A blessed event

It was the experience of a lifetime for Seaway Distruct High School students Lori DeBellefeuille on the left and Henriette DeJong, pictured 3rd from the left in the front row, as they greet Pope John Paul II during their school trip to Italy in March. The hall, which was filled with an estimated 4,000 persons, is located next to St. Peter's Bascilica. According to Hennriette DeJong, who lent the photo to The Post, the meeting with the leader of the world's 720 million Roman Catholic c was the highlight of the 10-day trip. Matilda receives supplementary grant

Matilda Township Council learned at its regular monthly meeting May 8 it will receive supplementary approval grant of $73,300 from the provincial Ministry of Transportation and Communications for work on roads within the township.

Reeve George Cooper indicated later that portions of the grant are earmarked for the paving of a 1½ mile stretch of Concession Road 3 and for work to be done on the Taylor Bridge. He noted the township is required to pay 45 percent of the roadwork costs and 20 percent of bridgework costs on any projects the grant is used to help pay for. Total cost of the paving job is expected to be about $30,000 while no figures were given for costs of work on the Taylor Bridge.

Council spent much of the rest of the meeting discussing various drainage projects in the township. First and second reading was given to the engineer's report for the Mud Turtle Creek Drain with the report to now go through the necessary processes before it goes to tender.

Council invited Harry Fawcett to the meeting to discuss alternatives to the Doran Creek Drain petition. Reeve Cooper said council would not initiate the drain but will find out if the simple maintenance of the drain and construction of a pumping station falls within drainage grant restrictions.

A petition was filed for a third drainage project requesting a new branch be added to the existing Thorpe-Ellis drain. The peition was forwarded to the provincial drainage review committee which replaced the ARDA review committee.

Aproposal to lease a grader to the township was made by Don Irvin of Champion Road Machinery of Ottawa. Mr. Irvin indicated the cost of leasing would be $45,000 for a two-year period. The reeve said council would have to "sit down and take a really good look at it (the proposal). He added he didn't think it was feasible to pay $45,000 of taxpayer's money over two yers and own nothing after that period.

Council agreed to hire Larry Cotton as zoning administrator to present the final draft of the zoning bylaw to the Onatrio Municipal Board. Mr. Cotton will take his position after the M.M. Dillon firm has completed its final zonng bylaw draft and has circulated it to each Matilda ratepayer.

Ontario Hydro approached council with an offer to sell four properties in the southern part of the township just east of Iroquois. Reeve Cooper said council feels the price of three of the properties are too high to warrant further council consideration, but noted a 26-acre section of land east of the Anglican Cemetery just off County Road 2 is being considered for puchase. Hydro is offering the land for $59,000 and Cooper said it could be developed for park facilities, waterfrontage, as a trailer-park. If there could be enough revenue generated to pay for the work needed on the land, council will consider purchasing the property, he added.

Council also agreed to donate $300 to the Williamsburg Volunteer Fire Department to go toward the purchase of the Jaws of Life.

Ships delayed after boom destroyed

Traffic on the St. Lawrence Seaway was held up last week after an Indian Feighter failed to stop and damaged an arrester boom at the Iroquois Locks.

A spokesman said that the Jay Durga, which was empty at the time of the incident last Tuesday evening, failed to stop before entering the Locks and collided with the arresterboom. The boom is placed in front of the gates used to open and close the Locks and acts as a protection for just such an accident.

"The ship was suppose to stop, but didn't. There was no mechanical fault involved," the spokesman said.

A dozen ships were held up during the night while a 12 man crew worked through the night to replace the boom which had been completely destroyed.

The Locks normally keep reserve supplies of ship arrester booms and utilized one for replacing the damaged arrester. The booms are designed to stop a 25,000 ton ship travelling at three miles per hour in 70 feet of water.

Last year the Locks had three of it's booms damaged by ships, but this is the first time in recent history that one has been destroyed. It was replaced by early Wednesday morning.

The Jay Durga continued on it's way to Thunder Bay to load grain.

Ont. agrologists hold South Nation River tour

A fact-finding tour of the South Nation River Basin was given Wednesday, May 7 by the St. Lawrence branch of the Ontario Institute of Agrologists.

The institute is concerned that agriculture has been given a low priority in the studies of the river basin and feels the river's conservation authority should pay more attention to the agriculture community.

These feelings were aired after the tour at the monthly meeting of the agrologists in Chesterville with representatives of the conservation authority on hand to field questions.

Peter Lyeanaar, agrologist and a dairy farmer from Winchester Springs, said the study will cost about $1.8 million and of that budget only 9.6 percent of the funds are to be used to study the effects on the area's farmers. About 80 percent of industry in the area is agriculture-related and involves about $1 billion annually, he stated.

Mr. Leyeanar asked conservation authority chairman Ernie Brisson whether he had control over how the budgeted money was alloted and Mr. Brisson replied that while he was responsible for the funds, he had little control over how the money is allocated. Funds are to be spent evaluating fish and wildlife, forestry, environmental concerns and other considerations including agricultural.

Mr. Leyenaar also stated the farmers were the first to complain about the need for work to be done on the river and yet they have little input into the decisions of the authority. He also expressed concern that area drainage petitions have the potential to be held up by the authority as they review the environmental impact the drains will have.

The tour was conducted from the Chesterville Dam along the riverside to Salter's Bridge in Oak Valley. Robin Rogers, Resources Manager for the Conservation Authority and Bob Kelly, an agriculture engineer representing the agrologists' institute, conducted the tour.

Mr. Robers noted one section of the channelization of the river has been completed. That stage is a 1½ km section west of the Chesterville dam. A further 1½ km section is to be completed this year with tenders closing May 15 for a third section of 2.8 km. Two additional sections of 4 km will be undertaken in 1981 and 1982. The channelization program is designed to straighten and dredge the river while also widening it to a maximum minimum o f 80 feet.

Parade, baseball to mark Queen's Birthday

Victoria Day, the Queen's Birthday, will be observed on Monday May 19 in many ways, across the country. For something different why not visit Upper Canada Village near Morrisburg, and see how this holiday was celebrated by the residents of any small community in the mid 1800's.

Victoria Day in the 1860 was a time for shops and businesses to close, for the able bodied men who belonged to the Militia to gather for some training for parades, games and athletic events. This is the scene that will be re-enacted at the Village on Monday May 19.

The days events get under way at 11:30 a.m. with an inspection of the Village Militia and the Fort Henry Guard in front of Cook's Tavern, and then at 12:15 by a parade through the Village streets, led by the drums of the Fort Henry Guard, followed by the Guard, the Village Militia, a horse drawn fire engine and vehicles from the Village collection as well as costumed members of the staff.

At 1:00 p.m. the public are invited to participate in a variety of games such as sack races, foot races, andd wheelbarrow races or to play Quoits (an early version of horseshoes). These events take place in the field in front of Christ Church.

At 2:00 p.m. everyone becomes a spectator for a game of "Massachusetts Baseball", played between members of the Village staff and the Fort Henry Guard. "Massachusetts Baseball", was played in this area until the late 1860's. It varies a good deal from the modern game of baseball. Baseball as we know it to-day is played by a team of 9 men, for 9 innings with the team scoring the greaest number of runs being declared the winneer. In the game of Massachusetts Baseball there are not less than 10 and not more than 14 players permitted on either team. Prior to the start of the game, the Captains of the respective teams agree on the number of runs which will decide the winner. The team which first scores this predetermined number of runs is declared the winner.

A pleasant day is in store for everyone at Upper Canada Village on Victoria Day 1980.

WSA awarded summer funds

The Honourable Ed Lumley, Member of Parliament for Stormont-Dundas and Minister of State for Trade, has announced that two local organizations have been awarded funds under the Summer Youth Employment Program in co-operation with the Secretary of State Department.

The Women for the Survival of Agriculture which originated in Dundas County will receive $35,844, creating 14 summer jobs, while the A.C.F.O. Regionale of Stormont-Glengarry have been awarded $34,324 in funds resulting in 16 summer jobs.

These two projects are the first to be announced under the Summer Youth Employemnt Porgram which is designed to provide seasonal employment for students during the summer months. It is anticipated that voluntary and non-profit organizations to the Young Canada works program plus other departments involved in the Summer Youth Employment Program will be announced very shortly.

Women for the Survival of Agriculture is an organization concerned with the status of rural women. Their objective is to ensure that the basic social and economic rights of rural women are recognized and accepted in the law and in

Cancer Society announces draw winners at Lions meeting

Several members of the local Iroquois unit of the Canadian Cancer Society were among the special guests on Monday evening, May 12, at the meeting of the Iroquois Matilda Lions Club. Vi Milligan, president of the unit, and Jane Graham, convenor of services to patients were on hand, hosted by Lion Danny Robertson, who also serves as campaign chairman and by Lion Les Craig, in charge of the canvass of the business community.

The ladies brought along the draw tickets for the selection of winners names. Prizes were generously donated by local craftspeople and have been displayed recently in the window at Ross Video in the shopping plaza.

Following the dinner portion of the meeting, the draw was held for twelve individual sets of prizes.

The prize of a hooking by Bernie Sisty was won by Tina Van Boxtel of R.R. 2, Iroquois. Another Bernie Sisty hooking was won by Jim Kolff, of Brouse Drive, in Iroquois. Six place mats donated by Shelly Prins were won by Mary Jean Craig, of Lakeview Drive.

A change purse, place pads and socks, donated by Ernie Fader, Vi Milligan and Mrs. Post were won by Brenda Millard of Beach Avenue. A shade donated by Marion Gleeson was won by Gertie Murphy, of R.R. 2, Iroquois.

Ralph Barclay won a needlepoint picture done by Ada Swank. An afghan done by Mrs. G. Lieverdink was won by Mrs. Post, of Dundas St., in Iroquois. Ruth (M) Fetterly was the winner of another hooking by Bernie Sisty.

Macrame Flowers and a vase done by Femie Tibben and Mrs. Post were won by Jean Carkner of Iroquois. A picture and hot plate pads, done by Vi Milligan were won by Laurie McDermid, of Iroquois.

A set of cushions, oven mitts, and hot plate done by Vi Milligan, Jane Graham, and Mrs. Van Bielen was won by Brian Cooper, of R.R. 2, Iroquois.

Ada Hanson of Williamsburg, won a group of items by Ernie Fafer, Bernie Sisty and Mrs. Verburg.

Campaign chairman Danny Robertson reported that this year's campaign is going exceptionally well and that the goal of $3,000. will be greatly exceeded when the final figures are in.

Guest speaker for the business portion of the meeting was Al Munro of Richmond Lions Club who is serving on a district Lions committee to aid the physically handicapped. He told of the projects that his group is working on and urged the local lions to consider the handicapped when looking for ways to use their monies. He summed up his presentation with the showing of a moving film, the story of Leo. The film depicted the life of a severly handicapped man who has learned to manage in the "normal" world and who looks forward to helping others.

Before the meeting ended, a collection was taken for Lion Kun Yee Diu who has recently become a father, and in the true

Red Shield campaign this month

The local campaign for the Salvation Army's Red Shield appeal will be handled in Iroquois again this year by members of the Iroquos-Matilda Lions Club.

"Give us this Day" is the theme for this year's campaign and local chairman Lion Danny Robertson urges all members of the community to be generous when the canvasser calls during the month of May.

The funds that are collected locally will be turned over the the Salvation Army branch in Brockville and much of the money will be used in our own area by the Brockville group. Services provided by the Salvation Army include homes for unmarried mothers, rehabilitation homes for youthful offenders, housing for senior citizens, homes for children, suicide emergency service, services in courts and prisons and hostels and rehabilitation centres for men, to name only a few.

Ministers invited to Live Crusade

Members of the Dundas County Ministerial Association gathered at Brinston Monday, May 12, for their monthly meeting and were given a graphic preview of the Invitation to Live crusade to be conducted in Winchester in 1981.

The Reverend Marny Patterson of Toronto who was guest speaker for the day. Also present was the Reverend Leo Hughes of Arnprior, area representative for Invitation to Live.

The meeting was chaired by the president, the Reverend Canon Francis Gooch of Morrisburg. Secretary's report was given by the Reverend Thurland Brown of Newington.

Devotions were conducted by the Reverend Dr. Lester Joyce, pastor at Brinston United Curch, where the meeting was held.

The Reverend J. Alex Dobson of Winchester, program convener for the Ministerium, called on the Reverend Howard D. Smith, also of Winchester and chairman of the Crusade, to introduce the speaker. Discussion followed the presentation and Crusade promotion material and literature were distributed Dr. Joyce, as host, served refreshments.

Eighteen members were present, representing the communities of Winchester, Morrisburg, Chesterville, Vernon, Inkerman, Newington, Harmony and Brinston. The Reverend E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville, public relations representative, covered the meeting for the press. The county ministers will meet again in June, in Winchester.

Company expands

Rohm and Haas Canada Limited has announced a major expansion of its Plexiglas acrylic sheet manufacturing facilities in Morrisburg, Ontario.

The expansion will substantially iincrease capacity by utilizing a proprietary, modified calendering process. This process produces acrylic sheet at lower cost but with excellent performance characteristics. The new process will produce sheet in thicknesses up to ¼ inch in clear and selected colours and will allow the continuation of the company to be cost competitive in the growing markets for acrylic sheet in the glazing, sign, display and skylight markets.

It is expected that the facility will be on stream early in 1981.

Auxiliary holds May meeting

Thirty-five ladies from seven units met in the Conference Room of the hospital for the monthly meeting of the District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Treasurer Gladys Marcellus reported $3,154.54 on hand as of April 30th, while In Memoriam Chairman Lil Lancaster reported funds of $5,873.09. Mrs. Lancaster brought up the question of the auxiliary acknowledging In Memoriam donations. She noted that donations are acknowledged at the funeral home and also by the family of the deceased. Following a lengthy discusion it was voted that because of increased volume of donations, postal costs, and the issue of one receipt being sufficient, the auxiliary would no longer send out thank you cards. At this time it was also brought to the attention of the auxilians that anyone donating money to the auxiliary would be issued -- on request -- a receipt for income tax purposes.

Kay Hearn reported for the Gift Shoppe. Sales for April were $1,553.24 and Tuck Cart sales were $87.30. Kay noted that a few ladies had volunteered to work in the Shoppe during the summer. Any ladies who would like to help out - a few hours on a regular basis - this summer are asked to phone Lil Lancaster at 774-2195 or May Hornsby at 774-5645 or Kay Hearn at 448-2838.

Kay Hearn told the auxiliary that the Gift Shoppe is a going concern and we must make sure that the shoppe is open on a regular basis all summer. Rose Beeman reported volunteers worked 616 hours in April. She gave a short resume of Volunteer Week, April 20 - 26th, and showed the Tray Favours to be used for Hospital Day May 12th.

Corrine Holtby, Teen Co-ordinator, reported Teen applications are in the guidance departments of all surrounding high schools. Applicants will be contacted for an interview and Orientation Day. Any questions from Teens should be directed to her at 989-5499.

Special events were reported. The Bridge & Euchre dessert party had a profit of $475. The Cooking School was disappointing and only $327 was realized. Gail VanNoy reported on the Spring Conference of Region No. 9. The topics for the day were Cancer - Prevention and Treatment, and Palliative Care.

Mary Hornsby reported on attending the April Institute of O.H.A.A. in Toronto. The president reminded all that the June meeting was the annual meeting and reports must be handed in.

OFA achieves 50 percent success

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture has achieved a 50% success in its current program to gain Federal and Provincial financial assistance for farmers hard pressed by excessively high interest rates.

The Honourable Frank Miller, Treasurer, and the Honourable Lorne Henderson, Minister of Agriculture and Food made a joint announcement in the Ontario legislature last week which spelled out the Provincial Government' intent to assist farm interest payments with a $30 million fund.

Ralph Barrie, President of O.F.A. said he appreciates the Provincial Government's action. "But, he said, the program will be adequate only if matched dollar for dollar by the Federal Government."

The provincial program will provide a three percent subsidy for interest on loans up to $50,000, of the farmer's debt-to-equity ratioo is 50% or higher.

Barrie said the $50,000 maximum loan limit is too low to cover many farmers' current debt positions. "I hope this limit will be raised where need is demonstrated", he said.

The mechanics of the program will be developed next week by a joint committee, composed of representatives of the O.F.A., the Ministry of Agriculture and Food, the Ministry of Treasury, and the banks.

Barrie emphasized that the provincial program is not adequate in itself and that he has a commitment from the Provincial Government to work with O.FA. to achieve additional Federal participation.

Federal aid is needed immediately, said Barrie, because many farmers will not be able to lant crops this year if further support is not available.

"The O.F.A., with farmer and government support, will now concentrate its efforts on Ottawa," Barrie concluded.

Addition opened

The official opening of the new addition to the Iroquois Golf Club was held Saturday May 10th, with over 75 persons in attendance.

Club president Russ Fader and Vice-President Ed Clifford handled the official ribbon cutting ceremonies, while Iroquois Reeve Frank Rooney was Master of Ceremonies.

Along with the Iroquois reeve were members of his council, Joan Saver, John McAllister and Peter Swank, Matilda Township Reeve George Cooper, and their wives and husbands.

Special thanks were paid to Clare Dunbar, who was in charge of the plans for the addition that faces the St. Lawrence River, and councillor John McAllister, who helped to obtain the Wintario grants.

Overall expenses for the construction have been partially paid for with reserve funds, grants and draws on the building fund.

Connecting Theme

We are mid-way into Police Week in Canada and an interesting theme this year ties in with that of an issue that Iroquois council has been voicing concern over for many months.

Vandalism is on the increase locally, and it is not a trend that is foreign to the rest of the country. Police departments all over Canada have adopted the problems of vandalism as their theme for this year and by that simple adoption, they have made an important statement.

The increase is national and because there is no real motive usually to vandalism, other than the urge to destroy something for no real reason, the root of the problem is often found behind the personal life of the person who performs the act of vandalism.

Persons both over and under the age of 16 are caught up in the national wave of breaking things for no other motive than the act itself and that should cause concern for everyone, be they young or old.

Councillor John McAllister in Iroquois, has been the strongest proponent for attempting to deal with the problems of vandalism, but to date has met with little assistance from the public who are the quickest to complain when they themselves become victims.

That reluctance to lend a helping hand instead of condescending comments is part of the problem.

Neither Mr. McAllister or the authorities should be expected to solve the problems of vandalism all by themselves.

A concerted effort by all concerned, including parents whose children are prime candidates for becoming involved in vandalism, should be made to reverse the trend that eventually will affect us all one way or another.

Referendum

Canada may never be the same again after May 20th, but then again, it can never be the same again however the referendum vote goes.

Be it Yes or No, Canadians have finally realized that they do not live in a paradise where there is no prejudice, poverty or other social and economic problems.

While there is nothing wrong about being proud of the country that you live in, nationalism can sometimes be like makeup covering up the blemishes that we would prefer no one saw.

If nothing else, the referendum has shaken us out of the rafters and shown us that there is discontent with in the boundaries of Canada and that the problem is not only provincial, but deeper, within the minds of many individual Canadians.

There are people who do not want to speak french, just as there are those who do not want to speak english. But take it one step further and ask Pakistani's, Ugandans and other immigrants if they have not run into prejudice because of their language, not to mention their skin color or ethic background.

We should watch the referendum closely, and listen to the arguments that support both the Yes and No votes, for there is a history behind both that is seldom read in history books.

And while we watch the fate of Canada, as so many politicians have decided the referendum will do, try to think back and remember who first held title to what we call Canada.

So far no one has asked the original owners of Canada, the native indians, what they would like to decide the fate of Canada should be.

When we first moved to the country more than 12 years ago, there were mornings when I awakened with the strong impression that I was hearing music, exquisite sounds.

Or perhaps it would be better to suggest a sense of harmony, wonderful and pervasive, each morning when I left the house and went to the barn. Everything seemed so perfect.

At that time, we had an old, white mare and a palomino filly in the stable. Both were friendly and greeted me with a nicker and a nuzzle. Sights and sounds around a barn are so important It is worth a thousand dollars a year to me to watch a horse gallop across an open field with head up, mane and tail flying in the breeze.

But why is that the sense of smell is regarded with disdain by most urban dewllers when they think of the country? And of all hours of the day, there is none like early morning for real, good odors. Fresh from sleep, a man's five senses are unclogged and keen as a knifeblade.

A still, spring morning is best because the mists and the moisture of the night seem to retain whan has been distilled overnight.

When a morning breeze is blowing, a single predominant odor is likely, especially in blossom time or haying time or seeding time. So, a still morning is better if you want to drink all the odors of the earth.

This morning, I walked slowly along the fence line and the cool, heavy aroma of the bushland behind the barn greeted my nostrils. It is a heavy aroma of moist wood and earth mould and wet leaves and green grass. In the sunny spots at the barn, the fragrance of the brown earth was warm and generous, a reminder of daylight and sunshine.

Inside the barn, the warm smell of fresh manure assualted me and it was mixed with the crisp smell of golden straw and timothy hay. And the horses! Ah, who can explain the feeling a person gets when the sweet, sweet aroma of horse sweat is inhaled.. There's something about the outside of a horse that does great things for the inside of a man.

The water pails were empty and the horses playfully bunted them at the stanchion and force their velvet noses into the water.

I suppose, because horses are complete vegetarians, their breath is always sweet unless there' ailing. When they mix a little water with their oats, the smell is rich and natural.

The horses munch contentedly as I leave the stable and wander to the back of our property where the ground is still soggy and the thin, acrid smell of the swamp-like ground reminds me of bullrushes and swamp-swingers and pollywogs and tadpoles. In another few weeks, this gound will be baked by the sun and the swamp smells will have disappeared.

All the more reason to enjoy them now before the summer sun eliminates them.

Turning to go back to the house, the odors from our neighbor's chicken stable are wafted gently across the field to complete the smells of the country morning.

I'm happy to have those odors. The town is growing toward our house. Even now, plans call for that chicken stable to be torn down and on the property five building lots will appear. One has already been sold and we'll have another neighbor to share the sights, the sounds, the feels, the smells of the rural countryside in a few months.

Maybe I'm over-emphasizing the sense of smell but it is only because I walked this morning in a world of wonderful odors. To some people, many of those smells would be obnixious, unpleasant and made for complaints.

Not me, brothers and sisters. I love the country, especially at this time of year when thousands of tractors are turning the good, brown earth and sowing the seeds of plenty to supply a hungry world.

Troubled farmers...

by Bill Smiley

I'm glad I'm not a farmer. I'm glad I'm not a bartender, a doctor, a goal-keeper, a fighter, Chairman of the Treasury Board, among many others. But I'm particulary glad I'm not a farmer.

A bar-tender must cope with a low class of people, forever trying to tell him their sordid secrets.

A doctor must handle some of the lowest parts of the human anatomy: piles, bowels, ingrown toenails, seed warts on the sole.

A fighter, professional or merely domestic, must constantly be on guard against low blows, physical or vocal.

The Chairman of the Treasury Board is faced with trying to sell savings bonds at a low interest rate when everyone else - banks, trust companies, and jumped-up usurers of every color are offering the moon in interest.

But the farmer is faced with the worst low of all -- low income, low prices, and the low opinion of the vast majority of lowly-informed people in the land.

A number of things has recently brought this to my attention, though I've known it, peripherally, for years.

Last Saturday, the Old Lady and I gazed, with the fascination of a rabbit facing a rattlesnake, at a tiny prime rib roast of beef in the meat counter.

We turned simultaneously to each other and as I was blurting, "What the hell . . .", she was saying, "It's been two years." We bought the little beauty, we slavered as it roasted, and we attacked it when cooked like a couple of Eskimos wh have been living on boiled moccasins for two months, and have finally killed a seal.

Lying groaning after the orgy, I began to think. The roast wasn't much thicker than one of the steaks you tossed on the barbecue ten years ago. It weighed 2.35 pounds. It cost seven dollars.

With whipped turnips, roast potatoes and onions, a little garlic rubbed in, and a salad, it was something you wouldn't be ashamed to serve Queen Elizabeth.

Then why was it such a big deal? Because we, like so many shortsighted, spoiled Canadians, have been shying away from the beef prices in the supermarket for a couple of years, without really thinking about it, muttering, not really blaming the beef farmers, but feeling hard done by.

A bottle of whiskey of any decent brand, costs eight dollars plus, the price of three pounds of prime rib roast. Which would you prefer? Which takes more tender loving care? Which returns a decent profit to the producer?

In West Germany, people are paying seven dollars a pound for beef. If this happened in Canada, ther'd be lynching parties running through the country-side, looking for beef producers.

Same day we bought the beef, I picked up a five pound bag of P.E.I. potatoes for 49 cents. Then cents a pound. I'll bet you'd pay for manure, if you wanted to green your lawn.

A pound of bread, shot through machines, is about seventy cents. A pound of butter, likewise, is up around $1.45. A pound of eggs costs about forty cents. A quart of milk is ninety percent water and costs around seventy cents.

A lousy lettuce imported from California, costs a buck. Same for a bunch of asparagus. A package of cigarettes costs more.

Six imported tomatoes, shipped from New Mexico green as bullets, and less tasty than mashed toe-jam, will run you nearly a dollar.

There's something crazy about out way of life, our prices, our values.

We pay $1.25 and will eventually be paying $4.00, to run a rusty piece of metal from here to there. THere are about six middle-men: the Arabs, the shipping company, two or three governments, the trucking companies, the eventual dealer.

And we shudder as we walk past the meat counter and see that beef, choice, is $3.38 a pound.

Would you rather have two gallons of gas or a pound of beef? Would you rather have a quart of rye or two and half pounds of beef? Would you rather have a pack of fags or ten pounds of potatoes.

Perhaps I'm not making my point. Eggs and butter and cheese are right up there in price, but the farmer who supplies the milk is working for peanuts.

However, these products have some kind of control. After all, Eugene Whelan dupmed sixty zillon rotten eggs on us a few years ago, and Canada can't give away its huge supplies of powdered milk.

But a lot of our farmers are being royally shafted: especially the meat producers and the poor devils who come up with our spuds.

Have you any idea of the capital cost, the heavy interest,a and the horse labor that goes into producing a pound of beef or a pound of potatoes?

I though not. I'm glad I'm not a farmer.

Queen's Park update

by Norm Sterling, MPP Carelton-Grenville

Last Wednesday I was given the privilege by my Party of speaking in the Ontario Legislature's week-long debate on Confederation and Quebec's sovereignty association referendum. This debate, as many of you are probably aware, was televised across the Province and into Quebec by T.V. Ontario.

I began my speech by challenging what I see as the growing assertion among all the Provinces and the Provincial interests must be placed above national interest. I disagree with this position, not only because it is narrowly conceived, but also because it is fundamentally wrong it its concept of the role of nation that Canada affords us. The whole purpose of confederation is that through its national government it can both protect and promoçte regional and Provincial concerns, while at the same time it guarantees the national interest, without which Provincial and individual rights would soon be imperilled and lost.

Starting from the premise I went on to point out what I consider a serious flaw in the P.Q. Party's position. If the P.Q. are arguing that Quebec does not have enough political power to sufficiently direct the outcome of its culture, society and economy, they are wrong. All of the Provinces, and especially Quebec, now have sufficient political power, and as the trend towards decentralization continues, their legislative scope will only grow.

In the past fifteen years the number of Provincial responsibilities has increased considerably, while Federral power has declined. The Provinces run the education system, the health system, the bulk of labour relations, agricultural programs, and cultural activities. They oversee the municipal systems, the police forces (in Ontario and Quebec), and they administer the Courts.

The P.Q. are creating a "straw man" when they suggest that Ottawa and the power it wields is preventing them for achieving their goals of cultural and economic security. It is clear to me that increased Provincial power is not what the P.Q. want or need. Rather, their real intention is to use a "yes" vote on the referendum as the first step towards independence.

However, I would like to caution that regardless of the outcome on May 20th, we in Ontario must remain calm and not fall into the trap of over-reaction.

Farmers deserve a pat on the back

By W. Roger Worth

Spring has arrived and farmers are out tilling the land, getting set to provide us with yet another of the crops that have allowed Canadians to pay food prices that are among the lowest in the western world.

This year, though, farmers have been forced to do a lot of soul searching before planting millions of acres of everything from potatoes to wheat.

The reason: high interest rates of 18% or more on the one hand, and commodity prices that are abnormally low, on the other. In addition, fertilizer costs have increased dramatically and prices on farm machinery are out of sight.

Roger Worth is Director, Public Affairs, Canadian Federation of Independent Business.

High interest rates, though, are the real bugbear. Unlike most consumers who borrow on a long-term basis, farmers borrow heavily in the spring to buy fertilizer and seed, paying off huge loans when crops are sold in the fall.

As a result, farmers must make a decision on whether commodity prices will be high enough when the crop is harvested to cover the extra costs. And with farmers actually losing money on such items as pork and potatoes, the outlook for a bumper crop is not bright.

Many times, consumers complaining about the high cost of food on supermarket shelves fail to understand the farmers' problems. It's time they took a second look.

Canadian consumers pay about 22% of disposable income on food, compared to 30% or more in Germany and close to 40% in Japan.

Who's responsible for the bargain-basement prices?

The country's farmers, that's who. Instead of consumer gripes, they deserve a pat on the back, particularly in this year of skyhigh interest rates.

Safety first

Safety was the topic of discussion for students at St. Cecilia's School in Iroquois last Thursday. Morrisburg OPP Community Relations Service Constable Faye Hutchison explained the merits of safety to the students who also viewed a film and later asked questions.

Police report three accidents

Morrisburg OPP investigated three traffic accidents over the past week, with no serious injuries reported in any of the incidents.

An estimated $1,100 damage was caused when two vehicles were involved in an accident at an intersection in the village of Morrisburg May 6.

John Ross, of Iroquois, was southbound on Ottawa Street and a vehicle driven by Agnes Smith, of Morrisburg, was westbound on Fifth Street. Smith stopped for the stop sign and then proceeded through the intersection and collided with the Ross vehicle at 12:50 p.m.

A single vehicle accident on May 8 occurred when a vehicle driven by Hubert Van Stroken was southbound on County Road 1. The driver failed to negotiate a curve on the road and struck a steel culvert. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

An accident on Highway 401 during the early morning of May 9 saw two vehicles sustain estimated damages totalling $4,100.

A vehicle driven by Pelletier Sylvain, of Trenton, was westbound on the highway in the passing lane and had overtaken other traffic and misjudged the nearness of another vehicle.

The Sylvain vehicle struck another venicle when it attempted to return to the driving lane.

Police also reported three break-ins over a two-day period last week.

A break-in was reported at Rooney's Feed Store in Iroquois May 8 at 10:12 p.m. A total value of $50.10 was stolen.

The Dundas Bus Lines was the victim of a theft of gas valued at $1,500. Police received the report of the incident at 8:53 a.m., May 9.

Later that same day police were called to the home of a local resident after a report of a stolen generator was called in. The investigation into the incident is continuing.

Five impaired drivers were arrested and charged in the Morrisburg area over the past week.

Police are cautioning residents to keep their property locked up to prevent theft.

Morrisburg OPP have been checking on property during their midnight shift and report that a number of residents are tempting thieves by leaving bicycles and other property on their lawns, or leaving their garage doors unlocked or open.

Owners are reminded that by ensuring that all property is secure and locking away any articles that can be easily stolen, crime can be reduced substantially.

New OPP inspector appointed

The 11th District Head Quarters, Long Sault, which takes in the Morrisburg and Winchester detachments, has had a new Inspector appointed.

Inspector Henry Kostuck was welcomed May 1st to the D.H.Q. by Superintendent W.E. Mohns and will be assuming the responsibilities of second in command of the District, a position formerly held by Inspector J. Denver, who was transferred to Chatham D.H.Q. last month.

Upon joining the force in 1956, Kostuck served as constable at the old Cornwall detachment before being transferred to Hawkesbury.

In 1965 he was transferred to the Casselman detachment where he was later promoted to the rank of corporal. In 1971, he was attached to the Anti-Rackets section of the Criminal Investigation Branch in Toronto and while there was promoted to the rank of Sergeant and in 1972 he returned to Hawkesbury in the capacity of Detachment Commander. He was soon promoted to S / Sergeant and in February 78 he left Hawkesbury and was made Acting Inspector. This later rank was confirmed in March of 1979.

Inspector and Mrs. Kostuck have two children, both are University students. Inspector Kustuck will be making his residence in the Long Sault area.

WDMH celebrates Hospital Day

Winchester District Memorial Hospital marked Canada Hospital Day May 12th with a numbers of special events.

Drawing attention to the theme to save energy, the WDMH make specially marked place mats available to both the public and patients at the hospital. Mats were used in local restaurants, and patients were given them on their trays, along with tray savers and treats supplied by the hospital auxiliary.

In-service coordinator M. Coons said that Meals on Wheels in the communities of Winchester, Chesterville and Morrisburg also had similar items for the day, and that place mats were given out to the public at the hospital.

Mow your own

Ditches in the village of Iroquois will no longer be mowed by the municipality this year as council seeks to cut back on expenses.

The village has asked for property owners in the community to mow the ditch adjoining his or her property in an effort to help with the upkeep of Iroquois.

Rabid animals are a hazard this spring.

Rabies, which is spread by infected animals, is a serious problem in Ontario.

This spring it is of special concern in built up areas where wild animals... particularly skunks...are infecting pets and children who come in contact with them.

Children should be warned to avoid wild animals, especially if they appear sick or friendly because these usually are signs that they are rabid.

Pets should be regularly vaccinated and kept indoors at night. You can also help to control rabies by reporting any pets or wild animals which seem to be acting strangely to your local police, humane society or health unit.

Do not touch dead animals and contact your doctor or health unit immediately if your child or pet comes in contact with wild animals. Do not handle your pet with bare hands immediately after it has fought with a rabid animal. Seek advice from a veterinarian.

If you would like to know more about rabies write for a free copy of our pamphlet, ANIMALS, RABIES AND YOU from the Ontario Health Resource Centre, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario M7A 1S2.

Cardinal This Week

1880-1980

About 100 police officers from Eastern Ontario and New York state marched in the annual police-church parade held Sunday in Cardinal.

100 area officers attend police parade

About 100 police officers from various OPP detachments, municipal police forces and from the New York State Police and the Border Patrol marched in the eighth annual police church parade held in Cardinal Sunday May 11.

The parade was a kick-off event for area forces marking the beginning of Police Week.

Cardinal police chief Walter Kolodziechuk said he was "pleased with the whole thing", and noted there were residents out all along the route to watch the parade. OPP detachement from Prescott, Long Sault, Morrisburg, Kingston and Perth were represented along with RCMP officers from Ottawa and officers from Brockville, Cardinal, Prescott, Smiths Falls, Athens and other municipal forces.

Also featured in the parade was the Long Sault pipe band from that community's OPP department and the first public appearance of the Cardinal Majorette troupe.

Guests on the reviewing stand included Cardinal reeve Jim McLaughlin, chief Kolodziechuk, Brockville police chief Leslie Sterritt, Judge Bruce Hunter, Superintendent Skinner of the Perth OPP, Inspector Farrell of A division of Ottawa RCMP and Curt Shriver of the Athens police department.

The parade began at the community centre and ended at the United Church where a service was given by Reverend Keith Brown and Reverend Massey of Morrisburg, a member of the Long Sault OPP auxiliary.

Chief Kolodziechuk said there was a "good turnout" of village residents at the service and added that $190 was raised as an offering to be donated to the muscular distrophy society.

Guest speaker after the service was chaplain Norm Johnston, a staff inspector of the Ottawa city police. Mr. Johnston spoke of his efforts during the 1960's to assist teenage runaways in returning home with the founding of Operation Go Home in Ottawa. The program was so successful it eventually was expanded across the country.

On Thursday, evening, May 15 from 6 to 9 p.m. the Cardinal police department will hold its annual open house. Chief Kolodziechuk said he and constables Wood and Selleck will be on hand to answer questions and explain displays.

Bill Comstock passes away

A Cardinal native, William (Bill) Earl Alexander Comstock, died at the Brockville General Hospital, April 28, 1980.

Bill was born at Cardinal March 14, 1913 the son of the late Edwin Comstock and Carrie Eamon. He was a retired employee of the Canada Starch Plant where he had been Consumer Products Foreman.

On September 10, 1938 he married Cynthia Bird of Cardinal at St. Peters Anglican Church in Brockville.

Surviving besides his wife are two sons, Edward of Thunder Bay and Dwayne of Cardinal, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by a sister, Marguerite.

Branch 105 held their service Tuesday April 29, at 7:00 p.m. followed by the Masonic Lodge No. 491 service at 7:30 p.m.

Relatives and friends called at the C. W. Marsden Funeral Home. Funeral service was conducted May 1 at 1:30 p.m. with Reverend Bugler officiating. Interment will be in St. Paul's Anglican Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Eldred Wells, Glen Linnen, Wes Baldwin, Russ Holmes, Robert Comstock and Garth Galway.

Bruce Turner guest speaker at Lions meeting

Bruce Turner of the Ministry of Natural Resources in Kemptville will be guest speaker at tomorrow's regular meeting of the Edwardsburg Lions at 7 p.m. in the Crystal Rock hall.

Plans are being made for the Charter Night with Lion Bruce Murray from District A-9 scheduled as guest speaker. The George Watson Band will provide the entertainment for the evening and meals will be catered by Don Richards. Charter Night tickets are available from Lion Don Burnie and tickets for a draw of groceries are available from Lion Rick Foubert. The Lions must sell 300 Charter Night tickets to break even on the expenses.

A work party for the Spring Frolic will be held the evening of May 22. Persons wishing to offer assistance should be at the fairground at 7 p.m. All subcommittees should have their planning done and work parties lined-up. The Spring Frolic is a big event for the Edwardsburg Lions and the club hopes all members turn out to make this day a success.

Future events the club may particpate in are the Cornwall Township Lions Golf Tournament and the Lowe Lions Lobball Tournament July 12 and 13.

A Lions Officer's School will be held at Morrisburg Public School at 7 p.m. June 12. The May Director's Meeting will be held at the home of Lion Richard Woodland at 7:30 p.m., May 29. The Lady Lions will meet today at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Muriel St. John.

Victorian fashion show planned for Sunday

The Cardinal Figure Skating Club's Centennial Fashion Show will take place Sunday May 18 at 1:30 and 3 p.m. at Benson Public School featuring Victorian costumes spanning more than a decade of fashion from 1870 to 1883.

The show will be produced by Foxboro Fashions a firm from near Belleville operated by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Saunders. The combined efforts of Mrs. Coe Roza, Mrs. Jane Cox and Mrs. Ella Saunders produced the fashions from pictures of 32 gowns, hats and parasols.

Each of the costumes is worth about $500 and the show includes men's, women's and children's fashions.

Ticket prices are $3 in advance and $4 at the door. No seats will be reserved. Tickets may be purchased in Iroquois from Bonnie Adar, Louise Shaw or Florence Brennen. In Cardinal they are available from Shirley Grisdale, Trudy Watson, June Blair, Barbara Owers or Helen Robichaud.

Proceeds from the show will go toward the purchase of sound equipment for the figure skating club.

Village police have no leads on stolen boat

Cardinal police have no clues about the theft of a 12-foot aluminum boat which had been chained all winter to a post west of the legion and was reported stolen at 7:20 p.m. May 6.

The boat is worth between $300 and $400 and is owned by James Grant of Middle Street. The lock securing the boat to the chain had been cut and the chain had been left behind.

Cardinal police chief Walter Kolodziechuk said the boat had been noticed missing about one week before the theft report had been called in. He noted that without an idea of the date of the theft the force has no clues to work with. Any assistance that could be offered from the public be appreciated, he added.

At 8:40 p.m. on East Street a chainlink fence bordering the Canada Starch plant was struck by a car driven by Beckstead, 66, of East St. Damages to ths to the car were estimated at $350 while the fence sustained about $200 damage. The driver was charged with impaired driving and was fined $150 in Prescott provincial court on a charge of driving while disqualified.

At 2 a.m. May 10 a GMC driven by Gerard O'BRien of Joseph Street went onto the shoulder of the causeway leading to the legion and skidded to the edge of the water causing about $100 damage to several guard rails and about the same amount of damage to the truck.

The chief noted the department has received several enquiries about youngsters using bee-bee and pellet guns on squirels and birds in the village. These guns are considered firearms, he added, and are not allowed to be fired within the village limits. However, chief Kolodziechuk stated, if they are being used for target p ractice on private property under proper supervision there is no problem.

He emphasized that parents must give proper supervision to the children because the guns can cause serious injury if they are handled carelessly.

New minister to be ordained

Mr. William Steele has been appointed by the mission board of the Presbyterian Church to the congregation of St. Andrew's and St. James' Church in Cardinal.

The Presbytery of Brockville will meet in the Cardinal Presbyterian Church Wednesday, May 21 to ordain Mr. Steele to the office of ministry of Word and Sacrament and to recognize him as ordained missionary.

Rev. Steele is a recent graduate of Knox College, University of Toronto, and a licentiate of the Presbytery of East Toronto. He was born near Motherwell, Scotland in 1948 and received his formal education at the University of Edinburgh from which he holds a degree of MA in philosphy, Westminister Theological Seminary in Philadelphia and Knox College, Tronto from which he holds the degree of M. Div.

While a student in Edinburgh, Mr. Steel served as an elder in a congregation of the Church of Scotland and led a team of students from the intervarsity Christian Fellowship in evangelistic and social service. During a three-year stay at Westminister Seminary, he served as student pastor of a small Mennonite congregation and while finishing studies for the M. Div. in Toronto he served as student assistant of the First Presbyterian Church in Chatham and following that served as student pastor of the Presbyterian churches in Dresden and Rutherford, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele and their five-year-old son Liam, said they are happy to be in Cardinal where they have found the residents to be warm and friendly. Mr. Steele added he is looking forward to ministering in the village and joining with the session in their leadership of the Presbyterian congregation.

The service of ordination and recognition will be held in the Church of St. Andrew and St. James Wednesday, May 21 at 8 p.m. and members of the public are cordially invited to attend.

New family in town

Mr. William Steele, his wife and son Lian are happy to be in Cardinal where he will be ordained as minister of St. Andrew's and St. Jame's

Residents of the Seaway Valley Apartments decided to leave preparations and clean-uo in the capable hands of the staff of the Coach House at the Islander Hotel as 37 residents enjoyed a delicious beef or turkey dinner on Wednesday May 7. A travel bureau representative showed slides about Deer Lake Lodge in Haliburton in the apartment's common room. A bus trip for the lodge is scheduled to leave Prescott on August 12 for a six-day, five-night exursion. A pick-up service for the trip will also be made available for any interested persons from Cardinal.

On Saturday, May 10 the Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch 105 held a centennial tea and bazaar at Riverside Lodge and found this a very successful venture. The auxiliary wishes to extend sincere thanks to all those who participated.

On Thursday evening, May 15, the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 105 will hold its last in the current series of Euchre Games. Results from last week's games saw Marie Selleck and Eva Proyck place first and second respectively in ladies' play while Quentin Hope and Levi Lippert finished first and second respectively in men's play. Ada King was the lucky door prize winner.

Election of the Ladies' Auxiliary Executive was held last week with the officers elected for 1980-81 as follows: President - Joyce Magee; First Vice-President - Myrt Crawford; Second Vice-President - Carol Pidgeon; Immediate Past President - Yvonne Crawford; Secretary-Margaret Mason; Treasurer - Norma Sherman; Recording Secretary - Ethel Wright; Sergeant-at-Arms - Bernadette Cheetham; Sports Officer - Joyce Menard. The executive committee is made up of Orpha Bottan, Margie O'Brien, Marj Fairfield, Grace Patterson, Dorothy Irving and May Reid.

The Cardinal Senior Citizens Club met for its regular meeting Thursday May 8 with 33 members in attendance. Mrs. Bessie Tracey, club president opened the meeting. It was approved that Percy and Jean Childs will represent the club at the Annual Convention of the United Senior Citizens of Ontario slated for August 12 and 13 at Queen's University in Kingston. A discussion on various possible bus trips was held and brochures were circulated. Following the meeting games and cards were enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served. Next meeting is Thursday May 15 and all seniors are welcome.

If your organization wishes to have its voice heard, phone Sally O'Brien at 657-3473.

Pittston UCW meets

Pittston U.C.W. held their meeting Thursday May 8 at the home of Mrs. C. Marlatt at Seaway Valley Apartments in Cardinal.

A poem about Mother's Day was read. Hymn 399 was sung followed by an offering. Thank-you cards and correspondence was dealt with. Plans were made for the Pittston United Church Anniversary on May 25th with service at 8 p.m. and special music, and a social time after.

Spencerville Fair and South Mountain fair lists were discussed. The June meeting is to be church devotions by Mrs. C. Marlatt, study by Mrs. Willis Montgomery, Roll Call to be Thankful for some Blessing in your life.

Trial date set

Stephen C. Littlejohn, 18, of River Road East, has chosen a trial by provincial court judge to hear the three charges laid against him after a high-speed chase which began in Prescott and eneded in a single-car accident on Shanly Road in Cardinal March 17.

The charges against Littlejohn are wilful damage, criminal negligence and breaking probattion. The trial date has been set for May 30 in Prescott provincial court.

Prescott resident named to task force

A Prescott resident has been named to the Provincial Great Lakes / Seaway Task Force by Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow.

Don Irvine, a member of the Board of Directors, Hall Shipping Company, Prescott, was among eleven individuals appointed to the task force.

Established to undertake a review of the Great Lakes and Seaway transportation system within Ontario, the task force aim is to develop a provincial perspective while preparing policy recommendations and options for Cabinet.

Those named have experience in many areas of the provincial economy, including marine transportation, municipal administration, union representation and the manufacturing sector.

Members, under the chairmanship of Ralph Misener, the retired chief-executive officer of Misener Transportation Limited include eleven members.

Two additional members will be appointed respresenting one of the province's major steel producers and a major milling company.

Further, a technical advisory committee and secretariat under the co-ordination of Margaret Kelch will be also named shortly. The task force will be operating out of offices at 434 University Avenue and will be holding meetings in several Seaway communities and held in Toronto.

In making the announcement, Snow said: "I'm confident the task force, under the able direction of Mr. Misener, will provide Ontario with the kind of background information that will ultimately become a firm provincial policy ... a policy that will lead to more productive and efficient marine facility along Ontario's portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway System."

An interim report is expected at the close of this year's shipping season with the final report early in 1981.

IN MEMORIAM

YANDEAU - In loving memory of our dear father, Kenneth, who passed away May 20, 1979.
He left us quietly,
His thoughts unkown,
But he left us memories,
We are proud to own.
So treasure him Lord,
In your garden of rest,
While on earth he was the best.

Sadly missed by Patricia and Carman. 48-1p

MURPHY - In loving memory of a dear wife, mother, mother-in-law, grandmother and great-grandmother, Olive Ethella Murphy, who departed from us one year ago today, May 19, 1979.
God knew that she was suffering,
The hills were hard to climb
He closed her weary eyelids,
And whispered peace be thine
To all of you who have a wife or mother,
Cherish her with care
You'll never know how much you miss her,
'Till you see her vacant chair.

Sadly missed and always remembered, Husband Ronald and all the family. 48-1c

---

CASSELMAN - In sad and loving memory of a dear husband father and grandfather, Gordon Charles Casselman who passed away May 16th, 1977.
We cannot think of them as dead
Who walk with us no more
Along the path of life we tread
They have but gone before

Sadly missed and always remembered by wife Annabel and family. 48-1p

Seaway Tennis Club Director Jeff Beaupre explains the proper use of the tennis racket to two junior members participating in the Monday night practices at Seaway District High School guy. Pictured on his right are Troy and Jennifer Gilmer of Iroquois.

Tennis season in full swing

The Seaway Tennis Club of Iroquois has begun its 1980 season and is off to an excellent start. In the first week of registration the club has sixty plus members signed up and the club executive is looking for another record year.

The tennis lessons have begun at Seaway District High School Gym, with Monday for juniors and Wednesday for seniors, 6:30 p.m. til 8:00 p.m. through May and June. When the time is right and the weather co-operates, players will be putting their skills to work with the guidance of Seaway's Tennis Director Jeff Beaupre at the courts. They are going to be evenings of pyramid play 3 nights each week organized for juniors, ladies and the men groups. The pyramid play which is four years old gets the members out to challenge other members so they can improve the standings in the club rankings.

Members may challenge anyone on their own level of play or one or two levels above. It also creates a fun time for all members. The Seaway Tennis Club hopes to form a tennis team so they can travel to tournaments to better themselves and the overall club's standard of play. There has been good response from junior players and seniors alike.

Tennis club seeks improvements

The Seaway Tennis Club executive has approached both the recreation and council members for future improvements with full approval for plan no. 1 which calls for fence removal north and south to give a safe and sufficient playing area. Council will be approached again to clarify fund raising. For these improvements when the club gets the working gears in motion.

Tennis has proven to be the sport for summer recreation in Iroquois. Eight years young, Iroquois tennis players have seen a great change in their abilities to be recognized by other valley clubs and provincial districts. The Seaway Club has an O.C.A.A. College Champion No. 1 in Ontario in the name of Barry Casselman. He also won the Seaway Valley Cup this past summer in Iroquois and Cornwall's Open Tournament. He was also in the finals in Prescott and Deep River.

The Men's Valley Cup will be competed for in mid-July, 19th and 20th, along with Jr. play on the 18th and ladies play on the 20th. The club is expecting record crowds to attend as well as the number of entries are expected to increase.

Seaway High council elected

Student Council elections for the 1980-81 executive took place Friday and most of the positions were closely contested. The only uncontested position was the head of the B.A.A. which was won by acclamation by Billy Ault. The top post of our student's council, that of president was won by Kevin Crowder. First vice-president for next year will be Lynn Cruickshank, while B.J. Thompson will take over as second vice-president. The final position on the executive will be filled by Kim Boyd who will be the new head of the G.A.A. Congratulations and good luck to the new executive of the student's council.

Members of the student body were treated to a marvelous display of acrobatics and gymnastic ability Thursday when the "Tramp Champs" came to Seaway. The team of trampoline experts is made up of a coach and a top ranking Canadian trampoline competitior. Everyone who attended enjoyed the exhibition immensely.

The spring concert of Seaway's bands is coming up next Thursday, May 22. All of the bands that will be performing won high honours recently in various music festivals and should provide an enjoyable evening for all who attend. Please come out and support the bands in this fund-raising effort.

On the subject of the bands, don't forget the Eng. 4A0. Concert Night beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday May 24. The S.D.H.S. Stage Band, The Seaway Six Singers and a soloist, Karen Weegar, will all perform for everyone's enjoyment.

The price for the concert is $2.00 per person and tickets can be purchased at the door.

society.

In order to achieve this end, the group is in the process of organizing the very first national conference of farm women. The success of this conference depends on the preparation of background material on the status of rural women and their summer employment project will be responsible for researching and preparing the necessary information for the conference participants.

The supervision of the project will be handled by the executive of the organization in co-operation with field workers from the Department of the Secretary of State. Organizers feel that the project will provide an excellent opportunity for 14 summer students to develop their skills in research, inter-personal communications, correspondence and report writing.

The co-ordination of the activities of all francophone groups in the Cornwall area in order to ensure complete fulfillment of their respective goals is the main objective of the project undertaken by A.C.F.O. Regionale Stormont-Dundas. It is hoped that through greater participation and interest among francophones will their exist a better understanding between the various organizations.

In order to attain such an objective, the project will involve cultural, recreational social activities, research into the history of francophones in Ontario, the development of one's pride in being a francophone, and developing this pride into the activities of children.

The summer students working with this project will be involved with the aspects of working as a team, learning proper program planning, various research methods, working with the public as will as some administrative work.

Commenting on the announcement, Mr. Lumley noted that "both sponsoring organizations are to be complemented for their initiative in applying under this job creation program which will result in meaningful employment for students this summer.

"The proposed project objectives experience for those students who will be involved. Furthermore, the results of teir efforts will be of considerable assistance to the respective organizations as they plan for the future."

Adams wins derby

Almon Adams was the successful winner of the 3rd Annual Groundhog Derby held last Saturday.

Sponsored by the Matilda Gun Club, Adams winning catch weighed in at 7 lbs.

Winners of the boxes of shells in the draw were Steve Shaver, Ronnie Keller, Kim Storto and Roy Coughler.

Steve Shaver, a member of the Matilda Gun Club, said that although response was light, "enough interest was shown to warrant another derby sometime in the future and the club will be looking at the possibility of another derby later in the year".

4-H executive council discusses exchange trip

The second meeting of the 4-H executive council took place April 22nd.

The discussion of the old business was brought forth and The Open House Canada Exchange trip was discussed. The Walk Bike-athon plans are still in the making. (It was suggested that those who participate in this bike-athon will get a free meal ticket to the Awards Banquet in the fall. Deadline to have the sponsor money in will be June 20 since this event will be on May 31. Also noted was the route is to be marked in kilometers instead of miles.)

Another portion of the old business was the Royal Fair bus trip. It is to include a tour of the science centre as well as a three-day, two night stay. Sheep also was mentioned and is included as an option in the judging clinic at K.C.A.T. on July 22. The skits and demonstration night, barely mentioned, was included. The awards night will be November 21 in Winchester with the women's auxiliary catering service. (Alternative night will be on November 28). The Essex County trip is still proceeding.

The first thing presented was a decision not to have minutes typed out for those who missed the executive meetings. (Members are responsible for their club so be present at every meeting if possible.) The jamboree was set for Faran's Park, on July 20 but was cancelled in order to help pay for a game on July 29. The charge per person will be $8, not including transportation. (NOTE: Because no insurance covers pre-4-H'er's they will have to stay at home. The trip will include a team introduction and autographs. Time of the game will be 7:30). Telephone exchanges for the Iroquois, Morrisburg area are to dial "O" and ask for Zenith 33190 in order to reach the agriculture office free of charge. 4-H Promotion pins will be handed out in the next news letters.

All informaion on 4-H will have the crest stamped on the envelopes in order for the members to detect their mail from their parent's, vise-versa.. All main projects will be presented at the South Mountain Fair on August 15 and the tractor, and sheep, clubs will be August 17 at K.C.A.T. All members are invited to participate in the Junior Shepherds regardless of what club you are in now. The dead-line for memberships is May 1 and the calf picture is to be in on May 5. In dairy, seniors can do record books or a special project. The electric club's achievement day is on August 5 or 12. Anyone can also attend the Leader's meetings to see what they do.

The next meeting will be held in the Board room, once more, on May 20 at 8 p.m.

Company taps packaging market

Starting up a new business during an era of promised recession and predicted economic crisis would seem to be almost like you were asking for failure.

Les Craig, a 40-year-old resident of Iroquois, has gone ahead with his idea for a packaging company and beaten the odds that seemed stacked against him.

Craig Packaging Limited officially made it's appearance April 1st, and if deciding on Fool's Day wasn't stretching his luck, he is using a former horse stable that has supplied more than one horseshoe to keep his good luck offsetting any bad omens that might come along.

Craig, who is president of the company, manages to keep himself busy running the new company that bears his name, while at the same time managing Iroquois Enterprises.

"It's busy," he says, "but that is the way I like it'.

While Iroquois Enterprises deals mainly with the building and marketing of wooden pallets, Craig Packaging Limited is more specialized in it's production, products that originally were made at a small shop at Iroquois Enterprises, but expanded into it's own company. "We had a small shop at Iroquois Enterprises, but there was a larger market and by separating the two, it is much simpler to keep control of the costs," Craig said.

"Our first reason for separating was the costs, but the second was that the specialty items must be accurate, since we are running with tighter specifications," he added.

Four full-time employees comprise the working force of the company, with office staff being part-time.

George Jackson, owns Iroquois Enterprises, is Vice-President of Craig Packaging, and although Craig admits their is some overlapping of the two companies, he is ironclad when it comes to making sure the company stands on it's own feet.

"The company buys some wood from Iroquois Enterprises, but it is completely separate in that it must show a profit and take care of itself financially."

Renting the former St. Lawrence Stables, located west of Iroquois on Carmen Road, the production area is now over three times the size of it's former site, and the large buildings are proving to be more than sufficient for storage.

"A wide assortment of wood is used, both soft and hard, since there are different needs for each job." Craig said.

"We are geared for large production, but are still able to do specialty work."

Packaging may not sound exciting, but Craig says that many manufacturers spend a lot of money and time making sure their products are packaged properly to ensure their safe arrival.

Craig Packaging makes crates and other covers for a variety of items that range from bases for stoves, shipping railway coils, kits for calf stalls and reinforcement for bathroom tubs.

The company's president is keeping a close watch on the financial side of the business and is being careful about growing too fast.

"We want to grow gradually, and control what we have got. All too often companies that extend themselves too much go under."

That formula worked at Iroquois Enterprises, Craig added, and despite the gloomy outlook that economic forecasters have, he believes the company has potential and will grow.

"We have a good product, and there doesn't seem to be any shortage of items."

Packaging pallets

Les Craig, President of Craig Packaging Limited, stands in front of his new company. Craig is keeping his outlook positive that the company will grow. Below, right, two of the company's four employees work on a special pallet designed for transporting railway coils.

TV TALK

by Ross Mutton

Just when I thought that I could make incisive predictions in the world of television, Johnny Carson signs a contract with NBC. A couple of years ago I predicted that Carson would be around for only another two years. It began to look like my crystal ball was on the right channel when TV Guide ran a cover story on David Letterman, touting him as the most likely successor to Carson.

That's all purely academic now as Carson has signed a three-year contract. Over the past season, Carson has been appearing in only three out of five nights. The ratings have suffered on nights that Carson was not hosting. To try to alleviate this situation, NBC has come to a compromise agreement with Carson. The star will be appearing four nights a week, but the show will be cut back to 60 minutes from 90.

There are reports that NBC will fill the half-hour with a late newscast. Through the Iranian crisis, ABC has had considerable success presenting half-hour news specials opposite the Tonight Show. It would appear that the U.S. is about to discover late night news, just at a time when Canadians are going to start receiving news an hour earlier with the National.

There are reports that Carson's new salary will top the $3 million mark of his past contract, but no exact figure has been quoted. Somehow, I don't think he'll have any trouble meeting his mortgage payments.

How do you Canadinize a popular comedy show like Barney Miller? Focus on a Mountie squad room in Vancouver and staff it with a French-Canadian, a Newfie, a Cree Indian, a macho Italian and head them up with an Inspector by the name of MacIntosh.

You then hire the former headwriter of the Sonny and Cher Show and the producer of Mork and Mindy and call the series The Mounties.

The producers are hopeful that CTV will pick up the series. They haven't mentioned whether or not they will burn a barn.

WHAT'S COMING -- On Wednesday night at 8:30, Ch. 9 carries the Montreal Expos-Houston Astros baseball game. Neil Simon's The Good Doctor is telecast on Great Performances on Ch. 18 at 9 p.m. At 11:45, Ch. 4 runs Heavens Above, starring Peter Sellers, Isabel Jeans and Eric Sykes.

On Thursday at 8 p.m., Ch. 5 runs the movie F.D.R.: The Last Year", starring Jason Robards. Also at 8:00, Loni Anderson hosts a special on the 85-year history of The Funnies. That's on Ch. 7. Beauty Pageant from Biloxi, Mississippi. At midnight, Ch. 13 runs Far From the Madding Crowd, starring Julie Christie and Terence Stamp.

On Friday at 9 p.m. Canadian Express returns to CBC. This week's show features Ryan's Fancy.

On Saturday at 5 p.m., Ch. 13 covers the Preakness from Baltimore. At 9 p.m., Ch. 18 presents Don Pasquale on From the Met. At 11:30, Ch. 18 runs A Taste of Honey, starring Rita Tushingham and Dora Bryan.

On Sunday at 7:30, Ch. 4 presents The Muppets with guest star Beverly Sills. At 9 p.m., Ch. 13 presents the first of the three part series, Moviola. The series looks at famous Hollywood stories, with the first episode dealing with the career of Marilyn Munroe, the second concerns the search for the actress to play Scarlett O'Hara in Gone with the Wind, and third deals with the stardom of Greta Barbo. Stars include Lloyd Bridges, Tony Curtis and Brian Keith. That's at 9 p.m. on three consecutive evenings on CTV. Also at 9 p.m. Sunday, Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy debuts on Ch. 4. This six-part series is based on John Le Carre's best-seller and stars Sir Alec Guiness. At 10 p.m., Melina Mercouri takes us on a tour of Athens. That's on Ch. 4.

On Monday at 9:30 on the eve of the Quebec Referendum, Ch. 4 presents a one-hour news special on the subject. At midnight, Ch. 13 presents Oh! What a Lovely War, starring Dirk Bogarde and Phyllis Calvert.

At 7 p.m. on Tuesday, both Ch. 4 and Ch. 13 present coverage of the Quebec Referendum. At 8 p.m., Nova examines spiders in Life on a Silken Thread. That's on Ch. 18. At 10 p.m., Soundstage presents the Doobie Brothers on Ch. 18.

Alan Holmes discussed various aspects of fire prevention with students from St. Cecilia's Separate School during Education Week. As a member of the Iroquois Volunteer Fire Department, Alan spoke about the fear he felt fighting his first fire.

Henry Barkley passes away

A well-known area carpenter, Henry Barkley, passed away May 4th at the Riverside Nursing Home where he had been a resident for the past seven years. He was 98.

A former resident of Iroquois and Matilda Township, he was the son of the late Isiah Barkley and Mary Ann Millward. He was married to Edith Burns, December 22, 1906, in Iroquois. She predeceased him in 1967.

Left to mourn his loss are a sister, Mrs. Della Hodge, of Brockville and nieces and nephews.

A member of Iroquois United Church, services were held at the C.W. Marsden Funeral Home, Iroquois, Wednesday, May 7 at 1:30 p.m., with Rev. Brian Gee officiating.

Interment followed at the United Church Cemetery, Iroquois Point.

Pallbearers were Robert Hanes, Ambert Brown, Bruce Barkley, Don Thompson, Edward Foster and Stanley Hodgson.

Funeral services held for Clare Biccum

Funeral services were held May 5th for Clare B. Biccum, former police chief of Morrisburg. He had been in ill health for several weeks before passing away at the age of 76.

Born July 1, 1917, in Morrisburg, he was the son of May Fetterly, who survives him, and the late Mason Devaul.

A former resident of Morrisburg, he was married in that community February 10, 1951 to the late Marjorie M. Devaul, who predeceased him in 1979.

Educated in Morrisburg Schools, he was a member of the Evcelsior Lodge, St. John's Chapter Morrisburg; Karnak Temple-Shrine, Montreal; and the United church. For the past 29 years he lived with his wife in Cornwall, where he died May 2nd at the Cornwall General Hospital. Left to mourn his loss are a sister, Pauline M. Linnett, and one niece, Betty Wells.

Services were held at the Fairbairn Funeral Home, Morrisburg, with Rev. Massey officiating. Pallbearers were Floyd LaGrove, Amos Simmons, William Dillabough Sr., Donald Prunner, Dale Barkley and Ross Hummel.

Internment was at St. Lawrence Valley Union Cemetery, Ingleside.

Eleanor Murphy dies in hospital

A well-known and well-loved resident of the area, Eleanor Murphy, passed away at Winchester Hospital May 6 following a lengthy illness. She was in her fifty-third year.

Eleanor was born in Iroquois March 18, 1928, the daughter of W.C. McAllister and the late Pansy Benham. She was educated locally and worked in Montreal prior to working nineteen years at Caldwell Linen Mills.

She is survived by one daughter, Anne (Mrs. Douglas Hartle) of Morrisburg, one son, Douglas of Kelowna, B.C., one sister, Janet (Mrs. F. Beer) of North Vancouver and one brother Grame of Toronto.

Funeral service was held May 8 at Iroquois United Church with Reverend Brian Gee officiating. Pallbearers were Landon McInnes, Carl Empey, Ron Fader, Michael Dunne, Robert Hartle and Garry Hartle.

Interment was in Roselawn Memorial Gardens, Maitland.

Morrisburg resident dies

Bonnie Elaine Jones, a life-long resident of Morrisburg, passed away April 29th at Morrisburg. She was 29.

Born June 17, 1950, in Cornwall, she was the daughter of Clarence Lynch, who is left to mourn her loss, and Janette Lynch, (nee Boulerice), who predeceased her.

Also surviving her are two children, Lesley and Randy Mabo, of Smith Falls, and a brother Wayne of Morrisburg.

Educated at Morrisburg High School, she was a member of the Roman Catholic Church.

Services were held May 2, at the Fairbairn Funeral Home at 10:00 a.m. with Father O'Connor officiating.

Pall bearers were George Babcock, James Annable, Fred Diegel and Bill Gale.

Interment was at the Fairview Cemetery.

South Mountain personals

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Bryan arrived here on Monday afternoon from Rome N.Y. to attend the wake and funeral of Ernest's Aunt Ida Hoy of Hallville who passed away on Monday morning after a few days illness in the Hospital.

A large crowd attended the sale on Saturday at Mrs. Muriel Cumming's home. She will take up residence with her sister Mrs. Fred Holmes for the time being.

Mrs. Viola Marchand and sister Muriel Stanley and Mrs. John Johnston had supper on Wednesday evening last with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marchand and Dennis of Domville.

Mrs. John Johnston spent Saturday in Cardinal with Mr. and Mrs. Basil Watson, Lana and Kevin, it being Mrs. Watson's birthday. Her children Lana and Kevin surprised her with a nicely decorated birthday cake for the dinner and gifts.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. William Robinson and her family in their bereavement of the late William Robinson.

Mrs. William Black and son of Montreal were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Black Sherrie and Julie.

Bird Notes

On Sunday we were remembering and paying tribute to mothers all across the land, and it seems to us that this is a good time to express our appreciation of "Mother Nature", who at this time of year provides us with so much of beauty and wonder. Every little shrub and fruit tree is either in bloom or full of promise; Violets, Trilliums and other beloved wild flowers are now coming into blossom, and even the little wild strawberries are blooming along the roadsides.

We watched a mother House Sparrow as she brought her two babies to feed in the grass; turn about she popped the seeds into the squeaking mouths and the little ones sat there, wings a-flutter, waiting for more. Then the mother moved away to look for a better spot, and the young ones began to pick up a few seeds for themselves. As soon as Mom turned around again, the kids were standing in the "feed me" attitude, and she obliged, of course.

One area on Caldwell Dr., however, was singled out for special treatment on Mothers' Day. They counted Orioles, a Brown Thrasher, three Rose-breasted Grosbeaks and a Hummingbird in a Magnolia tree (no partridge). Anyone of these summer birds would have been something special, but to see all of them in one day is really a rare event. They realized this, and gave us a call, for which we are grateful - what a way to start a Monday!
