School Costs Running Ahead of Estimates

The regular monthly meeting of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education was held at Cornwall on May 13th. Due to the dual school systems under the jurisdiction of the Board, Public Elementary and Public Secondary Schools, the agenda is divided into two parts, part 1, dealing with Secondary School matters at which all elected members are eligible to vote; and part 2, at which all mem bers may be present, but only those elected by Public School supporters may vote.

Since the time of a regular meet ing cannot be changed, every second month the meeting begins as a special meeting at 3:00 p.m. to consider public elementary matters adjourns at 6:30 for the dinner hour, re-convenes at 7:30 p.m. to consider secondary school matters, and if public school elementary school matters have not been completed provided time is still available, the meeting concludes discussing public elementary business.

On May 13th, sixty-two items were on the two agendas. At 3:00 the meeting was called to order with Mr. M. Matheson in charge, pending the arrival of chairman Comrie. All members of the administrative staff were present, as well as all Board members elected by publi cschool supporters, Mr. Comrie excepted, as well as most members elected for secondary school matters only.

The most important matters for discussion were Kindergarten Instruction for all pupils in the three United Counties, which received approval, and an excellent five-year forecast of elementary school-building needs, prepared by H. K. MacLennan, assistant to the area superintendents. This report was studied in depth and will be referred to at future meetings. Regarding kindergarten classes for September, 1969, the three area superintendents, Messrs. Hutchinson, Leger and Lawson, were to report to the area press in detail in the near future.

Other matters of interest were: air polution, monitoring, religious instruction in elementary schools, elementary school teachers resigning, and teachers engaged.

The number of changes in the elementary schools is consuered relatively small, considering the number of teachers employed. The appointment of principals to date are: Morrisburg P.S. (due to the death of Hosea Droppo), Mr. Stuart Peters, B.Sc.; Iroquois P.S. retirement, Stanley Waddell (Harry Jarrett, B.A.; Inkerman P.S., Thomas Knight, B.A.; Rothwell P.S., Stanley Jeacle, B.A.; Laggan P.S., Kent MacSweyn.

The official opening of the addition to the Inkerman P.S. will take place June 19th at 7:30 p.m., to which all persons are cordially invited.

Part 1 of the agenda, dealing with all matters excepting those concerning the public elementary schools exclusively, received the attention of a full board starting at 7.30 p.m. This agenda alone contained 47 appendices. The more important items included the borrowing of an additional $1,000,000 to cover current expenses. A report on the first three months of the Board were listed at $4.535,608. This figure is considerably higher than the initial forecast; however, this figure includes a sizeable amount brought forward from 1968 expenses by various boards. More details on this will be forthcoming at a later date. It is also hoped that the budget for 1969 will be brought down before the end of May, at which time ratepayers will know the exten of increase in their school taxes.

Contrary to one news report, approval was given for the use of accomodation needed at N.D.D.H.S. by Algonquin College of Applied Arts to conduct certain evening classes during May, June and July, the charges to be actual extra-ordinary expenses incurred by the Board. The use of N.D.D.H.S. facilities by the North Dundas Educational Association was also granted without charge.

The appointment of an area mechanic for Area No. 1 by Plant Superintendent T. Cruickshank was David Colligan of South Mountain. Previously a committee meeting, composed of area representatives Barclay, Markell, Mellon and Thompson, assisted the plant superintendent in screening twenty-eight application to five who were interviewed.

Secondary School resignations and appointments were received and approved.. It was noted with regret the decision to discontinue cadet training at S.D.H.S. Iroquois.

The continuance of a Summer School for secondary school pupils and others, was approved; these classes will be held again at General Vanier Secondary School in Cornwall.

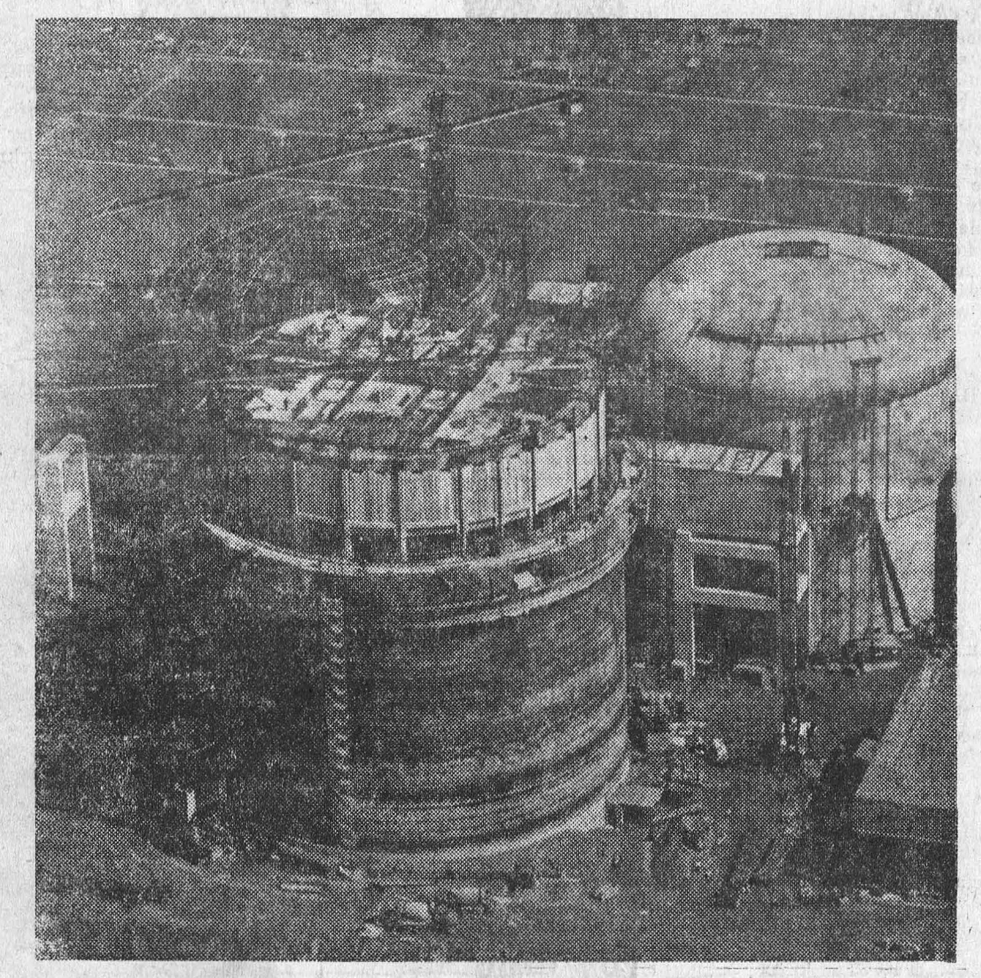
A letter from the S.D. & G. clerk-treasurer, regarding alleged "very uneconomic methods in minor maintenance in outlying schools", was heatedly discussed. A full report by the plant superintendent will be made avamable to the board chairman, who will then make a suitable reply.

A large, and at times vocal, delegation, demanded the board reverse an earlier decision "placing of the French language cultural programs at St. Lawrence High School Annex".

Their submission was tabled, pending the outcome of meetings with Mr. William Davis, Minister of Education.

The meeting adjourned at 12:15 a.m.

Hydro's Nuclear Plant is Delicate, Complex Project



Believed the largest project of its kind ever attempted in North America, construction crews have encased the 159-foot high vacuum building at Ontario Hydro's half-billion-dollar nuclear colossus at Pickering, 20 miles east of Toronto, with reinforced concrete in a non-slip form operation that took just under eight days.

Hydro engineers spent a year in the planning and three and a half months to set down the multitude of details. Slip forming is the term used to describe continuous placing of cement in a rising structure.

Circumference of the vacuum building is 530 feet. Three working "decks" carrying 75 workmen, on two 12-hour shifts, ran clear around the structure. The three-foot-thick wall took 9,310 wards of concrete of a special mix at controlled temperatures and 952 tons of reinforcing steel.

The vacuum building is supported by 1,000 50-foot steel piles driven to bedrock. Sixty-one interior columns are each four feet in diameter with tie beams two feet wide and four feet deep.

Directly under the roof is a concrete storage tank 153 feet in diameter and about 20 feet high to contain more than 2,000,000 gallons of water. The four reactor buildings, which by 1973 will contribute 2,160,000 kilowatts of power to the provincial grid, will be connected to the vacuum building by a reinforced concrete pressure-relief duct about 20 feet wide and 25 feet high.

The vacuum building and pressure relief system are collectively designed to contain all the energy that could be released following any conceivable accident to the reactor or heat transport system and to provide complete protection for the public.

The various crews working on the decks were in constant touch with the ground and the concrete mix plant by two-way radio and telephones, installed specially for the unique project.

400 Watch as Mets Down Ottawa 12-10

Playing before the largest crowd of the season for any team in the league, the Morrisburg Mets came from behind last Friday night at the Community Centre, to down robust Ottawa Vikings by a 12-10 count.

Stung by criticism in a letter appearing in the last issue, which they deemed most unfair and not entirely factula, the Mets turned in their best performance of the young season. Fans also apparently resented the tone of last week's letter, as they turned out in record numbers to evidence their solid backing of the Mets. They came from Williamsburg and Chesterville, from Winchester and even as far away as Alexandria. After the victory, Mets officials expressed thanks to their "knocker" for increasing the number of fans at the game by more than 100. It was also suggested that the writer attend a few more contests, and find out more about the game, before rushing into print with such a roundhouse condemnation of an entire team, not to mention a large following of faithful lacrosse fans.

As for the Mets not having any pride, it was pointed out that, last year, their "winningest season on record, every important game won by the local team, was won by overcoming an opposition lead in the last period. They did the same in their playoffs against Alexandria and Valleyfield, and did it again on Friday last.

At the end of the first frame on Friday the teams were tied at three goals each. The Mets went down a goal in the second, which finished with the Vikings enjoying a 7-6 margin.

Morrisburg tied the score at 3:30 of the final frame, only to have Mineault, of the Vikings, put the visitors in front again at 7:50. Six seconds later, the Mets Gary Hess evened the count again and Don Mabo scored what proved to be the winner two minutes later.

Mets had three-goal performances from Brian McNairn and Gary Hess. Ottawa had four goals from the stick of R. Mineault.

Other outstanding players for the Mets were the line of Henry Storgaard, Don Mabo and Garth Baker. Glen McDonell's work on the defence deserves special mention, as does the work of "Doc" Jones, in the Morrisburg goal This young graduate from the minor lacrosse setup has given the fans in Morrisburg and around the league, some real thrills since donning the pads for the Mets. Again on Friday night, he made breath-taking stops on several breakaways

Mets next home game is tonight, (Friday) when they will be hosts to the Anexandria Glens at 8:30. This is the first meeting of the year between the Mets and the team which they defeated last year for the league championship and the O'Keefe Trophy.

The Mets hope for continued support from all their fans, and are confident that, after a somewhat shaky start, they will right in the thick of competition when playoff time rolls around.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL HUNTERS & FISHERMEN

Next Wednesday night at 6:30 in the Legion Hall, the Morrisburg Fish and Game Club will hold their annual banquet and presentation of prizes for entrants in the fish and game contests. A fine dinner and a good programme is assured for all sportsmen attending.

But the new executive has run into a hitch which is proving somewhat embarrassing. Due to unfortunate circumstances, some of the weigh-in slips concerning contest entries have been lost. The new president and executive are most anxious that the contests be conducted on the fairest possible lines. They are asking all those who had any type of fish or game weighed in, to bring the duplicate copies of their slips to the meeting on Wednesday.

May Meeting of LCW at St. Paul's

Mrs. Miriam Salmon presided over the May meeting of St. Paul's Lutheran Church Women in the Parist District Community Service Summer Camp.

Reverend Peter Barkway of Cornwall will present his program on drugs and other social problems of youth during the fourth week in June.

The program committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Leonard Barkley, presented highlights from the Spring Assembly held in Kingston on the theme "Love Them". Mrs. Graham VanAllen read the Scripture and the convention hymn "They'll Know We Are Christians by Our Love" was sung.

Mrs. John Schultz described the interest centres featured in a "Mini-Expo" during the assembly. Each exhibit dealt with a different topic — Retreats, Mission Mailbox, Programs, Lutheran World Relief, "Lutheran Women" Magazine, etc. The ladies who had set up the displays were on hand to explain them to the assembly delegates.

Mrs. Jane Brewer of Preston represented the Synodical Unit and spoke on the project which the women of the Lutheran Church in America have adopted for the nert three years called "New Ways for New Days."

A panel discussion "Witness in the Thick of Life" was moderated by Vicar Roy Baumgart who spoke on prison work in Kingston. Panelists were specialists in urban problems, health and welfare, and the education of retarded children and adults.

Dr. Wilson A. Head, a native of Georgia, U.S.A. now lecturing at York University, Toronto, was the main Assembly speaker and provoked a lively discussion period, during the afternoon session, with the delegates.

The meeting closed with prayer and Benediction by Rev. F.L. Howald after which the committee served refreshments.

Community Day Camps Operate in Townships

The Seaway District Community Service this year will again sponsor the community day c a m p s which operated with such success at Dixon's Corners and Glen Becker last year. Peter Campbell, a student at Queen's University, has been re-appointed by the United Church of Canada as student director of the camp. The camp will operate week-days for three weeks in the Dixon's Corners area (Aug. 4 to 22) and three weeks in the Glen Becker area (July 7 to 25). The camp will again be open to all children from kindergarten age to grade eight who can provide their own transportation to the camp sites. Attendance will be free.

The programme will include sports, active games, quiet games singing games, singing, art and crafts, field trips, excursions, daily devotions, drama, etc. Six senior leaders are to be selected through the local high schools, and will be given a one week training course at the Ontario Department of Education Camp Roblin Lake the last week of June. These young people will provide the leadership for the full six weeks during which the camp is in operation, and will be assisted by leaders-in-training, who may offer their help for shorter periods of time. It is hoped that many special programmes will organize utilizing the help of adult of adult volunteers who have special skills (in crafts, music, or sports for example) and who are willing to give some of their time to the camp.

Anyone who is interested in further details of the camp, or who wishes to offer his (her) assistance should contact Mr. Campbell c/o Kair Bell, RR2, Brinston. Also welcome would be ideas for programe and financial assistance.

A long and hot summer

This is going to be a long, hot summer. And not only for those U.S. cities with their kerosene-soaked black ghettoes just waiting for a match to be struck.

It's going to be a long, hot summer for a lot of Canadians. High among their ranks will be parents, policemen and resort operators.

Why? Because the supply of summer jobs for students is far, far below the demand, and there are going to be thousands of restless, bored young people looking for excitement.

It's a natural for an eruption of rumbles, hassles and vandalism which could make the summer a nightmare for the already-harried victims listed above.

For the last decade, there has been a steadily-growing population of young bums of both sexes. Summer-time, warm-weather bums.

These are the kids who don't really want a job. They live from hand to mouth, sleeping on the beaches, or in the old cars that are part of their scene. They are not necessarily evil or vicious. In fact, most of them aren't.

But they're aimless and irresponsible and rude and selfish and dirty, and lazy as cats. Cats that aren't house-broken.

They're bored, and they're boring. They talk in endless circles about nothing. They even bore each other. But they're united in one thing — their contempt for the adult world.

High on their list of interests, which are extremely limited, are sex and drugs. On weekends, they are infiltrated by the "pushers", many of them amateurs, who arrive from the cities with their little packages of pot and speed and LSD.

Lurking on the fringe of this bundle of bums is another group — the teenie-boppers. These are not kids — they are children —, who are just beginning to make the scene, who find it fascinating, and who want to try anything that's going.

In the cities, same thing, except that it's shopping plazas and public parks and the streets, instead of the beaches

Well, add to this parasitic swarm all the kids who wanted, and needed, jobs this summer, angry, frustrated, and you can see what's coming. I hope I'm wrong, but two and two still make four.

Permissive parents, an inflationary society in which even young people need money; give masses of them nothing to do but look for kicks all summer, and the old crystal ball looks pretty muddy.

When I was a teenager (said the boring middle-aged man), summer jobs were even scarcer. He who nabbed one was deeply envied. My first job, at 17, was working on a Great Lakes steamer, 12 hours a day, seven days a week, $1 a day. And every other kid in town thought I'd hit a bonanza. Boys who couldn't find a job played baseball and swam about eight hours a day. Girls did whatever girls do, giggled probably, and swam and picked berries.

Today's jobless youth barely muster enough energy to have a swim. In the day-time, that is. At night, they flower into some sort of life and go to bed at dawn .And wake up. Bored.

There are a couple of villains in the piece, of course. One is industry; the other government. Industry could absorb twice as many students as it does, at comparatively little cost. Industry is the first to whine about the "products" it gets, but does little to help produce a first-class product. One or two future employees of high calibre from a summer group would easily repay the cost. And it would be good public relations on which industry spends thousands, mostly on whiskey.

Governments could, and should, plan work projects to absorb most of the surplus students. They'd get it all back in taxes shortly. But if they sit on their behinds and allow a generation of bitter, lazy, alienated bums to sprout, it will cost them plenty in the end.

(That's quite a sentence, but no puns intended. Behinds, bums, and end, indeed.)

Hope your kid has a summer job. Better still, hope you're not a parent or a policeman.

Queen's Park Comment - -

Last week, after the longest debate in its history, the Legislature approved the spending estimates of the Department of Social and Family Services.

A total of about 50 hours was spent arguing the detailed expenditure plans of the department. As a result many observers at Queen's Park complained that time was being wasted, that the opposition was filibustering, that the same arguments were being repeated over and over.

But members of my party weren't talking just to hear the sound of their own voices. Fact is, we were winning some solid gains for Ontario people. If it took a long time before our points were acknowledged, that should be some assurance to people their interests are being fulledged, that is perhaps a measure of the government's determination not to concede anything.

Estimates debates are really the only opportunity the opposition has to come to grips with the government's basic policies. In theory, no department can spend the taxpayer's money until its spending plans have been approved by the MPP's. This is our chance to ask questions, win assurances of action, extract admissions of failure, and generally to exercise the watchdog role so essential to the working of a parliamentary democracy.

The point isnot whether the debates take a long time. In itself, ly voiced. The real point is that we are getting down to fundamental issues, and winning some promises of government action.

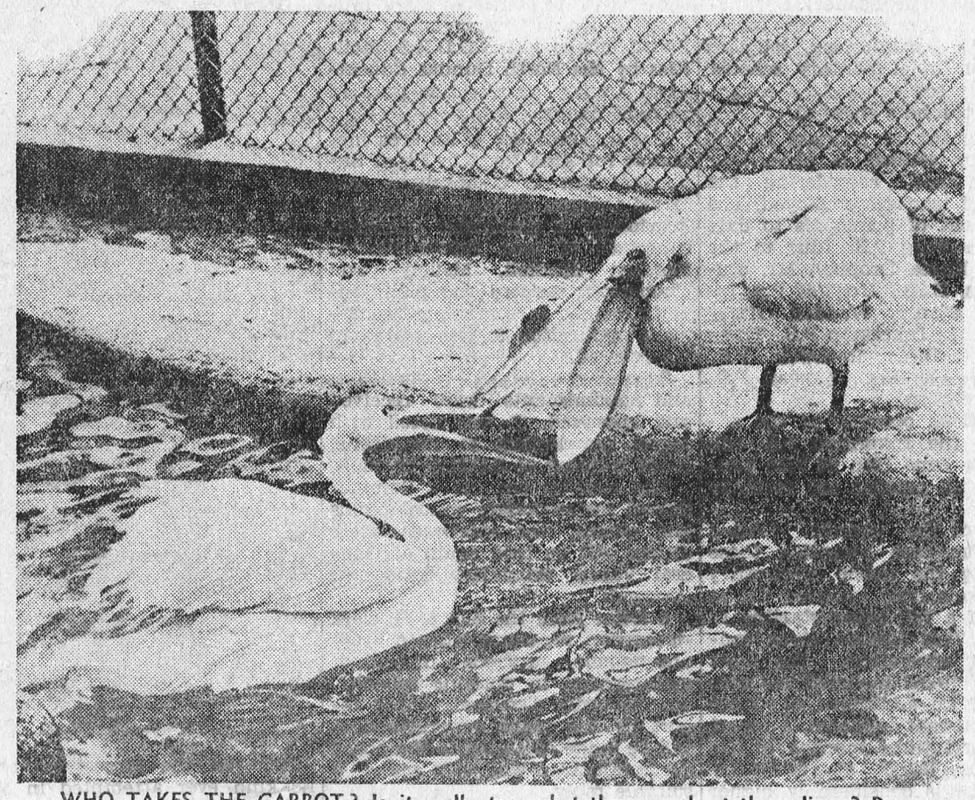
Judging by these standards, the debate on the Social and Family Services estimates was a success.

Dr. Morton Shulman won 1,200 indigent chronically ill patients in Ontario on monthly allowance of up to $15, to provide them with some minimum amenities of life in hospital.

We found out that there was a sum of $1,000,000 last year in the Indian Community Development Services branch that was never spent, despite the crying need for more assistance to our native peoples. After a tense and often acrimonious debate, the Minister assured us that never again would funds thus approved remain unspent. As a result, 35,000 Indians who live on Ontario reserves will benefit this year in increased development assistance.

After a long session which ended at 2:35 in the morning, the Minister grudgingly promised the House that welfare recipients would be advised of their right to appeal rejected or insufficient claims to a Board of Review. This Board, supposed to have been set up a year ago, only went into operation this winter. Though it is a condition of the province receiving federal assistance towards welfare payments no welfare recipients even know about its existence! An estimated 100,000 more people in Ontario will benefit as a result of this lengthy debate.

It is not easy for an opposition party, which can always be outvoted by the government mapority, to achieve results of this kind. We have to use every tactic at our disposal. Sometimes it seems that debates go on too long. But I can never understand why reporters get so excited about that. After all, we're only doing the job you pay us to do.



WHO TAKES THE CARROT? Is it really true what they say about the pelican? Does his beak hold more than his stomach? It took a carrot to raise the question when these two birds contested ownership of the morsel, but neither bird won. The pelican on the left dropped the carrot and then the flapping and squawking continued long after the carrot had been forgotten.—TTS Photo

Report from the Ontario Legislature

The highlight of this 19th week of the Second Session of the Ontario Parliament was the completion of the debate on Estimates of the Department of Social and Family Services. This debate begun on the first day of Auril dragged through six weeks with some fifty hours of actual debate and set a record for ineffective action in the Legislature. The Estimates of the Department of Mines which then followed proceeded much more sensibly and reasonably quickly. The material presented by this Minister and elicited from him by Opposition spokesmen indicated the tremendous mineral resources of our Province and the very positive steps now being taken by the Provincial Government to ensure their proper mining and processing within Canada and preferably in Ontario.

The Ontario Farmers' Union in large numbers attended the meeting of the House Committee on Agriculture when the Bill to provide for a Province-wide farmers' vote on one farmers' organization was being discussed and passed. The O.F.U. delegation were anxious that their special proposal be included on the ballot but the Members decided against the ballot presented to farmers putting forward the special views of any single existing organization.

The most acrimonious debate of the week was that on second reading of the Bill introduced by the Minister of Health to provide for establishing and subsidising homes for disturbed children; for reasons well known to the Members of all parties, the Democratic Party Members opposed the Bill verbally, violently and viciously, claiming it to be a sham and a denial of basic rights. On the other hand, the Liberal and Conservative Members who spoke admitted that while it was not the best Bill possible and might need amendment in Committee, it was a step in the right direction and should be passed (as it was on division) so that some opportunity of, and basis for, action would be available.

Two announcements during the week are of interest, the first by the Prime Minister was that the Provincial highways subsidy to cities and separated towns would be raised from 33 1/3 per cent to 50 per cent in the next fiscal year (Prescott is the only municipality in Grenville-Dundas to benefit from this); the other by the Minister of Labour was to the effect that effective July 1st next, minimum monthly pensions for the totally disabled paid by the Workmen's Compensation Board would be $175.00 and benefits from the Board for temporarly disabled workers would be increased by $10. per week.

THAT'S KINDA TASTY. No doubt about it, city life makes a vulture soft. When three-year-old Danny Reed offered his bag of buttered popcorn to this vulture it greedily accepted. This was possibly not in the best vulture tradition, but apparently it tasted a lot better than bird seed. — TTS Photo

Keep the reserve clause

It is no secret that Canada is a country which has long been dominated by that huge monolithic power to the south known as the United States of America. Perhaps it would be unfair to say that "it always has been and always shall be," but nonetheless, we're in the U.S. bag right now.

The Federal Administration of any country is hailed as being all-powerful . . . a world without end, so to speak.

By now all of you have had sufficient time to weigh the many merits of the explosive recommendations of the Task Force, the federal body appointed to investigate amateur and professional sport in this country. Undoubtedly you have studied the report and drawn your own conclusions.

To be unequivocally in favor or against the entire report is impossible. However, it must be printed that the report is basically sound, with the exception of the part dealing with the National Hockey League.

The main battle raging around the NHL aspect is Clause 17 (2).

This particular clause deals specifically with the freedom (or lack of it) of the hockey player in the NHL. It is more commonly known as a reserve clause. Why, I don't know.

It states: "The Player hereby undertakes that he will at the request of the Club enter into a contract for the following season upon the same terms and conditions of this contract, save as to salary which shall be determined by mutual agreement. In the event that the Player and the Club do not agree on the salary to be paid, the matter shall be referred to the President of the League, and both parties agree to accept his decision as final."

This clause would more aptly be termed a marriage clause, but without the escape of divorce.

To destroy or eliminate this clause would, as Frank Selke Sr. barked: "Be the death knell of hockey."

Perhaps Mr. Selke was being somewhat melodramatic. Perhaps he was too strong in his remarks. Perhaps he is right.

If this clause is revoked by our federal powers then the NHL would become nothing more than an open "flesh market" with the highest bidder winning the services of the game's greatest players. Naturally, this monied mogul would also win the Stanley Cup each year.

Federal administrators will argue that each team can only buy 20 players. They will insist that there will be abundant talent available to keep the league competitive. But let's select 20 players, and then decide if a competitive team could be formed to challenge the powerhouse.

We could select the following: Bobby Hull, Stan Mikita, Gordie Howe, Frank Mahovlich, Phil Esposito, Bobby Orr, Teddy Green, Rod Gilbert, Ed Giacomin, Rogatien Vachon, Jean Belveau, Serge Savard, Norm Ullman, Tim Horton, Red Berenson, Danny Grant, Al Arbour, Ted Hampson, Norm Ferguson and Bill White.

Okay, now let any administrator select 20 players which would be competitive!

This would prove to be an impossible task for even the force.

There is no alternative but to keep the reserve clause in the NHL contracts. Although it may be undemocratic, it is a necessary evil. Certain elements of society would say it is too capitalistic.

To put the rap on the NHL and its reserve clause is unfair.

The reserve clause has been tested in the U.S. by baseball clubs and put before the American courts. The courts upheld the clause, and it does not seem likely they will ever reverse their stand on it.

And, as we are an American-dominated country, it also seems highly unlikely our courts will make any adjustments to the reserve clause.

The Task Force gang was comprised of amateurs, athletically speaking, and they've done an excellent job in the amateur field with their recommendations. Professionally, they missed the net.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Edward Esch, Chicago, Ill., are pleased to announce the engagement of their only daughter, Nancy Ann, and Donald Malcolm Maigee, son of Mrs. Donald Maigee and the late Mr. Maigee, of Morrisburg, Ontario. The wedding to take place on July 5th in Chicago.

The editor of this paper joins with is many other friends in extending best wishes to our good friend, Ran Wylie, who has recently completed 40 years of employment with The Winchester Press. During all those years, Ran has been an exemplary hard-working helper in solving the many problems that confront the publishers of weekly newspapers. On at least two occasions, it was our privillege to work with him on the week's issue of The Press. Once was following the ice storm of the early forties that demolished power lines in Eastern Ontario. Winchester was without any electric power to turn their presses. Morrisburg was running on the municipally owned deisel electric plant. That issue of The Press was printed at The Morrisburg Leader. The other occasion was when the then publisher, Fern Workman was hors de combat (with of all things, the mumps). A phone call from Ran brought this editor over to Winchester, where we managed to turn out the Press on time for the regular mailing in the morning after an all-night shift.. We have valued his friendship for many years, and no one is more deserving of the accollades heaped upon him than is Ran Wylie, as he begins his 41st year with our esteemed contemporary in North Dundas.

Special Reception Service At St. John's, Iroquois

On Sunday, May 25th, at 10 a.m. Rev. Allan Rogers, rector of St. John's will conduct a Service of Reception for the former congregation of Christ Church, Dixon's Corners, in which they will be received and welcomed by the Wardens and congregation of the family of St. John the Baptist, Iroquois.

Because it is the Feast of Pentecost, the third great Festival of the Christian Church, the congregation of St. Peter's South Mountain is invited to be present also for the greater unity and witness of the congregations that comprise the Anglican Church of Canada in the Mission of Iroquois.

Mr. Rogers would like to see this act of worship together grow into an annual event to keep a corporate observance of the feast of Pentecost, the occasion of the first pouring forth of the Hily Spirit on the early Christian community. Someone has likened the initial event to the setting of the machinery of the Church into action; they were ready and waiting for the promise of God's strenthening power which enabled them to go forth as an incredible little band of committed people. In the Christian Bible, the second Chapter of the Acts of the Apostles tells the story.

The Service at St. John's will be the great feast of Love that was instituted by our Blessed Lord, Himself. The Rector will speak on the theme of "the person of the Holy Spirit", and St. John's choir under the leadership of Mr. George Eddy will sing J. Baden-Powell's "Hail, Festal Day".

The Service is scheduled for 10 A.M. to allow for a "converation hour" and a time of acquaintance and fellowship at a reception in the Parish Hall. The whole purpose of the undertaking is that a congregation that is strong and live within itself is a much greater, agent for identity and cooperation with the whole of society, and the Church both in and beyond the local community.

The Anglican community of Iroquois, Dixon's Corners and South Mountain is especially invited to make Sunday morning's worship more signifficantly an act of strong corporate witness by their personal attendance and participation in the "Service of Reception" at the Church of St. John the Baptist Iroquois Sunday morning at 10 a.m.

SPECTACULAR FISH MORTALITY TO BE INVESTIGATED

The spectacular die-off of alewives — small, herring-like fish— in Lake Ontario will be investigate dby Dr. R. W. McCauley, associate professor of biology at Waterloo Lutheran University.

The University has been awarded a $13,500 federal government grant to carry out the study.

The investigation is being supported by the Freshwater Institute of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada, Winnipeg. Co-operating also is the Canadian Centre for Inland Waters, Burlington.

Dr. McCauley as principal investigator will be assisted by students in the university's science program.

In addition, Dr. McCauley has received a $2,000 grant from the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show in support of work on walleye culture and the general environmental ecology of fishes.

In a similar move, the National Research Council of Canada has awarded a $3,000 grant to Dr. Edward Kott, WLU assistant professor of biology, to study changes in body composition in lamprey eels during different stages in their development.

Dr. Kott said the study is designed to discover if there is any relationship between the composition of the food eaten and the composition of the lamprey body.

Lamprey eels have been blamed for the virtual disappearance of many kinds of fish from the Great Lakes, particularly lake trout which were common at one time.

STARK WHITE UNIFORMS WILL NOT BE FOR NEW CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

The stark whiteness of a nurse's uniform has always been the hallmark of cleanliness and efficiency. The image is topped off by a cap, equally white and stiffly starched.

For the average adult, the picture is comforting. But what about the small child?

The answer to this question has gradually evolved and one of the early targets for change is the nurse's uniform. The Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario is making plans to ensure that designs fulfill the child's idea of a friendly companion at his bebside.

Therefore, the paediatric nurse who joins this hospital's staff can look forward to a more colorful day than her sister nurses in other hospitals. She may not be decked out in psychedelic flowers, says Mrs. Shirley Post, a nurse on the hospital's advisory board, but pastel frocks are a strong possibility. These would be in a wide variety of colors and nurses would pick up a different color each day.

As for the dinky little white cap, it will disappear from the nursing scene entirely.

The thinking behind the drastic change is not exclusive to the new hospital. It is part of a trend which takes into account that children fear the strangeness of hospitals less if the unaccustomed sights are toned down a bit.

After all, mommy doesn't go around in a white dress and white cap. Her clothes vary from day to day and for the present, at least, are bright and flowery.

"The whole hospital atmosphere will contain more color," Mrs. Post explains. "Vinyl wallpaper and appropriate furniture will make it look more like home. But we think the presence of staff members who aren't too much unlike a patient's mother will be a big factor in making the child feel more comfortable and less homesick."

HOLIDAYING IN THE YUKON? DON'T LOOK FOR THE MARGE OF LAKE LEBARGE

"Where's Lake LeBarge for crying out loud?"

That's the first question most Yukoners asked when they saw the first official road map of Canada's Yukon Territory, just off the press.

Robert Service, famed poet of the Klondike Gold Rush of 1898, immortalized the Lake when he used it for the setting of one of his better known works, "The Cremation of Sam McGee".

While the creamation may be open to question, the Lake has not disappeared and McGee's cabin is on display at the Whitehorse museum. A reversal of the coloring process turned the Lake's waters into land and its islands into water on the new map. The lake is still there and each year thousands of Robert Service fans make a point of stopping at the government campground by the waters of "The Marge on Lake LeBarge", on their way north to the Klondike gold creeks near Dawson City.

Yukon's Department of Travel and Information published the map which includes 14 color photos of the Territory. A second printing scheduled for early next year will put LeBarge back on the map.

On the map side are a mileage guide, campground index and an inset showing all of the Alaska Highway from milepost "O" at Dawson Creek, British Columbia to mile 1,523 at Fairbanks, Alaska. The map includes symbols for airports, heliports, water aerodromes and landing strips.

On the reverse side are the color photos, along with basic information, vehicle requirements, weather and clothing, border crossing information and the location of government information centres. A feature of themap is a milepost guide, indicating services available on all major Yukon Highways.

While some of those responsible for publishing the may may well end up in the same condition as Sam McGee, there are enough staff members left to handle distribution of the maps and other literature sent to prospective Yukon visitors. Information on the Yukon Territory is available from most Auto Club offices and Canadian Government Travel Bureau offices or by writing the Department of Travel and Information at Box 2703 Whitehorse, Yukon, Canada.

Meeting of Farmers Union

The monthly meeting of the OFU was held at the usual place and time, Dundela Community Centre, Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. There was a good attendance.

A number of interesting and important items were discussed.

Owing to such a busy time it was decided that money from our local treasury be sent to head office to help defray expenses of the oncoming vote concerning GFO expenses of press, TV, etc.

Movd by Lyle Casselman and seconded by Mr. Verhouven that 50 per cent of the money on hand be sent to head office.

Keep in mind that some time in the future plans for a rally are being formed with either Walter Miller, President of OFU or Peter Twynstra, 2nd vice president as speaker.

A new price has been received for baler twine and we are now ready to take orders. Orders may be placed with John Beltman, Karel Groniger, Wm. Verheuven and Lorne Strader. All twine will be received at one point, Lorne Strader's.

Price is $5.35 per bale plus 5c handling — $5.40. Cash must accompany order and expiry date is May 20th. This date is essential to insure delivery by early haying.

It has been learned from head office that another 6 per cent discount is available on fertilizer, also we are still taking orders for SMV signs at the same $2.25 each.

The Volks floats ashore

The port of Toronto gets to see a lot of Volkswagens . . . about 14,000 units or about 35 percent of the total import into Canada. Some of the ships can carry up to 2,500 autos. And when they've unloaded their cargo, they take back wheat and manufactured goods to Germany.

Not all cars are lifted over the side. The Divi Atlantic and Divi Oceanic are ships specially designed to carry cars and have seven storage decks. The cars are driven down a special ramp and can be unloaded in a few hours.

So far this year 4,043 vehicles have been unloaded in Toronto. The figure for the same date last year was 2,459. Frank Segee, of Volkswagen public relations, says these figures do not necessarily represent a trend.

THE IMPORTANCE OF FORESTS
by L.G.R. Billings
Forestry Technician

The forest is a tract of land covered with trees.

Forests grow on a variety of sites Each site is capable of sustaining only a limited range of species. Forests differ slightly one with the other in the species growing in each. Some forests may be composed chiefly of conifer, while others may be composed chiefly of hardwood. mainly because of the site and geographic location.

Forests provide food and shelter for many birds and wildlife. The shade provided by forests allow snow to melt slowly, thus preventing flash flooding of streams and rivers in spring. The litter on the forest floor acts as a sponge retaining water, and allowing it to seep away slowly, thus conserving soil and aiding to maintain stream flow at a constant level. A livelihood for woodsworkers is provided, in the production of sawlogs, veneer lots, railway ties, utility poles, posts, pickets, pulpwood and fuelwood. An ever-increasing use of the forests if for recreation, in the form of hiking trails and picnic sites.

Some forests are established by planting on marginal and submarginal farm land. In this way idle land is placed into production again. Lost nutrients which have leached below the reach of agriculture crops are recaptured and brought to the surface.

Forests are susceptible to many enemies such as fire, insects, rodents and mismanagement by man. The problems of managing a forest are multiple, but the rewards to be gained are worth it all.

Please help us to keep your forests green and keep Ontario prosperous.

SECOND PUBLIC FISHING AREA OPENS IN EASTERN ONTARIO
by: G.E. Raine,
Fisheries Biologist

The Honourable F. Cass has announced the official opening of the second public fishing area in Eastern Ontario on Saturday, May 10 1969. The fifteen acre parcel of land with its put and take trout pond is located seven miles east of the village of Williamsburg, on Lot 3, Concession IV of Williamsburg Township.

The area, previously owned by Mr. D. Wells, was leased to the Ontario Department of Highways. Quarry material was removed for the construction of Highway 401, producing a quarry some seven acres in size and approximately thirty-five feet in depth. Once the quarry was abandoned it gradually filled with water, creating the present pond.

The area was acquired by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests to provide trout fishing in an area where it previously did not exist. A survey of the pond indicated that water conditions would support rainbow or brook trout. A variety of minnow species are present in the pond, all of which are compatible with trout by providing a source of food. The pond has been stocked in the spring of 1969 with rainbow trout, and future periodic plantings of both rainbow and brook trout are proposed to ensure good angling success. A periodic creel census and tag return system will assist us in determining anging success and future stocking requirements.

Kindergarten Programme in The Three United Counties

Following an initial survey of the facilities available in the schools under the jurisdiction of the County Board of Education, the provision of Kindergarten Classes received high priority.

At a special meeting of the Board on Tuesday, May 13, approval was given for the institution of a programme that would bring Kindergarten experience to every eligible child within the Three United Counties.

In deciding the nature of the programme, two problems had to be faced: How to include the pupils residing in rural areas; how to provide an adequate, initial program at a reasonable cost.

It is felt that the best possible solution to both these problems is to be found in the institution of an Alternate Full-Day (A.F.D.) Kindergarten Programme.

The basic difference between the A.F.D. and the generally recognized half-day kindergarten programme is that instead of attending classes for half a day every school day, the pupils attend classes for a full day every other day.

In the many instances where the A.F.D. Kindergarten programme has been instituted, since its inception in 1965, it has been found that the following adfantages accrue:

- The pupils travel to and from school only five times during two weeks whereas the half-day pupils travel to and from school ten times during the same period;
- Experienced kindergarten teachers report that full-day attendance makes possible an expanded and more diversified programme;
- Experienced Grade I teachers report that pupils from the A.F.D. programme show the same general benefits as do the pupils from the half-day programme;
- School principals report that attendance at A.F.D. programme is equal to, or better than, the average attendance for other Primary Division classes;
- School principals report that the period of emotional adjustment to the school environment for A.F.D. children is no greater in length or difficulty than for half-day pupils. They also report evidence to suggest that the A.F.D. pupils are able to adjust more quickly to the full-day programme of Grade I.
- Prohibitive costs of transportation are avoided. Expenditure for twice-a-day transportation for a half-day programme would place the programme beyond the point of reasonableness;
- Pupils residing in rural areas can enjoy and benefit from inclusion in the programme;
- There is no loss of instructional time since over a period of ten school days both A.F.D. and half-day programmes provide five days instruction;
- The programme is recognized by the Department of Education for Grant purposes;
- Parents have appreciated the possibilities of utilizing a whole day for shopping or visiting without having to be home at noon to meet a morning Kindergarten child. Similarly on a day that the child is not at school, parents have appreciated the opportunity oftaking him along with them thus broadening his experiences, but avoiding the necessity of returning at noon to enable him to attend afternoon classes.

In the implementation of A.F.D. Kindergarten Programmes in Area No. 1, (Dundas County, classes will be established in the following centres

MOUNTAIN TOWNSHIP

1. Hallville Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools in Hallville, Mountain and South Mountain.

1.Dixon's Corners Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools at Dixon's Corners and Hulbert.
2. Iroquois Public Schools — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools in Iroquois Village and Stampville.

2. Morrisburg Public School — for pupils who would normally attend the Public Schools in Morrisburg Village, and at Riverside Heights.

The arrangements as outlined, are for the 1969-70 School Year.

The implementation of the A.F.D. Kindergarten Programme is a "First" for Eastern Ontario.

The co-operation of the parents, the drivers of school buses and the teaching staff is earnestly solicited in this important step towards the goal of equality of educational opportunity.

Arrangements for registration have been made for the latter part of May and the early part of June. Parents should look for the Board of Education advertisement in their local newspaper.
