New recreation director to start next Wednesday

(Staff) - Village council has hired 22-year-old Greg Stanley to replace departed recreation director Rick St. Dennis.

Mr. Stanley, assistant recreation director in Almonte, will take up his new position in Chesterville Wed., Oct. 24.

He was one of 30 applicants for the job, left vacant when Mr. St. Dennis took over the recreation department in Smiths Falls at the end of September, and was one of two interviewed for the job at council's meeting last Tuesday.

His arena experience swung council in his favor, according to clerk-treasurer Gary Thompson, who said Mr. Stanley will start at an annual salary of $12,500.

Mr. Stanley is a native of Almonte and has been the town's assistant recreation director for the past 1½ years. He has six years' experience with the Almonte recreation department.

He is a graduate of Algonquin College's Recreation Facilities Management course and holds a B certificate in recreation management, allowing the village to reclaim a portion of his salary in provincial government grants.

He described his job in Almonte "as basically the same as the recreation director's - I helped take some of the load off his shoulders", and he was in charge of hall and ice rentals for Almonte's 1200-seat arena.

Almonte itself has a population of about 4,000 but the town serves an area of 15,000 to 20,000 Mr. Stanley said.

It is the "programming and recreation centre" for an area which encompasses Carleton Place and nearby Pakenham, neither of which has a recreation director, he said.

Mr. Stanley said he was very interested in programming and grants and wants to continue with this sort of work in Chesterville.

He didn't mention any specifics, saying that first he wants to see how the village's recreation budget is broken down and to "learn the ropes at the arena".

One of his first projects will be to see if the village can arrange an agreement with the county board of education for reciprocal use of village and school recreation facilities.

He was involved in such a program in Almonte, arranging for the free use of the high school gymasium and for the past several winters ran a children's gymastics program with an enrolment of over 180.

Mr. Stanley wants to see if a similar agreement could be arranged to allow for the free use of North Dundas District High School and says he wants to get in touch with representatives of St. Lawrence College to arrange more co-operative recreation programs for various age groups.

He also aims at getting more provincial grants for the village recreation department, especially for summer programs.

Almonte employed 16 young people in its recreation department this summer, all of those salaries were covered by provincial and federal grants and Mr. Stanley said he is sure similar programs could be introduced to Chesterville.

The students in Almonte were employed under a variety of programs and spanned the age range from the very young to senior citizens.

He said he was particulary interested in seeing money from the senior levels of government used to benefit the municipality and added that he wants to see more programs initiated for senior citizens.

Mr. Stanley is already familiar with the recreation committee system village council will soon bring into being here. While in Almonte he worked with committees in charge of recreation, arena management and community service. Two members of Almonte town council sat on each committee.

Ingleside sewer design approved

INGLESIDE (Staff) - The design for a new trunk sanitary sewer line here has been approved by the Ministry of Environment.

Submitted to the ministry in July, the design is a draft of trunk lines from Killarney Ave. to Ingleside's existing pumping station and an extension from the new trunk line to Farran Dr. It was drawn up by township engineer Derek Wilson in July.

At an estimated cost of $468,000, the new trunk lines are part of a possible two-phase plan to improve Ingleside's sewage system. The village has had problems recently with overflowing and pollution in the St. Lawrence River. The pumping station has not been able to function efficiently in periods of heavy runoff.

Mr. Wilson is now calculating the benefit to Ingleside property owners before he proceeds with the next step - getting debenture approval from the Ontario Municipal Board.

The new trunk line will improve drainage in the village but increase flow to the pumping station. This may mean changes to the station - the second phase of the project - for an estimated extra $277,000.

Council still hopes to meet with the engineer and Environment Minister H.C. Parrott over grant applications for the rehabilitation project. Councillor Frances Bird wants priority treatment for small villages unable to afford "big headaches". The ministry controls allocation of grants between 15 and 75 per cent for such projects.

The changes could include increasing the capacity of the chlorine retention tank and adding a pumping main.

Ingleside's sewage system problems are similar to those experienced by other Seaway villages. All systems were installed by Ontario Hydro after the St. Lawrence Seaway opened 20 years ago.

Osnabruck Township council invited council members from Prescott, Cardinal, Iroquois, Morrisburg and Cornwall Township to meet at the end of September to discuss common complaints. Only members from Cornwall Township, concerned over Long Sault's sewage problems, turned up.

Teachers' case to be heard Oct. 23

CORNWALL (Staff) - The results of next Tuesday's arbitration board hearing between the SD&G County Board of Education and its secondary school teachers will have a large bearing on the outcome of stalled contract talks, according to chief board negotiator R.M. Whitteker.

Arbitrator J.F.W. Weatherill, a Toronto lawyer, will meet with teacher and board representatives to rule on the grievance lodged last April with the Education Relations Commission (ERC) over the board's decision to increase the Pupil Teacher Ratios in SD&G secondary schools.

The grievance was lodged April 22, shortly after the board announced its budget for the next school year and in their charge, the teachers claim the board violated its collective agreement by unilaterally raising PTR.

Teachers claim that the letters of commitment attached to their contract remain in effect until a new contract is settled. The contract, which set PTR at 17:1, ran out Aug. 31 and the board's position, according to Mr. Whitteker, is that the letters of commitment were dated and are no longer in effect.

Class sizes have been the major stumbling block in negotiations for a new contract and Mr. Whitteker said the length of time taken to get the hearing has hindered the progress of contract talks.

The two sides have met nine times with the last session being held with mediator Grant Gillespie Sept. 10. When no progress was made at that meeting, Mr. Gillespie resigned and handed the case over to the ERC-appointed fact finder.

The fact finder's report on outstanding contract issues is to be presented to the ERC Oct. 31 and no strike or lock-out action can be taken until both sides have studied it and it has been made public.

The findings of the arbitrator's report, due probably within 30 to 60 days, will be binding on both parties and regardless of how it goes, the board could be placed in a "no win situation" according to Mr. Whitteker.

If Mr. Weatherill rules against the board, it will have to adjust PTR to conform with the terms of the expired contract.

If the board wins its case, teachers can still stick to their new contract demands, which call for a lowering of the figure.

"It is up to the arbitrator to prescribe the remedy" for the PTR problem, Mr. Whitteker said. He guessed that the simplest solution in case the teachers win the argument would be to return to the original PTR.

Neither side in the contract dispute is willing to discuss other outstanding matters until the issue of PTR has been settled. Mr. Whitteker said the other outstanding items have received "very little consideration" with discussions on PTR taking up "85 or 90 per cent" of the meetings to date.

He does not foresee any further bargaining sessions until the arbitrator has handed down his judgment.

A further teacher grievance, a charge of bad faith bargaining lodged against the board shortly after the original grievance was made, will not be resolved until after Mr. Weatherill makes his report.

At a meeting Monday, representatives of the Education Relations Commission ruled unanimously that the bad faith charge hinges on the arbitrator's findings and that the ERC cannot make a ruling until after the report has been completed.

First boat people arrive

IROQUOIS (Staff) - Dundas County welcomed its first Vietnamese "boat people" Saturday when four refugees were greeted by their sponsors, members of Williamsburg Christian Reformed Church.

The four are staying with the Arie Geurkink family in Iroquois until they can be settled in an apartment, probably in Morrisburg.

The congregation, centred in Williamsburg but with members from across the county, had applied to sponsor a family of 10 refugees and it appears now that another a group of up to seven persons will be arriving in the county, although neither members of the congregation nor Canada Immigration representatives know when they will arrive.

The four who came Saturday arrived in Canada Thursday and were escorted by Immigration officials from Montreal to Cornwall, where they were met by members of the Christian Reformed congregation.

The group is made up of two sisters, Luong Tran, 32, a schoolteacher, Luong Nga, 47, a Buddhist nun, niece Tran Tieu Le, 14, and nephew Luong Hien Hang, 3.

The congregation was told that the 32-year-old Miss Luong, the group's spokesperson, could speak English, but it was apparent soon after their arrival that her understanding of the language is only partial at best.

To remedy the problem, the aid of David Hoy, properitor of the New York Cafe in Iroquois, was enlisted.

The recently-arrived family are ethnic Chinese from Saigon and speak the Cantonese dialect, so they had little trouble conversing with Mr. Hoy, who prepared a small English-Chinese dictionary, containing basic words written in both Chinese and Roman characters, in order for them to converse

Separate board communication

FINCH (Staff) - Some headway was made Thursday towards improving communications between the SD&G Separate School Board, teachers and community at the first of a series of public inquiries into the subject held here.

The two-man Commission of Inquiry at St. Bernard's SS agreed to look into the possibility of distributing a one-page synopsis of board meeting through the churches, a suggestion that came from Chesterville physician Dr. G. Slowey.

Speaking as a concerned parent, he told commission chairman Aime Marcoux and board superintendent Percy Beaudette that this is one way the board can keep its ratepayers informed.

"I'm not sure what goes on from one election to another. That may suggest a certain apathy on mine and everybody's part but the local trustee should be more of a PR (public relations) person," he stated.

Mr. Marcoux agreed that the "idea's an excellent one" and promised to "push" it.

Other means discussed between some 30 ratepayers and the commission of informing the community of board activities included sending calendars and other notices through the children.

Although Mr. Marcoux and Mr. Beaudette tried to stimulate discussion on specific communication grievances and how to improve them, most of the evening hinged on a six-point brief presented by the combined Chesterville-Finch Catholic Parent-Teachers Association.

Emphasizing awareness, participation, and two-way communication between board and community, Mr. Marcoux asked for comments on the role of a trustee, subject content in the schools, the PTA as a vehicle for airing concerns and other communication channels. He met with little response but called the meeting a good beginning.

Some of the questions collected in the brief presented by spokeswoman for the CPTA Wilma Ganter included concerns about hiring out-of-town caretakers; saving money on bus routes; continuing Catholic education in the high school level; the delayed entry program into junior kindergarten; placing itinerant teachers; care of external appearance of schools; and the cut from a whole to a half of day of Chesterville's senior kindergarten.

The Commission of Inquiry plans meetings from 7:30-10pm at St. Mary's, Morrisburg Oct. 18 and at St. George's, Long Sault Oct. 24.

Crysler drain hearing

BERWICK (Staff) - Finch Township council has set a date for the Court of Revision for the Brisson Drain without waiting to hear an engineer's report on drainage in the new Crysler subdivision.

Nov. 5 has been set aside to hear the one appeal on the municipal drain. Petitioned for in May 1978, it has been held up because of inadequate

Rainfall report

(Staff) - The following is the rainfall report for the week Oct. 7-13 issued by the Dundas County office of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food:

Accumulation	467.4mm	490.4mm	589.8mm

Switch for garbage collection

(Staff) - Garbage collection hours will change in the village of Chesterville beginning Mon., Oct. 22. Because of the cold weather and early winter darkness, garbage will be collected beginning at noon on Mondays and Thursdays and this will stay in effect through the winter months. Village council has also issued a warning to those who place their garbage in large drums. Council says that because of their weight 45-gallon drums do not constitute proper containers and will not be picked up. Garbage must be placed in pails of reasonable size or in plastic bags.

Osnabruck gets $35,000

(Staff) - Osnabruck Township is one of 21 municipalities sharing in the latest round of Ministry of Housing Ontario Home Renewal Program grants. A total of $642,000 has been allocated with Osnabruck receiving $35,000. OHRP provides per capita grants to Ontario municipalities to administer directly as loans to homeowner-occupants to repair their houses to an acceptable municipal minimum standard. Loans of up to $7,500 can be made under the program and forgivable portions and interest rates depend on applicants' imcomes.

Castor bridge opened

with the Geurkinks.

Mrs. Geurkink said Monday that despite the language barrier, the family seems to have taken to Canada.

Even though Canadian food is radically different from that served in Vietnam, all four of the refugees are eager to try the new taste sensations.

"They're willing to try anything. They're very polite and won't turn down any food. One thing we've noticed is that they're fascinated with our toaster," Mrs. Geurkink said Monday afternoon.

One thing they haven't gotten used to yet is the cold Canadian weather and they won't think of going outside without first bundling themselves up in heavy coats.

The elder Miss Luong has been ill since her arrival but Mrs. Geurkink puts that down as much to exhaustion from their 24-hour flight to Canada and the stress of her new surroundings as to the weather.

The family arrived in Canada with little else except their clothing.

They had to pay $2,000 in gold jewelry to book their passage on a boat out of Vietnam and Miss Luong said they had encountered pirates before their craft arrived in Malaysia, where they were herded into an offshore refugee camp along with thousands of other escapees.

According to Jenny Geleynse, RR3 Winchester, who met the family when they arrived in Cornwall and whose husband, Bart, is a deacon in the Christian Reformed congregation, Miss Luong will be the breadwinner in the family and has already expressed a desire to get a job and start going to night school to learn English.

One member of the congregation has offered her employment and Mrs. Geleynse said there are also a number of unskilled jobs available in the area which wouldn't demand much of an understanding of English.

The Luongs have said they want to become self-sufficient as soon as possible.

The congregation is legally responsible for the family for their first year in Canada or until they become self-supporting.

The congregation sponsored the family under an "Umbrella" agreement between its parent church and Immigration Canada.

W.D. McNaughton, head of the Cornwall Immigration office, said if for any reason the congregation cannot support the family, they will then become the responsibility of the parent church.

Instead of collecting money for the Luongs' support ahead of time, Mrs. Geleynse said the congregation will take up collections as the needs arise.

Court of revision for Crysler drain drainage in the development in the south end of Crysler.

Councillors are impatient to get started on the drain and instead of waiting for the report, they decided to invite engineer R.M. Kostuch to attend the Court of Revision with his report if it is ready.

"It's got to go through," said councillor Armand Gibeault at the regular meeting Monday.

"Counties council is waiting for us to go ahead with it," added another councillor. It was petitioned by United Counties road superintendent D.J. McDonald.

The drain has been approved by the Ontario Municipal Board and "everything is ready to go," commented a council member.

Tenders could go out this fall once the bylaw is passed, said Finch Township clerk-treasurer Arnott Empey.

At Monday's meeting a Court of Revision was held for the Stark drain. With no appeals, it was adjourned quickly and tenders were called for noon Nov. 5. Councillors hoped work could be completed by Dec. 31.

"If it's wet weather you've got to give them (contractors) a chance," said councillor Don Shane.

Stidwill Engineering representative Gaetan Leroux believed work on the Stark Drain could be finished within a week of starting depending on the weather.

CARES to sponsor refugee family

(Staff) - A name and an executive have been chosen for the Chesterville and area citizens group which hopes to sponsor a Vietnamese refugee family in the area.

CARES (Chesterville and Area Refugee Emergency Sponsorship) adopted its name and chose its first executive at a meeting last Thursday evening at the United Church Hall and the group will meet at the same location at 8pm Thursday to discuss fund-raising and organizational plans for the sponsorship of a family of "boat people".

CARES reflects the district-wide response to the call by Chesterville clergy for the formation of a committee to begin work to bring a refugee family to the area. Committee members come from Dunbar and Morewood as well as from the village.

A similar meeting has been called for those interested in a refugee sponsorship program in Winchester, Thursday evening.

Bob Bennett was chosen chairman of the committee and will be assisted on the executive by secretary Mimi Adamson, vice-chairman Robin Morris and treasurer Sarsfield O'Connor.

The committee will be expanded to include representatives from all village and area churches and organizations.

It was agreed that $500 from the collection at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church be moved to a CARES bank account to begin work on the sponsorshop. The congregation raised $650 and about $150 of this will be given to the Winchester committee.

Letters will soon be sent to all village and area householders asking for financial support or the donation of clothing or household articles. Included in the letters will be requests for rental accommodation - which will be paid by the committee until the family becomes self-supporting and for employment for the refugees.

Osnabruck drain

OMB approves funding

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - Debenturing has been approved by the Ontario Municipal Board for the Osnabruck drain, it was announced at last Tuesday's meeting of Osnabruck Township council.

The date for a Court of Revision for the $28,000 municipal drain has been set for Oct. 18. Depending on the outcome of the meeting, tenders could go out this fall.

The drain, designed by Kostuch Engineering Ltd., Cornwall, will run through lots 18, 19 and 20 in the third and fourth concessions. It drains into Hoople Creek.

Approximately 45 property owners have been assessed including those in Osnabruck Centre.

The township has also received $25,600 additional funds in loans from the province for tile drainage - "more than was expected," said clerk-treasurer Lois Smith. She had applied for $44,000 but was surprised to get $25,000.

This will cover almost two-thirds of applications totalling $35,000 for tile drains.

Carl Smith wins OWF Breeder, Exhibitor banners

Carl and Muriel Smith of Sunnylodge Farm, Chesterville, display the banners won by Mr. Smith at the Ottawa Winter Fair's Eastern Ontario Holstein Championship, held Oct. 4. It is a rare honor for an exhibitor to take home both banners in a show the size of the OWF Black and White. Mr. Smith placed in the top 10 in nine classes, taking second and third in the two-year-old class and a fourth and seventh in the senior heifer. His showing was helped out by Sunnylodge Lynne P, Grand at South Mountain and Reserve Champion at Chesterville this summer. Lynne was recently classed Excellent by the Holstein-Freisian Association of Canada. The Premier Breeder banner is awarded for cattle bred by the exhibitor while the Exhibitor banner is awarded for cattle owned, but not neccessarily bred by the exhibitor.

MP featured in new magazine

OTTAWA (Staff) - Stormont-Dundas MP Ed Lumley is one of several parliamentarians featured in the inaugural issue of a quarterly publication devoted to the organization and work of parliament and its relation with government in society.

Mr. Lumley, along with Privy Council president Walter Baker, Jack Murta and several other MPS, gives his impressions on making the transition from private to public life in the first issue of Parliamentary Government, the publication of the Institute for Research on Public Policy. The article compares how those of different professional backgrounds make the transition to being an MP.

Mr. Lumley is in his second term as the member for Stormont-Dundas and the former Cornwall mayor and businessman contrasts the way he was used to doing things with the way things must be done under the constraints of the parliamentary process.

Compromise and slowness are the touchstones of parliamentary decision-making, he says in the article.

Mr. Lumley is quoted as saying that parliamentary documents seem to have been written "by lawyers, and for lawyers".

The article states that lawyers now make up the largest professional group in parliament and goes on to say that they seem to have the least difficulty in adjusting to Ottawa because of their training, their familiarity with government gained through acting for or against various levels of government in their law practices, and their ability to develop expertise on a variety of subjects.

Mr. Lumley bases his comparisons on his experiences both in municipal politics and his business dealings.

The articles quote him as saying that at the municipal level change could be more easily brought about.

He found that he had to convince only six other council members of the validity of his point of view. In addition, he felt that a collective will to achieve common goals existed in municipal politics. By contrast, at the federal level, the need for all views to be considered and for compromise to be established results in long delays."

Mr. Lumley also points out that a businessman has more to lose by entering politics than does a lawyer, who can often take up his practice once he's through with Ottawa.

The financial sacrifices are generally greater for businessmen, he says and added to that is the "loss of control over time and decisions, and the frustration of not being able to effect change as many businessmen are used to doing," the article states.

The businessman also has to change his way of thinking about his new profession since those engaged in business prefer to keep a low public profile in their dealings.

He must learn that now that he is in public life, he has to stand up and take credit for his achievements. To carry his customary sense of discretion over in political life would be "suicide at the polls", the article quotes Mr. Lumley.

Course in agriculture to count for HS diploma

IROQUOIS (Staff) - A meeting will be held at Seaway District High School here Tues., Oct. 23 to discuss the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education's proposed agriculture technology course.

If enough interest is shown, the course will be offered on a co-operative basis, split between the classroom and farm.

The course of study will include agriculture, English and mathematics and in addition, students will be expected to participate in a work experience program by living on a farm and carrying out assignments set down by the owner.

Upon completion of the program, students will be awarded a total of seven credits towards a secondary school graduation diploma.

The meeting at Iroquois on the 23rd gets underway at 8pm and board representatives will be on hand to discuss the program, answer questions and enroll students interested in finishing off their grade 12 diplomas.

Those interested in the course but who cannot attend the meeting are asked to contact Gilles Lacelle at Seaway District, 652-4878, or Ron Sullivan at the board's Cornwall office, 993-6990.

Awards from the Dundas County Black and White Show were presented at Saturday night's Holstein Club banquet with Carl Smith, left, Chesterville, receiving the Premier Breeder, Reserve Champion Cow and Breeder's Herd awards; Mac Thompson of Morewood receiving the award for Grand Champion Cow; Dwight Gilmer of South Mountain in the Best Uddered Cow award and Ralph Fawcett, RR3 Winchester, the Premier Exhibitor award. - staff photo -

The banquet capped a busy year for the county breeders, who set attendance records at their barn meetings; had a record number of entries in the county Black and White Show; had one of their members elected a vice-president of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, and another receive a Master Breeder's Shield.

President Glenn Pemberton remarked on the year's activities, noting that the club's largest-ever attendance at a barn meeting was recorded Feb. 7 at the farms of John Douma and Carl Smith, and that a week later the county's national director, Allison Fawcett, was elected fourth vice-president of the national association at its Toronto convention. At the same convention a Master Breeder's Shield was presented to Carl Smith of Chesterville.

Two busloads went on the club's annual trip this year, this time to Holstein operations in western Quebec. Mr. Pemberton also related the success of the annual calf sale, held at Fawcett Bros. Sales Arena, RR3 Winchester, and he thanked the auction firm for again donating its commission to the club to help finance its operation.

To commemorate the club's 50th anniversary, Mr. Pemberton said a map of the county showing the 95 herds on test in Dundas had been printed and distributed to members.

Allison Fawcett spoke on the history of the association and introduced the club's only two surviving charter directors, Mel Dawley and Howard Biccum, both of Winchester.

Holstein-Friesian fieldman Grant Smith said it was the first time in his memory that charter members had been in attendance at a 50-year banquet and he said the combination of youth and experience in the Dundas club bodes well for the breed in the county.

"We're continuing to make good progress in Eastern Ontario. We have a lot of eager young people who are building up good herds and who are doing a great job as you can see from their high herd averages," Mr. Smith said.

This year's Dundas Black and White Show, held in August in South Mountain, was the largest county show in Mr. Smith's district and he said the importance of showing cattle could be seen in the steady improvements in breeding and feeding programs in the county.

As producers continue to breed selectively for good type, their production records rise accordingly, he said.

This was borne out by the five awards presented for high herd averages, all of which were for composite Breed Class Averages in excess of 150.

This is the first time in the district that so many herds have exceeded the 150 mark, he said.

He added that the number of longtime production awards presented Saturday demonstrated the strength of the breed.

Carl Smith of Sunnylodge Farm, Chesterville was presented with two longtime production certificates for 90,000 kilograms and awards for 70,000 kg. were presented to Raymond Porteous, Keyes Smith, Ralph Fawcett and G.H. Geurkink (two certificates).

Awards for 60,000 kgs. were presented to W.R. McMenomy and Sons, Bernard A. Brunt and Sons, Russell Suffel (2), Terrdale Holsteins (3), Mrs. Edward Rose (2), K.F.J. Groniger, Dwight Gilmer, Klaas Leyenaar and Frank Milne.

Martin Verburg of Iroquois had the highest composite BCA in Dundas for the period Jan. 1 - Dec. 31, 1979, with a figure of 163.5 on 160 for milk and 167 fat with a 3.95 per cent test on 62 records.

Runner-up was Harry Geurkink of Brinston, with a composite of 160.5 on 28 records of 156 for milk and 165 for fat.

Angus and Carl Smith of Chesterville had the third-highest figure, a composite of 159.5 on 156 milk and 163 for fat; Con Pemberton of Inkerman was fourth with a composite of 152.6 on 150 for milk and 155 for fat, and J. Frank Casselman of Chesterville was the fifth-highest with a composite of 152.2 on 154 for milk and 151 for fat.

Trophies won at South Mountain were presented at Winchester Friday night.

Carl Smith received the Biccum and McIntosh award as Premier Breeder; the Kevlyndale Farm award for Reserve Champion, and the MacDonald Feed Mill Ltd. award for top breeder's herd.

Mac Thompson of Morewood received the Wincrest Farm trophy for the Grand Champion of Show.

The Premier Exhibitor award, the Bank of Montreal silver tray, was presented to Ralph Fawcett of Winchester, and the Royal Bank tray for best uddered cow was presented to Dwight Gilmer of South Mountain.

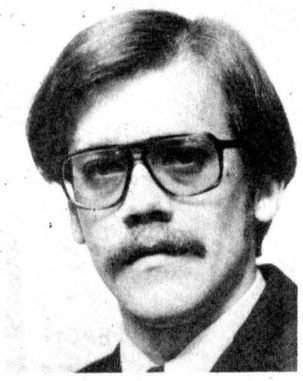
Osnabruck this week —— by Richard Waldroff



One of the great joys in my life are my children. They can manage to make me terribly angry and yet make me smile at the same time.

Any of you parents out there know what I mean.

Children are God's greatest gift to a man and a woman. I sometimes wonder how anyone and I mean anyone, can abuse or neglect them.

As we approach the end of 1979 and the Year of the Child, I believe it is time to think over the past year and ask ourselves, "What have we done for the children?"

Within our municipality there exist a number of groups working vigorously towards this cause, attempting to raise funds for children somewhere on this planet. This is very Christian and noble.

I hope that we have not forgotten our own, for we really have very little in the line of facilities here at home. A ball diamond or two, a little soccer, a tennis court and lots of parents, who are satisfied to sit on their ??? in their nice comfortable chairs at home and never lift a hand to help out.

I take my hat off to those few people who are working for the betterment of our community and our children. Thank you, you are in my opinion true Canadians.

Township fans on light request

BERWICK (Staff) - Work on a development road between concessions 11 and 12 in Finch Township will begin in 1980 at a cost of approximately $300,000, it was announced Monday at the regular meeting of Finch Township council.

The five-kilometre stretch will get ditches, be widened and will have a gravel base and surface once work is finished in 1981.

The township has asked for work on the road for many years because of heavy truck traffic.

The province may subsidize the development road up to 100 per cent.

In other road business at Monday night's council meeting, the United Counties rejected Finch Township's request for a flashing yellow light on County Road 12 in Crysler.

In its reply, Counties Council said it is not the counties' responsibility to install such lights. The township would have to install it, but, with prior approval from the counties.

Road superintendent Reg Burd met with more success when he asked Finch Township council for four overhead fans for the municipal garage in Berwick.

Arguing that fans pushing heat down from the high ceilings would save about 35 per cent fuel consumption, he convinced councillors to spend roughly $1256 of next year's budget on the energy savers.

Although the money will come out of the 1980 road budget, the 56-inch, four-speed fans will be installed this fall with one in front of each of the four garage doors. Mr. Burd believes the township will save the equivalent of 1,500 gallons of oil this winter.

"You'll pay for it by April," he told councillors.

"They're well worth the money," agreed councillor Armand Gibeault.

The garage is now heated by two oil furnaces.

Firefighters go metric

(Staff) - United Counties' firefighters are being told to "think metric" with the changeover from the Imperial to metric system of measurement due to come into effect Jan. 1, 1980.

Lou Carriere, Cornwall Fire Chief and fire co-ordinator for SD&G, told members of the Mutual Aid Association at their meeting here Monday night that fire services across Canada will go metric at the start of the new year and firefighters will have to get used to measuring their hydraulics in metres, litres and kilopascals.

"Don't think in the Imperial system any more...just blank it out", Mr. Carriere urged the collection of chiefs and deputies at the meeting here.

To demonstrate that metrication's bark is worse than its bite, he gave an explanation of the system telling the firefighters of the advantages metrics have over Imperial weights and measures.

Since all metric measures are multiples of 10, increases can be calculated easily by moving the decimal place to the right. Decreases in size can be calculated by moving the decimal point to the left.

To demonstrate his point, he asked the firefighters to calculate how many centimetres there are in a kilometre. Several shot back with the answer: one million (1,000 times 1,000). When he asked how many inches there are in a mile, the answer had to be calculated with pen and paper (12 times 5,280).

The metric system is calculated scientifically while the Imperial system has developed haphazardly and is based on inexact measurements of the human body, Mr. Carriere said.

The Mutual Aid Association will continue with its introduction to metrics, devoting a half-hour at each meeting to understanding the new system.

Mr. Carriere urged members to become familiar with it as quickly as possible since after Jan. 1, all firefighting equipment manufactured in Canada must conform to the new standards and all directions from the Ontario Fire Marshal's office will be given in metrics only.

Airborne message makes 600-mile trip

AVONMORE (Staff) - Air mail should be so fast.

That's the opinion of Glenn McIntyre of Avonmore who was informed by letter this week that the balloon he and his wife found in a bush west of the village on the evening of Thurs., Oct. 4 had been sent from Penn Run Pennsylvania - a distance of 600 miles - at noon that day.

The balloon was one of 250 released by students at Penn Run Elementary School as part of their observance of the International Year of the Child.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre found the helium-filled balloon at about 10pm on the fourth and sent a letter to the address attached to it, informing the students of when and where it had been found.

They received a letter this week from Pamela Sugg, a grade two teacher at Penn Run Elementary, informing them that the balloon had been released at noon on Oct. 4.

Mrs. Sugg told the McIntyres that as of Oct. 10, eight replies to the airborne messages had been received and the McIntyre's had been from the furthest away.

The correspondence continues with Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre sending the Pennsylvania schoolchildren a clipping from last week's Record which showed the couple with the well-travelled balloon.

Nearly 600 persons visited Chesterville High School on Friday evening on the occasion of the "Open House" designed to show off the school and accomplishments of the students to the parents and other tax payers. Of special interest to most visitors was the addition built last year to house the rooms for teaching Shop Work and Household Economics, as well as the improvements to the older part of the building.

A Grand Hallowe'en Frolic will be held in the Community Hall, Chesterville, on October 31, with Eldred Duquette's Orchestra, Eastern Ontario's Most Popular Dance Band, in attendance. Prizes for best costumes. Dancing 9:30-2am. Auspices 1st Chesterville Troop of Boy Scouts. Admission 75 cents Couple, Single 40 cents.

At the Picadilly Theatre, Williamsburg: "Invitation to Happiness" with Fred MacMurray, Irene Dunne, Charlie Ruggles, William Collier Sr., Billy Cook, Marion Martin and Oscar O'Shea.

Because awareness is an inherent part of their idea of democratic liberty most citizens of Canada feel resentful the moment authority pulls down the blind of censorship in the interest of the nation's war aims, and shuts off off a view of what is going on. Fortunately, the level of intelligence in the country is comparatively high and the curbing of a spread of information that would be valuable to the enemy and views that would be prejudicial against a united war campaign is accepted as a necessary measure in these times.

A recommendation has been made to every farmer in Canada to make a careful survey this fall of his farm project in view of the demands that the war may make necessary at any time.

It has been decided by the management of the National Breweries Limited that any employee of the Dawes Black Horse Brewery, Dow, Frontenac and Boswell Breweries voluntarily enlisting in the naval, military or air force service of Canada, or her allies will be granted leave of absence and preferential treatment.

Television station CJSS-TV Cornwall, went on the air Monday night, and its owners claimed a "first." No other station in Canada, they said had done it so fast. Permission to operate a television station at Cornwall was granted just over 10 weeks ago. Since then, engineers and technicians have been working at top speed at the TV stations Lancaster site.

A hold-up in arrangements developed in Chesterville's well drilling program last week. Bids have been received by the Water Resources Commission for the job and the Cornwall firm contacted was unable to agree to the necessary terms. A special meeting of Chesterville council was held Friday evening and a resolution passed approving the commission choice of Ramon Casselman, of Williamsburg, to do the village drilling.

The report on the increase in the average amount of strontium 90 in Canadian milk, as given by Mr. Monteith, the Minister of National Health and Welfare, need create no alarm. But it leaves no room for complacency either, states the Ottawa Citizen. It reinforces the arguments in favor of a prohibition of nuclear tests, and it strengthens the proposal made to the United Nations by Mr. Green, Canada's external affairs minister, for a world-wide study of radiation.

The second expedition of reeves, councillors and members of district newspapers to view the parks now under development by the Ontario-St. Lawrence Development Commission took place last week. Hon. George H. Challies, Commission Chairman, cautioned that, to make the area attractive to tourists there must also be proper accommodation for them. He said he hoped Upper Canada Village would have progressed far enough by 1961 so as to enthuse and induce people to come to the area.

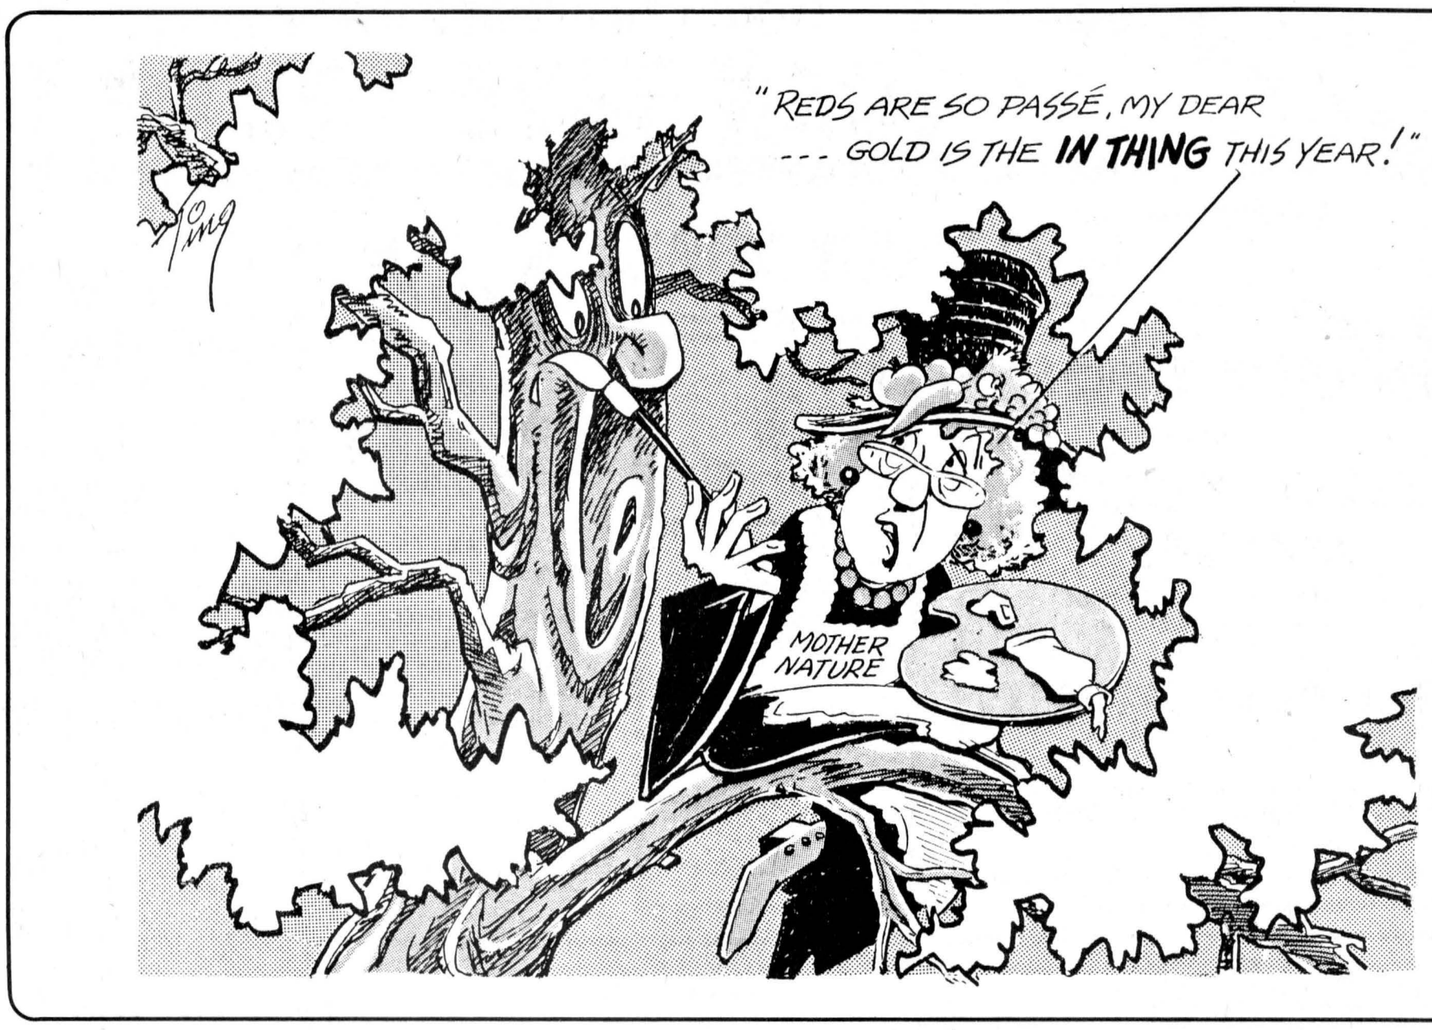
A meeting of Berwick Community Sports Centre was held in Berwick Public School. It was decided to form a bowling league, with bowling at Winchester every Monday night. Floyd Dingwall was appointed president of the bowling league and Dorothy Meldrum secretary-treasurer.

FROM THE RECORD
THURS., COT. 16, 1969

It is doubtful if an area project has ever generated more interest or enjoyed a greater degree of public acceptance than the building of the new North Stormont and District Hockey Arena at Finch. This interest cyrstalized into action on Saturday when 247 persons participated in the 15-mile walk to earn approximately $6,000 for the arena building fund.

Geese are plentiful in the field these fall days. Many hunters are reporting good luck with the guns. After Saturday's hunt Charlie Cassleman, Chesterville and Ellery Ouderkirk, Finch, found the right spot and claimed seven of the big honkers. Orvil Bailey and Don McLean, Chesterville, also found a flock Monday and added four geese to the pot.

Editorial: People who think that it will never come to the point where government will be forced to impose mandatory wage and price controls had better think again. If the call for voluntary restraint fails to halt the spirals of inflation, forced restraints may well become inevitable.



CDMHL defends decision

The Editor:

In reference to your article regarding the Carleton-Dundas Minor Hockey League decision to hold its annual Christmas Tournament in Winchester this year, the executive has instructed me to explain our side of the argument.

First, it was not predetermined that Winchester would get the tournament. The bids from Winchester and Chesterville were carefully weighed by the league executive. Winchester was chosen for the following reasons:

It was felt that Winchester had better seating facilities, including an area from which the executive of the tournament could view the games and choose Most Valuable Players, and an area where visiting teams could store equipment.

That being the case, past experience in implementing this week-long tournament has shown that the income generated would be better in Winchester. The tournament is the league's only way of generating revenue, other than team registration fees. Without a substantial profit, the league would operate at a deficit.

Winchester consented to lower its ice rentals to $15, and to solicit a donation from the Winchester Lions, who operate the canteen. The ice costs would then be approximately the same.

Chesterville was unable to provide a full day of ice time for the traditional Day of Champions, where every game is a tournament final.

Therefore, certainly with no malice intended, the executive opted for the Winchester facility because, basically, of facilities which would be a little better for hosting a week-long tournament.

Yours in Minor Hockey,
Bernie Harper,
Secretary, CDMHL.

Dundas County has welcomed its first family of Vietnamese refugees and those who are concerned with the plight of these unfortunate people should congratulate the congregation of Williamsburg Christian Reformed Church for their humanitarianism in bringing their first allotment of four "boat people" to the county. The congregation is sponsoring another group, probably of six or seven people, although their date of arrival is not yet known.

Although the congregation is centred in Williamsburg, its effort was truly county-wide since its members live in every corner of Dundas. In typically quiet fashion, the congregation set about its purpose and had its efforts partially rewarded with the arrival of its first family Saturday.

We hope the same spark of decency which lighted the fire of concern among the members of the Williamsburg congregation will carry over into Chesterville and Winchester, whose sponsorship committees are now in their formative stages. If single congregations, as in the case of Williamsburg and Ingleside-Long Sault, can respond so readily to the need for generosity, surely whole communities like Chesterville and Winchester can respond in a similar manner and become the refuges for more of these unfortunate Southeast Asians. - robin morris -

The federal government's plan to privatize Petro-Can by issuing shares to individual Canadian citizens and later to restrict ownership in the company to citizens and Canadian-owned companies should be seen as a bold stroke of the type of prairie populism that was at one time the hallmark of the New Democratic Party.

True enough, Prime Minister Joe Clark and his cabinet stole the idea from the Social Credit of British Columbia, which recently gave away shares in its own resource development company to all adults in the province, but Ottawa's plan is nevertheless a daring undertaking and a novel solution to the problem of turning the Crown corporation over to the private sector.

British Columbians have seen the value of their shares in the provincial development company since the stock was first issued and the overwhelming majority in that province are happy with Premier Bill Bennett's experiment in small "c" conservatism. By giving shares to Canadian citizens, each and every one has a real and tangible stake in the great resource gamble. When decisons are made at the management level they are felt immediately in the value of the company's shares. British Columbians don't have to wait until the full effects of a new government policy are felt on the price of the province's raw materials to know what those effects will be. By issuing them shares in the company, the BC government has given each and every one a real share in the future of their natural resources.

The same would be true with the Petro-Can scheme. Although technically privatized, the corporation would in effect be collectivized, with all Canadians given not only a piece of the company but the feeling that they are directly involved in the country's future energy policy.

If the government feels that Petro-Can must be given over to the private sector, then this is an innovative way of ensuring that all Canadians will share in decisions that will have a vital effect on their future. - robin morris -

Osnabruck WI holds Oct. meeting

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Special) - The October meeting of Osnabruck Centre WI was held at the home of Mrs. Lelia Grandaw. Mrs. Annie Ferguson presided, assisted by the secretary-treasurer.

The meeting opened with the Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer. The minutes and treasurer's report given. Roll call "Which has more influence on a child home, school or church" was answered by 19 members and two visitors.

Letters were read inviting the branch to Avonmore Oct. 18 and the Tweedsmuir tea for the district Oct. 13.

Mrs. Curtis, area secretary, reminded members of the vacancies in the area executive.

Mrs. B. Countryman, convener of Family and Consumer Affairs, gave a paper entitled "Canadian Consumer" which is published six times a year. She told about the packaging of "no name" products.

Consumers don't know who made them and the grocery chains aren't going to tell you, they want you to rely on their good name for quality, she said.

"Did you know that any Canadian maple syrup that is labelled with a grade must adhere to standards and that Quebec is the world's largest producer, annually producing 1.5-million gallons from over 10-million trees, which accounts for 60 per cent of the world's supply," she asked.

"Bell Canada will help if you are disabled, or handicapped, and all you have to do is fill out the appropriate Bell Card, and mail it in and you can dial zero to get free operator assistance to complete your calls," she said.

Mrs. Muriel Stewart was the winner of the surprise parcel.

A very amusing contest "Know your money", conducted by Mrs. Anderson, was won by Jean Stewart.

Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Flegg served a lunch and Mrs. Smarzik gave the appreciation.

The November meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Annie Ferguson.

Personals

COLQUHOUN (Special) - Mr. and Mrs. James Palmateer of Cornwall were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. Collins.

The UCW of Colquhoun held their monthly meeting at the manse in Williamsburg last Thursday evening. Final plans were made for the bazaar and tea to be held at Williamsburg Church Hall Fri., Oct. 19 from 2 - 5pm.

Mrs. Dunlop of Elora was a guest of Mrs. Hattie McIntosh on the weekend.

Miss Warner of Ottawa, and Miss Lorraine Smith of Calgary were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gallinger.

Dear Ann Landers:

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's reputation as the neighborhood Mr. Fixit is well-known. It seems he can't say no to a mechanical or electrical challenge, which was OK until an attractive widow down the street asked him if he could get the squeak out of her wooden leg.

Before he could respond, she pulled up her skirt, unstrapped her prosthesis right in our living room and handed it to him. For an hour, she hopped around on one leg, leaning on him (any anything else handy) while he busied himself in his workshop.

When it came time for her to leave, I assumed she would want the privacy of the bedroom or the bathroom to put her leg back on, but instead she proceeded right in front of my husband. Since the amputation is above the knee, he managed to see plenty.

The first "adjustment" was three weeks ago. The woman was very grateful and has been over here with that leg of hers twice since. I'm afraid it's going to be an ongoing thing, and I don't like it.

How can I put my husband out of the artificial-leg repair business withoug looking like a jealous shrew or a heartless meanie?

—His Wife

Dear Wife: When I first read your letter, I thought, "It sounds like the Yale boys are at it again." So I checked the envelope, and the postmark was Woburn, Mass.

I then called Dr. Robert G. Addison of the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago and asked, "Does this letter sound kosher?" He replied, "Yes, indeed. The hinge could be dry and in need of oiling, or the prosthesis may have a broken ball bearing. There could be a misalignment of the joint, or a loose part somewhere."

So, having established the legitimacy of the letter - what is the advice? The wife should tell Mr. Fixit that he's gotten enough kicks out of that leg, and if the widow has any more trouble with it she should take it back to the place that sold it to her and let them do the adjusting.

Dear Ann Landers: Bless you for printing that letter and asking gym teachers to eliminate the two-captain alternate selection system to put together teams. You said you were a klutz, not very tall and often the last one to be chosen. Well, so was I.

I'm a few years younger than you, but we went to the same high school in Sioux City, Iowa. I can recall some other snobbish and hurtful practices that flourished in that era - for example, those so-called literary clubs. They no longer exist, thank heavens, which speaks well for the spirit of democracy.

With so many kids gone wrong, I believe it is useful to point out that in many ways young people are better human beings that we were 35 years ago. Will you please comment?

—Sarasota, Fla., Fan

Dear Sara: Gladly. Thank you for providing the opportunity. I agree that today's young people are less snobbish (we used to say "stuck-up") than when I was in school. They are also more caring, more sharing, less conscious of color, race and religion, better informed about world affairs and a lot less eager to fight in a war. I like these qualities -- a lot.

Eldon Elliott weds Hilda Clark Oct. 6

The marriage of Eldon Elliott of Chesterville and Hilda Clark of Winchester took place at the Presbyterian manse, Morrisburg, Sat., Oct. 6. Rev. Lloyd McCelland was the officiating clergy.

The bride looked charming in a floor-length gown in light blue nylon with darker blue trim running clockwise from the hemline of the long flowing skirt. The jacket, with ascot ties, had simmering flames spreading across its hemline. She wore a corsage of blue fall blooms with matching ribbon. Her matching shoes and bag were of black patent. She wore a shimmering black, white and gold cape over her shoulders.

Her bridesmaid, long time friend of the bride, Beatrice Riddell of Brinston, wore a floor-length gown of beige polyester made on princess lines, with a matching multicolored nylon jacket in tones of brown, gold, and tangerine with a diamond shaped hemline. Her shoes and purse were in multicolored tones to match. Her corsage was in autumn colors of beige, brown and tangerine. Her stole was in white with silver overtones.

Alice Elliott, acting as matron of honor wore a floor-length gown of rust and autumn colors with matching jacket. Ren Elliott acted as best man for his brother.

After the ceremony a luncheon was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott.

The wedding dinner was held at the Country Kitchen, Winchester.

The bride changed to her going away outfit of powder blue polyester with angel wing sleeves with matching trim in brown, with matching shoes and bag.

Cumming-Barkley wed

St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, was the scene of a pretty autumn double ring wedding ceremony at 2:00pm, Sept. 22, when marriage vows were exchanged by James Erwin Cumming and Sandra Diane Barkley. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Ehrhardt and wedding music was by Mrs. Vivian Reddick.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Barkley, Williamsburg, while the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Cumming, Winchester. Given in marriage by her father the bride was radiant in a chiffon gown trimmed with embroidered alencon lace. The blouson styled bodice had a high neck and a sheer yoke trimmed with lace, highlighted by a cameo inset. Attached to the bodice was a long sheer puffed sleeve accentuated at the cuff with lace appliques.

The gown has a full skirt and attached chapel train. On her head she wore a matching lace headband with alencon lace. Attached to the headband was a two-tiered fingertip veil. Her bouquet contained yellow silk roses with hints of baby's breath.

The bride was attended by maid of honour Mrs. Janis O'Connell and bridesmaids Miss Wanda Welsh, Mrs. Laurie Barkley and junior bridesmaid Tracy Barkley, sister of the bride.

The three bridesmaids wore identically styled jacketed gowns in yellow jersey. The jackets had a short sleeve and mandarin collar, closed at the neck with a single button and gathered at the waist with a self-tie belt. Matching Guipere lace border accentuated the sleeves, neckline and front of jackets. A matching spaghetti strapped empire styled gown was worn under the jacket. The junior bridesmaid wore a yellow polyester dress covered with eyelet with low neckline and attached ruffle.

Best man was Steven Little. Ushers were Gary Barkley, Wayne O'Connell and junior usher was William Frobare.

Out of town guests were from New York State, Ormond, Ottawa, Ingleside, Kingston, Toronto, Edwards, Winchester, Hastings, Morrisburg, Oshawa and Chesterville.

The reception was at Winchester Community Centre and the young couple are presently residing at RR1, Winchester.

Finish pre-season in Chesterville

Jr. C players lookin' good in Hawks' camp

WINCHESTER (Staff) - The Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League could be hard hit when sophomore coach Doug Casselman makes his final cuts for the Winchester Hawks of the St. Lawrence division of the Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League.

The Hawks, defending division pennant winners and playoff finalists to arch-rival Morrisburg Lions, opened their exhibition season with a 7-6 defeat to Spencerville Bruins before over 400 persons at home Friday night.

The loss meant little as coach Casselman and his assistants, Peter DeRooy and John Klein-Swormink, quickly got the message they had a scoring roster.

Casselman sat out his number one puckstopper Bruce Jones to look at Blake Henderson of Avonmore and Mike Vantslot of Ottawa West and Dave Spence of Gloucester.

They each worked 20 minutes with Henderson yielding four goals as the Bruins went ahead 4-2 in the first. Vantslot guarded the cage in the middle session as Winchester knotted the score at 6-6.

Pilon fired the winning goal, his second of the night, with 2:38 played in the third period.

Hawks have already inked a number of veterans from last year's team, including winger Rudy Grisel of Chesterville who had 20 goals in his rookie season.

They also put Grant Simpson on a card. He, as a first year member of the Osnabruck Township Kings last year, had 19 goals and 36 assists for 55 points to finish fourth in the EOJCHL scoring.

Still in camp are Grisel's younger brother, Ricky. From Crysler they have defenceman Benoit Lafleche, his brother Sylvain and another winger Denis Raymond. Raymond was tied for fifth in the EOJCHL scoring last year with 32 goals and 21 assists for 53 points.

Hawks trailed for most of the game, beating outshot 41-34 over the 60 minutes. Spencerville held a 20-9 advantage in the first period alone.

Barry Casselman paced the Hawks with two goals as singletons went to Peter Marriner, Glen Mackler, Al Frappier and Rudy Grisel. Grisel also had two assists.

Hawks finish up their pre-season schedule with two games this weekend.

They host Metcalfe Jets at 8:30pm Friday and are in Chesterville at 2pm Sunday against Cardinal.

Minor hockey merger decision in May 1980

(Staff) - A yea or a nay is not expected until next May from the Ottawa District Minor Hockey Association on the proposed amalgamation of Chesterville and Crysler minor hockey.

Representatives of the two local associations met in Ottawa with the ODMHA last Tuesday night to discuss the possible merger for this year.

The ODMHA officials said such an action has to be considered in great detail. It has to be studied at great levels by the ODMHA's rezoning committee which could not guarantee a decision until May 1980. So, until then, the proposed merger is in a "hung position" according to Chesterville and District Minor Hockey Association president George Flanigan.

However, the local association did get approval for two transfers from Crysler for each division- atom, peewee, bantam and midget.

This means, each A division team in Chesterville could have at the most two boys from Crysler on the roster for the coming season.

The remainder of the boys registered- 100 here and 60 in Crysler total- will be assigned to play with Chesterville's B division teams in the Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey League. B division players do not sign playing cards from the ODMHA while A division players do.

Officials of the two associations met Saturday to add and delete a few names to the slate of executive officers. Hubert Farley of Crysler will take over as referee-in-chief from Ron LeClair who was named to the position without his permission at the annual meeting.

Flanigan will remain as president and Mike Lecuyer of Chesterville will still be the first vice-president and third vice-president will be Bernie Farley, also of Crysler.

Brad Mayhew will remain as secretary and Doug Rance the treasurer.

Flanigan and Yvon Lafleur of Crysler will accompany each other as the associations's representatives to the Carleton Dundas Minor Hockey League.

New playoff format

Changes galore for EOJCHL

FINCH (Staff) - Changes galore will be featured as the Eastern Ontario Junior C Hockey League swings into its regular schedule during the last week of October.

Along with a multitude of player changes on the seven teams competing this year, atleast three clubs will have new coaches.

Maxville, Embrun and Alexandria will all have a new man pulling the coaching strings when the puck is officially dropped.

The other most noticeable change for the campaign will be a reduction to seven teams from nine last year. Missing will be defending champion Char-Lan Rebels who moved up the Jr. B ranks and Avonmore Aces disbanded with a shortage of players.

Both teams have been granted a one year leave of absence.

Alexandria Glens have changed ownership to enter their third campaign and Crysler, Raiders, entering their second year, will be playing home games out of the Finch Arena on Thursday nights.

Osnabruck Township Kings and Finch Township 76s will again have a regular Wednesday night double-header at the Finch Arena with the occasional Saturday night contest.

As far as Embrun, Maxville and Chesterville playing dates are concerned there is no change over past seasons.

With the reduction in the number of teams entered, the regular schedule was dropped to 24 from 32 games for each team. That means each team will play each other four times, twice at home and twice away.

One major change will be on the ice when the players decide to forget the puck and play fisticuff.

When a second punch is thrown in a scuffle this year, referees will declare it a fight and assess the player or players involved a five minute fighting major, game misconduct and an automatic additional one game suspension. In the past, players have been given a reprieve on their penalty record to enter the playoffs but that will not be the case this year.

The other major change this year will be the playoff format.

The top six teams in the regular season will qualify for post-season play as the basement dweller gets an early rest from the ice action.

In the first round of playoffs, first will play sixth, second meets fifth and third plays fourth in six-point series.

The three victors will advance to compete in a double round-robin semi-final set with the top two clubs advancing to an eight point championship series.

League schedule has yet to be completed but officials last week released the opening games.

Iroquois PS wins both Dundas boys' soccer titles

IROQUOIS (Staff) - Iroquois Public School may have captured the junior and senior boys' Dundas Elementary School Soccer Championships here last Thursday but it was no easy piece of cake.

Iroquois won its third straight junior title on the strength of a late second half goal to nip Morewood Public School 1-0. Morewood was consolation winners a year ago.

In the senior section, Iroquois dethroned Nationview of South Mountain 4-2 in overtime to win the M.N. Hutchinson Trophy. The junior team was presented with the Charlie's Sports Trophy.

Even with the temperature hovering just above the freezing mark for most of the day, it failed to cool the spirits of the players on the eight senior and 12 junior sides.

The two Iroquois PS sides will represent the county at the SD&G Championships in Avonmore. The seniors will play Mon., Oct. 29 and the date for the junior event has yet to be set.

Morewood PS came up with a gutsy effort to blank Chesterville 3-0 and Elma 1-0 before receiving a bye to the final match.

Morewood played an aggressive brand of soccer to force the play against both teams and it paid off.

On the consolation side of the junior section, Riverside Heights got past Inkerman 2-1 in overtime.

Morrisburg captured the consolation award in the senior division with a 2-1 victory over Maple Ridge B.

Iroquois and Nationview A staged a classic contest for the county's senior crown.

They finished regulation time still scoreless. They went into a 10 minute overtime session with no goaltenders and they split four goals with Nationview coming from behind to get the equalizer twice.

They fired what proved to be the winning marker on a disputed penalty shot and they added their insurance goal off a corner kick.

Iroquois PS along with Nationview each claimed a pair of individual awards on the day.

Iroquois' Steven Picotte was the best junior forward and Donald Nesbitt was the top senior forward. Other senior awards went to best halfback Reggie Francis and best goalie Shawn Kennedy, both of Nationview.

Best junior halfback was Scott Casselman of Winchester and Morewood's Danny Gibson was judged the division's best goalie.

In the cheerleading competition, Winchester won the junior section and Morrisburg the senior.

North Dundas' Patricia Henry out jumps Tagwi forward Janice Beaudette (4) and ND guard Rita Luimes (25) to pull in a rebound during the second half of last Thursday's SD&G senior girls' basketball game at Avonmore. Tagwi won the senior contest 47-40 and the junior girls' wearing double blue also topped the North Dundas crew by a 30-27 margin.

North Dundas drops court games to Tagwi

AVONMORE (Staff) - A third period press produced 11 straight points as Tagwi went on to drop North Dundas 47-40 in SD&G Senior Girls' Basketball League play here last Thursday.

The two teams went to the half deadlocked at 20-20 but the added pressure on the court to start the third period was too much for the North Dundas gals.

Tagwi, with the win sent their personal record to 2-3, quickly intercepted passes and scored three baskets before hitting a foul shot to go on top 31-20.

They went into the final quarter with North Dundas down 33-22. Tagwi led 10-8 after one quarter.

The final quarter was balanced with both teams staying hot on each others heels.

Janet Freeland paced the Warriors with 14 points as Susan McIntosh and Diane Glaude each had eight for the winners.

Karen Blom counted 20 in a losing effort as Peggy Theos scored 10. The loss dropped NDDHS's record to 2-3.

Earlier in the day, Tagwi juniors took their record to 2-3 on the season with a narrow 30-27 victory over North Dundas.

Julie Conroy led the double blue to victory with 14 points as Dawn Davies hooped six.

Tagwi led 5-2 at the first quarter and 15-12 at the half before dropping behind 21-19 at three-quarter time.

Tracey McIntosh had six points for North Dundas. Cathy McGregor, Debbie McVey and Kerri Middlemiss each had four. Their record is 1-4.

Last Tuesday, highly talented La Citadelle easily swept a pair of games from Tagwi.

In league action yesterday (Tuesday), Osnabruck hosted Glengarry.

Tomorrow (Thursday), Glengarry is at North Dundas and Tagwi is at home to St. Lawrence.

As far as the Tagwi Warriors were concerned, the holes opened and closed at the wrong times last Thursday afternoon. Cornwall Collegiate's "Golden Rule" defence delivered once again in blanking Tagwi 19-0 in SD&G Football League play. Three times, Tagwi was in scoring range but came up empty with CCVS holding tight. The loss leaves the Warriors in a spoiler role for the remaining two weeks of the schedule. (Above, left), Tagwi quarterback Wayne McDonell gets some tough yardage as three CCVS defenders call a halt to the run. On the right, CCVS fullback Greg Fyfe (with the ball) pops through a hole for extra yardage as some Tagwi defenders Dave Mason (47) and Bill Rolfe (26) close i

CCVS blanks Warriors 19-0

Tagwi cast into spoiler role

AVONMORE (Staff) - Tagwi Warriors have knocked on the door with sufficient force to have their fists full of splinters.

Tagwi players huffed and puffed with more intensity than any other game this season but still came away empty-handed last Thursday as the Cornwall Collegiate Golden Raiders moved a step closer to clinching first place in the SD&G Football League with a 19-0 victory.

While the Golden Raiders were chalking up their third consecutive win after opening the season with a tie, General Vanier Vikings were beating Glengarry Gaels 8-0 in Cornwall in a battle for second place.

It appears an all-Cornwall final is taking shape with the winner of this Friday's CCVS and General Vanier game conceivably winning the pennant and home field advantage in the Nov. 2 sudden-death championship game.

While they are locking horns in the CCVS field, Tagwi will be looking for their initial major score and win against the Gaels in Alexandria. They tied 1-1 in the season opener.

CCVS and General Vanier tied 14-14 in their previous meeting which opened the schedule and if they should finish the season in a tie, the winner of this Friday's game will get the nod.

The campaign winds up next Fri., Oct. 26 with CCVS at Glengarry and General Vanier at home to Tagwi.

In Thursday's gridiron contest in Cornwall, General Vanier counted the game's only major score in the third quarter when quarterback Brett Doll hit Mark Roundpoint for a 55 yard pass and run play.

General Vanier added their other two points in the final period when Glengarry quarterback Sandy McLaren was sacked in the endzone.

Three times, the boys in double blue moved the pigskin to within scoring range but couldn't push it across.

Golden Raiders got on the scoreboard the first time they touched the ball. After receiving the opening kickoff from Ed DeWit, CCVS moved the ball with authority on the ground. Mark Cook eventually took it over from the one and the convert was not good.

Golden Raiders went ahead 12-0 in the second quarter when fullback Greg Fyfe raced 35 yards for the major score. The convert was again not good.

In the second half, the teams traded fumbles with the finger-snapping cold temperatures taking their toll. Several times the crunching of tackles combined with the weather to leave players on the ground.

Players on both teams spent much of the game huddled along the sidelines in small groups to keep warm.

Tagwi finally got its offensive horses pulling in the right direction in the third period as CCVS penalties aided the Warriors in moving the ball to the Golden Raiders' 25.

They turned the ball over on downs and CCVS marched the length of the field before the Tagwi defence, over-worked much of the season, threw up a steel curtain. CCVS sent in placement specialist Mark Nadeau for a field goal effort from the Tagwi seven but it was blocked.

Tagwi moved the ball to the 20 before losing it to CCVS and the Golden Raiders were foiled again turning it over on downs on the Tagwi 27.

Golden Raiders counted their final major when linebacker Al Atkinson picked off a Wayne McDonell pass on second down to scamper 35 yards. Nadeau's convert was good to make it 19-0.

In the fourth quarter, Tagwi marched the ball to the CCVS 10 before they coughed it up on a fumble.

Tagwi's defence held tight once again as the offence moved the ball back to the CCVS 22. On a third down gamble, Atkinson stepped in front of a Tagwi receiver for his second interception of the afternoon.

Penalties almost cost Tagwi another major score as the Golden Raiders moved the ball down to the Warriors' 12 before the final gun sounded.

Frustration took its toll on the Warriors with DeWit and Mike Wheeler both ejected for unsportsmanlike conduct. They will sit out Friday's game against Glengarry.
