Bits & Pieces

Month Of Saturdays Sale

In a special one-month trial, Bell will be offering two-thirds off the normal day rates for customer-dialed long distance calls on Saturdays in April. The two-thirds discount will apply only to calls dialed by Bell customers to points within Ontario and Quebec. Normally, Saturday calls are charged at the full-time day-time rate from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., and one-third off from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. Bell hopes that the one month trial will indicate some trends in calling patterns. If the discount stimulates long distance calling on Saturday, or helps to relieve the Sunday overload, a permanent change will be considered.

300 contribute $122.75

The North Stormont Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society came up with a little different approach to their fund raising campaign which is coming up in April. Last Sunday, at the Finch arena they sponsored a "Broomball Bonanza" at which time three Ladies' Broomball teams from Berwick competed with three teams from Finch. The arena was a beehive of activity all afternoon and the Society not only publicized the upcoming canvass but took in $122.75 as 300 persons took in the games.

Courses for high school students

Beginning next fall it will be possible for certain high school students to begin taking degree credit courses in arts (the humanities, languages and the social sciences) from the University of Waterloo. UW is already offering such courses in mathematics and science and reports them successful. Some of the arts courses can be taken during the evenings; others will be available on a correspondence basis . . . audio cassettes of lectures will be sent out to students periodically, along with course study materials and work assignments.

Right on . . . Mr. Reeve

H. Keith Graham, reeve of Chesterville, and former editor of this newspaper, annually predicted that the ice would be out of the river, in the village area, by March 17th. Over the years, although it is not official, he was lucky if his predictions rated 50 percent. Whether or not he is still looking in the crystal ball we are not sure, but if he is he can chalk 1974 up in the right column. The ice left shortly after the first of March and the water is rolling merrily on its way.

Beware of March Break

The March School Break comes up next week when all those connected with education, teachers and students, will get a break from the routine. Each year as the ice goes out of the river it concerns us that someone will get careless and become a drowning victim. We issue the warning to watch the old river to the students, the teachers can probably take care of themselves. The swiftness of the river at this time and the cold temperature of the water could render a person awfully helpless, awfully fast.

The Rumour was Unfounded

Last week at this time the weather was about 30 degrees higher than it is now and we had the rumour that the sap was really running at the Walter Mattice operation at Morewood and they were really turning out the maple syrup. We picked up the phone and Mrs Mattice told us that the few trees that were tapped were giving grudgingly of the sweet stuff and the Morewood operation was everything but in full swing. We'll check with Walter in a week or so to see how things are coming — in the meantime it proves you can only believe half what you hear.

Tickets out shortly for Banquet

Plans are progressing favourably for Chesterville's First Annual Sportsman's Banquet, which is slated for Chesterville arena on Saturday, May 25. If the organization that is planning the banquet get affirmative answers from half the sports celebrities they have contacted, the head table will have to be extended. Tickets will go on sale this weekend and as an added incentive to attend the banquet ten $5 Olympic coins will be offered as door prizes and will be drawn for the night of the banquet. Tickets can be purchased from coaches of all minor sports or Chesterville Recreation Directors.

Hockey School — it's not too late

If you are going to play in the sports palaces of the Cornwall Royals, the Ottawa 67's, the WHL or NHL teams then you had better keep at the hockey. If you have suffered a personal slump or failed to catch that 'A' team this past winter you can brush up on the fundamentals next week in Finch. Finch arena will again be the setting for a Hockey School. If you haven't registered yet, get your name in this weekend, you can have a lot of fun next week and at the same time become a better hockey player.

Chesterville Public Library, as the picture indicates, was a very busy spot last Tuesday morning. The library has been opened on Tuesday mornings of each week to accommodate the students of Chesterville Public School. The students accompanied by their teacher, will visit the library every second week. On the alternate weeks the three other classes at the school will make their visits. Standing at the back are Mrs Bill Conley, C.P.s. teacher and H. Keith Graham, Chairman of the S.D.&G. Library Board, while the students gather around the desk of library attendant Bev Feeley. Chairman Graham related that this pattern of student participation in library service is practised throughout the Counties. — Staff Photo.

Pre-school

Association holds initial meeting

The Chesterville District Pre-School Association recently held an organizational meeting in Chesterville. The Association, composed mainly of parents of young children in Winchester, Williamsburg, and Finch Townships has been working for months to gain community support for a nursery school for three and four-year-old children, and now hopes to begin operation in September in the Chesterville Park Pavilion.

Carol Bodzin was chosen Chairman for the group; Shelagh Derks and Tom Rance are Secretary and Treasurer, respectively. Organizational committees were composed of: Budget, Tom Rance and Lois John; Equipment, Gail Parks and Joanne Saunders; Renovation, Jack Durant; Publicity & Fund-Raising, Gene Bodzin, Liz Dion, Shelagh Derks and Helen Wells.

While the school will not open for 6 months, committee members have much to do before children can be registered. Parents must be made aware of the school a qualified teacher must be hired, and the Pavilion must be renovated to conform with standards established by the Nursery Schools Act.

Most of the financing for the new school will be provided by government, and the remainder will be paid by parents. Since the primary responsibility for education lies with the family, the Association is endeavouring to engage parents in as many school activities as possible. It is hoped that besides reducing operating expenses, such a co-operative arrangement will provide a healthier environment for the children.

Parents . . .

What can you do to help?

With the coming of spring, bicycles again are being observed on area roads. With the advent of spring comes numerous requests from young people for their own bicycle.

By requesting a bicycle, your child has also asked to be allowed into the category of vehicle drivers. Under the Highway Traffic Act of Ontario, bicycles are vehicles.

As users of public roads and streets, cyclists are required to know and obey traffic rules, regulations, signs, signals and markings, to avoid causing, or being involved in accidents. The child, of course, must know how to operate a bicycle skillfully and safely.

Your concern and help at this initial stage is of vital importance! As parents, your first responsibility is to determine if the child is old enough to understand traffic laws, to learn and remember safety rules and to drive a bicycle in your neighbourhood without getting injured. If the answers to the above are not all in the affirmative it would be best to reconsider and prolong the acquisition of a bicycle for your child.

If the answers to the above are all favourable, you must:

— make sure that the proper size and type of bicycle are chosen.
— ascertain that the child receives proper instructions in the skills and knowledge that are required.
— check the child's progress as a driver.
— see that proper maintenance is carried out.

A bicycle is not a toy, nor are roads and streets playgrounds. Each year, more than 150 Canadian children are killed in bicycling accidents. More than 5,000 are seriously injured. In the past eight years, the number of cyclists killed in traffic has more than tripled while the number of those injured has more than doubled. The prospects for the future are alarming! You can help stem the fast-rising tide of cycling accidents by carrying out your responsibilities as parents and by emphasizing to your children the major hazards facing cyclists in traffic.

Throughout the coming weeks, the Ontario Provincial Police will be passing on safety messages which will assist you, the parent, in ensuring the safety of your child while riding his or her bicycle.

Winchester Twp.

Open tenders, accept contracts

Winchester Township Council met in regular session last week, the major portion of the meeting was taken up by reviewing tenders, accepting contracts and working on the application for road subsidy.

Tenders for the 1974 road requirements were opened — the only tender received for crushed stone which was submitted by A. L. Blair Construction was accepted at $2.70 a ton, an increase of 50c per ton over 1973.

The contract to supply brush-kill was awarded to FMC Ltd., and liquid calcium chloride to Klafferty Smith Express Lines. R. S. Allison and Sons were awarded the contract to supply the required culverts for roads and drains.

A request was made to the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for road subsidy on a total road expenditure of $158,725.00.

A fitting climax to a successful season — this is how you would have to describe this picture. The young hockey players, members of Chesterville Legion Pee Wees are not chasing a $100 bill. They have just won the play-off trophy of the Dundas-Carleton League. This was the scene last Saturday, and probably when the whole thing was straightened out you would find one or two goalies under the pile along with numerous hockey players. They're enthusiastically congratulating one another. — Staff Photo.

At Upper Canada Village

Ambitious playwright seeks summer theatre

The establishment of a summer theatre at Upper Canada Village, along the lines of the well-known Charlottetown Festival, famous for "Anne of Green Gables", is the ambition of Ottawa playwright George Blackburn.

A seating capacity for 700 people would be needed and the cost would be in the neighbourhood of $400,000. The theatre which would be an added tourist attraction in the Seaway Valley, could also become a film centre for the St. Lawrence Parks commission.

Enthusiastic approval for the plan has come from many sources, among them the Seaway Valley Regional Tourist Council, the Downtown Shopping Center Association of Cornwall, the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants Association of Cornwall, as well as very many other groups and business people throughout the area.

John Hill of Long Sault, surveyed 100 Cornwall and district businesses and received favourable from 60 of them. Labor Minister Fern Guindon has given his approval and promises endorsement of the project at the cabinet level if included in this year's Parks Commission plans.

The benefits to the area would be cultural as well as economic, as the matinee and evening performances would draw both tourists and residents. The theatre would attract more tourists who would be encouraged to stay in the area more than one day, and thus area merchants and businessmen who operate tourist oriented concerns would profit from increased trade.

Mr Blackburn had hoped for possible winter construction with the theatre opening this summer, but with the Upper Canada Village opening now just weeks away, it looks as though plans will be delayed another year.

Mr Blackburn wants to produce a play of his own creation, a musical entitled "A Day to Remember". The play is a history of the now inundated village of Wales, from its origin in 1859 to the flooding of the valley for the Seaway and Power projects.

The production would need a staff of between 40 and 50 people with five professional actors to play the lead roles. Mr Blackburn said some of the employees would likely be from the local area.

A childhood resident of Wales, Mr Blackburn moved to Cornwall and later to Ottawa with his family. He worked on the Ottawa Journal before Wrold War II, at which time he enlisted in the Armed Forces. After the war he joined the federal government service and retired in 1972.

Mr Blackburn has written several other plays, the best known being "A Missing Button", which broke a 50-year box office record at the Ottawa Little Theatre.

Last Thursday evening the Dundas County Finals for Public Speaking were held at Maple Ridge Senior Public School. Stewart trophy from Robert Coleman, one of the judges of the event; Marian Herriman, Elma; Garth Steele, Maple Ridge; Mandy Phillips, Morrisburg. — Staff Photo.

Will You Pass the Tolerance test? filing a tax return for 1973

By now most taxpayers should have received their 1973 income tax forms. If not, they are available at your local post office.

Each farmer will need a copy of the Farmer and Fisherman's Guide, the four-page tax form and the nine schedules, including the Ontario Tax Credit. Not only is the farmer faced with the awesome sight of these many forms but he is faced with deciphering the order in which the forms are to be filled out.

At first glance one would think the man who created these forms was of Chinese origin. Schedule 1 is not, in fact, the first schedule to be filled out but the last. Likewise, Page 1 of the tax form is not the first page to be filled out but the last.

VIEWS...

Television Needs a Conscience

We hear a good deal about invasion of privacy these days. Some people deeply resent the questionnaires we're frequently asked to fill out by some knocker on our doors, even the census. They argue that information about their make of car, the number of bathrooms, and whether or not they smoke, is their own business.

One can make a case for parting with this information on the grounds that the information has economic and statistical value that is useful. Also, save for the census, we're not obliged to answer. We can refuse.

There is another aspect of this invasion of privacy that seems to go un-noticed, the beaming into homes of television programs unsuitable for children but shown in prime times. Householders should have the right to choose what enters their doors. Not long ago, in some parts of Canada the Coffessions of the Boston strangler was televised at eight o'clock on a Saturday night — just the time many parents are turning their children over to sitters. It was preceded by the pious sentence "This is not recommended for children under 16", when possibly half or more of their views were children.

It is all very well to say that anyone can turn the set off; children won't, and parents can't monitor everything they see.

If an adult, or category X film is shown late at night, well and good. If it is running at a local cinema, clearly marked, and children see it, the onus is on the family. Beaming such a film in at eight o'clock on a weekend is another matter.

If we have codes to monitor untruthful advertising, surely we should have a rule that films of violence unsuitable for children should not be thrust upon them in the place where they should be safe — their own homes.

Small Car Safety

The proliferation of smaller cars over the past few years has been evident to even the most casual observer. The youth market, scarcity of parking space, and the easier handling in traffic all promoted interest in the small car. Since the current fuel crisis, this interest has grown to such an extent that the major manufacturers have all announced cut-backs in large car production and an increase in the production of smaller models.

Many studies have considered the differences between small and large vehicles in crashes. In general, says the Ontario Safety League, these studies have reached the same conclusion: that the risk of injury to smaller car occupants is greater, and that small cars are over-represented in single vehicle accidents.

In a study released in June, 1973 by the University of Michigan's Highway Safety Research Institute, it was estimated that the chance of injury in the small car increases at the rate of about 2.5 percent for each decrease of 100 pounds in vehicle weight.

"Interior protection in all cars is important," the researchers stated, "but needs special attention in smaller cars if we are to reduce this greater risk of injury."

In vehicular crashes, unrestrained occupants move at the vehicle speed prior to the event. This results in a "second collision" between the occupant and the vehicle interior. The lighter vehicle endures the more abrupt change of speed and its comparatively smaller interior volume limits the distance in which passengers sustain the deceleration forces in a crash.

Why small cars are over-represented in single vehicle accidents has not yet been determined by any research group. However, it has been suggested that the increase in injury in such crashes associated with small cars may be attributed partly to the environment. Guard rails, for examples are designed for larger cars and often result in a harsh collision with smaller cars. Efforts to provide for the smaller car can currently be seen in the increasing usage of staged sand-barrel barriers, and in the left side no-passing signs at the beginning of a "no passing" zone which compensates for the narrower vision and shorter sight distance in small cars.

The pressures toward smaller cars seem likely to continue. Cost, fuel availability, social desirablity, parking and handling are all likely to increase the number of small cars on our roads.

Whatever current or future research may show, one thing remains clear, says the League. Occupants of smaller cars should realize their safety position in relation to other vehicles on the roads and should wear their available restraints . . . seat belts.

THIS WEEK from Ottawa

NATIONAL PETROLEUM CO.

Energy Minister Donald Macdonald detailed in the House of Commons the federal government's plans for the national petroleum corporation.

The Minister said that initially the corporation will focus heavily on exploration and it should also contribute to the development of the Athabasca oil sands.

He said that as the corporation develops, it will require hundreds of millions of dollars over the early years of its operation.

Besides its own exploration activities, the corporation will participate in joint ventures with smaller Canadian-controlled firms.

ALBERTA LIBERALS

Nick Taylor, a 46-year-old Calgary oil executive, was elected leader of the Alberta Liberal Party, succeeding Robert Russell.

EXPORTS OF RESOURCES

Industry, Trade and Commerce Minister Alastair Gillespie introduced a bill in the House of Commons to permit the government to require more processing of ores, concentrates and other natural resources in Canada.

The bill, amending the Export and Import Permits Act, would restrict the export of natural resources.

CONSUMER ASSISTANCE

The federal government has issued regulations to control consumer package sizes and to upgrade information on package labels.

Packagers will have 18-24 months to comply with the regulations. Manufacturers, not complying with the new rules, could be fined up to $10,000 for each offence.

NEW IMMIGRATION RULES

Under changes to Canada's immigration regulations, prospective immigrants will be required to have either a firm job offer or a skill known to be in demand in the locality where they wish to settle.

The basic point system of evaluating immigrants will be maintained but increased emphasis will be placed on occupational demand.

WIRETAP CONTROL LAW

Justice Minister Otto Lang announced that the Protection of Privacy Act, passed at the last session of Parliament, will come into effect June 30, 1974. After that date, it will be illegal to use, buy or sell wiretapping equipment.

Under the Act, only the police will be permitted to bug, and then only in stipulated situations. Penalties for illegal use of wiretapping equipment include imprisonment for a maximum of five years.

Ann Landers...

Dear Ann Landers: I read the letter from the young woman who went to the funeral of her best friend and couldn't shed a tear. My heart went out to her, even though my problem is just the opposite.

I can cry if a girl I work with tells me she left her change purse in the ladies' room and it had $2 in it. A sad movie starts me bawling so loud my husband has told me repeatedly, "If you don't cut that out, I'm going to move to another row and act like I don't know you."

I cry at weddings, bar mitzvahs, christenings, graduations and birthday parties. Every time I hear "God Bless America," tears run down my cheeks and I streak my makeup.

Am I some kind of nut? Why do I feel everything so strongly? Please explain, Ann. And if you print my letter in the paper, I just know I'll be so thrilled I'll bawl my head off. — Weepers Finders

Dear W.P.: Here's your letter. Now go get a handkerchief and wipe your eyes so you can read it.

You're in better shape than the woman who couldn't shed a tear at her best friend's funeral. Stop feeling embarrassed because you are a sensitive person and your emotions are close to the surface. What this world needs is more people who care and aren't ashamed to show it.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I are both 55. Since our children have grown we have very little to talk about. When we do talk, it's usually an argument. I have never been unfaithful, even though for ten years our marriage has been stale and empty. She feels the same way, I'm sure, but we've stayed together because we fear the consequences of separation.

Eight years ago my wife's sister lost her husband. He was a great guy and a real buddy. I tried to help my sister-in-law every way I could. After a while I had to admit that the room lit up when she walked in. Now I can't wait till I see her. If too many days go by I become depressed and lonely.

I'm afraid I've fallen in love, Ann. She has never given me any indication that she loves me, too, but I have a feeling it's mutual. I believe we could make each other very happy. If this woman weren't my wife's sister it would be a lot easier. What should I do?

P.S. I used to think you made up those letters, but I don't anymore. This one sounds like a phony but believe me, it's for real. — Who? Me?

Dear Who: Fifteen years ago I would have said, "Stay with the old gray mare, even though she ain't what she used to be." But today I'm not so quick to give that advice.

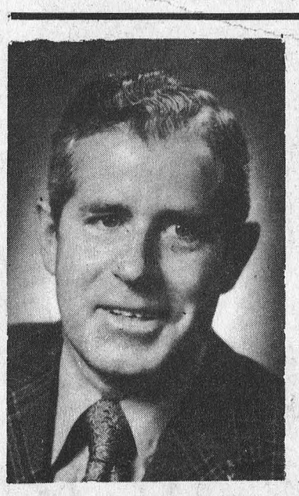
For all you know, your wife might be just as ready to call it quits as you are. Fifty-five is not old these days. Maybe she'd like to spend her remaining years with someone else — or alone. Explore the possibilities and see where you come out. And good luck to all of you.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex — Ten Ways to Cool It". Send 50c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 3346, Chicago, OIllinois 60654.

MARCH IS RED CROSS MONTH

DON IRVINE REPORTS

Donald R. Irvine, MPP for Grenville-Dundas
7th Floor Frost Building-Toronto-Tel 416-965-6701



This is the first opportunity I have had to thank all of you for those warm letters of congratulations I have received during the past week. I will answer all of your correspondence individually but in the meantime I would like you to know that your support and confidence has meant a great deal to me.

I am looking forward to the new challenges that lie ahead as Minister without Portfolio. Previously as parliamentary assistant to Treasurer John White, I was afforded the opportunity to become involved with regional government East of Metropolitan Toronto and acquire an insight into the problems facing municipalities. I will still retain these ties with Treasury, Economics and Intergovernmental Affairs as I have been assigned a special responsibility for municipal affairs. This is an area which encompasses more than laying down guidelines or rules for municipal planning but it also embraces social, economic and cultural objectives as well.

I will try my best to live up to your expectations. And once again thank you for your vote of confidence.

Aside from my personal endeavours there have been exciting things happening in the field of housing. One of the primary goals which the new Ministry of Housing has set for itself is the cration of one million new homes in the next ten years for Ontario's low and middle income families.

A short term housing action program has been developed in consultation with local and regional municipalities. This crash program is designed to increase the number of housing units available during the 1974-75 over and above those that would normally be coming on the market in those years.

Last month a new planning policy was announced for North Pickering. Although the Pickering project is of special interest only to its area resident, I believe it is of general interest to all Ontarians. The highlight of the new policy include:

- guarantees for substantial open-space buffer zones within the planning area;
- increased emphasis on agricultural production;
- exclusion of the communities of Locust Hill, Whitvale, Cherrywood and Martin's subdivision from expropriation;
- reduction, by almost 1-3 of the total land to be acquired by government.

As a result of so much public interest, the government is applying temporary development controls over the entire North Pickering planning area in order to evolve long-terms planning priorities.

While we do need a significant amount of new housing, there are areas within some municipalities which are just as much in need of government aid in the renewal of older homes.

Last December the Ontario Government entered into an agreement with the federal government to take part in the new Neighbourhood Improvement Program (NIP) designed for rejuvenating deteriorating urban areas, and the Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (RRAP) which will increase the aid available within NIP designated areas.

These programs will provide low interest and partly forgiveable loans to homeowners, landlords and non-profits housing corporations under certain conditions but only within specific areas.

Recently the Ontario Government has decided to take this concept one step further and provide municipalities, which meet our criteria, with provincial funds which can be used for home improvement in districts either inside or outside designated NIP areas, including rural and non-organized municipalities.

Legislation will be introduced this session that will make approximately $10 million available to municipalities during the 1974-75 period of this program.

As far as the qualifications for homeowner applicants are concerned, the maximum income in the case of a homeowner within NIP areas cannot exceed $11,000 while the maximum annual income of homeowners outside of NIP areas will be either $12,000 or the current income limits defined by the Ontario Housing Corporation for purchasing a house under the Home Ownership made Easy Plan, whichever is greater.

Hopefully the program will be underway by April 1st. The Ministry of Housing will be developing brochures explaining the Ontario Home Renewal Program. But as the program is to be administered locally, the prime responsibility to inform residents will rest with the municipalities.

More new programs will be coming up this session. Some of these also will be geared in the renewal field and others in the production of new homes. But all of them will be developed through continued consultation with the municipalities.

Lunenburg

W.I. holds "Irish night"

The Lunenburg Women's Institute meeting was held at the home of Mrs Clifford Lalonde on Tuesday evening, March 5 at 8 p.m. There was an attendance of 13.

This being the "Irish Meeting" everyone answered the roll call by displaying something they were wearing that was green.

The president, Mrs Sterling Eamer, was in the chair, and was assisted by Mrs Neil Cleary, acting as secretary, in the absence of Mrs Robert Eamer. The minutes of the last meeting were approved and thank you notes were read from the shut-ins.

A quilt donated and quilted by one of the senior members, Mrs R. Moak, for "fire sufferers" was admired by all and a card of appreciation was to be sent to her as she is unable to get out to the meetings. A membership pin was presented to Mrs Clifford Lalonde, who was addressed by the president and thanked for her years of service.

Mrs Bud Thompson spoke of the progress being made with the quilt to be exhibited at Newington on Achievement Day the later part of March and the quilting bees which will be held in Lunenburg later this month. Mrs Thompson advised the members that a pot luck supper would be served at the quiltings and she extended a warm welcome to non-members to join with the members in this project.

A social evening called "Spring Tonic" will be held the later part of April and the proceeds of this evening of entertainment will be given to the Canadian Rheumatic and Arthritic Society to assist them in their work. At present this society is sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of Cornwall. Plans for this event will be finalized at the Annual meeting in April which will be held at the home of Mrs Robert Eamer.

A brief re support of a theatre to hose colourful plays at Upper Canada Village was discussed by all members and it was decided to support the idea.

A Spring fashion of dresses, suits and evening attire was modelled by Mrs Garnet Markell. These dresses were of her own design. Members showed their appreciation by a hearty round of applause.

Mrs Hugh McGillis conducted a contest and the winner was Mrs Neil Cleary. The door prize, which was donated by Mrs C. Lalonde, was won by Mrs Cleary.

Mrs C. Lalonde was assisted by Mrs Hugh McGillis and several members who served a bountiful lunch. Mr Lalonde, husband of the hostess, played many organ selections of Irish music throughout the meeting.

4-H Homemaking Club meets at Zeran home

The fifth meeting of the 4-H Homemaking Club, Newington, was held at the home of Mrs Helen Zeran on February 27, at 7.15 p.m.

President Sally Hutchinson opened the meeting with the 4-H Pledge. The roll call was taken by Cheryl Zeran.

The discussion period centred around natural fibres, the blind stitch and the false cuff.

A motion was heard to adjourn the meeting.

Lunenburg Senior Citizens celebrate St. Patrick's day

Forty happy Senior Citizens met in the Lunenburg C.E. Centre for the March meeting last Thursday afternoon.

The president, Mrs Rupert, welcomed them and opened the business with the poem "Heads Bent Low" from the Senior Citizen magazine "Voice". The theme song "The More We Get Together", with Mrs Loverin as pianist, followed.

Mrs Hillis acted as secretary, due the absence of Mrs MacMillan. Mr Mattice gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs Rupert received a visit from Mr Bertheaume, of Ottawa, who is in charge of the "New Hoizons Program". It was reported that the grant had been favourably received. Mrs Rupert also read a letter from the Hon. Lucien Lamoureux assuring them of his co-operation.

Mrs Helen Rupert reported on the Craft Course which is to start in May in Cornwall. Any senior citizen wanting to take the course will be picked up by bus. The cost of the course will be $5.00.

A half hour of singing many favourite old songs was enjoyed by the members and the sing song was accompanied by Mrs Loverin. The balance of the afternoon was enjoyed by all joining in games of all kinds.

The door prize was won by Mrs Allan McPahil and Mrs Helen Rupert won the St. Patrick's prize.

Lunch was served from a table centred with a Shamrock and presided over by Mrs Prieur and Mrs Raymond attired in Irish costumes.

Mrs David Moke, the only one with a birthday in March, cut the lovely decorated birthday cake.

A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all.

Fyke's Garage Chesterville Ladies' Broomball Team have provided lively entertainment this season and have won more than their share of games. They held a record good enough to cop the League Championship Trophy. The Chesterville gals competing in 12 games, won 10, tied 1 and lost one, not bad. Casey Van Gessel, president of the Grenville-Dundas-Leeds League is shown here presenting the championship trophy to Chesterville team captain Glenna MacIntosh. The local team was managed by Ann Cook, on the left and coached by Thelma Hall, on the right. Helen MacIntosh of the local team won the league scoring championship. The Chesterville team competed in league play with teams from Prescott, Cardinal and Iroquois. The Chesterville entry has eliminated Cardinal in the semi-finals and now is pitted against Prescott to see who will be play-off champions. If you would like to see some top broomball action, be in Chesterville arena this Thursday evening, Prescott will be in town. — Photo by Ian MacIntosh.

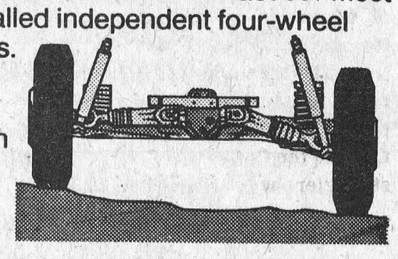
THE Bridal Wreath COLLECTION

THE DATSUN 610. BECAUSE THERE'S MORE TO LUXURY THAN JUST THICK CARPET.

We have a different perspective on luxury than most car manufacturers. In fact our most luxurious item in the Datsun 610 isn't even visible! It's called independent four-wheel suspension and you won't find it on many of today's cars. What is it? It's a suspension system that allows each wheel to move independently of the other three. That means better road holding, less body strain on you when cornering and the assurance of a safe and comfortable ride even over the toughest bumps.



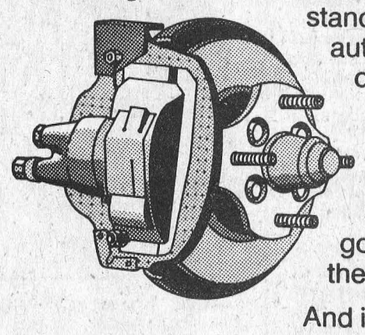
Of course, we don't stop there. We still give you the luxuries you've come to expect in a top of the line car. And probably a few more besides! For instance, in the 610 we don't just offer you fingertip convenience in a wood fascia dash—we give you a trip odometer, and an electric clock that works!

We give you a centre console with floor shift; cloth seat inserts; a deep pile carpet you can really get your toes into, and fully retractable single-latch seat belts that allow you normal freedom of movement.

In the Datsun 610 we even give you the latest in wipers. Two speed and intermittent action electric wipers; a tinted panoramic windshield; 'J' line windows. And we round it all off with chrome trim.

We haven't forgotten about the more simple comforts either, like fully-reclining, body-contoured front bucket seats with enough leg room and carpeted trunk space for a family of five. And to keep your driving enjoyable summer or winter, you'll find we've built in a powerful three-speed heater/defroster, electric rear window defogger and a flow-through ventilation system that keeps everyone comfortable.

And underneath those classy 610 lines we give you performance too, with the famous Datsun rally-tested 2 litre engine with overhead camshaft, plus four-speed standard or optional three-speed automatic transmission. And with our power disc brakes up front and drum brakes behind, it's nice to know you can get from 70 to 0 as quickly as it took you to get up there!



So come and take a test drive in the Datsun 610. You're going to pay more for it than for the rest of our line, but then the Datsun 610 will give you more than you expected . . .

And isn't that what you really need?

IT'S ALL YOU REALLY NEED.

Chesterville Legion Pee Wees "Number One", down Metcalfe, win Championship

The banner that some fans carried around read, "Chesterville Pee Wees Number One". It turned out to be true statement as the Legion sponsored Chesterville Pee Wees won their best of five series in three straight games against the always tough Metcalfe Pee Wee Jets, who had upset second place Winchester to gain a berth in the finals of the Carleton-Dundas Minor Hockey League's Pee Wee Division.

The series opened in Chesterville last Wednesday night as a large crowd of supporters saw Legion squeak by the Jets 5-3. The Jets spotted Legion an early two-goal lead before roaring back to tie the game 2-2 by the end of the first period. Opening the scoring was Curtis McMillan, assisted by Pat Kelly. Then Don Richards put away a Garry Beckstead pass to give Legion a 2-0 lead. Metcalfe then tallied as Todd Campbell and Steve Corlyon tied it up.

In a closely contested second period, the teams traded goals with Jerry Witteveen scoring from Rudy Grisel for Legion, and Jets Frank Zuger scoring on a break-away as he caught Legion's defence napping.

Going ino the third frame deadlocked at 3-3, both teams played typical play-off hockey, a close checking type of game. With 10.37 left in the game, speedy Rudy Grisel slammed in a Tom Feeley pass to score the winning goal. Garry Beckstead added an insurance marker as Legion posted a 5-3 win.

The series' second game was played in Metcalfe on Thursday night and again, as they have all year, supporters flocked to Metcalfe to encourage the Chesterville gang.

As he had in the first game, Curtis McMillan opened the scoring in the first period from centreman Pat Kelly for the only goal of the period.

In the second period with Garry Beckstead sitting out a cross checking sentence, Don Richards picked his way through four Jets to score a beautiful short-handed goal. Pat Kelly was credited with the assist. This gave Legion a 2-0 lead at the end of the second period.

With 6.49 left in the final period, Jets captain Steve Wade scored from Frank Zuger to close the gap to 2-1.

Rob Wood picked up a costly slashing penalty with 3.10 left in the game. Fortunately for Legion Rudy Grisel knocked the wind out of Metcalfe's sails with Legion's second short-handed goal of the game on a pass from Garry Beckstead, allowing Legion to skate to a narrow 3-1 win.

The site of the third game shifted back to Chesterville and District Arena on Saturday. The Jets now had their backs to the wall because there would be no tomorrow — it was "do or die". A noisy crowd of an estimated 200 people added to the tension of this crucial game.

Legion, playing their seventy-fifth game of the long season, put it all together and skated, checked and passed their way to a 5-1 victory.

It was rather fitting that young Pat Kelly, captain of Chesterville Legion Pee Wees, scoring champion of the Dundas-Carleton League, should have the honour of being presented with the League Championship trophy, which the local team captured last Saturday. On the left Bernie Harper, Pat's team coach, looks on, while Larry Corlyon, makes the presentation. — Staff Photo.

Before the game was five minutes old Legion had built up a 2-0 lead. Captain Pat Kelly, shaking a personal scoring slump, opened the scoring from linemates Curtis McMillan and Don Richards, Mark Moran gave Legion a 2-0 lead on a point shot set up by Rob Wood.

In a wide-open second period, Pat Kelly notched his second goal on a power-play, assisted by Rudy Grisel. Both teams had many chances, but solid goal tending by Legion's Ed Witteveen and Jets' Doug James kept both teams off the scoreboard. Jets' Atom-aged superstar Dean McIntosh beat Witteveen on a screen shot right off the face-off to close the gap to 3-1. Then with 3.20 left in the second period Garry Beckstead tallied on a solo effort to give Legion a 4-1 lead at the end of the second.

Jeff Phifer, Legion's other super goalie, held Metcalfe in the third period as he stopped many tough shots by the Jets.

Then with 2.16 left in the game, "Hat-trick Patrick" Kelly scored his third goal to fittingly lock the game and series up for Legion.

Larry Corlyon, on behalf of League President Harry Pinkham, presented the Carleton-Dundas Pee Wee League Championship Trophy to Legion Captain Pat Kelly, before a very appreciative crowd of supporters.

And so, a group of boys aiming at making the play-offs, played their way to first place by posting a magnificent 23 wins and one loss record, and won it all to bring home Chesterville's first ever Minor Hockey League Championship.

The key to their success is a group of wonderful parents who do not cause dissension by interfering with team management. As CDMHA supporters know, parent interference has caused two valuable minor hockey people to quit. Perhaps the key to Legion's success, then, is one-hundred percent co-operation from the parents.

In exhibition play last Friday night, Legion avenged a tournament loss to Prescott by edging the same team 3-2. Scoring for Legion were Rob Wood from Mark Moran and Barry Fulton, Garry Beckstead from Pat Kelly and Rudy Grisel from Jerry Witteveen and Tom Feeley.

On Saturday morning, Legion tied Bob Larose's Bantam B squad 2-2 as Marque Laflamme and Rob Wood scored for Legion.

To have a successful season in the hockey wars you need good coaches, good players and enthusiasm, lots of it. This picture assuredly represents all three reasons. The personnel belong to Chesterville Legion Pee Wees, who captured the top trophy last Saturday. Front row from left, Garry Beckstead, assistant captain; Pat Kelly, captain; Curtis McMillan, assistant captain. Back row, coach Bernie Harper and assistant coach Peter Van Kessel. — Staff Photo.

As I See It

By Mike Rowden

I am at a bit of a loss this week as to what I should write about, so it might be as good a time as any to thank all the kind people who write, phone or personally comment on the different subjects on which I write.

However, writing a column and generating interest can accomplish only that, generating interest, it can't get things done that have to be done. That can only be done by those that read it and are willing to get involved with local affairs, whether it be a club or community.

Municipal politics are quite often discussed, the next election, etc., and quite often I am asked if I will run for some office or other. Whether I ever do is something to think about. I sometimes think it would be a waste of time, unless there was more support and more interest from others. One person can't accomplish very much, but if more people were to take the time to attend meetings and find out what is going on, then sooner or later someone would be able to take the initiative and give some direction to local happenings.

In my travels I meet up with a lot of people who complain and deplore how such and such an organization is being operated, or the state of the roads, or whether council is doing a good job or not of administering or taxes, whether our township affairs are being run right.

It is quite natural for people to wonder and ask questions of one another, but if any change is to come about the initiative has to come from the poeple themselves. Waiting for someone with all the qualities necessary to effect change will be a long wait. There are lots of astute businessmen or women who have the ability to run for office but we either don't have the time, they say or who will find some reason or other for not doing what they are more than capable of doing.

In all fairness to our present council, for example, who more than once have been the target of my comments and criticism, whether they are doing a good job or not — the fact remains that they are trying and more willing to do so than some of their critics.

If a few more people would adopt the same attitude — then if a change were wanted it could be made to come about. A man said to me the other day, what I consider to be a pretty wise observation — "if people want a better councillor, reeve or what have you, than the one they have, it's no use trying to talk someone into taking the job if they are not interested enough to make the effort, because if he or she could be persuaded they would be no better replacement because their heart and dedication isn't in it."

Only if a person or persons, who want change or improvement are willing to make the effort and are big enough to accept the criticisms or the bouquets will any change come about.

I don't agree with a lot of the things our council does and as you have seen, I'm not afraid or uninterested to say so, but as I said before, at least they are trying (very trying at times), which is more than can be said for many others. Some wise man years ago said "people deserve whatever type of government they get, and in the long run have no one to blame but themselves."

I have been to quite a few council meetings and have been the only one there. How much support is that for either our representatives, or what are the thoughts of the council. They probably think everything is O.K. and even if it isn't, who cares. The same can be said of many other groups who have large memberships but leave the work to the same willing ones, who have always done it.

Flyers win semi-final series await opposition for final round

Chesterville Flyers have one more hurdle to cross to pick up the hardware in the Dundas-Carleton Midget Hockey League.

Last Saturday afternoon they eliminated Metcalfe in the semi-finals and now await the opposition which will come from the Winchester-Osgoode series.

In the opening period the two teams, Chesterville and Metcalfe, played heads up hockey, stayed away from the penalty box and tried to gain the upper hand in the game. There was no scoring and only two penalties were called. Little Greg Casselman of Chesterville sat two minutes for slashing. C. Erler, of Metcalfe, sat two minutes for elbowing.

The Chesterville players found the range in the middle frame and drove home four goals while Metcalfe only retaliated for one. Greg Beckstead put Chesterville ahead 1-0 at the 52-second spot. Beckstead's goal came on a power play and Tom Droppo drew an assist. Dave Cross at 4.01 made it 2-0 with assists going to Wayne Dillabough. Just 50 seconds later Lorne Cook got behind the Metcalfe defence, made no mistake, and Chesterville led 3-0. J. Ford from F. Stanley made the score 3 to 1 and it looked as though Metcalfe might be coming. At 12.53 Dave Arnold took the sting out of the Metcalfe attack as he drove one home. Arnold's goal came due the efforts of Big Greg Casselman who started the play behind his own goal, weaved his way through most of the Metcalfe team, was pushed off the puck in front of the Metcalfe goaltender, but neatly made a sharp play to Arnold who made no mistake. Dave Arnold of Chesterville picked up the lone penalty in the middle frame when he was nabbed for holding.

The final period did not produce any goals but the referees were kept busy handing out penalties as the members of both teams resorted to handing out the rough stuff — Chesterville took four calls, Metcalfe picked up six. For Chesterville, Dave Cross with two, both for roughing; Dave Arnold sat out the other two infractions, one for roughing and the other for interference. Metcalfe's penalized were P. Crerar, who took three, for roughing, high sticking and interference; J. Mears for roughing, P. Wiskeman for roughing and J. Deschambeault for holding.

Final score — Chesterville 4, Metcalfe 1.

The North Dundas District High School Branch of O.S.S.T.F., District 21, followed Provincial recommendations recently by making donations to local charitable organizations. As teachers took a stand against Bill 274 and walked out of schools on December 18, 1973, two or three members of each staff were asked to remain behind in the schools to supervise students who were present. Since all teachers who protested by staying away lost pay it was recommended by O.S.S.T.F. that those who volunteered or were nominated to supervise in the schools on the aforementioned day should give up their day's salary as well. This money would be donated to a local charity by the local Branch Executive. The organizations to receive this money from the North Dundas District High School Branch were the Chesterville Rotary and the United Church of Canada, both of whom had made previous requests. The accompanying photo shows Mr Bernie Harper, N.D.D.H.S. Branch Secretary-Treasurer presenting cheques to Mr Bill Giles, President of Chesterville Rotary and Rev. L. Ferguson, Chesterville United Church of Canada.

IN MEMORIAM

FROATS — In loving memory of a dear sister, Mrs Jean Froats, who passed away one year ago March 17, 1973.

One lonely year has passed away,
Since our great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day,
We still remember well.
We little thought when leaving home,
You would no more return,
That you in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
We never knew what pain you bore,
We did not see you die,
We only know you passed away,
And could not say Good-bye.

Always remembered by Sister Linda, brother-in-law Richard and Family 27-1

IN MEMORIAM

FROATS — In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Mrs Jean Froats, who passed away one year ago March 17, 1973.

We often think of bygone days,
When we were all together,
The family chain is broken now,
But memories will live forever.
To us, she has not gone away,
Nor has she travelled far,
Just entered God's eternal home,

Always remembered and never forgotten by Father Garnet, Sister Darlene and Brothers Gordie and Bill 27-1

Mrs. C. Crump chairs Morewood U. C. W. meeting

Morewood U.C.W. met for their regular meeting in the Church Hall, on Wednesday, March 6. Owing to illness of the president, the meeting was conducted by the Vice-president, Mrs C. Crump.

The Worship Service was in charge of Mrs M. Thompson, with the theme centering on Prayer. Matthew 6, verse 6 was read, which instructs in the method of prayer. Mrs Thompson said no good is derived from prayer if it is considered just a duty to pray. Prayer is a power and faith. There are conditions to prayer. We must put ourselves in such a relation with God that we receive His will. This fact was plainly reflected on Jesus' face when he prayed. Miss Colleen Coulthart sang, "Did You Think To Pray This Morning" accompanied by her mother. Prayer closed devotions.

A bake sale was announced for Saturday, March 16, in Weegar's General Store at 2 p.m., and on invitation was received from Russell U.C.W. for the same day to attend a tea. Members were reminded of the apron shower for the April meeting.

Under business the members agreed to cater to a banquet and a wedding in May. A number of other items were discussed and dealt with.

Mrs C. Crump reviewed part of the study book on the "Meaning of Mission". The mission movement really began when Jesus instructed to go forth to every part of the world and preach the gospel. Many questions were asked about mission work, especially missions abroad. Cards were passed out regarding assumptions about missions, from which six statements in order of importance were to be chosen. The answers were varied. The members were grouped to make a decision on three cards, each with a problem. In making their decisions the groups were to keep in mind the previous answers on what mission means. The problems were very thought-provoking and widely discussed.

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by Mrs S. Mattice and committee.

Area W.I.'s hold meetings

Osna. Centre W. I.

Fifteen members and one visitor attended the Women's Institute meeting in the Township Hall, Osnabruck Centre, on Thursday afternoon, March 7. The roll call, an idea for next year's program, brought forth many new ideas.

Humorous poems were read by Mrs May and Mrs Gallinger. Mrs Sinclair in the absence of Mrs Ferguson, Safety Convener, read a paper on that subject.

Plans were made for a euchre to be held in the Township Hall on April. Ten dollars will be given to Runnymede Hospital.

Mrs Morgan commented on the motto "Irish Songs" and all joined in singing "When Irish Eyes are Smiling". Mrs Collins conducted a rhyming contest won by Mrs Stewart.

Lunch was served by Miss Shaver and Mrs Morgan. At each place was a place mat hearing an Irish message. Mrs Grandaw and Mrs Stewart whose messages were uncomplimentary received a small gift as a peace offering.

Mrs Kocourek from Czechoslovakia served Koliacke a native dessert. It is a sweet bun containing raisins and peel, topped with a crumb icing after their goose feather picking bees, resembling our old time husking bees. The young folk visited the various homes in the community, where each served a dessert. Koliacke was a general favourite.

Mrs Gallinger moved a vote of thanks to those who helped make the meeting a success.

The next meeting will be held in the Township Hall in April.

Newington W. I.

The February meeting of the Newington Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs Chas. Tait with an attendance of sixteen members and three visitors.

The guest speaker was Mr John Irwin, Principal of Newington Public School, who was introduced by Mrs Lawrence Steele, convener of Education and Cultural Activities. Mr Irwin's talk was interesting and informative. He stressed the importance of communication involvement between the school and parents which could be very rewarding for both the parent and the pupil. A keen interest was taken in the question period which followed. Mrs Steele thanked Mr Irwin and presented him with a gift in appreciation.

Mrs Wm. Pettit, the vice-president, conducted the meeting assisted by Mrs Chesebro who acted as secretary.

The motto was "Envy no man's talents, improve thine own", and "Telling why I do not take office" was the roll call.

Several ladies had taken the quilt course and a quilt was made and displayed at the meeting. Plans are made to sell tickets on it for a lucky draw later on after the summary day on March 29.

It was decided to hold a euchre party in March in the Newington Fire Hall and details were left in charge of the social committee.

Mrs C. Smith handed out questionaire sheets from the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario on C.B.C. TV Survey to be answered and returned in March. Their aim is to get the best quality of TV viewing.

A skit entitled "How can you keep them up on the Hill after they have seen the West" was well presented by several of the members.

At the close of the meeting a social hour followed and a delicious lunch was served. Mrs Russell Presley thanked Mrs Tait and her assistants Mrs Wm. Pettit and Mrs Mansel Flegg.

Mrs Gerald Duvall will be hostess for the March meeting with Mrs C. Tait, convener of Citizenship and World Affairs in charge.

Flyers in playoffs

Down Metcalfe 5-2 in Wednesday game

Chesterville Flyers recently completed a most successful season by winning the league championship. Winning the league is only half the battle, you still have the play-offs to win. The Flyers started things off on the right foot last Wednesday evening as they downed their opposition, Metcalfe, in the first game of the series. Chesterville won the game 5-2.

Greg Beckstead put the local team into the lead at 6.19 of the opening frame. Dave Arnold and Little Greg Casselman drew assists on the goal. Beckstead's goal was the only one scored in the opening frame and as the bell sounded Chesterville lead 1-0. Three penalties were called in the initial frame and Metcalfe took them all — G. Quinn for kneeing, P. McLean for tripping and C. Erler for charging.

Metcalfe came out strong in the second period and at 1.42 the score stood tied. J. Mears and J. Deschambeault drew assists on C. Erler's goal. St. Lawrence Scouters meet

Leaders of Boy Scout tropps and Wolf Packs in the St. Lawrence District gathered at the gymnasium in St. John's United Church in Kemptville Tuesday evening to plan spring and early summer events. With Winter Sports Days and Klondike Derbys behind them, their thoughts turned to Spring Camporees and Cubarees, camp-outs, Bowlarama, and Regional Camporall in early July. St. Lawrence District is hosting this event this year, and three hundred Scouts are expected from the several districts. "Heritage" will be the theme. When Wolf Cubs meet for their annual Cubaree at Iroquois in May their theme will be "Pioneer Days".

Trees for Canada, the Scout conservation project, also came in for discussion. The emphasis of discussions that followed centered about Scouting's outdoor program. Allan Thom of Roebuck, District Commissioner, presided. George Lewis of Morrisburg, Assistant Commissioner for Scouts, met with Scout leaders. Bob Bryden of Spencerville, Assistant Commissioner for Cubs, met with Cub Leaders.

William Sheldrick of Morrisburg, District President, spoke briefly of Scouting's program and opportunities. The meeting closed with prayer, offered by the Reverend E. Earle Eaton of Chesterville, Chaplain of Chesterville Group, and District Public Relations representative. Delicious refreshments were served by the local Scout Auxiliary.

St. Lawrence District embraces the communities of Prescott, Iroquois, Cardinal, Morrisburg, Kemptville, Winchester, Chesterville, Roebuck, Johnstown and Spencerville. The Reverend E. Earle Eaton was Chesterville's representative at the Kemptville meeting.

ONTARIO'S NEW TAX CREDIT SYSTEM:

2 out of 3 Ontario residents who file income tax returns this year will share $300 million in tax credits.

(Even if they don't pay income tax!)

Families, pensioners, roomers, boarders, the handicapped and others will benefit. Ontario's new Tax Credit System provides for three separate credits, and here's how they work:

1. People who own or rent (including roomers and boarders) may share in the Property Tax Credit.
2. People who fill out a Federal income tax return may share in the Sales Tax Credit.
3. People over 65 may share in the Pensioner Tax Credit.

You must fill out a Federal income tax return.
The new purple Ontario Tax Credit Form comes attached inside it. So even if you don't pay income tax, you should still file a Federal income tax return with the Ontario Tax Credit Form this year.

We want you to get your fair share of Ontario's tax credits.

The North Stormont Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society is a very active group. And as the signs read "April is Cancer Month, Please Give Now". The Branch held a successful broomball tournament in Finch arena on Sunday, and approximately 200 persons paid admission and gave to the Cancer Society to see three lively Ladies' Broomball games. Jr. Farmer's Day

Hockey Tournament held at Finch Arena

It was Junior Farmer Dy at the Finch Arena on Saturday when teams from all the surrounding counties competed in the annual Hockey Tournament. Leading off the play at 8.30 a.m. Stormont Boys soon took the measure of their opponents from Dundas and came up with a resounding 11-0 win. It was then the turn of the boys from Glengarry who showed the Russell county lads that they do more than play the bagpipes in Glengarry by defeating them 7 to 1. Frontenac's stalwart young farmers played a real lively game against Leeds that saw the penalty timekeeper, Peter Michaels, really earning his keep. A total of 12 penalties were handed out by referee Doug Workman and linesman Art McElheran. Frontenac ended up with a score of 9-2 over Leeds.

In the second round, Stormont again was successful in defeating their opponents, from Prescott County 5-2. Then it was the turn of the fairer sex and the Stormont Girls played a marvelous game against Dundas Girls and barely managed to come out on top with a 3-2 win. In their second round, they were pitted against a very capable team from Glengarry but thanks to the effort of the Sullivan girls, Cathy in the nets and sister Marion turning in a hat trick, they were declared tournament winners with a score of 5-2.

Glengarry boys came on in the afternoon to take their game over Frontenac 6-2 and over Stormont 4-2 to become the champions for the day. Bruce Henderson and Brian Baker also acted as officials for the games.

During the evening a dance was held in the Community Centre Hall to the music of the Amber Rock. Mr Marvin Waldroff, president of the host team, Newington and District Junior Farmer's presented the first prize, a cheque for $30, to Gerard Kennedy of the Glengarry team and to Ricky McElheran of the Stormont team, a cheque for $20 as second prize. Mr Andre Bakker presented the first prize cheque to Miss Elizabeth Neill for the Stormont Girls and to Glengarry Girls went the second prize.

Kevin is proof . . .

"Cancer can be beaten"

Kevin is handsome, sixteen year old with hazel eyes, who enjoys sports like other boys his own age, even though one leg has been amputated.

But, to his parents, Mr and Mrs Bruce Lahn of Neustadt, Ontario, the artificial leg is a reminder of their son's diagnosis of cancer and his eventual cure.

It was ten years ago when Mrs Lahn first noticed unusual changes in Kevin's health and was later to learn that a tiny bone tumour known as a Ewing's sarcoma was growing in his right leg. This form of cancer, according to medical doctors, is more common in children than in adults.

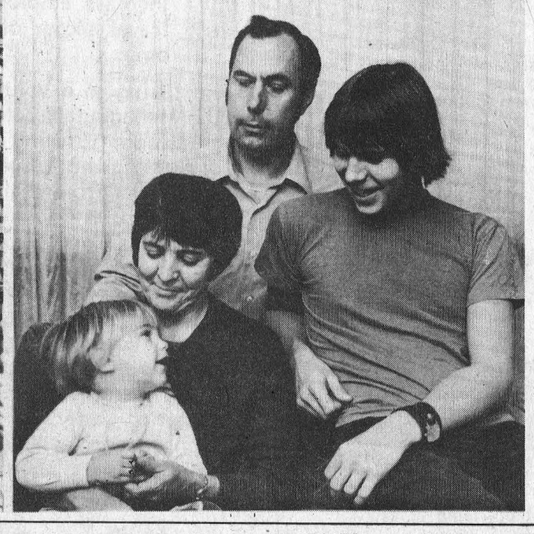
"He wasn't quite six when suddenly for no apparent reason he started favouring his right leg," said Mrs Lahn. "When I was putting him to bed that night, I could see that the calf of his leg was swollen and hot."

For the next eight months the Lahns took Kevin back and forth to their family doctor without results. Meanwhile his leg had become extremely tender, so much so that even the weight of the bed sheets was painful.

Finally it was recommended that they see a Toronto bone specialist who conducted intensive tests on Kevin's leg before the tumour was found.

"When they discovered the tumour," said Mrs Lahn, "the doctor said they would remove it surgically but that they were not going to amputate his leg because this form of cancer has a history of reappearing in other parts of the body. I knew the implications and I remember that I couldn't stop crying."

Bruch Lahn recalled the days of agony when they tried to accept the possibility of Kevin's death.



Mr Lahn, a former member of the Toronto police force, said, "I guess I'm an optimistic person. I refused to even consider that Kevin wouldn't pull through."

After the tumour was removed everything went well for almost a year, then suddenly the swelling and soreness returned.

Back in hospital the doctors injected radioactive isotopes into Kevin's system as a means of tracking down any new tumours that might have formed elsewhere.

To their relief, the only tumour that appeared on the x-ray was a tiny one, back in the same leg, in the same spot.

This time the doctors were prepared to sacrifice Kevin's leg for his life, convinced that the tumour was localized in that area only.

Mrs Lahn recalled the night before the operation when the surgeon approached Kevin to explain what was about to happen to him. The doctor spoke softly as he told the boy that they might have to cutt off his leg. Kevin looked up at the surgeon, wide-eyed.

"You mean I won't be able to ride my bicycle or walk?"

"Of course you will, we'll give you another leg."

The child fell back onto his pillow and looked up with a big smile. "Well, that's all right then."

Kevin, a grade nine student and the second oldest of the Lahns' four children, doesn't get any preferred treatment at home. One of his chores is to help his father with the 5,000 chickens they raise each year.

"He's just like any other teen-ager," said Mrs Lahn, "always following the latest fashion. For instance, every four months, we have to take him to Toronto to have his wooden leg checked. Well, the last time we got a bill for $80 and it wasn't until then that I found out that he had taken a chisel and whittled down his foot to fit the new platform shoes he had bought."

Both parents agreed that Kevin is probably the healthiest member of their family.

"My advice to any parent who detects an unusual change in their child's health," said Mrs Lahn, "is to consult a doctor right away and persist until you are satisfied."

The Lahns did and Kevin is proof that cancer can be beaten.

During April, the Canadian Cancer Society will be carrying out its annual fund-raising campaign for the support of cancer research, education and service to cancer patients. This year, the national campaign goal is $8.5 million.

Crysler Park Maple Sugar Camp Opens

It's that time of year again. The sap buckets are being washed, the evaporator cleaned, and the tapping equipment prepared for the start of the annual sap run. The camp will begin to operate on the weekend of March 15 and, weather permitting, last through the Easter weekend.

Crysler Park Maple Sugar Camp is located 6 miles east of Morrisburg on Upper Canada Road. Here you may capture the nostalgia and memories of yesteryear.

Since the Sugar Camp opened in 1964, more than 140,000 visitors have experienced the processes involved, tasted maple sugar, taffy, and purchased maple syrup for home consumption. The children particularly enjoy the "sugaring off" taffy ladled on fresh white snow.

Again this year, 2,000 trees will be tapped and with favourable weather, about 350 gallons of maple syrup produced.

There is no charge for visiting the Sugar Bush.

On weekends, a horse drawn vehicle will be available to carry visitors to and from the Sugar Bush. Films on the making of maple syrup and maple products will be shown during the week days for school groups.

These will be held at the Upper Canada Restaurant. Teachers intending to take school groups to the Sugar Bush should write in advance to the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, Box 740, Morrisburg, and state the number in the group, the date of the visit and time of arrival.

The snack bar located in the Entrance Store at Upper Canada Village, will serve hot drinks and light refreshments as well as pancakes and sausages topped with maple syrup, from 9.30 to 5.00 p.m.

Bring the entire family for an enjoyable and interesting outing in the serenity of a small forest and experience the memories of the "Good Old Days".

Mrs. G. Williamson hosts Ingleside W.M.S. meeting

Mrs Wallace MacKinnon was in charge of the worship service for the February meeting of St. Matthew's Presbyterian W.M.S. which was held in the home of Mrs Gregor Williamson.

The theme for meditation was "courage". Mrs MacKinnon elaborated on the life and witness of Mrs Lillian Dickson, who had served as Missionary to Taiwan, as an outstanding example of one who has lived a courageous life in recent times.

Mrs Williamson, vice-president, conducted the meeting in the absence of Mrs Harold Shaver. Mrs Frank MacAndrews gave the treasurer's report. Mrs Frank Stewart read the minutes and correspondence. The roll call was answered by 14 members with a verse containing the word "courage".

Tentative plans were made for an Easter Thankoffering service in April. The first lesson from the study book "For A Time Like This" was presented by Mrs Stewart and Mrs D. H. Gilmour. Others who participated in the program were: Mrs Jake Grandaw, Mrs Joseph McCleverty, Mrs Roger Clarke, Mrs MacKinnon and Evelyn Shaver.

The offering was dedicated by Mrs William Maginnis and she also moved a vote of thanks to the hostess for her hospitality. Miss Evelyn Shaver invited the group to her home for the March meeting, when she and Mrs Herbert Shaver will be joint hostesses.

The meeting closed with prayer, a fellowship hour followed.

Green thumbs should be itching for action

Well neighbours, it's that time of year again when the green and not so green thumbs start itching to get back at the garden. And this year there will be more of you than ever before, because in 1973, the highest increase in the number of home gardens was registered. Over one hundred thousand more gardens were added to the nation's garden inventory.

Another interesting factor is that the young married segment of our population is starting their gardens the first year of marriage instead of waiting until the third year, and the gardens they are planting are 60 percent larger than their counterparts planted a decade ago. Another new group of enthusiasts comes from the thousands of homeowners who cancelled their plans to move into new homes because of higher mortgage rates. They decided to keep their homes and make them more livable with greater emphasis on gardening.

TALKING GARDENING with

'DOC' HARTNOLL

Well, let's start off this year's gardening series with some advice on the lawn, because for most of you, that's the centre area of your garden.

Lawn Debris

As soon as the weather permits, start removing the winter debris from the lawn areas. If you can walk on your lawn without leaving foot prints, then it is ready to be raked with a "spring-type" or bamboo rake. It scratches the grass blades and helps to waken them. You'll also get the papers, twigs, and other debris off the lawn area and in this way, more or less, you'll be preparing it for the fertilizer you'll be applying any day now. Use a specialized product like Golden Vigoro and apply it according to the manufacturer's directions or else in 5-6 weeks you'll find yourself behind the spreader again.

New Techniques

If you are a gardening enthusiast or if you just like to have attractive plantings around your home, you probably wish you had more of some of your favorite flowers and shrubs. Here's an idea on how to grow new plants simply and very inexpensively.

For a number of years plant scientists have been expanding the number of experimental plants by rooting cuttings under sheets of plastic. Home gardeners and school children can do the same thing with an ordinary plastic freezer bag. In effect, you can make your own greenhouse! However, for best results, you should know when to root specific plants. Most house plants can be rooted at any time of year. This group would include Chinese evergreen, pothos and philodendron. Garden flowers, such as geraniums and roses, should be rooted from late May to September. Flowering shrubs, broadleaved evergreens, vines, forsythia, camellia and ivy should be rooted from mid-June to mid-August.

Rooting

Use a two quart plastic freezer bag. This will be large enough to hold four to six cuttings. Next assemble the following: peat moss, the fibrous kind that is offered by Vigoro and sand, clean and free of salt. Salt will kill the cuttings, so neighbours, don't use sand from the beach or, in fact, sand from the kids' sandpile. It's best to buy several pounds of sterilized sand at your favorite garden centre, nursery or department store. The hardware shops have it, too. I like to use a root starting hormone because it quickens growth and shortens the time it takes to root cuttings.

The next step is to screen the peat moss, pick out any large particles or twigs that may be in the peat moss, and then combine, by volume, two parts of peat moss with one part sand. Mix well, then sift again. Now add water, not too much, just enough so that when you squeeze a handful of the sand-peat mixture, a few drops of water will squeeze out. Put the mixture into the plastic bag—about three inches deep and be sure there are NO holes in the bag or the water will evaporate and the cuttings will dry out. Firm the mix with your hands and you are ready for the cuttings.

BE SURE the cutting is new growth. You can tell this by the colour. It will be a lighter green than the rest of the plant. You can give it the snap test. A fresh twig will sound like a snapped bean when broken off. Use garden shears or a sharp knife to remove cuttings from the plant and cut off a 4 to 6 inch piece. Strip the leaves from the lower one-third to one-half of the cutting and then re-cut the base of it, straight across. A sharp, fresh cut will take up water more easily and root more readily. Next, cut a very thin sliver of bark off the side of the cutting, about one inch long. Now dip the bottom inch of the cutting into the root starting hormone and be sure that all exposed parts of the cuttings pick up the hormone so the cutting will get maximum benefit. Tap excess rooting powder off the stem.

Now you are ready for planting. Using your thumb and finger, stick the cuttings into the sand and peat mix. About one-third to one-half of the length of the cutting should be inserted. You should be able to put four to six cuttings in one bag, but DON'T crowd them. Space cuttings so that leaves barely touch each other. If there is too much overlapping, the leaves will rot. Sprinkle the cuttings lightly with just enough water to wet the foliage. Then draw together the top of the bag and fasten it tightly with the rubber band, twist-em, pipe cleaner or clothes pin.

Where To Put It

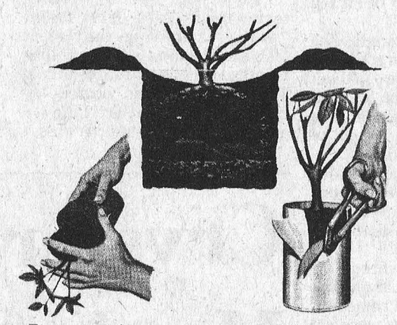
The best place to make it produce roots is right on your window sill where the cuttings will get lots of light but no direct sunlight. No additional water will be required and the cutting should root in six to ten weeks. To test whether the cuttings have rooted, tug them gently. If they stay put, you know you've got roots on them. If not, re-seal the bag and wait for another two weeks or so.

When the plants are rooted, gradually open the bag a little more each day for five to seven days. This is to get the cuttings used to the drier atmosphere of the room. You'll have to water them now because the moisture once contained in the bag will escape when the bag is opened. You've come a long way since taking the original cuttings. You've got a plant growing for you, and the next step is just about the last one. Transplant your cuttings to clay pots containing a rich potting soil. Then, bury the pots in a protected area in your garden.

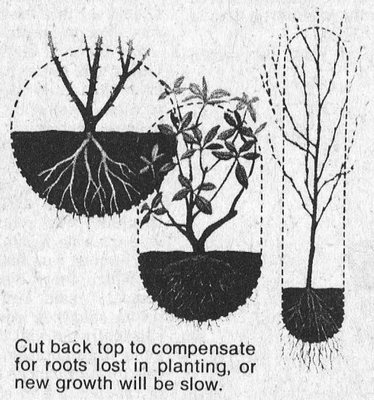
Cuttings made in the fall and winter should be kept indoors in a cool room until spring. After the plants have had a winter in the ground in pots, remove the pots and replant them in a permanent spot in the spring. Now you should have enough plants to make your home attractive, and when a neighbour gives you a cutting, you'll be able to grow it on, as a Friendship Plant.

If you have any gardening questions, write to me at the Garden Information Centre, 165 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, M5H 3B8 enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

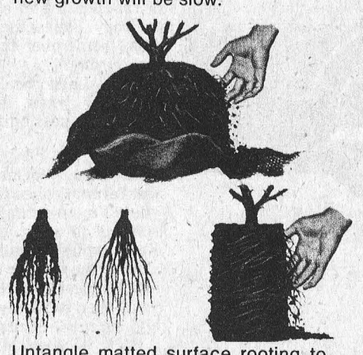
PLANTING



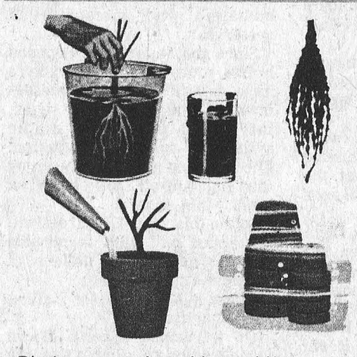
Remove plant carefully. Provide a "$5 hole for 50¢ plant" to encourage roots to grow out from present ball.



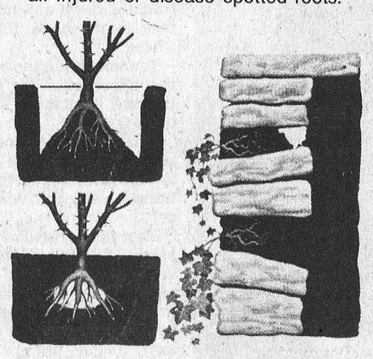
Cut back top to compensate for roots lost in planting, or new growth will be slow.



Untangle matted surface rooting to hasten growth into new soil. Cut off all injured or disease-spotted roots.



Dip bare roots into thin mud if out of the soil more than a few hours. Saturate new pots by soaking 24 hours.



Avoid air pockets that kill roots: set rose on cone of soil; slope wall pockets down, not up, tamp firmly.

Finch Girls take broomball title

For the second year in the North Stormont Junior Girls Broomball League (11, 12 and 13 year olds), Finch have come out on top in both League and Play-offs. In a twelve game schedule with five wins and seven ties Finch won the Jamieson Campbell Trophy.

Finch defeated Avonmore two games straight in a two-out-of three semi-final round and went on to face the Berwick team.

A 2-1 score in favour of Finch in the first game of the finals gave the Finch Girls a one-game lead in the three-out-of-five series. Debbie Rowe scored the first Finch goal, she was assisted by Debbie Cameron. Berwick tied the score with a goal by Francine Glaude from Paula Hunt and Marianne Pethke. On a breakaway Debbie Rowe came through with her second goal, in overtime, to win for Finch.

In game two Debbie Rowe was the hero again, scoring the lone goal to give Finch a two-game lead.

Game three was played last Friday evening, and proved to be the most exciting of the series. At the end of regulation time, following a hard-fought game, the score was tied at 0-0.

The two teams went into overtime and at the 10-minute spot Marilyn Sabourin took a pass from Kim Beckstead, broke in alone and beat the Berwick goal tender.

The Finch Girls, by eliminating the Berwick team, picked up the Ottawa Valley Hardfacing Trophy.
