Angela Thompson hailed as Matilda Carnival Queen

DIXONS CORNERS—While Angela Thompson's coronation at the Matilda Winter Carnival Pageant on Saturday may not have been a great surprise to the public, the choice must still have been a difficult one for the judges.

Doubtless Angela's poise, and charm as well as well-thought answers to questions, helped net her the crown.

"I hope to have travelled around the world, to have seen many beautiful places, to have a family and home, and a little money on which to retire on," the 16 year old beauty answered in response to a draw question asking what she would like to have accomplished by the time she retires.

The daughter of Robert and Carol Thompson, the 16 year old Seaway High student was accompanied by escort James Byers, and sponsored by Gibson Electric.

Contestants were judged not only on their answers and presentation during the pageant, but on their personal interests through interviews with the judges prior to the contest.

And Angela has plenty of those. During her spare time, she waitresses at Baldi Delicatessan, plays piano and enjoys singing at community events, plays basketball at school, or can be found in the music room, playing the trumpet as part of the school band. She is a strong swimmer, having obtained her National Lifeguard and Instructors credits.

Miss Runner-Up was Meagan Swerdfeger, daughter of Glenn and Margaret Swerdfeger. The 17 year-old Grade 12 student plans to attend college after completing OAC, to pursue studies enabling her to become a dispensing optician. Meagan enjoys skiing, singing and playing piano in her leisure time.

Chosen by her peers as Miss Congeniality, Erin McDonell is the daughter of Sharon and Glenn McDonell. The 15 year old Grade 10 student intends to study to become a dental hygienist after completing high school. After school hours and weekends sees Erin skiing, socializing with friends and enjoying shopping.

There were seven contestants for the three top positions, and judges were Don Hill, personnel manager at Beavers Dental, Sybron Canada; Shawna Faber, employee of the Town of Prescott, and John Doran, Mayor of the City of Brockville.

Chair of Matilda Recreation, Dennis Cooper, welcomed the crowd and Matilda Councillor Bob Bennett cut the ribbon to start the event. "It's a pleasure to look back 22 years and see the carnival run as long as it has. We should all be proud of one of the best attended and longest running carnivals," he said.

Bennett remarked on the phenomenon that the landscape at carnival time is often snowless a couple days before the event, and attracts snow the night before festivities, and this year was no exception.

Master of Ceremonies and former radio announcer Greg Adams welcomed spectators to the popular annual celebration, and kept the program running smoothly.

Last year's Matilda Queen, Tracy Lewis crowned the 1997 pageant winners, and pulled the winning draws. Betty Casselman provided a piano accompaniment, Marc Beach sang musical selections, and Billie Sypes entertained on the accordion, as he has every year since the carnival's inception.

Flu bug is one of worst cases seen

LAURIE DAY

MORRISBURG—If you're one of the few who has managed to dodge the flu bug this year, you've been pretty lucky.

According to Wendy Hoogeveen, clinical supervisor at the St. Lawrence Medical Clinic, Morrisburg, there have been nearly 2,000 people in the area who have received the flu vaccine this year.

"I see a lot more children getting sick," she said. "It's a stronger flu virus this year, and I think it has a lot to do with the mild weather we've been having," she added.

Sore throat, chills, aches and pains are some of the symptoms. Some people suffer with vomiting and diarrhea, and once you get it, it takes about two weeks to run its course.

"We are suggesting that expectorants are used to ease the chest congestion, Tylenol for the aches and pains. Also, get plenty of rest and drink lots of liquids," said Gord Lane, pharmacist at the Seaway Valley Pharmacy, who said it's perhaps the worst year he's seen for the flu."

"About every second or third customer who comes in here has it," said Chris Byvelds, who works at the pharmacy.

As for the flu shot, if you haven't yet had one, it's not too late.

"Normally we don't give the vaccine after the end of December," noted Hoogeveen. "It takes about two to four weeks to get any protection from it. We usually don't have a need for it after that time."

The area which Hoogeveen orders the vaccine for serves Cardinal, Iroquois, Winchester and Ingleside.

Last year, she only needed approximately 1,600 vaccines for this area.

"We have a limited supply of the vaccine right now," she said, which can still be administered—but to the high risk group first.

"If people are wanting to get a flu shot, I suggest they call the clinic first, or the health unit."

Hartford closed

Because of the severity of the flu season this winter, the Hartford Retirement Home here was closed to visitors for a week.

"We have a protocol in place that if more than 10 per cent of our residents are sick then we have to close the building to visitors," said Saralyn Mabo, administrator at the residence.

"During the period of December 26th to January 8th, we had 27 residents sick," she added.

Approximately 75 per cent of the 64 residents at the Hartford were vaccinated against the flu virus this year, which is about average, Mabo said.

The doors were closed to visitors on December 31st, and reopened on January 6th.

"Everyone is feeling much better," she added. "And visitors are welcome."

At the public school

At Morrisburg Public School, children who have been out sick have totaled approximately 10 to 20 last week

"On Wednesday and Thursday we had 12 away which would be about three per cent of the total number of students, said Karen Merkley, secretary there. "On Friday, there were 22 absent."

"We have a number of kids going home as well," said Brooke Leightizer, principal there. "But it's not like if the children had chicken pox where five or six would be out of a classroom at once.

"I suspect that there are a number of brothers and sisters who have come down with the flu which would account for that number of children being absent from class."

Morrisburg bows to restructuring proposal

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—At the last possible moment, Council has knuckled down and agreed to an amalgamation proposal for South Dundas.

The restructuring of four municipalities into the Township of South Dundas was agreed to in a three to two recorded vote. Councillor Larry Schnurr and deputy reeve Dirk Testerink voted against the proposal, and Councillors Jack Notman, Cam Martel voted in favor, with Reeve Gord McGregor deciding the issue with a yea vote.

"I don't see us doing the Province of Ontario and Harris' dirty work for them," said Schnurr, who has been vocal in his opposition on this issue.

"As I said that night (at the public meeting), at least we'll be in a position to control our future rather than have it dictated to us," explained Notman.

"I'm opposed, and have said publicly often enough why," stated Testerink.

"I'm with Jack. If we're going to do it, let's be at the table and be part of the decision process," added Martel.

McGregor said that during the numerous meetings next year, he wants "to sit at the table in a position to put our views across pretty strong. I'd sooner go in there with a yes vote from this council. If it makes it easier to work that will be fine. It may not be any different at all whether this council votes yea or nay, but it's a done deal, whether or not we're doing the government's dirty work. A year from now we could look back and say 'what did I do, but who knows?'"

McGregor went on to say, that he would never have believed that when the municipality started years ago (in 1861), it would come to an end at the close of 1997.

A spectator commented that the provincial government may still try to dictate a larger amalgamation from Cornwall to Brockville, and that Morrisburg was trying "to limit the problem,"

McGregor agreed: "If you don't go with it at this size, what will they say, SD & G and Cornwall? It's beginning to look that way anyway, I'd sooner cope with the four people we know rather than that."

In order to handle the costs of amalgamation estimated by accountants at $250,000, Morrisburg Council agreed to put in $10,000 in start-up costs.

SD & G United Counties Council has now received proposals from all of the 20 municipalities in SD & G, with some suggestions regarding restructuring. The Village of Morrisburg delayed a decision until after the results of a public meeting in December, and the Village of Chesterville has indicated its preference for independence, although it offered suggestions for restructuring if the process is to continue.

Counties Council has drafted a proposal which incorporates recommendations on restructuring 20 municipalities into six, while retaining the upper-tier County government. The proposal is being circulated to all municipalities for a vote, then to be submitted as a completed proposal to the Ontario government.

According to Municipal Affairs representative Yves Drouin, proposals are to received at Queen's Park by mid February.

Library is stumbling block

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

IROQUOIS—Council here put the official stamp of approval on a restructuring proposal for South Dundas.

But for Iroquois, a major stumbling block has been the library system, which is independent of the county system. Nevertheless, the three libraries in the other municipalities are part of the County system.

Since the Library Board wishes to maintain independance, Iroquois council supported the restructuring proposal, "pending the decision on the Iroquois Library option."

The Iroquois Library Board was to meet Monday evening to finalize a written proposal that South Dundas be responsible for its own library system, rather than be included in the county system. The proposal is to go the four reeves, and their councils for consideration.

"The Board will try to show it will be cheaper to leave the county system, and provide above standard library services," said Audrey Rooney, the Iroquois library representative on Council.

Figures were unobtainable at press time, but Rooney believed it could be shown that an independent library can be run more cheaply, and can offer a better service.

The decision whether to go with an independent library system in South Dundas, or to go with the county system will be up to the municipal councils.

"Whatever the four decide will go into the amalgamation proposal for South Dundas to go to Counties Council before January 20," she said.

Rooney admitted leaving the County system may not be an easy matter. "You just can't walk away from it when you've paid into it, and shared the cost of it with other municipalities. There are procedures to go through."

In 1995, the Iroquois Public Library had a 23,000 volumes and a circulation of 13,192. The Library holds children's shows, theater productions, and has been obtaining books on an interlibrary loan system for years, from anywhere in Ontario, and Canada. It currently obtains a number of loans from independent libraries to the west of Iroquois, such as Kingston, Brockville and Windsor, and north from Thunder Bay.

Through a new computer program to be installed in two weeks, the Iroquois Library will be able to access all acquisitions from across Ontario.

The Iroquois Library had its beginnings in 1885, when a Penny Reading was created in the Village. This was later reorganized into a Mechanics Institute, which purchased a library. Although the library closed in the early 1900's, it was re-established in 1913 and by 1955, held over 4,000 volumes. At that time, it was known as an associate library, operating on membership fees.

In February 1957, the Iroquois Public Library was established through an Act of Council by Mr. Angus Mowat, the director of Public Library services for the Ontario Board of Education. When the village moved, the library found a new home in the Civic Center. In 1970, Iroquois Council declined becoming part of the regional County System and has since remained independent.

South Dundas circulates restructuring proposal

MORRISBURG—The following proposal for restructuring the four municipalities of Matilda, Williamsburg, Morrisburg and Iroquois has now been passed by the above parties, and is to be submitted to Counties Council for approval.

The newly amalgamated municipality known as "Township of South Dundas" will form part of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

According to the proposal, the new council will have five representatives, with one councillor elected to represent each of the former municipalities, or "wards" and a mayor elected at large. The deputy mayor will be appointed by council members from among themselves.

The head of council plus one other chosen from among themselves will sit as members on the Council of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

The legal boundaries of the new Township are the outside boundaries of the two existing townships, which contain the two villages.

The three separate hydro commissions from Morrisburg, Iroquois, Matilda and Williamsburg will be abolished and replaced by one amalgamated hydro commission with three representatives, including the mayor and two others at large.

A transition committee consisting of two representatives of the four councils will determine how services are to be delivered by the new council. The committee is to be struck no later than 30 days after the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing acknowledges receipt of a complete restructuring proposal in writing.

Financial imbalances will be equalized over nine years, starting on the date of amalgamation on January 1, 1998. These are defined as differences in monetary assets and liabilities including surpluses,/deficits, unfunded capital projects and general reserves and reserve funds.

Tax changes related to restructuring will be phased in over a nine year period.

Unpaid realty and business taxes, or charges levied by the former municipalities under legislation prior to amalgamation will be payable to the new municipality, and may be levied in the same manner. The new municipality will be responsible for all liabilities of the former municipalities and related obligations.

By-laws or resolutions of the former municipalities not lawfully repealed prior to restructuring remain in force. Zoning by-laws and official plans of the former municipalities passed under the Planning Act remain in force until amended or repealed.

A complete proposal incorporating the 20 existing municipalities in SD & G into six amalgamated municipalities, while retaining the upper-tier government, will be submitted to the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing.

Police Reports

Rescuers recover Ingleside woman

Rescuers helped save an unidentified Ingleside woman as her 1988 Tempo plunged out of sight in the icy waters of the old Cornwall Canal Monday morning.

Cornwall police would not release the name of the woman, whose car slid over a 22-meter stretch of ground separating Water Street (at Brookdale) and the canal before sinking. The area was wet and slushy at the time of the incident.

The 42-year-old woman survived the accident, and she was taken to Cornwall General Hospital. She was the lone occupant of the vehicle.

Snowmobile Patrols

During the past weekend, OPP began their snowmobile patrols in Dundas County. Thirty-five snowmobiles were checked with 13 warnings being issued.

While snowmobiling can be a very enjoyable winter sport it is important to remember that riders are subject to a number of laws when they are riding.

The motorized snow vehicle act requires registration numbers to be displayed on both sides of the cowling of the snowmobile. Insurance and helmets are also required at any time the snowmobiles are driven off the owner's property.

To drive along trails, drivers must be at least 12 years of age, and hold a motorized now vehicle operator's licence, and to drive along a highway, drivers must be at least 16 years of age and possess either a driver's licence or a motorized snow vehicle operator's licence. This licence must be carried by the driver.

The speed limits for snowmobiles differ from that for other vehicles on roads which have a posted speed limit of 50 km/h or less. The limit for snowmobiles is 20 km/h on roads with speed limits in excess of 50 km/h, or on trails the limit for snowmobiles if 50 km/h.

Municipalities may pass by-laws restricting the use of snowmobiles in their areas.

Also, any accident which results in personal injury or damage over $400 has to be reported to police, no matter where the accident occurrs. Drivers are reminded that the provisions of the criminal code in relation to drinking and driving offences apply to snowmobile driving and apply no matter where you are riding.

Provincial government announces overhaul of Ontario school system

CORNWALL—An overhaul of Ontario's school system means the SD&G Public and Catholic School Boards will become part of four new, larger English and French-language boards with boundaries from Kingston to Alexandria and from Ottawa to Hastings County.

Currently there are 168 school boards and the Tory Government announced Monday plans to cut the number to 66. They will also be cutting the number of trustees by two-thirds.

Local officials have mixed emotions about the changes, as they think representation in this area will diminish.

However, the government has promised to give parents more say in their children's education.

The new structure for local school boards is: Southern Ontario English-Language Public District School Boards—S.D. & G., Lanark, Leeds, Grenville, Prescott-Russell (about 40,000 students); Southern Ontario English-Language Separate District School Boards—S.D. & G., Lanark, Leeds, Grenville, Prescott-Russell (about 15,000 students); Ontario French-Language Public District School Boards—S.D. & G., Ottawa-Carleton, Lanark, Leeds, Grenville, Lennox and Addington, Frontenac, Renfrew, Prescott-Russell, Prince Edward and Hastings (approximately 6,000 students); and Ontario French-Language Separate District School Boards—S.D. & G., Prescott-Russell, Lanark, Leeds and Grenville (about 15,000 students).

The changes will become law in time for November's municipal election, and under the new legislation, homeowners will no longer pay for the province's school's through property taxes.

John Snobelen, education minister, removed schools from residential property taxes, replacing the revenue with provincial grants under a new financing system.

There is also a $5,000 cap on a trustees' honorarium. Locally, trustees currently have an annual honorarium between $7,524 (Catholic) and $9,000 (public).

Jim Dilamarter, education director with the S.D. & G. Public School Board said he, along with the chairs and education directors of the newly-formed school boards met immediately following the teleconference in Ottawa to discuss a plan of action.

The S.D. & G. Roman Catholic Separate School Board had a special public board meeting regarding the government announcements on amalgamation and funding on Tuesday night, but results were unavailable at press time.

Iroquois Council Briefs

Iroquois Council is waiting for the response of Morrisburg Village on a proposal from M.S. Thompson to apply for a municipal grant from the Municipal Assistance Program on behalf of the two villages. The company would set out the deficiencies of the villages' municipal water intake, treatment and storage and distribution facilities, and apply for financial assistance to carry out a class environmental assessment to develop an optimal, long-term solution for both residents of both villages, and eventually the residents of a newly amalgamated municipality.

The clerk is formulating a resolution for Council to consider at the next meeting. Iroquois received correspondence from the "Break Open Ticket Program Management Alliance" , requesting municipalties opposition to the presence of Video Lottery Terminals in their jurisdiction. Legislation by the Ontario Government proposes widespread introduction of VLT's to race tracks, charity gaming halls and liquor licensed establishments throughout Ontario, for an eventual total of 20,000. According to the Alliance, revenues from Break Open Tickets dropped 12 per cent and 29 per cent in each of two years, following introduction of VLT's in Alberta, for a total loss of $3,000,000 per month.

Iroquois councillors expressed their concern over the potential loss of revenue to local charities, which rely on Nevada tickets for funds. "We don't need any more lottery terminals around, they cut into local charities," said deputy reeve Wilf Gibbons. Reeve Peter Swank concurred.

*

A public information meeting on amalgamation will be held on February 20 at the Civic Center at 7.30 p.m.

Morrisburg Council Briefs

Following a request by Business Improvement Area coordinator Earl Baker, Morrisburg Council will submit a request by the BIA for painting the canopy to budget talks. Baker said it has been ten years since it was painted, and minor repairs are needed. Baker thanked council for their support last year, and Reeve McGregor complimented the BIA on the successful Applefest and Santa Parade.

*

Emergency coordinator Bil Shearing informed Council about the upcoming emergency planning exercise, this Sunday afternoon. "Mighty blow uses a tornado scenario, and the focus will be on emergency site management procedures. They say whenever there's a disaster there are two, the disaster itself and the emergency site. We'll be making people aware of what to do to come up with an efficient and effective emergency site," he said.

*

Coun. Larry Schnurr informed Council that engineers will no longer be giving notice of required arena inspections. The onus is on council to look after this matter, and inspections every three years are recommended.

*

The Village will be allowing volunteer canvassers to collect money from residents for the Kidney Foundation Door to door Campaign in March, and the Heart and Stroke Foundation in February.

*

The Morrisburg Beavers will be allowed to hold the Beaveree for the S.t Lawrence District at the Waterfront Park on May 25.

Parkway closed

LONG SAULT—Since 1993, the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, which manages the Long SAult Parkway, has not maintained the 11-km stretch of road along the Parkway during the winter months. The gates at both entrances have been closed due to winter conditions on the roadway.

The gates will remain closed as long as ice and snow create hazardous driving conditions. When Commission flags are flying at the entrances, this will signal safe driving conditions.

If however, there are no flags and the gates are closes, this will signify unsafe road conditions.

Since there will be ongoing construction projects on the Parkway through the winter, portions of the road may be cleared of snow or ice by construction contractors to allow access of equipment.

Visitors wishing to walk, ski, snowshoe or snowmobile on the Parkway, are encouraged to do so and a limited parking area will be available at the West gate.

Alternatively, the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary is available for public use, as trails are prepared for hiking, snowshoeing and cross-country skiing. The UCMBS offers winter programming for the entire family. For a schedule of events, please call 1-800-437-2233.

Moonlight event at bird sanctuary

MORRISBURG—The snow has finally arrived and the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary is preparing for a moonlight ski, walk and skate event on Saturday, January 25 from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

The trails will be groomed for the event to maximize cross-country skiers' enjoyment of the tracks and the scenery.

For those who wish to walk the meandering trails or skate on the pond, the moonlight will provide a perfect backdrop to a wonderful evening.

Hot beverages will be available in the Sanctuary's Visitor Interpretive Centre.

Admission for participants in the moonlight activities is $2 per person. For members of the "Friends of the Sanctuary", admission of $1. Children four years of age and under are free.

For a schedule of events taking place at the Sanctuary this winter, please call 1-800-437-2233.

Good news comes down the pipe

Last week's announcement of $15 million to help families care for their children who have developmental disabilities was one of the best news items in weeks.

While there is no word yet of targeted grants for institutions, the Ministry of Community and Social Services is spending additional funds province-wide to provide families with more access to community services and supports. The $15 million will add to a total $665 million already being spent annually on community services for people with developmental disabilities. This will help 3,500 more families and more individuals than the 50,000 already being supported in the community.

Six million dollars will support the service needs of adults living at home, who are cared for by their aging parents. It will also provide more opportunities for young adults with developmental disabilities who are leaving school, so they can participate with other people in the community in day-time activities.

Another five million dollars through the Special Services at Home program will provide funding to help families to care for children with physical or development disabilities at home. For example, families needing additional help to care for a child with severe medical or physical needs may use funds to purchase services to help them care for their child at home.

A further four million dollars will help expand Infant Development Programs for children with developmental delays to help attain their best level of development. Assistance may include sensory stimulation, motor development, communication skills or emotional development. It also offers early intervention to assist parents in recognizing, understanding and adjusting to their child's special needs. For example, a family may be worried that their son may not be sitting up or crawling at a normal age. An Infant Development worker may visit the home to help the parents teach their child skills to help him learn to sit on his own and achieve other important "firsts" in development.

It is hoped that this kind of assistance will prevent the kind of despair experienced by parents which has led to several recently publicized tragedies.

"It's good for the people in Ontario, that recognition is made of the needs of families," said Debbie Boardman, Director of the Dundas Association for Community Living, a community agency offering a range of services. "In our community, families need some good services. We hope that people in the area and province-wide will benefit." C.T.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles by Laurie Day

1987

Williamsburg Reeve Johnny Whitteker was pictured on the front page of the January 14th issue of The Leader as he was celebrating 20 years as reeve of that township. Some accomplishments that he was proud of were: the new township garage in 1972 and clerk's office in 1979; the completion of the sewer project and new fire hall.

Also pictured on the front page were the contestants for the annual Matilda Winter Carnival Queen competition. They included: Lisa Warren, Christine Bosma, Samantha Jollota, Julie Burns, Pam Dickson, Dorean Bouwman and Brenda Geurkink.

A public meeting was organized for discussion regarding plans for the construction of an 83-lot residential subdivision on Ault Island.

Marshall Button was named the new director at the Upper Canada Playhouse. Button, 28-year-old native of Dalhousie, New Brunswick, replaced Mark Morton who resigned the previous year to pursue a career in teaching.

1977

Monday's big snowstorm which hit eastern Ontario with howling winds, sub-zero temperatures and tons of snow, was blamed for at least two deaths in the area. On Highway 401 east of Morrisburg, a Montreal woman, June Elizabeth Taylor, was killed when her car went out of control and was struck by a van driven by Harmut Thieroff of Cornwall. The other death was that of 66-year-old Hugh Marquette of the Winchester area, whose body was found in his truck, a mile east of Vernon.

Donald Irvine, Provincial Secretary for Resources Development, resigned as a member of the Ontario Cabinet. He said in a statement that he would not seek re-election as the member for Carleton-Grenville. Premier William Davis, in a statement accompanying Mr. Irvine's statement, said he wouldn't move to replace Irvine until after he returned from a 10-day trip to London and Israel, which began this week.

Time To Run a film that was a mixture of problems and solutions, was to be shown at United Church, Morrisburg, on January 16th. The feature, filmed in Eastman-color by World Wide Pictures, was shot in Southern California and starred Ed Nelson, Randall Carver, Barbara Sigel, Joan Winmill and Gordon Rigsby.

Headlines in the January 13th issue of The Leader read: Plan to mark Centennial year here. Morrisburg's Centennial project, the beautification and improvement of the park area in Morrisburg had not yet been officially organized. The project hinged on permission from Ontario Hydro to go ahead and there had been no word from them. Hydro owned the land along the waterfront which was Morrisburg's only park site.

High on the list of those who had contributed greatly toward the progress and development of Morrisburg was Fred H. Broder. a reeve of the village for 13 years, Warden of the Three United Counties, banker and businessman, he continued to be active by spearheading Centennial projects for local improvement. Born at Morrisburg in 1880, he was an arts graduate of Toronto University, glass of 1902. He was the first teller in the local branch of the old Molson's Bank and in 1915, he enlisted with the 148th Battalion and served overseas with the First Infantry Battalion. He was severely wounded and returned to Morrisburg in 1919 where he formed a partnership with Richard Morash, purchasing the Morash Foundry, a partnership which continued for 30 years when it was sold to the Brown brothers.

The Morrisburg Combines took over first place in the St. Lawrence Senior Hockey League with wins over Buckingham 6-2 and Perth-Smiths Falls 7-0. Don Grant's shutout was the first of the season registered in the league.

The high school basketball schedule got under way with Morrisburg teams tackling Ingleside. The Morrisburg seniors had the only win, 62-40. Starting line-up for the senior girls included: Yvonne Van Allen, Ann Marie Young, Brenda Whitteker, Terri Wells and Daina Crober. For the junior girls it was Sandy Scott, Perhaps one of the most successful and most anticipated rallies of the area is the Matilda Carnival car and snowmobile rally which happens Saturday. Dedicated to the memory of Dr. Tom Maxwell, the rally will be getting under way at 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. for registration.

The car rally will be this year's challenge between the Iroquois Chieftain and the Morrisburg Leader newspapers. The Leader will try and make it two championships in a row. Laurie will do her best to bring home the gold as her co-worker Cathy did last year at the Talent Contest. The price for the rally is $3 per person.

That evening's entertainment back at the Matilda Hall will feature Jim Wicks and the Westburg Union, and it's just $5 per person for the dance.

Sunday, don't forget the sleigh rides at Ron and Barbara Smail's, just off Henderson Road, east of Brinston. Watch for the signs.

•••

Hats off to the staff at the Canada Post office in Morrisburg, who were so helpful in providing advice and the cardboard to help prepare a box to send skiis to an out-of-province location. The sender of the skiis and ski boots didn't know that parcels of this size and awkwardness could be sent by (express) mail. If the postal workers are as helpful throughout the system as they were at this end, the sender has no doubt that the recipient at the other end will be happy to receive both skiis and boots in good condition.

•••

Speaking of skis...Anyone interested in a ski holiday during the March school break (March 9-15) should give Sam or Marg Laurin a call. They are planning a group trip to New Hampshire (about 4 1/2 hours away) for five days. You can choose from many different mountains, get interchangeable lift tickets and free tickets for children 12 and under with an adult ticket. At the present time, accommodations would be approximately $50 per night, which includes a full breakfast for two people at the Cranmore Mountain Lodge, in North Conway. If you would like more information, give them a call at 543-2835.

•••

At Monday's Morrisburg council meeting councillor Cam Martel mentioned in passing that he was considering running for the new amalgamated council in the municipal election at the end of the year. "It's an interesting time with a lot of changes," he said. "The problems we are now facing and the complications, we have some background knowledge and hope we can help the community go into the changes with some forethought." At the end of 1997, Cam will have finished his second term as municipal councillor.

•••

Just an update from Rothwell-Osnabruck School in Ingleside. Contrary to popular rumor, R-O is still on the "Timeline for Closure". They feel positive, however, that when a new vote is taken at the next board meeting they will be taken off the hit list. A large showing of support for the school is still vital.

•••

A little typo occurred last week in this column. Regarding the Morrisburg Legion happenings, the steak dinner will be held on the 31st, not the 25th as reported. Dayton and Eric will be playing at the steak barbecue and pub night, and tickets are $10 each. Get your tickets at the bar.

Cheryl Dennison, Vicki Van Allen, Linda Lafortune and Carole Hart. The senior boys included Jim Cameron, Ray Delegarde, Mickey Mabo, Dale Whitteker and Bob Boivin, and the juniors were Dave Mason, Don Delegarde, Don Mabo, Henry Storgaard and Lee Tuttle.

At Brinston's Allied Food Market, iceburg lettuce was two heads for 39 cents and boneless beef was 69 cents a pound.

1957

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Millward of Morrisburg celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on New Year's day at their home on Main Street West.

The East Williamsburg Subdivision, parcel and plan, was ready for sale of lots. This subdivision, under the supervision of the municipal council of Williamsburg Township, was aimed at the replacement of residents of the township who were forced to move due to the construction of the power project. The sub-division was located a very short distance from the St. Lawrence River on a very likable tract of land.

The Morrisburg Merchants hockey club made it two victories in a row when they defeated the Finch Juniors 7-3. The win placed them in a tie for first place in the Lower Ottawa Valley loop.

The January 15th issue of The Leader reported the united Church parsonage, at Elma, was the scene of a pleasant party December 26th, the occasion being the 25th wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. R.S. Smith.

The passing of Aaron Sweet in Winchester removed from the district one of Dundas County's most prominent citizens. The late Mr. Sweet was born at Hemmingford, Quebec, in 1854. He came to Morrisburg in 1868 and eventually entered the general store of his uncle, Andrew Broder of Winchester. In 1876, he became a partner of the business and finally the owner of the store which was known as "Big Store" operated under the name of A. Sweet and Co. In 1875, he was elected deputy reeve of Winchester Township and the following year when Winchester was incorporated as a village, he was elected reeve and first citizen of the new municipality.

Thomas Johnston started his 13th consecutive term as reeve of Matilda Township at the 1937 inaugural meeting, and at Morrisburg, the reeve was Arthur Flynn.

The local Juniors found their stride when they defeated a visiting Kemptville team 3-1. Johnny McCoy, the Morrisburg goalie, stopped all kinds of shots with ease coming out of his net to rob incoming forwards. Playing for Morrisburg were McIntyre, Weir, P. Smith, Dillabough, Gamble, R. Smith, Tuttle, Tindal, Coons and Casselman.

At Barkley's Meat Market, beef stew was eight cents a pound and red onions were 25 cents for a 10-pound bag.

1927

Headlines in the January 14th issue of The Leader read: 77 children lose their lives trapped in theatre stairway. All were the victims of a stampede that followed a minor outbreak of fire during a moving picture show at the Laurier Palace. The Montreal catastrophe had caused the managers of Ontario theatres to make a thorough investigation of their fire fighting apparatus and to see that every precaution was taken to prevent sudden panic. The theatre in Morrisburg passed local inspection as it had wide aisles and no chairs placed in them. The mishap at Montreal was believed to have come about when some of the smaller children fell causing immediate panic and further pushing from behind.

The public was notified by fire chief Herbert Clark, of the installation of a fire alarm siren, operated from the local office of the Bell Telephone Company.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
Morrisburg, Ontario
Re: Helping Hand Fire Fund

Dear Editor - On Monday, January 6, 1997, until 4 a.m. January 7, 1997, fire burned at 576 Main St. West, Winchester, as the landlord was doing renovation work in the basement. The rented home of Brenda Typhair and her two children, Shawn age 15, and Brian age 7, was completely burned to the ground, leaving Brenda and her two children homeless. They also lost all their possessions including their Christmas presents. They were fortunate to escape unharmed but are really in need of all of the help and assistance they can get, as they did not have any fire insurance. They had to leave the burning house with only their 'clothes on their backs' and without coats or shoes.

Any donations of clothing, furniture, appliances, cash donations and if possible, some toys and Christmas gifts, to help replace the ones they lost would be appreciated.

Brenda wears size 16-18 (large) sweaters, slacks, jeans, and coat, and a size seven shoe. Brian, 7, needs shirts, sweaters, pants, coat, in size 7-8 or medium. His shoe size is sixe 13 kids. And son Shaun, 15, wears size 32 (or medium) in shirts, sweaters, pants, or coat, and a shoe size of 9.

Socks, underwear, hats, gloves are needed for all three people.

Any donations of clothing, furniture, dishes, bedding, appliances or cash will certainly be appreciated, and can be made by calling (613) 989-2415, R.R. 3 Mountain, Ontario, KOE 1SO. Cash donations can be made to the Brenda Typhair and Children Fire Fund that is set up at the Bank of Montreal, Winchester.

Thanking all in advance for your donations. May God blass you all.

Sincerely,
E. SMITH

Casco achieves waste reduction

CARDINAL—Two years after establishing a waste reduction program, Casco Inc.'s Cardinal facility has seen a 95% reduction in the amount of waste heading to the landfill site.

In August 1994, Casco Inc. hired a local environmental consultant to conduct a plant wide waste audit aimed at identifying materials which could be cut from the waste stream through reduction, reuse, and recycling. Water and Earth Science Associates Ltd. of Carp, conducted the audit and worked with Casco employees to develop a waste reduction program.

Under the direction of the Waste Reduction Committee, the waste reduction program has markedly decreased the amount of garbage going to landfill.

In 1995, the facility reduced their waste by 67%, an increase of 24% from the 1994 figures. The 1996 figures show a waste diversion rate of 95%, an increase of 52% over 1994.

Casco's remarkable drop in waste generation can be attributed to the reuse and recycling of all the spent filter material used in the refinery process. Spent filter material, which used to make up a large proportion of Casco's waste stream, has now been completely diverted from the landfill site. Other successes include the reprocessing of waste starch and glucose and a drastic drop in waste paper towels, plastic cups, mixed plastic, scrap steel and wood being sent to the landfill site.

Casco Inc. is the largest corn refining operation in Canada. It has been operating a corn wet milling operation in Cardinal since 1858.

Products made at the Cardinal facility include: corn sweetners, corn starches, corn oils, gluten feed and gluten meal. The waste reduction program is just one of several environmental initiatives taken by the company.

Sandra Johnston chosen as Matilda's 'Citizen of the Year'

C. THOMPSON
Leader Staff

DIXONS CORNERS—Matilda Citizen of the Year, Sandra Johnston was surprised last Wednesday when chair of the Recreation Committee Dennis Cooper called to ask if she would accept the award.

"I was pleased. It's an honor to be recognized in the place you live in. Most people are recognized in other places first," she told the Leader.

And she decided to accept, although her name was the only nomination for the award. For the last two years, there have been nominations but the intended recipients have declined the honor.

"To be fair to the person who nominated me, and to be fair to those who in previous years have accepted the honor, I decided to accept," she said. "If you say you won't accept, it reflects on those who have."

The title "Citizen of the Year" and plaque has been awarded almost every year during the Matilda Winter Carnival since 1982. "This award recognizes someone who gives daily every year, not just one year. As in the past the people who receive this honour work every year, not just the one they are nominated in,"said Cooper.

Cooper cited a long list of accomplishments and personal traits which led to Sandra's nomination. "Community and what it stands for are important in Sandra's life. An individual who is proud of her community, Sandra Lee Johnston is someone Matilda can be proud of as well. She is an ambassador who makes everyone wish they could live in the place that calls the MacIntosh Red their own. Through her newspaper stories (at the Chieftain), she is constantly encouraging others to see what she does in her home community and love it as she does," he said.

A native of Matilda Township, Sandra started early to give of herself and her talents to Matilda residents. Coaching a minor Hockey team made up of young boys, she moved on to the Baseball diamond in the summer and coached a Bantam ball team, members of the Stampville Tigers.

She has been involved in Scouting for 14 years, starting with five year olds in Beavers, moving to Cubs and to Scouts. She started one of the first co-ed troops in the district, and is still a Troop Scouter, or Scout Leader, with boys and girls from Iroquois and Matilda in the troop. She has registered all 21 of her troop to attend the 9th Canadian Scout Jamboree this July in Thunder Bay, and this past year received The Medal for Good Service in Scouting, the first and only ever awarded from the provincial headquarters from Scouts Canada to anyone in the St. Lawrence District.

This area includes Iroquois, Morrisburg, Winchester, Spencerville, Kemptville, Oxford Mills, Williamsburg, Prescott, Chesterville and Cardinal.

Other activities include past president of the Morrisburg and district Horticultural Society, member of the Dundas County Ducks Unlimited, member of the Matilda LACAC organization to preserve historical structures.

In addition to the above activities, Sandra served two terms as the first female municipal councillor on Matilda Council, and was a former Matilda Recreation member and chair. She has also served on the Summer Festival Committee in Iroquois.

Currently, she continues to be involved in canvassing for the Heart and Stroke Foundation, Canadian Cancer Society, and Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 370. She is an active church member with St. John's Anglican Church, and a member of the Upper Canada Playhouse Winter Series Committee.

A volunteer with the Meals on Wheels program, she often takes lunch hour to deliver meals to shut-ins, and delivers flowers for the "Good Fairies" who create flower arrangements for those needing cheer.

"A member of the Community Patrol in the Village of Iroquois, she never seems to say "No" when asked to do something for someone, no mater for whom nor for what reason," Cooper said.

"On more than one occasion, she has come to the aid of someone less fortunate than herself, and given them and their cause her full attention and worked on their behalf without thought of even a "thank you" . . just because they needed assistance was reason enough for this Matilda gal," Cooper continued. "No job is too small or insignificant for Sandra to tackle."

The mother of two boys, Ryan 19 and Jeremy 15, Sandra has been married to Roger for 28 years, and is co-editor of the Iroquois Chieftain newspaper.

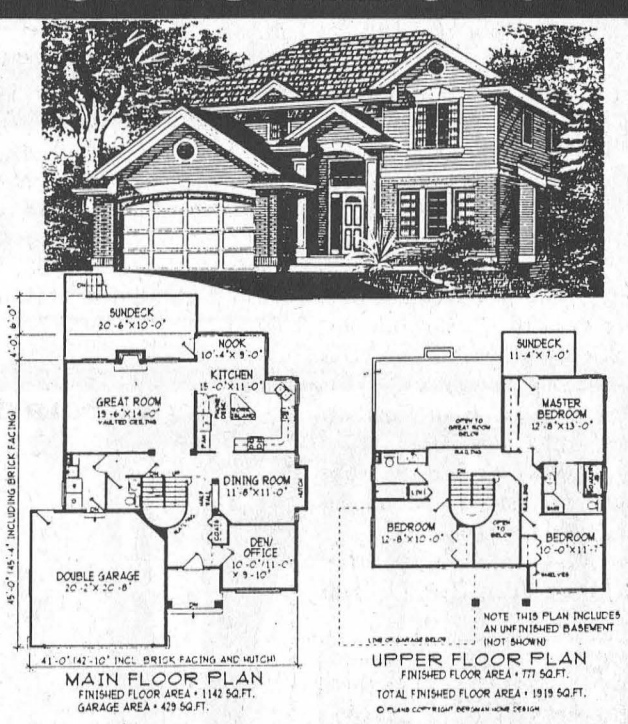
The Home Of The Week ... YOUR HOME IMPROVEMENT "SPECIALISTS!"



PLAN NO. BT-105
GREAT ROOM FEATURED IN STYLISH TWO STOREY
By M. Tynan Copyright 1997

The "great room" is one of the most asked for design features by today's new home buyers - a combined living and family room. Vaulted, and open to the second storey, the great room in this home provides a spacious as well as stylish living area that is lived in and not just looked at like the seemingly soon to be outdated formal living room.

Many other features in this home also cater to contemporary tastes. The exterior recalls a popular heritage styling complete with keystone accents on the upstairs window and over the arched entrance. Enter into a spacious foyer open to the second storey. A den, just inside the front entrance, would make an ideal home office. Decorative columns frame the entrance to a formal dining room. An efficient kitchen layout features ample cupboard and counter space, a pantry, and a handy work island. The nook receives plenty of natural sunlight from surrounding windows.

A "U" shaped staircase leads up to a deluxe bedroom area. The master bedroom features his and hers closets, a four piece ensuite, and a private sundeck.

An unfinished basement awaits your own creative touch.

Plans for BT-105 may be obtained for $390.00 for a package of five complete sets of working prints and $34.00 for each additional set of the same plan. Allow $15.00 extra to cover the cost of postage and handling (B.C. residents add applicable sales tax to plan total) (All Canadian residents add 7% GST to plan total plus postage and handling.

This is one of our new designs. Many innovative plans are now available in our home plan catalogue for $13.85 including postage and handling and 7% GST.

Spartans have easy time over L'Heritage in SD&G action

IROQUOIS—The junior and midget Spartans had an easy time of L'Heritage here last Friday, as they each picked up wins in boys' basketball action.

The juniors romped to a 70-17 upset, while the midgets won by 10.

"The midgets lost to L'Heritage earlier in the season," said coach Irv Francis. "It was the first time they played away from home and I think they were a little awe-struck by their surroundings."

Perhaps L'Heritage came to Seaway expecting to take another win, but the Spartans were ready for them.

"The midgets were a lot more comfortable playing in their own gym," added Francis.

Grade 9 athlete, Dave VanderMeer had a huge game leading the team with 17 points.

"That kid's just amazing," boasted Francis. "I've never seen a midget dunk and he's incredible. Had he tried out for the junior team, he would have made it."

Richard Groniger had six points, and both Adam Bruer and Mike McCann had five.

Robert Annable and Tyler Casselman added two each, and Bobby Paradis fired 17.

Replying for L'Heritage was Miguel Delisle with 15 and Christopher Lamer had eight. In with two each were Mathieu Lupien, Justin Lemoyne and Guillaume Labelle.

The juniors were unstoppable striking for a half-time lead of 39-6, before cruising to a 70-17 upset.

Brandon Cassell fired up 14 in the win, with 11 coming from Clint Bylsma, and nine from Jason Byvelds.

John MacPherson and Dwayne VanderMeulen had eight each, Brad Boivin seven, Randy Spear six, and Derek Swank added four. Ben MacPherson was in with three.

"All three teams this year are very strong," said Francis. "The juniors are undefeated at this point. They have strength across the bench, not just the starting five. They're all a great bunch of guys to coach, and they play really well together."

Leading L'Heritage with nine points was Bernard Grenier who hit two three-pointers.

Steph Cheffer and Jeff Cameron had three each, and Richard Bray added two.

Senior tournament

It was predicted by the coach that Seaway would meet L'Escale in the championship game.

However, only one of those team made it that far.

The Seaway Spartans senior boy's basketball team lost their third game to Rideau District High School and were eliminated from the tournament which they were co-hosting with Rothwell/Osnabruck on Saturday.

It was L'Escale who went undefeated to capture the championship over Vankleek Hill in Ingleside later that afternoon.

The Lancers won three round-robin games, but were upset by Rideau in the consolation match.

Ingleside and Vankleek Hill tied for second place in the B pool, but because Vankleek Hill allowed fewer points, they played L'Escale in the championship match. L'Escale won it with a 57-41 upset.

Seaway claimed a big win over Glengarry with a convincing 60-24 upset on Friday night. Saturday morning, they won over North Grenville before dropping out to Rideau at lunch time.

Close contention
The Seaway senior boys basketball team co-hosted a tournament with the Rothwell/Osnabruck Lancers. The Spartans were ousted from contention by Rideau District High School from Elgin (pictured). Junior "B" Lions lose two more as playoff hopes dwindle

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Jr. B Lions lost two more games over the weekend as their losing skid continued.

On Friday the Lions hosted Gananoque and didn't fair so well, as the visitors came away with a 7-3 win. There was no game sheet available for this game.

On Sunday Morrisburg travelled to South Grenville to face off against the Rangers and came up one short as they lost 6-5.

Morrisburg was first to the score board when Chris McLeod netted one with assists going to Jamie Hyndman and Rob Darling.

The Rangers tied it up only three minutes later to head into the second period tied at one apiece.

The Lions pulled ahead in the second as Les Haggett put one by the Rangers' netminder, assisted by Jeff Hyndman. Just a few seconds later South Grenville tied it up again, not allowing Morrisburg to build any momentum.

The Lions scored again when Chris Proulx got one, assisted by James Cooper and Wayne Disotell.

Then South Grenville made their move and scored three quick goals pulling ahead of the Lions by a score of 5-3. With a little over one minute to go in the second period Morrisburg pulled within one when Jeff Hyndman bulged the twine, with assists going to Jason Santamore and James Cooper.

The Rangers made it 6-4 half way through the third and that would be all they needed to tame the Lions. Morrisburg went on to score one more as Hyndman got his second of the night, assisted by Cooper and Haggett.

The Lions next game is Saturday, January 18, in Char-Lan and then on Sunday, January 19, they host Winchester at 2:15 p.m. So come out and see the Lions ground the Hawks.

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg PeeWee B Lions Were in a tournament over the weekend and came out with an impressive "B" championship.

In the the second game the boys came out with vengeance on their minds and came out on top, of Canton 5-4.

Morrisburg was first to the score board when Tony Barkley bulged the twine with helpers going to James Morrell.

Then less than one minute later Morrell netted one of his own, unassisted. To end the first period Bruce Lewis put one past the Canton netminder, unassisted. Making the game 3-0 heading into the second period.

Canton netted two in the second period to come within one of the roaring Lions. Then in the third they tied it up threatening to oust Morrisburg from the Tournament.

The Lions would not crumble under the pressure and Bruce Lewis scored his second of the game, unassisted, taking the lead again.

Canton, with one last attempt, tied it up with only a little under three minutes to go in the game. Just twenty seconds later Tony Barkley scored the winner, unassisted. That would make the game 5-4 and the Lions advanced to the finals.

The Lions would face North Dundas in the "B" finals and it looked as if they might lose this one.

At 5:49 Stefan Barkley netted one, assisted by Bruce Lewis. Then three minutes later Robert Scott would tie the game at two apiece.

On January 8, Morrisburg Whites hosted the Blues for a fast paced end to end game where the Blues came out ahead by a score of 6-2.

Matt Schwerdtfeger led the Blues attack with a hat trick. Other goals came from Phifer, Irven and Andrew Cassell, while the assists went to Matt VanMoorsel, Matt Pepers, Phifer, Irven and Andrew Peters.

Just Another Day

Laurie Day

It's a mind thing, really. You can't get 'good luck' from a piece of paper that's been photocopied so many times you can't even read it.

And you can't receive 'bad luck' if you don't pass this piece of paper along to 15,000 other people so they, too, can have 'good luck'.

Unbelievable.

Otherwise intelligent people go absolutely bonkers when they receive a chain letter in the mail which promises good luck if sent to 20 people within 96 hours.

The most recent one I received stated...Expect a Miracle...St. Jude...This paper has been sent to your for good luck...

And on and on and on.

Half way down the page it tells me that it must leave my hands within 96 hours (no problem, it went right in the garbage as soon as I had my morning coffee and a laugh) to ensure good luck.

BUT, if I don't pass it along to my friends, I could end up like 'Davan Fairchild who died nine days later because he didn't do anything with the letter.'

But this letter failed to say how he had a coronary from eating too many fried foods and that he was a walking time bomb. It also failed to mention that he was 125 years old!

People!!! Wake up! It's a chain letter. Throw it out!

Not all chain letters promise luck though. I've received my share of these as well. Some promise wealth if you send $20 bucks (by the way, this one is illegal, so call the police...no kidding).

I got a letter one time telling me to send my husband to the lady on the top of the list. By the time my name was on the top, I'd have about 2,300 men. What an interesting concept!

Another one promised a truck load of tea towels, and my cousin sent me one where I could get all the new underwear (believe it) I needed for the rest of my life.

I even got one with a lottery ticket in the envelope—which I won five bucks on by the way. Hey, I wasn't stupid. I wasn't about to throw away a perfectly good lottery ticket!

We all make our own luck.

Or fate, or destiny.

It's not in the cards, on a lottery ticket (although sometimes it is) or found on a piece of photocopied paper.

Do me a huge favor.

The next time you get one of these chain letters, do the following: read it, laugh at it, and take that giant leap off the bridge, cuz you're gonna die anyway... no just kidding.

Throw the stupid thing in the garbage!

There's no sense of getting all worked up about nothing.

That's all it is.

Nothing. It's not worth the trouble, or the paper it's written on.

Bantams shut down opposition

MORRISBURG—The Bantam B Lions shut down South Grenville 5-0 in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League play here on Wednesday night.

Coach Jim Notman was pleased with the help he received from affiliated players James Morrell and Stefan Barkley, as each contributed to the win.

Robert Hamelin was strong between the pipes, posting the shutout victory.

After a scoreless first period, the Lions got their first marker in the second as Bobby Bird found the twine. He was helped out by Corey French on the goal which came at 13:30 of the period.

In the third, the Lions added three unanswered insurance markers for the win, as goals were scored by Morrell, Greg Millard and French.

Assisting in the final period were Stefan Barkley, Millard, Robert Annable, Bartt Notman and Scott Barkley.

Novice Bs still perfect

ATHENS—The Morrisburg Novice B Lions were in Athens on January 3rd, where they won the B championship, after claiming a 6-1 victory over South Grenville.

The Lions dropped their first game of the tournament to Gananoque by a 2-1 score.

Kent Nugent had the only goal for the Morrisburg team in this game, and he was helped out by Brandon Van Allen and Nick Whelan at 3:02 of the second period.

Atom Blls busy with wins

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Atom BII Lions have had a busy Christmas schedule with four league games played since December 21st, and they have even seen action in two tournaments.

On December 21st, the Lions hosted South Grenville and skated to an 8-1 upset.

Morrisburg's points came from Kyle Jarvis, Jamie Hess, Ben Baker, and Justin Elliot with two each.

Richard Banford had a hat trick and one helper, and Curtis Whitteker picked up four points.

Single points came from Travis Baldwin, Jamie Byvelds and Josh McElheran.

South Grenville got its lone marker from David Thornhill and Ryan Davey and Chris Hoogeveen assisted.

The next day, another victory was chalked up by The Lions as they won 6-2 over Athens.

The team was led by Justin Elliott with four goals and two assists. Other team members helping out were Kyle Jarvis and BAnford with two points each, Byvelds, Hess and Baldwin with one point each.

Morrisburg travelled to Long Sault on December 30 for action in a B Level 1 tournament and were able to advance through three games of hockey to the A division final.

The first game was played against Postdsam and the Lions won a close 4-3 game.

Goals and assists were credited to Baker, Jarvis, Hess, Elliott and two goals from Travis Baldwin, unassisted.

The second game against Hawkesbury saw a more decisive victory with the Lions coming away with a 4-1 victory. This time, points came from Elliott with three, and Banford, Baker, and Jordan MacGregor with one each.

The goal tending was shared by Dan Adams and Matt Dillabough.

Their second tournament day was in Brockville from January 3-5 with Morrisburg advancing to the semi finals.

On January 3rd, they started off the tournament with a 3-2 win over the Cornwall Royals.

Morrisburg counted on the line of Jarvis, Elliott an Banford to tally all three goals, and credit all three players with three points.

Cornwall's two goals came from Andrew Bissonnette and Joel Langlois.

Their second game was a 5-4 win over the Kingston City Cougars.

Morrisburg contingent wins oldest curling trophy

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg curling club sent a team to Richmond to play for the oldest known trophy in amateur curling. They went, they won, they brought the trophy home.

Morrisburg won the Quebec Challenge Cup on Sunday by a margin of 16-11. On January 26, Morrisburg hosts Shawville to play for the Cup again.

This trophy has been the subject of 784 challenges dating back to 1874. Each victor compiles a record of the details of the game in written minutes which travel with the trophy.

The Quebec Challenge involves 38 curling clubs in Ontario and Quebec and is contested every 14 days through the curling season.

The host club caters to the challengers' libations and victuals. It is the longest standing competition in the game of curling in North America.

The members of the winning team are Larry Cooper, Mahlon Locke, Allan Harriman, Keith Barkley, Rick Leroy, Chris Barkley, Robert Delegarde and Allan Brunt.

Congratulations go out to the men involved in winning this holy grail of amateur curling.

The reason this is such a long standing competition is because it is not meant to be competitive, it is for the society of the game. The sole purpose of this competition since the very beginning was to emphasize the social aspect of curling. Keeping it on that level is why the Quebec Challenge Cup is so venerable.

Winners of the Quebec Challenge Cup
These members of the Morrisburg Curling club won the oldest trophy played for in amateur curling in North America. Team members are Allan Harriman, Keith Barkley, Rick Leroy, Robert Delegarde, Allan Brunt and absent from the picture are Larry Cooper, Mahlon Locke and Chris Barkley.

SNC has new look

The South Nation Conservation (SNC) has got a new look. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the organization, and South Nation directors approved a new name and logo for the Conservation agency.

SNC remains dedicated to its vision of improved water quality for a healthy ecosystem.

The name has changed, removing "Authority" from South Nation Conservation. This change lets the public know that the ability to manage a variety of natural resources is not derived from rules and regulations. It comes from co-operation with residents, landowners, and all levels of government. The "Authority" of South Nation Conservation comes from the people of the watershed.

"River" is also omitted, as the SNC mandate expands to include other projects such as community conservation, and forest management. These activities benefit the health of the River as much as a cleanup day, or streambank erosion control. SNC is not just the River itself, but the entire 3,900 km^2 watershed.

"It's a reflection of the way we do business today," said Dennis O'Grady, GM of SNC. "We are taking a facilitator's role toward conservation, encouraging cooperation between all people and organizations with a stake in the watershed."

The familiar pine tree logo is updated, symbolizing plants and wildlife, land and water—natural resources that SNC manages.

"There has always been a need for one group to speak on behalf of conservation across the watershed," noted Denis Perrault, chairman of the SNC Board of directors, whose farm is on the Bear Brook. "Residents set the priorities, and SNC manages the watershed with that input. We have 50 successful years behind us and look forward to another 50."

Watch for events throughout 1997 celebrating 50 years of South Nation Conservation.

Seaway This Week

BY SARAH-JANE WHITTAKER

The past few weeks have seen a great deal of Seaway student achievement.

First, OAC student Dawn Tibben was a winner of the Marion Drysdale Award. This contest is open to Ontario public secondary students who must submit their opinions concerning the role of youth in the future. Dawn was the winner in the advanced essay /poem category, which was one of nine possible awards.

Second, Gr. 11 student Tracy Shaver was part of a national broadcast last Sunday. As a group assigned in his Media Tech class, Mr. Jim Millard asked his students to create video editorials for YTV News. Tracy's performance of this group's editorial, which criticized the business industry for their distrust of young consumers and fear of shoplifting, was aired on Sunday night. Congratulations to both students for their outstanding achievement.

Seaway will host the first of two School Reach tournaments featuring six high school competitors on February 13. At present, team members Natalie Patterson, Alex Chan, Robert Miller, Scott Hasson, Rhonda Kuz, and coach Mr. Ross Price, are practicing for their first game on January 17th at South Grenville. Good luck!
