452 feet raise $3,800 for park improvement

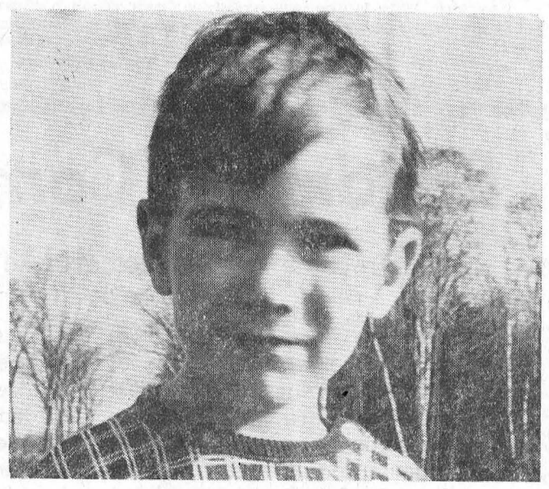
Les Schimens, the oldest walker, pauses along the route. He was accompanied by Mary Beckstead



Steven Barnett, one of the youngest walkers, made 9 miles, he is pictured here at the 7-mile mark, still going strong $3800 was the amount the 226 walkers in the Third Annual Rotary Walkathon were sponsored for.

Bright clear skies and warm weather combined with the spirits of the participants to ensure a very successful day. The walkers left promptly at 8 a.m. last Saturday to begin their 16-mile trek. Check points along the way supplied the walkers with food and drink. Many, had before the half-way mark, forsaken their shoes and walked on stocking feet.

Courtesy cars, with first aid kits and foot powder patrolled the route and did a flourishing business.

The oldest walker Les Schimens of Chesterville, finished the walk, but Steven Barnett, one of the youngest, (4 years old in December) did a very good 9 miles, before being picked up.

At 11:27 the first four walkers, Robert Sharkey, Jim Feeley, Lorne and Derek Cook, entered the park and trotted to the pavilion for refreshments.

The last walker finished at approximately 4:30 p.m.

Les Schimens will collect the $10.00 per mile offered by Nestle (Canada) Ltd. to the oldest walker and Mrs Stuart Byers will be collecting $10 a mile from the Byers establishments — $5 per, from the Building Supplies and $5 per from the construction Division.

The walk organized this year by Rotarian Jack Dubois, was I mile longer than originally planned.

Artists, come forth

The "Record" will be doing a feature article on artists, in the area, in the near future.

We are aware of a few in the area but are certain that others, who have taken to painting as a hobby, would like to share their efforts with the public. If you are interested in participating please contact the "Record" by November 12, 1970.

Now the cash

The fun of last Saturday's Walk is over, now to complete the operation the money needs to be gathered and turned in.

The funds can be submitted to local bank manager, Dick Finigan at the bank or Armand Charlebois, King Street, will be glad to relieve you of the loot.

Man that's big!

Mrs Pat LaPierre, Chesterville, may have to cook only one potato for Sunday dinner. Especially if it's the 4-lb size. That's right, Mrs Lapierre grew the 'big fellow' in her garden this year.

Its been an effort

It seems we have a crisis every week. This issue arrives on the street with one of our typesetting machines setting idly awaiting repairs from Montreal.

A local electrician and a salesman, sometimes electrician, friend from Cornwall, burned the midnight oil with us, Tuesday night, in vain to get the stubborn machine operating.

Several members of the Chesterville Volunteer Fire Department were on hand Saturday evening at the Royal Hotel in Cornwall, when the S. D. & G. Mutual Aid Association presented Chesterville Fire Chief John Hehir with an engraved silver platter in recognition of his services as president of the Association for the year 1969-70. Fred Cass MPP and Speaker of the Ontario House, praised the Chesterville Department for their quick and efficient actions. ## Garfield Nichol's farm, East of Berwick site of Stormont & East. counties matches

The annual plowmen's banquet in Berwick Saturday night marked the climax of two days of competitive plowing. The Eastern Counties match Saturday followed immediately after the Stormont match Friday, both at the Garfield Nichols' farm, immeliately east of the village.

Eastern Counties judge George Hay of Russell, had words of both praise and admonition for the younger plowmen before prizes were presented by Howard Greer of North Gower, who had judged the Friday match. He wanted to see more use of skimmers and better attention to accurate start and finish of furrows. He congratulated those who plowed in a match for the first time, some of whom, he said "Did fairly well."

In the single furrow walking plow class Ormie Parks of North Gower was first, followed by Lionel Chambers of Kars. Mr Parks was also awarded the Roy Shaver Trophy for the best plowed land in the horse class and had the best plow team.

In tractors, two or more furrows for plowmen under 21, the standings were David Brown of Ingleside, Donald McDermid of Newington and Derryl McLean of Finch. The tractors, two furrows, trailer or mounted class was won by Ronald Beehler of Berwick. Joseph Beehler of Ottawa and Richard Murphy were runners-up.

Tractors, any width, three or more furrows mounted, Nick Beehler of Berwick; Murray Manley, Berwick; Lyall McDermott, Berwick; Francis Beehler, Berwick; Edwin Waldroff, Newington; Wesley Meldrum, Finch; Claude Meldrum, Berwick.

The International Harvester utility class, for mounted plows, three furrows 12 inches wide, no handling was won by Douglas Manley, Berwick, who also won the IHC special for the best plowed land and the privilege of attending the next International match and competing in a special class.

In the Stormont match results prizes were presented by Bernard Beehler, treasurer of the local plowmens association, and announced by A. A. Morrison, secretary. In Class One, walking plows for horses, Ormie Parks was winner, with Lin Chambers runner-up.

In Class Two, trailer plow, two or more furrows, open, Murray Manley won, followed by Nick Beehler. Competitors in this class also included Ronald Beehler and Francis Beehler.

Class Three Tractor plow mounted plow was won by David Brown without competition.

Class Four, open to municipal officers, Wesley Meldrum was winner and also recipient of a trophy presented by Peter Manley. Edwin Waldroff was runner up.

Class Five, junior class, was won by Marvin Waldroff, followed by Brian Beehler, who

Dates for hunting in counties, released

The open deer season within the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry and the counties of Prescott and Russell is from November 2 to 5 inclusive.

A printing error in the Summary of Hunting Regulations published by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests has caused many enquiries to the local Alexandria office. The Summary fails to include SHOT GUNS ONLY in Schedule 12 which covers this part of the Province. Hunters are reminded that this regulation is still in effect.

Retriang Program --

New courses sought for St. Law. College

The Advisory Committee of the St. Lawrence College Retraining Department met at the newly located Adult Education Centre in Alexandria on October 14, 1970.

Mr Jack Haworth, Chairman of the Retraining Department, stated that the committee met at this location so that they would have first hand knowledge of all the areas in which the program is taught. The committee under the chairmanship of Carl Donihee is composed of a cross section of people with specialized knowledge in different areas. The member from Dundas is Mr Lorne Thompson of Chesterville, who is also a member of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education. The committee was asked to consider the addition of one or two members to provide representation from different sections of the economic community not already represented.

The main topic of the evening was the discussion of new courses which might be offered under the Retraining Program in order to give graduates the best possible opportunity for employment. It is imperative that all courses be as current and relative to local business and industry as possible. The committee also decided to review the existing courses and make recommendations for changes and improvements. It was agreed that the first course to be evaluated would be Retail Merchandising.

S. D. and G. Foster parents hold initial meeting

The first seasonal meeting of the recently organized S. D. & G. Foster Parents' Group, in association with the Children's Aid Society met at the home of Mr and Mrs Duart A. MacLean, at Finch, on Wednesday evening, October 14th.

Interested foster parents turned up from Cornwall, Martintown Ingleside, Northfield, Berwick, Winchester and Morrisburg.

Mr Al Lager of Martintown, chairman, welcomed those present. Mrs Mary Gratton, Cornwall, liaison or the Childrens' Aid Society, was present. Mrs Duart MacLean, secretary, reviewed the address delivered to the F.P.G. in Cornwall, on 10th June, my prominent Cornwall psychiatrist, Dr. G. E. Wilson.

The F. P. G. have decided to meet periodically in homes, in different areas on the premise that when in smaller groups people tend to lose their reserve, become better acquainted, and the flow of helpful ideas and suggestions come forth more freely. The F.P.G. are one more group who are becoming more and more aware of the fact that in this day and age of waivering values, many people are seeking guidance in bringing up not only foster children but natural children as well.

The warmth and fellowship of the meeting was expressed by the people representing the Morrisburg area, when they asked the executive if they would go to Morrisburg, to help organize a similar meeting for them. The F. P. G. also plan a meeting in Glengarry County in the near future.

Refreshments were served, with a number of ladies bringing along cake and cookies.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success

Have you ever thought very much about this fine village of ours, situated in one of the choicest spots in the Golden Triangle? Have you ever thought how our village has endured and developed into the excellent Ontario business and residential town that it is? Here, in a modern environment, a wide range of courteous, intelligent professional and business men offer services and products fully of "big city quality." That we are able today to enjoy our village's many facilities is due in large measure to the praiseworthy courage and optimism of those who, over the years, have kept their doors open under circumstances that lesser men would have often considered "impossible."

It is said that nothing succeeds like success; but success does not come of itself. Its realization requires the collective energy, confidence, and enthusiasm of all those who call themselves Chestervillians. Of the most importance to us, is local trade. Trade is the lifeblood of our Chesterville society. To prosper, our businesses must thrive and this striving depends upon our whole-hearted patronage of our local businessmen. Why should we not carry the axiom that "charity begins at home" into the business world? Why should we export our success and court failure at home by thoughtlessly obtaining our products and services elsewhere?

Would you give your kind consideration to this suggestion? — "Buy Chesterville First."

Hallowe'en for UNICEF

This year, about three-quarter million children all across Canada, most of them under 12, will become, for a few short hours, the most important part of international aid in Canada.

At Hallowe'en, armed with their familiar black and orange boxes they collect, along with Hallowe'en treats, a major part of UNICEF's Canadian income, mostly in pennies and nickels. The money they raise — last year about $666,000 — goes to help children much the same age as themselves in the developing countries of the world, with long term programs of education, health care, nutrition and, where necessary, emergency aid.

Before they start collecting, a great deal of activity takes place behind the scenes. Boxes have to be distributed and the young collectors have to be told the reasons why they are collecting and the good their money will do. Many volunteers and organizations assist in the work of preparing the children for their important night. Afterwards comes the task of counting and banking the money.

All this sounds most worthy and commendable, but quite frankly, don't the kids find this serious stuff a bit of a drag? Wouldn't they be happier if we just left them to collect sacks of goodies?

Probably the best answer is to let the children speak for themselves. Here are excerpts from just a few of the many letters that UNICEF received from them after last year's Hallowe'en campaign:

"On Hallowe'en night, I thought about you more than candy"

"For the ones who are sick and the ones that have no clothes I hope you get some"

"Soon as you get the money I hope you will be happy for the rest of your life"

"On Hallowe'en we were given UNICEF boxes to collect money. We counted it and rolled it. We took it to the bank. They counted it and said we were right. We hope you have fun with your money"

"I was a ghost"

If you need further proof that children have more fun with modern style Hallowe'en — that they have learned the joy that comes from sharing with others — take a look at the face behind the collecting box on October 31. Maybe the rest of us could learn something from them, too.

Consumers See Better Times

The latest survey of consumer buying intentions in Canada suggests that consumers are now ready and able to become a prime force for renewed economic growth as reported in the Financial Post.

The low point of consumer confidence appears to have been last spring. Optimism about the imediate prospect has risen fairly steadily, if slowly, since then. While obviously feeling the effects of current job uncertainties and of higher prices, more Canadian famlies now look for improvement in their financial position through coming months. There is more confidence, too, that the worst of the inflation of recent years may be over. The brightening in consumer attitudes about the next six months is paralleled by some firming in actual buying plans. Examples: 9.4 percent of those polled plan to purchase a car; 12.8 percent plan to buy furniture; 24 percent now say itis a good time to buy a house.

These developments e m erge from the September survey of consumer buying intentions carried out for the Maclean-Hunter Research Bureau by Contemporary Research Centres Ltd. They could foreshadow a 1971 resurgence in residential construction and a revival in the sales of consumer durables.

YOUR LEGISLATURE REPORT

by

F. M. Cass, Q.C., M.P.P,

The fall meeting of the Ontario Legislature to complete the work of the Third Session opened on October 6th with estimates of a dozen departments and some backlog of legislation yet awaiting consideration by the Members. Your Member, at the time the House reopened, was attending the 16th Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference in Canberra, Australia, as the Ontario Delegate. Mrs Cass accompanied him. As a result, these reports are only now recommencing.

During these three weeks of work, the Legislature has disposed of several departmental estimates, completed consideration of, and passed, several bills and made great progress towards ending the current Session. Indeed, unless a considerable amount of new legislation is introduced, this Third Session of the 28th Parliament of Ontario will undoubtedly be prorogued in November.

Among the twenty-two young lads now serving as Legislative Pages are two Dundas boys, Mark Stevens from Morrisburg Public School and Scott Payne from Iroquois Public School. As is customary, these lads are living with their Member in Mr Speaker's Chambers and seem well on the way to maintaining the excellent reputation of Grenville-Dundas Pages.

The Ontario Developement Corporation recently announced a loan of some $120,000.00 to Simplex Textiles Limited of Prescott. Also the Minister of Highways announced designation of two county roads in Dundas as developement roads namely county road No. 2 from Stampville north to Dixon's Corners and county road No. 8 south

Dear Ann Landers:

So La Rouchefoucauld said, "There may be some good marriages but there are no exquisite ones," did he? He might have been right. I wouldn't know about good marriages because my marriage was rotten. After giving my husband fifteen years of what I THOUGHT was chateaubriand, I discovered he was getting cold lobster on the side. Also pork chops, meatloaf, corned beef hash and chop suey.

Look in your book of famous quotations, Ann, and see if anyone ever said, "There may be some exquisite affairs but there are no good ones."

I live in the eye of the cyclone — socially speaking. To be specific Scarsdale, N.Y., — one of the highest per-capita-income suburbs in the U. S. Every woman in our crowd who became involved in an affair is sorry. Two of my close friends are minus a couple of good husbands because they fooled around. I know a lovely widow who lost out, too. She learned that an "exquisite affair" has the life expectancy of about eight weeks. The man she was crazy about viewed her as a prospective wife until she fell into bed on the third date. He told her this in plain English.

I'm in no position to throw rocks because I'm kicking myself at this very moment for having made the same mistake — for the second time. Yes, both affairs were exquisite but they were NOT good. Just call me — Brainless Marie.

Dear Marie:

It's not every day that I get a letter from the eye of the cyclone. Thanks for letting me know how the winds blow in Scarsdale.

Dear Ann Landers:

Please find space in your column for this important message to thousands (maybe millions) of daughters and sons who can't find one evening in their busy lives to invite a mother and father to dinner.

We don't care if they live in a rented room with a hotplate. If they don't have a table we'll eat off the TV or hold the dishes on our laps. Hot dogs and beans would taste like sirloin steak if that's all they can afford. We just want to be asked over once before it's too late — Time Marches On.

Dear T.M.O.: Here's your letter and let me know how much time elapses between the appearance of this letter and the invitation.

Ann Landers . . .

Dear Ann Landers:

My brother-in-law thinks he is Jan Murray. He imagines himself a great storyteller. Nothing could be further from the truth. I've seen him make a jackass out of himself so many times it is pitiful. His lovely wife just sits there with a phony smile on her face. Somebody should give her a medal.

His dialect stories are the worst. In my opinion, a poorly told dialect story is an insult to the entire ethnic group. And the idiot has no taste and judgement. Last night he told one of those rabbi-minister-priest jokes in front of a Catholic bishop. It bombed. Last week he got up at a football banquet and told two Polish jokes. Half the team was Polish. He's lucky some guy didn't get him with a piece of pipe after the banquet.

My husband is this nut's brother. Do you think it would be out of order if I said something? Or would an anoymous letter be better? This has been going on for 15 years and it is getting worse instead of better. Please advise me. — Red In The Face.

Dear Red:

Looking for a place to go for a drive on Sunday? Why not plan to drop in at the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary in the St. Lawrence Parks, 9 miles east of Morrisburg. About 2,700 geese were present October 15th and the number is expected to build up rapidly in the days ahead as more stop in on their way to their wintering grounds at Chesapeake and Delaware Bays on the Atlantic coast.

Feeding time is at 2:30 p.m. daily.

RUMINATIONS . . .

- R. T. Fox

During the past few weeks of our national consternation, our mind has returned again and again to the writings of Eric Hoffer, longshoreman turned philosopher, proffessor and television personality. In his short book, "The True Believer", published by Mentor at 65c, Eric Hoffer presents an incisive examination of the mentality of those who would foment revolution and of those who can be gulled into participation.

Hoffer points out that the citizenry of the usual country can be sorted into a few general categories: those in the lowest, poorest drudging level who are so occupied with csratching a living that they are too exhausted to think or act politically, or for that matter, care; those already in control, who are operating the system to their advantage and can hardly be expected to foment rebellion and thus to destroy themselves; the "Fat Cats" at the upper social level who are occupied in skimming the cream from the system and who, naturally, desire no change; a class of idle, frustrated, semi-intellectual individuals who possess sufficient leisure and funds to allow them to gather to inflame their social and political wounds — whether real or fancied.

This book, while important in helping one to understand the machinery of revolutionary planning, is outstanding for Hoffer's clarification of one point. Contrary to what most persons beleive about a revolution's need for a large mass of participants, he demonstrates that the successful overthrow of an established system, for better or worse, can be accomplished by a mere handful of highly-motivated zealots. A small well-knit group acting in perfect coordination and secrecy, can through infiltration at the highest levels, dispose of the Prime Minister and Cabinet; liquidate the heads of the Army and Police; and most effectively; capture the radio and television stations to advise the populace that the revolution has been accomplished and that individuals should remain calm, and all will be well. Revolution complete! No muss, no fuss, no bother!

Eric Hoffer's "The True Beleiver" is required reading for anyone who considers himself to be a proponent of liberty and democracy. We can assure him that, once having read this short, readable, and all-together excellent book, he will never again think or say: "IT can't happen here."

Thompson - Allison

A double-ring wedding ceremony was solemnized in Inkerman United Church at four p.m. in the afternoon, Saturday, October 10, 1970, when Rev. R. A. Rowley united in marriage Helen Elaine Allison and Robert Warner Thompson. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs A. R. Allison of Inkerman; Mr Thompson is the son of Mr and Mrs J. E. Thompson of Ingleside, Ontario.

David Thompson, brother of the groom, Tom Allison, brother of the bride and Richard Warner, cousin of the groom seated the wedding guests. Paul Brownell assisted the groom as best man and Barry Allison, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Russell Suffel, church organist, accompanied Dennis Millward, of Morrisburg, who rendered two solos 'The Wedding Prayer' and 'Song of Joy'.

The bride was attended by Brenda Link, Susan Thompson, sister of the groom, Erma Allison and Joan Allison, sisters of the bride and Andra Allison, flower girl, niece of the bride.

Entering the church with her father, who gave his daughter in marriage, the bride was attired in a white floor length bonded crepe empire styled gown with long sleeves; a cuff ruffle covered the upper portion of the hand. White spanish lace adorned the bodice and the train of the gown which fell softly from the back waistline. A single satin rose encrusted with seed pearls held her four tier illusion veil and she carried a Victorian nosegay, designed especially for her. It consisted of white lace and everlasting flowers in various shades of tangerine and yellow daisies intermingled with gold miniature stars, gupsophelia and asparagus fern and cascading gold velvet ribbons.

Her attendants were gowned alike in purple crepe floor length gowns styled as that of the bride's. They wore full brimmed swedish last hats with purple velvet accent and carried mederia baskets adorned with gold velvet streamers and filled with miniature everlasting flowers, gold and green bunny tails and daisies, gypophillia and asparagus ferns.

Mrs Allison wore a gold crimppelene dress and coat ensemble, brown accessories and a corsage of straw flowers in shades of gold, rust and brown straw.

Mrs Thompson wore a brown corded silk dress and coat ensemble, brown accessories and a corsage of shrimp coloured everlasting flowers.

Guests from Scarborough, Ottawa, Cornwall, Ormond, Toronto, Kemptville, Winchester, Williamsburg, Brockville, South Mountain, Smiths Falls, Newington, Ingleside and Inkerman attended the wedding and the reception that followed in The Country Kitchen Restaurant at Winchester.

Following a honeymoon through the Eastern Provinces, Mr and Mrs Thompson will reside on Park Drive, Napanee, Ontario. Mrs Thompson will be on the staff of the Lennox and Addington County Hospital. Mr Thompson will continue his studies toward an Honours B.Sc., at Queen's University, Kingston.

Prior to the marriage, the bride was feted at a miscellaneous shower at Ingleside. Sue Thompson, Joan and Erma Allison were hostesses for the occasion.

The couple were honoured guests at a reception in the Villa Nova Hotel, Ingleside, on Friday, October 2nd.

Chesterville Rotary hears guest speaker

Mr Jan Schocking, Smiths Falls, was guest speaker at Chesterville Rotary Club last Monday evening. He told members "Rotary can be a very effective force in the youth activities of the community."

Speaking of his experiences with the Youth Centres in Smiths Falls, Mr Schocking stated "religion, sex, communication and political attitudes have all changed in the last 20 years." "The teenager today, he said 'is basically honest and not hypocritical." Although drugs and liquor are problems, adult non-participation has a definite effect on the success of any youth activity proposed.

Adult experience and guidance in a youth group are welcome and required, as youths have as many divided groups and separations as adults, Schocking related

Most youth groups tend to form committees with broad basis, lacking the organizational experience of older people and tend to have no program.

A question period brought forth lively comments from both Rotary members and representatives of the youth of the community, that were present to hear Mr Schocking speak.

U. C. Mutual Aid Association hold annual meeting, elect officers

Ross Switzer, Dominion Fire Commissioner from Ottawa, called on all firemen and citizens to be more fire prevention conscous as he spoke to the annual meeting of the United Counties Mutual Aid Association, Saturday night

"The fire department has a dual purpose now. But the most important role is fire prevention. We, as firemen, must educate the people towards preventing possible disasters. We must stamp out public apathy," said Mr Switzer.

Speaking to nearly 350 firemen and their wives, representing 23 fire departments in the Three United Counties, Mr Switzer emphasized that there are many new conveniences in our society. Appliances, flammable materials and chemicals could be hazardsous and often resulted in calls to the fire department.

"Firemen have to be electricians, chemists and hydraluic experts in order to keep pace with our rapidly changing society. We need more men of vision who are prepared for the future," said the Commissioner.

Mr. Switzer said that the public is apathetic toward the idea of fire prevention: "With 70 per cent of all fires and fatalities occurring in homes we need more fire prevention programs and stricter inforcements of laws. We must make sure that older buildings are reconditioned and not wait for a fire to clean up a slum area."

In conclusion he emphasized that the role of the fire chief was becoming more technical and with the cost of labor at an all time high, effectively organized manpower was important. He again stressed that it was the responsibility of the home-owner to prevent fires.

Trophies Presented

Hamilton Summers of Long Sault, presented trophies to outstanding fire departments and men during the past year.

The trophy for the fire department providing the best service during the year was presened by Jack MacMillan of Chesterville, to Chief G. B. Raistrick of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission Fire Department.

Fire Chief Lucien Carriere of Cornwall, on behalf of Gerry D'Alessio of Labatt's Breweries, presented the Labatt's Trophy for the best fire prevention program to Cyril Ray, chief of the Long Sault department.

Chief Carriere also presented the Labatt's Tray to the man contributing most to the Mutual Aid Association to Mr Raistrick. Three Labatt mugs were presented to men providing distinguished service to the association. Receiving the awards were Cliff Rombough of the Newington department, Merton Casey of the Maxville department and Hamilton Summers of the Long Sault department.

Garry Paquette, sales representative for Levitt Safety Supplies Ltd. of Cornwall, presented Burns MacIntyre of Avonmore department, acting on behalf of Chief John Miller, with a prize for the department with the best attendance at Mutual Aid meetings.

Vincent O'Farrell, chief of the St. Andrew's Department and chairman of the S D & G Mutual Fire Aid Association presented a tray, on behalf of the Association to past-president John Hehir, chief of the Chesterville Department.

The association executive for the coming year is as follows: President, Vincent O'Farrell; 1st vice president, Cliff Rombough; 2nd vice president, Laurent Hebert of the Crysler department; secretary, Gib Raistrick; and treasurer, Alton Major of the Glen Walter department.

Head table guests at the dinner held at the Royal Hotel included fire chiefs, city aldermen and Hon. Fred M. Cass, MPP for Dundas and Speaker of the Ontario Legislature.

Each man commented on the fine work of the association and wished it every success in its work.

United Counties Mutual Aid Association held its annual meeting at the Royal Hotel, Saturday night. Many fire chiefs and dignitaries were present for the second annual event. ## O.P.P. REPORT

Now that birds are on the wing again and the fall season is with us, this is a most suitable time to remind duck hunters of their obligations to the law and for conservation and safety.

The following are some basic facts that every duck hunter should know and observe.

All firearms must be unloaded and should be cased while in transportation by car to the hunting area.

It is illegal in Ontario to shoot migratory game birds from a power boat unless it is beached, anchored, or secured to a fixed hunting blind.

It is legal to use only a shotgun no larger than 10 gauge and containing no more than three shells in the magazine.

Use only boats of sufficient size and stability that the movements of a retrieving dog will not capsize it.

It is advisable to hunt in pairs so help is immediately available in case of an accident.

When shooting in pairs, hunters should sit close enough together to prevent getting in front of each others gun muzzle.

When hunting from a boat, each person should wear an approved life jacket.

The observance of these suggestions will help make your hunting safer and much more enjoyable.

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County patrolled 11,344 miles while working 1,180 hours. During this time officers laid 49 charges while issuing 31 warnings under the Highway Traffic Act of Ontario.

Officers from Morrisburg and Winchester Detachments investigated 5 thefts, 1 Break and Enter, 1 disturbance and 29 miscellaneous complaints.

Area highways were quiet with officers investigating 2 property damage accidents and 1 personal injury accident in which 1 person received minor injuries. Provincial Court was quiet with officers spending 110 hours in Court while registering 37 convictions.

CARD OF THANKS

Snowmobile owners --

Spend over $78 million last year

Ontario snowmobile owners spent about 78½ million dollars last year, said Tourism and Information Minister James Auld, in a summary from a report on snowmobiling in Ontario for the 1969/70 season. This total does not include expenditures generated by renting of snow vehicles.

Mr Auld said the study, put out by the Research Branch of the Department of Tourism and Information, showed the average purchase price per snowmobile was $840.00, and total capital expenditure including clothes, trailers, etc. was an average of $1,200.00 per snowmobile owner. The report said seasonal expenditure which covered fees, accomodation, meals, and trips was an extra $153.10 for each vehicle.

About 100,000 snowmobile owners in Ontario registered 113,289 snow vehicles by the end of March, 1970. The report said 89.4 per cent of the owners owned one snowmobile only, 10 percent of the owners owned two snowmobiles, and 0.6 per cent of the owners owned three or more snowmobiles. The average age of owners was about 40 years, and a family had two children. On the average, Mr Auld said, there were 3.4 snowmobiles per family. It could be estimated, the Minister said, that there were 340,000 snowmobilers in Ontario last season, or one out of every twenty persons in Ontario used a snowmobile some time or another during the 1969/70 winter season.

The report found that most snowmobilers were satisfied with the number and quality of areas available to snowmobiling (78.9% satisfied, 21.1% not satisfied). Mr Auld said half of the owners came from urban areas (51.2%) and the rest from rural areas (48.8%).

The average number of days snowmobiling per season was 41.9 with an average of 3.7 hours per day which, the Minister said, gives 155 hours per owner per season. The report said 40 percent of the snowmobilers spent an average 12.9 nights out of residence due to snowmobiling, and the usage of the snowmobile at night was 31 per cent. The Minister said only 3.7 per cent used public roads while snowmobiling, whereas only 0.9 per cent wanted to use public roads at all. 97.3 per cent of all snowmobiles had not been involved in a major accident during the season, Mr Auld said.

Mainly About People

Rotary hears address by Australian exchange students

Two Rotary sponsored exchange students from Australia told Rotary members there is not enough participation in student exchange in Rotary Clubs.

The students, Marilyn Tait and Mandy Wheeler said "they were surprised at the little knowledge some Rotary Clubs have of the Youth Exchange program."

Mandy spoke of the need for the students to become aware of the cultures and habits of people in other countries. Every little bit a club can do improves and increases the students understanding, she related. Marilyn told the members how students are selected in Australia, by their interests, hobbies and academic achievement.

Marilyn, who lives in Sydney, has three sisters and enjoys reading and sports, she plans to be involved in police work when she graduates. Mandy who has one brother, enjoys reading and art.

The Kemptville Rotary Club, who were present, had a tour of the Nestle plant following the meeting.

Finch man wins Ayrshire double

Roy Simmons of R.R. 2, Finch made it a perfect year by winning the prestige double during Championship show at the 1970 Ottawa Winter Fair.

Mr Simmons won the premier breeder and premier exhibitor banners, a feat he also accomplished during the Ayrshire show at the Central Canada Exhibition this summer.

Judge Arnold Stansell described the show's champions as an outstanding group of animals.

Mr Ansell runs 180 head of Ayrshires on his 300 acre farm at Aylmer, Ontario.

His judging is based on two factors, utility and wearability. "In a few words, I look for 'dairy temperment and quality' to indicate an animals ability and desire to produce milk economically," he said.

"I look for strength and quality of udder attachment and strength of legs to indicate an animal's wearability."

Mr Stansell explained that there was no point in having a prematurely developed animal which would wear itself out early.

Several times he placed a young cow far down its class because its developement was, in his opinion, premature.

Roy Simmons keeps 75-80 head of Aryshires on his 180 acre farm. He entered eight in the Aryshire show.

They won: reserve junior champion female, senior champion female, reserve senior champion female, grand champion female, reserve grand champion female and four first place ribbons including those for the group of four animals owned and bred by the exhibitor and the Ayrshire best udder classes plus $520 in prize money.

David A. MacIntyre of Finch had five animals claim junior champion female and one red ribbon plus $225.

FROATS — In loving memory of our dear father, Harold Russell, who passed away October 30, 1969.
One year ago we had to part
With one we loved with all our heart,
Our father who gave us the best of his life,
Who cherished our secrets, our sorrows, our strifes.
You were a wonderful father, thoughtful and fair,
Content in your home and always there.
Your life, so unselfish, for your family you lived,
Not for what you received but for what you could give.
Only God knows how we miss you
Only he knows the times we have cried
If our love could have saved you dear father
We know you would never have died.

FROATS — In loving memory of a dear husband Harold Russell, who passed away October 30, 1969.
This month comes back with sad regrets
It recalls a day I will never forforget
You fell asleep without goodbye
But my memories of you will never die.
No one knows the grief we bear
When the family meets and you're not there
You left so suddenly
Your thoughts unknown
But you left us memories we are proud to own.

N. D. D. H. S.

The school spirit at North Dundas District High School was given a real boost at a Pep Rally Wednesday morning October 21. The nominees for head boy and girl were introduced and each gave a campaign speech. Nominees were: Joan Allison, Lorna Marcellus, Sharon Fyke, Barry Holmes, Tom Simpson, Hubert Casselman.

Tom Hutt, President of the Student Council introduced the Cheerleaders. Our junior and senior football players were introduced and loudly cheered. The Cheerleaders then lead the students in a number of NDDHS cheers.

On Thursday morning the students cast their votes for Head Boy and Head Girl. Congratulations are to be extended to Tom Simpson and Joan Allison 1970-71 N.D.D.H.S head boy and girl.

CBOT cameramen and reporters were in the school on Tuesday to interview students concerning their views on contemporary socials issues. A panel of three students, Chris Brown, Dave Thompson, and Sheila Coyne, were interviewed by Mr. Harold Leikin. This interview is to be used in a future segment of CBOT's "Four for the Road" seen everyday at 2:30.

The students in Theatre Arts are working hard at the moment on a children's play which will be presented to elementary schools in the area. The play is "Richard Harding Bush or The Rococo Coco Bean". Mr. Lalor is in charge of this children's fantasy.

The sports beat has been quite fast this past week. N.D.D.H.S. Soccer Rams lost by the slim margin of 1-0 to North Stormont on Tuesday. General Vanier defeated N.D.D.H.S. 22-6 in a football game at North Dundas. After the inspiring pep rally on Wednesday morning the students really got out and cheered for their team Wednesday after noon. Despite this, the North Dundas football team lost a heart breaker to the powerful C.C.V.S. team 20-15.

The North Dundas Hawks were victorious over Kemptville in a junior B Hockey game 4-3. Hawks scorers were Billy Moran Joe Marriner and Bob McClintock and Fred Lobb.

On Thursday afternoon two very exciting basketball games were played. Osnabruck junior vs M.D.D.H. — score 38-20 for Osnabruck.

Osnabruck senior vs NDDHS Score 40-20 for Osnabruck.

Miss Gerda M. Vergeer from Jutphaas, Holland visited North Dundas on Tuesday. Miss Vergeer, a cousin of Betty Spruit who is a student from Mountain, spent the day with Mary in her various classes. She was quite impressed with school life in Canada.

Sheila Coyne has accepted the responsibility of acting as reporter for the local newspapers.

Plans are being made for a meeting of the Education Association of NDDHS, the Music Association, Parents' Night on November 12th and a Band Concert on November 6th.

FEDERAL REPORT —

would seem to indicate an intention to have an early opening of Parliament in 1971, and that such a probably being the pre-election Session, much legislation of a beneficial character will appear.

The newly elected Ontario N. D. P. Leader has taken over somewhat tight control of his Party Caucus and has himself been exhibiting at times a middle-of-the-road philosophy much at variance with many of his formerly expressed views. Such, of course, presumably, is directed towards the great block of uncommitted voters in our Province.

Amidst all the verbiage and activity of the Ontario Legislature there runs now, as I would suspect throughout our whole nation, a distinct uneasiness over our national future and recent events in our adjoining Province of Quebec. The self-evident and critical problem of maintaining order in the nation and rootng out the terrorists, while at the same time preserving the essential freedoms of our democratic society, is one which is presently taxing the resources of our governments and the patience of our people. None of us, I am sure, will willingly relinquish the freedoms and the good life which we have inherited from those who before us spoke and lived and died for them; our responcibility, of course, is to insure that they are delivered untarnished and unimpaired to those who come after us. This is today a fearsome responcibility — may we be equal to it.

W.C.B. & C.N.I.B. offer financial and training assistance

Pamela Tyrrell is only five years old and still having trouble tying her shoelaces. When the little fingers just can't make the laces hold, Pamela goes to her daddy, who ties a perfect bow. This is not as easy as it seems, because the little girl's daddy lost his sight and his left arm in a mine accident ten years ago.

Michael Tyrrell survived the explosion that destroyed his eyes and shattered his left hand and wrist and has gone on to overcome the many and varied physical difficulties such extensive disabilties create. A man of unusual courage and determnation, he has accepted the responsibilies of a wife and children and is upgrading his education to professional level. Mr Tyrrell remembers the day of the explosion well. He can still 'see' the rich green of the trees which he passed on the way to work. He visualizes the patchwork of multi-coloured wild flowers and the brightness of the sun and the soft hazy blue of the sky. Most of all he remembers his own wonder at the beauty of his world.

It was near the end of an uneventful day shift in a copped mine about 80 miles north of the Thunder Bay area. Mr Tyrrell and his partner, both experienced miners, were working the stope just below the 350 foot level. The men had drilled a series of 17 holes 12 feet into the rock face and had loaded and connected ten of them. Ten sticks of dynamite were placed in the next hole and this was being tamped with a plastic loading stick when the premature explosion occurred. A normally simple and safe procedure, performed many times each day by an experienced crew, had turned to disaster.

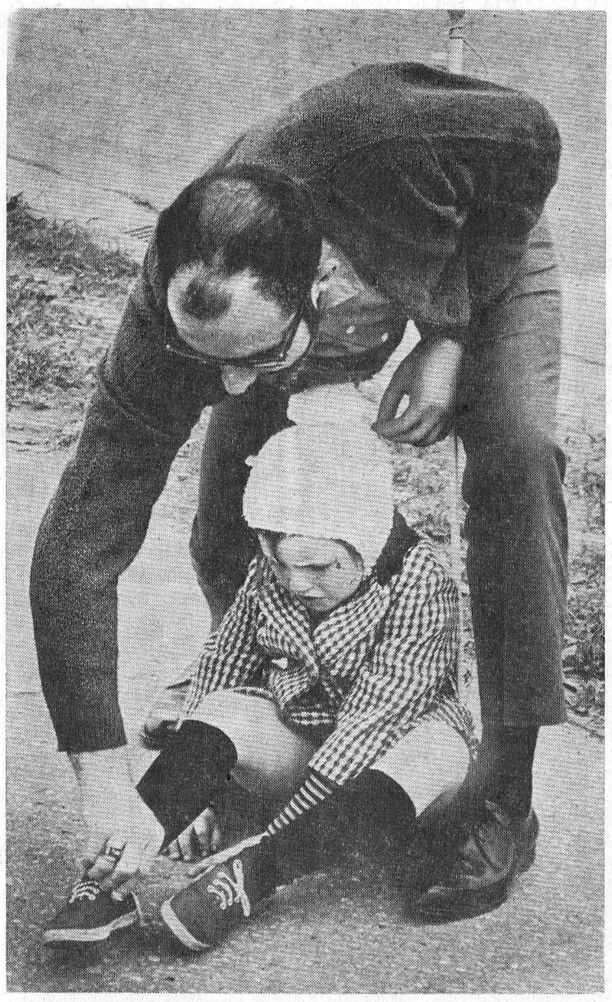
Tyrrell, who was loading the hole, took the brunt of the blast and was thrown twenty feet back to a depression in the stope.

Although critically injured, he led his partner through the crushed rock, down a vertical ladder to a manway on the 250 foot level where they were found by an investigating party. He had sustained compound fractures and multiple lacerations to the skull, nose, mouth and facial bones, muscle injury to the left thigh, and extensive damage to his left wrist and forearm with traumatic amputation of all fingers and the thumb.

The miner assumed incorrectly that the darkness engulfing him was due to a breakdown in the electrical system caused by the explosion. He did not realize that the most dreadful of his injuries was to his eyes.

Company panel trucks transported Mike and his partner (who had a badly broken leg) 40 miles toward Fort William where they were transferred to an ambulance for the final part of the journey.

Michael Tyrrell's face was pulp, his left hand and wrist were beyond repair, his left leg was paralyzed, his eyes were totally destroyed.



It was two weeks before doctors allowed Diane, his fiance of several months, to come from North Bay to visit him. A month later he was transferred to St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto for plastic surgery to his face and the fitting of two artificial eyes. Later he entered the W. C. B. Rehabilitation Centre under the care of the Amputee Clinic Team where his stump was strengthened and he was fitted with an artificial arm and taught how to use it.

The left leg regained its power and mobility quickly but there were still many months of plastic surgery to come, along with extensive dental work.

During the time between surgical procedures, Michael entered the Canadian National Institute for the Blind School in Toronto to attend an adjustment training course where he learned to type and read Braille and where he received the basic training necessary to enable him to function without sight.

Learning to walk without sight is one of the first obstacles posed by blindness and to do it easily and well requires many hours of practice.

The development of manual dexterity is also vital and the basis for all future manual accomplishments so that this part of the training is initiated as soon as possible.

This was a period of decision for Diane. In her own mind, Michael was not a blind man to be pitied and discarded, but a very special man with whom she felt she had a future and wanted to share her life. Although her friends tried to tell her differently, Diane knew that in Michael she would find her future.

Diane and Michael were married in Timmins in June 1961 and honeymooned in Ireland with Michael's parents and family. The honeymoon lasted 15 months but the couple returned to Canada when it became apparent that Ireland was many years behind Canada in their treatment and training of the blind.

In Canada again, Mr Tyrrell entered the Ontario School for the Blind in Brantford to upgrade his education. He had emigrated to Canada after leaving school at 14 to work as a telegram delivery boy.

The first months back at school were long and terribly difficult for both Diane and Michael, but each called on inner strength to support each other. Michael succeeded with respectable grades and a grade 12 diploma.

A preliminary year at Waterloo Lutheraan University gave hiim the equivalent of a grade 13 education and he has since gone on to complete two successful years of a general arts course at W. L. U. and begin his third. It is his plan to go on at the same university to obtain a Master of Social Work degree.

The Tyrrell's have two charming daughters. The eldest, Joyce, is eight and was born in Ireland. Little Pamela was born in Canada.

Michael Tyrrell may not have optic sight, but he 'sees' many things very clearly. His appreciation of human fears and responses is uncanny and he senses the uneasiness some people feel in his presence. He feels that his own experiences have prepared him to help others similarly afflicted and he has made plans to stay in the Kitchener/Waterlo area when he becomes a social worker to work with the blind or handicapped.

Since his accident, The Workmen's Compensation Board has provided compensation benefits in the form of hospital, medical and dental bills, the costs of prosthesis, a pension which will continue for life and a clothing allowance. Payment of tuition, books, and other school supplies has been made through the Board's Vocational Rehabilitation Department.

Mike's disabilities create some unusual requirements in order to allow him to function in a sighted world. In order to study from standard text books, readers must be provided. Some books have to be transcribed for the blind and the Board has made a talking book machine available. To transcribe lectures and notes, Michael uses either a standard or Braille typewriter and a Braille desk slate. A tape recorder is also an essential part of his equipment.

Although Diane matches the colour of his clothes and provides the eyes in traffic, Michael is almost completely self-sufficient. His own efforts coupled with the financial and training assistance of the W. C. B. and theC. N. I. B. have produced an independent, articulate, capable man. Courage, determination, perception born of experience and an indomitable spirit have created an exceptional man.
