Here AND There

by Kay Kay

You know how it is when someone mentions about your other "half" being seen shoveling snow, mowing the lawn, digging out the dahlias and so on. Noone ever seems to be around when you pick up the same tools to do the same job . . . casually looking over at the neighbours or at passing cars, hoping someone will notice. No sir, just when we decided to help nature get rid of that built up ice in the driveway there wasn't a single solitary person around to witness the deed. There just has to be a law about that!

Once in a while we hear complaints, usually good natured, about the condition of streets in the town. After a visit to Morrisburg and Winchester and the roughness of some of their streets, it was a pleasure to get home.

Nuff sed?

Being an editor and a reeve at the same time has its compensations. The staff alll of a sudden stopped complaining about the odd thing in the town. Can't seem to figure out why!

The ice is slowly melting in the bays and along the river, and up the creeks. Better keep that in mind snowmobilers . . . it may be getting warmer but that water is mighty cold.

This winter the village has had the odd problem with equipment breaking down at awkward times. One week the garage truck just wouldn't cough right and Cardinal Council sent their truck down to help us out. Another time, the snow plough hit a snag and Morrisburg Council sent along their plough. Now that's the kind of people they are and it's a pleasure to have them as neighbours . . . good neighbours.

Needless to say their kindness was really appreciated and we are pleased to state so publicly. And fellows, if you ever need us, you know where we are!

If you've been in a funeral procession in the past few years you may have noticed that very few people stop their cars, or tip their hats as the procession goes by. For some it is possible they just don't know what to do, for others it is just lack of a small geisture of courtesy towards strangers. If you are one of the ones who don't stop, just try it once and you'll find the geisture rewards you many times over, the same as any fine gesture of goodwill can do.

Forum on Poverty Draws Keen Interest

Brinston Memorial Halll was filled to capacity with members of the South Mountain, Iroquois, and Matilda Township communities, Wednesday evening, March 11th, on the occasion of the Public Forum on Poverty, planned for and presented by the Iroquois-South Mountain Ministerial Association.

Guests for the evening were members of parliament, Mr. Gordon Blair, M.P. for Grenville-Carleton; Mr. Gordon Fairweather, M.P., for Fundy-Royal, N.B.; and Mr. John Burton, M.P., for Regina-East, Sask.

Mr. Carlton McInnis, local barrister and Reeve of Morrisburg, was chairman for the evening's proceedings.

The visiting panellists were introduced by the Rev. John J. Hibbs, co-ordinator for this public forum, and thanked by the Rev. R.V. Allan Rogers, president of the Ministerial Association.

The evening was highlighted with opening comments by each of the panellists, and relative to the question of poverty in Canada and the world community, followed by an open "question and answer" period, and in which a good number of the gathering took part.

Matters of concern ranged from the report of the Economic Council of Canada that "poverty in the nation numbered people in the millions today"; the low percentage of the Gross National Product designated toward foreign - aid to underdeveloped countries: lack of housing facilities; incentives, labour force, and decentralization of industry for industrial development in the Seaway Valley; farm and dairy subsidies and the problem of surplus foodstuffs for distribution; present legislation that prevents widows and pensioners from supplementing their incomes; and the whole matter of restructuring of governmental departments for a co-ordinated programme of poverty relief. Local issues were given over during the evening to the development of an "informed electorate" and a "deeper sensitivity" to the causes and effects of poverty in Canada, and what present programmes of relief from private, church, and governmental quarters were in force.

The guest panelists were commended at the conclusion of the evening on their non-partisan approach to the issue confronting the gathering, and for their admirable contribution to the overall concern.

The problem of poverty in Canada and the world is one whiich, in the words of one of the panellists, "ultimately requires the upsetting of all of us for answers to its relief, with no easy solutions being at hand." Local, co-ordinated efforts, where this problem exists, were emphasized throughout the evening as a "priority responsibility"" on the part of the whole community, and in which the general public, the church, and the government have their leader ship decisions to make.

As part of the lenten observance of the various communions represented on the Ministerial Association, the forum served its ecumenical concern, being related directly to the "Share Canada" programme of the churches — an anti-poverty and world concern project organized as a result of the Conference on Church and Society held in Montreal in 1968. A "coalition of development" by all concerned peoples, to meet the crises of world need, and by planned expression of, and information about such concern, was basic to the Ministerial's sponsorship of this first public forum of its kinid in the area.

"Governments are not equipped to meet individual tragic personal problems of poverty" Gordon Blair, M.P. for Grenville - Carleton told a capacity crowd

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MRS. M. POLLOCK

Members of the Knox Presbyterian Church Ladies' Aid Society and WMS Auxiliary paid a surprise visit to Mrs. Mary Pollock, on Wednesday afternoon, March 11th, in the Prunner Nursing Home, Winchester. The occasion was the celebration of Mrs. Pollock's birthday. The Rev. Hibbs, her pastor, was also in attendance.

A farmer resident of Church Avenue, Mrs. Pollock was fetted with gifts and a beautiful birthday cake, and wished the "many happy returns" of the congregation and community.

A large number of birthday-card greetings were displayed, noting the well-wishes of Mrs. Pollock's many friends and neighbours.

A visit with other folk in the Nursing Home, and the cutting of the cake, concluded a very enjoyable occasion.

Propose Lighting Diamond

Iroquois Lions' Club willl undertake the project of lighting a ball park area at Iroquois, providing Council designates a location. Al Belmore, representing the Lions' Club, approached Council at the March meeting indicating that the overalll cost, with labour donated by members would approximate $3,500. A 25% rebate will be borne by the Provincial government. It was also felt that lights would constitute an incentive for further use of the park.

Reeve Ken Kirkby endorsed Council's approval of the "excellent idea". He said, "We have a good deal of recreation area but it will require some thought to decide upon a suitable location, particularly when you hope to have it in operation by June 1st".

Discussion was conducted regarding the widening of the post office street, 8 or 10 feet to the north on municipal property depending on the position of existing hydro poles on the property. The clerk was authorized to contact Ontario Hydro regarding an offer, made some years ago, to match the corporation's $1,000 expenditure towards lights for recreatioon purposes. A copy will be sent to Ken Candy and Mel Bradden, Hydro officials present at the time of the offer.

The budget for capital local hydro expenditures for 1970 was presented. This amounts to $2800 for the distribution system and $150 for utility equipment. A lead sheath cable at the rear of the shopping centre must be replaced at considerable expense. Following reading of correspondence from the Department of Highways limiting areas where village advertising signs may be erected, it was decided to place one large illuminated sign at the shopping plaza. Restrictions require that signs be placed within the limiits of the corporation. The suggestioon was made that uprights take the form of totem poles, in keeping with the name of the village. Mrs. Helen Smith and other member of council will study the matter for presentation at the next meeting.

The County Council Board of Education had been requested to give Council a breakdown of last year's cost of operating Iroquois High School and Iroquois Public School. Correspondence informed Council that "records do not supply this information for individual schools". It was reported that representatives of the County School Board will attend a Counties Council meeting in the near future and will be expected to come up with some answers.

This business of the school board asking this year's taxes in four payments, March, June, September and December was given a thorough airing with heated discussion. It was council's opinion that the board should not dictate policies requiring the borrowing of money. It was felt the board should borrow the money themselves. "Granted", the reeve said, "we will have to pay interest but there will be no question but that it was paid for education". No March payment will be made.

Correspondence from Ken Candy, Commission Architect informed Council that the bill for service on formerly vacant lots would not be paid but the ones for sewer repairs on other properties amounting to $2,221.00 would be honored.

An inspection of Iroquois airport was made by the Department of Transport recommending the erection of signs, for public safety, before opening for the summer season. Authorization was given for signs to be erected.

A new roof on the civic centre is imminent. Council decided to patch it for the remainder of this year and leave the major decision for the incoming council which will enjoy a two-year term.

Roy Delegarde was appointed weed inspector for this year.

The clerk, Fred Lloyd, was authorized to obtain an automatic printing calcullator on lease for office use for five years. Cost willl be $17.00 per month.

Next meeting will be April 13

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate

Here is Wayne, just turned two. He's a handsome child with beautiful big hazel eyes, brown hair and medium complexion with rosy cheeks. Wayne is a sturdy boy, in excellent health and always active. He really enjoys his toys — look how possessively he's holding that ball.

He is alert and interested in everything going on and he loves attention from people he knows, though he's a bit shy of strangers.

Wayne has a big vocabulary of single words but his conversation is mainly in his own special language. This little fellow has been accustomed to a lot of affection so he needs parents who will give him a warm, loving home.

To inquire about adopting Wayne please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information ask your Children's Aid Society.

Volunteers Wanted

Anyone interested in assisting with the promotion of minor softball for boys and girls are requested to leave their names with Mr. Tom Casselman or Mr. Leo De Bellefeuille. It is hoped that with the possibility of lights being erected that an effort will be made to have a District Junior League established as well as to area leagues for boys and girls in all classifications.

MEETING

A meeting will be held to organize Minor Ball on Thursday, April 2nd, 1970 at the Iroquois Civic Centre. Spread the information and plan now to attend. Mrs. Bolton, Senior Resident, Dies

In ill health for the past three years and confined to bed for the past several months, Mrs. Maud Bolton, a greatly loved and highly respected citizen passed away in Brockville General Hospital, Friday afternoon, March 13th, 1970.

She was born at Cardinal, Ont. in 1884, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Smyth.

In 1902 she married Mr. Williard E. Bolton and they lived in several communities before settling in Old Iroquois in 1909, where they kept a home furnishings store. Mr. Bolton died in August 1953.

Her sister, Miss Cora E. Smith and a friend Miss Margaret Kaine have been living with her for several years.

Among her neighbours a favour was granted before it was sought.

She was a friend whose heart was good,
Who walked with men and understood.
Hers was a voice that spoke of cheer.
And fell like music on the ear
Hers was a smile people loved to see.
Hers was a hand that asked no fee.
For friendliness or kindness done
And now that she has journeyed on,
Hers is a fame—that never ends
She leaves behind, uncounted friends.

Left to mourn her loss are a sister, Miss Cora E. Smith, and brother Merton J. Smith of Cardinal; three nephews and nieces. and several grand nephews and grand nieces. Also a friend Miss Margaret Kaine.

Mrs. Bolton was a member of Iroquois United Church and life member of the United Church Women. She was an ardent worker in the Canadian Red Cross and a charter member of Iroquois Women's Institute.

Funeral services were held in W.E. Fitzsimmons Chapel, Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., March 15th, 1970. Rev. J. Leslie Dean officiating. Sermon notes were as follows:

Text, Ruth 2: 17 "So she gleaned in the field until the evening." Presents a lovely thought. Bible speaks often of the promises of the evening.

Zechariah: "At evening time there shall be light."

Ezekiel: "The gates of the Temple shall not be shut until the evening."

Text suggests a full day, Mrs. Bolton taught us how to grow old gracefuilly. Karle Wilson's Poem, OLD LACE

"Let me grow lovely,
growing old,
So many fine things do: Laces
and ivory and gold
And silks, need not be new.
And there is healing in old trees;
Old streets a glamour hold.
Why may not I, as well as these,
Grow lovely, growing old.'\

Long life a blessing. The Psalmist suggests God as saying: "Thus to be granted a long life, a chance to live and grow in wisdom and experience, surely a blessing indeed. A greater promise: "I will show him my salvation." Takes us into the New Testament. Jesus loved to present himself as Saviour. True eternal life gathers up our few short years in this world and links them with the far reaches of eternity. Thus the finished work of Christ completes the thought. In Him we can "glean in the field until the evening."

Pall bearers were: Messrs Donald Hare, Ambert Brown, Kenneth Kirkby, George Brouse, Clint Stewart, and Albert English.

Interment will be made in Point Iroquois Cemetery in the spring.

Winter's Fun Been Missed

Right on our doorstep we have the largest "hill" in this provide to help make our winter days and evenings more part of the country and we're not using the facilities it could pleasant.

We're talking about that mound over on Iroquois Point that has been giving a number of people a great deal of pleasure as a tobaggan slide and a ski run for amateurs. It has a fairly good slope to it, is relatively smooth and clear of enough trees to make it safe.

When we have a long winter such as this one, even a small hill like that on The Point shouldn't be overlooked. With a little effort from local citizens a great deal more fun could be had on that heap.

That Beautiful March Sun

When we come to March we naturally think of March winds and how raw they can be, yet last weekend that warm sunshine brought with it a promise of Spring in the air and somehow we couldn't think harshly of the month of March, wind or no wind.

This has been a long, cold winter, with plenty of snow in our area but warm sunny days can soon take away memories of 20 below weather, blustery nights, frozen pipes and stalled cars.

The Hazards of Walking

From now till Spring takes away all traces of snow, the pedestrian can keep a weary eye on the driver who thinks that the road was made for cars only and that puddles of water are meant for splashing anyone who decides to use shanks mare.

It only takes a moment or so longer to slow down and pass a person on foot without prodding them into jumping for the nearest ditch, yet that needed bit of consideration can do wonders for public relations. Or good relations with our fellow citizens.

Keep in mind drivers, that not everyone wants to drive, yet all must use the roads . . . and are entitled to use the roads with safety. A little courtesy is better than paying for a dry cleaning job; not to mention the tirades of an irate neighbour or former friend.

People Do Have Hearts

During the past week a number of people have offered clothing, furniture and other forms of help for an area family who were burned out. We are sometimes disillusioned when public appeals are made and the financial results are found lacking, yet when the appeal is of a more personal nature for residents of our own immediate area, the general public rises to the occasion with an honest measure of concern for their fellow citizens.

If this same spirit of helping humanity could be carried a few steps further, even on a provincial basis, it would carry with it a far-reaching hope and even further implications for world betterment.

With such a wide variety of appeals for assistance today from groups all doing good work, topped by a rising cost of living, a slow-down in the economy with all sorts of implications, with upheavals in segments of our society which feel unjustly treated or at least feel they are not understood, it is enlightening that here is small communities such as our own we find time to "measure up" as citizens of a wonderful country.

Every family has its problems; some of larger extent than others, yet each family's troubles are to that family of a major nature. To cast them aside for even a few moments to help others seems to lighten our own burdens and give us a new slant on life. There is a great deal to be said for "doing unto others as you would have them do unto you".

Yet we still have people in this world who say that other people's problems are just none of their concern at all; that the other fellow got into trouble so let him get out of it. Fortunately enough others think differently, yet we cannot help but express compassion for those whom think they can isolate themselves from society . . . in good times or in bad times.

It's strange how independent we are until we need someone else's help!

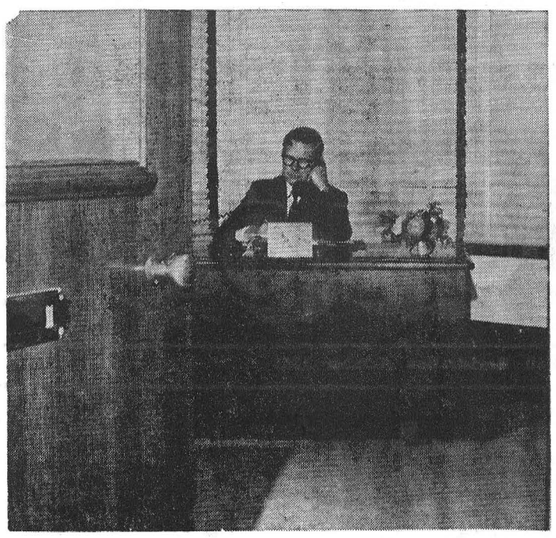
GORDON BLAIR, M.P., REPORTS ON PARLIAMENT



Dominion or Canada Day

A Private Member's Bill proposed by a Senior Member of the House of Commons, Mr. Jim Brown of Brantford, should receive wide consideration and discussion. This Bill was given second reading without division after only one hour's debate and is now before the Justice and Legal Affairs Committee.

PROPOSAL

It proposes that our National Birthday be called "Canada" Day rather than "Dominion" Day. It also proposes that the public holliday occur on the first Monday following July 1st in each year.

PUBLIC REACTION ESSENTIAL

When it came before the Justice Committee, of which I am a Member, I requested that no immediate action should be taken on it until Members could listen to their constituents and be sure that people across the country knew it was being discussed and had a full opportunity to make their views known. As a result, the Committee has decided not to consider it until after the Easter Recess and I hope by that time the views of Canadians in general will be well known.

SOME PROS AND CONS

One reason advanced for the change is that the word "Dominion" carries with it a connotation of colonial status. This is a view widely held in this country and by Members of all parties in the House of Commons. On the other hand, there are many people to whom the word "Dominion" has deep significance and they would view changing the old name and tradition it represents with great distaste.

The idea of having the holiday fall on a Monday has obvious attractions particularly at the beginning of the summer season where it guarantees a long weekend. However, many others feel that our National Birthday is not just another holiday. In addition, it has been pointed out that in some years the Monday following July 1st would be July 4th and we ion of celebrating our National would be placed in the posit-Day on American Independence Day.

CAN I HEAR FROM THE SILENT MAJORITY

I hope that all readers of this column will realize that this serious discussion is going on in Parliament and will let me have their views. When I have received letters and calls from constituents I will publish the results.

4-H Club Report

The second meeting of the Matilda 4-H Homemaking Club was held at Brinston Memorial Halll on March 14 at 1:30 p.m. We opened with the 4-H pledge.

Judy Lapier read the minutes of the last meeting. Our covers are to be yellow. The collection amounted to $2.25.

Since we have a large club, it was decided to have another leader and divide our club into two different clubs. Our new leader is Mrs. Barbara MacMillan, and we all hope she will enjoy working with us.

Our discussion was on the art of reading and how to pack a suitcase. Our next meeting will be on April 4th at 1:30. We were given our home assignment. We closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Dollars and Good Sense

by William J. Martin

This column is a regular weekly feature prepared by the Family Financial Counseling Service of the Avco Delta Corp., P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered in print or by return mail. Names will not be used in print. However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

We have a very serious and urgent problem in our home, and I hope that you can help us right away by telling us what we should do. Here's the problem.

We are a family of about average means. My husband makes a fairly good salary and we have been living pretty well. We've always paid our bills on time and in fact, have never been late for a payment. That is, until now. My husband suddenly became very ill, so seriously ill that he will not be able to return to work for many months. This meant that his income was reduced after a period of time so that now we don't have the money that we did to pay the debts we have, plus the mile-high bill of medical and drug bills. Some of this was covered by hospitalization but now we've come to the point where we can't meet payments on some of our purchases. We just don't know what to do.

Mrs. D.K.

The first thing I would suggest, Mrs. K., is don't panic.—Keep your head. The problem can be worked out.

If there is a consumer credit counseling service in your community, you should get in touch with them at once. They are a non-profit organization, supported by local financial institutions, department stores, etc. and are in the business of counseling with families that have debt problems. If there isn't one in your community,—then by all means, get in touch with your creditors and tell them exactly what has happened. You have always paid your bills on time and you probably have a very good credit rating. Most of them will understand. You may run across one who will not be cooperative, but I'm pretty sure that perhaps, nine out of ten will want to help you. It may be that your creditors can work out a plan to reduce your monthly payments and make them smaller until you can get back on your feet again. You, then, should make every effort to carry out whatever terms your creditors recommend.

Remember, they're vitally interesting in seeing you over the rough spots. You have probably been a good customer and they want to see you continue to do business with them once you're back on the road to recovery.

Iroquois, Ontario
March 14th, 1970

The Editor,
Iroquois Post,

Dear Sir:

I usually read the column "Dollars and Good Sense" appearing in your paper. Over the months it has contained some sound advice indeed.

In last week's column, however, a man was advised not to pay cash for a new car. It was pointed out that in a large purchase of $4,000.00 it would be better to leave such money on deposit in a savings account, bonds or stocks, and finance the $4,000.00 over a long period of monthly payments.

As a layman in matters of finance it seems to me that this is very bad advice. To leave money on deposit at an interest rate of from six to eight percent and borrow money at an interest rate of thirteen to eighteen percent is hardly good business: If a person needed the $4,000.00 as working capital in a business, then it might make sense to finance the amount over a long period.

Perhaps in a later column Mr. Martin could explain, with appropriate figures, the wisdom of such a transaction. I realize this calumn is written from the point of view of a Finance Company, but the above seems a bit much.

Yours Sincerely,
J. Leslie Dean

Upswing Pollution, Education?

F.M. CASS, M.P.P.

As with a great many people in our province and most of the news media the attentiono of our provincial legislators has been fixed on the problems of pollution and education. Despite a careful recital both by the Minister in charge and the Prime Minister of the very significant and far-reaching actions taken and under way to reduce pollution of air and water, opposition parties seem determined not to see or admit improvement. Indeed the socialist party (N.D.P.) speakers urge the closing of huge industrial plants until they can be re-opened with a lack of pollution effects from their operations as well as preventing establishment of new plants, however engineered. The effect of any such action on the economy and livelihood of our people do not seem to be a factor. Certainly pollution is a great threat to our way of life and must be eliminated — but in a reasonable and practical manner.

The welter of arbitration awards, change of Divisional Board Boundary lines, and conflict between Teachers and Boards over 1970 - 1 teachers' contracts has made education matters a lively topic of question and debate in the House. And as usual that accomplished debater, the Minister of Education, manages to field the cataract of complaints and questions with a minimum of information being disclosed while his officials search for a practical solution to the problems. And, indeed, there are many to be solved.

The announcement last week of the forthcoming creation of a new and quite rural regional municipality in Muskoka brings again into question the advisability of proceeding with others until there has been more experience gained from the operation of those recently created. It appears two or three more regional municipalities, mostly urbian, in the areas adjacent to Toronto and Hamilton, as well as one in the Kitchener area, are slated for early birth. But it also appears there then may be a pause. Certainly a great deal of evaluation of the operations of these new creations is direly needed before too many more come into being.

Although your Member is not a member of his Party Caucus and so does not learn of government policy until announced in the House — or by the news media, he hazards a guess that there will be shortly a drastic change of direction in the methods of developing and applying the new provincial assessment. The cries of anguish from those areas in which it has been implemented are too loud and numerous and too real and too proper to be ignored by the government.

O.P.P. REPORT

Most motor vehicle trips are uneventful and routine when drivers are fortunate. Once a car trip becomes eventful, it can be terrifying.

The automobile's horsepower and thousands of separate parts are controlled by a person of varying moods, uneven skills, incomplete knowledge, unprecise judgment and affected by a mass of dreams and worries.

At high speed, in heavy traffic, the potential for mishap is great. Collisions would be even more numerous if drivers were not protected by driving habits developed through experience.

The defensive driver is always on the alert for possible road hazards. He keeps his mind alert and is ready for the unexpected to happen. He drives according to road conditions showing courtesy to other motorists. He is a person who through his driving habits today will drive again tomorrow.

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County patrolled 11,719 miles while working 955 hours. During this time, officers laid 52 charges and issued 59 warnings. Officers from Morrisburg and Winchester Detachments investigated 2 thefts, 2 disturbances and 22 miscellaneous complaints. Seven persons were charged under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

Area highways were quiet with officers investigating 4 property damage accidents and 1 personal injury accident which resulted in 3 persons receiving minor injuries.

Provincial Court was quiet with officers spending 5 hours in court while registering 33 convictions.

Poverty

attending a forum to discuss pressing problems of poverty in Canada and abroad, at Brinston Memorial Hall, Wednesday.

Mrs. J.R. Colligan, Morrisburg cited the plight of two burned out families in Matilda and Williamsburg Townships unable to find accomodation. They have received generous assistance in every way except for living quarters. One family with two children is living in a garage and threatened with having the children placed in foster homes. The second family of seven is housed in a two-room dwelling with a family of four.

John Burton, N.D.P. parliamentary member from Regina, Saskatchewan said, "A recent report for the Canadian Council of Churches shows that between four and five million people in Canada are caught in the trap of poverty". He said, "The majority is enslaved by circumstances and we must consider anyone in need of help, either at home or abroad, our neighbour."

Gordon Fairweather, Conservative member from Fundy Royal, N.B. took an overall look at poverty saying, "The road to development runs through the village. We are all part of a global village and the answer to many problems is answered at the municipal level". He said, "As Canada develops technologicallly the problem of finding employment for people will grow. The future will undoubtedly see advances in guaranteed incomes, decision makers will be overloaded with problems and work while others have no employment, whatever".

Gordon Blair said, "Our country is like a wealthy island in a poor sea". He added, "In Canada, 25 per cent or more live below an acceptable line — for various reasons many cannot work and are thus denied the advantages of a full life". "On the world scale", he concluded, "We know that poverty abounds on this planet.

The question of persons on disability pensions not being allowed to supplement their incomes beyond a certain amount was discussed. Mr Fairweather said, "A move to increase the amount by which individuals may make more because of inflation is a parliamentary issue". He said, "The government is aware of the problem". Mr. Burton contributed the information that, "The whole field of welfare legislation is changing to meet the changing needs". Mr. Blair spoke of a "White Paper" on welfare which should bring about "widespread change". He said, "The tangle of welfare must be straightened out."

Charles McInnis, Iroquois posed the question if why could not a survey of the needs of the world be made, farmers of Canada told what is needed and on a voluntary basis, this need could be allleviated? It was his opinion that with such a scheme "there would be no surpluses".

The three panelists agreed with Mr. McInnis and Mr. Fairweather said, "The Food and Agriculture Department say this is being done as a world wide scheme".

The question of "Are we devoting enough of Canada's National product to world aid" was brought up by Rev. John J. Hibbs of Iroquois. Gordon Blair reported that "Our contribution has grown greatly over the years. At the present time", he said, "We are giving $306 million in foreign aid but we, as Canadians, should be prepared to give 1 per cent of our gross national product which would amount to approximately $600 million.

A brief social time was held for the visiting guests, their escorts, and the Ministerial, in the Council Chambers of the Hall, under the convenership of the Brinston U.C.W.

A little old lady was celebrating her 85th birthday after a number of years of hard work but always pleasant. One of her guests said to her (smiling) I have often wondered what it would be life to be 85 years of age. With a pleasant smile the old lady replied, "Oh" it is just like a late Saturday afternoon when all your work is done and you are waiting for "Sunday".

SEAWAY'S STAFF ADDITION

The latest addition to the Seaway staff is Mr. Riley. Mr. Riley lives in Cornwall and at an earlier age, attended Central Public School, St. Lawrence High School, and St. Lawrence College.

At Seaway High, he is an Audio Visual Technician.

His hobbies are golf and curling: he enjoys most sports — from the spectator's seat.

Mr. Riley "did his best to help in the play Poison, Passion and Petrification in the short time he was here".

When asked what he thought of Seaway High, he said, "I like it, — so far, and I feel it is much better than a big city school because I get acquainted more easily with people in a smaller school.

Look out kids! After Variety Night you may be on television.
—Susan Ewing

SKI TRIP

Seaway's most recent outing, a Ski-Trip to Camp Fortune, was thoroughly enjoyed by all participants.

Thirty-eight people including Mrs. Organ, organizer; Mrs. Mallon and Mr. Madden left for the slopes at 7:00 a.m.

Although a bit apprehensive at first, seeing the advanced hills, the group soon found some smaller ones and began their day of fun and tumbles.

Because most of the students were inexperienced skiiers, lessons were given to them in both the morning and afternoon.

The new skiiers left for home at 4:00 after a hard but exciting day.
—Sherri Corden

SENIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Senior girls' having won all their previous games, played a sudden death final game against Osnabruck for the Championship, last Wednesday. Unfortunately the Seaway Seniors were defeated by a score of 38-19. This game ended the girls' basketball season.

Thursday, March 12, Seaway's Junior Girls' Basketball team met Osnabruck in a Championship game. The girls played outstanding basketball with Arlene Summers and Debbie Scott as high scorers. In the first quarter Seaway trailed by only a few points. But Osnabruck quickly widened the gap between the two scores making the final score 62-28. The Junior Girls' Basketball trophy was presented to the Osnabruck team at the end of the game.
—Rosann Rooney

VARIETY NIGHT

Another reminder of the Variety Night this week on Thursday and Friday. Admission is only $1.00 for this top performance. The price is reasonable and the cause is for the Scholarship Fund. See you on Thursday or Friday Night?

Iroquois PeeWees Advance to Playdowns

by Leo DeBellefeuille

As I mentioned in last weeks column, if you were in attendance at the Morrisburg Arena on Friday, March 6th, you would be viewing not only the second of a two game total series, but you would also be watching one of the finer Pee Wee Hockey teams developed in Iroquois in recent years.

The game was the deciding match to determine the winner to advance into the Ottawa District Hockey Association play - downs against St. Isadore.

The result of Fridays encounter was a 5-1 victory in favor of Iroquois, which gave Iroquois the 2 game total goal series 9-7. The local club lost the first game of the series 6-4 in Cardinal but bounced back like champions to eliminate a fine, fast skating well coached Cardinal Club.

As we appealed to you to attend the games and cheer the boys to victory, we hope all parents and interested people in Iroquois and area take the time and interest to folllow the team

It is unfortunate but to uncontrolable circumstances there willl be no games scheduled to be played in Iroquois.

Once again Lance Valcour was outstanding in nets for Iroquois. All players combined to play a strong two way game. The offensive play of Don Adams, Lyndon Banford, Jim Davies, Henry DeJong and Brian Moran led to the elimination of Cardinal, however it was a solid team effort. Good luck fellows. Iroquois is proud of you.

Sun shines a day at a time

This has been quite a winter, in more ways than one. Cold, snow, cold, snow. When it wasn't cold enough to freeze the brains of a brass monkey, God or the weatherman, or somebody, let fly with the confetti as though it were the biggest wedding in the world.

And I'm stuck with three females: A broody wife, a moody daughter, and a pregnant cat. So things haven't exactly looked up as spring hides well around that corner.

However, there are always bright spots, and I've had a fair share of them. Terry Barker took me to task, in a long, intelligent letter in rebuttal to a rather disgruntled column I wrote about teaching. He didn't convince me, but let's say that I am a little more disgruntled than I was.

There are deep and satisfying rewards in teaching, along with the frustration, red tape and the feeling that you're hopelessly entangled in a huge cobweb. There's a real thrill in seeing young people grapple and grope with new ideas, and light up as the ideas get through.

Then I had a thoughtful letter from a Qualium Beach, B.C., reader enclosing a clipping from the North Battleford (Sask.) News-Optimist stating that "Bill Smiley is by far our most popular syndicated columnist." That's great for the old ego, which needs a little balm once in a while.

Another ego-booster was an invitation to speak to the Vimy Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, a unique organization in London, Ont. It meets only twice a year, to observe Remembrance Day and Vimy Day. A charming and kind chap called Joyce Roadhouse made the contact, pointing out that it was a toss-up between me and some Major-General. The branch is studded with Brigadiers, Colonels and Wing Commanders, and there was a terrible temptation to take advantage of this chance to stand up and tell the brass what I've always thought of them. But I had to decline.

However, the brightest spot of all has been the tremendous and moving response to a recent column about my daughter. Every day letters have been coming in from all over Canada, full of sympathy and warmth. Many of them have been addressed to Kim herself.

Old friends have rallied round, and complete strangers have taken time to write cheering, encouraging letters and cards. This has not restored my faith in human nature, because I've never lost it, but it has bolstered it.

Here's an excerpt from a typical letter. "Whatever happens, don't blame yourselves. It's very easy to do this as parents. You did what most of us try to do — you taught her to stand on her own feet — and let her go. She fell. So she'll get up again and be twice the girl she was before."

And here's another. "Dear Bill: Detected grave concern beneath your casual request for a prayer. I have solicited our Father on your daughter's behalf and I feel that He has answered your prayer. May God bless you and yours in the name of his son Jesus Christ." That was all from a complete stranger.

From Red Deer came a long letter full of scriptural comfort and the assurance that his (or her) prayers would be with us. Others sent prayers that had helped them in time of trouble.

This is only a sampling. I am not an emotional or sentimental person. My wife calls me Old Stoneface. But it has touched me deeply that so many people have tried to communicate with, and help, a stranger. Sometimes a columnist feels that he is writing in a great, cold void. It's not a good feeling.

Now I know better, and I will be of good heart. Meanwhile, we live a day at a time, the sun shines, spring is on its way. Thank you all. It's good to know that there is still a great deal of human kindness in a world that sometimes looks a bit bleak.

Rough Time

by Lynne O'Brien

It was a stormy weekend for the Morrisburg Combines after defeating Embrun Panthers 7-1 Wednesday night to take the best of 7 Syracuse Stars in the best of 5 semi-finals.

Saturday night the Combines lost 5-3 in Syracuse and drove home running into a storm and then playing a sloppy game on Sunday night being swamped 7-1 by the Stars. The Stars led 1-0 after the first period and 3-1 after the 2nd period. Murray Death scored a hat trick, Brian Cornell a pair, and singles by Bill Craig and Jim Keon. Mel Tomalty assisted by Big Doug Casselman and Roy Pyke scored Combines only goal in a power play in the 2nd period. Combines outshot the Stars 27-20 but couldn't get them past Wayne Ryan. Derek Holmes assisted on 4 of the Stars goals.

8 minors were handed out, 3 to the Combines.

Saturday night the Stars led 3-0 at the end of the first period and 4-2 after 2 periods. Combines made it 4-3 at the 13 minute mark of the 3rd, with the Stars scoring again 3 minutes later. Combines scorers were Pat Brophy with a slapshot from the point, on a powerplay, assisted by Allie Cameron and Lyle Ellis. Rick Rushford counted the 2nd goal with Brophy assisting. Little Doug Casselman scored the 3rd goal assisted by Ron Quenneville and Bob Carkner (his first assist of the season).

MR. J. LORNE KINKAID PLAYS HOST

On Wednesday, March 11th, Mr. J. Lorne Kinkaid, a highly regarded senior citizen and an old member of the Morrisburg Curling Club, acted as host for a sociable day of curling.

The day opened with Mr. and Mrs. Kinkaid welcoming, and serving coffee and doughnuts, to the Skips and members of their rinks from Lachute, Seigniory Club, Maxville, Cornwall, Russell Metcalfe, Ottawa, Vant Leek Hill Prescott, Smiths Falls, Westport, Winchester, and Morrisburg.

They proceeded to curl until 1:30 p.m. at which time Ladies of the Curling Club capably served a delicious Turkey Dinner with all the trimmings. Speeches then being in order were given by the Reeve of Morrisburg, Mr. C.F. McInnis, Mr. Ossie Howe, Q.C. of the Seigniory Club, each Skip present and several local citizens. All spoke very highly of Mr. Kinkaid and their previous curling activities together during the past years.

In the evening more local rinks arrived and curling went on until 9:30 p.m. at which time the dance band of Ron Clare arrived to entertain in an evening of sing-song and dancing. A late lunch was served and the singing of "For he's a jollly good fellow" closed a memorable social event.

Mr. Kinkaid is to be commended for making such a pleasurable day possible.

Lands & Forests Report

THE FARM WOODLOT

It is a far cry from the humble homes and rough farms of the early settlers to modern farms with their fine buildings and well groomed fields.

It is difficult to realize as we drive along smooth highways through the beautiful countryside of Eastern Ontario, that we are traversing country that was once covered with dense forest. Most of the settlers came by the waterways that were in reality the highways of the time.

The task of making a home in such a vast wilderness seemed almost superhuman. But the settlers were courageous and energetic, willing to work, and work hard. The clearing of a farm was a long and tedious process and in those days the settlers found that fire was the easiest way of clearing land.

Few gave thought to the disappearing forests. The settlers' interest was mainly in farming and its attendant needs, and the sooner the forest was out of the way, the more fields there would be for cultivation.

There was little realization that there was a relationship between the disappearance of the trees and water supply, between the removal of the forest and the quality of the soil. In many cases, the fertility of the soil became poorer, erosion and flooding increased.

In time, many of the woodlots were cut off or neglected, and a shortage of wood resulted. Today, in many parts of the country, the farmer should give the problem of an adequate wood lot his consideration.

The woodlot should be considered as a definite part of the farm capable of providing an annual or periodic crop of wood for such products as pulpwood, fuel, fence posts and lumber. Research has shown that the woodlot can be maintained with a minimum of effort or expense, and that the financial returns are satisfactory. The main essential is that care be taken to select the proper trees for cutting and to preserve the young growth which will be needed for future use.

The best woodlot is made up of trees of all ages so that in some part of the woodlot there will be found areas of seedlings, saplings, polewood and mature trees. A woodlot consisting of trees of all ages is produced by selection cutting, that is, selecting only the mature trees for cutting each year.

There is one important consideration often overlooked. Cattle on no account be allowed in the woodlot. They not only destroy young growth, but, by constant trampling, so pack the soil that trees will not flourish and water runoff increases. If a shady spot is needed for farm livestck, a small portion of the main woodlot could be fenced off for them.

If you would like further information or assistance in managing your woodlot, please contact the nearest office of the Department of Lands and Forests.

In Memoriam

YATES — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Ronald Dean William Yates who passed away one year today, March 19, 1969, at the age of 19 months and 8 days.
To-day recalls the memory
Of our loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of Ronald today,
Are those who loved him best,
The flowers we place upon his grave
May wither and decay,
But the treasured memories of Ronald
Will never fade away
He was too precious to be forgotten
—Sadly missed and always remembered by mother and sisters Doreen and Laurie Lee 1c

CASSELMAN — In loving memory of my mother Mrs. Mason Casselman who passed away on March 17, 1965.
Tis sweet to know we'll meet again.
Where troubles are no more
And that the one we loved so well
Has just gone on before
God knows how much I miss you
I pray to God each day
That when he calls me home to you
Your smile will guide 'my' way —Ever remembered by daughter (Beatrice) Mr. and Mrs. Alton Riddell and family. 1 nc

Important Week For Witnesses

This week, leading up to Sunday, March 22, is the most important week in the year for Jehovah's Witnesses.

Albert Bryenton, presiding minister for the Witnesses in the Iroquois and Prescott area, explained the importance of the time.

"March 22 this year corresponds with Nisan 14 of the Jewish calendar," he said, "and since this is the date of the Passover when Jesus was executed, then it is the appropriate time for us to commemorate this important event, on its anniversary."

Local Witnesses have just returned from a three-day seminar held last weekend in General Vanier Secondary School, Cornwall.

Attendance reached a peak of 1,021 during a public discourse entitled, "Withstanding the Pressures of Our Day".

"Jehovah's Witnesses are a happy people because they have come to recognize the power and practicality of God's word. They have made a thorough study of the Bible and have come to understand the purpose of Jehovah God toward mankind," stated Laurier Saumur, District Superintendent of Witnesses in eastern Canada.

He invited interested persons to make use of a free six-month home Bible study course offered by the Witnesses.

Seventeen persons were ordained as new ministers during the assembly. The Witnesses follow the example of Jesus by submitting to complete water immersion as a symbol of their dedication to God.

Mrs. Nellie Hutt Mourned Here

Mrs. Unella (Nellie) Hutt, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon, on March 10th, at Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge, Cornwall. She was in her 75th year.

Mrs. Hutt was born at Finch in 1895, a daughter of the late W.A. Riddell and his wife, Isabel Hutt.

She came with her parents at a very young age to reside in Iroquois, where she attended Public and High School. In 1914 she married Theodore Hutt, of Morrisburg, Ont., who predeceased her in 1945.

Following their marriage they took up residence in Brockville for nine years, moving to Iroquois to reside in 1923. After her husband's death, Mrs. Hutt continued living in Iroquois, until four years ago, due to declining health, she was residing at the Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge at Cornwall.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Bert Perry (Doreen) of Iroquois; four grandchildren and nine great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Goldie Dunn (Audrey) of Ottawa. Three brothers predeceased her.

The remains rested at the W. E. Fitzsimmons Funeral Home, Beach Street, Iroquois, where the funeral service was held on Thursday, March 12th at 2 p.m. with Rev. J. Leslie Dean, minister of Iroquois United Church officiating.

Entombment was in Iroquois Point vault with burial taking place later in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pallbearers were George Brouse, Roy Bebee, S.A. Thompson, Don Hare, Wilfred Haggarty and Orval Smaill.
