CARNIVAL A SUCCESS!

Over $3000 Realized

Winchester residents want a new Community Centre. They made this very clear with their response to the call for co-operation from the Carnival committee.

The hard working men and women who served on the fund-raising campaign had planned for a week-end of fun and good-fellowship, sincerely hoping that such a combination would result in 'dollars' to get the Community Centre project rolling. In their most optimistic dreams they had not visioned such an all-out effort. An effort that realized over $3,000 and added the encouragement needed to pave the way for a continuous drive toward the goal. The goal, of course, being the new Community Centre.

It became apparent as early as Friday morning what the outcome would be. Under beautiful, clear, cold winter skies the carnival atmosphere seemed to engulf the regular quietness of the town. By noon business houses began to feel the impact and like some contagious disease the 'Carnival Fever' spread to take in all age groups and swept them into a frenzy of excitement that lasted till the last snowmobile roared over the finish line late Sunday evening.

CARNIVAL QUEEN

It was difficult to pick a highlight from such an event-packed week-end, but undoubtedly selection of the 'Queen' had to be the event that created the greatest interest and was most pleasing from a spectator point of view.

Lynda Erratt, 19 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Erratt, R.R. 2, Winchester was selected by the panel of judges to reign over this year's events and to represent Winchester in the Queen of Queens at Metcalfe later in the month. Lynda, a student at Ottawa Teachers' College, was crowned by last year's 100 Club Queen Janice Crummy, in a unique ceremony on the steps of the Town Hall, where Reeve Don Christie was the first to offer congratulations.

The three judges, Mrs. Olive Cass, Mrs. Inez Davidson and Bill Inglis, Promotion Director of Radio Station CKOY had a difficult task declaring winners from the eleven pretty young area girls.

First Runner-up award went to Bonnie Davidson, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, Winchester. Bonnie is Head Girl at N.D.D.H.S. Second Runner-up was Faye Hutt, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Hutt, Winchester. Faye is Student Council Secretary at N.D.D.H.S.

Following the announcement of winners by M. C. Bill Inglis, the girls were taken into the Town Hall where they received their awards from Mrs. James VanBridger. For the Queen over $200.00 in prizes and for the runners-up prizes to the value of approximately $15.00 each.

A Queen And Her Princesses

Lovely Linda Erratt was crowned 'Queen' of Winchester Carnival last Saturday night, when judges selected her from eleven pretty contestants. Miss Erratt is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Erratt of R.R. 2, Winchester. First runner-up was Bonnie Davidson, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, Winchester and second runner-up was Faye Hutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Hutt, Winchester. Linda is a student at Ottawa Teachers' College while the other two girls attend North Dundas District High School.

Events Well Attended

Visitors to the village enjoyed the fine ice sculpturing and the Carnival committee expressed pleasure that some 27 residents had made entry in the contest. The works of art were judged by three teachers: Miss Annette Duncan, Mrs. Anne Carruthers and Robert Gilroy. These colourful exhibits were not the result of any individual effort, but a family endeavour and residents of the Lloyd Dixon home on Main Street came up with a huge 'turtle' that captured the fancy of the judges and won first place. Second award went to the Grade 7 students at Winchester Public School for their 'Igloo' and third prize was awarded to the Sheldon Cameron household for bringing back memories of Fairy Tale days with the 'Old Woman's Shoe'. Three other families worked together and were awarded Honourable Mention by the judges. They were for the 'Whale' at the Frank Morgan home; 'Humpty Dumpty' at Raymond Annable's home; and the 'Pink Elephant' created by the Manchesters.

APPETITES

Some idea of the enthusiasm generated might be indicated by the surging crowds invading the eating places. For example, on Friday night over 300 enjoyed the Bean Supper at the Curling Rink; another 300 literally devoured the delicious 'Pancake Breakfast' served by the Boy Scouts on Saturday morning; and well over 700 attended the Saturday evening "Smorgasbord" made possible by the combined efforts of Winchester churches.

It was noteworthy, too, that village residents in large numbers did not allow the revelry of the occasion to interfere with their attendance at Sunday Church Services.

Oppose Area Board Office Here

The suggestion that Winchester be the site for Area Office No. 1 of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education met with some opposition at the regular board meeting last week. The meeting was held at the board offices with Chairman Bryson Comrie presiding.

No decision was reached concerning location of the office and the matter will be further discussed. Area 1 comprises all of Dundas County, having three Secondary and twenty Public elementary schools, with total population of 4,315 pupils and 220 teachers.

The purpose of area offices, (the Board had proposed locating one at Winchester and the other at Alexandria), is to deal with problems of caretaking, maintenance, transportation, supplies, preparing payrolls, and to deal with inquiries by ratepayers, parents and others concerning schools in the area. The same offices would be considered as local headquarters for the area Superintendent of Education, where principals, teachers, parents and students would have a local identification with the Board

Present at the meeting was the academic organization headed by H. D. Shaw, Director of Education and his assistant, as well as, the plant superintendent. Members of the French language advisory committee, headed by Dr. Claude Corbeil were also in attendance.

The need for arbitrators whose duty it will be to value and adjust in an equitable manner the assets and liabilities of the various boards which were dissolved December 31, 1968, resulted in the following appointments: K. Kirkby representing Dundas; C. Rombough for Stormont; Mr. Lapointe, Glengarry; and Mr. Hamilton representing Cornwall. A fifth member who will act as Chairman will be appointed from the judiciary.

An indication of the magnitude of business under this new administration is the statement that salaries for the month of January amounted to $622,000, debenture payment and interest, $184,821.27 and borrowing for the month totalled $600,000.

Look Out Below

The toboggan slide constructed by the Lions Club proved one of the most popular events at the great Winchester Carnival during the weekend. From the time the first toboggan darted away from the top on Friday night, the corner was a hive of activity. Even on Sunday it seemed the snowmobile rally took second place as far as the youngsters were concerned. Here two boys hit the icy planks and start the long ride.

NO MORE FAILURES

For Students At N.D.D.H.S.

"Beginning in September 1969" said Howard Manchester, Principal of N.D.D.H.S., "we will be replacing the lock-step Grade and programmes type of education with an individual student time-table, promotion by subjects and a free selection of subjects by credits, controlled by carefully prepared prerequisites to protect the student's choice."

Mr. Manchester further explained this is in keeping with the trend in education methods whereby the student will be given greater opportunity to select subjects of his choice.

"A student from Grade 9 to 12 will only repeat the subjects in which he has failed" said the Principal, "or he may transfer to another subject or credit".

North Dundas District High School is the only school in the area adopting this method at the present time, although the system has been proved to the satisfaction of the Department of Education and will eventually become province wide.

Programming, as well as, report cards will now be finalized by computer.

Clerk's Office Hours Changed

Queen Of Queens Carnival Next Week

The "Queens of Queens Carnival", sponsored by Metcalfe and District Lions Club is scheduled for next Friday night, February 28th. Carnival Committee chairman Ron Isaac has a fine program lined up which includes skaters from the Ottawa Minto Club.

Another feature attraction will be a skating Drill Competition. In this event there are three entries, one from N.D.D.H.S.; one from O.T.H.S., and one from Osgoode Recreational Association. Mr. Isaac explains that each drill will be limited as far as time is concerned, and the winning team will receive a valuable prize.

Billed as an 'Exhibition of Skill and Science on Skates', the audience will be treated to precision skating by six Lion Members.

Another crowd-pleaser should be the log-sawing contest. This might be termed a 'grudge' match with entries from four district clubs including, Winchester, Russell, Gloucester and Metcalfe

Highlight of the carnival will, of course, be the Queens pageantry. Only those who have already been crowned Queens in their own locality are eligible to enter and a large list of entries is expected.

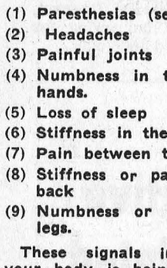
STRANGE SENSATIONS CALLED PARESTHESIAS
by J. A. Laquerre
Doctor of Chiropractic

There may be misalignment of vertebras in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning and others. A Chiropractor can examine the spine and nerves and trace these sensations to the misaligned vertebras before more serious trouble develops.



Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble:

(1) Paresthesias (see above).
(2) Headaches
(3) Painful joints
(4) Numbness in the arms or hands.
(5) Loss of sleep
(6) Stiffness in the neck
(7) Pain between the shoulders
(8) Stiffness or pain in lower back
(9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will in some degree be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of those danger signals . . . see your Doctor of Chiropractic at once.

DATELINE OTTAWA

Present Constitution Outgrown

GORDON BLAIR REPORTS

Why is the constitution being discussed? The simplest answer is that it is now more than one hundred years old and we have outgrown it. Strains and inadequacies have long been apparent particularly in the depression and post-war years. No basic changes have been made. Rather, problems have been "papered over" by a number of special arrangements for the sharing of tax revenues and joint exercise of powers. The cumulative effect of this has been confusion to people as to which government is responsible for what activity.

The result of last week's Conference is that probably most of the major public speech-making has concluded for the time being. All the governments and political parties involved have emphasized certain points. The federal Government, naturally, asserted that the rights of all Canadians were more important than the rights of any province. The provincial governments, in varying degrees, stressed their need for more tax revenue and greater assistance for economic development. These conferences have revealed disagreements between provinces which, perhaps, may be more significant in the long run than any disagreements between the federal Government and the provinces.

From now on these conferences will deal with specific proposals prepared by a number of continuing committees. From the federal standpoint the following are the most important items. The entrenchment of a Bill of Rights to guarantee basic political liberties for all Canadians regardless of where they live; protection of linguistic rights either by the constitution or other means; clarification of the federal power to establish basic economic opportunities for all Canadians by assistance to poorer regions and broad social legislation.

Important to us is the priority to be given to new government arrangements for the National Capital in co-operation with Ontario and Quebec. Proposals have been made for increasing the stature of the Supreme Court and reform of the Senate. This is part of a more comprehensive review of the constitution "to assess its adequacy for present and future requirements" as stated in the final communique of the conference.

The aim of all this discussion is not to create problems for lawmakers and political scientists but rather to make Canada a better and happier country. Everyone seems to agree that our governments have made a good beginning in this important task.

Friends, Relatives Honour Couple Prior To Moving

Neighbours, friends and relatives gathered in Marvelville Community Centre February 7th to say farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Hill who sold their farm and are leaving our community to live in Winchester where they bought a new home.

Mr. Hill was born in Marvelville and has lived in the vicinity all his life and his wife was an Edwards girl. The community will miss their presence as they were tireless workers in whatever field they belonged.

The evening was spent in playing cards and the Ladies' door prize was won by Mrs. Ronald Eastman. The Mens' door prize was won by Mr. H. C. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill were called to the floor and presented with a pole lamp. A very fitting address was read by Mrs. Reta McVey and the presentation was made by Mrs. Mary Fisher. Mr. and Mrs. Hill answered very fittingly and and invited all to visit them in their new home. "For they are jolly good fellows" was sung. Lunch was served by the committee in charge.

Our sympathy is extended to the family and friends of the late Mrs. George McEwen who passed away last week. Also to Mrs. Orman Savage and family in the death of her father Mr. Davidson of Gatineau, Quebec.

Honour Vernon Couple On 25th Anniversary

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs Stuart Dalgleish who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last week. They were honoured guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sayant on Saturday night where 30 of their friends met and enjoyed an evening of dancing. A nicely decorated room and table with an anniversary cake in the centre looked pretty in the candle lit room. An address was read by Mrs. Bill Porteous and an electric steam iron was presented to them on behalf of those present. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dalgleish thanked everyone. We wish them many more years of wedded life.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Dalgleish were at home to their friends and relatives both afternoon and evening where many called on them wishing them a happy anniversary. They received several cards and gifts. In attendance were Mrs. Wesley Lewis and Mr. Carman Acres who had been their attendants at their wedding 25 years ago. Those pouring tea and assisting were Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Donald Mattice Mrs. Orman Savage, Miss Sybil Harten, Miss Judy Lewis, Miss Diane Terpstra, Miss Barbara Campbell, Mrs. Robert Pembert, Mrs. Gerald Helmer, Mrs. Lorne Craig and Mrs. John McMartin.

Susan Rowan Enters Finals This Saturday

Susan Rowan of St. Catherines School, Metcalfe won the Carleton County Public Speaking Championship at Carp last Friday night. Competing against eight other speakers, all champions in their respective divisions, Susan won the George H. Dunbar trophy, and qualified to represent Carleton County in the Eastern Ontario Regional finals at Kemptville this Saturday.

New Post Office Metcalfe Village

Gordon Blair, M.P. for Grenville-Carleton told Metcalfe and District Lions Metcalfe will have a new Post Office in the immediate future. Mr. Blair, who was Guest Speaker for the regular Lions dinner meeting said negotiations are now under way for the purchase of a suitable site.

The new Liberal Member also had good news for residents of the Greely district when he explained that a new Post Office will also be built to serve that fast-growing community. Mr. Blair was introduced by Dr. Lynn Morrow and thanked by Hank Hansen.

It was a busy night for the local club as the meeting also served as a kick-off for the Easter Seal Campaign. Health and Welfare chairman Harold Cowan showed a colour film depicting the strides taken in helping crippled children.

In other business the club approved a donation of $2,500.00 to East Osgoode Memorial Community Centre to assist in the remodelling program being undertaken in the spring.

Metcalfe Lions claim 'illegal tactics' were used last Saturday night at the Russell Annual Ice Carnival. Members of the Club, led by player-coach Don Graham, downed Metcalfe club members by a one goal margin.

Metcalfe President Gord Morrow immediately registered a 'protest' claiming 'illegal tactics'. President Gord told the Press he did not think the fact that the Metcalfe goalie was using an '18-inch-wide' stick was sufficient reason for being forced to use a broomball net instead of the regular hockey net.

It was all in fun and a large crowd enjoyed the game, as well as, the interesting program of events.

Picture

Gordon Blair, M.P. for Grenville-Carleton had good news for Metcalfe and area residents when he visited the village last week. Mr. Blair was a guest of Metcalfe and District Lions Club and assured the meeting Metcalfe would have a new Post Office in the very near future. Mr. Blair right, is shown chatting with Dr. C. E. L. Morrow.

Conference Delays Budget

Since for the greater part of this second week of the winter sitting of the Legislature, the Leaders of all three Parties and other senior Government Ministers were in Ottawa for the Federal-Provincial Conference, the Ontario House proceedings were routine. A great many Members spoke in the Throne Speech Debate and some innocuous amending legislation was introduced. Otherwise House work lagged.

The death of the Conservative Member for Middlesex South, the late Neil Olde, M.P.P., not only brought sadness to the Assembly but has given rise to the first opportunity since the 1967 general election for the voice of the Ontario voter to be heard in the by-election which probably will be called later this year after the House rises. Undoubtedly Government forces will be mustered to retain the seat while both Opposition parties, which ran strongly in this riding in 1967, will be leaving no stone unturned to unseat the Government there.

The most significant Government announcement during the week for farm people, was made by the Minister of Agriculture and Food. He gave notice that Ontario Government loans to junior Farmers had been discontinued. Henceforth, farm mortgage loans from Government funds will be made only by the Federal Farm Credit Corporation. This appears to put farmers in the same position as would be home builder-owners who through the N.H.A. have only Federal Government funds available.

The Ontario Budget which was expected to come down about February 18th has now been delayed a week or so due to the recently completed Federal-Provincial Conference. All Members, as well as all Ontario people, are understandably most anxious as to its contents, particularly as to any new taxing features but so far there has been little speculation or rumour. The only certain thing is that for Education and Health the Ontario Government requires much more money. And there are only two ways in which any Government can secure such - borrowing or increased taxation. In due time we will all know which course the Ontario Government has chosen - in either event the Ontario taxpayer must in the end "foot the bill".

BELL LINES

by R. R. PEARSON
your telephone manager

Have you ever stopped to think how many times you use your phone during the course of a day, a week, a year? Probably not. Well, whether it's to order a forgotten item from the store, arrange for a baby sitter, change an appointment, check on the car or chat with a friend, there's a good chance you make more calls in a year than your counterparts elsewhere in the world.

According to the latest figures, Canadians are still the most talkative people in the world when it comes to telephones. Mind you, Americans are running a close second. In 1967, Canadians averaged 667.7 calls per person; that's .7 more than our friends south of the border. Mum's the word in Burma, however; citizens there made the least number of calls — an average .7 each in 1967.

Of the 222 million telephones in the world in that year more than 103 million were located in the United States. Canada was in sixth place with 8.4 million phones in service —that's 40.65 telephones for every 100 people. The average for the world is 6.4 phones for every 100 persons.

The statistics are compiled annually by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and are one year behind because it takes close to 12 months to gather figures from all parts of the world.

"I still think we should have got a telephone man!"

If I were to ask where to find the noisiest place in the world, I bet I'd get as many different answers as there are readers of this column. But I'm not going to ask because, if there is one thing that's easy to find these days, it's noise. Quiet? Now that's another story. Still there are a few remaining havens where quiet reigns supreme, and one of them is the anechoic chamber or "Dead Room" at Northern Electric's Research and Development Labs in Ottawa. The room is shielded from 99 per cent. of noise by thick masonry walls, isolation from the building in which it is housed and elaborate accoustical filters lining the room and ventilation system. The Dead Room is used for precise measurements of speech and hearing, and for work on receiving, producing and transmitting sound.

MacMILLAN—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Sheldon MacMillan, who passed away Ferbuary 13, 1967.
Today recalls the memory
Of a loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of him today

The flowers that lay upon his grave
May wtiher and decay,
But the love for him who lies beneath
Will never fade away.

We did not know what pain he bore,
We did not see him die,
We only know he passed away
And never said good-bye.

WARNING
To Dog Owners

Owners of dogs in the corporation of the village of Winchester are reminded that By-law No. 744 will be strictly enforced this year.

The by-law states in part: No dog shall be allowed to run at large within the corporation of the village of Winchester AT ANY TIME. Any dog found off the premises upon which it is habitually kept, without a tag or not on a leash under the control of some person, may be impounded, or killed, or the owner of any dog found running at large may be fined.

Because of a steady increase in the dog population of the village and because of a growing number of complaints over continued infractions of the law, owners not abiding by the law will be prosecuted without further warning and dogs may be impounded, with all expenses being paid by the owner.

Council asks for the co-operation of everyone but stipulates that breeches of the law this year WILL NOT be tolerated.

Signed on behalf of the Council of the Village of Winchester
RAYMOND ANNABLE, Clerk.

Combines To Play Three Games With Nationals

Combines started out slowly but gathered speed pumping in 5 goals in the 3rd period to defeat Embrun Panthers 7-4 Friday night.

After a scoreless first period Terry Kelly started the Combines off, but less than 2 minutes later Dick Ducharme tied it up. Mel Tomalty put them ahead, but Norm Charron tied it up to end the 2nd period 2-2.

3 fast goals in the 3rd period put Combines ahead, 2 by Big Doug Casselman and 1 by league leader Lyle Ellis. Jack Madore notched one for the Panthers, but Gord McMillan pumped into 2 goals in 39 seconds. Madore scored again less than a minute later, to end the game 7-4. In the first 2 period, Embrun received 1 minor and Combines 3.

At 10:44 of the 3rd period, Combines Roy Pyke was assessed a minor, a 10 minute misconduct and a game misconduct. At 19:13 Bryan Armstrong and Charles Goudreau were each handed a minor and a major.

Despite the game being late in starting and Embrun short of players, Combines outshot the Panthers 26-24.

The weekend of the 21st Combines journey to Lake Placid for 2or 3 exhibition games against the Czechoslovakia and the Swedish National Teams and possibly the U.S. National Team.

Combines have 30 points along with Shawville, Renfrew 18, Embrun 10 and Prescott 2. Several games have yet to be reported.

Maybe Next Time!

Winchester lady curlers have served notice they will be a force to contend with in all bonspiels where top rock-tossers compete for shiny silverware.

The Winchester four, skipped by Cathy Keys, entered the 'Crystal Pebble' bonspiel last week in Ottawa. 128 rinks from all parts of Canada started play on Monday morning and after five rounds only four rinks had remained unbeaten - ONE OF THOSE RINKS WAS THE WINCHESTER ENTRY.

Unfortunately they tired a little and lost in the semi-final to Manotick, but qualified for further play in the Skyline Trophy event. Here a win followed by a loss eliminated them from further play.

The girls did, however, bring home valuable prizes to add to their bulging trophy shelves.

For Mrs. Keys, Mrs. Workman Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Berry winning is becoming a habit. Only two weeks ago they were at Cornwall playing in the Dominion Championships division play and

As a 'warm-up' for the big Ottawa event, the rink played at Russell in the Broder Cup Bonspiel, and of course, won it.

The Press joins with members of the curling fraternity throughout the district in offering congratulations to the girls.

New Rules For Used Cars

A 1968 amendment to the Highway Traffic Act requires that a used car be certified mechanically fit before the ownership can be transferred.

A licensed mechanic or dealer must inspect the vehicle, checking it against Ontario Department of Transport specifications. There are more than 100 of these standards, involving the body, brakes, wheels and tires, electrical system, steering, and other components.

The new legislation is aimed at correcting vehicle defects, and removing completely unsafe vehicles from the road. It is estimated that 1,000,000 of the 2,800,000 cars in Ontario will be tested annually.

Insurance for mechanically fit cars is available from:

Rural Poverty

Carleton County Agricultural Extension Personnel takes a dim view of those who write of poverty and in so doing down grade the area we like to boast of as the "Golden Triangle." Here's the way they say so in their weekly bulletin:

"For some reason or other, we are exposed frequently to articles written by misguided reporters on the subject of rural poverty. If I had one prayer that I could have answered, it would be to be spared from this inaccurate, repititious coverage of an unfortaunate situation in our society.

"I am the first to admit that people who have not sufficient of the necessities and luxuries of this life, deserve better. I believe, too, that the rest of society should do everything possible to help these people help themselves to an improved existence. There is not an easy solution and certainly not a very speedy one.

"For some reporters to throw the blame on the poor soil of an area without knowing and describing the kind of soil that is suitable for farming, just cannot be tolerated. We have poor soil here in Eastern Ontario, but there is a lot more good soil, or at least potentially good soil, than many people would have you believe. Something is being done to take poor soil out of farming and to provide more good soil for farmers with initiative, through the ARDA program. This takes time and money, and is moving as quickly as is possible.

"Something that is too often forgotten is that people are involved—human beings with rights. This is most important if governments are to seek out and provide solutions. Some of these people have more freedom than you or I, but they pay for it dearly. Many of them are completely satisfied with their lives. Others are soured by some unfortunate incident that blackened their outlook. Some lack desire for other reasons. But, most of these people would like to be better and do better, but need encouragement. They need training to provide better incomes. They need to be made aware of the benefits of good food, proper sanitation and, most of all, that they are just as good as the rest of us. ARDA is helping here, too, through retraining programs. Let us help by getting off their backs and writing and doing the things that will really help them take a more normal place in our society."

Decision And Great Loss

"Man And His World" was thoroughly enjoyed by thousands of residents in this area and current reports indicate it may not open this year. Th Montreal Star feels strongly that such a decision would be a great loss. Here's what The Star says:

"There will be sadness but no great surprise at Mr. Saulnier's announcement to City Council that Man and His World will not be with us in 1969. The money bind has the city in its grip, as indeed it has the province and the federal government. Neither Quebec nor Ottawa was able to help and the city just does not have available cash to launch into what has become a very lovely and important part of the life of this community.

"Perhaps there is some little hope still, though Mr. Saulnier, who must be heartily sick of bad news by this time, did not even suggest a hint of any. There is no denying the decision is a blow to this community, to the province and, indeed, to the whole country.

"Man and His World was more than a fair. It was an experiment in community living. It contained within its lovely acres a whole host of lessons for any modern society. It offered a haven away from the concrete and commerce of everyday city life. It was a place to go which, though minutes away in terms of travel, was miles in terms of environment. It had become, as 13,000,000 visitors last year made clear, a place for Montrealers to drop in, to sample, a break from the monotony of what urban living has become to the great majority of us living in a city.

"Whether it will ever be started again is any man's guess. Whether it should be allowed to die is very questionable. This newspaper has, on occasion, complained about circuses when such matters as decent housing had still not been provided for very large numbers of Montrealers. But Man and His World was part of the decent life of a community. It was not either-or, but both.

"More than anything else, knowing, as everyone must, the place Man and His World held in Mayor Drapeau's affections, the decision forces us all to recognize the plight in which Montreal and other cities have been placed by inadequate means of taxation. Neither Mr. Dozois nor the city administration could contemplate an increase in taxes at this time. It would not be realistic. But somehow we still hope that means can be found not to deprive the city of at least a place to walk this summer. As important, we hope there will be no easy giving way to the temptation to scrap the project or to hand it over to be used for some other purpose.

"The city needs Man and His World. If we must be deprived of it for this year, then at least it must be ensured for next. To lose it permanently would be a most retrogressive step."

"Is This the Miami Plane?" "Si, Senor!"

February Is Sadness

February!
I find you very Hairy,
Not to mention
Contrary,
Weather-wise.
Driving is scarey
In February.
One must be wary
Even more than in January.
Milk in bottles
From the dairy
Freezes on the porch
In February,
And it's not
A very merry
Business
Cleaning up the ruddy mess when the bottle cracks and the milk leaks all over the Refrigidairy.

Sorry, chaps, but I've been conducting poetry-writing classes this week. And at the same time wading through drifts, trying to get my car started in the good old sub-zero, battling my way through 40-mile-per-hour blizzards, and helping bury an old mate.

Not conducive to a lyric column about the longest-shortest month in the year? Right.

As you can see from the above, the poetry classes have been going very badly. Imagine having a teacher who writes such garbage trying to breathe Life, Imagination, Experience into your creative poetic soul. It's enough to turn a kid off poetry for life.

Normally, February is a month in which nobody in his right mind can be found north of the 49th parallel. Unless he hasn't the money to escape. That's why there are so many of us lurching through snow-banks, noses dripping, eyes watering, coughs racking. We're either out of our minds, or poor. And in many cases, both.

And if we're not out of our skulls when the month begins, we're ready for the straitjacket and total sedation by the 28th. Thank the gods it's not Leap Year.

All I needed this year, to garnish my February complex, was to help bury an old mate.

He wasn't old in years, and he wasn't a life-long friend, but I'll miss him. Our paths crossed and re-crossed since we both made the ridiculous decision to become teachers, about nine years ago.

During our teacher-training summer courses, surrounded by hot-eyed, panting youth, just out of university and happy in the knowledge that the world was theirs for the asking, we sort of drifted together in a mutual-defence pact of gentle cynicism.

I'd been through a war and a period of carving a living out of a pretty tough roast of a world. He'd been through a terrible accident, broken neck and the works, years of pain-filled convalescence. We'd both emerged, battle-scarred but banners still flying, from a decade or so of marriage and children.

We weren't exactly student militants, but we shared a hearty scorn for and a quiet amusement at the establishment, the keen types, the pushers, the scramblers, the sparrows trying to make like eagles.

So we gravitated, and the friendship, sporadic and casual, lasted. After some years we wound up in the same town, teaching in the same school.

We golfed together quite a lot because we enjoyed the pace. It was leisurely, good-natured, and we both practised one-upmanship without scruple. You know: the loud scratch of a match at the top of the other's backswing; the coughing fit when the other was making a delicate putt; the gazing into the sky when the other hit a grounder; the gently raised eyebrow when the other missed the ball completely and almost broke his back in the process.

And we kept a fairly good eye on the yardarm. If the sun was over it, we marked the occasion in the usual manner. And many a late summer afternoon, we sat under the oaks and discussed, without rancour, the foibles and follies of the world, while our wives and the squirrels chattered in the background.

I'll miss the Old Boy. And so much for February.

JONAH 4:4 — "And Jehovah said, Doest thou well to be angry?"

Jonah is a controversial Bible character. He has, and still does, come up for much discussion and debate. What must we do with Jonah as the Scriptures present him and his experience? For some his experiences are not to be taken literally but mythologically. Taken literally, so it is contended, Jonah's experiences are so much nonsense. Who ever heard of a man inside of a fish for three days and three nights and coming out alive? Impossible we are told. Others point out that the Lord Jesus accepted it and taught it as a symbolic of His death and resurrection. Beside this, they aver, that He Who created all things is abundantely able to rule and use all things for His own wise purposes. In this case it was calling a disobedient prophet back into service.

That was actually the rub. Jonah did not want to do what God called him to do. God said he should go preach in Nineveh. Jonah refused. These were Israel's bitter enemies. These were the men who sought Israel's destruction. All Jonah wanted was a divine revenge of Israel's enemies. So strongly did he resent this divine mandate that he decided to run away. It was while running away that he was overtaken by divine intervention. God made his repent and obey.

It is remarkable that Jonah, after God's unusual dealings with him, still went relectantly to Nineveh. But he went. And he preached. And his preaching was extremely successful. The whole city repented. All joined in fasting and wearing sackcloth and showing their sorrow for sin. It was one of the most successful preaching assignments over fulfilled.

But Jonah could not see it that way. He was very angry. That was the last thing he wanted to happen. He wanted Nineveh destroyed. This way it would not happen. Jonah was so angry that he wanted to die. As he saw it, this whole business was completely wrong. For him there was only one people of God, one elect nation, one chosen and favoured kingdom, that of Israel. That was for his an honour that could not be shared by any other people. All other nations were heathens. They deserved only wrath from God, never blessings or mercy. Now that God showed mercy to another city and that a feared enemy, everything has gone wrong for Jonah. In such a world he cannot love.

God taught Jonah in an usual way that his concern should be for all men, a concern that they find true life, everlasting life, and not death. Here was Jonah's real trouble. He lived in a world closed to others. He had only a "we-group" complex, that was narrow and selfish. God taught him to see divine grace that is for all people. As such the story seeks to instruct us too. We may never rest content with our own salvation and that of fellow-church-members, but we must seek to have all men know the way of salvation. We must therefore ask ourselves whether we have a Jonah complex, or whether we are concerned that all men shall know the Saviour Christ Jesus.

"Good grief, another hockey player!"

The Seventh Column

The name "Winchester" is once again in the curling headlines, thanks to the skill and perseverance of four pretty young housewives. It seems difficult, now, to realize that only a few short years ago Winchester Curling Club was a dilapidated old tin shack with a handful of enthusiasts. At that time, if memory serves us well, there were those who spoke with conviction and predicted that the grand old game, as far as this town was concerned, was slowly but a bit reluctantly dying out. Fortunately, such was not the case. A combination of grim determination by a few "old timers" and the injecton of "new young blood" has made Winchester Curling Club one of the best rural clubs in the Ottawa Valley, and produced some of the finest curlers, both male and female. Cathy Keys, Marg. Anderson, Phyllis Workman and Freida Berry have proved Winchester players have earned a place in the forefront of Canadian Curling and one sees top honours coming to town in the near future.

There are drawbacks, however. From a man's point of view, that is. There is a distinct danger of loss of identity for some young husbands. Take for example two small children playing on the village street when the Agricultural Representative walks by. One youngster says to the other, "see that guy, he's the one that lives with Cathy Keys." Oh, well, such is the price of fame.

We receive many queries concerning the lack of hockey news over the past month while Canada's National Sport has been in full swing. Most "barbs" refer directly to the St. Lawrence Junior "B" League, which received much attention last season. Being human, we're ready with the excuses. Unfortunately a weekly newspaper cannot afford to hire a full time sports reporter, and consequently must rely, almost entirely, on help from either our area correspondents or someone directly connected with the sport itself. In an effort to ease ourselves "off the hook" as gently as possible, we offer a suggestion that may help solve the publicity problem. Here it is. Rural hockey clubs, knowing the value of ample publicity, should concern themselves with appointing their own "reporter." It would be the duty of this reporter to have complete, up-to-date hockey data in the hands of the Editor by Monday of each week. We might add we are most anxious to co-operate.

Possibly the return of a real old-fashioned winter may have something to do with it, or then again it may be the pendulum of time swinging back again. Whatever the reason, there is a definite swing to skating in the area this winter. When East Osgoode Memorial Community Centre was first erected in 1950, it was skating three nights a week and great crowds of both young and old enjoyed the wonders of gliding noiselessly over the smooth surface in the spanking new "closed rink." "Familiarity breeds contempt" someone once said. As years passed the crowd began to diminish till a point was reached when even Saturday night crowds dwindled to a faithful few enthusiasts. This year there are only two nights set aside for skating and rink manager Ray Wilson sees a return of skating interest. Each Saturday the crowd is noticeably larger, and now, even the Tuesday hours have come alive with the merry laughter of skaters. If you haven't been skating lately, give some serious thought to lacing on the blades once again. The boots may be a bit mildewed, but some saddlesoap will cure that. Try a little sandpaper to brush away the rust from the glistening steel. We also suggest a new pair of laces. You'll be surprised how many old friends you'll meet and some experts claim skating, in moderation, can do wonders for bulges that have suddenly appeared in all the wrong places.

Last week we made reference to the late D'Arcy Finn and his great faith in united effort. Mr. Finn would have been proud of Winchester last week-end. If there was one who was not pulling his share of the load during the hectic carnival hours, he must have been lost in the milling crowd. From our many vantage points it was very evident everyone had a job to do and was doing it quietly and efficiently. There may have been a few critics last week. By Friday night the number had greatly diminshed. By Saturday everyone had climbed on the "'band wagon." It is a tribute to those who made the blueprints for Winchester's greatest Winter Carnival that they drew together so many diversified organizations into one smooth running unit. A unit that didn't know the meaning of the word "failure," but saw their shining goal on the horizon and never once looked back.

A BALL WAS HAD BY ALL

Adults were justly proud of the three-day activities, but for the children it was fun-packed hours that will be remembered for many years to come.

The sleigh ride, once not so many years ago, the standard mode of travel on winter roads, is today a great thrill and the youngsters were lined up waiting their turn. It was a page from the past made possible by Lawrence Wallace with his prize-winning horses.

Then, too, there were skating races for the boys and girls on Saturday afternoon at the Park rink with the following results: Boys, 6 and under: 1. Keith Moore (no competition). Girls, 6 and under: 1. Marianne Carlyle 2. Julie Fisher. Boys, 7 and 8: 1. Peter McLeod. 2. Terry Cross Girls, 7 and 8: 1. Beverly Hanes. 2. Susan Duncan. Boys, 9 and 10: 1. Jeffrey Folkard. 2. Steven Guy. Girls, 9 and 10: 1. Julie Holmes. 2. Cathy Workman and Darlene Summers. Boys, 11 and 12: 1. Allen Carkener. 2. Robert Hanes. Girls, 11 and 12: 1. June Spearman. 2. Heather Lannin. Boys, 13 and 14: 1. Allen Carkner. 2. Bruce Cowell. Girls, 13 and 14: no entries. Boys, 15 and over: 1. Ernest Summers. 2. Ray Armstrong. Girls, 15 and over: Norma Duncan. Youngest Skater (girl) was Kim Flucke. Youngest Skater (boy) was Keith Moore.

The 'Toboggan Slide' constructed by Winchester Lions was a centre of attention throughout the entire Carnival and officials estimate well over 2000 thundered down the icy slope.

Those who planned forgot no one. On Friday night it was 'Teenager Time' at the Public School and with modern beat supplied by "A Sound Circuit" the new building seemed to quiver with the merriment of youth.

It was dance time again on Saturday night. This time for the 'quieter' set - the old timers - with music supplied by the inimitable Glen Cochrance.

Both dances were sponsored by Winchester 100 Club. The committees had special words of thanks for the students of Winchester Public School for their efforts in decorating the gymnasium for the occasion. The students were directed by Mrs. Sharon Merkley and Mrs. Irene MacLean. They also had words of praise for Brian Racine and Susan Boyd for their assistance in organizing and promoting the Friday Teen Dance.

Spot Dance prizes were donated by RCA records.

It seemed there was activity in every corner of the village. The Lions midway at Royal Bank Parking Lot, snowmobile rides at the Community Park, bowling at the Corner Lanes, Curling at the curling club and prize winners everywhere.

Decorations At School

Bowling Competition

At the bowling lanes Friday was a day for the ladies and Saturday was set aside for the men. Well over 50 entered the competitions and winners were Doris Imrie for the ladies division and Bill Hogaboam was the best in the male department.

Snowmobile Rally

Favoured with continued perfect weather over 50 snowmobiles assembled Sunday afternoon for the planned rally. The course was so designed that 190 points constituted a perfect score. First prize went to Donald and Geraldine LeClaire of Prescott who compiled 183. Rene and Rose Villenueve, Maynard were second with 182; and two contestants tied for third honours at 180 points. Tied were Erwin and Marjorie Kelso, Domville, Ontario and Grant McIntosh of Maynard, Ontario.

Prizes for the 'Snowmobile Rally' were donated by the following businessmen: Deeks Auto Electric; Pinkus Salvage and Auto Parts Ltd; Al Scott and Frank Morgan.

Carnival Bonspiel

The Carnival Bonspiel got under way early Friday evening and continued through Saturday with 25 mixed rinks competing. When final scores were tallied top honours were awarded to a Glebe entry skipped by J. Winford with M. Rigby, A. Hilchie and D. Hilchie. Runner-up honours in the two-game event went to Russell Hay's Russell rink with Marion Cochrane, Jim Sullivan and Lois Russell.

One game prize winning rink was from Ottawa Curl-O-Drome skipped by Jerry Tansley with Judy Tansley and Doreen and Steve Carisse.

Prize Winners

Since the giant toboggan slide passed close to the door of Fawcett's store, Roy offered a watch to the boy or girl sliding the greatest distance. Winner was Bill Lloyd Jr., Winchester. Winner of the Jo-Anne Shoppe prize was Mrs. 'Len Steck, while the lucky ones at Alexander's Bus Stop were Willis Robinson, Howard Summers and Betty Ann Christie.

It was the "Weekend of Decision". Those who plan the recreational future of Winchester were asking for a vote of confidence and they received it.

Monday morning they were not content to enjoy a few hours of relaxation. Instead they were back at the 'planning board'. Next 'Big Event' will be the 'SPORTSMAN DINNER'. No date has been set but the details are in the capable hands of the following committee members: Basil Dawley, Chairman; Walter Shadbolt; Jack McIntosh; Lloyd LaPorte and Frank Morgan.

Meanwhile other smaller fund raising activities are being formulated, and there will be no let up till all the white blocks in the "Community Centre Sign' at the Main Corner have all turned 'black'.

Big Snow Bug

Tops At Bonspiel

It was mixed curling over at Winchester curling club from Friday night till late the following day. With twenty-five entered in the bonspiel and the club-room gaily decorated many carnival-goers enjoyed the keen competition and hospitality offered. A Glebe rink skipped by J. Winford won top honours. Skip Winford is shown, far right. Others from left to right, A. Hilchie, D. Hilchie and M. Rigby.

Bowling Champions

Following two days of bowling with over fifty contestants, the winners of the Carnival Bowling Championships were Bill Hogaboam, right, and Doris Imrie. Friday was ladies day at the Corner Lanes, while Saturday was reserved for the male participants. An entry fee was charged and the two winners each received valuable cash prizes. Gordon Sutton, owner of the lanes kindly offered the use of his facilities at no cost.

Snowmobile Rally Winners

Over fifty snowmobiles roared through the open countryside surrounding the village Sunday afternoon. Some were local and others had come from neighbouring districts to compete in the giant 'Rally'. It proved a fitting climax for the carnival weekend and the winners had lovely trophies to show for their afternoon of fun. Winners are shown accepting their trophies from carnival officials. Left to right: George Hanes, Don LaClare, Mrs. LaClare and Keith Carkner, Chairman of Community Centre Board.

AT WILLIAMSBURG

Essay On School Patrol

There has been a patrol in Williamsburg School for three years, two of which I have been on patrol. Some mornings when I awaken and see the bright orange belt staring down from its perch on the dresser, I wish that I could throw the sheet over my head and go back to sleep. But when I think of all the little children I'm responsible for crossing, I hop out of bed and get ready to go down to the corner. I think a job like this makes a person more responsible and punctual.

Two well respected members of the Morrisburg Police Force have instructed the Patrol. The organizer, Constable McGregor, for the first two years, and his replacement, Constable Burke, this year.

Both years we've had a very enjoyable Christmas Party which both Morrisburg and Williamsburg Patrol members attended. Last year in Ottawa we participated in the annual Patrol Parade We were probably the smallest group among all of the patrols which came from all over Canada. After parading over Parliament Hill and down Bank Street we loaded buses which took us to Lansdowne Park. There we watched a variety show and supposed to be saluted by Trudeau but he failed to appear. We had a wonderful time anyway. Although patrol means getting up in the morning and sometimes freezing in twenty below zero weather, it is very good for everyone. I think these last three years of patrol have done a lot for the school. This year, even more, because we have something to really work for but we can't win the trophy without the co-operation of every pupil in the school. I hope they have a patrol here as long as Williamsburg No. 12 exists.

IF YOU OWN A SNOWMOBILE

It has been brought to the attention of the Ontario Provincial Police at Morrisburg that several ski-doo owners are running over the lawns and hedges of the property owners in the Village. a word to the wise at this time regarding the liability of this action. If it is proved that the action was deliberate and there was property damage resulting the driver of the ski-doo could be charged with wilful damage under the Criminal Code of Canada.

If the action was unavoidable and accidental then the driver of the ski-doo has insurance to cover any damage that might incur.

It is also feasible that the rules of the road under the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act could apply and the driver would then be subject to a charge under a Provincial Statute.

SMOKING...

stop before you start

The Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation, in co-operation with the Department of National Health and Welfare, this month launched a long-term campaign, complete with a handbook of instruction, to stop children from smoking before they start. It is the goal of the Canadian Federation to bring up a new generation of people who do not smoke, and who will therefore be spared the sickness, disability and death that may result from cigerette smoking.

This campaign could be the greatest life-saving venture of all time. It is in reality a "Crusade Against Children Smoking". Parents do not realize that today the average child starts to smoke at age twelve, and some have been known to start as early as age six. It is also a well known fact that the younger a child starts, the greater the danger of lung cancer, heart disease and emphysema.

Everyday in Canada 300 school age children have their first cigarette. By the time they graduate from school, half of the nation's teenagers are smoking. Could this not be classified as a cigarette epidemic? Should parents not get upset? In fact, should they not get really upset and do something about it?

Parents should ask: - is the corner store turning its back on the law and selling cigarettes to under-age children? Should children be able to pick up cigarettes with a note from a parent, and should we waive the law for a lazy parent? Should cigarette advertising on radio and TV continue? Or has the time come for parents to help the government make up its mind on cigarette advertising?

Cigarette addiction among children is a social problem involving the entire community. To combat this addition it will require the total effort of the complete community, such as the news media, theatres - especially for children's matinees - youth groups, schools, churches and adult groups.

The Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation's handbook will include guidelines for conducting an open meeting, sources for speakers, guidance for parents who are "hooked" by the habit and hope that their children don't get the habit, ideas for involvement of school-age children, and suggestions for attacking this social problem in the community. The Federation hopes to reach a half million parents with their life-saving campaign.
