Suspicious fire count climbs

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Two more fires in Dundas County, one on St. Lawrence Street in Winchester, the other on a Deeks Road farm near Morrisburg, have area residents concerned that an arsonist is on the loose, but the OPP maintains that they are currently not on the hunt for one suspect.

"We have investigators on the cases full-time," said Sgt. Kristine Rae of the OPP East Region headquarters, noting that each fire is still being handled as a separate case. "Right now, we can't link any of them together."

Blazes not officially linked

Police crime scene tape still remains on Terry Wagner's recently purchased home on County Road 38 (St. Lawrence Street) as SD&G OPP continue investigating a suspicious fire that was reported at approximately 10:30 pm on Tues., Oct. 3.

"As far as we know it's arson," Wagner told the Press on Tues., Oct. 10, noting that two buildings on the property — the home and the barn — were involved, that there was no wind, and that the fire in the house started in the basement.

Wagner was in Toronto on business when the fire occurred, and took a flight home as soon as possible. Because of heavy fog, however, the pilot could not land the plane and was forced to head back to Toronto.

"I was livid," Wagner said, noting that he made it back to Winchester at about 10:30 am the following morning (Wed., Oct. 4). "There's not too much you can do."

The Winchester Fire Department responded to the fire on Tuesday night, as did the OPP and the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office, which is continuing its investigation. No one was injured in the fire. The residence was being renovated and the barn was not in use.

"The reno process has come to a complete halt," Wagner said, noting that he is currently dealing with insurance and waiting for the investigation to be complete. At this point, he said he's not sure whether the house will be a complete re-build or just extensive renovations inside. He had received the keys to the property just five days before the fire occurred.

In the Morrisburg fire, at 12105 Deeks Road, an equipment shed was completely destroyed. Tractors began exploding at about 12:30 am on Sun., Oct. 8, and awoke homeowner Peter Venema. The Ontario Fire Marshall's office is investigating. A damage cost estimate was not available at press time. This is the second fire on the Venema property in the last year — in November 2005, investigators couldn't determine the cause of a hay barn fire on the property.

The Morrisburg fire is number 16 on the list of fires in the area since June, 15 of which have been labelled "suspicious in nature."

"The Fire Marshall has not advised us whether it's suspicious or not," Rae said of the Venema case.

Even though Wagner's house and barn were 15th on the list, he said he feels the OPP is doing their job.

"Obviously they're doing what they can," he said. "They're doing their best, I think."

He said that on the night of the fire, his brother Jason had been working on the house until about 9:30 pm before returning home. The house was on fire less than an hour later.

"He must have been sitting there watching," Wagner said about the suspected arsonist. "Pretty sneaky; pretty sly. It's crazy."

At the scene

New pediatrician for North Dundas

WDMH to team up with CHEO for strategic diabetes, obesity partnership

by Bonnie James
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The North Dundas medical community welcomed a new pediatrician when Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) and the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario (CHEO) announced a strategic partnership on Wed., Oct. 4.

Dr. Radmila Jovanovic will work out of WDMH two days a week, providing a clinic dealing with the specific childhood health issues of juvenile type II diabetes and obesity. She will also work with the Nation River Medical Centre two days a week (one day in Chesterville and one day in Winchester) to provide general pediatric services.

"Recently, the hospital board ratified the strategic plan which defines our clinical scope – with regard to paediatrics it was agreed that WDMH would limit its scope and focus on childhood obesity and juvenile type II diabetes, as well as support services required to address the needs of our maternal-child program, which we expect will double over the next two years," said hospital CEO Trudy Reid. "This is a unique model as it addresses all levels of care from general paediatrics provided within a family health team, to focused community hospital services, expanding to specialized paediatric services provided by CHEO."

Dr. Jovanovic was trained at CHEO and will maintain an active working relationship with the hospital as she continues to treat her patients there.

"I definitely feel very welcome," said Jovanovic about coming to WDMH and the local community, also noting that she is excited to offer a clinic dealing with childhood obesity and juvenile diabetes. She pointed out that recent statistics show one in four children is either overweight or obese.

Taking steps to raise funds

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Organizers and participants are gearing up for the second annual Dundas County Taking Steps Against Breast Cancer walk, set to take place this Sunday (Oct. 15), beginning and ending at the Winchester Community Centre.

"It's all about banding together as a community and trying to make a difference," said Winchester resident and organizing committee member Christina Enright, who noted that breast cancer touches everyone. "Every little bit helps."

All money raised will go to the Canadian Cancer Society. The walk will begin at 11 am; registration starts at 10 am. Participants who raise a certain amount will be eligible for gifts, however there is no minimum fundraising total to take part.

"The response is looking really good," said SD&G Prescott-Russell Canadian Cancer Society fundraising co-ordinator Sharyn Duffey, noting that they hope to double the number of participants in last year's walk, which raised $4,000.

"There's no set goal for fundraising," Duffey said, noting, however, that they hope to see more funds raised than last year — "even if it's just $1 more." Participants don't have to pre register — they can show up at the community centre on the day of the walk.

Walkers will leave the community centre and weave throughout the village on a five-kilometre route. When the walk is complete, wrap-up events at the community centre will include lunch sponsored by local businesses, local entertainment, and presentation of awards, gifts, and door prizes to participants.

The 10-member organizing committee has been preparing for the event since May.

"The main thing is to raise awareness, and raise funds for breast cancer research because it affects so many women and their families right here in this area," said Duffey.

On Common Ground art tour this weekend

WINCHESTER — The 13th annual On Common Ground Studio Tour takes place this weekend (Oct. 14 and 15) around Dundas County. The tour features local artisans, and some guests, demonstrating their crafts.

"I just wanted to have something in the neighbourhood, to show my neighbours what it is that I do," said tour originator Janet Whittam about how the event began. "It's been just amazing to me over the years what a real wealth of talent there is here."

This year's tour includes 14 artists at seven stops over a 21-kilometre route. The studios are open from 10 am to 5 pm. Visitors will see painting, sculpture, stained glass, woodwork, photography, weaving, pottery, and more. The tour also includes a refreshment stop at The Laughing Wren restaurant in South Mountain.

"I think people might be surprised by the quality of the artwork and the variety," said Ginny Moore, photographer and owner of The Laughing Wren, about the tour.

She noted that her restaurant will be offering a menu of soups and main courses.

"And I've got quite a selection of desserts," she added.

For a printable map and more information, visit www.ocgstudiotour.ca.

"I think people like the tour because it's a day to get out and explore the neighbourhood," said Whittam. "Down the long driveways and behind the shrubbery there are a lot of interesting people living and working."

Pediatrician

She explained that she has a personal interest, having been an overweight child herself. She added that treatment of obese children is effective.

"Children are more receptive to positive reinforcement," she said.

She said that she is also looking forward to assisting local physicians with other pediatric issues.

Dr. Fawzi Mankal and WDMH chief of staff Dr. Gerry Rosenquist were two of the doctors that spoke at a press conference about the benefits of having Jovanovic available in the community.

Rosenquist pointed out the benefit of having such a strong link with children's hospital.

"If you know the system, you can get them (patients) there (to CHEO) a lot faster than if you're going in green," he said.

Mankal noted that Jovanovic's expertise with pediatric issues will be a boon to local physicians.

"It truly will help keep our children healthy," he said.

The strategic partnership between WDMH and CHEO will present unique opportunities for consultation and treatment and the opportunity for collaborative research projects.

"This will serve as a template for how things should be done in the future," said Dr. Joe Reisman, chair of the pediatrics department at CHEO, explaining that teaching hospitals, like CHEO, have been kept in silos with not enough links to the surrounding communities. "I think Winchester is really breaking ground here."

Reid noted that WDMH has a long history of teaching and conducting research, and that the formalized partnership with CHEO simply adds to those existing strengths. She indicated that the hospital will form other partnerships in the future as it positions itself within the Champlain LHIN (Local Health Integration Network).

"These kind of announcements will become more frequent [as the hospital follows through with its strategic plan]," said Reid.

Local chapter of Fair Vote Canada to hold information meeting in Morrisburg

MORRISBURG — Elaine Kennedy, president of the interim executive of the SDGG chapter of Fair Vote Canada, has announced that the local chapter will hold an information meeting and an annual general meeting on Wed., Oct. 25 at 7:30 pm at the Operating Engineers Training Institute in Morrisburg.

Fair Vote Canada is a national organization of concerned citizens from all regions, all walks of life, and all points on the political spectrum who are working for a fair voting system in Canada at the federal and provincial levels of government.

"The local chapter, which was established on Aug. 6 of this year, now has 50 members and is still growing," said Kennedy.

The AGM will elect a permanent executive and discuss a plan of action for outreach, public education, and awareness.

"The information session, prior to the AGM, will feature former Cornwall resident Kelly Burke, who is serving as the senior advisor and legal counsel to the chair of the Ontario Citizens Assembly, which has been formed by the Ontario government to study Ontario's electoral system," said Kennedy. "Burke will discuss the workings of the Ontario Citizens Assembly."

Also participating in the information session will be Peter Black, a member of the National Council of Fair Vote Canada, who will explain the defects of the present voting system and elaborate on the benefits of a voting system based on proportional representation.

"With the Citizens Assembly process, Ontarians now have the opportunity to adopt a fairer and better way of electing our representatives at Queen's Park," said Kennedy. "With proportional representation, we will have a more representative, diverse legislature and a more accountable government. When we make every vote count, we will also revitalize voter turnout and achieve a stronger democracy."

Kennedy urged local residents to get involved in the electoral reform debate and to join the local chapter of Fair Vote Canada by calling 613-936-2240 or 613-933-8353. She also invited all interested residents to attend the information meeting and the AGM of Fair Vote Canada's SDGG chapter on Oct. 25 in Morrisburg.

"We have the unique opportunity to be a part of history in the making," she said.

Stalled park development leaves stakeholders in the lurch

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — The proposal to develop Crysler Park in South Dundas is a "second chance for the township," according to Rod MacDonald, owner of area restaurant Apple Betty's and president of Lumac Development Corp. He was at the regular meeting of council on Tues., Oct. 3 to offer his ideas and input about the park development.

"What I'm proposing to do is put together a committee formed of constituents most impacted by tourism," he explained. "We've got to make a game plan: 'Here's what we think we can accomplish in this community.' 'What is the exact economic impact and windfall?'"

MacDonald proposed raising a minimum of $200,000 — up to $250,000 — including $10,000 to $20,000 from council.

"But the upside would be tens of thousands — at least," MacDonald said. "I've canvassed businesses in the area, and there's a great deal of support."

MacDonald is looking to get $75,000 from stakeholders and business owners, and then about $25,000 from Community Futures Development Corporation (CFDC).

"James DePater (of CFDC) indicated that if money came from stakeholders, CFDC would 'look favourably on that in terms of funding,'" MacDonald said, noting that the next step would be applying for an OSTAR (Ontario Small Town and Rural Development Initiative) or RED (Rural Economic Development) matching grant.

"The only way to do this is if there's a community effort — it can't just be council; it can't just be the business community," MacDonald said. "One individual whom I spoke with said ... (South Dundas) council has to sign on first. I'm asking you (council) to give this serious consideration. It would be strategic for the community to come forward with a plan and put the ministry in the hot seat."

Lumac was one of the private investors involved in the $150 million investment plan for the park that was announced in summer 2005. The proposal, which included several developments at Crysler Park as well as Upper Canada Village, stated that the first phase of the development — a waterpark and family adventure park — was intended to be complete by spring of 2008. But the development hasn't moved along at the speed anticipated.

MacDonald explained that the situation of developing Crysler Park is currently a similar situation to one that occurred in 1996.

The Ontario Ministry of Tourism footed the bill for a $400,000 feasibility study through the St. Lawrence Parks Commission last November. The feasibility study is now complete and in its final draft. It will soon be presented to Jim Bradley, minister of tourism, for review and planning.

"This time around there's been more attention paid to the development of Crysler Park," he said, noting that 10 years ago, the focus of a similar study was on general economic development in the area.

MacDonald also presented council with a Crossing Boundaries National Council Report that analyzed a number of communities from coast to coast — their similarities were that they'd all lost a major industry or experienced economic misfortune.

"In each situation, they were able to turn it around and reinvent themselves very successfully," MacDonald said, explaining that the conclusion of the report stated that success comes from teamwork, and combining all groups within a 10 to 20-member committee of stakeholders, weighted toward the business community.

"There's no overlap," MacDonald said. " You analyze, make a plan, and implement it."

Public opinion makes the Ontario government in Toronto tick, according to MacDonald, and he said that right now, it would be timely to coordinate efforts with townships and evaluate tourism options, especially because current MPP Jim Brownell is assistant to the minister of tourism.

"I've got skin in this game — a lot of time and investment into trying to create an atmosphere for tourism and development in this area," MacDonald said. "We're prepared to make the commitment to carry this through. It's the only way to get this done. But it starts right here."

Council members said they were receptive to the idea, but noted that MacDonald's timing wasn't ideal.

"Unfortunately, the five of us sitting around this table might not be here in a month or two," said Mayor Lyle Van Allen, referring to the upcoming municipal election. "For us to decide on this much money — it would have to be a budgeted item."

MacDonald warned council that putting it off wouldn't be a good action plan. "If we delay this any longer, we're going to lose out," he said referring to proposed tourism development in the Embrun area. "You'd have to look far and wide for a property more conducive to development than Crysler Park — there's 3,000 underutilized acres. It would help to get an answer from council, even if it's not binding in terms of financial side of things."

Councillor Charles Barkley noted that he doesn't have a lot of faith in the Rural Economic Development fund, and said he doesn't know whether the fund will match other monies raised for the committee.

"If the RED program doesn't put it (the money) up, I will find it somewhere else," MacDonald said.

Councillor Bill Ewing said that it sounds like a good idea.

"I wouldn't have a problem supporting it in principal to get things going — on the condition that South Stormont and the City of Cornwall are involved," he said.

CAO Steve Macdonald explained that financially, he doesn't think council could make a commitment at this point — two months away from an election.

"We seem to be duplicating services — we do have an economic advisory committee that's already in motion," said councillor Sandra Bailey.

"This is not an easy undertaking — this is not something that can be duplicated by an economic development committee," MacDonald rebutted.

Van Allen asked if MacDonald would be happy with an agreement in principal.

"Yes," MacDonald responded, and jokingly added "it would be incumbent upon you all to get re-elected so I don't have to ... go through this spiel again."

Council then supported a proposal to participate in a strategic plan committee for tourism in South Dundas.

"Ultimately, it will be the decision of the new council," Barkley reiterated.

Lauzon acclaimed as PC candidate in next election

OTTAWA -- Guy Lauzon, Member of Parliament for Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry, has been acclaimed as the Conservative candidate in the next federal election.

The Sept. 18 deadline for challengers to Lauzon to submit their nomination papers to the party's local nomination committee came and went with no challengers coming forward.

"I'm very pleased that the party has shown such unity and faith in my ability to continue building on the incredible momentum the party has in this riding," said Lauzon. "We have a great team here. I'm looking forward to continuing to work with them to prepare for the next election campaign."

Fred Guse, the president of the Conservative association for the riding, stated, "While the Conservative government wishes to do the business of governing the country, we feel that it is important to be prepared for the possibility of an early election by having good candidates selected in all 308 ridings across Canada. Guy Lauzon certainly meets that criteria in our riding."

MORRISBURG — The Volley for Cancer organizing committee announced the total of this year's donation to the Ottawa Regional Cancer Centre — a whopping $42,000 — on Thurs., Oct. 5 at the McIntosh Country Inn. The total includes $2,275 raised at the live auction, over $6,400 from Chico's Mad Scramble golf tournament, $5,000 from the Bank of Nova Scotia, and more than $100 from the South Dundas Soccer Association.

The 12th annual Volley for Cancer event was held at the Morrisburg waterfront on Sat., Aug. 19.

"The money that is raised will stay right here in our region," said Annie Parker of the Ontario Regional Cancer Foundation, explaining that the donation will be split between patient care, education, new treatment initiatives, equipment, and research. "The energy and time that everyone puts in (to Volley for Cancer) is quite incredible."

Snowbirds won't get break on water rates: SD council

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — The council of the Township of South Dundas has decided not to waive any regulated water charges to constituents leaving the municipality for any length of time.

The decision, made at the Tues., Oct. 3 meeting, was in regard to a delegation made by Gerald Major at the previous council meeting,

Township CAO Steve McDonald noted that current township policy is similar to three neighbouring municipalities, and that Major's request — that he not pay the minimum $15.75 monthly charge for water while he is away — could not be granted unless the township bylaw is amended, requiring a public meeting.

"It's very fortunate that this individual is able to go to Florida for six months of the year, but I think what he's asking is for those who can't afford it to pick up his bill," said Mayor Lyle Van Allen. Councillor Johnny Whitteker said he agreed.

"We have to be careful on any precedent we set," noted township treasurer Lorna Seibert.

While Barkley agreed that council couldn't help in this situation, he said that perhaps some changes need to be made to municipal bylaws in the future. "A lot of policies need to be reviewed by the new council," he said, noting that he disagrees with the $75 charge to turn water on and off, calling it "exorbitant."

Councillor Bill Ewing brought the issue up a second time, noting that the municipality is charging Swank Construction the same $75 charge, plus a 10 per cent administration fee (to a maximum of $150), for every new home in the company's Iroquois subdivision.

"I think it's a little heavy handed," he said, noting there will be 40 houses in the development, and the company has already had to pay for meters and other municipal infrastructure costs.

The township's current policy doesn't differentiate between a water connection at an existing property or a new home being built.

"It's up to council if they want to change the bylaw," noted Seibert. "We just follow it."

Cobalt comprehension

Grade 10 students in the transportation technology course at North Dundas District High School now have the opportunity to get some hands-on experience with a brand new 2006 Chevrolet Cobalt, donated by General Motors Canada. The vehicle was written off when another vehicle backed into its passenger-side door, pushing it into two other vehicles and causing "sidesway" damage. But teacher Andrew Whitton doesn't mind. He said that he and his students have already started to diagnose what was bent in the front end and look at other features of the car — like the aluminum engine construction and solid rear axle. This is one of several donations GM Canada has made to the school over the last few years. Pictured with the new learning tool on Wed., Sept. 27 are: students Ryan Hay (left), Drew Hutt, Matt Havekes, Steph Dallaire, John McGlashan, Upper Canada Motor Sales GM Canada representative Marc Goupil, transportation technology teacher Andrew Whitton, students Stuart Biickert, Taylor Shelp, Teal Gove, Pam Roberts, Nick Burrell, Chris Embury, and Josh Loucks (Sabrina Anderson and Marc Pharand are hiding in the back). Press Photo — Duncan

City to deliver broadband

OTTAWA — City of Ottawa Council has approved a $1 million funding contribution to speed up the delivery of broadband Internet access to all parts of rural Ottawa. The City will move forward with a private-public partnership (P3) to develop the broadband infrastructure needed to reach every rural home, farm, and business by fall 2007.

"As mayor of Canada's farming capital, I'm proud that we will soon be delivering high-speed Internet service to every rural door and community in Ottawa," said Mayor Bob Chiarelli. "This is important for farmers, small businesses, and families in all our rural communities."

In addition, broadband has proven economic benefits for farms and businesses, allowing them to make better marketing decisions, access online production records, and do research before making new purchases.

"Expanding broadband to every rural address was a key priority identified at last fall's Rural Summit," said West-Carleton ward councillor Eli El-Chantiry.

Before 2003, broadband was only available to about two per cent of rural residents and businesses in the Ottawa area. Progress has been made as a result of grass-roots community efforts sponsored by the Ottawa Rural Communities Network (ORCnet), an organization supported by the City and devoted to expanding broadband service in rural areas.

With further investment through an innovative P3 approach the necessary delivery programs and communications towers can be put in place to fill all the gaps currently not serviced. The project is expected to cost up to $3 million, with the City contributing up to $1 million and the private sector partner contributing the remaining capital investment.

25 infantry soldiers needed

Highlanders seek new recruits

CORNWALL — The Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Highlanders, a Canadian Army Reserve unit based in Cornwall, is currently seeking 25 new recruits.

The Highlanders, known locally as the "Glens," is an infantry regiment with a long and distinguished history. The Glens are headquartered in Cornwall, but their members come from throughout Eastern Ontario.

Training for qualified applicants will begin early in the new year, preparing them for a summer-long series of courses that will qualify them as infantry soldiers. After initial training, soldiers can progress to more advanced infantry and leadership training. Soldiers are paid for their time spent training, and are eligible for some health benefits and post secondary education subsidies.

Ladies Aid meets over dinner

by Kathy Spruit

WINCHESTER — The St. Paul's Ladies Aid met on Mon., Oct. 2. A delightful meal was prepared by Jan Clapp and Doris Baker and was enjoyed by all. The meeting opened with a poem read by Jan Clapp about autumn, followed by the singing of the hymn "Count Your Blessings."

Ann Leyenaar led a very thought provoking devotions, titled "Serving as Unto Him," based on the scripture reading Matthew 25:31-40. It reminded us that looking at the world through God's viewpoint will inspire us to look for opportunities to serve and help others.

Roll call was answered by members stating something for which they were thankful.

Following the Mission Sunday Worship Service on Oct. 15 at 10 am, there will be light refreshments served and volunteers were sought to bring muffins and breads. Kathy Spruit talked about Operation Christmas Child and money was donated to Kathy so she could purchase items to fill a shoe box on behalf of Ladies Aid. It was decided that a wreath should be purchased for the cenotaph at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. The singing of "Thank You" closed the meeting.

The silent auction closed at 8 pm and the Ladies Aid thanks the community for its generous support. The funds raised will help offset the cost of repairing the church's front steps.

The next meeting is Mon., Nov. 6 at 7 pm. An advance invitation is issued to ladies for the potluck supper and Christmas Worship Service on Mon., Dec. 4 at 6 pm.

T.R. Leger School cuts ribbon at new location

by Meghan Duncan

WINCHESTER — The Winchester branch of the T.R. Leger school moved to a new location last February, and after a few months of renovations, held its official opening ceremonies on Thurs., Oct. 5.

"It's brighter, safer, and definitely a big improvement," said teacher Kim Lalonde.

The addition of 15 brand new Dell flat-screen computers is also a highlight of the change.

"That was a long overdue upgrade," Lalonde said.

Currently, there are about 40 full and part-time students as well as 20 independent study students. Along with the Grade 12 credit program and the Literacy and Basic Skills course, the school also offers a correspondence program where North Dundas District High School students can carry an extra course to ensure they have enough credits to graduate.

The alternative learning program in the area first began in 1978 when the director of education of the then Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry School Board, T.R. Leger, founded the "A" school. A few years later when he retired, the school board named the alternative schools after him. Subsequently, when the school boards in the area merged to form the Upper Canada District School Board, all alternative learning schools took on the name T.R. Leger. There are currently 25 T.R. Leger learning sites across the Upper Canada district.

East Region principal Frank Hummell noted that there is a 20 per cent increase in enrolment at the Winchester school this year, which he said could be attributed, in part, to the new location — an open concept facility, located beside Terry's Wash Mart on St. Lawrence Street.

He said that the first time he attended the former Winchester campus at the HydroOne building near the Dundas County Food Bank, it was a "bit of an obstacle course" with numerous buckets strategically placed to catch the rain dripping through the roof that was in disrepair.

"I think what we have now is a wonderful facility," Hummell said, noting that he has only heard positive comments from staff and students.

Upper Canada District School Board director of education Dave Thomas was on hand at the opening ceremonies to thank the staff of the school for all the hard work put into the transition.

"We're proud of the T.R. Leger program," he said, noting that one of the reasons he took on his current job with the school board was because of the program. "It's a very important piece of the board. This is a clear statement that we put education first. I think something really good is going to happen here in the next couple of years."

The new site also houses the Winchester Job Zone office, which offers services such as career counselling and help with résumé preparation, to guide and assist individuals to find employment. Job Zone has had a partnership with T.R. Leger school for about 20 years, but has had an office Winchester branch of the school since 1997.

Ambulances being converted to hydrogen fuel

CORNWALL — Cornwall-SD&G Emergency Medical Services and the City of Cornwall have announced that all 14 ambulances in the fleet are being converted to use a new technology called the hydrogen fuel injection system. It will be the first ambulance fleet in Canada using this technology.

The hydrogen fuel injection system is expected have the following benefits: increase paramedic and patient safety by reducing particulate emissions by 60 per cent; reduce engine odours and improve engine power; and increase engine efficiency resulting in 15 per cent fuel savings.

"Cornwall Emergency Medical Services and the City of Cornwall deserve considerable credit for showing such leadership when it comes to adopting environmentally progressive technology," said Canadian Hydrogen Energy Company president Ira Lyons. "Better yet, the City of Cornwall is showing sound fiscal management by installing a technology that is guaranteed to reduce their fuel costs."

The fuel injection system is installed as an add-on to the engines where it significantly reduces combustion emissions while simultaneously reducing fuel consumption.

The technology is based on electrolysis and the unit splits water into hydrogen and oxygen while installed on-board the ambulance. The hydrogen and oxygen are then vented directly into the air intake of the engine, resulting in significant financial and environmental benefits.

Take care out there

This week is Fire Prevention Week across Canada. It's a special week when the public is encouraged to think about fire safety and prevention. That shouldn't be a problem in Dundas County this year.

This past week produced two more fires — one outside of Morrisburg and one right at the edge of the Winchester village limits — to bring the string of "suspicious" blazes in the surrounding area to 16 since June. Fire is on everyone's mind.

While the police have yet to link the blazes, it seems clear that there is at least one arsonist at work in our community. The fires that have been in, or close to houses, and those where livestock were killed may have drawn the most sympathy, but each of these fires has been a traumatic experience for the property owner, emotionally and financially.

The fires have also taken a toll on the community. In fact, if these fires are the work of one person, they are conducting a head-on assault on our rural way of life.

With the region's industrial plant closures and the ongoing farm income crisis, these fires, and the dread they inspire, are an additional worry that could just send some rural people packing. What's the point of struggling to farm if an arsonist can come and ruin your livelihood with the strike of a match?

The problems caused by these fires trickle right down to all sorts of levels. Our local landfill has had an increase in the amount of debris dropped off as property owners go through the fire clean-up process. The township (which is really the taxpayers) may be footing a larger-than-normal fire fighting bill as the number of fires continues to climb.

Local people are rightfully concerned.

Who's next? What can we do to stop it?

The answers might not be clear, but as a community we must step up our vigilance.

The OPP have appealed to the public for information. Let's give it to them. Every detail surrounding these fires, no matter how seemingly insignificant, must be reported.

Let's keep our eyes and ears open. Be a good neighbour and look twice at an unfamiliar vehicle cruising your road or parked in an abnormal location. Property owners must be aware of empty buildings and take steps to secure them.

We can also offer our support to our volunteer firefighters. They are the members of our community that are on the frontline of this problem. We think they're doing a heck of a job and appreciate that they put their lives on the line for the safety of our community.

With the subject of fire on the minds and lips of local residents, we hope they will take the message of Fire Prevention Week to heart. Everyone should make sure they have the proper number of smoke detectors and that they are in working order with fresh batteries. Each household should have a fire escape plan and outside meeting place. Make sure fire extinguishers are accessible and in working order.

A key in this year's message is cooking safely and watching what you heat. More fires start in the kitchen that any other room. Keep a close eye on the stove while cooking, and turn it off if you must leave. Keeping the cooking area tidy — with potholders, ovenmitts, utensils, and towels in their proper places — can also help prevent kitchen fires.

We may not be able to control the acts of an arsonist, but we can control fire prevention within our own homes.

As the fires in our community continue, it becomes more and more likely that a suspect will be caught. We hope it happens before anything more terrible occurs.

Green eggs and Taliban...

From the Other Side
by Jeffrey Morris

And now, Dr. Seuss presents his interpretation of what NDP leader Jack Layton's proposed meeting with the Taliban would be like...

I'm Jack Layton.
Jack Layton I am;
I'm happy to sit down
With the Taliban.

We'll sit here and chat
And Canada will see;
Jihadists are pleasant,
When they sip on some tea.

I can understand why
You hate Canadian ways;
With our freedom of speech,
And our weddings for gays.

My party thinks our soldiers,
Should be keepers of peace;
And not just Canadian
Terrorist beasts.

My party thinks our soldiers
Are terrorist drones;
Mmmmm... these are delicious,
Did your wife make these scones?

You should see my inbox,
Full of crazy e-mails;
Who are we to tell you
To stop torturing females?

And some people in Canada
They think I'm a fool;
But we shouldn't force the Taliban
To let girls go to school.

Back home every Friday,
They say to wear red;
but if I had my way,
Our boys would have fled.

But I say to support them,
I have a good reason;
For if I did not,
They'd arrest me for treason.

And we all know America
Is a threat to humanity;
And George W. Bush
Is driven by insanity.

For he has no faith,
And honour like you;
Even if you knocked down
A twin tower or two.

We should redo the map,
With new boundaries and zoning;
And then we could all go out,
And take in a good stoning.

Together we'll end this
Intolerance from the West;
And like me, they'll see:
Al-Qaeda is the best!

And when we're all done,
I've got an idea:
Let's visit Kim Jong II,
In lovely North Korea.

For they've tested a bomb,
A shining new nuke;
I bet that's enough,
To make George Dubya puke.

I should have offered a gift,
Perhaps a nice goat;
Who's the guy with the knife?
Please don't slit my throat!

I honestly thought
I could get through your hate;
We can still be friends,
Please, let's negotiate!

You might cut off my head,
And perhaps have it burned;
But you been charming hosts,
That's the lesson I've learned.

Letters to the editor on this column will be accepted in Dr. Seuss rhyming couplet format only. No socialists or Al-Qaeda sympathizers were harmed in the making of this column...

This week in...
by Meghan Duncan

1946

T.O. Keys, former reeve of Winchester and the district most enthusiastic gardener, harvested a head of cabbage that tipped the scales at 16.5 pounds.

To the dismay of many in the area who enjoyed watching his shows at fairs throughout Eastern Ontario, Willie Servage of Chesterville announced that he was selling his team of performing horses to Daniel's Greater Shows. The team would be billed as headliners, but might not make it back to Eastern Ontario as often.

1956

Members of Winchester Village council held a special meeting and decided that they would meet with the Ontario Water Resources Commission to discuss the commission's agreements for water and sewage systems. Council was optimistic that with some revision. Council was optimistic that with some revision and changes to guidelines, the village would be able to construct at least a partial sewer system.

The Winchester Legion Auxiliary canvassed the village and managed to raise $250 for the Salvation Army during the annual Red Shield Campaign. The amount was an all-time high for this fund in the village.

1966

Nurses across the counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry had been on strike for four weeks, almost paralyzing the public health system. The SD&G Board of Health had scheduled a meeting with the Public Health Nurses Association to discuss the dispute.

A Williamsburg man went missing between leaving his Boucks Hill home to walk to his son's house in the village. Police — assisted by reinforcements, search dogs, an airplane, and volunteers — combed the area, but never found him.

1976

Lorne Mellan of Brinston had served as public school trustee for the previous 14 years, but decided not to file his nomination papers for the impending municipal election. Mellan said he had no quarrel with the board or its policies, but just wanted to spend more time with his family.

1986

Ault Foods Inc. was fined $5,000 in provincial court for discharge wastewater from its facility into the Annable drain, which flowed into the East Castor River. Though the company had originally plead not guilty, it changed its plea directly prior to the trial. Plant manager Cecil Simpson plead guilty to not informing provincial Ministry of the Environment officials about the situation, and was fined $500. Pollution charges were dropped against waste treatment plant manager Gary Munro, who had plead not guilty.

1996

Tempers flared at Mountain Township Council when two Church Road residents appeared before council with a simple request: that drainage and building inspector Richard Sharkey leave them alone. Sharkey had visited the property in question several times, having received complaints that the area looked like a "salvage yard." The couple said that the municipality had no business on their property. Council resolved the issue by asking the couple to return to council with an update on cleaning progress.

At 10:30 am, two men approached a residence and knocked on the door. When no one answered, they backed a blue Chevy pickup truck to the house and proceeded to kick open the front door. The suspects fled as soon as the owner began to yell at them that the police were on their way. Police had descriptions of the two males. The incident was another in a long list of break and enters that plagued the area. In another incident, the thieves must have been hungry — two cans of soup and a bag of nacho chips were stolen, among other items.

Treena Guy gave the ball a good boot this week in 1996, when the Inkerman Public School Rockets were matched up against Dixon's Corners Public School in the Dundas County Junior Elementary School Girls' soccer championship. Inkerman went on to win the game 1-0, on a goal by Emma Bowie. Nationview won the consolation trophy, blanking Winchester Public 3-0.

Funds for food

Dundas County Food Bank administrator Lorne Doolan (centre) received a fistful of 20s and two handfuls of change from Cheryl Beasley and Bob Forward of the Chesterville Farmers' Market on Sat., Oct. 7. The money, $276.34, came from donations and fundraising efforts at the farmers' market over the summer. Saturday was the last day of the market's regular season and organizers now have their sights set on the second annual Christmas Market, to be held at the Chesterville Legion on Nov. 25. Photo — Barbour

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Snowmobiling in jeopardy?

The Editor:

In an article published in the Sept. 27 edition of the Winchester Press with the above title, there has been some confusion about who exactly is closing down the snowmobile trails. The use of the word "landowner" in this article is referring to those individuals who own the land, not the Stormont Dundas Landowners Association. We would like to clarify that our organization has nothing to do with closing down the trails.

Fire Prevention Week

October 8 to 14, 2006

Kitchen Safety for the Whole Family

Kitchens are the heart of a home, but they're also the most likely place for a fire to start. During Fire Prevention Week 2006, from October 8 to 14, the theme to consider is "Prevent Cooking Fires: Watch What You Heat"!

Even experienced cooks have accidents. Cooking fires are the number one cause of home fires and home fire injuries, and many are preventable. There are many tips to keep the home fires burning and not get burned.

First, when frying, grilling, broiling or boiling food, stay in the kitchen, or turn off the stove if you must leave. Check regularly on simmering, baking or roasting food, and use a timer to remind you when it's finished cooking. Keep sleeves or loose clothing away from gas flames or a red-hot stove element.

Second, a clean and tidy cooking area is one of the best ways to prevent cooking fires. Keep pot holders, oven mitts, wooden utensils, paper, plastic, towels and curtains away from the stove top, and make sure you clean up spilled food and grease.

Finally, pay close attention when younger children are in the kitchen. Establish a three-foot "kid-free zone" around cooking areas. Reduce the risk of burns by using the back burners of a stove, and keeping pot handles turned inwards. Never hold a child while cooking.

Once kids become interested in cooking, their tasks should be age-appropriate - before 9 years, they shouldn't even touch the stove. Let them be the chef's helper. After they're 9, they can turn on burners under the supervision of an adult. At the age of 13, depending on the child of course, they should be independent enough to operate stoves or ovens, or use the microwave.

Reduce Workplace Fire Risks

What is your fire safety plan? People seldom think about fire at work, but it's important to have a plan, and know what it is. What would you do if the fire alarm sounded? Fire Prevention Week, October 8 to 14, is a good time to think about how you would react.

Panicking is one of the worst ways to respond to an alarm, but this can be avoided by being prepared. It's recommended that the layout of an office or work area be designed so that main aisles have a minimum width of 110 cm and provide easy access to exit routes, and so no one travels more than 40 metres to an exit. The floor layout should also be posted on all floors.

Exits should be marked with illuminated signs and be visible from the aisles. Ideally, workplaces have firefighting equipment, including standpipe and hose cabinets, and fire extinguishers, ready to go. Use only stairwells, not elevators, if a fire is suspected.

At least one person, and ideally a group of people, should be in charge of fire safety. Regular fire drills will ensure that people are familiar with procedures, and less likely to panic in an emergency.

Eliminate fire hazards from the workplace. Although most offices are now smoking-free environments, there are other potential fire risks. The condition of electrical wiring and equipment, especially in kitchen areas, and proper storage of flammable and combustible liquids should be monitored. General housekeeping standards should include regular emptying of waste baskets, turning electrical equipment off when not in use, and making sure aisles and doorways are kept free of obstructions.

Council notes from South Dundas

No ditch

WILLIAMSBURG — The United Counties of SD&G will not repair a drainage ditch on County Road 18. South Dundas council discussed the ongoing issue at its Tues., Oct. 3 meeting. The landowner had requested that the problem area — where water sits and doesn't drain — be looked at.

In his report, CAO Steve McDonald noted that county engineer Don McDonald said that the problem was created when the house on the property in question was built, and land west of the house was made into a lawn. The county engineer said that water used to flow south and should flow south, and that "the County is not prepared to contribute chasing outlet easterly."

Steve McDonald said that the township has subsequently asked the Counties if the municipality, at its own expense, could alter the drainage. The township is currently waiting for a response.

"You, as our members, take it to Counties Council," councillor Bill Ewing told Mayor Lyle Van Allen and councillor Johnny Whitteker, noting that it was solely the decision of the engineer, and not Counties Council. "If they (Counties Council) turn it down, then we do something else."

"It might be little to them (Counties), but it's not little," said councillor Charles Barkley.

Hearsay clear-up

"There seems to be some misunderstanding with the public that the municipality is the reason that building is still vacant," said McDonald, noting that there has been speculation that high property taxes and capital costs related to the water plant have been a deterrent in finding a purchaser for the former Caldwell-St. Lawrence Corporation industrial facility in Iroquois. "If there was a potential client, we didn't want that to be the deal breaker. The municipality hasn't put any roadblocks up."

"All those inquiring have also been advised that the capital cost related to the water plant is not set in stone but that the municipality would be willing to discuss the amount with any potential purchaser and would take into consideration what they would bring to the township — such as volume of water used, employment, and property taxes," McDonald wrote in his report to council, noting that matters beyond the township's control have most likely been the deciding factor for potential buyers.

Unmaintained maintenance

A Sullivan Road farmer contacted Barkley requesting a load of stone be placed on the unopened road allowance to make it passible. Most of the road is used for farming-related purposes.

"As far as I was concerned, we weren't to do any maintenance on unopened road allowances," said manager of public works Hugh Garlough. "The only maintenance we've done on those roads since amalgamation has been culvert work (through the drainage budget, not the road budget)."

The roads department did maintenance on Carr Road, also unopened, as per instruction following council's road tour in the spring.

"I think we should drop some stone onto it," offered councillor Johnny Whitteker. "That's my opinion."

Garlough noted, however, that there's a section on the road in question that two or three loads of stone wouldn't help — he said he wouldn't even take his pickup truck back there because it's not four-wheel drive.

"I have not been on it this year, so I won't comment on how bad it is," Garlough said.

Council recommended that the roads department put up to five loads of stone on the road allowance.

Dollar for dollar disappointment

Council received a letter from the South Williamsburg Township Recreation Association (SWTRA) regarding the dollar for dollar proposal, and the association's disappointment that they did not receive funding for the projects in its proposal. The letter stated that the organization's fundraising activities (bingos, lottery tickets) must legally be directed toward charities, and not be used for building maintenance.

"As township residents, we already contribute by taxes to maintain township infrastructure that should be distributed equally to all residents," the letter stated. "As a result of your decision [to not fund all projects requested], we decline the offer of 50 per cent (funding) and request that the township pay for 100 per cent of the handicap washroom upgrades, which is part of provincial government legislation under "Duty to Accommodate," as well as the cost of ceiling repairs and painting."

At a meeting in August, McDonald recommended to council members that they approve four distributions under the Dollar for Dollar Capital Funding program — including $4,277.38 to SWTRA (the organization was to pay the other 50 per cent) to replace ceiling tiles and make the washroom wheelchair accessible. Part of the group's funding request — for painting — did not fall under dollar for dollar regulations as it was deemed maintenance, not capital expenses. McDonald said at the time that he wanted to make it clear that if council members approved the funding, they would set a precedent for the future.

"This is the first I've heard of this," said McDonald at the Oct. 3 meeting, requesting that the issue be deferred until he has a chance to talk with association representatives.

Elvis has left the building...

Elvis impersonator Daniel Burgess entertained residents and visitors during an open house at the Hartford Residence in Morrisburg on Sunday (Oct. 1). Lynn Hill, administrator at the retirement home, said the residence holds several open house events throughout the year, "But we are especially happy today, because we just received approval to begin our planned expansion." New construction will see the addition of 22 one-bedroom apartments. "We currently have 83 residents and we've been operating at 100 per cent capacity for the past two years. There is an increasing demand for self contained units," Hill explained.

Williamsburg WI remembers

by Virgie Kurschinski, public relations officer

WILLIAMSBURG — The Williamsburg Women's Institute, chaired by past president Bette Locke, met for its September meeting at the J.W. MacIntosh Senior Support Centre with 10 members present.

Before the meeting began, all members joined in a moment of silence to honor the memory of Jean Casselman for her many years of active involvement, especially on the Tweedsmuir historical book. Treasurer Doreen Henderson was asked to send a donation to St. Peter's Lutheran Church in memory of Jean.

The roll call showed that the members have been doing their homework — many members could name rivers in the province of Quebec.

Members discussed the bake table at the Williamsburg Fall Harvest Festival. The members were encouraged to support this fundraising event.

Members watched a video on the programs offered at the Chautauqua Institution and saw the beautiful surroundings along Lake Chautauqua in western New York state. This year, the institution celebrated its 132nd year as a centre where education, religion, culture, and recreation are celebrated. During nine weeks in the summer season, each week offers a special theme and well-known lecturers who make presentations.

Religion still plays a very important role in the Chautauqua program, which was founded in 1874 as a training camp for Protestant Sunday School teachers. While still Christian in tradition, it is quite ecumenical in spirit and in practice. The world's largest outdoor pipe organ, donated by the Massey family of Toronto, is an important fixture on the stage of the 6,000-seat amphitheatre. The approximately 7,500 people who reside on the grounds during the nine-week season take great pleasure from the symphony orchestra, the ballet, and theatre companies and the many courses, as well as the recreational opportunities. The variety of accommodation makes Chautauqua accessible for almost everyone to attend this unique place.

Following the meeting, a variety of sandwiches were served by Bette Locke and Muriel Miller.

Marriage Announcement

Heinz and Helena Glaus along with James and Marianne Gannon are happy to announce the marriage of their children Mike Glaus and Sara Gannon.

The wedding took place on Saturday, June 24, 2006 at Trinity Bible Church in Osgoode. Mike and Sara reside in Winchester.

Fiddlers entertain seniors

WINCHESTER — President Dick Giberson welcomed 82 members, seven guests, and eight Dundas Manor residents (with five Manor attendants) to the first meeting after the summer break. The Manor residents were Morton Stobo, Pearl Carkner, Ruth Gibbons, Lyla Pyper, Freda Coons, Hazel McLaren, Marguerite Stewart, and May Thompson. Guests were Lorraine Hutt, Mary and Joe Simmens, Rev. Bruce North, Hugh Coons, J.P. St. Pierre, and Hugh Latimer.

Doris Cross played piano for O Canada and the Lord's Prayer was recited. One minute of silence was observed for lifetime member Dorothy Hatcher, who passed away during the summer. Birthdays and anniversaries were acknowledged.

Card, euchre, bridge, zone rep, choral group, and bus trip reports were heard. Numerous jokes and poems were told and read throughout the meeting. Rev. North said grace before a potluck lunch was enjoyed.

Marlene Faulkner introduced J.P. St. Pierre and Hugh Latimer from the Castor River Valley fiddlers, who entertained the group with lively country music and singalongs. They were thanked by Verla Graham.

Anyone interested in the upcoming bus trips is asked to call Muriel Reoch at 613-774-2338 or Orma Earl at 613-774-2824.

The Golden Years Society is welcoming new members. Call Roberta Giberson at 613-774-4273 for more information.

Mountain Seniors to attend rally

by Huguette Shaver

MOUNTAIN — The Mountain Seniors meeting on Fri., Sept. 27 was opened by president Muriel Milne who welcomed members and guests back from the summer holidays. The national anthem was sung, followed by the recitation of the Lord's Prayer. A moment of silence was observed for Hilda Kirby who left us in early August. The minutes of last June's meeting were read by Evelyn Francis and approved as is.

Treasurer Mavis Graham submitted her report and reminded us that our annual dues should be paid soon. The kitchen report was read by Irene Crowder, who has relinquished some of her duties to Nancy Rodger as she has been doing this for over 15 years. We will always remember her economical shopping habits. The cards report was read by Huguette Shaver.

The next euchre will be held Oct. 16 at the Mountain Community Hall at 1 pm sharp.

We saluted Judd Imrie on his 90th birthday, celebrated in the summer.

The president gave us a report on the recent United Senior Citizens of Ontario (USCO) convention held in Kitchener under the banner of Health and Wellness, with highlights on Elder Abuse, which is growing rapidly. Depression was another matter that was discussed and it was indicated that we should become more active in our golden years.

We were treated to a wonderful potluck lunch made by our members and served by our monthly organizing team. Our Christmas luncheon will be held at the Mountain Community Hall on Dec., 13 at noon. The cost is $10 for members and $12 for non-members.

The next meeting will be held in Ingleside on Oct. 25 at noon as it is the Eastern Ontario USCO rally. If you wish transportation, please mention it to Muriel Milne when she contacts you on or before Oct. 22. The cost is $5 per person.

We'll return to the Mountain Community Hall on Nov. 29 for our next monthly meeting at 11:30 am.

CANADA update

METCALFE — The annual 4-H Regional Championship Steer and Lamb Auction was held on Sat., Sept. 30 at the Metcalfe Fair. There were 13 steers and 24 lambs auctioned by Stewart James and Carson Hill. The auction was the culmination of 4-H members' time and dedication in raising, training, and showing their animals this year.

The Champion Steer, shown by Stewart James Jr. of Russell, was sold to Southbank Dodge Chrysler of Ottawa for $6.25 per pound (the steer weighed 1,240 pounds). James donated $500 from the proceeds to the Loaves and Fishes Mission in Ottawa.

The Reserve Champion Steer, shown by Tyler Foubert of Vernon, was sold to the Red Dot Café in Osgoode for $3.25 per pound (the steer weighed 1,355 pounds).

The average selling price for steers at the auction was $2.95 (excluding champions). The average selling price for lambs was $6.29 (excluding champions). Several lambs were donated to the Township of Osgoode Care Centre and Ottawa Heart Institute.

4-H members donate one per cent of their selling price to the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario (CHEO) — over $13,000 since 1988.

Jim Sutherland (left) travelled from Douglas, Ont. for Weagant Farm Supplies' annual field day demonstration on Wed., Oct. 4. Here, he is shown with sales representative Chuck Preston and a Wilrich combination chisel plow-subsoiler. Sutherland has been a Weagant customer for about 30 years.

Weagant Farm Supplies sales manager Ault Van Bokhorst (centre) braved the rain to speak with Leo (left) and Jim Van Haren of Vernon at the company's annual field day demonstration on Wed., Oct. 4. The three were checking out the Great Plains Turbotill 1200, a vertical tillage tool that minimizes compaction. There were about 40 pieces of equipment set up for demonstration in the soggy field across from Weagant's County Road 43 dealership. Van Bokhorst said it was a great way to highlight the full spectrum of tillage tools and tractors the company offers. "Equipment is expensive, but we try to make it as efficient as possible," he said. "Commodity prices are low so the farmer has to be more and more efficient all the time — minimal passes over a field to get a maximum yield."

4-H Animal Club heads to the track

by Kaitlyn Wade

WINCHESTER — The first meeting of the Dundas 4-H Animal Club was held on Fri., Sept. 22 at Eunice and Don Johnston's house (The Other Place Miniature Horses Bed and Breakfast). The Johnstons were very hospitable. They taught us about miniature horses, including feeding, grooming, and breeding.

After we talked, we hooked up Tick Tack (a miniature horse) to the cart. Kristi Sloane drove us around the track, but the most fun part was when we drove Tick Tack around the track by ourselves. We then took the horse into the barn. After the miniature horse was back in her stall, we played with the other horses, which were all very gentle.

We thanked the Johnstons for letting us come to their farm and we said the 4-H pledge. After the pledge we held elections. Everybody had a wonderful time. The next meeting will be Oct. 16 at 2:30 pm at the Vanderlaans. Again, I would like to thank The Other Place Bed and Breakfast for their help!

About Taking Steps Against Breast Cancer - 2006

Join us for the Canadian Cancer Society Taking Steps Against Breast Cancer, a leisurely 5 to 10 kilometre, non-competitive, pledge-based walk, taking place during the fall in communities across Ontario. This family-friendly, fun-filled event raises money to fund important breast cancer research and is a wonderful way to celebrate survivors in your community and remember those who have lost their lives to the disease.

If it hasn't already, breast cancer will touch you or someone you know. In Canada, over 21,000 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer this year. In fact, one in nine Canadian women will be diagnosed with breast cancer in her lifetime. But breast cancer is not just a woman's disease. It touches spouses, partners, children, parents, siblings, friends and co-workers.

- It's about rallying together in the fight against breast cancer.
- It's about doing something for yourself and the ones you love.
- It's about survival.
- It's about friends, family, fundraising and fun!

Matthies sisters lead Junior Devils to victory

Brittany Beckstead (No. 44) is one of the first-year players on the North Dundas Junior Devils. She drained four points in the 40-10 victory against the Russell T-Wolves.

MAPLE RIDGE — Laurena and Jessica Matthies put on a sister act leading the North Dundas Junior Devils to a 40-10 victory over the visiting Russell Timber Wolves.

The South Mountain siblings each drained three buckets in the first half of the SD&G girls high school basketball game at NDDHS on Oct.4. Laurena then hit for a pair of foul shots and a field goal in the second half while her sister swished a pair of deuces. Their production totalled 20 points (10 each) and was half of their team's 40 in a 40-10 victory.

The win was the second straight for Jevon Groves' squad and improved their record to 2-1-0. They have outscored the opposition 98-22 in those wins and are 114-74 in three games.

North Dundas led 24-2 at the half and 28-4 at the three-quarter mark.

"We took the press off and just used the fast break when it was there," commented coach Groves. "We fell back and played pretty good defence. They (Russell) just got one basket in the first half and just 10 points, which was a pretty good day for the girls."

In addition to the 20 points produced by the Matthies sisters, the Devils got four each from Jenna Wouters, Brittany Beckstead and Alicia Summers. Kaitlin Hay, Carly Crump and Dara Bowie each dumped in a deuce.

North Dundas will take on the General Vanier Vikings on their home hardwood tomorrow (Thurs., Oct. 12) as they look to extend their win string to 3-1.

SENIOR SHINE

In the other half of the Wednesday afternoon twin bill the Senior Devils ran their win string to two, running to a 52-9 win over the Russell T-Wolves.

Peter Onstein's crew is now 2-1 heading into tomorrow's (Oct. 12) meeting with the powerful CCVS Golden Raiders. The Devils put together a 98-22 point differential in their two wins and sport a three-game mark of 114-77.

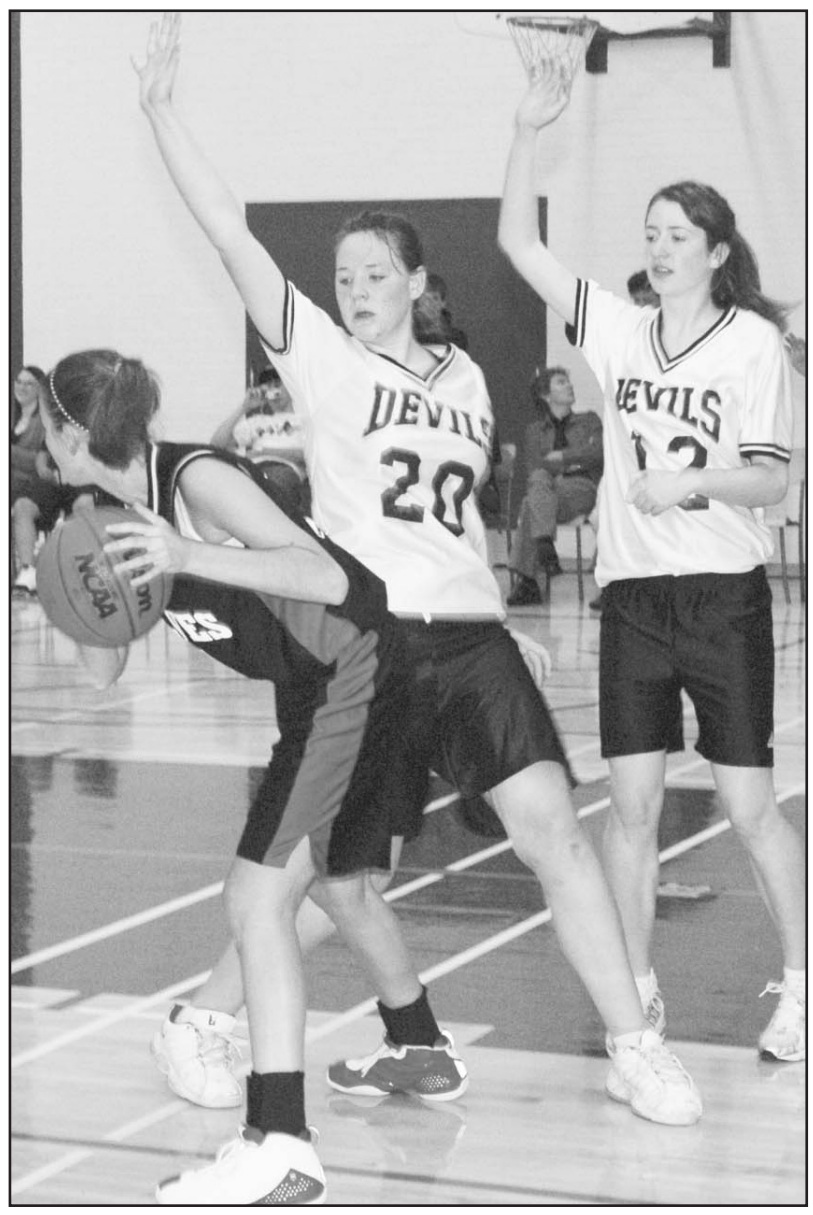
Coach Onstein remarked that the score didn't reflect the way the game was played saying, "Russell is a young team that played hard and showed a lot of heart. But the ball just won't go in for them."

At the same time he praised his team.

"I was pleased with our girls' play. They really tried to work the ball in low to our post players like Sarah Eastman and Lauren Casselman," he said.

"My guards have a tendency to dribble down and shoot, which provided a good opportunity to slow down the tempo and give the ball to our rebounders who often don't get a lot of glory," he added.

Kelsey Hilborn and Eastman led the point production with 10 each. Clara dePaiva, Andrea Jose and Christine Stewart all nailed eight. Rebecca Bowie swished four to complete the scoring.



Jessica Matthies (No. 20) and teammate Jenna Wouters (No. 12) provided defensive zone coverage on a Russell forward during the Junior Devils 40-10 win on Oct. 4. The North Dundas defence gave up just two points in the first half.

Devils dominate SD&G tourney

ALEXANDRIA — It was a fall cleaning at Glengarry District High School as the North Dundas Devils swept up all 12 sets in an SD&G boys high school regular-season volleyball tournament.

Cheryl Williams and her Senior Devils whitewashed the Glengarry Gaels 3-0 (25-14, 25-11, 25-16) and finished the afternoon's sked with a 3-0 win over the Char-Lan Crusaders (25-7, 25-15, 25-18).

Coach Williams reported strong serving provided by both veteran Tyler Fawcett and rookie Nolan Winter was key to a very successful outing. She also noted Braden McNeil and Marc Melenhorst were injured and knocked out of action.

With six more wins figured in, the Devils now sport an 11-1 record.

JUNIOR DEVILS

North Dundas' Junior Devils matched their elders' efforts on the hardwood, whitewashing the little Gaels 3-0 (25-6, 25-18, 25-20) and the Crusaders 3-0 (25-7 25-10, 25-6).

"We only missed four serves in the second game and recorded 12 aces," explained coach Ian Wilson.

Their day's work improved the Devils' record to 11 wins and one loss.

"The boys keep on improving and are on a roll so far this season," added the coach.

Koekkoek top Devil at TISS cross-country meet

BROCKVILLE — Madison Koekkoek, taking part in her first high school cross-country competition, finished 22nd in a field of 147 midget-aged runners at the 2006 TISS Pirates Cross-Country Invitational Meet.

The Inkerman runner covered what was described by participants as a gruelling course in a time of 15:57. The next best finish turned in by an athlete wearing North Dundas colours was a 42nd by Natalie Gibson who ran against 122 other junior girls in the Oct. 4 event.

Those results indicate just how stiff the competition was for the North Dundas District High School Devils who took part in the meet which attracted 1,200 runners from 57 Ontario schools.

"I have always said the TISS meet is the toughest," offered North Dundas coach Julie Green. "The best runners in the province are there which made it a real challenge for a young team like ours. Not only that, they changed the course this year and made it even tougher."

Perhaps the best indication of just how deep the talent pool were in the results turned in by the host TISS senior boys, a team that includes four provincial champions. Matt Leader is one of those champions and he shattered the senior boys record of 22:27 winning the seven-kilometre run in 22:17.91. He was a minute faster than his nearest competition.

Green is rebuilding the Devils because she has just three people returning to run cross-country this fall — first-year juniors Natalie Gibson and Dara Bowie and first-year senior Jenna Simms.

"Madison (Koekkoek) did a remarkable job. Because the kids are so young, I think we should have a competitive team for a couple of years," said the coach. "But the team still need more boys, we just don't have the numbers."

This week, the Devils will take part in a preview run at the EOSSAA course in Cobden and on Fri., Oct. 20 they will compete for the 2006 SD&G championship at Gray's Creek, east of Cornwall.

Hawks hot! Knock off Wolves, Lions, 73s to share top spot

WINCHESTER — It is still early but the Winchester Hawks seemed to be hitting their stride and finding the back of the opposition's net.

Winchester head coach Todd Marcellus remarked just prior to his squad's recent three-game slate, crammed into four days, that the upcoming week would be a tough test.

Three wins and an improved Rideau - St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League record of 5-1-0-0 indicates to the coach that his troops passed that test.

The latest three-game sked started on Cornwall Island last Wednesday (Oct. 4) where the Hawks struggled a bit, but pulled off a 7-5 victory over the Akwesasne Wolves. Friday (Oct. 6) Winchester exploded out of the gate in the Lions den in Morrisburg and recorded a resounding 10-4 verdict. Saturday (Oct. 8), in their own barn, the Hawks played what Marcellus described as their best team effort yet and clipped the Kemptville 73s 6-2.

When asked to comment on his team's recent success Marcellus said, "I don't know what has happened other than to say they (players) have started to listen to Dale (Murdoch) and myself. We played well enough to beat Akwesasne and then played much better in Morrisburg. Our powerplay was really working, we had six goals on the PP," offered the coach. "But Saturday they played even better. It was a complete team victory — everyone contributed."

Marcellus points to Friday's (Oct. 13) home game against the Alexandria Glens as the next big test. The Glens (4-0-0-2) have matched the Hawks' 10 points and are the only team to have beaten them, and that was a decisive 8-1 drubbing in Alexandria on Sept. 29.

"Another big test for us. Alexandria is a real good team. They are fast and move the puck very well," he said.

In the other half of their weekend schedule, the Hawks will go to Williamstown on Sunday (Oct. 15) for a 2:15 pm matinee with the Char-Lan Rebels.

Ben Collins – 10 goals

HAWKS 7 - WOLVES 5

Colin Bowie scored three times, including twice in the final 12:47 of the game to lift the Hawks to their second consecutive win over the Akwesasne Wolves.

Winchester led 4-2 after 20 minutes but trailed 5-4 in the second until Ben Collins scored from Steve Cameron to send them into the third tied 5-5.

"It wasn't pretty, but we will take the two points," remarked assistant coach Murdoch. "It was too close. We are trying to get through to the guys that they just can't show up and get two points. They have to work for it."

Bowie (3), Collins (2), Cameron and Chris Thompson bagged the goals. Cameron (3), Collins (2), Bowie and Geoff Winchester drew the assists.

Douvris' OT goal snaps Jets' losing string

OTTAWA — Veteran defender Nick Douvris cracked in an unassisted shot with 3:07 left in overtime and lifted the Metcalfe Jets to their second victory in five Metro - Valley Junior "B" Hockey League games.

Saturday's (Oct. 7) victory put the brakes on a three-game losing skid the Jets had been in and gave them a record of 2-3-0-0 and four points in the Metro Division standings. The Clarence Creek Beavers (2-4-0-0) and Ottawa West Golden Knights (2-4-0-0) have also earned four points, but have one more loss than the Jets. The Gatineau Mustangs (6-1-0-0) lead the standings with 12 points. The South Ottawa Canadians (3-1-0-1) stand alone in second with seven.

This week the Jets will finally play a game at the Larry Robinson Arena as they host the Carleton Place Kings in their home opener on Fri., Oct. 13 at 8:15 pm. Sunday (Oct. 15) they travel to Clarence Creek to challenge the Beavers on their pond at 2:15 pm.

MUSTANGS 10 - JETS 5

Metcalfe's losing string was stretched to three games with a 10-5 loss to the red-hot Mustangs in Gatineau on Oct. 6.

Jamar Dixon and Martin Lemay scored in the first period and Metcalfe carried a 2-1 lead into period two. The Mustangs jumped ahead 5-3 in the second session and galloped to a 10-5 win pumping in five third-period markers.

James Martin, (2) and Jeff Kipping counted the final three Metcalfe goals. Stephen Lewis (2), Bryson Goodman (2), Douvris (2), Phillippe Patry, Travis Cullen and Dixon all picked up assists.

JETS 6 - CANADIANS 5 OT

Third-period goals by Derek and Kevin Creppin erased a 5-3 Metcalfe lead and forced overtime in South Ottawa.

Metcalfe was able to break up the stalemate and register a 6-5 win when Douvris' blast found the back of the Canadians' cage at 3:07 of the extra period.

Dixon netted goals in the first and third periods while David Walters, Brett Holmes and Ryan Carisse all snapped in second-period singles. Dixon, Walters and Holmes all counted powerplay goals. Matt Crerar (2), Holmes, Kipping, Patry and Dixon drew the assists.

Carruthers goal sustains Blues' winning streak, nip Double Beauty 2-1

WINCHESTER — Christina Carruthers converted a play created by Amy Fraser and Kelly Bradshaw into the game-winning goal 4:19 before the final buzzer.

Carruthers' tally snapped a 2-2 tie and lifted the Annable's Jewellery Blues to its second straight Winchester District Ladies Hockey League victory.

Week two's Sunday morning (Oct. 8) slate also produced a 1-0 win for the Classics over the Reds and a 3-3 tie between the CountryGirl Gold Diggers and Andy's Foodland Maroons.

The Blues (2-0-0) top the early rankings with four points. The Classics (1-0-1) have three while the Reds (1-1-0) and CountryGirl (0-0-2) each have two points. Andy's (0-1-1) has one and the Double Beauty Stylists (0-2-0) are still looking for their first point.

An unassisted goal by Amy Fraser opened up a 1-0 lead for the Blues at 10:52 of the first half on the 10 am match, but held up just until Pam Heuff scored unassisted at 6:04 to tie it. The Stylists then made it 2-1 with 2:50 left in the half. Sandra Cloutier netted the goal after taking a feed from Heuff and Susan Marsden.

Fraser struck for her second goal at 13:37 of the second session and tied it up 2-2 scoring from Christina Carruthers. Carruthers then snapped home the winner after getting the relay from Fraser and Bradshaw.

Carrie McCadden posted the win and Oonagh Enright took the loss.

CLASSICS 1 - REDS 0

Classic goalie Kristie Wade and Reds backstop Roxanne Backes were unbeatable through 58 minutes of their game. In the end it was Wade registering the shutout, thanks to Diane Downey who cracked in the game's only goal 1:53 before the final buzzer. Barb Kuhn and Tara Verney helped her decide the issue.

DIGGERS 3 - MAROONS 3

Andy's Foodland Maroons rallied from a 3-1 deficit and gained a 3-3 tie with the CountryGirl Gold Diggers in the 8 am game.

Edith Dagenais counted all three CountryGirl goals scoring from Veronique Daviault and Tracey Morrow at 11:32 of the first half. She scored her second at 2:27 of the same frame after taking a pass provided by Daviault and Kelly Francis. Her third made it 3-1 clicking from Francis at 18:05 of the second session.

Kathy Kerr was a two-goal shooter for the Maroons scoring from Jane Sachs at 13:01 of the first half. Cheryl Hamilton's unassisted marker cut her team's deficit to 3-2 with 9:20 left in the game. Kerr's second tally, assisted by Tanya Katsoulis, knotted the count at 3-3 with 7:18 showing on the clock.

Chris Sommer, Nick Leigh, Ryan Wong and Chad Galipeau were the Morrisburg marksmen.

HAWKS 6 - 73s 2

"The boys got the puck deep and fore checked hard all night, " reported Marcellus. "It was a good game of hockey."

The coach also noted the contribution of Matt Walsh who dropped back and played defence. He also said, "Trevor Gilmer got his first points (1-1-2) and continues to improve every game. And the Enright line had four goals — everyone chipped in."

Rookie Joel Grills stopped 26 of 28 Kemptville shots for the victory.

Enright and Kemptville's Codie Grant traded first-period goals. Mike Moher made it 2-1 for the 73s, but Gilmer and Bowie responded to put the Hawks up 3-2 after two. Boulanger, Winchester (PPG) and Enright (SHG) hit the target in the final frame and drove the result to 6-2.

Hat tricks highlight 2006-7 WTHL season openers

Opening action

Currie's Outlaws edged Bud's Cyclones 6-4 in the opening game of the 2006-07 Winchester Town Hockey League season on Oct. 3. Robyn Sadler and Stefan Gravelle each scored three times for the winners. Outlaw goaltender Chris Currie (left), Spencer Derue (No. 5) and Trevor Morozuk look on as Cyclone Nik Paas watches Josh McLean's shot slide into Outlaw cage.

WINCHESTER — Hat tricks were the order of the evening as four players registered three-goal efforts on the opening night of the 2006-07 Winchester Town Hockey League season.

Stefan Gravelle and Robyn Sadler split the six goals Currie's Outlaws recorded in their 6-4 win over Bud's Cyclones in the 7:30 pm game. Josh "Champ" McLean also fashioned a "hat" in a losing cause.

Game number two saw John "Slin" Guy bang in three biscuits, including the winner, as Willy's Flyers nipped Sherrer's Rams 5-4.

Week one of the campaign also featured the introduction four new sets of sweaters. The Cyclones are now sporting black unies while the Outlaws are clad in red. Royal blue is the new Rams colour and the Flyers sport orange and white jerseys.

OUTLAWS 6 - CYCLONES 4

Stefan Gravelle cashed in his first two goals at 12:07 and 5:11 of the first half and the Outlaws carried that lead into the second session. Spencer Dawson and Derek Vingerhoeds set up the first play while Dean Moore and Justin Heuff helped out on the second.

"Champ" McLean broke up Chris Currie's shut-out bid when he finished off a play started by Chris "Sid" Van Bridger and Kelly "Rubber" Beckstead at 28:08 of the second half. But the Outlaws quickly enlarged their lead to 4-1 when Gravelle beat Craig Moran after taking a clearing pass from Trevor Morozuk and Spencer Derue at 26:36. Sadler then connected on another breakaway at 25:01. Justin Morozuk and Wes McLeod assisted on that play.

McLean cut the Cyclone deficit to 4-2 at 21:31 completing powerplay set-up by Van Bridger and Devin Kelly. Just ninty seconds later Sadler netted a feed from Justin Morozuk and opened up a 5-2 lead.

The difference shrank to 5-3 at 14:36 when Craig "Bud" Holmes wristed in an 18-foot shot after gathering in a short pass from Devin Kelly. But once again the Outlaws responded as Sadler completed his hat at 12:23 scoring from Heuff.

The Cyclones closed the final gap to 6-4 with 11:18 on the clock as McLean cracked in a pass provided by Van Bridger and Nik Paas to finish his trick.

FLYERS 5 - RAMS 4

Game two was another end-to-end tilt which was finally decided when John Guy fired in his third goal with 1:06 left on the clock. Jamie McIntosh picked up the assist on the play.

The Rams led 2-1 at the break on goals by Darrel Moore and Jeff Pashak. Travis Froats replied for the Flyers, netting his first WTHL marker on an unassisted play.

Guy whipped in back-to-back tallies at 29:24 and 25:51 to put the Flyers up 3-2 early in the second session. The Rams replied with a couple of quick goals by Jon Nadobny at 12:31 and Mike Thompson at 11:22.

Trailing 4-3, the Flyers were able to crack in a pair of shots in the final 1:51 to grab the win. Craig "Archie" Beckstead scored from Murray Link and Travis Rowe at 1:51 to tie it and Guy won it, receiving assistance from McIntosh at 1:06.

Colin Ion posted the win and Chris Currie (subbing for Gregg Griffith) took the loss.

Jeff Hyndman, Tory Baldwin, Troy McNaughton, Link, McIntosh, and Rowe assisted on the Flyer goals. John Chambers, Francis Dagenais, Moore, Pashak and Thompson earned helper points for the Rams.

Devils scoreless in Iroquois

IROQUOIS — It may be the the fall harvest season but a trip to Iroquois didn't produce much for the North Dundas Devils. In spite of waging a solid offensive against the Seaway Spartans in both games of the SD&G boys high school "AA" soccer twin, the visitors came away with just one of a possible six points.

Only Mike Deighton's junior squad managed to earn compensation for their afternoon's work. Battling the little Spartans to a 0-0 draw.

Jimmy Jones registered his second shutout working the Devils' net.

Coach Deighton praised his Chesterville keeper saying, "Jimmy is an incredible keeper. He has such a good sense of where the ball is going."

Deighton reported his team had about a dozen solid shots but couldn't bury them.

"They (Seaway) clogged up the middle of the field and at times had five fullbacks defending, but we still created chances," said the coach.

"I told the boys after the game they couldn't have done much more — except score," he said. "Actually, we put one shot in but it dropped over the line as the referee blew his whistle to end the game, so it didn't count."

Deighton added that he was happy to get the point and move on to the next two games on his home field.

Kevin Bell's Senior Devils had to absorb a 1-nil loss to their counterparts from Seaway District High.

"We dominated our game and so did the juniors," offered senior keeper Trevor Ashby. "But we just couldn't finish. It's too bad, but I let in the only goal of the day."

The tie gave the juniors seven points and a mark of 2-2-1. They have outscored the opposition 6-5.

The loss dropped the seniors' record to 1-2-2 and shifted their goal differential to 0 (7-7).

AT HOME

Today, (Oct. 11) the Devils will play their first matches at NDDHS. The seniors will tangle with the Russell High Timber Wolves at 1 pm and the CCVS Golden Knights at 3:20 pm. The juniors will tangle with the GVIS Vikings at 2:10 and the St. Lawrence Saints at 4:30 pm.

Wilson figured his squad's biggest test would come this week (Tues., Oct. 10) when they faced the Patriotes on their own court at La Citadelle.

ON THE ROAD

The following week, both the junior and senior teams will travel to Cornwall on Tues., Oct. 17 to challenge the General Vanier Junior Vikings and the CCVS Senior Golden Raiders.

Next tournament at NDDHS is set for Thurs., Oct. 26 when the Tagwi Warriors and GDHS Gaels will provide the opposition.

In Memoriam

DORIS COONS
1946-2001
God saw you getting tired,
When a cure was not to be.
So He closed His arms around you,
And whispered, "Come to Me".
You didn't deserve what you went through
So He gave you rest.
God's garden must be beautiful,
He only takes the best.
And when we saw you sleeping,
So peaceful and free from pain.
We could not wish you back,
To suffer that again.
– Love always, Mervin, Cory, Leighann, Shelley, Paul

Franey clan matriarch will be missed by entire community

GREELY — Greely residents were saddened to learn that one of our most treasured residents, Patricia Franey, passed away Wed., Oct. 4. The matriarch of the Franey clan, she was a very active member of her community. She enjoyed attending seniors dinners, church suppers, and other local events so she could talk with her friends. Patricia enjoyed talking about politics and she enjoyed "testing me" on the state of the municipality. Seems this interest in politics runs in the Franey family. To her children (Colleen, Shannon, Mavourneen, Sean, Emerald, Erin, Shamrock, and Tyrone), her grandchildren and great grandchildren, our deepest sympathies. We will all miss her great Irish spirit.

NEW RURAL STAFF SERGEANT

My name is Kevin McCaffery and I have taken over Bill Shepherd's responsibilities as East Division Rural Staff Sergeant while he recuperates from surgery. I have over 26 years experience with Ottawa Police Services including my last assignment as administration and operations Staff Sergeant for East Division. In that role I was directly involved with all training, staffing initiatives, and transfers, including overseeing divisional projects for the 238 members working in East Division.

My new role as Rural Staff Sergeant is one I'm looking forward to. You can expect to see an increased traffic enforcement presence in rural areas as I've solicited co-operation from Divisional Traffic to work in conjunction with rural officers addressing identified community problems and concerns. There have also been some plainclothes projects initiated in the area in response to information received.

I want everyone to rest assured that effective and timely police service for all residents living in rural communities is, and will continue to be, a priority both for myself and for Ottawa Police Services as a whole. If you have any questions or concerns, I encourage you to contact me at 613-236-1222, extension 3849. You are also welcome to contact Const. Jennifer Finniss, your community police officer, at extension 3787.
