Chug-a-licious milk…

It has been 25 years since the first annual Winchester Dairyfest took place and while much has changed, one thing has remained the same – overwhelming community enthusiasm for the yearly festival. From Thurs., Aug. 8 to Sun., Aug. 11, local residents came out in droves to participate in the many events taking place throughout Winchester during the four-day celebration. Xander St-Marseille is pictured here chugging a carton of chocolate milk as his teammate, Shaelee St-Marseille, cheered him on during Sat., Aug. 10's Dundas County Junior Farmers Milk Boat Race. For more coverage of this year's Dairyfest, see page 11 as well as the sports section. Press Photo – Casselman

Richmond back in court Aug. 20

OTTAWA – The Canadian Armed Forces member accused of stabbing his 28-year-old wife to death will be back in an Ottawa courtroom on Tues., Aug. 20.

Winchester resident Howard Richmond, 50, was last before a judge on Tues., Aug. 6 when he was remanded back into police custody. He is being detained at the Ottawa-Carleton Detention Centre on Innes Road in the east end of the city.

Howard Richmond

All evidence shared during the Aug. 6 hearing is covered by a publication ban.

Richmond's wife, Melissa, was declared missing on Fri., July 26 and two days later (Sun., July 28) her body was pulled from a ravine near the South Keys Shopping Centre. She was found partially clothed with several stab wounds.

In a short window of time, Richmond went from grieving widower to an accused killer, facing a first-degree murder charge.

Richmond was first arrested on Fri., Aug. 2 at Ottawa Police Services' Elgin Street headquarters. At the time, he was heading to Pembroke for Melissa's wake, but is said to have stopped at the station voluntarily for questioning.

South Mountain Fair boasts thrills with 'country' flavour

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – The Mountain Township Agricultural Society is all set to host the 121st South Mountain Fair.

The annual event kicks off tomorrow (Thurs., Aug. 15) afternoon with the midway, opening ceremonies, and the annual horse-pull event.

The fair will continue through to Sun., Aug. 18, and will include traditional country fair events, such as the demolition derby on Fri., Aug. 16, crop and livestock exhibits and competitions, 4-H shows, horse shows, cattle shows, tractor parade, Farmers' and Junior Farmers' Olympics, and more.

In addition to the typical midway fare, including games and rides, there will be inflatables, as well as several other options for children's entertainment, including Little Ray's Reptile Zoo, Vanderlaand the Barnyard Zoo, and the new Kids Event Tent, where young fairgoers will find Lil' John the Clown, Stretch the Clown, Polka Dot Door's Cindy Cook, and more.

This year's entertainment lineup includes Georgette Jones, Fred Ducharme and Ninth Line, High Valley, Landmark, and Mark Chesnutt.

For more on Jones' and Chesnutt's performances, see page 24, and to view a complete schedule for the fair, see pages 16-19 in this week's Winchester Press.

Community builder Joel Steele mourned by many

WINCHESTER – The village of Winchester lost a pioneering spirit on Wed., Aug. 7.

Longtime community builder Joel Steele passed away at home, surrounded by his family.

Steele, who had dealt with recurring health issues in recent years, was 69 years old.

Most notably, Steele is remembered as envisioning, inspiring, and finalizing a number of community events and organizations.

He played a part in launching Dairyfest, which this year celebrated its 25th anniversary, and helped start the Winchester Junior "B" Hawks and the Country Christmas Parade of Lights, all while raising his family and conducting business at the CountryBoy/CountryGirl Shop on Main Street.

> Remembered for vision, energy, and leadership

"Our community lost a great resident," Township of North Dundas Mayor Eric Duncan said. "Joel will be remembered for his vision, energy, and leadership. He brought many people together to provide support to local businesses and causes."

In September 2012, Steele's friends and family gathered as the municipality renamed the village's arena the Joel Steele Community Centre. During the event, Duncan presented Steele with a plaque commemorating the honour, while Councillor Al Armstrong served as master of ceremonies, and shared his own stories about his friend.

The most recent honour came on the heels of Steele being named North Dundas' 2010 Community Builder Award recipient.

Bert Hill (left), Harry Keyes, Shirley Fawcett, and Carrie Keller had the honour of unveiling Winchester's newest mural.

Dr. Harold Beach, a cousin of M.F. Beach, travelled from Ottawa to attend the unveiling.

Winchester's newest mural unveiled

WINCHESTER – A new mural featuring several buildings from Winchester's past was unveiled during this year's 25th annual Dairyfest.

The Winchester Downtown Revitalization Committee, in conjunction with Township of North Dundas council members, hosted a celebratory event at Sweet Corner Park on Fri., Aug. 9, featuring a barbecue dinner, music, and the long-awaited unveiling of artist Carrie Keller's masterpiece.

The mural, which was commissioned by the revitalization committee in honour of Winchester's 125th anniversary as an incorporated village, is mounted on the east-facing wall of The Town Vintner, and features the former Dixon Hotel, the M.F. Beach Factory, Ault Creamery Plant No. 1, the former village train station, the Old Town Hall, Lannin's Garage, and the original Winchester Public School.

Together, Shirley Fawcett, Harry Keyes, Bert Hill, along with Keller, unveiled the massive painting. Vince Zandbelt gave a brief history of each of the buildings depicted in the painting, singling out those audience members with a connection to the historical landmarks.

Lorna Dixon, along with her family, was on hand to honour the Dixon Hotel, whose image was captured by a photograph, circa 1895, featuring Dixon's father-in-law as a young boy. The building was located where the current Winchester BMO branch sits on Main Street.

Dr. Harry Beach, a cousin of M.F. Beach, traveled from Ottawa with his Toronto-based son, Norm, to honour the M.F. Beach Factory's role in Winchester history. The mill, which was located where Nor-Dun Seniors Support Centre, the Winchester Lions Hall, and the Beachcroft Senior Apartments now stand, produced lumber, furniture, cheese boxes, and grist. Beach, who was born in 1912 and is now 101 years old, said he remembers most of the buildings featured in the new mural.

Steve and Lesley Ault attended the event representing the former Ault Creamery Plant located at Cass Bridge, which was established in 1891.

The Winchester CPR Station was established in 1884. Percy Armstrong, a former employee of the village train station said he was there when the building closed in 1969. It was then moved to Victoria Street where it was remodeled and is currently being used as a group home.

Gail, J.D. and Jane Van Noy represented Lannin's Garage, which was owned by Gail's father, and which went through various incarnations and moves. The garage pictured was at home in Winchester between 1915 and 1921.

The painting also includes the former Winchester Public School, which was established in 1890, and which burned down in 1927.

The mural also features the Winchester Town Hall and Fire Station, which was established in 1904. From Keller's painting, the Old Town Hall is the only structure currently still standing.

Lying below the ground beneath the mural, completely out of sight, is a time capsule honouring the mural's unveiling. The memory vault contains a July 31 edition of the Winchester Press, a laminated copy of Aug. 9th's unveiling poster, a dinner ticket for the event, as well as a 2013 $2 coin and a quarter, said Zandbelt.

Richmond

As homicide detectives were questioning him, a search warrant was executed at the couple's Summers Road home. (Melissa's funeral was held Sat., Aug. 3 at CFB Petawawa.)

A lifelong member of the country's military, Richmond has completed six different tours of duty – three in Afghanistan, two in Bosnia, and one in Cyprus – serving as a warrant officer and a geomatics technician (mapping battlefields).

In interviews following the announcement of Melissa's death, Richmond said he suffers from post-traumatic stress disorder, but had been receiving treatment.

Steele

Steele also served as a council member for the former Village of Winchester.

A wake for Steele took place on Sun., Aug. 11 at Byers Funeral Home in South Mountain, while a celebration of his life was held on Mon., Aug. 12. The service was held in front of a capacity crowd at the Joel Steele Community Centre. Speakers included John Rowe, Peter Guy, and Township of North Dundas Councillor Al Armstrong.

"Joel Steele has left his footprint across our township in so many ways," Armstrong said. "All of us who reside in North Dundas owe a gratitude of thanks to Joel Steele."

The Downtown Revitalization Committee has programmed the Sweet Corner Park clock to play Amazing Grace in Steele's honour every hour on the hour until Sun., Aug. 18.

No minimum required for Heel 'n Wheel participation

WINCHESTER – The mandatory minimum fundraising goal for participants in the annual Heel 'n Wheel for Local Cancer Care event has been eliminated.

The event was originally modelled after a regional weekend long walk in urban Ottawa, which featured a $2,000 fundraising pledge minimum per participant.

"We thought that applying a similar model to the weekend walk, featuring a reduced fundraising minimum would work well in our region, but the minimum is deterring people who want to participate from signing up. So we removed it," Christina Enright, the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Foundation's manager of community engagement, said.

Previously, adult participants of the Heel 'n Wheel event were required to raise a minimum of $500, while youth needed to bring in at least $100.

"Our hope is that people will sign up to walk or cycle from one of the seven starting locations, and set their own fundraising goal at their comfort level," Enright said.

This year's registration fees are $25 per adult and $10 per child, and can be applied to the participant's fundraising goal.

The event is scheduled to take place on Sat., Sept. 7, with walkers leaving each of the seven starting locations (Greely, Osgoode, Russell, Crysler, Finch, Morrisburg, or South Mountain) at 8 am, and cyclists leaving between 2 and 3 pm.

The event will conclude with a barbecue in front of the hospital in Winchester, complete with musical entertainment, children's activities, and a presentation of awards.

This event is open to all ages, and families are encouraged to participate together.

Two new residents accepted at WDMH

WINCHESTER – Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) has opened its doors to two new family medicine residents.

Dr. Maren Hamilton and Dr. Vanessa Carter, both from small towns, said they chose WDMH specifically because of its commitment to providing care close to home for local communities.

"The first month has been excellent," Hamilton said. "Everyone is so friendly and the learning is really hands-on."

Hamilton and Carter will be full-time family medicine residents at WDMH for the next two years.

"Winchester was my first choice and I was lucky enough to get it," Carter said. "It's a great learning environment and you get great exposure to rural medicine."

Hamilton and Carter will receive hands-on learning in almost every area of the hospital. They will also be paired with local family physicians in the community.

"It's a very special way to learn as the residents can follow patients through their whole health care experience," Sylvie Forgues-Martel, WDMH's Chief Liaison Officer, Office of Medical and Academic Affairs, said. "We are very fortunate to have such committed physicians to mentor and teach our residents."

On Mon., July 1, Winchester District Memorial Hospital welcomed two new family medicine residents, Dr. Vanessa Carter (left) and Dr. Maren Hamilton.

More than 300 students from a variety of disciplines had clinical placements at the hospital last year.

"We're thrilled to welcome two new doctors to WDMH," Cholly Boland, CEO, said. "WDMH continues to be very popular and well-respected as a rural teaching hospital."

In fact, 90 candidates applied for the two medical residency spots this year.

Hamilton, who grew up in Lyndhurst in a family with five children, completed her undergraduate degree at McMaster University and went to medical school at the University of Ottawa. She also taught English in Korea for a year.

"When I was young, I couldn't wait to go and see the world, but now I want to come back to my rural roots," Hamilton said.

Carter, who is from Summerstown, did her undergraduate degree at Castleton College in Vermont on an academic scholarship while playing Division 3 women's ice hockey as the starting goaltender. She completed her medical degree at the University of Ottawa.

"I'm from a family of four and had a few hospitalizations as a child, including on my birthday. I knew I wanted to be a doctor to help make sure other kids didn't have to be in the hospital on their birthday if we could help it," Carter said.

Hamilton and Carter join Dr. Amy Commodore and Dr. Karen Li, who have just completed their first year of residency in Winchester. WDMH's first two family residents, Dr. Tarinder Grewal and Dr. Stéphane Brassard, recently graduated from the program.

Ross Video further expands with Virginia R&D acquisition

IROQUOIS – Ross Video has announced the acquisition of Montalto, a research and development company based in Virginia Beach, Va.

According to staff at the Iroquois-based company, the addition of the Montalto team brings increased experience, innovation, a broader skill set, and a deeper knowledge of broadcast routing systems.

As former Harris/Leitch staff, the team was successful in developing many breakthrough products throughout the years.

The new Ross Video staff members, who will remain operational in the U.S. state will take responsibility for advancing the company's routing systems line, as well as contributing technology and products to Ross' openGear product portfolio.

"It's an amazing opportunity to join such an engaged leadership team who have developed a culture of innovation and 'can-do' attitudes where customer focus and market leadership are core to the company's values,"

Montalto joins team

Mark Sizemore, managing director at Montalto and now director of routing solutions at Ross Video, said. "It's been a dream of the Montalto team to get back to our core passion, and we're able to do that again with Ross."

The company's CEO, David Ross, acknowledged that the purchase further solidifies Ross Video's stake in the broadcasting technology field.

"[We're] thrilled to add the Montalto team to our infrastructure group," he said. "They are a great group, and fit right in with our culture. The team's extensive knowledge and passion for routing systems, coupled with a track record of project execution, will help propel our business going forward."

As a result of the acquisition, Ross Video has opened a development lab in Virginia Beach as a base of operation for routing systems development. This third component creates a third development lab in the U.S. for Ross Video, with firms already established in Boston and California. The company also has research and development operations in Ottawa, Belgium, The Netherlands, and Australia.

Tantalizing comedy

Upper Canada Playhouse's latest production, No Sex Please, We're British, *is slated to continue its run at the local theatre until Sun., Aug. 25. The play, written by Alistair Foot and Anthony Marriott, circles around Peter and Frances Hunter and the nightmare that ensues when the glassware they expected to receive ends up being a package full of pornographic films and books. Showtimes are Tuesday through Saturday at 8 pm, and 2 pm on Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday. Aultsville train station to feature home child exhibit in September

MORRISBURG – Ontario East British Home Child Family (OEBHCF), in partnership with Upper Canada Village, will be hosting a British Home Child exhibit at the Aultsville Train Station.

The former rail stop, which is now housed on County Road 2 west of the tourist attraction, will showcase a number of items on weekends from Sat., Aug. 31 to Sat., Sept. 28.

Between the 1860's and the 1930's, more than 100,000 impoverished children from the British Isles were sent to Canada to work as indentured servants in the homes and farms of this country. These children, ranging in age from infancy to 16-years-old, were removed from their homes by philanthropic organizations, and sent to Canada in the hope of securing a better future for them.

After travelling to Canada by ship and spending time at one of the many receiving homes located throughout the country, home children, as they were known, would often travel to their new accommodations by rail.

According to OEBHCF members, there is little doubt many of these littlest of immigrants would have been found waiting in or near a building such as Aultsville Train Station for pick up by their new family.

A collection of memorabilia and information about home children will be showcased at the station on Saturdays and Sundays from 12 to 4 pm, Aug. 31 to Sept. 28.

Members of the OEBHCF, meanwhile, will be present to provide information and answer questions.

As well, the committee will once again be hosting British Home Child Day at Upper Canada Village, with this year's event scheduled for Sept. 28, the final day of the exhibit.

For more information, contact Glenna Walkden at 613-543-0421.

Acoustic stage season lineup unveiled

MORRISBURG – The St. Lawrence Acoustic Stage's 2013-2014 entertainment lineup has been released.

According to Sandra Whitworth, a board member for the local music venue, there have been some interesting themes generated for the upcoming season.

"We have a couple of acts that gained national attention at the Vancouver Winter Olympics," she said. "Spoken word phenom Shane Koyczan, who is opening our season in September, appeared in the opening ceremonies with a stunning piece on who we are as Canadians, and then in March we have Chic Gamine coming in from Manitoba, and they helped closed out the games."

The stage will also welcome Garnet Rogers in November. Rogers toured with his brother, Stan, in the early years, and went on to establish himself as one of Canada's major folk talents.

Also in November, the 24th Street Wailers, a band that has been playing the North American festival scene in recent years, will be in Morrisburg. The group's saxophonist, Jon Wong, won the Maple Blues Award for best saxophonist this past year.

"The funny thing is, we have been trying to book horn players for several years now, and this year we will have several," Whitworth said.

A month earlier, in October, Ian Sherwood and Coco Love Alcorn, multi-instrumentalists, will feature horns as part of their show on the stage.

The remaining season schedule includes finger style guitarist Antoine Dufour in January, Old Man Luedecke in February, the band Digging Roots in April, as well as two emerging artists in December.

Tickets are available now at Strung Out Guitars in Cornwall and The Basket Case Café in Morrisburg.

When driving, leave the crown at home

Driving is a privilege, not a right.

Anyone learning to drive in Ontario will have come across this adage very early on in their training. In fact, today it can be found in large block letters on the Ontario Ministry of Transportation (MTO) website, as well as in the early pages of the MTO Driver's Handbook.

So, why then do so many drivers blatantly ignore the laws of the road, making up their own rules as they go along? Does getting behind the wheel of the car somehow transform certain individuals – in their minds – into the King (or Queen) of the Highway? How else can the drivers who speed excessively, pass illegally, tailgate, cut people off, fail to pull over for an ambulance, or perform any other of a number of reckless driving manoeuvres be explained?

The issue with the King-of-the-Highway syndrome is that it puts innocent people's lives in danger, as well the lives of those stepping into the royal robes. At worst, the bad choices these drivers make can cause hazardous and potentially fatal situations for all those on the road, including other drivers, pedestrians, and cyclists. At best, these choices simply serve to irritate fellow drivers.

County Road 31 seems to be a magnet for the Kings and Queens of the Highway, as many are trying to get into the City of Ottawa for work in the morning and then back home again to one of the rural villages south of the metropolis at the end of the day. While not all of the accidents on this road are caused due to excessive speed and illegal passing, it is probably a safe bet that the majority do fall into that category.

In fact, the issue with speeding along this stretch of road as it runs through the village of Williamsburg caused so many issues that it led to the implementation of a community safety zone, whereby anyone caught going above 50 kilometres per hour in the clearly marked area may be fined at double the regular amount.

Knowing this, why then are people still flying through Williamsburg doing anywhere from 80 to 100 kilometres per hour? And, why do some drivers feel it necessary to pass those who are doing the speed limit, within the village boundaries, risking everything to get to their destination a whopping two minutes faster?

However, people should not follow Ontario's road laws because they don't want to be fined. They should do so because they care about and have respect for human life.

Residents in these small villages, where the speed limit ranges anywhere from 50 to 60 kilometres per hour, have the right to expect drivers to honour the speed limit when passing their homes… showing consideration for the safety of the children walking along the sidewalk or playing in the front yards abutting the roadway.

While mistakes are a part of life, many of the accidents that happen on roadways are preventable by merely following the guidelines and using common sense.

This week, in 1983, four members of Winchester's Marlin swim team were pictured along with their medals from a recent swim meet. Tim Grose (left) won for top 15 and over boy, while Rhonda McIntosh took the medal for top 15 and over girl. Chris Van Bridger won the medal for top 10 and under boy, and Noreen Skuce secured the prize for top 10 and under girl.

Remember when...

1923

In this week's Winchester Press, 22-year-old Violet Hazel Smith was sentenced to serve one term at the "reformatory for females" in Brockville. It was revealed that Smith, a mother of two boys, had three living husbands, one each in Ogdensburg, Tin Cap and Cardinal.

1933

Winchester High School student Nairn Boyd, 15, finished first in the 60 metre, 100 metre, and 200 metre dashes at the Legion Field Meet in Cornwall. "[Boyd] beat such nationally known athletes as Conolly of Morrisburg and Stidwell of Cornwall. Nairn's powerful stride overcame the experience and more finished technique of the older runners." In doing so, Boyd earned the silver cup.

1943

This week's Press reported on the status of local men serving in the Second World War. Winchester's Sgt. John Todd of the 19th Field Regiment of the Royal Canadian Artillery arrived safely overseas, while Lieut. J. Arnold Acres of Vernon qualified for his commission. In addition, the Press received word that Capt. Harold Beach, who was attached to the Field Ambulance Corps of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, was among the troops who made the first assault on Sicily. He served with General Montgomery's 8th Army.

1953

Williamsburg's Picadilly Theatre advertised a four-day run of the recently released Moulin Rouge, "a sensational love story of the famous artist Lautrec. However, it is also the lusty tale of gay Paris in her most shameful and sinful days, back when the Can Can was Hush! Hush!" The film starred Jose Ferrer, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Colette Marchand, and Suzanne Flon. According to the advertisement, "[it was] destined to be the greatest money making picture of all time."

1963

Mike Roach of Hallville made the front page of this week's Press with a plaque he found in his attic. The relic, dated 1905, was believed to have been an advertising sign for George Jannack's Hallville barbershop. According to the sign, patrons of the shop could get a shave for five cents, a hair cut for 15 cents or a shampoo for 10 cents. The Press suggested Winchester's current barber, Gerry Helmer, "will shudder when he sees the prices of haircuts on the sign. At a buck per clip, today's prices have jumped slightly." However, it was also noted, "like the good old days, the barbershop is still a popular place for young and old. Some of the choicest stories still unfold at the barbershop."

1973

On his farm three miles northeast of Winchester, George Barclay discovered a 160-year-old cannon ball. "Aside from very little corrosion, it was in good shape and one or two markings were still visible, particularly a broad arrow, which indicated it was of British manufacture," wrote the Press. After being taken to the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, experts from Fort Henry identified the cannon as a 24-pounder solid shot, 18 inches in circumference, which was used up until the mid-1800s. "The 24-pounder field piece was normally used as a garrison artillery as opposed to field artillery due to its weight." It was suggested that the shot could have come from a myriad of places: Fort Henry in Kingston, Fort Wellington in Prescott, or possibly as cargo on a gunboat in the War of 1812.

1983

The St. Lawrence Street theatre in Winchester advertised "Family Style Entertainment" in this week's Press. With a 7:30 pm showing each night, Doctor Detroit featuring Dan Aykroyd and James Brown was to play for two nights, while The Terry Fox Story featuring Eric Fryer would run for six.

1993

The fifth annual Winchester Dairyfest celebration attracted "record crowds" to this year's event, wrote the Press. Every dance was sold out, and the Sunday afternoon at the park activities attracted roughly 3,000 people. Throughout the four-day event, it was estimated more than 12,000 people attended the 1993 Dairyfest. The festivities concluded with a massive fireworks display.

2003

This week's Press highlighted the winners of the Dairyfest Talent Show's singing contests. In the ages 12 and under category, 12-year-old Kaitlyn Williams took first place for her rendition of Celine Dion's "My Heart Will Go On." Singing one of her own creations, Cierra Campeau of Kanata took first place in the ages 13 to 18 division, while South Mountain's Laura Hebert won top honours in the ages 19 and over category with her acapella performance of Tracy Chapman's "Behind the Wall."

Um, you tore your what?

From the Other Side
by Jeff Morris

All things bad that happen have one common denominator.

Facebook.

In my life, Facebook is nothing more than a license to embarrass myself.

Last week, I established a new standard in cyber-self-humiliation.

It all started with positive and happy news that was a huge relief.

The Diva and I spent last Sunday in the Kemptville District Hospital's state-of-the-art emergency room and radiology unit. I was hobbling around on my crutches, getting x-rays, talking to the doctor, and moaning and complaining about pain and discomfort while the Diva became the clubhouse leader in the Canadian Open of Patience for putting up with me.

The night before, I was injured. I got completely Wile-E.-Coyoted playing football. I got bounced around the field like a ragdoll that had been kicked down the stairs. Putting me back together after dislocating my hip was too much – even for all the king's horses and all the king's men.

"Honey, we'll go as soon as I'm done colouring my hair," the Diva said the next morning. "And then I just want to watch the end of this show. You're not in a hurry, are you?"

After triage, and waiting, and then go here and wait there, and then sit here and sit there again, it was finally time for x-rays. The first set showed that my femur was fractured. At least, that's what it showed.

"We don't think it's a fracture," the doctor told us. "We think there was a fold on the bed sheet and that is showing up as a fracture," he explained.

He wasn't sure and didn't know what to do, but just before he sent me home with the instructions to "come back in a few days if it's still bugging you," the Diva talked him into getting a second set of x-rays.

"That's a great idea," he proclaimed.

The Diva didn't even go to med school, nor had she stayed at a Holiday Inn Express the previous night.

While we were waiting, the doctor explained that I would likely be getting a CT scan and then surgery to put pins in my hip. The Diva, meanwhile, was taking pictures of me in my state of poster-boy-of-patheticness and uploading them to Facebook. There I was, wearing my under armour "Attack, Defend, Destroy" t-shirt. She posted it with the caption, "It should read… Tried to Attack, Wanted to Defend, Got Destroyed."

Eventually, the doctor came back with the best news we could have had. There was no fracture. However, through a combination of my deep sigh of relief and the cocktail of painkillers I had taken, I didn't quite catch all of the next part. The x-ray showed the mess of torn cartilage, and it was explained to us as a labral tear.

"You should put something on Facebook," the Diva said, as we had a few dozen people sending their best and asking what was going on.

"Do you want me to do it?" she asked.

"No, it's okay," I replied confidently. "I've got this."

And the humiliation was about to begin. I looked at my Blackberry and started to update my status. I thanked everyone for their concern and their wishes for recovery. Then I typed my foot right into my mouth. "Now, what was it that was torn," I thought. "Oh yeah. Got it."

I proceeded to tell the entire Internet and everyone on it that I had a torn labia.

The Diva was the first to read my post as soon as I hit send.

"Ugh, why didn't you let me do this for you?"

"What?"

"You realize what you typed, right?"

"Yeah."

"What did you tear?"

"My labia."

"Um, you don't have a labia. You tore your labral tissue."

"It's not the same thing?"

"No. You are so embarrassing."

Oh no, I had done it again. I had self-destructed on Facebook. I am so careful to be a regular guy. I don't wear Crocs or Lulu Lemon for Men and I barbecue with charcoal and I would never own a Volvo or carry a satchel, and, okay, I cry at movies sometimes and I usually get my back waxed every summer but I would never let anyone know about that. And now, OMG, I am telling about 1,000 people on Facebook I tore my labia.

The replies and comments started flying. Krysia, whose husband Gary works with me, chimed in that she hurt her labia giving birth, so I must have really been hit hard. Others piped in with similar comments.

Over the next few days, I was still getting comments from people. The Diva, meanwhile, was having a field day with it. "Hey honey, can I get you anything? How's your hip? Is your labia okay?"

Eventually, I acknowledged my mistake with an awkward LOL and a made-up excuse that I was whacked out on painkillers and didn't understand. Unfortunately, I would have got just as mixed up and made the same error without any help from the makers of Advil, Aleve, and Tylenol.

"But if you saw me try to make a tackle," I wrote, "you would probably think that I actually had a labia."

Now, the crutches are gone and it's time to try and get back on the field to referee in time for the high school season.

And I know exactly what you are going to say.

Yes, I will be careful and I won't re-injure my labia.

From Parliament Hill
by MP Guy Lauzon

Summer recess in SD&SG

OTTAWA – Parliament rose for the summer break at the end of June, and the so called "barbecue season" began.

I am still not sure what is meant by this term, but I can tell you I have been out and about since the beginning of July, and the only barbecue I attended was our own Stormont, Dundas and South Glengarry (SD&SG) constituency picnic.

I have attended events throughout the riding, including seven Canada Day celebrations, the Glengarry Highland Games, numerous fairs, sports tournaments, and many other events.

I was pleased to have participated in an event where the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Community Futures Development Corporation announced a $30,000 dollar contribution to Seaway Valley Crime Stoppers that will support a new program, Stay on Course, through the Eastern Ontario Development Program (EODP).

Further, I had the pleasure of announcing that Winchelsea Events in Winchester will receive $50,000 in funding through the EODP. I was also honoured to welcome minister of agriculture, Gerry Ritz, to Morewood to announce a new import levy that will provide investments in research and market development for Canada's beef industry.

My favourite part about my summer's working in the riding are the many events I am able to attend because I get the opportunity to consult with many of my constituents. As your representative in Ottawa, it is my duty to take your concerns to Parliament.

Summer is the perfect time to receive feedback from my constituents when I am out and about in the riding. So far, I have received a lot of feedback; positive feedback, some criticism, and a number of good suggestions as to how our government can deliver better service to Canadians.

Creating jobs, growing the economy, and reducing the deficit tops the list of concerns for most constituents I have spoken with. Many are worried that if the economy takes a downturn their employment may suffer.

The agriculture community appears to be healthy, and most SD&SG farmers are cautiously optimistic for the near future. Health care along with crime are also still major concerns to residents, especially seniors. I look forward to meeting many more of my constituents over the summer months so I can I represent their views in Ottawa.

If you see me at an event, I encourage you to approach me with your concerns.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Strengthening a community by giving back

The Editor:

Each of us hopes to leave something behind us after we're gone – to leave our mark so to speak.

Through the children we've raised, the friends we've made, the people we've loved, or through contributions at work and in our communities. We want to know that we've made a difference. We want to feel that the world Is a better place because we were here.

My world has been centred in my community, Winchester, for the past 30 years. I've tried to be involved and "give back." I've been a Sunday school teacher and a minor baseball convener; organized kids activities at winter carnivals; and canvassed for the Canadian Diabetes Association and the Canadian Cancer Society.

My family would say that I don't know how to say "no."

When I first moved to the village in 1983, I joined the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary as a way to learn about my community, and to meet people. Since then, my appreciation for our hospital has grown tenfold. Through the births of our two children, trips to the ER, and a few minor surgeries – I was always very grateful that such quality care was available right in our backyard.

After being diagnosed with cancer in 2004, WDMH became my passion. Cancer is scary stuff, and the journey is both long and hard. The doctors, nurses, and staff at WDMH were professional and compassionate, and they cared for me in a way that made me feel safe. After that, it just made sense for me to focus my giving back as a member of the Winchester Hospital Heelers. The Heelers are a group dedicated to raising money for cancer care at WDMH.

Since 2007, the Heelers have made a real difference in cancer care at WDMH. We've raised more than $525,000 – $393,000 of which came back to WDMH to help pay for a digital mammography machine. Participating in the annual Weekend to End Women's Cancers in Ottawa – raising pledges and walking 60 kilometres throughout two days in that event to raise the money.

When that event was discontinued in 2011, the Heelers worked with the WDMH Foundation to create a new event, the Heel 'n Wheel for Local Cancer Care, which allowed us to continue to deliver on our commitment.

In 2012, the first-ever event had almost 100 participants, who together raised more than $70,000. With that, the Heelers were $38,000 closer to meeting our commitment of $500,000 to finance the digital mammography machine.

If you are passionate about our community like I am, participating in an event like the Heel 'n Wheel can turn your passion into something tangible – like a digital mammography machine, or other equipment needed for cancer treatment.

If you want to get involved, this year's Heel 'n Wheel for Local Cancer Care is on Sat., Sept. 7, and there is nothing quite like knowing that you've spent time making a difference in someone's life or their health.

Municipal politicians out of step with voters

The Editor:

I was very disappointed to see the headline "South Branch Wind Farm receives official approval" in the Wed., July 17 edition of the Winchester Press.

Democracy is at an end when former Premier Dalton McGuinty has been allowed to force non-green, high-cost, low-output wind energy onto the province, despite continued protest by the voting public.

Municipality of South Dundas council does not seem to listen to its constituents on this issue, nor on the library closure issue where they came onboard only at the eleventh hour.

Even more disappointing is that Township of North Dundas council, having voted that they do not want wind turbines in the municipality, is happy to accept $95,000 from the wind companies for road access.

Most people know that you cannot be against something and, at the same time, accept financial gains from it. But, in politics, money talks.

Well, at the next elections, at the provincial and the municipal levels, the voters will be the ones talking, and a change of government at all levels is certainly needed.

In and around Osgoode Ward

by Councillor Doug Thompson

Beware of poison parsnip

Poison parsnip is wild in the ditches again, and residents are cautioned to be aware.

It looks like Queen Anne's Lace, but has yellow flowers, and it can grow up to six feet tall.

Contact with the plant can cause third degree burns or blindness, as the sap reacts chemically with UV light and burns the skin.

Upon contact, skin should be covered from exposure to the sun and then washed off. If it begins to burn and blister, continue to wash it off, keep the area moist with Polysporin ointment, and continue to keep it covered.

Medical attention should be sought following contact with the parsnip plant. If it gets in the eyes, wash them immediately, and proceed to hospital emergency room.

Report poison parsnip flowers by calling 311.

Police seek help in vandalism case

Sometime between Fri., June 28 and Mon., July 8, police responded to reports of mischief to Osgoode area farmers' sod fields.

The investigation revealed that vehicles were trespassing on fields in the area of Nixon Road between Buckles Street and Dalmeny Road. The suspect vehicles were driving in an aggressive manner on the fields doing "donuts" and causing considerable damage to the fields.

Police are still investigating, and would urge anyone with any information to contact the Greely Community Police Centre at 613-236-1222 extension 3787 or CrimeStoppers at 613-233-8477.

New venue for bazaar in October

by Janice Hyndman

WINCHESTER – Planning for the upcoming Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) Auxiliary bazaar was front and centre at the organization's Thurs., Aug. 8 meeting.

The popular event will be held at the Joel Steele Community Centre in Winchester this year on Sat., Oct. 19 with the official opening taking place at 11 am. An elevator is available for those who find stairs to be an obstacle.

Returning features are the baked goods and produce table, a silent auction, the tearoom, the sale of cheese and honey, and a 50-50 raffle. A door prize will be awarded, and the auxiliary's award-winning Christmas plum puddings will be available for $12 each.

New this year will be a fashion show and the sale of ladies' wear, and other local vendors with handmade items.

WDMH CEO Cholly Boland also addressed auxiliary members during the meeting, informing them that the five-year strategic plan for the hospital has been finalized.

Its focus is on three areas: continuing the positive things that are being done now, working closely with the community in palliative care and care for seniors, and researching ways to better serve the rural population.

In closing, Boland expressed his appreciation for all that the volunteers do for WDMH.

The auxiliary, meanwhile, provided state of the art Baxter intravenous pumps to the hospital last year at a cost of $297,000, and has agreed to purchase several more with the cost of the additional units being $55,000.

Volunteer co-ordinator Alan Archer told the members that volunteers offered 925 hours of service to WDMH in July, bringing the total for 2013 to 6,592. Archer emphasized that new volunteers are always needed at the hospital, and anyone interested in offering a few hours each month may contact him at the hospital.

All members of the auxiliary are invited to attend a membership meeting on Thurs., Sept. 12 at 1:30 pm in room C401 at the hospital.

Couple opens area's latest grain elevator

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

DALMENY – After having already made their mark as successful cash croppers, seed sellers, and dairy farmers, among other things, Ivan and Darlene Petersen are once again diversifying their farm's agriculture portfolio.

Just east of the family operation on Dalmeny Road sits four new storage bins, each arching their way toward the sun, a wet bin, and a single load-out bin. The expansion is simply the latest venture in the Petersens' 22 years of business.

"We think we'll be filling a need in the area… But we need this for ourselves, too," Ivan said. "We will fill this half full with our own product."

It was this need, and tempting commodity prices that pushed the farming couple to invest heavily in an elevator with the capacity for 5,000 tonnes. Two bins can carry 2,000 tonnes, while the two others have capacity for 565 tonnes. Outside of that, there is one 400 tonne wet bin, and a 50 tonne load-out bin.

The Petersens expect to have the elevator operational by early September.

"We've been planning this project for two years," Ivan said. "It finally came to fruition… There are a lot of people to get on side for something like this."

The operation will also feature one wet leg that can unload 10,000 bushels (roughly six tractor loads) per hour, and one 6,000-bushel-per-hour dry elevator leg.

Eventually, the Petersens hope to have 20,000 tonnes of storage capacity available.

According to the couple, neighbouring farmers will be able to dry, store, and sell grain in the immediate vicinity, rather than a minimum of 15 kilometres away, helping to reduce transportation costs and time commitments.

"No matter how high yields are, harvest time grain prices are no guarantee of maximum profitability," Ivan said. "On-site storage offers many benefits, including increased harvest capacities and up-time, as well as the freedom for local farmers to hold their commodity in storage for better returns in the future."

Complementing the Petersens new elevator is a cattle herd of 250, comprising of a 130-head milking herd, cash crop business, custom planting and harvesting operation, as well as custom trucking services.

On their land, a total of 1,250 acres is under cultivation, with 530 acres each of corn and soybeans, and roughly 35 acres of wheat, with a balance of hay also in rotation.

The elevator, which was sourced from and constructed by CASA Comptoir Agricole Ste. Anne, is getting the bulk of the attention these days. Ultimately, the couple intends to turn over the dairy operation to their son, while focusing solely on the grain sales and elevator operation.

The Petersens will be hosting an open house to unveil the new structure on Sat., Aug. 24 from 10 am to 3 pm.

Sheep sale draws crowd

SPENCERVILLE – In late July, the Performance Tested Sheep Sale was held at the Spencerville Fairgrounds.

According to organizers, the event was considered a success despite the current low lamb prices plaguing the sheep industry.

"The need for healthy, qualified genetics remains of ongoing importance, whether you are sustaining or expanding your sheep flock," Fred Baker, Ontario Sheep Marketing Agency (OSMA) District 10 chair, said. "The sale was a good opportunity to access those new genetics."

Known as a "one of a kind" sheep sale in Ontario, the Spencerville event requires that all rams have been tested on the national performance program, Genovis. The testing program provides potential purchasers with breeding animals that have had their genetic merit evaluated for economically important traits. Maternal and Terminal breeds of both rams and ewes were on offer at the late July auction conducted by Joynt Auction Service.

The top selling ewe was a dorper entered by Cedarview Dorpers, owned by Jeff and Karen Wright of Perth. It was sold to Andrew Simms of Shawville, Que. for $430.

The top selling ram was a polled Dorset entered by Century Lane Farm (Rom and Shirley Graves of Stittsville) that went to Zachary Baker of Winchester for $875.

The overall sale average for ewes was $255, and the average ram price was $523. A total of 65 purebred and commercial animals were sold to buyers who came from Ontario, Quebec, and New Brunswick.

Education meetings

The OSMA District 10 is set to host educational events for local sheep producers throughout the fall and winter. A social session, in conjunction with the annual general meeting, is scheduled for Sat., Sept. 14 at Rocky Hyland Farm near Mountain.

For more information, contact Gary Lapier at 613-989-2792 or visit www.osmadistrict10.ca.

Touring the prairies

The Dundas Soil and Crop Improvement Association hosted its annual tour late last month. This year's trek took participants to Manitoba, as the 55 local farmers toured through Brandon, Altona, Elm Creek, and Winkler. In all, those taking part made 16 stops, along with a tour of the provincial legislature. Members are pictured here touring Westman Aerial Spraying in Brandon. Participants also toured through the Winkler Structure (tarp sheds) facility in Winkler.

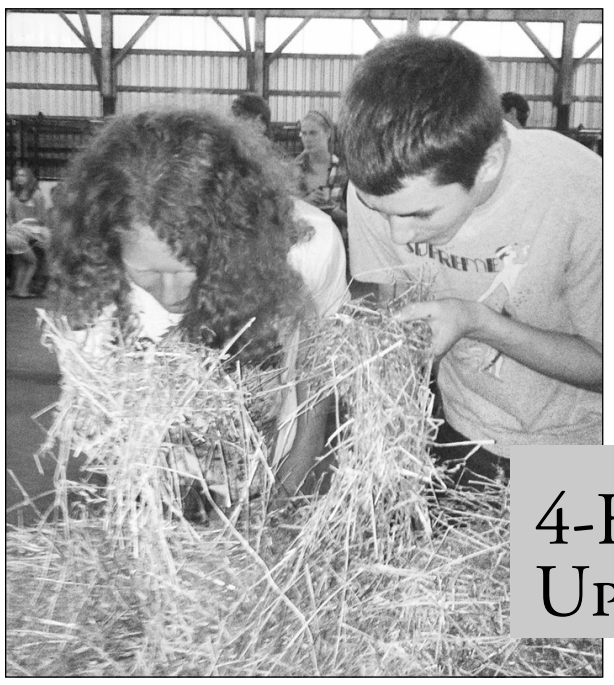
East Carleton dominates judging night



Ryan Gallagher (left), from the East Carleton Sheep Club, and Adam Taylor (right), from the Vernon Dairy Club, judged a class of hay at the Carleton County 4-H Judging Night Competition held at the Richmond Fairgrounds late last month. Judging Night is a great way for 4-H members to apply their agricultural knowledge and to learn valuable public speaking skills.

4-H UPDATE

by Clayton W. Hall

RICHMOND – The Carleton County 4-H Judging Night Competition was held late last month at the Richmond Fairgrounds.

More than 150 members aged nine to 21 from 4-H clubs throughout the county were in attendance. The annual event gives 4-H members the opportunity to judge various classes of livestock and crops, and to defend their placings by giving oral reasons, thereby allowing members to develop their confidence and to practice their public speaking skills.

This year, the classes included Dorset breeding ewes, Hereford beef heifers, Holstein dairy heifers, miniature horses, hay, potatoes, and a mystery class consisting of carpentry projects. Participants were scored based on how closely their placings matched the official placings, as well as on the quality of their reasons. Additionally, all members had to complete a weed and seed identification quiz, and senior members were tasked with writing a general agricultural knowledge test.

Members of the East Carleton 4-H Sheep Club put forward a particularly strong effort at this year's competition. Rhiannah Gallagher emerged as the top novice judge with Taylor Bazinet finishing just outside the top 10. In the junior division, both Mitchell Bazinet and Colin Gallagher ranked in the top 15. Ryan Gallagher earned the top spot in the intermediate group. Clayton Hall, Caileigh Gallagher, and Meaghan Hall swept the senior division, taking first, second, and third place, respectively.

Thank you very much to the organizers of judging night, and to the volunteers who provided animals and crops for the 4-H members to judge.

Dairyfest rates an A+

The 25th annual Winchester Dairyfest has come and gone. The four-day festival got underway on Thurs., Aug. 8 and, in addition to celebrating all things dairy, it offered loads of community-centred activities until its final day on Sun., Aug. 11. Events included a visit from Little Ray's Reptile Zoo on Fri., Aug. 9, followed by Casino Night. On Sat., Aug. 10, festivities began with the firefighters breakfast and the Dairy Dash, followed by a host of other dairy-related competitions, dances, music, games, rides, and more. The last day, Aug. 11, included two new competitions – the electric belt sander race and the back it up contest – as well as toy car rides, Lego car races, open mic, ice cream sundaes, and more. Peyton Van Denbroek (above), along with fellow Dundas 4-H Club members Kaylin Van Denbroek, Janessa Pol, and Cilicia Pol, brought their calves to this year's Dairyfest.

Renée Friesen (left) and Karen Bennett got to know one another better in the "Take a Seat, Meet a Neighbour" box.

Samantha Greer was one of the contestants in the 2013 Little Miss/Little Mr. Dairyfest. Winners of this year's contest were Miss Taylor Mathers and Mr. Drew Sleeth.

Danika Nielsen was one of several Academy of Dance and Fitness dancers who took to the street on Sat., Aug. 10.

Vaughan Sharp (above) got a bit wet while milking Dundas County Milk Committee's Maple the Cow. Daniel Hayes (left) rode atop one of Alingsview Stable's horses.

Vreman paces OT5 United to 4-1 victory

OTTAWA – Don Vreman struck for a pair of goals leading the North Dundas OT5 United to a 4-1 victory over the White Eagles.

Last week's (Fri., Aug. 9) win was the third of the season and third consecutive for the old timers who are 12th in their Ottawa Carleton Soccer League OT5 standings with a 3-7-1 record and 10 points. Hugh Grant and Robert Fowler netted the other markers against the White Eagles.

Vreman also counted a goal in United's 3-1 decision over Sporting Mexico in Chesterville on Fri., Aug. 2. Grant and Tony Wouters also marked goals. Vreman has racked up a team-leading four goals in the squad's three victories. His scoring spree started on Fri., July 26 when shots fired by Vreman and Wouters found the back of the net in a 2-0 win over the Spitfires.

This week (Fri., Aug. 16) North Dundas will host the Carleton Raiders (6-4-1) at the Chesterville Fairgrounds.

Hedge hot

Cameron Hunt-Hedge cracked both goals as the North Dundas MR6 United battled the Lynwood Golden Boots to a 2-2 draw in their OCSL match last week (Wed., Aug. 7).

Hunt-Hedge and Alex Porteous marked the goals in a 2-2 draw with the Spitfires on July 24 and Patrick Gibson cashed in the lone goal in a 2-1 loss to first-place Kemptville (8-1-3) last week (Wed., July 31).

Hunt-Hedge has rung up 10 goals helping the United establish a fourth-place record of 7-2-2. Westboro Wolves (9-3-0) and Kemptville top the standings with 27 points. The Arnprior Spurs (7-1-4) have 25 and North Dundas 23 points.

Tonight (Wed., Aug. 14) North Dundas will face the Lynwood Golden Boots (5-6-1) at the Chesterville Fairgrounds.

Warriors streaking

Kyle Hume booted in the lone goal as the North Dundas MR4 United held the Ottawa Raiders to a 1-1 draw last week (Tues., Aug. 6). It was Hume's eighth goal of the campaign and helped his team extend its unbeaten string to three games.

That positive run began on Tues., July 23 with a 3-1 decision over the Fusion. Tyler Hunt, Chris Wert and Jordan Doran were the goal scorers in that contest. Cory Vandemheen and Wert bagged the markers as North Dundas doubled the Bears 2-1 on Tues., July 30.

Last night (Tues., Aug. 13) the fourth-place Warriors (5-5-2) will visit the Golden Seals (3-7-1).

WR4 United

Jenna Wouters toed in a pair of goals, her third and fourth of the season, in the North Dundas WR4 United's 5-3 loss to the OSU Freebirds last week (Thurs., Aug. 8). Kristy Hill was the other scorer.

Wouters and Kaitlyn Hay marked the tallies in a 2-2 tie with the Ottawa Internationals on Thurs., Aug. 1. The week before (Thurs., July 25) North Dundas was beaten 5-3 by the Croatian Jadran. Lindsy Allen, Rose Murton and Hay provided the offence.

North Dundas carries a seventh-place record of 4-6-1 into tomorrow's road game against the winless Fitzroy Harbour Hicks (0-6-5).

Sonics sunk

The North Dundas MR3 Sonics put the brakes on a three game slide that included three shutout losses (1-0 Russell Raiders, 2-0 Ottawa Internationals, 1-0 West Ottawa) by blasting the Gloucester Hornets 11-nil on Wed., July 31.

Will O'Connor powered the attack cracking three goals. Dave Mathers and Matt Holmes each pegged a pair while Julian Whittam, Jonathan Bouwman and Dylan Roberts sniped the singles. Keeper Jacob Tibben posted the perfect result.

Last week (Wed., Aug. 7) Mathers marked goals nine and 10 in North Dundas' 3-2 loss to the top-ranked Russell Raiders (8-2-1).

North Dundas will try to improve its sixth-place record of 5-5-1 when they face the Ottawa Raiders Blues (2-6-2) in their final home game at Mountain Memorial Community Park tonight (Wed., Aug. 14).

Kyle Hume scored the lone goal in the North Dundas MR4 Warriors 1-1 draw with the Ottawa Raiders in last week's (Tues., Aug. 6) Ottawa Carleton Soccer League match. It was Hume's eighth goal of the season.

Hawks open training camp

WINCHESTER – The Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks will open their training camp at the Joel Steel Community Centre on Mon., Aug. 26.

The next two sessions are set for Tues., Aug. 27 and Thurs., Aug. 29. The on-ice time is 10 pm until midnight on each occasion. The Hawks also have an exhibition road game against the Metro Division's Ottawa West Golden Knights scheduled for Wed., Aug. 28.

Coach Tom Kirkwood reports the team will also host preseason matches on Sat., Aug. 31 (2 pm) and Mon., Sept 2 (2 pm). Winchester's Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League home opener will feature a visit from the Casselman Vikings on Fri., Sept. 13 (8:15 pm).

Players can register online at www.winchesterhawks.com or by calling general manager Craig "JB" Smith at 613-795-9450 or Kirkwood at 613-448-3649. There will be a $100 per player fee.

Kirkwood said that a number of prospects have already registered online and after assessing talent during several recruiting and scouting sessions he feels it will be a very competitive camp.

Gove named NCAA All-American award winner

Berwick's Teal Gove recently completed her final season as a member of the Plattsburgh State Cardinals, and racked up a number of awards in the process.

PLATTSBURGH N.Y. – The awards continue to roll in for Teal Gove of the Plattsburgh State women's hockey team, as the recent graduate was named Capital One Academic All-American of the Year for the Division III Women's At-Large Program.

Gove, a North Dundas District High School graduate and former captain of the school's Blue Devils hockey team, was also selected as one of 58 winter student-athletes to receive an NCAA postgraduate scholarship. The Berwick native becomes the first Plattsburgh State student-athlete to be selected for the honour.

Gove was also named to the Capital One Academic All-America Division III Women's At-Large First Team, which is a follow-up to her third team selection in 2012.

She is one of just two women's ice hockey players to be recognized on this year's Division III At-Large Team, which is selected annually by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA).

As for the scholarship, each winter 29 male and 29 female winter sports student-athletes from across all divisions are honoured, with each receiving an award of $7,500. Similar awards are given each season to fall and spring student-athletes, totalling 174 individual winners each academic year.

The two awards for Gove cap off what has been called one of the best individual seasons put together by a Plattsburgh State women's hockey player.

Gove led the Cardinals to a third-place finish for the second-straight season as the nation's leading scorer with 50 points, and an average of 1.67 points per game. She was the 2013 American Hockey Coaches Association (AHCA) Laura Hurd Award winner, which recognizes the top player in Division III women's hockey, and was named the D3Hockey.com Division III Women's Player of the Year.

Latest in long string of accolades

A two-time AHCA First Team All-American, Gove was also named ECAC West Player of the Year for the second straight season, and wraps up her career with 139 points, tied for fourth all-time in program history.

While Gove has served as a leader on the ice, she has been just as successful in the classroom. Gove graduated in May with a bachelor's of science in biology, maintaining a 3.83 grade-point average during her time at Plattsburgh State.

In addition to her two Capital One Academic All-American citations, Gove has been named to the ECAC West All-Academic Team three times, the SUNYAC All-Academic Team two times, and the SUNYAC Commissioner's List twice.

Gove was also named a SUNY Chancellor Scholar-Athlete in 2012. She will be continuing her studies in the fall at McGill University in Montreal.

To be eligible for Academic All-America consideration, a student-athlete must be a varsity starter or key reserve, maintain a cumulative grade-point average of 3.3 on a scale of 4.0, have reached sophomore athletic and academic standings at his or her current institution, and be nominated by his or her sports information director.

The at-large team consists of student-athletes from 12 men's intercollegiate sports, which includes fencing, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, rifle, skiing, swimming, tennis, volleyball, water polo, and wrestling.

To qualify for an NCAA postgraduate scholarship, student-athletes must excel academically and athletically, be in their final year of eligibility, and plan to pursue graduate study.

Student-athletes must also maintain at least a 3.2 grade point average and be nominated by their institution's faculty athletics representative.

Interesting competitions debut at 2013 Dairyfest

WINCHESTER – There were two new competitive events at this year's Dairyfest.

On Sun., Aug. 11, the Electric Belt Sander Race and the Back It Up Contest debuted at the Winchester Arena.

Aaron Dellah was the mastermind behind the sanding tool event, while Derrick Damon Reeve and Scott Guyea of Stone Creations By Derrick spearheaded the driving contest.

Dellah, who found his inspiration for the new event on YouTube, built the racetrack himself.

Sander race

In heats of two at a time, the electric sanders in this race were given multiple opportunities to make it to the finish line first.

Out of the five entrants in this year's race, it was Vince Zandbelt's "Zandbelt Sandbelt," a 6.5-amp King Canada 8356 sander, taking top honours, which included a $75 BMR gift card and a book, A Splintered History of Wood.

In second was Annette Angus with the "Terrace Green Bed and Breakfast Special," an eight-amp Dewalt DW433 sander. She won a $50 BMR gift card and a semi-automatic screwdriver.

Jonas Fossitt came in third with his 7.5-amp Craftsman 315. Fossitt took home a $25 BMR gift card and a mini ratchet set.

Always room for something different

Trucks, trailers

The Back It Up Contest required a truck (or car) and an attached trailer of any make or size. This timed event required participants to drive forward, back the trailer up, turning it to the right, before proceeding to the finish line. For each pylon knocked over, a 10-second penalty was applied. Ten people competed in this event with the top five taking a second run at the top time.

In the end, Allen Little won ($500) with a final time of 29.02 seconds. Vince Zandbelt and Brad Hanes initially tied for second place, but in a third run, Zandbelt secured second ($250) with a time of 19.35 seconds and Hanes took third ($125) with a time of 19.38 seconds.

Dairy dashers go for the gold

WINCHESTER – More than 20 people signed up to participate in the 2013 Dairy Dash at this year's Dairyfest.

On Sat., Aug. 10, runners gathered at 100 Club Park for the two-kilometre, five-kilometre, and 10-kilometre races.

Jonah Klein Swormink took first place in the two-kilometre contest, crossing the finish line after 10:40.

With a time of 20:27, Brent Ferguson was the first place winner in the five-kilometre run, while Mark Ovenden, with a time of 42:25 crossed the finish line first for the 10-kilometre challenge.

While participation numbers were "down a little" this year, Alvin Runnalls, Dundas County Food Bank board chair, said, "the people were happy and they had fun. The weather was perfect [and] it went very well."

While a total was unavailable at press time, all proceeds from this event have been earmarked for the local food bank.

Rose leads Neal's Blues to win play-off opener against Bridals

WINCHESTER – Neal's Blues got a three-goal, six-point effort from Geena Rose as they launched their Chesterville-Winchester Ladies Ball Hockey League play-offs with a 7-2 victory over Bridal's Yellow.

The other half of last week's (Thurs., Aug. 8) twin bill finished as a scoreless tie between Annable's Jewellery Greens and Andy's Foodland Reds. Green's Roxanne Crump and Red goalie Sandra Morley were unbeatable guarding their respective nets.

Blues (8-2-4), Greens (7-2-4), Yellow (4-7-2) and Reds (3-10-0) finished the regular season in that order.

The second round of the post season was played last night (Tues., Aug. 13) and the "A" and "B" champions will be crowned tomorrow (Thurs., Aug. 15) at the Joel Steele Community Centre.

Blues 7 – Yellow 2

The Blues vaulted into a 4-0 first period lead on Bridals getting goals from Kelly Francis (Rose at 11:30), Brooke Cummins (Rose at 4:27), Rose (unassisted at 3:10) and Amber Cotton (Janice Casselman at 0:54).

Bridals got on the board in period two when shots fired by Laura Melenhorst (Jessica Winters at 10:05) and Marlee Grady (Winters at 0:46) beat Blues goaltender Cashelle Baldwin. But a goal by Rose (Taylor Cummins at 1:39) sent the Blues into period three with a 5-2 lead.

Rose (unassisted at 13:10) and Taylor Cummins (Rose and Brooke Cummins at 3:46) cashed in third period markers for a 7-2 final.

Bird, Barkley battle at Cedar Glen

BOUCKS HILL – Dave Bird posted a two-shot victory over Kurtis Barkley playing in Men's Night at Cedar Glen Golf Course.

Bird finished with a low gross 34 in last week's (Thurs., Aug. 8) "A" class event while Barkley booked a 36. Mike Fawcett and Todd Findlay matched low net 33s.

Andrew Byvelds left his shot next to the No. 6 flag and recorded the longest drive hitting from the No. 7 tee. Derek Whitteker claimed the closest to the pin prize for his effort on No. 9.

George Bloom (38) and Terry Barkley (40) put together the low gross scores in "B" class while Harry Lalonde (32) and Sam Locke (33) owned the best low net scores.

Scott Helmer (42) and Karl Bowls (43) turned in the low gross scores in "C" class. The best low net numbers belonged to Earl Bilmer (30) and Sandy Johnston (32).

Steve Wells (low gross 48) and Winston Muir (low net 33) led the "D" division field.

The other winners included: A/B - Rick Barkley (three on one); Liam Morrow (three on five); Bruce Whitteker (two on six); Steph Backs (two on nine); B/C – Byron Brunt (four on one); Karl Bowles (three on two); Jim Boyd (four on four); Tom Sloane (four on seven); Sandy Johnston (three on eight); and Larry Barlow (two on nine).

Terry Barkley was the 50/50 draw winner.

Robinson tops Sandy Row men

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Bill Robinson registered a low gross 36, and had the lone skins during the most recent Men's Night at Sandy Row Golf Course.

Large number compete at August 7 event

The Rob Thomspon Realty-sponsored event held on Wed., Aug. 7 saw another large turnout of participants, according to organizers.

Greg Chamberlain dropped his ball closest to the pin on No. 4, while Gerald Christie did so on No. 7.

The sponsor sign winner was Dwayne McGuire on No. 9, and to the yardage was Andy Mellan on No. 2.

There were a total of eight draw winners, with the list being posted in the Sandy Row clubouse.

The Men's Night committee will host the next event, scheduled for Wed., Aug. 14, while on Wed., Aug. 21 Guy Fuels (Chris Guy) is to be the evening's sponsor.

Cheryl Lowe leads Ladies Night field

BOUCKS HILL – Cheryl Lowe carded a low gross 41 and led the Cedar Glen Golf Course Ladies Night "A" class field.

Muriel Whitteker turned in the low net score in the same class last week (Wed., Aug. 7) shooting a 36.

Christina Yelle put her shot closest to the No. 9 flag and Nadene Harper recorded the low number of putts with 10. Aurelie Wall claimed the 50/50 draw prize.

Sue McIntosh (low gross 49) and Barb Mabe (low net 33) were top shooters in the "B" bracket.

Scores recorded by Carol Richer (low gross 49) and Nadene Harper (low net 33) were best in "C" class.

Marie Fawcett fired a low gross 54 in the "D" division.

Tuesday Scramble

Kurtis and Rick Barkley turned in a low gross 32 taking part in last week's (Tues., Aug. 6) Tuesday Night Scramble.

Wendy and Jim Casselman claimed the low net prize with their 23.75.

Christina Yelle and John Phillips (four on 14) and Rick and Kurtis Barkley (three on 17) were the other winners.

Deadline nearing for SNC discount

FINCH – South Nation Conservation (SNC) is reminding local hunters that they have until Sun., Sept. 1 to take advantage of discounted fees for hunting on lands governed by the government agency.

From January to Sat., Aug. 31, the fee is $30, but increases to $50 the next day.

"The two-tiered fee structure better reflects the demand on staff according to the time of year," Chris Craig, SNC's senior forestry technician, said. "It's in the hunter's best interest to get the letter of permission before Sept. 1 to save some money."

Craig added that hunters on SNC lands without permission might be charged or fined. He noted that all hunters are required by law to get written permission before entering private lands or tracts administered by the local conservation authority or other agencies.

It is a common misconception that because lands are owned by a public agency they may be used without permission. Quite the opposite, as lands are intended for the benefit of all, they must be managed in a way that ensures safety and well being, Craig added.

"We simply cannot have hunters in unknown numbers accessing lands while others use these areas for recreation, organized hunting, and other activities," he said. "It is not safe."

The authority owns some 10,000 acres, including forests and wetlands, distributed across its 4,000 square-kilometre watershed. With permission, SNC allows hunting on its properties with a few exceptions related to public safety and forest operations.

"We have no objection to orderly, organized hunting parties using our lands with proper written consent," Craig said. "Responsible hunting is beneficial to the ecosystem."

Wildlife occupying SNC lands that may be hunted depend on the season, and include deer, moose, wild turkey, ruffed grouse, woodcock, ducks, and rabbits. Craig emphasized that hunters should exercise caution, including wearing bright colours.

To obtain a letter of permission visit the SNC website (www.nation.on.ca), and complete the form and mail it to the authority's Finch headquarters.

A valid hunting license must be produced. No matter the fee paid, letters of permission are effective for each open season through a full year.

Thank You

We would like to thank everyone for all the prayers, thoughts and condolences in honour of our dear father and husband, Howard Merkley.

We would really like to say thank you to Revera (home care), Bayshore Winchester and Ottawa Hospital plus the Cancer Center doctors and nurses. Special thanks to Dundas Hospice and case worker Lucy, Dr. C. Adamson and Dr. C. Canil for all their hard work. Thanks to Dave Lapier at Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home, Rev. Christine Lawson, all the honorary pallbearers, pallbearers and Chesterville Legion for a great lunch! Special thanks to Bill Smirle and Marc DeVries for a lovely speech, to Derek and Kary Merkley and Bev Merkley for staying with Howard, and Jim and Barb Merkley for all the help at home. Thanks again everyone for all the donations and flowers.

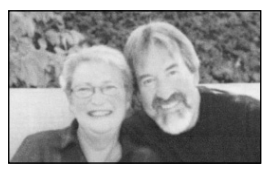
Thank You



Sophie and I would like to take this opportunity to thank the organizing commitee and many helpers for putting so much work into our benefit dance, held on July 20. It truly was an evening of love and laughter. Heartfelt thanks to Brenda Hogaboam, Chris Enright, Cheryl Guy, Julie Freeland, Mary Spratt and Patti Shadbolt. Many thanks also to Gerry and Lorna Boyce and Bob Volks for making the evening run so smoothly.

The power and compassion of this community continues to amaze me, and proves that I made the right decision to move back to this area 35 years ago. It was, and is, the perfect place for us to live and to raise our family.

Thank you.

OBITUARIES

Susanna Engwerda

Susanna Engwerda, a resident of the Rosebridge Manor in Eastons Corners for the past four months, passed away there on Tues., July 30, 2013. She was 90.

Susanna was born in Emmer-Compascum, The Netherlands on July 26, 1923, to her parents, Johan Rudolf Tholen (1967) and Maria Wilhelmina Wessels (1946), the second of seven daughters who were followed, to the immense relief of her father, by twin boys.

Susanna or Leida, as she was known to her family, married Gerben Engwerda in January of 1954, and they immigrated to Canada to join two of Susanna's sisters and their families in Calgary. It was here that they started their family, became Canadian citizens, and were proud Albertans for 13 years. In July of 1967, they moved east and settled on a farm at RR # 2 Chesterville, where the love of the land was instilled into their children. Upon retirement, Susanna and Gerben travelled extensively to Holland, the prairies, and enjoyed a three-month stay in Australia. In 1993, Morrisburg became their home, and she lived in this close-knit community longer than she had lived anywhere since coming to Canada. Following Gerben's death in 2000, she continued to cross the pond almost annually, and made many memories with her dear friends as they enjoyed countless bus trips exploring both Canada and the U.S.

In 2011, she successfully conquered cancer, and it was shortly afterwards in January of 2012, that she made the move to The Hartford Retirement Centre where she resided until April of this year. The last months saw her at Rosebridge Manor in Eastons Corners, where she was surrounded by the compassion and laughter of caregivers who treated her as family. They are second to none.

She is survived by her children, Mary-Anne and John Gibson, and their children, Virginia (Ian) and Allison (Shawn); Susanna and John Cayer, and their children, Jason, Curtis, J.J., Bobby, Matthew, Louise and Luc; and Gerald, and his children, Nathan and Alexis. She also leaves behind her great-grandchildren, Aurora, Peyton, Kai, and Marie-Eve, who brought endless delight to their "Moma." She was predeceased by her husband, Gerben, her granddaughter, Christina Gibson, her sisters, Marietje and Elisabeth, and her brother Gerard, who have welcomed her to Heaven with loving arms. Susanna is also survived by her sisters, Wilhelmina of Calgary, Lenie (Jan), Greta (Willy), and Graddy, and her brother Hennie (Lenie), all of Holland, and sisters-in-law, Maria of Australia and Marietje of Holland.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on Fri., Aug. 2 from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 pm. A C.W.L. service was held on Friday evening at 6:30 pm. A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Morrisburg on Sat., Aug. 3 at 10 am with Father Chisholm officiating, followed by interment at St. Francis de Sales Cemetery in Smiths Falls, where Susanna was laid to rest with Gerben and Christina. The pallbearers were John Gibson, John Cayer, Gerald Engwerda, Nathan Engwerda, Ian Larochelle, and Shawn Caron.

Donations to the Alzheimer Society or St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church would be appreciated by the family. Online condolences may be made at www.marsdenmclaughlin.com.

Georgette Jones bringing traditional country to fair

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Dig deep enough into her history, and you will find that Georgette Jones comes from quality country music stock.

She was born to the only Country Music Hall of Fame husband and wife artists, with her father being George Jones and her mother, Tammy Wynette.

On Fri., Aug. 16, Jones will be bringing her musical talents to the South Mountain Fair, as the first entertaining act of the four-day event.

Jones' set is to begin at 9 pm, with Fred Ducharme and Ninth Line taking the stage at 8 pm as the opening act.

Undeniably, Jones acknowledges her parents success as part of her drive to be part of the music industry.

"Quite obviously they played a part in my musical passion," she told the Winchester Press, on the phone from her Nashville home. "But it was very different for me… To me they were just Mom and Dad."

She recalled trips to the Grand Ole Opry as simply visiting friends, with very little moments of being star struck.

Daughter of music legends to perform at South Mountain Fair

"It is amazing I've been able to meet the many people I have," Jones said.

But being the progeny of country music legends was also difficult, she added.

Her father, one of the most successful male recording artists of his time, was on the road a lot touring, while her mother, equally as successful in her own right, was left to raise the children and continue her career.

Jones' parents would eventually separate, leaving her stranded between two superstars. Each also dealt with their own addictions to drugs (Wynette) and alcohol (George Jones), but had given that up before their deaths.

Wynette died in 1998, while George Jones passed in April of this year.

"I'm certainly very proud of both of them," Jones said.

As for her South Mountain show, she said those in attendance can expect to hear some stories about her parents, as well as mixture of songs made famous by them, while also singing her own songs.

"The stories I share are very important because it shows their passion and determination," Jones said. "I hope people will enjoy hearing them."

Georgette Jones, the daughter of Tammy Wynette and George Jones, will be performing at this year's South Mountain Fair on Fri., Aug. 16.

Mark Chesnutt headlines Sunday

by Sandy Casselman
Press staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – Texas-born country singer Mark Chesnutt is ready to entertain the crowds at this year's South Mountain Fair.

Chesnutt, who has released more than 10 studio albums in his long musical career, including four platinum and five gold, said he is ready to take the stage on Sun., Aug. 18.

"I hope we have a big crowd," Chesnutt said, during a phone interview with the Winchester Press.

While it has been a while since he's entertained fans in Ontario, Chesnutt said he has toured throughout Canada, hitting both big and small venues. It's the smaller places – the rural villages and towns – that really like his style of country, he said.

When asked why he chose to become a country music singer, he said, "It chose me. I grew up in southeast Texas along the Gulf Coast so music has always been a big part of my life."

While country music is his first love, Chesnutt said he also loves rock music and blues. He pointed out that while he and his dad were listening to country, his mother and brother were listening to Elvis and other '70s rock.

"I love it all, but country music to me meant a lot more," Chesnutt said. "Country music to me is very special because of my father. I grew up listening to my Daddy's singing."

As for who has influenced his style of country, Chesnutt was quick to answer.

"George Jones is my all time idol," he said.

Jones was a big help to Chesnutt when he first started out, offering advice and a friendly ear.

"He was a real gentle man, really kind and helpful," Chesnutt said.

The best part of being a country music singer, he added, has been the opportunity to meet – and even hang out with – his heroes, including Waylon Jennings, Merle Haggard, Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash, Hank Williams Jr., and others.

"It's better than any kind of award I could have got," he said. "That's the dream come true."

Chesnutt, who now owns his own recording label, Nada Dinero Records, and who tours regularly, said he is looking forward to getting back in the studio. He still has a lot of things he wants to do, he said.

The move has also given him the freedom to do music the way he wants, and to stay in charge of his own career.

"I just like it better this way," he said. "I love where the music business is now. It's just so free."

Fans of Chesnutt can hear the singer live in South Mountain on Sunday afternoon. The 121st annual fair, hosted by the Mountain Township Agricultural Society, is set to begin Thurs., Aug. 15 and will end on Sun., Aug. 18.
