THE NOMINATIONS

Probably the largest crowd ever to attend a nomination meeting in the county of Dundas assembled in Chestervilie on Tuesday, when the Music Hall was crammed to every available inch of space by the electors of both sexes.

As was anticipated the nominations were confined to O. D. Casselman of Chesterville, member in the last parliament, who is again leading the government forces of this riding, and Preston Elliot also of this vicinity, nominated as the standard-bearer of the United Farmers.

Each candidate in the time alloted for speaking, fifty minutes for Mr. Casselman, an hour for Mr. Elliot, with ten minutes for a reply by the former, received a most attentive hearing.

Mr. Casselman presented the case for the Government in a clear logical and convincing speech, reviewing the work done to the advantage of all classes of the citizens from ocean to ocean under the guidance of Premier Meighen and his predecessor since attaining power in 1911. Mr. Casselman was very thorough in his methods, going to a finish on each point discussed, and then leaving the facts full and complete for the electors to make an intelligent decision on.

Mr. Elliott dealt effectively from a farmers' viewpoint with the record of the Meighen Government, pointing out the inequalities under which the farmer carried on production in comparison to the manufacturer who was entrenched behind a protective tariff.

The heavy expenditures of the Drury Government were in a great part accounted for in carrying out propositions initiated by the Hearst government and in paying the expenses of the election wherein it was defeated.

Interesting School Concert

The concert under the auspices of the Public school given last week in the Music Hall, proved a very injoyable and interesting one to those present. The feature of the evening was the demonstration by a representative of the Columbia Graphophone Co., of the different uses to which a Grafonola could be turned in interesting and teaching pupils their lessons. While many people expected the instruction would be in the way of teaching, singing, and marching to music, it was some what of a revelation to find it used in teaching writing in the formation of letters and figures, in time with the rhythem of the selection played. The big idea is to keep the little ones interested in their work. In nature study the reproduction of bird calls was interesting, by which the different kinds might be identified. Beyond the teaching of lessons a love of music is sought to be inculcated in the youthful mind, which will bring pleasure throughout a life time, in the same manner as good literature.

Going To Build

Gravel and stone is being hauled this week by Mr. Gard Hutt for the foundation for the new building to be erected by People's Manufacturing and Sales Company Limited at Chesterville for their branch warehouse and showrooms. The contract for the fonndation has been let to Mr. Emerson Faulkner, who will commence work at once, weather permitting. The large corner lot purchased from Miss Harrison will not all be needed for the company's purposes and it is ts be hoped that some other live concern will secure the other part of the lot and build; as good commercial property in Chesterville is scarce.

Dundas County Sunday School Convention

There was a large attendance of delegates at the county gathering of Sunday School workers held in Morrisburg on the 14th. inst. when the principal speaker was Rev. C. A. Meyers of Toronto. In the afternoon his subject was "The Child," and in the evening "The Teen Age Boy and Girl."

Rev. J. R. Curtis ably presided at all sessions and replied to the address of welcome by W. T. Brown of the Presbyterian Church, Morrisburg. In the forenoon Rev. R. J. Glassford gave an inspiring address on "The Workers and the Call," and the story of the years work was told by the secretary Miss E. Hyndman. Then the department superintendents gave their reports showing they had been busy during the year.

In the afternon Rev. W. T. Brown of Morrisburg spoke on "How the Sunday School is related to the work of the Kingdom," and Rev. J. B. Howe on "What the Parents' Contribution to the Work of the Kingdom is." Several other ministers and laymen took part in helpful discussions. Mr. and Mrs. Flett contributed a very pleasing duet in the evening.

The invitation to meet in Winchester next year was given by R. J. Glassford and endorsed by Mr. Flett.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:—

Pres.—Mr. Preston McIntosh.
Vice Pres—Mr S. W. VanAllen.
Sec. Treas—Miss May Rose.
Rec. Sec.—Mr. J. Carkner of Elma.
Children's Dept. Supt.—Mrs. Geo. Earle.

Thinks St. Lawrence Deepening Problem

Governor Henry Allen, of Kansas, who has just been attending a conference in New York on the Great Lakes-St Lawrence project, declared that when the report of the engineers had been finally passed upon by the International Joint Commission and the question comes before Congress, it would be provided for. He stated that the Mississippi Valley country and the states bordering on the Great Lakes will insist on the waterway and that the opposition of New York State and eastern interests cannot stay it. "It would be a great thing for both this country and Canada," said Governor Allen.

According to Taste

A man went to order a wedding-cake the other day. "I'm getting married," he said to the girl in the confectioner's shop, "and I want a cake." "Well, it's the latest thing," said the shop-girl, "to have wedding-cakes in harmony with the bride-groom s calling or profession. Thus a musician has an oat-cake, an athlete a cup-cake, a man who borrows money from his friends a sponge-cake, and so forth and so on. What is your calling, please?" "I'm a pianist," answered the happy young man. "Then, of course," said the girl, "you'll want a pound-cake."

What Old Timers Say

Partridge are "drumming" more than usual, and oldtimers say this is a sure indication of a long open fall and a good winter. This happened last winter anyway.

Bitten By Horse

While leading a horse to water one day last week, Joe Doughtery, a farmer living in the vicinity of Beckett's Landing was badly bitten in the face by the animal. His lower lip was nearly torn off and a doctor was obliged to employ several stitches in dressing the wound.

Pick Strawberries In Ottawa Garden

So far as it is ever safe to declare anything a record the strawberries picked Monday in Mr. George Taylor's garden Ottawa, have beaten the last mosquito and the lonely summer bird. The berries which were on ever-bearing plants, were fine and firm, and decidedly edible. Last year there were berries on the plants on November 9. Leading horticulturists say this year constitutes a local record.

Hundreds of Wolves Slay Algoma Sheep

So numerous and bold are the wolves becoming at MacLennan just east of the Soo that stock-raisers there are requesting relief. During the past two weeks about 100 sheep have been killed by wolves in a very limited area, which have appeared since the bear epidemic subsided. It is estimated that at least 400 bears were killed within the city and its immediate vicinity during the fall. Reports are coming in from the Algoma Central Railway today that the wolves are doing great damage there, particularly at Mile 95, where they are destroying the beaver and the deer. The settlers are demanding that a larger bounty be placed on the wolves, $25 not being sufficently large to induce expert trappers to spend there time in an endeavor to exterminate them.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY

Friendship-Yes! But—

"The Bill will not let in Canadian wheat, but will save to the American farmer the right to raise a bushel of wheat instead of transferring that right to Canada."—Mr. Fordney, in introducing the Fordney Emergency Tariff Bill which has shut millions of dollars worth of Canadian foodstuffs out of the United States market.

"If we are to build up a self-sustaining agriculture here at home, the farmer must be protected from unfair competition from those countries where agriculture is still being exploited."—President Harding. The very spot chosen to deliver this speech—Minnesota—shows that Harding had the Canadian North-West in mind.

WHILE ties of friendship unite Canada and the United States, the attitude of Uncle Sam is that of "Business First", and Canada cannot and should not hope for any consideration from the United States where the interests of the farmers and business people of that country are involved.

Uncle Sam has built the Fordney Tariff directly against Canadian agriculture, and new additional Tariff proposals are now under consideration to shut out from the United States Canadian goods of every kind.

These measures are due to the insistence of the American farmer that the United States market shall be retained exclusively for him and that the influx of Canadian farm products into that country must cease. They are also due to a like insistence of United States manufacturers and workers, who have seen their country develop tremendously and grow rich under a Protective Tariff, and who believe that a still further increase in Tariff is the only means of assuring continued prosperity.

CONTRAST THE ATTITUDE OF THE UNITED STATES LEADERS WITH THAT OF CANADA'S WOULD-BE LEADERS, CRERAR AND KING

Crerar proposes to allow American goods to enter the Canadian market free of duty.

King proposes that the present reasonable Tariff on the products of the American factory and farm shall be greatly reduced, and that the home market of the Canadian farmer and manufacturer alike shall be thrown open to our Southern neighbour, in the face of the United States Emergency tariff, which practically shuts out Canadian farm products from these markets, and also in the face of the permanent tariff now under consideration at Washington, which gives every promise of being even more drastic than the Emergency Tariff so far as our products are concerned.

In view of the attitude of the United States, what folly it is for Crerar and King to propose throwing open the Canadian market to a flood of both agricultural and manufactured products of the United States when there is not the slightest possibility of any compensative advantage to Canada.

Does any sane Canadian believe that Crerar or King, hat in hand, could persuade the United States Government to completely reverse its Tariff policies and agree to reciprocal trade in face of American public demand for a high protective Tariff?

The people of the United States conduct their affairs and protect themselves by the principle that "Business is business." Why should Canada do otherwise?

Unlike Crerar or King, MEIGHEN stands firm for a reasonable Tariff to protect all our industries — those of the farm, the sea, the mine, the forest, the factory, and for the building up of a bigger and better Canada through the full development of the home market.

FRIENDSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES? YES, BY ALL MEANS!

BUT— let us defend our home market, our industries, our farms, our workmen, our homes by the same methods as are used so effectively against us.

Let us work out our own destiny—that of a strong, self-contained nation within the British Empire group of Nations, courageous, masterful, self-reliant.

Hints on Storage of Car For Winter

The first thing to remember in storing an automobile for any extended time is that its exterior finish should be thoroughly cleaned. A special effort should be made to have the car thoroughly washed and polished; dried mud and the like left on the finish for any considerable time will cause unsightly spots which only revarnishing will eradicate.

The water must be drained from the cooling system, if the car is to be stored in an unheated place, to prevent freezing. To make sure that all the water is removed, run the engine slowly for two or three minutes after the draining has been completed. This will tend to heat up the motor and dry out the moisture left in the water jackets so rust is not likely to accumulate to any harmful extent during the storage period.

It is also wise to drain the carburetor; a few drops of water have been known to freeze in this and cause damage. Nor is it a bad idea to jack up the car to take its weight off the tires.

The disposition of the storage battery depends some what on circumstances. But the battery must be kept reasonably well charged or it will freeze in zero weather. In adding water to the battery solution, care must be taken that the added water is thoroughly mixed with the electrolyte or it is likely to freeze and crack the battery jar. If it is not feasible to run the motor in the place where the car is stored—and beware of the deadly carbon monoxide fumes!—then it is best to remove the battery and store it at some reliable electric service station.

In case the car is a new one, it is a a good plan to cover it with a clean cloth of some kind to keep out the dust. The bright parts that may tarnish or rust should be lightly coated with vaseline. That may be easily removed and may save these parts renickled in the spring. There is no particulnr need in draining the oil in the motor, transmission and differential aside from the periodic changing necessitated by operating the car.

A word about the tires: They should be thoroughly cleaned to remove dirt and grease. It would be particularly kind to them, take them off the car, deflate them, wrap them in paper or cloth and store them in a cool dark and dry place. Remember that grease rots rubber and that sunlight causes a slow but steady deterioration when the casing is not in use. Moreover, it is important to deflate the stored. In cold weather the inflated tire has a tendency to "set" and loses its natural elasticity. If the car is left to stand on its tires all winter, a new set will be required in the spring.

Then It Happened

Mrs. Wickwire: "Aren't your a trifle late in getting home?"

Mr. Wickwire: "I went to the theatre. They had a nautical piece on. I have been to a good many plays of one kind and another, but this is one you want to see to see sea scenery—"

Henry Wickwire, have you been drinking.

Hydro Tears Down Lines Kemptville Homes Dark

Because the Kemptville Milling Company, which formerly supplied power in the village of Kemptville, has failed to remove its poles and wires as instructed by the municipality, which recently entered into an agreement with the Hydro for power, the lines of the company are now being torn down by Hydro employes and consumers of the company will be without service.

Burn Corn Instead of Coal

Corn at 32 cents a bushel is equal in value to coal at $16 a ton, Secretary Wallace, of Washington, said commenting on reports that some farmers were burning corn for fuel. At 20 cents a bushel, he said, corn would be equivalent to fuel at $10 a ton. "In districts where corn is very cheap now, the coal is of a rather poor grade and is selling at high prices," he continued. "Under such conditions it will pay both farmers and people in the oountry towns to use corn instead of coal."

Robbed of $1,000 in Railway Coach

Over $1,000 was taken from two railway passengers as they passed through North Bay. William Corrigan, who was travelling over the C.P.R. from Western Canada on his way to England, was relieved of a bank note of £185, as well as $56 in Canadian money. He was sitting in the train at the station at 10 o' clock at night when three men stopped at his seat. One of them, ostensibly to pick up a parcel, leaned over Mr. Corrigan and took the note and money from his inside vest pocket. The victim of the theft did not stop over at North Bay, but proceeded East.

Another man who did not give his name to the police, reported that he was jostled as he was leaving the second class car on the Englehart to Toronto C.N.R. train. The lights were out at the time and he had his pocket-book containing $107 taken from him. C.N.R. Constable Illidge, upon investigating, found the empty purse on the floor of the lavatory of the car. Still another traveller by the name of McKinnon, telephoned from Chalk River that he had lost $110 between North Bay and that place.

Preparedness

Stephen: "If you loved me, why did you refuse me at first?"

Agnes: "I wanted to see how you would act."

"But I might have rushed off without waiting for an explanation."

Oh, but I'd locked the door!"

Change or a Rest?

How would you like to hear your children crying for bread, sir?" importuned the beggar.

"I'd welcome the change," said the man, hurrying on; "they're always crying for chocolates now."

Biggest Moose of Season

The biggest moose of the season was brought in to the Soo by Frank Crawford, an 11-year-old specimen, weighing 890 pounds. The horns had a spread of 50 inches. Seven shots were required to bring the animal down.

Reaped Two Crops

To grow two crops of peas from the same field, thrash them and sell them in five months, is the feat of Mr. Fred W. Smith, of Enniskillen, Darlington township, county of Durham. Mr. Smith brought the peas to the store of Hogg & Lytle, Oshawa, where he disposed of them. It is the first time in the experience of Mr. J. L. Whattam, the manager for over 25 years, that such an event has occurred, while it is considered unique among experienced agricultural men Mr. Smith sowed his first crop in the spring at the usual time, and realized 28 bushels to the acre. The peas shelled out, and after the ground was plowed up the second crop appeared. It looked so promising that Mr. Smith watched it with interest until he was able to harvest it, realizing this time 12 bushels to the acre, The second crop was of splendid quality.

Rubber Footwear

Heavy Rubbers are just as necessary in this climate ss an overcoat.

Yon don't wear either every day—but when you want them, you want them badly.

There is as much difference between the wear you get out of rubbers as there is in auto tires.

Our Rubber Boots give the utmost in wear for the least money. You'll know if you wear them.

BATTERY STORAGE

The Battery—termed "the heart of the car" is a delicate, expensive apparatus.

From the day it is made it starts to depreciate.

The natural wear due to chemical action of the Electrolyte, or acid, on the plates goes on just the same—whether the battery IS USED OR NOT.

To eliminate this wear in the winter months it is necessary to DRY STORE THE BATTERY.

This does not mean—empty the solution and put it on a rack and forget it. Far more than that.

It requires expert attention. The plates must be properly cured—the jars steamed and the different parts thoroughly overhauled.

In the Spring new insulation is added, new electrolyte, and properly reformed.

Charge Losses U. F. O. Company Reach $300,000

Asking for a declaratiou that the U. F. O. Co Operative Company, Limited, be wound up, and that a temporary liquidator be appointed, a petition was filed at Osgoode Hall by solicitors representing Dr. A. E. Farewell, of Oshawa. The petition, which will be heard on November 29th, also asks that an order be made referring to J. A. C. Cameron, official referee, the appointment of a permanent liquidator.

Dr. Farewell's contentions are presented under 16 heads. The first four deal formally with the identity of the company and its capitalization, but the fifth declares that "the facts and circumstances relating to the subscription for the payment of stock" should be investigated. Dr. Farewell then proceeds to show that as a shareholder to the extent of $500 in the company he came to Toronto in November, 1921, and interviewed the president, A. A. Powers, with reference to certain information he had received. Mr. Powers, according to the petition, admitted that losses in the operations of the company during the present year might amount to $300,000, but he gave no definite information as to the manner in which these losses occured. An examination of the list of shareholders showed that the only capital stock held by the following named directors was: A. A. Powers, president, one share; Colonel Fraser, vice-president, one share; R. W. E. Burnaby, one share, on which 50 per cent. had been paid; Elmer Lick, director, five shares; Robert H. Ashton, director, ten shares; of which 50 per cent. was paid up; J. J. Morrison, secretary-treasurer, eight shares.

An Ontario Judge, A Modern Solomon

(Chesley Enterprise)

Judge Klein of Walkertown is a modern Solomon—a real Daniel in Judgment. He keeps the corrective principle in view in dealiug with first offenders and always tempers justice with mercy. A boy who was recently brought before him charged with stealing a bicycle was not sent to goal or Mimico reformatory where boys often get schooled in crime by their associations with really bad boys, but was given a second chance. In the words of the master the lad was told to go and sin no more. In order to get the boys' mind on nobler and higher things he has to attend public and Sunday schools regularly, attend church, visit the Public Library twice each week and be home at nine o'clock each night. Failing to observe these rules the boy will receive his sentence for stealing. The father is a surety of $500 for a year to see that the judge's orders are carried out. The boy will have plenty of time to think over where a career of crime will lead him and the new associations will all help him to eschew the downward path in life. Here is another example of where judge Klein's good judgment and reformative ideal of justice transformed a drunken thief into a sober honest man. A farmer in the western part of this county was addicted to stealing when he was under the influence of liquor. He was brought before Judge Klein on a charge of stealing grain from a neighbor. The case was clear and the judge would have been quite justified in sending the culprit to gaol. The man had a wife and small family and a mortgage on his farm His Honor quickly came to the conclusion that it would be the wife and family who would suffer if he committed the guilty one to prison, so he let him off on suspended sentence on condition that he never touch a drop of intoxicating liquor for a year and attend church regularly, something unique for this man. He carried it out faithfully, became a sober, honest man, it wasn't long before the mortgage was wiped off the farm, and there was no happier wife nor children in all the community than the erstwhile drunken kleptomaniac's. Our Canadian judiciary have been men of mature judgment and sound common sense and none have had broader humanitarian views on giving those who have gone wrong a second chance than our own Senior County Judge. In his responsible position has had great opportunities for doing good and the Enterprize is pleased to bear testimony to the fact that he leans on the side of compassion rather than severity.

A New Cheese Originated at The Central Experimental Farm

(Experimental Farms' Note)

A new, medium high flavour cheese has been originated by the Animal Husbandry Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms system. It is called "Meilleur Cheese," or "Le fromage Meilleur," and is being manufactured at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The process of manufacture is, briefly, as follows:—

The milk is heated to a temperature of 90 degrees F. when it is renneted and cut. The curds are then cooked at a temperature of 115 degrees F., and afterwards moulded and pressed, in one and three pound sizes, ready for the curing room. The process of curing is one of the most important features in the successful manufacture of this high class product.

This new cheese possesses a very pleasing and delicate flavour with no objectionable odour, and has been pronounced a very superior product by the numerous experts and connoisseurs by whom it has been tried. It is a distinot and valuable acquisition to the cheese industry and the present indications are that it will meet with a very popular demand.

A Benevolent old gentleman had taken a special interest in his friend's son. "Suppose," he said to him one day, "that I should give you a thousand dollars, what would be the first thing you would do with it?"

"Count it!" said the promising youth.

The Flight of Birds

Birds have been given credit for flying at enormous speeds. They are said to put aeroplanes to shame, but I do not believe there is a bird living that could keep pace with a really fast machine piloted by man.

The pigeon has the reputation of being one of the most rapid flyers, yet I have seen an aeroplane overtake a flock of pigeons flyiug at full speed.

While travelling by train or car one often has opportunities of watching birds in flight, and I have witnessed some interesting incidents which prove that birds do not fly at the speed at which they are said to travel, writes Captain Oliver Pike, F. R. P. S.,

The kingfisher, when it is seen flying fast over a stretch of water, seems to be going at an incredible pace, but I once watched one flying parallel with our train while we were going about 60 miles an hour. After travelling about 400 yds our carriage had overtaken and passed the bird.

The smaller the bird the faster it looks to be travelling, although most of our smaller birds can easily be caught up by a car going 25 miles per hour.

Last week, while on a stretch of the Midland Railway, we were passing the mile-posts each 55 seconds Four wood pigeons flying level with the train were not able to keep up with us, although there was no wind to impede their progress.

While we were travelling 30 miles an hour in a car a startled blackbird flew in front of us along the lane, but we soon caught it up, and it had to swerve to one side to allow us to pass.

Some of the larger sea-birds travel at great speeds, especially those which have weight as well as stretch of wing. By calculating the time a gannet, flying down wind, took to travel from one point to another, it was estimated that the bird was doing about 120 miles per hour.

But these birds would, I believe, exceed this when diving on to their prey, for from a height of 300 ft., with beak down, aidedby their wings, they go at a terrific speed.

After Fourteen Years

Mountain Herald— While ploughing on the farm of Mr. Sheppard Ellis, over fourteen years ago, Minor Henderson, lost his gold watch, in the field, and on Thursday last, Mr. Ed. Adams who was turning over the same field, found the watch, which is as bright as a dollar, only the hands were gone and the works a little rusty. The crystal was not even broken.

To Capture Vicious Buffalo Roaming Island in Ontario

An attempt will be made to capture the big, vicious buffalo cow, responsible for the death of a former keeper, that roams the uninhabited Yorkshire Island, about half a mile from the Main Ducks. The animal is the property of Claude W. Cole, of Cape Vincent, and escaped from the Main Ducks, swimming to Yorkshire Island and resisting all efforts to capture it and bring it back.

-it just is!

You'll know the flavor once you catch it—the real flavor of sweet Virginia leaf.

Its ripened right into every golden strand by the pure sunlight of the sunny south.

Roll the smoke across your tongue—aint it grateful?

Early Rising In 1855

Those of us who dislike rising early may take comfort from this story of Laban Madison, a New England farmer of unusual health and strength. He was a tireless worker and so shrewd in his business dealings that he seldom failed to get the better of a bargain.

The winter of 1855 Mr. Madison hired John Banning, a fellow townsman, to work for him. Banning, then thirty years old, knew his employer's reputation. The first morning he rose at four o'clock and walked the mile to Mr. Madison's house. He arrived at four thirty, but to his astonishment Mr. Madison was fuming with impatience "You are late, sir, late. Breakfast was over some time ago, and the oxen are already to hitch up. Your breakfast is on the table. Hurry np and eat!"

After Banning had eaten he helped Mr. Madison hitch two yoke of oxen to the wagon. and they started for the wood lot three miles away. They reached it at a quarter past six and and for a while it was too dark to work. During the day they cut as much wood as possible, and when they returned to the house Banning got a good, hot supper and finished his work about 7 o'clock.

The second morning he rose at three and walked to Mr. Madison's. Breakfast was steaming on the table.

"You're a leetle late, a leettle late yet," said Mr. Madison. "The chores are done, and the oxen are ready to hitch. Set down and eat."

The third morning Banning determined to be on time. He rose, dressed by the light of the moon and hurried off, without looking at his watch. With shouts and knocks at the door he routed the farmer and his wife, helped to do the chores and then sat down to breakfast. When they got up from the table the farmer chanced to look at the clock; and it showed two thirty. Mr. Madison gave a gasp.

"This is a leetle early, a leetle early," he admitted. "We'll set down by the fire-an hour before we start." Then with a grin he turned to Banning and remarked, "You needn't come quite so early after this, John, Be on hand at four; that'll suit me well enough."

Treatment of High Blood Pressure

Many things cause high blood pressure Some of them can be discovered and remedied, and others cannot. In a few instances high blood pressure is harmful in itself, but in many othersi t is actually beneficial, and any attempt to reduce it would, if successful, would do more harm than good. The fear that so many people have of high blood pressure is therefore groundless; they should be told that it often prolongs life.

As a rule high blood pressure merely shows that the heart is trying to send enough blood to all parts of the body when the arteries, especially the minute ones having narrowed or lost their elasticity, are less ready to admit. Though it is true that persons who have had high blood pressure for a long time often die of apoplexy or of Bright's disease, they do not die of the high blood pressure, but in spite of it. The proper course is to discover and remove the cause.

High blood pressure may result from overeating, especially of meat, too much drinking of strong liquors, excessive smoking of strong tobacco, too much salt or too much high seasoning in food. Or it may come from lead poisoning, from infection from chronically inflamed tonsils, pyorrhea, abscesses under the teeth or from auto-intoxications owing to constipation. The cause may sometimes be physic; high blood pressure may result from worry, chronic fret and ill nature, long-continued excitement (a state many people were in during the Great War). intense study of alternations of hope and fear. It may come from overtraining for athletic contests, from overwork or from indolence, from lack of sleep, from exposure without proper protection to the elements—in short, from extremes of any kind. It also frequently follows the acute infectious diseases. Finally, it may come from some defect in one of the glands of internal secretion, such as the thyroid or the suprarenal glands.

The patient himself can remove many of those causes; the rule to guide him is moderation in all things. Of course if actual sources of infection are present, such as bad teeth or deseased tonsils, they must be removed; and Bright's disease or other chronic affections must be treated. Drug giving alone is ill-advised.

When the chief of the New York Fire Department was a small boy he played with matches one day and set fire to a haystack. He was so badly frightened that he ran and hid under a bed. Besides teaching him the destructiveness of fire and of danger of playing with matches, the experience impressed on his mind a child's impulse to hide from flames; therefore standing orders to the New York fireman are always to look under the beds for children who may have hidden there.
