Tourist Value Stressed By EOTA Official

Members of the Seaway Regional Tourist Council were told last week they must make a special effort to encourage tourists to spend more time in the area.

W.A. Elliot, a director of the Eastern Ontario Travel Association, was addressing more than a hundred interested people at Morrisburg and suggested those who depend on tourism for their livelihood should be willing to invest both their time and money toward this end.

The managing director stressed the importance of all personnel at area resorts knowing their area well, and by explaining what it has to offer assure longer stays by visitors.

Mr. Elliot said tourism opportunities today are unlimited with most people planning weekend excursions offering golden opportunities for shop owners, restaurants and motels.

Indicating how tourism has grown over the past twenty years he quoted figures showing that the total global income has reached $18,500,000 spent by some 170 million travellers each year.

He also emphasized the importance of genuine enthusiasm by employees. "Every employe", he said, "should exude - even volunteer - sincere enthusiasm about the region."

Touching on post-convention business from such centres as Ottawa and Montreal he said the EOTA plans to expand its market place by advertising in the Montreal area through the use of bilingual literature and advertising.

"Eastern Ontario and the entire province have been lax", he said, "in attracting French-speaking Quebec tourists to Ontario."

With more than $100,000 earmarked for promotional budget this year, the EOTA plans to promote Eastern Ontario by distributing newsletters, brochures, feature articles and events and advertising campaigns throughout the province and Northern United States.

The speaker told his interested audience that $1,000 was being set aside for each region in Eastern Ontario to promote specific events.

He further explained that the EOTA will support the 30 regional information centres in this part of the province with a grant of $1,500 to each tourist council this summer. In addition the EOTQA plans to work with regional councils such as Seaway Valley Council and Chambers of Commerce.

Looking at the immediate future he said his association will have six travel counsellors on its staff this summer under the youth travel counsellors project with possibly one in each of the EOTA's six regions.

"A student photographer will spend the summer taking pictures of major attractions and events throughout Eastern Ontario", he said, "and a marketing student will spend the summer on research and development to enable the EOTA to plan a better marketing program next year."

170 Years Of Curling

When members of Winchester Curling Club last Saturday night marked the 10th anniversary of their move to the new rink at the park, they also presented honourary memberships to five veteran curlers whose total curling experience totalled 170 years.

Both Chester Robinson and Howard Fetterly have fond memories of the town's first rink which was situated in close proximity to the arena, on a parcel of land now covered by a portion of the expanding Ault Foods Ltd. enterprise.

"Chester" and "Howard" also have vivid memories of the tremendous task facing the organization when it was decided to cut the original building into sections and move it to a new location on York Street. (That structure now houses the municipal garage).

It was during those formative years at the original rink that the men decided there was room for the ladies in the game which was growing steadily in popularity, and Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Fetterly and Mrs. Jake Empey were among the first to 'invade' the once all-men sanctum.

All five thoroughly enjoyed the productive years on York Street and worked diligently on fund-raising projects when it was finally agreed to abandon the old rink and build a spanking new one at the community park.

It was the first time in the long and illustrious history of the club that Honourary Memberships had been awarded, and all agreed the five dedicated members had earned a prominent place in the annals of the roaring game. Pictured left to right are: Mrs. Chester Robinson (Delia); Mr. Robinson; Mrs. Howard Fetterly (Jessie); Mr. Fetterly and Mrs. Jake Empey (Pearl).

$30,000 Hulbert Blaze

Fire, believed to have started when a furnace blew up in a vacant house east of Hulbert last Saturday night, completely destroyed the house and a barn on the opposite side of the road. Both buildings belong to Paul Buma. South Mountain Fire Chief Lyle Sullivan received the call at 11:15 Saturday night.

"We worked through the night", said Chief Sullivan, "but despite the fact there was plenty of water the fierce wind was too much for us and the fire spread over the road to the nearby barn where approximately 25 head of cattle were sheltered."

Chief Sullivan said there was no furniture in the house and the cattle were successfully removed from the barn.

Williamsburg equipment arrived on the scene to offer assistance but the blaze was out of control by the time they arrived.

"Our men fought gallantly", noted the Chief, "and it was 3:00 a.m. Sunday when we realized the barn could not be saved."

Elgin Bowman Chairman, Cancer Objective $3,000

April is 'Cancer Month' and J. Elgin Bowman of Winchester has been named campaign chairman for the Winchester and District branch. Canvassers will again be soliciting funds during the month and the campaign can only be successful if everyone co-operates.

There are approximately 175 volunteer canvassers along with 'captains' for each locality and the objective this year is $3,000.00

All are aware that only through continued research can a cure for cancer be found, and such extensive research costs a lot of money.

Organizers hope that all canvassers will be welcomed when they call and that area residents will once again be generous. Area captains are:

HALLVILLE, Mrs. Lanson Hyndman; INKERMAN, Mrs. Wallace Crowder; MOUNTAIN and VANCAMP, Mrs. Harold Simms; SOUTH MOUNTAIN, Mrs. Arthur Farrell; WINCHESTER SPRINGS, Mrs. Ralph Allison; VERNON, Mrs. Roy Porteous; PLEASANT VALLEY, Mrs. Keith Crowder, Mrs. Alex Baird and Mrs. Carl Sears.

Housing Shortage For Disabled Adults Critical

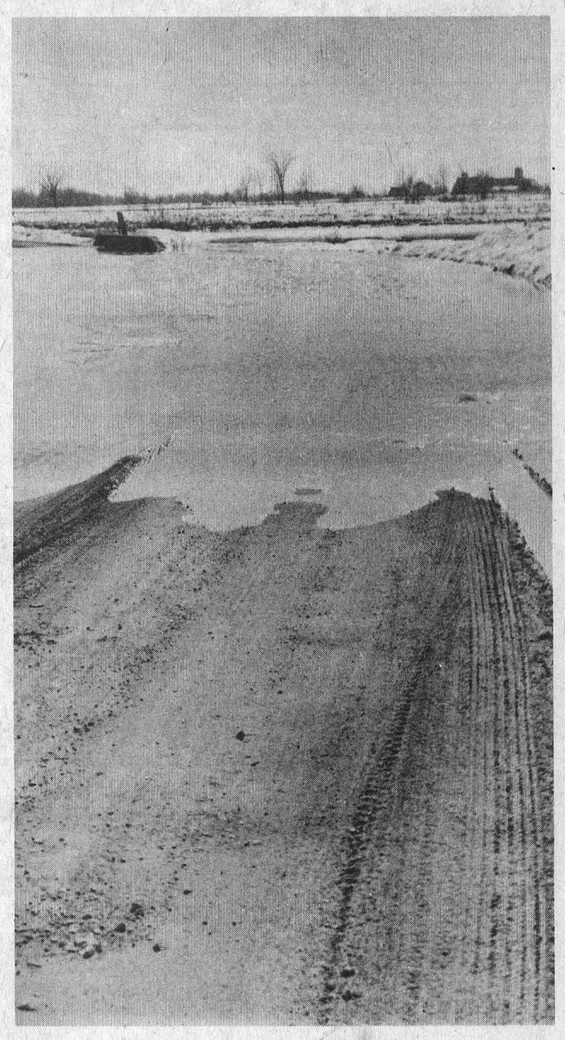
Lack of suitable housing accommodation is relegating thousands of young adults with a physical disability to institutions and nursing homes. As the housing shortage increases and costs sky-rocket, this situation is becoming more and more critical.

To define the specific needs of the handicapped in the area of housing and to create a public awareness of the problems, the Ontario Federation for the Physically Handicapped is holding a Conference on Housing and Related Support Services on Thursday and Friday, May 22nd and 23rd. One hundred and twenty delegates will meet at Vanier College, York University, to draft resolutions for action by the various levels of government.

"It is really discouraging to realize how many handicapped people in their twenties through forties are unable to function independently or who are confined to hospitals and even old age homes simply because they have no other place to go", states Mr. Douglas Seaton, Conference Chairman. "Part of our conference program will be to inform the physically handicapped of existing housing programs and what support services, such as Visiting Homemakers and Meals on Wheels, are available in the various communities".

Prior to the major conference in May, several seminars are being held across the province to help local groups identify their needs, to learn about the municipal and regional responsibilities and to present the existing housing programs, such as those of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Ontario Housing Corporation and the Ministry of Health. Mr. Seaton invites statements from all groups and individuals interested in the problems of providing adequate housing and services to the disabled.

Further information is available from the Ontario Federation for the Physically Handicapped, care of the Ontario March of Dimes, 12 Overlea Blvd., Toronto M4H 1A4, Tel: (416) 425-0501.



Special Features In Next Press

Readers have a special treat in store for next week.

Initial plans included photo-features of both Winchester Hawks' Awards Night, and also the highly successful Fashion Show for this issue, but, unfortunately time proved a ruling factor. As a result both will be prominently covered in next week's issue.

It can be said the two events attracted packed houses and members of the Arena Auxiliary report revenue from the Fashion Show exceeded expectations.

Business firms involved in the Fashion Show at Maple Ridge Public School were also exceptionally well pleased with the interest shown by area residents, and had nothing but kind words for those who so generously offered their time and talent as models.

Urgently Need Nursing Home In County

Residents of Dundas County, fully aware of the urgent need for nursing home facilties, may soon be taking definite action.

A report from Morrisburg indicates negotiations are under way to take an option on a desirable parcel of land in that area.

Rev. W.A. Adam notes that Dundas is the only county between Glengarry and Leeds that does not have accommodations for those who must leave hospital but still need special care.

"Many", notes Mr. Adam, "have no one at home to help and a nursing home is the only answer."

"A nursing home can only become a reality" he concludes, "if the entire area cooperates."

Winchester Township Road Superintendent Lorne Bell Retires

Winchester Township road superintendent Lorne Bell ended 17 years of directing construction and maintenance of township roads last week. Mr. Bell expressed the opinion it was unfortunate that age '65' is considered compulsory retirement age, but suggested he had interesting hobbies "I'll have time to do some of the things I never found time for", he remarked.

A native of the district he farmed in the Cass Bridge area for many years before accepting a position with the Department of Transport at Morrisburg where he was employed for a period of six years before assuming the township superintendent post.

"I've served under four different Reeves", he noted, "Basil Dawley, Albert Smith, Gerald Holmes and Cecil MacNabb."

"Jake Steen was township clerk, when I first took office", he said, "and I feel one of the highlights of my career with the township was the Centennial Year landscaping project at the township office and garage complex."

It was during Mr. Bell's term of office that the new building was erected in 1958 and the additions in 1959.

"It'll be sort of lonesome for a while", he admits as he closes the truck door for the last time.

Harbinger Of Spring

Spring officially arrived last week and the accompanying photo, taken on the very first day of the new season, indicates flooding problems along the Nation.

Despite the mild weather, with below average snow fall, it appears the farming community west of Cass Bridge will again be transformed into a vast sea.

Many who have watched the unpredictable river for years are optimistic, however, and feel the flooding will be less serious than in previous years because ditches are already open and the ice has risen on the river itself.

Late spring storms or heavy rains could change all that, and those who reside in the area are taking no changes. They prepare for the worst and hope for the best.

The accompanying picture, taken immediately west of Cass Bridge shows a section of the road inundated by the river as it overflows its banks.

Joan is the daughter of Mrs. Ileen Hodgson, Winchester, and the late Mr. Reuben Robinson; Roger is the son of Mrs. Bessie Galway of Smiths Falls, Ontario, and the late Mr. Galway.

Mrs. Jessie Fetterly was organist for the occasion. Garth and Lynn Galway seated the wedding guests attending from Smiths Falls, Inkerman, Metcalfe, Brockville, Lansdowne and Winchester and area. The groom was ably assisted by Keith Motto; best man.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Lester Robinson, the bride wore a full length bridal gown fashioned on empire lines from peau de soie with full sheer bishop sleeves ending in deep cuffs edged with daisy lace trim. Matching lace edged the high wedding ring collar of her gown complementing the daisy trim on her circular shoulder length illusion veil. She carried cascading white mums and red roses.

Debbie Hodge, maid of honour, wore a full length gown of buttercup yellow peau d'ange styled with empire waistline, high neckline and short puffed sleeves. A matching yellow ribbon adorned her hair and she carried a single pink carnation. W.C.T.U. Sponsors Speaking Contest

The Women's Christian Temperance Union, Winchester held two interesting meetings in the month of March. On Friday evening, March 14 they held a very successful public speaking contest in the Baptist Church. Mrs. Merkley welcomed all present and conducted a brief worship service. She then turned control of the meeting over to Mrs. Nina Woods, convener of the contest committee. Nancy Scott entertained with two accordion selections.

Contestants were arranged in groups according to their school grades, a medal being awarded to the winner of each group. While the judges were reaching their decisions, the choir of Timothy Christian School, unaccompanied, but conducted by their teacher, delighted the audience with their singing of a number of sacred songs.

Mrs. Wellwood Adam in giving the decisions of the judges, gave the children some useful advice for future contests. She, then, awarded the following medal: Judy Vendenbruck, bronze medal; Kim Steele, silver-plated; David Heuvel, silver-plated; Margaret Jansen, sterling silver.

Mrs. Cecil McIntosh thanked the Church and all who had helped to make this contest such a success. A social hour followed in the Church Hall.

Twenty-two attended the regular monthly meeting of W.C.T.U. in the Sunday School Hall of the Wesleyan Church on Friday afternoon, March 21. Mrs. Merkley opened the meeting with a poem, "Easter Reflections", the hymn, "Jesus Keep Me Near The Cross", and prayer by Mrs. Cooper. Minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were given by Miss Kathleen Kennedy. Mrs. Keyes read a chapter of W.C.T.U. History.

A duet was sung by Mrs. Sheldon Robinson and Mrs. Earl Gallagher. A most interesting feature of the programme was Mrs. George Coons' story of her trip to the Holy Land.

The meeting closed by singing, "The Old Rugged Cross", and prayer by Rev. E. Eaton. A social time followed. Mrs. I.P. McIntosh voiced the appreciation of all, to the committee, for the programme and their hospitality.

Dollars & Good Sense

Water. We all seem to take it for granted. At least until the water bill comes, and we vow to do something to conserve. Well, there really are some steps you can take.

A faucet leaking one drop per second can waste more than 650 gallons of water per year. And in most cases leaky faucets are caused by worn washers which just about anybody can replace. It's very simple. First, shut off the water supply below the sink. Then take the faucet apart piece by piece until you come to the washer. Put in a new one and then put the pieces back together again.

Another big water waster is a running toilet. And this may be a little harder to detect. Try this test. Put some food coloring in the top of the tank, but do not flush. If the water in the bowl turns the same color, there is a leak. The cause is usually a worn rubber tank ball and you can replace it simply by unscrewing the old one and replacing it with a new one.

And while we're on the subject of water, let's not forget your water heater. Remember that it's not necessary to over heat your water. Just set the thermostat to normal. Drain sediment from the heater at periodic intervals. And try to use cold water in your wash when ever possible.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5857, London, Ontario.

"APRIL IS CANCER MONTH"

Cancer Facts For The Female

A SANE LOOK AT CANCER

None of us will go through life without having cancer cross our paths, even if we are lucky enough to avoid a personal collison with it. As with other hazards of life however, a mature and rational attitude will eliminate needless worry and fear.

The most serious problem about cancer is the fear that the very word arouses. Fear and ignorance go hand in hand. Learn about the disease — first of all, that your chances of being a cancer victim are really not great. Then learn how certain forms may be prevented, how detection in time will lead to permanent cure in many cases, and how research is continually improving our knowledge of the disease, its prevention, detection and treatment.

Statistics tell us that four out of five Canadian women will not die of cancer. You can increase your chances of remaining in this fortunate group by knowing the protection available to you. The increasing knowledge about cancer has already had important results for Canadian women. For example, the death rate in Canada for cancer of the uterus has dropped 35 per cent in the past 20 years.

As our population increases and people live longer, the chances of knowing more than one person in a family who has had cancer become greater. There is no evidence, however, that cancer can result from having close contact with someone who has it, nor is there any evidence in humans that cancer is hereditary.

Studies show that cancer in women occurs most frequently in parts of the body easily examined by a doctor. The most common site is the uterus, followed by breast, intestines and skin, in that order. Each of these, if found and treated early, responds well. The key to successful treatment is to detect cancer early, and to do this, there are certain steps every women should take:

—If you are over 35, visit your family doctor regularly for a physical examination.

—Report promptly to your doctor any unusual bleeding, discharge, swelling or discomfort of any kind, or changes in normal body functions.

—Cancer of the cervix can now be detected by a simple and painless test while it is still at a stage where there is no cause for alarm. At least every second year, every women over the age of 25 should avail herself of this protection, known as the "Pap" test. Your doctor merely gathers a few surface cells from the cervix on a swab, then looked at under the microscope, suspicious cells stand out clearly. An early cancer colony can be removed by a minor operation before it has a chance to spread. Even should the cancer cells have started to wander, treatment in these early stages almost always results in a cure.

—Learn how to examine your breasts every month. Your doctor will show you, or you may see the film "Breast Self-Examination" which is shown regularly by your local unit of the Canadian Cancer Society.

—Visit your doctor after childbirth to make sure there are no injuries to the womb which need repair.

TREATMENT OF CANCER

At the present time, the proven ways to cure cancer are: radiation which includes x-ray, radium and radioactive substances, and surgery, or a combination of radiation and surgery. Chemotherapy, or treatment with drugs, offers considerable hope for the future. As yet there is no known drug that will cure all forms of cancer. Even when one is found, it is probable that early diagnosis and treatment will remain as important as they are today.

CANCER PREVENTION

Many cancers can be prevented - one world authority has estimated 80 per cent. Protect yourself and your family by knowing and acting upon the Seven Safeguards against cancer.

For Everybody

1. Have a regular medical check-up.
2. Don't smoke cigarettes
3. Have your dentist check for unusual conditions
4. Arrange with your doctor for a bowel examination.
5. Avoid excessive exposure to sunlight.

For Women

6. Practice regular breast self-examination.
7. Have a regular Pap test.

Mariners Hold March Meditation

Members of Chesterville Harbor, Mariners With Christ and their friends met at Eatonholme in Chesterville Tuesday evening for their monthly meeting, with emphasis on prayer, praise and promotion. The Reverend E. Earle Eaton, captain, was host. First Mate Garnet Johnston chaired the meeting. Mariners' report was given by Mr. Eaton, with George Crawford, Mrs. Duart MacLean and Mrs. Garnet Johnston participating. Mrs. Milton Shay, purser, "logged the voyage".

Musical numbers were rendered by Miss Ellen Johnston, who sang to her own piano accompaniment. Prayers were offered for the sick. Admiral of the Fleet, the Reverend Enos Brubacher of Eganville spoke of the progress of the movement, relating an account of his recent southern trip, in the course of which he placed ten Gospel signs along highways in Kentucky, Tennesee and Florida; and of the seventy-nine signs erected in Ontario last year, nine of them in this area.

Mr. Brubacher was house guest as Eatonholme Monday to Wednesday. An offering was received for the work of the Mariners. Refreshments were served by a hospitality committee comprising Mrs. MacLean, Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Shay.

Ottawa Extends Rent Subsidy To Non-Profit, Co-op Housing

Urban Affairs Minister Barney Danson announced recently that the Federal Government will share the cost of making rental housing available to low-income people in non-profit and co-operative projects at rents adjusted to their income.

These arrangements will be subject to federal-provincial agreements and the Federal Government will pay up to half the operating losses where rents do not cover the costs. The Federal Government already makes similar contributions to the cost of public housing. In 1974 these federal contributions amounted to $68.5 million and involved 112,000 units. The policy now will be extended to low-income tenants in non-profit and co-operative projects. It will apply to existing as well as new housing.

"This policy represents a new and different way of helping those people who are least able to afford suitable housing for themselves and for their families," Mr. Danson said. "The rate of construction of public housing has been declining in recent years for a number of reasons, including some reluctance by municipalities and local residents to accept projects of this kind. We have been testing more flexible ways of providing housing assistance to people who need it, including, on a limited scale, a rent supplement program with the Province of Ontario. By making it possible for low-income people to live in non-profit and co-operative projects, as an alternative to public housing, we will, not only make more units available but I believe we will achieve a more desirable social integration. This new policy, of course, will not eliminate public housing but it will provide an alternative for some families and individuals who may prefer it."

The Federal Government already provides substantial assistance to non-profit organizations such as churches, service clubs or unions who are prepared to build or acquire housing for rental at moderate rates. For such groups, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation can provide 100 per cent financing at 8 per cent interest and an outright grant of ten percent of the capital cost legislation now before Parliament would also provide for cost-saving land-lease arrangements as an alternative to the capital write-down. In addition funds of up to $10,000 a project are available to help these groups get started. ALL OF THESE Federal contributions would be taken into account in calculating the federal share of the rent subsidy.

For tenants who qualify, rents would be calculated according to the scale now applied to public housing, ranging from 16.7 per cent of income to a maximum of 25 per cent.

Federal-provincial agreements would set out the principles to be applied, the level of funding, and operating arrangements. In order to achieve a good mix of income levels, the proportion of units to be subsidized in any one project generally would not exceed 25 per cent but exceptions could be made in some cases, especially where it might cause hardship or inequities in existing projects. CMHC estimates that federal contributions made under this policy in 1975, the first year of operation, would amount to about $3.6 million.

IN MEMORIAMS

HENDERSON—In loving memory of a dear husband, father, and grandfather, William Henderson, who passed away April 2nd, 1964.

Memories are the lamps that light the darkest road, to the beautiful hope of reunion when we meet at the end of the road.

—Wife, daughter, and grandson, granddaughter, and great grandsons. 48p

LITTLE—In loving memory of a loving father, father-in-law and grandfather John Little who passed away March 29, 1974.

Your gentle face and patient
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
The voice is mute and still the heart
That loved us well and true
And bitter was the trail to part
From one as good as you.
You are not a forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory
lasts
We will remember thee.

—Ever remembered by Hiram, Bea, Douglas and Audrey Ann. 48c

CINNAMON—In loving memory of a dear son and brother Gordon K. Cinnamon who passed away April 2, 1966.

He had a nature you could not help loving
And a heart that was purer than gold
And to us who loved him and lost him
His memory will never grow old.

—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Dad, and Mother, sisters and brothers. 48c

Thank You

Our sincere congratulations to Miss Ann Marie Smith of Morrisburg, our 1975 "Queen of Queens", and an equally sincere 'Thank You' to all the lovely Carnival Queens who helped make our annual pageant so successful.

The new format was received favourably by the large crowd present and we are deeply indebted to Radio Station CFRA's Bill Drake who so capably directed the program; to impressionist Fred Little for his stellar performance; to Mrs. Don McIntosh and her very talented choir; and to the judges for their excellent adjudication.

A very special word of thanks to the following business firms for their generous donations: Jo-Anne Shoppe, Winchester; Metcalfe Fuels; E.R. Fisher Ltd. A Very Special Thank You

Somehow the word "Thank You" seems to fall so short of what we feel towards the people of this wonderful community in regards to the "Benefit Night" held in our honour.

We realize that many people gave freely of their time towards this highly successful evening. Special thanks to all those who sold tickets, to the Hawks Hockey Club, the Town Hockey League and to the referees who gave so willingly of their time and effort. But we must mention two of the greatest friends and promotors, Joel Steele and Frank Morgan, whose personal talent and drive made the Benefit Night a reality and a success.

It certainly brings a lump to one's throat when thinking of how the wonderful people of this community responded to help us. The pride and sense of belonging that we feel towards this community is just indescribable.

Once again thank you everyone.

Yours most sincerely,

Allen, Sharon & Chris VanBridger

Country Boy Bantams Host Exciting Tournament

This past Friday, March 21st, the local arena was the scene of an action-filled bantam hockey tournament. With action starting at 8:00 a.m., boys and coaches were on the road from 7:00 a.m.

The home team got off to a good start, defeating Morrisburg 3 to 1, in the opening game, but was eliminated in the semi-finals by Avonmore. In the consolation round it was Kemptville versus Maxville, with Maxville overwhelming Kemptville 9 to 1. Spencerville advanced to the final against Avonmore with an overtime 2 to 1 victory over Cornwall Township. The path to victory was easy going for Spencerville after that as they whipped Avonmore 10 to 1.

It was an exciting day of hockey, and our thanks to everyone who helped to make it a success.

BACK TO PLAYDOWNS

The Country Boy spirit was not defeated after their elimination from the tournament the day before. They bounced back on Saturday to defeat the highly ranked Iroquois team 3 to 2 in O.D.M.H.A. playdowns. It was perhaps one of the most exciting games of the 1974-75 season. The bantams now advance to the finals against Athens on Wednesday, March 26th at 8:00 p.m. We hope to see you there. We also hope that you will come out to see the Fathers play their sons on the last Wednesday night of the season, April 2nd.

Winchester Ousts Cardinal

Overtime Goal Gives Pee Wees Championship

Winchester Pee Wees hosted Cardinal at the local arena on Wednesday evening March 19th in round three of a one game O.D.M.H.A. knock-out series and the game ended in a 2-2 tie. The rules were made prior to the series that in the event of a tie the team scoring the first goal of the game would be declared the winners.

Kenny Rose fired what turned out to be the winning goal when he picked up a pass from Billy Kerr for the game's first marker. Cardinal tied the game in the second period, however Daryl Shelp scored unassisted in the third period only to have Cardinal again tie the game. The local boys put forth a solid defensive effort during the latter part of the game realizing that a tie would earn them the zone championship. Robbie Carkner went the route between the pipes and turned in an outstanding performance.

The boys next O.D.M.H.A. playdown game will be played in Embrun at 12:15 p.m., Saturday, April 5th when they meet the winners of zone two in another sudden death series. Their opponents have not as yet been determined.

Last Sunday afternoon the boys travelled to Osgoode for the first game in a best of five series for the Carleton-Dundas league Championship and turned in an outstanding performance defeating the league winners by a 4-2 score. This was the first time the boys won on Osgoode ice all season and only defeated them once at home. There was no scoring in the first period, however Osgoode scored early in the second but this did not discourage the boys and at the end of the second period Winchester was leading 2-1 with Daryl Shelp scoring both goals, one of them unassisted and Kenny Rose earning one assist.

Winchester picked up a penalty early in the third period but again this did not deter a fired up Winchester crew as they refused to let Osgoode get out of their own end and Robbie Saunders came up with a fine checking effort and fed a pass to Darcy Last who made no mistake in tripping the red light. Dwayne Fawcett rounded off Winchester's scoring when he blasted a sizzler from the point that the goalie couldn't even see. Kevin Lunn was in the nets for Winchester and his performance was brilliant to say the least.

The series continued at the local arena last night at 6:00 p.m., back to Osgoode next Sunday afternoon, and if necessary in Winchester Wednesday April 2nd at 6:00 p.m. The boys are playing terrific hockey, having extended their undefeated record to eight games. Why not come out and enjoy a fine game of hockey and cheer the boys onto victory.

Broomball Champs

Williamsburg, led to a third-place finish in regular league play by scoring champion Tom Whelan, went on to win it all in playoffs. They first downed Beavers 4 to 0 and 1 to 0 to qualify for the final series and in the finals defeated Red Barons 2 to 1; Mutual 5 to 0 and then Red Barons again this time 3 to 2.

The Mutual squad failed to show up for the final game since Williamsburg already had the championship sewed up. Mutual also failed to yield the trophy they captured last year.

Members of the winning team are: Roy Barkley (coach); Ron Whitteker, Russell Garlough; Doug Casselman; Gord McMillan; Roger Morrell; Tom Whelan; Ron Casselman, Dennis Casselman; Wade Roles; Duane (Sam) Locke. Brent McIntosh; Paul Beckstead; Lynn Whitteker; Brian Dawley and Bill Duval.

Bicycle Bugs —

A Test For The Whole Family

You can learn a lot from observing other people. And it can be a lot of fun. Here's a test for bicycle drivers from the Ontario Safety League!

Take a few minutes to watch other people's cycling habits. You'll be amazed at some of the manoeuvers they get away with on our streets. You can even give them names. Here's a few to get you going . . . you might even try coming up with some of your own.

1. THE SWERVER BUG. There's bound to be one to two. The "Swerver" wheels in and out of traffic as though he is on a timed obstacle course. He gives no thought to the poor, frazzled motorist who is forced to slam on his brakes, risk collision and is left to face, shakily, the rest of the day's hustle-bustle.
2. THE TRICKY-TURNER BUG. We've all seen this one. One minute he's riding harmlessly next to you. Then, without any warning signal or even a backward glance, he cuts a fast turn right in front of your path. It's guaranteed to give the car driver palpitations.
3. THE MIDDLE-OF-THE-ROAD BUG. He thinks he's driving a car and hogs the whole lane. He never notices the traffic jam behind him.
4. THE DOUBLE HEADED BUG. This is an easy one to spot - two bodies weaving along on a bicycle built for one.
5. THE WRONG WAY BUG. These are usually very young cyclists who haven't yet mastered right from left (bet they can't even button their own coats correctly). They habitually ride on the left-hand side of the road, irritating and confusing both motorists and other cyclists coming towards them.
6. THE BIKING BEVY BUGS. This herd is most frequently spotted on residential streets, three or four cyclists riding side by side. The more experienced bevy bikers will be wearing ear muffs to lessen the din from honking motorists bringing up the rear.

Now comes the test. How many strange cyclists did you spot? How many strange cycling habits on your list describe you as a bicycle driver? Get the entire family involved. Top score wins the title: MOST DISCOURTEOUS, DANGEROUS AND ILLEGAL BICYCLE DRIVER.

Get the picture? The habits we've described are illegal in Ontario and dangerous everywhere. If you know the laws, obey them. If you don't, take a rest from the road and study up!

And if you ever spot THE RIBBON RIDER BUG, look fast. He's a rare and vanishing breed. He's occasionally seen riding up the painted line in the middle of the road. Why? He probably thinks it's a bike path!

Biking is great! Obeying the laws and using safe, common-sense practises will only ensure greater enjoyment. And you'll live longer!

Education And Wisdom

The highly educated person is not necessarily a wise person. The unusually clever person does not always show wisdom in his cleverness. You can have a high I.Q. and still not be wise. Wisdom, real wisdom, can come to persons of quite ordinary intelligence. Wisdom is not so much a matter of intelligence as of what is done with intelligence.

Teachableness is as significant as intelligence in the attaining of wisdom. And that is not simply a capacity to take formal instruction and pass examinations - - although such things can be significant.

A.N. Whitehead, one of the most influential philosophers of our time, said this: "A merely well-informed man is the most useless bore on God's earth." He added, "Now wisdom is the way in which knowledge is held. It concerns the handling of knowledge, its selection for the determination of relevant issues, its employment to add value to our immediate experience."

In any education that is to count there is an inescapable element of sheer dogged grinding. If you wish to advance from milk to meat you must be prepared to chew gristle. And you mustn't expect to be spoon-fed: as the novelist, E.M. Forster, put it, "Spoon-feeding in the long run teaches us nothing but the shape of the spoon."

What we do with our educational opportunities has much to do with the degree of wisdom to which we attain. Stephen Leacock once said, "An education, when it is all written out on foolscap, covers nearly ten sheets." Leacock made an important point there: much of the real value of your education is to be found in what remains after you have forgotten much of what you deliberately set out to learn. And in that can be an essential source of wisdom.

The Ides . . .

By Bill Smiley

This is the time of year that everybody wishes somebody would do something about, but nobody does. The Ides of March.

Some people think the Ides are little creatures like leprechauns who bore holes in your rubbers and whisper into tots' ears that that 18-inch puddle won't go over the tops of their six-inch rubber boots.

Others, like my wife, think they are malevolent beings who enjoy scaring the liver out of you. The other night, there was a great rumble, a crash, and all the lights went out. I thought it was maybe the second coming. She leaped a foot. "It's the Ides of March," she screamed.

As a matter of fact, it was the ice off the roof, which tore away the main cable into the house. But it could just as well have been the Ides.

Around the first of March, we decided we'd start cross-country skiing. Bought two sets of skis, boots, the works. It rained for the next week. That was the Ides.

It's been going on for at least 2,000 years. Its first victim of any import was Julius Caesar.

Now, Big Julie was no slouch as an emperor. He had, in his day, a bigger empire than Queen Victoria had, although he wasn't as fat.

He had a penchant for over-running and over-hearing. He over-ran the Spaniards, the French, the Germans, the British and the Belgians, not to mention the Slobs, in the east.

And he over-heard. It was his custom to prowl among the campfires at night, and listen to his disgruntled veterans. He didn't bother much with the gruntled veterans.

He did it, of course, incognito. He wore a kilt, extra-long, to cover his pot and his knees. On his head, to mask his baldness, he wore a German helmet, captured in the epic battle of Scheissinkellar. His chest was disguised by a chest-disguiser, captured from an Amazon chieftainess who had joined Women's Lib and decided to go braless.

(It is tempting for the dedicated historian to digress here, but I will make only two concise points. One, the kilt was stripped from a Scot who had strayed south to found the Bank of England, had been conscripted into the army of the Ancient Britons and had died gallantly, shouting "Usquebaugh and Andrew Carnegie!" The helmet had been torn from a dead squarehead and was rather uncomfortable until Julius discovered that the cow's horn on the front unscrewed, was hollow, and contained 13 ounces of schnapps. From that time on, he found it comfortable. Of the Amazon breastworks, I will say nothing. There's enough sex and violence in history, without dwelling on it. Besides it is, or was, pointless.)

At any rate, strolling anonymously ("Oh! Oh!, here comes Himself!") he over-heard the rumblings of discontent among his troops. It was rather difficult to distinguish them from the other rumblings associated with the rude and licentious soldiery, but he had a Trained Ear as well as a Roman Nose.

He and his legions had just put down the seventh uprising by some Belgian tribe.

One grizzled veteran was heard to say: "Belgians, Belgians! I'm sick of looting Belgian towns. All they got is gloves and tapestries. My old Trouble'n Strife back 'ome 'as 32 pairs of kid gloves an' enough tapestries to make a shawl for the Sphinx."

Another veteran, equally grizzled, agreed. "Me too. And them Belgian broads; I swear they got fetlocks. In another 1,500 years, they'll be callin' 'em Percherons."

A third veteran legionary, even more grizzled than the other two, concurred. "Right. An howbout that there Belgian beer. So watery ya gotta drink it in the latrine or yer caught short. I'd give my eye tooth to get a whack at some Limeys or Frogs or Krauts fer a change. Wooden even mine goin' backta Iddaly and wipin' up somma them Wops we're workin' doe."

(It might be noted, in the interests of historical accuracy, that the third legionaire, like so many of them, was not an ancient Roman. He was an Old Pole, who had been conscripted after he had been shot out from under his horse during an attack on Wvabldnschvtz.)

Anyway, overhearing his grizzled, grizzling veterans, Caesar decided to act. He made a speech to his legions that had them in tears. This was after a double rum ration. Then he put down the Belgians for the eighth time, and to make his intentions clear, cut off the right hand of each male Belgian. This was the origin of the phrase "putting me down" and also the reason you see so many left handed Belgians.

Perhaps we've strayed a bit. Very well, back to the Ides of March. One day, early in March, back in '16 (or was it '17) B.C., Julius was on his way to the Coliseum to make sure everything was in order for the Games. He had already checked with Zeus and Mayor Drapeau, but you never know, do you?

He was in his chariot, with his wife, California. She was attended by her maid, Florida, and on the running board were three old friends of Caesar: Cassius, Nausious and Brutus.

Suddenly, a stentorian voice rang out, as stentorian voices do. Some ring out like a great, bronze bell. Others just ring out a sort of ding-a-ling.

This was a bearded, ding-a-ling type stentor. "Beware the Ides of March! he trilled.

Unfortunately, Caesar was deaf in one ear. He thought the sooth-sayer (that's what they called the ding-a-ling in those days), was a soap salesman with a new jingle, something about washing with Tide and starch. Naturally, he waved him away, muttering something about California using nothing but arctic power.

Some days later, right to the day, the Ides of March arrived. Well, you know the rest. Big Julie was assassinated.

His friend Cassius crowned him with a cassock, his pal Nausious breathed garlic in his face, and his beloved Brutus stabbed him in the rotunda.

You might say that Caesar came out of that one a heavy loser. He went in at 154 pounds and came out with 16 daggers in him.

So all I can suggest is that you keep an eye out for those Ides.

March Of Dimes

March 12, 1975

Dear Sir:

We really appreciated the opportunity of telling our story in your newspaper during March of Dimes month.

The response from all members of the media has been very encouraging, and in those areas where we conducted a fund-raising campaign, the results to date already indicate a substantial increase over past years.

Thanks again for your generous support, for it is only through an informed public and the co-operation of the media that we will make any progress in change for the disabled.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir:

'Heart Month' in Canada is now over, and on behalf of the Canadian Heart Fund, Ontario Division, please accept our sincerest appreciation for your co-operation and assistance during our financial campaign in February.

Our objective this year was $3,600,000 and although all returns are not in, due to the disruption in our postal service, we are quite hopeful that our objective will be attained.

Without your willing co-operation in communicating our needs to the public, the Canadian Heart Fund would not be able to express such an outlook.

Heart disease is everyone's problem - and again our thanks for helping us bring to the attention of the public, that - research should be everyone's responsibility.

With best wishes.

Yours very truly,
Canadian Heart Fund,
(Ontario Division),

CARE Campaign

March 17th, 1975.

Dear Editor:

An estimated 400 million men, women and children face starvation in Asia, Africa and Latin America. World-wide crop failures and inflation have been severe and for teeming multitudes in 33 countries the search for "something to eat" is a search for life itself.

I appeal to your readers to save the lives of some of these people by a simple, meaningul act: Skip one meal a week, or serve smaller portions or less expensive foods, and send money saved to CARE's emergency "EMPTY PLATE" campaign. "Empty plates" here will fill the empty plates of many starving families overseas. Such contributions will enable our experienced staffs to feed many more than they are already feeding in some of the hardest hit areas. We will also be able to send more seeds, tools and fertilizer so hungry people can grow the food they desperately need.

I hope many of your readers will be moved to make this crucial weekly act of self-denial and compassion.

I hope, too, that service clubs and other local organizations will distribute "I CARE EMPTY PLATE" pledge-and-contribution envelopes in your area. These may be obtained and donations may be mailed to CARE WORLD HUNGER FUND, Dept 4, 63 Sparks Street Ottawa Ontario K1P 5A6.

Thousands overseas are dying of starvation every day, time is of the essence.

Sincerely,

Thomas Kines

Easter Day

By Dr. Gordon C. Smyth

At this time of year, nature takes a new lease on life, starts dressing in fresh clothing, proclaiming to the world that a new life is reborn. Of all the festivals observed by men, Easter is the most beautiful, the most joyous, with nature joining in the celebration. It is interesting to correlate the events of the Resurrection with the flowers of Eastertide.

For instance, lilies are a symbol of purity and light. An ancient Judean legend tells us that, wherever the risen Savior walked, white lilies sprang up in his footprints. We often see them portrayed in graceful sprays before a church window or encircling the figure of the risen Lord. They are also used in profusion on greeting cards, retelling the Easter story.

It is no accident that lilies, fragile and fragrant, have become the flowers of Easter. Their beauty bespeaks the rebirth of springtime after the rigors of winter. All that season, they were rough and unsightly bulbs hidden in the earth. But now they have burst into delightful bloom.

Jesus came to this earth that we might have life, and that we might share with others the more abundant life of peace, joy and satisfaction. The bulb or seed fulfils its highest purpose by dying. Thus our days on earth become but a prelude to the future, glorious existence awaiting the redeemed in a realm of eternal springtime.

Easter, by the derivation of its name, is connected with the East, the sun-rising, day-dawning point. Easter (so the ancient formula runs) is always the first Sunday after the full moon, which happens on or next after the twenty-first day of March (the vernal equinox).

If the full moon happens on a Sunday, Easter Day is the Sunday thereafter. It cannot fall earlier than March 22nd, nor later than April 25th. We are told that it is wrong to speak of "Easter Sunday" The term is superfluous. Easter is always on a Sunday. It is proper, however, to speak of "Easter Day".

Easter commemorates the dawning of a new era. A life-blessing "sun" shed its rays from the garden tomb on Easter morning. No wonder the same first day of each week was called "Sunday"!

It is rooted in an unbroken tradition of experinece. It is intended to be a happy, holy day. It is intended to be weekly evidence of the most beneficient and revolutionary event this earth has ever witnessed since upon it light was first seen to shine.

The Seventh Column

Morrisburg's lovely Ann Marie Smith is the area's new Queen of Queens. Ann Marie was crowned last Friday night at Metcalfe when judges made their selection after interviewing eleven extremely pretty young ladies. Judges always claim their assignment is a very difficult one, but if this is so, then why do male members of the judging team smile continuously. We hadn't seen Roy Hastings so happy since that "one" time he struck out a Metcalfe batter at Hallville in 1929. And he wouldn't have struck us out then if it hadn't been for the sun - - - reflecting off the centre fielder's glasses.

Organizers planning spring and summer activities would be well advised to consider headlining impressionist Fred Little. Although yielding top billing to the Carnival Queens last Friday night, his fun-filled one-hour show proved a delightful change from the "crime-sex-violence" sequence offered almost continuously by those who program television entertainment. And CFRA's 'morning man' Bill Drake's congenial personality rates him tops in our book as a Master of Ceremonies. Bill may, however, be experiencing some problems with his vision. The bearded gentleman agreed to bring along Miss Ottawa Rough Rider, and apparently didn't notice his mistake till he and his guest entered the brightly-lit auditorium. Now mind you Dave Watt is 'cute' and all that - - - but we still prefer Miss Ottawa Rough Rider.

Find it difficult to understand why so many service club members are reluctant to accept offices when the time comes to elect a new slate. Note in the most recent 'Bulletin' published by Winchester Lions Club that even the local club is experiencing difficulty. The club, with 43 active members, appears to be hard pressed to fill the eleven top administrative positions. Seems every member has some 'legitimate' excuse and a disgusted Bulletin Editor named the nomination meeting 'Squirm Night'. "Too many chiefs and not enough Indians" has become a grossly over-worked cliche, but it seems to have reversed itself at the service club level. We're fully aware other clubs have a similar problem and suggest it's a form of decay that can have eroding effects on any organization. Why, we wonder, do people join such groups when they're not willing to shoulder their share of the administrative duties? Could 'house-cleaning' be the answer?

With so many sweating over income-tax forms these days we're reminded of the newly-married advertising copywriter who listed the proper exemption for his wife, and in the space marked "exemptions for children" he printed in bold letters -- "WATCH THIS SPACE". [Or was that a young man employed at Ault Foods Ltd.]

How about another fascinating fact - - or maybe two. Did you know, for example, that General Motors made 4,123,202 cars in 1974? You didn't! Then obviously you wouldn't know that if those cars were lined up bumper to bumper they'd stretch 13,707 miles - - further than the distance between the North and South poles. While on the subject of cars its also interesting to note that (according to the B.F. Goodrich firm), the rubber required for the 50 million tires manufactured by that firm in 1974 would make a tire-width "rubber band" 67,866 miles long - - long enough to circle the earth three times. And wouldn't that make some sling-shot fellas!

And here's something of interest for those not yet convinced of the value of advertising, [In The Winchester Press of course]. Consider this: A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping under an advertised blanket on an advertised mattress, pulls off advertised pyjamas; takes a bath in an advertised tub; powders his face with advertised powder, dons advertised underwear, hose, shirt, collar, shoes, and suit; sits down to a breakfast of advertised cereal, drinks a cup of advertised coffee, puts on an advertised hat, lights an advertised cigar, rides to his office in an advertised car; and then refuses to advertise on the grounds that advertising doesn't pay.

Congratulations are in order this week for Winchester hockey coach Dennis Ouellette who guided his boys to the league championship in the Midget division. District Junior 'B' clubs might take note that these young, well-trained, athletes will be wearing 'Hawk' sweaters in the near future. The 'hand-writing is on the wall' - for those who can read.

Editors of weekly newspapers strive continuously to bring happiness and good-will into the homes of all readers. Usually they succeed - - but not always. Consider the following letter received by one editor: "My wife was about to divorce me until she read a touching article in your paper about the evils of a broken home. Now she says she is going to stick to me through thick and thin . . . . . Please cancel my subscription."

Don't think she lives around here, but we read somewhere of a girl being crowned 'Miss Phonograph Record'. Seems her measurements were: 33 and one-third - 45 - 78.

Seals Aid Crippled Children

Most families have now received their supply of Easter Seals and the accompanying letter soliciting funds to help crippled children.

Service clubs in the area shoulder the responsibility of conducting this annual campaign and at the same time offer help to all crippled children.

The work of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children is well known and one of its ablest supporters is former wrestling great, "Whipper" Billy Watson.

Following is a report of one of the research programs funded by Easter Seal donations.

A new method of treatment of scoliosis, more commonly referred to as curvature of the spine, has been developed at The Hospital for Sick Children by Dr. W.P. Bobechko, an othopaedic surgeon, and Dr. M.A. Herbert, a biophysicist.

The technique utilizes a small radio receiver about the size of a silver dollar, implanted in the back of the patient. At night, when the patient goes to sleep, a flat plastic disc containing the antenna is placed on the child's back, and connected to a transmitter the size of a cigarette package. The battery-operated transmitter is switched on and stimulates the muscles which control the direction of the spine. The stimulation causes the muscles to work in the opposite direction from which the scoliosis is pulling and to keep the spine straight.

Scoliosis affects up to 10 per cent of the total population to some degree and it shows a strong hereditary tendency. The more serious curves occur more commonly among girls than boys and manifest themselves as the child is growing and begins to interfere with the functions of the heart and lungs as the curve increases in severity.

The study and preliminary work, primarily financed by the Ontario Society for Crippled Children with funds raised in Easter Seal Campaigns, was carried out at The Hospital for Sick Children and the Department of Surgery at the University of Toronto. The Society has 400 children with scoliosis in its active files.

Until the development of this system of treatment there were two major ways of treating scoliosis:

1. If detected early, the patient was put in a Milwaukee brace, a cumbersome apparatus stretching from the neck to below the pelvis which had to be worn 22 hours a day.
2. In more advanced curves, a spinal fusion operation is performed, making the spine straight, but with a loss of mobility.

On the average, four operations each week are carried out at The Hospital for Sick Children to straighten spines.

The new treatment concept was devised by Dr. Bobechko who noticed severe scoliosis developing among groups of children that had muscle imbalance, such as those with cerebral palsy. He reasoned that if the muscle imbalance could be reversed the muscles would work to keep the spine straight.

The experiment was first tried out on small animals where scoliosis was produced by electrically stimulating the spinal muscles. Several types of stimulators were tried before the final development of the present model. The units, which the thirteen children are now using, were developed in a co-operative effort with the Toronto team and Medtronic, Inc., a Minneapolis based biomedical engineering firm. These devices are not yet generally available.

The major advantage of this new treatment is that after the implant the patient can lead a normal life, and take part in all school and social activities. The patient is unaware of the treatment while sleeping and connected to the transmitter.

Both Dr. Bobechko and Dr. Herbert stress that the device is of benefit only to children whose spinal growth is not yet complete. When the child stops growing the implant will be removed.

The Hospital for Sick Children is the only place in the world where scoliosis patients are treated by this new technique. This method of treatment is soon to be adopted by centres in Miami and New York City.

It has been a year since the first implant was placed in a patient and to date there are 13 children being treated by this method. The results of this method of treatment have been very encouraging. Further evaluation of this project is planned.

Pensioners Get Increase

Some 700,000 old age pensioners in Ontario are going to get increases in Old Age Security Pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement payments beginning this April, Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde announced today.

The increases represent the sixth quarterly escalation based on the cost of living, as provided for in the OAS Act.

The new monthly total at the single rate for persons receiving both the basic Old Age Security pension and maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement will be $209.99.

For a married couple who are both pensioners, the combination of the basic pension and maximum supplement will provide a total payment of $400.60 monthly.

The basic Old Age Security pension will rise in April to $123.42 from the present $120.06.

The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person, or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner, will go up in April to $86.57 from its current $84.21. The maximum supplement for a married couple, both pensioners, will increase to $76.88 each from the present $74.79. Added to the basic pension, this will give each married pensioner $200.30 monthly, or a total of $400.60 for the couple.

Golden Years Society Holds St. Pat's Party

Ninety-one members of Winchester Golden Years Society met on Wednesday to enjoy a St. Patrick's Day theme.

Mrs. H. McIntosh conducted the meeting due to the absence of the President. The meeting opened by the singing of O Canada followed by the Lord's Prayer. She then read a humorous poem 'What is a Grandma' as seen thru the eyes of a three-year old. Mrs. Crummy read the minutes of the February meeting. She also gave a report on the donations received toward the purchase of the T.V. Before the meeting closed enough money had been raised to purchase the T.V. to be used by shut-ins.

The Society was given a report of the committee that had met with a committee from the Lions Club regarding renovations required for the Lannin Building.

Mrs. Crummy read a poem "Grandma" which was followed by an interesting talk by Leroy Strader on his journey through Ireland in 1916.

Lunch was served by the ladies in charge. After lunch Rev. Maxted asked for a volunteer choir from the Senior Citizens for the service to be held in the Presbyterian Church Thursday, March 27 at 8:00 p.m.

A very interesting programme followed. A choir conducted by Miss Jean Beach rendered several Irish songs and Mrs. Iris Brown gave a history of St. Patrick's Birthday. Mrs. Vincent Steele rendered a guitar solo - 'We are the Senior Citizens'.

The meeting closed with two solos by Rev. Mair, "I Cannot Tell" and "My Heavenly Father Watches Over Me".

Greely Group Plans Dance

FREE BOOK

I'd like to do everything I can to conserve energy—and save myself as much as $100 a year in the bargain. Please send me a free copy of 100 ways to save energy and money in the home.

WE'RE ALL AWARE of the energy situation, and it's easy to say, "Well there's nothing I can do about it."

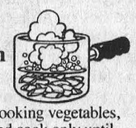
Wrong. There's plenty that each one of us can do in our homes and apartments to help Canada—and save as much as $100 a year. When we save energy, we also save money.

This new book is full of ideas you can apply to heating, cooking, air conditioning, lighting, water heating. And it's written simply, with diagrams and full instructions on how to fix tap washers, dirty furnace filters, gaps around windows and so on.

Almost everything that has been written on home conservation is packed into this book. And it's yours free.

Here are a few of the ideas:

Don't drown the beans



WHEN you're cooking vegetables, use little water and cook only until they're tender. You'll save vitamins and flavour. Well-designed cookware, used on the proper settings, will also conserve energy. Try cooking the entire meal in the oven, or on one or two burners.

If you're lucky enough to have a dishwasher, don't use it until you have a full load. Do the same with your clothes dryer—and be sure to clean the lint filter after each load.

Saving energy is often a game of pennies, but they all add up—and so do the savings for Canada.

Do you really need a crushed-ice dispenser?

A FROST-FREE refrigerator uses 50% more energy than a standard model. A crushed-ice dispenser is a big energy drain. And a self-cleaning oven uses 20% more energy than a standard model. Ask yourself how many of these extras you really need.

When you go shopping for a new appliance—refrigerator, dishwasher, range, dryer, washing machine—look beyond the price tag. What's the energy cost of running it? Often the better-built, more expensive model is also more energy-efficient. A better buy in the long-run.

Five ways to save on home heating

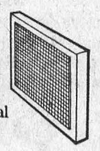
HEATING is the biggest item in a family's home energy budget. Here are a few simple ways to save:

Lower the thermostat.

Each degree over 68 adds about 2½% to your heating bill. By dropping the setting from 72 to 70 you can save 5%. Dropping it from 72 to 68 will save 10%—about $30 a year.

It helps to lower the temperature further at night, and when you're going to be away from home for a few days.

Check your furnace filter.



A dusty, clogged filter forces the system to work harder, and wastes energy. Inspect it every 30 days. (The book shows you how.) An annual or semi-annual furnace cleaning can save you another 10%.

How's your insulation?

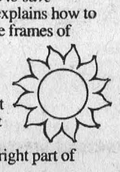
Many Canadian homes have inadequate insulation. Ceilings should have 6" or more of mineral wool or glass fibre insulation. Wall cavities should be completely filled. Basement walls should also be protected to 2 feet below grade level. To avoid fire hazards, don't use foamed plastic insulation in exposed applications.

Use storms and weather-stripping.

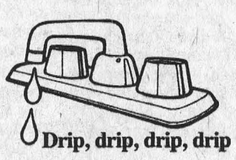
Storm windows and doors will reduce heat loss in winter by up to 15%.

Weather-stripping is a must. A tiny gap of ¼" along the bottom of a door is the same as having a 9 square-inch hole in your living-room wall. 100 ways to save energy and money in the home explains how to weather-strip joints and caulk the frames of windows and doors.

Let the sunshine in.



Energy from the sun is free, so it makes sense to use as much of it as we can. In the winter, open curtains and drapes during the bright part of the day and close them at night, for their insulating value. In summer, do the opposite.



Drip, drip, drip, drip

ONE DRIP per second from a leaky hot water faucet or shower-head sends about 175 gallons a month down the drain. That's money down the drain. You can probably fix it yourself with a new washer and a few minutes work.

Be sure the size of your water heater matches your needs. Don't set it for more than 140 degrees, and turn if off when you go on vacation.

Have you tried a cold-water wash for clothes? It usually works just as well. Remember, too, that your average shower bath uses only 5 gallons of hot water, while a tub bath takes almost 10 gallons.

Could you use an extra $100 a year?

These are just a few of the many, many ways to save energy and money in the home.

It's well worth doing. By making modest energy savings now, we can improve our environment and way of life far into the future.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Michael is shy and diffident with strangers. But basically this eight-year-old is a happy child and quite friendly and relaxed with people he knows. He's not very talkative, especially about his feelings, but he will chat cheerfully about small things.

Michael is Anglo-Saxon in descent, a rather elfin-looking lad with lovely curly reddish hair, green eyes and fair skin well adorned with freckles. He is in good health except for allergies controlled by medication.

Active Michael likes to play outdoors and loves camping. With the encouragement of his foster family he has recently taken up Yoga which he is enjoying.

Michael, a slow learner, is enrolled in a junior special class. He likes school and Sunday School and at home he loves to listen to stories. Michael should have a family who will enjoy helping a lovable youngster learn about living and relations with people and who will not expect academic achievement.

To inquire about adopting Michael, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your local Children's Aid Society.

MPP Introduces Bill To Create Medical Data Bank

Bernard Newman (Liberal MPP for Windsor-Walkerville) today introduced a Private Member's Bill to establish a Medical Data Bank, in which would be stored, in computerized form, the medical histories of persons in Ontario who wish to participate in such a data bank.

"These records would be of vital assistance in the case of accident or sudden illness, when the patient's personal physician is unavailable for consultation. Also details of medical histories would be immediately available to physicians and hospitals when a patient moves to another city or changes doctors," said Mr. Newman.

"This is particularly important in cases of serious allergies, or when a patient is taking prescribed drugs, with the possibility of serious reaction. Some physical condition may exist which could be adversely, even dangerously affected by drugs administered without knowledge of the patient's history. Even the mildest of medication can be contra-indicated for people with cardio-vascular, diabetic or kidney ailments.

"The proposed data bank would be operated and maintained by the Provincial Ministry of Health, and every public hospital would have an outlet for the medical histories of persons using the hospital. Written consent of the person concerned would be required before the record is stored in the bank, and the medical history could not be removed without the written consent of his or her legally qualified medical practitioner."

Mr. Newman proposed that Social Insurance Numbers would be used for identification when using the medical data bank, and anyone knowingly furnishing false information or contravening the provisions of the regulations concerning the medical data bank would be liable to summary conviction, with the penalty of fine or imprisonment.

Bill 81 - Tax Milestone

Tax grants totalling $23,490.00 have been disbursed by The St. Lawrence Parks Commission to 15 Townships under the provisions of The Provincial Parks Municipal Tax Assistance Act 1974.

Bill 81 enacted by the Ontario Legislature, provides for Tax Assistance Payments to Municipalities in which are located 1 or more Provincial Parks. The amount of the grant is $5.00 per acre for each of the first 100 acres of each such Park and $2.00 per acre for each acre in excess of 100 acres up to 10,000 acres and $.50 per acre for each acre in excess of 10,000 or $100.00 which ever is the greatest.

The 15 Townships in which Commission Parks are located have received Tax Assistance cheques. These include the Twp. of Kingston, Twp. of Wolfe Island, Twp. of Front of Leeds and Lansdowne, Twp. Front of Escott, Twp. Front of Yonge, Twp. of Edwardsburgh, Twp. of Elizabethtown, Twp. of Adolphustown, Twp. of Ernestown, Village of Bath, Twp. of Williamsburg, Twp. of Osnabruck, Twp. of Cornwall, Twp. of Charlottenburgh, and Twp. of Lancaster.

Clarke T. Rollins, M.P.P. Hastings and Chairman of The St. Lawrence Parks Commission was particularly pleased with this further financial aid to the Muncipalities affected, pointing out that a considerable number of other benefits have resulted from the Commission's operations.

Mr. Rollins stated that, in total, annual wages paid to Commission employees are in excess of $2 million, and are spread over 40 area Municipalities. Goods and services purchased by the Commission in the area are also a significant factor.

The Chairman referred to the all important position of the Commission within the Tourist Industry and its priority objective to make the maximum contribution to the economic and cultural welfare in its impact area. While 35 million visitors have been hosted at Commission sites during the past 13 years, Mr. Rollins said there is an enormous potential in the future and that the Commission is determined to realize that potential through sound long range planning and in working closely with Municipalities and the private sector.

Read your Tax Guide. It will tell you what's new.

This year the Federal Government has included many new tax benefits that are important to you because they could save you money.

Your federal income Tax Guide explains them thoroughly.

Let's take the Interest Income Deduction as an example. This year for the first time, if you received and reported on your income tax form interest income from many legitimate Canadian sources, including bank deposits, bonds, mortgages and notes, you are allowed to claim as a deduction the total of the amounts up to $1,000.

Your Tax Guide explains it in detail. Check Item 35.

Increased Personal Exemptions is another item that has changed from last year. All it means is that the Federal Government has increased your personal exemptions to coincide with the rise in the Consumer Price Index. The new personal exemptions are printed on your income tax form. Guide Item 41 tells you more about it.

Well, those are just some of the areas where it pays to follow your Tax Guide and, of course, there are others. The Federal Political Contribution Tax Credit is new as well. Guide Item 52H will tell you all about that one. This year, Family Allowance Payments are income and have to be declared as such. Check Item 7.

Remember to check some of the other items listed in the Tax Guide which may entitle you to claim deductions, such as Child Care Expenses. Guide Item 33 tells you all about that one. And you may be entitled to deduct your Moving Expenses if you moved during 1974 to earn income in a new location in Canada. Check Item 34B carefully for the details.

And don't forget, if you have contributed to a Registered Retirement Savings Plan, be sure to include your receipt and deduct the allowable amount. Guide Item 29 explains it in detail.

Use your Tax Guide and fill in your tax form carefully, step by step. You'll find it's not as difficult as you think.

If you should have difficulties, however, District Taxation Office addresses and telephone numbers are listed on the back page of your Guide.

Tax Guide '74. How long has it been since you've read a really good book?

We're making it easier to understand.

Institutes Plan Membership Drive

As is customary after almost a year's elapse, the executive and Branch representatives of the Carleton East District Women's Institutes met at a specially called meeting on Saturday afternoon March 7 at the home of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Theodore McBride, on River Road, Manotick. The day's bright sunshine and invigorating temperature, coupled with a view of the frozen Rideau, provided a most pleasant atmosphere both of which stimulated all to inject worthwhile ideas for discussion.

All ten Branches of the District participated by input from the elected Branch representatives or alternates. Names were put forth for the Executive roster to be elected at the District Annual Convention which is scheduled for the Lion's Den, Metcalfe, on May 14.

News was brought to the meeting of Mrs. Harvey Noblitt's endeavours to acquire an Institute home in the District which outsiders on travel status could use for short-stay accommodation. This is a worthwhile project for which each Branch will undoubtedly be expected to assist financially. Ottawa is a tourist attraction and our District Executive is of opinion that an Institute home could be used advantageously, not only for overnight member guests but as a signal that Women's Institutes can do much, and perhaps through indicative advertising might inspire those outside our membership to at least enquire about our organization. Women's Institutes should not reflect a purely farm connotation, but rather should have widespread influence so as to permeate the thoughts of all women in our District and province, and the Dominion of Canada at large.

The Area Board Member Mrs. Donald Davidson was present; her helpful attitude and informative responses to questions assisted greatly. We wish her success during her term of office and congratulate her on this important undertaking. All our members are grateful for her participation and are confident that her experience over past years will bring much benefit to the area which she represents, and her reports to the Provincial office will have a noted affect on a wide range of women's activities in our province.

Stress to increase membership and to have high attendance at meetings is a prime concern of W.I. Branches. Consideration will be given at the District Convention in May to rewarding Branches in some way which will encourage full representation at Branch meetings, District and Area Conventions. All members are asked to make this subject a topic for discussion at your Branch meetings.

Mrs. Fred Moulton, the District Public Relations Officer, was appointed to attend the Officers Convention in Waterloo April 29 and 30, and May 1.

As a Women's group it was most gratifying to learn that our "Pennies for Friendship" amounted to $11,000.00 for the year ending March 1974. This is a collection taken at each Branch meeting (perhaps only a few pennies from each person present) and forwarded in a lump sum to the Provincial Office, who in turn send a Provincial sum to the Associated Country Wmen of the World, the next convention for which will be held in Nairobi, Africa.

Recognition was not forgotten by way of appreciation to the Provincial Government's Home Economics Branch. Free courses are given through the local Home Economist to each and every Branch: preferences in baking, handicrafts, home nursing, etc., for the asking, and one must attend a course to appreciate its usefulness to every citizen.

We look forward to a busy future with an almost new slate of Officers for the ensuing year, and compliment Mrs. Milton Payne on her efficiency and kindly manner as President of the District since 1973.

Historical Group Plans Meetings

Members of the Osgoode Township Historical Group, at their regular meeting last week, agreed to hold all meetings during the months of April, May and June in the afternoon and evening alternately.

Vice president Gerald Hill presided and discussions were led by Miss Arlowa Ferguson, Miss Jessie Robertson and Mrs. Jennie Dow.

Mr. Hill showed an interesting series of photos.

The next meeting will be on Friday April 4th at 2:00 p.m. at the Historical Centre (formerly Vernon Public School).

Executive Celebrate Anniversary Of Church

The Seaway Valley Presbyterial United Church Women held an executive meeting on Wednesday, March 19th at St. Paul's United Church in Cornwall.

The President, Mrs. Peggy Cooper, opened the meeting with a prayer by Wilbur Howard then plans were duscussed for the Presbyterial Annual Meeting to be held at Trinity United Church, Ingleside on April 16th. Theme of the meeting will be, "Let's Celebrate," since this is the 50th Anniversary of the United Church of Canada. Member's were invited to contribute to the celebration by bringing along banners, decorated birthday cakes big enough for 8 people (complete with candles) and historical skits from their own churches. Lynn Francis will be on hand to lead the singing and registration will begin at 1:15 p.m., April 16th. Supper will be served at 6:00 p.m. and will cost $2.50. Guest speaker will be Rev. George Clifford, president of Montreal-Ottawa Conference and the birthday cake will be judged by Rev. Harry Funge of Avonmore.

The president announced that the Summer Event this year will be held in the University of Ottawa on August 15th, 16th and 17th.

The ladies were then given an opportunity to begin banner making, without delay when they discovered that Mrs. Jean Scott had provided all the materials for them right there, colored paper, scissors, glue and crayons.

Sticky but happy, the members stopped for lunch served by Mrs. Bunker and the ladies of St. Paul's U.C.W.

After lunch there was a presentation by Mrs. Willa Black assisted by Mrs. Alic MacLaughlin and Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson and Peggy Cooper on the subject of Personal Growth, Leadership and Program.

Election time was next when members listened to candidates discuss change in the church. Mrs. Clara Thompson represented the New Discipleship Party, (N.D.P.), Mrs. Minnie Pelton represented the Conservatives and Peggy Cooper represented the Liberals who want change for a different reason. Results of the voting were:- Conservatives won, N.D.P. second and Liberals last.

The meeting ended with the singing of the song, "Lord, Teach Us How to Live".

"Non-Partisan" Office

Lumley Offers Assistance

Ed Lumley, Member of Parliament for Stormont-Dundas, last eek announced the opening of is constituency office.

To open April 1, the office will be located in the front office of the Capital Theatre, at 29 Second St. W.

Mr. Lumley was pleased to have found this location, "I am sorry I have not been able to open the constituency sooner," he stated, "however I was most anxious to find a ground floor, central location for the convenience of all my constituents."

Mr. Lumley once again stressed the non-partisan nature of the office, "I am not setting up an office representing any political party," Mr. Lumley explained," but a constituency office to respond to the needs of all constituents, from all parts of the riding." Persons seeking assistance or information on any federal government program are invited to make use of the new facility.

"The office is intended to assist those who have urgent and pressing needs, but who would otherwise have to wait until their M.P. could find an opportunity to return from Ottawa," said Mr. Lumley.

The office will be staffed by Mrs. Madeleine Germain. Long involved in community affairs, and in regular communication with Mr. Lumley's Ottawa office, she will be able to assist constituents on a broad range of topics.

In the effort to maximize service, the office will be equipped with a telephone answering service, Mr. Lumley explained. While Mrs. Germain is out of the office attending to constituents' needs, all incoming calls will be recorded. When Mrs. Germain arrives back at the office, all calls will be promptly returned.

The office will be open six days a week. On Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays its hours will be from 9:00 to 12:00 and from 2:00 to 5:00. Wednesdays and Saturdays it will be open from 9:00 to 12:00. The office phone number is 933-2264.

Auxiliary Group Meets

The Agnes Glassford Evening Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met on Monday evening. Mrs. Bevis Graham opened with the theme, 'The Last Supper'. Mrs. Alex Davidson and Mrs. George Elliott were in charge of the Easter devotions. Mrs. Elliott was pianist for the evening.

Members worked on a Centennial banner. The April 28 meeting will feature the Family Film 'A New Spring At Coppermine" introduced by Rev. Martyn C. Thomas. All are welcome to attend this evening.

Mrs. Graham closed with prayer. The Board of Managers joined the Agnes Glassford Group for lunch. Gordon LaRose thanked the hostesses, Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Elliott for the delicious lunch and fellowship.

CARE Launches 'Empty Plate' Campaign To Feed Starving Families

Because of the unprecedented world hunger crisis, CARE recently launched an emergency, nationwide "EMPTY PLATE" campaign, asking for pledges from people who are concerned with this situation to skip or reduce one meal a week for the rest of the year and send food dollars saved to CARE's World Hunger Fund. The money raised will be used for crash expansion of CARE's feeding and food-growing programs overseas. Visual symbol for the campaign is the picture of an empty plate on which is printed the slogan, "I care."

In anticipation of a generous response to the "EMPTY PLATE" campaign, both in the United States and Canada, CARE is purchasing initially, an additional eight million pounds of wheat, beans and other foods for immediate shipment to the areas where food is most desperately needed. Estimates are that more than 10,000 men, women and children are dying of starvation every day. The lives of many, many millions more hang in the balance.

Examples of CARE aid which will be expanded with additional funds: In India CARE provides nourishing food daily to over 10 million children and also helps run irrigation, flood control, tank fishery, land reclamation and other Food-For-Work projects. Experience shows that for each pound of grain CARE pays the workers, these agriculture-related projects lead to four more pounds of food grown the first year.

In Niger, in addition to continuing distribution of survival foods, vitamins and medicines, CARE provides materials, equipment and know-how for such self-help food-growing projects as fish farm ponds, forestation to combat soil erosion, water-supply and irrigation. Land reclaimed for farming is being rendered more productive than it was before the six-year drought.

"Greatly increased amounts of survival foods, plus supplies for many more projects boosting food production, must be kept moving to the hard-hit famine areas in Asia, Africa and Latin America", said National Director, Thomas Kines. "It is literally a matter of life or death."

Contributions and "EMPTY PLATE" pledges should be mailed to CARE WORLD HUNGER FUND, 63 Sparks Street, Ottawa, Ontario K1P 5A6.

Civilian Amps Outnumber Canada's 2,300 Veterans

Canada has about 2,300 living war amputees. What is not very well known is that there are almost ten times as many civilian amputees -- some 22,000 in all.

Unlike other disabled or handicapped groups in Canada, the civilian amputees have no central organization of their own. Those injured in industrial accidents may be assisted through Workmen's Compensation or accident insurance. Many, but by no means all, auto accident victims who lose a leg or arm are helped by insurance. But many thousands of other non-war amputees have to make do on their own. A surprising number of these amputees are children.

Through their civilian liaison program, the War Amputations of Canada seek out and help civilian amputees. Help includes counselling, advice on artificial limbs and, in some cases, the buying of limbs.

The funds for this work comes entirely from the annual sale of key tags across Canada.

Strike And Canada's Trade

Grenville-Carleton's MP Reports

A SPECIAL COMMONS DEBATE

On March 19th, John Frase, M.P. (Vancouver South), Progressive Conservative labour critic, moved to adjourn the House of Commons immediately, for a special emergency debate on . . . "the present work stoppages which have ended all grain shipments from Canada, affecting grain deliveries to all foreign countries, creating increasing unemployment, the loss of orders of grain and the grave potential for the loss of foreign grain customers generally."

When the House met at 8:00 that evening to debate the motion, Treasury Board President Jean Chretien made the following announcement . . ." the PSAC strike has been settled. I did not want to say that before or play any games with anybody. This afternoon at 2:00 we were making good progress. I did not want to distrub the chance of having a settlement. We have signed a contract for 26 months. A joint press conference is being held between the unions and the negotiator for the Treasury Board at the present time. The terms will be announced there. It is for 26 months, and I hope it is a good deal for both parties."

The press conference was held. Union and Treasury Board negotiators announced that the agreement granted a 29.25 per cent wage hike over a 26 month period, but it had to be ratified by the workers. By 8:00 the following morning, 166 grain weighmen and samplers at Thunder Bay, Ontario, had announced that they had voted, unanimously, to reject the tentative contract settlement, and would continue their strike at the Thunder Bay terminals.

THE COST TO THE COUNTRY

For six weeks, the country has been the victim of a strike, which amongst other things, has completely shutdown any movement of grain. February 1975 Bank of Canada Review figures show that the volume of our wheat and flour exports (number of bushels) declined 20.5 per cent during the first three-quarter of 1974, as compared to the first three-quarter of 1973. Using 1973 prices as the basis for comparison, this has cost the Canadian economy something in the order of $300 million already.

Grain shipments were completely shut down for 11 of the first 33 weeks of the current crop year. There have been only 2 occasions, since August 1973, when vessels have not been waiting to load at the port of Vancouver. Canada sells approximately 60 million bushels of wheat annually to Japan. Because Canada was unable to meet her export commitment, Japan has now gone to the United States. By the end of the 1973-74 crop year, Canadian farmers had incurred a record $17 million in demurrage fees. They are expected to be dramatically higher by the end of the 1974-75 crop year.

Although the federal government legislated an end to similar strikes in 1972, 1973, and 1974, the Prime Minister told the House of Commons on March 18th that he did not view the possibility of Parliament being called to end the PSAC strike as there was no urgency involved.

RESPONSE TO THE GOVERNMENT

The President of the Vancouver Grain Exporters Association replied to this in a telegram to the Prime Minister the next day, which reads . . . "Your office is quoted today worldwide for having stated yesterday 'public interest has not yet been hurt enough to warrant government intervention'. Having at heart the whole Canadian grain trade both east and west from Ottawa, we find such statement, if correctly quoted, bordering aberrance. During the crop year started August 1, 1974, grain exports at Vancouver have been stopped by strikes during 68 working days out of 165, based on five day week less holidays, or during 41.2 per cent of straight time."

I spoke during the special emergency debate and said "I do not think there is really any doubt in the mind of any member of the House that what we are dealing with is truly in the national interest, not only in relation to grain but in terms of the continued operation and good faith of one of the most important commodity operations in this country and the world."

In dealing with the root causes of much of our industrial strife, I said . . . "we could set up all the machinery we wanted, have all the good faith we could get and build everything into the system that many could advise, but unless we are prepared in the country to tacke the problem that is causing some of our difficulties, namely, the fear in organized labour, public servants and people on fixed incomes that their incomes will just not keep up with the cost of living, there will never be any real industrial peace in this country." "...We charge the government with the responsibility of delivering solutions to our problems. So far, this government has failed to do that — and that is at the heart of our problem. I hope the members of the Liberal Party who have sat through this debate will take that message to their caucus."

THE ECONOMY

Canada cannot afford strikes of this nature. All economic indicators show that we are sinking into a recession. February 1975 inflation figures showed our cost of living had increased over the year by 11.8 per cent. Unemployment was at a high rate of 6.8 per cent over year, representing, on a seasonally-adjusted basis, 676,000 Canadians out of work.

Although Finance Minister John Turner originally predicted" a real increase in Gross National Product of 4 to 4½ per cent" in 1974, GNP year-end figures showed a real growth of only 3.7 per cent. Between the fourth quarter of 1973 and the fourth quarter of 1974, there was real growth in the economy of less than 0.3 per cent - the worst quarterly performance since the 1960-61 recession. Our annual trade deficit stood at $2.5 billion at the end of 1974 and under the present Minister of Finance, our current account trade balance has shifted to a three-year average deficit of over $1 billion.

THE NATIONAL INTEREST

Strikes are of no assistance in solving these problems. As Mr. Fraser said in his speech on March 19th.... "if it was in the national interest in 1972, just before the election, to pass special legislation for keeping the grain moving, why has it not been in the national interest in the last several weeks to take action . . . remember the arguments put forward by the present Minister of Labour (in 1973) . . . he said at that time that conditions in the country were affecting the national interest . . . in 1974, during the election campaign, relevant sections of the Canada Labour Code had to be invoked to make sure that the grain handlers did not go on strike . . . in October 1974, Parliament legislated the grain handlers back to work. It was said that that action was in the national interest as we could not afford to see grain movement stopped. In the present instance the government has for weeks refused to act even though the scales, touse the Prime Minister's phrase, had definitely tilted against the national interest."

Snowmobile Deaths

The Ontario Safety League is gratified to announce that there have been fewer snowmobiling fatalities to the end of February this season.

Fatality statistics of any kind are not pleasant reading. This is true especially when they are concerned with a healthful, family, outdoor recreational activity such as snowmobiling. Sometimes, however, it pays to look at what is happening in a sport to avoid mistakes that lead to fatal accidents.

Problem areas are: snowmobiles in collison with automobiles on public thoroughfares; snowmobiles colliding with trees, fence posts, barbed wire and other fixed objects; snowmobiles breaking through the ice.

In contrast, the Ontario Safety League reports this good news: to the best of its knowledge, the league does not know of a single snowmobile fatality having occurred on any of the trails of organized snowmobile clubs since 1968.

In six safety clinic events organized by the Ontario Snowmobile Distributors Association and twenty-two snowmobile clubs over the past few weeks, 2000 snowmoibles travelled over 150,000 miles without one accident.

The League concludes that a snowmobile is a safe machine when it is operated by a responsible person on a snowmobile trail.

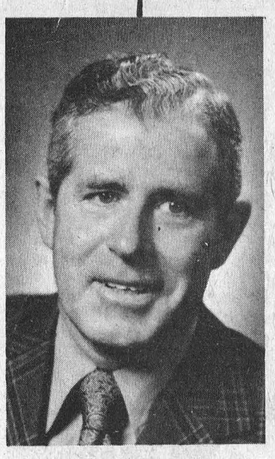
Fifth Session Of Twenty-Ninth Parliament

Highlights Of Throne Speech



The Honourable Donald R. Irvine
M.P.P. - Grenville-Dundas,
Minister of Housing

Address: Room 1324,
Whitney Block,
Toronto, Ontario

Telephone: (416) 965-0190

The Throne Speech marks a change from one legislative session to another. It can represent a change in the direction of government policy or the development of some new policies. On March 11, 1975, the Honourable Pauline McGibbon, the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, opened the Fifth Session of the Twenty-Ninth Parliament.

For many years a prosperous and every growing provincial economy permitted the Ontario Government to fulfill its goals. Strong and consistent economic growth was the key ingredient in establishing a level of services and a broad range of programmes for Ontarians. We in Ontario are fortunate to enjoy an economic growth rate of 3.5 per cent compared to 1 per cent for Germany, 2.2. per cent for the U.S. and 3.3 per cent for Japan. In the past two years public debt has been reduced. Moody's Investors Services, Inc. last autumn alloted a Triple A credit rating for the manner in which fiscal policy has been handled and for the long range potential of the Ontario economy.

The scope and impact of inflation of the international and domestic fronts has produced a dramatic change in our long prevailing prosperity. Peroples regardless of their location, income or occupation have personally experienced the ravages of inflation on their own pocket books. Because of these changes many critics have started a campaign of doom and gloom about the impending economic collapse. What is needed instead is strong, well informed and decisive government leadership to meet the twin challenges of inflation and recession. What is also required is moderation and restraining on the part of all citizens in wage negotiations and in the pricing of goods and services.

When the Budget is brought down on April 7th, I think that a much clearer position of provincial economic policy will emerge and the specific economic measures will indicate the type of leadership that is necessary to direct public affairs in these challenging times.

When the Government appeals for public moderation and restraint in economic decisions, it can in no way be translated as retrenchment. At this time society cannot simply forget its obligations to those most hurt by inflation. In this regard Ontario will ensure protection of those whose social benefits are most severely affected by inflation. The Government intends to examine with greater care the costs of all activities and programmes to get the maximum value out of each public dollar.

Certainly our greatest concern for the future of our economy cannot completely overshadow the importance of other priorities in housing, agriculture and social services. To meet the ever-increasing demand for housing greater financial assistance will be provided to encourage more home-ownership throughout the province.

Agriculture has always played a tremendous role in the provincial economy. Now the farming community will receive even greater encouragement to increase food production. While the farmers accept this responsibility the general public has to understand that farmers must be adequately compensated for their labour and investment. There must be a greater degree of economic security provided so as to help farmers increase food production. No longer is it satisfactory to have large crops surpluses and overproduction which in turn leads to declining farm incomes. The challenge of removing the humps and valleys of farm income will be met squarely in the upcoming session to provide farmers with reasonable assurance of profitability of thier enterprise.

The introduction of the office of an ombudsman will continue as part of existing policies to open up government and to overcome the complexity of government institutions. Legislation will be brought forth to establish the office of the ombudsman. The ombudsman will be responsible to protect the rights of citizens in dealing with government and to remedy any injustice which may have resulted for any citizen. Citizens must not become the victims of arbitrary judgement and rigid administrative practices. The experience of many countries reveal that the ombudsman has proven to be a worthwhile advancement in the protection of individual rights.

The Government recognizes the problems which lie ahead. Yet the times require sound and competent policies and programmes to meet these problems. And positive, confident and moderate leadership can show the way.

OPP Warns - Spring Is Time For Building Repair Fraud

The Ontario Provincial Police warn that with the approach of warm weather, building repair cheats will be active across the province. These gyp-artists prey on the elderly and unsuspecting home owner, overcharging for roof, chimney, siding and driveway repairs.

If you are approached by anyone to contract for repairs, be sure they represent a legitimate and responsible company. Sign nothing and pay nothing until you are sure that you are dealing with an honest, established businessman. Remember, a reputable contractor will not usually demand a large deposit before starting a job.

If you don't know the contractor - - don't trust him. Check on his reliability. Should you have any doubt, contact your local police department or nearest detachment of The Ontario Provincial Police.

Trouble Breathing?

A better breathing club has been organized under the sponsorship of the eastern counties TB & RD Assoc. There are many people suffering from chronic lung diseases such as emphysema bronchitis and asthma in this area. When a person has emphysema the lung capacity begins to be reduced. For some people the slightest exertion causes extreme shortness of breath.

A better breathing club is essentially a group of people getting together to help themselves. There are many issues people with chronic lung disease have to face. The group can provide reassurance support and understanding along with practical methods of coping.

The purpose of the group is (1) To teach breathing control and exercises to lung patients in order that they maintain their lung capacity; (2) To point out to participants and their families ways to cope with their limitations; (3) To educate the community as to the needs of lung patients.

The group has been meeting in Cornwall for several weeks. Membership is growing and people are coming from many areas. Anyone with a breathing problem is welcome. The next meeting will be held March 24 at 2 p.m. in the Health Unit Board Room, Justice Building, Pitt Street, Cornwall. The film a fight for breath will be shown. The meeting on April 7 will be held in Hotel Dieu Hospital at 3 p.m. For further information please phone your Christmas Seals Office at 932-4999 Cornwall.

Queen Of Queens Title Remains At Morrisburg

Miss Anne-Marie Smith of Morrisburg is the district's 1975 Queen of Queens, and this marks the second consecutive year the title has been awarded to a river front girl.

Last year the crown was worn by the late Cindy Tennant who lost her life in a tragic accident during the summer.

Miss Smith was one of ten district Carnival Queens at Metcalfe last Friday night for the annual pageant sponsored by Metcalfe and District Lions Club. In former years the crowning had been a part of an ice carnival, but the sponsoring Lions decided this year to change the format.

Consequently the competition took the form of a variety night featuring impressionist Fred Little, and was staged in the spacious community centre hall.

Bill Drake of Radio Station CFRA was Master of Ceremonies for the occasion, and the girls were escorted to the stage at the beginning of the program where they introduced themselves to the large audience.

Those competing included: Miss Smith; First Runner-up, Greely Carnival Queen Miss Lois Dillabough; Second Runner-Up, Winchester Carnival Queen, Miss Susan Boyd; and the following district Queens: Miss Louise Lebrun (Crysler); Miss Maureen Acres (Osnabruck); Miss Frances Dirven (Tagwi School); Miss Ginette Rozon (Russell); Miss Shari Morris, (Kars); Miss Danielle Blair (Metcalfe); Miss Donna Wright (North Gower).

Judges for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cannon; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hastings; and Dave Watt, all of Ottawa. Mr. Watt is also associated with Radio Station CFRA.

Miss Smith is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Smith and is employed by the CARE organization in Ottawa. Miss Dillabough, a daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Murnie Dillabough of Greely is a student at Osgoode Township High School; and Miss Boyd, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Boyd, Winchester, is a graduate of Queens University.

Prizes For All

There were gifts for all competing Queens and the Queen of Queens, who was officially crowned by Mrs. Isaac, wife of Lions Club President Ron, received a suit, sweater, slacks, coat, windbreaker, purse and other smaller articles.

Miss Dillabough received a dress, blouse, slacks, skirt and other articles; Miss Boyd received slacks, blouse, sweater and smaller articles.

Total value of the prizes, according to variety night committee chairman Marty Rowan, amounted to $425.00.

Interesting Program

Although the lovely Queens, in their beautiful evening dresses, provided the feature attraction of the evening, impressionist Fred Little ran a very close 'second'.

Mr. Little delighted both young and old with his impersonations of such familiar people as John Wayne, W.C. Fields, Laurel and Hardy, Charlie Chaplin and Flip Wilson. But from a children's point of view he was at his best when performing with the puppets so familiar to youngsters who watch their favourites on television.

The United Church Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Don McIntosh, with Mrs. Harvey Pinkham at the piano, provided very pleasing musical arrangements and their efforts were loudly applauded by all.

Mrs. Barbara Blair sang several numbers accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Boland at the organ and then led the entire group in a lively sing-song. Several Lions Club members demonstrated their 'acting' ability but at press time there doesn't appear to have been any further demands for their 'talent'.

Immediately before crowning of the new Queen Fred Little returned to select the lucky ticket from a large drum and Austin Drew of Dunrobin was the lucky winner of a beautiful radio.

The new Queen of Queens is shown being crowned by Mrs. Ron Isaac after accepting a beautiful bouquet of roses from club president Ron.

The ten lovely young ladies pictured with the Queen make it easy to understand why the judges experienced great difficulty reaching a final decision.

Other photos show impressionist Fred Little with one of his puppets and also one of his greatest fans.

From Ministry Of The Environment

Conscientious Farmers Have Nothing To Fear

"Farmers who are only carrying out normal farm procedures have nothing to fear from officials of the Ministry of the Environment", said Ontario Environment Minister Bill Newman today.

Recently, some farmers have expressed concern over their practice of spreading manure over fields and the possible resulting odor. Environment Ontario officials point out that this concern is essentially needless worry. Normal manure spreading and subsequent cultivation is both necessary and beneficial for farm operation. Area residents are asked to show consideration toward this practice.

However, a small percentage of farmers do not follow normal farm procedure and this could lead to a valid complaint by a neighboring resident. Ministry officials will investigate and advise the farmer to correct the situation. In most instances the farmer will follow the advice of the official and the situation is quickly remedied.

For farmers who refuse to accept the advice of the official, an independent body called the Farm Pollution Advisory Committee will be called in. The committee of four farmers -- Otto Crone and Harold Eubank of Hagersville, Donald Switzer of Smithville and John K. Peart of Caledonia - - was appointed jointly by the Ontario Ministries of Environment and Agriculture and Food in March, 1973 to provide an objective assessment of farm environmental situations. These members will visit the site and make recommendations.

If the committee's recommendations are not followed the Ministry of the Environment has no alternative but to begin legal action.

During this action the farmer still has right to appeal his case to the regional director or the Environmental Hearing Board.

If the farmer in question does not appeal or remedy the situation the Ministry may initiate court action under the Environmental Protection Act.

Ministry officials report that few farmers are willing to carry their case further than the Farm Pollution Advisory Committee.

"If their peers find them at fault the farmer is usually more than willing to correct the situation", said a Ministry official.

Additional $1.16 For Milk Producers

Ontario dairy farmers who produce milk for table use are to receive an additional $1.16 per hundredweight for their milk, effective April 1.

In announcing the increase in returns to the Province's 8,500 fluid milk producers, the Chairman of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board, George R. McLaughlin, stated that for several years the Board has set the price to its producers on an economic formula.

"Recently available information on production costs," he said, "indicates that milk producers require an immediate increase in price to offset cost increases and bring milk producers' incomes closer to parity with those of industrial workers. The base value of the formula has been revised to bring it more in line with current cost and income conditions and more nearly reflects the amount of returns required to provide adequate incomes to milk producers."

Mr. McLaughlin also said that the new price levels should guarantee consumers adequate milk supplies for the months ahead.

"The current values of the economic formula," Mr. McLaughlin said, "indicate that the price of milk should be in the order of three cents per quart higher than now exists."

The increase in the producer price is about 10½ per cent. The total increase to the consumer will be three cents per quart, plus whatever amount the dairies and stores add on to cover their requirements. There is no government regulation in Ontario controlling the level of consumer price and therefore the total amount of the increase, in addition to the producer portion, is dependent on the forces of competition.

"For this reason," Mr. McLaughlin said, "we do not know what the final consumer price increase will be."

The $1.16 increase per hundredweight raises the farm price for raw milk in Southern Ontario from $10.85 per hundredweight to $12.01 per hundredweight and in Northern Ontario from $11.42 per hundredweight to $12.58 per hundredweight.

Canadian Egg Exporting Procedure Quite Simple

It's easy to find fresh Canadian eggs in Edmonton, Winnipeg or Toronto stores, but could you get them half way round the world -- say, in Hong Kong?

The answer is yes.

"Since last summer, more than 34,000 boxes of Canadian eggs went to Hong Kong from British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec," says Jim Thorsteinson, chief of Agriculture Canada's poultry markets and merchandising section.

"With careful shipping, these eggs can be as fresh and undamaged when they arrive in Hong Kong as the ones Canadian shoppers pick up at the supermarket."

The export procedure is quite simple.

When an export sale is made, the eggs are assembled for shipping and checked by Agriculture Canada inspectors.

The inspectors examine the cleanliness of the shells and candle a random sample of the eggs to check their interior quality.

Freshness of the eggs is evaluated and the inspectors watch for internal abnormalities. The age of an egg is shown by the size of an air cell located at its large end. The older the egg, the larger the air space.

Based on the inspection, Agriculture Canada issues a certificate stating the grade of the eggs -- Canada A1, Canada A, Canada B or Canada C.

The eggs are set on corrugated trays and stacked in fibreboard boxes (15 dozen eggs per box). The individual boxes are palletized and stacked in a reinforced metal container. These containers are shipped by rail to the nearest port and make the last leg of their journey to Hong Kong by boat.

"The eggs could reach Hong Kong before they are two weeks old," says Mr. Thorsteinson.

"With proper refrigeration in transit, the eggs should last about 28 days from the time they are laid."

The 34,468 boxes of Canadian eggs shipped to Hong Kong during the past nine months amount to more than six million eggs.

While that sounds like a lot of eggs, it is only about four per cent of Canada's total egg exports for 1974 and a very small fraction of the Canadian egg production consumed at home.

Most of Canada's fresh egg exports go to the United States. Last year, the Americans bought 436,514 boxes (30 dozen units) or about 157 million Canadian eggs.

Canada also ships eggs to smaller markets in Caribbean countries.

Recently, a delegation from the Canadian Egg Marketing Agency and Agriculture Canada's poultry division went to the Middle East to explore egg markets there.

"There definitely are markets for fresh eggs in some Arab countries," reports M.S. Mitchell, director of the poultry division. "However, the eggs would have to be transported by air which would make them very expensive.

"Canada has eggs which could be exported, but whether we will supply these markets depends on how competitive our prices are in world trade."

If you get the feeling good things are happening in Ontario wait 'til you see what the new lottery does for us.

It's like a kind of awakening. More and more of us are getting into things.

Kids' baseball tournaments. The Hamilton Philharmonic. Jogging clubs, folk dancing, art classes, Bonspiels. It's happening all over the Province and it's only the beginning.

Now, we've got a new "Ministry" to help. The Ministry of Culture and Recreation.

Its job is simply to help each of us get more out of life.

At first it will coordinate things already under way. Like the Ontario Summer Games, the Science Centre, the Ontario Heritage Foundation.

But then it will start helping new programs. And there are literally hundreds of opportunities.

Travelling theatre groups. New hockey rinks. Support for women in the arts. New libraries, in places where they don't even exist. Because part of the idea is to give all of us an equal chance to participate, wherever we live.

How can we do it all? Well, there's the funds from the new Ontario Lottery, starting just a few weeks from now.

The Lottery is expected to provide many millions of dollars. And every dollar we then put into the various programs will be for just one reason. To help each of us get more out of life.

So this is going to be one lottery where all of us win.

Brucellosis
Live With Or Eradicate It

The question facing Canadian cattlemen, both dairy farmers and beef producers, is whether to live with brucellosis or to eradicate it.

Dr. K.F. Wells, veterinary directory-general for Canada, says over the years vaccination has reduced the incidence of brucellosis in Canadian herds from nine per cent in 1950 to 0.2 per cent in 1971.

"For complete eradication of the disease, however," Dr. Wells says, "vaccination must be stopped and infected animals destroyed.

"It is more economical to eradicate animal diseases than to live with them".

He cites the example of hog cholera that was eliminated in Canada at an average cost of one cent per hog marketed. In the United States, before its eradication program was begun, control measures cost an average $1 per hog marketed.

"Brucellosis is a serious communicable animal disease. It has cost the livestock industry of this nation many millions of dollars each year, and at the same time exposed our human population to undulant fever causing human suffering, misery and expensive medical treatment and hospitalization", Dr. Wells says.

Farmers are aware of the obvious signs of cattle brucellosis in abortion and reduced milk yield, but sometimes they overlook the losses caused by temporary or permanent sterility and the reduced sale value of infected animals.

Losses to the Canadian cattle industry in the early 1950's were estimated at well over $10 million annually. At that time, brucellosis infected between eight and nine per cent of the cattle.

Several countries have proven that brucellosis can be eradicated. Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and West Germany have eliminated the disease and now ban the use of vaccine.

"As vaccination was withdrawn, these countries experienced difficulties in eliminating the last vestiges of infection. We face this problem now," Dr. Wells explains.

"These countries tell us that, in their view, brucellosis vaccination causes confusion when the goal is eradication."

Brucellosis control began in Canada with a voluntary program in the early 1930's. In 1950, following a national survey that showed an infection rate between eight and nine per cent, a federal-provincial calfhood vaccination program was begun aimed at eradication.

By 1957 the infection rate was down to 4.7 per cent -- as low as it was thought a mass vaccination program could get it. The next step was a test and slaughter program which, by 1966, had reduced the infection rate to 0.2 per cent of the cattle and one per cent of the herds.

Also, in the late 1960's, two screening programs were established -- a milk ring test for dairy cattle and a market testing program for slaughter cattle. If a positive test is found, blood tests are carried out on the suspect herd.

As veterinarians expected, with the slowing down of the vaccination program the residual rate of infection began to show up more clearly and it became possible to isolate problem herds.

Throughout Canada in 1970 there were 3,884 infected cattle from 170 herds. The following year there were even less - - 3,806 cattle from 153 herds. But as the endemic herds began to show up in 1973-74, the figures rose to 8,849 cattle from 297 herds. The 1974-75 figures will show a slight increase in the infected cattle, but a large increase in infected herds due to the number of herds having single infected cattle.

Dr. Wells reports testing is being stepped up, and in areas with serious difficulties whole counties will be retested. Testing is done at community auctions so that cattle going back to farms are also checked.

The quarantine period has been extended to 90 days from 30 days with an additional 90-day quarantine after a 30-day clean test.

Whole herds are being depopulated where it is impossible to clean up the infection.

Calves from infected cows are slaughtered and owners are encouraged to clean and disinfect premises quickly and effectively.

Dr. Wells lists three precautions all cattle owners should take to help defeat brucellosis:

-- know the symptoms of the disease and watch for them;

-- any cattle added to a herd should be kept in isolation for 30 days and retested before mingling with other animals;

-- report any abortions immediately.

Brucellosis vaccine will still be available and it is up to the individual whether to vacciante.

"But if the final decision is to eradicate the disease, it has to be understood that this means the ultimate elimination of the vaccine. We cannot have it both ways," Dr. Wells says.

Matilda Stitching Witches Gather

The "Stitching Witches", a Matilda 4-H group, held their fourth meeting at the home of Anna Smail on March 13th.

A meeting was also convened on March 18th.

The girls have now learned the couching, crossed, couching outline, sheaf filler, satin stitch and french knots.

Girls are presently working on their 'free choice' articles.

Liquid Manure Proves Useful On Corn Crops

"There's no question that on a large number of farms, liquid manure could fill the fertility requirements of corn, for at least some of the acres in crop production, without additional commercial fertilizer," says Professor T.H. Lane, of the Ontario Agricultural College's Department of Land Resource Science.

He points out that, in fact, some Ontario farmers have produced large acreages of corn, using their manure resource without any commercial fertilizer, over the past four to seven years with no reduction in yield.

But to make best use of their manure, farmers need to plan its application carefully. With a limited number of days available for land preparation, planting and manure application, naturally the first priorities will be land preparation and planting. With the limitations of spring weather conditions, it's often difficult to spread the manure before preparation starts.

Farmers using liquid manure systems have a degree of flexibility to consider; the manure can be side-dressed to the corn crop after planting, up to the time that corn is at least a foot high. Research at Guelph has shown that liquid manure can be side-dressed either on the soil surface between the rows or injected below the surface between the rows, with the same effectiveness.

The key component required in manure for corn production is nitrogen. Sufficient nitrogen must be available to the crop, especially if manure is to be used as the only source of fertilizer nutrients.

Professor Lane recommends that farmers make use of the manure analysis service provided by the Land Resource Science Department to establish the fertilizing quality of the manure being used for crop purposes, and to learn at what rates manure should be applied, either in combination with commercial fertilizers or by itself.

With the higher dollar values for nitrogen, phosphorus and potash in today's markets, farmers must make the best use of this important by-product.

Long Service Correspondents

The Press Pays Tribute

Mary Keyes

The publication of a weekly newspaper is the result of dedicated efforts by many people. Although the bulk of the load is carried by the publishers themselves and their immediate staff members, perhaps few realize that faithful correspondents throughout the district send along weekly reports of activities in their respective communities.

Although many such writers have been active for long periods of time perhaps not many are aware that the weekly release from Winchester Springs is featured regularly thanks to the faithful service of Mrs. T.J. (Mary) Keyes.

"I sent my first report in 1947" says the 83-year-old lady who looks much more like 63, "and being alert to all that happens in the community keeps me young".

Because Mrs. Keyes is a very busy woman it proved a bit difficult to arrange a meeting but this writer was finally able to spend a very enjoyable half hour with the friendly lady immediately prior to her appointment with the hair dresser.

There's an over-worked commercial on television that sounds like this: "They know cars". Well it can be said with some authority that Mrs. Keyes "knows Winchester Springs".

Seated in the comfortable living room one could not help but notice the many items of decorative and colourful fancy-work which seemed to add warmth and friendliness to the cosy home.

"I used to do a lot of that work", she offers, "before having my eyes operated on, but now I find it very difficult.

"Yes", she admits, "I used to enjoy playing the piano as well." Hastening to point out that she lays no claim to be a gifted pianist she modestly suggests, "I just play to amuse myself."

Helen Weegar

A life-long resident of the area she vividly recalls when, as a little girl, she was forbidden to climb the "big fence" that encircled the once-famous health springs.

"Oh if you asked the Doctor he would let you in", she remembers, "but he didn't want anyone climbing that fence."

A widow for the past 16 years she displayed a keen interest in the village of Kenmore, "where", she explained, "my husband worked in Carkner's mill for many years."

Few things happen in Winchester Springs that Mrs. Keyes is not aware of - - and faithfully she relays the interesting facts to The Winchester Press. On behalf of all readers, a sincere 'Thank You' Mrs. Keyes.

AND FROM WILLIAMSBURG

Williamsburg too has an equally faithful correspondent, and seldom does a week go by that the Press does not receive interesting notes from Mrs. Helen Weegar.

"Oh, I don't know how long I've been associated with the Winchester Press", she smiles, "but I guess it's well over twenty-five years."

Like her counterpart at Winchester Springs Mrs. Weegar is a life-long resident of the district and remembers those great years when the village was made famous by the late Dr. Locke.

Mrs. Weegar displays a keen interest in all community activity and when interviewed was planning to watch one of her favourite television shows. Her husband, Garnet, not a television fan, was in another room listening to an afternoon radio presentation. "When we were young" says 'Helen', "we did a bit of farming, but prior to his retirement Garnet had been employed for over twenty years with the Casselman well-drilling firm."

Mr. and Mrs. Weegar have one son, Rex, who resides at Mariatown.

The Press is indebted to 'Helen' for her long and conscientious service.

Curlers Honoured At 10th Anniversary Festivities

Ladies' Division Winners

Winchester curlers, celebrating their 10th anniversary in the new club, signally honoured five veteran members last Saturday night when 'Honourary Memberships' were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fetterly; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robinson and Mrs. Jake Empey.

This was the first time in the 48-year history of the club that honorary memberships had been bestowed and the five recipients were taken completely by surprise.

The presentations took place in the final stages of the 10th anniversary bonspiel in which men's rinks; mixed rinks and ladies' rinks all competed in different divisions.

Club president Jim Toop complimented those being honoured for their many years of faithful participation, and veteran curler Ran Wylie briefly reviewed the valuable contributions made by each.

Mr. Wylie pointed out that the combined curling years of the five totalled 170 years, and noted that both Mr. Fetterly and Mr. Robinson had been active for over 40 years.

"Howard", a past president, although presently forced to the sidelines for a brief period, hopes to be back in action next fall. During his many years with the club he has served on most committees and been actively involved in all club promotions.

'Chester', who was secretary-treasurer of the club when the newest building was erected, has also worked on many committees, and both he and Mr. Fetterly remember working just as vigoriously when the rink was located near the old hockey rink on Gordon street and also during the years the game was enjoyed after moving the two-ice building to York Street.

'Delia', a past president of the ladies division, created lasting interest in competitive curling when she presented the Delia Robinson Challenge Pins. In addition Mrs. Robinson has worked diligently on fund-raising drives and all other projects beneficial to the club.

'Jessie', the club's willing and talented pianist, has never been known to be 'too busy' to help at all functions and the beautiful trophy, donated by she and her husband, has resulted in one of the club's most interesting bonspiels for the past twenty years.

'Pearl', still considered the club's most deadly 'draw artist', has been a tower of strength throughout her many membership years. One of the reasons the club-rooms are always neat and clean and tasty lunches ready when required is the fact Mrs. Empey is always ready and eager to help. President Toop explained that an attractive plaque is being installed with names of the five 'Honorary Members' artistically engraved on individual shields.

"Five excellent curlers; five valuable members; five fine people, and none more worthy of this honour", said Mr. Wylie.

Pin Trophy Dedicated

Recently Dr. Bill Byers, a long-time member of Winchester Curling Club, very kindly donated a collection of his father's curling pins to the club. 'Handyman' Bill Lloyd after learning of the donation, built a beautiful cabinet and installed it on the wall with the wide selection of pins prominently displayed.

Saturday night the 'Pin Trophy' was dedicated and members were reminded that there was room in the case for other donations.

Dr. J.C. Byers was one of the founders of Metcalfe Curling Club and during his many years as a very competitive skip gathered his vast collection of beautiful pins symbolizing visits to clubs throughout many parts of Ontario, Quebec and the Northern United States. Many of the pins in the collection were won in competition by the late family Doctor, while others are of the 'trade' variety.

Bonspiels

The three bonspiels lasted the entire week and many competitors no longer active curlers. The invitation went out to all who had been a member at any time during the past ten years.

The major topic around the club throughout the week, particularly by older members, was the steady progress of the club since its founding in 1927. The hardships of moving to York Street were remembered and of course many happily recalled the fall of 1964 when the contract was awarded for construction of the present complex.

A delicious Kentucky Fried Chicken dinner was enjoyed following the last game and a beautiful birthday cake, baked and decorated by Jen Lloyd and Eleanor Toop was cut.

Also, a beautiful three-tier decorative cake, designed by Mrs. Harvey MacIntosh, was on display.

Another enjoyable feature of the evening was the showing of films taken during the Official Opening of the rink ten years ago. The club is grateful to Bill Lloyd for the pictures.

Members of the winning rinks each received attractive 10th anniversary souvenirs.

Scouters Hold Annual Winter Sports Day

Members of Boy Scout troops and their leaders in the St. Lawrence District held their annual Winter Sports Day last Sunday afternoon at the Morrisburg Arena. Assistant Commissioner George Lewis was in charge, aided by District Scoutmaster Ron MacLean and Council President William Sheldrick.

Broomball was the order of the day with troop teams competing. Iroquois was high scorer, defeating both Morrisburg and Chesterville, with scores of 7 - 0 and 1 - 0, respectively. In the consolation playoff, Chesterville defeated Morrisburg, 2 - 1.

Iroquois scouts were in charge of Assistant Scoutmaster Ron Graham. Ron MacLean was in charge of Morrisburg troop, while Chesterville Scouts were led by Scoutmaster Warman Barnard, assisted by Erik Thompson.

A tug-of-war on the ice proved entertaining, and an interesting co-educational feature was introduced in an interval between games, when Morrisburg Girls' Ringette Team played a team made up from the several Scout troops in a game of broomball. Referees Fred Veley and Barton Casselman donated their services for the afternoon.

The Reverend E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville, Public Relations Representative, covered the event for the press.

Regional At Smiths Falls

Leaders of Boy Scout troops, Wolf Cub packs, Venturer companies and Beaver groups from the St. Lawrence and National Capital areas met in Smiths Falls last Saturday for an all-day conference on recruitment, conservation, camp-craft, scouting skills, programming, etc. Demonstrations, literature and exhibits constituted an important part of the program, plus dining, and listening to addresses by provincial and national leaders.

St. Lawrence District was represented by Commissioner Allan Thom of Prescott and the Reverend E. Earle Eaton, Public Relations Representative, of Chesterville.

Today, higher education is more important than ever before.

This is what Ontario is doing to help make it available to everyone.

Ontario is the best place in Canada to get a higher education. Why? First, the range and diversity of programs our institutions offer. Second, the Ontario Government programs that help students finance their education.

Already, 2 out of 5 students at Ontario colleges and universities are receiving financial aid through the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP). OSAP assists full-time post-secondary students with government-financed loans and grants based on need, not on academic achievement.

Now, starting with the 1975-76 academic year, there will be two new programs.

The Ontario Student Loans Plan is designed to help students who are ineligible for aid from OSAP. It will benefit part-time students, some students enrolled in upgrading programs and those taking programs which are shorter, or have different entry standards than required by OSAP regulations.

The Ontario Special Bursary Program gives non-repayable grants to people in serious financial need, particularly those who can improve their financial situation by taking one or more courses. It's designed for part-time students who receive social assistance, are unemployed, or who have a low family income.

If you would like to know what financial assistance is available to you, and how to apply for it, contact the Student Awards Officer at the institution of your choice. Or write to:

New Faces At Rough Rider Office

Ottawa Rough Rider fans calling at the office this spring to select choice seats, or discuss the potential of their favourites, will note two additions to the efficient staff.

Scott McClelland is the club's new PR man and June Fitzgerald Secretary to the General Manager.

Mr. McClelland replaces former football star Bob Simpson and Miss Fitzgerald is at the desk occupied for fourteen years by Marion Graham.

If experience counts in the world of secretaries as much as it does with football players, the Riders have landed an outstanding replacement. June has spent fourteen years with the Montreal Alouettes, and during her tenure with the Als has worked for Ted Workman, Joe Atwell, Red O'Quinn and Bob Geary.

The duties of the secretary to the General Manager are many and varied. They involve all aspects of contract registration, negotiation lists, travel arrangements, general correspondence, etc.

Mr. McClelland is responsible for the club's relations with the public and the press. A graduate of Ottawa Technical High School he served as a commissioned officer for five years in the Canadian Armed Forces. Returning to Ottawa he entered the financial field and over the past five years has successfully opened two branch operations for Metrocan Leasing Limited, a company involved in the leasing and financing of capital assets. A keen sportsman he has been a life-long Rough Rider fan.

"We'll fill all those new seats and provide an exciting brand of football", says Scott. And June appears to be in complete agreement.

It was noted that the annual presbyterial meeting is to be held at Ingleside on April 16th, both in the afternoon and evening. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Rev. George Clifford whose topic will be 'Let's Celebrate'.
