Free trade

Free trade, when done properly, would benefit the agricultural community, agricultural economics expert Larry Martin told about 100 farmers. But he warned that there are some parts of the agreement farmers will have to watch closely.

Hydro rates to rise 4.1 per cent in '88

WINCHESTER — Village Hydro customers can expect to see an increase of about four per cent on their monthly electricity bills next year folowing a rate increase recommended this week by Ontario Hydro.

The proposed rate increase is low compared to what many other municipalities will be facing, Ashley Labelle of Ontario Hydro's Belleville office told Winchester council members Monday night. The councillors, who also serve as the village's Hydro commissioners, were told that the local utility is "bearing up quite well."

Labelle said the suggested increase will be necessary to restore working funds depleted by capital expenses which have gone over budget in the past two years. "Two years of overexpenditure has driven your working funds quite low," said Labelle.

Council voted to request Ontario Hydro's approval for the new rate structure, which should take effect Jan. 1, 1988.

Under the new rates, an average customer of Winchester Hydro can expect to see his monthly bill increase by $2.37 or 4.4 per cent. A residential customer using 1000 kilowatt hours per month currently pays $53.96, and would see his monthly bill rise to $56.33 next year.

A general service customer using the same amount of power each month is presently paying $56.96. Under the new rate structure that bill would increase by 4.8 per cent up to $59.70.

The utility's total expenditures for 1988 have been budgeted at $51,000, although the actual amounts spent in 1987 and 1986 were $77,000 and $79,000 respectively. Some council members suggested that a higher amount should be budgeted for this year, but Labelle said "we can only budget what we know."

Labelle noted that the overall recommended increase of 4.1 per cent is actually lower than Ontario Hydro's wholesale increase of 4.7 per cent for next year. Ontario Hydro sells the electricity to the Winchester Hydro commission, which in turn retails the power to local customers.

Labelle said little growth in local electricity use is being projected over the next two years, and that the utility can expect to see its working captial increase.

"We're still in a catch-up situation," said councillor George Hanes. He said the Winchester Hydro commission had been misled in 1982, when Ontario Hydro recommended a rate increase of only 1.8 per cent. The following year, rates had to be increased by 17 per cent to offset a major short-fall in working funds.

Labelle said a lot of Eastern Ontario municipalities can expect to see big rate increases this year, making Winchester "better than average." Some area municipalities have seen a lot of new construction over the past year, and their working funds have been depleted by the need to supply the additional services. They will have to impose larger rate increases on their customers to replace these funds.

Labelle also told council members about a proposed change in Hydro rates which is expected to take effect next year. Referred to as "time of use" billing, the new system would alter the demand versus energy split used in calculating Hydro rates in order to reflect more accurately the cost to Ontario Hydro of producing the power at the time it's used. It costs Hydro more to produce the same amount of energy at peak periods of use, said Labelle.

Labelle said most municipalities will probably opt to take part in time of use billing because the new system would represent a small decrease in their overall bill. The new rates will be gradually phased in over three years, said Labelle.

Chesterville man charged in Bell tower destruction

CHESTERVILLE — A Chesterville man has been charged with mischief in the destruction of a $4-million microwave tower near Williamsburg in August.

James Henry Wise, 44, of 34 Queen St. was arrested here Friday afternoon and released on a promise to appear in provincial court in Morrisburg on Tues., Nov. 24.

The 100-metre Bell Canada tower crashed to the ground Aug. 15 across from the Cedar Glen Golf Course east of Williamsburg, when five of its 32 steel guy wires were cut with what police believe was an acetylene torch.

About 11,000 voice circuits were lost when the seven-antenna tower went down.

Bell Canada posted security guards at all of its towers in Eastern Ontario following the incident.

Police searched a house in Chesterville Aug. 26 and seized a suitcase, acetylene torches, goggles, two newspapers, two pairs of gloves and three vacuum bags, according to search warrant documents.

Police warn of crackdown

LONG SAULT — Police are hoping an eight-week crackdown on drunk driving launched this week will have a sobering effect during the holiday season.

The crackdown, dubbed RIDE (Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere), kicked off Monday with random spot checks that could see as many as 400,000 Ontario drivers pulled over by police by the new year.

Locally, detachments in Winchester, Long Sault and Morrisburg have geared up for weekly blitzes that will include both daytime and nighttime checkpoints.

Last year, the detachments pulled over more than 2,300 drivers and charged nine with impaired driving. Another 21 had their licences suspended for 12 hours.

That was up dramatically from 1985 when a shorter six-week program saw police stop less than half the number of cars.

"The extra two weeks really seems to make the difference," said Cpl. Al Crocker of the Long Sault OPP. "We have the time to really concentrate on impaired driving."

A driver convicted of impaired driving for the first time faces a fine of $300 and the loss of his licence for a year.

A second conviction nets a mandatory two-week stay in jail as well as a licence suspension of two years.

While the roadblocks miss few drivers over the holiday season — more than 18,000 motorists were stopped in the area between West Carleton and Morrisburg — Crocker said police try to keep delays to motorists to a minimum.

"Generally the program is well supported," said Crocker. "We've received no complaints about the delays.

"The only ones that are complaining are the ones we catch drinking and driving."

Edwards dump opposition mounts

RUSSELL — Forces are gathering momentum in Russell Township against a proposed landfill-incinerator site in the Edwards area.

Russell Reeve Gaston Patenaude said Nov. 5 he had received about 300 letters from concerned residents in the previous two weeks.

Patenaude said a flyer is being distributed to all ratepayers in Russell to alert them to the dangers of the site.

A public meeting on the issue is scheduled in Russell last night.

Patenaude said he is concerned the incinerator-landfill site may be put in place prematurely.

The people of Russell were never contacted and informed about the site, he said, adding "if it has to be there, all angles must be looked at."

On Nov. 3, a Russell woman appeared before Osgoode Council to express concerns about the site.

Jackie Stewart asked council if they would consider sending out flyers to Metcalfe and Osgoode residents to warn them of the potential danger of the site, but was refused.

Osgoode Mayor Albert Bouwers said the best council could do was to reaffirm its concern over possible environmental impact from the site.

Council is not specifically opposed to the site, said Bouwers. Everybody needs a place to dump their garbage, he said, but "no one wants it in their back yard."

"But this is our front yard," said Stewart, referring to the proximity of the site to Russell Township, about a kilometre away.

Stewart appeared before council as a recently appointed member of the Public Liaison Committee of the Waste Plan Task Force. The committee was formed to give Russell residents a chance to voice their concerns about the site to the task force.

Terry Anderson, also of the Liaison Committee, said she is most concerned about possible fallout should an incinerator be built.

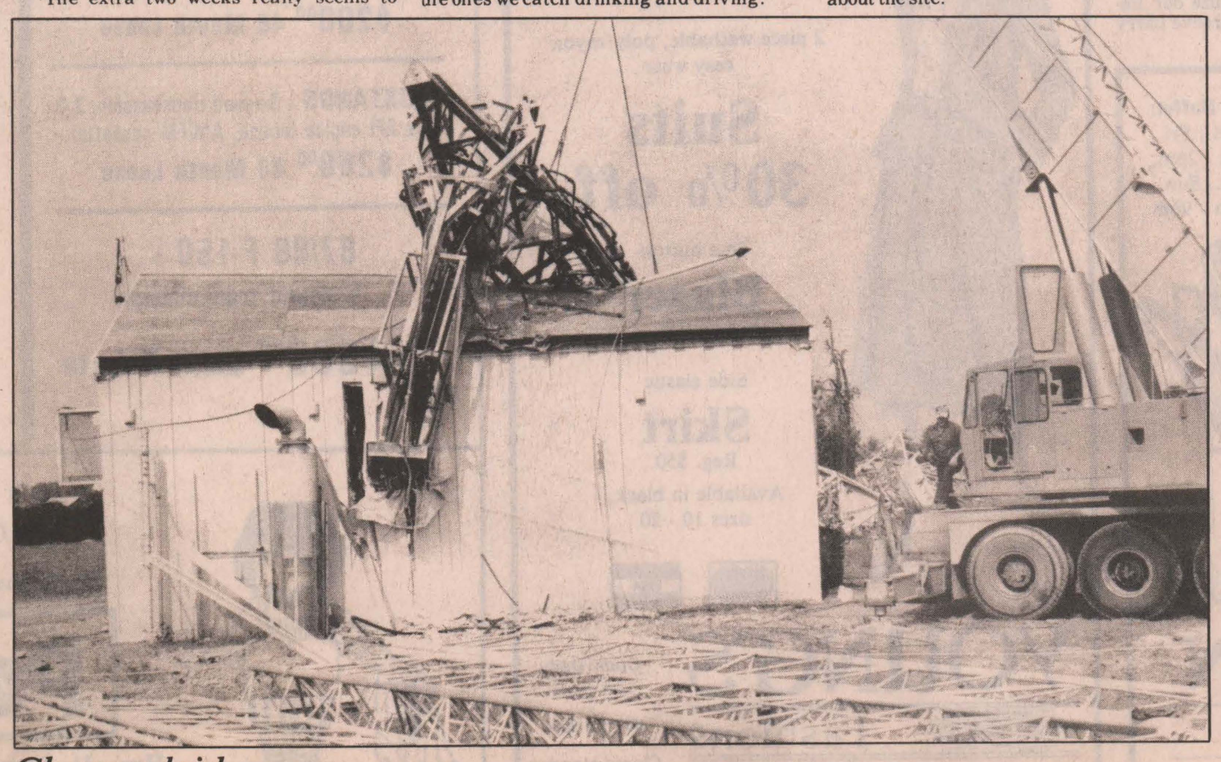
The task force calculated from the height of the smoke stack that fallout from the incinerator could occur within a 1.7 kilometre radius, she said.

"This," she said, "would impact directly on Russell Township."

Anderson said the task force is aware of this, and she hopes they are "going to be reasonable" in listening to residents' concerns.

The Edwards site is one of two that the region is considering for the waste management program. The waste management master plan looks ahead 25 years and the site may expand to 1,400 acres within this period.

Last spring 10 sites under consideration were narrowed to two. The program's designers are currently gathering input from the public. Final recommendations will be made in February 1988.



Charges laid

A Chesterville man will face charges Nov. 26 in connection with the destruction of this Bell Canada microwave tower downed Aug. 15 when several supporting guy wires were cut.

Teacher joins AIDS education

METCALFE — Irmela Murphy, head of physical and health education at Osgoode Township High School, has been chosen to represent Eastern Ontario in the Ministry of Education's AIDS Education Program.

Murphy, along with eight other provincial officers, will work with T.V. Ontario to implement the new program.

Her duties will include developing curriculum, raising community and staff awareness, training teachers and preparing resource material relating to new information on AIDS.

When contacted at her Manotick home last week, Murphy said she was pleased about the appointment, which will take her away from OTHS for about a year.

"It will be an interesting change," she said, "a chance to meet and get to know new people."

Murphy said she is looking forward to meeting with teachers throughout Eastern Ontario, her aim being to promote student awareness on the subject of AIDS.

As to leaving her students at OTHS, Murphy said it will be difficult.

"I will try to visit the school whenever I can," she said.

Murphy left Monday for a four to five week training session in Toronto. Upon her return she will work primarily out of Ottawa for the balance of the year.

While at OTHS Murphy was responsible for expanding the physical education program, and initiating a student leadership program. At the board level she has developed and field tested secondary school AIDS resources, and fostered the growth of the Carleton Secondary School Athletic Association.

Winchester Cheese planning expansion

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Cheese plant will soon be getting a $1.75 million facelift.

The construction, which will add 3,750 square feet to the plant, will include a new addition and equipment, as well as expansion for the cold pack department, which manufactures specialty cheeses.

The plant first opened in 1977, a joint venture of Lovell & Christmas (Canada) Inc. and National Consolidated Food Brands Inc. Half of the company was purchased by J.M. Schneider in 1980, and the cheese processing division was added in 1983. J.M. Schneider bought out Lovell & Christmas after the addition of the cheese processing division.

The 40,000 square foot plant currently wraps and cuts cheese, such as individually wrapped slices. The cheese produced at Winchester Cheese comes from plants across Canada and as far away as Iceland and New Zealand. The plant employs 120 people.

Smith's creations 'beary' popular in adult marketplace

BRINSTON — Toymaker Ida Smith didn't choose the bears. She says they chose her.

Smith's career as a toymaker began four years ago when her daughter asked for a teddy bear. Smith's first attempt, using a pattern, left her disappointed. "It didn't turn out so good," she admits.

Throwing out the pattern she had been using, Smith read some books about making toy bears, and adjusted and improved her first pattern. An avid designer of clothes for small children and wardrobes for her daughter's porcelain dolls, Smith decided to try her hand at stuffed toys. Four years later, she has turned making bears into an art.

Each of Smith's bears is an individual. With the rearrangement of eyes, nose and adjusting the length of the snout, the bears' facial expressions range from good-natured to grumpy and petulant. Each bear carries the mark of the same quality of workmanship and the same care for detail. Smith says if she was to make a bear from start to finish, it would take eight hours to complete each creation.

Jim and Ida Smith co-operate in assembling the stuffed animals. Jim stuffs each limb with polyester fibrefill, and Ida is responsible for cutting out the fabric, basting and sewing each part, as well as putting the finished bear together. Press Photo—Laucius Childproofing a stuffed toy is important to Smith. Each of the bears has eyes and nose securely in place, with indestructible seams. Smith's terrier, Buffy, is Plush Pals' product tester. Buffy jealously guards the bear Smith made for him, and the bear has stood up well to being dragged around by a very possessive terrier. Buffy's bear, more than a year old, has yet to lose a limb or stuffing.

"It's a lot of hard work," says Smith. She regularly makes bears to add to her six grandchildren's already burgeoning collections. Some of her grandchildren already have a roomful of the stuffed bears, mostly the "reject" toys that were not up to Smith's rigorous standards. But she says these collections have had few recent additions. "I don't make too many mistakes anymore," she says.

Smith's teddy bears start inside out. She begins by making plastic patterns based on her many years of trial and error. Tracing the plastic patterns, she cuts out the pieces from bolts of fabric that come from as far away as Belgium and France. Much of the fabric is the same material used to make simulated fur coats.

She starts by taking each pattern piece and basting it securely. The basting will remain in place, even after she has gone over each piece with a sewing machine to reinforce it.

All of Smith's bears have moveable arms and legs made out of joints created with plastic discs, washers and cutter pins. The noses are made of plastic, securely anchored in place with pegs fastened with studs. Some of the bears have "growlers", or units which make a moaning noise when the bear is turned over.

Smith's husband, Jim, a hobby farmer and retired armed forces member, helps with stuffing each bear. The average-sized bear takes about one pound of polyester fibre-fill stuffing. It takes 21 different pieces to make each bear says Jim, who calls himself the "gopher". He is responsible for picking up bolts of fabric as well as helping with the manufacture of bears.

Bear-making, which she still refers to as "a hobby" snowballed after Smith made her first bear. Friends of her daughter were soon asking for bears, and soon she was showing and selling her creations at craft fairs and doll shows. "They sold like hotcakes," she says.

Recently, Berry's Pet Foods asked for 34 bears for a promotion. Gift shops at Upper Canada Village and Old Fort Henry asked for stuffed toys for their gift shops, and word of mouth spread the popularity of the fuzzy creatures.

Smith sells some bears from her Brinston farmhouse, where she keeps her menagerie of ursine friends in an upstairs bedroom.

Fall and late winter are the busiest bear-making times for Smith. In the fall, she makes bears to sell at Christmas craft and doll shows, and later in the winter, she produces the bears to sell at Upper Canada Village and Old Fort Henry. Usually, Smith's well-stocked bear storeroom is almost empty by Christmas.

Smith does most of her work in the roomy kitchen of her farmhouse where she has a big table to spread her fabric and lots of sunshine. She does one task at a time, stuffing and finishing the bears with pads for paws and feet and embroidered mouths, after she has all the components ready.

Although she makes other stuffed animals, including horses, elephants and monkeys, the bears are still the bestsellers. "They'll never go out of style," she says.

Surprisingly, Smith says most of the bears she makes are destined to make their homes with adults and not children. Bear collections are very popular, she says, and many collectors may use a bear or group of bears to dress up an antique rocking chair or bed.

Men buy stuffed bears for their wives, adds Jim, who sometimes helps to sell the toys. Young people often buy stuffed teddy bears to keep their aging grandparents company, he says, pointing out that the animals are very popular in nursing homes. They provide company for the elderly without the complications of feeding and allergies caused by pets.

Smith's bears have found homes as far away as Japan, New Zealand and Peru. Jim, who worked at the Ottawa airport, has a friend who worked for the Department of External Affairs who suggested the bears as Canadian-made gifts for ambassadors' children.

They range from small bears of about 10 inches in length to a custom-made 30-inch bear made for her granddaughter which was christened "Auntie Ida" after its creator. Smith has also made designer bears to coordinate with the interiors of rooms. Some bears have different characters, such as the grandmother bear designed for babies or the grandfather bear who comes complete with a pair of spectacles. Some of the stuffed toys have knitted hats and vests made for them by Smith's niece.

Smith says she has no plans to expand her business to accommodate rising demands. "I want to keep it as a hobby," she says.

The bears will be on display at the Mountain Lions' Christmas Craft Show, Dec. 4, 5 and 6 at the Mountain Township Agricultural Society Hall.

Bear essentials

Ida Smith shows five of the bears she has produced for area Christmas craft and doll shows. Smith's bears range from 10-inch bears to child-sized custom-made teddies. Among her more recent creations have been bears that match the decor, and the grandfather bear, front, who comes complete with a knitted hat and vest and his own spectacles.

Hospital auxiliary to cover 100 years of bridal fashions

WINCHESTER — The Winchester District Memorial Hospital auxiliary is finalizing plans for its contribution to the village centennial celebration. The event, billed as "Brides of the Century" will be held at 8pm Aug. 2, 1988, in the Winchester Community Centre.

Plans were discussed at the auxiliary's November meeting, held Thurs., Nov. 12 at 2pm in the conference room at the hospital. Twenty-five members were present, representing seven units.

Senior in-service volunteers have worked 366.5 hours and have accumulated 51 hours of meetings. Teen volunteers have worked 57 hours.

The First East Christmas party will be held on Dec. 15 under the direction of Evelyn Cowan.

Auxiliary members were given a final report on the International Bazaar and Festival held Oct. 17. Looking back on a successful two years, members agreed the auxiliary should sponsor another bazaar and festival next year.

On a recommendation from the purchasing committee at the November meeting it was agreed that the auxiliary would replace a chair in the family lounge, purchase pictures for the patients' rooms and upgrade and improve the decor in the X-ray waiting room.

Reports were heard of the regional conference held Oct. 21 at the Talisman Motor Inn.

Members were asked to consider a proposal to accept responsibility for television rentals to patients in hospital. A private company was responsible for television rentals in the past, but the service will be withdrawn because the company feels it is uneconomical to continue it.

Members decided that with volunteer service on a six part-day per week basis, there would be a potential for income to the auxiliary.

The auxiliary hopes to find some volunteers to head this project. Anyone interested in this type of community service is asked to contact Gail Van Noy at 774-3025.

Village to purchase new tractor

WINCHESTER — A combination of financial feasibility and the requirements of the job will likely dictate the choice of a new tractor for the village of Winchester.

Council had hoped to reach a decision on the type of tractor to be purchased for snow removal and other municipal chores at a meeting Monday night, but members concluded that further consideration was needed.

A new piece of equipment is needed for snow removal, town foreman Bud Coulter told councillors, partly because of new brick sidewalks to be installed downtown in the spring. "It doesn't matter how well an inlaid sidewalk is made, there are bound to be ups and downs," he said, explaining that a type of plow will have to be used which will clear snow from the sidewalk without catching any loose bricks.

Council discussed the pros and cons of purchasing a 70 horsepower trackless model worth over $40,000 with accessories as opposed to a 43 horsepower tractor costing $28,000.

If the municipality ever intends in future to attach a blower to the tractor, the more powerful machine would have to be purchased said Coulter.

"We'll try to finalize our financing," concluded reeve Larry Gray.

Career planning

Life beyond high school was the subject of this year's career week. Area high school students had an opportunity to find out about various careers from people in the field. Among the options outlined to North Dundas District High School students were law, auto mechanics, hairdressing, nursing and conservation. Here, NDDHS students listen intently as Capt. Faucher, a pilot with the Canadian Armed Forces, describes the advantages and disadvantages of the military life.

OPP star attraction of career week

METCALFE — What am I going to do with my life?.

It's a question often posed by students, and last week at Osgoode Township High School, some may have found a few answers.

As part of the school's annual Career Week eight speakers from various professions visited the school to describe what they did for a living.

The most popular speaker of the week, according to OTHS guidance secretary Diana Payne, was Cornwall OPP Officer Thom Racine who drew a crowd of about 70 potential law enforcers.

Other professions represented included accounting, aircraft maintenance, law, radio broadcasting, interior design and office management.

The speakers were chosen to appear based on the results of a career survey of senior students, who were asked to list the three professions which they found to be most interesting.

Nancy Andrusex, manager of office and budget for the Ottawa-Carleton Regional Assessment Office, said she enjoyed coming out to Metcalfe to address the students.

"It's a good chance to describe what I do, and let students know the kinds of things we look for when we're hiring," she said.

OTHS Guidance Counselor Margaret Cunningham said the process is designed to promote career awareness, through interaction between students and speakers.

In terms of attendance and student response, said Cunningham, "it was one of our more successful career weeks."

Cunningham siad the program will continue for the rest of the year, with a different guest speaker scheduled for each week.

Damage to the truck amounted to $2,000 with $700 damage done to one parked vehicle and $1,000 done to the other vehicle. Merkley was charged with careless driving. A passenger, Audrey Zeron, 18, was slightly injured.

Patrick Clement, 26, of Tweed, was northbound on the township road near Morewood, on Nov. 12, when he was unable to stop at the intersection of the township road and County Road 13. Damage to Clement's 1984 GMC pickup truck amounted to $4,000. There were no charges.

A collision on Main Street, Winchester on Nov. 13 resulted in a total of $3,800 in damages. Jean Miller, 65, driving a 1977 Ford, was westbound on Main Street when she collided with the 1986 Ford of Keith Munro, 57. Munro was southbound out of a driveway. The Miller vehicle sustained $1,800 in damages, and $2,000 damage was done to the Munro vehicle. Munro was charged with failure to yield.

Mountain musings

by Shirley Mills

Nationview Public School had some landscaping done recently. The children in Grades 7 and 8 planted trees of many varieties in the yard to the south of the school. These trees — white birch, maple, ash, spruce, pine and cedar — (supplied by Mountain Township) were planted in beds. Each group of trees has been 'adopted' by a Kindergarten to Grade 6 class who will look after them from now on.

I discovered a fascinating place last weekend. It's Pat's Ceramics on VanCamp Road (just east of the Inkerman Road). This is run by Pat Reaney who gives ceramic classes during the year with the exception of the summer months — the kilns would make it too hot — but unfortunately, the classes are filled for this year.

Pat's workshop is filled with beautiful ceramics. There are vases, plates, figures, small animals and specialty items like pumpkins or Christmas trees. There is also a wide range of colors of decals to choose from. If you would like to drop in, Pat says she would be pleased to show you around. And although her classes are filled, she takes orders. If you are interested in something for Christmas, though, don't delay. Pat handles all the work herself (she even wires the electric lamps) so she is busy. You can reach Pat at 989-5313.

Saluting those who served

Morewood observed Remembrance Day on Wednesday with an 11am service to honor the area's war dead. A brisk breeze cooled the quiet crowd that gathered to remember those who had given their lives in the wars. Winchester remembered her war losses at a Sunday ceremony featuring a veterans' parade and the music of a pipe band.

CJOH's Max Keeping and Noella Leclair, Canada's first artificial heart recipient, helped the Dundas chapter of the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation raise more than $1,600 at a benefit dance Saturday night in Chesterville. Photo—Johnston

The Dundas chapter of the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation paid tribute to two of its outstanding volunteers Saturday night. Pictured with Noella Leclair, centre, the first Canadian artificial heart recipient, are Anita Weagant, left, who has retired as the chapter's in memoriam fund chairperson and Jennifer Gregoire, who with 93 excercise enthusiasts raised more than $6,500 last year in the Dance for Heart fundraising venture.

Noella Leclair gives heartwarming message to volunteers

CHESTERVILLE — A year and a half ago, Noella Leclair would have died had it not been for the life support systems attached following unsuccessful heart surgery.

On Saturday night — three weeks after returning to work — the petite, 44-year-old Orleans woman told the story of her recovery to a spellbound audience that packed the Chesterville Legion hall.

By the end of the evening, about $1,600 had been raised for the Dundas chapter of the Ontario Heart and Stoke Foundation.

In May of 1986, Leclair became the first Canadian and the 11th in the world to receive the Jarvik artificial heart. A few days after now-famous surgery performed at the University of Ottawa Heart Institute, the heart of a Montreal man killed in a car accident was transplanted.

"I think I'm very, very lucky that this generous man had the idea or the will to sign his donor card before he died so that people like me, who had a chance to live, could make use of the organs that were no use to him," the soft-spoken woman told the crowd.

She said she also owes her life to the army of volunteers who canvass on behalf of cardiac research. The success of research into heart disease, Canada's number one killer, depends greatly on donations, she said.

Max Keeping, the anchor of CJOH's nightly newscast and the evening's master of ceremonies, also praised the work of volunteers.

Gesturing to Leclair, he said, "One year and five months ago, she was dead, technically dead. Through the support you gave to heart research, today she is one of the liveliest people you will ever see."

He said research into heart disease is progressing. Only last week, the federal government approved the use of a new blood-clot-dissolving drug developed by a California firm and tested, in part, at Ottawa's Heart Institute.

But more needs to be done, he said, throwing a challenge to local volunteers.

The chapter's fundraising goal is $28,000. Last year, Dundas contributed about $26,000 for cardiac research and the work of the organization.

Across the United Counties, the goal is $136,000. Janie MacDiarmid, area-co-ordinator, said the association also hopes to expand Jump Rope for Heart, a school program combining fund-raising, fitness and health awareness.

Sixteen schools, two of them in Dundas, have already registered for this year's program. Last year, three schools in the county took part.

Chapter president Allan Sharkey was pleased with the evening's turnout and appealed for volunteers: "It might be canvassing, it might be doing some phone calling, it might be sitting on the executive, it might be helping carry out an evening like this."

The handful of people who offered their help by signing a volunteer list may have been inspired by Leclair's story.

Leclair's health problems began in April of 1986 when she experienced several days of "squeezing pains" in her chest. "I went to the hospital and they told me it was stress or indigestion, she recalled.

Tests didn't reveal she was suffering a heart attack until a few days later. She couldn't believe the news.

"This can't be, I had the same pain I've had all week,!" she remembered telling the doctor.

Two bypass surgeries to reroute blood around the blocked area of her heart were unsuccessful.

"I was dead, so doctors had no alternative but to use the famous Jarvik 770. Thank God they had it at that time," she said. A week later, the artificial heart was replaced with a donor organ.

Leclair's life has changed. She stopped smoking and exercises regularly. She's cut salt from her diet and has reduced the amount of fat she eats. But most importantly, she said, she's learned how to relax.

She's returned to work in a magazine store on William Street her husband and brother-in-law recently opened.

But what she enjoys most, she said, is sharing in the work of Dr. Wilbert Keon, who performed her life-saving operation, by trying to make the world a better place in which to live.

Nine Guides recognized for five years of service

By Lois Rosenquist

WINCHESTER — As the Guiding Movement focuses on "The Year of the Guider", we take our hats off to the moms of Iroquois who answered the emergency call and offered their leadership to keep Brownies active in their community. They are Donna Miller, Mary Lou Lewis and Pat Levere. Winchester has 37 Brownies registered and are grateful to new leaders Sharon Struthers-Trory, Joanne Chaloux and Carla Muldoon.

Nine Guiders from Morrisburg, Chesterville, and Winchester were recognized for five years of service. They are Vicki Cook, Karen Graham, Mary Slowey, Kelly Dean, Suzanne Elgar, Gail Pelletier, Jane Lee, Eunice Johnston and Robin Lane. As well Joan Ladouceur and Sharon Duvall of Iroquois and Debbie Hibbert of Williamsburg received their camp leadership certificates and pins.

District treasurer Heather Whitteker reported the number of registered members is 276. Of that number 45 are leaders. Two Pathfinder units are temporarily inactive this year. With the distance that separates us, it is credit to our district to continue to have a Ranger Unit.

Thanks to the organizing committees involved, a successful District Fun Day at Camp Kagama on Oct. 3 and a Patrol Leader Training at Chesterville on Nov. 7 gave the Guiding year a healthy start. The second part of a basic training for new leaders is scheduled for Nov. 21 with a Camp Training scheduled for early Spring.

It was an evening of challenges to guiders and girls: 1) Brownies, Guides and Pathfinders are invited to enter the Area Cookie Poster Contest - deadline early January. 2) The Commissioner's Challenge - that every Unit, every Guider and the District Council contribute to the Canadian World Friendship Fund this year. Eunice Johnston, District Commissioner challenged leaders to contribute 25 cents for each pair of shoes they owned. 3) Laura Rosenquist as part of her "back home" Cabana project challenged units to work on quilt patches and with adult help complete a quilt to give to a local charitable organization.

A note from "Cookie Lady" Heather Whitteker. The price of a box will increase to $2.25 this year and there will be an additional flavor - peanut butter! Crests for cookie sellers were made available to units to give their sellers on Cookie Day.

Special guest at the November council meeting was Laura Rosenquist. Laura 15, made a presentation on her recent trip to Mexico. As a participant in the "Ontario Adventure Trip", Laura was priviledged to spend two weeks in Mexico; one week of that spent at 'Our Cabana', one of the World Centres of Guiding. The sixteen member group consisted of two leaders. All competed for eligibility at the Provincial level.

In early April of this year the successful candidates spent two days at Guide Headquarters at 50 Merton St., Toronto, preparing for this trip. During the two week trip, the girls went sightseeing, shopping and took part in the Cabana program.

Laura met Guides from Finland, U.S.A., Brazil, Paraguay, Mexico, Trinidad and Tobago.

Laura is anxious to share her experiences with Brownies, Guides and Pathfinders in the District, Division and Area.

MacIntyre salvages tie for Hawks

WILLIAMSTOWN — Corey MacIntyre scored two powerplay goals in a nine-second span, in the final 20 seconds of the game here Saturday night as the Winchester Hawks battled the Char-Lan Rebels to a 9-9 overtime tie.

MacIntyre, a rookie with Winchester who hails from Shawville and now lives in Winchester, scored those two big goals at 20 and 11 seconds to bring the Hawks back from a 9-7 deficit. He had already scored twice and finished up with four goals on the game.

The 9-9 (overtime sawoff) improved Winchester's Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League record to four wins, four losses and a tie.

The big left winger, who wears his first cousin's (Trevor McClatchie) old number "9" now has 11 goals in nine games and a total of 17 points.

Char-Lan led the Hawks 3-2 after a period and 6-5 after two. The Hawks tied it up 6-6 when newcomer Scott Barnes scored on an unassisted rush at 19:06 of the third period but Char-Lan roared ahead 9-6 before Winchester could score again.

Steve Mullin hit at 6:15 and then MacIntyre scored at 20 and 11 seconds, on consecutive powerplays, to force overtime.

"We really put the pressure on them and they (Char-Lan) took some penalties and we scored," explained Winchester coach Bill Murphy.

He went on to say, "we actually should have beaten them but we gave up three bad, soft goals on long shots and let them in the game."

Winchester played the high-scoring Rebels on their own ice surface without the services of defencemen Dolton Henry (suspended), Scott Gibson (injured knee), Shawn Beckstead (injured shoulder) and captain Mark Smith (away on business).

The Hawks did have some new faces in the lineup and coach Murphy says all four Cornwall "AA" minor hockey products have brought extra poise, puck sense and play-making ability to his lineup.

"These guys were all drafted by Central Junior "A" teams but didn't choose to play there. They will help our club and should really set the pace on offence," he explained.

NEW FACES

Defenceman Steve Mullin played his second game for Winchester Hawks and the Long Sault native scored once and set up two goals.

Forward Mario Halle filled in on defence and the shifty forward controlled the play, particularly in the final minute, and set up two goals.

Scott Barnes from the now defunct Cornwall juvenile Royals scored twice and centred Winchester's hottest line of Corey MacIntyre (four goals) and Kirk Barkley (one goal, three assists).

Defenceman Denis Verville didn't hit the scoreboard but did hit several Rebel forwards with crushing body checks and helped keep the goal crease free of traffic.

"These are good hockey players. I know them from my contact with minor hockey in Cornwall. They are from good families and should really strengthen this team," commented coach Murphy.

The coach said, "All of the kids played really well. The new guys certainly played a part but Jeff Holmes, Dan Dubois played well. Gord Shields and Don Larocque skated their buns off all night. Young Rob Whitteker had another goal, generally everyone played a part for us."

But Murphy elaborated on one sparkling highlight which really made an impression on him.

"Brad Holmes worked late, finished his job and drove all the way down to Char-Lan just to play part of the game. He doesn't get a lot of recognition but Brad showed a lot of dedication and I love that kind of spirit."

SCORING PARADE

Corey MacIntyre led Winchester attacks, scoring four goals. Veteran forward Kirk Barkley added to his team-leading totals with a goal (12th) and three assists (18 points). Their linemate Scott Barnes pumped in two goals.

Steve Mullin (one goal, two assists) and Rob Whitteker (one goal, one assist) also dented twine.

Mario Halle (2), Don Marcellus, Barry Kennedy and Dan Dubois earned assists.

Barry Kennedy stopped 31 shots, four in overtime for the tie.

Rebels' Mike Jodoin had a big night for Char-Lan scoring five goals. He scored three times in the first period and twice in the second frame. Kevin Chafee, Daryl Menard and Darin Menard all had a goal and one helper. Roddie MacKenzie recorded a goal and three assists and Chris Villeneuve set up four Rebel goals.

Kevin Buchan blocked 35 Hawks' shots, 17 in the second period and three in overtime.

Rebels took 22 penalties (minors) and surrendered four powerplay goals to Winchester - three in the final 6:15 of play.

Morrisburg snatches football title

MORRISBURG — Steve Sypes' touchdown reception and a subsequent convert catch by Chris Hanes provided Morrisburg's Green Team with a 7-6 victory over Nationview Reds here last Thursday and the 1987 Dundas County Senior Public School flag football championship.

The one point victory improved Morrisburg's overall record to three wins and a tie and handed them the championship trophy.

Maple Ridge's purple and gold squad finished second best with three wins and a loss on their record.

Nationview's 7-6 loss left them with an overall record of two wins and two losses.

Iroquois' St. Cecilia Saints were fourth with a win, two losses and a tie.

The Iroquois Public School Indians finished up winless in four tries.

HANES' CONVERT WINS IT

The final game of the round robin schedule here Thursday afternoon was a scoreless, defensive struggle between Morrisburg and Nationview until midway in the second half.

MPS quarterback Sean Hummell set up the first scoring play where he ran the ball into position for a fourth down touchdown toss to Steve Sypes. The T.O. pass covered a short three yard span and Sypes' reception gave Morrisburg a 6-0 lead. Hummell then tossed a five yarder to Chris Hanes in the left side of the end zone to put Morrisburg up 7-0.

Nationview made several sorties into the Morrisburg zone on carries by quarter back Kevin Williams and runs by Jeff Hyndman, who also picked-off a Hummell pass in the end zone to keep the Morrisburg lead to seven points. With time down to two minutes Nationview engineered another drive. But two diving tackles by Steve Sypes along the south touchline stalled the Reds' march, temporarily.

Quarterback Kevin Williams finally cracked over from five yards out, on a fifth down run, to put Nationview to within a point (7-6). His subsequent conversion attempt failed as his pass was dropped on the goal line. That miss left Morrisburg on top with a 7-6 lead and just 20 seconds to kill.

Time evaporated and left Morrisburg with a 7-6 win, a three (win) and one (tie) record and the 1987 championship.

MAPLE RIDGE WINS

Maple Ridge finished their four game slate with a 13-7 win over Nationview to put themselves in second place with three victories and a loss.

Mike Singh put the Ridge on the board with a TD reception in the first half. Jason Ouellette then pulled in the convert pass to make it 7-0.

Nationview tied it up just before the half ended when QB Kevin Williams rambled for a long touchdown. He then scampered into the end zone to convert the play and tie it up 7-7.

Maple Ridge attempted to take a lead early in the second half only to be stopped by Jeff Hyndman's end zone interception.

Dan Adams finally hit Jason Ouellette with a five yard toss to put Maple Ridge up 13-7. The convert was unsuccessful and the score remained 13-7.

Nationview drove back down field with time running out but were stopped cold on a fifth down, goal line stand by Maple Ridge as the Purple and Gold held on for a 13-7 victory.

RECORDS

Morrisburg outscored the opposition 60-18 in their four games. The 1987 champs did away with Maple Ridge by a 14-0 score, blanked Iroquois 27-0, tied St. Cecilia 12-12 and nipped Nationview 7-6.

Maple Ridge dropped that 14-0 decision to Morrisburg but knocked off St. Cecilia Saints and Iroquois Indians with identical 13-12 scores before beating Nationview 13-7.

Nationview defeated St. Cecilia 7-6 and Iroquois 8-6 but lost 13-7 to Maple Ridge and 7-6 to Morrisburg.

St. Cecilia Saints defeated Iroquois 12-7 and tied Morrisburg 12-12. They lost a pair of one point decisions, 7-6 to Nationview and 13-12 to Maple Ridge and finished with a win, two losses and a tie.

Mike Singh and another North Dundas Demon applied pressure and forced a stoppage of play during Monday night's UCMHL Pee Wee "A" contest.

Panthers, Vikings chalk up lopsided broomball victories

WINCHESTER — Number one ranked Dunbar Panthers and the number two Morewood Vikings continued to improve their already impressive Winchester and District Broomball League records here Sunday.

Dunbar mauled the Winchester Raiders 9-0 to stretch their unbeaten string to eight games.

Morewood went to seven (wins) and one (loss), beating up the Newington Knights 8-1.

Prescott Road Knights advanced a step closer to moving out of the "B" Pool with a 6-2 win over the Toyes Hill Roadrunners.

The Ormond Cloverdales nipped Russell's Magnum Force 1-0 but that game is under protest. Doug Sloan scored the game's lone goal from Bill Robinson and Dan McDiarmid at 3:22 of the first half. Ben Melenhorst posted the shutout.

Laurie Blanchard was top gun for Dunbar shooting in four goals and setting up a fifth in the Panthers' 9-0 win over the Winchester Raiders. It was Terry Colligan's seventh shutout and he has given up just one goal in eight games.

Pierre LaFrance scored twice and drew one assist while Frank Heerkens and Mike Hoogeveen had one-goal, two-assist nights. Gary Gallinger picked up a goal and one assist while Craig Cullen (2), John Templeton, Larry Gallinger and Terry Colligan all earned assists.

Dunbar led 3-0 at the half and 9-0 at the buzzer.

VIKINGS WIN SEVENTH

Morewood scored six times in the first half en route to their 8-1 win over the winless Newington Knights. Noel LaLonde popped in a pair of those first period markers while Gerald Eby notched the first of his two goals.

Dave Dingwall scored Newington's second goal of the season from Kevin Middleton and Lenny Bass at 8:55 of the opening stanza to break up Doug Carruthers' shutout bid.

LaLonde and Eby led the Vikings with two goal efforts. Chris McKibbon had a goal and two assists. Ross Harten, Brian Como and John Stewart each cracked in single goals. Jeff Vanderveen (3), Jack Hoogeveen and Larry St. Pierre picked up the assists.

6-2, ROAD

Prescott Road Knights received two goal efforts from Steve Petersen, who scored twice in the first period to put his club up 2-0 at half time and two from Bill Veley in their 6-2 win over the Toyes Hill Roadrunners.

Glen Petersen and Dave Holmes each had a goal and two assists for the winners. Rob Carkner drew three and Pete Schoones picked up two assists.

The score was tied 2-2 at the half. Marcel Vriend scored from Bill Steele at 21:36 to tie it up 1-1 and then Ted Bongers scored on a Perry Dewan play at 2:30 to make it a 2-2 contest after a period.

Bill Veley's two goals broke up the tie and put Prescott Road in the driver's seat. Jeff Hope posted the win in the Knights' net.

Ouellette nets hat for Demons

WINCHESTER — Jason Ouellette scored three times here Monday night leading the North Dundas Pee Wee "A" (Ault Foods) Demons to a 7-0 victory over the Kemptville Royals.

The win improved North Dundas' Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to two wins, two losses and a tie.

The Demons out shot Kemptville 20-9 in the game and got perfect goaltending from Denis Desormeaux and Tim Scott, who shared the shut-out.

North Dundas led the game 2-0 after the first period and 3-0 after two frames.

Jason Ouellette topped the scoring parade with three goals. Mike Singh snapped in two while Peter Decooman and Jeff Hyndman each scored once. Cory VanDelst, Troy McNaughton, Colin Cotnam and Aaron Sherrer each picked-up two assists. Matt Gordon and Kevin Williams earned one each.

Sunday (Nov. 15) in Smiths Falls the Bears trimmed the Demons 5-1. Colin Cotnam scored the lone goal from Aaron Sherrer and Peter Decooman at 8:55 of the final period. Bears led 2-0 after a period and 4-0 after two.

Last Wednesday in Kemptville North Dundas posted a 4-2 win over the Royals. They led 1-0 after a period and 3-2 after two.

Troy McNaughton, Peter Decooman, Jason Ouellette and Mike Singh scored for the winners. Corey VanDelst, Colin Cotnam and Marc Dion picked-up assists.

On Nov. 9 in Winchester the Brockville Warriors downed North Dundas 5-1. Matt Gordon scored for North Dundas from Trevor Barkley at 28 seconds of the first period.

The Demons battled the same Warriors to a 2-2 in Brockville in their opening league game on Nov. 5.

Brockville tied the game up scoring with 38 seconds left to play in the third period.

North Dundas netted both of their goals in the second period. Jeff Hyndman scored unassisted at 1:36 and Matt Gordon made it 2-1 hitting on a pass from Trevor Barkley and Hyndman at 20 seconds.

Demons tie

CHESTERVILLE — Ryan Filion scored two of North Dundas' three goals helping the Senior Novice Demons to a 3-3 tie with Morrisburg here on Nov. 10.

Stephen Henderson put North Dundas on the board scoring from Lance Bowman at 6:23 of the first period.

Ryan Filion scored unassisted at 10:11 of period two to make it 2-0 and then hit from Warren Holmes at 7:05 to increase the lead to 3-0.

Morrisburg roared back with three third period goals to tie it up. Chris VanBelen scored all three Lions' markers including the last two with 54 and 43 seconds left on the clock.

Bruins edge Hawks 3-2, Leafs tie with Canadiens

METCALFE — Mike Roqueburne's goal with 9:07 to play in the game broke up a 2-2 contest and lifted the Wichers Construction Bruins to a 3-2 Metcalfe Town Hockey League victory over the Cold Springs Country Inn Hawks here Sunday.

The other contest ended in a 3-3 tie as Dave Vanderydt netted the deciding goal for the Dan Morris Equipment Leafs in their draw with the Bradley Computax Canadiens.

MTHL standings show just a two point spread after nine games. The Canadiens and Leafs are tied with 10 points, two up on both the Hawks and Bruins who have eight apiece.

The Hawks took a 2-1 first period lead on the Bruins. Pete Nooyen set up Dan Rausch's opening goal at 10:46. Fred Young's unassisted goal at 9:44 put the Bruins even at a goal but Pete Nooyen clicked on a play started by Rausch and Dan Morris at 7:37 to give the Hawks a 2-1 lead.

Ron Flanagan tied it up 2-2 scoring unassisted at 6:55 of period two.

Mike Roqueburne then finished off a play started by Mike Stanley and Bob Dewan to win it 3-2 for the Bruins. Bill Jamieson posted the win working the Bruins' nets.

LEAFS TIE IT

THE RENT REVIEW GUIDELINE FOR 1988 IS 4.7 PER CENT

The rent review guideline for next year has been calculated at 4.7 per cent. This is the amount by which a landlord can increase the maximum rent for a unit during 1988 without approval from the Ministry of Housing. The rent for a unit can be increased only once in a 12-month period.

The 4.7 per cent guideline applies to all private rental units in the province for rent increases that take effect from January 1, 1988 to December 31, 1988.

The 1987 guideline of 5.2 per cent continues to apply to rent increases which take effect on or before December 31, 1987.

It is illegal for a landlord to increase the maximum rent above the guideline without applying to the Ministry of Housing for rent review to justify the increase. In cases where a landlord does apply for an increase above the guideline, tenants can examine the application and make their own submissions before a decision is reached.

For more information about the 1988 guideline, please contact your local rent review office listed in the Government of Ontario blue pages of your phone book under the Ministry of Housing. If long distance, ask the operator for Zenith 96000.

SANTA PARADE TAKING SHAPE

My how time flies. Yes, it is only a couple of weeks away from our Santa Claus parade date. Once again the jolly old boy will make his visit on the first Saturday in December or to be more specific Dec. 5. Parade organizers have already lined up a good turnout of floats and are always willing to accept a few more entries. If you have not yet contacted parade organizers and are planning an entry please phone Al Fishburn at the Bank of Montreal, 774-2527, or Phil Snyder at the Royal Bank, 774-2290. It is essential they know your plans so you can be placed and listed in their agenda. The parade will once again form on Louise Street behind the Ontario Hydro office and will start winding through the village at noon. Old Santa will again be welcoming the younger set at the Royal Bank and local Legion members will be on the street with their annual candy handout. Winchester has long been noted for the quality of their floats and entries will have to come up with some dandies to top last year's presentation. However organizers have assured me that there are quite a few new entries and they expect an even bigger and better show this year. Make your plans now and mark Dec. 5 on your calendar. It is a great deal of work for those involved and they do a first rate job so don't miss it. We will have further information as the day gets closer.

HAWKS TIE CHAR-LAN IN SINGLE WEEKEND GAME

The Winchester Hawks played only once last weekend and that was Saturday in Williamstown against the Rebels. It was an uphill battle all the way and twice the team had to overcome three goal deficits, but they stayed in there and with two goals in the last 20 seconds and a well played overtime, the guys came away with a 9-9 tie. Hawks sported some new players and although it was their first outing with the team the coach was happy and looks forward to some good production from the newcomers. You will be able to see them in action this Friday night when Spencerville-Cardinal will be the opposition for the Hawks' home game and a win would be appreciated. On Sunday the Hawks travel to Athens for their second encounter of the weekend. Next week we have two home games with the Metcalfe Jets here on Friday night and then the Morrisburg Lions on Saturday. Have a good weekend guys, four points would put you up there.

FIREMEN'S FUNDRAISER HERE THIS FRIDAY

If you are a dance fan as well as a hockey fan you can combine them this Friday as the local firefighters will hold a dance with Shad's Disco providing the music. Twice a year the boys take over the upstairs hall in hopes of raising a few bucks for their many needs. The local fire department do a good job for us, so turn out and give them a hand while having a good night's fun.

Big wins for Raiders, Blazers open gap

WINCHESTER — A 9-3 win by the Tri-County Raiders over the Country Kitchen Canadiens and a 5-2 CountryBoy Blazer win over the Aqua Fun Flyers in last Tuesday night's Winchester Town Hockey League schedule have opened up a comfortable margin atop the standings.

Tri-County holds down top spot with nine points while CountryBoy maintains second with eight points. Aqua Fun is third with five and Country Kitchen fourth with two points.

Dick Christie scored twice leading CountryBoy to their 5-2 decision over Aqua Fun in last Tuesday's opening game.

Pete Marriner's unassisted goal at 17:10 of the first period put the Blazers up 1-0. Christie then scored from Phil Lyall and Gary Lapier at the 12:55 mark to make it a 2-0 contest.

CountryBoy's 2-0 lead stood through a scoreless second period and until 15:27 of the third frame when Doug Duncan scored on a Pete Marriner set-up.

Christie's second goal of the game came on another Phil Lyall - Gary Lapier engineered play at 12:57 and opened up a 4-0 lead.

Marty Little upped the Blazers' lead to 5-0 when he scored on a Gary Lapier feed at 10:55.

Aqua Fun finally hit the scoreboard in the dying minutes of action. Doug Last scored at 2:02 and again at 1:18 to ruin Kevin Baldwin's bid for the shut-out.

ROLE CHANGE

Goalies Steve "Bear" Johnston of Country Kitchen and Dan Hogaboam of the Tri-County Raiders took on different roles in the evening's second contest.

Both discarded their goalie equipment and joined the forward units of their teams. Johnston was replaced by Larry "Gump" Plummer and Hogaboam was relieved by Tom "Rogie" Kirkwood.

Hogaboam supported his team's 9-3 win by scoring a first period goal. Johnston drilled one shot off a goal post but picked-up an assist in the third period.

The game was tied 2-2 after a period but the Raiders stormed into a 5-2 lead in the second and coasted to the 9-3 win.

Mike Woods scored twice for the Raiders. Bryan Helmer and Dan Lecours each scored once and assisted on three goals. Gerry Belanger, Dave Coleman and Al McLean all had a goal and one assist. Barry Redmond and Dan Hogaboam had a goal each.

Metcalfe then exploded for three goals in a 47-second span to jump into a 6-3 lead with 10 minutes left to play. The teams traded goals as the game wound up 7-4 in Metcalfe's favor.

Old Pride hustles Harvex

WINCHESTER — Osgoode Old Pride rallied from a 4-1 deficit here Sunday morning to tie the Harvex Huslers 4-4 in an exhibition hockey match.

Ruggles Pritchard accounted for the fourth and tying Pride goal.

Harvex took a 1-0 lead on a Phil Lyall goal and went up 2-0 when Al Van Bridger scored from Jim Shaw. Pride cut it to 2-1 before the Huslers netted two more goals.

Bob Peddle made it 3-1 scoring on a hard shot from the slot and then Brian Halpenny upped it to 4-1 finishing off a nice three way play involving Phil Lyall and Bob Peddle.

Harvex will join a number of area oldtimer hockey teams this weekend in the annual Williamsburg Oldtimer Hockey Tournament in Morrisburg.

Happy Birthday

Demons demolish No. 2

WINCHESTER — Sam Ault scored four times and set up a pair of goals helping his North Dundas Number One Demon Novice B team to an 11-0 win over the North Dundas No. Two squad here last week.

The big shut-out victory followed a hard fought 4-1 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League decision for the Demons over the Metcalfe and District Mustangs on Nov. 7.

Daryl Beck and Robbie Armstrong shared the shutout for the Wayne Laprade Photo sponsored Demons in their 11-0 win.

Sam Ault got the game off to a quick start scoring twice in a 20-second span hitting at 2:10 and again at 2:30. Ault then set up Tyler Copeland for his goal with a minute left in the period, to make it 3-0 after one.

Ault then scored goal number three, three minutes into the second period as the Demons went up 6-0 after two frames. Aults' fourth goal hit the twine 15 seconds after the start of period three and launched a five-goal outburst.

Tyler Copeland was the number two Demon shooter with a three-goal, two-assist effort.

Craig Holmes fired in three goals. Andrew Bradley picked up a goal and one assist.

Jennifer McDonald (2) and Brock McBain earned assists.

WIN IN METCALFE

The Wayne Laprade Photo Demons skated to a 4-1 victory over the Mustangs on Nov. 7.

Trevor Walker scored from Tyler Copeland at 8:18 to put North Dundas on the scoreboard. Sean Williams then hit from Jennifer McDonald with 1:41 left in the frame to make it a 2-1 contest. Metcalfe had tied it up at a goal when Mike Rivers scored on a C. Robinson relay at 5:12.

Sam Ault's unassisted goal at 12:42 of the second frame made it 3-1, in favor of the Demons.

Michael Casselman salted the win away when he fired a Tyler Copeland pass home at 8:07 of the final period.

Daryl Beck and Robbie Armstrong shared the Demons' goaltending duties.

Metcalfe Belles ring up victory

BLACKBURN HAMLET — Kelly Stanley, after playing much of last Tuesday's game on defence, took up a forward position late in the game and promptly scored the winning goal in Metcalfe's exciting 7-6 Belle division ringette victory over Rockcliffe.

Rockcliffe led the Metcalfe girls 3-2 after a period of action and were up 5-2 12 minutes into the second frame. But Tricia Grimes came up with two goals and Debbie Winch a single as Metcalfe rallied to tie the game up 5-5.

Rockcliffe went ahead 6-5 at 8:11 but Tricia Grimes scored again to tie it up 6-6 at 6:30.

Kelly Stanley then came through with the winning goal with 1:50 left to play in the game.

Debbie Winch and Tricia Grimes each hit for three goals to keep Metcalfe in the game. Kelly Stanley then popped in the winner to complete the scoring. Michelle Armstrong, Nicki Smith, Donna Meloy and Debbie Winch all collected two assists. Kim Buckland and Tricia Grimes helped out on a goal each and Megan McCooeye posted the win working the Metcalfe nets.

J.J. Clarke asked to open UCW bazaar

HALLVILLE — A local student shared memories of a recent trip to Japan with members of the Hallville United Church Women at their November meeting, Thurs., Nov. 5.

Pamela Giles gave a slide presentation and talk on her week in Japan to the 23 members and three visitors who attended the meeting held at the home of Marie Zwartz.

Members answered roll call on the subject of "something worth remembering."

The UCW's annual bazaar will be held Sat., Nov. 21 beginning at 11am. J.J. Clarke of CJOH will open the bazaar.

The next meeting will be a Christmas potluck dinner and program at the church Dec. 10.

The UCW was asked to cater to Lloyd and Hilda Hyndman's 50th wedding anniversary on Sun., Nov. 15 from 2pm to 4pm.

At the annual White Gift service, members will bring gifts suitable for the Naomi Family Resource Centre and Seaway Valley School.

Shirley Scott agreed to lay the wreath for Hallville UCW at the Remembrance Day service at Nationview Public School, Nov. 11 at 2:15pm.

The committee in charge of the meeting presented a Remembrance program. Elaine Van Bridger opened the service with a poem, "He Stands Alone — Remembering." Mildred Hyndman read the scripture, and Margaret Hyndman introduced the talk about different ways people remember the war dead and those who fought and returned. Three different ways were expressed by Jean Milne, Marilyn Williams and Louise Shaw.

A moment of silence and the poem "In Flanders Fields" concluded the service.

Mountain seniors plan two outings

MOUNTAIN — The October meeting of the Mountain Township seniors' group was postponed to Nov. 4 following the death of a respected member, Matt Hastings. The Oct. 28 meeting was postponed due to the funeral of Mr. Hastings, who died Oct. 26.

The meeting began with the singing of O Canada followed by the Lord's Prayer. Reports were given by the treasurer and the kitchen and craft committees.

Two trips are planned for November. On Nov. 24, a bus will leave South Mountain at 8:30am for the Bayshore Shopping Centre. The bus leaves Mountain at 8:45am and Hallville at 9am. A bus will also be going to Brockville on Nov. 28 to see the musical comedy Mame.

Margaret Hyndman paid tribute to the late Matt Hastings, and said he will be missed in the seniors' group. She recited "Crossing the Bar" and asked for a moment's silence in remembrance of Mr. Hastings.

A request was made for anyone interested to bring an item of food to the November meeting, to be forwarded to the Emergency Food and Clothing Centre at 507 Bank Street, Ottawa.

Bowling continues at 1pm each Monday in South Mountain.

There will be euchre parties in the Mountain Township Hall on Nov. 16 and Nov. 30 at 8pm.

Birthdays and anniversaries were acknowledged at the Nov. 4 meeting.

Entertainment consisted of readings by Doris Scharfe and Hilda Kirkby. Doreen Gillespie showed slides on My Favourite Things which was enjoyed by all.

The Hallville group will be in charge of the Mountain Township Seniors' Nov. 25 meeting.

WINCHESTER PRESS

Editorial

Time to say goodbye

This week I write my final editorial as news editor of the Winchester Press. After more than four years at the Press it's time to move on, and I will be starting a new job next week in Smiths Falls.

I'd like to think I have learned a great deal since the sweltering day in June of 1983 when I arrived a little bewildered in a town I'd never heard of and was interviewed for a summer job. The summer job stretched into a more permanent commitment that spanned the next four years. In the process I acquired a wife, and graduated from reporter to editor. I broadened my own knowledge by learning in intimate detail about a wide variety of topics I'd never thought much about before. I discovered as well that in small towns many of the "wildest" rumors have a funny way of turning out to be true. I've been lucky enough to meet many people who have shown me that small communities can achieve great things.

I have come to appreciate the special role played in the small town by the volunteer, who willingly gives of his or her own time to ensure that things get done without depending on the cumbersome machinery of government.

Most of all, I have had the opportunity to work with a staff who are truly a part of the community they serve and who sincerely care about the quality of the newspaper they produce. This commitment ensures that a newspaper can continue to maintain high standards despite the departure of any member of its staff.

The role of a reporter or editor is one that can benefit from an injection of new ideas, just as the individual journalist can draw fresh inspiration from a change of scene. The time comes when the writer has to explore new horizons or risk his work becoming stale.

The great majority of my memories of living and working in Winchester have been good ones. (Partly, perhaps, because all the "letters to the editor" I've saved have been thank-you letters.)

It's my turn now to say thank you and goodbye to Winchester and to wish continued success to the management and staff of the Winchester Press.

"A sanctuary"

by Gordon C. Smyth

In an early hour of human history, when the idea of a system of law and order started to take shape, justice was usually administered by the family.

The arrangement, rude and crude as it was, worked out well enough under normal conditions. But sometimes complexities crept in and difficulties arose. In a case of accidental killing, for instance, the family avenger might carry out hasty vengeance, injustice being done, with hate perhaps pouring its stream of poison down the generations.

To meet such anomalies, cities of refuge were set up throughout the homeland of the Hebrew people. Thither might the accidental killer flee and find sanctuary until the nature of his deed could be properly examined and an unprejudiced pronouncement made. If the accused was found guiltless of committing a deliberate murder, he was permitted to lead a normal, useful life within the city of refuge. It was for him a place of safety and security.

This information should help us with out text: "As for me, my feet had almost stumbled, my steps had well nigh slipped. When I thought how to understand this, it seemed to me a wearisome task, until I went into the sanctuary of God." (Psalm 73: 2,16,17).

Between that ancient situation and our own moral and spiritual condition a very real parallel appears. Far too many folk are threatened by difficult and dangerous situations that they feel they cannot face up to WITH faith, or front WITHOUT fear, any longer.

There is, for example, that torn and twisted relationship. Or, there is the mishandled heritage. Maybe we have foolishly turned some snarling temptation into what we thought was friend, and now find ourselves fleeing for dear life from a fiendishly evil foe. Then there are worries and annoyances nosing us out and gnawing at us in the night as well as doggin us by day.

We crave a corner into which to crawl, a shelter in which we will be secure. Can such a sanctuary be found? There is, fortunately, something reassuring in the Psalmist's testimony. It informs us of a person who found in the sanctuary of God the sanctuary of his own soul.

There we locate what we do well to reverence within ourselves. What could or should this be? Of course we know the difference between what is right and wrong. We know which of the two is better, between good and evil. Let us learn, then, before it is too late, to respect our knowledge of the difference. That is our sanctuary.

However, reverence for the One above us secures for an individual's soul the safest and surest of all sanctuaries, and an increasing source of spiritual good health as well as strength. What happens when everything else goes? Does God go? No, God remains.

"Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit" (Luke 23:46)! In that prayer from the Tree, we have the incontrovertible proof that God the Father was the ultimate sanctuary of Jesus, the Son of God himself, upon this earth.

When we grasp that we are in the hands of God — we, our loved ones, and this wounded world — we have a sanctuary worth sharing with all humankind. Our grip on God may slip, but God's grip on us can never slip. This secret is our sanctuary.

Cancer could wipe out civilization in two years if it attacked the younger generation, cancer specialist Dr. Gilbert Fitzpatrick told doctors at a joint meeting of three American universities. Dr. Fitzpatrick said newspapers could be used in the war against cancer, describing the American press as "the great American University." He said annual check-ups are one of the best methods of determining pre-cancerous conditions.

The Press received letters from citizens of Saskatchewan thanking Ontario residents for the gifts of fruit, vegetables and canned goods sent to drought-stricken areas of the west. "From news dispatches it is possible for us to gain some perception of the wretched conditions under which thousands of good Canadians are struggling in these sun-baked areas. It is brought more forcibly to us however, when we read some of the letters received," said an editorial. A Saskatchewan woman was charged with the task of distributing the donated food. "I know personally of two families to whom the gift was literally a godsend," she wrote. "there are seven to nine children in each family, and fresh vegetables, where there has been none for a year, constitutes a feast."

Winchester was going to get its long overdue water system. Estimated cost of the system was $250,000. It was to serve all potential users and all streets in the village. The final reading of the water bylaw was a final breakthrough from miles of red tape in both Winchester and Toronto. Winchester has discussed a water system for the village from as far back as the 1930's. The final passing of the bylaw, said the Press, would "go down on record as one of the most historic occasions in Winchester's lifetime."

A barn blaze was seen for miles as the Brinston barn of Werte Reitzama went up in smoke. The fire was believed to have been caused by faulty wiring. The Spencerville fire department, which arrived 20 minutes after the alarm was called, could not save the barn, but did manage to save the house. Reitzama was able to save all his dairy cows, calves, pigs and hens.

1977

The owner of Seaway Valley Ambulance services blasted the Ontario government's administration of ambulance services across the province. Robert Horton accused the government of creating a "disaster" in administering services. He said the administrative policy was completely lacking in direction and a Royal Commission or public hearing was needed to establish adequate guidelines. He said ambulance operators were intimidated by the government's authority to arbitrarily demand changes and institute budget reductions.

Letters

The Editor

I feel murderers should be declared a danger to society and should therefore be locked up away from society forever, without day passes or possibility of parole for the rest of their life.

When the death penalty was in effect and was imposed on a convicted murderer it not only set an example to other would-be murderers but it removed such a person from our society forever and gave the public some sense of security.

Since the death penalty has been abolished the murderer has nothing to lose. They can rape, rob, torture and murder; the only penalty that can be imposed on them is a 'life sentence' - 25 years - with day passes and time off for good behavior. Then they are out in society to do it all over again.

According to the news on a local radio station 130 such murders have occurred since 1975. That is far too many to be classified as an isolated case. It's time some positive action was taken to change the penal system.

Where is our protection from these murderers?

These murderers have shown no remorse; but certainly proven by their actions that they have no intention of changing their way of life. They will not hesitate to murder and rob to take what they want from society.

It is time the penal system was changed to deal more harshly with these criminals and put them away forever.

When a person commits murder they automatically give up their civil rights. They don't consider the civil rights of the person(s) they murder.

At the moment our judicial system does not protect us from these known criminals. I demand a change to keep these convicted murderers off our streets and out of our society.

This letter has been circulated as an appeal to the public for their support and has been sent to the following: Hon. Ray Hnatyshyn, The Minister of Justice, Prime Minister Mulroney, MP Gordon Taylor, Chairman of the Justice Committee David Daubney and Joe Clark MP, The Honourable James Kelleher, Solicitor General, House of Commons, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0A6.

If you agree with the views in this letter and would like to support this cause please write or call any or all of the above mentioned (or your respective MP or MLA).

Yours truly
Elsie V. Mackey

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

The bold headline on page B3 (Ottawa Citizen, Tues. Nov. 10, 1987) reported emphatically: "New environmental rules block non-profit housing projects". Suppose, since this column so bitterly opposed the move when it was first announced, one might be tempted to 'gloat' just a little. Most will vividly recall that we, like most ratepayers in Osgoode Township, definitely did not oppose construction of low-rental apartments. We did, vehemently, oppose the locations designated by Non-Profit Housing Corporation officials. It was all too obvious at the time that additional apartments, in close proximity to senior citizen apartment blocks at both Metcalfe and Osgoode, would play havoc with already overloaded septic systems as well as upset the environmental tranquility enjoyed by the seniors. However, rather than take an "I told you so" attitude we prefer to salute housing authority officials, council members and the Ontario Municipal Board for showing humility and wisdom in recognizing an error in judgement and acting accordingly. Those who so strenuously fought the proposal and eventually won owe much of their success to the expertise and determination of the youthful Metcalfe lawyer, David Heeley, who so meticulously studied all aspects of municipal, regional and provincial planning, zoning and environmental requirements and skillfully presented his findings to an Ontario Municipal Board hearing. Those who might be a trifle harsh in judging council's persistence at the time might be well advised to study the other side of the balance sheet showing where those same elected officials have successfully placed Osgoode Township in an enviable position. Consider, if you will, two deluxe seniors apartment buildings; a Care Centre; second to none fire protection; recreational facilities; modern libraries; and attractive park areas. A good time, we think, to write '30' to what was once a scary controversy, always keeping in mind that only those who have never erred are qualified to throw more stones.

Having recently enjoyed an opportunity to visit one of those ultra-sanitary hospital units where tiny premature babies receive kind and gentle care with highly skilled doctors and nurses always nearby, we can empathize with B. Gass of Richmond, Ont. "I can't understand," he writes in a letter to Ottawa Citizen editor, "why in one wing of the Civic Hospital premature babies, weighing little more than a pound, receive such excellent care while, in another section of the same hospital, authorities allow the killing of other premature babies exactly the same size and weight." As a father, grandfather and great-grandfather we too cringe at what we consider the wonton disregard for human life. It's a sad reflection on human integrity when politicians, once elected, never seem to have the intestinal fortitude (guts, if you like) to take a firm stand on this matter of 'life and death'. Pity!

Ever notice how difficult it can be to secure what the law considers a 'clear title' for any given piece of property? The thought always reminds us of a tale we once clipped from a magazine. Think the name of the publication was 'Forest Scene' - and this is what we call researching. A pulpwood company, making a routine investigation of the title to a proposed property acquisition in Mississippi, received the required proof back to 1803. A legal advisor, still not satisfied, demanded evidence prior to that date. He got it from a budding Mississippi lawyer: "Gentlemen: Please be advised the government of the United States acquired the territory, including the tract to which your inquiry applies, by purchase from the government of France in 1803. The government of France acquired title by conquest from the government of Spain; the government of Spain acquired title by discovery by one Christopher Columbus, a resident of Genoa, Italy, traveller and explorer, who by agreement concerning the acquisition of title to any land discovered, travelled and explored under the sponsorship and patronage of Her Majesty, the queen of Spain. And the queen of Spain had verified her agreement and received sanction of her title by the consent of the pope, a resident of Rome, and ex-officio representative and vice-regent of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ was the Son and heir apparent of the Almighty God from whom he received his authority and the Almighty God made Mississippi." Now that's a clear title if we ever saw one.

You must be about our age if you remember when a babysitter was called mother.

And it says here a man who is not dominated by a woman is not a bachelor. He's a liar!

Farm update

Economist defends free trade

by Joanne Laucius
Press Staff Reporter

WINCHESTER — Even if free trade is rejected, the status quo is no longer an alternative for Canadian farmers, economist Larry Martin told about 100 Eastern Ontario farmers on Nov. 11.

"If we walk away, we will see the greatest round of protectionism in the history of North America," said Martin, the head of the agricultural economics department at the University of Guelph. "The gun is to our heads," he told the farmers.

Canadians can either accept the deal and cash in their bargaining chips while they can, or be dragged into the deal kicking and screaming, he said.

Martin said the deal may have one important side effect. It may serve as a good example to break down trade barriers between other trading nations, he said. "If the world's largest trading partners can make an agreement and show that it works, it may be an example to the rest of the world."

Martin reassured farmers that a free trade agreement would have no major long-term effects on Canada's agricultural industry. "Free trade, when done properly, is good," he said, pointing out that when trade barriers are lifted, there are gains in standard of living around the world.

Free trade, he said, is an inevitability. "The world is going to come to free trade eventually," he added, and said that Canada should gain control as early in the game as possible.

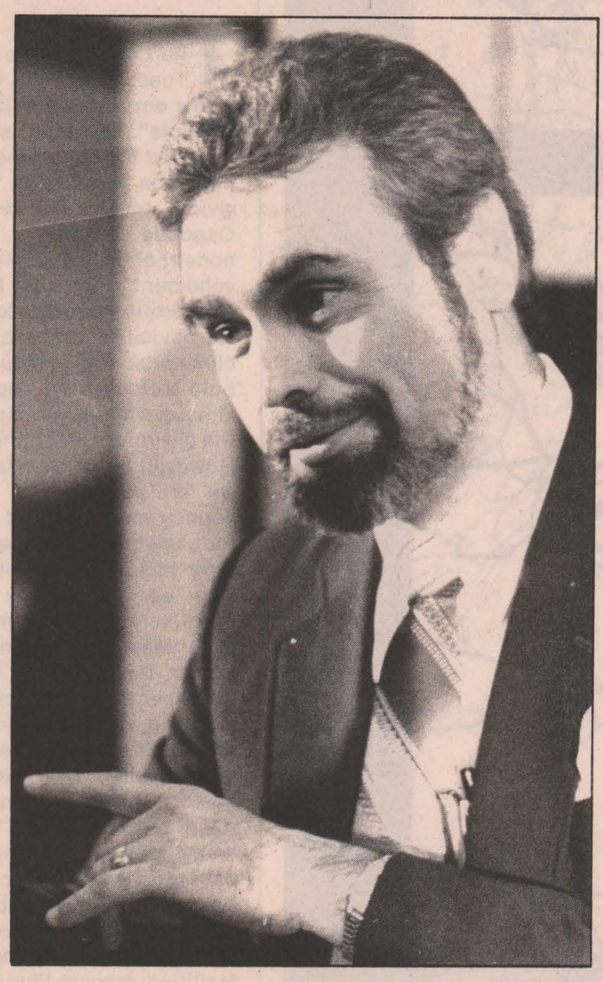
A positive attitude is an important factor, Martin stressed. In 1929, when the Great Depression set in, the world was "as protectionist as you can expect it to be." If we don't accept free trade, he said, "we will be in deep economic trouble. We may already be."

Martin's final argument is that protectionism is damaging Third World countries.

He said that while theological and moral grounds have been arguments against battering Third World economies, there are also economic reasons why we should lower protectionist barriers. Our largest markets for wheat and feed grains in the last 10 years have been Third World countries, Martin said. If we cut their products off from our markets, Third World nations no longer have the money to buy Canadian agricultural goods.

A free trade deal between Canada and the United States would have a positive effect on the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trades (GATT) negotiations, he said. He predicts that improving the mood at the GATT talks could be the most important thing to happen to agriculture in the latter part of the 20th century.

GATT, which has been trying to make trade more liberal for the last 40 years, has both Canada and the U.S. as signatories. There is one important aspect of the GATT agreement made in Tokyo in 1979 that Canadians will have to examine in a free trade agreement, Martin said.



Free trade is "not a panacea for all the ills in Canada. It won't be the end of the world, either," agricultural economics professor Larry Martin told about 100 farmers from all over Eastern Ontario. Martin's lecture was sponsored by the Dundas Federation of Agriculture.

According to the 1979 agreement, any member country that feels it has been unfairly injured by subsidized exports may appeal to the International Trade Commission for the right to put up a countervailing duty. Such was the case when Denmark and Ireland dumped beef products on Canada.

In order to implement the GATT agreement, each member nation must pass laws to facilitate the agreement in their own parliament or congress. In Canada, in order for the government to put up a countervailing duty to offset a foreign subsidy, Canadian producers have to prove first that there is a subsidy, second, that the subsidy has caused an increase in exports, and third, that exports induced by the subsidy caused material injury to domestic producers.

This law is consistent with the GATT subsidies code, says Martin, but American law is not. According to the American interpretation, an increase in exports caused by subsidies does not have to be proved.

Martin, who was a witness at a dispute between Canadian hog producers and American producers who said they were being dumped upon, says the American law is "a disgusting system." In the case of the hog producers, the International Trade Commission never asked Canadian hog producers to prove that subsidies increased exports, even though Martin said he had statistical proof that subsidies only increased exports by less than four per cent, a figure which he says was "insignificant."

But Martin said the Americans win many such cases simply because their laws are inconsistent with the GATT code. As of October 1985, of the 212 countervailing duties raised among GATT nations, 102 were brought up by the U.S., and the U.S. lost only one appeal. "They're the biggest bullies on the block," he warned.

The Americans win so many, said Martin, because their law is wrong, Countervailing tariffs, or trade remedy laws, are used as "a harassing technique" to keep foreign products out of American markets.

Trade remedy laws tend to discourage entrepreneurs in the food processing market, he said. In order to penetrate the American market, food processors have to invest a great deal, and they hesitate if they fear harassment through a countervailing duty.

Martin said dispute mechanisms will be one of the most important factors of the trade agreement. According to the draft agreement, "we don't get much" in the way of dispute concessions. In the short run, the judicial appeal process is being replaced by a bilateral agreement, giving the "plaintiff" in the dispute only 90 days to continue selling his product before the tariff takes effect.

Over the next seven years, negotiations will continue. Some products will keep their protective tariffs. Some tariffs will be completely removed on Jan. 1, 1989. Others will disappear, 20 per cent per year, until they no longer exist, and some will disappear 10 per cent over 10 years.

Within seven years, if either party is unsatisfied with the negotiations, they can call the whole thing off. During that period, either country can change their trade laws unilaterally.

Martin says if the U.S. wants to increase protectionism, three things will have to happen simultaneously. Any legal changes will have to specify the name of the trading partner, and there must be prior consultation with Canada. Any proposed changes must be consistent with the GATT and free trade agreements. Finally, a panel may issue opinions about the law and make binding decisions. These requirements, says Martin, make him feel more comfortable with the deal.

Free trade will also harmonize standards between Canada and the U.S., he says, and both sides have agreed not to use standards, such as environmental or health and safety regulations, as non-tariff trade barriers. The EEC, for example, Martin said, uses health inspections as a trade barrier to non-EEC countries, blocking the importing of foreign products. Harmonized standards between Canada and the U.S. may give us a bargaining chip in our dealings with the EEC.

Looking at specific industries, Martin said seasonal tariffs on fresh fruit and vegetables will remain in effect to prevent the dumping of American produce on Canadian markets during the summer growing season.

The chicken processing industry may be feeling some pressure as import quotas are raised six to eight per cent. But Martin feels confident about the Canadian poultry industry, saying that Canadian poultry farmers have the potential to beat U.S. producers. Producers in Eastern Ontario are closer to large American cities than producers in the southeast U.S. and have lower shipping and feed costs. He dismisses the colder climate as a handicap to Canadian farmers.

Martin says it will probably be early December before a fleshed out agreement is revealed. The agreement goes to the U.S. Congress on Jan. 3.

Inquest Thursday

WINCHESTER — An inquest will be held here Thursday into the death of a South Mountain area man who died Sept. 27 when he fell into a silo while unloading corn.

The inquest was called because of the unusual nature of the accident, according to coroner Dr. Gabriel Slowey.

Wayne Smith, 34, is believed to have been asphyxiated by carbon dioxide when he fell through a plastic liner bag into a concrete silo while unloading corn at the farm of Dwight Gilmer in South Mountain.

According to Eastern Ontario Farm Safety Consultant Harold Morphy, the accident is unique in Ontario. He said fatalities involving silos are usually caused by nitrogen oxide, a lethal gas formed during the fermentation of silage or haylage. The gas may be visible as a reddish or yellowish-brown haze around the base of a recently filled silo, and is heavier than air.

High moisture corn, which Smith was emptying from the silo, gives off carbon dioxide, an odorless and colorless gas that is fatal in high concentrations.

The inquest, which was postponed from the original date of Nov. 5, will be held at the Winchester council chambers beginning at 1:30pm. It will include testimony from suppliers and manufacturers of the type of plastic bag used to make the silo airtight, representatives from Workers' Compensation and the Department of Forensic Science, and Morphy.

OFA speaker stresses unity for effective lobbying effort

KEMPTVILLE — Unity is the key to a good lobbying effort, OFA executive member Doug Avery told the St. Lawrence branch of the Ontario Institute of Agrologists.

Avery, a Brockville vegetable farmer and pick-your-own operator said lobbyists should try to reinforce one another, and not allow those in power to divide and conquer.

Lobbying is "a goal of accomplishment without credit," he told the agrologists, and lobbyists have to work within the framework of a political system.

"It is the sole aim of some politicians to be re-elected," he said. "Politics is a game in which the party in power wants to win."

It is the goal of the lobbyist to convince politicians that the aims of the lobby group should be the goal of the politician. Politics is the art of the possible, Avery said. A politician has the option of doing something or doing nothing at all.

Avery admitted that a lack of faith in politics is a hallmark of the times, and he warned that dealing with politicians should be done in a spirit of co-operation. Never push a politician into a corner he said, and lobbyists should give politicians a back door to escape from.

He recommended knowing local politicians on a first-name basis, and keeping them as knowledgeable as possible about the status of the lobby group. He suggested keeping an inventory about the politicians and what they have said in the past, especially if they have been in an opposition role. Free Hansards are available to those on the guest list, he said.

The media is another source to be cultivated. The media can be a best friend or a worst enemy, he said. In order to deal effectively with the media, he suggested getting to know reporters and keeping them up-to-date with activities and progress. When talking to reporters, Avery said lobbyists should know exactly what they want to say to avoid clouding the issue.

The press release is an effective tool. Releases should include questions that demand a response from politicans.

The press conference is another valuable tool, said Avery. Choosing a good location can make the difference. A professional building makes for an impressive news conference, while a meeting at a site involved in the issue, such as a waste disposal site, might make an impact.

Going beyond the standard captures the imagination of both the media and politicians. A video about the issue or a tour of affected facilities could motivate reporters or politicians. Both see volumes of paper each day, he said, and presentations that are not outstanding tend to go in the "circular file."

Avery criticized the OFA for being too reaction-oriented in their lobbying attempts. It is time to take a "positive and leading" approach, he said.

A united approach helped the OFA in their tackling of a task force on health and safety. Agreeing on 19 points, the OFA pressed these points to the government. Each one of the points was included in the task force's recommendations.

White veal producer recognized by OIA

KEMPTVILLE — Farmer and businessman Victor Wagemans was recognized for his contribution to agriculture by the St. Lawrence branch of the Ontario Institute of Agrologists.

Wagemans, a white veal producer and the president of Mutual Products, was offered the Institute's recognition for his involvement in the animal care issue, his enthusiastic promotion of the veal industry in Eastern Ontario and his research promotion.

Born and educated in the Netherlands, Wagemans was a nutritionist and researcher for six years. He came to Canada in 1961, when he went to work as a nutritionist and calf expert at Mutual Products.

Wagemans initiated the company's milk replacer program in 1966, and became the company president in 1968.

In 1971, he established his own farm in Morrisburg, where he progressed from a cow-calf operation, to a beef feedlot and finally to fancy white veal production.

Promoting both grain veal, or red veal and milk fed veal, or fancy white veal, Wagemans has addressed many meetings on calf feeding and management and became well-known in eastern Ontario.

He was the chairman for the Metric Committee for the Canadian Feed Industry Association in 1976 to 1978. Presently, he is an executive member of the Ontario Cattleman's Association and is a member of the Inter-Commodity Animal Care Committee.

Dundas competes at Royal

WINCHESTER — Six 4-H members from Dundas County reported good results this week in competition at the Royal Winter Fair.

The 4-H members took part in the 1987 Scotia Bank Contact Hays Classic, a national 4-H dairy show held Monday and Tuesday.

Craig Smith, Darlene vanWylick, Patricia vanWylick, Brad Hanes, Robbie Smail and Marjorie Rose represented Dundas in the competition. Leaders Greg Holmes and Paul Porteous also travelled to Toronto for the fair. All club members participated in both the showmanship and conformation classes in the show.

Marjorie Rose was named reserve champion in the Ayrshire conformation classes, while Patricia vanWylick placed sixth in the same class.

Craig Smith and Darlene vanWylick made it to the finals in their respective calf divisions in the conformation classes.

Patricia vanWylick made it to the finals in the senior showmanship division. Darlene vanWylick placed 10th in junior showmanship.

"They did very, very well in their classes," said Dundas County ROS specialist Wendy McWilliams, noting that 248 4-H members from across Canada competed.

4-H marks 75th year

OTTAWA — Two conferences will highlight National 4-H Week, Nov. 16-22 which will celebrate 75 years of 4-H in Canada.

The first 4-H Club in Canada was established in Roland, Man. in 1913. This year, that event will be celebrated during the National 4-H Conference and National 4-H Volunteer Leaders' Conference, both programs co-ordinated by the Canadian 4-H Council.

The 4-H program continues to stress citizenship, leadership, community involvement and leadership among its members.

More than 14,000 volunteers lead 4-H programs and help the members complete their projects.

Villeneuve pushes alternatives for surplus corn production

TORONTO — As long as surpluses and low prices last, says Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry MPP Noble Villeneuve, alternative non-food uses for agricultural crops must be explored.

The newly-appointed Progressive Conservative agriculture critic has already suggested two uses for surplus corn.

According to Villeneuve, corn could be used to manufacture calcium-magnesium acetate or CMA, a substitute for road salt which would be less harmful to the environment. The United States federal highway administration began researching CMA in 1982 as an alternative form of de-icer.

Villeneuve says CMA is only one-tenth as dangerous to the environment as road salt. A supreme court decision on Oct. 14 held that the province must compensate two farmers for damage to their orchards caused by road salt.

Surplus corn could be used to manufacture the acetic acid which is one component of CMA. Villeneuve says some estimates of the cost of making the de-icer are artificially high. Transportation minister Ed Fulton's estimate of $1,045 a tonne to make CMA compared to $35 for road salt is based on the cost of a laboratory-produced sample, he said. Mass production would lower the cost.

Villeneuve has also been promoting the use of ethanol-methanol gasoline. This type of gasoline, containing three per cent ethanol, five per cent methanol and 92 per cent gasoline would be a cleaner alternative to existing leaded and unleaded gas. The ethanol content could be produced from surplus Ontario corn.

If Ontario were to switch to ethanol-methanol gas, says Villeneuve, ethanol production could consume 35 million bushels of corn and create about 7,750 new jobs.

Villeneuve has been supporting ethanol production for two years, and is currently urging the Ontario government to promote ethanol-methanol gasoline as a "home-grown source of fuel energy that doesn't have to be imported."

The United Co-op of Ontario announced the test marketing of a gasoline called Ethanol Plus on Oct. 9.

Triple play

A rare event took place at the farm of Jim Adams just east of Dixons Corners Wednesday when a Holstein cow gave birth to triplets. The three male calves born to Adamdale Citamatt Kembert seemed to be thriving Monday morning.

Liz Adamson of Metcalfe's Circle J Ranch and her quarterhorse Great Mission were presented with a trophy from Doug Berman of Spencerville and Louise Lessard of Montreal at the Drummondville International Reining Show in August.

Reining champion

METCALFE — A local horsewoman had a successful season of equestrian competition at shows in both Ontario and Quebec this year.

Liz Adamson of Metcalfe and her quarter horse Great Mission spent the summer competing in reining events. Reining is a specialized event requiring both the horse and rider to demonstrate control, changes of speed, and various other manoeuvers.

Adamson is a certified Canadian Equestrian Federation Western Coach. She teaches horseback riding and trains pleasure horses from the Circle J Ranch in Metcalfe. Her parents are John and Grace Simpson.

She attended the Quebec Reining Horse Association year-end awards gala in Montreal Nov. 7 and brought home the championship in the debutant and limited novice classes, reserve champion in the novice division and fourth in the open ladies' reining. She was also chosen as Quebec's best newcomer. At the Eastern Ontario Reining Horse Association banquet she won reserve champion in the open ladies' reining.

Carleton holds awards nights for homemakers

NEPEAN — The public will have an opportunity to sample some recipes prepared by 4-H members as Carleton County clubs hold their achievement nights for the "A Taste of Ontario Fruits and Vegetables" project.

The programs will begin at 7pm on Nov. 24 at the Kars RA Centre and on Nov. 26 at the South Carleton High School in Richmond.

During this project, members learned about the nutritive value of fruits and vegetables, food grades and labels, and how to prepare vegetable recipes.

Members have also learned how to identify various apple and pear varieties and have prepared green and jellied salads.

Green thumbs up

by Tony Hendrikx

Did you ever wonder how we greenhouse farmers can make a potted mum bloom at any time of the year.

The mum that you see sold in your supermarkets for $5.95 is mass-produced as if on an assembly line. The grower simply follows a pre-set formula which has been worked out by plant experts over the years.

You must remember that the potted mum flowers when the length of the day is less than 12 hours and the temperature is kept within certain guidelines. Because of this, the cultural practices change with the seasons. In winter they need extra light or they will flower too soon. In summer they need blackout curtains to reduce the daylight or they won't flower at all.

Several cuttings are placed in each pot, fertilized at each watering, and pinched to promote a busy plant. A very labor-intensive procedure called disbudding is done before flowering. The exact process depends on the variety and the effect the grower wants. Basically, what disbudding does is promote fewer but larger flowers.

Another major factor that comes into play is temperature. If it is too cold, the plant produces no buds or flowers, but if it is too hot the buds may abort, not form at all or be delayed.

There is a formula to follow in growing mums but it is not as simple as it may seem. Something as common as prolonged cloudy weather will disrupt the schedule and delay flowering, not to mention the many problems modern growers face with bugs and their resistance to chemicals.

Next time I'll be talking about the Christmas poinsettia, which by the way is not poisonous.

Drop me a line care of the Winchester Press if you have any questions on any plant topic.

In Memoriam

SHELDRICK — In loving memory of a dear son, Eric, who passed away Nov. 15, 1986.
O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still.
But death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
We who loved you, sadly miss you,
As it dawns another year.
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near.
"Thy will be done" is hard to say,
When the one we loved has passed away.
Some day, perhaps we'll understand,
When we meet in that better land.
—Ever remembered Mother & Dad 32

SHELDRICK — In loving memory of a dear brother, Eric, who passed away Nov. 15, 1986.
Our family circle has been broken,
A link gone from our chain;
But though we're parted for a while
We know we'll meet again.
Some day we hope to meet you,
Some day we know not when,
We shall meet in a better land,
Never to part again.
—Sadly missed by sisters, brothers and their families 32

McMILLAN — In memory of my Dad, "Duncan", who passed away Nov. 20, 1986 in Regina, Sask.
Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet,
You were the kind of Father,
Your loved ones would never forget.
—Loved & missed by Mary and Hepburn Hodgson 32

BERRY — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Easter, who passed away Nov. 19, 1971 and a dear father and grandfather, John, who passed away Oct. 12, 1974.
Time slips by but memories stay
Quietly remembered every day.
—Sadly missed by James, Laura and family, Ronald, Pearl and Bruce 32
