Moccasin not yet on the move

While the public wasn't able to board the miniature train called Moccasin at Upper Canada Village, they could still check out the new locomotive on Fri., Aug. 13. MORRISBURG — The new miniature train at Upper Canada Village has been revealed, but not launched per se.

Tech problems and delays put a damper on a Fri., Aug. 13 official unveiling ceremony.

Construction and testing of the tracks is still ongoing, according to Patricia Macdonald, general manager and CEO of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, which oversees the village.

While visitors and dignitaries couldn't take a ride on the train, they still celebrated its christening ceremony.

The locomotive is called Moccasin, in honour of a real train by that name that operated for more than 100 years on the Grand Trunk Railway.

Moccasin is expected to be open for rides by Wed., Sept. 1.

"The new train is a scaled replica of an 1860s locomotive featuring a fully accessible car, new sound system, special effects, and will run with a new audio interpretive program," Macdonald said in a prepared statement. "All track is brand new and will allow riders to travel along the river through Crysler Heritage Park and see sweeping views of the St. Lawrence River and the memorial mound. In addition, the route is designed to provide good sight lines for some of the various memorials — like the monument recognizing the United Empire Loyalists — and we hope that visitors will explore the area on foot after disembarking from the train."

The train station was named in honour of Farran's Point, one of the communities known as the Lost Villages, which were a casualty of the Seaway construction and flooding in the late 1950s.

While there was another miniature train on site, it was getting old and needed replacing, said Macdonald.

The train is the first element of the $13-million Upper Canada Discovery Centre.

Aug. 13 also marked the start of construction on a new interactive visitor's facility.

Rowdy deputy for South Dundas?

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WILLIAMSBURG — Robert Gillard's decision not to make a run at retaining the mayor's position in the Township of South Dundas left many wondering if his time in municipal politics was over.

But, on Fri., Aug. 13, he silenced all the questioning by submitting his nomination papers for deputy-mayor in the Mon., Oct. 25 municipal election.

On Mon., Aug. 16, the township's current mayor sat down with local media outlets to discuss his reasoning for not attempting a return to the top spot, and his goals for the next term.

"I never, ever, had intentions of being mayor for the Township of South Dundas," said Gillard, who took over the position following the sudden death of former Mayor Charles Barkley in June 2009.

He cited the workload of the mayor as being "extremely high," while being deputy-mayor would allow him to scale back his duties somewhat, but "still have a hand" in making crucial decisions. As well, Gillard said, he is a potential candidate to become warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G).

"By being warden and mayor, I'd be busy every day," said Gillard, estimating that he already devotes approximately 60 hours a week to his mayoral duties.

Gillard also dispelled rumours circulating that health-related problems led him to not seek re-election as mayor.

"My health issues are fine... better than they've ever been," he said.

As for election-related issues, Gillard focused on plans to update or potentially build a new municipal office building. He also gave consideration to refurbishing the old Morrisburg High School structure.

POLICE BLOTTER

Impaired driving charges

WINCHESTER — The Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP have notified the press of three recent impaired driving charges.

On Wed., Aug. 11 around 11:45 pm, (SD&G) OPP pulled over a 38-year-old driver (Kevin Rice of Winchester) on County Road 31 in the Township of North Dundas. Police arrested the man and charged him with impaired operation of a motor vehicle and driving with a blood alcohol concentration exceeding 0.08. He is scheduled to appear on Tues., Oct. 5 in Morrisburg court.

Bradley Francis, 25, of South Dundas faces the same charges. Officers pulled him over on County Road 8 around 1:45 am on Sun., Aug. 15. He's set to appear in Cornwall court on Tues., Aug. 24.

Finally, Patrick Clarke, 36, of Vanier stands accused of driving with a blood alcohol concentration exceeding 0.08. Police pulled him over — also on Aug. 15 — at 9:28 am on County Road 43 in the Township of North Dundas. He's set to appear in Cornwall court on Tues., Aug. 31.

Mayoral position stressful: Gillard

"We've got to look at office space," he said. "Look ahead, we need space for seniors, kids, plus a municipal office."

He also pitched the idea of constructing a two-pad ice surface in the Morrisburg area, similar to the North Grenville Community Centre in Kemptville.

"We have to address space and what's good for the community long-term," said Gillard.

Gillard's other priorities are similar to those of his fellow candidates — a new visitor centre for Morrisburg, and the Iroquois Golf Course.

"It [the visitor centre] was never, ever, meant to be more than $400,000," he said.

As for the golf course, Gillard said he is unsure of its future, but admitted he'd change the past if he could.

"If I had it to do over again, I would have liked to hold a referendum," he said, preferring that option instead of South Dundas taking sole ownership, which it has at the moment. "That way, if people want to get rid of it, we'll get rid of it."

Robert 'Rowdy' Gillard

For now, the 34-year political veteran is aiming for one more kick at the can.

"I'll get a chance to voice my opinion some more," he said.

Other names on the Oct. 25 municipal election ballot include Steven Byvelds, Delbert Jones, and Lyle Van Allen, all gunning for the mayor's chair. James Locke is the other candidate for deputy-mayor, while Evonne Delegarde, Jim Graham, and Bill Ewing are also seeking election as councillors. The deadline to file nomination papers is Fri., Sept. 10.

CORRECTION: An incorrect date appeared in last week's edition of the Winchester Press. The Dairyfest wine and cheese took place on Fri., Aug. 6, not the next day. The Press regrets the error.

Will Township, Veterans Affairs subsidize new Hill 70 project?

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Mountain and District Lions Club was back in the North Dundas council chambers on Tues., Aug. 10.

The service club is working to revamp a memorial at Mountain's park that honours the Battle of Hill 70. The 1917 military effort in Lens, France was a decisive, but costly, victory for the Canadians against divisions of the German Sixth Army in the First World War. Many soldiers perished, including local men.

The Lions have plans to turn the modest site in Mountain into a world-class memorial.

The club has appeared before township council once before to inform them of the project. Council gave the initiative the thumbs-up, on the condition that the Lions work with others who would have an interest in the memorial.

On Aug. 10, the Lions returned to council after consulting other individuals, including Bill Shearing, who spearheaded recent improvements to the Hill 70 site and a rededication ceremony last October.

Lions Dermid O'Farrell and Don Johnston told council they have slowed down the project and want to apply for funding through Veterans Affairs Canada. They have also received a few professional designs for the memorial.

The men asked council for a donation in the neighbourhood of $15,000. The Lions said they should be able to fundraise $10,000 to $15,000 from the community. The project could cost $50,000.

If Veterans Affairs Canada won't subsidize the rest of the project, then the designs may have to be revamped.

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," Johnston said.

However, they explained that their application to Veterans Affairs needs certain financial backing from council. The Lions aim to submit the paperwork by this fall.

The politicians, in return, explained that the budget was already done for the year, and they were hesitant to make a commitment when a new council will be elected during the Mon., Oct. 25 election.

"I don't want to hang out other council members to dry," said Councillor Al Armstrong.

Deputy-Mayor Estella Rose thanked the Lions for the work they had done so far.

"I want to congratulate you on Hill 70," said Rose.

Councillor John Thompson said he wanted groups like the North Dundas History Stewards to be involved in the design process, in case their suggestions change the cost of the project.

The Lions and council planned to meet at a future date and discuss the issue further.

We want tar and chip!

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — You know residents are angry about road conditions when — to make a point — they endure an entire council meeting past 9 pm.

Kittle Road residents have submitted a petition requesting that their road, located in the Chesterville area, be switched from gravel to tar and chip.

They also complained that the gravel job hadn't been finished where Kittle connects to Boyne Road.

To make their voices heard, the Kittle crowd patiently waited until the end of a regular council meeting on Tues., Aug. 10, so they could air their complaints.

Arden Carruthers — North Dundas' public works director — said one resident had complained there was too much gravel on Kittle Road. So recently, Carruthers explained, he tried to be accommodating and applied less gravel near that individual's property.

Since it appeared impossible to satisfy everyone, Carruthers pledged to re-grade Kittle Road in the fall. (There would be no point in putting down more gravel now, Carruthers said, because there's no calcium available.)

When the Kittle Road residents demanded to know about the tar and chip, council explained that the budget was already finalized for the year.

Plus, with a new council after the Mon., Oct. 25 municipal election, a new roads plan may be developed.

"New council, new road plan," Carruthers said.

2011 build for seniors' home, subdivision?

"Please don't stop the music"

Will the old Holy Trinity Anglican Church in Chesterville be converted into a home and private studio for music lessons? That depends on the outcome of a Tues., Sept. 14 public meeting.

WINCHESTER — PDH Healthcare has plans to build its retirement residence and subdivision in 2011.

Planning director Calvin Pol revealed the news at the most recent regular council meeting on Tues., Aug. 10.

Combined, the subdivision and retirement residence would occupy 15.45 acres north of Winchester's Queen Street and east of County Road 3.

The subdivision plans could be available in the next few weeks.

A public meeting on the rezoning is set for Tues., Sept. 14.

The Holy Trinity structure in Chesterville is starting to show its age. (The sign outside says, "founded 1879.") Local Anglicans presently worship at their Winchester church and plan to build a new facility along County Road 31.

Council notes from North Dundas

Home, music school proposed for church

The old Holy Trinity Anglican Church in Chesterville might become a home and private music school.

Council had no initial objection to a rezoning application that would switch the church from "institutional" to "residential."

Peter, Paul to settle debts

The Township of North Dundas wrapped up 2009 with an operating fund surplus of about $396,000.

But that doesn't mean the municipality is flush with cash.

At the Aug. 10 meeting, treasurer John Gareau warned council that despite the surplus, there's still a capital fund deficit of about $1 million.

The deficit is the result of North Dundas' share in two stimulus funding projects: the resurfacing of the Belmeade and Boyne roads.

But council decided it was best not to change the refinancing plan already in place for the deficit. (At budget time, council decided to finance these costs over a few years to ease the upward pressure on property taxes.)

Instead, they put the $396,000 back into reserve deficits.

"Some of the departments were running a deficit and had borrowed from other ones, and this operating surplus is a good opportunity to balance our books across departmental lines," township treasurer John Gareau explained to the Winchester Press in an e-mail. "It's time for Peter to pay back Paul."

Mapping our heritage

North Dundas' summer heritage coordinator, Paula Duncan, will be involved in a new mapping project that would be available on the Internet.

The plan is to develop mapping showing all types of cultural activities: playhouses and theatres, public parks and gardens, bookstores and libraries, art studios, pottery makers, glass blowers, and more.

All six municipalities in the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G), the City of Cornwall, the Community Futures Development Corporation, and the Eastern Ontario Training Board are involved.

The project is being entirely funded by grant money. Municipalities have been asked to provide their heritage databases to a consultant.

Status quo for pool rules

Council deliberates over controversial bylaw flaws

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — In the eyes of the Township of North Dundas, pools need fences. Period.

Unless the pool has two feet of water or less, up goes the fence.

However, here's the twist: If a township official catches you breaking the rules (or, enlightens your ignorance that such a bylaw exists), you need to comply, pronto.

But how do you erect a fence instantaneously?

Township of North Dundas council pondered that dilemma during a Tues., Aug. 10 regular meeting.

The debate was actually a follow-up from a previous meeting when Councillor Eric Duncan said he'd received complaints that the township wasn't allowing enough time to put up a fence.

Duncan argued that people who are unaware of the bylaw should be given an extension to get that fence — say, 60 days.

Planning director Calvin Pol later asked insurers about the issue. He received, in a nutshell, this response: either support the bylaw fully, or pull it from the books.

On Aug. 10, Pol explained that the township needs to enforce the bylaw the second an employee discovers the unfenced pool.

Duncan clarified that he had no intention of scrapping the bylaw. He acknowledged that since he brought up the issue on July 13, several high-profile child drownings have hit the news, heightening awareness of water safety. Duncan said the example that truly "hit home" was a letter published in the Wed., July 21 edition of the Winchester Press. (Bereaved mother Renée Lacasse wrote in to respond to the pool debate, expressing her "crushing guilt" that her son drowned in a removable pool after she didn't tell her parents to put up a fence.)

Duncan said these instances were tragic. But it doesn't change the fact that it takes time to put up a fence, he argued.

Unless it's a bag pool, which can be deflated, the homeowner needs time to comply.

"I just ask for flexibility," he said.

Pol said the township does try to be reasonable and accommodating. A snow fence is one option until something more permanent can be arranged. (Duncan pointed out that a snow fence is an additional expense for the homeowner.)

Pol added that the township is trying to be proactive, because when people come in looking for a pool installation permit, they're reminded they need a fence, too.

The problem occurs when homeowners don't get a pool permit, or a fence.

Councillor Al Armstrong pointed out that kids can still drown in fenced pools.

"I for one have never really been in favour of [the bylaw]," he said. "[Kids are] drowning inside of fences."

He speculated that, if the provincial guidelines are so strict, shouldn't North Dundas be doing proactive house checks?

"We've been being reasonable," Armstrong said.

"We don't have the staffing for that," Pol returned.

Pol said that with drownings being so high-profile lately, the province may come out with laws governing pools.

Council decided to maintain the status quo.

So, pool owners who are unaware of the fencing bylaw will still have to comply "immediately" — whatever that means.

On the blitz for WDMH

On Fri., Aug. 13, the Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) Foundation held its annual Business Blitz. Businesses throughout North and South Dundas, as well as some in the surrounding regions, raised what money they could with all proceeds earmarked for the foundation's Close to Home Campaign. The Winchester Press joined the road show as it made its way through Winchester.

Terrace Green Bed and Breakfast owner Annette Angus (left) sat down for some tea with Dawn Cooper, managing director of the WDMH Foundation. Angus and her husband, Jim, have been hosting tea socials on the weekends with the money raised going to the local hospital.

Seaway Valley Pharmacy donated 15 per cent of all cosmetic sales to WDMH. Crummy and Muir accepted the $300 cheque from employee Donna Cooper.

Hey Ontario government: public education is your responsibility

Survey results released by VISA this month are getting their share of press. The credit card company found that Canadian online shoppers plan to drop an average of $621 on back-to-school purchases — both via the Internet and in stores — until Labour Day.

That's a lot of money.

Mom and Dad are able to suppress their spending guilt because — you know — it's for school. Even frugal parents will sacrifice big time for their kids' educations. It doesn't help that major corporations capitalize on that anxiety and, through an avalanche of aggressive advertising campaigns, blur the line between needs (pencils and pens) and wants (homework helper apps that necessitate the purchase of an iPhone 4).

Plus, for parents who can afford Five Star binders and the like, school shopping can feel purposeful, even fun, like a mini-Christmas.

For poor families, late August is almost as unbearable as December. That's why, again this year, the Dundas County Food Bank and House of Lazarus are teaming up to run a supplies drive. Until Sat., Aug. 21, select local businesses will be selling paper school buses for $2 to buy supplies for underprivileged students.

But here's what doesn't make sense: Why do we need the drive at all?

Say what you want about socialism, but most voters agree that certain necessities of modern living — like roads, firefighting, and schools — should remain public, funded by the government so everyone has equal access to core services. That's the point of taxes. Every child has a right to an education. And they need supplies to participate in the system.

To save money, school boards are cutting costs by making parents pay for supplies. In big corporate vocabulary, that's called "externalizing" — forcing a third party to assume expenses. It all falls back on the province, which should provide boards with sufficient funds for a supplies budget and ensure it's spent appropriately in the classroom. Every kid should work with the same standardized supplies, so there's no difference between the notebooks and markers used by rich, poor, and middle-class students. In turn, the school boards should be encouraged to purchase from area suppliers to support local economies.

Poor, rich, and middle class kids should be working with the same school supplies.

In an e-mail response to questions from the Winchester Press, the Upper Canada District School Board's communication department said that students without supplies are, in fact, provided with materials. "In some cases it may be as simple as a piece of paper, a pen, or a notebook," the e-mail read. However, it appears that students are still falling through the cracks. Why are local charities running drives, if there's no need? And why do we keep hearing anecdotes of teachers paying for supplies out of their own pockets for the truly desperate students?

In the end, parents pay for the materials anyway, either at the checkout line or through taxes. Why not have the school boards buy standardized materials so that everyone gets the same stuff?

There are alternative strategies to cut costs of school supplies. One is to reduce the shameful amount of waste created by our education system. In the old days, a slate and chalk sufficed. Eliminating trivial or silly projects with negligible educational value (such as title pages out of 10 marks) would be a start.

We're not saying, "don't support the school supply drive." In fact, we're encouraging you to give. Please do. (That's why it was a front-page story last week.)

But unfortunately, our loving and generous community has a tendency to "make do" with the externalization of government costs, rather than demanding our elected officials take action. Apparently besides medical equipment (such as our CT scanner and mammography machine at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital), we're also required to absorb other responsibilities neglected by the provincial government.

You can make your voice heard by writing us a letter to the editor, or taking the issue up with your MPP. After all, the squeaky wheel gets the grease.

Remember when...

The French Academy of Medicine this week wanted all French children to be ambidextrous and argued that, if human beings could use both hands with equal facility, the world's production of industry, art, science, and agriculture would increase by one third, according to the Winchester Press. Posters were being distributed reading, "We have two hands. Why should one of them be useless? Give your children the habit to use both hands with equal ease. The future is for the ambidextrous."

Grant Levere is shown here placing two more runs on the newly added scoreboard at Winchester's ball park this week in 1970. The project was funded by Ault Milk Products.

The August deadline was passed when Hitler said he would visit London as victor over England, the Press reported. This week's editorial judged this as good news for Canada because the German government had stated that it would assume control of all Britain's colonies after an invasion of England. Of Canada, Germany said it would hand the Dominion over to the United States, according to the Press.

1950

This week's Modern Etiquette column received the write-in question of, "I have seen people chewing ice cream. Is this good form?" The answer given was that chewing ice cream was neither necessary, nor was it good form.

1960

It was reported in this week's Press that many tourists to the area were praising Winchester 100 Club Park as "a haven for tourists, motorists, and picnickers." The park itself included swings, teeter-totters, a ball diamond, picnic tables, an outside barbecue, and — best of all — no entry fee, the Press said.

1970

Six years after it was constructed, the miniature railroad at Upper Canada Village was in a Press article. The tiny locomotive, which ran roughly four kilometres of track along the coast of the St. Lawrence River, was an immediate success at the park. At the time, it carried an estimated 100,000 passengers and had travelled enough mileage to cross Canada from coast to coast. (What a coincidence; the new train is featured this week.)

1980

At the 1980 Canadian Games for the Blind, held in Vancouver, 14-year-old Rodney Barkley of Williamsburg helped lead the Ontario team to victory. Barkley scooped up three gold medals, competing in the 800-metre race, high jump, and 400-metre relay race. He also won bronze in long jump.

1990

Osgoode Township High School was hoping to get its licence to broadcast a new FM station this week, the Press reported. The school's principal and media resource technician came up with the plan during the summer. The vision was for the station to focus on culture, history, and local interviews.

2000

Local secondary school teachers had approved strike action this week with an 88-per-cent approval rate, according to the Press. It was a showdown between teachers and their employer — the Upper Canada District School Board. Working conditions and salaries were just some of the issues targeted by the teachers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Shepherd Talk column heartwarming

The Editor:
My heart wants to respond to the Shepherd Talk column "What would Jesus do" published in the Wed., Aug. 4 edition of the Winchester Press.

Jesus himself had something to say about what he would do. In John 5:19-21, Jesus said to them, "most assuredly, I say to you, the son can do nothing of himself, but what he sees the father do, for whatever he does the son also does in like manner. For the father loves the son, and shows him greater works than these that you may marvel. For as the father raises the dead and gives life to them, even so the son gives life to whom he will."

According to this quote, Jesus does nothing of himself, but what he sees the father do. Jesus is capable of seeing what he sees the father do and that's what He does.

Before his crucifixion, Jesus was before Pilate. Pilate said to Him, "are you a king then?" Jesus answered, "You say rightly that I am a king. For this cause I was born, and for this cause I have come into this world, that I should bear witness to the truth. Everyone who is of the truth hears my voice." (John 18:37)

Do you hear his voice?

Jesus even knew before his crucifixion that he would be going away.

He said, "nevertheless, I tell you the truth. It is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the helper will not come to you. However, when the spirit of truth has come, he will guide you into all truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak: and he will tell you things to come.

He will glorify me, for he will take of what is mine and declare it to you. All things that the father has are mine. Therefore, I said that he will take of mine and declare it to you." (John 16:13-15)

Taking the time to hear, it's our great God and father, his son, and the holy spirit doing and speaking and declaring.

Thanks for cutting the weeds: readers

The Editor:
We would like to take this opportunity to thank the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry, and, in particular, the operator of the equipment that cut the weeds along County Road 3 west of South Mountain — we appreciate a job well done.

We are farmers who try to keep obnoxious weeds such as wild parsnip, Queen Anne's lace, ragweed, sow thistle, milkweed, etcetera out of our crops. When these weeds are allowed to flourish along the roadways it means we are assaulted year after year with these weeds in our hayfields and crops.

Some of these weeds may seem like pretty flowers to a few people and necessary habitat for small creatures, but just look around at fence rows and uncultivated land in the area, there is certainly no shortage of habitat and certainly no danger of it becoming extinct through the control of weeds along our roadways.

Plus many people are allergic to the pollens from some of these invasive weed species.

Good riddance to SD&G's poison parsnip and its ilk

The Editor:
I would like to commend the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry for doing a great job on mowing the ditches, from roadside to the fences.

County Road 2 looks great, so neat and hopefully the rest of the county roads will also see the same improvement.

The great job is long overdue, the poison parsnip, which is very toxic if anyone comes in contact with it, and other invasive weeds needed to have something done to them for some time.

A big thank you to Jim and others at the counties for a job well done.

Bridge in Cornwall key to economic prosperity, says MP

From Parliament Hill
by MP Guy Lauzon

OTTAWA — Tues., Aug. 10 will be recognized as a historically important date for the riding of Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry. I make this statement because on this date, I had the pleasure of welcoming the newly appointed Government House Leader, John Baird, to Cornwall to announce the construction of the $75 million low-level bridge connecting Cornwall and Cornwall Island.

The new 400 metre low-level span will replace the 50-year-old Seaway International North Span bridge that is 1.6 kilometres long. Not only will this new aesthetically attractive structure totally transform the Cornwall waterfront, it will have a significant impact on the entire riding's economy. It will have a huge immediate impact on the area's economy, as well as play a role in our long-term growth.

The current bridge accommodates 2.3 million passenger transits annually, as well as 120,000 commercial crossings. This qualifies the Cornwall Port of Entry as the ninth busiest border crossing along the Canada-United States border. The height, age, and access to the current bridge discourages many travellers (commercial and private) from using the Cornwall crossing as a crossing point to either country.

Although four major highways cross our riding, thousands of international travellers chose to drive right through the area to use alternative ports of entry. Having a short, attractive, and efficient low-level bridge will save travellers time, minimize traffic congestion, and help make international travel a more pleasant experience.

There is no doubt that the new low-level bridge will result in a very significant increase in the use of the Cornwall crossing. Some optimists predict an increase of almost double. More travellers means more shoppers looking for gas, meals, motel rooms, and more in our communities from Dundas County right through to the Quebec border. This new critical piece of infrastructure will also help in attracting new businesses to our riding. I truly believe Aug. 10 will go down in history as a turning point in our economic recovery and add to our future growth.

How in the world did Justin Bieber become famous?

Have you ever wondered just how the pop culture machine in our society works?

Justin Bieber will be blessing us with his presence at Scotiabank Place next week. It is being tabbed as the event of the millennium. Every 12-year-old girl in eastern Ontario is talking non-stop about this event. It is being treated like the most important event in the history of our area and of our country and of our world. British win War of 1812, Hitler's Nazis defeated, Martin Luther King delivers "I had a Dream" speech, man walks on moon, Paul Henderson scores, disco dies, Cold War ends, Saddam Hussein overthrown and captured, Justin Bieber coming to Scotiabank Place.

Have you ever seen this guy on television or, better yet, seen how our young people, our children, thank God not my children (I have boys), react to the mere mention of this guy's name?

Why?

Justin Bieber's rise to super-mega-stardom is a microcosm of our pop culture itself. Bieber was raised in Stratford by a single mother who was 18 when she became pregnant. He entered a local singing competition when he was 12. He placed second. I have no idea who placed first.

Bieber's mother, Patti Mallette, put the video of her son on YouTube for her friends and family to see. The kid, with no formal training, was a pretty good singer. She began posting more clips of him singing, and more clips, and more clips.

Soon, albeit accidentally, a marketing juggernaut was born.

Scooter Braun, a recording agent, came across the clips of him in 2008. He signed Bieber to a contract with the Raymond Braun Media Group. Braun's partner in the venture was music superstar Usher. From that moment on, Justin Bieber became more than just a YouTube sensation. He would become the biggest pop icon of the decade.

You have to wonder when the bubble will burst.

He is 16 years old now but still has that Michael Jackson-ish voice that seemingly never changed. He is clearly having a personal identity crisis, as he has overtaken rapper Eminem for the clubhouse lead of the international doesn't-realize-he-is-white tournament. Eminem says he talks like he is African American because all of his friends in the trailer park he grew up in were African American. Justin Bieber is from Stratford, home of the Shakespeare Festival, where they don't use words like "shorty" and "yo-yo-yo".

While the heartthrob is the squeaky clean, kid-next-door type, even though he doesn't seem to remember that he's a Canadian white kid, he does have a dark side.

From
THE OTHER SIDE
by Jeff Morris

It seems that Bieber, in order to get back at someone who violated a friend of his, used Twitter and his demi-god status as a weapon to get revenge on a Detroit teenager named Ryan Kristopik.

It seems that Kristopik hacked into the Twitter account of Ryan Butler, a childhood friend of Bieber's. He got Bieber's phone number.

Bieber, for payback, tweeted to all his fans, saying "everyone call me at 248-xxx-xxxx. The number he gave was Kristopik's. Bieber has 4.5 million Twitter followers. Kristopik posted a video on YouTube two hours later, after receiving 10,000 text messages and countless phone calls. He has since cancelled his Twitter account.

Nobody really seems to know if what Bieber did was illegal. However, you can bet that there will be lawsuits flying at the young pop idol and the case will set a number of precedents.

Meanwhile, you have to wonder how much longer this whole thing will last. Will Justin Bieber's voice ever change and will it destroy his career? Will the changing of his voice be documented by his mother on a series of YouTube clips? Will he end up on Dancing with the Stars or Survivor or will he get his own reality show of some kind? Will he ever be part of a scandalous affair and end up with Ke$ha or Rihanna or Lindsay Lohan or, well, Adam Lambert?

Or, will he just fade away, and end up sitting at a bar some day, having a Jack and Coke with the middle Hanson and Joey MacIntyre and A.J. MacLean and Brian Littrell and Nick Lachey and Lance Bass, reminiscing about their 15 minutes of fame.

For me, personally, it has opened up a whole new future. I won't be at the concert, but I will certainly be paying attention to the hysteria, and studying, and learning.

Now that I know about how to become a star through YouTube, it is finally time to start up my all Goth-Emo boy band. I am going to call it Marilyn Hanson.

Mmmm bop in a deep and scratchy voice with black lipstick.

And I still don't know who finished first in the 2007 Stratford Idol contest, but I wonder if they would be interested in being our lead singer.

That is, if the winner is a boy. If not, then, maybe we can get Ryan Kristopik to sing for us.

Or, maybe I will just wait until a couple of weeks after the concert, when most people won't remember that it ever happened, and many of the people who were there will wish they didn't remember it.

Because by that time, there is no doubt that Bieber Fever will have given way to the Marilyn Hanson marketing juggernaut.

Council committees return to operation this week

OTTAWA — City of Ottawa council committees resume their meetings this week. The Corporate Services Committee begins with a number of issues to review. Three of the more important items are Office of the Auditor General (OAG) — 2009 Annual Report; Arts Court Redevelopment — Implementation Strategy; and the 2011 Municipal Vehicle and Equipment Capital Replacement Plan. The agenda for the Community and Protective Services Committee is fairly light to start the fall session. Members will be reviewing the Office of the Auditor General (OAG) — 2009 Annual Report and 2009 Detailed Audit Reports.

Ottawa Super Ex — 122 years strong

Super Ex, one of Ottawa's greatest traditions, opens for the 122nd edition on Thurs., Aug. 19. Super Ex president Lyn Presley is very excited about the fun-filled, exciting program that is spread over the 11-day event. Next week, we will outline some of the more exciting events. Let's get out and enjoy the last Super Ex at Lansdowne Park. Next year, Super Ex will be moving south to a new location to continue its tradition of excellence.

Just Kiddin' Theatre

Fall registration is underway for the mainstage program, which begins Sat., Sept. 11 and is recommended for children and youth ages nine and up. Participants may choose between a Wednesday, Thursday, or Saturday group and each will perform one part of The Gillian Trilogy, a play that explores various perspectives of a doomsday scenario — mostly comedic in nature. The Thursday group is dedicated to teenagers who will tackle serious drama at an advanced level. Visit www.justkiddintheatre.com for more information or to register online.

Pioneer summer camp

Starting today (Wed., Aug. 18) the Osgoode Township Historical Society Museum in Vernon is hosting a pioneer summer camp with activities and heritage crafts for children ages seven to 12. The camp runs from 1 to 3 pm, and will continue Thurs., Aug. 19 and Fri., Aug. 20. Admission is $5 per child, per day. To register your child, contact 613-821-4062.

Keeping our community clean

Volunteer to be part of the City of Ottawa's community cleanup initiatives, including Adopt-a-Park/Adopt-a-Roadway programs and Cleaning the Capital. In 2009, more than 87,000 volunteers collected over 151,000 kilograms of litter. Fall Cleaning the Capital is set for Wed., Sept. 15 to Fri., Oct. 15. Registration starts on Sun., Aug. 15. For more information on the initiatives, visit www.ottawa.ca/clean or call 311.

Soccer registration

Registration for the Metcalfe Indoor Soccer League will be held on Sat., Sept. 11 at the Metcalfe Farmers' Market from 8 am to noon for the October 2010 to April 2011 season. The non-competitive league is for kids ages four to 17 years. Practices (one evening per week) and games (Tuesdays and Saturdays) are held in Metcalfe-area schools. The league also requires volunteer coaches. For more information, visit www.metcalfeindoorsoccer.com.

O-YA update

The Osgoode Youth Association Centre (O-YA) has a number of different activities available for youth throughout the month of August. For a complete list of what's going on, visit www.o-ya.ca.

Volunteer drivers still needed

The Osgoode Home Support Program needs drivers to help the ever-growing local senior population to get to their medical and dental appointments, the bank, or do some shopping. Without public transportation and costly taxi service, many seniors are unable to get to their appointments without the help of volunteers. Drivers are reimbursed for their mileage and no additional insurance is required. For more information, call Catherine Rutka at 613-821-1101 or drop by the Osgoode Home Support office located at 7650 Snake Island Road.

Because you can't turn back the clock

New self-help group for the hot-tempered?

WINCHESTER — For guys who have a tough time controlling their tempers, local help may be on the horizon.

Rick Ventrella wants to meet up with other men who are generally easy-going but, under the right circumstances, just "lose it," often damaging relationships with the people they love most.

The Winchester resident explained he wants to start something structured similarly to Alcoholics Anonymous or the increasingly popular Take Pounds Off Sensibly (more commonly known as TOPS).

Ventrella stressed that the anger management group wouldn't be a replacement for men who need professional help. Instead, the regular meetings would reinforce the members' need to stay calm at all times — especially during brief but fateful heated confrontations that can have major consequences.

"I'm not a perfect guy," said Ventrella. "I need to be reminded [about anger management] on a weekly basis."

Ventrella said you can't turn the clock back after an argument. But he hopes weekly meetings will keep the importance of self-control in the forefront of his mind, as well as his fellow members.

For more information or to express interest in joining the group, contact Ventrella at 613-774-6003.

Green power: Biemond family goes the solar way

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

The Biemond family, owners of New Care Eco Farm near Iroquois, recently had a $100,000 solar panel system installed on their farm's property. On Sat., Aug. 14, an open house session was held to show off the new installation.

IROQUOIS — One year after celebrating their farm's 20th anniversary, the Biemond family is making news once again.

This time, local residents and other inquiring minds were invited to an open house session for a new $100,000 solar panel project on Sat., Aug. 14.

Located on the property of New Care Eco Farm near Iroquois, the new investment consists of 45 individual 210-watt Sanyo panels, all of which sit atop a dual-axis deger tracker. This means the entire system rotates on its own, depending on the sun's location in the sky.

"The panels can go 300 degrees," said Bart Biemond, a family member and salesmen-project coordinator for BCS Energy, the company behind the installation. "It could sit almost straight up and down."

Outside of having another source to provide electricity to their home and farm, another perk for the Biemonds was that their application to the provincial government for the project came before Fri., July 2, meaning they qualified for the 80.2 cents per kilowatt hour, instead of the newly instituted 64.2 cents. (This money comes from the Ontario government and the Ontario Power Authority, and is paid to solar panel operators, who sell the energy they produce back to the provincial power grid for further commercial use.)

According to Bart, with the project coming in at $100,000 and financed over 20 years, an average of $14,000 could be made each year by the Biemonds. With those odds, the family could see a net profit of $280,000 at the end of their contract.

Josh Biemond, one owner of the farm, told the Winchester Press that Farm Credit Canada played a large role in the financing for the project, making the idea of a solar panel even more intriguing.

"I figured I'd do my part [for the planet]," he said. "I don't want a nuclear plant in my back yard."

New to you (and me)

A handful of local farmers were invited to Weagant Farm Supplies during the morning of Thurs., Aug. 12 for an information session about the new line of New Holland Agriculture model CR9000 combines. Jason Hardy, a cash crop product specialist with New Holland, was on hand to answer any questions, while also making a series of presentations about the machines maintenance needs, field adjustment capability, and more. Later in the evening, a dinner event was held where a complete unveiling of the new line took place. The event also recognized New Holland's 35 years of producing twin rotor combines.

Weather, water conditions perfect for Canoe the Nation Challenge

SOUTH NATION — The high humidity has faded and stream water levels are up, making it an ideal time for paddlers to consider the Canoe the Nation Challenge from now into the early fall.

Each of five the South Nation canoe routes takes about a day to complete and is designed to highlight the history and natural features of the watershed, said South Nation Conservation (SNC)'s Gord Shaver.

According to SNC, there are about 175 kilometres in routes.

Not only is the challenge a fun and physically active outing, it's also useful in educating participants in various SNC services, everything from fish habitat enhancement and shoreline buffer strip creation, to flood control, Shaver said.

"You can do it solo, as a team, or in a group," said Shaver. "Last year, some Crysler residents turned their successful challenge into a talk and slide show."

With few portages and no major rapids, the South Nation River extending from South Mountain to Plantagenet can be travelled in either direction.

Camping isn't permitted along the river banks, most of which connect to private property.

Participants must maintain and submit an official trip log that can be downloaded from www.nation.on.ca, along with entry forms and further details about the challenge and the various canoe and kayak routes.

The log is to compile information on travel dates, number of kilometres paddled, water levels, and comments about unusual plant and animal life.

Prizes for those who complete the event include public recognition for a challenge well met, paddles, equipment bags, and more. Entry forms must be submitted by Fri., Sept. 17. Top-place finishers will be selected randomly from those who complete all five routes, or from entries with the highest number of kilometres logged.

Winners will be announced at the SNC board of directors' October meeting.

Under construction

The new home of Winchester's Green Tech Ag and Turf is currently being constructed along County Road 31, located just outside the village south of its current Dawley Drive facility. Sales manager Roger Brasseur told the Winchester Press that all plans are on track and the local business should be operating in its new building by November.

Green ceremony at the waterfront

CHESTERVILLE — The TD Friends of the Environment Foundation and Tree Canada teamed up with the community and the Township of North Dundas for a special evening ceremony on Wed., Aug. 11.

The event took place at the former site of the condemned Flynn Hotel. The structure was demolished last month. Today, there's nothing left but a dirt lot that's scheduled to become a beautiful park and aesthetically pleasing addition to Chesterville's downtown, thanks to recent funding.

North Dundas has been promised a $15,000 grant from the TD Green Streets program as part of a 2010-2011 urban reforestation program. The Chesterville Green Action Gang came up with $10,000 in cash and $5,000 through in-kind contributions, thereby providing the matching funds.

The total of $30,000 will support the township's plan to plant and maintain trees along its waterfront redevelopment. The funding will also work towards TD's goal of an "urban forest" and create green educational programs.

A tree planting photo-op took place that night too, but it was just for ceremonial purposes. (The tree, which was borrowed, was scheduled to be dug up and returned to its owner after the event was over.)

Steady as she goes

Residents making their way to Main Street on Fri., Aug. 13 were treated to some driving excellence. A new holding tank unit was in the midst of being delivered to Parmalat during the mid-morning rush. The tank's location on the property is in behind the Bank of Montreal, and this meant the transport truck carrying the load had to back its trailer down the narrow throughway between the bank and Andy's Foodland. Steve Wilson, Parmalat's director of operations, told the Winchester Press that three more tanks are scheduled to go through the same process in the coming weeks at the site. Press Photos — Uhrig

Reader Loni John sent this photo to the Press, taken from her vantage point while the tank was being put into place. John is an employee at the Bank of Montreal.

Sammy Kershaw bringing his roadshow to South Mountain

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — Fans of country music artist Sammy Kershaw are in luck, as the man himself has promised to bring his hits to the South Mountain Fair.

On Sun., Aug. 22, Kershaw and his band will close out the weekend-long fair activities.

"We're going to bring hit records," Kershaw said from his home in Lafayette, La., during an interview with the Winchester Press. "People want to hear those hits."

Kershaw became a household name in the early 90s with the release of his debut album, Don't Go Near the Water, and a string of hits, including "Anywhere but Here," "Cadillac Style," and "Yard Sale."

The album peaked at number 15 on the American Country Music Charts and number five on the Canadian charts, both positions being good enough to declare the album platinum (one million units sold) in both countries.

South Mountain stop

Currently, Kershaw is sampling some of his newer material while on tour, including one of his most recent singles, "The Snow White Rows of Arlington," an acoustic number dedicated to those American soldiers who have lost their lives while fighting overseas.

His most recent album, Better Than I Used to Be, is scheduled to be released on Tues., Aug. 31, and, according to Kershaw, will be available in most major music stores or online at www.sammykershaw.com and Apple's iTunes store.

In total, Kershaw has released nine studio albums, which have produced 33 singles and 22 music videos.

American country music artist Sammy Kershaw.

It's those recordings that Kershaw has made his career on, and it's those songs that he knows people want to hear.

"I'm gonna give the best I've got," he said.

Political aspirations

Outside of his musical endeavors, Kershaw has demonstrated some strong political interest by including his name on the ballot of the Sat., Oct. 2 primary election for Louisiana's lieutenant governor position. (If elected, Kershaw would replace Mitch Landrieu, who left office after winning the City of New Orleans mayor's chair.) He is listed as a Republican candidate.

This is the second time Kershaw will attempt to be elected into the position, having run previously in 2007, but he fell short, receiving just 30 per cent of the necessary 50 per cent of votes.

As well, this past April, the Louisiana native became the official spokesperson for www.protectourcoastline.org, a non-profit organization working to provide fishermen and shrimpers relief from the Gulf Coast oil spill.

"We want those folks and all their families to know that we're not going to forget about them," said Kershaw. "We're going to help them get stronger."

How to see the show

Admission to Kershaw's Sun., Aug. 22 show at 4 pm is included in the fair entry bracelet price of $20. The pass gives fairgoers all-inclusive admission to the midway rides, musical entertainment, dances, exhibits, agricultural shows, and kids' attractions. It will be an all-ages performance.

Prior to Kershaw's set, Gail Gavan and the Ryan Brothers Band are set to hit the stage from 1 to 3:30 pm.

"We're gonna have a great time," said Kershaw.

For more information, visit www.southmountainfair.ca or see pages 8 to 11 in this week's paper.

Exciting lineup Aug. 27-29

'Elvis' to play Gospelfest

WINCHESTER — Elvis impressionist Michael John will be one of several acts coming to North Dundas Gospelfest.

Located near the corner of Bank Street (County Road 31) and Country Road 43, the third annual edition of Gospelfest will take place at Winchester's Terrace Green Bed and Breakfast from Fri., Aug. 27 to Sun., Aug. 29.

Michael John

John, who recently moved to Winchester, comes from a musical background. His grandfather, Michael Nold, was the band leader for the Canadian Naval Parade and Concert Band performing for Queen Elizabeth II's coronation ceremony. A master of the clarinet and piano, Nold played with such legendary musicians as Bing Crosby, Gene Krupa, Buddy Rich, Benny Goodman and Tommy Dorsey. John's grandmother played piano with Hank Snow, a Canadian country music legend.

John began playing drums at the age of four and formed his first band at the age of 12. He began impersonating several artists, including Roy Orbison and Tom Jones. At the suggestion of a friend, he entered, and subsequently won, his first Elvis impersonator competition in 1989. Over the next decade, he went on to win several more competitions. He went professional in 1995 and has performed throughout North America. He has performed with some of Elvis' original band members in Las Vegas and was invited by Marla Trump to perform at Trump Towers in New York City and The Taj Mahal in Atlantic City.

John will be featuring a set of Elvis' favourite gospel songs at the 2010 edition of Gospelfest in Winchester. He performs during the Saturday afternoon program, which begins at 1 pm.

There is no charge at the door, but a free-will offering will be received.

For more information, visit www.gospelfest.webs.com.

OTTAWA — Chesterville resident Lauren Casselman will soon be putting her singing voice to competitive use.

On Sat., Aug. 21, Casselman will take to the stage at Place d'Orleans Shopping Centre. The performances are scheduled to get underway at noon.

Should she impress the judges, Casselman will be selected to compete once more on Sat., Sept. 4, with the finals slated for the next day.

Kickers edge Warriors

The Seaway Kickers visited the North Dundas U18m2 Warriors and posted a 3-2 win at North Dundas District High School last week (Thurs., Aug. 12). Seaway was holding a 3-1 lead in the final minutes of the South Side Soccer League game when Warrior Tyler Hunt zipped a shot up and over keeper Cody Lewis' shoulder and cut his team's final deficit to 3-2. Jesse McNeilly toed in two tallies for Seaway while Eric Saddlemire slipped in the single. Hunt (below) netted both Warrior goals. Warrior Warren Nugent (photo left) and a Seaway Kicker defender chased down the ball on this play.

Sox lead A's 3-1

WINCHESTER — A run in the bottom of the seventh inning extended the Ottawa Athletics playoff lives.

The A's plated the tying run in Monday (Aug. 16) night's 4-4 draw at the Nepean Sportsplex and earned a point in their National Capital Baseball League quarter-final series with the Winchester Sox.

The Sox led their Tier 2 set three points to one and will advance to the semi-finals if they won last night's (Tues., Aug. 17) game in Winchester.

Winchester trailed the A's 3-0 after three innings of game two, but rallied on runs by Matt Ware in the fourth, Robyn Sadler in the fifth and two in the top of the seventh by Bobby Paradis and Josh Stubbings (running for Sadler).

Hawks ready to open camp, like league changes

WINCHESTER — There are just 12 days left before the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks open their main training camp.

This year's crop of prospects and returning veterans will hit the ice at the Winchester Arena on Mon., Aug. 30 at 9 pm. The scrimmages will continue on Tues., Aug. 31 (9 pm) and Wed., Sept. 1 (9 pm), and then head coach Tom Kirkwood and his staff of Lenard McLean and Robyn Sadler will test their experimental lineups in five exhibition games beginning with a trip to Gatineau to take on the Metro Division Mustangs on Fri., Sept. 3.

"I'm looking forward to a talented, very competitive main camp," Kirkwood told the Press.

Local hockey fans will get a look at the Hawks when they play a home game against Gatineau on Sun., Sept. 5. The puck will drop at 2 pm.

The following weekend the Hawks will play three exhibition games in three days. The Ottawa West Golden Knights will visit Winchester on Fri., Sept. 10 for an 8 pm encounter. The following night (Sat., Sept. 11) the Hawks return to take on Ottawa West at the Barbara Ann Scott Arena at 8 pm and Sunday (Aug. 12) they move on to Brockville to meet the Tikis at 7:30 pm.

Ready to roll

Kirkwood said he is anxious to see how the team looks on the ice.

The coach along with general manager Craig "JB" Smith report that Inkerman's Brodie Boulanger is returning to the club after a year playing prep school hockey in New York State and another forward, Ottawa native Jesse Barbier, who started his career with the Hawks before moving on the play in the Central Junior Hockey League, is also rejoining the club.

In earlier moves the Hawks acquired native son Jordan Moran and tough guy Robbie Thomson from the Brockville Tikis.

"We are eager to get going and look forward to icing a very competitive team," Kirkwood said.

Changes made

The Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League has taken on a new look for the 2010-2011 season.

The annual Boxing Day tournament has been shelved and replaced it with the first annual Fall Classic, an event that will see all 22 teams play at the Bell Sensplex on Sat., Sept. 18 and Sun., Sept. 19. Winchester will meet the Almonte Thunder on Saturday at 1 pm and the Perth Blue Wings on Sunday at 10:30 am.

The Hawks open their regular season hosting the Char-Lan Rebels on Fri., Sept. 17 at 8:15 pm.

The Rideau-St. Lawrence Conference executive has also put in some new wrinkles, adding a penalty-shot shootout. The regular five-minute overtime period will remain but a five-player shootout will follow and if the game is still tied, a sudden-death shootout will decide the winner.

"The shootout should be entertaining for the fans," added the coach.

The Rideau-St. Lawrence Conference has also added a Showcase Day that will take place in Westport on Sat. Jan. 8.

Registration ongoing for alumni tourney

WINCHESTER — There is still time to enter a team in the second annual Winchester Junior "B" Hawks Alumni golf tournament.

Organizer Barry Casselman reported that there has been a good response so far but urged current and former Hawks players, coaches, trainers and executive members to sign up for Saturday's (Aug. 21) event.

The tournament will be played at Cedar Glen Golf Course and the tee offs will begin at 11 am. It will be a scramble format with optional skins and the fees are $60 for members and $77.50 for non-members. The package includes golf, cart, meal, prizes and a donation to the Hawks Hockey Club. Both team and individual entries are welcome.

To book a tee-off time call Cedar Glen at 613-535-2323. For more information call Barry Casselman at 613-535-2015.

Hockey helpers

Minor hockey players wishing to get into shape for the new season can still register for the inaugural Pro Hockey Skills and Drills camp. The week-long instructional clinic is set to open at the Winchester Arena on Mon., Aug. 30 and there are still openings available. The group's spokesman, Warren Holmes, reports that over 50 registrations have been received and they are hoping to have from 70 to 80 players (novice to midget/junior) take part. The Pro Hockey Skills and Drills committee, all former Township of North Dundas minor hockey players, includes Rob Raistrick (left), Clinton Holmes, Todd Marcellus, Warren Holmes and Chris Van Bridger. For more information: e-mail prohockeyskillsanddrills@hotmail.com or by phone 613-774-3489 and fax 613-774-5852.

Simms snipes winning goal, Lynx take senior 'A' title

WINCHESTER — Shawn Simms claimed the North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League's regular season scoring title. In nine regular season games Simms sniped 16 goals. In three round robin games he managed just one but he regained his touch around the net in the biggest game of the season.

Simms snapped in two goals, including the winner with 48 seconds left on the clock, and lifted the Lynx to a 3-2 victory over the Cougars in last week's (Wed., Aug. 11) "A" championship game.

North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League Championships

The Cougars opened the scoring at 32:42 when Brae McNamara cashed in a feed from Peter Klein-Swormink. The Lynx got on even terms at 25:30 when Brandon Cousineau netted a rebound created by Simms and Morgan Barkley. They opened up a 2-1 gap at 11:27 on an unassisted goal by Simms. He then fired in the winning goal at 9:48. Cousineau and Hayden Moher helped enlarge the difference to 3-1. Dylan Sosnowsky teamed up with Klein-Swormink and McNamara and gave the Cougars new life 51 seconds before the final buzzer, but 3-2 was as close as they would come to tying it up. Chase Beaudry posted the win and Jeremy Broeren suffered the one-goal setback.

The Lynx put together a solid championship season losing just once in nine regular season games and four post-season matches. Their "A" final opposition (Cougars) posted a regular season mark of 6-3-0 and won all three round robin games before dropping that 3-2 decision in the title match.

"A" champions

Shawn Simms cracked in the winning goal as the Lynx edged the Cougars in last week's (Wed., Aug. 11) North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League "A" championship game. The Lynx also earned the regular season championship registering eight wins in nine games. The 2010 "A" champions are: front - Chase Beaudry; row two (left) - Justin Tanner, Ty Manns, Bradley Belair, Jacob Luimes, Shawn Simms, Brandon Cousineau; back (left) - Morgan Barkley, Allison Wheeler, John Luimes - coach, Travis Nurse, Hayden Moher, Kevin Vandekemp, William Larmour, Devin Nurse, Kristopher McMahon, Ty Beaudry, Darren Nurse - ass't coach.

Heuff, Buma lead Lightning to 15-11 win over Attack

MORRISBURG — Captain Justin Heuff and rookie Brandon Buma combined for nine goals and 15 points in the White Lightning's final win of the 2010 Dundas Men's Roller Hockey League season.

Heuff bagged four goals and four assists in the 15-11 decision over the Black Attack last week (Thurs., Aug. 12). What's in a name?

South Dundas Girls Hockey Association changes name to reflect membership

WINCHESTER — The Ontario Women's Hockey Association (OWHA) has approved the South Dundas Girls Hockey Association (SDGHA) request for a name change.

SDGHA president Ron Hass, recently announced that girls hockey teams playing out of the Morrisburg and Chesterville arenas will now be known as members of the Dundas County Girls Hockey Association. He noted that the name change was requested by the South Dundas executive following a vote by all players. It is thought that the association's name will better reflect the regionalism of its members and location of its operations.

Team colours (blue and gold) and the Lions logo and moniker are being retained. Both the Winchester and Morrisburg Lions Clubs have and continue to, support girls hockey in Dundas County.

The SDGHA has been offering competitive and house league hockey playing options for area female skaters for several years. Players reside in many areas of the region including North and South Dundas townships, as well as villages in neighbouring municipalities such as Long Sault, Cardinal and Finch.

Dundas County Girls Hockey Association

Solid season

Girls hockey in Dundas county has a proud history. In the 2009-2010 season was no exception. The Midget "C" Lions finished first in their Ottawa District division, captured the playoff championship and won the silver stick.

The Bantam "C" Lions excelled in league play and moved up to the "B" division for the playoffs.

The Bantam House Lions, with three pee wees and three first-year players finished in the middle of the standings and made a strong showing in the playoffs, winning three games and tying the top team, to get to the championship match before losing.

The midget house league intermediate Lions finished in the middle of the standings. They won two and tied two other playoff games 0-0 — a goal in those games and the Lions would have been also in finals.

Three of the four teams were ranked in the top half of their division standings and made it to their respective championship day.

The 2009-2010 season was also a success do to the generous support of community businesses. The fall BBQ fundraiser was a success and included the raffle of a Matt Carkner game stick. Williamsburg's Your Credit Union also generously purchased a set of sweaters for the Lions.

This year

For the 2010-2011 season the Dundas County Girls Hockey Association (DCGHA) will ice five teams – pee wee "B", bantam "C", midget house, midget "C" and midget "B". The DCGHA is currently accepting registrations and is specifically looking for bantam-age players. The registration form is available at southdundas-girlshockey.com.

The association welcomes registrations from all girls interested in having fun playing hockey, whether one is an experienced player looking forward to the challenge of "B" level hockey, or a new player who wants to try the game for the first time!

Gove girls lead team to win 4-2

WINCHESTER — Tyne Gove cracked in a pair of goals and her sister Teal snapped in a single as the fourth-place Yellow squad upset the top-ranked Andy's Foodland Reds 4-2 in the opening game of the 2010 Chesterville Women's Ball Hockey League playoffs.

Yellow posted a 4-7-1 record during the regular season but knocked off the pennant-winning Foodland Reds (6-3-2) in last week's (Thurs., Aug. 18) opening qualification game.

The third-place Blues (4-6-2) defeated the second-place Green Machine (6-4-2) 3-1 in the other round robin encounter.

The Reds will face the Blues in tomorrow night's (Thurs., Aug. 19) 7 pm game. Yellow will try to make it two straight when they take on Green at 8 pm. The "A" and "B" championship matches will be played next week (Thurs., Aug. 26) at the Chesterville Arena.

Yellow 4 - Reds 2

The Gove girls got the ball rolling when they netted Yellow a 2-0 first-period lead. Tyne turned a feed from Teal into a 1-0 lead at 17:15 and three minutes later Teal fired in an unassisted shot to make it two-zip.

The Foodland crew responded at the 10-minute mark when captain Alyson Erwin buried a relay sent to her by Miranda Carruthers and Kaylee Steele. Yellow opened up a 3-1 gap at 14:16 of period two. Tyne Gove provided the pass and Janet Poirier scored the goal. There was 3:56 left in the same frame when Brittany Beckstead combined with Erwin and Steele and sliced the Reds' deficit to 3-2.

Tyne Gove's unassisted marker made it a 4-2 final with 9:50 left in the final frame.

Blues 3 - Green 1

Jackie Morris completed a play started by Carissa Casselman at 11:15 of the first period, but that was the only time the Green Machine got on the score sheet in a 3-1 loss to the Blues.

A goal by Carolyn Ross with 9:40 left in the opening stanza was set up by Lori Dubois and Theresa Schoones and tied the score at 1-1. Schoones then became the shooter and counted the winning goal after taking a feed from Dubois and Ross 4:55 before the end of the session.

The 2-1 difference held up until Jessica Lynch scored unassisted 2:23 before the final buzzer.

Senior Panthers roar to 8-1 win over Wildcats to claim 'C' title

WINCHESTER — Adrian Lee cashed in six goals and powered the Panthers to an 8-1 decision over the Wildcats in the North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League "C" title match.

Last week's (Wed., Aug. 11) victory snapped the Panthers out of a post-season scoring slump that saw them count just three goals in three games. Lee's six goals and one-assist effort were his first points of the playoffs.

The Panthers (1-5-3) placed fifth in the regular season standings with five points, one more than the Wildcats (1-6-2). Both teams were winless in three qualification tests.

Panther 'tender Drew DeDekker missed the shutout by one shot. It was fired in by Matthew Laflamme (assisted by Ryan Byers) at the 28:53 mark. Laflamme's tally cut the Wildcats deficit to 3-1.

Megan Chamberlain and Phillip Boyd snapped in single goals for the winners. They also earned an assist along with Emma Pintal, Derek Crump, Travis Shane, Cody Morgan, Jacob Jaquemet, Joey Brisson and Troy Shane.

The last three of Lee's six goals were registered with 14:32, 13:32 and 7:43 left on the clock.
