NO ELECTION IN STORMONT-DUNDAS?

Grits And Tories Favour Lamoureux As Speaker

More political manoeuvering over the week-end with the announcement that the Tories and the Liberals had agreed not to field candidates in Stormont-Dundas in the June 25th federal election. The move may pave the way for the Hon. Lucien Lamoureux, present Stormont member, to run as an independent and to be appointed permanent Speaker of the House of Commons.

Mr. Lamoureux has held the post of speaker and it is common knowledge that his permanent appointment to this post would be greeted with satisfaction by all parties. A Cornwall lawyer, Mr. Lamoureux said last week he was reluctant to return to partisan politics and run under the Liberal party banner. Prime Minister Trudeau and Conservative Leader Stanfield agreed, after telephone talks and after last minute meetings with representatives in the riding, not to field candidates in the riding to allow Mr. Lamoureux to follow the British tradition and seek re-election as Mr. Speaker.

However, the New Democratic Party said 24-year-old Timothy Wees would contest the riding for them. No change in attitude has been made known so far as the NDPs are concerned, but it is more than likely that they will pave the way for Mr. Lamoureux to go unopposed.

Not interested in seeing the riding become at least temporarily disenfranchised, the Conservatives have strongly urged that the constitution be changed as soon as possible to make it possible for Mr. Lamoureux to become permanent speaker. Under the present British North America Act the speaker must be appointed by the existing government after each election. Conservatives have long advocated the appointement of a permanent speaker and it is believed that Mr. Trudeau shares this feeling. Thoroughly bilingual, Mr. Lamoureux has gained in popularity since first being appointed in 1965.

Conservatives, although reluctant, said they were in favour of Mr. Lamoureux becoming a permanent speaker so long as the way was paved to call a by-election in the constituency within six months of the federal election. The Conservatives pointed out that the riding be assured of not losing any considerations or priorities on matters pertaining to Stormont-Dundas. However, the entire matter still hinges on the decision of the New Democratic candidate. If they force an election the Conservatives, ready to hold a general meeting followed by a nomination meeting, may have a change of heart.

The next few days should tell whether or not Stormont-Dundas will go to the polls on June 25th. Under re-distribution Stormont-Dundas includes all of Stormont plus the townships of Winchester and Williamsburg and the villages of Morrisburg, Chesterville and Winchester in Dundas.

Council Continues Canine Campaign

It was a conglomeration of affairs at Monday night's session of council. Dogs, budgets. hydro rates and sewers all came in for serious, even heated discussion as members of council waded through the busy agenda.

Council is hopeful that the 1968 budget will be brought down next Monday night. The hold-up is with North Dundas District High School in submitting the 1968 levy. When this important sheet of figures is received council can then determine what the taxpayer will pay this year . . . and the word is more!

At the same time Clerk C. R. tobinson is hopeful that the new provincial grants in lieu of taxes for rental reduction will be applied to the tax bills which hopefully will be forwarded on time the first part of June. However, this will be determined by information submitted from Toronto. An explanation of the new reductions to taxpayers will appear on the tax bill and in this newspaper.

DOG OWNERS BEWARE

Council is definitely not satisfied with the co-operation being received by Winchester dog owners. As previously announced new teeth will be placed in the law this year. As a result of the apparent apathy council is expected to notify all dog owners personally or by telephone requesting payment by a certain time. If payment of licences and tags is not made by the prescribed time, council will lay charges where necessary. There will be no more warnings.

At the same time roaming dogs will be impounded and the costs will be directed entirely to the owner. "Too many complaints are being received," one councillor explained, "from irate citizens about dogs running at large. We have to do something about this problem right now." And the consensus of council indicates that something will be done immediately.

New hydro rates effective with the July billing will be introduced next week and a complete rundown will be published in the Press. In some instances rates will be up while in other cases, particularly with large power users, the rates will be somewhat reduced.

A meeting with the Ontario Water Resources Commission concerning sewage disposal facilities at Ault Milk Products has been called for May 24th. Serious debate was also given extension of the Main street sewer system to service the renovated Hotel Winchester. It is expected that tenders will be called for this extension immediately.

Council approved the tender of Lee Shaver, subject to Department of Highways approval, for the supplying of gravel for the 1968 roads program. Council also said that Winchester streets would be given a thorough sweeping this week with an automatic sweeper similar to the type used last May. Acknowledgement has been received for the new Winchester Public Library. Weigh masters appointed were: George Elliott, Melvin Black and Clare Carkner.

Accounts paid included the following: Water, $115.73; Hydro, $10,209.11, and Municipal, $4,494.77.

Curlers End Season ...

160 Attend Banquet

Winchester curlers, 160 strong, rang down the final curtain on the year's activities with the traditional banquet. The big event this year was staged at Henderson Hall last Saturday night and included the sumptuous banquet, presentation of awards, committee reports and programme.

Grace was said by Rev. A. J. MacDonald, and President Charles Anderson welcomed the curlers, outlining the continued success enjoyed by the club. Mrs. Anderson, Ladies' President, spoke on behalf of the Ladies' curling division, outlining the close harmony enjoyed by the two sections of the club and the great interest shown in mixed bonspiels.

Head table was introduced by Bill Lloyd and included all club officials.

TROPHY AWARDS

Hon. Fred Cass presented the Cass Trophy to Skip Charlie Ault, and Mrs. Ran Wylie presented the Countryman Trophy to Skip Marg. Boyd. Three other trophies, Biccum, Fetterly and Davidson had already been presented at the club to the various winners.

Presentation of all other prizes were made by Games committees: Ladies' section, Betty Barton and Sybil Curtis; mixed division, Murray Summers and Ray Larsen; and for the men, Ray VanNoy and Charles Ault.

"8-ENDER"

One rink had written a new page in Club history during the winter by scoring an "8-end." This rink, skipped by Bryson Patterson, was presented with 8-end pins by Ran Wylie. These pins were awarded by Crown Life Insurance Company through local agent Graham Casselman of Winchester Springs.

Entertainment was provided by four McDonald sisters of Glen Roy and Sylvester McDonald of Cornwall.

A beautiful floral arrangement from Muriel's Flowers was won by Mrs. Glen Vasey, while door prizes were won by Mrs. Wm. Lloyd and Bill Johnston.

Eastern Star ladies catered to the dinner and were thanked by Hugh Eadie. The evening closed with dancing at the club.

Morrisburg Lions Donation

Winchester District Memorial Hospital continues to improve its service each day and it is encouraging to note that area service clubs take great pride in being asociated with these advancements and contribute generously towards making them possible.

Most recent donation is a cheque for $1,000.00 from the Morrisburg Lions Club which was used for the purchase of much needed operating room instruments.

Hospital officials have released the names of the following list of instruments purchased, along with costs: Cystoscope 21 FR, $652.00; Ball Tip Electrode 6FR, $9.90; Biopsy Forcep Rongeur 7 FR, $71.50; Scissors, 7 FR, $36.30; Davis Stone Remover, $93.50; Negus Esophagoscope, 45 cm., $74.80; Bronchoscope Biopsy Forcep, $75.00; Cutting Forcep, $75.00; Bulbs for the Esophagoscope, $12.50. Total cost of the above is $1100.60.

The help of the Morrisburg Lions made all this possible and it is understood that already some patients who ordinarily would have had to be transferl red to an Ottawa hospital have been treated in Winchester.

St. Lawrence Parks Commission Releases Opening Dates

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission has announced a new schedule of fees for Upper Canada Village, Old Fort Henry, nd all parks within the Commission system.

A Commission spokesman emphasized the need for additional revenues by indicating that overall Commission income in 1967 did not meet operating costs despite record attendance figures at all sites.

The Commission also emphasized its determination to maintain the high standards characteristic of its parks and historic sites. This is considered to be essential if the Commission is to continue to achieve its two major objectives of attracting visitors to Eastern Ontario and providing recreational opportunities for local residents.

Upper Canada Village will open May 15th; Old Fort Henry May 15th, and all Parks on May 16th. The Upper Canada Golf Course will open on May 4th. Green Fees are $2.50 on Monday through Friday, and $3.00 on Saturday, Sunday or holidays.

Complete information on new fee schedules is available from the Commission, but in order to eliminate any misunderstanding which may arise in interpreting the new park fee schedules the following examples are offered:

(a) Visitors using campsites operated by the Commission other than those located on Long Sault Parkway, will be required to pay $2.50 per day. The campsite permit issued to the visitor will be honoured as a vehicle entry permit for the full rental period.

(b) Visitors using campsites on the Long Sault Parkway will be required to pay a $1.00 vehicle entry fee. However, when the camper reaches the campsite area the $1.00 vehicle entry fee will be deducted from the total campsite rental fee payable and the campsite permit will be honoured as both vehicle entry permit and campsite permit for the full rental period.

(c) Under no circumstances will a camper be required to pay both the $2.50 per day campsite fee and the $1.00 daily vehicle entry fee. The campsite fee of $2.50 per day includes the daily vehicle entry fee.

(d) Visitors not camping, but using the swimming and picnic areas only (day-use areas), will be required to pay the $1.00 daily vehicle fee or be in possession of the $10.00 annual vehicle permit. These two permits,, the daily vehicle entrance permit ($1.00) and the annual vehicle permit ($10.00) relate only to day-use facilities and have no application relative to the use of the campsite areas.

The entrance to Upper Canada Village where thousands of tourists last year visited and carried with them to remote parts of the world the beautiful story of a trip back in time and a visit with early settlers.

Last year was Centennial year and with Expo only a few miles distant, understandably a record number of tourists visited the Village. NEXT THURSDAY

100 Club Tours E.B.I.

Once each year members of Winchester 100 Club take a "night off" and go visiting. The rest of the year each meeting is the same old grind, devising ways and means of making the village a better place in which to live.

Club members have set Thursday, May 16th this year for their annual "Tour Meeting" and all Centurians will travel to Kemptville where they will be guests on a guided tour of Eastern Breeders. All members will meet at Henderson Hall at 6:00 p.m. Club members will make a stop at the Bright Spot Restaurant, Kemptville, for dinner at 7:00.

The Centurian President urges all members to make a special effort to attend this interesting annual outing.

NIGHT...And Day

It may be the start of something different. Melvin Vice, owner of Vice Furniture, said this week that his store would remain open three evenings each week beginning immediately.

Mr. Vice discussed the matter with Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday morning and it is expected that the business men's committee chairman Arnold Dukelow will make a canvass of the town to determine if a change of hours is actually in the wind.

Mr. Vice pointed out that in his particular business it was imperative that his store remain open more evenings to accommodate "after dinner" shoppers, and to combat outside competition which, he said, is offering more shopping hours than Winchester at the present time.

The Vice store, located on St. Lawrence Street south, will remain open Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings each week.

ASK YOUR CHIROPRACTOR

Question: Can chiropractic help high blood pressure?

Mrs. L. L.

J. A. Laquerre, D.C.
Alta Vista Chiropractic Centre
Near Bank & Heron Rd., Ottawa South

Answer: In the past years scientists have attributed high blood pressure to many causes. Recent studies, however, have demonstrated that the majority of cases are what is known as "nervous hypertension", resulting from an imbalance of the nervous system. In these cases the blood vessels become narrowed, increasing resistance, requiring increased blood pressure in order to maintain circulation. Recently surgeons have cut nerves going to certain blood vessels, hoping that this procedure would reduce blood pressure. Although the operation succeeds for a time, it does not appear to be permanent, and it may be harmful.
The chiropractic approach to high blood pressure is to remove any imbalance in the nerve system by spinal adjustment, relieving tension on blood vessels, with the restoration of normal pressure. It is true that chiropractic is a new healing art and people are always skeptical of anything "new" Yet the only way you can determine the accomplishments of chiropractic is by investigating it!

Two Families Homeless — Fire Destroys Metcalfe Landmark

Two families were left homeless by a disastrous fire that destroyed an old Metcalfe landmark. The fire, which broke out about ten last Wednesday morning threatened to spread to major proportions, but Fire Chief Art Benson, realizing the danger, summoned help from the neighbouring towns of Russell and Osgoode.

The three fire departments battled the blaze for three hours, but very little was saved.

The building, built a century ago, was long known as Metcalfe Cheese Factory, but the owner, Rock Scharf of Metcalfe, had converted the frame building into a duplex in the early 1950's, and both tenants suffered heavy losses. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wyman, who were both at work, lost all their belongings, and the other tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gleason and their two sons, were at home and with the help of neighbours were able to salvage some of the downstairs furnishings. Loss was estimated at $15,000.00, only partly covered by insurance.

With no hope of saving the building, firemen concentrated their efforts on adjacent buildings: the Brisbois house on the north, the Stewart house at the south, and the Public School directly across the street. At the height of the blaze, neighbours could only stand helplessly and watch.

South Carleton Softball League Holds Annual, Has Seven Entries

South Carleton Softball League will operate this summer with seven entries. This was the conclusion reached at the Annual Meeting held at Manotick on Monday evening.

Alf Taylor well known and respected district sportsman, was re-elected President for the coming year and Keith Russell was re-elected to the Vice-President's chair. The meeting accepted, with some regret, the resignation of SecretaryTreasurer Jack Armstrong who had proved a valuable asset to the league for many years. Lynn Dewan was elected to take over the job of Secretary-Treasurer.

One of the oldest leagues in Ontario "South Carleton" has always had a strong contending team from Manotick, and the executive was surprised to learn that this fast-growing community was unable to field a team this year.

NEW ENTRY

Two members of the Carlsbad Springs Community Club attended the meeting and requested an entry in the league. The executive agreed that, although Carlsbad would be unable to play night games at home, they had a very enthusiastic following and would prove a valuable asset to the league.

The Leitrim entry, which has in the past had some difficulty locating suitable playing facilities found a quick solution to their problems—an entry this year bearing the name of "Manotick-Leitrim Combines". This will give the team access to the fine ball park in Manotick and the Manotick players who were left "homeless" when their team dropped from the league will become the property of this new entry.

The meeting agreed to use the same umpires as last year and the entry fee remains the same. One noticeable change, however, was noted: this year only the top four (4) teams will be in the play-offs.

Mr. Dewan was instructed to draw the schedule immediately with the first games to be scheduled for Wednesday, May 22nd.

Three Good Reasons

The Walk Is On

With the sudden popularity now being enjoyed by the ancient sport of walking, most public-spirited organizations from one end of Canada to the other are planning some type of walk to raise funds for worthwhile purposes.

Most recent to hit the planning board is the 17-mile trek by Metcalfe and District Lions Club. Like all other "walks," this one has a very significant purpose. More specifically it has a three-fold purpose: (1) to help the C.N.I.B. Building Fund; (2) to help the newly formed Osgoode Township Library, and (3) to bolster the fast-sinking welfare fund.

Metcalfe and District Lions Club "Welfare Walk" will begin at Osgoode Community Centre in Osgoode Village, and it is expected officials from the C.N.I.B. will be there to give the "go" signal. The walk route proceeds east through Dalmeny Dalmeny to Highway 31. At this point the walkers will turn south and "visit" Vernon. An about turn in the village will head the marchers back to Metcalfe where the finishing line will be at the Lions Den.

The date set for this event is Saturday, May 18th. According to reports from officials of the Lions Club, there is a great demand for applications and these are available at the schools, from Lion members, and various other outlets.

The reduced distance will, no doubt, attract many who were a little reluctant to attempt the 25-mile or the 40-mile marathon.

Howard Home Hosts Baptist Women's Circle

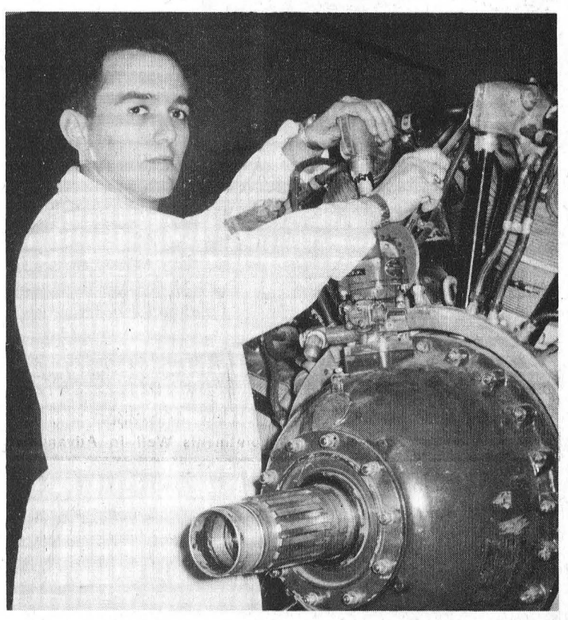
The afternoon group of Vernon Baptist Women's Circle met on May 1st at the home of Mrs. E. Howard.

The president opened the meeting with a poem, Mothers, followed by a hymn. The devotional was given by Mrs. Harold Ferguson. Several took part in the prayer period and thanked God for Christian mothers.

Roll call was answered with a favourite verse or poem on mothers. This was answered by eleven members and two guests.

It was decided to join with other circles to form a Canadian Baptist Prayer Path for the Bolivian Crusade. Mrs. Jas. Ferguson gave a very interesting, informative reading, giving some of the Centennial highlights of the beginning of Canadian Baptist Missions.

The president closed with prayer and lunch was served by the hostess.



Training At Camp Borden

Craftsman Patrick Weatherall, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Weatherall, R. R. 3, Russell, is undergoing a three month Aero Engine Technician Course at Canadian Forces Base at Borden, Ont. He serves in the Army Component of the Canadian Armed Forces, and has qualified previously as an Airframe Technician. This Aero Engine Course gives him the other half of the training necessary for his receiving the qualification of Army Aviation Technician.

On course at the nation's largest military training centre where more than 200 trades and careers are taught, among the subjects he studies are the mechanics of both the internal combustion and jet aircraft engines, among which are those of the CF 100 Canuck, T33 Silver Star, the Neptune Submarine Hunter and the Dakota Transport. — Canadian Forces Photo.

John Hall Story To Be Related

When Dr. and Mrs. John Hall lived in Winchester, they often referred to the Far East and their desire to go there one day as missionaries.

Then ,about a year ago, their many friends in this district learned with more than a little interest, and with considerable concern, that the Halls were to move to Dalat, in Vietnam. There the intrepid couple continued until January last, until the period of the massive Viet Cong offensive. Now in Bangkok, Thailand, they look back upon days and nights of horror, when four of their number were slain, and two others were taken captive by the V.C.

Mrs. Hall's father, Mr. Harold Jackson, will relate the whole story in detail on Sunday, May 12th, at South Gower Baptist Church, and appropriately enough, for this is Mother's Day, Mrs. Jackson will be the soloist.

This special service is at 7.45 p.m. and Rev. G. A. Cawfield, pastor of the South Gower Church, cordially invites everyone to attend.

Warwick Legge Dies Suddenly

Russell Village and the entire district was shocked last week at the sudden passing of Warwick Legge. Mr. Legge had, for many years, served the area well, both in his capacity as a druggist and as an active worker in all community and church work.

Warwick, as he was best known to his many friends, will be specially remembered for the active part he once played in the very successful Russell Music Festivals.

Mr. Legge, who was in his 64th year, is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George MacGregor (Nancy), of Ottawa, and two sons, James of Ottawa and David of Toronto.

Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Wm. McIllwraith (Ethel), of Russell, and one brother, Victor, of Toronto. Mr. Legge was predeceased by his wife, the former Edith Alice Thompson, and also by two brothers, Canon A. E. E. Legge and Ronald.

Funeral service was from Warner Funeral Home, Russell, for service in St. Mary's Anglican Church on Sunday, May 5. Interment in parish cemetery.

Vernon 4H Club

The first meeting of Vernon 4H Calf Club was held on April 25th at the home of Annette Vooyen. The meeting opened with the 4-H Pledge, followed by the minutes of the previous meeting.

Cropping and harvesting were the main topics discussed. The club leaders also helped some of the younger members with their monthly reports. Bonnie Mitchell tested the members with a quiz.

Mrs. C. Cavan Dies In Hospital

A former well known Metcalfe woman died in an Ottawa hospital last week. Mrs. Charles Cavan, the former Clara Burke, was in her 65th year.

Mrs. Cavan and her husband, the late Charles Cavan, lived in the village for many years, and Mrs. Cavan was a very active church worker. She is survived by five sons, Len, Wally, Tom, Bernie and Mike, and two daughters, Mrs. Earl Akeson (Katherine), and Mary.

Funeral service was from Kelly Funeral Home, Carling Avenue, to St. Mary's Church for Requiem High Mass on Monday morning. Interment was at Thurso, Que.

Shell's First District Winner

Harold Cowan of Metcalfe is one of the first in the district to win a prize in the Shell $1,000,000 Sweepstakes. Included in the great array of prizes are 10 coloured Television sets; 30 black and white portable sets; 150 transistor radios and 10,000 sets of steak knives.

All farmers have received complete information and included with this information a lucky number. Stan Black, Shell's Winchester representative, encourages area farmers to turn these lucky number cards in to him as soon as possible as there are many more prizes to be won.

A smiling Mr. Cowan is pictured receiving his new portable TV from Stan Black of Winchester. Notable in the background is the reminder of the valuable prizes some other lucky farmers will win.

AUDITORS' REPORT & FINANCIAL STATEMENT

For The Year Ending December 31st, 1967

The Council and Ratepayers, Corporation of the Township of Osgoode, Metcalfe, Ontario:

Pursuant to our appointment as auditors of the Corporation of the Township of Osgoode, we have audited the financial records of the Corporation, the Police Villages, the School Boards and the Community Centres for the year ended December 31, 1967, and submit herewith our report together with the financial statements and supporting schedules as indicated in the index included herein.

SCOPE OF AUDIT

Our audit was conducted according to accepted auditing practices having regard to the duties and instructions prescribed by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

We verified the assets and liabilities of the Corporation and the related Boards at December 31, 1967, but we did not verify title to municipal property.

Our examination of the operating accounts consisted of a series of tests which we considered applicable in the circumstances, but we did not audit all transactions.

We have endeavoured to ensure that all receipts have been properly recorded in the accounts, but as is usual in an audit of this nature, it is not possible to verify receipts from miscellaneous sources.

Additional information with respect to the scope of the audit is presented in the questionnaire included herein.

COMMMENTS RESPECTING REVENUE FUND BALANCE SHEET

Taxes Receiveable — $153,774.03.

Verification notices were mailed to taxpayers for all of the taxes receivable. Some of these notices were returned for taxpayers not resident at the address shown on the records.
Reserve for Working Funds — $108,500.00.

This reserve was not increased during the year.

We recommend, as in prior years, that the reserve be increased during 1968 by an amount not exceeding 5% of the current tax roll until an amount equal to 40% is provided. This will improve the financial condition of the Corporation and reduce bank borrowings. The reserve now stands at 23.1%.

COMMENTS RESPECTING COMMUNITY CENTRES

Greely Community Centre:

As is the case with most organizations of this nature we were unable to verify receipts from the various activities beyond ascertaining that the receipts recorded in the cash book were deposited in the centre's bank account..

East Osgcode Memorial Community Centre:

As is the case with most organizations of this nature we were unable to verify receipts from the various activities beyond ascertaining that the receipts recorded in the cash book were deposited in the centre's bank account.

No fidelity bonds were submitted to us and we repeat that we feel consideration should be given to securing bonds on the parties who handle the Centre funds.

We again recommend that two officers should be required to sign cheques.

We refer to our letter of April 5, 1968 to the Community Centre Board, a copy of which was mailed to Council, in which we made comments on the decrease in revenue and recommended a system of controlling receipts.

Osgoode Centennial Community Centre:

No fidelity bonds were submitted to us and we recommend that consideration be given at securing fidelity bonds on all parties of the Board who handle funds.

As is the case with most organizations of this nature, we were unable to verify receipts from all sources beyond ascertaining that the receipts recorded in the cash book were deposited in the centre's bank account.

During 1967 the Community Centre Board entered into an agreement with an organization for the operation of the Community Centre. Under the terms of the agreement, the Community Centre Board was to receive an audited financial statement of the operations of the organization. No audited financial statement was available for our examination.

COMMENTS RESPECTING SCHOOL BOARDS

Fidelity bonds were not submitted for the Public School Area Board and R.C.S.S. No. 4 Osgoode.

We again recommend that the Public School Area Board set up a register of Board properties showing legal descriptions so that verification of title could be made as prescribed by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

The Public Schools Act requires that an annual budget be prepared and that due allowance be made therein for any available surplus of previous years. The Public School Area Board surplus at December 31, 1966 was $151,371.00 of which $100,000 was authorized for, and $94,995.40 expended on a building programme. The 1967 tax levy was $101,102.28, and the surplus at December 31, 1967 is $43,265.02.

COMMENTS RESPECTING INSURANCE COVERAGE AND PROPERTY

We again recommend that insurance coverage be reviewed to determine whether or not it is adequate in relation to insurable values and consideration be given to coverage for robbery, burglary, and valuable Corporation records. We also again recommend that a register of municipal property be set up showing legal descriptions so that verification of title of property could be made as prescribed by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

GENERAL

We would refer to correspondence of ours of December 8th, 1967 in which recommendations were made with respect to improving the handling of certain corporation matters. We report that some of these recommendations have already been implemented.

AUDITOR'S OPINION

Subject to the foregoing qualifications concerning:
(1) Lack of verification of title to real property.
(2) Inability to verify receipts from miscellaneous sources.
(3) Examination of operating accounts by a series of tests.
(4) Public School Board balance of surplus amounting to $51,371.00 not allowed for in the 1967 budget:

We report that, in our opinion
(1) The financial transactions which have come under our notice have been within the powers of the municipality.
(2) The audit has been conducted in accordance with the instructions of the Department of Municipal Affairs.
(3) The financial statements present fairly the financial position of the municipality as at December 31, 1967 and the results of its operations for the year ended on that date.

NOTICES

DO YOUR YOUNGSTERS KNOW THE RULES OF THE ROAD?

Your youngsters will be much safer riding their bikes if they know the rules of the road.

You should also make sure that their bikes are mechanically sound and properly fitted with lights and reflective tape for after-dark operation.

Another safety precaution is one which can be added to any CIA automobile insurance policy. Extended medical payments coverage will protect you against medical expenses resulting from accidents involv- family bicycles.

For information about this and other insurance coverages, call your CIAG representative.

IN MEMORIAMS

FLEGG—Today recalls sad memories of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Florence Flegg, who passed away May 10, 1965.

Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
Time may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never;
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.

—Husband Wesley and family. 1p

MUNRO—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Hector G. Munro, who passed away May 7, 1966.

Time speeds on, two years are gone,
Since death its gloomy shadow cast;
Upon our home, where all was bright,
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will,
His vacant place none can fill;
Here we mourn, but not in vain,
For in Heaven we will meet again.

—Wife and family. 1p

ROBINSON—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Herb Robinson, who passed away on May 11th, 1967.

There is a sad but sweet remembrance,
There is a memory fond and true;
There is a token of affection, mother,
And a heartache still for you.

—Sadly missed by Myrna, Annie, Delbert, Willis and Dalton. 1p

Where Life Begins... Your Community Hospital

For most of us Mother's Day means relaxation with the family and an extra-special effort to pamper mother. But for hospitals and the thousands of people who work in them, next Sunday will have another meaning.

Sunday, May 12, is National Hospital Day. Each year this date is set aside to observe the birthday in 1820 of Florence Nightingale, the nursing pioneer whose innovations led to the improvement of hospitals around the world.

Through the years the day has become an occasion in Canada to focus attention on the vital role hospitals fill in providing high quality year-round health care in the community.

To mark the rare coincidence of Mother's Day falling on the same date this year, hospitals have chosen "Where Life Begins" as their National Hospital Day theme.

The place where life begins for 98 out of every 100 young Canadians these days is the community hospital. Although the national birth rate has declined in recent years, more than 370,000 babies were born last year. All but 2 per cent. of these babies were born in expensively-equipped hospital delivery rooms and spent the first crucial days under constant watch and care in a hospital nursery.

The first 60 seconds of the baby's life are full of drama. During this crowded minute he undergoes a thorough physical examination. The obstetrician checks his heart rate, breathing, muscle tone, reflex and colour. If the baby passes his first physical with flying colours, he is handed over to his mother for their first meeting and a large helping of love.

Then, even before his first meal, comes his first injection. It contains Vitamin K, which helps prevent bleeding disorder. During the first 12 hours of life, the newborn child is watched intensely. His pulse and temperature are recorded often. Nurses look for signs of mucus in his mouth and throat and observe his skin colour.

And in Ontario, all babies are also tested for PKU (phenylketonuria), a genetic disease which can cause severe mental retardation. PKU can be corrected by putting the baby on a special diet if it is detected early.

If a baby has special problems — is premature or has positive signs of some disorder — a team of pediatric specialists is there to go to work immediately. His chances are good because he is in hospital.

Like all other countries where couples now have easy access to the means of postponing or controlling the size of their families, Canada has seen a marked decrease in the birth rate. Official estimates calculate the drop at 23 per cent. in the last eight years.

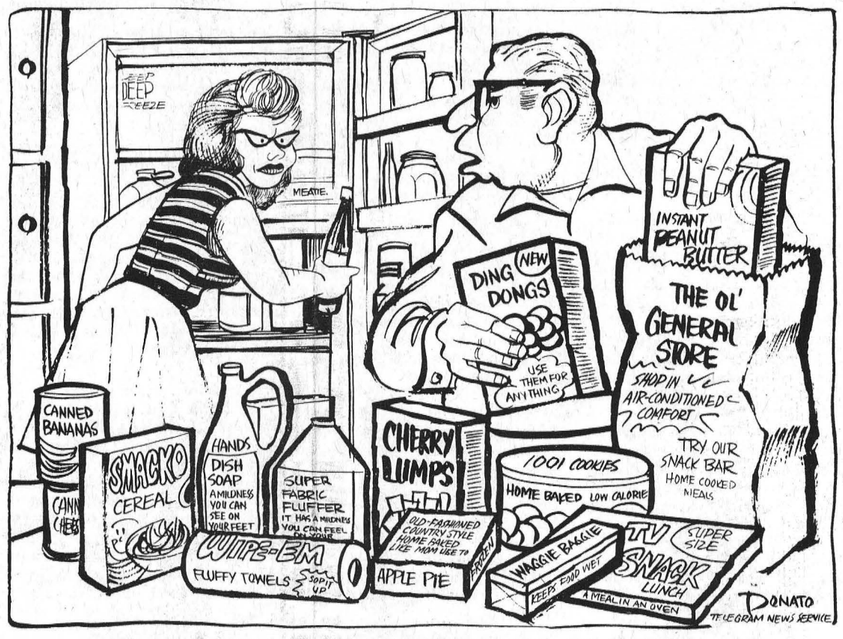
Because of the traditional isolation of obstetrical departments to reduce infection hazards, this has led to a frustrating situation for hospitals with empty maternity beds and long waiting lists for admission to active-treatment accommodation.

Some near-neighbour hospitals are countering by combining maternity departments in one hospital and thus freeing the space in the other. A greater number are now admitting "clean" female surgical cases to available beds on the maternity floor, under strict anti-infection control. Generally speaking, it is fair to say that the provision of new maternity beds does not figure as largely in hospital expansion plans as it did a few years ago.

But there are still hundreds of thousands of new babies being born in Canada every year, and bringing them safely into the world is still a large and essential part of the overall hospital function.

As an interesting sidelight on the cost of hospital care, even for a completely uncomplicated birth, more than 20 different hospital employees will play some important part in the care of the mother and her baby.

To those people who work in maternity, Mother's Day doesn't come only once a year. For them every day is Mother's Day. And every day is Hospital Day.



I THINK I KNOW HOW WE CAN CUT DOWN ON OUR FOOD BILL

Sugar and Spice

by Bill Smiley

Please, Keep It Simple

Don't be surprised if you hear of Chas. Whipp turning up in Rio de Janeiro under an assumed name, like Horace N. Buggie Whipp.

He's taking a terrible beating on the polls, all the way from Chilliwack, B.C., and North Battleford, Sask., right down to the east coast.

Maybe Charlie has received the same amount of mail on his poll, but I doubt it. And thanks, all you kind, warm people who took the time to encourage me to go on telling it as it is, and telling Charlie that . . . well, never mind. Let's drop it. He's probably a nice guy who has to snarl at somebody every so often to retain his sanity. I do.

Like right now. My wife, who has been away at college for six months, is lying on the chesterfield. After half a year of cooking, I'm still doing it. She had an operation. But it wasn't on her mind. Or her tongue. They're as active as ever.

My kid, who has about 20 days to avoid being a Grade 12 failure, and at the same time is supposed to be preparing for her A.R.T.C. piano exam, is lying in the sack, groaning, with a swollen gland and fever.

My son left Monday for the wilds of Northern Quebec, to make his fortune. For the fourth time. With a little stake from Dad, just to get him started.

Oh, well, there's always something to cheer you up. I've been in stitches, like surgical, since my wife decided to "do" my income tax this year, and save the cost of an auditor. Right at the moment, we're thousands of dollars ahead of the game. It's a delirious feeling, but I don't think it will last. There are a couple of clauses she's not sure of.

By the way, did you ever try, as an ordinary layman, to read one of those dandy little booklets your friendly revenue department is putting out to "help" you?

In the first place, as an old printer, I swear it cost a million dollars to print. In the second, who needs it? The booklet is written in auditor's language, which is second only to that of lawyers' incomprehensibility.

If it takes you 30 pages to tell you how to fill out your income tax form, there's something rotten in the state of Canada. Especially if you don't have a clue when you've finished reading it.

I have a suggestion for the government. The booklet could be cut to half the size, and written in plain English, by any reasonably competent writer, with an auditor at his shoulder.

And I can tell you something right now. The handy little booklet is not designed to "help" you. It's deliberately cloaked in language that the ordinary man does not understand.

For the guy on a salary, it's comparatively simple. His tax deductions, however they hurt, are made at source. But for the small businessman, the farmer, the contractor, it's a maze of pitfalls and pratfalls.

Here's a sample of the sparkling prose of the revenuers. It's entitled: BALANCE PAYABLE OR REFUND. It says, "As indicated on the T1 General Form, your Balance is to be determined by subtracting from your Total Payable (Tax and/or Canada Pension Plan contribution Payable on Self-Employed Earnings) the total credits (Tax deducted per T4 and T4A slips. Amounts paid by instalments and Canada Pension Plan Overpayment).

What does that mean? And why the brackets? And why the capitals? It's not English. It's not comprehensible. It's pure gobbley-gook.

Ah, I guess I shouldn't get so annoyed. I can take it. I'm still working. But my heart goes out to all those on the fringe, who've worked like dogs all their lives, and wind up with dog food.

Reporting From Toronto

FRED M. CASS Q.C., M.P.P.

This week was taken up in House mostly by the discussion of the estimates of the Department of health which brought a deluge of questions and denunciations of the Minister and his Department. The result of all this would seem to be that Ontario Health and Hospital Services are first class but not extended into many areas where some members and a great number of the people of Ontario feel they should operate. However, as in every other area of present day society, this optimum is not financially possible without much additional taxation to which all members and most of the people are, of course, quite opposed. At the current rate of progress in considering and passing Departmental estimates the present Sitting of the House will extend throughout the summer and well on into the fall, however it may well be that Federal Election campaign pressures may be effectvie in altering the present rate of progress.

The Attorney General announced to the House that the Law Enforcement Act enacted last year was proclaimed effective April 1st, 1968. This is the law which provides the basis for compensating citizens for injuries suffered assisting police officers in the enforcement of our laws. It will be administered by a Board on which will serve Mr. R. P. Milligan, Q.C. of Cornwall, who is also Chairman of the Ontario Police Commission. It is to be hoped that this is only the beginning of the concern of society and government for the victims of crime as opposed to the present great and proper concern for the perpetrators of crime.

There was considerable discussion in the House on the bill to provide for the Provincial Government's aid to taxpayers on 1968 municipal tax bills. While the methods of dealing with this problem as proposed by the government would appear cumbersome it is certain that the Government will make every effort to ensure that all municipal taxpayers, whether owner or tenant, received the proper refund or credit. Undoubtedly, however, there will be many tangles in all local municipalities while these tax rebates are being processed.

Also enacted was the necessary amendment to Ontario Law to enable our Courts in Ontario to deal with the new law respecting divorce which was recently passed by the Federal Parliament. At present divorce jurisdiction remains with the Supreme Court but the Attorney General informed the House that transfer of such jurisdiction to County and District Courts was under active consideration by his Department officials.

The Minister of Agriculture and Food announced a full scale examination of our Province's entire cheese industry. For our area this is a most important matter and very much needed in view of present changes in manufacturing processes and methods. Most of us can remember the days when almost every crossroads had its cheese factory. But like the little red school house, the small cheese factory has disappeared bringing with it a real change in many rural areas and especially in ours. It is indeed to be hoped that results of this study will be successful in ameliorating some of the drastic results in many rural areas of present trends.

Cherry Blossom Time

In its sheltered location, on the south side of the Max Boyd residence, this Nanking Cherry was probably the first tree in the area to burst forth in all its spring finery. Poets and songwriters love to write of cherry blossoms and romance, and what more inspiration would they need than this pretty girl completely surrounded by fragrant blossoms. — Press Staff Photo.

Mother's Day

So much has been written in pros and verse about Mothers and Mothers Day that we thought, perhaps, two rather appropriate and meaningful letters told the story best. One was written by a family of youngsters when "Mom" was around to direct the day to day affairs of the home. The other letter, well the other letter was written by the same family later on in life. Both of them, we think, have the same wonderful message, a message which should be told every year about this time as Mother rightfully takes her throne in the family empire:

Dear Mom:

We don't exactly know what to say, Mom, except that this is Mother's Day and we think you're the greatest in the world. So we're gonna give you your breakfast in bed and we all have a nice, big red flower to wear to Sunday School. And we each took a quarter out of our allowance to give you this gift. It's not much Mom, but with it goes all our love. Thanks a lot for everything you do for us all the time. Maybe we don't look like we appreciate it, and maybe, sometimes, we get on your nerves a little bit. But, Mom, we love you and we'd do anything for you anytime. Happy Mother's Day to the best Mom in the world.

Your family.

And the second letter, later in life:

Dearest Mother:

It hardly seems possible that you have been gone for so long. How long is it? It doesn't really matter though, Mother, because our love and our admiration for you will live for an eternity. We were talking about you the other night remembering the many, many little things you used to do to help us on our way. Defending us when maybe we should not have been defended. Protecting us, caring for us, guiding us. Seems, as we look back that maybe we didn't show our gratitude enough. We hope we did. But when you are young these thoughts simply do not run through your mind, and we take so much for granted. But there is one word we have never forgotten Mother, and that is "love." For you not only gave us love, you taught it to us and for this, in addition to everything else, we shall be eternally grateful. This Sunday there may be a tear in our eye as we pin on the little white flower. But we shall wear it with a lot of pride and our memories will be fond and most beautiful as we remember you, Mother, on your day.

Your family.

May 1st, 1968.

The Winchester Press,

Dear Editor:

Liked the very touching little poem by John Loney of Edwards about the lost fawn he cared for.

Indeed, we must be kind in deed as well as word; but most of us agree poets are especially vulnerable to the hurts and wounds of others. They are sensitive to all suffering, not excluding their own.

Thanks again.

Yours sincerely,
RUTH E. SCHARFE

Editor, Winchester Press,

Dear Sir:

We wish to take this opportunity to register a very strong protest against the raise in the price of campsites, both in Provincial and St. Lawrence Parks Commissoins.

The Vehicle Permit — this is an outrage, the price has been doubled and half of the privileges removed. Why? We would like an explanation.

The accommodations to the camper has altered very little if any in the past few years. Yet the park prices seem to be rising to the camper away out of proportion. Why?

Perhaps it would be to the advantage of both camper and official alike to check into just what the facilities to the campers really amount to. I believe it would prove very enlightening to these Honourable Gentlemen, who make the laws but have probably never spent a night out in one of the parks. We love the parks but are willing to pay just so much for present accommodation.

O.H. Froats

A former South Mountain farmer, Oliver Herbert Froats, passed away at the National Defence Medical Centre, Ottawa where he had been a patient for nearly four months. He was in his 68th year.

Mrs. M. Francis

One of South Mountain and district's oldest and most respected citizens, Mrs. Mary Francis, passed away at Riverside Hospital, Ottawa, where she suffered a stroke, on April 23th. She was in her 92nd year.

She was a daughter of the late Edward Hamilton and his wife, Hannah Kirker. In 1896 she married the late Thomas Francis and went to live at Hyndmans where they farmed. Her pleasant disposition and helpful ways earned her the name of grandma to the surrounding community. She was a member of Pleasant Valley United Church.

Surviving relatives are seven daughters: Sarah (Mrs. John Maher), Brandon, Man.; Florence (Mrs. Ernest Peebles), of Smiths Falls; Hazel (Mrs. Ed. Shaver), South Mountain; Adelaide (Mrs. (Dr.) H. E. Noffke), Ottawa, and Winona (Mrs. Garnet Halpenny); and five sons, Alex and Ed, of Prescott; Harry, of Burlington, and George and Earle of South Mountain; as well as 29 grandchildren and 49 great grandchildren. Deceased are two daughters, Mame and Lelah (Mrs. C. Midwinter).

The body rested at the Armstrong Funeral Home, South Mountain, where funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Black at two p.m. on April 29th. Burial was in the Union Cemetery at South Mountain. Pall-bearers were Don Scott, Karl Guy, Henry Wilson, James Downham, Hilliard Gilmer and Ernest Boyd.

Nurse-In-Training

Washing bodies is nothing new for nurses, but last Friday they branched out from the routine human body to the sometimes more curvaceous body of modern autos.

The pretty group running opposition to the local car wash firm were members of the student nurses, and the locale was the Fina Station on St. Lawrence Street. The young nurses-in-training were from Cornwall and are affiliated with the Winchester hospital in the inter-hospital training plan. The young girls spend three months in Winchester and their work Friday raised over $40.00 for the student activity fund, which will include the year book.

One of the nursing lovelies who exchanged the long sharp needle for a brush is shown putting the finishing touches on a once-dirty windshield.

When Your Grandfather Read The "Winchester Press"

To-Night! Hear F. B. Carvell M.P. and Lucien Pacaud, M.P. discuss the political situation in the Town Hall.

Before rushing to the hall it should be noted this was a Front Page story in the Winchester Press, Thursday, April 6th, 1916, and apparently there were political problems at that time too.

The copy of the 1916 edition was brought to the office in exceptionally good condition by Byron Dawson, and like The Press of to-day, was crammed full of interesting news and eye catching advertisements. For example, this one: "It behooves milady then to choose and choose carefully when the question. of corsetry arises Prices $1.00 to $6.00." This ad. had been paid for by C. Lee Casselman, Winchester, exclusive agent for "Bims Corsets."

Or this one — 'When will you save if you don't save now?" by Union Bank of Canada with three district managers listed: J. W. Flett at Winchester, W. S. Seiber, Metcalfe, and J. V. Stanley at Crysler.

S. W. Boyd, Ladies' Tailoring, had a special on that week too with Boys' Suits at $1.69 and Girls' shoes at 69 cents. Service was available at this store as indicated by the following note at the bottom of the advt. — "I will replace FREE all shoe buttons, hooks and eyes, etc., on shoes bought at my store."

That was the year when a new Ford Runabout could be purchased for $480.00; George Beverley Shea was in Grade 2, and a baby daughter, Sadie May, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gray.

It wasn't necessary to settle for a Ford as J. A. McDougall had the agency for "Maxwell" and new ones in this field ranged from $830 up.

It was wartime in April 1916 and according to the Press of that era, in the past two weeks there were 1,586 men recruited in the 3rd Military District; and the management of the newspaper office, noting an increase in the cost of living, upped the subscription rate to $1.50.

Winchester residents that spring, long ago, foresaw a building boom on the way with three new houses already started; Edward Baker and Sons were selling out and the auctioneer was Thomas Irving. Homeseekers Excursions were advertised that spring and station agent J. S. Burton was offering transportation to faraway places, with a ticket to San Francisco costing $58.75.

The front page of this historic edition carried a huge advt. telling of a "Grand Entertainment" by Married Ladies of Winchester, at the Town Hall both Friday and Saturday evenings. According to the three-column spread the feature of the evening was a fine musical programme and humorous play entitled "The Milkmaids' Convention," and (note this) a Burlesque with drill and musical round. Reserved seats were 35 cents and a plan of the hall could be seen at L. Flora's.

Here are a few more of the local businessmen who realized the great value of advertising: B. F. Smith, Druggist; Lawson and Cass, Barristers and Solicitors; Geo. A. Robinson, Furniture; E. Shaver, Custom Grinding; A. T. Allison, Farm Machinery, Inkerman; J. E. Cook, Plants and Flowers; Hugh Fraser and Son, General Merchants; A. McMaster, Feeds; George Boyd, Clothing and Shoes; Gawen Christie, West End Grocery; M. Bailey and D. Melvin, Chevrolet Agents; Beach and Reveler, Feeds.

It would appear that 1916 was not a good year for poultrymen as M. Sweet inserted the following: "Poultry Wanted — 12 cents for roosters and 15 cents for hens."

Conspicuously placed in this old reminder of the early days in the newspaper field was the report of the Winchester Township Council, dutifully signed by George Elliott, Clerk.

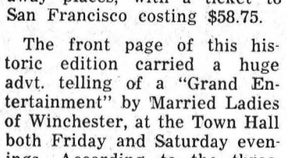
Can You Find Your "Mom" Here ?

Mother's Day has become a special event and it is indeed fitting that it should. Families gather and "Mom" receives the kind of special attention she deserves every day of the year. Usually a favourite pasttime when families are re-united is glance through the old "Album."

Feeling that many might wonder just exactly what "Mom" looked like when she was little, the Press this week is pleased to publish this 1924 photo of Gladys McCormick and her class at Winchester Public School. Can you find your mother or dad?



Accidents Costly In Ontario Construction Industry

The Ontario Construction Industry could double its profit if it could cut its accident rate by twenty per cent., the Ontario Labour Minister stated in Toronto recently.

Hon. Dalton Bales based his prediction on a special study conducted by Stevenson and Kellogg Ltd. for the Construction Safety Association of Ontario. He was speaking at a Management Seminar on safety sponsored by the Association for the top executives of the major construction companies in the province.

Mr. Bales stated that the Stevenson and Kellogg study of accidents in the construction industry is now nearly 150 million dollars for the Ontario construction industry.

"The report also states," he said, "that gross profit margins in the Ontario construction industry have decreased in the past four years, compensation costs have risen by an estimated 51.3 per cent., while in the same period the value of construction work produced rose by only 18.9 per cent."

In his experience as Minister of Labour, Mr. Bales said he had come to the conclusion that genuine leadership from top management is necessary in order to make progress in the field of accident prevention. "Top management involvement is the vital, but too often, missing link in the total safety program."

Speaking at mid-morning Mr. Bales dramatized the accident rate in the province when he noted that since 7 a.m. when work began more than 100 men and women were injured at their jobs. "That's roughly one every minute during the average working day."

He pointed out that such accidents last year cost the Workmen's Compensation Board 98 million dollars for compensation, medical and rehabilitation services. This is paid by the employers of Ontario through their assessments to the Board.
