Winchester Holds First Flower Show

The local Horticultural Society held its first annual Flower and Vegetable Show on Friday and Saturday last in the skating arena, and while entries in the various classes were not as large as might be expected, both directors and members of the Society were well satisfied with the event for the initial year.

Decorated with flags and streamers, the Arena presented a very attractive appearance ,and the layout of exhibits created a very favourable impression as visitors entered the building. Flowers and vegetables were in place by midday on Friday, and judging occupied the entire afternoon. In the evening the Show was opened to the members and their friends until 10 p.m.

One of the feature attractions of the Show was an exhibit of gladioli by Gray's Flower Shop of Ottawa. The long slender spikes were a mass of beautiful blooms in a myriad of shades ranging from the most delicate pinks and mauves to brilliant scarlet. This exhibition in itself was outstanding and created much comment among flower growers and fanciers.

The loud-speaker system installed by J. L. Dixon, greatly aided in the program presented from the platform during the Show.

On Saturday evening, the program, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. D. Stewart, B.Sc., M.A., included addresses by William Dickson, vice president of the Horticultural Society; Reeve T. O. Keyes; Dr. S. A. Merkley, Superintendent of the Show; Howard H. Nesbitt, exwarden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and W. J. Stewart, B.A., Inspector of public schools for Dundas County; vocal solos by Fred Johnston, accompanied by Miss Clara Irving; and by O. L. King, of Chesterville, accompanied by Miss Shirley King; tap dancing by Miss Mildred Merkley. accompanied by Mrs. Percy Gilroy; and by Miss Marjory Morris, accompanied by Jack Morris, all of Chesterville; musical selections by the combined bands of Winchester and Chesterville; presentation of the Royal Bank Silver Cup, by W. A. Rowat, manager of the local branch, to Dr. S. A. Merkley, for the best flower and vegetable garden and general appearance of lawns, in Winchester. This contest was conducted in conjunction with the Horticultural Show. Dr. Merkley was also presented with the T O. Keyes Grand Challenge Trophy, by the donor, for winning the largest number of points in the Show.

Winners of Special Prizes

The presentation of special prizes, supervised by Mrs. Stewart, took place on Saturday evening as follows: For the best floral decoration for dinner table, made from outdoor grown flowers and foliage, with placements for four persons: 1st prize, $3.00, Mrs. O. L. Worthen; 2nd prize, $2.00, Mrs. J. W. Ault, donated by George H. Challies, M.L.A. Clarence Brown, of Mountain, was the winner of $3.00, donated by D. F. Blair, Winchester, and $2.50, donated by the Kemptville Creamery, for winning the most points in the flower section of the Show, the latter prize being given to the exhibitor residing in Mountain township, winning the most points in the show. This was not open to those competing for the Keyes trophy.

INSTITUTE PICNIC

The Women's Institute of Winchester enjoyed a delightful outing on Tuesday afternoon at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Utman, so beautifully situated on the St. Lawrence, below Morrisburg. During a short business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Worthen, roll call was answered by the name of a fresh water fish and a letter of invitation read to attend the reception at the S. Lawrence Saniarium on Friday afternoon, to which all the Institutes of this District are invited. Convenors of standing committees for this year were appointed. Games and contests followed, after which a basket lunch was served, and a vote of thanks given Mrs. Utman for the pleasant outdoor afternoon spent at her cottage.

Two Chesterville Garages Robbed

Two Chesterville garages were entered by thieves on Monday night and an automobile, a cash register containing $15, several tires and tubes were taken.

The car, the property of Gordon Lannin, owner of the Lannin garage, and the rifled cash register, taken from the McDonald and Hutt garage, were found on the Ridge road, between Winchester and Chesterville, Tuesday morning. The car was undamaged.

It is believed that the thieves first took the car from the Lannin garage, and used it to carry the cash register, tires and tubes away from the McDonald and Hutt garage.

The thefts were not noticed until the owners of the garages opened their places of business Tuesday morning. County Constable Garnet McLean is investigating.

Two Local Couples United In Marriage

PORTEOUS—SUFFEL

Bankings of Gladioli, Sweet Peas and Asters made an ideal setting for a quiet, but pretty wedding ceremony, which took place at the summer home of Mrs R. L. Suffel, Point Iroquois, Wednesday morning, when Miss Anna Mabel Suffel, only daughter of Mrs. Suffel and the late R. L. Suffel, of Winchester, was united in marriage to Mr. Leonard Alexander Porteous, of South Mountain, son of Mr. M. D. D. Porteous and the late Mrs. Porteous, of Winnipeg, Man. Rev. Dr. J. H. Miller, of Huntingdon, Que., and a former pastor of Winchester United Church, officiated.

The bride, who was unattended, was charming in a gown of navy triple sheer, fashioned on long flowing lines. Her accessories were in matching tones and she wore a corsage of Joanna Hill Roses.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Porteous left by motor on a trip through the New England States. On their return they will take up residence at Cornwall, where Mr. Porteous has accepted a position on the public school teaching staff.

Shower Held.

Prior to her marriage, Miss Suffel was honoured by a large number of friends on Monday evening, when they assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Flora, Winchester, to tender her a crystal and silver shower. The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Flora, Mrs. W. J. Hitsman, Miss Eva Donaldson and Miss Helen Elliott. As the bride-to-be was ushered to a seat of honour, she was presented with a beautiful nosegay of roses and other summer blooms, designed by Dr. Walter Flora, of Ottawa. Accompanying the presentation of several gifts of crystal and silver, was an address which was read by Mrs. H. L. Flora. The gifts were presented by Miss Eva Donaldson and Miss Elliott, and the nosegay by little Christine Stewart. Miss Suffel replied to the address and expressed her appreciation for the beautiful gifts.

Following the presentation, dainty refreshments were served on the lawn, which was illuminated with colored lights and decorated with baskets of cut flowers.

Before leaving, all present registered in a beautiful bride's book which was designed by Miss Marjory Colbourne.

POTTER—O'NEIL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neil Clarence Street, was the scene of an interesting wedding at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon when their eldest daughter, Stella Elizabeth, was united in marriage to John Bower Potter, son of Mrs. Sarah Potter and the late Samuel Potter of Winchester.

An arch, decorated with pink and white streamers, and white wedding bells and banked on either side with summer blooms and foliage, made an ideal seting for the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. S. Atchison, pastor of the local United church.

As the bridal party entered the drawing room, Lohengrin's Wedding March was played by Miss Mabel O'Neil, sister of the bride, who also contributed quiet music during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in white crepe back satin gown, made on long flowing lines, with pleated bodice and a cowl neckline. Her veil of white silk net, in cornet style, was held in place by little white rose buds, and fell gracefully to her waistline. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Nellie Cameron, of Morrisburg, was bridesmaid, and wore a pale pink taffeta gown, made on long Princess lines. Her corsage was of Talisman roses and lily-of-the-valley. Robert Robinson of Winchester, was groomsman. Miss Betty O'Neil, sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Fennell, niece of the groom, were flower girls, and wore dainty gowns of white organdy.

Mrs. O'Neil, mother of the bride, wore a gown of navy blue sheer with touches of white, and a corsage of pink sweet peas. Mrs. Potter, mother of the groom, was gowned in black sheer, with corsage of mauve sweetpeas.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served on the lawn to thirty-six guests. The tea table was laid with an ecru lace cloth and centered with a three storey wedding cake. Pink tapers were hung from the chandelier and caught at each corner of the table. The ices were cut by Mrs. Eldon Fennell, of Winchester, and Mrs. Sherman Merrill, of Morrisburg, while Mrs. Roy Wallace of Kars and Mrs. Weston Murdock, of Osgoode, poured tea. Those who assisted in serving were: Mrs. Herman Strader, Misses Edna Robinson, Erma O'Neil and Mabel O'Neil.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Potter left on a motor trip through New York state, the bride travelling in a flowered sheer dress, navy taffeta coat, with hat, shoes and accessories in matching toens. On their return, they will reside in Winchester.

Attacked By Bull, Boy Fatally Injured

Despite two blood transfusions given to him by his father, Clifford Baker, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker, died in Brockville General Hospital Tuesday afternoon from injuries received when he was gored by a bull shortly before noon.

The boy was herding cattle along a lane on his father's farm, about two miles north of Spencerville, when the bull, which was in the herd, suddenly turned on him. The youngster's father, and William Cumming, another farmer, who were binding grain in a field some distance away, heard the boy's cries and saw the bull toss him three times into the air. They immediately rushed to the boy's aid but by the time they arrived, the family's dog, which always accompanied the boy, had chased the bull away, preventing any further attacks.

Jas. Goodin and his son, Jock, neighbors, also came to the scene and the four men succeeded in getting the boy away.

Rushed to Hospital.

When they picked the lad up they found that he was unconscious and that his body was horrbily mangled. Immediately they placed him in J. Goodin's automobile and rushed him to Brockville hospital. Despite the efforts of the father to save his son's life by giving his blood, young Baker never regained consciousness and died at 3.30 p.m.

Clifford Baker was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker and is survived by his parents and a grandmother, Mrs. Baker, in Morrisburg, Ont. The funeral was held this morning to Spencerville United Church. Interment was made in Maple Ridge cemetery, Winchester.

Iroquois Man Electrocuted

Receiving the full force of 2,200 volts when a pump he was raising from a well came in contact with a power line at Point Iroquois summer resort at 1.30 p.m., on Thursday last, Mason Shaver, 52, of Iroquois, died at 8.30 o'clock that night. Samuel Webb, 50, and Frank Timleck, 55, both of Iroquois, were also stunned in the mishap, but they responded to medical treatment and were able to go to their homes.

Raising the heavy steel pump by means of a derrick, Shaver was holding the lower part of the machine when the upper portion brushed against the power line. Webb was hanging to a guide chain and Timleck was leaning against a metal leg of the derrick.

All three men were knocked down when the current was shorted to the ground, but Shaver received the main part of the charge.

Dr. E. H. Marcellus was called and Webb and Timleck were quickly revived. Artificial respiration was immediately started in an attempt to save the life of Mason Shaver but although Dr. Marcellus and volunteers worked on him for more than seven hours, life was pronounced extinct at 8.30 o'clock.

Mason Shaver is survived by his widow, the former Miss Winnifred Workman, and three daughter and one son.

Mr. Frank Parker Died On Tuesday

The death occurred at his late residence, Main St. West, on Tuesday, Aug. 9th, of a prominent citizen of this town, in the person of James Franklin Parker. The deceased was in his 65th year, and had been in failing health for the past four months.

The late Mr. Frank Parker was born at Maple Ridge in 1874, a son of the late John Edward Parker and his wife, Agnes Barclay, well-known residents of the district. He spent the greater part of his life on the farm there, and enjoyed a wide reputation as a stock-breeder and owner of fine horses.

In 1918 the late Mr. Parker took up residence in Winchester, where he continued to operate a splendid farm. His interest in agriculture led him to take an active part in the work of the Winchester Agricultural Society, while he became widely-known throughout Eastern Ontario as a horseman.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at the residence wiht Rev. W. D. Turner, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church in charge of the service. Interment will be made in the family plot, Maple Ridge Cemetery, with the following as pall-bearers: Messrs. E. J. Christie Percy Durant, Lloyd Wilson, G. D. Hutt, Frank Helmer and Kenneth Hutt.

Those who survive are four sisters, Mrs. R. M. Elliott, Winchester, Mrs. T. R. Lawrence of Toronto, Miss Ella Parker at home and Mrs. F. A. Smith, of Ingersoll, Ont.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SEWING

Basting threads may be removed easily by clipping them at six-inch intervals and pulling them out with the blunt ends of scissors. In sewing snaps on garments, sew all the halves on one side. Brush them over with chalk. Press against the other side of the garment and the chalk marks will show where each additional half should be attached.

Man Identified As Chesterville Native

Jules J. Ferry of the Sudbury branch of the Canadian Legion revealed yesterday that a man buried in a city plot in a Sudbury cemetery on April 29, as Thomas Moore, really was Thomas H. Merkeley, a Great War veteran, born in Chesterville, Ont.

Ferry said that the remains of Merkeley, whose mother is said to be living in Calgary, will be exhumed and re-interred in the soldiers' plot Monday at Park Lawn cemetery there. A Union Jack will cover the casket and the Last Post will be sounded as the casket is borne to the grave by other Great War veterans.

Discovery of Merkeley's real identity came after a four months' investigation prompted by a few words which he uttered while delirious in hospital where he had been taken suffering from gangrene in one leg. Two letters were found in clothing belonging to the man who gave his name as Moore.

Ferry said Merkeley was with the Second Division Signal Company during the war.

TO BE PORT-OF-ENTRY

It is understood that under action shortly to be taken at Ottawa, the Canadian terminus of the Thousand Islands bridge will be designated a port-of-entry to be known as "Lansdowne." The Department of National Revenue staff to do duty at the bridge during the earlier period of its operation will probably be drawn from officers already on duty at district points who will serve temporarily until a permanent staff is chosen.

X-L-O RANGE MASH—There is nothing better for this time of year to develop the growing chick into a thrifty early layer.

Range Mash is made of Yellow Corn, Wheat, Hulled Oats, Hulled Barley, Shorts Meat, Fish, Milk Powder, Bone Meal and Iodized Salt.

The feed inspector's last report shows 16.7 per cent. Protein, 5.1 per cent. Fat and only 3.3 per cent. Fibre.

At the above price of $2.25 it is excellent value.

X-L-O CONCENTRATE (for laying mash)—With plenty of good grain around this year a lot of people will be able to use X-L-O Concentrate again to make up their laying mash.

On actual test X-L-O Concentrate runs over 36 per cent. Protein. By mixing 1 bag of Concentrate with 3 bags of ground mixed grain you can have a laying mash with 18 per cent. Protein. It will be a well balanced mash too if the grain used is good quality.

X-L-O Concentrate is made up with Fasterfat White Fish Meal, Meat Meal, Milk Powder, Bone Meal, Alfalfa Meal, Charcoal, Gluten Feed, Calcium Carbonate, Iodized Salt and a liberal amount of High Grade Cod Liver Oil. It has the necessary ingredients and it will give the results alright if properly mixed with the right kind of grain.

CUSTOM MIXING—If ready mixed feeds do not just suit your purpose or you want to work in home grown grain, we will make up any kind of ration you specify. Whether you want the grain ground fine or coarse or rolled or whatever way you want it fixed up or mixed up, we'll do it for you.

We have a full range of all the ingredients that go into ordinary poultry or stock rations. Also the latest recommendations from the O.A.C. Experimental Farm, and MacDonald College in regard to making up these rations. Come in and look over them anytime and have the benefit of their experiments and experience. These bulletins also contain many good hints on the care and management of live stock and poultry.

WHY THE DISCRIMINATION ?

Ontario farmers are up in arms, and very rightly so, at the discrimination shown by the Canadian railways toward foreign wheat being shipped through this province at rates far below those paid by the Ontario farmer who exports his wheat, says the Bowmanville Statesman. It is perhaps not generally known that Canadian Railways haul Argentine and South Africa corn from Montreal to Western Ontario points for 13c per hundred pounds, while the Ontario farmer must pay for shipment of his wheat, corn or wheat products at the rate of 21c per hundred pounds to Montreal. This discrimination of more than 50 per cent., when the same rolling stock and same rails are used is not only unfair, but is decidedly depressing to the farmer. It means in reality that he must pay this added rate out of the price of his wheat, and is then expected to compete in world markets. It also means that the Ontario farmer who exports wheat, even if indirectly, is helping to sustain the farmer of the Argentine and of South Africa. This reciprocity might be a good thing if it did not hit the Ontario farmer's pocket to the extent that he must find it difficult to carry on.

It apparently is not the government's duty to set railway rates, but rather the duty of the Dominion Railway Board. Considerable pressure however can be made on the Board by the united action of farmers through approaching their federal member. The farmer who believes he is not interested is only fooling himself. Every farmer who has grain to sell is interested. He does not know whether the grain he sells to a dealer is to be exported or not, but one thing is certain that as long as the dealers and exporters are faced with this unfair competition, the farmer, even if his grain is not exported, is going to suffer to the extent of several cents on every bushel as a result of this. This difference in these freight rates is 5 cents per bushel which means on an Ontario crop of 20 million bushels, a direct loss of one million dollars to the Ontario farmers.

Every farmer, if he values his own living, should petition the Department of Agriculture, the federal and provincial members, insisting that they demand of the railways an end to this unfair discrimination against the Ontario farmer.

DEAD MEN TELL NO TALES

In a striking editorial on safe driving and walking, the Smiths Falls Record News brings out some interesting facts as follows:

"Their lips are motionless, their voices stilled, but dead men—and women and children—do tell tales. Especially when death has come suddenly and brutally in a automobile accident. Lifeless, mangled bodies, crushed under the wheels of a motor car, strewn about in a tangled mess of crumpled metal and shattered glass, tell grim, horrible tales. They tell tales of needless death—death that was the result of carelessness, neglect, thoughtlessness or inconsideration, for those human weaknesses are responsible every time traffic on urban streets or country highways claims another life. Few people seem to listen to the tales the dead tell, however. Perhaps it is because of the horror which must necessarily accompany their tales, but more often than not it is because the ego in most people places them above their fellow men.

"It couldn't happen to me," they think, whether they say it or not. But couldn't it? Shove that ego into the background for a while and do some serious thinking. Then you may realize that you can be killed as easily as anyone else and that you also can kill. Of course, it isn't a pleasant thought, but it is true. Death has no special preferences, when it comes to taking life in automobile accidents. Just give it a chance to strike—lapse into carelessness for a moment, overlook or defy some traffic regulation, or selfishly ignore some driver's or pedestrian's rights—and it will. And it will strike you before you realize what is happening, suddenly and cruelly. If you want to have a normal span of life, if you don't want to become a killer, drive and walk with care, courtesy and common sense. Take heed of the tales that dead men do tell.

IN THE COURSE OF TIME SURPRISING CHANGES OCCUR

It is within the memory of the writer when Toronto was called "Toronto the Good," because of its puritanical observance of the Sabbath. It is, too, within the memory of the writer the determined opposition in that city to the operation of street cars on Sunday. Now by the stroke of the pen, in the year 1938, the park gates are thrown open on Sunday and those who want to play baseball, tennis or lawn bowling, or any other sport can do so to their heart's content. And all this with the approval of the Lord's Day Alliance, comments the Pembroke Standard-Observer.

Years ago those who were leaders in religious thought would not have considered this in keeping with the commandment "remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy," but the viewpoint of the public has changed. Today the public are in the aggregate just as sincere and conscientious, but they look upon the puritanical restrictions and manner of living as unwarranted by any interpretation of the Scriptures.

Six days men and women are engaged in labor, and under present day conditions it is often of the most exacting and worrying nature. Six days men and women are engaged in labor, and under present day conditions it is often of the most exacting and worrying nature. Six days many are in confined quarters where it is difficult to breathe the pure air so if on the seventh day, after they have worshipped, they picnic, play golf, or engage in innocent sports for physical and mental recreation perhaps it is just in keepnig with what the Master of men said "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath."

HOT WEATHER HEALTH HINTS

The recent heat wave led Dr. Robert A. Fraser, chief medical director of the New York Life Insurance Company, to issue a health warning, cautioning every one to take simple safeguards that their health may not be impaired by the extreme temperatures. Dr. Fraser offers ten health hints for hot weather that are easily followed by young and old. They are: 1. Take it easy—don't rush around. 2. Wear a hat out in the sun. 3. Wear cool, loose fitting clothes. 4. Get plenty of rest and sleep. 5. Eat moderately of easily digested foods. 6. Drink plenty of cool (not ice cold) liquids. 7. Exercise moderately. 8. Take frequent tepid (not cold) baths. 9. Avoid large meetings in poorly ventilated auditoriums. "If all of us would observe these rules," Dr. Fraser said, "our general physical condition would be vastly improved and we would be able to withstand hot weather with much less difficulty."

QUITE SO !

The Cunard-White Star liner "Queen Mary" has captured the speed record for crossing the Atlantic from the French liner "Normandie." Where speed is concerned, on rails, on land, in air or water—the British have what it takes to make winners. Britons hold virtually all the speed records in the world regardless of the mode of transportation. Sir Malcolm Campbell holds the hydroplane record; Eyston holds the automobile record of over 300 m.p.h.; the Schneider Cup races were last won by the Royal Air Force; an English railway train set a new one the other day at 135 m.p.h. and now the Queen Mary runs up the flag for the blue ribbon classic on the Atlantic crossing. These Englishmen may yet carve a niche for themselves in the history books as a great people, in spite of all advices to the contrary on the part of European dictators—"don't cha' know !"

DO YOU SUPPOSE ?

Young Corrigan, the Irish flyer, who started from New York for California and finally landed in Dublin, Ireland, still insists that he thought he was flying due west—all the time.

Such being the case and not wishing to doubt the integrity of the young airman, we venture to suggest that he claim the round-the-world record from Hughes. He no doubt, started west for California, overshot his mark, crossed the Pacific—still going west—crossed Asia and Europe, and much to his astonishment arrived in Dublin the next morning. All of which makes us wonder why Hughes and his companions wasted so much time in flying around the globe!

ABOUT ELECTRICITY

The tragedy at Iroquois on Thursday last when a resident of that place was accidentally electrocuted while assisting in making repairs to a pump, merely indicates again, the need for extreme care when working with or around electric wires.

Too often we are careless about such matters, with the result that accidents occur and people lose their lives. Electricity is a remarkable servant, but a knowledge of its peculiar properties should be acquired by everyone who comes in close proximity to it.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Isn't it surprising the way time flies? In less than three weeks schools will again be open and the students will be all ready to buckle down after the holidays.

At present workmen are busy on Caleb Street making ready to lay the permanent surface. The Council is to be commended for continuing the policy of surfacing one side street each year. The job on Church and Louisa Streets last year has turned out to be excellent and Caleb should be a fine addition for 1938.

Not satisfied with having their hands almost too full with the Chinese, the little island of Japan finds time to take a few rounds out of the Russians to the north. It may come to pass that the Japanese will have a few bombs dropped on their own teeming cities—for a change, and they may then learn what it means to have war planes scatter death and destruction among helpless civilians.

And it came to pass that the Municipal Board up in Toronto informed the local Council that money could not be spent for enlarging the High School without a vote of the people. Whereupon the Council or School Board, as the case may be, apparently "gave up the ghost," and the whole project was dropped like a "hot potato." No vote was taken and the local High School promptly took a back seat with respect to other schools in the district in matters of household science and shop work. Sounds nice, doesn't it?

There is always something for which to give sincere thanks. Do you remember exactly one year ago? The epidemic of Infantile Paralysis was sweeping the province of Ontario with new outbreaks being reported every day. This year the dreaded disease has so far failed to rise above normal proportions and very few cases are occurring in the Dominion. England, however, is not so fortunate and in the Mother Country 64 cases have been reported with seven deaths to date.

A new chapter in the life of the Winchester Horticultural Society was written on Friday and Saturday last, when the first annual Flower and Vegetable Show of the Society was held. For weeks the directors of the Show worked tirelessly in an effort to bring about a splendid exhibition and their efforts were, in part, rewarded.

Considering that it is extremely difficult to create enthusiasm or interest in such an event the first year, the Horticultural Society may well take encouragement from the 1938 Show. Much valuable experience was gained from this year's exhibition and already the directors are looking forward to 1938 with every confidence that the second Flower Show will be an outstanding success.

"The Voice of the Press"

WAS THE GREAT WAR ONLY AN INCIDENT IN A WORLD STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY ?

(Orillia Packet & Times)

This is the twenty-fourth anniversary of the entry of the British Empire into the Great War. It was a day that none who remember it will forget. Nor can those whose memory does not go back consternation and incredulity with to those days have much conception of which peoples long accustomed to peace, or at most local wars, found themselves suddenly and unexpectedly precipitated into a major conflict.

For a time following the war an effort was made by certain learned analysts of human motives to prove that the Allies had failed in the objects with which they went into the war. This, as far at least as France and the British Empire are concerned, was not the case. Both went into the war for the purpose of preventing Germany from securing a dominant position in Europe, from which that country could threaten their freedom and, in the end, their independent existence. In this primary object they were successful, though it is true that in many of the secondary objectives they were disappointed, and particularly in the hope that war would be banished as an instrument of national policy.

In his recent book, "The Good Society," Mr. Walter Lippmann, the well known American journalist philosopher, suggests that the war broke out twenty-four years ago, was only an opening incident in a struggle for supremacy that is still going on, and that will not be settled until one side or the other is victorious. Mr. Lippmann calls the present condition a "total war," as distinct from the wars with local, or limited, objectives in the last century, and says: "Until the issue of supremacy is settled, men are doomed in an era of total wars to fight incessantly. There are intervals of armed truce, periods of recuperation, rearmament, and the regrouping of allies before the struggle is renewed. But there can be no settlement. For total wars are fought, not for specific objects, but for supremacy."

It is not an alluring prospect that Mr. Lippmann presents to the rising generation, avid for peace, happiness and a life of pleasure. Yet looking at the condition of the world today, and considering the avowed ambitions of the militarist powers, there is too much ground for the fear that he has diagnosed the situation properly. If he has, there would appear for nothing for the British Empire and the democracies to do but to ensure by their preparations that when the test comes they will not be on the side that suffers defeat and is brought into subjection.

THE POPE VERSUS MUSSOLINI

(Brockville Recorder & Times)

The leader of the extreme right-wing Fascists in Italy, Roberto Farinacci, makes a blunt attack on the Pope, in his newspaper, asserting that Fascism will not hesitate to condemn the Roman Catholic church if that institution adopts a course in opposition to the present regime. He hints that the Pope has no right to interfere on any question of racism, which he asserts is purely a political problem.

The controversy in which the Fascist newspaper editor opposes the Pope arises as the Sarnia Observer points out, from a recent address by the Pope in which the latter voiced condemnation of the Mussolini threat against the Jews of Italy. The Pope spoke strongly on the subject, asserting that the Catholic Action Associations, which are the lay organizations of the church, could not regard with complacency any studied government campaign of spoilation against any race or creed. Furthermore, he expressed his regret that Mussolini had seen fit to imitate the fantastic policies of Hitler.

There seem to be the foundation for a serious row in Italy if the Pope stands by his declaration concerning the proposed Mussolini drive against the Jews. There is no doubt about the strength of the church in Italy, but Mussolini is a stubborn customer who has had his head turned quite a bit by political success. He is the type of individual who would not hesitate to attempt to overthrow the Pope, just to show the world that he is not afraid to tackle what appears to be a hopeless task.

There can be little doubt that the Pope is not enamored of Fascism. On several occasions he has revealed his misgivings concerning the future of the Italian nation under the fantastic policies of Mussolini but normal discretion has unquestionably dictated a moderate course in the hope that circumstances might eventually alter the situation. An open break with Mussolini would bring down on the church the kind of fury that he has displayed toward other opposition in the past. Unless His Holiness is sure that the people of Italy are prepared to renounce the Mussolini theories of government, he would be wise not to engage in a war against the existing government, but if this quarrel does come to a crisis, it will be a hot one. The Pope would be sure of support from elements outside the church. The Jews, Communists, Clericals, Socialists and Democrats have been shown no mercy by Mussolini. It can be assumed that they would offer substantial support for Papal leadership against their oppressor. On the other hand, Farinacci asserts that the Italian youth would abandon the church to remain loyal to Fascism.

The Poet's Corner

PUT AND TAKE

Some fellows start right in the rut,
While others head the throng,
All men may be born equal, but
They don't stay that way long.

There is many a man with a gallant air,
Goes galoping to the fray,
But the valuable man is the man who's there
When the smoke has cleared away.

Some "don't get nuthin' out of life,"
But when their whines begin,
We often can remind them that
They "don't put nuthin' in."

HOLD HIGH THE TORCH

Not our hands,—
But our brave pioneers
That inch by inch
Beat back the forest lands,
Fighting against their foes
And savage Indians.
And rugged homes were made.
Their corner-stones were laid,
Like altar stones.
And since their bones
Are bleaching in their shade.
All this for heirs unborn;
For us their hearts were torn
To blaze the desert trails.

—Then woe to him who fails
To guard this heritage,
Its history stained with blood
On every page.

—Dorothy Sproule, Montreal.

SWEET SIXTEEN

Of all the ages woman knows
From life's beginning to the close
There's none so lovely or serene
As that of radiant "sweet sixteen."

Her childhood is an awkward stage
That leads her to the perfect age
When still unspoiled her charms are seen
In that entrancing "sweet sixteen."

Then all untouched by grief or care,
Her smile is delicately fair,
Her tresses wear their brightest sheen
Throughout that glorious 'sweet sixteen.'

Of all the ages woman gains,
The loveliest "sweet sixteen" remains.
The perfect age of many here,
Too bad it only lasts one year !

AFTER HOLIDAYS

The best part of holidays
Is the coming home,
Happy feet are they that turn
From the world to roam.
Just the first small glimpse you get
Seems to thrill you through,
Of your house among the trees
Smiling out at you.

Coming home to plants and things
On the window-sill,
(Same old row of poplar trees
There against the hill);
Rooms look kind of cosy-like
At the dusk of day,
Seems to think more of the place
Since we've been away.

Coming home to school and work,
(Dear old routine things);
Health in every pulsing vein,
Seems to move on wings,
Dear familiar rooms and beds,
Fireplace and den,
Holidays are wonderful
When you're home again!

THE FARMER AND THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

A farmer talked with me today
On working just eight hours a day:
The notion struck him fine.
He knew the hour when he'd begin,
The only thing that bothered him
Was getting through on time.

I'm up at five or six, he said,
No longer I can stay in bed,
I'm just a farming man;
And though that's early in the day,
The stock all start to look my way
And wonders where I am.

At noon I like to rest a bit
And after dinner snooze or sit,
To keep from turning sour;
A little rest like that will pay,
I take it every working day,
For just a half an hour.

But when it gets on after two,
My day should then be almost through,
And I should quit right there;
I should go driving into town,
Or get a book and sit me down,
And find my easy chair.

But I have got to drive a team,
I've got a pile of seed to clean,
My work's not nearly done;
I've got to mend a whiffletree,
And clean some pests from out a tree—
I haven't well begun.

When I get through the chores at night,
I know if I have reckoned right,
And figured it two ways,
I've got it firmly in my head
That since I got from out my bed
I've worked two eight-hour days.

"Well, old man," Simpson said to his friend who had just inherited a fortune, "I reckon I ought to offer my congratulations on your luck, eh?"

"Oh, I don't know," the newrich sighed. "I suppose wealth has its points, but it's sure to rob me of one thrill, at least."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, I'll never again experience the thrill of paying the last instalment on something."

Serve Chef's Salad At Home

By BETTY BARCLAY

One of my best recent "finds" in easily prepared but delicious dishes, a Chicken Mousse, is a salad that is also a favorite of one of the most famous chefs in the world. He is Gaston Magrin, premier chef of the world's largest ocean liner, the S.S. Normandie. His recipes produce food that world travelers look forward to enjoying when anticipating a trip, and always remember afterward.

His salads would delight the eye and palate of any housewife in any land, I am sure. This photograph he gave me, with the recipe I wanted, shows him surrounded by spectacular salads and appetizers, ready for the inroads of hungry passengers during a party on the Normandie.

The recipe I chose, and which he permitted me to pass on to my readers, is made with a prepared salad gelatin found on the American market, so I knew it would be easy to make. The speed with which this dish always disappears shows that it tastes just as good as it sounds and looks.

Chicken Mousse

1 package salad gelatin (aspic)
1 cup boiling water
¾ cup cold water
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups finely chopped chicken
½ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon paprika
½ cup cream, whipped

Dissolve salad gelatin in boiling water; add cold water and salt. Chill until it begins to thicken, then gradually beat in mayonnaise and paprika. Fold in chicken and whipped cream. Mould and chill until firm. Unmould and garnish with stuffed olives, watercress or other salad greens. 10 servings.

OTTAWA EXHIBITION OFFERS ENTERTAINMENT FOR ALL

There will be entertainment for everyone, young and old, at this year's Central Canada Exhibition, Ottawa, including a return engagement of that great music maestro, Guiseppe Creatore, and his world-famous band, and the appearance of the 1938 Revue of Tomorrow, featuring gorgeous girls, sparkling songs, intricate dancing and the top-notch performances of Gae Foster's Roxyettes, the most famous of all entertainment assemblies. The exhibition dates are from August 22 to 27 inclusive.

Included in the grandstand performance are such headliners as Dr. Ostermaier's Doheos, a horse with a high school diploma and an almost human brain; the Francis Trio, whose comedy is intoxicating; the Great Beters, in a sensational hangman's act that will leave you gasping for breath; Torelli's Circus, a grand pageant of ponies, dogs, monkeys in an exciting routine; the Six Decardos, five men of alacrity and a queen, in spectacular space-conquering feats; Slivers Johnson's Ford, in an act that will split your sides with its maniacal dirt-track delirium tremens; the Flying Otaris, who will take your breath away with their death-defying flights through space, and the Stephani Sisters, leading European feminine artists whose "strong jaw" stunts are nothing short of amazing.

All these acts, combined with a grand new "Mirthway" and other attractions, await you at what promises to be the greatest exhibition ever staged in Ottawa.

And to round out each day's entertainment the night will be filled with the crashing brilliance of bursting fireworks, a display that has long been a feature of Canada's greatest one week Exhibition.

HINTS FOR THE FARMER

SUMMER CARE FOR BROOD SOWS

An abundance of good pasture during the summer greatly reduces the cost of maintaining brood sows. Crops such as rape or clover supply needed minerals, vitamins and other nutrients. The exercise obtained in grazing also contributes in no small measure to the general health of the breeding stock, with consequent beneficial results at farrowing time.

Sows raising only one litter per year need but little grain after the pigs are weaned, if good pastures are provided. While it is a mistake to allow sows to become too fat, it is equally unwise to allow them to become too thin. Enough grain should be given to keep the sows in thrifty condition, and in any event they should get some grain such as a mixture of ground oats, ground barley and middlings, supplemented with skim-milk or fish meal, for two or three weeks before breeding time in the fall. Sows raising two litters per year naturally require more feed than those raising only one, but if early spring and fall litters ena be accomodated, the average cost of rearing pigs to weaning age will be lower if two litters per year are raised.

Market hogs make faster gains when confined to a pen, but sow pigs which are to be reserved for breeding, should be given good pasture to ensure good vigorous breeders. They should be fed liberally to ensure satisfactory growth when they are on pasture, but if their yard is small and the gilts get only a limited amount of exercise, heavy feeding should be avoided.

BLADDER CAMPION

Bladder Campion is considered one of the most serious weed pests in Ontario by the Crop, Seeds and Weeds Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

It is difficult to kill owing to its deep stems from one crown. The crown is often down six to twelve inches in the soil and this explains the difficulty in cutting it off with the plow and the need of deep plowing followed by a stiff toothed cultivator with wide shares which overlap. Roots and root stalks brought to the surface will not survive but any portion left in the soil with a bud attached, wil produce a new plant. Thorough cultivation will eradicate Bladder Campion in cultivated areas. Chemical weed killers is the only practical solution if the weed is prevalent and cultivation impossible.

The first plant found on your property is a danger signal, says the Department. Eradicate it and save trouble later. The Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ont. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto, will gladly forward you free of charge a phamphlet on how to get rid of this dangerous pest. Write for it immediately.

Bladder Campion is sometimes misnamed "White Cockle" or "Catchfly" Campion, however, can be easily identified by its freely branching stems, smooth leaves in pairs which meet around the stem, its white flowers found in loose clusters often drooping and It is from this the plant sometimes gets its inflated bell-shaped calyx or pod. the name of Bladder Weed or Cow Bell.

It is adapted to high land and soon becomes established if neglected.

Get after it now, is the best advice of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

HAVE YOU INSECTS AMONG YOUR BOOKS?

A diminutive household insect pest that often makes its appearance in great numbers in summer and autumn, especially in newly constructed dwellings, is the so-called book-louse. These insects are tiny, pale, yellowish or grayish white, and wingless, usually measuring less than one-twelfth of an inch in length. As their name indicates, they are louse-like in appearance, but they are not related to the true lice which feed on the blood of animals and man. Book-lice have small, feeble mouthparts and feed on organic matter. They rarely do much damage, however, although they sometimes occur in sufficiently large numbers to constitute a nuisance. They multiply rapidly in warm moist places in apartments and dwelling-houses, and are occasionally found breeding in immense numbers in straw mattresses and in furniture stuffing of vegetable origin.

The Division of Entomology, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, each year receives numerous complaints about the presence of these tiny intruders. If their numbers are moderate, they can usually be controlled by thorough housecleaning and a sunning and airing of the infested rooms. In all cases the liberal use of a good fly spray containing pyrethrum extract is an effective remedy. Infested furniture may be freed of the pests by subjecting it to dry heat (120-140 degrees F.) or by fumigation. Even when no special measures are taken, infestations usually disappear shortly after the central heating system is put in operation with the arrival of cool weather.

OUR CANADIAN SUNDAY

With the coming of each summer, we have revived in our country the Sunday question. Perhaps along with Scotland—and we might include Switzerland—Canada possesses one of the most reverential and restful Sundays in the world. With the automobiles now within the range of the average man, and the highways to nature's beauty spots, so adequate, Sunday is becoming more and more a holiday. The claim now is that the wealth have their Sunday sports; the poor people have a right to do the same. The commercial propagandists are all for a wide open Sunday. When the populous are at leisure, the propagandists can get at the pocketbooks of the people and so they would annihilate any semblance of a puritanic Sunday.

We recognize that the old Sunday with its Sabbatarian ideas, has practically disappeared. Its austerities and oppressive dreariness were not altogether morally healthful for youth. We still maintain, however, that Sunday should be a day distinctive and differentiated from the other days of the week. Nature has variation, which saves it from monotony. We have our sunshine and shade; our mountains and our valleys. Life is not intended to be one dead level. So it is good to have one day in seven a little different to all other days. It should be as far as possible a day of rest from the routine of the week, but not a day of aimless boredom. It should not be given over to sport. A commercialized Sunday is a corruption not only of the day, but of the whole week. Rest and worship should play a large part on the Lord's Day.

Perhaps the time has come for the people of Canada to face afresh the whole sphere of Sunday life and activity. We ought to do some real constructive and consecutive thinking about the day, for it is evident from recent newspaper symposiums regarding the Sunday that even the clergy are at loose ends in their thinking. It is certainly true that a nation cannot be dragooned into a reverential observance of the day, and will only be led when it sees it is getting definite guidance. At present there are so many things permitted that should not be allowed, and so many things forbidden, which might well be granted. It is time to survey the whole field, that the modern Sunday might be used by the people for worthy ends.

In this survey, the claims of organized religion should be given the fullest consideration. Nothing should be done by a deliberate encouragement of counter-attractions to make the way of the churches still harder. The practice of public worship should receive the greatest encouragement by the people of the country. If commercialized sport, and attractions of pleasure are given full swing on the only day of the week that people have time to gather for public worship and when the youth of the country can get under the influence of the Sunday school, the tendency will be to forsake these services, and the sense of God will be lost and the nation impoverished.

Our Canadian Sunday does not rest exclusively with the church. It is a question for the Canadian citizens as a whole, and especially for the laboring classes. Labor ought to be reduced as much as possible, and when used it should be for worthy altruistic causes and not to satisfy the lust of great corporations. The favored class materially have no right to break the best traditions of this day, in sport and business, and then expect the less favored to wait on them and lose the day either for rest or recreation.

We believe the good moral sense of our people will not consent to Canada drifting into a commercialized Sunday, which would of necessity greatly impair the good work now done by our churches and which would lower the physical, the moral and spiritual forces of a great people. Let us continue to hope our Canadian Sunday will be a day apart.

FINDS BOTTLE WITH MESSAGE

Cast into Lake Superior on a May 29, a bottle containing a message with a promise of a $25 reward was found floating close to shore in the St. Lawrence river at Morrisburg by Ennis McBurnie, of Ottawa. Mr. McBurnie may receive the reward if he follows the instructions contained in the note which read: "This bottle was thrown into Lake Superior on May 29 from the yacht 'Alva' by Jas. R. Coppins, Bank Ohio Corporation, Columbus, Ohio. There will be a $25 reward for the finder who communicates with the above person and states where it was found and on what date."

Mr. McBurnie stated he would write to the United States resident and trust to luck.

CAB CALLOWAY IN OTTAWA AUGUST 18th

His Highness of Hi-De-Ho to be presented at the Auditorium in Ottawa on Thursday, August the 18th—Cabell Calloway III and His Cotton Club Orchestra. Music! Dancing! Show!

The most interesting phenomenon of modern music circles is to be seen in Ottawa in a few days, presented by Harry Coulson. The Creator of Minnie The Moocher, the originator of "Hi-De-Ho" will invade the Auditorium in Ottawa with his merrymakers and their blazing blues, their sizzling rhythm and their haunting songs.

The leader of this now famous band was born on Christmas Day, 1907. Following his sister, Blanche, who is now leading her own orchestra, he entered the show business as singer and dancer. Offered an opportunity to lead his own band, he became an immediate success and was the first to be asked to succeed Duke Ellington at the Cotton Club.

Minnie The Moocher was introduced and was promptly followed by the cycle of the Minnie songs. America was now shouting the celebrated Hi-De-Ho which had replaced the other jazz cries of the generation.

Scat singing was another Calloway improvisation, which soon became a favorite. It is attained by supplanting the lyrics of songs with meaningless words or improvised jargon. It was "skeet-n-scat and Hi-De-Hi and zah-zuh-zah."

A spectacular rise to fame and big money is an achievement of magnitude for anyone. But Calloway remained modest about his quick rise to fame. He did not let it go to his head. He is of retiring disposition and is as quiet off the stage as he is noisy on it.

His talents exceed that of a mere orchestra leader. He is a born showman. At the height of the M. C. Vogue (masters of ceremonies) he was considered tops.

Cab Calloway and his Cotton Club orchestra will be featured at the Auditorium in Ottawa on Thursday, August 18.

In cutting flowers for the living room, be sure to take the annuals and leave the perennials. A sharp tool and a clean cut will mean continued healthy growth for the plant. Poppies, one of the most fragile of flowers, will last longer if their stems are dipped for a second in boiling water.

DIM YOUR LIGHTS

Very thoughtfully, car manufacturers have built in some appliance or other by which it is possible to dim or drop the beams of the headlights.

We mention the fact here, because, from experience we have had in rides at night, very few people know about it.

The other evening we were travelling home with a driver who consistently dimmed, as the law requires, every time he met an oncoming car. We lost count of the actual number, but we know for certain that not more than one in twenty of the oncoming cars dimmed.

There is no excuse for it—the law demands the dimming of lights, it means merely a flick of the finger, or in some cases of the foot to do it, and failure to obey the injunction means danger.

More than one car has rolled into the ditch with a freight of killed or injured while the machine driven by the offending driver hurtled on through the night, the man at the wheel unaware, of what he had done.—Northern News.

LIST FIVE 'DON'TS' IN SAFETY CAMPAIGN

The Ontario Department of Highways listed five "don'ts" in a summer safety campaign circular recently for motorists:

"Don't pass a car at the top of the hill. You may be exasperated, following a slow truck up an incline, but the danger of a car coming from the opposite direction is enormous.

"Don't speed around a curve—centrifugal force tends to pull the car on the outside of a curve off the road, and the car on the inside of the curve into the centre.

"Don't drink when you drive. You may believe that a few drinks don't don't make any difference to you, but here's how alcohol fools you. It makes you take chances, it slows your mental reactions, it befuddles your judgment of distances.

"Don't neglect your brakes."

Representative of Russell, Brockville, Ottawa, Cornwall, Finch, Cannamore, Cardinal, Prescott, New Dublin, Pembroke, Smiths Falls, Richmond, Winchester, Kemptville, the Royal Black Knights of Ontario East attended Divine service at St. John's United church, Kemptville, on Sunday afternoon. They were led by the Kemptville Citizens' Band, under the direction of Jack Tobin.

The service was conducted by Rev. R. R. Nicholson, B.A. B.D., pastor of the church, with Miss Laura E. Todd at the organ. During the service a duet was sung by Miss L. E. Todd and C. C. Pelton, accompanied by Miss Evelyn Shaver

EARLE FAMILY REUNION PICNIC

On Monday last at the noon hour those of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Earle, who are living in the East, met at the grove at the old farm in the Melvin Settlement where their father settled in 1852 and where he brought his bride, the former Catherine Redmond, the next year. After partaking of their lunch, greetings were read from three of the family who reside in the West and who would have liked to have been present if possible. These are Richard W. of Vancouver, Rufus R. of Vernon, B. C., and Howard M., of Druid, Sask., who a few weeks ago had a similar reunion in Vancouver.

Those present on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Timmins of Toronto, Mrs. J. E. Murphy of Detroit, Mrs. T. A. Hill of Ottawa, Mrs. Mary McLaughlin of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Earle, of Winchester, and a cousin, Mr. Fred Mulloy, of Maple Grove, Mountain.

Another message of greeting was read from a former neighbor and school mate of the Earle's—Mrs. Kate Erratt Frith, of Carnduff, Sask.

Appreciation is due Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, the present tenants of the farm for their kindness and courtesy to the picnickers.

FLOWER SHOW COMMITTEE COMPLETES BUSINESS

A meeting of the Show Committee and Directors of the Horticultural Society was held Tuesday evening in the Library to settle up the business of the Show. This was presided over by the convenor of the committee, Mrs. J. D. Stewart, M.A., B.Sc. The financial statement of receipts and expenditures was given by the Secretary.

All donations promised as special prizes had not yet been received, but these are expected to be paid soon. There yet remained a small deficit which was readily wiped out by the officers present at the meeting. Special reference was made to the heavy work done by Mr. Nelson Dixon and others in getting so many tables, benches, and chairs there and away again; of Mr. J. L. Dixon who so kindly lent his loud speaker, etc., for the float and for the concert Saturday night, and of the work of Mr. T. O. Keyes and his men, and also Mr. J. T. Elnaugh.

Mrs. Stewart thanked her committee for their splendid co-operation throughout in the work of carrying on the first Flower Show of the Winchester Horticultural Society. The committee were pleased to hear of the continued improvement of the President of the Society, Mr. J. D. Stewart. Much credit for the successful carrying out of the Show is due the Supt., Dr. S. A. Merkley, and the Convenor of the Committee, Mrs. Stewart. This Committee is now disbanded for this year.

HORSE RACES WILL BE A FEATURE OF OTTAWA EXHIBITION

Five full days of harness horse racing are programmed for this year's Ottawa Exhibition which is being held from August 22nd to August 27th inclusive. The racing dates are August 23rd to 27th and one of the finest cards ever run off on the dirt track in front of the grandstand is being drawn up. Entries positively close on August 18th at 9 p.m., eastern daylight time, and owners are urged to have their entries filed on or before that date with the Secretary in the Exhibition offices, Journal Bldg.

A feature of this year's race program will be a driving race for ladies. This event will be run on the last day of the Exhibition for a $200.00 purse. The classes will be the 2.17 to 2.22 pace and trot. The lady standing highest in the summary will receive a gold watch.

On Tuesday, the opening day of the racing, the events will be the 2.30 pace, open only to horses owned within 100 miles of Ottawa, and the 2.14 pace. Both events are for purses of $300.00. On Wednesday the three-year-old pace and the 2.25 pace and trot for stakes of $500.00 will be run off. Thursday will see the 2.17 pace and the 2.16 pace for $300.00 purses. On Friday the 2.22 pace will be run for a $300.00 purse, to be followed by a gentlemen's road race, one mile heats. Amateur drivers will be up and owners must reside within 100 miles of Ottawa. The race will be run on the three-heat plans. Hobbles will be barred.

In previous years the racing has been confined to four days but the sport, fast becoming more popular with exhibition patrons, has been extended another day this year. Some splendid racing may be assured, with the usual thrills.

"Don't coast around a curve. Keep the car in gear—it gives you better control.

MISS NORMA SUMMERS HONORED BY RELATIVES AND SCHOOLMATES

The home of Mrs. Howard Fetterly was the scene of a very enjoyable event on Tuesday evening, when over twenty-five relatives and school chums of Miss Norma Summers gathered to honour her, prior to her marriage to Mr. Randall Wylie, which takes place on Saturday afternoon.

As Miss Summers was ushered to the drawing room, she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers by her cousin, little Mary Countryman, after which Master Reggie Fetterly drew in a wagon, decorated in pink and white, and laden with numerous miscellaneous gifts.

Following the presentation, the bride-to-be thanked those present for the beautiful gifts, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by four cousins, Misses Jean Summers, Iris Summers, Vivian Fetterly and June Countryman.

Before leaving, all registered in a beautiful bride's book, which was retained by the guest of honour as a remembrance of the occasion.

The house was decorated in a pink and white color scheme, with baskets of cut flowers and bouquets of summer blooms being artistically arranged about the rooms.

BEACH WEEK-END REUNION IS HELD AT IROQUOIS

The third "Beach" week-end reunion was held at "Beach Haven" the residence of Mahlon W. Beach, Iroquois, from Saturday to Sunday. Eight sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon F. Beach and their wives were present.

Sunday morning the group attended the Iroquois United church service in a body. They were welcomed by Rev. E. W. S. Coates.

They had previously held Beach picnics, including their families, but have decided to hold annual week-end reunions with only the one generation being present. Sunday noon the entire group motored to Morrisburg for dinner. The family consists of the following, all of whom were present: Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Beach, Cornwall; Mr. Anson W. Beach, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Benson C. Beach, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon W. Beach, Barrie; Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Beach, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. G. Weston Beach, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Beach, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Olin A. Beach, Ottawa. Other guests present were: Mr. Stewart H. Beach, Iroquois; Mrs. Lawrence Beach and daughters, Carol and Sylvia, of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. George Brand of Garden City, Long Island.
