Parade Route Jammed As Santa Makes Way To Community Centre

Santa and Mrs. Santa are shown just after they had stepped off Spartan Air Services helicopter which brought them to Winchester on Saturday afternoon. It was a day for thousands of youngsters (all ages) who turned out to greet their all time hero. Len Steck, left, and Roy Fawcett, president of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce, were the official welcoming committee. (More pictures in next issue of The Press).—Photo by Smith.

"This is the most."

That's the way one young lad summed up Winchester's tremendous Santa Claus parade last Saturday afternoon. Without any doubt the Saturday parade and pre-Christmas visit of Santa Claus, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, were the biggest, the best and the most colourful ever held in this district.

HUGE CROWD

A crowd estimated at between four and five thousand people was in town on Saturday and most of this number, adults and children alike, circled the high school campus for the impressive arrival of Santa and Mrs. Santa by helicopter. Following a welcome by Chamber president Roy Fawcett, Santa was escorted to the Chamber of Commerce float and then through the streets of the village to the Community Centre. The scene back St. Lawrence Street as the long parade headed north, was one of much congestion and merriment, and old timers remarked that there had been nothing like this in Winchester since the War. Others said it was the biggest parade since Old Home Week in 1934. The streets were literally jammed with people, and police officers Les Whittaker, Herb Myers and Roy Merkley and other helpers had their hands full in directing the heavy traffic.

At the Community Centre the ice surface was literally jammed with youngsters of all ages when Santa arrived. While he and Mrs. Santa with the help of parade marshall Reg. Workman talked to hundreds of youngsters at the north side of the arena, a crew of helpers was handing out the colourful bags of treats at the other end to close to 2,000 youngsters.

Later, Santa and the wife were taken back to the school grounds where they boarded the helicopter and waved goodbye to hundreds of well wishers.

PARADE OF FLOATS

The parade this year which escorted Santa through the town was exceptional. It was spread over a quarter of a mile from front to rear. Headed by Jack Campbell of Cardinal who was dressed in western style and riding his good-looking palamino horse, Harry Flora's Chamber of Commerce car followed and then the smart-appearing Winchester High School Band, making its first appearance of the season and sounding better than ever. Three clowns, who turned in a first rate job, actually led the parade. They were Bob Summers, "Crick" Smith and Bob Sutherland.

The Chamber of Commerce Santa Claus float followed, and then came the bulk of the colourful parade. Other floats included those sponsored by: Winchester Hydro System, Clutch Grinders Car Club; Roy Fawcett Jeweller; The Winchester Press; Winchester Fire Department, Winchester Public School Safety Patrol, Winchester High School.

In addition, Dundas Dairy Princess was transported on a float from Wincrest Dairy and Winchester Carnival Queen Ann Ladouceur and her escorts, Marlene Summers and Norah Allen rode in an open convertible. Other features were George Hanes and his pony; Harry Keyes' go-cart pulling his two young daughters; the W. H. S. Cheerleaders; Dale Allison and George Edwardson who were clowns on horses; Bob Guy and

Four Shaken Up When Shunting Diesel Hits Car At CPR Crossing

Four members of one family were shaken up and the car in which they were driving was badly damaged when it was hit by a shunting diesel locomotive at the Winchester CPR crossing about 6.30 Tuesday night.

Hubert VanGilst, of Finch, and his three sons were proceeding south and thought that the flagman was waving their car across the tracks. They started across the track only to have the shunting diesel engine, which was backing up, hit them almost broadside. Fortunately the engine was not going fast and the occupants of the car were only shaken up and given a bad scare. Damage to the car was extensive.

Constable Les Whittaker of Winchester investigated.

Dedicate New $15,000 Organ At United Church

The newly installed $15,000 pipe organ at Winchester United Church was dedicated on Sunday morning in the presence of an overflowing congregation.

The dedication ceremony was performed by the minister, Rev. A. J. MacDonald, B.A., and the key of the organ was presented to Mrs. Howard Fetterly, organist, on behalf of the Session and members of the congregation by Dr. H. G. Barton, chairman of the Organ Committee.

The speaker for the dedication was Rev. G. W. Boyce, B.A., B.D., S.T.M., Professor of Homilitics at Emmanuel College, Toronto. At the morning service Mr. Boyce spoke on "The Ministry of Music," and in the evening his subject was "God, In The Unexpected."

Anthems were sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Fetterly, and solos were sung by Mrs. Fred M. Cass and Ronald Freeland. Solo parts were taken by Deanna Dawson and Mrs. Roy Wiley.

The new organ replaces another pipe organ which was installed in the church 49 years ago. It was custom made for this church at St. Hyacinthe, Que., at a cost of approximately $15,000.00.

ORGAN RECITAL

Mr. William France, Mus.B., F.C.C.O., pianist, organist and composer, of Ottawa, will give an organ recital on the new organ on Sunday evening, December 11th, at 8 p.m. Ministers and choirs of the different churches in the district have been invited to attend this recital. Mr. France had his first position as an organist at the age of 14 years, and before coming to this district he was organist in churches at Tillsonburg, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie and Guelph.

Plan Tests For School Bus Drivers

School bus operators may have to take special driving tests under new regulations being considered by the Ontario government as a result of the Alberta train-bus crash in which 17 students died last week.

Transport Minister Rowntree said his department will discuss any action with the School Bus Owners' Association and Motor Coach Operators' Association.

Association officials said stiffer regulations are needed to prevent "fly-by-night" operators from using poor equipment and ill-trained personnel.

District Election Results

Although there were no elections in Winchester or the immediate townships, voters went to the polls in both Morrisburg and Matilda. At Morrisburg in an election for Council, Dain Connors headed the polls with 481 votes, followed by newcomer Bill Dillabough, formerly of Winchester, with 462 votes. Fred A. Hill with 430 and Willard Steinburg with 418 were also elected. Lawrence Coligan, with 335, was defeated in his bid to be re-elected.

In Matilda Township Reeve Mahlon Zeron rolled to an easy victory with 826 votes over J. Orval Seeley's 485. John Thompson (725) defeated incumbent Deputy Reeve Wilfred Cooper (487). For Council, John Wells headed the polls with 747 votes, followed by Dwight Merkley with 767 and Harold Boyd 655. James Milligan with 566 was not elected.

Mountain Council Delegation Says By-law Legal

Mountain Township's controversial by-law which takes away the voting privilege from tax delinquents in the township is "definitely legal." These are the words of Township Clerk Don Baldwin and all three councillors, Delmer Timmins, Ewart Simms and John Thompson. They appeared at the office of The Winchester Press this week to explain the process behind the by-law and to protest a part of a news item dealing with the Mountain nominations which appeared in last week's issue of The Press.

The delegation explained that the by-law had been passed in an effort to collect tax arrears which are running high in the township. The delegation said that some taxes had been collected but did not intimate the success of the by-law.

In referring to the Press news item last week the delegation said that certain parts of the report were in error and tended to cast a reflection on the township council. Editor Workman explained to the delegation that the contents of the write-up were published on good authority and assured the delegation that this newspaper (The Press) was in no way condemning the Mountain Council, nor the Mountain nomination.

Clerk Don Baldwin, who is also the Returning Officer, pointed out that the Nomination was not a farce, that any eruption did not take place at the actual nomination meeting, but after. He also said that provincial police had been called to Hallville on Saturday night by a member of his family as a precautionary measure only.

In referring to the by-law last week The Press said that Reeve William Cameron was not present when the by-law was passed. However, the delegation pointed out that Reeve Cameron was present at the third and final reading, but did not vote for the by-law.

$3500 Robbery Jo-Anne Shoppe

Break-in at Winchester's popular Jo-Anne Shoppe has netted thieves more than $3,500 in cash and merchandise, according to latest estimates made by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dukelow.

The brazen robbery took place early last Friday morning when thieves entered the premises via a cellar window, smashed down a panel door and entered the rear part of the Main Street store. According to the owners and police, there was no serious damage to the store. Items stolen included a rack of coats worth $1500; sweaters, skirts, suits, hand bags, lingerie, slippers and other women's apparel. No dresses were taken.

The large, attractive store, long a centre for women shoppers in the entire district, was loaded with special Christmas displays and the pickings were easier. A rack of expensive furs, however, was ignored by the thieves, which prompts police to believe that the robbery was not the work of professionals.

Police have no definite leads and have not as yet arrested any suspects. Constable Les Whittaker is in charge of the investigation. He is being assisted by Provincial Constable Herb Myers and experts from the Cornwall provincial police office were also called in to make a more detailed investigation.

It was the first robbery at the Jo-Anne Shoppe since its opening 25 years ago.

FOR EASTERN ONTARIO

Lanark Pupil Wins Public Speaking Finals

Sharon Davidson, of Lanark, Ontario, was chosen to represent Eastern Ontario when she won the annual public speaking contest for elementary school students last Saturday. With her subject, "What It Means To Be A Canadian," she defeated ten other contestants representing all the counties in Eastern Ontario. Sylvia Gardner, of Lyn, placed second, and Harold Nixon of East Hawkesbury won third place.

The contestants are sponsored each year by the Ontario School Trustees and Ratepayers' Association. Prizes for regional or district finals are awarded by the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association and prizes for the provincial contest, to be held next April in Toronto, are awarded by Ontario Hydro

Contestants in addition to the winners were: Patricia Craig, of Ottawa; Greg McNally, Westport; Estell Macdonell, Glengarry; Lyn Campbell, of Pine Grove, near Arnprior; Brian Docksteader, Chesterville; Nancy MacPherson, Russell; Sheryl Dool, Kemptville, and Norma Tibbetts of Cornwall.

Nearly 200 persons filled the auditorium of Rothwell Public School at Ingleside to hear the eleven contestants speak on subjects covering conservation, agriculture, electricity, and Canada's great northland. The eight girls and three boys who competed for the honours had already won local school and district contestants to gain entrance to the regional finals.

The first-place winner won the McCaffrey trophy, while the runner-up won the Brockville Rotary Club trophy. The top three winners were presented with gifts by Walter Ashworth, Chairman of the Brockville Public Utilities Commission, representing the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association. The Association will also contribute to the expenses of the first place winner to attend the provincial finals in Toronto.

The Ontario School Trustees and Ratepayers Association also sponsors a similar contest for secondary schools throughout Ontario, and the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association and Ontario Hydro support the secondary school contests in the same manner as the elementary schools competitions. Regional finals for high schools will be held in January or February.

Big Game, Big Money!

The 1960 Grey Cup game is now two weeks old and a part of sports history. Yet, the statistics continue to roll in and it will be a little while yet before a complete analysis is known. One thing is definate, The Grey Cup continues to be Canada's most successful sports event.

The crowd of 36,592, which watched Ottawa Rough Riders win the 1960 Grey Cup from Edmonton Eskimos in Vancouver's Empire Stadium was the second largest Grey Cup attendance in the 40-year history of the East-West final. Canada's record football attendance is still the 39,417 which watched the 1955 Grey Cup game as Edmonton Eskimos won 34-19 from Montreal in the first Grey Cup game ever staged in Vancouver.

The 1960 game set financial records which may be hard to surpass even though the decade of the '60's promises to be the most successful in Canadian professional football history.

Canada's nine professional teams, who share profit from the Grey Cup game, will split a net of more than $400,000, unofficial Grey Cup revenue estimates indicate. Gross gate from ticket sales for the 1960 game was $295,000. Additional revenue included: $130,000 for television rights to the game sponsored by Dow Brewery Limited and British American Oil Company Limited; $12,000 from radio rights; $12,000 from fiilms; an estimated $5,300 from program rights. Total estimated Grey Cup revenue, $454,300.

Expenses, after taxes of $28,000 paid the Province of British Columbia, included: rental of Empire Stadium, $20,000; team expenses, $15,000; half-time show, $5,000 and miscellaneous, $10,000. Total, $50,000.

Other highlights: Ottawa Rough Riders' victory was their fifth in nine Grey Cup appearances. Edmonton Eskimo's Grey Cup record is ow three and four. Ottawa won in 1925-26-40-51-60. Eskimos of 1954-55-56 are one of three teams to win three consecutive Grey Cups. University of Toronto won in 1909-10-11, first three years the cup was in competition and the Toronto Argonauts of 1945-46-47 also scored triple consecutive wins.

The Grey Cup game has been staged in only two cities, Toronto and Vancouver, since 1945 but there is indication that it may be held elsewhere in future. Calgary announced it will make a bid for the 1962 game and Montreal has had plans for the past five years pending construction of a larger stadium.

Stupid, Thoughtless Intolerance

Membership in the Canadian Nazi party which was exposed on a recent week-end television programme appears to be very small, but that such a party should exist at all, so few years after the disaster this philosophy brought upon the world, is heart-sickening. The party has a self-styled young punk fuehrer who lives in Quebec province, but there appear to be branches in three or four major Canadian cities. Members wear a modified uniform and are "anti-Semitic and proud of it." There is a similar organization in the United States.

Canadians generally will be revolted at the existence of such a party in this country. But while its development may be repugnant, is it so surprising? Is there so great a difference between sayng "I am anti-Semitic and proud of it," and saying "of course I'm not against Jews but you know, etc., etc.?" When society generally will tolerate discriminatory jokes and evil racial gossip without protest as part of everyday conversation, is it any wonder that a few sick personalities will go to extremes? It is the stupid, thoughtless intolerance of decent citizens that creates the condition in which the racial hatred of the indecent can thrive.

Is there any possibility of this Nazi party growing in membership to a size of any importance? With Rabbi Feinburg, of Toronto, we believe that the common sense and character of the Canadian people will prevent that, although there may be some growth, for the toleration of evil in any degree leaves room for evil to grow. There is no danger in the growth of a Canadian Nazi party; but there is horror that it should exist.—The Smiths Falls Record-News.

OTTAWA REPORT . . .

(By Jean Casselman, M.P.)

When a really vital problem must be dealt with the strength of the democratic process becomes apparent. Then opinions are sifted and resifted. The process of attacking and defense makes it very difficult to uphold a dishonest stand. The clever debating of the experienced former Cabinet Ministers of the Liberal front benches could have been embarrassing had Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his followers not been sure of their position. As one who had the privilege of being consulted I knew that this position was arrived at by the most democratic process, by long and patient listening to the views of all Conservative members, as well as many, many others.

When the Hon. Paul Martin used the worn and obvious political tactics of suggesting that there was division amongst the members of the Government I felt personally disappointed. Mr. Martin has one of the best brains, best educations and most talent for oratory of anyone in the House of Commons. That he should waste his powers at a serious time of national crisis seemed a pity.

The energy expended by the four Opposition strong men was admirable and their knowledge and debating ability awesome. It is a good thing for our system of Government that at a time of very weak Opposition in numbers, there should be included in those numbers four men of their experience. But this was a difficult time for any Opposition. The Government was doing the right thing, what the Opposition themselves wanted done, what most Canadians wanted. The pressure of the debate became obvious when the Hon. Lionel Chevrier, usually so poised and controlled, forgot his ingrained Parliamentary manners. Mr. Chevrier constantly attacked the Prime Minister and Cabinet directly, and over and over had to be requested to give due reference to the Chair.

The Opposition has endlessly criticized the Government for not taking action for the unemployment situation. This criticism loses considerable effectiveness when the Government takes strong and fearless action in bringing in a Bill to stop a strike which would have caused suffering to Canadians individually, and unknown danger to our economy and national stability.

More specifically, it is action which avoids 170,000 railway workers being added to the list of the unemployed. Ten years ago in 1950, when the Government allowed a railway strike to begin, 70,000 workers in other industries as well were laid off as a result. That number would be larger today and quite likely 250,000 people would have been out of work had the strike occurred.

The Government clearly had to avert such a national disaster by the fairest means they could work out. Compulsion was avoided. The railways and their unions are free to continue negotiating. Any settlement finally arrived at is to be retroactive so that the railway workers will receive all they would ever have received, and themselves are saved the unhappiness and confusion of being out of work.

I am proud to belong to a Government which has striven to protect the public interest, which has not take sides, and at the same time has endeavoured to protect the utmost freedom of bargaining for all concerned.

TORONTO REPORT . . .

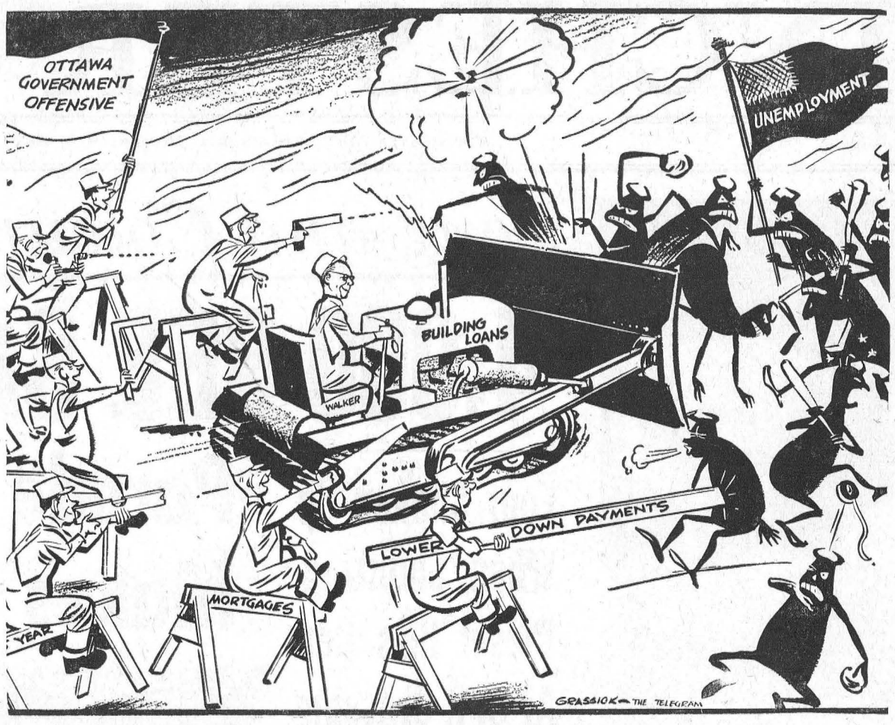
(By Hon. F. M. Cass, M.P.P.)

The Members of all parties have now settled down to business and the work of the Legislature was well under way during the second week of the Session. W. Erskine Johnston, MPP for Carleton, was appointed Deputy Speaker or, more properly, Chairman of the Committee of the Whole House in succession to Donald H. Morrow, MPP for Ottawa West. The various Committees have been constituted and debates have begun with vigour. That on the Speech from the Throne, which is the traditional opportunity for all members to speak on matters of interest and importance in their own area and people, got under way with speeches by all three Party Leaders, followed by both private members and Cabinet members.

The current problem of unemployment was brought before the House by the Conservative member for York-Scarborough and produced not only some fiery speeches but also the first night Session of the current sitting of the House. While everyone seems aware of the problem and the Government has produced evidence of a sound and heavy attack on the problem so far as lies in its power and jurisdiction, the Opposition Parties have been quite unable to advance constructive suggestions. Everyone seems to realize that goverments alone cannot solve the problem but can only, as the Ontario Government has done, endeavour to create a favourable climate for industrial and commercial expansion and prosperity, which in turn produces employment.

A good many Government bills were introduced in amendment of the laws of our Province while the usual abundance of private Bills were started on their way towards careful consideration by the Private Bills Committee.

As yet there is no indication as to the Government's proposals with respect to the manner of obtaining the additional funds so necessary for a continuance of essential services. It appears that little aid will be forthcoming from the Federal authorities and, if this is the case, it may well mean greater or new Ontario taxes. The tremendous expansion in Ontario's population and economy have resulted in an increase in the Provincial annual budget during the last fifteen years from a hundred to a thousand million dollars, all of which must, of course, be put up by the Province's taxpayers —you and me. It is quite necessary, if we wish more and better highways, new schools, pensions and allowances, hospital insurance and new hospitals, and all the other provincial services which we seem to take for granted, that we find money to pay for them.



The Battle Is Joined

SUGAR and SPICE . . .

(By Bill Smiley)

This is a trying time. Across who have thrown caution to the land a lot of people are in a stew about something. Merchants who have gone to the hilt on the overdraft, for a big stock, are sweating out the pre-Christmas doldrums. Students who have had a ball all fall are green as they face Christmas exams with nothing in the belfry. Housewives look forward to the Christmas chaos with sheer dread.

* * * *

But I'm not worrying too much about any of them. The students will totter through on a mixture of luck and nerve. The housewives will emerge on Boxing Day, bloody but unbowed. The people who have my deep sympathy, this time of year, are the men and women in hundreds of municipalities who are standing before a mirror, trying to look firm, intelligent and able, as they seek to muster enough courage to run for public office.

* * * *

The annual nomination meeting is the best show in town. It produces enough high drama, low comedy and suspense to make some of the so-called masterpieces of W. Shakespeare look pretty flimsy. For ten years I attended every nomination meeting, as a newspaperman, and on a couple of occasions as a candidate. I wouldn't trade it for a season's ticket to the Stratford Festival.

* * * *

Before the meeting gets really warmed up, there's lots of fun. The mayor and the reeve have their heads together, figuring out how to skate over the thin ice of that substantial deficit. The expert needlers in the crowd are sharpening the points on their questions. The practical jokers are nominating the local idiot, dead people, and the town's loose woman. The inevitable drunk is on hand, not quite tipsy enough to be thrown out.

* * * *

And sitting there, still as the grave, staring wildly into space, are the brand new candidates, who have thrown caution to the winds and decided to "go out for" a seat on the council or school board. It's a pretty tense business for them, I can tell you.

* * * *

Don't talk to me about your Kennedy and Nixon. Those big fellows have staffs of advisers and consultants and public relations men and prexies and moguls and campaign managers and experts and party machines and ward heelers and all sorts of things on nomination night. They're not alone.

* * * *

But that determined-looking little woman in the fourth row, who turns alternately red and white, like a neon sign, is as lonely as a deaf mute on a raft in the Sahara. She has keyed herself to a frightening peak of nerves. She has never spoken in public before. And she is going to run for a seat on the school board and try to ginger up that all-male, inert body, which is all talk and no action. She is fierce, but frightened.

* * * *

And look over here. Young Punkiss is "going out" for council and he looks it. There's a fine film of sweat on his face and he grips the back of the chair in front of him with the same expression as a kid on a roller coaster. You can't blame him. He's going up against Doc Socum, and everybody in town owes the Doc. Punkis has only been in town for 12 years and has a lot of nerve to try for a seat. There's some pretty raggedy material going on the ballot this year.

* * * *

There, the speeches are starting. Listen to old George giving it to the mayor about the sidewalks. Old George knows a thing or two about those sidewalks. He helped build them, 52 years ago. There's Joe Slosh, with a skinful, going after the reeve, about the taxes on his place. Says he won't pay a cent till they pave the street, put in a sewer, and install a street light in front of his house. His total taxes are $18, and he's two years in arrears. There, the chief is ushering him out, same as last year.

* * * *

And so it goes. Don't tell me about the Roman senate, or the House of Commons. For vivid clash of personalities, for the rapier thrust of wit, give me a nomination meeting every time. The chairman of the school board defends himself like a tiger when some pretty sharp questions come up about teachers' salaries. The chairman of the library board paints a sweeping picture of the town's cultural progress, with 300 more books borrowed than last year, and two new shelves added to the library.

* * * *

But it's 11.30, and a lot of the spectators have drifted out. They have to get some sleep. After all, tomorrow's the day the magistrate holds court, and there are some pretty interesting cases.

* * * *

It"s a pity, but by the time there's a chance for the new candidates to speak, there's nobody left but the chairman, looking blue, and the caretaker, who has to sweep up after the meeting, looking black. Little Mrs. Bantam, the candidate for school board, rises anyway. It's understood that she has prepared a pretty savage attack on the other members of the board, and has a bold, new platform to propose. She looks at the chairman, who is nodding at the caretaker, who is muttering, and at young Punkiss, who has fallen sound asleep, while waiting his turn.

* * * *

She bursts into tears and stamps out. Awakened abruptly, Punkiss leaps to his feet. His chance has come. Now is the time for that brief, witty and gracious speech he has prepared. He blurts: "Mr. Chairman, fellow ratepayers, I wanna thank my nominator and seconder and if elected I will do my besta serve to the besta my ability"

* * * *

And from such gallant souls as Punkiss come our local legislature and that spark of fire that keeps democracy burning bright.

OF MANY THINGS . . .

(By Ambrose Hills)

THE PARADOX

It has always amazed me the way we take ideas from our enemies.

When Hitler and Mussolini were in power, we were so impressed with their so-called efficiency that we adopted a good many of their schemes. For example, our Canadian broadcasting system was based, to a great extent, on the German system. We have modified it, but the experts who studied the matter were so impressed with the German system that they would have had us adopt it completely had not the Canadian public rebelled.

In a simlar way, we are now adopting or have already imported many of the early Russian techniques. And if some of the experts have their way, there will be more and more direction from the top down, and more and more of the nation's revenue going into the hands of governments. Ironically enough, the Russians have already found some of these techniques to be useless, and they are tossing them out and instituting Capitalist methods. They are paying their biggest rewards to the biggest producers, and no longer pay even lip service to the Marxist doctrine of "from each according to his ability, to each according to his need." Today in Russia they see to it that "he profits most who serves best."

It has been demonstrated again and again that profits mean jobs, and yet we harp away on the evils of profit. Can a firm that makes no profit be a good employer? Of course not! But to listen to some of our public oracles, you would think that we'd have Utopia here if we could only force Canadian business to the wall.

Many problems in Canada have arisen from giving up the very principles which were most successful! From a policy of limited government, we have switched over to giving government more and more power. We pay old age pensions to millionaires, and unemployment insurance to prosperous housewives and others who simply do not need it. We pay higher and higher wages to those who have jobs with the result that more and more Canadians are without jobs at all.

Isn't it time we told the government to get back to the proven practice of rewarding the job-makers, of setting the people free, of urging self-reliance and individual productivity?

Meditations . . .

(By Cecil W. Tuininga)

Matt. 1:23: "They shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpeted is, God with us."

What does Christmas mean to us? Ask the boys and girls and you will get a variety of answers. Christmas, they will tell you, means cards, carols, Christmas trees, lights, tinsel, trains, turkey, shopping, gifts, Santa, vacation, parties, and one might remember to add, the birth of a baby in a manger.

Fortunately not all boys and girls would give such an answer. There are those, although their number is much too small, who know just what Christmas means. They will tell you with joy that Christmas means the commemoration of the Saviour's birth.

Unfortunately the real meaning of Christmas has been smothered and buried by our present Christmas celebrations. Most of our modern celebrations have nothing to do with the birth of our Saviour but are entirely out of line with its commemoration. Even where the story of Christ's miraculous incarnation is told its celebration is actually destroyed by trees, lights, tinsel, gifts, and the like. Children, as well as adults, lose themselves in a gay time which has nothing to do with celebrating the birth of Him Who came to seek and to save a world lost in sin and under condemnation.

What does Christmas mean? It means "God with us." Christmas is the commemoration of the incarnation by which God came again into a living contact with men and men with God. But this contact was only possible through the cruel cross of Calvary. Man's fall into sin and death through Adam, which was a falling away from God bringing death, had to be atoned for. Only the coming of the Son of God into this world could bring men back to God. Christ had to come to redeem men through His death. He suffered in our place so that in Him we might have life and be again restored as children of the Living God.

Christmas is a commemoration of God's great redemptive work for men. God Himself took in hand man's redemption. He so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son. But our salvation is contingent on our coming to God in Faith, for the Scripture says God gave His Son that, "whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."—John 3:16. The way to the Father is by faith as the apostle writes, "For by grace are ye saved through faith."—Eph. 2:8.

It follows from this that only a true believer can celebrate Christmas. Those who do not believe should not observe it at all for this day cannot mean anything to them, except they repent and turn unto the Lord and live. Then Christmas will be a joyous commemoration of the Saviour's birth through which God and men have been reconciled. Then Christmas means God with us! May Christmas 1960 have this blessed and joyous meaning for you.

The 7th Column

Santa Claus came to town last Saturday to be greeted by a crowd estimated between four and five thousand adults and children. The old boy and Mrs. Santa arrived by helicopter at the high school campus and were whisked away in the biggest Santa parade this or any district town has ever held. Sponsors of the entire event were members of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce, and the workers of the Chamber who arranged the goings on Saturday are to be congratulated for a good show. People from all over the district lauded the effort, and certainly the promotion does Winchester no harm. In promotion of this kind all Winchester benefits. In short, it's a few doing much for a lot. And by the way, the helicopter is well worth the five we threw in the pot to help bring it here.

Charlotte's back in town—in the mayor's seat. She took an early slim lead Monday night as the results from Ottawa's civic election started to roll in, and she never relinquished it. Like Jack Kennedy, U. S. president-elect, Charlotte can walk down the street in her new term of office and know that one of every couple she meets is against her. That's how close the mayor's race was in Ottawa. It should lead to good government.

Ottawa also voted again on the issue of Sunday Sports and "no's" won a very narrow victory. Something less than a 2,000 vote majority was against the Sunday sports question, which gives an idea of the evenness of thought in the city on this particular subject. Although we are not necessarily against Sunday sports, we are nevertheless a little pleased that at least one major Canadian city has voted down Sunday sports. Seems to us "commercialized" sport could eventually do more harm than good on Sunday, and at the pace most of us are living to-day what's wrong with taking one day off—say the Sabbath, if this is possible.

How can we pass up the chance to say something about the weather. A day, any day, could make a big change, but until time of writing Tuesday morning, this area was basking in weather that was anything but early winter style. Temperatures were in the high 40's and low 50's, no sign of snow, and a mixture of the odd rain squall and sunny skies. Last year at this time the district was covered with more than 10 inches of snow—and it was here to stay.

Last week marked the largest regular issue The Winchester Press ever published, and this week marks the first issue of the "new" Chesterville Record. We are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the new look Record as Keith Graham and the boys step up to a larger and more attractive format. This means an all round better news and pictorial service in a good weekly newspaper which we are pleased to call our neighbour. Making a major change in the format of a newspaper is no small task, and we trust readers of The Record will be appreciative of the improved service this newspaper is giving to the community it serves.

The co-operation of district organizations in support of the District Memorial Hospital continues each week. Just recently Crysler Chamber of Commerce donated $1,000 to the hospital, and certainly this generous donation will be used very likely in the purchase of much needed equipment. The hospital serves the district, it belongs to the district and the interest that has been shown in the expansion program by district individuals and organizations has been more than encouraging. Needless to add that the Board of Directors, which represents all areas, is heartened with contributions like the one from Crysler.

Dundas County Soil And Crop Group Elects New Officers

The Dundas Soil and Crop Improvement Association is a growing organization. This was demonstrated at their annual meeting at Winchester Springs last Thursday. A group of 75 farmers turned out to hear guest speakers D. L. Parks, Kemptville Agricultural School, and J. Y. Humphries, Glengarry Agricultural Representative, as well as a report on many crop demonstration projects by Dundas Agricultural Representative Ed. Pearson.

Mr. Parks spoke on the value of using good seed of improved varieties. He particularly stressed recent changes in the Seeds Act. The class of seed known as Certified Seed will be the best buy in quality seed to be used for growing feed grains. Such seed must meet rigid standards in field and bin inspection, for purity, germination and weed content. Field inspection of crops for seed is the buyer's only assurance that he is obtaining seed which is true to the type and variety named on the bag. Ordinary commercial seed which is not field inspected may easily be a mixture of varieties or strains. After July 1st, 1961, commercial seed may not be sold as a named variety.

Another new feature in the sale of seed is that commencing this year, a buyer of seed may demand to be shown a grade sample certificate for any lot of seed he may purchase. By looking over such a certificate the buyer may check the weed content of the seed and prevent the introduction of new weeds to his farm.

Jim Humphries dealt with the extensive drainage programme in Glengarry County. During the last ten years a widespread municipal ditching programme has been followed by keen interest in tile drainage. In the current year 125,000 feet of tile drains have been laid in the County. Tile drainage, said Mr. Humphries, is of equal value in a very dry summer, as in one which is wet. The removal of excess soil water in Spring allows plants to develop deep root systems. When drought strikes, such plants have the roots to go down after the water they need.

An important part of the meeting was the presentation of awards in the Dundas Pasture Competition. Martin Schneckenburger, of Morrisburg, was the winner of the trophy awarded by the Nestle Co. Ltd. to the County champion. Also awarded to the winner were the Hogg & Lyttle Seed Company award and that of the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association for standing third in Eastern Ontario Zone finals.

A close second in the competition was Harold Lannin, Winchester, while Mrs. L. J. Renwick, Mountain, was third. The runners-up received prizes of $10.00 each from the Plant Food Council of Ontario, while all contestants received a soil sampling tube from the same organization.

In the election of officers, at the meeting, the following were elected:

Barbara Anne Belway Weds Keith Richard Winters

Rev. Wm. Sutherland officiated at a pretty December wedding in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Winchester, when Barbara Anne Belway became the bride of Keith Richard Winters, in a double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Belway, of Mountain, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winters of Cornwall.

Colourful mums and green ferns decorated the church for the ceremony. Mrs. Hugh Wilson, organist, accompanied Miss Jean Johnston as soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Chantilly lace over satin bridal gown. The back of the gown was accented by a large satin bow. Her halo headdress of sequins and seed pearls held her fingertip length veil. She carried a white Bible with satin streamers caught with red rosebuds.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Shirley Belway, as maid of honour, and Miss Sharon Steele as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of silk organza in Indedo Blue and Mist Rose and nylon net halos set with seed pearls. They carried small cascades of apple blossoms and lily of the valley.

Keith Hamilton, of Ingleside, assisted the groom as best man. The ushers were Connie Winters, brother of the groom, and Raymond Hamilton of Ingleside.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the Church Hall. To receive the guests, the bride's mother chose a dress of Royal Blue lace, with black accessories, and a corsage of white rosebuds. The groom's mother wore an attractive dress of mauve crepe with black and white accessories, and a corsage of white mums.

The young couple left for a honeymoon trip in the United States. To travel, the bride donned a deep rose wool dress, with white accessories, and a black fur jacket.

Out of town guests were from Cornwall, Finch, Prescott, Ottawa, Brockville, Ingleside and Cardinal.

She has also taken first at the Dundas Black and White Show as well as first at the Ottawa Championship Show at the Ottawa Winter Fair where she was also classed as a member of the 2nd prize Senior Get-of-Sire. She placed third at the Royal Winter Fair. In each case, Mr. Blaine entered the heifer in the milking 2-year-old class.

Mrs. Ray Brown Re-elected President Of Inkerman W. A.

"Keeping Christ in Christmas" was the theme for the December meeting of Inkerman W. A., which was held at the home of Mrs. George Corry recently.

Mrs. Cecil Rae and Mrs. Geo. McIntosh led the devotional period, assisted by Mrs. Wallace Crowder as pianist. Total receipts for the local C.N.I.B. canvass were $160.00. Donations of new or used wool blankets were asked to be turned in for "Refugee Care" to the treasurer, Mrs. Harold Baldwin, as soon as possible.

Mrs. Russell Suffel, Citizenship convener, gave an informative report concerning "The New Penal Reform." Mrs. Ray Brown enlightened the members concerning the work of the "women in the church" under the new woman's organization being former in January, 1962. Mrs. Geo. Fyke, of Cornwall, acted as the presiding officer. Mrs. Wm. McMenomy, convener of the nominating committee, brought in the following slate of officers for the year 1961:

ACTIVITIES AT

M. D. H. S.

(By Mary Ronson)

The girls showed the boys how it was done last week in curling as a team skipped by Patsy Roach and consisting of Diane Harriner, Marjorie Butler and Richard Gilmer, doubled the score on Ted Robinson's team who had Shirley Shepherd, Bill Dixon and Dorothy Desjardins curling with him. Jean Crowder, with Judy Coughler, John Somerville and Willa Ellis on her team, also overpowered the team skipped by David Harris. David had Edna Dixon, Gary McKee and Donna Marriner on his team.

It was decided that our curling club would participate in a home and home series of exhibition matches with school teams from nearby towns.

PRECIOUS PROMISES

"Thy Kingdom come."

I wonder if you realize for what you are asking when you make this request to your Father? What do you need to know and do before this time comes to be? And if it should come in a hurry, would you really be glad?

Do you realize at the time of your death you will have made your decision as to your destination? Do you realize that to travel from one place to another, a fare must be paid, a cost must be met, and when crossing international borders, passports are required? If you lack the papers necessary to enter the country into which you are going, you are deported, returned at your own expense.

The Bible says that there will be many coming to the door of God's Kingdom telling of the great things they have done in His Name, but God will say, "I don't know you, you are not registered here, your papers are not in order," and the door will be closed. When you say "Thy Kingdom come," you indicate that you have separated yourself from the things of the world, and you are ready to go and spend the rest of your life for His glory at His place; hell is prepared for Satan, the devil, only, and those who are unprepared for Heaven, those who want to go their own way, to do that which seems right in their own eyes. The Kingdom is a prepared place for a prepared people.

Matthew 6:33: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God . . ." John 3:5: "Except a man be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God."

May See Drastic Changes In Egg Marketing Program

Egg producers in Ontario will be deciding if they will accept the recommendations of the special committee of enquiry into egg marketing on December 14 in Toronto at the King Edward Hotel. The committee of enquiry was set up last March by E. Biggs, Deputy Minister of Agriculture (marketing) and have held eleven meetings while developing the recommendations.

If these recommendations are accepted by the egg producers they will form the basis for an egg marketing plan which could be voted on early next year.

Egg producers will get first hand information on the report from the president of the Ontario Poultry Producers, Tom Robson, Leamington, who was chairman of the committee. During the committee's investigations he commented that the deeper the committee looked into egg marketing, the more it smelled.

The committee recommended among other things that the egg marketing board set the price at the wholesale to retail level every seven days; the Farm Products Marketing Board would have the power to license, inspect and audit; egg grading stations and producer graders would be appointed sub-agents for the egg marketing board and as such would collect license fees and levies. It was also suggested that the Farm Products Marketng Board appoint at least one person to the egg marketing board.

Copies of the report have gone out to every county Federation of Agriculture secretary in Ontario as well as to all members of the Ontario Poultry Producers. Every producer in Zone 1 will be studying the suggestions closely and sending their comments to the zone chairman, Mrs. E. L. Macartney, Ramsayville, who will be attending the general meeting in Toronto on their behalf. All egg producers are welcome to attend the meeting and to voice their opinion.

those who want the most from each dollar heat water

ELECTRICALLY

It is thrifty to heat water electrically because in a modern automatic electric water heater little, if any, heat is wasted. You can be sure the heat you pay for is going where it should.

You reduce cleaning costs when you heat water electrically because there is no dirt, fumes or smoke to soil walls, woodwork and furnishings.

These advantages, combined with electricity's very low cost, mean you get the most for your money when you heat water electrically.

To get more out of life . . . get the most out of electricity.

CURLING CLUB

Tribute To Club Pioneers Artificial Ice For Metcalfe

Special to The Press
by Joe Rowan

In 1925 Curling came to Metcalfe, made possible by the combined efforts of two clergymen and a doctor. I wonder if, even in their most inspired dreams, they ever had visions of a day when curling enthusiasm would reach such a pitch that artificial ice would be installed.
three, Rev. R. C. Eakin, Rev. Father Harris and Dr. J. C. Byers, I sincerely believe they did dream of this day.

On the occasion of our 25th Anniversary in 1950, only a short time before his death, Rev. Mr. Eakin, being unable to attend our Annual Banquet, wrote a letter to our secretary. In this letter, which our club values very highly, Mr. Eakin pointed to the "un-Christian spirit that prevailed between Protestants and Roman Catholics in Metcalfe" at that time. He and Father Harris and the good Doctor thought that a Curling Club would foster a "Better Community Spirit." Again from his letter Mr. Eakin points with pride to the results of this venture; he says: "The mists of a generation rolled away and the sunshine of friendship and goodwill came to Metcalfe to stay." And stay it has, and the seeds of goodwill sown by these fine gentlemen have grown and flourished and made possible the fine co-operation and sacrifice that has finally brought artificial ice to Metcalfe. It must be all of 15 years since the idea was first studied by our Directors, and now under the careful guidance of President Don Morris it has become a reality.

It was indeed an enthusiastic band of curlers who met in the club room recently to hold the annual meeting. In the statutes of our Club there is a by-law that states that no president may serve more than two years in office, but that he might be elected again after a year lapse. The members, to a man, felt that if ever there should be an exception to a rule, this was to be it. President Don, whose two-year term had brought the fulfillment of a cherished dream, should have another year to see his plans finalized. Our three founders would indeed be proud if they could have lived to see this day.

OFFICERS

Other officers elected were as follows: 1st vice president, Dave Croskery; 2nd vice president, Gordon Boland; secretary, Bill Woods; treasurer, Ron McCune; ways and means committee, chairman, Jack Morrison; Match committee chairman, Joe Rowan.

Fees were set up as follows: Shareholders, $25.00; Non-Shareholders, $35.00; New Members, $25.00.

Due to the influx of new members it was felt that the shares should be limited and that next year the entire membership would be made up of shareholders.

In the Community League Joyce Hay was in the lead with singles of 185, 167 and 241 to cross 593. Marg. Summers had 541-201. Raymond Miller was top man with 640, made up by 224, 178 and 238. Don Wilson had 603-239.

32 Teams Play In Men's Bonspiel

Winchester Curling Club Men's Bonspiel was a rousing success last week with 32 Winchester and district teams competing for the honours. A full draw of 40 teams had been made for the five nights, but a break in the ice making machine necessitated the cancellation of Monday night play. Ran Wylie was bonspiel chairman, and he was assisted throughout the week by several other club members in directing the games.

Prizes were awarded the high percentage winners each night, eliminating the Saturday playoffs.

Winning teams and their skips were from: Smiths Falls, M. Ferguson; Winchester, Robt. Woods; Navy, R. Thomas; Carleton Heights, H. McLaughlin.

Teams competing in the bonspiel were from: Morrisburg, Smiths Falls, Vankleek Hill, Prescott, Metcalfe, Russell, Ottawa, Rideau, Ottawa Hunt, Ottawa Granite, Ottawa R. A., Perth, Navy, Richmond, Carleton Heights, Crains, Glebe, and Winchester.

Mrs. Dorothy MacLean Skips Team To Fetterly Cup Win

Dorothy MacLean's team of Delia Robinson, Doris McNeill and Jean Forden won the coveted Fetterly Cup Bonspiel of the Winchester Ladies' Curling Club on Monday. Mrs. MacLean's team defeated a team skipped by Carrie Duncan and composed of Amy Holmes, Jessie Anderson and Kay Tannahill to win the honours.

Consolation winners were Betty Barton, skip, Sybill Curtis, Jean Kenney and Jen Lloyd. Prizes to the winners were presented by Mrs. Wm. Byers following the day-long play, and the Fetterly Cup was presented to the winning team by the donor, Howard Fetterly.

A pot luck supper was held at six o'clock.
