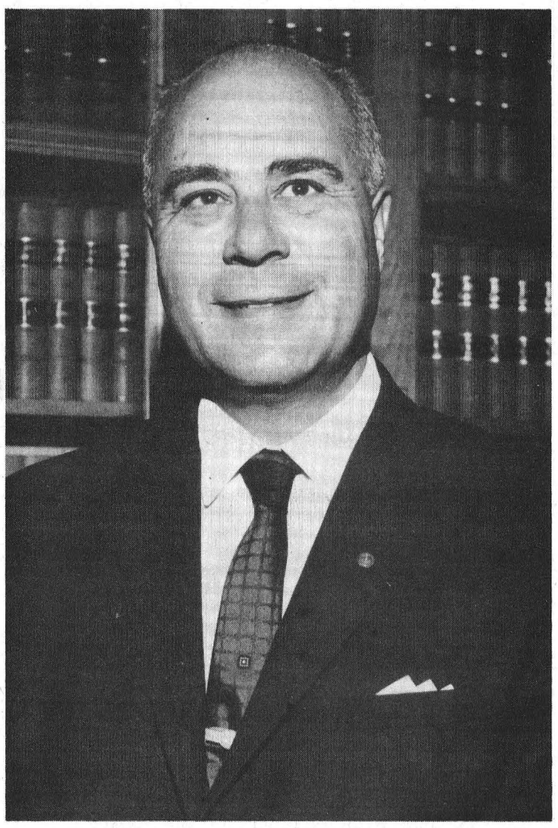
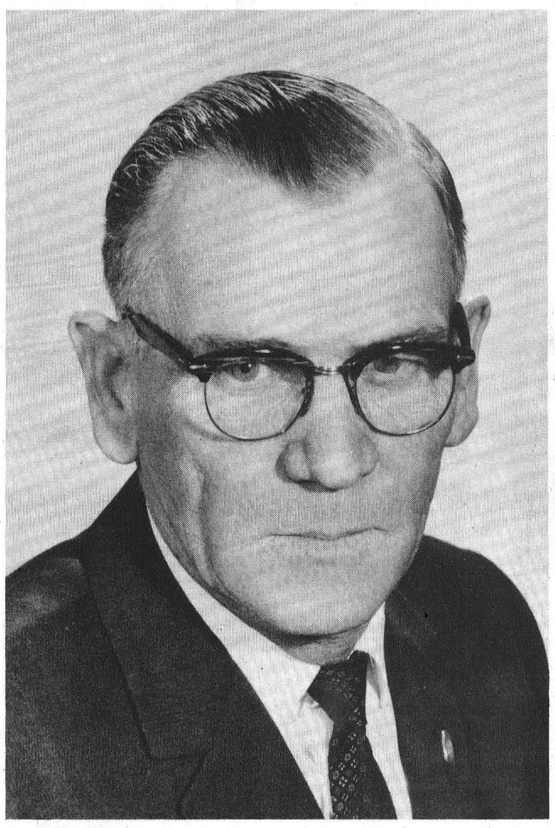
FRED CASS WINS



FRED M. CASS
Wins For The Conservatives



WALTER C. MacDONALD
Good Fight For The Liberals

Small Turnout Trims Ontario Tory Majority

Wet weather, smaller majorities and an even smaller turnout of voters featured Tuesday's provincial election. With the Tory broom at work again 69 Progressive Conservatives were swept into power in Ontario including Fred M. Cass of Grenville-Dundas.

The voting in Grenville-Dundas was characteristic of the trend across the province with 53 per cent. of the total eligible electors going to the polls. Winchester village was the exception where the vote including the advance poll was close to 80 per cent.

MAJORITY CUT

The unofficial final count of Returning Officer Max Boyd gave PC Fred Cass a 3,000 vote edge on Liberal opponent Walter C. MacDonald. Rene Benoit was never in the fight and ended the day with under 500 votes across the riding. Cass made a clean sweep in Grenville-Dundas losing only the odd scattered poll but winning every municipality. However, the big fight was right here in what was once solid Tory Winchester. Popular hometowner Walter MacDonald disproved this theory by giving Mr. Cass a run for his life. When the tally was taken after the voting Fred Cass had emerged with a scant 389 to 302 lead, not including the advance poll which strongly favoured the Conservatives.

BIGGEST VOTE

It was probably the biggest Liberal vote ever experienced in Winchester. Just by comparison, Fred Cass carried the town in 1963 with a vote of 534 to 96. MacDonald also picked up 500 more votes in the riding this time even with a smaller turnout. At the same time the Conservative vote dropped about 1600 votes, mostly the result of complacency with a good assist thrown in by Liberal Walter MacDonald whose campaign was a short but enthusiastic two weeks.

There were 935 eligible voters in Winchester and approximately 23,500 in the riding.

EASTERN ONTARIO SOLID

Elsewhere in Eastern Ontario it was the same old story with the Conservatives winning 13 of the 14 Ottawa and area seats. In nearby ridings James Auld, Minister of Tourism, was returned in Leeds; Fern Guindon, St. Lawrence Parks chairman, in Stormont, Erskine Johnston in Carleton West, Bert Lawrence in Carleton East, and Irwin Haskett in Ottawa South. And in Ottawa West former Winchester area boy Don Morrow, speaker of the provincial legislature, was re-elected with a resounding majority.

All three provincial leaders, Robarts, Nixon and McDonald were re-elected. But two members of the cabinet, Mines Minister George Wardrope and Municipal Affairs Minister Spooner were defeated in the land of the north where the NDP made formidable gains.

STRONG NDP VOTE

The Liberals, with 27 seats, will form the official opposition but the NDP, which made a remarkable gain in the popular vote and in increasing their seats from 8 to 21, will also have a clear voice in the new session.

JOHN ROBARTS
Ontario Premier

At dissolution the standing in the provincial house looked like this: Progressive Conservative 76, Liberal 21, NDP 8, vacant 3. Redistribution saw the number of seats increased from 108 to 117.

In Toronto, the Conservatives took 12 of the 26 seats with the Liberals winning 6 and the NDP 8.

There were 3,662,718 eligible voters in the province, an increase of 224,000 over the election in September 1963.

352,000 Visitors
Record For Upper Canada Village

When the gates closed at 5 p.m. last Sunday at Upper Canada Village it marked the end of the most successful summer on record. No doubt the influx of visitors to Expo was the reason for the busy season, but the thousands who came and were impressed will carry the message to all parts of the world and the result can only mean that records will continue to be set from year to year.

At the beginning of the season it had been predicted that 350,000 would pass through the gate during the summer. This mark was reached and surpassed as 352,000 people from every walk of life stepped back into history and lived again in the solitude of a peaceful little village just as our forefathers did over a century ago. This figure is 100,000 over the old record for attendance.

There were many thousands who travelled on to Expo and viewed the wonders of tomorrow, but many stopped on the way back to see the Village, again convinced that memories of a peaceful past were indeed more refreshing than vision of a computerized atomic future.

Rick Black At 100 Club

Rick Black, popular Ottawa Rough Rider member, will address the Winchester 100 Club at their meeting in Henderson Hall tonight (Thursday, October 19th).

All Centurians are urged to attend this meeting.

UC Speaker Outstanding

Very Rev. J. M. Mutchmor spoke twice to the people of Winchester in observance of the Anniversary of Winchester United Church on Sunday.

"The Promises of God" was the topic for the morning service, and in the evening the Rev. Mutchmor spoke of "Today's Encounter."

There was a very large attendance for both services. In the morning the Senior Choir, in Centennial dress, supplied the music, while in the evening the newly-formed Intermediate Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Earl, rendered two selections.

On Monday evening a smorgasbord dinner was held, which was also well attended.

Ottawa Winter Fair Starts Monday

Entries at the Ottawa Winter Fair will reach an all-time high this year, and the directors promise another great show.

The Official Opening is slated for Monday evening, October 23rd, at 9.00 p.m., and the guest of honour will be Canada's popular Minister of Agriculture, The Hon. J. J. Greene, and the guard will be provided by the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa with its pipe band, all in colourful traditional uniform.

An added special attraction this year will be the staging of the thrilling and colourful "Mounted Arms Display" by five of the RCMP's best riders. This same spirited display of fine horsemanship thrilled crowds for two weeks at Expo.

The directors urge all to arrange to come early in the week if possible as sell-out crowds are expected later in the week. Special attention is centred on the Car Draw. This year a 1968 Dodge Coronet. It could be yours for one dollar.

COC Annual

"Al Beardsall Night." This is the way the Winchester Chamber of Commerce has billed its Annual Banquet Meeting at the Country Kitchen Restaurant on Monday evening at 7.00 o'clock.

Rae Grimmell, Resources Development Officer, Spartan Air Services, will be the guest speaker and an exceptionally large attendance is expected.

Mr. Beardsall, recently retired from the Ontario Hydro, has always played an active part, not only as a member of the Chamber of Commerce, but as a working supporter of all community work, and Winchester businessmen will want to take this opportunity to show their appreciation.

UC Staff Visits Cooperstown

The gates at Upper Canada Village are closed but the staff is not resting. 64 members this week are visiting the United States Farm Museum at Cooperstown, N. Y.

This is not a pleasure jaunt but a fact-finding mission where the Canadian staff will study the methods of their neighbours to the south, and the exchange of ideas which will result will be very beneficial to both countries.

Ken Grant To Address Legion Ladies' Night

The Winchester Legion will hold their regular meeting at the Legion Hall on Monday, October 30th, at 8:30 p.m., and Membership Chairman Les Whitteker urges all unpaid members to have their membership up-to-date before this time.

The Legion plans a membership drive and all new members will be installed at this meeting.

Tickets are now on sale from all Legion members for Ladies' Night which will take place on Friday, November 3rd. A fine evening of entertainment is planned with a smorgasbord supper, prominent guest speaker and dancing. This function is purposely planned to fall on a date near Armistice in order that members and their wives will have an opportunity to remember together their friends who fell on the battlefields of Europe in two world wars.

President Frank Gannon and Les Whitteker have been selected as delegates to attend the District Convention at Deep River on October 21st.

The Legion members are pleased to announce that the guest speaker for the Ladies' Night will be "General" Grant, CFRA's well known "Early Bird."

Only "Advance Sale" ticket purchasers can be accommodated, and these tickets will be on sale at the Summers Insurance Office right up till November 2nd.

Plan to attend and hear the General outline some of his great accomplishments on the softball field and the curling lanes.

DEMOLITION . . . . . after the fire

The "demolition hammer" struck one of the old Winchester buildings last week and the Press photographer was on the job.

The devastating fire which struck the Vice and Craig Furniture Store earlier in the fall left the old building in an irreparable state, and complete demolition was the only answer.

Once, in the early days of the village, the building was a pump factory, and later it was owned and operated as a furniture business by the late Les. Dixon.

The lot will now become a parking area in conjunction with the Vice and Craig Funeral Home.

EASTER OUT !

New Holidays For Ont. Schools

Students and teachers will have NO Easter Holidays this term — but — students and teachers will have Winter Holidays. The dates set are March 16th to 24th.

This was confirmed in a telephone conversation with the secretary of one of the larger high schools in the district who explained that it was marked in all new school "registers" as such.

The Easter Holidays, as indicated by the name, have always commenced on Good Friday and continued till the Monday following Easter Monday. The difficulty here, apparently, lay in the fact that since the Easter Season fluctuates, the school time tables suffered.

Under the new system the holiday week will always fall at the same time which should help greatly in school scheduling.

Students and teachers will continue to have holidays on Good Friday and Easter Monday.

Spuds !

Most people dig their potatoes in August and start preparing the ground for next year's crop. Not so, however, with veteran potato grower Howard Fetterly of Winchester.

Satisfied that he had grown an excellent crop, he decided to do it all over again, so on August 4th, with the ground carefully cultivated, he planted his second crop, and on Sunday, October 15th no less than 11 families were supplied with "new potatoes" for their Sunday dinner.

Mr. Fetterly brought a basket of the fine tubers to the office as proof of his gardening superiority and one of the publishers, whose grandfather must have "come from Ireland", stashed them away for next Sunday's dinner at the Workman home.

Eastern Ontario Womens Institute Area Convention

The Eastern Ontario Women's Institutes 52nd Area Convention in the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, on October 31-November 1 will feature something different in this Confederation year. Centennial costumes are to be worn at a tea party on Tuesday night following presentation of the Area Scholarship by Mrs. Archie Bennett, of Arnprior, and a variety program directed by Mrs. R. A. Stewart, Pakenham.

Guest speaker at the luncheon on Wednesday will be Hon. W. A. Stewart, Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Foods.

Mrs. John Craig, Manotick, will preside, and other speakers will be Mrs. Everett Small, FWIO president, and Miss Helen McKercher, Director of Home Economics Branch.

Sessions open at 9.30 a.m. on Tuesday with Mrs. R. M. McGregor, Lochwinnoch; Mrs. Hugh Coons, Winchester, and Mrs. J. H. Steele, Newington, at the registration desk.

Theme of the convention is "Change the Challenge."

Transferred

Wayne Vice will read his copy of The Press this week at his new office on the north-eastern fringe of Canada. Wayne, popular Royal Bank employee has been transferred to the Goose Bay Branch in Labrador where he will be stationed for a year.

A member of the Metcalfe and District Lions Club, Wayne will be missed but the loss to the district club will add an active member to the Goose Bay Club.

It's Cold In The Water

The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests feels there can never be too much said regarding "Safety," and in their latest communique their thoughts are with the hunter who will be using his boat.

More drownings from boats are reported in the off-season, spring and fall, than during the summer season, the Department says. The unfortunate fisherman or hunter who finds himself suddenly treading water in the spring or fall has one strike against him before it happens. The water is C-O-L-D, and the colder the water the less are his chances for survival. As skin temperature decreases, discomfort increases to extreme, and he loses sense of touch and co-ordination. Water rapidly removes heat from the body, and in less than ten minutes in 32 degrees F. water he will be incapable of helping himself.

The Department suggests precautions you might take and things to remember should you ever find yourself in such a situation, but the best solution is to be safety-minded beforehand.

If you plan to be using a boat this fall remember the following safety rules:

1. Wear a life jacket, even though you can swim.
2. Don't drink before going out in the boat. Intoxication is one of the main factors causing drowning mishaps. You do foolish things when your mind is befuddled with alcohol.
3. Don't overload the boat. Keep the centre of gravity as low as possible. Get to know its limitations and how it handles.
4. Don't stand up or change places in a small boat.
5. Don't go out in overly rough water, or if there are signs of an approaching storm. If you are caught in a storm, head for shore at once.
6. Think twice about taking the boat when freezing temperatures exist. A thin layer of ice on the water may be broken by the boat but moving through it for only a few yards could cause the ice to cut through the boat at the water line.
7. Ice accumulating on the outside of the boat will make it become progressively heavy and sluggish to handle. Ice forming inside the boat makes it slippery under foot and dangerous to step on.
8. Don't be in a hurry to get going and take unnecessary risks.

USE COMMON SENSE AND LIVE TO ENJOY LIFE.

A Case For Morality

After the last Federal election the United Church of Canada, in one of its bulletins, laid down some pertinent facts and asked some provocative questions.

With another election just over, the message might well be read again. The United Church captioned this release, "Election Aftermath."

"The Federal election has been over a long time and members of Parliament are now back in session. But more elections are coming up: to Parliament, to the Legislatures, to municipal councils. When these bodies meet it is the custom to invoke the guidance of Providence upon their deliberations.

"It is interesting to speculate what further part God has in those gatherings of our rulers once He has been nodded to at the start. Are all decisions as they come to be made, referred to His guidance by individual legislatures searching their own consciences? There are moral issues in every act. Is it public opinion and political expediency and opportunism that rule?

"This is worth thinking of if we are going to keep going through the forms of prayer that support the notion that this is a Christian nation. How often do MP's and MPP's and Councillors ask themselves before voting: 'Is this right or wrong? What is my duty in voting — my moral duty as well as my duty to my electors?'

"Church councils and congregational meetings usually open with prayer. Not everything that is done always seem dictated by the Holy Spirit. The Anglicans use a prayer beginning: "Prevent us, O Lord, in all our doings . . ." Sometimes the result leads the cynical to wish 'prevent' had its modern meaning instead of its original one of 'guide'."

The same applies to board meetings which regulate the day-to-day affairs of business. In how many companies are moral considerations in the minds of those who make the rules?

Where the situation applies would it not be better to further consider the vows of office we have taken and the righteous words we have listened to, and in turn make application of an even higher set of morals.

Agnostics and atheists may interpret this editorial in their own way. The fact remains that there is no substitute for morality, regardless of one's religious belief . . . or non-belief.

Now For A Snooze

You think you're tired? I've been home for three days from my second trip to Expo, and I'm still whimpering with fatigue.

Any Expo trip is a backbreaker, but when you are shepherding a gaggle of teen agers, it's gruelling You wind up a three-day trip with blistered feet, hollow eyes and the stunning realization that you are really, at last, over the hill.

Picture your faithful correspondent lurching out of bed at 6 a.m., to catch the bus at seven. Repulsive, isn't it? But you should have seen the same body some 21 hours later, after a nine-hour bus trip, hours of trudging the asphalt of Expo, and more hours of getting the kiddies to bed. And to sleep. Some of those "kiddies" are 20 years old.

It was past the repulsive state by then, and was merely pitiable. We averaged 19 hours a day in action, five in bed.

It wasn't all that bad, though. It seldom is. As usual, 97 percent of the kids came through with flying colors. We didn't lost a single body, and they were punctual at the buses, which floored me completely.

It was the other three percent, of course, who made the jaunt somewhat less than a picnic. One bird on my bus got into the booze, barfed all over the back seat and floor of the bus. He did it so quietly that we didn't find out about it until morning.

He was torn into small strips and given the job of cleaning out all the buses. He was a lamb for the rest of the trip.

Three little guys in Grade 9 went to the Tunisian restaurant for a meal. It cost them $21. They gleefully admitted as how the carafe of wine they had with dinner might have put the price up a bit.

What surprised me was the calibre of the culprits. On my bus I had a pretty tough crew. Mostly Grade 12 tech boys. I had along my rhinoceros-hide whip, my brass knuckles, sand-bag and the special revolver which shoots tranquillizer darts. Didn't need anything. They were angels.

Real trouble-makers were the so-called "leaders" of the school. Whether it was sheer giddiness from exhaustion, or a desire to show off, I don't know. But, I told one of them in my most ferocious manner, they were acting like old maids who have had their first martini.

We got the 75 boys "settled down" in one huge dormitory about 1.30 a.m. the first night. At three I was awakened. Nipped out and caught two seniors sneaking in the back door.

Pointed a trembling (with rage) forefinger at one and said, "Kelly. Do you want a one-way ticket home tomorrow, with a phone call preceding it?"

"Nossir."

"Well, that's what you're going to get, and that goes for anybody else who even peeps like a little bird."

Miracle They went off to sleep. It wasn't exactly visions of sugar-plums dancing in their heads. It was visions of enraged parents and an irate principal.

Second night, boys were bushed and it was the girls who goofed around half the night, giggling, singing and talking. My own daughter was right in the thick of it, and looked like a ghost at breakfast.

But it was a good trip, all in all. A kink here and there, to be ironed out. We learned a lot. One thing: keep them starved. Stop for food, and it doesn't matter whether they're on their last legs. You'd swear Gabriel had just blown the trumpet. They come to life with a vengeance and yack, sing and horse about as though they'd been given speed pills.

About Expo. It's losing its gloss. With the season nearing its end, the staff is growing steadily more surly and sloppy. Can't blame them. The excitement has worn off, the big show is losing its momentum, and most of them are bored silly with their jobs.

Found my son, anyway. Appropriately enough, he's working in a building where they have monkey cages. We spent a happy half-hour watching the monkeys. As usual, he was broke. As usual, I was took.

Ottawa Report by Mrs. Jean Wadds

On Friday, October 13th, the handsome, young Registrar General, introduced the following proposed resolution "That it is expedient to introduce a measure to establish a Department of Corporate and Consumer Affairs; to provide for the appointment of a Minister and a Deputy Minister and for their duties and powers; to provide that the Governor-in-Council may establish a consumer advisory council and other bodies to assist the Minister and for of the members thereof; and to the remuneration and expenses provide for certain other matters related or incidental thereto."

This resolution followed immediately the statements made by the harassed Minister of Finance both inside and outside the House. Mr. Sharp admits that inflation worries him and has gone too far. He says that he is searching for a way to persuade Canadians to hold the line, to keep costs down and hence, prices stable.

It seems to many that Mr. Sharp has one very powerful influence at his disposal, that of government example. Long since the Glassco Commission made recommendations as to how the federal government could increase efficiency and cut down costs, less than half of these recommendations have been acted upon according to the Auditor General Maxwell Henderson in his report last spring. When the Glassco Commission concluded its work in 1962-63, the overhead of Government administration was costing $1 billion. In 1966-67 it was estimated to be $1,325 billion. This is an increase of 32 per cent.

"Does it say which politician?"

Mr. Sharp is in a tough spot. He can hardly condone the rising government costs. Neither can he stop them when all the other ministers seem to be insisting on costly expenditures. Mr. Sharp has made oblique reference to his high spending colleagues, but so far has had no influence in persuading them towards departmental economics.

Young Mr. Turner is an attractive, aggressive, prospective Liberal leader. It is unlikely that he would be the one to sacrifice an opportunity.

"Canada Month," calling itself "The Magazine of Politics and Government," features Mr. Turner's picture on the front of its October issue with the caption "A Minister Concerned for Consumers." In the article they quote Mr. Turner as saying, "I believe basically in the market relationship of supply and demand. And we're not a socialist government."

This left Mr. Turner falling between two stools in the House of Commons. The Conservatives attacked him and his government for an unnecessary increase of government costs and expenditures in face of alarming inflation. The socialists attacked him for not going far enough, and for expressing the firm intention to legislate as little as possible to control business. In fact, Grace McInnis, one of the most socialist of the socialists, hotly accused him of using the usual Liberal window dressing, trying to give an impression that something is being done.

Eric Nielsen, Conservative Yukon member, able prosecuting speaker for the official opposition, accused him of flying in the face of the recommendations of the Economic Council. A year ago the government asked the Economic Council for advice.

The Council, far from recommending more beaurocracy, pointed out that there are now seventeen departments or branches working on consumer problems and information. There should be more co-ordination of existing means to produce more effective consumer policies. Voluntary action could be obtained by encouraging communications between interested parties which would make legislation unnecessary. Already there has been increased and improved channels of communication between business organizations and organized consumer groups.

It would seem that both Mr. Nielsen and Mrs. MacInnis may prove right. There is no doubt that "Advisory Councils and other bodies to assist the Minister and remuneration and expenses of the members therof" will bring with them increased government costs.

Consumer research, which is dear to Mr. Turner's heart, but is foggily defined, could run into astronomical costs. Much of it can and already is being done by business and consumer groups.

Mr. Turner is active and talks well. Will his window dressing bring him the popularity he seeks with consumers, or will it be dissected and considered a duplication of effort and a further cost to the taxpayer.

Of Many Things . . .

by Ambrose Hills

What A Site !

About a year ago, I packed my briefcase in mothballs and retired to a small farm in the Fraser Valley, where I am working harder than ever before.

Because inflation scared me, I took on a few public relations accounts and on top of that, I am trying to make Greenhorn Farm a paying proposition and a place to be proud of in spite of the fact we advertise it as being "Run by a Genuine Greenhorn."

Some victories come our way. It is rumoured that any day now, the Reeve and Councillors of Surrey Municipality, in which the farm is located, will arrive here to erect a lovely bronze HISTORIC SITE marker.

I give my wife, Nora, full credit for this. Almost every morning, when I am garbed for farm chores, she looks at me and screams in a loud and penetrating voice: "Why, Ambrose Hills, what a sight you are!" And frequently, my teenage daughters, who remember me as a rather natty, well-dressed business man, take a look at me now and shout, "Dad — you really are a sight."

Well, with the years descending on me the way they are— I celebrate another birthday next month, although I am sure I had one almost yesterday—so I am surely aged enough to be considered an Historic Site, and I have so petitioned the Surrey Council. Some of the married members of Council, who do a bit of farming also, are quite sympathetic to my cause and promise a fine bronze plaque will be erected if they have anything to do with it. After all, Councils these days are making handouts of all kinds fast and furiously, so why not satisfy my reasonable and well-documented request, they say.

So next time you travel to British Columbia and wish to take in the Historic Site, don't miss Greenhorn Farm and its aging proprietor!

The Seventh Column

Easter holidays in Ontario schools as we have known them are now a thing of the past. Instead, the Department of Education has announced that a holiday period of one week from March 16 to March 24 will be taken by staff and students. Why? In addition to the regular statutory holidays of Thanksgiving, May 24th, Good Friday and Easter Monday (not statutory) the schools will also enjoy the usual extended Christmas vacation of 10 days or so. We are not against holidays. Matter of fact we like them. But a week off in mid March doesn't seem reasonable when we are constantly talking about per capita school grants, not enough teaching time, trouble with time tables and a dozen and one different things which create problems. One other point. We have as yet to talk to a teacher or a student who would not prefer to have the late winter time off postponed until June. This holiday is next to useless. It is not the best time of the year for holidays unless you can hop a plane for the south. And most young people are not about to do this. For a week they will be generally looking for something to do. In June the situation is entirely different. The weather is much better, there is the enticement of summer vacation or summer employment, the examinations are over and there is more going on. There may be some plus points for the March holiday. But we haven't heard them.

There was a hit and run accident in Winchester last week. The victim was not a human being. It was a pet dog. And it probably received as good a treatment as many humans may expect because it was a pet, a part of the family so to speak. The point is this. Running down a pet of any kind, and particularly a rather large dog, and not stopping to see if the poor thing is dead or if anything can be done, is not very humane to say the least. Matter of fact it is a cold blooded approach to life, and we haven't much respect for the driver who would pull such a trick. The pet may only be an animal but in most instances it has brought a lot of pleasure into the lives of quite a few people. When it gets loose, like the dog in mention, and runs into the path of an oncoming vehicle and is struck down it is an accident. Most sensible people appreciate the circumstances. However, it is a little hard to take when the family pet is run down, killed and there is no sign of the driver or the car involved. "It's only a dog" may be good enough in the books of some people, but it leaves a taste in the mouths of a lot of other people who can appreciate the sad circumstances which often prevail at a time like this.

The word is now out that Winchester Community Centre is on its last legs, and that a new Community Centre is a necessity. The gallant old building which has served the town and district so well for so many years will be used again this year. Many persons hope that it will be the last. The project of constructing a new Community Centre is a formidable one. It is not impossible if there is whole hearted co-operation. Even with co-operation and financial backing it is a difficult task to say the least. While a new Community Centre in this town is just in the initial stages there is room for a lot of conscientious thought in this project. It will take some long, hard hours by more than one person. The size, the location, the decision of artificial ice, the possibilities of finance are not just matters which can be discussed and then forgotten. If we are to have a new Community Centre in the next year or two a lot of good spade work must be done now. And a lot of common sense must be used at the same time. The opinion of this corner is that there is only one location for such a building, and that is in the present park complex near the swimming pool and the curling club. And certainly no thought should be entertained not to include artificial ice. If there is a prohibitive factor it is in the actual financing, and in this area much study will be needed.

LONG OVERDUE

Sidewalk Becomes Reality

A long overdue sidewalk is under construction at Metcalfe. It has always been a dangerous walk from the southern extremity of the village to the Osgoode Township High School, and since the Community Centre, the Lions Dens and the Exhibition Grounds are all located in this area, the traffic on the road is unusually very heavy and pedestrian risk great.

The new sidewalk will stretch from the Catholic Church, on the west side of the road, to the High School grounds.

Information from a reliable source indicates that all burned out bulbs in the Centennial decorations are to be replaced, and it is expected in the near future name signs will be erected at all approaches to the village.

Real estate agents report there is a great demand for housing in Metcalfe, but "wierd" municipal restrictions have virtually tied the hands of developers.

Four Area Boys Enter 4-H Contest

Four area boys will compete in the Provincial 4-H inter-club grain competitions at Guelph this week. Carleton County will be represented by four teams, each consisting of two boys.

The Field Crop teams are: East Carleton 4-H Barley Club —George Berube, Carlsbad Springs, and Elwood Quinn. Metcalfe. South Carleton 4-H Barley Club — Bill Brownlee, Manotick, and David Saunders, Osgoode. South Carleton 4-H Corn Club—John Fraser, Ottawa R. R. 3, and Brian Cathcart, Stittsville.

Dairy Team — West Carleton 4-H Dairy Calf Club—David Tripp and Robert Tripp, Fitzroy Harbour.

Ladies Aid Meets

In the absence of the President, the vice president, Mrs. Ray Longstreet presided with Mrs. Harold Cowan recording the minutes.

Gratitude was expressed for the co-operation of all the congregation for contributing to the Sale Booth at Metcalfe Fair which proved quite successful.

A letter of appreciation was received from the Managers telling of projects completed and of a prospective project for the near future. A discussion on catering was the main issue of the meeting.

Mrs. Elmer Campbell and Mrs. Wilbert Duncan served a delicious lunch.

Vernon Ladies' Groups Meet

Presbyterian

Mrs. Aaron Stoodley was the hostess for the Thanksgiving meeting of the Presbyterian W. M. S. with twenty ladies in attendance.

The business of the meeting consisted of several announcements — the Presbyterial Tea at the home of Mrs. Scott Murray, Ottawa, on Oct. 26th when the rural auxiliaries are responsible for the sale of home baking, with Mrs. K. R. Dow in charge; the Thank Offering meeting on Nov. 10 when slides will be shown of interest to all ages; and the announcement that the Children of the Church was being re-organized in the near future.

Mrs. Aaron Stoodley led the Thanksgiving devotions and the programme with Mrs. Wm. Dow convening was a rehearsal of a church service with all members taking part, in a resume of church work in Canada from the 15th to the 20th century with all denominations.

Anglican

The Ladies' Anglican Guild meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Lorne Wyatt with all members present and one visitor. Following the opening prayers by the president, the devotional was given by the hostess. The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. McDonald read the minutes and gave the report of the Bake sale which had been very successful. The "Red Carpet Tea" was also reported on.

An invitation to the Baptist Church Thank Offering was read. Card parties were discussed but a decision was left over until the meeting on October 24 at the home of Mrs. Donald McDonald. Mrs. Bruce Acres announced that both Sunday School and choir practice had started for the season. Rev. A. McGregor announced Thanksgiving service and closed the meeting with prayer. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Jean Wadds Guest Speaker Vernon UCW Thank Offering

Mrs. Jean Wadds, M.P., coming not as a politician but as a friend, addressed the Thank Offering meeting of Vernon U. C. W. last Thursday evening in the Vernon Baptist Church.

Mrs. Wadds urged all to be grateful for their rich heritage in Canada and spoke of each individual's responsibility in this modern world, and the great challenge the future presents not only to this generation but to coming generations.

Mrs. Theodore McBride presided for the program assisted by Mrs. Chester Sproule and Mrs. Jack Ibbetson. Mrs. Walter U. Collins of Manotick gave a meditation on Stewardship and Mrs. Archie Sheldrick and Mrs. Ken Cameron received the offering.

Mrs. George Lewis read "A Thought For To-Day" and Mrs. Wilfred Porteous received the guests.

Mrs. Gordon Blair thanked Mrs. Wadds and the many guests who were in attendance, including Mrs. Louise Ficto, area vice president of the United Church Women in the Ottawa-Montreal Presbytery.

A social hour was enjoyed at McLaurin Hall under the convenership of Mrs. John Porteous. An Anniversary Cake centred the tea table commemorating the 40 years the United Women have been meeting and worshipping in this Baptist Church.

Three of the original charter members are still active: Mrs. J. Hawkshaw, Mrs. H. E. Blair and Mrs. John Kennedy.

Couple Marks 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sayant was honoured at their home last Saturday evening by a number of friends on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

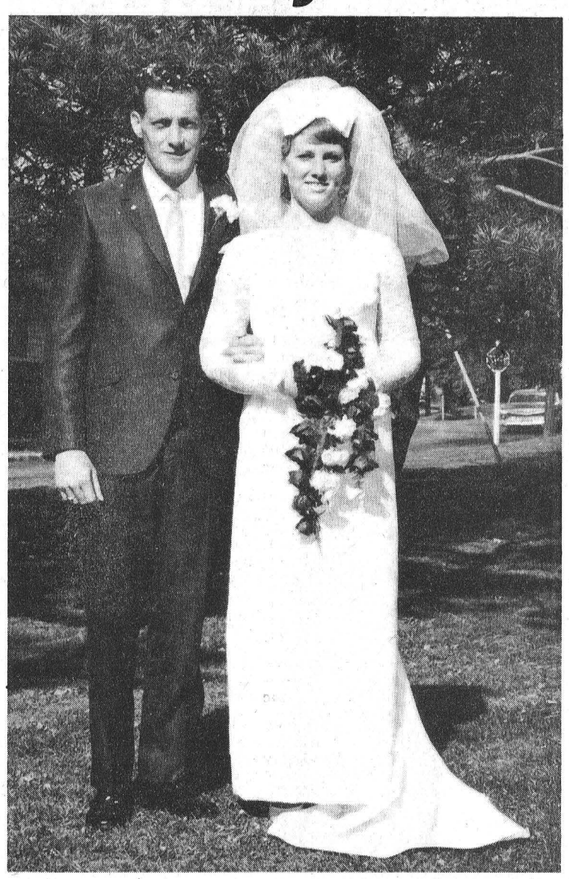
Pretty October Weddings



Mr. & Mrs. A. B. Cinnamon

St. John's United Church, Brockville, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on Saturday, October 7, at two o'clock when Rev. H. Todd united in marriage Maureen Joan Kelly daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kelly, R. R. 1, Jellyby, and Allan Benson Cinnamon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Cinnamon, R. R. 1, Winchester, in a double ring ceremony.

Mrs. E. N. Johnston, organist, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. C. Swain. Adriaan VanBreugel assisted his brother-in-law as best man, and the ushers were Hugh Kelly of Jellyby and Dwayne Cinnamon, Winchester.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length empire line gown of white peau de soie with fitted bodice, and lilypoint sleeves of alencon lace. Highlight of the gown was the sweeping cathedral train falling from the shoulder line in back. She carried a cascade of red roses and white carnations.

The bridal attendants, Misses Carrie Greaves and Marjorie Blanchard, were attired in street-length dresses of mulberry wine velvet, pale pink headdresses and accessories, and carried a hand bouquet of red roses encircled by white carnations.

The mother of the bride chose a green knitted suit with beige and brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The mother of the groom selected a blue knitted suit, multi-coloured hat, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the wedding reception held in Queen's Grant Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Cinnamon spent a honeymoon in New York State and Northern Ontario. Guests attended the wedding from Gananoque, Toronto, Winchester, Ottawa, Spencerville, Merrickville, Chesterville, Inkerman, Winchester Springs, Brockville and surrounding areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Cinnamon are residing at 6 Fairknowe Drive, Apt. 7, Brockville. The groom is employed at Automatic Electric; Mrs. Cinnamon is on staff at Montreal Trust Company, Brockville.

Mr. & Mrs. E. R. Duplessis

Potted ferns and arrangements of white and mauve pom-poms adorned the altar of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic Church, Blossom Park, Ottawa, when Rev. J. E. Latendresse officiated at the wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Elizabeth Mary Koeniger and Emil Richard Duplessis on Saturday, October 14th, at one o'clock in the afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Koeniger of R. R. 2, Manotick; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurier Duplessis of Donatville, Alberta.

Trevor Boyd, R. R. 5, Ottawa, assisted the groom as best man. The ushers were Les Waddell and Michael Koeniger, both of Metcalfe.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a full-length A-line bridal gown of nylon organza over taffeta. The empire style of the gown blended beautifully into a sweeping cathedral train; hand beading enhanced the lace accent on the gown and lilypoint sleeves. A beaded double crown held her chapel length veil and she carried a crescent of miniature carnations and stephanotis centred with mauve orchids.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Cheryl Boyd, maid of honour; Misses Carol Skakie and Elaine Savage, bridesmaids, and Miss Laurie Morris, junior bridesmaid. They were attired in full-length mauve silk organza gowns over taffeta with lace accent at the empire waistline and trimming the elbow-length sleeves. They wore matching mauve bow headdresses and carried pale pink sweetheart roses and miniature carnations.

The mother of the bride wore a peacock blue crepe dress, with lace accent, matching hat, a fur stole, brown accessories and gardenia en corsage. The grom's mother selected a royal blue lace dress, matching velvet hat, fur stole and a corsage of gardenia and pink sweetheart roses.

Guests from the immediate area, Ottawa, Toronto, Galt, Almonte and Metcalfe were entertained at the wedding reception held at the home of the bride's' parents following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Duplessis are presently honeymooning in Victoria, B. C., and will reside at Donatville, Alberta.

'Grandpa' Was A Supporter

Somewhere in the world a hungry little 12-year-old girl will eat because a Canadian 12-year-old girl walked for over 12 consecutive hours covering 34½ miles.

The hungry girl, and there are millions, will never be known, but the courageous little Canadian was Jane Cunningham, of Brampton, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. MacDonald of Winchester.

It was the last Saturday in September and young Jane began her walk at 8.45 a.m. and completed it at 9.05 in the evening.

For her thoughtfulness and courage Jane will receive a certiifcate and OXFAM will receive the proceeds donated by her sponsors.

You guessed it! One of her sponsors, and her staunchest supporter was "Grandpa."

FIVE FOR FIVE . . . one to go

Saturday, October 14th was "Soccer Day" at South Mountain Fair Grounds when twenty High School teams met to compete in the Eastern Ontario High School Invitational Soccer Championships.

Play got underway at 9.00 in the morning and continued throughout the day. Rideau High School emerged the champions when they defeated Ernestown 2 to 0 in the final game.

In the consolation final Almonte downed Ottawa U by a score of 1 to 0.

Local high schools deserve much credit for their fine showing, and the boys from NDDHS looked like they might take it all but luck of the draw forced them into a very strenuous schedule. In their opening game the local boys defeated Ottawa U. by a 2 to 1 score. In their second game they met a strong contingent from Ridgemont and scored a close 1 to 0 victory.

The North Dundas boys had started their first game at ten in the morning, played their second game shortly after noon and at 2.30 found themselves facing Ottawa Tech, and were eliminated by a score of 3-2.

The entry from O.T.H.S. meanwhile had won their first game by 2-0 over Vankleek Hill but dropped their second one to Rideau High.

Mountain District started the day off with a 2-0 win over South Grenville, went on to beat Seaway (Iroquois) 2-0 and then dropped a heartbreaker to Rideau by a 1-0 score.

The NDDHS boys have an enviable record on their year's play in league games. Their coach, Mr. Maharaj reports that his team has played five and won ?e, and only have O.T.H.S. left to play.
