Walter C. MacDonald Again Chamber President

With several hundred dollars in their bank account, a polished, experienced president in Walter C. MacDonald, a talented ambitious executive, and an eager membership, Winchester Chamber of Commerce on Thursday night embarked on a year of activity and progress. An excellent turnout of members at the Chamber annual meeting supported the slate of officers presented and anticipated an excellent year of activity and progress.

All executive members excepting the presidency and treasurer were filled by nominating committee represented by chairman Robert Vice. Accepted as presented by this committee were first vice president Basil Dawley, second vice president A. E. Dukelow, secretary Walter Shadbolt and directors W. R. Workman, Lloyd Dixon, Gordon LaRose and Mel Vice. Moved from the floor and accepted were J. Ormnd McConnell for position of treasurer and Walter C. MacDonald as president.

PRESIDENT ACCEPTS

In accepting the nomination Mr. MacDonald returning for another term indicated his belief in the work of the Chamber. He emphasized that much of the work of the Chamber is not visible to the public eye but is behind the scene in the way of information, encouragement and making of contacts and decisions. He reiterated his confidence in the Chamber what it stood for, and what it had already accomplished in Winchester. The members unanimously agreed with the nomination and heartily thanked Mr. MacDonald for his efforts on their behalf in the past and those to come in the future and promised him their full support.

FLORA TRIBUTE

A simple most fitting tribute was paid to retiring treasurer H. L. Flora. H. E. Biccum reminded members of Mr. Flora's outstanding service to the Chamber and the community in his various capacities as member, businessman and citizen, and indeed it was misfortune for all that Mr. Flora was forced to retire from his position due to ill health. The tribute was applauded loudly.

In making his final treasurer's report earlier in the evening Mr. Flora informed the meeting that a balance of $221.21 was held in the bank. Reports from various committees were brief but informative. Municipal committee chairman Gordon LaRose suggested all members inform his committee of any problems within committee scope and suggested perhaps municipal consideration of parking and sidewalk improvements in the village. He paid tribute to the Chamber and municipal authorities for their accomplishments of the past year.

Bill Collins of the Investigating Planning and Zoning committee gained much pleasure in announcing the acceptance of his committee by municipal council and their willingness to move forth and proceed with an orderly plan of community development. Reeve Elliott reiterated council support and co-operation with the Chamber and its programs. Member of the investigation committee, Basil Dawley urged members and council to continue to press their quest for information re the highway by-pass.

Councils Voice Sincere Tribute

Members of United Counties Council in session last week marked one minute's silence in memory of former Warden John M. Fader. Council offered the silence in tribute and entered into the record of words of remembrance.

Similar action was taken at last week's meeting of Winchester Village Council.

Esteemed Farmer Harold Francis Untimely Accidental Death

A Winchester farmer well known and respected in the community, Harold Roy Francis, died suddenly as a result of a farm accident January 24. In his 51st year, he was working on the family farm, R. R. 3 Winchester, where he was born, raised and lived all his life when the tragedy occurred.

Son of the late John G. Francis and his wife, the late Maggie May Holmes, Mr. Francis is widely mourned. He had attended local schools and was a member of Winchester United Church.

Deeply saddened by his passing are his wife, the former Joyce Wright, and two daughters, Lois and Janice. The couple had been married in South Mountain in June 1954.

Mourning the passing of a brother are Earl of Albany, N. Y.; Mrs. William Hutt (Ola) Winchester; Mrs. Floyd Crowder (Inez), R. R. 1, Winchester; Lloyd, R. R. 3, Winchester; Avery, Inkerman; Clifford, R. R. 4, Winchester; Mrs. Gordon Baldwin (Dorothy), Winchester; Lyall, R. R. 3, Winchester, and Hilliard of Ottawa.

Rev. A. J. MacDonald, pastor of Winchester United Church conducted the funeral at 2 p.m. on January 27 from the church. Interment was in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall-bearers were Allison Fawcett, Roy Holmes, Don Guy Harold McBride, Earle Hamilton and Ewen Gannon.

Metcalfe's Carnivals

Two major winter events scheduled for the Metcalfe Community Centre this year are the Community Centre Carnival February 9th, and the Metcalfe Lions Queen of Queens Carnival on February 24th.

The Carnival for the village and district is the Community Centre extravaganza that takes place Thursday, the ninth. To be crowned will be the Carnival Queen who will go on to compete in the Queen of Queens contest and be the recipient of many valuable prizes. Races costume classes, fun and excitement are in store for Metcalfe and District at the Community Centre Carnival.

The carnival that hosts the Queens of all the rural communities is the Metcalfe and District Lions presentation on February 24. Mac Cooper is chairing this year's event that will honour one of the Queens from many centres as Queen of Queens. Reigning Queen of Queens is Jane Casselman of Winchester. Winchester boasts the Queen of Queens for the past two seasons as Miss Winchester 1965, Sharon Holmes was that year's winner.

Proceeds from the Queen event are being directed to the worthwhile cause of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Tickets for the Carnival and the giant draw for a chair under the chairmanship of Mel Vice, is now on again with proceeds to the hospital. Nepean Figure Skating Club will be an added Queen night attraction.

Winter Carnival Friday 7:30

Deadline is drawing near for the biggest Winchester fun show on ice, the Winchester 100 Club Centennial Winter Carnival. The final countdown has begun and it will stop with the carnival blast-off at 7.30 Friday evening in the Winchester Community Centre. The countdown is on too for all the hopeful entries in the Centennial Carnival Queen contest. Entry forms are still available and will be received at the Community Centre box office until 8 p.m. the night of the Carnival. Official entry forms are available at high schools in the North Dundas, Mountain, Osgoode districts and other locations, or at the arena for last minute decisions by nervous young aspirants to the title now held by the 1966 Queen, Miss Jane Casselman.

What will make this Centennial year 100 Club presentation one of the best ever is a happy combination of people, events, and hopefully, weather. On the final ingredient a check with local weather prophets leads to a prediction of almost perfect carnival weather with good ice and a little nip in the air to redden bare noses and ears.

ERNIE CALCUTT, M.C.

Masterful Ern, Mr. Calcutt. News and Sports Director of Ottawa radio station CFRA, will make his third annual trip to the 100 Club Carnival and guide the show along with comments and commentary. The tall gentleman will master the situation and keep the atmosphere warm, bringing on a quick flurry of events designed to generate laughter, applause and a little warmth. Racing and costume events are the evening's premiere events and those in costume will be admitted free to the arena. A speical added prize comes this year with a Centennial costume event reaping the winner a $5 reward. This class is to be judged at approximately 7:45.

THE HARDEST JOB

Hardest but possibly most enjoyable job of the evening will be held down by fair Mesdames Ernie Calcutt and Russ Jackson and the master pivot man himself, Number 12 Russ Jackson of the Ottawa Rough Riders. With two of the fairer sex completing the three member panel of judges, for the Queen contest, Mr. Jackson's signals may not be heard, but with his edutional background no doubt the distaff side will value his opinions on the Carnival Queen and probably remember them for later use. The girl chosen by the judges will be heaped with prizes that already value well over $150 and be crowned with a tiara by her predecessor Jane Casselman as Centennial Carnival Queen 1967.

Extra bonus features of the Centennial Carnival will be something new — Chuckwagon Races on ice. This event will be a presentation of the North Dundas District High School technical section. And forewarning is that it is riotous fun. North Dundas returns too with its annual presentation of of precision skating in the Skating Drill, a perennial carnival favourite. Appetites for figure skating will be whetted by the display of the Minto Skaters of Ottawa.

Added enticement comes from the purchase of an advance sale ticket to the Carnival. A lucky draw for the door prize can net someone $25 in cash.

The Centennial Carnival story is a great one, don't miss it in the Winchester Community Centre Friday, February 3, starting at 7:30 p.m.

ARDA: The Answer?

A broad and probing look into the Agricultural and Rural Development Act of 1965 made clear to the annual meeting of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce that money for a wide range of conservation, ditching, water supply, alternative land use, forest development research, fence removal, farm enlargement and consolidation programs are available under the Act and may be taken advantage of by Dundas and all Ontario farmers. Don Knapp, field representative of the ARDA group, was the guest speaker and he gave to Centurians information that many were keenly interested with regard to the future of this agricultural area.

Introduced by Basil Dawley, Mr. Knapp, who is located in Kemptville offices, briefly outlined ARDA programs available after a short history of the Act that is financed on a 50-50 basis by the federal and provincial governments and came into being on a five year term in 1961 and was renewed until 1970 under a revised agreement in 1965.

SOUTH NATION

Soil and water conservation is a prime purpose of the ARDA authority and with the proposed plan on the South Nation an excellent local example of planning for conserva- In proposals now in Toronto under study, a dam and reservoir would be constructed at both Spencerville and Bearbrook and channel improvements would be carried out in the Winchester-Inkerman and Plantagenet areas to improve the economic factors of the Nation watercourse. The proposed project, if completed, would cost several millions of dollars.

ARDA also supports the cost of municipal ditching projects. Originally the Department of Municipal Affairs offered a one-third grant on municipal ditching. The high costs of labour and equipment to-day prompted ARDA to provide another one-third grant on the completion of such projects, leaving only one-third of cost to participating municipalities or farmers.

On the subject of water supply Mr. Knapp said that rural municipalities would benefit from a 75 per cent. grant on completion of a dam and reservoir for water supply. In this instance the Department of Energy and Resources would carry out the engineering and supervize the project to actual completion.

Alternaate land use is an ARDA project that is gaining slow acceptance in the field of community pastures. In this field the authority purchase land local acreages and seeds it down. Then it is made available for community pasture under a rental fee for number of animals grazing upon it. Leeds and Renfrew counties now have such systems in force.

EDUCATION

Forest development and research are other ARDA items of interest with purchase of forest areas and all types of research into the farm and farm life being carried on. Rehabilitation training can also be made available through ARDA under the Ontario Vocational Training Plan. Courses are provided in almost a complete range of occupations in various schools across the province. Remuneration is available for those attending these courses. Farm training is a prime interest in this plan with emphasis being on making profitable units by training men in good farm practices.

FENCE REMOVAL

A program already well taken advantage of in the five Eastern Ontario Counties has been the fence row removal plan. Under that program up to a 40 per cent. grant is made available with limitation of $500 per 100 acre section for enlargement of field by removal of fences and obstacles. 200 applications totalling $70,000 have been processed in Eastern Ontario with an ARDA rebate of $28,000.

ENLARGEMENT

In modern competitive agriculture the economic farm unit has been defined as 130 acres of Class A land. It is to this definition that comes the key to the farm enlargements and consolidation section of ARDA. To survive the farmer must have the economic unit and to this end ARDA will assist in the enlargement or consolidation of a good farm into an economic unit. Land is classified under soil mps and upon application the farmer may attempt to gain classification of an economic unit if his land and land available meets requirements. ARDA buys farms by appraisal and offer and then makes the farm available to other farmers to complete an economic unit. Payment for the additional acreage can be completed in the following manner. Land is leased to farmer first year for payment of taxes and insurance on any buildings, two to five years for taxes, insurance and three per cent of land cost investment; five years available for purchase to farmer. Non-purchasers can renew for five more years at six per cent. interest per year on investment.

The majority, that is almost the rule, is that the farms cannot be enlarged if the added revenue from the land cannot make purchaase possible within the initial five year leasing span. It is for assistance of this program that farmers interested in selling or purchase of land should notify the Agriculture Department so that some adjustment can be made in order that no area of usable land lays idle. A stipulation in the case of elderly persons may allow the selling or retiring farmer to remain in his farm home despite the sale of his land.

In a question and answer period that followed the speech Mr. Knapp briefly commented that the golden opportunity for Dundas lay in drainage and posibly a cash crop of corn. He was thanked by George Elliott and all the members in unison.

Tories Organize In New Riding

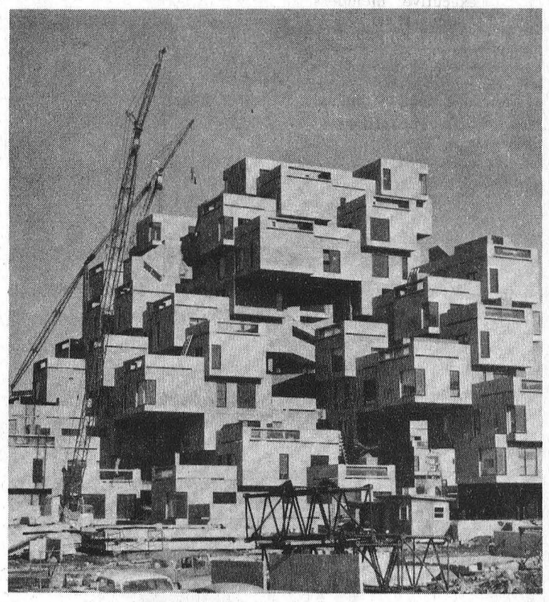
Mrs. Jean Wadds, M.P. for Grenville-Dundas, and Richard Bell, M.P. for Carleton, possible combatants for the nomination of the Progressive Conservative party in the new urban-rural riding of Grenville-Carleton, did not indicate any rivalry at formation of the new riding's Progressive Conservative Association in Kemptville last week.

Mrs. Wadds had already announced her intention to seek the nomination, but Mr. Bell withheld his decision.

Association president, Prescott Mayor Don Irvine assumed the two MP were anti-Diefenbaker leadership and proceeded to say "I know a new leader won't correct all our problems, but when a ship is on the rocks there is only one place to make a change, you don't change the deckhands." There were no words of dissent from the platform or audience.

Mr. Bell warned the audience that although the new riding looked strong for the Conservatives it would not be a push over. By the end of 1967 it will probably have a population of 100,000, 50,000 of them in Nepean Township. The new constituency is the biggest rural-urban riding in Canada.

Officers named in addition to the president, Mr. Irvine, were first to third vice presidents, Sidney B. Handyman, of Bells Corners; Charles Farlinger, Morrisburg, and Donald Hamilton of Manotick; Donald Hutcheson, Nepean, secretary-treasurer, and assistant secretary-treasurer Mrs. Hazel Toshack, Prescott. All appointments were without contest.



Only Understatement

"Fabulous is understatement." A quote from The Winchester Press publisher R. G. Workman who with more than 200 Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association publishers and representatives spent a much too short day on the site of Expo 67 in Montreal last Friday. The weekly newspaper men from across Canada were guests of the Public Relations and Press Department of Expo and certainly they carried home with them exuberance and enthusiasm for the 1967 World Exposition that strikes and elaates anyone who has had the opportunity to visit the site and see and hear of this Canadian presentation to the world.

Despite stormy, uncomfortable weather, the tour was exciting with a prelude to the actual tour taken on film and in words at the Administration and Press Pavilion. Embussing, the publishers and editors were left gasping and groping for superlatives to describe the magnificence of the pavilions and the fair site.

Advice of the publisher Mr. Workman is "that every Canadian should see this wonderland of architectural genius and showcase of Canada and the world. Unparalleled pride in achievements here should be shared by each and every citizen."

PICTURE

Habitat is one of the many engineering and architectural marvels of the 1967 Expo. It is an unusual apartment complex built on a block apartment hoisted as a unit by crane into place. Habitat is in the northern section of the Expo site near the administration complex.

Scott Argue Chairman September Metcalfe Fair

Scott Argue was elected President of Metcalfe Agricultural Society at its annual meeting in the Community Centre last Saturday.

Despite dangerous road conditions nearly fifty members, both men and women, were on hand to hear favourable reports of the last fair and begin plans for the 111th, which will emphasize the Centennial theme throughout.

Retiring president Stan Hicks while thanking the members for their work, stressed the fellowship and co-operation of the society members, and predicted a great future for the great valley fair.

One minute silence was observed in memory of Calvin Stanley whose untimely death will be a great loss to the fair board.

The members, too, took time out to have all their signatures on a card to be sent to Past President Ken Dow who is a patient in the Winchester hospital.

Reports were heard from the various committee chairmen, each presenting suggestions for improvements in the coming year.

The fair dates were set for September 14, 15 and 16, and it was agreed to again join the Association of Fairs.

Delegates for the forthcoming convention were appointed and President Argue, 1st vice president Gordon Boland, John Hughes and Robin Campbell will ably represent the society.

Stuart Whyte will head up a committee to prepare a display of pictures, etc., symbolic of the early days of the fair. This will be on display at the Convention in Toronto, and it is hoped anyone in the area having anything of this nature will contact Mr. Whyte or Fair Secretary Eldon Craig.

Various Centennial projects were discussed and John Campbell suggested that since the Metcalfe Calf Club was the first in the county, in the year 1932, it would be interesting to make an attempt to have the original members return and once again show calves in front of the grandstand on fair day.

Still on the Centennial theme the ladies requested permission to insert a new class in the prize list for this one year. The class would be in the Home Department.

Mr. Eldon Craig was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer, and will be serving his 34th consecutive year in this position.

The new executive is: Stan Hicks, past president; Scott Argue, president; Gordon Boland, 1st vice president; Alex Campbell, 2nd vice president; J. Eldon Craig, secretary-treasurer; Directors: H. C. Latimer, R. W. Stanley, W. R. Wilson, Stewart Fisher, S. Whyte, Robin Campbell, John Hughes, Robert Little, A. Carson, Carman Blair, J. M. Tomkins, Stirling Bishop, J. A. Waddell, Edgar Stanley, Gordon Stewart, L. Graham, K. R. Dow, D. McRuer

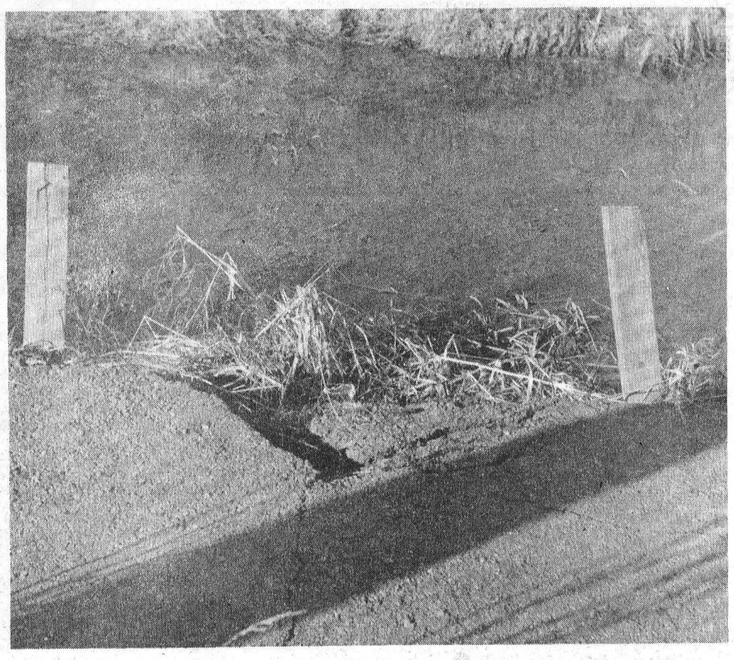
Skate Again

Last Wednesday evening's Centennial Skating Party was an attendance and financial success despite the lack of good ice. There will be another party of the same nature. There will be no advance ticket sale but a silver collection at the rink with the enjoyment of coffee and doughnuts.



Resolution: Fix It

The shadow of a telephone pole well shows the path of what could be disaster. The dark shadow that runs across the sidewalk and then drops, without regard for the safety of a child that might be riding a bicycle or a sleigh, into a dirty dangerous Henderson Creek. The story could so easily happen on the extent of sidewalk that runs from the Hodgson home on Clarence Street to Mill that the thought is frightening.

In some sections of the village there are no sidewalks. In new subdivisions there is no allowance for sidewalks and in others there are sidewalks on only one side of the street. On Clarence there is a sidewalk down both sides of the streets until the Scott and Hodgson homes are reached. Then just the north walk continues hazardously over a mutilated bridge and an uneven, broken and treacherous path slanted to the dirty water to Mill.

The sidewalk itself is enough of a handicap to travel upon. Rain, a coating of freezing rain, or in summertime the weeds that almost block the passage add to the hazard that may one day unless repaired add to the year's fatality list. It could be a small child who has been taught to use the sidewalk, not the road, for tricycle riding and walking.

Take note of the location of the paved path. It parallels a water course yet remains unprotected by a guard rail. Some mention had been made of closure of that section of sidewalk in summer 1966. The action was never taken.

Resolution: fix it.

Keep Them Coming

Reports from the nation's capital indicate that close to 195,000 immigrants entered Canada during 1966 showing that the attraction of our country is still strong, despite the dissensions and squabbles that sometimes seem to divide us. This is the eighth highest annual total of immigrants in the country's history, the other good years being caused by external forces, such as war, famine, political and economical unstability in other countries.

Encouraging it is to note this statistic and give cause for reflection on how much this country depends on a steady flow of new Canadians, and what these people contribute to the economic growth and cultural enrichment of our nation. A high flow of skilled immigrants aids not only to our cultural well being, but builds up our domestic market, improves the overall standard of living, meets the growing need for trained workers and contributes to the development of natural resources and our rapidly growing industrial economy.

What Canada is doing to aid in the quest for immigrants is a program unequalled in history, promotional plus. In world capitals Canada presents to the public eye a picture of a young giant growing with pride and surpassing the challenges presented to it. A picture of a land of space and plenty with the second highest standard of living in the world and opportunity for all to share in it. We can only add our support to every effort designed to maintain and increase the flow of immigrants to this counry.

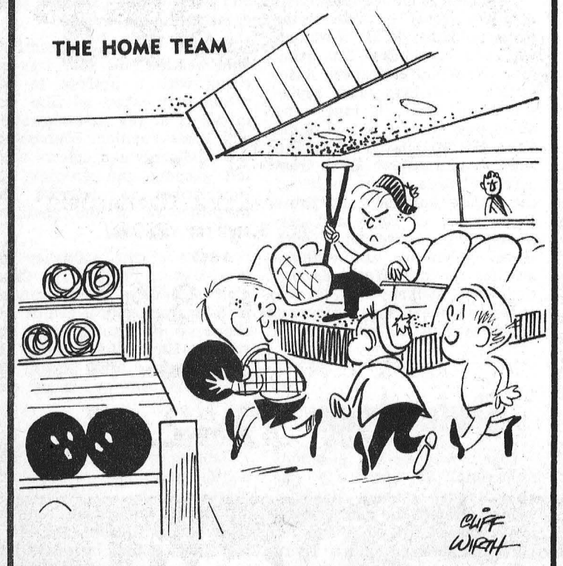
The Seventh Column

To-day it is cold outside. It should have been cold outside last Wednesday evening. The chill in the air would have added much to what without the cool winter air was a wonderful Centennial Skating Party despite the lack of good ice. Even without good ice the party was a great one with an excellent turnout of costumers making the evening a success. Everything was perfect except the weather and the lantern-lit ice surface, and the organ music were somewhat wasted but nevertheless enjoyed. The people and the costumes were par excellence with this the first chance for local citizens to show off their ideas of fashions of the past. It was a fashion show well worth attending. There will be another skating party with a similar Centennial theme, and with cooperation of the weatherman it will be an event to remember. To the curious last Wednesday night who just wandered back to see what was going on we hope you received the message that Winchester's Centennial program is for participation, not just for watching, and you are warmly invited to take the dress-up route and join in where the fun is.

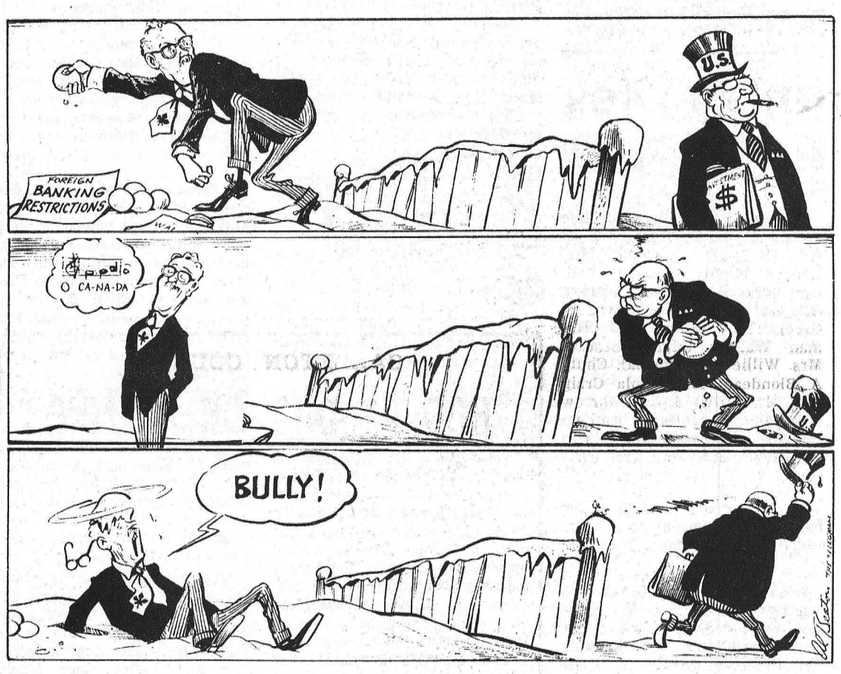
If you are worried about just one appearance in your Centennial costume, forget it. There will be many chances to use it. There will be parties and parades and occasions to demand a repeat performance of the costume and the enjoyment you gain from participation will more than offset any cost. It doesn't have to be elaborate or expensive, because the best are usually found in an old trunk in the attic and it doesn't have to date to 1867, it could be A.C. or B.C. (after Confederation or Before Confederation). The Centennial Ball, the May Caravan Day parade, the 100 Club Centennial Carnival, the summer festival and doubtless many private parties will make your costume a thing of joy.

Circumnavigating to another subject but still related to that word "Centennial", beware. The word "Centennial" or any variation of it as a trade mark or in product advertising is a touchy thing this year. Week-end edition of The Financial Post tells an interested reader that the word has already been copyrighted for products ranging from lipstick to roses by a wide range of Canadian companies. Use of the word without clearance of the Trade Marks office in Ottawa could easily land you in court.

CANADIAN 1867·1967 CENTENNIAL



"Hey butterfingers, want to keep score for us?"



Ottawa Report by Mrs. Jean Wadds

It is natural that anyone serving on a delegation to the United Nations always maintains a deep interest in this organization, the challenge of world government, world progress and world peace strikes deep and there remains a feeling of responsibility to continue contributing to something so worthwhile.

Mrs. Margaret Konantz, former Liberal Member of Parliament for Winnipeg South, and I both served our terms as delegate on the United Nations Third Committee.

We have followed this experience by continuing participation in UNICEF, the world organization for help to children of the world. This year Mrs. Konantz is President of UNICEF for Canada and in this role has visited all of the provinces and encouraged their UNICEF efforts.

The National Organization holds annual and semi-annual meetings, usually in Toronto, where a semi-annual meeting took place this week.

Mrs. Konantz makes an excellent president. She is a good organizer, a good speaker and full of energy and enthusiasm. There seems to be considerable talent in the provincial representatives too, who speak up and make these meetings very worthwhile. They make a great deal of money with their Halloween projects and the selling of the well known greeting cards widely used as Christmas cards.

At each of these gatherings the guest speaker is above average in ability and experience. This week was no exception. Dr. Joe Willard had been invited many times but his heavy duties as Canada's Deputy Minister of Health and Welfare as well as his leadership at the United Nations has kept him completely occupied.

Dr. Willard received a warm welcome. He is very popular. This year he celebrates 20 years service with the Department of Health and Welfare, and has had experience with, and contributed to most of Canada's development in this field.

He reported on the 20th Anniversary meeting of UNICEF which U Thant, the Secretary General of the United Nations honoured by his presence.

In 1946, just after the last war, the distress of many children orphaned and hungry, led to the establishment of UNICEF. Four years later the need still existed and funds were voted by the United Nations to continue the work for another three years. In 1953 funds were voted to continue the work indefinitely. It has been one of the most successful and appealing branches of the United Nations.

At the 20th Anniversary meeting it was repeated again and again that many leaders in the new and developing countries of the world are only alive today because of the help given by UNICEF.

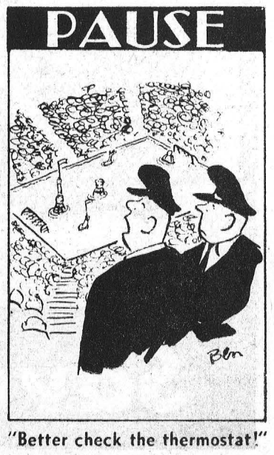
The United Nations Ambassador from Equador thanked the organization particularly for their assistance in malaria control and for the food value in milk supplying projects. The United Nations Ambassador from Kenya particularly thanked UNICEF for the amount of free training which helped their country prepare its young people for employment and the modern world. Also day nurseries were very valuable in their country.

At the Anniversary meeting extra, special contributions were made to UNICEF. Canada, through Mr. George Ignatieff, our Ambassador to the United Nations, gave $100,000. The United States, through Mr. Arthur Golberg, their Ambassador, gave $1 million.

The improvement in child health through UNICEF assistance is indeed very encouraging. Dr. Willard reported that 14 million children had been protected against malaria, one million against leprosy, two million against TB, and 22 million against tracoma. It is estimated that there are three times as many children born into unhealthy communities as into health communities.

Of course the work is far from ended. Dr. Willard said that only the fringe of the total need had been touched. $50 million is UNICEF estimate for 1969. This is the amount they think obtainable.

Our amiable and likeable Canadian, Dr. Willard is, and has been on the word organization of UNICEF. With such able and conscientious people at its head anyone at all interested in UNICEF can put forth their efforts in confidence that they will not be wasted.



"Better check the thermostat!"

Meditations . . . by REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Ecclesiastes 1:3—"What profit hath a man of all his labours which he taketh under the sun."

Work is honorable for man because God enjoined it. In Scripture we read, "And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it." That was in paradise, before sin entered this world. God commanded Adam, "Replenish the earth, and subdue it."—Gen. 1: 28. True happiness for mankind was to be in creative work. Work must therefore always be seen as man's blessed calling on earth. Each one of us must be happy in our work.

It seems that on this point Scripture contradicts itself. Solomon apparently doesn't see it that way. For him, it seems, work is vain. There is nothing in it at all. Reading what he says of it in this book of Ecclesiastes one would judge that the less he could do the better. Work is not a blessing then, but only a curse.

If we judge Solomon this way we have not really understood him at all. He is not making a judgment against work as such but against a wrong motive and goal of work. "Under the sun" work has no profit, that is when we do not work for God but for self and for goods, then work has the wrong goal and motive. Then we do not use our energies for God Who gave them, to glorify Him as He intended us to do, but then we serve the creature. Such work is vain, empty of meaning, and will be condemned by God. There will be nothing left after life to those who so work.

But work is noble and blessed and rewarding when it serves its original purpose. When we work in joyful service to God, to use all things for Him and His Kingdom on earth, then there is a reward a profit. Scripture tells us that when we use them for the Lord He will add to those we used. One text states it explicitly. In Rev. 14: 13 we read, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them."

So life offers two possibilities We can work without profit or with profit. Work without profit, in which nothing if left to us afterwards, is work done for self, separate from the Lord. Work with profit, which is richly rewarded, is work done in and unto the Lord. This is the warning of the wise King. He is concerned to call us to an awareness of life's futility "under the sun," which is not for the Lord but against Him. Such work is vain. Those who work for self and gain spend vain lives that profit nothing but reap eternal divine wrath. Those who work for the Lord, not only experience the joy and satisfaction of his service in this life, but their works in the Lord have eternal value. They are rewarded into all eternity. The question we have to answer: What of our work, will there be profit in it for eternity? Answer: Only when it is for the Lord!

SUGAR AND SPICE by Bill Smiley

Just a starter

In recent years, there has been a great deal of criticism of education in this country, from both outside and inside the system. It doesn't take a Ph. D. to realize that a whale of a lot of it is justified. And I speak as a parent, tax-payer, and teacher.

Only by frantic efforts and vast infusions of money have we managed to keep our system a mere couple of decades behind the times.

I know it's easy to indulge in hindsight. But holy old jumpin' Jupiter, surely there could have been a little foresight somewhere along the line. Look what we have: shortage of buildings, shortage of teachers, shortage of just about everything except pupils. And a vast surplus of them. This didn't happen overnight. They weren't all born last summer. It was all there 20 years ago, perfectly obvious to anyone who could add and multiply. The only people doing any multiplying were the parents.

And the crazy part of it is that we keep urging the kids to stay in schools which haven't enough room for the new crop arriving. "Drop-out" has become almost synonymous with "delinquent". It doesn't matter whether they're doing any work, or learning anything, or are just being bored silly. They're told to stay in school until, through sheer old age and the tidal wave pushing from behind, they get a magic piece of paper that will open a golden door to success.

Chiefly to blame are parents. They have my sympathy. Many of them remember the great depression. Many others honestly believe material security means happiness. But far, far too many of them, delude themselves. They insist that Jack, who wants nothing more than to get out of school and become useful and happy as a salesman or a policeman, has the makings of a great surgeon, because he has always got more than 60 marks in science. Or that Jill, a born wife and mother, who wants nothing more than to get married, should struggle through a course in psychology, because she's always been a first-class baby-sitter.

Almost equally to blame are the big industries and institutions, from oil companies to banks. They are too lazy, or too cheap, or both, to interview young people and hire them on what they are. It's much easier, and a lot cheaper, just to say, "We don't want anybody unless he has at least a Grade 12 certificate", even if all they want him to do is stick square pegs in round holes.

Another thing vastly wrong with education is the way it is financed. Let's take a couple of examples. Here's an elderly couple on a small, fixed income. After years of struggling, they own their own house. They pay $400 a year in municipal taxes. About half of that is for education, even though they've paid taxes for years to educate their own children or, if childless, somebody else's.

This system makes a mockery of the concept that every child has the same educational opportunities. Don't try to tell me that the kid in a poor bush town in the north has the same facilities, options and quality of teaching as the kid in a rich suburb. He simply does not. Money makes the difference.

And speaking of inequalities, isn't there something quite ridiculous in a country of 20 million having 10 separate and distinct educational systems? Much larger countries have one system, and yet have far more diversity and opportunity within that one than we have with our 10 rigid and separate ones. It is provincialism, literally and figuratively.

Rigidity is another thing that sticks in my craw. We have rigid curriculums, rigid timetables, rigid divisions of the school year, and anything else rigid that avoids difficulty and keeps the vast, Victorian vehicle shambling along somehow.

You know what? I'm getting a little worked up about this. But you can't keep a good belch down, and I've been developing indigestion over the whole business for some time.

So rather than galloping off in all directions, let's say this is the first of a series of articles on education by a plain, ordinary layman. I'll bet you can hardly wait for next week's thrilling instalment.

Doug. Keys On Marketing

Staff members of the Extension Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food, representing all counties and districts in the province, participated recently in a course on the "Marketing of Agricultural Products." This in-service training course, held in Toronto, provided an opportunity for Extension personnel to become more familiar with the factors which affect the marketing of Ontario farm products and will enable them to continue their leadership role in this field.

Shown in discussion are, left to right, F. J. G. Millette, Agricultural Representative, Russell County; C. A. Tanner, Agricultural Representative, Leeds County; R. L. Farmer, Agricultural Representative, Prescott County; W. D. Keys, Agricultural Representative, Dundas County.

Russell, Metcalfe Lions Active In Community

Russell will have a fine new swimming pool to mark the Centennial. To help make this possible the Russell Lions Club have contributed $1,500, and this is just another mark of distinction for the active little group that was chartered in 1947.

One of the finest flood-lit ball parks in Eastern Ontario is another Lions' project. Russell is fast becoming, once again, a hockey town; this too can be attributted to the tireless work of the Lions.

Secretary Jack McLaren points with pride to the fact that six of the original Chartetr Members are still active, and one Lion Russ Phair, has perfect attendance for twenty years.

In January 1960 the Russell club saw the need for a service in one of their neighbouring towns, and the Metcalfe and District Lions Club was born.

Ironically, the Russell president at that time was a former Metcalfe man, Robert Rowan. He and a dynamic little Irish school teacher from Metcalfe set the wheels in motion.

The teacher, Philip Kelly who was then Principal of Osgoode Township High School found enough interested men and on the night of January 27, 1960, 35 Charter members stood with their President, Phil and received their Charter from the District Governor, Lion Charles Grace of Arnprior.

A complete history of this great little club would take volumes; to-day, in the Metcalfe area ,where there is a need, the Lions Club is there with help—aid to fire victims, assistance for crippled children—in short when a hand reaches out for assistance, a Lion is there. Unbelievable as it may seem, this little club has raised and spent more than $15,000 for the betterment of the community.

The Metcalfe and District club is particularly proud of two of its charter members—Bill Porteous who served one year as Zone Chairman, and Lee Nolan, who is presently Deputy District Governor.

The club has an enviable record with 17 of the original Charter members still active and eight with perfect attendance since Charter Night.

Lion members of the Russell and Metcalfe area, who give so generously of their time and talent, are justly proud of being part of a benevolent organization with 811,618 members in 20,769 clubs in 135 countries and geographical locations.

The Lions motto is simply "We Serve," and serve they truly do.

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar McCooeye of Edwards celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary on January 14, 1967. With family and friends the couple enjoyed a social evening in the Metcalfe Community Centre.

Mrs. Helen Lewis Elected President Of St. George's Anglican Guild

Mrs. Helen Lewis was elected president of St. George's Anglican Guild at the annual meeting held last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Les Colley. The meeting opened with prayer, with Mrs. Frank Acres presiding.

Final plans were made for the dessert party on Feb. 1st, and also for the World Day of Prayer serivce on Feb. 10th in the Anglican Church here at 8 p.m. The president thanked all for their help during the past year and tendered her resignation.

Rev. Mr. McGregor presided for the election of officers for 1967 and thanked the president and all for their accomplishments during the year. Officers elected are: President, Mrs. Helen Lewis; vice president, Mrs. Norman Robinson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Donald McDonald.

It was stated that the annual church meeting would be held Jan. 31st at the home of Mrs. Lewis with a pot luck supper. Mrs. McDonald offered her home for the February meeting on the 23rd.

The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Annual Meeting Club 31 Held

The annual meeting of Club 31 in Vernon was held in the Club Hall on Jan. 24th. After games of cards and crokinole the election of officers was held with the following slate elected for 1967:

Past president, Roy Porteous; president, Harold Cowan; vice president, Winston Bellinger; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Archie Sayant; directors: Mrs. Fred Lewis, John Porteous, Lawrence Brunton and Mrs. Harold Kennedy.

Plans were made for a pancake supper on February 7th, a dance on Feb. 11th with Harold Woods' orchestra, and the annual Winter Carnival on Feb. 18th.

Calvin K. Stanley Dies

Two communities suffered a great loss with the sudden passing of Calvin Stanley, of Greely. Born there 69 years ago, Calvin had taken an active part in all community life for over half a century.

Here was a man who believed his main reason for living was to be of assistance to his fellow man, and only a day before his death he was soliciting help for a family that had suffered a great loss in a fire.

In nearby Metcalfe, his loss will be felt by the Curling Club where he had been an active member since 1950, and here again, Calvin was always ready and willing to do just a little more than his share.

The high esteem in which he was held was evidenced by the great number of friends who braved the chill January day to attend the funeral at the little Anglican Church at Greely, where many were forced to remain in their cars. Impressive service was conducted by Rev McGregor both in the church and at the graveside.

Retired farmer and contractor Calvin Kennedy Stanley of Greely died Janury 27th in his 69th year. Only ill for a very short time, he was a lifelong resident of Greely.

Born March 26, 1898, he was the son of Robert Stanley and Margaret Johnston. He was the beloved husband of Ethel Mc Innes who survives.

Mourning with his wife are daughters Mrs. Leonard Dowser (Eleanor), Ottawa; Mrs George Ritchie (Embyl), Leitrim; Mrs. Pat O'Brien (Ruby). Ottawa, and son, Kenneth, of Greely. And sisters, Mrs. Herman Wallace (Mary), Ottawa; Mrs. Willie Boa (Bertha), Chute A Blondeau; Mrs. Viola Craig and Mrs. (Dr.) Lynn Morrow (Myrtle), Metcalfe; brothers Russell of Toronto and Charles of Ottawa, and nine grandchildren.

He was predeceased by sister Lyla (Mrs. Nelson Patterson) and brothers Johnston and Robert.

A member of the All Saints Anglican Church, Greely, service was from that sanctuary on January 30 at 2 p.m., with Rev. Father F. A. McGregor officiating. Temporary entombment was in All Saints vault with spring interment in All Saints Anglican Cemetery.

Churches Give Impressive 1966 Year-End Reports

St. Paul's Winchester

An impressive report of progress and growth was unveiled at the annual meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church despite the fact that the church had been without a minister for more than a year. St. Paul's, Winchester, and Knox, Mountain, will both record the welcome of Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Inglis as a major highlight of the 1966 church year. Rev. Inglis was inducted to the dual charge on November 9th, and since has contributed greatly to the advancement of the churches.

All organizations reported a successful financial year, completion of many projects, and a growing membership. The Ladies' Aid, as part of their own 75th anniversary and Canada's Centennial celebrations, will finance the renovation of the Sunday School rooms. The Sunday School reported a good year with membership climbing. Re-organization of the Young People's Society has taken place under the direction of the minister and this youth group is expected to flourish in the new year. Church membership remains almost constant.

Report of the Session mentioned with deep regret the passing of two members, Secretary-treasurer Alex Summers and clerk Alex Davidson. Regret was also expressed for the passing of eight other church members.

Archie Rice was elected to the Trustee Board to fill the vacancy by death of James R. Johnston. Appointment to this board is for a life term. Appointments to the Board of Managers were: one year term, George Davidson to fill out the term of H. O. Knapper, and for three year terms, R. D. Ledgerwood, C. E. Cross, Don Wilson, Robert Carlyle and Ralph Johnstone. Church secretary is Mrs. C. R. Robinson and treasurer R. D. Ledgerwood; duplex envelope secretary, Hugh Wilson, and church auditors are Sheldon Cameron and Don Wilson.

During the year the Board of Managers of the church completed several repair and renovation projects on property. These included rebuilding of chimney and east entrance steps, repair of foundation and resurfacing of west entrance walk.

Under the guidance of the new minister St. Paul's anticipates a progressive and productive 1967.

Winchester United

1966 annual reports of the Winchester United Church show an excellent year of growth. Congregational givings to local and missionary purposes was increased over the previous year as church membership increased to 706 with 375 families represented.

During the year the report of the Trustee Board showed the Men's Club had financed the painting of the Sunday School Rooms. Arrangements had been completed for the erection of an outdoor sign, and the church's Centennial project will be landscaping of church lawns and grounds which is already underway.

The annual meeting approved the installation of officers to various church boards. Elders appointed for a five year term were Eric Steele, Howard Bicum, Dr. H. G. Barton, Glenn Docksteader, Douglas Keys, and for a three year term, Stanley Rennick. There are 25 elders in the church.

Appointed to the thirty member Board of Stewards for a three year term were Donald Holmes, Lloyd LaPorte, Harold Lannin, Morley Erratt, Jack Hatcher, William Sherwood, Jack Fisher, Alvin Davidson, Ormond McConnell, Frank Bailey and for a one year term, Michael Dukelow.

Church secretary is H. E. Fennell, and auditors are J. E. Boyd and William Collins.

During the year the church budget of $18,000 was met successfully and all existing loans paid off.

Williamsburg Lutheran

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, was held on the evening of January 18th. A pot-luck supper was served to those present by the ladies of the congregation before the meeting which was enjoyed by all.

At the last regular meeting of Church Council tribute was paid to Pastor and Mrs. Goos for their service to the congregation during the past year. Financial reports were printed for the members. Reports were given by the several organizations of the congregation which showed that progress had been made. New wash rooms were built in the basement and the Sunday School room was redecorated and arrangements are to be made to have all the woodwork on the outside of the church painted and repaired if necessary.

The Church Council consists of Pastor Walter Goos, Ernest Trickey, Vice Chairman and Benevolent treasurer, Walter Loucks, financial secretary; Lyle VanAllen, treasurer. Elbourne McIntosh, Charlie Whitteker, Ralph McIntosh, Arnold VanAllen, Keith Schell, Emerson Harriman, Connie McIntosh, Bismark Barkley and Clare Empey, Deacons, and Frank S. Merkley as secretary.

The pastor, in his address to the meeting, said that although progress had been made there was always a chance for improvement and to look forward with faith in the future.

Colquhoun United

The annual meeting of Colquhoun United Church was held in the church hall on Wednesday evening with a pot-luck supper at seven o'clock. Later Rev. D. L. Gordon conducted the meeting, assisted by the secretary, Mr. Cecil Dennison.

Reports were given by: Charlie McNairn, treasurer of the church; Mrs. Kenneth Hummel, U. C. W.; Mrs. Roy Hart for the Sunday School and the Stewards; Miss Gail Cunningham for Hi-C; George Wright, Session and Superintendent of Sunday School; Lloyd Gallinger, M. and M. treasurer. All reported a very busy and successful year. Cecil Dennison and Kenneth Hummell were appointed auditors.

Committee of Stewards: Mrs. Cecil Dennison, Mrs. Roy Hart, Mrs. Graham Wells, Charlie McNairn, Lyle Cunningham, Donald Kyle and Paul Wright. Mrs. Graham Wells, on behalf of the congregation, thanked Rev. Gordon for his calls and help during the past year. Rev. Mr. Gordon closed the meeting with the Benediction.

Metcalfe Village Elects Trustees

Ratepayers in the village of Metcalfe met and elected their trustees for the coming year:

Gordon Boland, Lawrence Dowser and Stewart Johnston will guide the destinies of the village for the coming year, and although finances are not available for any major centennial project, it is planned to install a new street lighting system, and also make an effort, in conjunction with the Township Council, to have a sidewalk built to the High School.

A sidewalk on this street would not only serve the school but also the Community Centre, the Curling Club and the Lions Den, as well as the Metcalfe Fair at fair time.

It is possible, if the ratepayers are agreeable, some other project may also take form, and a committee was set up with this thought in mind. This committee is composed of Mrs. C. E. L. Morrow, Mrs. Gerald Morris, H. H. Coulson, Lloyd Graham and David Flay.

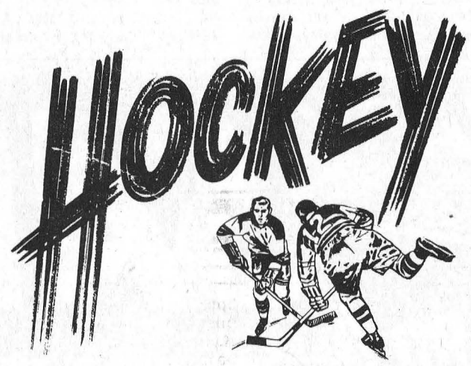
BROOMBALL ACTION

Harley Merkley New President Cowboys Lead

Winchester Broomball League directors are pleased to announce this week completion of the league executive with the appointment of former league star Harley Merkley as president. Addition of a president completes the executive responsible for the operation of the local league.

Mid-season dance for the broomballers and friends was a genuine success at the Winchester Legion last week-end. Winner of the $50 Canada Savings Bond draw on advance sale tickets was W. Ayre of Ottawa. Winning ticket was sold by Bob Porteous who donated $10 as seller of the prize winning ticket to the league trophy fund. The trophy fund also received a boost from Don Billings, Top Valu Gasmart. Don added another $10 to the fund. League executive plans purchase of a trophy and awards for a season finale awards night and party.

On the ice last week Bob Dawson's Cowboys took over first place with a 2-1 victory over Dale Presley's Indians. Ron Lewis and Grant McHugh tallied for the victors and Merle Reaney for the losers. In the second event George Edwardson's Packers kept Bob Porteous' Rifles losing streak alive with a 4-2 game. Erwin Reaney picked up three goals for the winners, the insurance marker coming from the broom of Gord. Walker. Reg. Harper and Cliff Warren were Rifles' marksmen.



Williamsburg Short-Handed, Defeat Brockville 17-4 and Cardinal 8-4
