100 Club Members Hear Interesting Address

Centurian W. J. L. Boyd, Winchester business man just returned from an extensive tour of Western Canada, was the guest speaker at the September luncheon-meeting of Winchester 100 Club, held Friday evening at Heidi's Restaurant. The meeting was the first following the customary two-month summer recess, and was attended by about forty members and guests.

Mr. Boyd colourfully described his recent trip which took him as far north as the Peace River district and eventually to Vancouver on the West Coast. He gave his impressions of the West and compared living conditions and standards with those that exist in Ontario. He was particularly impressed with the vastness and great potentiality which exists in the Canadian west and north, and predicted that once the Alaska highway was completed it would be one of the most heavily travelled roads in the country. Touching on just about every phase of his trip, Centurian Boyd lauded Canadian westerners as doing a fine job. In his entire trip he said that the worst stretch of road travelled was the joining link between Highways No. 7 and 43, the road which runs west from Winchester, through Kemptville, Merrickville and Smiths Falls. He was also critical of Highway No. 2 and called it a "suicide road" under present travelling conditions. He urged members to get together to see that immediate action be taken on improving Eastern Ontario Highways, particularly the ones mentioned and the north part of Highway 31 which leads to Ottawa. The speaker also made mention of former Winchester citizens he and his wife had met while away, including Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Gross at New Westminster, B. C. He also said that while in Moose Jaw, Sask., he had learned that the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wallace MacKinnon had been destroyed by fire earlier in the year. Rev. MacKinnon is a former pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church here. Mr. Boyd was introduced by Centurian Percy Roberts and thanked by Centurian Robert Woods.

Vice President of the Club, Centurian Percy Roberts, presided in the absence of president Eldon Davidson. He was assisted by the secretary, Harry Potter, and the treasurer, Robert Ledgerwood. In giving the treasurer's report, Centurian Ledgerwood said that the current bank balance of the club stood at roughly $400.00. He also told members that approximately $100.00 had been cleared from the recent Night of Fun despite a small turn-out.

Centurian Howard Biccum reported for the Welfare Committee, reading a letter of appreciation from a family the club had assisted, and telling of other children for whom glasses had been purchased.

Centurian W. E. Bradley reported for the Tractor Club which he directed this year, and which the club sponsored. Achievement Day for the club, he said, was held last week with 85% of the twenty members finishing the interesting and rather difficult course. Robert Kelly, engineer from Kemptville Agricultural School, was the instructor, and he lauded club members for their interest and desire to learn during the course. He said the number finishing the course was the highest of any club he had ever instructed.

It was announced that the next meeting would be addressed by a former mayor of the city of Winchester, England. Date of the meeting will be changed to coincide with the visitors' arrival here, and will be announced later.

Guests at the meeting included Mr. Lloyd Vice, new owner of the grocery and meat business formerly operated by Centurian George Elliott, who was introduced by his brother, Centurian Robert Vice, and Harry Keyes, who was introduced by Centurian Reg. Workman. Mr. Keyes was given a round of applause when it was announced that he had won racing honours for the best Class C Hydro plane driver in Canada.

Centurians Chester Timmins and Norman Blackler directed the sing-song. Grace at the opening of the luncheon was said by Centurian Hugh Balkwill, and the Creed was recited by Centurian Stan. Black.

Get That Hour Back This Weekend

Nobody likes to lose, especially time. This week-end offers Mr. and Mrs. John Citizen a chance to get back an hour they lost last April when the country stepped up to Daylight Saving Time. Effective this Saturday, September 24th, Standard Time will be returned, which means that the time pieces should be set back one hour when you retire on Saturday evening.

Don't forget this little item, else the minister will be preaching to himself come Sunday morning. That is if he doesn't forget too.

Lutheran W. M. S. Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary At Williamsburg Church

Approximately 75 members of the W. M. S. of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, together with visiting members and friends from sister societies, celebrated the Fiftieth Anniversary of their organization at a service in their church.

Mrs. G. L. Barclay and Mrs. Clifford Casselman received the guests at the entrance to the church. At the same time each guest was the recipient of a corsage made by Mrs. Ernie Merrikin. Mrs. J. L. Kirchhofer, wife of the minister, presided over the meting and welcomed the visitors.

Mrs. Clifford Casselman briefly reviewed the past 50 years of the society's activities. The source of the Women's Missionary Society was found in the Ladies' Aid which was the first organization of the women in the church. It is not very well known who the first president was, however the first secretary was Mrs. Orlin Becker and the treasurer was Mrs. Ralph Empey. A brief memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Kirchhofer for 41 deceased members.

A message by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Kirchhofer, was based on Psalm 50, verse 14, "Offer unto God a sacrifice of Thanksgiving." It was concluded with the poem, "The Bravest Battle," taken from the book, "Leaves of Gold," bringing in the part women have rendered in the past and are still continuing to do so.

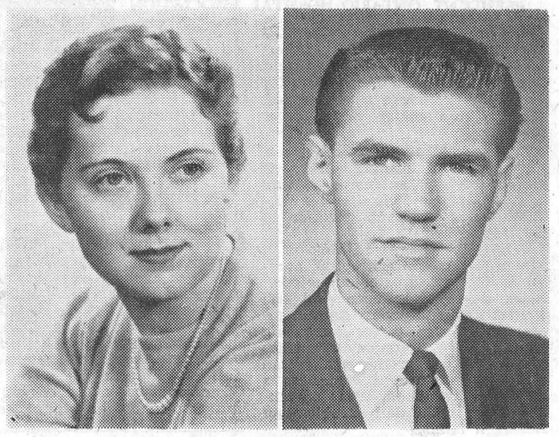
The Netherlands Folk Song, "Prayer of Thanksgiving," was contributed by Mrs. Maefred Merkley, accompanied by Miss Ethel Gordier, who was the organist for the occasion. The offering was taken by Mrs. Walter Loucks and Mrs. Irwin Empey, and dedicated by Rev. F. W. Howald, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Morrisburg.

Mrs. Donald Hess, secretary, read messages of congratulations from Mrs. Frank Loa, president of St. Peter's Lutheran Church W. M. S., Ottawa; Mrs. Wm. Gillespie, executive member of the W. M. S. of the United Lutheran Church in America; Mrs. Clarence Ade, Ottawa, vice president of the Eastern Conference, W. M. S., Canada Synod; Mrs. Karl Knauff, president of the Western Conference W. M. S.; and Mrs. Albert Lotz, president of the W. M. S., Canada Synod.

An impressive life membership service was conducted by Mrs. J. L. Kirchhofer, assisted by Mrs. Irwin Empey, Mrs. Walter Loucks and Mrs. Ralph Casselman. The following members were presented with a life membership emblem and certificate: Mrs. Clifford Casselman, Mrs. Lydia Hanson, Mrs. Sadie Whitteker, Mrs. Willis McIntosh, Mrs. Frank Merkley, Mrs. Frank Whitteker and Mr. Ross Beckstead, also Mrs. Percy Reddick who was made a life member a week ago at the regular meeting. Due to the keen interest of Miss Elmeda Whitteker, a charter member, a corsage of baby mums and another life membership emblem and certificate was given.

At the supper hour an Anniversary Birthday cake graced the head table. A tatted white and gold cross, at each place, as a memento of the occasion, was made by Mrs. Jason Whitteker. Greetings from Mrs. Hubert Shaw, Dunbar, Mrs. Graham Casselman, Morrisburg, Mrs. John Cosselman, Riverside, and Mrs. George Dunlop of the United Church, Williamsburg, were expressed during the supper hour.

Engagement Announced



Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Loucks, of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Susanne, to Allen Edwin Reaume, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Reaume, of Ottawa. The marriage will take place on Saturday, October 8th, 1955, at 7 o'clock p.m. in St. John's United Church, Vancouver, B. C.

Locketon Lodge Hotel, Williamsburg, Changed Hands Over The Week-End

One of the district's biggest business transactions was completed on the week-end with the announcement that the popular Locketon Lodge Hotel in Williamsburg had been sold.

New owner, who took over possession last Saturday, is Raymond McIntosh, well known Williamsburg business man who, together with his brother, has operated the Williamsburg Egg Grading Station for the past several years. Announcement that the huge 125-room building had been sold was made by Mr. Maxwell Harris, former owner, who will return to his St. Catharines home in the near future. Mr. Harris purchased the hotel in 1949, and since then had turned it into one of the best businesses of its kind in this part of the province.

One of the largest small town hotels in Ontario, the huge frame structure was first erected in 1932 during the fabulous era of the late Dr. Mahlon W. Locke. Built at a cost of $110,000, the building includes 125 rooms, 70 of them with baths; dining halls, expansive lobby, huge screened-in porch and two well-equipped beverage rooms. Fifty of the rooms on the first two floors of the three-storey building are still in operation. They are well furnished, modern and roomy, and are equipped with baths.

Management of the hotel will continue in much the same manner as set down by Mr. Harris, the new owner said, with some alterations expected to be made to the premises within the next few months. Both "ladies" and "men's" beverage rooms will be maintained in the same efficient style that has customized their premises in the past years.

Mr. McIntosh, the new owner, is 38 years of age. He is a Williamsburg citizen by birth and except for a period of four years with the Canadian Army overseas, he has resided in Williamsburg.

WEDDINGS

RENDER—GUY

Inkerman United Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, September 17, when Miss Mary Eleanor Guy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Guy, of Inkerman, became the bride of John Gordon Render, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Render, of Prescott.

Baskets of white and pastel gladioli and ferns were used to form a beautiful background for the ceremony.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Reid, pastor of the church, assisted by Mr. Stan. Errat, of Prescott, as the pianist who played the wedding music and accompanied the guest soloist, Mr. Ronald McIntosh, of Winchester Springs, who sang very effectively "The Lord's Prayer" as the bride reached the altar, and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the charming bride chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of white nylon tulle with brocaded rosebuds over white satin with a strapless nylon tulle bodice and matching tulle jacket with a Peter Pan collar and the sleeves coming to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was held by a bandeau of irridescent sequins and nylon tulle. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white gladioli and pink rosebuds centred with a gardenia.

The maid of honour, Mrs. Robert Dawson, and bridesmaid, Mrs. Wiliam Jeacle, wore similar waltz-length gowns in turquoise and mayflower crystallette and matching headdresses and mitts. They carried nosegays of tea roses and baby mums.

Gordon Berry, cousin of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Robert Guy, brother of the bride, and Ronald Render, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother was dressed in navy blue triple sheer with white accessories and corsage of white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a two-piece ensemble of navy lace with pink and navy accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Fllowing the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall. The bride's table was centred with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, and pink and white tapers. Mr. Lloyd LaPorte, of Winchester, proposed the toast to the bride, responded to by the groom.

For travelling, the bride wore an Italian black watch cotton dress with matching black velvet duster and black velvet accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

The happy couple left for Niagara Falls, Buffalo and other points in the U. S. A. On their return they will reside in Prescott.

Out-of-town guests were present from Watertown, Ogdensburg, Brockville, Prescott and Winchester.

Williamsburg Guests Local Women's Institute

Members of Williamsburg Women's Institute were the guests of the local branch at the September meeting held on Tuesday evening in the Town Hall. Mrs. Hugh Coons presided, assisted by the secretary, Mrs. D. Link. Following the customary opening of the Ode and Creed, the roll call was answered by "Giving your favourite way of serving Cheese." The treasurer's report was given, indicating a sizeable bank balance, and several letters of interest were also read.

Delegates were appointed to attend the Ottawa Area Convention in Ottawa later this fall.

Mrs. Chas. Beedie had charge of the program which included a reading, "The Soil and the Soul," by Mrs. George Wilson; a duet by the Misses Norma Bailey and Carolyn Alford, accompanied by Mrs. Howard Fetterly, and a birthday contest (singing) which was highly enjoyed by all members.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Charles Beedie and her committee of Mrs. Ford Baker, Mrs. J. Moffat, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Wm. Lannin, Mrs. Carl Rice, Mrs. W. F. Workman and Miss Madge Coons.

On behalf of the visiting Williamsburg group, Mrs. M. W. Locke expressed a vote of thanks to Winchester for their hospitality and invitation.

PRESCOTT HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS' BAND FEATURED AT 100 CLUB FUN NIGHT

Highlighted by the appearance of Prescott High School's crack 36-piece all girls' band, the Winchester 100 Club's Night of Fun was held here last Wednesday night in the Community Arena.

Despite a small attendance, club officials expect that the net proceeds from the night will exceed $100.00.

The colourful girls' band took the eye of everyone, and drew a large crowd of spectators who lined the main streets of the town as the band paraded from the District Memorial Hospital to the Arena. Prior to the march the Band played several selections for the benefit of patients at the hospital, and later presented another well arranged concert at the Arena. Quite a colourful band, and well directed, it was easy to see why the group had won out over 30 other bands at the big inter-city Exhibition parade at Ottawa this year.

Co-ed: "I've decided I won't be married till I'm 25."

Over 10,000 People Attended Metcalfe Fall Fair Last Saturday

An estimated crowd of 10,000 people filed their way through the turnstiles at Metcalfe Fair last Friday and Saturday to see what many say was "the best fair yet."

"It's been the best Friday afternoon we've ever had," Secretary Eldon Craig said after the second day was over. And he was beaming even more as the large crowd took advantage of the warm bright weather on Saturday.

Packed with entries in every class, this year's fair was bulging at the seams with attractions. In the Holstein class alone there were 178 head of cattle to be judged. And there were hundreds of others in the Guernsey, Jersey, Ayrshire shows, the light and heavy horse classes, the swine and sheep classes.

Hooked rugs, smocked dresses, knitted goods and all sorts of fancy and plain sewing were just a part of the handicraft displays. There were pastries of all kinds, home baking, canning, children's lunch boxes, all of them mouth watering in their appeal.

Over in the Agriculture building were fruits and vegetables and displays of electrical appliances from sewing machines to TV sets. One of the highlights of the Fair was the parade of floats in front of the grandstand. Frank Ryan was judge in this event, and he also broadcasted from the grounds on Friday and Saturday. CFRA Melodiers were also on hand. The 4-H Club department was again a busy place, and one exhibit, depicting pioneer days in Eastern Canada, attracted the interest of almost everyone.

Games, sideshows, rides and other attractions featured the midway, which was a busy spot until Saturday midnight. On the final evening two dances, a round and square, were held, and both halls were crowded with happy fair goers.

One of the biggest little fairs in the province, it was the 99th annual presentation, one year before the big Centennial comes off in 1956. If past performances are an example, the 100th anniversary show plans to be some fair.

Williamsburg Makes Plans To Expand

Williamsburg village's newly formed planning board is not going to sit by idly like the proverbial frog as it waited on a fly to drop into its open mouth.

The new Board, if Tuesday night's meeting is any indication, is going to go right ahead with plans to have an aerial survey made of the town, new streets mapped out, town limits marked, and other necessary features that must be carried out if expansion is to materialize.

Keith Schell, secretary of the Board, presided at the informative and well attended meeting in the public school on Tuesday night. Chief speaker was Mr. Frost of the Department of Planning and Development of Ontario, who told his audience the story of town planning, how it originated, and how it was put into use concerning town, city and village expansion.

The Board was given a 90% backing of the large crowd present to continue with the primary work, survey, aerial photo, etc. To continue its program a sum of money will be needed, and it is expected that the necessary funds to start the ball rolling will come from the police village treasury.

Interest in town planning has been stimulated by the start of the St. Lawrence Seaway and power projects, and the great potential growth which Eastern Ontario can expect in the wake of this development.

The Town Planning Board at Williamsburg believes that the small police village of Williamsburg is in an ideal location for new residents and possibly, small industry, and is anxious to do everything possible to cultivate this potential.

It is expected that the layout of the village and the marking of streets will be carried out this fall.

Winchester Trade Fair Being Held Next Week

For three outstanding nights next week an expected crowd of over 5000 will get an eyeful of commercial grandeur, an earful of fine music, and, maybe, a mittful of valuable prizes, at the second annual Winchester Trade Fair, slated to get underway on Wednesday, September 28th, in the Community Arena. The 1955 Fair, extended to three nights, will continue through Friday evening to accommodate what business men here believe will be the largest crowds ever to jam into the popular Winchester Arena.

Highlights of the Fair are many! Just to mention a few there will be a fashion show with latest creations being modelled each evening; there will be roughly 30 exhibitors, each with something different to see; there will be some extra special musical entertainment by the best local talent available; a Wurlitzer organ will be brought in for the three nights, it is expected; the five-cent cup of coffee will again make its brief appearance at Harry Flora's booth; and among many other attractions over $2000.00 in valuable prizes will be given away absolutely free, nothing to buy (except your admission ticket at two bits each) and no strings attached. Most of the prizes will come in the form of merchandise of some sort including wrist watches, vouchers, credit slips, groceries, a TV set, and three gigantic door prizes which will total $300.00. The door prizes will be divided into three equal parts, $100.00 each night.

Frank Ryan Here

Again this year Frank Ryan, the popular owner-commentator of CFRA, Ottawa, will officially open the Fair, and at the moment Frank plans to broadcast direct from the Arena next Wednesday night for half an hour. Sometime this weekend officials of the 1955 Fair will be heard over CFRA in an exclusive interview, relating some of the highlights of the program. Other dignitaries are expected to take part at the opening ceremonies on Wednesday evening.

Final touches to this year's show were planned at a meeting of business men on Monday night. At the meeting Frank Morgan, Gerald Helmer, Gilbert Raistrick and Harry Flora were appointed a committee to arrange an attractive display at the arena entrance, as well as erecting a huge direction sign on Main Street to show out-of-towners the way to the Arena. Adequate fire protection will be afforded those with booths, and Chief Gilbert Raistrick will personally look after this detail.

Among the many things to see on display will be TV sets in operation, electric ranges, radios, pumps, furnaces, oil burners, cosmetics and a beauty counsellor, hardware, furniture, jewellery, watches, feeds, lumber, designs for interior decorating, paints, cars, auto accessories, clothes and a hundred other interesting items.

Tickets are good for admission to the Arena and will be used for practically all prize drawings, excepting a few draws and contests which will be conducted by individual exhibitors as something extra special. Tickets not drawn the first night will be carried over and used with those of the second evening and so on. They are on sale at practically all places of business at 25 cents each, or 5 for $1.00, and may be purchased at the door each night of the Fair.

A full-page advertisement appears on Page 7 of this issue of the Press and gives a layout of the arena floor, and the names of exhibitors. Further announcements will be heard over radio station CFRA, Ottawa, from now until Fair time.

If you were there last year, you won't want to miss it. If you weren't there last year, you can't afford to miss the 1955 Winchester Trade Fair.

Rummage Sale Nets Hospital Unit $350.00

Members of Winchester Unit of the District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary turned saleslades for two days last week and did a first-rate job in selling off $350.00 worth of used clothing, dishes, toys, etc.

The Hospital Rummage Sale, an annual event which has become more than popular with everyone living in Winchester and district, had its biggest success this year, and members in charge are more than pleased with the results. All goods sold at the sale on Friday and Saturday were donated, and articles like 75-cent shoes, and ten-cent dishes were literally grabbed by eager buyers.

Flora's bowling lanes were again used to advantage for the Hospital bargain centre where hundreds of items were purchased by hundreds of people looking for useful items with a low price tag.

Mrs. Harold Lannin was the industrious convener of the committee in charge of this year's sale and she was assisted by directors Mrs. Archie Rice and Mrs. Melvin Scott. Others who assisted included Mrs. D. MacLean, Mrs. John Rennison, Mrs. P. Roberts and Mrs. C. R. Robinson.

The unit is deeply indebted to those who contributed so generously to the sale, and others who assisted in any way in making the event such a decided success.

MINISTER AND FAMILY ESCAPE INJURY IN CAR ACCIDENT

Rev. F. K. Gordon, pastor of the Winchester Wesleyan Methodist Church, Mrs. Gordon and their three children escaped injury late Monday evening when their car struck and killed a Holstein cow on Highway No. 2.

The near-tragic accident occurred about 11.30 p.m. about six miles east of Lancaster. Proceeding west, Rev. Gordon said that he had tilted his lights for an approaching car and was unable to see the animal which was wandering in the middle of the highway. He applied his brakes, but could not miss hitting the cow almost head-on. The impact caused the Gordon car, a 1955 station wagon, to swing around facing south. Driver of the eastbound car brought his vehicle to a halt to avoid a head-on crash.

The cow, a pure bred Holstein valued at $300, was owned by Mr. Lloyd McRae, and had evidently strayed from a nearby pasture. The Gordon children, asleep in the back of the car, were not injured, and aside from a shaking up and some bruises Rev. and Mrs. Gordon escaped injury. Damage to the car was estimated at $500 by Ontario Provincial Police who investigated.

Thirteenth National Immunization Week

The Thirteenth National Immunization Week will be observed throughout Canada the week of September 25th.

Despite efforts to bring to public attention the importance of protecting children, from three months of age up, against such diseases as diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox, there are still cases of three of these dread diseases. Adequate immunity is available to these diseases either through the family doctor or in one of the Child Health Centres, operated free of charge, by health departments.

This annual campaign, organized by the Health League of Canada, in co-operation with official departments of health, is strengthened through the added support which lay organizations and individuals outside the medical profession and government give to this great voluntary health movement in Canada. Education is the greatest instrument of public health today and during this special week intensive public health education will be undertaken to further stress the importance of immunization.

Actually the appeal is made to parents and guardians to protect their children against these diseases by having them immunized at the nearest clinic or doctor's office.

The Trade Fair

For three nights next week, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Winchester business men and others will take over the Community Arena and put on an excellent show when they present their second annual Trade Fair. And from what we know of it, it is some show!

The 1955 presentation plans to outdo the fine 1954 Trade Fair in every department. There will be an up to the minute fashion show each evening. There will be colourful booths, entertainment, attractive displays, and prizes which will exceed $2500.00 in value.

In short, the Winchester Trade Fair offers local and district citizens an unusual opportunity to enjoy themselves, to meet their friends, and to win some valuable prizes at absolutely no cost.

Plan to attend this Fair. It will more than live up to the fine reputation it created last year when over 4000 people attended on the two nights.

Political Prep School

Rapping honorable members over the knuckles like naughty schoolboys for utterances which constitute no violation of the rules of the House of Commons does nothing to enhance public esteem of Speaker Rene Beaudoin. Perusal of Hansard reveals increasing number of examples of such petty and puritanical conduct on the part of Mr. Speaker.

During crossfire of debate between Opposition leader Drew and Immigration Minister Pickersgill, Mr. Speaker was prompted to observe, "I do not think it becomes the decorum of this House to say that the minister is leaving, probably to go fishing, and then to jump to another minister and say that his intervention was nothing but a blur."

On another occasion, Mr. Speaker takes the honorable member for London, Mr. Mitchell, to task because, as Mr. Beaudoin points out, he "referred to Liberal lawyers who had taken part in debate as speaking with tongues in their cheeks . . . This expression," warns Mr. Speaker, "might be regarded as charging insincerity."

Such comments from Mr. Speaker, were they to occur in the British House of Commons, would be laughed to scorn. Mr. Beaudoin, if he is to continue to enjoy the high esteem in which he is held by all political parties, would be wise to refrain from such obiter dicta, which have the appearance of an effort to turn the House of Commons into a political 'prep school,' says the Printed Word.

Editorial Notes

The veteran sportsman or bush traveller always makes his campfire on a rocky shore or on well-cleared mineral soil—and douses it thoroughly with water when finished. Follow the veteran's example and save the forests from fire.

The husband fumbled his way upstairs. It was 2 a.m.

"Well," said his wife angrily, "do you know what the clock says?"

Husband (happily): "Clock says tick-tock; cow says moo-moo; pussy says meow-meow, and little wife says wuff-wuff."

Youngsters driving bicycles to-day are almost as dangerous as adults driving cars. Instead of guiding a sleek sedan down the road at ninety miles per hour, they are wheeling their bikes ten or fifteen miles per hour down the streets of the village. And in this case the street could be the main thoroughfare or the main sidewalk. Sidewalk cycling is dangerous; it is against the law, and it should not be practised. Aside from the sidewalk menace, some owners of bicycles, with their driving antics, are also a menace to highways. Youngsters and adults alike should remember that the bicycle is a mode of transportation, that, if not handled right, it can be as dangerous as any four-wheel vehicle. This applies especially during the school season when bicycles become more numerous and motorists must become more cautious.

OF MANY THINGS

GUARANTEED WAGE

(By Ambrose Hills)

When Walter Reuther won the guaranteed-wage contract from Ford, he was said to have commented: "You might say there's a Ford in G. M.'s future." Sure enough, G. M. was forced to sign a similar contract, and Mr. Reuther could congratulate himself on his witticism and his win. But a Manitoba professor points out that the public, who cannot play this game, will inevitably pay for it.

Doctor William Adams, Department of Economics, University of Manitoba, says in a Winnipeg Free Press article that if Reuther's union forces a similar deal on the little three (Nash-Hudson, Studebaker-Packard and Kaiser-Willys) there will most probably be a merger or bankruptcy in their immediate future.

Dr. Adams is right. And while mergers are not always bad, bankruptcies usually are. A bankrupt firm pays no wages at all, let alone guaranteed ones.

This guaranteed annual wage game can only be played by the very strongest unions, strategically located to bargain with the very biggest firms.

What bothers most Canadians about these new labour schemes is that they are dreamed up in United States and then imposed on Canada. Yet our country is in a much different situation. Our domestic market is smaller. Our summer is a good deal shorter, and makes for slower production and lower consumption. If we expect to be able to give Americans stiff competition, we have to find some means to produce goods at similar prices. We certainly can't do it if the U. S. labour unions force their Canadian affiliates to insist on equally high wages to produce fewer products.

Swedish union leaders have long ago realized that the Swedish manufacturer has to have a fair chance to compete. They govern themselves accordingly. Canadian workers should see the light, too. Unless they want to be small brothers to the U. S. Reuthers all their days!

CARDINAL MAN NAMED NATIONAL ORGANIZER FOR CCF PARTY

Carl Hamilton, of Cardinal, 27-year-old member of the National Council of the CCF, has been appointed national organizer for the party.

CCF headquarters have also announced the decision of the party's Quebec section to call itself the Social Democratic party or Le Parti Social Democratique due Quebec.

Mr. Hamilton succeeds Donald C. MacDonald, who was elected to the Ontario Legislature last June for York South.

A native of Brinston, Mr. Hamilton was president of the National CCF Youth Movement for four years. He studied at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon and at Queen's University, Kingston. He is also a graduate of South Mountain High School and is well known in this district.

It's YOUR HOSPITAL

by

G. HARVEY AGNEW, M.D.
PRESIDENT, ONTARIO HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

In a previous article we discussed a number of careers or vocations for men in hospitals. Now I would like to talk about careers for women and, believe me, it is just amazing how many such careers there are.

True, some of these require a high degree of training; others do not require such extensive training and their prime requisite is a willingness to work and devotion to the task in hand.

Naturally, when we think of a career for girls in a hospital, nursing is the first to enter our minds. Much has already been said and written about the many advantages of nursing as a career for young women. In my opinion it provides a splendid background which can always prove useful either as a means of livelihood, or as a valuable asset in the daily problems of raising a family.

Nursing itself, of course, has evolved many specialities. Once a girl has graduated, she is ready to accept a position as a general duty nurse. Many, however, prefer to take further training and become qualified as a supervisor in some clinical field, such as the operating theatre, in obstetrics, in pediatrics or, perhaps, to become a nurse administrator.

Nearly all of our larger general hospitals have schools for nurses. Most of these schools now require their instructors to have special qualifications in the subjects they teach. As a result the majority of instructors in nursing schools are university graduates. Across Canada a number of universities have faculties of nursing and young women graduating from these schools have a degree and qualifications which pave the way for them to become directors or specialists in schools of nursing, or to become hospital administrators.

All hospitals of any size have at least one dietitian and the larger institutions have quite a number. This is a good career for young women and is interesting, worthwhile work. A training in household science or home economics is essential. Many types of food are required in a hospital, and these special diets make the work all the more interesting. In addition to the preparation of the food, it is the responsibility of the dietitian-in-charge to get meals to the patients hot and at the proper time. This takes fine teamwork and requires precision planning.

Still another good opening for women seeking a career in hospitals is in the physical therapy field. Today most, though not all, of our physical therapists are women. Most have been trained in one of the university courses and are highly intelligent in their handling of their patients. With greater knowledge of the value of physical therapy treatments, these departments work at a rapid rate.

An essential feature of the modern hospital is its careful recording of all medical data and information which relates to the patient's illness. Hospitals take special care to ensure accurate clinical records and, for this purpose, employ medical record librarians. Women desiring to become registered medical librarians (M.R.L.) can take special courses offered at various hospital centres. They then become familiar with the language of the medical profession, study approved indexing and coding procedures and learn how to file for handy reference the valuable data and facts on each patient's record.

For those in the field who have not and cannot take a complete course in this work, the Canadian Hospital Association and the Canadian Association of Medical Record Librarians jointly offer a special extension course. Medical record librarians can now take this course while actually employed in this work.

Turning next to the technical field, it is interesting to note that many young Canadian women find engrossing careers in the field of laboratory technical work. Under the general direction of the doctor in charge of the hospital laboratory, the actual work of the laboratory is done, to a large degree, by the technician, or technologist as these workers are frequently called. Training either in general laboratory work or in specialized laboratory fields can be obtained in a number of hospitals across Canada. Further information on this subject may be obtained from the Canadian Society of Laboratory Technologists, 294 Barton St. E., Hamilton, Ontario.

Other technicians have taken up other essential fields of work. Some test patients for various types of deafness; others check for correction of squint or cross-eyes, under the supervision of the ophthalmologist.

A somewhat allied technical field is that of the radiology technician, or radiographer. Much of the general work of the X-ray department is done by radiographers under the general direction of the radiologist. For those interested in photography, or in mechanical and electrical work, this is an engrossing and most enjoyable field.

One could go on and on and outline advantages of other possible careers in hospitals. These could include occupational therapy, social workers, nursing assistants, medical secretaries, office workers, elevator operators, telephone operators, receptionists, medical artists, medical photography and others.

Still another important position in every hospital is that of the house keeper. Although seldom seen by the average patient, the housekeeper has a quite responsible post for she has general charge of the maid service, the linen and the general housekeeping in the institution. This is a position frequently held by women in middle life and requires a great deal of executive ability.

Young Catholic women thinking of going into the Sisterhood, if they are interested in hospital work, might consider an Order which specializes in this work. There are several such Orders. Today many of the Sisterhoods permit nuns with special aptitude to train in various specialty fields such as nursing, laboratory work, radiology, medical records and pharmacy.

All in all, hospitals offer a wide variety of interesting and worthwhile careers for members of the gentler sex. Such work can be extremely pleasant for women who wish to be of service to others less fortunate than themselves on life's journey.

AUSTRALIAN JOURNEY

Melbourne Prepares For First Olympics In Southern Hemisphere

Third of Four Articles written by CWNA editorial representative and Quebec weekly editor John Freeman, who recently returned from a five-week trip to Australia.

My arrival at Sydney Airport via Canadian Pacific's "Empress of Amsterdam" had been accomplished by the popping of flashbulbs. I was distinghished only because I had carted a pair of skiis all the way across Canada in the summer, and then by aircraft over some 8,500 miles of Pacific Ocean!

I parried, successfully I thought, numerous questions on skiing (I have been on them twice in my life); the skiis were for an "Aussie" Air Force pal who wanted something particularly Canadian to remind him of happy days spent in Canada while a trainee under the Empire Training Scheme.

My eventual destination was Melbourne, and through excellent facilities available at the airport found myself aboard a Trans Australian Airlines DC-6 bound for Victoria's state capital within an hour of my arrival at Sydney. With its fine climate, Australia is one of the most air-minded countries in the world.

My fare for the 450-mile trip from Sydney to Melbourne (about the same distance as from Montreal to New York) came to approximately $20, and flying conditions, described in the latest Aussie vernacular, were "mighty."

"We'll Show The World"

I was particularly fortunate in meeting and becoming friendly with Press and Publicity officers in charge of arrangements for the 16th Olympic Games being held in Melbourne next year from November 22 to December 8th.

The foreboding of gloomy prophets that this city will "botch the games" is vigorously denied by citizens of all walks of life as well as officials who know that the games are too important to permit of anything but success.

It's not a question of "will they be a success?" but rather "How big a success will they be?"

John Loughlin, press officer, who will have the unenviable chore of looking after the needs of an estimated 1,000 press members expected at the Olympics, is a very quiet and unassuming man who has the God-given

Over 17000 workers in General Motors plant throughout Canada have gone on strike to force the company to meet their demands for a guaranteed annual wage and a hundred other concessions. Industrial workers have never enjoyed better working conditions than they do today. They are working less hours per day for higher rates of pay. Most of them are on a five-day week, enjoying hospital and surgical insurance benefits at the expense of their employers, have unemployment insurance, get paid for all statutory holidays and enjoy an annual vacation with pay. Maybe the owners of industrial plants should let the Union heads operate the plants and guarantee them an annual income!

Kemptville is going to take a vote on whether or not the residents are in favour of having a Government Liquor Store and Brewers' Warehouse located in that town. Judging from the large number of local citizens who make daily visits to the vendors of alcoholic beverages at Morrisburg and other centres, maybe such a vote should be taken in Winchester. We are definitely not in favour of beverage rooms or cocktail lounges, but it would be better for business in general if those who enjoy their spirited beverages could purchase them at home—they're going to get them regardless.

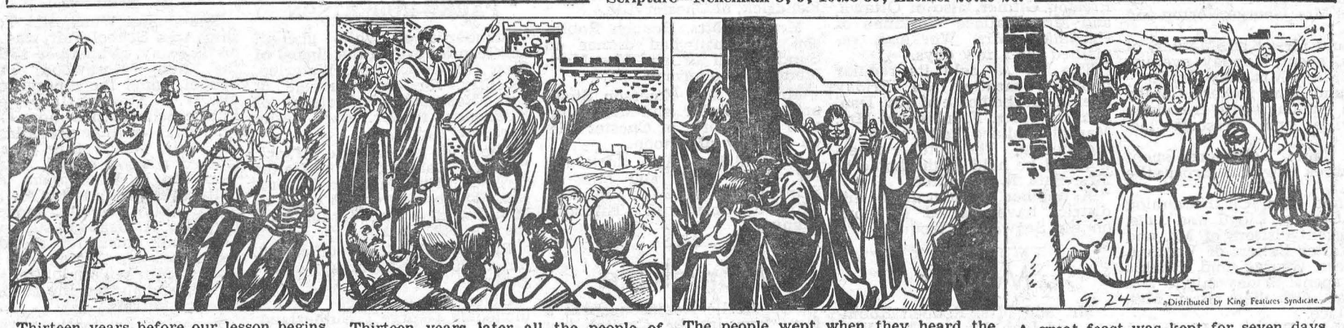
Renewed Allegiance to the Law — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Nehemiah 8; 9; 10:28-39; Ezekiel 20:19-20.



Thirteen years before our lesson begins, Ezra the scribe was sent from Babylon to Jerusalem on a mission of inspection. He gathered a large company who wished to return with him.

Thirteen years later all the people of Jerusalem gathered together in the street before the water gate and requested Ezra to read to them the book of the law.

The people wept when they heard the words of the law, but Ezra, Nehemiah and the Levites told them not to weep, for this was a holy day and they should rejoice.

A great feast was kept for seven days, then the people assembled with sackcloth and earth upon them and confessed their sins and worshipped their God.

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 119:34.

Renewed Allegiance to the Law

EZRA'S READING THE WORD OF GOD RESULTED IN A GREAT REVIVAL

Scripture—Nehemiah 8; 9; 10:28-39; Ezekiel 20:19-20.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THIRTEEN years before today's lesson begins, the scribe Ezra had been sent to Jerusalem on a mission of inspection. About 1,700 men accompanied him, among them some few whom he had persuaded to belong to the lower order of Levites.

He was able to accomplish some reforms, including the divorcing of Israelites from foreign women. What became of Ezra after this visit we do not know. Possibly, it has been suggested, he went back to Babylon in grief of the condition of his people and their indifference to Jehovah.

Since the first great revival, told to us in the seventh chapter of Nehemiah, seven years have gone by. Ezra has returned to Jerusalem (if he ever left it), and the people gathered together in the street before the water gate and asked Ezra to read to them the Book of the Law.

Ezra stood on a pulpit of wood which had been made for him, and he opened the book and read the laws of God to the assembled multitude, who listened attentively.

After the reading the people answered: "Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands; and they bowed their heads, and worshiped the Lord with their faces to the ground."

So touched were the people with the reading and interpretation of God's laws, explained to them by Nehemiah and Ezra, that they wept. They were told not to weep for "this day is holy unto the Lord," therefore rejoice, feast and be merry. So the people went home to feast and be happy.

On further hearing of the law, the people learned that they were instructed to celebrate the Feast of the Tabernacles in booths, so they gathered olive branches, and pine branches, branches of myrtle and palm, also branches of thick trees, and made booths upon the roofs of their houses and sat under the booths, "and there was great gladness." The feast lasted seven days.

"Now in the twenty and fourth day of this month the children of Israel were assembled with fasting, and with sackcloth clothes and earth upon them.

"And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers."

Toward the end of the prayers of confession, the people were commanded to stand up and bless the Lord their God, and the whole history of the blessings which Jehovah had bestowed upon them from their creation unto that day were reviewed. Then a covenant was made and written and the princes, Levites and priests put their seal upon it.

The people of Israel then promised not to marry their daughters or sons to foreign people, also to observe the law concerning their offerings to the Lord—giving the firstfruits of all they produced and tithes in all the cities; also the heave-offering of the new wine and oil.

"I am the Lord your God; walk in My statutes, and keep My judgments, and do them."

So the people of Israel turned back from their idolatrous ways and once more worshiped God who had forgiven and blessed them.

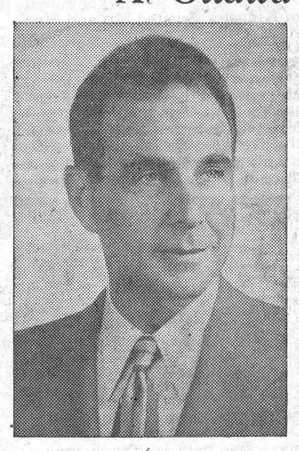
To Lecture At Ottawa



MR. JULES CERN, C.S.

The healing of sickness and other discords exclusively by prayer based on God's allness, will be the topic of a Christian Science lecture to be given at Ottawa on Thursday, September 29th, by Jules Cern, of New York City. Mr. Cern, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the Ottawa Technical High School, Albert St. at Bay, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Ottawa. His subject will be "Christian Science: Its Fundamental Teachings and Practical Use." The lecture is free, and the public is invited to attend.

A native of Dallas, Texas, Mr. Cern is on a nationwide lecture tour. He has devoted full time to the practice of Christian Science healing since 1935. Prior to that, he was an advertising executive for a large New York department store. After turning from advertising to the theatre, he appeared in three plays on Broadway and toured most of the United States and Canada. During World War II he was a Volunteer Wartime Worker at Governor's Island, New York.

Stadium Will Hold 104,000

Major features of Olympic Games preparations are the enlargement of the Melbourne Cricket Ground to accommodate 104,000 which will make it bigger than any stadium provided for past Olympics; construction of Olympic Park into a fiirst-class all purpose sporting centre to include a football field, velodrome and hockey field, an athletics and soccer field, as well as a new and most modernistic swimming stadium.

To house the thousands of athletes a brand new "Olympic Village" is being erected at a cost of some $4,000,000 with the attention to detail including such items as the provision of oversize beds to house seven-foot tall basketball players!

According to Press Officer Laughlin, "Prominent individuals as well as civic groups are out to boost Australian hospitality to the skies and visitors can be sure they will be made comfortable and most welcome."

No Olympic city has yet been able to provide hotel accommodation for all visitors and guests, and to overcome this problem Melbourne is conducting a campaign which has already made provision for 10,000 visitors in specially selected private homes.

These will be inspected by female hostesses (they're more fussy than men) before being O.K.'d as up to the required standard.

As part of the plan to make visitors feel at ease, lawyers, for instance, would be billeted with lawyers, printers with printers, and so on, so that a common ground for discussion and mutual enjoyment may be found.

"Dim View"

It's a matter of record that the adverse publicity Australia has received over the games was in part due to the fact that a labour strike was in progress during a visit made by Inter-

NEWLYWEDS HONOURED

About seventy-five friends and neighbours gathered at Mulloy School on Friday evening, September 16th, to honour Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McVey on their recent marriage. During the evening euchre and crokinole were played. Tap dance numbers by Carole Patterson and Dianne Dawley were greatly enjoyed, with Eldon Patterson at the piano.

Mrs. Ewen Gannon read an address enclosed in a beautiful bride's book designed by Mrs. Earle Hamilton. A hostess chair, end table and table lamp were presented to Gordon and Mary by Messrs. Earle Hamilton and Donald Findlay and Mrs. Alfred Findlay.

Gordon thanked the gathering for the lovely gifts received and invited all to visit them at their home in Ottawa, where Gordon is a member of the Police Force. After singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," lunch was served and a social time enjoyed by all.

The men of the church joined with the Guild for a social hour, after which the hostess served a delicious lunch, assisted by Mrs. K. Summers and Mrs. W. Acres.

NEWSMEN TOUR HYDRO PROJECTS ALONG THE ST. LAWRENCE

A special inspection tour of construction progress on the St. Lawrence Power Project, extending over a 35-mile stretch of the great river "highway" and including the Ontario Hydro powerhouse site, Iroquois and Long Sault dams and the new 30-bed Hydro hospital for construction workers, was made on Monday, September 19th, by more than 150 newspaper, radio and television representatives from many parts of the Province, and including many district weekly editors.

The large news group also saw a home lifted from its foundations by massive house-moving machinery and transported to the new Iroquois townsite.

Participating in the day's tour were key officials from both the Ontario Hydro and the Toronto Hydro Electric System. They included: Richard L. Hearn, Ontario Hydro Chairman; Honourable William K. Warrender, Q.C. and W. Ross Strike, Q.C., Vice Chairmen; Lt.-Col. A. A. Kennedy, Commissioner; A. W. Manby, General Manager; Dr. Otto Holden, Chief Engineer; Gordon Mitchell, Director St. Lawrence Power Project, Ontario Hydro; and officials of Toronto Hydro including Bertram Merson, Chairman; John McMechan, Vice Chairman; His Worship Mayor Nathan Phillips, Commissioner; and H. J. MacTavish, General Manager.

Watch future issues of the Press for late news notes pertaining to progress on the Hydro development, and key pictures of the work at Iroquois, Long Sault and other strategic centres along the river.

HOME HINTS

Do not use a knife for scraping pans to remove food that has adhered to them. Let them soak for a while and then use wire wool and cleanser. It is injurious to the pan and also to the knife when the latter is used for scraping.

Making Hems

One can insure that hems will be of an exact width, and can also save time, if a piece of cardboard is cut to the exact width desired, and about ten inches long, and used as a gauge. Begin the hem, then slip in the cardboard, moving it along as the hem progresses.

FEED NEWS

HOPPER SPACE FOR LAYERS

A Quaker feed folder gives the results of tests showing the effect of hopper space on egg production—

GIVE YOUR HENS "ELBOW ROOM"

"Hens must have adequate hopper space if top egg production is expected. They need 6 inches of feeder space per bird.

The effect of hopper space on egg production is illustrated in the results of a recent test which covered 5 separate studies using 553 pens.

The figures below show the average production per bird for a laying season using various amounts of feeder space.

FEEDER SPACE PER BIRD
Half Inch	122 eggs
One Inch	150 eggs
Two Inches	178 eggs
Three Inches	195 eggs
Four Inches	198 eggs
Five Inches	212 eggs
Six Inches	219 eggs

There was no significant increase in egg production when feeder space in excess of 6 inches was provided."

A BETTER SUPPLY OF WESTERN GRAIN IN SIGHT

Recent changes in Wheat Board regulations should provide a better supply of Western Oats and Barley in eastern positions for the fall and winter months.

The Wheat Board does not store stocks of these feed grains east of Fort William. The grain companies were very hesitant about bringing grain down because they had no assurance that the Board would not drop the prices on these large stocks, resulting in quite heavy losses to the companies.

Now the grain companies can bring the grain down and pay for it at the current price on the date they sell it. This gives them their handling charges without risk of loss should the Board decide to drop the prices of this grain in storage.

This new arrangement should be a decided improvement over former years when we had to pay premiums and extra freight charges because of shortage of western grain in eastern positions.

Step by step, the world's longest microwave radio relay system—being built jointly by members of the Trans-Canada Telephone System is taking shape. Designed to carry television programs and telephone calls across the continent by 1958, the system—including spurs—will be 4,300 miles long, with 155 relay stations. It will link most major centres of Canada from Sydney, N. S., to Vancouver, B. C. Building this communications "sky way" is a vast project requiring many diverse skills. Peter Misnakaskang (upper left), a woodsman from Long Lac, is one of 35 Indians clearing sites in Northern Ontario. Trees must be cut, rock blasted and roads built before a relay station can be established in this rugged terrain. Skilled engineers determine the exact route of the network by means of slender temporary test towers, such as this one (lower left) thrusting 200 feet skyward on a tentative site near Halifax. With the sites chosen, work begins on the permanent station. The towers at each location, ranging in height to 350 feet, will be topped by huge antennae resembling a giant sugar-scoop (upper right). The micro-waves are amplified at each station and relayed by the antennae to the next station in the system. Even as the towers are being erected, technicians work inside the equipment buildings installing intricate electronic apparatus (lower right).

national Olympic Committee Chairman Avery Brundage who, quite naturally, took a "dim view" when he saw two lone workmen on the Games site!

Actually the organizing committee's June "progress report" showed all work to be either ahead of, or else on schedule.

Bet On Aussie Swimmers

The Australians expect their own athletes to do well under "home conditions" and I was told to "put a couple of dollars on the Aussies to clean up the swimming events"—this is the "good gen." from the most sports-conscious people on the globe.

With a mere ten million people they won no less than six gold medals at the last Olympics held at Helsinki in 1952.

Overseas visitors may book tickets to the various events, in advance, from travel agents and airlines.

Tourist Attractions Galore

It was not until 1788—some thirty years after Wolfe took Quebec, that the first boatload of settlers and convicts arrived in Australia.

Yet in this country so much younger than Canada there is a great awareness of the importance of the tourist trade, and Canadians are welcomed like long-lost cousins by the Australians, who have never forgotten the hospitality showered upon their own airmen when they were in Canada during the war days.

Sydney, the second largest "white city" in the Commonwealth, (Montreal is third) is a modern metropolis with a wonderful climate, and boasts more hours of sunshine than any other capital city in the country.

For a visitor, Sydney is an excellent base for operations until he becomes accustomed to the land and climate, and there he is within easy distance of many tourist attractions.

The newest and currently most popular of these is "Surfers' Paradise," on the coast north of Sydney. As the name implies visitors can enjoy a beach and surfing second to none, with modern accommodation and facilities at a price which gives added value and a bright new look to the Canadian dollar.

For example, rooms at various hotels and guest houses vary from $3 to $6 a day (including breakfast), and apartments are also available from $6 per day per person.

Don't do what I did—book in at a Sydney hotel and then take my breakfast at a cafe . . . being unaware that I was paying for same with my room!

Another one of the newer resort spots is Hayman Island lying off the Queensland coast. Here, modern twin bed suites, somewhat similar to the latest American motel, can be obtained for $5 per day per person.

Take A Ferry Ride!

Sydney is world-famous, and so is its fine and beautiful harbour which is criss-crossed by ferries taking commuters to and from work.

To fill in an hour or two I caught the ferry from downtown Sydney to Manly (of Beach fame)—a thirty-five minute run each way at a cost of about twenty-five cents return.

While in Sydney I was fortunate in being the guest of Norman Ellison, Canadian Pacific Airlines public relations representative, well-known journalist, and generally considered to be the dean of Australian Aeronautical writers.

Ellison is a member of the fabulous Tattersalls' Club in Sydney which has a turf background and is world famous. Wonders to be seen there include its swimming pool on the third floor and the "Settlement Room" where once every week on "Settlement Day" race wagers are paid off, and don't think the Aussie is a piker when it comes to betting.

I met Ken Ranger, well-known Sydney bookmaker, who may carry over fifty thousand pounds on a single race. If you can wrangle a visit to this club I guarantee you'll enjoy the experience.

And one more thought—when in Sydney don't miss trying the local crayfish. A medium size one tips the scales at two pounds and the white flesh is a gourmet's delight . . . but the local oysters, while delicious, are babies compared to what we get here in Eastern Canada.

Waltzing Matilda

There is nothing more Australian, better known overseas, than the title of the country's unofficial National anthem, "Waltzing Matilda." The origin of the title is in keeping with the feelings in the hearts of this land's sons, wherever they may be.

A "swagman" who roamed the state of New South Wales became married to a girl (against her parents' wishes) by the name of Matilda and took her with him on his wanderings in the Australian bush. According to the story the couple were perfectly happy for many years in this strange existence until the wife became ill and eventually died.

The widowed swagman in his sorrow and loneliness would prop his swag (rolled blanket and small belongings) against a tree and talk to it as he used to his wife, all the time addressing the swag as "Matilda."

Hence when you are carrying your swag you're always "Waltzing Matilda."

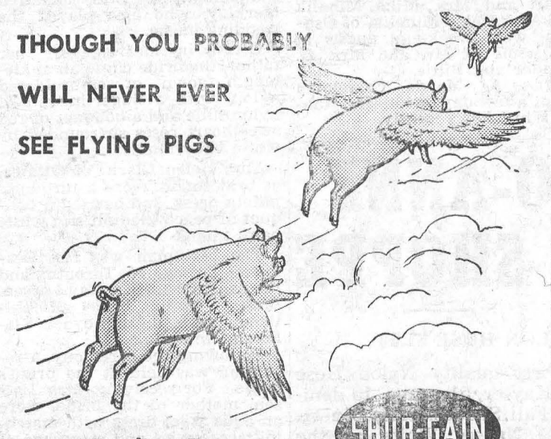
THOUGH YOU PROBABLY WILL NEVER EVER SEE FLYING PIGS



Your Feeding Returns Will SOAR When You BALANCE YOUR GRAIN With SHUR-GAIN HOG CONCENTRATE

Well, maybe the thought of flying pigs is a little far-fetched, but it does serve to illustrate two things about pig feeding

First, anything that flies is usually well balanced. And your home grown grain needs to be balanced with SHUD-GAIN Hog Concentrate, because grain alone can't supply protein, vitamins and minerals in levels required by swine for fast, economical growth.

Second, things with the power of flight are able to soar. And that's just what your hog feeding returns will do when you add SHUR-GAIN Hog Concentrate. Instead of using 1,100 pounds of grain to put a hog to market, you'll find that about 550 pounds of grain, plus 100 pounds of SHUR-GAIN Hog Concentrate will do it. And do it quicker. So you're money ahead two ways—you save grain and you save labour.

Call in and talk over your hog feeding plans with us.
