WDMH looks at joint chemotherapy site

Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

WINCHESTER—Winchester Hospital is looking at signing an affiliation agreement with Cancer Care Ontario, which would see a chemotherapy site in Winchester in conjunction with Kemptville Hospital.

A planning committee of representatives has been set up between the hospitals to look at the kind of community needs for the service. "There's not enough to set one up solely for Winchester, but with the greater area including Morrisburg, Russell, etc., there's sufficient volume to offer a level one satellite program with Cancer Care Ontario," said WDHS Chief Executive Officer Joseline Sikorski.

This process is happening simultaneously with the Hospital signing an agreement to be a satellite with the Ontario Breast Screening Program.

"There's a certain type of chemotherapy can be safely administered here. We'd like to build a program around a complete approach, with support and input from the community," said Sikorski. "We need time and direction and support from everyone in the area, including leadership through Ottawa Cancer Care".

"We hope to plan together to support people to access and move through the system. It wouldn't just be treatment," she added.

The Hospital is linked with community groups such as Hospice and Community Care Access, which would act as support groups for the satellite program.

A satellite for chemotherapy would have to have the same standards and quality of care as cancer units in Ottawa. The Hospital would also have representation on the Ottawa Council of Cancer Care Ontario, a body which acts like a board and brings a regional perspective to cancer care programs.

In addition, Winchester Hospital is building partnerships with Hawkesbury Hospital to look at opportunities for service sharing.

"This would not be a clinical partnership, this would be administrative, and financial support partnerships to see if we can work around administrative and support services. We'd look at information systems which are well developed to link in ways to improve our data base and efficiency," said Sikorksi.

"We'll see if we can work together through economies of scale like joint purchasing."

Working with other organizations to share information services can help optimize time, and follows the direction of the Health Services Restructuring Commission and the Rural and Northern Health Framework, Sikorski continued.

Winchester Hospital will be working with the same budget in 1998/1999 as last year, and is not anticipating a decrease in its budget. According to the equitable funding formula, hospitals which are more cost efficient in providing care, are rewarded through funding, whereas costlier hospitals have money taken away. "It makes for difficult decisions," said Sikorski.

"We're willing to form committees with other organizations to be more efficient to redirect any savings to protect clinical services."

Seventh Yard Sale drew crowds

Williamsburg's seventh annual Yard Sale drew crowds despite scattered showers during the morning. The plant sale for Winchester Hospital pictured here attracted quite a few buyers. "Everything went well, considering the weather," said Williasmburg Community Association president David Lapier. "But next year, considering the conflict with Cedar Glen Open and other events, we may move it to a later date, and perhaps combine it with the Perennial Plant Exchange."

Cleary's breakfast draws good crowd

MORRISBURG—A Sunday breakfast at the Morrisburg Meeting Center hosted by Cornwall MPP John Cleary drew approximately 120 participants.

The breakfast, which was cosponsored by the Stormont Dundas provincial Liberals started at 10 a.m. and wound up around 1 p.m.

"We were particularly pleased to see so many from the western part of the riding," said George Assaly, riding association president.

While boundaries of the Stormont Dundas & Glengarry and East Grenville provincial riding have changed to those of the Stormont Dundas federal riding, until the next provincial election Cleary's jurisdiction is still over the City of Cornwall, Cornwall Township, and Charlottenburgh Township.

Cleary said he was pleased at the response, and the opportunity to meet old acquaintances and new ones as well. "I know the organizers of this event had planned it for a long time, and worked hard at it. I thank them for that and the staff for putting on this meal for us," he said.

This was the first event held by Cleary in the western part of the riding. Past president of the SD & G and East Grenville provincial Liberals and past candidate Denis Sabourin said the response was so good, it may well become an annual event.

Cleary's next hosted social event will be the annual provincial Liberal Strawberry Social held in June at the Best Western Parkway in Cornwall.

Lions perform to sold-out crowds

by Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—"All the world's a stage," as Shakespeare once wrote, and no one has proven this so well as the Iroquois Matilda Lions.

In the production "You Can't Take It With You" by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, the service club tackled a fast-paced comedy, with many characters and lots of interdependent action.

The play revolves around a mismatch between two families as different as night from day, the happy-go-lucky Sycamores and the business-minded Kirbys. The true course of love runs awry as Tony Kirby falls in love with Alice Sycamore, his financier father's secretary, and the Kirbys come for dinner on the wrong evening,

The Kirby's are business-minded folk, while the Sycamores appear to be pleasure-loving diletanttes, involved in entertaining but not necessarily remunerative activities such as the creation of fireworks, playwriting, printing, dancing and artwork.

As far as Grandpa, Martin Vanderhof, (Charles Marsden), is concerned, that's all right, as long as they're having fun. Having dropped out of the rat race years ago, Vanderhof now has time for enjoyable pursuits, and encourages others to do the same. "You can't take it with you," he says.

Just a few problems arise when the Internal Revenue Service start investigating his finances (Grandpa doesn't believe in Income Tax), and the police start looking into subversive messages printed by Ed Carmichael played by Rick Mackenzie. The Justice Department arrives on the scene, and get really interested as they hear the discharges of fireworks from the basement.

Among the noteworthy performances were Seaway High student Hollie Duvall, who played the ingenue Alice Sycamore, who is stymied in her efforts at changing her family to meet the Kirby's expectations. While not detracting from the comedy, Alice and Tony (Adam Millard) provide a few genuinely romantic moments in a couple of scenes.

Diversity adds interest

Glenn Swerdfeger drew many laughs as an obsessive creator of fireworks, and a person who at times had trouble dressing himself. The audience appeared to love Bill Mustard as Mr. De Pinna, the ice man so infatuated with his image as a discus thrower, he begged Mrs. Sycamore to finish her incomplete portrait.

Margaret Swerdfeger was hilarious as Penelope Sycamore, a flighty dilettante, and Alice's mother, who follows every step of her daughter's romance.

Raina DeJong, plays Essie Carmichael, the Sycamores other daughter, whose earnest efforts at dancing bring more laughter than admiration. Ed Carmichael, (Rick Mackenzie) plays her husband, who is also an amateur printer, xylophonist and deliverer of Essie's candies.

Charlie Marsden, a perennial favorite with the audiences, was well cast as Grandpa, the paternal head of the Sycamore clan.

Barry Fawcett showed his comic talent as Boris Kolenkhov, the overly serious Russian dancing master.

Mr. Kirby (Martin Habraken) played a credible Wall Street financier who undergoes a conversion at the end of the play to the carefree attitude of the Sycamores.

Mrs. Kirby (Donna Fawcett) provided some delicious moments as she gestured her discomfort at the Sycamores free lifestyle, and nearly fainted at the sight of Grandpa's collection of snakes. Gay Wellington, (Elizabeth Asselin) added to the humour as Mrs. Sycamore's inebriated actress friend, who really does pass out at the sight of snakes.

While a funny play, there was lots of interesting comments on the 1930's, and political themes of the day. The contrast between the two families reveal divergent views, which are still widely held in our society.

The play is appealing in its diversity, as it incorporates political themes of the time, with the exotic. Kolenkhov and Olga, The Countess (Barbara Habraken) touch on issues such as the Russian Revolution, and incorporate a romantic element, linked to the plight of aristocracy in exile.

Ruth Robertson was coy as Rheba the Maid, and Andrew McCourt as a country bumpkin on the dole, added to the performance. Henderson from the Internal Revenue (Judy Barkey) and the J-Men, Jim Locke, and Albert DeJong rounded out the play with their characters diversity.

The play involved 18 Lions and their wives in the cast, and other Lions and their families in set construction, props, costumes, and make-up. Seaway High teachers and students helped with woodworking, publicity and the program.

Funny and fluid

Of special note were the efforts of Wendy Gibb, whose direction and comic talent helped mold this play into a very funny, and fluid performance.

Publicist Raina DeJong said the actors had worried about the third act, which seemed anticlimactic in comparison to the first and second. "But she added little things to it and it turned out funny," DeJong said.

The many hours of hard work evidently paid off, as the actors combined efforts into a most entertaining production. The play was sold out Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, and the House was approximately half full for the Saturday matinee. "We were very pleased with the turnout," DeJong stated. "It was the first time we had a full house Thursday night, which is usually close to Saturday in terms of attendance."

While all expenses aren't in yet, the play has made a profit, DeJong continued. Proceeds will be split half and half between the Upper Canada Playhouse, and various charities the Lions support.

This was the Iroquois Matilda Lions eighth production as an entertaining and effective fund raiser.

Sage Age Theater drew laughs

The Sage Age Theater Group from Lanark, pictured here, amused the volunteers at Park Lane Senior Support Center on Volunteer Appreciation evening. Their skits included witty commentary on such subjects as "No Sex Please, We're Retired", "Don't Patronize Me" and "Open Door Retirement Villa".

Volunteer Appreciation Night

Catherine Thompson

WILLIAMSBURG—Volunteer Appreciation Night at Park Lane Seniors Support Center here last Wednesday, drew approximately 80 volunteers out of a possible 150.

Director of the Center, Janet Levere welcomed the volunteers, and thanked them for their year-round efforts. Last year, the two biggest events were the opening of the Stampville Center, and surviving the "Ice Storm" '98. But even during that disaster, "we only missed one day of delivering Meals on Wheels".

Trevor Tolley, chair of Williamsburg Non-Profit Housing noted how increasingly important the work of volunteers has become. "We're more and more dependent on the work of volunteers, especially with the expansion of work at Outreach Support Services to include new programs and new people."

From April 1, 1997 to March 1, 1998, 147 volunteers gave 5,748 hours of their time to the Center, and nine Board members devoted a great many hours looking after the operation.

A total of 1,384 Meals on Wheels were delivered throughout two townships, and 4,136 Diners Club meals were served.

Some 214 individuals made 2,310 trips with the help of the Seniors Van, and 411 "friendly visits" were made. Caregiver Support included 5,327 hours of respite care, an increasing number as patients are released earlier from hospital.

Some 1,696 social or recreational activities were held, there were199 visits for Foot Care, and 205 contacts for Home Help.

"Everyone goes the extra mile, and we appreciate the assistance you give us," said Levere.

Judging from the response, the seniors greatly enjoyed the humerous skits performed by the Sage Age Theater group, based in Lanark County.

$5M for long-term care beds

TORONTO—Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry and Prescott-Russell counties will receive $5 million to improve service for existing long-term care beds and $2.6 million in funding for community health services as part of the government's historic $1.2 billion expansion of long-term care services, Noble Villeneuve, MPP for Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry and East Grenville announced today on behalf of the Premier and Health Minister Elizabeth Witmer.

"These local investments are part of the largest expansion of health services such as Meals-on-Wheels, homemaking, in-home nursing and therapists.

"We are taking the necessary steps to build a health system that will meet the current and future needs of our growing and aging population, and ensure that Ontarians have access to the highest standard of long-term care," said Villeneuve. "This investment will strengthen community services for the elderly, improve the quality of life of people who live in nursing homes and homes for the aged, take pressure off hospitals and emergency rooms and create thousands of construction and front-line health jobs in this province.

"Expansion of long-term care services and the addition of new long-term care beds are part of our plan to rebalance the health system so that we can meet Ontario's changing health needs in the coming years," Witmer said.

Happy Mother's Day

The mothers in our society are the most important single group of us all. For without them, the human race, and all its accomplishments, all its knowledge and all its potential would very quickly disappear from the face of the earth forever.

On one Sunday each year—this year, it's May 10—most of us in the Western world pay tribute to our own mothers, or to their memories. But besides being the second Sunday of May, Mother's Day means many things to many people. One mother has listed a few of them.

It is an afternoon spent at the neighborhood coffee shop, where the main subjects of conversation are first smiles, first teeth, first steps, first words, and the first potty-training triumph.

It is the day your kids decide to bathe the cat.

It is the day you found you had survived the terrible twos and threes, and then burst into tears the first day of school.

It is the day you found three mouldy plates under the livingroom sofa.

It is the day you received two misshapen clay pots and a crepe paper corsage for your birthday.

It is the day you lead a cheer in a cold arena at 6 a.m.

It is the day your children balk at having a baby sitter.

It is the day they say, "I love you, Mom", instead of "Ah, gee, do I have to?"

It is the day that you realize that your child is one of your very best friends.

Mother's Day was originated to give thanks and to pay tribute to that very important person who has done more for you, and has sought less in return, than anyone else ever has or ever will. It is an opportunity for each one of us to acknowledge our great debt to all mothers everywhere, for the important gifts of love and life which they bring to every human who was ever born.

In spite of today's generally smaller families, motherhood remains still the most challenging, and the most rewarding career of all. Who, but a mother, would be willing to make so many sacrifices for another? Who can possible share so intimately the joys in accomplishment, triumphs and tragedies which come into everyone's life?

Everyone loves mothers—young mothers, older mothers, grandmothers, great-grandmothers. They keep the world going and growing. They teach love, kindness and compassion. They are most richly deserving of every accolade on Mother's day and every day of the year.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles by Laurie Day

Stormont-Dundas MP Norm Warner announced he would not seek re-election. Elected to the House of Commons in 1984, Warner said he decided to return to private life to spend more time with his wife and son and his insurance business. "It's something I've been considering for a few months," he said. "We're now getting down to the next election and I felt I should make the decision. It will give me time to wind down some things I've been working on and give someone else time to prepare."

Over 150 applications were received by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission for the position of general manager there. The former GM Robert Cook, abruptly handed in his resignation the previous month. The job paid between $60,000 and $80,000 and interviews had begun. The hiring decision would be made by a panel consisting of a deputy minister for Tourism and Recreation, the Ontario government's executive development committee and SLPC chairman George Speal from Kingston.

Dr. J.G. Marston from the St. Lawrence Medical Clinic met with Iroquois councillors to discuss a new lease. The previous lease between the medical clinic and the village expired in December. Dr. Marston said the doctors were agreeable to signing another five-year lease, but asked councillors to consider some other points: ie, building a driveway encircling the clinic to allow more convenient drop-off for disabled patients; and obtaining more space in the waiting-room area.

Headlines in the May 3 issue of The Leader read: Lions win ODJHL championship. The Morrisburg Jr. B Lions finished the hockey season with their second championship in three years, with a 3-2 victory at home over the Richmond Royals. It was the Lions third consecutive appearance in the league final. Scoring for the local team in the fifth and final game of the series were Richie Boprey, Kevin Mackler and Jeff Cassell. Cassell fired the game-winner late in the third period. Pictured on the front page of The Leader were Bryan Rutley, Bob McNairn and Jeff Cassell, all of whom had played on the Lions first championship team in the 1975-76 season. The team was made up of 11 rookies and six veterans and late in the season Richie Boprey and Steve Morin of the United States were acquired to bolster the line-up. The team was coached by Brian McNairn and Mike Felker and the trainer was Richard Baker. It was owned by John Rice and Gerry Hess. In four best-of-seven playoff series, the Lions had lost in the first round and the other to Richmond.

Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley was the unanimous choice of the local Liberal Association for the rumored election. He hadn't been defeated since entering the political ring when he first sought the Cornwall City mayor's seat. His second charge led him to a Federal seat in 1974.

Goaltender Donnie McNairn who led the morrisburg Jr. B Lions to their first ever ODJHL championship in 1975-76 hockey season, was named first goaltender for the National Junior College Athletic Association All American All Star Team. He was attending Canton College on a hockey scholarship along with Herbie Byers, formerly of the Cardinal Jr. B Broncos, who was also picked up as an all-star player.

The May 10 issue of The Leader reported that Morrisburg's tax levy, broken down, showed $59,000 for village operation, $61,000 county rate, $73,600 secondary school, $41,600 public school, and $4,800 separate school.

Standards of pink snapdragons adorned the altar at St. Mary's Church, Morrisburg, for the marriage of Margaret Mary Linda Laurin to Robert (Bob) George Barclay.

Across town, at the St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Constance Elaine Duvall became the bride of Carson Edward (Ted) Smith.

At the Dominion, a two-pound tray of tomatoes was 69 cents and bacon was 69 cents a pound.

In the May 9 issue of The Leader, the Thom Insurance Agency announced that Allan Cassleman had joined the staff and was preparing to leave for Hartford Connecticut, where he would receive his training.

The community centre project received a boost with the formation of a fund-raising committee chaired by Ron Allain. Ed Cornell was the business manager, Mrs. Hoston Meikle dance organizer and Mona Barr program director.

The interest rate on savings deposits at the Bank of Montreal was 2.75 per cent.

Ross Beckstead of Williamsburg had wood for sale at $5,50 a cord.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: On behalf of the Reunion Committee of North Dundas District High School, we would like to invite former students and staff to a 35th Reunion celebration on the long weekend in May, 1998.

On Saturday May 16 at the Winchester Community Centre we will have a dinner and dance. Dinner is catered by AJ's and the dance will feature Ambush, a very popular live band. Tickets of $35 per person are available at the Country Boy in Winchester, The Brookslyn in Chesterville, or by calling the school at 613-448-2328. On Sunday May 17 there will be an Open House at the school from 1-4 p.m. Many of the school groups both past and present will be featured. Plan for a great weekend of fun and reminiscing.

Dear Editor: On April 28, 1998 the Liberal Party of Canada showed their true colors to Canadians. This was not Liberal compassionate red, but rather Liberal "Havana style democracy" red—as John Nunziata so aptly described it.

Jean Chretien demanded that all Liberal MP's toe the party line and vote against the hepatitis C victims compensation package bill put forth by the Reform Party, and in effect turn a heartless, cold shoulder on these helpless fellow Canadians. Jean Chretien said this was a matter of confidence in the government. However, this could not be further from the truth, as precedence in parliamentary rules clearly demonstrates that a vote on such a bill would definitely not be considered a matter of confidence. In fact, the Leader of the Official Opposition, Preston Manning, wrote to each Liberal MP to inform them that he would absolutely not consider it a vote of confidence.

Despite the opportunity to vote with their consciences, Liberal MPs were forced, like a flock of sheep, to follow with blind faith the wishes of their leader, or face reprimand if they defied his authority. This same tactic has been used before by Jean Chretien, and it appears the real reason behind it is to kill any bills originating from the other parties regardless of their merit.

The Reform bill would have created a no-fault financial compensation package, so later law suits against the government would not have been a concern. It also would have extended compensation to all those infected and not just those during the period from 1986 to 1990. In fact, the Krever Report noted that HIV victims infected from 1987 onwards received compensation, and that anything less for other victims of this tainted blood tragedy would be unconscionable.

The bottom line is that this is about showing compassion for all victims and their families, who are now paying the ultimate price because of past governments who were afraid to deal with this issue. These people now deserve to be dealt with fairly. Our current system of government, whereby it is demanded that MP's vote the party line, is standing in the way of fairness, and this must change.

Upper Canada Village opens May 16

MORRISBURG—Upper Canada Village has awoke from its hibernation and gearing up for a fun-filled season of historical entertainment and drama.

The Village will officially open for its 38th season on Saturday, May 16. On Sunday and Monday, May 17 and 18, visitors will be able to join the Village townsfolk in honoring Queen Victoria on her birthday.

The drop sheets and dust mops have been put away and festivities have been planned for the entire family.

On the program are a militia muster, athletic games and demonstrations, a fire engine trial, an infantry encampment and a special patriotic ceremony.

On Sunday and Monday afternoon, villagers will gather to celebrate her Majesty Queen Victoria's birthday, and the arrival of spring. Following invigorating historical speeches by village dignitaries, visitors will be ready to join in the singing of "God Save the Queen".

During the afternoons, there will be plenty of opportunity for children of all ages to experience the past. Parents and youngsters are invited to attend the ever popular "Temperance Society Meeting", watch the sedentary militia muster and the fire engine trial (trial Sunday only) with the Village's flashy hand-pumping engine called "The Queen" and lace up for foot races and many other games taking place at the Village Fairgrounds.

Visitors will want to make time for browsing through the Village Store which is stocked with many new crafts, products and Village souvenirs.

Admission to Upper Canada Village is $12.75 for adults, $11.75 for seniors, $9.25 for students, and $6.25 for children 5-12 years of age. Children four and under are admitted free of charge. Visitors may want to take advantage of three great specials: people can come back the next day for free (with receipt), or save by purchasing a family day pass (10% discount) or purchase the new Ambassador Pass.

Garden delights

Garden enthusiasts should mark May 23 and 24 on their calendar to be sure not to miss the Village's Heirloom Plant Sale.

Upper Canada Village is open daily from May 16 to October 12 from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The Village is located one hour southeast of Ottawa, 11 km east of Morrisburg and 24 km west of Cornwall on County Road No. 2 (formerly Highway No. 2), Exit 758 off Highway No. 401.

WDMH in position to become satellite program with Ontario Breast Screening

Catherine Thompson
Leader Staff

WINCHESTER—The Winchester District Memorial Hospital is in a position to become a satellite program with the Ontario Breast Screen ing Program.

The Hospital was recently advised of their status by the Division of Preventative Oncology, Breast Screening Program in Toronto.

Through the In Memoriam and general funds of the Winchester Hospital Auxiliary, WDHS purchased a new state of the art mammography unit last fall. This replaced the equipment which had been in place since the unit was originally set up in 1994, through the William Marcellus estate.

"We'll be required to sign an affiliation agreement to ensure we support the standards they have developed for breast screening, and we'll have to submit to a physicist's review of the equipment. This is a standard process which ensures calibration of equipment is accurate," Sikorski continued.

"We don't anticipate any problems. We have the most current technology with the new machine brought to us by the Hospital Auxiliary," she said.

Once Winchester Hospital becomes a satellite site, the Hospital will be funded to offer the service through a specific program under the umbrella of Cancer Care Ontario.

As a satellite, the Hospital will be able to offer a comprehensive program which will include education and links with support services. Women will be taught breast self examination, and there will be clinical examination with actual screening.

Mammography has been proven effective in cancer prevention, since it can detect smaller invasive lesions which are impossible to feel or palpate.

The number of mammographies here has gone up over the last couple of years, said Sandra Jennings, manager of Programs and Clinical Services. In 1996, there were 1,389 mammograms and in 1997, the unit was averaging 150 a month, for a rough estimate of 1800 a year.

"There's an increased interest as people know it's available, and an increased demand for services," said Jennings.

Linking up with Ontario Breast Screening means women will be able to refer themselves directly to the service. They may also choose between screening at the satellite, or at an Ontario Screening Program Center.

TR Leger offers Computer Day Camp

MORRISBURG—The T.R. Leger School is pleased to be offering their popular Computer Day Camp to local children again this summer, during the months of July and August.

The week long camps will be scheduled across the three united counties and located in the T.R. Leger satellite campuses in Morrisburg, Winchester and Alexandria.

The camp has, for the second year, been awarded funding from Industry Canada through the Information Highway, Science and Entrepreneurship (ISE) Camps initiative in recognition of exemplary programming. The funding to be received is twice that granted last year.

The T.R. Leger camp is one of only 35 camps to be awarded funding nationally and one of only 10 Ontario camps to be so honoured.

T.R. Leger Dean of Program and Camp Coordinator, Brenda King, reports that "all funding will be committed to the salary of camp counsellors". Brendan Shane, a graduate of North Dundas High School and presently enrolled in the concurrent education program at Queen's University, has accepted the role of Lead Counsellor. His work developing and teaching the camp's innovative curriculum for the last three summers has been a large part of the camp's success in this community.

Each camp week is designated as either a "Kids Camp" or "Cyber Teen Camp" and the Internet component of the camp has been dramatically increased as assessed in the T.R. Leger state-of-the-art Pentium labs.

Additional information on registering a camper or applying for a position as a counsellor can be received by calling the T.R. Leger School in Morrisburg at 543-2375, Winchester at 774-0222, Alexandria at 525-1700 or Cornwall 936-1825. Applicants for counsellor positions must be electronically registered on the National Graduate Register at http://ngr.schoolnet.ca.

Time for heartworm testing, vaccinations

by Dr. Norene Hyatt-Gervais

MORRISBURG—Animal Health Week is this week. What does that mean?

Does it mean that your local vet reminds you to have your animals vaccinated and your dogs heartworm tested?

Does it mean that the Humane Society begs the general population to spay and neuter their pets? Yes to both these questions but that is only the tip of the iceberg as they say.

Animals play a huge role in our lives. As the owner of two dogs and three cats I can testify to the value of pets in the household. Watching our dog "Cassidy" hunt for frogs in the pond with my son, and our cat "Duke" cuddle up to my daughter at story time, I can't imagine life without them.

HOWEVER life with pets is not for everyone. There is a tremendous amount of work and sometimes a huge aggravation! If you are not ready to housetrain them, exercise them, clean up after them, teach them not to eat your couch or jump on your grandmother, vaccinate them, spay or neuter them, worm them, play with them, groom them and teach your kids how to care for them, etc. etc. (whew!) don't bother getting a pet.

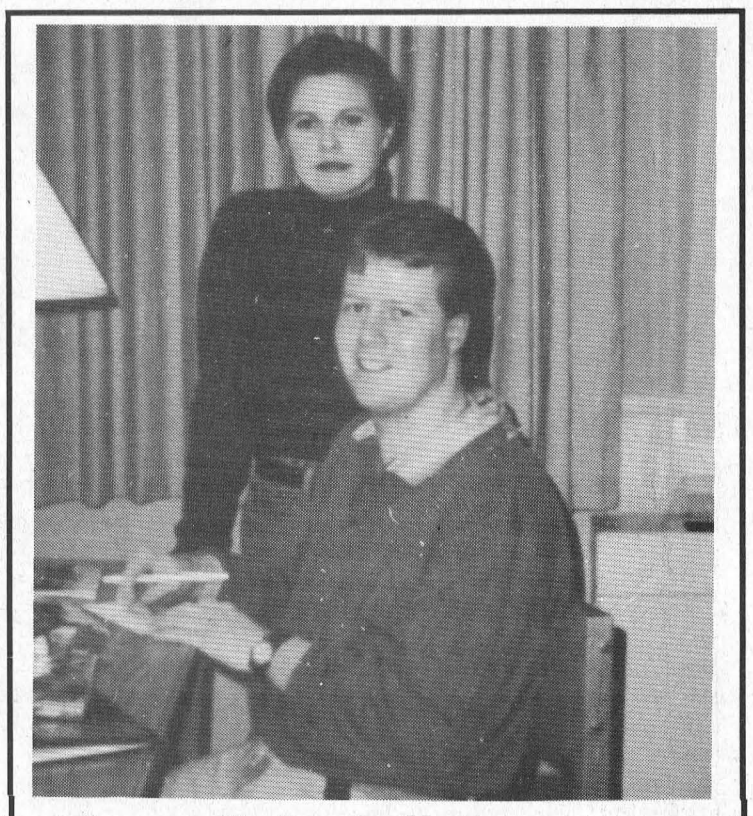
As a vet doctor, I can tell you that dogs and cats are not for everyone. There is a huge selection of pets available, so when your 10 year old is begging for a dog right now, do some research. Look for a hamster, guinea pig, fish, gerbil, or other small pet that is a "smaller" commitment. They can be just as much fun and can teach your child a lot about owning a pet. Be careful not to combine females and males or you may inadvertently teach your child about rodent reproduction (the length of pregnancy in a mouse is 21 days!).

All this and I haven't even discussed the role that agricultural animals and wildlife play. Suffice it to say that we have a better world with them, than we would without them. Let's appreciate what we have and take care of it.

So- - -yes, vaccinate your pets and yes, spay and neuter them to prevent them from contributing to the hundreds of dogs and cats that are destroyed by our local humane society alone in a year.

This is not rhetoric, this is common sense. Anyone who has worked in a humane society will convince you that having to kill dozens of pets in your work week is a miserable thing to do. Picking the next pet to go is even worse.

Please don't let your cat have a litter of kittens just so the kids can see the miracle of life—there are just not enough homes. Convince your kids that the miracle of life is sharing your life with a happy, well-looked after pet.



Forthcoming Marriage

Roy Henderson and Gert Clark of Nova Scotia are pleased to announce the marriage of their daughter Michelle to Mike, son of Bob and Linda Barclay of Morrisburg. The marriage will take place at St. Mary's Catholic Church on Friday, May 8th at 6:00 p.m. Open reception to follow at Morrisburg Legion beginning at 8 p.m.

Police File

Major injuries in accident

A Finch Twp. man sustained major injuries last Wednesday night, approximately 11:07 p.m., when the vehicle he was driving struck a culvert.

Curtis Manley, 29, had to be extricated from the 1987 Ford pick-up he was driving after he failed to negotiate a curve on County Road 12, about two kilometers north of Finch. The vehicle then entered a ditch and collided with a culvert. He was trapped in the vehicle until the Finch Volunteer Fire Department was able to free him using the jaws of life. The truck received extensive damage.

Manley was then transported to the Ottawa General Hospital with major injuries to his head, chest and pelvic areas. Const. A. Duval, who is investigating the accident with the help from an OPP reconstructionist, says alcohol may have been a contributing factor.

Counterfeit cash

On April 28, OPP received a report involving the passing of counterfeit money in Winchester. In early April, a local business had been the recipient of a $50 bill, which was later found to be counterfeit. The bill was tendered to pay for a small purchase which allowed for a large portion of 'change' to be returned to the suspect. The suspect in this incident is described as a female, tall, dark complexion, and had been travelling in a small vehicle with Quebec plates. Const. P. Como is investigating.

Morrisburg man faces charges

Randy Thompson, 30 of Morrisburg, is facing a number of charges after an investigation by members of the Upper Canada OPP on April 24 in Morrisburg. He will appear in provincial court, Morrisburg, on June 2, to answer to the following charges: two counts of uttering threats, and one count of nudity contrary to the Criminal Code, in addition to one count of possession of a substance contrary to the Controlled Drug and Substances Act.

Public mischief

As a result of an investigation conducted by members of the Upper Canada OPP on April 30 in Iroquois, one person has been charged with a criminal offence.

Tammy Montgomery, 26 of Iroquois, was charged with public mischief in relation to the incident reported April 22 which initiated a police investigation. Montgomery is scheduled to appear in Morrisburg court, May 27, to respond to the charges.

Car-deer accidents

Over the past week, police in Dundas County investigated six motor vehicle accidents involving deer. The majority of these incidents (four) occurred on Highway 401, with the other two happening on Haystead Rd. and County Rd. 7 north of Chesterville.

During 1997, the abundance of deer on the highways was a continual problem for drivers and was not restricted to just the spring and fall. Car-deer collisions can result in extensive damage to vehicles, which may be reduced by drivers who recognize the potential danger and exercise caution when driving at night.

Michelin tires stolen

On April 29, police received a report of a break and enter to a Carman Road business in the Iroquois area. The break-in was first discovered on April 28, but the theft was not apparent at that time. Stolen was a set of Michelin XZE 1122.5 tires, valued at $900. Const. J. Taylor-Dupuis is investigating.

Theft of vehicles

A Suzuki King Quad, 300cc ATV was taken from the yard at a home located on Haddo Road in South Dundas Township sometime April 30. This vehicle had not been recovered.

On April 28, OPP began an investigation of an attempted theft of a motor vehicle in the former Matilda Twp. Overnight, a forced entry was made to a 1993 Chevrolet pick-up parked at the Irena Road residence. Damage was also sustained to the steering column as an unsuccessful attempt was made to start the vehicle. Damage was estimated at $1,000. Const. H. Blokland is investigating this incident.

Alcohol-related incidents

In the past week, police officers in Dundas County investigated three incidents involving violations of the Liquor Licence Act, issued two 12-hour drivers licence suspensions, and made two arrests in relation to drinking and driving offences under the Criminal Code. The provincial RIDE program is also in effect throughout the year to help reduce the incidents of impaired driving.

Drinking and driving is a criminal offence, and a first conviction can result in a drivers licence suspension for one year. At present, if a driver is charged with a blood alcohol concentration over the legal limit, or refusal to provide a breath sample, they will automatically have their driver's licence suspended immediately for a period of 90 days. This suspension is independent of any suspension issued by the courts after convictions. Please, don't drink and drive.

Crime Stopper

Seaway Valley Crime Stoppers, in cooperation with the Regional Task Force, is asking for your help in combating the contraband trade.

Smuggling is multifaceted with criminals transporting drugs, cigarettes, alcohol, weapons, illegal aliens and other commodities.

If you have specific knowledge of persons involved in these activities, get involved in keeping your community safer and call Crime Stoppers.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that these crimes don't create victims. We are all victims. Our children have easier access to alcohol and drugs, jobs are lost (19 distilleries closed in the past 10 years with 22,700 jobs lost), lost tax revenue causing cutbacks in government service.

Remember, if you have specific information in relation to the smuggling of any type of contraband call Crime Stoppers and if your information leads to an arrest, you are entitled to a cash reward. Payments are set up to protect anonymity. Call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-265-8477.

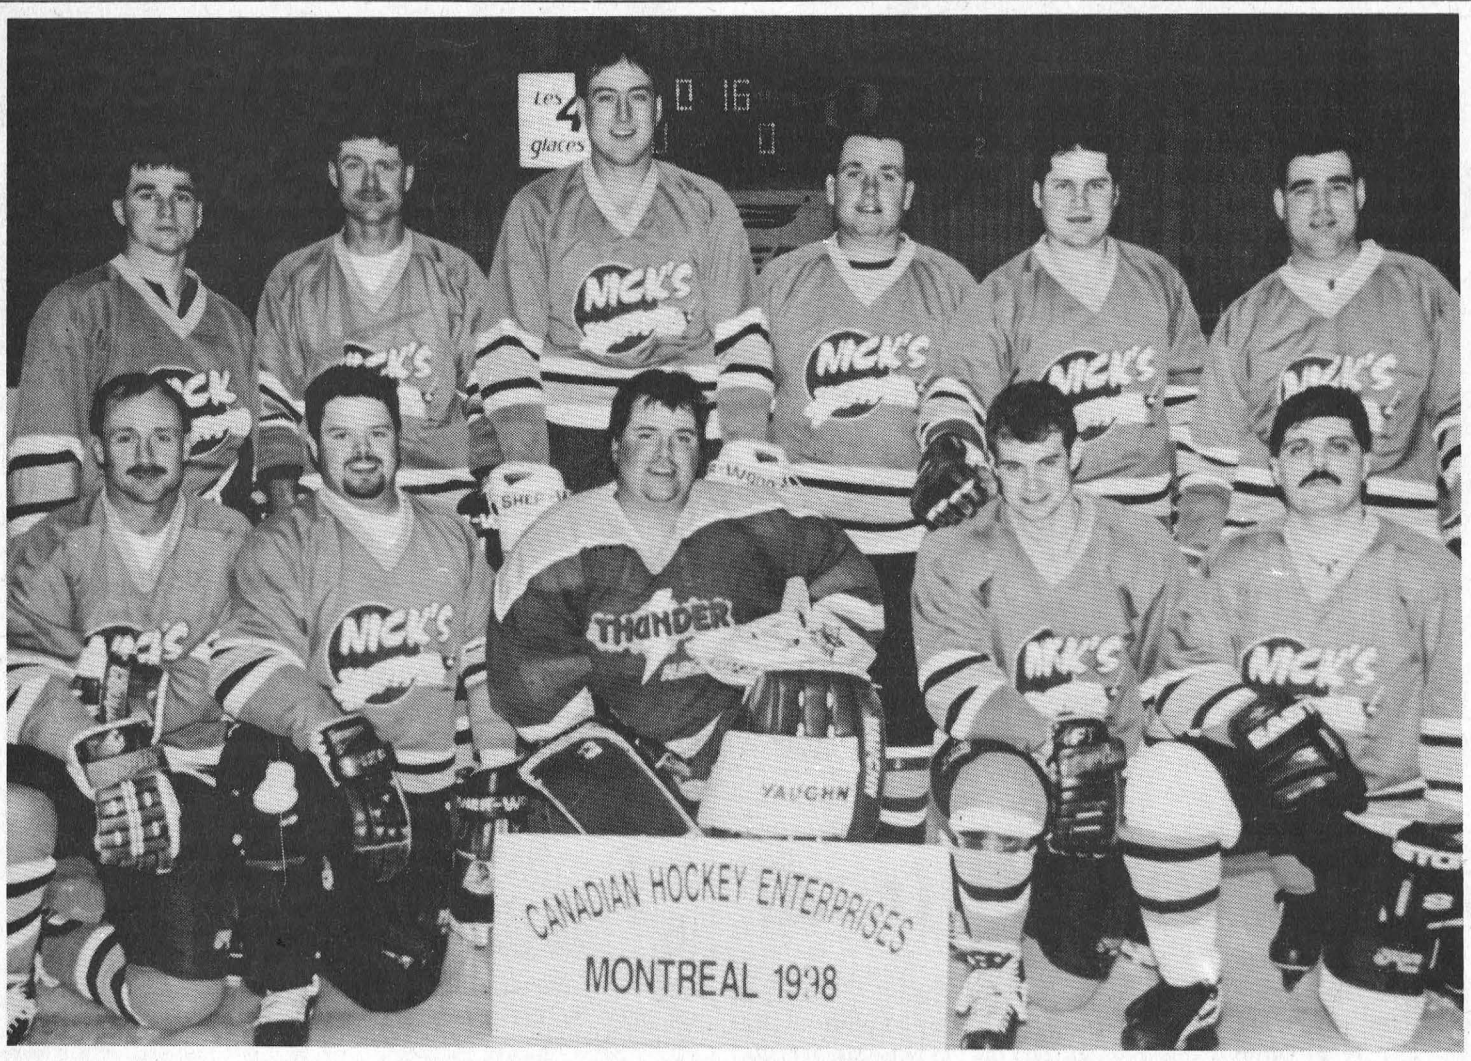
Nick's Sports Bar wins Montreal tourney



Nick's Sport Bar wins Montreal tournament

MONTREAL—A local pick-up team was the tournament winning squad at a Montreal, Quebec three-day event from April 24-26.

Sponsored by Nick Theodosiou, of Nick's Sports Bar, the team made the trip to Quebec for the second year in a row.

On that team are players from the Morrisburg Town League, including their sightseeing tour guide, Shawn Hummel.

"We made it to the finals last year," said Lyle Schell, as he told of the bus trips Hummel had to endure to get back to the hotel the team was staying at. "This year, we won our division."

They played four games, including the A final match against a team from Grand Rapids Michigan, which Nick's won by a score of 7-4.

In game one, the local boys upset a Toronto based team by a 9-3 count.

Derrick Holmes, Bobby Deleavey and Kent Young had two goals each in the win, while singles came from Rob Casselman, Andy Lee, John Morrow (three helpers). Young picked up the game's MVP honors.

In game two, Nick's Sports Bar met up with the Cop Shop, a team from Etobicoke. Nick's claimed a 7-2 victory, as they opened fire power late in the first period but counted all seven goals before their opposition got on the board.

Doing most of the damage were Kent Young with a hat trick, and singles from Holmes, Morrow, Gary Jarvis, and Rob Cassleman.

Lyle Schell was named the game's MVP.

It was a 10-2 win for Nick's in game three over the Toronto Jazz, as they held a 8-0 lead after the first period.

Derrick Holmes was named the game's MVP with three goals and an assist.

Lyle Schell scored twice in the upset and assisted on one other. Rob Casselman also knocked in a pair of markers. Single goals came from Kent Young, Morrow and Deleavey.

John Morrow was named the final game's Most Valuable Player as he claimed a pair of goals in the 7-4 championship upset over Grand Rapids.

Young and Holmes had two goals each in the game, while the single came from Deleavey.

The Nick's Sport Bar team would like to extend a big thank you to Nick Theodosiou, for a great weekend.

Seaway takes top "A" school honors track meet

IROQUOIS—It was a great day for Seaway track—not only because of the sunshine, but also due to the fact that the local contingent was the top A school.

"We lost it by one point," said statistician Kylie Adams. "I kept going over the stats and over them hoping I made a mistake somewhere that would give us first place."

The Spartans came in with a grand total of 161 points, only one point behind the double A school.

"They brought bus loads of people," noted Adams of track team from Cornwall. "And we only had about (40) on our team. Seaway had an awesome day."

Unfortunately, only a partial list of event winners were available at press time, and the track team was at their SD&G warm-up meet at St. Lawrence in Cornwall on Tuesday. Their coach, Irv Francis was unavailable for comment.

The senior boys relay team of Jason Hill, Travis Thompson, Todd Edwards and Kevin Martin struck gold in the 4x400m event with a time of 3.52. They also were first in the 1600m relay with a time of 3.59.

The senior girls relay team, of Shanna Dawley, Stephanie DeVries, Laura Baker and Ellen Blatch, were first in the 4x100 with a time of 56:22. They also won the 4x200m in 1.42, and excelled in shot put. The same relay team was second in the 4x100 shuttle with a time of 49:18.

The junior boys were first in the 4x200m relay. Kevin Martin, Rick Cowan, Jason Hill and Drew Henry raced to the ribbon in 1.42. They were also third in the 4x100m shuttle with a time of 43:77, and were third in the 4x100m, at 49:13.

The junior girls raced to a first place finish in the 4x100 shuttle, and were second in the 4x100 shuttle with a time of 51:60, the 4x100 relay (58:43) and in the 4x200m relay with a time of 2.05.

Rebecca Hollands was first in the high jump. Seaway also claimed a first in the senior girls long jump.

The Spartans midget boys relay team was second in the 4x400, clocked at 4.25, while the midget girls were hot in the shot put event. Emily and Laura McDonell picked up first and second place finishes respectively.

In the coaches' event, the Seaway squad was first, with St. Lawrence in second, followed by North Dundas in third place.

This Tuesday (May 12), the SD&G track meet will be taking place all day at Cornwall's St. Lawrence High School.

RJC ousts Nick's in T. L. final

MORRISBURG—It came down to the final game in the town league championship finals to decide the winner, and RJC came out flying for a decisive 6-2 win.

RJC was quick out of the gates with two goals within three minutes for a 2-0 lead. Jamie Smith opened the scoring with Robert Courier and Bruce Wells assisting, and then Andy Lee netted one with Robbie Casselman and Mike MacMillan helping out.

Nick's came back at 3:55 with a goal by Mark Stevens, assisted by Karl Deamond, to bring Nick's within one goal. Then at the start of the final frame Nick's tied it up when John Morrow fired one by Frank Waytowich, assisted by Donald Black and Jim Bennis.

RJC regained the lead and never looked back scoring three unanswered goals. Smith, MacMillan and Lee did the final damage and Casselman, and MacMillan assisted.

Nick's kept coming but could only manage to hit the post, or Waytowich made the saves, and time ran out with RJC claiming the Town League Championship.

Rothwell-Osnabruck theatre arts

LAURIE DAY
Leader Staff

INGLESIDE—The Rothwell-Osnabruck theatre arts program members were extremely pleased with the funds raised from their charity auction at the Lancer Centre last Wednesday evening.

Clive Marin, Theatre Arts and English teacher at the schoc' says this auction was just one event in which the staff and students are holding in order to reach their goal of $50,000.

"We raised just over $4,000 which was a great success," he says. "We are trying to improve the arts facilities at the school, and we are looking to turn the old gymnasium into a theatre."

So far, the committee members have raised approximately $10,000.

"Food Town in Ingleside has given us a financial donation of $1,000," says Marin, which has been earmarked for curtains on the stage.

The committee also plans to have photos on the walls of the new theatre, in order to preserve the local history.

Marin says theatre arts at Rothwell-Osnabruck is very strong as a group of students won the Seaway Drama Festival recently.

However, he says, "We don't have as much student participation as we'd like."

The charity auction began with viewing and a silent auction at 6 p.m., followed by a musical performed by R/O Grade 6 students.

"We had tremendous support from the community," adds Marin.

Auctioned off were such items as restaurant gift certificates, Senators' memorabilia, golf, ski and theatre passes, weekend get-aways, hair styling, antiques, crafts, and much more.

All proceeds from this event will help the Rothwell-Osnabruck Theatre Arts students realize their dream of having a theatre in their school.

The committee is presently working on their next fund-raising idea, which is a raffle.

Marin states, "This auction was such a success that we hope to make it an annual event."

Bogs snags $5,000

A $5,000 grant from the Wetland Habitat Fund means the Alfred Bog will get more protection in the coming year.

South Nation Conservation plans to work with volunteers to enhance the continentally significant 10,000 acre wetland in Eastern Ontario.

About half of the Alfred Bog is owned by the Nature Conservancy of Canada.

One of the main activities is to block drains near the core of the bog to increase water levels. Signs will be installed at the perimeter of the Bog to educate visitors of the importance of this wetland.

Priority activities are determined by the Alfred Bog Committee whose members include the NCC, SNC, the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, Nation Township, naturalists, peat extractors, and other stakeholders.

"This grant will help us improve water levels in the Bog where many rare species exist," said Naomi Langlois, Fish and Wildlife Technician at SNC. "We also plan to monitor water-loving species such as bladderworts—bug eating plants—and spotted turtles. We expect this project to expand their habitat within the Alfred Bog."

The grant will have to be matched by funds from the SNC and other partners involved in the project when the work begins this summer.

Just Another Day

Laurie Day

Well, I had a week off and I could still use about six more.

What better way to spend your time away from the office than knee-deep in the back of a closet tossing stuff out that you didn't even know you owned?

Amazing, but nine garbage bags later, I could still use another 10 bag tags from the Township office.

"I hope you didn't throw out my good shorts from last summer," says Lar, as he appears at the doorway one evening after work, looking somewhat shocked that I was actually 'house cleaning'.

All he could see were my feet as I laid sprawled on my belly reaching into the deep dark depth of the bedroom closet.

"What good shorts?" I ask, as I pulled out this peculiar looking moth-eaten pale pink tie of his from the early 80s. "Do they go with this thing?"

"Yes, as a matter of fact they do," he says with a smug little grin on his face. "They also go with that cute little dust bunny in your hair."

"Cute, come here and let me see if this tie still fits. Maybe I can hang you up by your socks so you can't give me trouble every time I toss something of yours in the trash."

"Why is that?" he asks. "You never throw out any of your stuff. It's always my stuff."

Is this my fault I wonder, as I come across threadbare sweatshirts with the sleeves cut out of them, or grease-stained longjohns (just how he managed to get grease on a pair of longjohns is beyond me).

But my absolute favorite thing of his to throw out are those gawd-awful blue jean cut-offs. Five pairs—gone! However, I failed to mention this little tidbit of information to him. He'll have my head on a platter by the time he's ready to wear them—which is usually about the time he's out of the longjohns.

"But hun," I'll say. "There are some really nice short in the catalogue which would look wonderful on you. I know you'll love them. I'll even get you some sporty shirts, and you'll definitely make a fashion statement on the golf course."

I already know I'm going to get flack, but perhaps if I get these outfits for him before I tell him about tossing out the old crappies, the new clothes might be better received.

Then again, I doubt it.

Be patient, respect wildlife in your backyard, says MNR

The onset of warmer weather and budding flowers signals the birth of new animal life.

Many people are thrilled at the sight of little raccoons scampering after their mother on nightly walks.

Or watching young birds testing their wings for the first time. Young squirrels playing a game of tag can provide humourous excitement.

There is no question that animals enrich our lives. Whether in the wild or an urban environment, animals are an important part of the ecosystem, and the world we share. They provide a link to the natural world that offsets the fast-paced, concrete society where many people live.

Unfortunately, some people cringe at the sight of wildlife, viewing them as pests that rummage through their garbage, climb onto their roofs and dig in their gardens. But what these people don't realize is that they are providing the opportunities these animals are seeking.

The behaviors of wild animals are driven almost exclusively by a need for food and shelter. People should keep this in mind when dealing with wildlife conflicts.

Access to garbage pails, the garage, the roof, the chimney and the vegetable patch should be prevented if problems are to be avoided. Removing the intruding animal by trapping it or killing it will not solve the problem. It will only leave a vacant territory for another animal to move into.

Also, relocated animals seldom survive when moved to a new location.

But what if squirrels, raccoons or skunks are already camped out in your attic, your garage or under the deck? The solution to this problem depends on the time of year. First of all, don't panic. Second, determine whether or not the animals are causing damage, what species they are and where they are getting in.

The ideal time to evict wild animals that have set up residence in your home is in the fall when they still have the opportunity to find alternate accommodation. In areas where winter brings snow and ice, it can be difficult or impossible for animals to survive without a den for even a few days.

During the spring months from March to June, when young are born, it is inhumane to remove animals from their home.

It will only be a few weeks before the babies are old enough to venture outside and then you can begin to take action. Repairs should be done only when you are certain that all the animals have left the den site.

For nocturnal animals like raccoons this will be after dusk, whereas for squirrels it will be in the warmth of the morning. After closing the holes, the attic or den should be monitored for a few days for sounds of an animal trapped inside.

When conducting repairs, it is important to locate all the access holes. Stiff wire mesh attached with long staples or nails works well as long as it is very secure with no gaps along the edges. Remember, this has been their home for some time so the animals will be very persistent in their efforts to regain entry.

One area that is often neglected is the chimney. It should be covered with screening to prevent birds or animals from falling or climbing down.

Passive deterrents can be used to provide incentive for the animals to move out. Most animals prefer quiet, dark places to raise their young, so battery operated lights and radios can be effective. Placing smelly clothes or dog hair around the nest can also help.

The Canadian Federation of Humane Societies encourages the public to be patient and respectful of wildlife in their backyards. Most situations can be resolved passively with minimal disruption to humans or animals.

For more information on resolving wildlife conflicts, fact sheets on raccoons, squirrels, skunks, mice and rats are available free of charge from the CFHS. Write to 102-30 Concourse Gate, Nepean, Ontario, K2E 7V7, fax 723-0252 or call 1-888-678-2347.

Tory cuts will be felt in communities

CORNWALL—Tory cuts to education through the recently-announced funding model will likely be felt by small and mid-size communities in the form of several school closures, says Seaway District Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation president Greg McGillis.

But McGillis indicated the most tragic school closures of all will be in alternative and adult schools. While refusing to speculate on the possibility that a number of local alternative school campuses might be closed, McGillis did say that, "the closures of these locations would be a strike against literacy, numeracy and retraining all in one. But it's clear from the documents that they won't get a cent."

McGillis said that the decision would be puzzling except for the pattern that has emerged in Tory education policy of increasing privatization of the school system. "The ultimate result will be an education system for the rich and one for the poor,"McGillis explained.

Experts consistently praise the work of these schools and a high proportion of adult graduates go on to post secondary education or good jobs. Nevertheless, according to recent newspaper reports, it is clear from the Ministry of Education that they intend to get out of the adult education business so as to privatize it.

"At one news conference in Toronto, Tory officials repeatedly said that they intend to scrap adult education to leave the field open to profit-making enterprises. This won't get the job done because the people who need literacy and numeracy training don't have a lot of money to pay for these services. Many are, in fact, on welfare or unemployment insurance and trying to get off the dole by improving their skills. It's taken thirty years to build these programs and it will take the conservatives one year to starve them to death."

Know your civic number

In preparation for the introduction of 9-1-1 in the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, each property has been assigned a unique civic address.

If you are uncertain of your new civic address, please contact your municipal office as soon as possible, to obtain that information.

Over the next few months, Bell Canada may call you to confirm or inquire about your new address. With the aid of an autodialer, you will hear a recorded announcement advising you of an important message from the 9-1-1 addressing group at Bell Canada.

Please be ready for any emergency. Know your civic address and assist Bell Canada with obtaining the correct civic address information when they call.

CLOSING TIME!

James and Elly Chan regretfully announce the closing of CHAN'S GARDEN RESTAURANT on the 31st of May, 1998, although we will remain open for take-out only from June 2nd to June 14th, 1998. Hours are 4 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The Chans would like to thank their employees, friends, patrons and everyone in the community of Morrisburg for their loyalty and support throughout the 13 years in business. The two are reluctant to leave after 30 years in the community but will head "out west" on a new and hopefully more profitable venture.

The Chans remind you that this will be the last Mother's Day at "The Garden" and hope to see you there.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY!
This year's Mother's Day lunch buffet $6.50 and dinner buffet $10.95

Please remember that if you still have Gift Certificates from Chan's Garden Restaurant they will be void after the 14th of June, 1998.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
BRUSH CHIPPING

Over the past several weeks the Township work crews have been putting forth every effort to chip brush left from the ice storm. There has been a tremendous quantity of brush to deal with and we must compliment the public for their patience and understanding as we endeavour to complete the chipping. We must also thank those individuals who have removed brush on their own and encourage others to do the same. Brush can be disposed of at no charge at the compost sites in Iroquois or Morrisburg or at either of the Township disposal sites.

We wish to notify you that the chipping program is soon to be terminated. The final day for putting your brush at the curb will be Saturday, May 9th. Commencing Monday, May 11th, our work crews will make a FINAL pass of all roads and streets under the jurisdiction of the Township of South Dundas. This will be your last chance to have brush chipped by our crew.

Please note that chipping on County Roads 1, 2, 4 (including Ottawa Street), 5, 7, 8, 11, 16, 18, 28, 31, 40 and 41 will not be done by the Township of South Dundas but rather by work crews from the United Counties of S.D.&G. The Township does not have a time schedule for that works to be done.

Thank you for your co-operation.

Scott's Service Centers launch largest promotion

MARKHAM—In an effort to help promote tourism in Ontario, the Markham-based Scott's Management Services Inc.- -which owns and operates a series of service centers along the 400 and 401 Highways- - has announced its largest promotion ever, Scott's Taste of Summer Giveaway.

From May through September, 19948, visitors depositing ballots at Scott's highway service centers- -Tim Hortons, Wendy's Mr. Sub, KFC, and Baskin-Robbins- -will be eligible to win one of $25,000 worth of prizes, including thousands of passes to Canada's Wonderland, African Lion Safari, Bowmanville Zoo, Casa Loma, Centerville Amusement Park, CN Tower, Fantasy Fair-Woodbine Center, Royal Ontario Museum, Storyland, McMichael Canadian Art Collection, Pelee Island Winery tours, white water rafting and boat cruises in locations across the province, and much, much more.

No purchase is required to participate in Scott's Taste of Summer Giveaway, said Miles Summers, senior vice president of Scott's Management Services Inc.

Travellers need only fill out a ballot which must be deposited at one of Scott's 16 highway service centers on the 400 and 401 Highways, including locations in Morrisburg and Ingleside, Lancaster, Mallorytown (north and south), Mississauga, King City, Parry Sound, Woodstock, Dutton, Tilbury Port Hope, Newcastle, Trenton, and Odessa.

Ballots can be obtained at each of the Scott's locations, as well as through travel and tourist guides distributed to homes across Ontario. Scott's, which will promote the more than 30 participating Ontario attractions throughout the summer, will conduct five separate ballot draws from May 1 through September 7 (Labour Day).

In Eastern Ontario, participants include Ottawa Rafting, Riverfun Rafting in Beachburg, Owl Rafting in Ottawa, and Wilderness Tours Whitewater Rafting in Beachburg.

Ministry of Tourism studies indicate that the number of Ontarians travelling on the province's highways is expected to be up by 4.2 per cent over last year, with the number of U.S. travellers estimated to increase by two per cent in 19948.

Ontario Minister of Economic Development, Trade and Tourism, who has declared the week of May 18 to 24 as Ontario Tourism Week applauded Scott's Management Services for their innovative program with many tourism attractions involved.

"I call on the private sector to follow Scott's lead in getting involved and helping us promote Ontario as a great travel destination," he said.

Palladini also encourages Ontarians to travel more in their own province this summer.

AfterLoss® Learning how to cope with grief

Questions & Answers about grief recovery*

Q. I have lost my purpose for living since my wife died. What good am I anymore?

A. It's natural to feel purposeless after a major loss, particularly when a spouse dies. There is such a total adjustment required that day-to-day life seems to have lost its meaning. We are cut off from everything we know as "normal". But each of us is a whole and complete person. We have a life and a purpose unconnected to the deceased. It is difficult to keep this in mind when we have lived closely linked to another. We can help ourselves by reading self help guides and by attending a bereavement group, if possible.

* Questions asked during bereavement classes are answered here by the editor of AfterLoss, the monthly grief-recovery HelpLetter. For your free copy of AfterLoss or one of our other helpful booklets about grief recovery, please write, call or stop by.

Home Hardware ice storm relief

Home Hardware dealers will donate $2.00 from every gallon of Beauti-tone paint and Weathershield stain sold in eastern Ontario from Friday, May 8 to Sunday, May 10. All funds raised will support the Ottawa-Carleton Disaster Relief Committee's continuing ice storm relief efforts, to which Home Hardware has already donated $25,000.

"There's nothing more important to us than the well-being of our friends and neighbours in the community," says Bill McCreight, district manager for Home Hardware in eastern Ontario. "Home Hardware will continue to help ice storm relief efforts in any way we can, for as long as it takes."

Home Hardware dealers were among the first to spring into action when the ice storm hit Quebec and eastern Ontario in January. Stores in New Brunswick became relief depots for basic items such as dry goods, food, bottled water and hardware essentials. Supplies were then shipped where they were needed most by Home Hardware trucks.

Dealers throughout the affected regions remained open day and night, without power, using all their resources to help their communities. Home Hardware delivery routes became lifelines for kerosene, propane, batteries. candles, chainsaws, thermos bottles and firewood.

Supply shortages were filled with shipments from as far as Alberta. In all, more than 40 trailers hauled more than two million pounds of supplies into storm areas, and 56 Home Hardware stores received extra deliveries.

Home Hardware Stores Limited is a collective of dealer-owned and operated independent hardware, building supply and furniture stores. Founded in 1963 by approximately 120 independent hardware dealers, the company today has grown to include 960 members in every province and territory in Canada.
