North Dundas names new CAO

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Township of North Dundas didn't have to look far for its new CAO.

In fact, the search didn't stray much outside of the municipality's St. Lawrence Street headquarters.

It was announced on Wed., July 25 that Angela Rutley, the former deputy to the municipality's top employee, would be taking on the role.

"I am very excited about this opportunity, and challenge," she said.

In the roughly 18 months since longtime CAO Howard Smith stepped aside due to constant health struggles, Rutley has been handling the lion's share of municipal responsibility. (Smith officially left the township in February, but had been on leave intermittently for some time.)

Now is a time of transition at North Dundas, with a number of projects on the go, and a retooling of senior administrative positions.

"The priority is the projects currently underway," Rutley said when she sat down with the Winchester Press. "[Council] is very ambitious… It's exciting that they want to achieve a lot, and they have given [staff] the means to do so."

Angela Rutley replaces Howard Smith

In searching for a new CAO, township council members waged an extensive recruiting process, hiring an outside firm, and interviewing several candidates from across the country throughout the past five months.

"Angela has done an excellent job in her role as acting CAO, and she has really impressed us," Mayor Eric Duncan said. "We work well together, and she has my full confidence."

Duncan continued, saying Rutley's hiring removes the vacancy from a "critical" position for North Dundas.

"[This] is probably one of the most important decisions of our term," he said.

With Rutley now occupying a key municipal position, she has become just the second CAO since amalgamation, and the first female.

"It is clear at [county level] meetings, women are the minority," Rutley said.

However, she added that females do hold senior ranking positions in the region, naming Helen Thomson, the United Counties' clerk, and Betty de Haan, the Township of South Stormont's CAO/clerk, as just two examples.

Going forward, Rutley added, the focus will remain on the township's current customer service and economic development strategies, while also working to create better relationships with developers.

Meanwhile, North Dundas' website is due for an overhaul, which should make the municipality's web domain more user friendly, she added.

Fire ban remains, drought continues

by Sandy Casselman
Press staff

WINCHESTER – While some yards have responded well to recent rain, there has not been enough quality precipitation to conquer current drought conditions.

As of Mon., July 30, Jason Symington, environmental technologist for South Nation Conservation Authority (SNC), confirmed that the area remains at a level two drought status despite recent rains. He explained that although forecasted thunderstorms are heading this way, it is hard to predict whether it will be enough to alleviate drought conditions.

"What we need is a good long rain event," said Symington, explaining that a couple of days or a week of long duration and low intensity rain is necessary to alleviate the area's dry spell.

"To say how much we need would be tricky," he continued. Everything depends on the type of rain, whether it runs off and is flushed away, or whether it soaks in and recharges," Symington added.

New CAO

As for filling the vacancy left by Rutley's promotion, an evaluation process will begin soon in order to determine what is needed. (Rutley said, as well, that an open search for a new recreation director has yet to get underway, and Meaghan Meerburg will continue to serve in an acting role until a replacement strategy has been formulated.)

Since 2002, Rutley had also served as deputy-clerk, as well as water and sewer manager. She began her municipal career with the Village of Chesterville in 1996 as a hydro billing clerk.

Angela Rutley was hired as the Township of North Dundas' new CAO on Wed., July 25.

Drought

SNC's water response team, featuring various special interest groups, including provincial and municipal representatives and members of the agricultural sector, will be meeting in Finch on Thurs., Aug. 2 to re-evaluate the situation. Ultimately, a decision regarding whether current conditions warrant a recommendation of an upgrade to level three drought status will be made.

The determination will be based on a variety of factors, including social and economic determinants. Documentation of dry wells, low water levels, brush fires, and other negative impacts, are necessary to back-up any recommendation the group might make to the province.

Should current conditions meet the requirements for a level three, SNC will make a formal recommendation to the province. The provincial government alone has the authority to designate a condition, and implement subsequent restrictions.

While some dry wells have been reported, Sandra Mancini, SNC director of planning and engineering, asks that residents continue to report instances of dry wells or other water-related issues. Homeowners experiencing low water levels are encouraged to have their wells tested.

Meanwhile, due to extreme dry conditions, fire bans continue to be enforced in the region. As of July 30, the fire ban in the Township of North Dundas remains in effect, while the ban in the Township of South Dundas has been lifted slightly. South Dundas Fire and Emergency Services chief Chris McDonough cautioned that it is only campfires that are currently permitted in the municipality. He further stressed that the situation will continue to be closely monitored, and changes applied accordingly.

Looking forward, in addition to high temperatures, Environment Canada's forecast for the Winchester area includes a few days with a 60 per cent chance of rain. Whether the rain comes, and whether it is the "right" kind of rain, remains to be seen.

Dairyfest Seniors Day

WINCHESTER – The second annual Seniors Day at Dairyfest is on track to repeat the success of its inaugural year. Co-ordinator Keith Shirreffs said he is confident that the featured arts and craft demonstrations and displays, together with an all-day variety stage show will attract an even larger attendance than last year.

The featured guest will be Kathie Donovan, retired co-host of CTV Ottawa's Regional Contact. She will entertain as a storyteller at 2 pm, and will also meet and greet the audience as she promotes her recent book, Inspiration in Action: A Woman's Guide to Happiness.

There will be an instant museum and guests are invited to bring a historical family memento for viewing and sharing. As well, a high tea will be served.

Everything takes place in the newly branded Joel Steele Community Centre, upstairs at the arena. There is an elevator for easy access. The doors open at 10 am on Sat., Aug 11. Transportation is available from the Beachcroft (510 Beach St.) in Winchester or The Garden Villa in Chesterville before, and returning after the event.

Job Zone works from temporary Tuesday location

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER – Until Job Zone d'emploi moves into its new, to-be-constructed home, the employment services centre will host a part-time clinic at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital's Dillabough Building one day per week.

An employment consultant will be available at 550 Louise St. East from 8:30 am to noon on Tuesday mornings.

Until the Centre of Excellence for Rural Health Care and Innovation is built in Winchester, Job Zone will continue running its five-days-per-week service at 19B Industrial Dr. in Chesterville. (Services will remain unchanged at the Job Zone location in Cornwall, at 144 Pit St., which is also open on weekdays.)

Vicki Muir, employment consultant, explained that Job Zone is trying to get the word out there about the services it offers.

"We're different from a placement agency," she explained. The bilingual organization prepares, guides, and assists unemployed or underemployed individuals through career-related counseling, providing information resources, and offering access to community and outreach services.

Basically, said Muir, Job Zone can help "anybody who's job searching and making a change."

Vicki Muir, Job Zone employment consultant.
Photo – Wallingford

The service also offers a variety of workshops, which are open to everyone and helps employers, teachers, and students with their needs. In Winchester, Muir's colleague – fellow employment consultant Marie-Claire Rozon – is also available to work with local employers.

As an employment consultant, Muir noted that her meetings with a client may involve career goal clarification and exploration, reviewing resumes, and identifying the client's options and interests.

"We try to get in-depth with people," Muir said. "We're trying to maximize their efforts."

The conversations with clients revolve around one key question, she noted: "How can we make their job search as effective as possible?"

The counseling can involve a review of the client's employment history.

"I can help assess what has been going wrong for you," Muir said, later adding: "Some people need counseling on how to keep the job."

Other times, Muir will coach people on their job-hunting strategy. Are they limiting their prospects by only posting on sites like Kijiji or Craigslist? Do they need to be more assertive, or even aggressive, in their job hunt?

It's also important to help job seekers figure out what kind of working environment would best suit them, said Muir.

A review of existing skills and work history may allow a career counselor to target some areas of improvement. Perhaps the client's skills need to be upgraded. Or, perhaps it's something as specific as a lack of computer skills.

Often, the assistance process involves getting help for individuals outside the agency, such as directing parents with young children to the Ontario Early Years Centre, or suggesting that people who need to take educational courses get in contact with TR Leger. "We do a lot of referrals," Muir said.

Press welcomes summer intern

Back to grassroots for journalism student

Hello, my name is Ken J.R. Wallingford. You may recognize my name from the most recent publication of the Winchester Press, and that would be because I've been hired for six weeks as the summer intern student.

First, a little about myself: I spent my first 18 years in Greely, attending St. Mary's Elementary School, then St. Mark High School. The past three years, however, I've been studying journalism at the University of King's College, a small school on the Dalhousie University campus in Halifax. It's a great program, where I've been able to combine my music interests with journalism, as well as working on human interest stories around the city.

I've also been able to enjoy three years of playing varsity soccer for my school, and taking part in a few plays through the school's drama society.

Now, I'm back home for the summer and I've been fortunate enough to work here, at the Press, to gain experience and exposure as I get ready for my final year of study. As I write articles, take pictures, and interview people from around the community, I am continuously reminded of the importance of grassroots, community journalism.

I'm looking forward to being a part of the paper and, hopefully, I will be able to add my own flavour to the publication for the short while I am here.

Van't Foort memorial tournament upcoming

SOUTH MOUNTAIN – The seventh annual Scott Van't Foort Memorial Golf Tournament is scheduled for Sat., Aug. 25 at the Nationview Golf Course in South Mountain.

The event will kick off at 12 pm with a four-person scramble followed by a barbecue dinner at 6 pm. The cost is $70 for golf and dinner, or $25 for dinner alone.

This tournament is to include more than just golf, with games, a big ball drop sponsored by Lloyd McMillan Equipment (raffle tickets are available to anyone and winner takes home $500), a dunk tank, and a live auction.

Organizers are asking community members to lend their support to help make this event a success. Those who want to help can do so in many ways: register to participate in the golf tournament and/or dinner; donate a prize for the prize table or the live auction; sponsor a hole for $100; and make a monetary donation. Income tax receipts will be provided.

For more information, to register, make a donation, or buy raffle tickets, contact co-organizer Samantha Ball at 613-806-6520.

Van't Foort was a popular, and kind-hearted individual who was an inspiration to others. In September 2010, in connection with Free The Children, a primary school was built in Kenya with the help of generous community members.

This year, support for the Scott Van't Foort Memorial School continues through maintenance funds such as school supplies, teacher salary, and more. Support will also be provided to Van't Foort's former high school, Seaway District High School, for their graduation.

Special donation

New this year will be a special donation to a project being completed with the Stephen Lewis Foundation for a maternity ward in Uganda. Christopher Marshall of Morrisburg, one of Van't Foort's best friends, is the lead on this project.

Marshall was recently in Uganda volunteering at St. Francis Health Care Services, a locally run HIV clinic where the maternity ward is being built.

All funds raised from the golf tournament are used to make as much of a difference as possible, both locally, and as global citizens.

Local youth racing to competitive successes

Medals starting to pile up for cyclist

by Ken JR Wallingford

WINCHESTER – Scott and Yolanda Gibson didn't know their daughter Julia would be a competitive cyclist.

Then she won her first race last summer: the Ontario Youth Cup.

"We were like, okay, we have to do something about this," said Scott.

The family has been cycling together for years. Julia and her older sister, Olivia, had been cycling at Les Cuisses Or de l'Outaouais – a cycling club in Gatineau – but only recreationally.

This summer, Julia and her parents decided she would start to train competitively.

Julia's greatest strength in her cycling competitions is her starts, her dad said.

"[The coach] felt she was a strong rider," said Scott. "So he told her to break away from the group right from the start."

This was a brave endeavour as this meant Julia had no team to share the wind with. When cyclists compete, they travel in packs; riding behind someone lessens the rider's wind resistance.

This summer, she competed in four race weekends in different cities throughout Quebec. She competed in three races in each tournament, gaining points toward her overall score.

By the fourth tournament, Julia didn't even have to place in her last event. She had already won la Coupe du Québec Apogée in the pee-wee division (11 and 12-year-olds). Julia finished 12 points ahead of the runner-up.

"I like going fast," she said. "It's a little scary sometimes, I almost fell turning a corner."

There were three types of races Julia participated in: road race (a longer race of up to 30 kilometres); criterium (a shorter circuit race); and the skills game (an obstacle course with beams she had to jump over, and a tight slalom she had to go through). Each race gave her points that, when added up, gave her a place in the overall standings.

Her first weekend of racing was also the first time Julia had tried the skills course. She didn't have much time to practice the course right before the race, as she was busy receiving her first place award from her road race.

"They changed the venue on [the kids]," said Scott. "She fell three times in the practice run. Then [Julia] had to go last because she was the leader of the weekend."

Her first time competing at the skills games didn't go so well, Julia added.

"I was going around the blocks, and I fell. It was really hard to keep going," said Julia. It was her determination and competitive edge that kept her going.

"I had to get up," she said.

But her motivation is something that Julia's parents have seen before. Julia just finished her final year, Grade 6, at Winchester Public School after being awarded Female Athlete of the Year. Her father said she played on almost every sports team at the school.

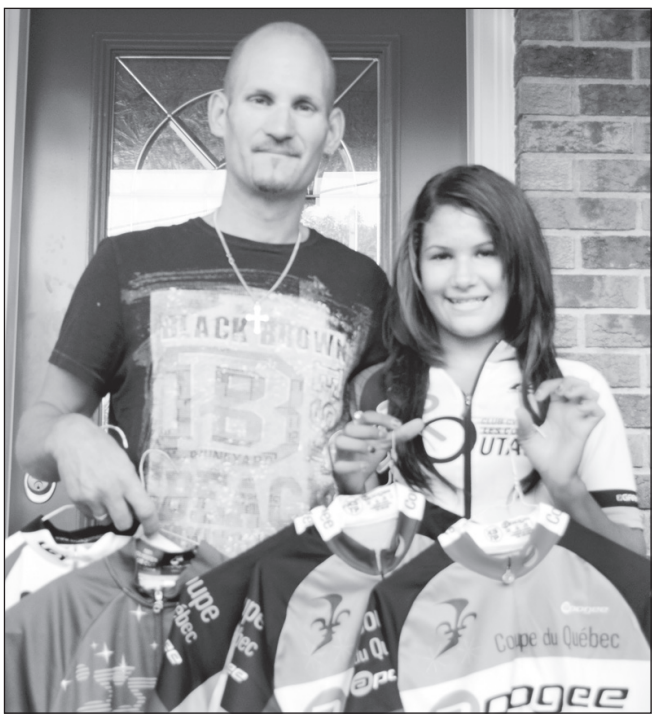
Julia was hoping to compete in Les Jeux du Quebec, which started on Thurs., July 26, but she's ineligible because she's not a Quebec resident. Scott explained that the Quebec games is the province's youth version of the Olympics.

"It's huge in Quebec," he said.

Ontario doesn't have a big organization for the type of racing that Julia does, so there aren't many options for her.

She will, however, be back at the Ontario Youth Cup Race that will take place in September in Hamilton.

"Just to keep her on the map," said Scott.



Julia Gibson had never competed in the skills games before this year. Her father Scott helps her practice for this race at the Winchester Arena using wooden blocks. Above, is Julia and her father holding five of the jerseys she has won from her races.

WINCHESTER PRESS
EDITORIAL
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1, 2012 PAGE 6

A tip of the (editor's) cap

Well, this is it – my goodbye column as Winchester Press editor.

As many of our readers may be aware by now, my "official last day" was Fri., July 27.

Exciting opportunities are on the horizon. I'm heading back to school; first to study dance and choreography in California; then, following my return to Canada, to pursue economics at the post-secondary level.

I don't fly away to Hollywood until late August, however. Please wave if you see me running along the roadside, preparing for what should be a grueling but rewarding three weeks of instruction at the Millennium Dance Complex and Debbie Reynolds Dance Studio.

"I know the community will be kind and supportive of this new team."

— Amanda Smith-Millar

While the sports section of the Press will remain unchanged, readers will see new bylines in our news pages. Reporter Matthew Uhrig is now the editor; we have a new reporter on staff, Sandy Casselman, who comes to the Press from the Morrisburg Leader; and we also welcome Ken JR Wallingford, the first summer student we've had since 2009.

I know the community will be kind and supportive of this new team, just as it was when I took over as editor three years ago.

In the coming weeks, you might see my byline on a couple stories – however, I have indeed departed the premises. I leave the main section of the paper in good hands, however!

Where has the time gone? Week by week, edition by edition, it seems like it was scarcely a year ago when I assumed the editor's role from Meghan Duncan. I became editor in 2009, which followed many years of full-time, part-time, and/or summer work with either the Press or its parent company, the Morris Newspaper Group.

Indeed, most of what I know in the "real world" about journalism comes from my experience with the Press.

I've lived in Winchester virtually my whole life. However, I never truly appreciated how special my hometown was until I worked at this publication, in an office located across the street from the hospital in which I was born.

I think Winchester and the surrounding region is quietly, but confidently, aware of how special our home is.

It's easily one of the most generous and loving places in Canada, and after almost nine years working for the Press, I now understand how lucky I am to have been born here, raised here, and then worked at the paper.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all the staff at the Press, as well as my employers, for the chance to work at a well-respected publication that has served its readership well since 1888.

Thank you to the volunteers who faithfully and punctually submitted material. A very special "merci" goes to my trusty volunteer columnists, as well as cartoonist Sheree Bradford-Lea. Ladies, it was a joy to work with you all!

I must also thank my loved ones and friends, who have patiently tolerated my absence during countless evenings, weekends, early mornings, holidays, and special occasions.

Thank you for being there during the highs and lows that go hand-in-hand with being in a leadership role at any publication.

An additional thank-you goes to the Press' neighbouring publications in Dundas County: the Chesterville Record and the Leader. We're all independent of one another and separately owned, but that fact hasn't stopped me from building friendships with the people who work (or have worked) there.

To Nelson Zandbergen and Rebecca Comfort in particular, thank you for your insight and guidance during difficult times. Your kindness and support meant more to me, I think, than either of you knew.

And thanks, generally, to the public – folks I've interviewed; North Dundas and South Dundas politicians and staff who always made time to take my questions and provide information; our business owners; our local charities; our schools and clubs and volunteers.

I wish you all the best.

The directors of the Morrisburg Horse Show and Races had contracted one of the most sensational acts to ever appear before the grandstand. The dare-devil Walter Knight bicycled down an incline 300 feet in length, almost perpendicular, passing through a ball of fire, looping-the-loop, and then leaping a 20-foot gap and finishing in a dive into 2.5 feet of water.

The Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, future British prime minister, was in Ottawa this week. When he gazed upon the flags floating over the Chateau Laurier, he was reported to have remarked upon the absence from the collection of a Canadian flag, although there were in evidence flags authorized by almost all of the other Dominions. "It is a striking scene," the British statesman said. "But where is your Canadian flag?" He was told there was no Canadian flag, which was the reason there were two Union Jacks over the hotel.

In the 25,000-man call-up to meet the month's quota for military service trainees, many local, and district young men had received notice to present themselves for medical examinations. If in the proper category, they would receive further notice instructing them where to report.

Carleton County's latest outbreak in hog cholera required the destruction of an additional 1,100 pigs this week. As a rule, the pigs were killed in a variety of painless ways and buried in long, deep trenches. The latest destruction of pigs due to hog cholera in Carleton brought the total number since July's outbreak to more than 13,000 in Eastern Ontario and Quebec. The total compensation paid out stood at more than $375,000.

More than 1,200 farmers jammed the auditorium at Nationview Public School in South Mountain, seeking solutions to the grave problems resulting from excessive rainfall. A federal and provincial task force was set up to study the situation, and hopefully take immediate action to help farmers who stood to suffer immense losses. Farmers were not asking for government handouts, but wanted assurance that feed could be purchased at a reasonable cost. They were also concerned that in the event it became necessary to sell cattle, they should not be forced to sell at "desperation prices."

Winchester was preparing this week for the summer's annual Dundas County Dairy Princess Competition. An addition planned for the event was to be a milking contest between five local bank managers. Ottawa radio media would be on hand to provide a running commentary on how well the bankers could handle a set of teats.

Zebra mussels may have infested most of Ontario's waterways, but the thumbnail-sized pests had yet to make their way into South Nation River. According to the Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR), the mollusks had already been found in many Eastern Ontario rivers and lakes. To aid the fight against zebra mussels, the MNR set up a toll-free number for boaters to call for the latest information and to report sightings.

The famous Canadian TV-man, Red Green's final (181st) newspaper column titled "North of forty" appeared in the Winchester Press this week. His column had been appearing on the editorial page below, editor at the time, Lori Gillespie's own opinion column. Gillespie fondly reminisced on her time sharing Page 6 with the TV-show host by sharing all the ridiculous ideas her "Duct-tapin' Husband" came up with thanks to the Red Green Show, which played for many years on the CBC.

A million dollars vs. eight million Cubans

From the Other Side
by Jeff Morris

He stood there, stone faced.

I looked into his eyes, and I was flushed with intimidation. I could see into his eyes, but was his piercing stare pointed at me, or was I just a face in a darkened crowd that day? His name was Teófilo Stevenson.

I consider him the greatest boxer of all time. Maybe he is not, but he is certainly the greatest fighter I have ever seen.

I was 12-years-old when my father, my uncle, and I went to see a day full of boxing at the Maurice Richard Arena next to Olympic Stadium. I remember so much of the 1976 Olympics in Montreal. As a 12-year-old kid, having the Olympics so close was something that so many of today's preteens would think was incredible.

It was. And the first image I have when I think back to those Olympics is Teófilo Stevenson, the great Cuban heavyweight boxer who won three straight gold medals.

Teófilo Stevenson's parents were immigrants, with his mother coming to Cuba from St. Kitts, and his father arriving from St. Vincent. Teófilo Stevenson Sr. was a big man, and he took up boxing. But while his father was going through a forgettable seven-fight career, Teófilo Stevenson Jr. was the one who benefitted from being at the gym. He began to spar at the gym, and train with former national light heavyweight champion John Herrera. His mother did not know he was boxing, and she blew a gasket when Teófilo Sr. and Jr. approached her with the confession. She agreed to let the boy box, but only if his father was at the gym with him.

The boy boxer won a junior title under Herrera and continued to improve. Eventually, a former Soviet boxer, Andrei Chervonenko, established a national boxing school in Cuba, and took Stevenson under his wing.

The young boxer would make the Cuban national team as an 18-year old. At 19, he fought American Duane Bobick at the 1971 Pan-Am Games. Bobick beat Stevenson, and went on to win the gold medal. Stevenson would lose only two fights over the next 11 years, both to Soviet star Igor Vysotsky.

At the 1972 Munich Olympics, the 20-year-old Stevenson stunned Bobick in the quarterfinals. Bobick was the favourite to win gold that year and follow in the footsteps of George Foreman and Joe Frazier, the American heavyweight gold medal winners in the two previous games. Stevenson knocked Bobick down three times in what many Cubans consider their greatest moment in sports history.

By 1976, Stevenson was the defending gold medalist and world champion. He had been offered $1,000,000 to turn pro and fight heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali. He refused, giving his famous quote, "I don't believe in professionalism, only in revolution. I tell these men from America, these promoters, that money means nothing to me. What is a million dollars against eight million Cubans who love me?"

I was excited to go to Montreal and get a chance to see Stevenson that day. His fight was the last on the card. We saw Sugar Ray Leonard and Howard Davis and Leon Spinks win their fights. Spinks, like Muhammad Ali, won his gold medal in the light heavyweight division. Stevenson's opponent that day in Montreal was American Johnny Tate, a highly touted fighter who waved his American flag as he entered the ring. They say that Tate influenced Apollo Creed's character in Rocky.

When the fight began, the boxers approached each other. The chiseled, 6'3", 220-pound Stevenson used his dangerous jab to set the tone for the fight. A few seconds into the fight, I looked beside me to grab my Coke. I heard the crowd roar, and I looked at the ring. Tate just lay on the canvass, like a scarecrow on the floor of the shed in the winter.

Panic rushed through me. I couldn't believe I missed it. I would get to see the replay over and over again, but I had to have been the only person in the Maurice Richard Arena who missed one of the greatest and most memorable punches thrown in Olympic history.

I take that back – I doubt that Tate saw it coming, either. Tate eventually got up, shook his head, and staggered to his corner with his eye swollen and his pride sucked out of him. Stevenson stood in the centre of the ring, waiting for the referee to raise his hand as the champion. I stared at his face and looked in his eyes. His stare sent shivers through my soul.

Teófilo Stevenson would continue to dominate the sport through the decade. He would win gold in the 1980 Moscow Games, and was even considered a favourite for a fourth gold medal had Cuba not followed the Soviet Union in its boycott of the 1984 Los Angeles Games. American Tyrell Biggs won the gold medal that year, but Stevenson had defeated him handily a few months before. Stevenson won the 1986 world championship. He retired with a record of 302-22.In and out of the ring, Stevenson was known for his gracious nature and sportsmanship. He was the humble man who actually helped other fighters he knocked out back to his corner.

Just six weeks before the start of the 2012 London Games, Teófilo Stevenson passed way from a heart attack. He was 61 years old. He was one of my all-time Olympic heroes.

We'll never know how he would have done in a fight against Muhammad Ali.

But that is what is beautiful about it.

Letter to the Editor

Reader calls for wind farm moratorium

The Editor:

On July 10, 2012, Health Canada announced that it will conduct a research study exploring the relationship between wind turbine noise, and health effects. The Honourable Leona Aglukkaq, minister of health, is responding to the expressed concerns of Canadians living near wind farms.

The Health Canada study will involve medical doctors and experts; its methodology will be peer-reviewed by the World Health Organization, and multidisciplinary experts. Many of us have been requesting such a study for several years.

The Government of Canada is putting the health and safety of Canadians first. I urge our municipal government to do the same. Whatever financial benefits the Township of South Dundas may gain from wind turbine developments is not worth the health of our residents.

As elected officials of our community, you have a responsibility to ensure our health and safety.

Before the shovels hit the ground, declare a moratorium on industrial wind turbine projects in our community until the Health Canada study is completed.

Please declare a moratorium on wind turbine development in South Dundas at the Tues., Aug. 14 council meeting. I will be present to speak to my request if required.

PCs release second set of provincial policy papers

From Queen's Park
by MPP Jim McDonell

TORONTO – Paths to Prosperity: Flexible Labour Markets is the second in a series of Ontario PC white papers. It offers bold new ideas to modernize Ontario's labour laws, workplace regulations, and government agencies. The paper proposes action in four key areas: giving the individual worker a choice whether to become or remain a union member; making union leaders more accountable to unionized employees; modernizing outdated tendering rules by opening up more government infrastructure work to free-market competition; and reforming Ontario's workplace agencies to encourage, not discourage, job creation and a more flexible workforce.

The world and our economy has changed, but Ontario's rules governing the workplace and the way unions are organized has not. It's time to open up economic opportunities for individual workers, not union bosses. These changes will restore balance between the power of union leaders and that of the individual workers. Current labour laws allow union leaders to negotiate contracts with companies that:

• Require workers, as a condition of employment, to be a union member.

• Require workers to pay dues or fees to a union in order to keep their jobs, even when they do not agree with the organizations that their union dues are supporting.

Currently, within unionized workplaces, dues are automatically deducted from paycheques with little to no accountability. Union leaders are not required to publicly disclose how the money is spent, and the money can be used for purposes that many employees disagree with. Employees can also be passed over for promotion, or even lose their jobs for reasons that have nothing to do with their qualifications or competence. They can even be fired for refusing to pay dues. If one doesn't feel well-served by a union, they should be able to look after their own needs. It will make unions more responsive to the workers they are supposed to serve, and whose rights they are supposed to protect.

The Ontario PC caucus is proposing to give workers an expanded choice when it comes to becoming and remaining a union member, or not, by ensuring a worker has the option of paying or not paying union dues. Giving workers the choice simply means that individuals who don't want to belong to a union, or pay union dues, don't have to. No one should be fired from their job, or not hired for one, simply because they aren't a union member. Individual workers like these reforms because it allows them to keep more of their paycheque as take-home pay, and businesses like these reforms because flexible labour markets increase economic growth.

Rigid, outdated labour laws are a barrier to productivity and innovation that slows economic growth and deters investment. Ontarians will thrive in a future of balanced budgets, lower taxes, affordable energy, and a well-educated, competitive workforce. To help get there, we must modernize Ontario's workplace laws, regulations, and agencies.

The Ontario PC caucus is pro job-creation, and unions should be too. Future job creation requires the rebalancing of the roles of unions, employers, and workers, always with a focus on creating more jobs and opportunities. When combined with lower business taxes, affordable energy, balancing the budget and fewer regulations, I believe that bringing our labour laws into the 21st century will create hundreds of thousands of new jobs, and restore Ontario as the economic engine of Canada.

Keeping communities safe

OTTAWA — Do you feel safe when walking in your neighbourhood after dark? If not, you are not alone. I can't believe how many constituents in Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry (SD&SG) are concerned about the safety and security of their families and themselves, right here in the riding. After the economy and health care, crime seems to be the issue that comes up most often when I am out and about in SD&SG.

The recent spate of high profile killings here in Canada, as well as in the U.S., makes people very aware of what is happening in their own community. These horrendous events have made crime, especially local crime, a top of mind topic in many of my day to day conversations.

Last week Statistics Canada reported 2011 overall crime rates were down six per cent over the previous year. This report is being welcomed as very good news. Any time crime rates are decreasing we should celebrate. However, these statistics are only part of the story. Statistics also show that crime has increased 200 per cent since 1962. This is a very alarming reality. We've gone from not locking our doors to needing state of the art security systems to protect our possessions and ourselves. Serious crimes like homicide and sexual offences against children are actually going up. For example, child pornography went up an astounding 40 per cent. That is why our government recently passed the Safe Streets and Communities Act, which increases penalties for sexual offences against children. Some feel our government is being too tough on crime. When we see statistics like those above, I don't believe we are. By putting the bad guys in jail and keeping them there longer, we are preventing them from committing more crimes. We are stopping the revolving door of the criminal justice system. It appears our legislation is working. Undoubtedly, there is much more to do, but a reduction of six per cent in the overall crime rate is a step in the right direction.

Provincial PCs unveil action plan for agriculture

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry (SD&SG) MPP Jim McDonell is looking to help the region's struggling agricultural industry.

On Thurs., July 26, McDonell, along with Oxford MPP Ernie Hardeman, the provincial PCs' critic for agriculture, food, and rural affairs, launched a comprehensive agriculture survey.

"We are committed to working with farmers to strengthen the agriculture industry," McDonell said. "This survey will identify the challenges affecting farmers from different parts of the province, and in different sectors."

The investigation being conducted is to chart where those who complete the survey are located in Ontario, and what type of farm they operate.

More thorough questioning includes inquiries about the current cost of hydro, and its impact on the province's agricultural sector.

According to the two PC politicians, with the results generated, the provincial opposition will continue to hold the Liberal government to account, and develop farm-friendly policies to strengthen Ontario's agricultural base.

"I've heard a lot from farmers about their concerns that over regulation is preventing the growth of their business," Hardeman said. "To stay competitive against an ever-changing global economy, farmers must focus on growing top-quality food, not getting caught up in bureaucratic red tape."

Drought concerns

Meanwhile, McDonell and Hardeman are also calling on the Liberal government to take action to help Ontario farmers who have been affected greatly by recent drought conditions.

"We know that some farmers have been forced to write off their crops, and are struggling to feed their livestock, which is only going to get worse," Hardeman said.

The agriculture critic argued that the province should be looking to the federal government for aid in order to help the farming industry cope with the lack of precipitation.

"The extreme dry conditions have already destroyed a major portion of Ontario's 2012 crop production, and the McGuinty government is nowhere to be seen," McDonell said. "[The province's] agricultural industry is a major contributor to our economy, and essential in providing us with secure, high quality food. We need action to ensure the future of the farming community, and of the people and the province it supports."

Both Hardeman and McDonell, along with Nepean-Carleton MPP Lisa MacLeod, have recently been touring Eastern Ontario to speak with farmers, and get their take on the repercussions of the ongoing drought conditions.

Throughout the Second World War, the Canadian Red Cross sent thousands of quilts overseas. This quilt shown above was sewn in Hallville, as can be seen by the label on the quilt itself.

Quilters helped to keep war-torn families warm

HALLVILLE – In 2010, the Quilt Museum and Gallery in York, U.K. hosted an exhibition featuring quilts created in Canada on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross.

The quilts were sewn by women throughout Canada, and sent through the Red Cross organization to British families devastated by bombings during the Second World War.

According to a book published about the quilts, titled Sewing in Wartime: Canadian Red Cross Quilts 1939-45, it was impossible to know exactly how many quilts were sent to Britain. What figures were known showed that in a six-week period in 1942, 25,000 quilts reached Britain.

The book states that the quilts were a sign of patriotism and altruism by the Canadian men and women who sewed them. Names of the makers were not supposed to be sown on the quilts to avoid the suggestion of charity. However, some quilts had the name of the town they were stitched in, as is the case of one quilt made in Hallville.

The donor of the locally sewn quilt to the exhibition was British man Bill Richard, whose family was given the duvet after their house had been bombed in 1944. Richards wrote a letter that appeared in the book, telling of how his family had lost their home, and how the blanket had kept him warm when he slept during "times when ice would form on the inside of windows and dressing was usually carried out under the bed clothes."

Fair commemorates Queen's Jubilee

CHESTERVILLE – From horse racing competitions to baseball tournaments, pet shows to medieval shows, the 81st Chesterville Fair featured a wide variety of events for all ages and interests.

This year's event was held from Fri. July 27 to Sun., July 29.

The fair partnered with the local Shilo Riding Club to host the Western Gymkhana Horse Show (gymkhana being a British term for an equestrian event consisting of speed pattern racing and timed games) was host to a variety of games with contestants eligible to win up to $40 in cash.

Tammy Hedge, one of the contestants and organizers, said there were more than 40 entrants in the competition.

A special feature of the fair this year was the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Celebrations sponsored by federal Department of Canadian Heritage. On Sun., July 29, in recognition of the Queen's 60 years as monarch, the fair hosted a royal tea party, a diamond jubilee community award ceremony, and a free draw for a 10 karat white gold, blue topaz pendent.

For more on the 2012 fair, see page 12.

Russell Fair boasts rocking entertainment lineup

RUSSELL – The Russell Agricultural Society (RAS) has announced its entertainment line-up for the 2012 Russell Fair, running Thurs., Sept. 6 to Sun., Sept. 9.

"Our lineup for this year's fair is varied and offers something for all musical tastes," said Abbey McFaul, the society's entertainment coordinator. "From Canada's legendary Myles Goodwyn and April Wine, to rockin' honky-tonk Greg Hanna, to a mix of classic rock, new and old country and folk offered by Steve Wilkinson of The Wilkinsons, Gamut, The Front End, and Blackwell, there is truly something for everyone."

This year sees Myles Goodwyn and April Wine enter into their 42nd year as a band, with just as busy a schedule as ever.

With 15 studio albums, three live releases, numerous compilations, a boxed set and thousands of concerts to its credit, Myles Goodwyn and April Wine was inducted into the Canadian Music Industry Hall of Fame in 2009, and received the Lifetime Achievement Award for being part of Canadian music history for 40 years. At the 2010 Juno Awards, the band was inducted into the Canadian Music Hall of Fame.

Back by popular demand, having opened for Terri Clark at the 2010 Russell Fair, Greg Hanna will kick things off. Hanna toured with Toby Keith and Trace Adkins on the "American Ride Tour" and has shared the stage with many other country music stars.

Tickets are $25 in advance, or $35 at the door, and can be purchased in cash at Pronto in Russell, or through the entertainment page of the fair's website (www.russellfair.com). For credit card purchases, add $3.50 fee per ticket.

The remainder of the Russell Fair's weekend outdoor entertainment will feature Fan Jam on Saturday afternoon. Fan Jam is an open mic show, with a house band, open to individuals, groups, bands – anyone with musical talent, not karaoke.

City services close for Colonel By Day

OTTAWA – Colonel By Day is Mon., Aug. 6, and the City of Ottawa would like to remind residents that many services will cease for the day, but resume again on Tues., Aug. 7. The city's 311 Contact Centre will be open for urgent matters requiring immediate attention. Call 311 or 613-580-2400 to speak to a customer service representative.

Well water testing

You can drop off your water sample on any Thursday from 11 am to 1 pm at the library in Metcalfe. For more drop off locations and information about wells, visit www.ottawa.ca.

Well decommissioning grants

If you live in the South Nation watershed, you may be eligible for funding to decommission unused wells on your property. A cost-share of 100 per cent to a maximum of $1,000 per well is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Applicants must use a licensed well contractor to complete the work.

For more information or to confirm your eligibility, contact Valerie Sylvia at 1-877-984-2948, ext. 238, or email vsylvia@nation.on.ca.

Improved rural transportation

Earlier this year, the city started a partnership with three community support service agencies to provide more transportation options to seniors and adults living with a physical disability in rural Ottawa.

These agencies, which include the Western Ottawa Community Resource Centre, Rural Ottawa South Support Services, and the Eastern Ottawa Resource Centre, provide rides for persons who do not require a wheelchair to locations both within the city, and to nearby communities.

Reservations can be made in advance, and escort support is available if assistance is required with stairs or elevators, or if a resident needs an escort to attend an appointment or community visit.

Para Transpo is another alternative for rural residents with a permanent or short-term disability who are unable to use conventional transit. The service is provided only between rural and urban destinations within the city. For Para Transpo customers, the Taxi Coupon Program is a travel option allowing customers to take discounted taxi service to locations within Ottawa, and to neighbouring communities.

Animal cruelty in Greely

I am saddened to share with residents that our office has received concerns about suspected animal cruelty in Greely and surrounding area. I would ask if you, your family, or friends have heard of animal cruelty that you contact our office immediately.

We are working closely with the police and bylaw services, and will do all we can to stop these horrific and senseless acts. The two cases that have been reported to our office have involved cats, and I am upset to imagine that anyone could be so heartless. This will not be tolerated, and I sincerely ask for the community's help.

O-YA looking for board members

O-YA is looking for enthusiastic and community-minded people who have the desire to ensure that O-YA continues to be a fantastic resource for youth in the Osgoode Ward.

Metcalfe cenotaph slated for refurbishment in September

METCALFE — Upgrades to the Metcalfe cenotaph are expected following a significant local fundraising drive.

After just two months, roughly $4,000 has been generated, with the funds earmarked for the Fallen, But Not Forgotten project.

The historic undertaking will see names of First and Second World War soldiers added to the cenotaph outside the old town hall in Metcalfe. It is not known why, but several veterans have long been absent from the memorial.

Scotiabank in Findlay Creek, Manotick Giant Tiger, the Metcalfe and District Lions Club, the Vernon Women's Institute, and an anonymous donation, helped in reaching the fundraising goal.

Missing veterans' names to be added

Currently, renovation of the cenotaph is slated to begin in September. The work will include cleaning up the monument and flag base, repairing a damaged name that is currently missing a letter, and adding four names to a new sub-base that will be installed on the First World War monument. Each of the missing soldiers is connected to the former Osgoode Township in some way, and each has made an important contribution to Canada.

Some of the names to be added include Private Ernest Bonsall, Private William Edward Murphy, Private E. Thomas Henry Poole, and Gunner Arthur Workman.

The Fallen, But Not Forgotten project was undertaken by local history buffs Rob Brewster and Coreen Atkins-Sheldrick, while Nepean-Carleton MP Pierre Poilievre also helped with the fundraising process.

Waves finish third in hometown swim meet

WINCHESTER – It was a sunny day filled with many winners at the Winchester Centennial Pool on Sat., July 28. The Winchester Waves Swim Club hosted nine clubs, and approximately 142 swimmers between the ages of five and 16 for the competition. The Waves had the largest number of competitors at 45.

The Winchester club hosted five swim events, including the individual medley (IM), freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke, and the butterfly (fly).

The Winchester squad had four medal winners at the end of the tournament, earned by the total points between three races each. The medal recipients were: Zander Thompson (boys six and under), who came first in the freestyle and backstroke races, and second in the breaststroke; Jonah Klein-Swormink (boys seven and eight), who earned a second place finish in the freestyle, and first place in the back and breaststroke; and Seth Christophersen (boys nine and 10) swam to a second place and two first place finishes in the IM, freestyle, and fly, respectively. John Steele (boys 15 and up) was the final medal winner thanks to his first-place finish in the freestyle and backstroke, and second place in the breaststroke.

In the overall standings, Manotick took first place, with Kemptville in second, while Winchester finished third.

Meet in Manotick

The following day – Sun., July 29 – saw many Waves team members competing at the Manotick swim meet. Although not as many teammates attended the competition, Thompson and Christophersen took home medals once again with two first place and one second place finishes, each.

Overall, the Waves earned a third-place finish on the day.

Warren Halpenny (front) prepared to race in the boys six and under 25-metre backstroke.

Zander Thompson made a splash as he worked his backstroke in the boys six and under race.

Four Waves teammates Olivia Drouin (front), Delaney Johnston, Delaney Halpenny, and Bella St-Marseille, faced off against each other in one of the heats of the girls nine and 10 25-metre backstroke. Photos – Wallingford

Waves team member Thomas Klein-Swormink (front lane) dove in for the breaststroke race. He finished first.

Barkley repeats, seventh time, as Cedar Glen club champion

BOUCKS HILL – Kurtis Barkley has extended his string of Cedar Glen Golf Course club championships to seven. Barkley took another men's "A" class title playing in the championship tournament (July 21-22).

Muriel Whitteker emerged from the annual competition as the ladies "A" champion.

Rick Barkley, Kurtis' father and nine-time "A" class champ, took the senior class title.

The "B" bracket winners were Jocelyn St. Pierre and Gary Lafave. Greta McGann and Larry Barlow were tops in "C" class.

Peter Elliott is this year's "D" division winner.

Hat trick helps WR4 United register first victory

CHESTERVILLE – Kaitlyn Hay's three-goal performance helped North Dundas WR4 United highlighted the Ottawa Carleton Soccer League (OCSL) squad register its first victory of the season.

Hay, who has cracked eight goals in eight Women's Rec 4 (WR4) matches, moved into a three-way tie with Lindsay Ziebell (Gloucester Swat) and Karen Turcotte (Lynwood Villains) for third place in the scoring race. Leigh Greiner (Croatian Jardan) leads the loop with 14.

United keeper Courtney Williamson posted her first win as her team improved its record to 1-4-3, good enough for first place in the 13-team division.

The Gloucester Swat (9-1-0) continues to top the standings with 27 points.

North Dundas is visiting the Rockland Rockets (1-3-4) tomorrow night (Thurs., Aug. 2) before returning to Chesterville to take on the second-place Lynwood Villains (7-1-1) on Thurs., Aug 9.

MR6 United wins

Devin Boje marked his fifth tally of the campaign and North Dundas MR6 United improved its OCSL record to an even 5-5-0 by way of a 4-0 victory over West Ottawa last week (Wed., July 25).

Paul Gibson registered his second consecutive shutout while Stewart McKelvie notched his second goal of the season, and both Cameron Hunt-Hedge and Ian Guthrie netted their first.

Tonight (Wed., Aug. 1) North Dundas pays a visit to the Bears (3-6-0).

Still looking

North Dundas MR5 Warriors suffered a third consecutive shutout loss last week (Mon., July 23) dropping a 1-nil decision to the Lynwood Rangers.

North Dundas (4-5-1), with a fifth-place total of 13 points in the 11-team division, tried to enter the win column on Monday (July 30) when they hosted the Falcons Thistle (2-7-1) at the Chesterville Fairgrounds.

OT5 tie

The North Dundas OT5 squad battled the Carleton Raiders to a 1-1 draw on Fri., July 27.

Shad Nketiah scored his team's lone goal.

Up next for OT5 is a date with the Westboro Wolves on Fri., Aug. 3 at the Chesterville Fairgrounds.

Sonics zapped

It wasn't to be for the North Dundas Sonics, as they were dealt a 4-1 loss by the Gloucester Celtic on Wed., July 25.

Dave Mathers scored the lone Sonics goal.

"The team we played is annually one of the best teams in our division," said Sonics head coach Julian Whittam. "The score didn't really reflect how things went in this game at all."

The coach said his team controlled the ball well, but hit far too many goal posts.

Up next for the Sonics is a match at Bridlewood Core North Park on Wed., Aug. 1 at 8:30 pm.

The West Ottawa MR3 will be providing the opposition.

Key players

Forward Bryden van Kessel led the Canucks in scoring during the regular season with 22 goals, nine assists and 31 points. He scored three times and set up another marker in last week's (Tues., July 24) 11-2 round robin win over the Flames. # Senior Senators burn Oilers 7-3, undefeated in post-season play

WINCHESTER – Aaron Burns took the lead in the North Dundas Senior Co-ed Ball Hockey League post-season scoring race, ringing up three goals and five points in a 7-3 victory over the Oilers.

Burns and the Senators improved their round robin record to 2-0-0 with the 7-3 decision over the Oilers (0-2-0) in the first half of last week's (Tues., July 24) twin bill. The regular-season champion Canucks (1-0-0) debuted in the post season dousing the Flames (0-2-0) 11-2 in the late game. The Canadiens (1-0-0) drew the weekly bye.

Last night (Tues., July 31), the Flames took on the Canadiens and the Canucks squared off against Oilers, while the Senators drew the bye in the final round of qualification games. Next week (Tues., Aug. 7), the "A" and "B" champions will be crowned.

Senators 7 – Oilers 3

Aaron Burns netted two of his three goals in the first half finishing a play started by Travis Marshall at 21:14 and another set up by Dylan Marshall at 12:08. Josh Mackie's unassisted shot made it 3-1 8:28 before the half.

James Mackie replied for the Oilers scoring from Kyle Oosterhof at the 5:42 mark.

The Oilers managed two goals in the second session thanks to Oosterhof who connected after taking feeds from Mackie and Liam Morrow at 17:39 and from Cody Bailey and Oosterhof 6:09 before the final buzzer.

Meanwhile, the Senators pumped in four markers securing their 7-3 win. Jonathon Mackie (from Burns at 20:19), Dylan Marshall (from Christian Francis at 10: 49), Francis (from Travis Marshall and Burns at 10:36) and Burns (unassisted at 4:49) registered those final four goals.

Hayden McNabb was the winning 'tender.

Canucks 11 – Flames 2

Backed by goaltender Jack van Kessel, who has suffered just one loss this season, the top-ranked Canucks breezed to an 11-2 win over the Flames.

Oilers Shawn Simms and Thomas Fingler beat van Kessel on unassisted plays in the first half but their squad found themselves down 6-2 at the half.

Owen Guy paced the Canucks attack with three goals and two assists.

Bryden van Kessel had the hat trick and a four-point game as did Jason Buma (2-2-4) and Cedric Henrie (1-3-4).

Will Zandbelt (1-1-2), Dylan Petersen (1-0-1), Mitchell Woodward (1-0-1) and Tristan Larocque (0-1-1) also contributed to the win.

Playoff scoring

Aaron Burns, Senators 3-3-6; Owen Guy, Canucks 3-2-5; Dayton Kelly, Canadiens 1-4-5; Matthew Laflamme, Canadiens 4-0-4; Bryden van Kessel, Canucks 3-1-4; Dylan Marshall, Senators 3-1-4; Jason Buma, Canucks 2-2-4; Kyle Oosterhof, Oilers 2-2-4; Cedric Henrie, Canucks 1-3-4; Travis Marshall, Senators 1-3-4.

Green Snipers shoot down Orange Flyers, remaining undefeated in post-season play

WINCHESTER – A 4-0 decision over the Orange Flyers extended the Green Snipers Chesterville Girls Ball Hockey League winning streak to two games.

The Snipers shutout victory in round two of the post season on Mon., July 23, gave them a 2-0-0 record while the loss dropped the Flyers' mark to 1-1-0. A 3-1 victory over the Red Rockets (0-2-0) gave the Purple Mavericks (1-1-0) their first win in the late half of the twin bill.

The top two teams, after the three qualification games, will compete for the "A" championship on Mon., Aug. 6 at 8 pm at the Winchester Arena. The other two squads will battle for the "B" title the same evening at 7 pm.

Snipers 4 – Flyers 0

Cashelle Baldwin was between the pipes and registered her second consecutive shutout blanking the Flyers 4-0.

Baldwin and the Snipers opened the playoffs whitewashing the Red Rockets 3-0.

Sydney Landry was on the receiving end of a pass sent to her by Tyannah Lee and Anna Fawcett and her goal at 18:36 of the first half proved to be the winner.

Landry then combined with Lee and helped Sam Benoit open up a 2-0 lead 47 seconds before the half.

Landry was back on the score sheet at 18:42 of the second session making it a 3-0 game on an unassisted play.

Lee earned her third point of the game scoring 8:06 before the final buzzer. Brittany Tinkess earned an assist on the play.

Mavericks 3 – Rockets 1

The Mavericks rebounded from their 2-1 opening-game loss to the Flyers by handing the Rockets their second setback, a 3-1 verdict.

Anna Stubbings converted a play engineered by Laura van Kessel into a 1-0 lead for the Rockets 7:15 before the half.

Unfortunately for the red squad that was the only goal they would score.

A three-goal second-half erased the Rockets slim advantage and gave the Mavericks their first win.

Kara Bartholomew tied it up 1-1 thanks to a pass sent to her by Hailee Coleman at 15:22. Coleman buried a relay from Mackenzie Johnston cashing in the game-winner with 12:01 left on the clock.

A solo shot fired by Johnston 7:29 before the final buzzer completed the scoring at 3-1.

Playoff points

Tyannah Lee, GS 1-4-5; Dayna Bekkers, GS 3-0-3; Sydney Landry, GS 2-1-3; Kara Bartholomew, PM 2-0-2; Hailee Coleman, PM 1-1-2; Mackenzie Johnston, PM 1-1-2; Roxanne VonKaenel, OF 0-2-2; Anna Fawcett, GS 0-2-2.

Few goals scored, four shutouts recorded

WINCHESTER – Goals were at a premium as round two of the North Dundas Junior Co-ed Ball Hockey League playoffs was completed.

The Wednesday (July 25) tripleheader opened with the Senators, backed by goaltender Sandra Morley, nipping the Oilers 1-0.

Brayden Roe posted the perfect result in game two as the Canadiens burnt the Leafs 9-0.

The final game was scoreless as Jaden Kaeb of the Flames and Canucks' Jeremy Gutknecht were flawless in a 0-0 draw.

The third and final round robin games will be played tonight (Wed., Aug. 1) with the fifth-place Flames (0-1-1) meeting the third-place Canadiens (1-1-0) at 6 pm, the fourth-place Oilers (1-1-0) taking on the first-place Canucks (1-0-1) at 6:45 and the sixth-place Leafs (0-2-0) challenging the second-place Senators (2-0-0) at 7:30 pm.

The "A", "B" and "C" championship games will be crowned on Wed., Aug. 8.

Ben Fingler broke up a scoreless battle using a pass provided by Josh Armstrong and Elyssa McLeod to give the Senators their 1-0 win over the Oilers. Brayden Reid suffered the one-goal setback and Morley registered her second consecutive shutout.

Two-goal performances by Joey Hannaford, Jacob Zandbelt, Travis McInnis and Justin Shay powered the Canadiens to their 9-0 win over the Leafs.

Cedric Dagenais sniped a single goal and earned three assists. Zandbelt also picked up three helpers.

Shay, McInnis and Hannaford drew two assists each, while Kaileigh Vautour and Caitlin McInnis each collected one.

Playoff scoring

Thomas Gutknecht, Canucks 3-3-6; Justin Shay, Canadiens 3-2-5; Cam Cotnam, Canucks 2-3-5; Travis McInnis, Canadiens 2-3-5; Jacob Zandbelt, Canadiens 2-3-5; Joey Hannaford, Canadiens 2-2-4; Cedric Dagenais, Canadiens 1-3-4.

Bridals deal Annable's Greens loss

WINCHESTER – Taylor Cummins potted a pair of goals and set up a third leading Bridals Yellow to a 4-1 victory over the first place Annable's Jewellery Greens.

Last week's (Thurs., July 26) loss was the second of the month for the Chesterville Women's Ball Hockey League-leading Greens (9-2-2) who still hold a seven-point advantage over Neal's Heating and Cooling Blues (6-6-2) who have 14 points with one game left in the regular season. The win moved Bridals (5-5-3) to within a point of the number-two ranked Blues who edged Andy's Foodland Reds (2-9-3) 3-2 in the first half of the twin bill.

Bridals 4 – Annable's 1

Bridals goalie Roxanne Crump had a shutout going until Annable's shooter Shaelynn McCadden used a pass from Patti Hall to ruin her perfect game 3:54 before the end of period two.

Taylor Cummins poked a loose ball into Jen Byrne's net at the 18-minute mark of the opening half and the yellow squad had a 1-0 lead. Cummins scored again with 2:37 of the second stanza, broke the 1-1 tie and recorded what would prove to be the game-winning goal. Rhonda Boulanger drew an assist on the play.

Carlie Crump made it a 3-1 game finishing a play set up by Jodie Crump and Marlee Grady with 8:39 left in period three. Cinnamon Boulanger rang up her 10th tally of the campaign making it 4-1 after taking a feed from Cummins 2:44 before the final buzzer.

Blues 3 – Reds 2

Teal Gove put on a scoring clinic in the first period, cracking in three goals and establishing a 3-1 lead for Neal's Blues over Andy's Reds. Catia Dias set up the first at 16:42, while Jill VanDerVeen assisted on Gove's markers at 14:04 and 0:41.

Laura MacKinnon (from Jackie Morris at 7:53) counted the Red's first period goal. Janice Casselman (from Morris and Geena Rose at 1:54) closed the gap to 3-2 in period two.

The Reds pulled goaltender Matt Rutley in the 1:30 of the game in favour of an extra attacker, but couldn't come up with the tying tally.

Colleen Embury posted the win, while Rutley suffered the one-goal set back.

Top scorers

Brittany Beckstead, Greens 12-11-23; Jackie Morris, Reds 10-9-19; Taylor Cummins, Yellow 12-6-18; Tyne Gove, Blues 12-4-16; Teal Gove, Blues 8-8-16; Cinnamon Boulanger, Yellow 10-5-15; Kaila Beckstead, Greens 7-8-15; Patti Hall, Greens 6-9-15.

Sox get past Gryphons 2-1, humbled in 11-2 loss to Pirates

WINCHESTER – Jubilation following victory over their rivals was short lived for the Winchester Sox.

Following a 2-1 win against the Gryphons on Tues., July 24, the Sox welcomed the Aylmer Pirates to Morgan Field on Thurs., July 26.

However, things didn't go as planned, with the Pirates leaving town with an 11-2 victory.

With the win and a loss, the Sox sit in fourth place in the National Capital Baseball League's Tier 2 standings, with a record of 11-9-0 on the year.

Sox 2 – Gryphons 1

Miguel Gagnon led the charge for the Sox, going two for two at the plate with a walk and two RBIs.

James Shaw also chipped in with a hit, and scored on Gagnon's first single.

Chris "Hammer" Hart walked, stole second, advanced to third on Shaw's sacrifice bunt, and scored on Gagnon's second single.

Pirates 11 – Sox 2

The Pirates scored early and often during July 26's game.

The Sox chipped away, but only managed two runs.

Up next

This week, the Sox travel to McCarthy Park in Ottawa tonight for an 8:30 pm game against the SweatSox.

On Thurs., Aug 2, the same Pirates return to Winchester for an 8 pm contest at Morgan Field.

Elliott piles up 11 points in 16-5 win

MORRISBURG – Justin Elliott almost recorded a triple hat trick leading New Blue to a 16-5 victory over the Morewood Monkeys. The Blue sniper came up one short, firing in eight markers and picking up three helpers in the lopsided win.

Last week's (Thurs., July 26) decision moved New Blue (7-3-0) into a share of first place in the Dundas Men's Roller Hockey League standings with White Lightning (7-3-0) who gained their 14th point by way of a 10-5 verdict against the third-place Red Rockets (4-5-1) in the late half of the Thursday night twin bill.

New Blue 16 – Monkeys 5

Elliott launched his eight-goal expedition firing in four in the first frame as Blue gained a 5-1 advantage. He added a single as the lead expanded to 11-4 in period two. A third-period hat trick helped drive the final difference to 16-5.

In addition to Elliott's (8-3-11) 11 points, Blue received four each from Garreth Cochrane (3-1-4), Jamie McIntosh (2-2-4), Tommy Keyes (1-3-4) and Connor Hodgson (1-3-4). Nick McGill (1-2-3) and Randy Markell (0-2-2) rounded out the production. Will McIntyre posted the win.

Justin Heuff (2-1-3), Chris Embury (1-1-2), Tyler Jones (1-0-1), Jake Byers (1-0-1), Brad Johnston (0-1-1) and Mike Patterson (0-1-1) supplied the Morewood (1-8-1) points.

Lightning 10 – Rockets 5

Brandon Buma, Dave Summers and Billy Henderson each potted a pair of goals in the Lightning's 10-5 strike against the Rockets.

Tyler Gallinger popped in a pair, while Rob Thurler and Steve Mattice supplied singles. Buma (3), Henderson (3), Mattice (2), Thurler (2) and Summers also drew assists. Barret Brundige was the winning 'tender.

Lightning broke a 2-2 tie taking a 5-2 lead in period two and closed it out with a five-goal third.

Chad McMillan and Darrell Moore each scored twice for the Rockets. Chris Rice supplied the single. Assists went to Chris Phifer (2), Rice (2), Dean Moore, McMillan and Dave Patterson.

Come on out and enjoy a night of entertainment, as the men and women put on their helmets and rip up the ring with bone-crushing hits and crashes...

ACE – In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Jack, who passed away on August 1, 2010. We miss you each and every day.
The tide recedes, but leaves behind bright seashells in the sand.
The sun goes down, but gentle warmth still lingers on the land.
The music stops and yet it echoes on in sweet refrains.
For every joy that passes, something beautiful remains.
– All our love,
– Carol, Darby, Taylor

OBITUARY

Annabel Casselman O'Marra

Annabel Casselman O'Marra (nee Gogo) of Morrisburg passed away peacefully at Dundas Manor in Winchester on Fri., July 20, 2012, in her 93rd year.

She was the beloved wife of Art O'Marra. She was the loving mother of Mahlon (Betty) Casselman, Lyle (Irene) Casselman, both of Brinston, and Ivan (Judy) Casselman of Morrisburg. She was the cherished grandmother of Darryl, Amanda, Amy, and Gordon, and the great-grandmother of Gabrielle, Shana, Alicia, and Jasmine. She will be sadly missed by many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her husband, Gordon Casselman (1977), and an infant son (1957).

Annabel was born June 21, 1920 in Aultsville, just east of Morrisburg, to loving parents Charles Gogo and Jean (nee Bouck). There, she farmed with her parents and half sister Ella on their 100-acre dairy farm until she was married to Gordon Casselman in 1939, at the Aultsville Anglican Church. Annabel and Gordon had three sons, Mahlon, Lyle, and Ivan. In 1956, Annabel, Gordon, and the three boys sold their dairy farm in Aultsville and bought a farm at Dixons Corners. Gordon passed away in 1977, after 38 years of marriage.

In March 1994, Annabel was married to her second husband, Arthur O'Marra. They lived on the farm for two years before moving to Morrisburg in 1996.

Annabel enjoyed shopping, playing cards and games (especially UNO). However, there were never games or cards played on Sunday. She loved flowers, and music, especially gospel music. Her knowledge of the bible was phenomenal. Throughout her lifetime, she was a member of the Winchester Wesleyan Church, Morrisburg Pentecostal Church, and the Community Family Church of Iroquois. Annabel had a generous heart, and was known for her tremendous bear hugs. She loved everyone equally, and was a genuine, true friend to many.

Friends were received at the Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg on Mon., July 23. The funeral service was held in the chapel of the funeral home on Tues., July 24, followed by interment at Spruce Haven Cemetery in Brinston. The pallbearers were Jim Adams, Gerry Whitteker, Lorne Johnston, Gerald Casselman, Gary Bradford, and Matthew Casselman.

Memorial donations to the Canadian Diabetes Association or the Dundas Manor Activity Fund gratefully acknowledged.

Condolences may be made online at www.parkerofmorrisburg.com.
