Students Protest Cut-Back

Students at North Dundas District High School are bitterly protesting the Board's decision to cut back on bus service.

The United Counties' Board of Education, in an effort to comply with guide lines set down by the Ministry of Education, decided to eliminate the late buses as one means of reducing costs.

Students, however, consider the service offered by late buses as an integral part of their education program.

Taking away this service, they claim, will virtually wipe out such important programs as music (the band in particular) and most athletic endeavours.

The concerned students have voiced their concern in a 'Letter to the editor', appearing elsewhere in this edition and call on parents to urge the Board to reconsider.

Early reports indicate that not all schools will be taking away the service immediately and some plan to continue the late bus service for the balance of the term.

Trustee Lorne Mellan, when contacted by the Press on Monday afternoon, explained that this is a distinct possibility.

Mr. Mellan explains that each school was budgeted money for late bus service and administration of this fund was left in the hands of school principals.

Some, suggested the Trustee, may have over-taxed their budget on winter program while other budgeted more wisely and are able to continue the service.

Mr. Mellan said the issue will be further discussed at next Tuesday's board meeting.

"But", he continued, "there is little hope of reconsideration since we are all well aware cut-backs at this time are imperative."

Early Morning Blaze Claims Mother And Son At Hulbert

Seven year old Kevin Markell and his 23 year old mother Marilyn died within three feet of an exit and safety early Monday morning as a fire destroyed their frame home just east of Hulbert, located 4 miles south of South Mountain.

Mrs. Markell and her son were overcome before they could escape through a door which her husband Charles, son Calvin, 5, and neighbour Tansy Chapman, 14 had just gone through.

Mr. Markell, 29, Calvin and Miss Chapman, who was babysitting at the Markell home, ran next door to the Chapman home and summoned an ambulance and the Fire Department. All three were treated at Winchester District Memorial Hospital for burns and other injuries. Miss Chapman and Calvin are reported in satisfactory condition. Mr. Markell has been released.

Mountain Township Fire Department was summoned around 4:30 a.m. but when they arrived the home was completely destroyed and the three survivors had gone to hospital. Fire broke out between 4 and 4:30 a.m. and was believed to have been caused by an electric heater. Within a half an hour the drama was over.

Investigation is being carried out by Morrisburg O.P.P.

Neighbours seeking aid

Friends and neighbours from Hulbert and area are rallying to assist Mr. Markell and his son Calvin in any way they possibly can.

Mrs. Elton Cassidy, Hulbert, is heading up a drive to collect clothing, furniture, bedding and house hold effects. Mrs. Cassidy said "we will also be canvassing the area for donations." Nelson Scharfe has arranged for any furniture which is donated to be stored in his factory.

Anyone interested in offering any type of assistance, or seeking information in regard to clothing sizes should contact Mrs. Cassidy at 989-5364. Also anyone delivering furniture to the Scharfe factory should contact Mrs. Cassidy in advance. Her home is situated right in Hulbert beside the factory.

Cardinal Boy Fire Victim

Paul Laushway, 8, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Laushway, was killed in a fire which destroyed his home in Cardinal last Wednesday.

Paul's father, Gregory, is the son of Carl and Marie Laushway, former residents of Winchester.

It is believed fire was started by a propane stove in the kitchen where the boy's body was found. Fire broke out around 8:15 a.m. The body was discovered by fire-fighters at 8:45 but could not be removed for almost two hours until intense heat had subsided.

Flames reached the upstairs rapidly and trapped Mr. and Mrs. Laushway and their other two children Steven, 5 and Robbie 2, on the second floor.

Neighbours reported hearing an explosion and seeing Mr. Laushway and his wife jump from second storey windows each carrying a child in their arms. People at the scene immediately wrapped the four in blankets and rushed them to hospital where they all remain in serious condition.

The Butch Stevenson family who lived in the other half of the old two storey structure escaped injury but lost all of their belongings.

Gregory and his son Steven 5, were transferred to Hotel Dieu Hospital in Kingston. Mrs. Laushway and Robbie remained in Brockville General. All are suffering from severe burns and leg injuries.

Investigation was carried out by David Shorey, Fire Marshall.

Ordain Female Pastor

Canada's first female Lutheran Pastor, Pamela Jo McGee, will be ordained at Morrisburg this Friday evening (May 7th) in an impressive ceremony conducted by Rev. Dr. Otto Rable, president of The Eastern Canada Synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

Following ordination Miss McGee, 29, will assume her post as pastor of the combined parishes of St. Paul's, Morrisburg, and St. John's at Riverside Heights.

The calling of Canada's first female pastor by these parishes continues a long pioneering tradition. St. John's, located 2½ miles East of Morrisburg on Highway 2 near Upper Canada Village, was founded in 1784 by German Loyalists who planted the seed of the Lutheran Church in Ontario.

The original building is now under the waters of Lake St. Lawrence.

Because of the anticipated large attendance estimated at more than 600 the ceremony will be in the Arena beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Dignitaries will be present from as far away as Kitchener and the Lessons will be read by Miss McGee's mother, Mrs. Louis McGee of Wrangell, Alaska and Mrs. Allan Taylor of Renfrew, member of the ECS executive board.

AWAIT FINAL APPROVAL

$180,000 Relocation Program For Hospital

An extensive re-location and renovation program for Winchester District Memorial Hospital is about to become reality. Only final approval is needed from Ministry of Health officials and $180,000 worth of work will get underway. It is believed that approval will be received very shortly.

It is estimated that $170,000 of the required total would be available through grants if approval can be obtained.

This project will provide much needed additional X-Ray facilities in the form of a third X-Ray room. It will also mean larger pharmacy, and more agreeable Nursing office location.

Although new 1976 budget is not ready yet, Board members discussed it in comparison with last year's at April Board meeting. A comparison of total hours of work for this period with totals for the same period in 1975 does however show that staff levels have been sufficiently controlled to date, to allow the hospital to stay within its 1976 budgetary staff allottment, if this trend continues.

Preliminary budget totals show salary cost for 1976 to be estimated at $2,445,580 while other expenses and supplies, including Medical and Surgical Supplies and Drugs are estimated to amount to $936,823.00.

Additional budget work will be necessary to discover whether or not these totals will coincide with Ministry of Health constraint guidelines. A complete review of this year's budget will be held later in the month with Management and Finance Committee making recommendations to Board of Governors on May 25th.

Change In Switchboard Service

24 hour switchboard service will be reduced to extend only until 12 o'clock midnight. This was effective Monday, May 3rd. Now all calls received after midnight until 7:30 a.m. will be handled by first floor nursing staff.

A decrease in budget funds for this purpose made this change necessary. Ambulance Service Dispatching Service has been transferred from the Hospital to a central service operated by the Ambulance company itself. This change means the loss of one part-time position.

Seaway Ambulance Service has made rental agreement for accommodation in the west end of Staff Residence. All construction in the residence to allow for implementation of the agreement has been completed.

Roof Repair

$8,000 in repairs to the roof of the 1948 wing are underway and should be completed in two to three weeks. Repairs are being carried out by Tom Heaphy Roofing. Cost of work will be charged to regular 1976 maintenance and repair account.

Reports

Reports were tabled at the April session which included Director of Nursing, Hospital Auxiliary and Administrator. These reports were accepted as presented and covered such items as staff turnover, O.H.A. District and Board participation by Administrator, approval for wearing of coloured uniforms by nursing personnel throughout the hospital, preparation of policies and procedures for nursing department, changes in staffing patterns for nursing office and units, and Auxiliary Antique and Craft Market, slated for June 25 and 26 and Winchester Community Centre.

Public Relations Committee recommendations approved in March have been implemented and include preparation of Patient Information Booklet, Annual Report Booklet, patient pre-admission form and long term service award.

Business Office Supervisor Roma McMillan notified the board of her retirement which will be effective August 1st. Mrs. McMillan will be honoured for her long time service later this fall.

A letter of thanks was received by the Board, Hospital Staff and Medical Staff for presentation of the painting in honour of the late Miss B. Legris. Legris Family also thanked all concerned for kindness extended to them during their bereavement.

Winchester Taxes Go Up Education Main Cause

As predicted Winchester ratepayers are going to have to dig deep to help pay for Stormont Dundas and Glengarry's 1976 education costs.

A basic assessment of $4,000 (for example) will cost Winchester ratepayers $52.40 more than last year. That is an increase of $52.40 even though it may look big enough to be an entire tax bill.

United Counties Secondary rates jumped from 21.2 mills in 1975 to 28.9 in 1976 for residential. Commercial rates leaped from 23.6 to 32.1 for this year's assessment. Elementary rates for residential went from 28.2 to 33.4 while commercial rates skyrocketed from 29.6 to a towering 37.1. Those increased rates tell the whole story as to why taxes will rise so steeply in 1976.

General village rates actually dropped due to cutback on expenditures as Council held the line during this time of restraint. Residential rates dropped from 35.5 to 30.4 while Commercial ratepayers got a break with figures dropping from 41.8 in 1975 to 35.8 this year.

County levies are up slightly from last year. Residential went from 14.2 to 17.9 and Commercial is up 4.2 mills, 16.8 to 21.

On the totals for Public School supporters this years total is up a staggering 13.1 mills. Last year's total reached 97.5 this year's is 110.6 for residential. Commercial total is up 14.2 mills to 126 from 111.8.

As a mountain climber once said, "Everything from here on is up."

Mother's Day

This Sunday is 'Mothers' Day', a day set aside each spring to honour mothers of the world. None are more deserving than these lovely ladies whose modesty is surpassed only by their undying love for their children.

Some of us, unfortunately, can only cherish beautiful memories on this 'Mothers' Day', and find joy in the realization that our own dear Mother is at rest in a much more beautiful home.

Arthur Frederic Otis once wondered what Heaven held in store for mothers and asked the question in poetry:

Following are three of his six beautiful verses:

I wonder -- does Heaven give mothers
A sort of a separate place,
With clothing to mend
And bruises to tend
And tears on a very small face?

And do you suppose there is darkness,
With small figures kneeling in white,
And tales to be told
And covers to fold
And hands to be held very tight?

There must be, for how else would mothers
Find joy that is promised Above,
When all of their days
Are spent finding ways
Of serving the children they love?

Williamsburg Township Tax Hike

The 1976 budget highlighted last Saturday's Williamsburg Township council meeting and following lengthy discussion the figure approved was $708,060. Translated into assessment this will mean an increase of approximately 3 mills which, combined with an additional 3-mill increase in the county rate, makes a combined total of 6 mills. However taxpayers should remember that to date council has received no school board demands.

Another item under discussion was the use of trailers and mobile homes, and as a result By-Law No. 25 was passed prohibiting the use of any trailer or mobile home for residential purposes in the township.

By-Law No. 23 concerning the improvement of Kendrick Drain was read a first and second time, and the Clerk was advised to write Ontario Hydro in connection with the purchase of land for a park in Mariatown.

In a setting of Easter Lillies, on Saturday, April 17th, 1976, a wedding ceremony was solemnized in Knox Presbyterian Church, Mountain, Ontario, at four o'clock in the afternoon, uniting in marriage Iris Ellen Brown and William Benjamin McConkey. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Howard D. Smith B.A., Th. The bride is a daughter of the late James H. Madden and Ellen Guy (Mountain); the groom is a son of the late Benjamin McConkey and Nettie Rebecca May Dales (Winchester).

The bride was escorted to the altar by her nephew Lloyd J. Madden. For her wedding, the bride was attired in an elegant Lady Colony two piece floor length gown fashioned on princess lines from pastel pink and blue floral sheer chiffon worn under a delicate pastel blue cape. She carried a "True Love" bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath with matching flowers worn in her hair to complement her attire. Mrs. Jay Bailey (Beatrice) sister of the groom, matron of honour, and Mrs. Emerson Stewart (Evelyn), bridesmaid, friend of the couple, were the bride's attendants. Mrs. Bailey wore a beige sleeveless dress with matching jacket, white accessories, and a single pink rose corsage. Mr. and Mrs McConkey spent their honeymoon in Western Ontario and will reside at 552 Main Street West, Winchester, Ontario.

Hospital Day

Public Invited To May 12 Displays

"A Costly Business but Still Your Best Value", is the theme for Canada Hospital Day which is being observed this year on Wednesday May 12.

"Hospital Day", says The Honourable Marc Lalonde, Minister of National Health and Welfare, "gives all Canadians the opportunity to acknowledge the part played by hospital staffs, trustees and volunteers working together to serve their communities across Canada.

Mr. Lalonde, in his message to the public, notes that in Canada residents should be proud to have a health care delivery system which is one of the best in the world.

"Canada is also one of the few countries in the world where no person is denied necessary health care because of his financial status", he continues.

"Good health care is not cheap", concludes the Minister, "and new treatment procedures and the advances of medical science many increase the annual health care bill but, more importantly, they return those who are ill to healthy, productive life." "The health care delivery system must always be ready to serve - - and always ready to save", emphasizes Mr. Lalonde.

Plans for Hospital Day at Winchester District Memorial Hospital have been completed and Inservice Co-ordinator Miss Coons assures the public interesting displays will be in evidence along with plenty of educational information.

Embrun Panthers Hockey Champs

Embrun 'Panthers' the Intermediate hockey team that has been attracting rave notices for several years, put it all together this season and emerged with the Handy Cup, emblematic of the Canadian Championship.

The local team climaxed their most successful season with a 5 to 1 win in the fifth and deciding game of the series against Prince George, B.C.

The win, although the achievement of a lifetime for the players, had special significance for goalie Wayne Hughes who was named the Most Valuable Player in the series. Wayne, however, was not the only Embrun player honoured. Runners-up in the mvp voting were John Hutton and Marc Brunet as well.

Embrun Mayor Gaston Patenaude admitted 90 per cent of the players were from Ottawa but the victory was Embrun's, and the town turned out full force to welcome back its heroes.

Qualifying for the western jaunt Embrun had skated by Timmins in straight games and ousted Port Colborne three games to one.

Sportswriter Clem Kealey, writing in The Ottawa Journal, suggested the thrilling victory was just another reminder of the impact Ottawa and the area has on professional hockey. Clem drew attention to the fact six former area stars are presently playing in the NHL semi-final series.

"Three on each team", he writes, "launched their careers right here in the Ottawa Valley--the two Potvins and Perth's goalie Bill Smith for the Islanders, and on the Montreal squad pro hockey's best backup netminder Bunny Larocque along with defenceman Larry Robinson and winger Murray Wilson.

The champions were feted at a town party last Friday night.

50th Anniversary

On April 21st, 1976 a most successful party was held in Allan Hall in honour of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Carkner on their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

Over two hundred friends, neighbours and relatives attended.

A musical evening was provided by the Guitar Groupe from St. Mary's Church as well as organ music by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Roma McMillan. A hilarious mock wedding was performed by the church group.

Milton Carkner and Retta McMillan were married at Elma Ontario at the bride's home by the Rev. John Hurst on April 21st, 1926, and spent their honeymoon in the United States.

The bride of 50 years ago was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arthur McMillan, Chesterville.

The groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carkner, Winchester, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Carkner farmed 11 years east of Elma, then kept store at Froatburn for 25 years, during which time Mr. Carkner served in the Armed Forces in Canada and overseas. He also drove the mail on the Morrisburg Rural Route for 17 years. They retired in 1962 and moved to Morrisburg where they are still residing at 14 St. Lawrence St.

Mr. and Mrs. Carkner have three children, Arthur, Lois and Jay, and seven grandchildren, all residing in Morrisburg.

On Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Carkner were entertained to a lovely dinner at Brockville by their family.

The happy couple are shown proudly displaying the Ontario Government anniversary plaque.

Work Wanted Without Pay

A rather unique ad appears in the 'Help Wanted' column of this newspaper.

"Wanted - Work Without Pay", it reads and in this age of continuous demands for higher pay the plea should receive immediate response. Many students, presently attending Seaway Valley School for the Trainable Mentally Retarded, are eager to be doing and their instructors point out that these seniors, between the ages of 15 and 21, need work experience to help them become useful, and confident adults.

NDDHS Takes Top Honours

Allan Hoy, 17 of Hallville, and David Barkley, 17 of Chesterville, representing North Dundas High School at the 1976 Chrysler Trouble Shooting Regional Contest last week in Hull, Quebec, took home top honours.

Allan and David were presented special awards for obtaining top marks on the written portion of the contest, they finished second to a team from Arnprior District High School in the practical section. By virtue of their narrow win Arnprior will now compete in National Finals, in Toronto, June 21, 22, and 23, against 20 other regional champions for $6,000 in scholarships.

14 schools took part in the competition, which was designed for contestants to find and repair malfunctions in cars deliberately rigged by Chrysler service technicians. North Dundas's team located and successfully repaired their troubles but had to settle for second spot when inspectors located an unfastened hose clamp. At least eight or nine teams could not even get their cars started.

Trouble Shooting is sponsored by Chrysler Canada Ltd. and local Dodge and Plymouth dealers to give recognition to student auto mechanics and encourage them to pursue careers in automotive service. Prizes in this year's competition totals more than $50,000 in scholarships, trophies, tools and automotive components for competing schools. North Dundas Automotive Department will receive two new automatic transmissions as prizes in regional competition.

Mr. Ken Morrow is automotive instructor at North Dundas and was extremely proud of his students showing and related that both Allan and David are planning to attend Centennial College in Toronto to expand their knowledge of automotive repair.

W.J.L. Boyd and Sons Ltd. of Winchester sponsored North Dundas in the contest.

Ed Boyd, W.J.L. Boyd and Sons Ltd., sponsor, congratulates David Barkley and Allan Hoy on their excellent showing in Chrysler's regional trouble shooting contest.

National Capital Development

WALTER BAKER, MP
GRENVILLE-CARLETON
OPPOSITION HOUSE LEADER
THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

The local press has focused its attention recently on the Joint House and Senate Committee on the Development of the National Capital. The Ottawa Journal asks some specific questions on the point of view of Mr. Joe Clark, M.P., Leader of the Opposition. His views are interesting indeed and I thought you would be interested in having a full text of the questions and answers.

Q. Do you favour the creation of an Ottawa-Hull federal district similar to the national capital in Washington? If so, why? And if not, why not?

A. The answer to the question depends on what one means by a "Federal District". If, as the analogy to Washington would imply, it means the creation of a new form of government answerable primarily to the federal level and outside or beyond the traditional jurisdiction of the two provinces involved, I would say the idea is not a practical one. Ontario and Quebec have established jurisdiction, fully supported by the constitution, and I see little likelihood of that changing in the foreseeable future.

Rather than pursue that kind of fruitless debate, it would seem far more preferable to me to work toward improving relationships and the machinery within the existing constitutional framework with the aim of: (1) Preserving and strengthening local government as the primary point of community planning and decision-making. (2) Encouraging the relatively new regional governments on both sides of the Ottawa River to work in harmony. (3) Insofar as the legitimate role of the federal government within the region is concerned, improving consultation and coordination between federal agencies and the provincial and local governments.

Some people may find a Washington-style federal district a more straightforward alternative to the more complex "mix" of governments we now have in the region. But it seems to me frankly that the vast differences in the history and development of the two cities and regions make any real comparisons virtually impossible.

Q. Do you favour amending the British North America Act to include Hull as part of the national capital? If so, why? And if not, why not?

A. Again, it is a question of definition. It seems to me there are two separate, but related, concepts at issue. One is that of the capital city of our country -- the seat of government, if you will -- which I believe should continue to be Ottawa. The other is the National Capital Region which, as already set forth in the National Capital Commission Act, embraces a considerable area on both sides of the River and within which the federal government has both an interest and a responsibility as expressed through agencies like the N.C.C.

If the Trudeau government seeks, in fact, to alter these basic concepts, then I believe very strongly that it has a responsibility to do so openly and in direct consultation with the provinces involved and not through the kind of backroom tinkering which appears to have been going on.

Q. Do you approve of the federal development program in Hull? If yes, would you accelerate it or keep it at same scale? If not, why not?

A. Since Hull is very much a part of the National Capital Region, I certainly can support the construction of federal installations there -- provided such installations are made with the approval of and within the overall planning parameters set by the local governments involved. I would apply the same principle to federal development in Gloucester, Nepean and other municipalities within the Region. Insofar as the scope and pace of such development is concerned, as I already have suggested, I believe that is very much a matter for negotiation with local governments which have a right to expect that their planning and development priorities will not be destroyed by unilateral action by the federal government.

Q. At present a Special Senate-Commons Committee is studying the future of the National Capital Commission. Several M.P.'s have already expressed their views on the N.C.C. What do you think? Should the N.C.C.have more power, less, or continue as it is now?

A. I would not want to presume upon the deliberation of the Joint Committee of the House of Commons and Senate as they consider the future of the National Capital but I want to make it clear that I believe that the constitutional jurisdiction to plan lies in the Regional Municipalities on both sides of the Ottawa River and this must be recognized. The Federal Government certainly has a place and a part in the planning and development process and a prominent part indeed. However, I do not accept the concept of "local government by bureaucracy". Nor do I accept the idea that the Federal Government ought to do indirectly what it cannot do directly. For the good of the Capital area and to ensure that it has the physical, linguistic and cultural (-- indeed multicultural --) attributes, which we feel ought to be part of a national capital, a new consultative approach is necessary. This likely will include appropriate amendments to the N.C.C. Act to ensure that these matters are accomplished by the existing institutions augmented by new structures. The stated power of the N.C.C. should therefore be amended to ensure that such consultation takes place and that the constitutional authority for planning is observed -- unless and until that is changed by agreement with the Provinces.

The Committee will soon be completing the taking of Municipal Briefs and evidence from these Provinces which have indicated their intention of appearing. This will mark the beginning of a new stage when Briefs from institutions and organizations will be considered.

Despite comments to the contrary, progress is in fact being made in hearing evidence but the fundamental question remains to be tackled. What is the concept for Government in our National Capital.

Morrisburg Lions Best Junior "B" Team In O.D.H.A.

It took seven games but Morrisburg Lions finally proved to Hawkesbury Hawks and their fans that 1976 was the year of the "LIONS".

Morrisburg captured O.D.H.A. Junior "B" Championship Trophy and Ottawa District Junior "B" Championship Award with a one-sided 10 - 4 victory Sunday in the seventh and final game.

1976 was with little doubt Morrisburg's year as they, along with two trophies for Sunday's series victory, captured Gill Cup for division honours, Winchester Press Trophy for pennant win, President's Trophy for having the Top Scorer in South-East Division (Kevin Duvall), Legion Trophy for Top Goalie (Don McNairn) and the Bill Linegar Memorial Trophy for Coach of the Year (Ken Morrow Jr.). Lions emerged tops of 27 teams in O.D.H.A.'s four Junior "B" Divisions winning 45 of their 60 games. Morrisburg were beaten only nine times and tied on six occasions during the season.

Truly a Championship record!

Sunday's series and Championship deciding victory was the first clear-cut win for either Hawkesbury or Morrisburg in any of the seven games the finalists have met. Lions let it be known early where all of the League Silverware would be kept for the next year as they jumped into a 6 - 1 lead after 20 minutes of play. Jeff Cassell opened scoring with his first goal of the final series. Ernie Duval, Doug McNarin, Bill Veley, Kevin Duvall and Brian Moran all blinked the red light in period one. Mike Kelly replied for Hawks.

Hawks did all of the scoring in period two with two markers by Pierre Louiseize and Dan Conway. Score after two - Morrisburg 6 - Hawks 3.

Lions applied more power in the final period opening with two quick goals to put it out of reach at 8 - 3. Ernie Duval with his second and Hugh Gillard with the first of a pair salted it away. Pierre Louiseize fired home Hawks fourth and final goal before Gillard and Bob NcNarin pumped home numbers nine and ten.

With a win out of their grasp Hawkesbury turned on the "rough-stuff" and were assessed 14 minors, 4 majors and 3 game misconducts. Morrisburg were handed 12 minors, 3 majors and 2 misconducts. 1,791 fans turned out to watch Morrisburg Lions capture O.D.H.A. honours for the first time ever.

Series reached the seventh game with each team picking up a win in last week's action. Wednesday in Morrisburg, Lions edged Hawkesbury 8 - 7 and Friday in Hawkesbury the home-towners dumped Lions 5 - 3.

Doug McNarin and Hugh Gillard each fashioned new hats in Wednesday's 8 - 7 win. Gillard's third won the game at 17:18 of period three. 1,300 were on hand to see the teams go goal for goal through-out 60 minutes of a game which was tied seven times.

Hawks' Luc Beaulne also had three goals in the contest with his third making it 7 - 7.

Gillard and Beaulne traded goals in period one. Doug McNarin notched his first in that frame as Morrisburg grabbed a 3 - 2 lead. Gillard and McNarin each collected number two on power-plays. McNarin also hit for number three before the second ended.

Chuck Lawlor and Brian Moran had the other Morrisburg goals. Doug and Mike Kelly along with the Radford brothers, Jim and Walter, dented the twine for Hawkesbury.

Hawkesbury forced a seventh game with a 5 - 3 home-ice victory Friday night.

Jim Radford and Dan Conway gave Hawkesbury a 2 - 1 lead which held up for two periods. Lion's captain Chuck Lawlor had scored for Morrisburg.

After a scoreless second period Hawk's Pierre Louiseize broke things wide open with two goals. Morrisburg replied with two to make the score 4 - 3 in Hawks favour. Lawlor with his second and Kevin Duvall put Lions close but Yvon Joly potted an empty netter to give Hawkesbury a chance at the title.

Congratulations to everyone connected with Morrisburg Lions Junior "B" organization on a tremendous season.

Club officials (Left to Right) Gerry Hess and John Rice along with Lion's captain Chuck Lawlor proudly hoist championship silverware for all of their faithful fans to see. Morrisburg Lion's became O.D.H.A. Champions for the first time ever with a resounding 10-4 victory over Hawkesbury Hawks Sunday afternoon. Morrisburg captured the title winning four of the final seven games.

Sylvia Weiner Places Third In Marathon

Ottawa's second annual National Capital Marathon attracted some locally known talent to Sunday's 26 mile event.

Mrs. Sylvia Weiner, wife of well known Winchester businessman Louis Weiner, entered the gruelling marathon and finished third among lady competitors.

An all time high of 543 runners covered 26 miles of Ottawa streets, many in record breaking times. Ideal course and weather conditions, overcast and 11 degrees C, helped the first twenty finishers best last year's winning time of 2 hours: 26 minutes: 38 seconds. Toronto's Wayne Yetman was first to cross the finish line in a time of 2:16:32 two minutes faster than his previous best. Yetman's time qualified him for Canada's three man marathon team which will compete at the summer Olympics in Montreal.

Mrs. Weiner's time of 3:23:57 was 3 minutes 26 seconds slower than her previous best of 3:20:31 which she posted in a marathon at Buffalo New York. She is no stranger to long distance running as the National Capital event on Sunday was her sixth big race. Mrs. Weiner is a member of Montreal's Wolfpack Track Club and trains both in that city and here in Winchester.

Eleanor Thomas, Ottawa, repeated as top female runner with a time of 3:09:49, seven minutes better than last year. Cominique Achour of Montreal was second in a time of 3:19:54.

Mrs. Weiner, who competes in a 40 to 49 year old category, received a participation award for her fine finish. In order to keep in top physical shape she trains daily and runs as many as 26 miles a day.

Two more area residents also competed. They were Alvin Runnalls of the Winchester area and Frank Casselman of Morewood. Mr. Runnalls' time was 3 hours and 45 minutes. This was his second time in this particular marathon. He has participated in several others. Mr. Casselman had never entered a marathon before but completed 23 miles. Both men have been in training since early spring.

In Exhibition Play

Winchester, Mountain Split Weekend Double Header

Two of the interprovincial Junior Fastball League's newest entries, Winchester Royals and Mountain Township Mets split an exhibition double-header played Sunday at South Mountain.

Both squads begin regular season play next Sunday, May 9th when they meet in opening day activities. Winchester and Mountain will square off in a 7:00 p.m. game at Kemptville's Riverside Park. At 8:30 Merkley Supply of Ottawa will go against Kemptville A's. That afternoon in Hull's St. Redempteur Park Kemptville will play "Les Ambassadeurs de St. Redempteur at 1:30 p.m. and Ottawa Bayshore Hotel visits Hull Volants.

Sunday's exhibition was another chance for Royals coaching staff of Bill Hogaboam and Gerry Helmer to look at prospective players. Almost two completely different teams played for Winchester in the double header.

Mountain took a narrow 3-2 comeback victory in game one. Brian Wyatt and David Guy were the winning battery. Mike Armstrong and catcher Grant Levere took the loss. Teams were scoreless after one but Royals grabbed a 2-0 lead in the top of the second inning. Danny Hogaboam was hit by a pitch, forced to second on a walk to Mike Armstrong. Hogaboam then scored when Grant Levere hammered a double to the fence. Armstrong scored on Danny Clement's long fly ball to make it 2-0.

Mets then went to work chalking up three runs to take the lead for the first time. Second baseman Jackie Ace started the rally off with an infield single. He scored on a hit by Jim Fawcett and an error by Royals first baseman. Fawcett then went to second and Willie Meerakker walked. A single by Kevin Smith drove in both runs to put Mets up by one. Royals got out of that bad inning and mounted several comeback attempts but were unsuccessful. Grant Levere doubled again in the fourth but was stranded when Karl McRoberts struck-out and Danny Clements flyed-out. Winchester loaded the bases in the top of the fifth on two walks and a single but a force-out at third and another strike-out by Wyatt on Danny Hogaboam killed the drive. Final Mets 3, Royals 2.

Winchester introduced a new line-up for game two and behind shut-out pitching of Danny Hogaboam picked up a 3-0 win. Keith McRoberts was winning catcher. Enroute to the win Hogaboam issued 11 strike-outs, allowed 11 walks but did not give up a hit. Steve Smith and Dave Guy absorbed the loss. Smith gave up six hits and issued five walks.

Royals got all three runs in their half of the third inning when Bruce Angus walked, scored on a single by Perry Morrell. Morrell stole third and scored on a throwing error to second. Bruce Simpson, who was walked, moved to third when Morrell scored made it 3-0 on Mike Armstrong's double. Mountain mounted a drive in the top of the final inning but a super catch by Bruce Angus and a tag at third by Morrell ended the game. Final Winchester Royals 3 - Mountain Mets 0.

Opening game for Royals is slated for next Sunday, May 9th at Kemptville. It is Winchester home game so get out and support the Juniors. Home games following opening weekend action will be played at Winchester Community Park every Monday night.

Urge Cyclists Go Safely

Ontario recorded its first 1976 two fatalities caused by more than one person riding on a bicycle when a child lost control of his bike while carrying a friend on the crossbar.

Last year, 56 individuals were killed in accidents involving bicycles and a further 3,720 were injured. These figures indicate an increase of 24 per cent in the number of deaths and 7 per cent in the number of injuries from 1974.

The Highway Traffic Act on Ontario stipulates that it is a punishable offence to carry another person on a bicycle designed for carrying one person only.

Minister of Transportation and Communications James Snow urges all parents to ensure that their children are aware of the danger of "riding double".

"I'm also asking all parents to remind their youngsters to obey the rules of the road," said Mr. Snow. "Please remember -- tragedies such as that which happened recently don't have to happen."

800 Fans Cheer Wrestling All Stars

800 wrestling fanatics cheered, yelled and screamed their way through a two hour wrestling show staged last week at Winchester and District Arena.

Although the 1,400 pound McGuire twins, Billy and Benny, could not make it to Winchester for Tuesday night's performance they were hardly missed when a midget match-up between Sky Low Low and Little Boy Blue replaced them.

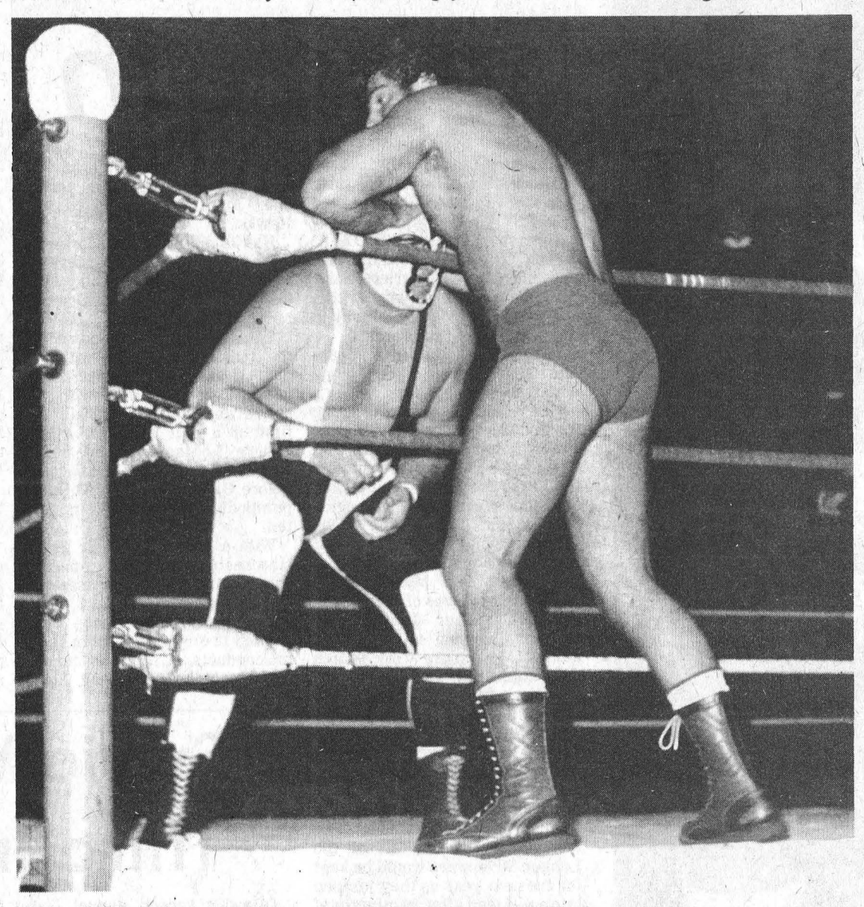
The two pint-sized performers put on a crowd pleasing show which saw Little Boy Blue take a decision over the veteran Sky Low Low after some very entertaining shenanigans which included a very skillful referee.

Wolfman and Bearman clawed hammered and grunted their ways into the hearts of absolutely no one, but bad guys are used to that. Usually a villian, veteran Hans Schmit turned hero and won a decision in his match.

Raymond Rougeau and Edouard Carpentier although scheduled to fight El Santos No. 1 and No. 2 in separate matches both had to contend with both masked marauders. However good managed to overcome the forces of evil as each Rougeau and Carpentier gained victories.

Carpentier and Rougeau, both are very popular where ever they wrestle, drew a maximum of fan support both physical and vocal as they were continually beseiged by the El Santos team.

Obviously wrestling has a multitude of fans in this area and possibly if a card is put on again in Winchester you should go out and see it. Even if you are not a wrestling fan watching the true lovers of the sport is worth the price of admission.



Raymond Rougeau is about to administer a turnbuckle smash to El Santos No. 2.

Veteran Hans Schmit uses every trick in the book to defeat his opponents.

SQUARE DANCERS HOLD ANNUAL DINNER AND DANCE
Friday night will be hoe down night at the community centre when THE COUNTRY COUSINS square dance club celebrate their annual dinner and dance for members only.

HAPPY TO REPORT EVERYTHING SUCCESS
Three major events came off with flying colours last week at the Community Centre. On Tuesday night the Wrestlers put on a great show for the packed house. We had another first with a public reception upstairs at the same time as the Curling Club held their big dance. The music was great both upstairs and down and it did not seem that two major events the same night caused any problems as everyone had a great time.

ARENA EXPANSION NEWS
All indications are full speed ahead for the new addition to the arena and hall and although we are only in the planning stage an executive is being formed with JOEL STEELE being named as chairman of the fund raising committee and HARRY KEYES heading up the building committee. It is still too premature to know with any degree of accuracy just what is planned in either area but watch for a major news release shortly.

Banquet Awards Complete Raiders' Season

Russell 'Raiders', the Intermediate hockey team that surprised both sports writers and fans alike with their end-of-season rally, ended the season on a happy note last Sunday evening at The Commercial Hotel.

Hotel operator Benny Colasante, who sponsored the club, proved a gracious host and following dinner the balance of the evening was spent dancing to the music of 'Sweet Folk All'.

During a brief intermission team manager Ron Conway congratulated the players for making their first season in the East Carleton loop so successful.

Mr. Conway also officiated for presentation of awards including miniature trophies for all players, as well as those associated with the team in either an administrative or training capacity.

Bob Woods, who was named the team's Most Valuable Player, thanked the donors and called for a minute of silence in memory of late Rupert MacDonald.

Photo '5'. The Asa Sullivan Memorial Award, commemorating the memory of Mr. Sullivan who starred with Russell hockey teams in his youth, is being presented by Mr. Sullivan's grandson Brad, right, to Don Honey who was named the Most Sportsmanlike player.

Photo '6'. Team manager Conway donated a very special award for the player, considered by both management and players, to have been Most Dedicated 'both on and off the ice'. Mr. Conway said the selection was unanamous and the winner, Doug Thompson, left, was understandably both surprised and happy.

Ontario Fights Encephalitis With Mosquito Program

Ontario is launching a public information program to assist householder control of mosquitoes. This will supplement provincial and municipal control activities aimed at the elimination of the encephalitis threat, Environment Minister George Kerr and acting Health Minister Bette Stephenson announced today.

A home control pamphlet is being made available to householders through local health units in what is commonly called the encephalitis belt, the section of Ontario south of a line drawn from the top of Lambton County to the northern fringe of Metropolitan Toronto. This pamphlet offers tips on eliminating insect breeding sites, using repellents and insecticides and tips on avoiding mosquito bites.

This information will be available to local health units outside the encephalitis belt on request of the municipality and to individual householders from any local Ministry of the Environment office.

Bicycling has changed, and so have bicycle safety rules.

This is what Ontario is doing to bring bicycle safety up-to-date

There are about 2½ million bicycles in Ontario today. Last year 56 bicyclists were killed on Ontario streets and highways, and 3,720 were injured.

Even one is too many.

We urge you to make yourself and your family familiar with the simple rules and guidelines of bicycle safety. Obey all stop signs and traffic lights. Keep in mind that a bicycle is, by definition, a vehicle under the Highway Traffic Act. After all, you don't just "ride" a bicycle – you drive it. And Ontario wants every bicyclist to drive safely.

That's why the Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications has prepared 3 easy-to-understand folders that every bicyclist should read. They're called "The Bicyclist's Handbook," "Ontario Laws and Your Bicycle," and "How To Be an Expert Cyclist."

Test Of Skill For Canoeists

White water time is here again and on Monday, May 24th, the Mississippi Valley Conservation Authority will hold its annual "White Water Experience" on the Mississippi River.

The event is not a race but rather a test of skill for canoeing enthusiasts. The ten sets of rapids covered in the event vary in their degree of difficulty and offer a challenge to experienced canoeists as well as newcomers to white water canoeing. Should any participant feel that a set of rapids is beyond his or her capabilities, they may portage on well-marked and cleared trails. As well, safety crews are stationed at all rapids in case of a dunking.

A bean supper, catered to by the Balderson's Women's Institute, will be available for $2.00 per person on the shore of the river at the end of the event.

Entry fee for the event is $2.00 per canoe, $1.50 per single kayaks. Registration will be from 12:00 noon until 1:00 p.m. at the outlet of Dalhousie Lake, Lanark near McDonald's Corners.

For safety reasons, the following rules must be followed by all participants:

--all participants must wear government approved life-jackets; -- all canoes and kayaks must have bow and stern lines and proper flotation; -- all participants under the age of 18 years of age must have written parental or guardian approval prior to entry.

Entry forms and additional information are available from the Mississippi Valley Conservation Authority, Box 419, Carleton Place, Ontario, K0A 1J0, 257-4272.

Curlers Hold Windup Festivities

Another exciting and highly competitive season at Winchester Curling Club ended on a festive note last Saturday evening when 150 members and guests sat down to a delicious banquet prepared and served by Porteous Brothers, Caterers of Vernon.

Rev. Myron Maxted asked the blessing and head table guests were introducted by Max Boyd. First vice president Gerald Holmes announced winners of various bonspiels and schedules throughout the season. Winners in the ladies division were recognized by Mrs. Betty Barton.

President Hugh Eadie, in his brief but informative remarks, paid tribute to the property committee and all who had worked so diligently assuring completion of the 16-foot extension to the club rooms.

Mr. Eadie also reminded members that the club will be celebrating its 50th anniversary next season and confirmed that special plans are already on the drawing board.

Miss Ina Thompson, ladies' club president, also reviewed the successful year and thanked all who had made her task a bit easier.

A sing-song, led by Dr. Barton with Mrs. Fetterly at the piano, was thoroughly enjoyed, and, although most trophy presentations had been made at the club at the completion of bonspiels, one very important one was left for banquet time.

The Alex W. Davidson Memorial Trophy, emblematic of men's club supremacy, was won by skip Denzil Crowder and the presentation was made by president Eadie. Other members of the Crowder rink were: Harry Hutchinson, Maynard Cinnamon, Garry Baker.

A highlight of the evening proved to be presentation of Snake River badges to a mixed rink that had earned the dubious honour by failing to score a single point in a scheduled contest. Those so honoured were Ran and Norma Wylie, Dave and Peggy Humphries.

Following the banquet club members and their guests were joined by the general public for dancing at the arena to the music of the 'Fowler Street' band.

The Rummage Sale at the club this weekend, all day Friday and Saturday morning, will wind up activities till nest fall.

the way we see it

Communication And The Deaf

The main problem of deafness, says the Canadian Hearing Society, is communication. When you meet a deaf person take the time to communicate. It may be frustrating at first, but the hearing impaired person will be patient. They have difficulty communicating every day of their lives. Face them and speak clearly. Use gestures and facial expressions to clarify what you mean. When necessary write your message. And don't shout. Imagine what it would be like to have people yelling at you all the time.

May is Hearing and Speech Month in North America. During this month the Canadian Hearing Society is encouraging the public to find out more about deafness. When most people think about deafness, they think about sign language. Seeing deaf people communicating with their hands on the subway or in the street is an experience common to most of us. Because deaf people use a different medium of language, there is often a feeling of strangeness towards them. Terms like "deaf and dumb" or "Deaf Mute" have the connotation of lack of intelligence. Deaf people have the same range of intelligence as hearing people.

Sign language is a language in which gestures do the usual work of spoken words. The movements of the hands and arms replace the spoken elements of language. The eyes instead of the ears receive the message. Gestures are common to all peoples. Sign language is visible communication developed beyond the gestures people use every day. In sign language, gestures are symbols which are organized in a linguistic way. The individual gestures are called signs.

Eighty per cent of deaf people use sign language when communicating with each other. However using sign language does not mean that the deaf cannot speak but only that many deaf prefer to use sign language than speech. Some deaf master speech and lipreading; some do not. It is extremely difficult to imitate speech if you have never heard it. Because many words are invisible on the lips it is also difficult to lipread.

Going Fishing

With the unusually warm weather of the past few days it is difficult for sports enthusiasts to realize that there are several weeks ahead when the weather will be cold.

Fishermen particularly, are cautioned to guard against falling into cold water. Practically all accidental immersions are caused by a momentary bit of carelessness. No one is inclined to think of drowning as the ending to a fishing weekend but there is a possibility this may happen if you are suddenly thrown into cold water at this time of year.

Hypothermia is the rapid physical and mental collapse accompanying the sudden chilling of the body's inner core. In water that is 10 degrees C (50 degrees F) you may be unable to move within twenty minutes and you could be unconscious in less than an hour.

The Ontario Safety League suggests a few safety precautions to avoid tragedy:

- Ensure that your boat and motor are in top condition
- Wear warm windproof and waterproof clothing with knitted wristbands
- Tuck trouser legs into laced boots to prevent cold water circulating close to the body
- Wear a life jacket securely fastened over your clothing
- Keep loads light and the boat's centre of gravity low
- Watch the weather for signs of a storm
- Remain seated when casting or landing fish
- If not too far from land, leave the boat and swim ashore.

Living Happily Ever After

by Dr. Gordon C. Smyth

Couples look forward to marriage, but not all find what they hope for. It is one thing to anticipate the wedding, but another thing to live happily beyond that day. Happiness does not just happen; it is achieved.

Some quite simple but fundamental principles may help guide a couple in establishing the kind of relationship that will give them mutual satisfaction in the early months of marriage and prepare them emotionally for the years ahead.

(1) One of these principles is to burn the bridges of the past. The choice has been made. They have said that they were taking each other "for better or for worse", and so should be prepared to take the worse with the better, though they should concentrate on the better.

(2) A second principle is for them to be positive instead of negative. They ought not to be niggardly about their compliments. But they should never be critical of each other in the presence of others. To air their matrimonial problems before relatives and friends makes for a loss of mutual and self respect without which their marriage is moving toward disaster.

(3) A third principle is to divide and share the tasks of homemaking. A couple will be happy if they plan together, if they make their decisions together, if they develop a spirit of mutuality in all their experiences. If they go into debt, they should do so in line with anticipated income. Many marriages have gone on the rocks because one or the other, or perhaps both, failed on the level of financial maturity.

(4) Another principle is to feed their love and thus keep it growing. There are many ways that love is witnessed--by a thoughtful act, a warm glance, an encouraging smile, an affectionate kiss, and, of course, the most complete human witness of all, when the two become one in body as an outer token of their union.

(5) The final principle is to keep growing mentally and spiritually. The couple ought to share the best things--the best books, the best music, all beautiful things possible; the religious way of life.

I am not reluctant to acknowledge that many couples have a satisfying and rewarding marriage without benefit of an on-going church connection. However, in most of these instances they at least got an early start in life at church or parents bequeathed to them the Church's ethic.

At the same time the observation must be made: a generation that is drifting from the public worship of God is experiencing a corresponding decay in marriage ties. In church a couple find support for the ideals that shone in their eyes on the wedding day.

The marriage service usually opens with some such words as these, "Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labor in vain" (Psalm 127:1). Therein is wisdom, as over against the fiction of soap operas and too many romantic novels taking advantage of human weakness for the sake of the almighty dollar.

To The Editor,
Winchester Press,
Winchester, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

We, the students of North Dundas District High School, bitterly protest the recent cutbacks made by "our" schoolboard.

The main dispute is regarding the removal of the late buses. This cutback may be of financial benefit to the school but it is extracting an imperative service from our rural school. Unlike students in the city who have regular city buses to transport them to and from school activities, we have only one mode of transportation which is the regular schoolbuses. They leave at precisely 3:30 p.m. which provides no time for extracurricular activities. These activities include the most important part of the music program, namely the band. The band provides the main link between the school and the community.

Our excellent sports program would be virtually wiped out. Our successful intramural and interschool basketball, volleyball, soccer and track and field teams would be destroyed. The only time for these teams to practice is after school. Because of maximum use of facilities, the gymnasium is being used at all times.

You the parents can understand how difficult it would be to have to pick up your kids after school. Many parents are just getting out of work at this time and others are milking, and doing the chores on the farm.

Since the late buses are an essential part of "our" school life, we need you the parents to be aware of the situation at hand and help us get the board to reconsider their decision. We need the late bus service to our school. Please, all we ask is for you to help us keep them. After all, you are the ones paying the taxes!

Sincerely yours,
Kathy Dillabough

To The Editor,
The Winchester Press,
Winchester, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

I would like to take this opportunity, on behalf of the Winchester Adult Hockey League, to thank The Winchester Press for the excellent coverage given our league and our games this past winter.

We had a very successful season, and a lot of fellows who thought they were finished with hockey had the opportunity to get some much needed exercise and play their favourite game again. Thanks largely to the press near the end of the season our spectator attendance was also very good.

I would like to give special mention to your sports writer Al Van Bridger (Somebody tells me that he had a special interest in one of the teams) who writes up the games as if he had taken a page out of the press in the thirties, and written about those great town league teams of yesteryear. Keep up the good work Al.

Also a special mention to Joe Rowan, for his moral support and good natured ribbing. Something a lot of people do not know about Joe, is the fact that he was completely against the new seat belt legislation, so much so that he bought a car without seat belts. I was asking him the other day if he still felt the same way, and he told me that it was costing him so much to keep the old car running, that he had completely forgotten his hate for seat belts.

In closing I would again like to thank the Press for their free support of a town project, and at the same time to thank all the players who came out every Tuesday night.

We hope next year that some of the other old timers who are around will scrape the rust off the old blades and get back in the game.

Yours truly,
Harry Keyes.

By Joe Rowan

Mothers will receive the honour they so justly deserve this Sunday. The thought just occurred that 'Mothers' Day', despite the implications that it has been set aside for that one specific purpose, is in fact the product of money-hungry merchandisers. Now don't get us wrong, we're all in favour of recognizing the loving kindness and tender care that symbolizes motherhood -- but do we have to do it all in one day? The thought here is that the nation's mothers deserve more -- much more. By all means give her a reassuring hug and a meaningful kiss along with a gift that says 'I love you' . . . But don't wait 12 months to do it again.

Lions Club members in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec lost a dedicated worker and tireless promoter last week. But the untimely death of George Warren was a stunning blow not only to his fellow club members but to a host of friends throughout the entire Ottawa Valley. Our personal association with George dates back to the days when Kenmore [his home town] was the area's lumber centre and a thriving sports community. One might be tempted to say 55 was much too young to die, but the exuberant, good natured, fun-loving former Ottawa Policeman crammed more good will and good fellowship into those years than most could hope for if granted an entire century of life. Those who join the vast International service organization raise their right hands and solemnly pledge "To Serve". The late George Warren faithfully honoured that pledge.

Russell 'Raiders' wrote 'finis' to a highly successful season last Sunday evening at the Commercial Hotel when, as is customary, the best were honoured and the near-best applauded. Frankly we had to do a double-take to be sure we were in the right place. Last time we saw the boys they were a fierce army of gladiators meeting the enemy's challenge with grim determination and a show of force when the need arose. Sunday evening they had been transformed into a meek little group of robot-like creatures being put through their paces by a band of extremely pretty young ladies. Even the booming voice of coach Sullivan was reduced to a whisper by the waves of female chatter. The weaker sex? Heck yes -- that's the 'Raiders' after a game.

Scarcely a day goes by we don't hear of more people kicking the smoking habit. Latest to join the "Saintly" crew are two addicts from Vernon. Learned while shopping on Saturday that both Roy Porteous and his colleague Mac Ferguson had tossed the 'filthy things' in the disposal bin and joined the growing list of non-smokers. Understand they butted the last ones on Saturday morning and by late afternoon results were already very evident. Roy was banging his head on the cutting block and Mac was snapping at little old ladies. So what if they're not their usual benevolent selves --- they're healthy aren't they?

It may have been a sincere compliment, but then on the other hand . . . We're thinking of our conversation with The Honourable Don Irvine at North Gower last Friday evening. Mr. Irvine, flashing that winning smile that consistently 'wins' votes, introduced us to Energy Minister, The Honourable Dennis Timbrell. And its that introduction that has us wondering. "Joe", said the Honourable Don, "is a darn good fellow, but always at election time he becomes hopelessly confused." Compliment, or . . .?

Because it has always been our policy to promote safety we feel obligated to focus attention this week on the hazards of gardening. Frankly we were not fully aware of the dangers involved till we spotted the following warning sign at an area garden centre: -- "After Planting Our Seeds, Jump Back Quickly." Well, at least, you've been warned.

It's being rumoured around that our new crop of high school graduates are facing the turbulent times with very little knowledge of mathematics (arithmetic we used to call it when learning was compulsory). If this story making the rounds is true, then those rumours may well be based on fact. A pretty young graduate, applying for a position, was asked to solve a rather simple problem. "I suggest", said the personnel head, "that you do the problem more than once to assure perfection. Half an hour later the prospective employee turned in the test. "I followed instructions", she noted, "I did the problem five times, and here are my five answers."

Ever wondered about the real purpose of V.O.N.? People often ask "Who can have a Victorian Order Nurse?", and "How does one arrange for this service"? The answer is actually quite simple. Anyone sick at home may have visiting nursing service, and the V.O.N. always consults with the doctor to determine the care needed. The service may be requested by the doctor, the family, a friend, or the patient himself by simply calling the V.O.N. office. The number to call in this area is 774-2420.

Harold Lannin To Head Dundas Beef Producers

Beef producers of Dundas County have formed a Cattleman's Association, elected directors and formed an executive headed by President Harold Lannin, of Winchester.

Dundas beef producers held their organizational meeting Wednesday April 28th in Winchester Town Hall. At the initial session it was decided that there be three directors elected from each Township and that there be a life membership (which is available until June 30th).

Elected directors in Mountain Township were Max McRobbie, Neil Williams, Bill Armstrong. Matilda directors are Paul Whitteker, Jeff Neal, Bill Horner. Sven Jorgensen, Dan Harkin and Harold Lannin will act as directors for Winchester Township. Directors for Williamsburg are Martin Schneckenburger, Bill Craig and Ron Wilson. Tom Clapp will serve as Association Secretary-Treasurer.

Working with President Harold Lannin on the executive are Dan Harkin, First Vice-President; Neil Williams, Second Vice-President; Martin Schneckenburger, Director to Ontario Cattleman's Association; Max McRobbie, First Alternate; Bill Craig, Second Alternate.

Cliff Morrow chaired the meeting which featured Charlie Gracey, Manager of the Canadian Cattleman's Association. Mr. Gracey explained organization of the National Association, commented on policy, marketing situation and outlook. He told producers that they must be aware of the beef cycle. Prices and marketing will continue to cycle and at present the worst of the cycle is over and prices should be profitable throughout the remainder of the year. Gracey went on to say that beef industry will continue to hold its own in free market system. He maintained that it is not market but over prodcution aggravated by feed and energy situations.

Mr. Gracey forecast that cattle will reach 50c on the Toronto market in June and August but prices will become depressed by fall and remain so right into 1977. A year from now producers will be back into a bull market.

This fall feeder prices are expected to be up five dollars over 1975 if there is a normal grain crop and corn prices remain the same, feeder prices can be expected to be higher. It is also believed Americans will be looking for cattle this fall.

On policy, it was indicated that producers have a choice between (a) present production and free market with more information, or (b) more control through stabilization, supply management and subsidization.

Jim McCullough, Area Co-ordination and Farm Management Specialist, commented on Ontario Beef Cow Stabilization Program. He outlined features of the program noting that 1975 payment was $77.19 per cow minus $5.00 premium. This program was used to maintain herd numbers and not an incentive program.

Door prizes donated by Martin Schneckenburger, Dan Harkin and Harold Lannin were drawn during the meeting.

Proper Maintenance Keeps Ventilation Systems Efficient

During the winter months, producers often shut off any ventilation fans not needed to remove moist air from their barns. But as spring approaches, there'll be more call for these units to control air movement in livestock buildings. Agricultural engineer, J.K. Weeden, of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, recommends that all parts of your ventilation system be cleaned and readied for the spring ahead.

"Spring and fall are the critical ventilation periods, since wide fluctuations in outside temperature are common. Improper adjustment of air inlets, dusty blades and thermostats can reduce the overall efficiency of the system," he indicates.

After shutting off the circuit for the system, the fan blades and shutters should be cleaned with a brush or air hose, then checked to ensure they are in good condition. Dust accumulation on the fan blades and shutters can cause a serious drop in ventilation efficiency. The thermostat should also be checked and cleaned; dust, chaff, whitewash or paint makes it impossible for the sensor to sense temperatures and operate equipment to the selected settings.

Because ventilation in the spring and fall is so important, Mr. Weeden recommends that producers adjust the air inlets more frequently during these seasons - at least twice a day - to match the temperatures outdoors more closely.

"Check the thermostat setting as well. Unless fans are sequenced to come on and off at the correct time, even the best system won't work properly. The system should be set at levels that will provide smooth control of barn temperatures. An error frequently made by operators is that they set all thermostats at one desired temperature setting, which results in erratic overventilation of the building," he says.

Preventive maintenance and proper adjustments can reduce problems in ventilated buildings and provide livestock with a healthier and, consequently, more productive environment.

Eastern Ontario Calf Sale Sets $654. Average

The Eastern Ontario Holstein Calf Sale, held Saturday, 17 April, 1976 at the Fawcett Sale Arena, Winchester, was arranged to make good calves available to 4-H members at average prices and to assist breeders to obtain replacement calves with good blood-lines.

The 54 calves consigned by breeders in the eleven counties of Eastern Ontario District brought a total of $35,355 for an average of $654.72. Four head sold for over $1,000.

Top price of $1,675 was paid by R.J. Hipkin, Manotick, Ont. for Willola Tena Kemp consigned by Ralph J. Fawcett, Winchester, and sired by Mooreville Rocket Kempt, a Superior Type bull. Tena's dam was classified Excellent for type and had a Breed Class Average production of 134 per cent of milk and 144 per cent for fat. Mr. Hipkin purchased three other calves at $900; $825; and $660.

$1,225 was paid to W. Alex Snedden and Sons, Almonte by D. Thatcher, Winchester, for a daughter of the Excellent and Superior Type sire Elmcroft Pontiac Chieftain. $1,060 went to Rivermead Holsteins, Cardinal, for Rivermead Centurion Lady A, sired by the VG and Superior Type bull Forest Lee Rockette Centurion and purchased by Edwin J. Cooper, Cardinal. The other four figure amount was $1,035 paid by Alfred J. Latulipe, Ste. Agnes de Dundee, P. Que., to Carl Smith, Chesterville, Ont., for Sunnylodge Lillian, a daughter of the Excellent and Class Extra sire A Northcroft Admiral Citation.

J.W. Hinskens, Bainsville, purchased ten calves at an average price of $640. Eight head were sold to Cuba and two sold for export to Germany.

Supplement To Commercial

Homegrown Fertilizer Adds Essential Nutrients To Soil

Manure is a resource that has been around probably as long as agriculture itself, and as a source of plant nutrients, it's an up-to-date fertilizer that more Ontario producers should use to their advantage. No matter what type of livestock operations, manure can be used to supply some of the necessary plant nutrients and is an excellent supplement to commercial fertilizer, according to a Ridgetown College of Agricultural Technology soils specialists.

"Usually we think of manure as supplying only nitrogen, phosphorus and potash to our soils, but in fact it supplies all the elements essential for crop production," says Dr. C.S. Baldwin, head of the soils section at the college. "As well as being an excellent source of organic matter for the soil, manure application improves its physical properties."

When choosing manures, he says, there are several factors to be considered which influence the nutrient content of the manure. The type of livestock species, age of animals, method of feeding and bedding, as well as manure storage and handling all influence the nutrient content of the product.

Because the balance of nutrients contained in different manures varies, Dr. Baldwin recommends that crop producers have some of the manure analyzed. This service is available through the Department of Land Resource Science, University of Guelph, at $11.50 to $14.50 per sample. Further information on the manure analysis service can be obtained from the Department of Land Resource Science or at county and district offices of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

"Farmers routinely calibrate fertilizer and pesticide application equipment, but it is rare to find one who has calibrated a manure spreader or had the manure analyzed before application," Dr. Baldwin says. "But with its value as a fertilizer, is there any reason why the storage and utilization of farmyard manure should not be part of the normal routine of farm operations?"

Greely Country Chefs Complete 4-H Project

The Greely Country Chefs have completed their latest 4-H project, "Major In Meat".

Throughout the project the girls had the opportunity to cook with a variety of meats and enjoyed them all with the exception of liver.

They all found the project educational and are looking forward to a new project in the fall.

Although added sprng chores on the farm made it impossible for club leaders Don Johnstone and Gary Howes to make the 7:30 starting time, members of Dundas 4-H Veterinary Club opened on schedule at the OMAF office in Winchester.

Gary Howes checked on homework assignments which included a careful survey listing all drugs on their respective farms and the precautions necessary.

Members were also briefed on treatment of scours in calves and also concerning the ever-present danger of milk fever and how to prevent it.

The next meeting will be at the home of Dwight Gilmer on May 17th at 8:00 p.m.

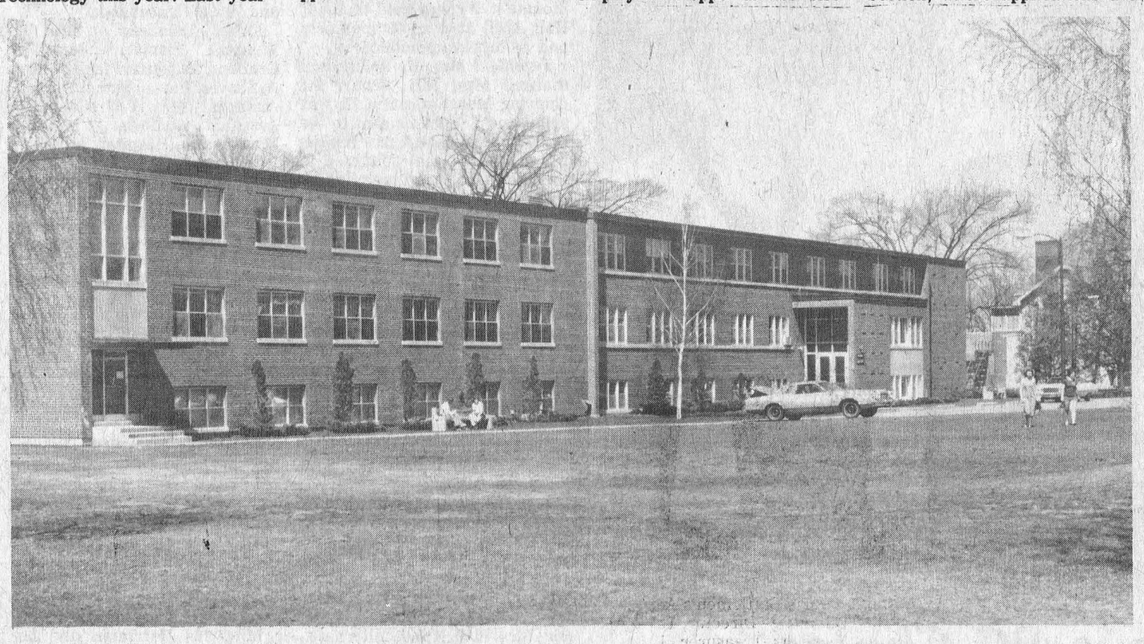
Agricultural College Applications Take Hike

Applications for admission to the first year in agriculture continued to climb at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology this year. Last year saw an increase in enrolment of 12 per cent over 1974, and this year's should double that amount if past ratios of enrolment to applications continue.

College officials attribute the higher rate of application to a spiralling interest in agriculture after years of stagnation and high employment opportunities elsewhere.

A more dramatic increase in applications has been shown in the College's Food & Fashion Section, where applications are running 54 per cent above last year.



Major reasons for the high increase include the cutback in nursing schools, tighter admission requirements to teachers' colleges, and steady job opportunities in the food service and fashion industries while other employment opportunities appear to be declining. The high reputation of the College's diploma programs is drawing applicants from across Canada and from overseas students.

Agricultural education began its rapid increase in 1973 when Ontario enrolment rose by 7.5 per cent, compared to a 4 per cent increase for community colleges. Non-diploma public interest and Novice Farmer courses offered by the College have drawn an equally large response, indicating a general increase in public interest in agriculture.

At Kemptville the rural-urban composition of the student body has continued to maintain its high percentage of urban enrolees, now at about forty per cent of all students. Approximately half of the graduates return to the farm either directly or within a few years; another forty per cent find employment in agriculturally related industry or government service, and many go on further education and self-employment.

The number of women in agriculture has substantially increased. Until 1972, only six women had been graduated in agriculture from the College, which was founded in 1917. This spring alone seven women are expected to be graduated. There has been a 12 per cent increase in applications from women over last year.

Both phenomena, the urban and female interest in agriculture, are not without their effects, especially in job placement. According to Placement Officer Basil Wren, the College is strongly advising that new students undertake some practical farm experience either before enrolling or between study years. Likewise, he notes some limitations in opportunities for women in Eastern Ontario farming, especially those without farm experience. "It's all right if they have land available and want a practical course", comments Wren.

Most colleges have cut-off limits for new students and Kemptville has tentatively set the limit at 120 for agriculture and 60 for food & fashion. "This is not firm", comments Principal John Curtis; "the philosophy of the Ministry is that if students are eligible there will be a place found for them in one of the Colleges."

However, as Food & Fashion officials put it, the Career Search '76 program set for early May, will bring in many more applications and some sort of cut-off number will have to be observed to prevent crowding and inefficient over-use of the College's educational facilities.

Career Search, coordinated through O.M.A.F. agricultural representatives and high school guidance counsellors, is the College's annual two-day program in which prospective students tour the campus and farm facilities and are introduced to current employment opportunities in the food service, fashion, and agricultural industries.

4-H Ontario Holstein Spring Show

The 4th Ontario Holstein Spring Show promises to be the best yet as 403 entries have been reported by entry clerk Joseph Snyder, Elmira, Ontario. This Show will be held on May 8, 1976 at the Stratford Fairgrounds, Stratford, Ontario.

In the four years of its existence this Holstein Spring show has gained international prominence. Canadian and American breeders exhibit cattle hoping to win recognition at a shown which has been considered by some to second in importance to the prestigeous Royal Winter Fair which is held every November in Toronto.

The Ontario Holstein Show is entirely funded by a semen lottery. 2,400 semen lottery tickets were printed for sale at a cost of $5.00 each. The tickets were sold through Arnold Nasco Ltd.; International Stock Food Co. Ltd.; Master Feeds Division of Maple Leaf Mills; Ontario Harvestore Systems Ltd.; Shur-Gain Division of Canada Packers Ltd. and County Clubs. The prizes include high valued frozen semen from famous Holstein sires. The draw for winners will take place at a banquet immediately following the show.

Spectator interest promises to be greater than ever this year. In addition to Ontario Holstein breeders (over 1,000 last year), group tours from foreign countries include 200 breeders from Belgium and several smaller private groups from U.S. and other countries.

The judge this year is Allison Fawcett, Winchester, Ontario. This gentleman who has gained deep respect from his peers for his judging ability, is owner of Fawcettdale Holsteins and is a National Director for the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

Since its inception the Ontario Holstein Spring Show has featured some of the best cattle in North America. Invariably the winners from Stratford have been nominated for All-Canadian consideration. The All-Canadian contest highlights the very best show animals from the previous season. The Spring Show this year promises to retain its position of second in importance to the Royal Agriculture Winter Fair.

Women's Equal Access To Credit

"Credit and You -- Women's Access to Credit in Ontario", is the name of a new booklet released today by the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations.

According to Consumer Minister Sidney Handleman, the purpose of the publication is "to make women aware of their right to equal access to credit, to increase their knowledge of credit matters and to help them obtain and use credit wisely." The ministry has negotiated pertaining to women who apply for credit.

"The focal point of these guidelines," the minister said, "is that women and men, regardless of whether they are single, married, separated or divorced, are to be judged by the same standards in determining credit worthiness."

Under the heading, "If You Are Discriminated Against", the booklet advises: "If you are denied credit and believe you have been discriminated against because of your sex or marital status, ask to see the senior credit officer of the agency involved.

"Be prepared to assert your claim and back it with facts. If your request for credit is still refused and you are not given a satisfactory explanation, contact the Women's Advisor of the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations."

Copies of the 16-page publication may be obtained free of charge by writing: Ontario Consumer, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario, M4Y 1Y7.

Irvine Unanimous PC Choice

Progressive Conservatives staged a nomination meeting at North Gower last Friday night although the outcome was a foregone conclusion. Don Irvine, who had coasted to victory in the last Provincial election, was unopposed and his popularity was much in evidence. Although no election is pending the beautiful public school auditorium was nearly filled with the party faithful who came to assure their continued support.

Guest speaker for the occasion was The Honourable Dennis R. Timbrell who outlined party policies and assured voters their riding was being well represented by the Secretary of Natural Resources.

Mr. Irvine was in no hurry to take his seat on the platform and spent much of the evening chatting with old friends and making new acquaintances from the new part of his riding, Osgoode Township.

Concerning the possibility of an early election Mr. Irvine told his supporters the party won't compromise its program to stay in power. He said an election at this time would be a great waste of taxpayers money, but predicted that possibly before fall there will be a confrontation in the legislature.

"Should such a situation present itself", he said, "we won't be able to accept the policies of the socialists or Liberals."

Mr. Irvine is shown in accompanying photo chatting with The Honourable Mr. Timbrell and Association 2nd Vice President Mrs. Sally Beaton of Hazeldean.

The 90th W.C.T.U. annual convention of Grenville-Dundas was held Wednesday, April 28 in the Presbyterian Church, Winchester with afternoon and evening sessions.

The special speaker was Mrs. Arthur Eby, Field Organizer W.C.T.U. from Alsask, Sask. who had been visiting the local schools in the district.

During the afternoon reports of work done in the past year were given which were very interesting. The highlight of the work was with the young people. 20 contestants took part in medal contests and 1 bronze, 2 silverplated and 1 sterling silver medal had been awarded. 51 pupils from 5 schools entered the poster contest and 3 were sent on to be judged at provincial level.

Mrs. Eby made use of puppets to impress more clearly her messages at each session. She said the organization was started by prayer, so must strive to carry on this great cause which had its beginning over one hundred years ago to help against the evils of the times.

The memorial service by Rev. Miss M. Gilmer of the Free Methodist Church, Kemptville for 2 members who had passed on was very impressive.

The evening session opened with devotions by Rev. Howard Smith, minister of the church.

Restraint Forced In FCC Lending Policy

By Anne Patenaude

Discussion at a luncheon meeting sponsored by Women for the Survival of Agriculture in Winchester last Thursday centred on government lending programs. In view of recent cutbacks in the dairy industry, farmers who took advantage of the programs to expand dairy operations were criticized as being gullible. It was suggested that these developments had been apparent for some time and should have been foreseen.

Many farmers, it was felt, accept without question incentive programs which inevitably lead to over-production. Members were advised to be cautious when applying for loans.

"Don't believe everything you're told," they were warned, "Obviously, when programs such as IMPIP are instituted, it's only natural that the administrators should urge farmers to make use of available funds.

Guest speaker, Ms. Louise Neveu, Director of Information for Farm Credit Corporation, admitted there was no benefit to FCC in pressuring farmers to accept larger loans than originally applied for.

"Our credit advisors are only human," she stated. "They may occasionally suggest a larger loan where they feel the applicant is a good risk, but every instance of this type is offset by a refusal to grant the full amount requested. In any case, Farm Credit policy in the coming year will definitely be one of restraint."

The FCC representative outlined the Corporation's lending policy and assured members that, should milk quota cutbacks cause a serious decline in individual farm incomes, Corporation payments might, upon review, be readjusted or deferred.

In order to become eligible for an FCC loan, she explained, the applicant must be recognized as a farmer in his community and must have the ability to repay. Management ability and experience are important factors. Despite a decrease of $20 million in the Corporation's budget, Farm Credit will continue to support efficient family farms in Canada, assisting competent farmers to acquire, develop and maintain viable family farms.

$370 million remains available for loans in 1976-77. Because of amendments to the Farm Credit Act approved last May, an unprecedented demand in 1975 resulted in the committment of $190 million of this year's budget prior to April 1st.

Under the amendment, farmers under 35 years of age can borrow up to $150,000. Previously, the loan limit for all farmers was $100,000. Another change in the Act allows young farmers to phase into full-time farming over a five-year period. Capital requirements are also reduced for young farmers.

"Ninety-three per cent of Corporation accounts are in good standing," Ms. Neveu said. She stressed the importance of an economic unit in granting loans. "A farm must be capable of providing an adequate income, paying expenses and repaying the loan applied for."

In reference to present difficulties facing the industry, Ms Neveu said agriculture is still very conservative. "Farmers, on the whole, are reticent," she said. "We find that many people presently insisting on better agricultural policy are originally from the cities. Farmers must learn to move with the times . . . to speak up and demand a fair deal."

Ms. Louise Neveu, Director of Information with the Farm Credit Corporation, was guest speaker at a luncheon meeting sponsored by Women for the Survival of Agriculture last week. Ms. Neveu outlined the Corporation's lending policy and urged farmers to be more emphatic in demanding better agricultural policy. Ms. Neveu was present at the invitation of program convener Carol Bodzin. Above, from the left, Mrs. Bodzin, Ms. Neveu and W.S.A. Chairman Dianne Harkin.

St. Peter's LCW

The April Meeting of St. Peter's L.C.W. was held on Wednesday evening with 13 members attending.

Mrs. Clair Empey was in charge of the program, "The Letter of Life", the third part of a series, opening with the Litany of Life in unison. Mrs. Bernard Whitteker read the scripture.

The president, Mrs. Conrad McIntosh, reported that 18 lap robes and 3 large quilts have been completed. Mrs. Donald Hess will be the delegate to attend the Biennial Convention in Waterloo.

Mrs. J. Boehmer presented the "Fellowship of the Least Coin", followed by prayer.

Bilingual Program

From The Queen's Park Office of Osie Villeneuve, M.P.P., Stormont—Dundas—Glengarry

Ontario's Ministry of Revenue is developing a vigorous and comprehensive bilingual programme.

"All my Ministry branches answer French correspondence in French. All documents in wide public use are bilingual, notably and particularly in the GAINS programme and in assessment material. There are 20 bilingual documents produced in the Ministry altogether, " reported the Honourable Arthur Meen during the course of the debate on the Ministry's estimates.

Mr. Meen was responding to a question from Mr. Osie Villeneuve, M.P.P. (Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry) who requested details on the Revenue Ministry's progress in implementing the Premier's directive on the need for a wide-ranging programme for Franco Ontarians.

French With Tears

Bill Smiley Writes

You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink. You can't teach an old dog new tricks. You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

To these old adages might be added another, closely related. You can't create a fluent, sparkling, bilingual cosmopolitan out of a dull, middle-class, middle-aged civil servant.

I'm glad to see that some semblance of sense has seeped into the senility surrounding the approach to bilingualism at Ottawa.

Keith Spicer, the grand poobah of bilingualism, appointed by the Trudeau government to wetnurse one of its favorite babies, has finally reached a conclusion that an average 12-year-old could have arrived at, without undue mental strain, in about 15 minutes.

He decided, and had the courage to admit, that the government program for creating bilingualism in the civil service was bass ackwards.

Some unkind people might say that Ottawa civil servants have always spoken with a double tongue, even when they had only one language, and why have them speaking doubletalk in two?

Instead of pouring millions into converting stodgy civil servants into connoisseurs of French language and culture, Mr. Spicer concedes, the money should be spent in the schools, teaching French to children. Great thinking, Keith. Anyone with any knowledge of learning a second language could have told you that two years ago.

Ordinary, every-day common sense and experience shows us how true this is. Take an average family of immigrants to Canada, German, Italian, whatever you like. The parents have great difficulty in learning English, and retain a strong accent all their lives.

Their children, even though their only language is their native one when they arrive here, and even though it is spoken almost exclusively at home, are completely at ease in English within a year or two. To hear them chirp and prattle away in the idiom, you'd never know that they weren't born and bred in English-speaking Canada.

For an adult, learning a new language is horribly hard work. And for a bureaucrat or civil servant, it must be doubly difficult, because their minds are constitutionally unable to admit anything new.

French-Canadians who want to get somewhere in Canada, whether it's in business or politics, learn English because they have to. Whatever the pundits say, this is primarily an English-speaking country.

Most French-Canadian cabinet ministers are at least adequate in English. Some politicians, like Pierre Trudeau and Claude Wagner, speak English beautifully, far better than most of their Anglophone peers and opponents.

But when an Anglo politician speaks French, however atrociously, we look upon him or her with amazement, as though it were a sign of genius. What hypocrisy, in a country that is, theoretically, bilingual. (I still wince every time John Diefenbaker strays into what he fondly believes is French.)

As you may have gathered, I have strong feelings about bilingualism. Unlike a great many Canadians, I am all for it. But the government's approach to creating that blessed state has been at best a farce, a charade, at worst a swindle of the taxpayers.

Of course the beginnings must be with the children! On the surface, the study of French in our schools has been encouraged by government. In fact, the moneys for a practical, realistic approach to learning French have been held back from the schools and poured into that bottomless pit at Ottawa.

French has practically been abolished as a prerequisite for university entrance. As a result, and because learning it requires some real effort, students shy away from it and look for "bird" courses.

Result, French classes in our schools have shrunk deplorably. This, despite the fact that French is being taught better, and in a more lively, interesting, and realistic way, than ever before. (I studied French for five years in high school, three in university, and can barely proposition a girl, let alone order a meal in French.)

O.K. Let's start all over again with our bilingual program, and forget that painful failure in Ottawa.

Start teaching it to kids in Grade 1. Keep it up. Make it a prerequisite for university.

North Dundas News

by Linda and Laura Holmes

As predicted, spring has brought a host of activities to North Dundas. Sports, music and clubs all take part in the week's events.

Magazine subscriptions are being sold and the goal of $7000 is slowly getting closer. Many students received awards and prizes each day for their selling efforts.

Last Saturday, North Dundas placed among the top 10 out of 49 schools at a Track and Field meet in Kingston. Rose Hauch won first place medals in the discus and the shot put. She also claimed the trophy for the top female athlete. Julie Holmes placed first in the 100 metre run and 200 metre run, and Brian Paul claimed a first for his 800 metre run. Kathy Workman and Steve Thatcher won second place medals. The Junior girls relay team of Julie Holmes, Kathy Workman, Kim McIntosh and LuAnn Lasalle placed first in their event. The Senior boys relay team of Don Sidney, Steve Thatcher, Doug Nurse and Brian Paul placed second.

Thursday at Seaway, the relay teams displayed their talents at the relay meet. Our school proudly placed fifth out of six schools. The midget girls received second and fourth in their races. In the Junior division, two seconds were claimed by the girls team and the boys placed second, third, and fourth in their races. The Senior boys received two seconds and a first in their races. Our school has done well at the first meets and the visitors will continue to come our way.

Students signed up this week for up-coming tennis tournaments. Meanwhile the badminton courts are continually occupied by players.

Congratulations are extended to Alan Hoy and Dave Barkley for their fine accomplishment in the auto technician contest. They placed second out of fourteen students and received the highest scores on the written paper.

The worries of the week can be forgotten Friday night at the dance featuring "Chateau." There will probably be only one more dance after this one, because exams will be encountered in the near future.

Friday the Junior band travels to Ottawa to participate in the Ottawa Music Festival. Long hours of hard work will hopefully produce great results. The Senior band is making plans for their concert Monday, May 3 and their departure for New York on Wednesday.

This week ends among the excitement of present and future events.

Elma Notes

Miss Cathy Herriman recently returned from a holiday in California.

Friends are sorry to hear that Mrs. Melvin Dillabough is a patient in the Civic Hospital, Ottawa, where she will undergo eye surgery.
