.

The Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs is a non-profit organization representing Ontario's 500,000 snowmobilers and is the largest organization of snowmobilers in Ontario. The Federation's 'government liaison committee' met last month with Leo Bernier, Minister of Natural Resources and John Rhodes, Minister of Transportation and Communication, and presented a brief requesting that 80 per cent of last year's registration fees be distributed to the Ontario snowmobile clubs through the Federation.

Ontario snowmobilers pay the highest registration fees in Canada ($10.00 per machine) and receive the lowest benefits. There are an estimated 310,000 snowmobile owners in Ontario and 318,000 in Quebec. But Quebec has 22,000 miles of groomed, double track trails, Ontario has only 1,800 miles of single or double track. There are now eight snowmobile federations in provinces across Canada and all but Ontario receive substantial provincial government assistance. The Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs contends that approximately $200,000,000 is generated in the province by the sport of snowmobiling each year. Snowmobiling is now Ontario's most popular participant sport.

Representatives of snowmobile clubs from Cornwall, to Ottawa, to Haliburton, were in attendance in Kemptville at the meeting. The main concern the snowmobiler has is whether the provincial government will ban the snowmobile from the roads this winter. The Federation expressed the opinion that while no one can predict what the government will do, there is every likelihood that the legislation will not be forthcoming until spring. The main reason for this, reports Mrs. Madden, is that although the Ministry of Natural Resources had appointed a trail planner some months ago, the government trail system is still in the 'embryo' stage. The Federation, on the other hand, has compiled a very impressive community link-up trail system throughout the province from maps collected from the member clubs. In the province of Ontario today, there are essentially two types of snowmobile trails, the recreational snowmobile trails provided in a given area by the Ontario government, and the community link-up trails, developed by the snowmobile clubs. Both the government and the snowmobile club trails by today's improving standards, need a substantial increase in the frequency of trail grooming and more critically a vast increase in trial mileage. This latter aspect will come into critical focus when snowmobilers are banned from the roads.

Mayor Ken Seymour gave the opening address and welcomed everyone to Kemptville. He noted that there are many avid snowmobilers in the Kemptville area who have been working very diligently to promote better snowmobiling and that the town of Kemptville makes every effort to assist them. Also present at the meeting were Fergus Wilson, Parks Visitor Planner, from the Ministry of Natural Resources and Bud Lackie, O.P.P. Detachment Community Services Officer, both of Kemptville; who provided information during the question and answer period.

According to the Ontario Federation, there are many important events planned this winter in regards to snowmobiling. The largest is the Whipper Billy Watson's "Snowerama" which hopes to raise a quarter of a million dollars, for Ontario's crippled children. On February 2, 1975, simultaneously in thirteen areas in the province, snowmobilers will travel a 100 mile course, sponsored so much per mile. In eastern Ontario, "Snowerama" will be held in the Cornwall, Smiths Falls, and Eganville areas. This event is sponsored by the Ontario Snowmobile Distributors Association (OSDA) and receives the strong support of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs.

Also this winter, OSDA will hold six 1975 Safety Promotion Programs in the province. The first one 'kicks off' in Richmond on January 11 and will involve snowmobile clubs in the Ottawa Valley as well. For only $2 per machine, there will be a day of fun on the trail, machine safety check and a cookout at the halfway point of the 60 mile course.

In February, an American cross-country snowmobile club from Michigan will snowmobile to the Maritimes, crossing through Ontario. This group has contacted the Ontario Federation to obtain names of the Ontario clubs along their route. They will travel from Sault Ste Marie adjacent to the Trans-Canada highway to Ottawa and then journey south to Prescott, exchanging greetings, information and crests with snowmobile clubs at pre-arranged stops.

Some of the main objectives of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs is to unite snowmobilers into clubs and bring these clubs together into one large body to speak effectively and with authority to the provincial government. They promote the sport of safe snowmobiling and provide information and guidance on constructive legislation.

It was also pointed out at the meeting that studies conducted recently by the Department of National Health and Welfare showed the average 30 year old Canadian is equal physical conditioning to a 60 year old Swede. The comment was made that Canadians have become a nation of spectators. Snowmobiling can aid in overcoming this problem because it is becoming recognized as a healthy, family sport.

Environment is also of particular concern to the snowmobile clubs. With trails in the right place, the complaints regarding damage or pollution would be at a minimum. There are approximately 300 snowmobile clubs in Ontario and 90 per cent of them share a sense of responsibility and awareness. Unfortunately, the reamining 10 per cent of irresponsible and inconsiderate snowmobile operators have to be controlled. The snowmobile clubs must exert more pressure as the future of snowmobiling is dependent in large measure upon actions by responsible operators to control these abuses.

The Board of Directors of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs expressed their sincerest appreciation to the local snowmobile club, the Mountain Trail Blazers, for their splendid organization in hosting the entire weekend activities for the Board of Directors' first trip to eastern Ontario. It was noted that the January monthly meeting will again be held in eastern Ontario when they have been invited to Deep River to meet with the North Renfrew Snowmobile Association.

Winchester And Area Clubs Make Season Preparations

There are, in the immediate Winchester area, many active snowmobile clubs all striving to promote the winter sport while at the same time placing emphasis on safety.

All clubs lay out trails with special care being taken not to ignore 'no trespassing' signs. Before advancing through farm land club officials always receive permission and usually agree to repair any fences that might suffer damage during the winter.

Club houses, located usually several miles from towns, serve not only as headquarters when important meetings are called, but also provide ideal stop-offs during long trail rides.

Although most clubs are making preparations for the cold months ahead new executives have not yet been elected.

At least two clubs operate out of Winchester and some of the neighbouring groups include: Winchester Springs; Hulbert; Vernon; Russell; Metcalfe; Morewood and Williamsburg.

Snowmobilers in the Seaway Valley district all have the added advantage of being close to the elaborate trail system in the St. Lawrence Parks area.

Here trails are well groomed, clearly marked and in addition sportsman can enjoy the scenic beauty of the parkland adorned in its winter finery.

Seaway Valley Association Now Boasts 900 Members

The Seaway Valley Snowmobile Association Inc. has good reason to be proud of its achievements to date and following is a message released recently by the association president.

"We have come from 38 concerned people to an incorporated, non profit association with 900 members. We acquired legal, insured, right of ways across the counties from Finch to Lancaster, on private lands. Towards the end of the season we purchased a "Skidozer", at a cost of $13,000, to properly maintain our trail," says Bryce Lama, club president.

"We believe that anyone who used our trail system will vouch for our sincere efforts. Our plans for this year include a new trail south of 401 from Summerstown area, across the city to the Hydro recreation lands, on to the "Parkway" and west to the Morrisburg, Iroquois area on Parks Commission lands.

"All we require to follow through with these plans is a lot of co-operation from a lot of concerned people in the right places.

"Promote us - Promote the sport - Promote the area."

Using electricity wisely isn't just a matter of avoiding waste.

Being watchful to avoid the frittering away of kilowatthours is everyone's concern, in the interest of economy and conservation of valuable energy resources.

But for some people, living in older homes with outdated wiring, restricted use of appliances is not always a matter of choice. They do not have sufficient circuits to serve normal needs without resorting to 'octopus' outlets and extension cords. The result: overloading and blowing of fuses.

These conditions also tend to diminish the performance of appliances and shortens their life.

Inadequate wiring is not only inconvenient, it can be a safety hazard. If you have any doubts about the capacity of your home's wiring have it checked by a qualified Electrical Contractor. Then, use electricity wisely... and safely.
