W. I. Backs Centennial With $1,000 Pledge

Momentum on Winchester's Centennial project is picking up. At Monday evening's special mid-month meeting of the Municipal Council authorization was given to send in preliminary application for the Centennial grant. The necessary forms have been filled out and by now are on their mailed way to Toronto with the details of Winchester's proposal to mark Canada's 1967 Centennial.

Excellent news reached the Council Chambers as the meeting came to a close as Councillor Roy Fawcett announced that the Winchester Women's Institute had been the first organization to back the plan with complete confidence and pledged $1,000 to the project. The word of the sizable pledge was received by many happy and grateful ears.

Each week as the plan develops the news is encouraging. Plans for the planting of trees in the park are being finalized and this will be done at relatively no cost to the village. The presentation calls for several thousand trees to be planted in the park area to provide shelter and atmosphere.

Plans have been made for meetings on the Centennial project with other organizations in the village and it is hoped they will follow the lead of the W. I. and pledge their support immediately. Reeve Reynolds and Councillor Fawcett will be travelling to Toronto later this month to investigate further funds that may come available to augment Centennial and municipal funds for the project. Already in the fold is a $2,000 portion of the Centennial grant allotted to the Township of Winchester.

1965 ROADS PROGRAM

The municipal budget is in the offing now and council is turning to projects that could possibly be completed as part of this year's roads program. Application has been made for the funds available to the municipality.

Long and careful discussion has been given traffic conditions at the St. Lawrence-Main Street intersection. Council readily admitted a vast improvement since the installation of the stop sign on 31-43 east, but felt further improvements could be made. Suggested was the removal from their present location of the two telephone poles, one on St. Lawrence and one on Main. Then the sidewalk would probably be rebuilt to a standard size and in effect a larger turning area would be provided at the busy intersection.

Exploration into other possible projects on roads are currently underway. Suggested has been a hard surface treatment for two sections of unpaved thoroughfares in the village, both these being in newer sections. Council has in mind the possibility of doing one mile of streets in this manner.

Clerk C. R. Robinson was authorized to send Winchester's charges of $102.82 to the South Nation River Conservation Authority. The village is one of 30 contributing municipalities that pays for services, administration and reforestation projects on the river.

Winchester Public Library will receive an increased grant for 1965. The new grant is $150, up from $100 per annum. Town Engineer Reg. Freeland was appointed as the municipal weed inspector for the year with the unanimous approval of all.

Birthdays

To wish you the top o' the mornin'
And the joy of a glad Irish smile,
Plus luck for every green shamrock
That grows on the Emerald Isle.

Best wishes to those of Winchester and district who celebrated on the day of St. Patrick a birthday or anniversary. 'Tis a fine thing to have such luck as the patron Saint of Ireland.

Among those who celebrated a birthday with the wearing of the green were Mrs. Arnold Dukelow and Mrs. Robert Vice of Winchester; Helen McShane of Pleasant Valley; Frank Acres and Carolyn Lewis of Vernon; Dorothi Willard of Queen's University, Howard Merkley of R. R. 3, Winchester, and Winchesterites Ron Freeland, Don Casselman, Bill Hitsman and Ray Larsen.

The Finest of Irish, Canadian and Winchester greetings go out to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Craig who happily celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary yesterday also. Best wishes to all.

Red Cross Canvass

Like a true friend in time of need, Red Cross responds in emergencies and times of trouble to alleviate the suffering of man. It may come in the form of comforting words, a much needed blood transfusion, a warm blanket or any one of many hundreds of other ways. The Red Cross is there to help.

In the Winchester District Memorial Hospital many hundred bottles of blood are used each year. They save lives, restore health and give hope. Some of this blood is returned by the annual blood donor clinic held in Winchester each year, but not all. Blood is only one phase of the work of the Red Cross that has become an accepted part of the modern Canadian life.

The Red Cross seeks funds, however, to continuue to operate its life giving services and its Junior Red Cross and many other facets of its important mission. This week in Winchester canvassers are calling at each home and business in the village to ask for the help that helps the Red Cross carry on its excellent programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Craig Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. EDGAR CRAIG

One of the district's most popular and best known couples, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Craig, of Winchester, celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary on St. Patrick Day, March 17. The Craigs will be at home to their many friends on Saturday, March 20th, from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9 p.m. at their Fred Street home.

The couple were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. McDonald, of Kenmore, in 1915. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. W. R. Telford. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig.

Long associated with agriculture, the Craigs farmed at Russell for a number of years before moving to Osgoode Township near Kenmore to continue their beloved farm life. In 1953 the family took up their present residence in Winchester.

Four sons and one daughter all wish their parents a very happy anniversary. They are Leonard and Donald of Toronto, Dudley of Chesterville, Ormond of Metcalfe, and Mrs. Robert Carss (Norma), of Ottawa.

Mr. Craig's interest in agriculture has always been well illustrated with his affiliation with the Metcalfe Agricultural Society and its annual fall fair. He is a former president and long time director of the Society.

Sincerest best wishes to the Craigs on this happy occasion.

Matilda Supports School Additions

Matilda Township Council passed a motion at their first March meeting stating their agreement that the rooms necessary for secondary school education be added to the Iroquois High School.

The municipal group also complied with a request that would enable the North Dundas District High School Board to use surplus funds for capital expenditures. The meeting agreed that it would assume its share of the debenture for the new addition at N.D.D.H.S.

A tender of South Mountain Construction Co. for supply of crushed stone and gravel for the year 1965 was accepted. The tender was the lowest received.

Accounts passed for payment were road voucher No. 3, $3,475.81; fox bounty, $4.00; fire department, $150.00; welfare, $567.91; Brinston street lighting (labour and bulbs), $38.90; salaries, $399.34; telephone and advertising, $5.78; convention expenses, $300.00; engineer fees, $768.54; refund of taxes, $12.88.

100 Club

It will be the Wearin' of the Green at to-night's (Thursday) monthly meeting of the Winchester 100 Club. All members will have a litle bit of Irish background for the meeting which will provide some exciting entertainment.

Local talent will be providing the opportunity for members to show their appreciation. Be sure to attend the 100 Club meeting in Henderson Hall at 7.00 p.m. sharp.

George H. Hees C.C. Speaker

Honourable George H. Hees, President of the Montreal Stock Exchange, former federal Minister of Transport, will address the Morrisburg and District Canadian Club on March 25 at 7 p.m. on the topic "The Production of Capital for the Development of the Canadian Economy."

This is the first meeitng of the Canadian Club for this season and the executive is looking forward to a very successful year with a considerable increase in membership and some fine speakers in view.

Arrangements for spring speakers include Dean H. Allan Leal, Q.C. of Osgoode Hall, and Dr. Dogden Zaborski of the University of of Ottawa.

George Suffell New Chairman Hospital Board

RED CROSS IS ALWAYS THERE with your HELP

Operating at constant capacity, Winchester District Memorial Hospital is now preparing for an ambitious expansion program. Hospital officials and members of the property committee have been spending long hours over details of the proposed new wing.

Property committee chairman Walter C. MacDonald told a Directors' meeting last week that elevated plans of the new wing should be available in the first week of April and will be presented to the Board as a whole at that time. As soon as the plan is available it will be published in The Press.

NEW BOARD EXECUTIVE

George Suffel is the new chairman of the Hospital Board. He steps up to take over from Eric Casselman who served the hospital for the past two years. Mr. Casselman is the representative for Chesterville Village. H. E. Biccum is the vice chairman, John Hatcher board treasurer, and Mrs. Gordon Lancaster, secretary.

Directors who took office following the annual meeting were William Graham, Mountain Township; Dalton Coons, Matilda Township; Ralph McIntosh, Williamsburg Township; Orvil Guy, Winchester Township; Walter C. MacDonald and H. E. Biccum, Winchester Village; Eric Casselman, Chesterville Village; Stewart Fisher, Osgoode Township; Baird McNeill, Russell and district. For a one year term, Dr. D. M. Robertson, Morrisburg Village, and Ross Playfair, Iroquois. Appointments yet to be made are from Finch Village and Township.

Dr. W. M. Byers and Dr. H. Justus will also sit on the Board of Directors with full voting powers. With a revision of by-laws the two medical representatives were placed on the Board.

With the ever expanding situation in the hospital the medical staff regrouped to bring its organization up to a peak level for efficient operation and co-operation of and with the hospital. Dr. Howard Justus is president of the Medical Association within the hospital, Dr. D. G. McMillan the vice president, and Dr. Don Robertson, secretary.

Growing with the hospital the doctors have organized a staff operation with a view to accreditation of the institution, and with the heavy influx of medical activity requiring professional approval. Dr. W. M. Byers is now Chief of the Medical Staff at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. Surgery is headed by Dr. Duane Justus. Medicine by Dr. Don Robertson, and Obstetrics by Dr. G. Barton.

Complete South Nation Study

A comprehensive study of the watershed of the South Nation River will be completed and published in the near future. The study by the Ontario Department of Agriculture began in 1961 and has delved into all problems and resources of the South Nation River which flows through six Eastern Ontario counties and affects some 30 municipalities.

At a meeting of the South Nation River Conservation Authority in Chesterville on Saturday preliminary details of the report were revealed. Chesterville Reeve Carl Merkley retired as president of the Authority afer four years' service. The outgoing chairman told members that work will begin this year on a dam and reservoir at Chesterville. Another such installation is also to be completed at Russell.

NEW OFFICERS

Alfred Sloan of Fournier was named the new chairman. Vice chairman is McKenzie McGillivary of Finch Township, with Arnott Empey of Berwick the secretary-treasurer.

Remaining executive officers are Alfred Chenier of Casselman, C. G. Merkley of Chesterville, Cecil McNabb, Winchester Township; Eric Casselman of Chesterville, Mahlon Zeron of Matilda, and Roger Provost of Plantagenet.

A committee has been established to study the planting of trees on sub-marginal farm land in the jurisdiction. Named to the committee were Nelson Charlebois, Navan; Chas. Blair, Moose Creek, and Donald Kyle, Williamsburg Township.

Representatives of all 30 municipalities attended the meeting from the counties of Dundas, Stormont, Glengarry, Russell, Prescott and Carleton.

Flag Raising

Snapping briskly in the breeze over their heads, Canada's new flag looked down upon almost 350 Winchester Public School students with heads bowed, being lead in prayer asking for a happy and peaceful future for the country it so proudly represents.

Many parents looked on from cars surrounding the school lawns as the children of the school filed out of their classrooms and took up positions around the flag standard on the north side of the Public School. The eyes of the children turned upwards as the flag rose to its lofty position and Reveille was played. Principal Harry Potter and his staff observed the many expressions evident in the faces of their students and bowed heads silently with their students as Rev. George Cawfield said a prayer.

The short ceremony was completed quickly and the students returned to their classes, but their minds had an indelible mark imprinted upon them of the flag raising.—Press Staff Photo.

N. D. D. H. S.

(By Joyce Bugden)

Second term examinations are over, much to the relief of most of the students. Teachers are busily marking papers so that term reports can be prepared. These were a very important set of examinations as the marks make up a third of the final mark in June.

A dance was held at the high school last Friday night as a victory dance for the senior hockey team. The boys won the series by winning the two-game total point final over South Mountain with a score of 9-5. The evening began at 7.30 with an exhibition basketball game between the junior girls of North Dundas and the junior girls of Cornwall Collegiate and Vocational School. Andy Cousineau acted as master of ceremonies for the sock hop that followed. This was the first such dance to be held at North Dundas and it was enjoyed by all that attended.

The debating team travelled to Ottawa on Saturday to take part in a competition held at the University of Ottawa. Congratulations to Jane Ault and Urmas Vilmansen for having won the first debate of the morning against the Laurentian students. This is certainly an achievement since this is the first year that there has been a debating team at North Dundas.

St. Paul's WMS

Twenty-three members answered roll call last week at the meeting of the St. Paul's Women's Missionary Society.

Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Suffel and Mrs. Ella McIntosh. Two papers were read, "Mary-Martha," and "Martha's Prayer." Mrs. McIntosh read from the study book and related some of her experiences around Lancaster some 40 years ago. "Remember The Sabbath" was another passage read.

A solo, "How Great Thou Art," by Mary Brown was enjoyed by all. Mrs. C. R. Robinson closed the meeting with prayer.

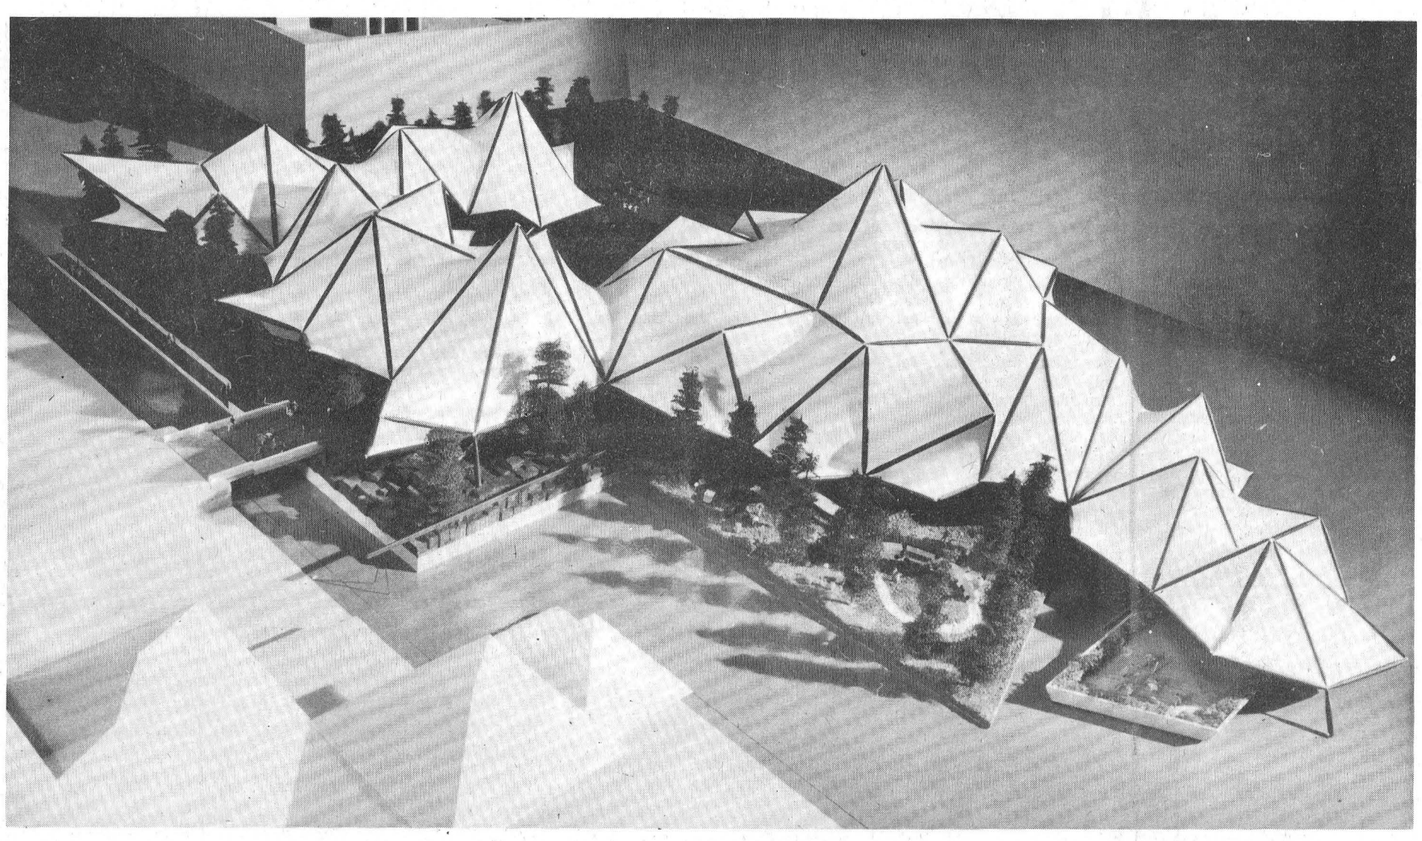
Expo '67 Exhibit Unveiled



Ontario Comes To "World's" With Ultra-modern Pavilion

Ontario's story at the 1967 World's Fair in Montreal will be told in a $5,000,000 project made of plastic, steel, wood, glass, landscaped with 60-foot trees and tons of granite, all drawn, forged, grown, or quarried in Ontario.

Ontario's pavilion at Expo '67 will be 115 feet high and cover more than 2½ acres. Located on the south side of the Ile Notre Dame at the St. Lawrence River Centennial site, its bold lines will present a pleasing contrast to neighbouring buildings. More than 50 exhibits are being developed to give visitors a graphic picture of Ontario—past, present and future.

The individual exhibits will form a honeycomb of color and motion beneath a canopy of fibreglass and steel, providing an exciting visual and aural story of Ontario's progress. The building will cover about 50,000 square feet of the 90,000 total land area of the Ontario exhibit. Its curved and twisting shape will be draped with a vinyl-fibreglass roof over a light steel frame. The structure will be elevated some 18 feet off the ground and Expo's tiny monorail system will pass beneath it.

Stressed will be the visual aspects and what is going on inside the building. Daytime visitors will enjoy the breezy openness and relaxed atmosphere and visitors by night will be fascinated by the multi-coloured lighted exhibits. A series of exhibits will explain the importance of industry, business, agriculture, natural resources, and human ingenuity in making Ontario Canada's most wealthy province.

Finally the trail leads to the focal point of the pavilion, a large 100-foot high circular theatre, accommodation 350 people every ten minutes. Inside the building there will be four restaurants, ranging from a formal dining room to a barbecue, all looking out over the water.

Facilties in the pavilion will accommodate all age groups, with a "park your tot" service for mothers.

Ambitious Centennial Plan

It now seems definite that Winchester's Centennial project will be centred in and around the existing Community Park. As announced in the last issue of The Winchester Press, fairly extensive plans are underway which could eventually turn this pretty piece of real estate into something really worthwhile.

The Community Park has always been an attractive addition to the western limits of the village. Now that concrete plans have been laid, there is every reason to believe that better things are in store. A swimming pool, driving range, putting green, lighted ball diamond with bleachers, camping and picnic area, playground and other features are all part of an over-all plan, much of which could be completed by our Centennial year two years hence.

The move to brighten the park is not new. The idea of a swimming pool, lighted ball park et al has been in the minds of many conscientious citizens for several years. And during those years this newspaper has also advocated that "we get started" on a long range, over-all plan for this park. But for a variety of reasons plans for the park never got past the talk stage. Of course, some improvements were made each year in the way of painting, parking facilities and repairs — but nothing major. Now with the help of Centennial and other grants and the assistance of town organizations, plans for this park should materialize.

The move to go ahead with added park facilities comes from the Council table with particular emphasis on the town's youngest councillor, Roy Fawcett, who is spearheading the drive. Councillor Fawcett is noted for his drive and energy in projects which catch his fancy and it is more than apparent that he is deeply interested in "getting things done" at the Community Park. Thus far he has come up with a lot of information, facts and figures and some ways and means. But to accomplish all of this over the next few years he and members of Council will need much assistance from every citizen in the town, and especially from many of the organizations presently in existence who can and should come up with some ideas on how they can help turn some of the suggestions into realities.

Accomplishments of this kind are not easy, nor are they inexpensive. They always cost more than first anticipated. Grants, which at first seem certain and accessible, often turn out to be a long way off because of an endless amount of red tape and government stipulations. Nevertheless, enthusiasm and desire are necessary to overcome many of the obstacles which certainly are located in the road ahead. It is this newspaper's opinion that the plan should get underway just as soon as possible. A start now should provide the initiative to carry on over the next couple of years to make certain that many of the proposed features are incorporated.

The important point is this. We do have an over-all plan now, something which has been lacking up to this point. It remains now to see where, how and when we start on this project which will prove a definite asset not only to Winchester but to the entire district.

Toronto Report

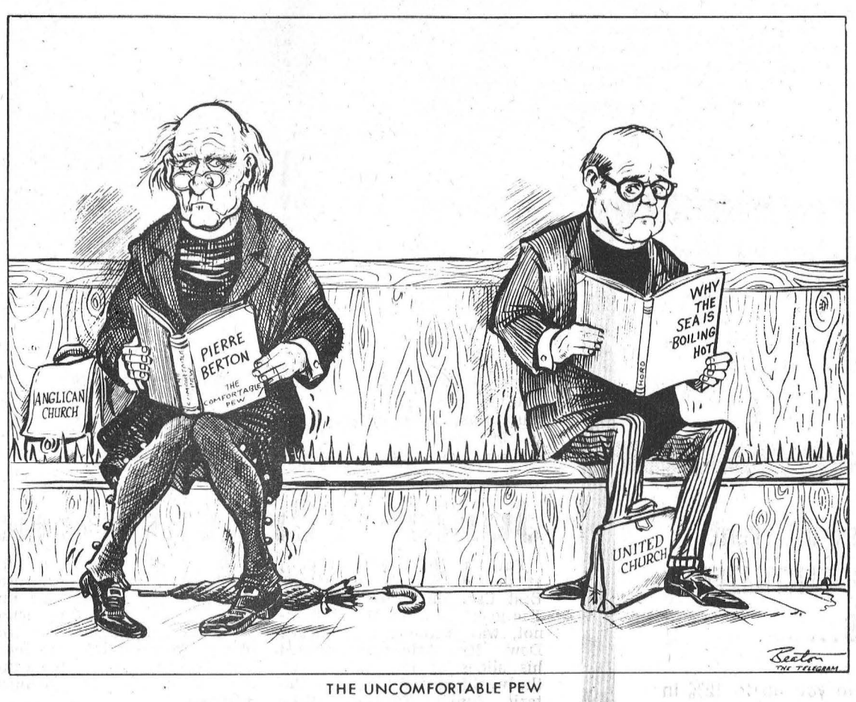
by Fred M. Cass

Some very interesting matters during this week interspersed normal debate speeches, introduction of legislation and routine Committee matters at Queen's Park.

For some years now the conditions of, and in, penal and correctional institutions maintained by all levels of government in Canada have been under close scrutiny by the press, by members of the Legislature and by the public generally. And it has been increasingly difficult to staff and operate our Ontario reformatories and gaols with reliable and efficient personnel as most honest and efficient persons do not take with equanimity the disturbing insinuations of misconduct and inefficiency and bitter attacks which from time to time are levelled against them and which have a most unsettling effect on those within such institutions. The most recent instance of this was disclosed by the Minister of Reform institutions when he reported to the House a most unusual visit of inspection and search made to the large Guelph reformatory by two members of the New Democratic Party. The sequel to this peculiar visit has been the request of the Superintendent—a very experienced and trustworthy public servant, for a transfer from being head of any institution subject to such visits, and the Minister's announcement that in future some restrictions must be placed on Members' visits to and actions in our correctional institutions.

A most interesting release was made by the Minister of Agriculture when he tabled the recommendations of the special Committee investigating the milk industry in Ontario. The Committee has made a detailed study of all segments of this most important agricultural industry, so vital to us here in Eastern Ontario, and their recommendations are revealing. Suffice it to say that the Committee recommends that all matters pertaining to this sphere of farm production and marketing be in the hands of one Commission with a high-priced general manager and most sweeping powers. The report, if implemented, is the death knell of several well established farm organizations, especially in the area of cheese production and marketing. It is to be hoped that all those so vitally interested in these matters will give the report very careful consideration and be enabled to make their views known to the organizations concerned and through them to the Minister and the government. It would seem that generally the Committee's report is sound when it recommends that the milk producer be placed in a position to secure a fair return for his product in comparison with the costs of production and the cost of modern living.

A third important event was the adoption by the Ontario Legislature, with only NDP members opposing, of the resolution required to have Ontario agree to the conditions necessary to bring the Canadian constitution — our British North America Act, to Canada and under the jurisdiction of Canadian federal and provincial governments. The formula proposed, and agreed upon last year by representatives of all provinces and the Dominion government, and now before all Canadian Parliaments for ratification, preserved the special rights of both Dominion and Provincial Governments and of certain religious and ethnic groups and would appear to be little more than a transfer from Westminister to Ottawa of the arena in which future wranglings between provincial and federal authorities will take place. It does, however, complete the severance of connections with Great Britain save those tenuous but affectionate ones which bind us to our Queen and the stronger economic ones which for our own good keep us in the Commonwealth orbit.



THE UNCOMFORTABLE PEW

The Seventh Column

Breathe in, exhale. Again. In that short time you have just travelled one mile. Hard to believe, you say. Not so, if you are aboard an Air Canada DC8 jet airliner. Each trip we make with Air Canada we continue to find air travel more fascinating than ever. And in the years ahead there is promise of even greater things with the introduction of supersonic jets which will take you to London in a couple of hours. Right now air travel is both fast and efficient and Air Canada, as we have mentioned before, ranks right at the top among the best world airlines. During the last few weeks we had occasion to use Air Canada facilities and our trip included the use of all three major aircraft, the DC8, the Vanguard and the Viscount. But the jet is the one that really takes your breath away. Leaving Tampa, Florida, at 11.30 on a Monday morning we found ourselves home and rested, after travelling close to 2,000 miles, in just under four hours. As for the trip, the Florida weather wasn't so dandy for part of the time. When Old Sol is having his troubles down south in the winter months it is not much fun. But when he is shining everything they say about southern vacations is true. With somewhere between 25,000 and 50,000 Ontario residents heading south each winter month for a vacation our Department of Tourist and Information should be devising some method in which we can offset the tourist trade balance by attracting southern United States residents, particularly from Florida, to Ontario during our summer season.

Horatio Fuller relates this funny little tale: My cousin was thinking about getting married. So he wrote to his father for some personal advice. Here's what his father wrote back: "I can't tell you how happy I am to hear about your impending marriage. You will find marriage the most wonderful state of bliss and happiness. As I look across the table at your dear mother, I realize with great pride our full and wonderful our years together have been. By all means, get married. You have our blessings. It will be the happiest day of your life. Sincerely, Dad . . . P.S.: Your mother just left the room. Stay single, you idiot!"

Still in the family, two cannibals were conversing over dinner. One said, "You know, Max, I simply hate your mother-in-law." Said Max, "Okay, okay, then just eat the vegetables."

And then there is the carrier pigeon bearing important financial news to the House of Rothschild. He showed up eight hours late. When the bankers asked him what had happened, the pigeon said, "Nothing — it was such a nice day I decided to walk."

And speaking of nice days, there shouldn't be too much complaint with the lovely weather this area has been enjoying of late. Matter of fact, the entire winter wasn't so bad, was it? Of course, even with the middle of March here there's still a chance of a storm or two. But one good thing now, it can't stay too long, we hope. Town crews are already out trying to rid the streets of some of the collected debris. And they have a job — the streets were never more dirty. If a good wind whips up it's hard at some intersections to see across the street. And if you are privileged to live in the more residential areas where the new streets haven't been topped, you have our sympathy. At this time of year it is almost impossible to miss the mud. Never mind the potholes. They come a little later.

Favourite chicken joke making the rounds goes like this. A mother hen, experiencing difficulty in keeping a headstrong chick in line, finally declared: "If your Pa could only see you now, he'd turn over in his gravy."

Hello Folks!

When a hockey player or football player or some other athlete of super ability retires or is taken out of action permanently his number is often retired from service simply as a tribute to the athlete's great contribution. It is doubtful if "Hello Folks" can be taken away from the vocabulary. But for us and for thousands of others this simple salutation will never again have the same meaning. Frank Ryan made these words immortal in Eastern Ontario, and other parts. They were anticipated words which all of us welcomed each day. They were a part of our way of life.

Frank's sudden death in Florida a couple of weeks ago became stunning news. Many of us were deeply shocked, full of sorrow. All of us knew we had lost a friend and a great community builder. Men of Frank's substance only happen once in a long time.

A long time personal friend and counsellor of the writer of this editorial, Frank Ryan was a particular friend of the Winchester area where he received a great deal of support when he first started radio station CFRA back in the mid Forties. It was here that Frank, the late Tom Foley, Terry Kielty and others made their first appearance. It was here with the then famous Inkerman Rockets of Lloyd LaPorte which made their first live sports broadcast possible. It was here where at least some of their original advertising contracts were founded.

Frank Ryan never forgot this, nor has his radio station. There are simply not enough words to describe our genuine feeling of respect, friendship and gratefulness for this man who so well served beyond the call of duty all of the Valley as well as the nation's capital. Frank referred to himself as a salesman. Indeed, he was a salesman, not of the high pressure variety but of the kind with a genuine approach and a firm belief in the product he was selling. Naturally, our deepest sympathy goes out to his wife Kay, and to his long time associates at CFRA.

As a final word about this great man we should like to make this suggestion. The city of Ottawa has announced that a great new Civic centre costing more than $5,000,000 will be erected at Lansdowne Park as the major part of the city's Centennial project. Frank Ryan fought for this same idea for years. Indeed, it was Frank who laid the groundwork, who did so much to bring such a building into reality. Because this new building will serve both Ottawa and the Valley it seems to us the powers that be will be sadly amiss if they do not name this centre after the late Frank Ryan.

Humor Isn't Funny

For the past few weeks, I've been confronted by an enigma. This word does not mean, as one of my students told me, "Something a nurse gives you in the hospital, before you have an operation."

The enigma is this: what is humor? And the reason it confronts me is that some misguided people asked me to be one of the judges in a competition involving humor. Equally misguided by an inflated ego, I accepted.

I should have known better. Not that being a judge is all that difficult. I've judged public speaking contests with great success. Everyone agreed completely with my decisions. Except those who didn't win, and their relatives and friends.

I've judged races at the Sunday School picnic. And had to fork over a dime to every runner because, "I wooda beat him if he haddena tripped me (or shoved me, or beat the gun)."

And there'd be no trick to judging a beauty contest, I'm sure. Although there's always the danger of getting a bust in the eye from some disgruntled contestant. Or even from some gruntled one.

But judging humor is a horse of a different color. There's always, in fact, the menace of misjudging the dark horse, which turns the whole thing into somewhat of a nightmare.

The character of humor is as perverse and varied in its qualities as the character of women. Picking the winner in a humor contest is as tricky as picking a wife. Everybody else thinks you made a bum choice.

Do you want Mabel, who bowls you over on first acquaintance? Or do you want Gert, who will wear well over the years? Do you want an hilarious companion for an evening or a quiet chuckle once a week for generations? Humor is in the eye of the beholder.

It's no use. Let's get back to the enigma. What is humor? Ask the first person you meet, and he'll say, "It's anything that makes you laugh."

Well, it's not, necessarily. People will howl with laughter from sheer nerves, giggle interminably from drink, or titter uncontrollably from a story whose point they have missed completely.

People will laugh at practically anything. Only yesterday, I was looking out the window. A young matron, known for her high opinion of herself, minced along, serene in her mink. Right in front of our place, zip went her foot on a piece of ice.

Mere words cannot describe the half-gainer she performed, the way she looked, flat on her tummy, fur hat over her nose. Only a camera could capture the wild, desperate look she threw around to see if anyone had spotted the spill. Only the great Charlie Chaplin could have imitated the frantic scramble to her feet, the desperate effort to stroll off as though nothing had happened.

Did I laugh? Thought I'd bust a gut. I was glad she wasn't hurt, but like most people, got a tremendous belt out of seeing the deflation of a stuffed shirt. Or girdle, in this case.

What is humor? I've no idea. For some, it is the bitter, even vicious, parody of a political cartoon. For others, it is the dry, pawky humor of the realist, the man who sees life without rose-colored glasses. For some, it is the stuff scrawled on the walls of a washroom. For others, it is the mechanical, canned wit of the professional comedian, the pun, the gag, the topical reference.

All I can say is, "Never again." Even judging a baby contest would be child's play, to this. At least the entries would all be made of the same material.

"Perplexed" View Of Schools

Editor, Winchester Press

Dear Sir:

At a meeting of the High School Board and the Councils in the South Dundas High School Area, in Iroquois last week, the meeting was informed that the Department of Education is prepared to provide a large addition to the Iroquois District High School to provide proper secondary school education for the children in the South Dundas District, AT NO COST TO THE TAXPAYER. The controversial subject of the proposed addition will now be covered by a 100% Government Grant.

However, the elected representatives of Morrisburg and Williamsburg Township, while admitting that something must be done to improve the secondary school education in this district, were opposed to this FREE solution to the education problem. They countered with a proposal to construct an entirely new school in the vicinity of Highways 401 and 31, at a cost of approximately one million dollars. This would mean that each and every one of the taxpayers in the High School District would have an increase of 3 to 4 mills in their taxes, for the same type of school that they can have with no increase in taxes.

These Councillors and the Chairman of the School Board presented the argument that the Iroquois High School grounds were not large enough and that the travelling distance was too great. However, a survey of nine Ottawa High Schools has revealed that the average area of school grounds is 8 acres accommodating an average of 1,230 students. The Iroquois High School has 11 acres available if required, and the proposal is for 890 students.

Futhermore, the Department of Education officials have made the following statement:

"The building of a new school, centrally located, is difficult to justify. The school building at Iroquois is relatively new and modern and with the construction of a proper addition could serve the needs of the communities admirably. Furthermore, the Iroquois High School presents no transportation problems. The distances involved are much smaller than those which pupils are required to travel in many other rural parts of the province."

Now it would seem logical to assume that the officials of the Department of Education would not make such a statement unless they were positive it was correct. And now, as a further inducement to settling the deadlock, they are prepared to pay the full cost of the addition in grants, thereby relieving the taxpayers of any increase in taxes for this Composite School.

It is indeed difficult to understand why the elected representatives of Morrisburg and Williamsburg Township are opposed to this very generous offer by the Government, which will provide the answer to the education problem with NO INCREASE in taxes. They appear to be trying to make us believe that the taxpayers in these two Municipalities would be willing and anxious to pay an additional 3 to 4 mills on their taxes, for a new school, rather than get the same thing for nothing.

Mr. Editor, it would be most interesting to know if the taxpayers in Morrisburg and Williamsburg Township really want to pay more taxes for High School education when they can have the very same education with NO INCREASE in taxes.

Yours very truly,

"PERPLEXED"

Ottawa Report

BY MRS. JEAN WADDS, M.P.

It is gradually becoming known that constant and severe criticism of the Canada Pension Plan is appearing on the desks of Liberal members of Parliament.

What was presented as the solution to retirement problems for all Canadians is now frequently called a hoax and a bigger financial gamble than the building of the CPR. One prominent witness before the Parliamentary Committee on the Canada Pension Plan objects strenuously to the treatment he received from Liberal members of that committee: "My verbal comments were subjected to such hostile interruptions that I was precluded from result the pledge given me by the Prime Minister March 3rd, 1964, was broken — which in part read—quote—I am confident that by the time the final decision is made this matter will have received the especielly intensive and prolonged discussion that its importance merits—unquote."

He also complains of the action of the Minister of Health and Welfare. No acknowledgement was received to a letter reminding the Minister of her statement a year ago. This statement, backing the first version of the Plan, warned us that a heavily funded plan such as the present one, would lead to a Fascist State or States.

And so, although the debate on the Canada Pension Plan at times seems wearisome and ill-attended in the House of Commons, it is a most worthwhile perusal of one of the most far-reaching pieces of legislation ever to be brought before Parliament.

Once adopted there is, for all practical purposes, no turning back. Millions and millions of dollars are involved. The result will be a massive reallocation of funds from private spending which many Canadians prefer, to public or Government handling which is justifiably always open to criticism.

This will undoubtedly reduce the amount of money for investment by private individuals. At the very time this is taking place, we have the well received First Report of the Economic Council of Canada stressing the need for an annual increase in gross private field investment of around 10%.

No fairy godmother will produce this money to spend over a second time. It is a sure thing that if the Government takes more and more money from individuals, whether they call it taxes or compulsory contributions, then those individuals will not have it to put into private investments so needed to expand our industries.

The same Economic Report states that between 1964 and 1970 we must somehow create an average of almost a quarter of a million new jobs per year. If our industries of all kinds do not produce these jobs where will they come from.

Countries where everyone works for the Governmnt do not seem to us to have the kind of society we wish, the freedom of speech, the freedom of the press, the freedom of religion.

This week already there is a strong rumour that one large industry, long operating on a narrow margin of profit, will have to close down if this 1½% contribution or tax is added to their costs. The result will be that government will have to take over or several thousand people will be out of employment.

But where are we heading at the moment. We are going to have the massive Canada Pension Plan to meet hypothetical needs of the future; and shortly thereafter we will have to broaden our existing programs to meet the real needs — the needs that are not met by the Plan. The bill to the taxpayers for this after-thought will be a large additional burden.

ANNUAL REPORT TIME

The Company's Annual Report for 1964, mailed in February to shareholders in the Winchester area, has facts and figures that may be interesting to customers and others as well.

Take the number of telephones added to the network last year, for example — 222,475 (including 52 in Winchester). This is almost as many as serve the entire Ottawa-Hull metropolitan area, and is the third time in Company history that over 200,000 telephones were added in a single year (1956 and 1955 also set records). The figure becomes even more impressive when it is realized that it took thirty-three years — from the Company's inception in 1880, until 1913 — to reach the first 200,000 telephones in service.

Even as recently as the First World War, then, telephone service could not be considered the necessity it is today. Most people obviously didn't have telephones (though most businesses surely did) and the number of people you could reach was restricted. Today, of course, the whole pattern is changed. At the end of 1964, the Company had 4.3 million telephones in service, reaching into virtually every office and an estimated 92% of households in our territory in Ontario, Quebec, Labrador and the Northwest Territories.

And though telephone service has long been absolutely vital to the operation of Canadian businesses — and a single large corporation can require literally thousands of telephones within its offices and plants — we find nevertheless that year after year the proportion of telephones in HOMES has been creeping up, compared to those in business use. In 1964, for example, 70.6% of our telephones were in homes, compared with 70.5% in 1963, and 69% in 1955.

This to me is a sure indication of the standard of living enjoyed by Canadians, for Canada is one of only a handful of nations where individual families benefit so universally from the security and convenience of telephone service.

And speaking for the Bell, one major reason why this is so is that intensive effort is continually made to keep the cost of this vital service within the reach of any family in our territory.

World Day Of Prayer

The World Day of Prayer Service was held at the home of Mrs. T. J. Keyes with 19 present. Mrs. R. S. Allison was in charge, assisted by Mrs. Ralph McIntosh of the Lutheran Church and Mrs. Denzil Robinson of the United Church. Mrs. Jay Bailey was at the piano and opened with soft music.

Those leading in prayer were Mrs. Earl Munro, Mrs. Aden Casselman, Mrs Grant Cougler, Mrs. J. Davidson and Mrs. Cecil McIntosh. Voices heard in congregation were Mrs. Denzil Robinson, Mrs. K. Leyenaar, Mrs. Lawrence Holmes, Mrs. J. Bolton and Mrs. Ray Casselman.

Mrs. Dalton Robinson sang "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands." The topic was taken by Mrs. Keyes.

U.C.W. Meeting

The March meeting of the United Church Women was held in the Church Hall on Thursday evening last. Mrs. Allison, president, opened the meeting with a welcome to all and reading a poem, "Be Still And Know That I Am God."

Mrs. Lawrence Holmes was in charge of the worship service which was very impressive and appropriate with the Lenten season. She presented different translations from the Bible and each lady chose a favorite verse and read it.

Mrs. Dalton Robinson's solo, "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands" was enjoyed.

Twenty-two ladies responded to roll call. Plans were made for the "Brazil" Night to be held in April. Mrs. George McIntosh presented the allocation for 1965. Plans were also made for attendance at the U. C. W. Conference in Iroquois March 16 and 17.

Mrs. Denzil Robinson distributed membership cards to those present. Mrs. Earl Munro gave a very interesting synopsis of a chapter of the Study Book on Brazil.

Sap's Running

With the cold March nights and the sunshine to warm the days the sap will soon be running. Work will be getting underway in the maple sugar camps and the St. Lawrence Parks Commission is well ahead of the game. They are ready to tap the trees and gather the sap. Then comes that unforgettable aroma of hot maple syrup, taffy on the snow, and maple sugar, sweet and tasty.

Last year's operation of the maple sugar camp in Crysler Farm Battlefield Park was most successful, with almost 10,000 persons visiting the camp in a four week period. Even more trees are being tapped this year and facilities for handling syrup, sugar and taffy have been improved; and there will be lots of parking space.

The camp is located in the Battlefield Park on Park Road between highways 401 and 31. There is no admission charge and school groups are most welcome. Just consult the Parks at Box 340, Morrisburg, to schedule a suitable time.—Parks Photo.

Bill Olsen, office worker, got a Scotia Plan Loan -$800- in 24 hours

Bill Olsen had too many bills. Things seemed to be getting out of hand and Bill was worried. Fortunately for Bill a good friend suggested he take his money problems to his nearest Bank of Nova Scotia. Bill was introduced to the manager and after a few simple questions about his job, income and how much money he needed Bill started to see his money problems disappearing.

Within 24 hours Bill Olsen knew he would have all the money he needed to pay all his debts. Of course, this actual customer was not named Bill Olsen—and not all Scotia Plan Loans take 24 hours—the time varies with the circumstances. But there are more and more people with all kinds of names and jobs coming to The Bank of Nova Scotia to have their money problems solved—quickly. Why don't you?

How much money do you need? A Scotia Plan Loan is one of the best—most practical ways for you to consolidate your debts. Your loan is life-insured at no extra cost. You get speedy service. You get the other advantage of dealing with the interested Scotiabank people. So talk over your money problem—whatever it is—debt consolidation—a new car—with the people at your nearest Scotiabranch. They're ready and waiting to help you get the money you need.

Broomball Champs

In a rock 'em sock 'em battle Winchester Town League Broomball season drew to a close with a championship game. At the completion of the schedule the four-team loop went into its play-off series. Climax of the year's play was the championship game last week.

Managed and coached by Bob Porteous and Arnold Stobo, a team that finished the regular season in third place came on strong when the brooms were down and took the league crown. The final tilt was a high scoring game with the winners from the south-east handling the broom wielders from the north-west in convincing 9-0 fashion. Scoring wise it was no contest. The winners capitalized on all their chances and played solid defensive ball when they were forced back in their own end on rare occasions.

Referees Doug. Baker and George Edwardson called several penalties in the fast moving game. The other finalists were coached by Don Billings.

Injuries Plague Fuel Jets Down 2-0 In Series

Williamsburg Fuel Jets have run into their toughest competition of the year and a rash of telling injuries at the same time. Four Jets are now watching the Intermediate play-off series from the sidelines as Cornwall has a 2-0 lead in the best of five series to advance in the Citizen Shield playdowns. Bill Casselman, Eldon Holmes, Russ Casselman and Alton Cassidy are all first stringers who are wishing they could suit up with their mates and join the action.

Cornwall's overpowering squad moved quickly Sunday evening in the Seaway City to lead the series 1-0 by handing the undermanned Jets a 12-5 loss. Milt Belmore paced the winners with five goals, with a brace each going to Larue and MacGregor. Bob Schell lead the Jets with two goals and a trio of assists. Earl Brown tallied twice and assisted on another; Paul Beckstead had a goal and an assist, and Bill Casselman, previous to his shoulder injury, assisted on two. Other Cornwall scorers were Alguire, Baker and Bergeron.

Returning to the friendly confines of the Morrisburg Community Centre on Monday night did not inspire the Jets to a comeback victory. The crack city team nailed the series to the door by knocking off the Jets 9-3. Belmore tallied two to lead the scorers. Fuel Jets got counters from Earl Brown, Paul Beckstead and Al. Waddell. Bob Schell assisted on two markers. Cornwall singletons went to Bergeron, Baker, McDonald, Villeneuve, Alguire, Larue and MacGregor.

Next and what could be the final game of the series is in Cornwall Sunday evening. With the services of four regulars in doubt, the Fuel Jets will have to come up with their best performance of the year to stay alive in the series.

CURLING CAPSULES

By Ernie Richardson

Having concentrated chiefly on instruction for curlers in general and skips in particular it seems about time to deal with other positions on the team. We will discuss the duties of the lead and second players as well as the qualities a skip should look for when he is choosing men for these positions on his team.

Starting with the lead, his qualifications are chiefly that he should be good at the draw game and fair at hitting. Most important of all, however, he should have the ability to draw to either side of the house.

It is also necessary that a good lead should be the strongest sweeper on the team and also capable at judging with reasonable accuracy, the weight of the rock and the sweeping required.

The lead plays an important part in winning since he has the chance to get his draw eight down before the opposing lead does, and this can force the opposition to play the type of game you desire. In this way you can get the jump on your opponents early in the game.

Because of the extra sweeping and the fact that the lead position is by no means the most interesting of the four, the lead man has to be a patient and good natured type. He should be assured that his shots are just as important to the game as those of his teammates.

GOOD HITTER

The second player, generally considered the clean-up man should be a good hitter, able to throw heavy weight as well as playing a better than average draw game. He is frequently called upon to make double takeouts for which extra weight, with accuracy, is needed.

If the second player can hit well and also make those important draw shots you are a fortunate skip to have such a player. The second should also be a good sweeper, good judge of weight and must be able to sweep well together as a team with the lead.

Besides being good players it is important that one of the two front end players should be a strong morale builder for the team. We have one of those on our team in my brother Garnet, who plays second.

Every rink needs a player of the holler-guy type who can stir up encouragement and in this way his enthusiasm seems to rub off on his teammates to provide a winning lift.

QUALIFICATONS

In order to properly fill the role of morale builder, the player of this type must also be able to consistently make the kind of shots that help his team out of trouble or give them an opportunity to improve their score. This calls for playing the role tactfully.

One of the major problems on a curling team is that invariably when leads and second have developed in the game to a high degree of efficiency at their positions they are anxious to move up to third or skip.

Because this happens all too frequently, especially at the club level, is considered the reason why there aren't many more outstanding teams in Canada than there are at present. Good leads and second are needed every bit as much as good thirds and ships.

SEED CLEANING

Seed Cleaning is a job that takes time and it is a problem every spring to get the cleaning in early enough to have it done when it is needed.

Please arrange to have cleaning done within the next week or two if possible—it will save a jam up later on and we can give better service to everyone.

All lots of Timothy or Clover Seed should be in before the end of March. Small seeds take so much time that it is hardly possible to get them through during the rush of grain cleaning.

Co-operation in this way will be very much appreciated.

224 Affiliate Stores Make Up Canadian Tire Chain

Canadian Tire is a $28 million corporation that has its strength in a co-operative approach, that keeps it in the foreground of the automotive supply business.

At the annual dealers' convention in Toronto vice president Dan Muncaster predicted a rosy future in the midst of competition of varying sorts. The CTC advantage in the marketplace, he said, lies in the co-operative approach that must be constantly strengthened. Central planning, administration and distribution are all keys to the success of the firm. Latest services available to associate dealers from central offices are a series of promotional programs, new ordering and inventory control concepts, simplified paperwork systems, and a computer-oriented management system available for associate dealer's use.

Of 224 CTC stores spread across the country 205 were represented at the convention; this is an outstanding accomplishment in itself. Ed. Hanson of the Wilfred P. Henophy Ltd. Associate Store in Williamsburg was in attendance at the convention. The Williamsburg Store has long been credited as one of the largest and finest in rural Ontario. From its Church Street location in Williamsburg the CTC store serves a vast area with its superior lines of products and services.

Creating capitalists is a practice that has brought much credit to the organization since it was organized by the Billes Brothers, A. J. and J. W., who opened their first store in 1922. Employees have gained a 25 per cent. share of the corporation and several have used the investment as a lever into their own stores. Employees who have been with the firm for seven years have an average of $20,000 in the firm's retirement fund.

CTC helps new dealerships by matching the employee's dollar with another. Other similar dollar matches have seen the establshment of manufacturing plants to supply the growing CTC demand. An extremly small turnover of staff is credited to a generous retirement plan and a genuine interest in employee welfare.

The number of independent stores has levelled off now at about 220 and the trend now is to upgrade present facilities. However, 20 new dealers made their first appearance at this convention.

The firm has always been quick to take advantage of new merchandising methods. From the roller skate speed system to the computerized systems.

The CTC computer has been programmed to keep inventory. It gives warning when stock needs to be re-ordered and a danger signal when re-ordering is absolutely necessary. It can not be fooled by a step up in sales either.

Coupons have made a big hit with customers. Their cost is probably less than credit given by other businesses. Since it is strictly a no credit organization the coupons are considered a cash discount.

Presently work is being completed on "Project 67" which will herald a new era in Canadian Tire merchandising.
